 cometh, thou shalt declare it. In thy be syng wylt thou thynke vpon mercy. God cometh from Theman, and the holy one from the mount of Libanus. Selah.

His glory couereth the beaueus, and the earth is ful of his prayse. His thynne is as the sonne, & beames of lycht go oute of his hand, there is his power byd. Des truction goeth before hym, and burninge ceffets go from his sece. He standeth and meashureth the earth. He looketh, and the people consume away, the mountaines of the world fall downe to poulder, and the hills are laine to bowe them selues, for his goynges are euertlasting and sure. I sawe that the paullys of the Assyrians, and the tents of the land of the Chadian were vex ed for werynes. Wast thou not angry, O Lord, in þe waters? Wast not thy wrath in þe flouds, & thy displeasure in the sea? Yea, wilst thou sacrifice vpon thine horse, & when thy charers had the victorie. Thou shew edst thy bowe openlye, like as thou haddest promised in an oth vnto the tribes. Selah.

Thou bydest deuide the waters of the earth. Wilt the mountaines sawe the, they were afeared, the water streame wente a way: the depe made a noise at the lycht up of thyne hand. The sun and moone re maineth styl in theyr habytacion. Thyne atomes went out glittering, & thy spores as the thynne of the lychtning. Thou trod

Erod. ix. c.
 Ra. xlii. c.

Gen. ix. d.

Jeremy. i. c.
 Abdi. i. c.

Isa. xl. a.

A

M

Gen. xli. c.

Isa. ix. c.

Dani. ix. d.

Roma. i. b

Abdi. i. c.

Isa. ix. d

Isa. xlii. a.
 Ra. xli. a.

D Thyne eyes are cleane, thou mayest not se euyl: thou canst not beholde the rypnge that is wycked. Wherfore then dost thou looke vpon the vngodlye, and holdest thy tong when the wycked deuoureth the ma that is better then him selfe? Thou makest men as the fish of the sea, and lyke the cyp pyng beastes, that haue no gyde. They take vp al wyth theyr angle, they catch it in theyr net, and gather it in theyr panye: wherof they reioyce and are glad. There fore offer they vnto theyr net, and do sacri fice vnto theyr panye, because þ theyr cheyr porcið is become so fat, & theyr meat so plenteous. Wherfore they cast out theyr net agayne, & neuer cease to slay þ people.

The. ii. Chapter.

Of the visyō of the prophet. Agayn pol leng, courtesies, and Idolatry.

I Stande vpon my watch, and let me hee my bulwourke, to looke, and se what he would say vnto me, and what answer I should gve hym that reioyeth me. But the Lord answered me, and sayed: Wryte the bysion plainly vpon thy tables, that who so cometh by, maye reade it: for the visyon is yet farre of for a tyme, but at the last it shal come to passe and not faile. And though he say, yet wayt thou for him, for in very dede he wyl come, and not be slack.
Beholde, who so wyl not beleue, his soule shal not prosper: the iuste shal lyue by þs saythe. Lyke as the wyne deceyued the dronkard, euen so the proud shal faile and not endure. He openeth þs desyre wythe vp as þ hel, and is as unsatiabie as death.
Al beathen gathereth he to hym and hea reth vnto him al people.

But shal not al these take by a prouerbe agaynst hym, and mocke hym wyth a by word, and say: Wo vnto him that heapech by other mens goods. How long wyl he lade him selfe wyth thiske clape? How sodenly wyl they stand vp, that shal byre, and a wake, that shal teare the in pieces? pea thou shalt be their pray. Seynge thou hast spoiled many beathen, therefore shal the remnant of the people spoule the, by cause of mens bloude, and for the wronge done in the land, in the cypre and vnto all them that dwel therein.

Wo vnto hym, that couetously gathe reth euyl gotten goodes into þs house, that he may set þs nest an hygh, to escape from the power of misfortune. Thou hast deuised the shame of thyne own house, for thou hast slayne to muche people, and hast wylfully offended, so that the very stones of the wal shal crye out of it, and the cym ber that lyeth betwixte the ioyntes of the buldynge shal answer.

Wo vnto hym that buildeth the towne wyth bloude, and mayntayneth the cypre wyth vneighbourlynes. Shal not the Lord of hostes bynge þys to passe, that the la boures of the people shal be burnt, wyth a greate fyre, and that the thing wher vpon the people haue weryed them selues shal be lost? For the earth shalbe full of know ledge of the Lords honour, like as the wa ters that couer the sea.

Wo vnto hym that geueth þs neygh bour drynke, to get him tozothful displea sure for þs dronkenness: that he maye se þs priuites. Wherfore with shame shalt thou be spyled, in steade of honour.

Drink thou also, cpl thou shober wyth al: for the cup of the Lordes right hand shal compass the about, and shameful spewing in the steade of thy worship. For the wrong that thou hast done in Libanus, shal make the afeared, because of mens bloud, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cypre, & vnto al such as dwel therein.

What helpe then wyl the ymage dooe, whom the workeman hath fashioned? Or the bayne caille ymage, wherein bycause the craftsman putteth þs trust, therfore maketh he domme ydoles? Wo vnto hym that saith to a piece of wood: aryse, & to a dum stone: stand vp. For what instruction may such one giue? Behold, it is layed ou er with golde & syluer, & ther is no breath in it. Woe the Lord in þs holy temple is he, whom al the world shoulde feare.

The. iii. Chapter.

A prayer of the prophete Abacuc for the pynourante.

O Lord, when I heard speake of the, I was afayred. The worke that thou hast rade in had, shalt thou performe in þs tyme O Lord, and when the tyme cometh, thou shalt declare it. In thy be syng wyl thou thynke vpon mercy. God cometh from Theman, and the holy one
from the mount of Libanus. Selah.

Wys glayr couereth the beaueus, and the earthe is ful of þs prayse. Þs thynne
is as the sonne, & beames of lycht go oute of þs hand, there is þs power byd. Des truction goeth before hym, and burninge ceffets go from his sece. He standeth and measurcth the earth. He looketh, and the people consume away, the mountaines of the worlde fall downe to poulder, and the hils are laine to bow them selues, for þs goinges are euertlasting and sure. I sawe that the paullys of the Assyrians, and the rents of the land of the Chadian were vex
ed for werynes. Wast thou not angry, O Lord, in þ waters? Wast not thy wrath in þ flouds, & thy displeasure in the sea? Yes, wilt thou sacrifice vpon thine horse, & when thy charers had the victorie. Thou shew edst thy bow openlye, like as thou haddest promised in an oth vnto the tribes. Selah.

Thou bydest deuide the waters of the earth. Wilt the mountaines saw the, they were afeared, the water streame wente a way: the depe made a noyse at the lychtynge vp of thyne hand. The sun and moone re maineth styll in theyr habytacion. Thyne arowes went out glittering, & thy speares as the thynne of the lychtynge. Thou trod

Exod. ix. c.
Ps. xlii. c.

Gen. ix. d.

Jeremy. l. c.
Abdi. i. c.

Ps. xl. a.

A

M

Gen. xlii. c.

Isaiah. x. c.

The .i. Chap.

best downe the lande in thyne anger, and dyddest thine the heathen in thy displea- sure. Thou canst sayd to helpe thy peo- ple, to helpe thyne annointed. Thou shalt rest downe the heabe, the house of the vn- godly, and dyscoueredst hys foundations, euen vnto the necke of hym. Selah.

Thou curstest hys scepters, the Lapp- earne of hys men of war, whiche come as a storme wynde to scatter me abroad, and are glad when they may eat vpon the poore secretly. Thou makest a way for thine voy- ces in the sea euen in the mydes of greete waters. When I heare this, my bodye is vbered, my lyppes tremble at the voyce ther- of, my bones corrupt, I am afraied to be- stand, & that I myght rest in the day of trouble, that I myghte go by to out peo- ple, whiche are alreedy prepared.

For the figge tree shal not be grene, and the vines shal bear no fruite. The laboure of the Olive shalbe but lost, and the land shal bring no corn: the shepe shalbe tak- out of the folde, and there shalbe no cattel in the filds. But as for me I wil be glad in the Lord, and wyl reioyse in God my saue- our. The Lord god is my strength, he shal make my feete, as the feete of hartes: and he whiche geueth the byctory, shal bringe me to my hygh places, synnginge vpon my psalmes.

The ende of the prophety of Abacuc.

The booke of the prophet Sophony.

The .i. Chapter.

Threatnynges agaynst Iuda and Ierusa- lem, because of thery Idolatry.

This is the worde of the Lord, which came vnto Sophonye the son of Chusi, the son of Gedoliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Ezechiah in the tyme of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda.

I wil gather vp al thyngs in the land (saith the Lord) I wil gather vp man & beast. I wil gather vp the foules in the ayre & the fysh in the sea (so the greete decay of the wicked) and wil vberely destroye the men out of the land, saith the Lord. I wil stretch out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon al such as dwel at Ierusalem.

Thus wil I roote out the remanent of Baal fro this place, & the names of the murders & priests: yea, & such as vpon theyr house tops moishy & bow the felues vnto the host of heauyn, which sweate by the Lord, & by their wylch also: which shall aback the Lord, & not yett seeke after the Lord, he regarded him. Be still at the presence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is at hand:

The Prophecy

for the Lord hath prepared a flaine offering & called his gesses thereto, and thus wyl it happyn in the day of the Lords flainoffering: (saith the Lord) I wil visit the princes, the kings chyldre, & al such as weare strange clothyng. In the same day also wil I visit al those that tread ouer the threshold so proudly, which fil the Lords house with robbery and false deed. At the same tyme (saith the Lord) ther shalbe herd a greete cry from the syn-naye, and an howling from the other parte, and a greete murmur fro the hills. Howle ye that dwel in the mil, for al the marchant people are gone, and al they that were laden wylch syluer, are rooted out.

At the same tyme wyl I seke thowm Ierusale with lanternes, and visit them that continue in their dyegs, & saye in theyr heetes: Euen, the Lord wyl do nether good, ne euil. Their goods shalbe spoiled, & their houses layed wast: they shal build houses, & not dwel in theyr: they shal plant vineyard but not drinke of the wine therof. For the great day of the Lord is at hand, it is vberdy, & cometh on a pace. Horrible is the thinge of the Lords day, the shal the gaunt crye out: for that day is a day of wrath, a daye of trouble and beuities, a daye of vberce destruction and myserye, a darke & glomyng day, a cloudy & stormy day, a day of the noyse of trompettes and shawmes, agaynst the strong cities and hie towers.

I wyl bringe the people into such vbera-cyon, that they shal go about like blind me, because they haue sinned agaynst the Lord.
Their blud shalbe shed as the dust, & their bodies as the nyte. Theyr theire syluer ne their golde shalbe able to deliuer the in the wrothful day of the Lord, but the whole land shalbe consumed thowm the fyre of hys gelousy: for he shal soone make cleane ro-daunce of al them that dwel in the lande.

The .ii. Chapter.

The mouth to retourne to God, prophesy-ng vnto the out destruction, and to the other deliuerance.

Come together and gather you & see ward people, or the thyng go forth is concluded, and or the tyme be past sed away as the dust, or the fearful wrath of the Lord come vpon you, yea or the day of the Lords fore displeasure come vpon you.
Seke the Lord al ye make herted vpon earth ye & worke after his iudgement: seke right rauntes, seke lowlines: for ye may be defended in the wrothful day of the Lord. For Baza shalbe destroyed, & Ascalon shalbe layed wast. They shal cast out Asdod at the roone day, & Accaron shalbe pluckt vp by the rootes.

Woe vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coast, ye murderers people: the word of the Lord shal come vpon you, & Canaan thow lande of the idolynges, I wyl destroye the, so that there shal no man dwel in the anye more, and as for the sea coaste, it shal be beardemennes cotages and shepe fouldes: yea it shal be a poore ou

Isa. xlii. b.

Isa. lvi. xxi.
and. xxi.

Isa. xlii. b.
Jerem. v. b.

Isa. lvi. xxi. b.
Jer. xxi. b.

Jerem. v. c.
Isa. xlii. c.
Isa. xlii. c.

Ezek. vii. b.
Soph. iii. b.

Isa. lvi. xxi. a.
Isa. lvi. c.

The .i. Chap.

best downe the lande in thyne anger, and dyddest thine the heathen in thy displea- sure. Thou canst say to helpe thy peo- ple, to helpe thyne annointed. Thou shalt rest downe the heabe, the house of the vn- godly, and dyscouered it bys foundations, euen vnto the necke of hym. Selah.

Thou curstest bys scepters, the Lapp- earne of bys men of war, whiche come as a storme wynde to scatter me abrode, and are glad when they may eat vpon the poore secretly. Thou makest a way for thine voy- ces in the sea euen in the mydes of greate waters. When I heare this, my bodye is vexed, my lyppes tremble at the voyce ther- of, my bones corrupt, I am afraied to be- stand, & that I myght rest in the day of trouble, that I myghte go by to out peo- ple, whiche are alreedy prepared.

For the figge tree shal not be grene, and the vines shal bear no fruite. The laboure of the Olive shalbe but loof, and the land shal bring no corne: the shepe shalbe tak- out of the folde, and there shalbe no cattel in the filds. But as for me I wil be glad in the Lord, and wyl reioyse in God my saue- our. The Lord god is my strength, he shal make my feete, as the feete of hartes: and he whiche geueth the byctory, shal bringe me to my hygh places, syngynge vpon my psalmes.

The ende of the prophety of Abacuc.

The booke of the prophet Sophony.

The .i. Chapter.

Threatnynges agaynst Iuda and Ierusa- lem, because of therys Idolatry.

This is the worde of the Lord, which came vnto Sophonye the son of Chusi, the son of Gedoliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Ezechiah in the tyme of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda.

I wil gather vp al thinges in the lād (saith the Lord) I wil gather vp man & beast. I wil gather vp the foules in the ayre & the fysh in the sea (so the greate de- cay of the wicked) and wil vterly destroye the men out of the land, saith the Lord. I wil stretch out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon al such as dwel at Ierusalem.

Thus wil I roote out the remanent of Baal fro this place, & the names of the iu- rymurins & priests: yea, & such as vpon theyr house tops moishy & bow the knees vnto the host of heauē, which sweare by the Lord, & by their oaths also: which saye a back- sed the Lord, & sett her seke after the Lord, he regarded him. Be still at the presence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is at hand:

The Prophecy

yea the Lord hath prepared a flaine offering & called his gesses thereto, and thus wyl it happen in the day of the Lords flainoffering: I wil visit the princes, the kings chyldre, & al such as weare strange clothyng. In the same day also wil I visit al those that tread ouer the threshold so proudly, which fil the Lords house with robbery and false head. At the same tyme (saith the Lord) ther shalbe herd a grent cry from the sy- port, and an howling from the other port, and a grent murmur fro the hills. Howle ye that dwel in the mil, for al the marchant people are gone, and al they that were la- den wth syluer, are rooted out.

At the same tyme wyl I seke thowm Je- rusalem with lanternes, and visit them that chynue in their dyegs, & saye in theyr hee- res: Euen, the Lord wyl do nether good, ne euil. Their goods shalbe spoiled, & their houses layed wast: they shal build houses, & not dwel in theyr: they shal plant vineyard & but not drinke of wine therof. For the great day of the Lord is at hand, it is barde by, & cometh on a pace. Horrible is the thinges of the Lords day, the shal the gaunt crye out: for that day is a day of wrath, a daye of trouble and beuities, a daye of vtter de- struction and myserye, a darke & glomyng day, a cloudy & stormy day, a day of the noise of trompettes and shawmes, agaynst the strong cities and hye towers.

I wyl bringe the people into such vera- cy, that they shal go about like blind me, because they haue sinned agaynst the Lord. Their blud shalbe shed as the dust, & their bodies as the styre. Theyr theire syluer ne their golde shalbe able to deliuer the in the wrothful day of the Lord, but the whole lād shalbe consumed thowm the fyre of bys gealousy: for he shal soone make cleane ro- daunce of al them that dwel in the lande.

The .ii. Chapter.

The mouth to retourne to God, prophesy- ing vnto the out destruction, and to the other deliuerance.

Come together and gather you & see a- ward people, or the thyng go forth & is concluded, and or the tyme be past away as the dust, or the fearful wryth of the Lord come vpon you, yea or the day of the Lords fore displeasure come vpon you. Seke the Lord al ye make herted vpon earth ye & worke after his iudgement: seke righte- ousnes, seke lowlines: & ye may be defen- ded in the wrothful day of the Lord. For Ba- za shalbe destroyed, & Ascalon shalbe layed wast. They shal cast out Asdod at the noone day, & Accaron shalbe pluckt vp by the rootes.

Woe vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coast, ye murderous people: the word of the Lord shal come vpon you, & Ca- naan thou lande of the idolyntynes, I wyl destroye the, so that there shal no man dwell in the anye more, and as for the sea coast, it shal be beardemens cotages and shepe fouldes: yea it shal be a port:

Jer. xxxix. b

Jeremy. v. c
Deu. xxx. c.
Jer. xlii. c

Ezech. vii. d
Soph. iii. b

Isa. xl. c. x. a Zona. iii. c

Is. xlii. b.

Is. xl. c. x. a
and. xii. b.

Jer. xlii. b
Jerem. v. b

Esa. xv. xvi. Esa. xlvii. a. Esa. xlvii. b. Esa. xlvii. c. Esa. xlvii. d. Esa. xlvii. e. Esa. xlvii. f. Esa. xlvii. g. Esa. xlvii. h. Esa. xlvii. i. Esa. xlvii. j. Esa. xlvii. k. Esa. xlvii. l. Esa. xlvii. m. Esa. xlvii. n. Esa. xlvii. o. Esa. xlvii. p. Esa. xlvii. q. Esa. xlvii. r. Esa. xlvii. s. Esa. xlvii. t. Esa. xlvii. u. Esa. xlvii. v. Esa. xlvii. w. Esa. xlvii. x. Esa. xlvii. y. Esa. xlvii. z. Esa. xlvii. aa. Esa. xlvii. ab. Esa. xlvii. ac. Esa. xlvii. ad. Esa. xlvii. ae. Esa. xlvii. af. Esa. xlvii. ag. Esa. xlvii. ah. Esa. xlvii. ai. Esa. xlvii. aj. Esa. xlvii. ak. Esa. xlvii. al. Esa. xlvii. am. Esa. xlvii. an. Esa. xlvii. ao. Esa. xlvii. ap. Esa. xlvii. aq. Esa. xlvii. ar. Esa. xlvii. as. Esa. xlvii. at. Esa. xlvii. au. Esa. xlvii. av. Esa. xlvii. aw. Esa. xlvii. ax. Esa. xlvii. ay. Esa. xlvii. az. Esa. xlvii. ba. Esa. xlvii. bb. Esa. xlvii. bc. Esa. xlvii. bd. Esa. xlvii. be. Esa. xlvii. bf. Esa. xlvii. bg. Esa. xlvii. bh. Esa. xlvii. bi. Esa. xlvii. bj. Esa. xlvii. bk. Esa. xlvii. bl. Esa. xlvii. bm. Esa. xlvii. bn. Esa. xlvii. bo. Esa. xlvii. bp. Esa. xlvii. bq. Esa. xlvii. br. Esa. xlvii. bs. Esa. xlvii. bt. Esa. xlvii. bu. Esa. xlvii. bv. Esa. xlvii. bw. Esa. xlvii. bx. Esa. xlvii. by. Esa. xlvii. bz. Esa. xlvii. ca. Esa. xlvii. cb. Esa. xlvii. cc. Esa. xlvii. cd. Esa. xlvii. ce. Esa. xlvii. cf. Esa. xlvii. cg. Esa. xlvii. ch. Esa. xlvii. ci. Esa. xlvii. cj. Esa. xlvii. ck. Esa. xlvii. cl. Esa. xlvii. cm. Esa. xlvii. cn. Esa. xlvii. co. Esa. xlvii. cp. Esa. xlvii. cq. Esa. xlvii. cr. Esa. xlvii. cs. Esa. xlvii. ct. Esa. xlvii. cu. Esa. xlvii. cv. Esa. xlvii. cw. Esa. xlvii. cx. Esa. xlvii. cy. Esa. xlvii. cz. Esa. xlvii. da. Esa. xlvii. db. Esa. xlvii. dc. Esa. xlvii. dd. Esa. xlvii. de. Esa. xlvii. df. Esa. xlvii. dg. Esa. xlvii. dh. Esa. xlvii. di. Esa. xlvii. dj. Esa. xlvii. dk. Esa. xlvii. dl. Esa. xlvii. dm. Esa. xlvii. dn. Esa. xlvii. do. Esa. xlvii. dp. Esa. xlvii. dq. Esa. xlvii. dr. Esa. xlvii. ds. Esa. xlvii. dt. Esa. xlvii. du. Esa. xlvii. dv. Esa. xlvii. dw. Esa. xlvii. dx. Esa. xlvii. dy. Esa. xlvii. dz. Esa. xlvii. ea. Esa. xlvii. eb. Esa. xlvii. ec. Esa. xlvii. ed. Esa. xlvii. ee. Esa. xlvii. ef. Esa. xlvii. eg. Esa. xlvii. eh. Esa. xlvii. ei. Esa. xlvii. ej. Esa. xlvii. ek. Esa. xlvii. el. Esa. xlvii. em. Esa. xlvii. en. Esa. xlvii. eo. Esa. xlvii. ep. Esa. xlvii. eq. Esa. xlvii. er. Esa. xlvii. es. Esa. xlvii. et. Esa. xlvii. eu. Esa. xlvii. ev. Esa. xlvii. ew. Esa. xlvii. ex. Esa. xlvii. ey. Esa. xlvii. ez. Esa. xlvii. fa. Esa. xlvii. fb. Esa. xlvii. fc. Esa. xlvii. fd. Esa. xlvii. fe. Esa. xlvii. ff. Esa. xlvii. fg. Esa. xlvii. fh. Esa. xlvii. fi. Esa. xlvii. fj. Esa. xlvii. fk. Esa. xlvii. fl. Esa. xlvii. fm. Esa. xlvii. fn. Esa. xlvii. fo. Esa. xlvii. fp. Esa. xlvii. fq. Esa. xlvii. fr. Esa. xlvii. fs. Esa. xlvii. ft. Esa. xlvii. fu. Esa. xlvii. fv. Esa. xlvii. fw. Esa. xlvii. fx. Esa. xlvii. fy. Esa. xlvii. fz. Esa. xlvii. ga. Esa. xlvii. gb. Esa. xlvii. gc. Esa. xlvii. gd. Esa. xlvii. ge. Esa. xlvii. gf. Esa. xlvii. gg. Esa. xlvii. gh. Esa. xlvii. gi. Esa. xlvii. gj. Esa. xlvii. gk. Esa. xlvii. gl. Esa. xlvii. gm. Esa. xlvii. gn. Esa. xlvii. go. Esa. xlvii. gp. Esa. xlvii. gq. Esa. xlvii. gr. Esa. xlvii. gs. Esa. xlvii. gt. Esa. xlvii. gu. Esa. xlvii. gv. Esa. xlvii. gw. Esa. xlvii. gx. Esa. xlvii. gy. Esa. xlvii. gz. Esa. xlvii. ha. Esa. xlvii. hb. Esa. xlvii. hc. Esa. xlvii. hd. Esa. xlvii. he. Esa. xlvii. hf. Esa. xlvii. hg. Esa. xlvii. hh. Esa. xlvii. hi. Esa. xlvii. hj. Esa. xlvii. hk. Esa. xlvii. hl. Esa. xlvii. hm. Esa. xlvii. hn. Esa. xlvii. ho. Esa. xlvii. hp. Esa. xlvii. hq. Esa. xlvii. hr. Esa. xlvii. hs. Esa. xlvii. ht. Esa. xlvii. hu. Esa. xlvii. hv. Esa. xlvii. hw. Esa. xlvii. hx. Esa. xlvii. hy. Esa. xlvii. hz. Esa. xlvii. ia. Esa. xlvii. ib. Esa. xlvii. ic. Esa. xlvii. id. Esa. xlvii. ie. Esa. xlvii. if. Esa. xlvii. ig. Esa. xlvii. ih. Esa. xlvii. ii. Esa. xlvii. ij. Esa. xlvii. ik. Esa. xlvii. il. Esa. xlvii. im. Esa. xlvii. in. Esa. xlvii. io. Esa. xlvii. ip. Esa. xlvii. iq. Esa. xlvii. ir. Esa. xlvii. is. Esa. xlvii. it. Esa. xlvii. iu. Esa. xlvii. iv. Esa. xlvii. iw. Esa. xlvii. ix. Esa. xlvii. iy. Esa. xlvii. iz. Esa. xlvii. ja. Esa. xlvii. jb. Esa. xlvii. jc. Esa. xlvii. jd. Esa. xlvii. je. Esa. xlvii. jf. Esa. xlvii. jg. Esa. xlvii. jh. Esa. xlvii. ji. Esa. xlvii. jj. Esa. xlvii. jk. Esa. xlvii. jl. Esa. xlvii. jm. Esa. xlvii. jn. Esa. xlvii. jo. Esa. xlvii. jp. Esa. xlvii. jq. Esa. xlvii. jr. Esa. xlvii. js. Esa. xlvii. jt. Esa. xlvii. ju. Esa. xlvii. jv. Esa. xlvii. jw. Esa. xlvii. jx. Esa. xlvii. jy. Esa. xlvii. jz. Esa. xlvii. ka. Esa. xlvii. kb. Esa. xlvii. kc. Esa. xlvii. kd. Esa. xlvii. ke. Esa. xlvii. kf. Esa. xlvii. kg. Esa. xlvii. kh. Esa. xlvii. ki. Esa. xlvii. kj. Esa. xlvii. kk. Esa. xlvii. kl. Esa. xlvii. km. Esa. xlvii. kn. Esa. xlvii. ko. Esa. xlvii. kp. Esa. xlvii. kq. Esa. xlvii. kr. Esa. xlvii. ks. Esa. xlvii. kt. Esa. xlvii. ku. Esa. xlvii. kv. Esa. xlvii. kw. Esa. xlvii. kx. Esa. xlvii. ky. Esa. xlvii. kz. Esa. xlvii. la. Esa. xlvii. lb. Esa. xlvii. lc. Esa. xlvii. ld. Esa. xlvii. le. Esa. xlvii. lf. Esa. xlvii. lg. Esa. xlvii. lh. Esa. xlvii. li. Esa. xlvii. lj. Esa. xlvii. lk. Esa. xlvii. ll. Esa. xlvii. lm. Esa. xlvii. ln. Esa. xlvii. lo. Esa. xlvii. lp. Esa. xlvii. lq. Esa. xlvii. lr. Esa. xlvii. ls. Esa. xlvii. lt. Esa. xlvii. lu. Esa. xlvii. lv. Esa. xlvii. lw. Esa. xlvii. lx. Esa. xlvii. ly. Esa. xlvii. lz. Esa. xlvii. ma. Esa. xlvii. mb. Esa. xlvii. mc. Esa. xlvii. md. Esa. xlvii. me. Esa. xlvii. mf. Esa. xlvii. mg. Esa. xlvii. mh. Esa. xlvii. mi. Esa. xlvii. mj. Esa. xlvii. mk. Esa. xlvii. ml. Esa. xlvii. mm. Esa. xlvii. mn. Esa. xlvii. mo. Esa. xlvii. mp. Esa. xlvii. mq. Esa. xlvii. mr. Esa. xlvii. ms. Esa. xlvii. mt. Esa. xlvii. mu. Esa. xlvii. mv. Esa. xlvii. mw. Esa. xlvii. mx. Esa. xlvii. my. Esa. xlvii. mz. Esa. xlvii. na. Esa. xlvii. nb. Esa. xlvii. nc. Esa. xlvii. nd. Esa. xlvii. ne. Esa. xlvii. nf. Esa. xlvii. ng. Esa. xlvii. nh. Esa. xlvii. ni. Esa. xlvii. nj. Esa. xlvii. nk. Esa. xlvii. nl. Esa. xlvii. nm. Esa. xlvii. nn. Esa. xlvii. no. Esa. xlvii. np. Esa. xlvii. nq. Esa. xlvii. nr. Esa. xlvii. ns. Esa. xlvii. nt. Esa. xlvii. nu. Esa. xlvii. nv. Esa. xlvii. nw. Esa. xlvii. nx. Esa. xlvii. ny. Esa. xlvii. nz. Esa. xlvii. oa. Esa. xlvii. ob. Esa. xlvii. oc. Esa. xlvii. od. Esa. xlvii. oe. Esa. xlvii. of. Esa. xlvii. og. Esa. xlvii. oh. Esa. xlvii. oi. Esa. xlvii. oj. Esa. xlvii. ok. Esa. xlvii. ol. Esa. xlvii. om. Esa. xlvii. on. Esa. xlvii. oo. Esa. xlvii. op. Esa. xlvii. oq. Esa. xlvii. or. Esa. xlvii. os. Esa. xlvii. ot. Esa. xlvii. ou. Esa. xlvii. ov. Esa. xlvii. ow. Esa. xlvii. ox. Esa. xlvii. oy. Esa. xlvii. oz. Esa. xlvii. pa. Esa. xlvii. pb. Esa. xlvii. pc. Esa. xlvii. pd. Esa. xlvii. pe. Esa. xlvii. pf. Esa. xlvii. pg. Esa. xlvii. ph. Esa. xlvii. pi. Esa. xlvii. pj. Esa. xlvii. pk. Esa. xlvii. pl. Esa. xlvii. pm. Esa. xlvii. pn. Esa. xlvii. po. Esa. xlvii. pp. Esa. xlvii. pq. Esa. xlvii. pr. Esa. xlvii. ps. Esa. xlvii. pt. Esa. xlvii. pu. Esa. xlvii. pv. Esa. xlvii. pw. Esa. xlvii. px. Esa. xlvii. py. Esa. xlvii. pz. Esa. xlvii. qa. Esa. xlvii. qb. Esa. xlvii. qc. Esa. xlvii. qd. Esa. xlvii. qe. Esa. xlvii. qf. Esa. xlvii. qg. Esa. xlvii. qh. Esa. xlvii. qi. Esa. xlvii. qj. Esa. xlvii. qk. Esa. xlvii. ql. Esa. xlvii. qm. Esa. xlvii. qn. Esa. xlvii. qo. Esa. xlvii. qp. Esa. xlvii. qq. Esa. xlvii. qr. Esa. xlvii. qs. Esa. xlvii. qt. Esa. xlvii. qu. Esa. xlvii. qv. Esa. xlvii. qw. Esa. xlvii. qx. Esa. xlvii. qy. Esa. xlvii. qz. Esa. xlvii. ra. Esa. xlvii. rb. Esa. xlvii. rc. Esa. xlvii. rd. Esa. xlvii. re. Esa. xlvii. rf. Esa. xlvii. rg. Esa. xlvii. rh. Esa. xlvii. ri. Esa. xlvii. rj. Esa. xlvii. rk. Esa. xlvii. rl. Esa. xlvii. rm. Esa. xlvii. rn. Esa. xlvii. ro. Esa. xlvii. rp. Esa. xlvii. rq. Esa. xlvii. rr. Esa. xlvii. rs. Esa. xlvii. rt. Esa. xlvii. ru. Esa. xlvii. rv. Esa. xlvii. rw. Esa. xlvii. rx. Esa. xlvii. ry. Esa. xlvii. rz. Esa. xlvii. sa. Esa. xlvii. sb. Esa. xlvii. sc. Esa. xlvii. sd. Esa. xlvii. se. Esa. xlvii. sf. Esa. xlvii. sg. Esa. xlvii. sh. Esa. xlvii. si. Esa. xlvii. sj. Esa. xlvii. sk. Esa. xlvii. sl. Esa. xlvii. sm. Esa. xlvii. sn. Esa. xlvii. so. Esa. xlvii. sp. Esa. xlvii. sq. Esa. xlvii. sr. Esa. xlvii. ss. Esa. xlvii. st. Esa. xlvii. su. Esa. xlvii. sv. Esa. xlvii. sw. Esa. xlvii. sx. Esa. xlvii. sy. Esa. xlvii. sz. Esa. xlvii. ta. Esa. xlvii. tb. Esa. xlvii. tc. Esa. xlvii. td. Esa. xlvii. te. Esa. xlvii. tf. Esa. xlvii. tg. Esa. xlvii. th. Esa. xlvii. ti. Esa. xlvii. tj. Esa. xlvii. tk. Esa. xlvii. tl. Esa. xlvii. tm. Esa. xlvii. tn. Esa. xlvii. to. Esa. xlvii. tp. Esa. xlvii. tq. Esa. xlvii. tr. Esa. xlvii. ts. Esa. xlvii. tt. Esa. xlvii. tu. Esa. xlvii. tv. Esa. xlvii. tw. Esa. xlvii. tx. Esa. xlvii. ty. Esa. xlvii. tz. Esa. xlvii. ua. Esa. xlvii. ub. Esa. xlvii. uc. Esa. xlvii. ud. Esa. xlvii. ue. Esa. xlvii. uf. Esa. xlvii. ug. Esa. xlvii. uh. Esa. xlvii. ui. Esa. xlvii. uj. Esa. xlvii. uk. Esa. xlvii. ul. Esa. xlvii. um. Esa. xlvii. un. Esa. xlvii. uo. Esa. xlvii. up. Esa. xlvii. uq. Esa. xlvii. ur. Esa. xlvii. us. Esa. xlvii. ut. Esa. xlvii. uu. Esa. xlvii. uv. Esa. xlvii. uw. Esa. xlvii. ux. Esa. xlvii. uy. Esa. xlvii. uz. Esa. xlvii. va. Esa. xlvii. vb. Esa. xlvii. vc. Esa. xlvii. vd. Esa. xlvii. ve. Esa. xlvii. vf. Esa. xlvii. vg. Esa. xlvii. vh. Esa. xlvii. vi. Esa. xlvii. vj. Esa. xlvii. vk. Esa. xlvii. vl. Esa. xlvii. vm. Esa. xlvii. vn. Esa. xlvii. vo. Esa. xlvii. vp. Esa. xlvii. vq. Esa. xlvii. vr. Esa. xlvii. vs. Esa. xlvii. vt. Esa. xlvii. vu. Esa. xlvii. vv. Esa. xlvii. vw. Esa. xlvii. vx. Esa. xlvii. vy. Esa. xlvii. vz. Esa. xlvii. wa. Esa. xlvii. wb. Esa. xlvii. wc. Esa. xlvii. wd. Esa. xlvii. we. Esa. xlvii. wf. Esa. xlvii. wg. Esa. xlvii. wh. Esa. xlvii. wi. Esa. xlvii. wj. Esa. xlvii. wk. Esa. xlvii. wl. Esa. xlvii. wm. Esa. xlvii. wn. Esa. xlvii. wo. Esa. xlvii. wp. Esa. xlvii. wq. Esa. xlvii. wr. Esa. xlvii. ws. Esa. xlvii. wt. Esa. xlvii. wu. Esa. xlvii. wv. Esa. xlvii. ww. Esa. xlvii. wx. Esa. xlvii. wy. Esa. xlvii. wz. Esa. xlvii. xa. Esa. xlvii. xb. Esa. xlvii. xc. Esa. xlvii. xd. Esa. xlvii. xe. Esa. xlvii. xf. Esa. xlvii. xg. Esa. xlvii. xh. Esa. xlvii. xi. Esa. xlvii. xj. Esa. xlvii. xk. Esa. xlvii. xl. Esa. xlvii. xm. Esa. xlvii. xn. Esa. xlvii. xo. Esa. xlvii. xp. Esa. xlvii. xq. Esa. xlvii. xr. Esa. xlvii. xs. Esa. xlvii. xt. Esa. xlvii. xu. Esa. xlvii. xv. Esa. xlvii. xw. Esa. xlvii. xx. Esa. xlvii. xy. Esa. xlvii. xz. Esa. xlvii. ya. Esa. xlvii. yb. Esa. xlvii. yc. Esa. xlvii. yd. Esa. xlvii. ye. Esa. xlvii. yf. Esa. xlvii. yg. Esa. xlvii. yh. Esa. xlvii. yi. Esa. xlvii. yj. Esa. xlvii. yk. Esa. xlvii. yl. Esa. xlvii. ym. Esa. xlvii. yn. Esa. xlvii. yo. Esa. xlvii. yp. Esa. xlvii. yq. Esa. xlvii. yr. Esa. xlvii. ys. Esa. xlvii. yt. Esa. xlvii. yu. Esa. xlvii. yv. Esa. xlvii. yw. Esa. xlvii. yx. Esa. xlvii. yy. Esa. xlvii. yz. Esa. xlvii. za. Esa. xlvii. zb. Esa. xlvii. zc. Esa. xlvii. zd. Esa. xlvii. ze. Esa. xlvii. zf. Esa. xlvii. zg. Esa. xlvii. zh. Esa. xlvii. zi. Esa. xlvii. zj. Esa. xlvii. zk. Esa. xlvii. zl. Esa. xlvii. zm. Esa. xlvii. zn. Esa. xlvii. zo. Esa. xlvii. zp. Esa. xlvii. zq. Esa. xlvii. zr. Esa. xlvii. zs. Esa. xlvii. zt. Esa. xlvii. zu. Esa. xlvii. zv. Esa. xlvii. zw. Esa. xlvii. zx. Esa. xlvii. zy. Esa. xlvii. zz.

unto the none of these things, wherwith I shal visit them. But neuertheless, they stande vpon earthe to folow the fylthynges of theyr owne ymaginacions. Therefore ye shal walte vpon me sayth the Lord, til the tyme that I stand vpon: for I am determyned to gather the people, and to bringe the kingdomes togyther, that I maye poute out myne anger, yea al my wrathfull dyspleasure vpon them. For al the world shal be consumed wth the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I cleanse the lpps of the people, that they maye euery one cal vpon the name of the Lord, and serue hym wth one shoulde. Such as I haue subdued, & my children also whom I haue scattered abroad, shal bring me presentes beyond the waters of Ethiopia.

In that tyme shalte thou be no more confounded, because of al thy ymaginacions, wherwith thou haddest offended me: for I wyl take awaye the proude boices of thyne honour from the, so that thou shalte no more triumphe because of my help byl. In the also wyl I leaue a smal, poore, simple people, which shal trust in the name of the Lord. The remnant of Israel shal do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neyther shal any disceatful tong be found in these menberes. For they shal be fed, & take theyr rest, and no man shal make them afeared. Oue thanks, O daughter Sion, be thankful, O Israel: reioyse and be glad for thy whole heart. O daughter Ierusalem, for the Lord hath taken awaye thy punishment, and turned backe thyne enemyes. The King of Israel, euen the Lord hym selfe, is wylde thee, so that thou needest no more to feare any misfortune.

In that tyme it shalbe sayd to Ierusalem. feare not, and to Sion: let not thyne eyes be slacke. for the Lord thy god is wylde thee, it is he that hath the power to saue, he hath a special pleasure in thee, and a marvellous loue toward thee: yea he reioysed ouer the truth gladnes. Such as hath ben in dreames, wyl I gather togyther, and take out of thy congregacion: yea and the shame and reproche that hath bene layd vpon the, shal be far from the. And so, in that tyme wyl I destroye al those that here the: I wyl heale the lame, and gather vpon the cast awaye: yea, I wyl geue them praise and honour in al landes, wher they haue bene put to shame. At the same tyme wyl I bring you in, and at the same tyme wyl I gather you. I wyl geue you a name and a good repute among all people of the earth. When I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes, sayeth the Lord.

(.*)

The ende of the Prophecie of Sophony.

Esa. xlvii. a. Esa. xlvii. b. Esa. xlvii. c. Esa. xlvii. d. Esa. xlvii. e. Esa. xlvii. f. Esa. xlvii. g. Esa. xlvii. h. Esa. xlvii. i. Esa. xlvii. j. Esa. xlvii. k. Esa. xlvii. l. Esa. xlvii. m. Esa. xlvii. n. Esa. xlvii. o. Esa. xlvii. p. Esa. xlvii. q. Esa. xlvii. r. Esa. xlvii. s. Esa. xlvii. t. Esa. xlvii. u. Esa. xlvii. v. Esa. xlvii. w. Esa. xlvii. x. Esa. xlvii. y. Esa. xlvii. z. Esa. xlvii. aa. Esa. xlvii. ab. Esa. xlvii. ac. Esa. xlvii. ad. Esa. xlvii. ae. Esa. xlvii. af. Esa. xlvii. ag. Esa. xlvii. ah. Esa. xlvii. ai. Esa. xlvii. aj. Esa. xlvii. ak. Esa. xlvii. al. Esa. xlvii. am. Esa. xlvii. an. Esa. xlvii. ao. Esa. xlvii. ap. Esa. xlvii. aq. Esa. xlvii. ar. Esa. xlvii. as. Esa. xlvii. at. Esa. xlvii. au. Esa. xlvii. av. Esa. xlvii. aw. Esa. xlvii. ax. Esa. xlvii. ay. Esa. xlvii. az. Esa. xlvii. ba. Esa. xlvii. bb. Esa. xlvii. bc. Esa. xlvii. bd. Esa. xlvii. be. Esa. xlvii. bf. Esa. xlvii. bg. Esa. xlvii. bh. Esa. xlvii. bi. Esa. xlvii. bj. Esa. xlvii. bk. Esa. xlvii. bl. Esa. xlvii. bm. Esa. xlvii. bn. Esa. xlvii. bo. Esa. xlvii. bp. Esa. xlvii. bq. Esa. xlvii. br. Esa. xlvii. bs. Esa. xlvii. bt. Esa. xlvii. bu. Esa. xlvii. bv. Esa. xlvii. bw. Esa. xlvii. bx. Esa. xlvii. by. Esa. xlvii. bz. Esa. xlvii. ca. Esa. xlvii. cb. Esa. xlvii. cc. Esa. xlvii. cd. Esa. xlvii. ce. Esa. xlvii. cf. Esa. xlvii. cg. Esa. xlvii. ch. Esa. xlvii. ci. Esa. xlvii. cj. Esa. xlvii. ck. Esa. xlvii. cl. Esa. xlvii. cm. Esa. xlvii. cn. Esa. xlvii. co. Esa. xlvii. cp. Esa. xlvii. cq. Esa. xlvii. cr. Esa. xlvii. cs. Esa. xlvii. ct. Esa. xlvii. cu. Esa. xlvii. cv. Esa. xlvii. cw. Esa. xlvii. cx. Esa. xlvii. cy. Esa. xlvii. cz. Esa. xlvii. da. Esa. xlvii. db. Esa. xlvii. dc. Esa. xlvii. dd. Esa. xlvii. de. Esa. xlvii. df. Esa. xlvii. dg. Esa. xlvii. dh. Esa. xlvii. di. Esa. xlvii. dj. Esa. xlvii. dk. Esa. xlvii. dl. Esa. xlvii. dm. Esa. xlvii. dn. Esa. xlvii. do. Esa. xlvii. dp. Esa. xlvii. dq. Esa. xlvii. dr. Esa. xlvii. ds. Esa. xlvii. dt. Esa. xlvii. du. Esa. xlvii. dv. Esa. xlvii. dw. Esa. xlvii. dx. Esa. xlvii. dy. Esa. xlvii. dz. Esa. xlvii. ea. Esa. xlvii. eb. Esa. xlvii. ec. Esa. xlvii. ed. Esa. xlvii. ee. Esa. xlvii. ef. Esa. xlvii. eg. Esa. xlvii. eh. Esa. xlvii. ei. Esa. xlvii. ej. Esa. xlvii. ek. Esa. xlvii. el. Esa. xlvii. em. Esa. xlvii. en. Esa. xlvii. eo. Esa. xlvii. ep. Esa. xlvii. eq. Esa. xlvii. er. Esa. xlvii. es. Esa. xlvii. et. Esa. xlvii. eu. Esa. xlvii. ev. Esa. xlvii. ew. Esa. xlvii. ex. Esa. xlvii. ey. Esa. xlvii. ez. Esa. xlvii. fa. Esa. xlvii. fb. Esa. xlvii. fc. Esa. xlvii. fd. Esa. xlvii. fe. Esa. xlvii. ff. Esa. xlvii. fg. Esa. xlvii. fh. Esa. xlvii. fi. Esa. xlvii. fj. Esa. x unto the none of these things, wherwith I shal visit them. But neuertheless, they stande vpon earthe to folow the fylthynges of theyr owne ymaginacions. Therefore ye shal walte vpon me sayth the Lord, til the tyme that I stand vpon: for I am determyned to gather the people, and to bringe the kingdomes togyther, that I maye poute out myne anger, yea al my wrathfull dyspleasure vpon them. For al the world shal be consumed with the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I cleanse the lpps of the people, that they maye euery one cal vpon the name of the Lord, and serue hym with one shoulde. Such as I haue subdued, & my children also whom I haue scattered abroad, shal bring me presentes beyond the waters of Ethiopia.

Esa. xv. xvi. Esa. xlvii. a. Esa. xlvii. b. Esa. xlvii. c. Esa. xlvii. d. Esa. xlvii. e. Esa. xlvii. f. Esa. xlvii. g. Esa. xlvii. h. Esa. xlvii. i. Esa. xlvii. j. Esa. xlvii. k. Esa. xlvii. l. Esa. xlvii. m. Esa. xlvii. n. Esa. xlvii. o. Esa. xlvii. p. Esa. xlvii. q. Esa. xlvii. r. Esa. xlvii. s. Esa. xlvii. t. Esa. xlvii. u. Esa. xlvii. v. Esa. xlvii. w. Esa. xlvii. x. Esa. xlvii. y. Esa. xlvii. z. Esa. xlvii. aa. Esa. xlvii. ab. Esa. xlvii. ac. Esa. xlvii. ad. Esa. xlvii. ae. Esa. xlvii. af. Esa. xlvii. ag. Esa. xlvii. ah. Esa. xlvii. ai. Esa. xlvii. aj. Esa. xlvii. ak. Esa. xlvii. al. Esa. xlvii. am. Esa. xlvii. an. Esa. xlvii. ao. Esa. xlvii. ap. Esa. xlvii. aq. Esa. xlvii. ar. Esa. xlvii. as. Esa. xlvii. at. Esa. xlvii. au. Esa. xlvii. av. Esa. xlvii. aw. Esa. xlvii. ax. Esa. xlvii. ay. Esa. xlvii. az. Esa. xlvii. ba. Esa. xlvii. bb. Esa. xlvii. bc. Esa. xlvii. bd. Esa. xlvii. be. Esa. xlvii. bf. Esa. xlvii. bg. Esa. xlvii. bh. Esa. xlvii. bi. Esa. xlvii. bj. Esa. xlvii. bk. Esa. xlvii. bl. Esa. xlvii. bm. Esa. xlvii. bn. Esa. xlvii. bo. Esa. xlvii. bp. Esa. xlvii. bq. Esa. xlvii. br. Esa. xlvii. bs. Esa. xlvii. bt. Esa. xlvii. bu. Esa. xlvii. bv. Esa. xlvii. bw. Esa. xlvii. bx. Esa. xlvii. by. Esa. xlvii. bz. Esa. xlvii. ca. Esa. xlvii. cb. Esa. xlvii. cc. Esa. xlvii. cd. Esa. xlvii. ce. Esa. xlvii. cf. Esa. xlvii. cg. Esa. xlvii. ch. Esa. xlvii. ci. Esa. xlvii. cj. Esa. xlvii. ck. Esa. xlvii. cl. Esa. xlvii. cm. Esa. xlvii. cn. Esa. xlvii. co. Esa. xlvii. cp. Esa. xlvii. cq. Esa. xlvii. cr. Esa. xlvii. cs. Esa. xlvii. ct. Esa. xlvii. cu. Esa. xlvii. cv. Esa. xlvii. cw. Esa. xlvii. cx. Esa. xlvii. cy. Esa. xlvii. cz. Esa. xlvii. da. Esa. xlvii. db. Esa. xlvii. dc. Esa. xlvii. dd. Esa. xlvii. de. Esa. xlvii. df. Esa. xlvii. dg. Esa. xlvii. dh. Esa. xlvii. di. Esa. xlvii. dj. Esa. xlvii. dk. Esa. xlvii. dl. Esa. xlvii. dm. Esa. xlvii. dn. Esa. xlvii. do. Esa. xlvii. dp. Esa. xlvii. dq. Esa. xlvii. dr. Esa. xlvii. ds. Esa. xlvii. dt. Esa. xlvii. du. Esa. xlvii. dv. Esa. xlvii. dw. Esa. xlvii. dx. Esa. xlvii. dy. Esa. xlvii. dz. Esa. xlvii. ea. Esa. xlvii. eb. Esa. xlvii. ec. Esa. xlvii. ed. Esa. xlvii. ee. Esa. xlvii. ef. Esa. xlvii. eg. Esa. xlvii. eh. Esa. xlvii. ei. Esa. xlvii. ej. Esa. xlvii. ek. Esa. xlvii. el. Esa. xlvii. em. Esa. xlvii. en. Esa. xlvii. eo. Esa. xlvii. ep. Esa. xlvii. eq. Esa. xlvii. er. Esa. xlvii. es. Esa. xlvii. et. Esa. xlvii. eu. Esa. xlvii. ev. Esa. xlvii. ew. Esa. xlvii. ex. Esa. xlvii. ey. Esa. xlvii. ez. Esa. xlvii. fa. Esa. xlvii. fb. Esa. xlvii. fc. Esa. xlvii. fd. Esa. xlvii. fe. Esa. xlvii. ff. Esa. xlvii. fg. Esa. xlvii. fh. Esa. xlvii. fi. Esa. xlvii. fj. Esa. xlvii. fk. Esa. xlvii. fl. Esa. xlvii. fm. Esa. xlvii. fn. Esa. xlvii. fo. Esa. xlvii. fp. Esa. xlvii. fq. Esa. xlvii. fr. Esa. xlvii. fs. Esa. xlvii. ft. Esa. xlvii. fu. Esa. xlvii. fv. Esa. xlvii. fw. Esa. xlvii. fx. Esa. xlvii. fy. Esa. xlvii. fz. Esa. xlvii. ga. Esa. xlvii. gb. Esa. xlvii. gc. Esa. xlvii. gd. Esa. xlvii. ge. Esa. xlvii. gf. Esa. xlvii. gg. Esa. xlvii. gh. Esa. xlvii. gi. Esa. xlvii. gj. Esa. xlvii. gk. Esa. xlvii. gl. Esa. xlvii. gm. Esa. xlvii. gn. Esa. xlvii. go. Esa. xlvii. gp. Esa. xlvii. gq. Esa. xlvii. gr. Esa. xlvii. gs. Esa. xlvii. gt. Esa. xlvii. gu. Esa. xlvii. gv. Esa. xlvii. gw. Esa. xlvii. gx. Esa. xlvii. gy. Esa. xlvii. gz. Esa. xlvii. ha. Esa. xlvii. hb. Esa. xlvii. hc. Esa. xlvii. hd. Esa. xlvii. he. Esa. xlvii. hf. Esa. xlvii. hg. Esa. xlvii. hh. Esa. xlvii. hi. Esa. xlvii. hj. Esa. xlvii. hk. Esa. xlvii. hl. Esa. xlvii. hm. Esa. xlvii. hn. Esa. xlvii. ho. Esa. xlvii. hp. Esa. xlvii. hq. Esa. xlvii. hr. Esa. xlvii. hs. Esa. xlvii. ht. Esa. xlvii. hu. Esa. xlvii. hv. Esa. xlvii. hw. Esa. xlvii. hx. Esa. xlvii. hy. Esa. xlvii. hz. Esa. xlvii. ia. Esa. xlvii. ib. Esa. xlvii. ic. Esa. xlvii. id. Esa. xlvii. ie. Esa. xlvii. if. Esa. xlvii. ig. Esa. xlvii. ih. Esa. xlvii. ii. Esa. xlvii. ij. Esa. xlvii. ik. Esa. xlvii. il. Esa. xlvii. im. Esa. xlvii. in. Esa. xlvii. io. Esa. xlvii. ip. Esa. xlvii. iq. Esa. xlvii. ir. Esa. xlvii. is. Esa. xlvii. it. Esa. xlvii. iu. Esa. xlvii. iv. Esa. xlvii. iw. Esa. xlvii. ix. Esa. xlvii. iy. Esa. xlvii. iz. Esa. xlvii. ja. Esa. xlvii. jb. Esa. xlvii. jc. Esa. xlvii. jd. Esa. xlvii. je. Esa. xlvii. jf. Esa. xlvii. jg. Esa. xlvii. jh. Esa. xlvii. ji. Esa. xlvii. jj. Esa. xlvii. jk. Esa. xlvii. jl. Esa. xlvii. jm. Esa. xlvii. jn. Esa. xlvii. jo. Esa. xlvii. jp. Esa. xlvii. jq. Esa. xlvii. jr. Esa. xlvii. js. Esa. xlvii. jt. Esa. xlvii. ju. Esa. xlvii. jv. Esa. xlvii. jw. Esa. xlvii. jx. Esa. xlvii. jy. Esa. xlvii. jz. Esa. xlvii. ka. Esa. xlvii. kb. Esa. xlvii. kc. Esa. xlvii. kd. Esa. xlvii. ke. Esa. xlvii. kf. Esa. xlvii. kg. Esa. xlvii. kh. Esa. xlvii. ki. Esa. xlvii. kj. Esa. xlvii. kk. Esa. xlvii. kl. Esa. xlvii. km. Esa. xlvii. kn. Esa. xlvii. ko. Esa. xlvii. kp. Esa. xlvii. kq. Esa. xlvii. kr. Esa. xlvii. ks. Esa. xlvii. kt. Esa. xlvii. ku. Esa. xlvii. kv. Esa. xlvii. kw. Esa. xlvii. kx. Esa. xlvii. ky. Esa. xlvii. kz. Esa. xlvii. la. Esa. xlvii. lb. Esa. xlvii. lc. Esa. xlvii. ld. Esa. xlvii. le. Esa. xlvii. lf. Esa. xlvii. lg. Esa. xlvii. lh. Esa. xlvii. li. Esa. xlvii. lj. Esa. xlvii. lk. Esa. xlvii. ll. Esa. xlvii. lm. Esa. xlvii. ln. Esa. xlvii. lo. Esa. xlvii. lp. Esa. xlvii. lq. Esa. xlvii. lr. Esa. xlvii. ls. Esa. xlvii. lt. Esa. xlvii. lu. Esa. xlvii. lv. Esa. xlvii. lw. Esa. xlvii. lx. Esa. xlvii. ly. Esa. xlvii. lz. Esa. xlvii. ma. Esa. xlvii. mb. Esa. xlvii. mc. Esa. xlvii. md. Esa. xlvii. me. Esa. xlvii. mf. Esa. xlvii. mg. Esa. xlvii. mh. Esa. xlvii. mi. Esa. xlvii. mj. Esa. xlvii. mk. Esa. xlvii. ml. Esa. xlvii. mm. Esa. xlvii. mn. Esa. xlvii. mo. Esa. xlvii. mp. Esa. xlvii. mq. Esa. xlvii. mr. Esa. xlvii. ms. Esa. xlvii. mt. Esa. xlvii. mu. Esa. xlvii. mv. Esa. xlvii. mw. Esa. xlvii. mx. Esa. xlvii. my. Esa. xlvii. mz. Esa. xlvii. na. Esa. xlvii. nb. Esa. xlvii. nc. Esa. xlvii. nd. Esa. xlvii. ne. Esa. xlvii. nf. Esa. xlvii. ng. Esa. xlvii. nh. Esa. xlvii. ni. Esa. xlvii. nj. Esa. xlvii. nk. Esa. xlvii. nl. Esa. xlvii. nm. Esa. xlvii. nn. Esa. xlvii. no. Esa. xlvii. np. Esa. xlvii. nq. Esa. xlvii. nr. Esa. xlvii. ns. Esa. xlvii. nt. Esa. xlvii. nu. Esa. xlvii. nv. Esa. xlvii. nw. Esa. xlvii. nx. Esa. xlvii. ny. Esa. xlvii. nz. Esa. xlvii. oa. Esa. xlvii. ob. Esa. xlvii. oc. Esa. xlvii. od. Esa. xlvii. oe. Esa. xlvii. of. Esa. xlvii. og. Esa. xlvii. oh. Esa. xlvii. oi. Esa. xlvii. oj. Esa. xlvii. ok. Esa. xlvii. ol. Esa. xlvii. om. Esa. xlvii. on. Esa. xlvii. oo. Esa. xlvii. op. Esa. xlvii. oq. Esa. xlvii. or. Esa. xlvii. os. Esa. xlvii. ot. Esa. xlvii. ou. Esa. xlvii. ov. Esa. xlvii. ow. Esa. xlvii. ox. Esa. xlvii. oy. Esa. xlvii. oz. Esa. xlvii. pa. Esa. xlvii. pb. Esa. xlvii. pc. Esa. xlvii. pd. Esa. xlvii. pe. Esa. xlvii. pf. Esa. xlvii. pg. Esa. xlvii. ph. Esa. xlvii. pi. Esa. xlvii. pj. Esa. xlvii. pk. Esa. xlvii. pl. Esa. xlvii. pm. Esa. xlvii. pn. Esa. xlvii. po. Esa. xlvii. pp. Esa. xlvii. pq. Esa. xlvii. pr. Esa. xlvii. ps. Esa. xlvii. pt. Esa. xlvii. pu. Esa. xlvii. pv. Esa. xlvii. pw. Esa. xlvii. px. Esa. xlvii. py. Esa. xlvii. pz. Esa. xlvii. qa. Esa. xlvii. qb. Esa. xlvii. qc. Esa. xlvii. qd. Esa. xlvii. qe. Esa. xlvii. qf. Esa. xlvii. qg. Esa. xlvii. qh. Esa. xlvii. qi. Esa. xlvii. qj. Esa. xlvii. qk. Esa. xlvii. ql. Esa. xlvii. qm. Esa. xlvii. qn. Esa. xlvii. qo. Esa. xlvii. qp. Esa. xlvii. qq. Esa. xlvii. qr. Esa. xlvii. qs. Esa. xlvii. qt. Esa. xlvii. qu. Esa. xlvii. qv. Esa. xlvii. qw. Esa. xlvii. qx. Esa. xlvii. qy. Esa. xlvii. qz. Esa. xlvii. ra. Esa. xlvii. rb. Esa. xlvii. rc. Esa. xlvii. rd. Esa. xlvii. re. Esa. xlvii. rf. Esa. xlvii. rg. Esa. xlvii. rh. Esa. xlvii. ri. Esa. xlvii. rj. Esa. xlvii. rk. Esa. xlvii. rl. Esa. xlvii. rm. Esa. xlvii. rn. Esa. xlvii. ro. Esa. xlvii. rp. Esa. xlvii. rq. Esa. xlvii. rr. Esa. xlvii. rs. Esa. xlvii. rt. Esa. xlvii. ru. Esa. xlvii. rv. Esa. xlvii. rw. Esa. xlvii. rx. Esa. xlvii. ry. Esa. xlvii. rz. Esa. xlvii. sa. Esa. xlvii. sb. Esa. xlvii. sc. Esa. xlvii. sd. Esa. xlvii. se. Esa. xlvii. sf. Esa. xlvii. sg. Esa. xlvii. sh. Esa. xlvii. si. Esa. xlvii. sj. Esa. xlvii. sk. Esa. xlvii. sl. Esa. xlvii. sm. Esa. xlvii. sn. Esa. xlvii. so. Esa. xlvii. sp. Esa. xlvii. sq. Esa. xlvii. sr. Esa. xlvii. ss. Esa. xlvii. st. Esa. xlvii. su. Esa. xlvii. sv. Esa. xlvii. sw. Esa. xlvii. sx. Esa. xlvii. sy. Esa. xlvii. sz. Esa. xlvii. ta. Esa. xlvii. tb. Esa. xlvii. tc. Esa. xlvii. td. Esa. xlvii. te. Esa. xlvii. tf. Esa. xlvii. tg. Esa. xlvii. th. Esa. xlvii. ti. Esa. xlvii. tj. Esa. xlvii. tk. Esa. xlvii. tl. Esa. xlvii. tm. Esa. xlvii. tn. Esa. xlvii. to. Esa. xlvii. tp. Esa. xlvii. tq. Esa. xlvii. tr. Esa. xlvii. ts. Esa. xlvii. tt. Esa. xlvii. tu. Esa. xlvii. tv. Esa. xlvii. tw. Esa. xlvii. tx. Esa. xlvii. ty. Esa. xlvii. tz. Esa. xlvii. ua. Esa. xlvii. ub. Esa. xlvii. uc. Esa. xlvii. ud. Esa. xlvii. ue. Esa. xlvii. uf. Esa. xlvii. ug. Esa. xlvii. uh. Esa. xlvii. ui. Esa. xlvii. uj. Esa. xlvii. uk. Esa. xlvii. ul. Esa. xlvii. um. Esa. xlvii. un. Esa. xlvii. uo. Esa. xlvii. up. Esa. xlvii. uq. Esa. xlvii. ur. Esa. xlvii. us. Esa. xlvii. ut. Esa. xlvii. uu. Esa. xlvii. uv. Esa. xlvii. uw. Esa. xlvii. ux. Esa. xlvii. uy. Esa. xlvii. uz. Esa. xlvii. va. Esa. xlvii. vb. Esa. xlvii. vc. Esa. xlvii. vd. Esa. xlvii. ve. Esa. xlvii. vf. Esa. xlvii. vg. Esa. xlvii. vh. Esa. xlvii. vi. Esa. xlvii. vj. Esa. xlvii. vk. Esa. xlvii. vl. Esa. xlvii. vm. Esa. xlvii. vn. Esa. xlvii. vo. Esa. xlvii. vp. Esa. xlvii. vq. Esa. xlvii. vr. Esa. xlvii. vs. Esa. xlvii. vt. Esa. xlvii. vu. Esa. xlvii. vv. Esa. xlvii. vw. Esa. xlvii. vx. Esa. xlvii. vy. Esa. xlvii. vz. Esa. xlvii. wa. Esa. xlvii. wb. Esa. xlvii. wc. Esa. xlvii. wd. Esa. xlvii. we. Esa. xlvii. wf. Esa. xlvii. wg. Esa. xlvii. wh. Esa. xlvii. wi. Esa. xlvii. wj. Esa. xlvii. wk. Esa. xlvii. wl. Esa. xlvii. wm. Esa. xlvii. wn. Esa. xlvii. wo. Esa. xlvii. wp. Esa. xlvii. wq. Esa. xlvii. wr. Esa. xlvii. ws. Esa. xlvii. wt. Esa. xlvii. wu. Esa. xlvii. wv. Esa. xlvii. ww. Esa. xlvii. wx. Esa. xlvii. wy. Esa. xlvii. wz. Esa. xlvii. xa. Esa. xlvii. xb. Esa. xlvii. xc. Esa. xlvii. xd. Esa. xlvii. xe. Esa. xlvii. xf. Esa. xlvii. xg. Esa. xlvii. xh. Esa. xlvii. xi. Esa. xlvii. xj. Esa. xlvii. xk. Esa. xlvii. xl. Esa. xlvii. xm. Esa. xlvii. xn. Esa. xlvii. xo. Esa. xlvii. xp. Esa. xlvii. xq. Esa. xlvii. xr. Esa. xlvii. xs. Esa. xlvii. xt. Esa. xlvii. xu. Esa. xlvii. xv. Esa. xlvii. xw. Esa. xlvii. xx. Esa. xlvii. xy. Esa. xlvii. xz. Esa. xlvii. ya. Esa. xlvii. yb. Esa. xlvii. yc. Esa. xlvii. yd. Esa. xlvii. ye. Esa. xlvii. yf. Esa. xlvii. yg. Esa. xlvii. yh. Esa. xlvii. yi. Esa. xlvii. yj. Esa. xlvii. yk. Esa. xlvii. yl. Esa. xlvii. ym. Esa. xlvii. yn. Esa. xlvii. yo. Esa. xlvii. yp. Esa. xlvii. yq. Esa. xlvii. yr. Esa. xlvii. ys. Esa. xlvii. yt. Esa. xlvii. yu. Esa. xlvii. yv. Esa. xlvii. yw. Esa. xlvii. yx. Esa. xlvii. yy. Esa. xlvii. yz. Esa. xlvii. za. Esa. xlvii. zb. Esa. xlvii. zc. Esa. xlvii. zd. Esa. xlvii. ze. Esa. xlvii. zf. Esa. xlvii. zg. Esa. xlvii. zh. Esa. xlvii. zi. Esa. xlvii. zj. Esa. xlvii. zk. Esa. xlvii. zl. Esa. xlvii. zm. Esa. xlvii. zn. Esa. xlvii. zo. Esa. xlvii. zp. Esa. xlvii. zq. Esa. xlvii. zr. Esa. xlvii. zs. Esa. xlvii. zt. Esa. xlvii. zu. Esa. xlvii. zv. Esa. xlvii. zw. Esa. xlvii. zx. Esa. xlvii. zy. Esa. xlvii. zz.

In that tyme shalte thou be no more confounded, because of al thy ymaginacions, wherwith thou haddest offended me: for I wyl take awaye the proude booces of thyne honour from the, so that thou shalte no more triumph because of my help byl. In the also wyl I leaue a smal, poore, simple people, which shal trust in the name of the Lord. The remnant of Israel shal do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neyther shal any disceatful tong be found in these menberes. For they shal be fed, & take theyr rest, and no man shal make them afeared. Oue thanks, O daughter Sion, be thankful, O Israel: reioyse and be glad with thy whole heart. O daughter Ierusalem, for the Lord hath taken awaye thy punishment, and turned backe thyne enemyes. The King of Israel, euen the Lord hym selfe, is with thee, so that thou needest no more to feare any misfortune.

In that tyme it shalbe sayd to Ierusalem. feare not, and to Sion: let not thyne eyes be slacke. for the Lord thy god is with thee, it is he that hath the power to saue, he hath a special pleasure in thee, and a marvellous loue toward thee: yea he reioysed ouer the truth gladnes. Such as hath ben in dreames, wyl I gather togyther, and take out of thy congregacion: yea and the shame and reproche that hath bene layd vpon the, shal be far from the. And so, in that tyme wyl I destroye al those that hate thee: I wyl heale the lame, and gather vp the cast awaye: yea, I wyl geue them praise and honour in al landes, wher they haue bene put to shame. At the same tyme wyl I bring you in, and at the same tyme wyl I gather you. I wyl geue you a name and a good report among all people of the earth: when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes, sayeth the Lord.

(.*)

The ende of the Prophecie of Sophony.

Esa. xlvii. a. Esa. xlvii. b. Esa. xlvii. c. Esa. xlvii. d. Esa. xlvii. e. Esa. xlvii. f. Esa. xlvii. g. Esa. xlvii. h. Esa. xlvii. i. Esa. xlvii. j. Esa. xlvii. k. Esa. xlvii. l. Esa. xlvii. m. Esa. xlvii. n. Esa. xlvii. o. Esa. xlvii. p. Esa. xlvii. q. Esa. xlvii. r. Esa. xlvii. s. Esa. xlvii. t. Esa. xlvii. u. Esa. xlvii. v. Esa. xlvii. w. Esa. xlvii. x. Esa. xlvii. y. Esa. xlvii. z. Esa. xlvii. aa. Esa. xlvii. ab. Esa. xlvii. ac. Esa. xlvii. ad. Esa. xlvii. ae. Esa. xlvii. af. Esa. xlvii. ag. Esa. xlvii. ah. Esa. xlvii. ai. Esa. xlvii. aj. Esa. xlvii. ak. Esa. xlvii. al. Esa. xlvii. am. Esa. xlvii. an. Esa. xlvii. ao. Esa. xlvii. ap. Esa. xlvii. aq. Esa. xlvii. ar. Esa. xlvii. as. Esa. xlvii. at. Esa. xlvii. au. Esa. xlvii. av. Esa. xlvii. aw. Esa. xlvii. ax. Esa. xlvii. ay. Esa. xlvii. az. Esa. xlvii. ba. Esa. xlvii. bb. Esa. xlvii. bc. Esa. xlvii. bd. Esa. xlvii. be. Esa. xlvii. bf. Esa. xlvii. bg. Esa. xlvii. bh. Esa. xlvii. bi. Esa. xlvii. bj. Esa. xlvii. bk. Esa. xlvii. bl. Esa. xlvii. bm. Esa. xlvii. bn. Esa. xlvii. bo. Esa. xlvii. bp. Esa. xlvii. bq. Esa. xlvii. br. Esa. xlvii. bs. Esa. xlvii. bt. Esa. xlvii. bu. Esa. xlvii. bv. Esa. xlvii. bw. Esa. xlvii. bx. Esa. xlvii. by. Esa. xlvii. bz. Esa. xlvii. ca. Esa. xlvii. cb. Esa. xlvii. cc. Esa. xlvii. cd. Esa. xlvii. ce. Esa. xlvii. cf. Esa. xlvii. cg. Esa. xlvii. ch. Esa. xlvii. ci. Esa. xlvii. cj. Esa. xlvii. ck. Esa. xlvii. cl. Esa. xlvii. cm. Esa. xlvii. cn. Esa. xlvii. co. Esa. xlvii. cp. Esa. xlvii. cq. Esa. xlvii. cr. Esa. xlvii. cs. Esa. xlvii. ct. Esa. xlvii. cu. Esa. xlvii. cv. Esa. xlvii. cw. Esa. xlvii. cx. Esa. xlvii. cy. Esa. xlvii. cz. Esa. xlvii. da. Esa. xlvii. db. Esa. xlvii. dc. Esa. xlvii. dd. Esa. xlvii. de. Esa. xlvii. df. Esa. xlvii. dg. Esa. xlvii. dh. Esa. xlvii. di. Esa. xlvii. dj. Esa. xlvii. dk. Esa. xlvii. dl. Esa. xlvii. dm. Esa. xlvii. dn. Esa. xlvii. do. Esa. xlvii. dp. Esa. xlvii. dq. Esa. xlvii. dr. Esa. xlvii. ds. Esa. xlvii. dt. Esa. xlvii. du. Esa. xlvii. dv. Esa. xlvii. dw. Esa. xlvii. dx. Esa. xlvii. dy. Esa. xlvii. dz. Esa. xlvii. ea. Esa. xlvii. eb. Esa. xlvii. ec. Esa. xlvii. ed. Esa. xlvii. ee. Esa. xlvii. ef. Esa. xlvii. eg. Esa. xlvii. eh. Esa. xlvii. ei. Esa. xlvii. ej. Esa. xlvii. ek. Esa. xlvii. el. Esa. xlvii. em. Esa. xlvii. en. Esa. xlvii. eo. Esa. xlvii. ep. Esa. xlvii. eq. Esa. xlvii. er. Esa. xlvii. es. Esa. xlvii. et. Esa. xlvii. eu. Esa. xlvii. ev. Esa. xlvii. ew. Esa. xlvii. ex. Esa. xlvii. ey. Esa. xlvii. ez. Esa. xlvii. fa. Esa. xlvii. fb. Esa. xlvii. fc. Esa. xlvii. fd. Esa. xlvii. fe. Esa. xlvii. ff. Esa. xlvii. fg. Esa. xlvii. fh. Esa. xlvii. fi. Esa. xlvii. fj. Esa. xlvii. fk.

The booke of the prophet Aggeus.

The first Chapter.

The tyme of the prophery of Aggeus. An exhortacion to buyld the temple agayne.

In the seconde yere of king Darius, in the sixth moneth, the sixth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord (by the prophet Aggeus) unto Zorobabel the son of Sa-lathiel the prince of Iuda, and to Iesus the sonne of Iosedech the hie priest, saying: Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, and saith: This people doth say: The tyme is not yet come to build up the Lords house.
The Lord saith by the prophet Aggeus a said: Ye pour felues as find time to dwell in silck houses, & shal this house lye wast?

Consider nowe youre owne wayes in your herres, sayeth the Lord of hosts, ye sow much, but ye bring litle in: ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drinke, but ye are not fylled: ye becke your felues, but ye are not warm, and ye that earne any wage, purter it in a broken purse.

Thus sayeth the Lord of hosts, consider your own wayes in your herres, get you up to the mountayne, fetch wood, & build up the house, that it may be acceptable unto me, and that I may shew mine honour, sayeth the Lord. Ye looked for much, and lo it is come to litle, and though ye bring it home, yet do I blow it away. And why, so sayeth the Lord of hosts? Even because that my house lye so wast, and ye runne euery man unto his own house. Wherefore the heauens is forbid to giue you any dew, and the earth is forbid to giue increase.
I haue called for a drought, both vpon the land, and vpon the mountaynes, vpon come, vpon wine, & vpon oyle, vpon euery thing that the ground bringeth forth vpon men and vpon cattell, yea, and vpon all handye labour.

Now when Zorobabel the sonne of Sa-lathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedech the hie priest, with the remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the prophet Ag-geus, like as the Lord their God had sent him, the people did fear the Lord. Then Aggeus the Lordes angell saied in the Lords message vnto the people: I am with you saith the Lord. So the Lord waked up the spirit of Zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and the spirit of Iesus the sonne of Iose-dech the hie priest, and the spirit of the renant of al the people, that they came and laboured in the house of the Lord of hosts their God.

The second Chapter.

The wordes that the goodlyne of the second temple shal see the spake, because of the comynge of Christ.

The prophery

Vpon the xxiii. day of the fyfte mo-neth, in the second yere of king Darius, the one and twentieth daye of the seuenth moneth came the word of the Lord by the prophet Aggeus, saying: Speake to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Iuda, and to Iesus the sonne of Iosedech the hie priest, and to the residue of the people, and say: Who is left amongs you, that saith: My house is in dettill besyde? But what think ye now by it? Is it not in your eyes, even as though it were nothing? Ne-uertheles be of good chere Zorobabell (saith the Lord) be of good comfort, I Ie-sus thou sonne of Iosedech the hie priest:
take good herres vnto you also al ye people of the land, saith the Lord of hosts, and do according to the word (for I am with you saith the Lord of hosts) lyke as I agreed with you, when ye came out of the land of Egypte, and my spyrte shall be among you, feare ye not.

For thus saith the Lord of hosts: yet is once more wil I shake deuen and earth, & the sea, and the drye land: yea I wil moue al Bearden, and the comfort of al Bearden shal come, and so wil I fill this house with honour, saith the Lord of hosts. The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts. Thus the glory of the laste house shal be greater then the fyrste, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place wil I glue peace, saith the Lord of hosts.

The xxiii. daye of the fyfte moneth, & in the second yere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the prophet Ag-geus, saying: Thus saith the Lord God of hosts: Aske the priests concerning a law, and say: If one beate holy flesh at his core lay, and with this lay do touche the bread, porage, wine, oyle, or any other meat: shal he be holy also? The priests answered and said: No: Then sayd Aggeus: Now if one being defiled with a dead carcase, touche any of these, shal it also be uncleane? The priests gaue answer and said, yea, it shall be uncleane. Then Aggeus answered, and sayed, even so is this people and this naci-on before me, saith the Lord, and so are al the woorkes of theyr handes, yea, and all that they offer is uncleane.

And nowe (I praye you) consider from this day forth, and how it hath gone with you afore: or euer ther was laid one stone vpon an other in the temple of the Lord, that when ye came to a corn heape of xx. busshels, ther were scarce. x. and that when ye came to the wine presse for to pour out sp-ry pots of wine, ther were scarce. xx. For I smote you with beate, blasing and hayle stones in al the labour of your handes: yet was ther none of you that wold turne vnto me saith the Lord.

Consider then from this day forth and afore, namely from the xxiii. daye of the sixth moneth, vnto the day that the foundacion of the Lords temple was layed:

mark

marke it wel, is not the sede yet in þe barn? zach. viii. b. haue not the vyues, the fig trees, the pomegranates and olyue trees bene yet vnfutur: ful: but from this day forth, I shall make them to prosper.

Againe the. xxiij. day of the moneth came the word of the Lord vnto Aggeus a gauric, sayinge: Speake to zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say: I wyll shake both heauē and earth, and ouerthrowe the seat of the kingdomes, yea, and destroye þe myghty kyngdome of the heathen. I wyll ouerthrowe the chariers, and those that spe upon them, so that both horse and manne shall fall downe euery man vnto his neighbours swearde. And as for the, Zorobabel (saith the Lord of hostes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruante: I wyll make thee (saith the Lord) at the same tyme, & make thee as a scale, for I haue chosen the sayth the Lord of hostes.

The ende of the Prophecy of Aggeus.

The booke of the prophet zachary.

The. i. Chapter.

The moneth the people to retorne to the Lord, and to eschewe the wyckednes of their fathers. The prophesie of Aggeus and the. iij. chaps.

In the. viii. moneth of the second yere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto zacharye the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the prophet sayinge: The Lord

haue bene sore displeased at youe forefathers. And say thou vnto them. Thus saith the Lord of hostes: Tourne you vnto me (saith the Lord of hostes) and I wyll turne me vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes. Be not ye like your forefathers vnto whom the prophetes cryed afore tyme, sayinge: Thus saith the Lord God of hostes. Turne you from your euyl wayes, and from your wicked imaginations. But they would not heare, ne regarde me, saith the Lord.

What is become of your forefathers and the prophetes: as they sayd alrue? But sayd not my words and statutes, to which I commaunded by my seruantes the prophetes, sayth your forefathers? Wpō this they gaue answer, & sayd: lyke as the lord of hostes deuided to downe vnto vs, accordinge to our owt wayes and imaginations, eue so hath he delt wth vs.

Upon the. xxiij. day of the. xi. moneth, which is the moneth Sebat, in the second yere of Darius, came the word of the Lord to zacharye the sonne of Barachias, the sonne

of Addo þe prophet, sayinge: I sawe by night and lo, ther sat one vpon a reed horse, and rode all among the myre trees that were beneath vpon the ground: and behind hym were ther reed speckled, and whyte horses. Then said I: O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: I wyll shewe the what these be. And the man that rode among the myre trees, answered and sayed. These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the world. And they answered the angel of the Lord that rode among the myre trees, and sayed: We haue gone thorow the world, and behold al the world dwel at ease, and are careles.

Then the Lordes angel gaue answer and sayed: O Lorde of hostes, howe longe mylt thou be vnmerecyfull to Ierusalem, and to the citis of Iuda, wth whō thou hast bene displeased now the. lxx. yeres? So the Lord gaue a louinge and com fortable answer vnto the angel that talked wth me. And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: Crie thou, and speake: Thus saith the Lord of hostes: I am exceeding gelous ouer Ierusalem and Sion, and sore displeased at the catche heathen: for wher as I was but a lytle angry, they dyd they best that I myghte destroye them. Therefore thus saith the Lord: I wyll turne me agayne in mercy toward Ierusalem, so that my house shall be builded in it, saith the Lord of hostes: yea, and the plummet shall be layed abrode in Ierusalem, saith the Lord of hostes.

Crie also, and speake: Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes. My eyres shall be in good prosperitie agayne, the Lord shall yet comfort Sion, and chose Ierusalem. & he litle I up mine eyes and saw, and behold. lxx. hornes. And I sayed vnto the angel that talked wth me: what be these? he answered me. These are the hornes wherby haue scattered Iuda, Israel, and Ierusalem abroad. And the Lord shewed me. lxx. carps. Then said I, what wil these doo. he answered & sayd: those are þe hornes wherby haue so strowed Iuda abroad, that no man durst lyft vp his brane, but these are come to stay them away, to cast out the hornes of the geyls, which lyft up their hornes agayn the lande of Iuda, to scatter it abroad.

The. ii. Chapter.

The renewing of Ierusalem and Iuda. I lyft vp myne eyes agayne and looked, and behold, a man wth a measure lōne in his hand. I besayd I: whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, to measure Ierusalem, that I may se howe lōg and howe brode it is. And behold þe angel that talked wth me went his way forth. Then went ther out an other angel to meete hym and sayd vnto him: I aun, speake to this yonge man, & saye: Ierusalem shall be inhabited without any wal, for þe very multitude of people and cattel, that shall be therein. Yea I

Iere. xlv. b. and. xxi. b. i. Ezech. i. a zach. viii. d.

These four hornes, lxx. kingdoms.

Iere. lxxv. b. 3 pot. xxi. b.

mat. xxi. e

Iere. xxi. e. Mal. iii. b.

Iere. xlii. e. pl. lxxviii. a Iere. xlii. b. Job. xli. b.

Iere. xlii. e. Iere. xlii. a. and. xlv. e.

marke it wel, is not the sede yet in þe barn? zach. viii. b. haue not the vyues, the fig trees, the pomegranates and olyue trees bene yet vnfutur: ful: but from this day forth, I shall make them to prosper.

Againe the. xxiij. day of the moneth came the word of the Lord vnto Aggeus a gauric, sayinge: Speake to zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say: I wyll shake both heauē and earth, and ouerthrowe the seat of the kingdomes, yea, and destroye þe myghty kyngdome of the heathen. I wyll ouerthrowe the chariers, and those that spe upon them, so that both horse and manne shall fall downe euery man vnto his neighbours swearde. And as for the, Zorobabel (saith the Lord of hostes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruante: I wyll make thee (saith the Lord) at the same tyme, & make thee as a scale, for I haue chosen the sayth the Lord of hostes.

The ende of the Prophecy of Aggeus.

The booke of the prophet zachary.

The. i. Chapter.

The moneth the people to retorne to the Lord, and to eschewe the wyckednes of their fathers. The prophesie of Aggeus and the. i. chapter.

In the. viii. moneth of þe second yere of þe kyng Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto zacharye the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the prophet sayinge: the Lord

haue bene sore displeased at youe forefathers. And say thou vnto them. thus saith the Lord of hostes: Tourne you vnto me (saith the Lord of hostes) and I wyll turne me vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes. Be not ye like youe forefathers: vnto whom the prophetes cryed afore tyme, sayinge: thus saith the Lord God of hostes. Turne you from youe euyl wayes, and from youe wycked imaginations. But they would not heare, ne regarde me, saith the Lord.

What is become of youe forefathers and the prophetes: as they sayd alrue? But whyd not my words and statutes, which I commaunded by my seruantes the prophetes, saith youe forefathers? Whyd they gaue answer, & sayd: lyke as the lord of hostes deuided to downe vnto vs, accordinge to our owt wayes and imaginations, euē so hath he delt wth vs.

Upon the. xxiij. day of the. xi. moneth, which is the moneth Sebat, in the second yere of Darius, came the word of the Lord to zacharye the sonne of Barachias, the sonne

of Addo þe prophet, sayinge: I sawe by night and lo, ther sat one vpon a reed horse, and rode all among the myre trees that were beneath vpon the ground: and behind hym were ther reed speckled, and whyte horses. Then said I: O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: I wyll shewe the what these be. And the man that rode among the myre trees, answered and sayed. These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the world. And they answered the angel of the Lord that rode among the myre trees, and sayed: We haue gone thorow the world, and behold al the world dwel at ease, and are careles.

Then the Lordes angel gaue answer and sayed: O Lorde of hostes, howe longe mylt thou be vnmerecyfull to Ierusalem, and to the citis of Iuda, wth whiche thou hast bene displeased now the. xij. score and. x. yeres? So the Lord gaue a louinge and com fortable answer vnto the angel that talked wth me. And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: Crie thou, and speake: Thus saith the Lord of hostes: I am exceeding gelous ouer Ierusalem and Sion, and sore displeased at the catche heathen: for wher as I was but a lytle angry, they dyd they best that I myghte destroye them. Therefore thus saith the Lord: I wyll turne me agayne in mercy toward Ierusalem, so that my house shall be builded in it, saith the Lord of hostes: yea, and the plummet shall be layed abrode in Ierusalem, saith the Lord of hostes.

Crie also, and speake: Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes. My eyres shall be in good prosperitie agayne, the Lord shall yet comfort Sion, and chose Ierusalem. & he litle I up mine eyes and saw, and behold. x. li. hornes. And I sayed vnto the angel that talked wth me: what be these? he answered me. These are the hornes wherch haue scattered Iuda, Israel, and Ierusalem abroad. And the Lord shewed me. xiiij. carpelets. Then said I, what wil these doo. he answered & said: these are þe hornes wherch haue so strowed Iuda abroad, that no man durst lyft vp his brane, but these are come to stay them away, to cast out the hornes of the geyles, which lift up their hornes in the lande of Iuda, to scatter it abroad.

The. ii. Chapter.

The reuiewing of Ierusalem and Iuda. I lyft vp myne eyes agayne and looked, and behold, a man wth a measure lome in his hand. I besayd I: whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, to measure Ierusalem, that I may se howe lōg and howe brode it is. And behold þe angel that talked wth me went his way forth. Then went ther out an other angel to meete hym and sayd vnto him: I am, speake to this yonge man, & saye: Ierusalem shall be inhabited without any wal, for þe very multitude of people and cattel, that shall be therein. Yea I

Jer. xxi. b. and. xxi. b. i. Jer. l. a.

zach. viii. d.

These four hornes, lye four kingdoms.

Jer. l. b. 3 pot. x. b.

mat. x. b. i.

Jer. xxi. c. Jer. l. b. i.

Jer. xxi. c. Jer. l. b. i.

Jer. xxi. c. Jer. l. b. i.

Jer. xxi. c. Jer. l. b. i.

The.iii. Chapter.

The Prophecy

my selfe (sayth the Lord) wyl be vnto bee a wal of fyre round about, and wyl be bo-routed in her. O get you forth, O ye from the land of the North, sayth the Lord, remains I haue scattered into the North. wyl be under heauen, sayth the Lord. Saue thy selfe, O Spon: thou shalt dwell with daughters of Babilon, for thus sayth the Lord of hostes: a glorious power hath ben sent me out to be heauen which spoiled you:
for who so toucheth you, that touch the apple of his own eye. Beholde I wil lifte vp mine hand ouer the, so that they shalbe spoiled of those which afore serued the, and ye shal know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me.

We glad and reioyce, O daughter of Syon, for lo, I am come to dwell in the mi-delt of the, sayth the Lord. At the same time shall many heathen cleaue to the Lord, and shalbe my people. Thus wyl I dwell in the myddelt of the, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto the. The Lord shal haue Iuda in possession for ever part in the holy grounde, and shall chose Ierusalem for agayne. Let al the be vnto the Lord, for he is thyne oute of his holy place.

The.iii. Chapter.

Of the lawe and byge estate of Christe vnder the figure of Iesus the myghty pphecy of Christe.

As he shewed me Iesus the byge piled standyng before the angel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hande to resyst hym. And the Lord said vnto Satan: The Lord reioyce the that thou shalt see the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reioyce the. As not this but taken out of the fyre?

As Iesus was clothed in vncleane rappment, and stood before the angel: which answered and sayd vnto those that stood before hym: take awaye the foule clothes from hym. And vnto him he said: Behold, I haue taken awaye thy synne from the,
and wyl decke the with chaunge of rappment. He said moreouer, set a sappe myt vpon his head. So they set a sappe myt vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, and the angel of the Lord stood there.

Then the angel of the Lord restituted vnto Iesus, and sayth thus sayth the Lord of hostes: If thou wilt make in my waies, and kepe my warde, thou shalt rule my house, and kepe my courtes, & I wil grue the place among these that stand here. Heare Iesus thou vnto the, thou and thy stendes that dwell before the, for they are won-derous people.

Behold, I wyl byng forth the braynch of my seruaut, for lo, the stone that I haue layed before Iesus, vpon one stone shal be seuen eyes. Behold, I wyl vnto hym one (sayth the Lord of hostes) and take awaye the synne of that lande in one daye. Then shal every man call for his neighbour vnto the vnto, and vnder the fig tree, sayth the Lord of hostes.

The.iii. Chapter.

The vision of the golden candlesticke, and the exposition therof.

As the anzell that talked with me came agayne, and waked me vp, as a man that is rased out of his slepe; and sayed vnto me: what seest thou? And I sayed: I haue looked, and beholde a can-delsticke all of gold, and a bolle vpon it, and his seuen lampes therein, and vpon esuey lampc. vii. askes. And. ii. olive trees thereby, one vpon the right syde of the vnto, and the other vpon the left syde.

So I answered and spake to the anzell that talked with me, saying: O my Lord, what are these? The anzell that talked with me, answered and sayed vnto me: knowest thou not what these be? And I said: No my Lord. He answered and sayd vnto me. This is the word of the Lord vnto Zorobabel, saying. Neither thou art an host of men, nor thou art strength, but thou art my spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes.
What arte thou, thou greace mountayne, before Zorobabel: thou shalt be made eue, and he shal bryng up the ston stone, so that men shal lye vnto hym: good lucke, good lucke. Moreover, the moorde of the Lord came vnto me sayinge. The bandes of Zo-robabel haue sayd the foundacion of this house, his bandes shal also synche it, that ye may know how that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

For he that hath bene despyed in his season, shall reioyce, when he seeth the spe-wight in Zorobabels hand. The. vii. eyes are the Lords, which go thorow the whole world. Then answered I, and sayd vnto him. What are these two olive trees vpon the right and left syde of the candlesticke?
I spake moreouer, and sayed vnto hym: what be these two olive braynches (which thorow the two golden pypes) empty the selues into the gold. He answered and sayd: knowest thou not what these be? And I said, no my Lord. Then said he: These are the two olive braynches that stand before the ruler of the whole earth.

The.v. Chapter

The vision of the flying booke signifyinge the curse of Iherusalem such as abuse the name of God. By the vision of the measure, is signified the byngyng of Iuda to Babilon.

So I turned me by strange by myne eyes and looked, behold a flying booke. And he said vnto me: what seest thou? I answered: I see a flying booke of. xx. cubites long and. x. cubites broad. He sayd he vnto me: this is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for al they that shall be iudged after this booke, & al they that shall be iudged according to the same, I wil bring forth (sayeth the Lord of hostes) so that it shall come to the house of the chiefe, & to the house of hym that shall say: I sweare by my name:
that I maye be in his house, and consume it with the spawbe and stones therof.

Then

By the four visions is vnderstand
the whole world as in that. xlii.

Daughter of Sion for at the proph, as in that. xlii.

As he. i. a.
that. i. a.
Iude. i. b.

De. xlii. a

Epoc. ii. a

Then the angel that talked with me, wet forth, and saide vnto me: lift vp thine eyes and se what sheweth that goeth forth. And I said, what is it? He answered: this is a measure going out. He said moreover: Euen thus are they (that dwell vpon the whole earth) to looke vpon. And beholde, ther was lift vp a calene of leade: and lo a woman sat in the myddell of the measure. And he said: this is vngodlinesse. So he cast her into the myddell of the measure, and threwe the lompe of leade vp into a hole.

Then lyfte I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde ther came out. ii. women, and the wynde was in theyr wynges (for they had wynges lyke the wynges of a Roke) and they lift vp the measure betwixte the earth and the heauen.

Then spake I to the angel that talked with me: wherther wyl these beate the measure? And he sayed vnto me: into the lande of Sinear, to buyde them an house, wherche when it is prepared, the measure shalbe set ther in hys place.

The vi. Chapter.

By the foure charers, he describeth þ þro: sþerpty of the four kyngdomes.

Moreouer I turned me, lyftynge vp myne eyes and looked: and beholde ther came. iiii. charers out from betwixt two hyls, whych hils wer of brasse: In the first charer were red boyses, in the second charer wer blacke boyses, in þ third charer were whyte boyses, in the fourth charer wer boyses of dyuers coloures, and stronge. Then spake I, and sayed vnto the angel that talked with me: O Lorde, what are these? The angel answered and sayd vnto me: These ar þ four wyndes of the heauen, whiche be come forth to stande before the ruler of al the earth.

That with the blacke boyses went into the land of the North, and the whyte soloweb them, and the speckled boyses wente forth towarde the South. These boyses were very strong, and went out, & soughte to goo and take theyr iourney ouer the whole earth. And he said: get you hence & go thow the world, and go thow the out the world. Then cryed he vpon me, & spake vnto me, sayng: beholde, these that go toward the North, shal styll my wythe in the North country.

And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, sayng: Take of the prysoners that are come from Babylon: namely Belshazzar, Tobiah, and Jdai, and come thou þ same daye, and goo into the house of Jonah the sonne of Sopbon. The take gold & make crownes therof, and set them vpon þ head of Iesus the son of Ioseph the hye pite, and speake vnto him: thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes: Beholde the man whose name is the byaunche, and he that shal sprynge vp after hym, shal buyde up the temple of the Lorde, yea eue he shal buyde the temple of the Lorde. He shal beate the praisse, he shal sit vp on þ Lorde's throne, & haue the domination.

A pite shalbe also vpon his throne, and a piteable counsell shalbe betwixt them both. And the crownes shal be in the temple of the Lorde, for a remembrance vnto Belshazzar, Tobiah, Jdai, and Jonah the sonne of Sopbon. And such as be farre of, shal come and buyde the temple of the Lorde, that ye may knowe howe that the Lorde of hostes hath set me vnto you. And thus shal come to passe, if ye hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lorde your God.

The vii. Chapter.

The estimation of fastynge without mercy. The despying of charity, and the ob synace of the people.

It happened also in the fourth yere of King Darius, that the word of the Lorde cam vnto zachary in the fourth daye of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu, what tyme as Sarasar and Rogomolech and the men that wer with them, sent vnto Bethel for to pray before the Lorde: and that they shuld say vnto the piteles which wer in the house of the Lorde of hostes, and to the wyse men: shuld I wepe in the ninth moneth, and abstayne as I haue done now certayne yeres?

Then came the woorde of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, sayng: Speake vnto al the people of the land, & to the piteles, & saye, when ye fasted and mourned in the fyue & seuen moneth (now thus. ix. and. x. yeres) dyd ye fast vnto me? When ye eat also and dronke, dyd ye not eat and drinke for yourowne selues? Are not these the wordes whych the Lorde spake by his wyse men as for tyme, when Ierusalem was inhabited and welthy, she and the cietyes rounde about her, when ther dwelt men, both toward the South, & in the playne southerly?

And the word of the Lorde came vnto zachary, sayng: Thus saith the Lorde of hostes: Execute true iudgement, weh mercy and louing kindnes, euey man to his brother. Do the wyddow, the fatherles, the straunger, & poore no wrong, and let no man swagyn euyl agaynst hys brother in hys heere. Neuertheles, they would not take hede but turned theyr backs, and stopped theyr eares, þ they shuld not heare: yea, they made theyr herts as an Adamant stone, least they shuld heere the laud and wordes, whiche the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy spirit by the wyse men afore tyme. Wherefore the Lorde of hostes was very wroth at the. And thus is it come to passe, that lyke as he spake & they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare (saith the Lorde of hostes) but scattered them among al Gentylis, whiche they knewe not. Thus the lande was made so desolate, that ther traualled no man in it neyther to nor fro, for þ pleasant land was bitterly layed wast.

The viii. Chapter.

Of the returne of the people vnto Ierusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them of good wythes. The calling of the Gentylis.

BBB. l. So

Isa. cxv. a. Jer. v. vi. vii. viii. ix.

Isa. lx. xix.

Jer. xli. a.

Zach. viii. c. Exo. xxi. c.

Isa. l. b.

Jer. xl. d.

Zachary. i. b. Jer. vi. a.

Jer. lli. b.

Zach. ii. b. pl. cxvii. b. Ap. iiii. b. b.

So word of the Lord came unto me, saying: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I was in a gelousie ouer Sion, yea I haue bene very gelouse ouer her in a great displeasure, thus saith the Lord of hosts: I will touch me agayne vnto Sion, and I will dwell in the myddest of Ierusalem: so that Ierusalem shall be called a faythfull and true city, the hyl of the Lord of hosts, yea an holy hyl.

Esaie. l. d.

I thus saith the Lord of hosts: There shall yet old men and women dwell againe in the stretes of Ierusalem: yea and such as go with haues in theyr handes for very age. The stretes of the city also shall be full of younge boyes and damosels playing vpon the stretes.

Esaie. l. d.
Jerem. l. d.
apoca. xli. c.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts, if the residue of this people thinke it to be impossible in these dayes, shoulde it therefore be impossible in my syght, saith the Lord of hosts? Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Behold, I will deliuer my people fro the land of the East and West, and will bring them agayne, that they may dwell at Ierusalem. They shall be my people, & I will be theyr God, in truth and rightousnes.

Agge. l. d.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts: let your handes be strong, ye that now heare these wordes by the mouth of the prophetes which be in these dayes, that the foundation is layed vpon the Lord of hosts house, that the temple may be builded. For why? before these dayes, neyther men ne cattell could wynn any thing, neyther myght any man come in & out in rest, for trouble: but I let every man go agaynst his neighbour.

Nevertheless, I will nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as afore tyme, saith the Lord of hosts, but they shall be a schec of peace. The vineyard shall giue her fruit, the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue theyr dew: and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession. And it shall come to passe, that lyke as ye were a curse among the heathen (O ye house of Iuda, and ye house of Israel) euen so will I bestow vpon you, that ye shall be a blessing: scarce not, but let your handes be strong.

Ephes. l. d.
Iosha. vii. d.

For thus saith the Lord of hosts: like as I deuyled to punish you, what tyme as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hosts, and spared not. Euen so am I determined nowe in these dayes, for to do wel vnto the house of Iuda and Ierusalem, that sore scar ye not. Now the things that ye shall do, are these: Speake every man the truth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truely and peaceably wythin your portes, none of you ymagyneth in his heart agaynst his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for all these are the thynges that I hate, saith the Lord.

And the word of the Lord of hosts came vnto me saying: thus saith the Lord of hosts: The fast of the fourth moneth, & the fast of the v. the fast of the vii. and the fast of the x. shall be to you gladnes, and prosperous bye feastes to the house of Iuda: Only loue the truth and peace.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Ther shall yet come people, and the inhabitants of many cities: and they that dwell in one city shall go to another, saying: Let vs go, and pray before the Lord, let vs seeke the Lord of hosts, I will go with you: yea much people and many bye heathen shall come, and seeke the Lord of hosts at Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord. Thus saith the Lord of hosts: In that tyme shall ten men (out of all maner of languages of the gentils) take one Jewe by the brem of his garment, and say: we will go with you for we haue herd that God is among you.

The. ix. Chapter.

The conuersion of the Gentils. The coming of Christ spitting on an Asse.

The word of the Lord shall be receyued at Adirache, and Damascus shall be bys offering, for the eyes of all men and of the cyphes of Israel shall looke vpon vnto the Lord. The borders of Hamath shall be herd therby. Tyus also and Sidon, for they are very myse.

Tyus shall make her selfe strong, beare vpon soluer as the sand, and gold as the clay of the stretes. Behold the Lord shall take her in, and haue her in possession: he shall smyte downe her power into the sea, and she shall be consumed with fyre. Tyus shall Ascalon be and be a feare, Gaza shall be very sore, so shall Accaron also: because her hope is come to confusyon. For the kynge Gaza shall perishe, and at Ascalon shall no manne dwell.

Ios. l. d.

Strangers shall dwell at Asdod, and as for the pride of Philistines, I shall roote it out. Theyr bloude will I take awaye from theyr mouth, and theyr abominacions from amongs theyr teeth. Thus they shall be left for out God, yea they shall be as a prince in Iuda, and Accaron like as Jebus. And so will I compass my house round about with my men of war going to & fro, so no oppressour come vpon the any more. For I haue I sene nowe with myn eyes.

That is to saye crispe
their ydols
which they were wont to eate.

Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion be glad, O daughter Ierusalem. For lo, thy kynge cometh vnto the, euen thy kyng: saule and Sautour: Lowlye and simple is he, he rydeth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foale of an asse, I will roote out the charrets from Egipt, and the horse fro Ierusalem, the battell bowes shall be destroyed. He shall giue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen, and his dominion shall be from the one sea to the other, and from the floudes to the endes of the world.

Esaie. l. d.
Esaie. l. d.

Thou also throw the bloude of thy conuention: shall let thy prisoners out of the pyt wherein is no water. Turne you now to the stronge holde, ye that be in prison, and loo for to be deliuered: And this day

I bring the word that I will reward the doble againe, for Iuda haue I bent oute as a bow for me, and Ephraim haue I filled. Thy sonnes. O thou, I will raise vp against the Brekes, and make the as a giaunces swerd: the Lord God shall be sene about them, and his barres shall go forth as the lightening. The Lord God shall blow the trumpet and shall come forth as a flame out of the south.

D The Lord of hosts shall defend the, they shall consume & deuoure, and subdue the lying ones. They shall bincke and rage, as it were thowow wine. They shall be filled like the basens, and as the hornes of al the auler. The Lord they: God shall deliuer the in the day, as the flocke of his people: for the flockes of his Sanctuary shall be set vp in his land. O how prosperous & good is a thing that I shall do: the coigne shall make the yonge men chereful, and the new wine the maydens.

The. x. Chapter.

The people is moued to requyre the doctrine of truth of the Lord. The Lord promyseth to visit and comfort the house of Ierusalem.

P Laye the Lord then by tymes to giue you the latter rayne, so that the Lord make cloudes, and giue you rayne pnough for al the increase of the field: for rayne is the answer of Iob.

The forblaters se lie, and tel but basine dreames: the comfort that they giue, is no thing worth. Therefore go they astray like a flocke of shepe, and are troubled, because they haue no shepheard.

M y wordful displeasure is moued at the shepherdes, and I will visite yf gores.
For the Lord of hosts will graciously visite his flocke, the house of Iuda, and hold them as a goodly fayre booke in the battel.
Out of Iuda shall come the helme, the shield, the batelbow, and al the princes to-gyther. They shall be as the granys, which in the battelle receiue downe the myxe vpon the stretes. They shall fight, for the Lord shall be with them, so that the horsemenne shall be confounded.

I will comforte the house of Iuda, and preserue the house of Iosephe. I will turn them also, for I praye them; and they shall be lyke as they were, when I had not cast them of. For I the Lord am they: God, and will heare them.

Ephraim shall be as a gyaunt, and they:
here shall be chereful as thowow wine: yea they: children shall see it, and be glad, and they: here shall reioyse in the Lord. I will blow forth them and gather them together, for I will redeme the. They shall increase, as they increased afore. I will sow them amonge the people, that they may thincke vpon me in farre countreys: they shall spue with they: chyldren, and rourne a-gayne. I will bringe them agayne also from the lande of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria. I will carpe them into the land of Galaad and to Ephanus, and they shall want nothing. We shall go vpon the sea of trouble, and smyte the waues: so that al the deepe floudes shall be dried vp.

The proude boynge of Assur shall be caste downe and the scepter of Egypte shall be taken away. I will comfort them in the Lord, that they maye walke in his name, saith the Lord.

Esaie. x. 25.
Ezech. xlii.

The. xi. Chapter.

The destruction of the temple. The care of the saythful is commoued to Iuda, by the father. A greuous byson agaynst Ie-rusalem and Iuda.

O pen thy doores, O Ephanus, that the spye maye consume thy Cedre trees. Howle ye spye trees, for the Ceder is fallen, yea, al the proude are wasted away. Howle (O ye Oke trees of Basai) for the myghty strong wood is cutte downe. Men may heare the shepheardes mourne, for they: glory is destroyed. Men may heare the Lyons howls rore, for the pyde of Iordan is wasted away.

Thus saith the Lord my God: feede the shepe of the slaughter, which shall be rayne of those that possesse them, yet they sake it for no spue, but they that sel them, say:
The Lord be thanked, I am rich: yea the other shepherds spare them not. Therefore will I no more spare those that dwell in the land (saith the Lord) but so, I will deliver the people euery man into his neighbours hand and into the hand of his king that they may smyte the land, and oute of they: handes will not I deliuer them.

I myselfe fed the slaughter shepe (a poore flocke verely) andooke to me two staves: and the one I called louyng mekenes, the other I called wo, and so I kept the shepe while the shepherdes destroyed I in one moner, for I myghte not awake with them, neither had they anye helpe in me. When saith I: I will seeke you no more, the thing that dyeth, let it dye: and that will perish, let it perish, and let the remnaunce eate, euery one the fleshe of his neyghbour. I ooke also my louyng meke staffe & brake it, that I myghte dysanul the councaunte which I made with all people. And so it was broken in that day.

Mat. xlii. 6

Then the poore spynple shepe that had a respecte vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the woorde of the Lord. And I sayed vnto them: if ye thynke it good, bringe by-ther my pycces: if no, then leaue. So they brake downe. xxx. syluer pence, the value that I was pycced at. And the Lord sayed vnto me: caste it to the pottier (a goodly pyccer for me to be valued at of them) and Iooke the. xxx. syluer pence, and cast the to the pottier in the house of the Lord.

mat. xlii. 6

The brake I my other staffe also (name ly wo) I myghte loose the brotherbrade betwixt Iuda and Israel. And the Lord sayed vnto me: Take to the also the staffe

The. xii. Chapter.

of a foolys shepherde: for so, I wyl raise up a shepherde in the land, whych shal not seke after the thynges that be lost, ne care for such as go astray: he shal not heale the wounded, he shal not noyssh the thyng that is whole: but he shal eate the flesch of such as be fat, and eat theyr clawes in pieces.

Fools shepherd.

O Fools shepherde, that leade the flock.
The sword shal come vpon bys arme and vpon his right eye. His arme shal be cleane dred up, and his right eye shal be soze blind ed.

The. xii. Chapter.

Of the destruction and buydng agayne of Jerusalem.

Chap. xii.
Jer. xii. d.

In that day, sayth the Lord, I haue deuised for Israel. Thus sayeth the Lord, which sprede the deauens abrode, lared the foundation of the earth, and giueth me the breath of life: Beholde, I wyl make Jerusalem a cup of swete, vn to al the people that are round about her.
Yea Iuda bym selfe also shalbe in þ spege against Jerusalem. At the same tyme wyl I make Jerusalem an heape stone for all people, so that al such as lye it vpon, shal be roue and rent, and al þ people of þ earthe shalbe gathered together against it.

In that day, sayth the Lord, I wyl make al houses abashed, and those that ryde vpon them, to be out of theyr wyts. I wyl open mine eyes vpon the house of Iuda, and smite al the houses of þ people with blind-nes. And the princes of Iuda shal saye in theyr heetes: The inhabytters of Jerusalem shal gyue me consolacion in the Lord of hostes theyr God. In þ tyme wyl I make the princes of Iuda lyken dot burnynge ouen with wood and like a cresset of fyre among the steeles, so that they shal consume al the people round about them, both vpon þ right hand and the lefte. Jerusalem also shalbe inhabited agayn, namely in þ same place wher Jerusalem standeth.

Abol. i. d.
Amos. i. d.

C The Lord shal preserue þ reutes of Juda lyke as a foretyme, so that the glorie of the house of Dauid and the glorie of the citizens of Jerusalem, shalbe but lytle regarded, in comparysō of the glorie of Iuda. In that day shal the Lord defend the citizens of Jerusalem: so that the weakest then amonges them shal be as Dauid: and the house of Dauid shalbe like as gods house, as the angel of the Lord before them.

At the same tyme wyl I go about to destroy al such people as come against Jerusalem. Agayn vpon the house of Dauid and vpon the citizens of Jerusalem wyl I pouere out the founteyne of grace and praper, so that they shal looke vpon me, wth they haue perished: and they shal benyfe hym as men mourne for theyr only begotten son, yea, and be soyr for him, as me are soyr for thei first child. When shal they be a great mourning at Jerusalem: like as the lamentacion at Admōn in the feld of Aggabon. And the land shal bewaile euerye kinted by the selues: the kinted of þ house

Jer. xii. d.

Luk. xxi. c.

1. ps. xlv. c.

The Prophecy

of Dauid them selues alone, and their wy-ues by them selues. The kynred of þ house of Harhan them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues. The kynred of the house of Ieup them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues: The kynred of the house of Semel them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: In lyke maner, al the other generacions euerye chone by them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues.

The. xii. Chapter.

Of the wel of grace & truth of Christ. Of the cleane redempcion of Idolatrye and of the false prophet.

In that tyme shal the house of Dauid and the citizens of Jerusalem haue an open wel to wash of synne and vncleues.
And then (sayth the Lord of hostes) I wyl destroye the names of Idolles oute of the lande: so that they shal no more be put in remembraunce.

Jer. xii. d.
Jer. xii. d.
Jer. xii. d.

As for the false prophetes also and the vncleane spirite, I shal take them oute of the land: So that if any of them proph-eie any more, his owne father and mother that begat hym, shal saye vnto hym: Thou halt dre, for thou speakest lyes vnder the name of the Lord, yea bys owne father and mother that begat hym, shal wound him, when he propheteeth.

Jer. xii. d.
Jer. xii. d.

And then shal those prophetes be confounded euerye one of bys vpsion when he propheteeth: neyther shal they weare sack clothes any more, to deceyue men withal.
But he shal be sayne to say, I am no prophet, I am an housbaude man, for so am I taught by Adam fro my yowth vpon.

And if it be sayd vnto hym: How came these woundes then in thyne handes? He shal answer: Thus am I wounded in the house of myne owne frendes.

Arise, O thou shepard, vpon my shepherde, and vpon the prince of my people, sayeth the Lord of hostes: Smite the shepherde, and the shepe shalbe scattered abroad, and so wyl I turne myne hand to the lytle ones.
And it shal come to passe, sayth the Lord, that in al the land, it partes shalbe rooted out but the. iii. part shal remaine therein.

Jer. xii. d.
Jer. xii. d.

And the same. iii. part wyl I buye: the two of the fyre, & wyl cleanse the as the spluer is clenched, yea & try the like as gold is try-ed. The shal they cal vpon my name, and I wyl beare them: I wyl say: it is my people.
And they shal say: Lord my God.

Jer. xii. d.
Jer. xii. d.
Jer. xii. d.

The. xii. Chapter.

Of the waiting of the church vnder the figure of Jerusalem. Of the kingdome of the Lord.

Behold, the day of the Lord cometh that thou shalt be spoiled and robbed for I gather together al the heathen, to fight against Jerusalem: so that the citty shalbe taken, the houses spoiled, and the women despoiled. The halfe of the citty shal go awaye into captiuyte, and the residue of the people shal not be carryed out of the citty.

gypte. After that shal the Lord go forth to fight against those heathen as men use to fight in the day of battaile. Then shall his sete stande vpon the mounte Olyuete, that lyeth vpon the east syde of Ierusalem. And the mounte Olyuete shall cleaue in two, eastward, and westward, so that there shall be a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue towards the north and the other towards the south. And ye shall see to the valley of my hills: for the valley hills shall reache vnto Asai. Yea, ye shall see, as ye shall see for the earthquake in the dayes of Oshabynge of Iuda. And the Lord my God shall come, and all sauntres with him. In that daye shall it not be light, but cold and frost. This shall be the speciall daye, wherbye is knowen vnto the Lord: neither daye neither night, but about the euening tyme it shall be light. In that tyme shall these waters of lyfe fluyng out fro Ierusalem: the halfe parte of them towards the east sea, and the other halfe towards the westmost sea: and shall contynue bothe sommer and winter. And the Lord himselfe shall be with you ouer all the earth.

Amos. i. a

* That is the vnderstanding of the word of God.

* That is to saye, all the world ouer.

At that tyme shall there be one Lord and his name shall be but one. Then shall you go aboute the hole earth, as vpon a field: from Sibea to Remmon, and from the southe to Ierusalem. She shall be sette vp, and inhabited in her place: from Ben Tampus porte, vnto the place of the first porte, and vnto the corner porte: and from the corner of Hauaneel, vnto the kinges myne presses. There shall men dwell, and there shall be no more cursing, but Ierusalem shall be safely inhabited. This shall be the plage, wherewith the Lord wil smyte all people, that haue foughte agaynst Ierusalem: namely, their flesh shall consume awaye, though they stande vpon their feete, their eyes shall be corrupt in their holes, & their tung shall consume in their mouth.

In that daye shall the Lord make a greatesedition amongs them, so that one man shall take an other by the hande, and laye his handes vpon the handes of his neighbours. Iuda shall fight also agaynst Ierusalem, and the goobes of all the heathen shall be gathered together rounde about: golde and siluer and a verie greate multitude of clothes. And so shall this plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and all the beastes that shall be in the hoste, like as yonder plage was. Euerie one that remaineth then of all the people, wherbye came agaynst Ierusalem, shall go vp early, to worshippe the kyng (euen the Lord of hostes) and to kepe the feast of the tabernacles. And looke what generation vpon earth goeth not vp to Ierusalem, for to worshippe the kyng (euen the Lord of hostes) vpon the same shall come no raine. If the kynges of Egypt go not vp, and come not, it shall come vpon them neither.

This shall be the plage, wherewith the Lord wil smyte all heathen that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles, yea this shall be the synne plage of Egypte, and the synn plage of all people, that goe not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that tyme shall the rydunge geare of the horses be holy vnto the Lord, and the kettels in the Lords house shall be lyke the basens before the altar, yea all the kettels in Ierusalem and Iuda shall be holy vnto the Lord of hostes, & all they that day offerings shall come, take of them and dighe, them therein. And at that tyme there shall be no more Canaanites in the house of the Lord.

The ende of the Prophecy of zacharye.

The booke of the prophet Malachy.

The first Chapter.

A complaynt agaynst Iseac & her priestes.

The heuy burden, which the Lord sheweth agaynst Iseac by Malachy. I haue loued you saith the Lord: and yet ye say: wherewith hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Iacob's brother, sayeth the Lord: yet haue I loued Iacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made his hillies waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons. And though I haue sayed: well, we are restored, we wil goe buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted, yet (sayeth the Lord of hostes) what they buylde, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people, whome the Lord hathe euer bene angry withall.

Your eyes haue sene it, & ye pour selues must confesse, that the Lord hath brought the land of Iseac to great honour. Should not a sonne honour his father, and a seruante his master? If I be nowe a father, where is mine honour? If I be the Lord, where am I feared? sayth the Lord of hostes.

Howe to you priestes that despise my name: And if ye say, wherewith haue we despised thy name? In this, that ye offer vncleane bread vpon myne altar. And if ye wil saye, wherewith haue ye offered any vncleane thinge vnto the Lord? In this that ye saye: the altar of the Lord is not to be regarded. If ye offer the blynd, is not that euill? And if ye offer the lame and sicke, is not that euill? Yea offer it to thy prience, shall be content with the, or accepte thy person, sayth the Lord of hostes.

And now make your prayer before God that he may haue mercy vpon vs: for such

Mal. iii.

thynges

Gen. xlv. c.
Roma. ix. b.
Ios. xxiii. a

* To offer belyed bread, is to doo any thing by hypocrisie & not to glorify God as he hathe commaunded in his word but accoring to the inuention of diuines okemen. See. ix. a

gypte. After that shal the Lord go forth to fight against those heathen as men use to fight in the day of battaile. Then shall his feet stand upon the mount Olpnet, that is upon the east syde of Ierusalem. And the mount Olpnet shall cleave in two, eastward, and westward, so that there shall be a great valley: and the halfe mount

Amos. i. a

shal remoue towards the north and the other towards the south. And ye shall see to the valley of my hills: for the valley hills shall reach unto Asai. Yea, ye shall see, as ye shall see for the earthquake in the dayes of Orah king of Iuda. And the Lord my God shall come, and all sanctes with him. In that daye shall it not be light, but cold and frost. This shall be the speciall daye, whiche is knowne unto the Lord: neither daye neither night, but about the euening tyme it shall be light. In that tyme shall these waters of Ise flowing out fro Ierusalem: the halfe parte of them towards the east sea, and the other halfe towards the west toward the great sea: and shall continue both sommer and winter. And the Lord himselfe shall be king ouer all the earth.

* That is the vnderstanding of the word of God.

* That is to saye, all the world ouer.

At that tyme shall there be one Lord and his name shall be but one. Then shall goe about the hole earth, as upon a field: from Sibea to Remmon, and from the southe to Ierusalem. She shall be sette vp, and inhabited in her place: from Ben Tampus porte, unto the place of the first porte, and unto the corner porte: and from the corner of Hauaneel, unto the kinges myne presses. There shall men dwell, and there shall be no more cursing, but Ierusalem shall be safely inhabited. This shall be the plage, wherewith the Lord will smyte all people, that haue foughte agaynst Ierusalem: namely, their flesh shall consume awaye, though they stande upon their feete, their eyes shall be corrupt in their holes, & their tung shall consume in their mouth.

In that daye shall the Lord make a greatesedition amongs them, so that one man shall take an other by the hande, and laye his handes upon the handes of his neighbours. Iuda shall fight also agaynst Ierusalem, and the goobes of all the heathen shall be gathered together rounde about: golde and siluer and a verie greate multitude of clothes. And so shall this plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and all the beastes that shall be in the hoste, like as yonder plage was. Every one that remaineth then of all the people, whiche came agaynst Ierusalem, shall go vp early, to worshippe the kinge (euen the Lord of hostes) and to kepe the feast of the tabernacles. And looke what generation upon earth goeth not vp to Ierusalem, for to worshippe the kinge (euen the Lord of hostes) upon the same shall come no rappe. If the kynges of Egypt go not vp, and come not, it shall come upon them neither.

This shall be the plage, wherewith the Lord will smyte all heathen that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles, yea this shall be the synne plage of Egypte, and the synn plage of all people, that goe not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that tyme shall the rydunge geare of the horses be holy unto the Lord, and the ketrels in the Lords house shall be lyke the basens before the altar, yea all the ketrels in Ierusalem and Iuda shall be holy unto the Lord of hostes, & all they that day offerings shall come, take of them and dighe, them therein. And at that tyme there shall be no more Canaanites in the house of the Lord.

The ende of the Prophecy of zacharye.

The booke of the prophet Malachy.

The first Chapter.

A complaynt agaynst Iseac & her priestes.

The heuy burden, which the Lord sheweth agaynst Iseac by Malachy. I haue loued you saith the Lord: and yet ye say: wherewith hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Iacob's brother, sayeth the Lord: yet haue I loued Iacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made his hillies waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons. And though I haue sayed: well, we are restored, we will goe buyld vp agayne the places that be wasted, yet (sayeth the Lord of hostes) what they buylded, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people, whome the Lord hathe euer bene angry withall.

Your eyes haue seene it, & ye pour selues must confesse, that the Lord hath brought the land of Iseac to great honour. Should not a sonne honour his father, and a seruante his master? If I be nowe a father, where is mine honour? If I be the Lord, where am I feared? sayth the Lord of hostes.

Howe to you priestes that despise my name: And if ye say, wherewith haue we despised thy name? In this, that ye offer vncleane bread vpon myne altar. And if ye say, wherewith haue we offered any vncleane thing vnto thee? In this that ye say: the altar of the Lord is not to be regarded. If ye offer the blynd, is not that euill? And if ye offer the lame and sicke, is not that euill? Yea offer it to thy prince, shall he be content with the, or accepte thy person, sayth the Lord of hostes.

And now make your prayer before God that he may haue mercy vpon vs: for such

Mal. iii.

thynges

Gen. xlv. c.
Roma. ix. b.
Ios. xxiii. a

* To offer belyed bread, is to doo any thing by hypocrisie & not to glorify God as he hathe commaunded in his word but accoring to the inuention of diuines okmen. Deut. x. a thynges haue ye done: Shall he regarde your persons, thyngke ye, sayeth the Lorde of hostes? Yea what is he among you that wyl doo so muche as to shut the doores, or to kyndle the fyre vpon myne altier for nought? I haue no pleasure in you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: and as for the meate offeringe, I wyl not accepte it at your hande: For from the rising vp of the sunne vnto the goinge downe of the same, my name is greete among the Gentyles, yea in euery place shal their sacrifice be done, and a cleane meate offeringe offered vp vnto my name: for my name is great among the heathen sayth the Lorde of hostes. But ye haue vnhalowed it, in that ye saye: the altier of the Lorde is not to be regarded, and the thyngke that is set her vpon, not wylde to be eaten.

The.ii.Chapter

Now say ye: It is but labour & trauaill and thus haue ye thought: Come at it (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) offeringe robbery, yea the lamie & the sicke. Ye haue brought me in a meate offeringe, should I accepte it at your hande sayeth the Lorde? Cursed be the dyssembler, whiche haue in his flocke one that is a male, and when he maketh a vow, offereth a spotted one vnto the Lord. For I am a greete kyng (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) and my name is fearful among the heathen.

The.ii.Chapter.

Threatenings agaynst the priestes beinge seducers of the people.

And now (O ye priestes) this commaundment conuerth you: if ye wyl not heare it, he regarde it, to geue the gloire vnto my name, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I wyl sende a curse vpon you, and wyl curse your blessings: yea curse them wyl I, if ye doo not take heed. Beholde, I shal corrupte your seede, and cast downe in your faces: euen the donge of your solemnitates, and it shal cleue fast vpon you, and ye shal knowe that I haue sent this commaundment vnto you that my cogeniunt whiche I made with Leui, myghte stande sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

I made a covenante of lpe, and peace with him: this I gaue him, that he myght stand in awe of me, and so he dyd feare me, and had my name in reuerence. The lawe of truth was in his mouth, and there was no wyckednes founde in his lippes.

He walked with me in peace & equitie, and dyd turne many one away from their sinnes. For in the priestes lippes shoulde be sure knowledge, that manne maye seeke the lawe at his mouth, for he is a messenger of the Lorde of hostes. But as for you, ye are gone cleane out of the waye, and haue caused the multitude to be offended at the lawe: ye haue broken the covenante of Leui sayth the Lorde of hostes. Therefore wyl I also make you to be despyed, and to be of no reputation amonge al the peo-

elaz. l. b

* O: hys word, & hys meate are dyspyed.

De. xlv. b

Am. xlv. c

De. xlv. b

The Prophecy

ple: because ye haue not kepte my wayes, but bene parciall in the lawe.

Haue we not all one father? Had not one God made vs? why doth euery one of vs the despise his owne brother, & so breake the couenant of our fathers? Nowe haue Iuda offended: yea the abomination is done in Israel, and in Ierusalem: for Iuda hath defiled the Sanctuary of the lord whiche he loued, & hath kepte the doughbreed of a straunge God. But the Lorde shal destroye the man that doth this (yea both the maker and the scolar) oute of the tabernacle of Iacob, wyl hym & offereth vp meate offeringe vnto the Lorde of hostes.

Now haue ye brought it to this poynte agayne that the altier of the Lorde is conuerted wyl teares, weppinge and mourninge: so that I wyl no more regarde the meate offeringe, neyther wyl I receiue or accepte any thyng at your handes.

And yet ye saye, wherefore? Euen because that where as the Lorde made a couenante betwixt thee, and the wyfe of thy youth, thou hast despyed her: yet is she thyne owne companion and made wyfe.

So did not the one, and yet had he an excellent spirite. What dyd the one? He sought the sedepromised of God. Therefore loke wel to your self, & let no manne despyse the wyfe of his youth. If thou hast let her put her away sayth the Lord God of Israel and geue her a clothyng for the scoone, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. Looke well then to your spirite, and despyse her not. Ye greue the Lord wyl your wydes, and yet ye saye: where wyl all haue we greued hym, In thys that ye saye: Al that do euyl are good in the syght of God, and such please hym. O els where is the God that punysheth?

The.iii.Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lord, John Baptiste. Of the day of the Lorde, and of Elph.

Behold, I wyl sende my messenger, whiche shall prepare the waye before me: and the lord whom ye wold haue, shal soone come to his temple, yea euen the messenger of the couenant whom ye longe for.

Beholde he cometh, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. But who maye abyde the daye of his commynge? Who shall be able to endure when he appeareth? For he is lyke a golde smythes fyre, and lyke washers sope. He shal spt him downe to tye and to cleuse the spluer, he shal pource the chyldezen of Leui, and purifie the lyke as golde and spluer, that they maye bringe meate offerings vnto the Lorde in ryghteousnesse. When shall the offeringe of Iuda and Ierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lorde, lyke as from the begynnynge and in the yeres afore tyme.

I wyl come and punyche you, and I wyl my selfe wyl be a wylly wylness agaynst the witches, agaynst the aduocaters agaynst the false swearers, yea and agaynst ephe. lll. a acha. vii. b

and. vii. c
1. e. l. d
2. cu. ii. xli. c

These fals scripures taken to be spoken of Iuyaham.

Bath. xl. b
Marke. i. a
Luke. vii. c
Gene. iii. d
v. b
Esa. lvi. a 13 thuse

De. ext. l.
du. 28, 30, 31 c

தஞ்சாவூர்

1961 12.10
1962 1.10

D It is but losse labour to serue God:
What prosper haue we in keepng his commaundementes, and for walkng humbly before the Lord of hostes? Therefore maye we say, that the proud are happy, and that they whiche deale wth vngodlynes are set vp: for they tempt God, and yet escape.

boke mynsten for ſuche as feare the Lord: & remembre his name. And in the daye that I wyl make (ſayth the Lord of hoſtes) they ſhalbe mine owne poſſeſſion: and I wil fa-uoure them, lyke as a man ſauoureth bys owne ſonne, that dooeth hym ſeruyce.
Tournе you therefore and conſydre what difference is betwixt the cygbreouſe and the vngodlye: betwixt hym that ſerueth God, and hym that ſerueth hym not.

187. xviii. 10

Dr. H. V. S.

Math. xi. 6
and xviii.

Lith. Co.

2^o c. 11. Hon

Gun 14: 1771 Aged - 21 O.S.
 Gun 15: 1770 Style 21 -

From Milton. Some other of 1743
 From Milton. Some other of 1743

E

R

The volume of the bokes called Apocrifha: containyng thele bokes folowynge.

The. iiii. boke of Eldras.
The fourth boke of Eldras.
The boke of Tobiah.
The boke of Judith.
The rest of the boke of Hester.
The boke of wysdome.
Ecclesiasticus.
Baruch the Prophete.
The songe of the thre chyldren.
The storie of Susanna.
The storie of Bel & the Dragon.
The prayer of Manasses
The fyrste boke of Machabees.
The second boke of Machabees.
The thyrde boke of Machabees.

ARISE FOR

IT IS DAY

E

R

The volume of the booke called Apocrifha: containyng thele booke folowynge.

The. iiii. booke of Eldras.
The fourth booke of Eldras.
The booke of Tobiah.
The booke of Judith.
The rest of the booke of Hester.
The booke of wysdome.
Ecclesiasticus.
Baruch the Prophete.
The songe of the thre chyl dren.
The storie of Sulama.
The storie of Bel & the Dragon.
The prayer of Manasses
The fyrste booke of Machabees.
The second booke of Machabees.
The thyrde booke of Machabees.

ARISE FOR

IT IS DAY

A Prologe to the Reader.

In the Pro-
loge to the Prouerbe

In the pro-
loge before
Judith.

In the pro-
loge to the Prouerbe.

In the ill.
booke p. xii.
chap.

In the pro-
loge vpo p booke of the hyngers.

In the pro-
loge of Ec-
cl.
viii.

In the xl.
xii. xii. of p
Antiquities

1. Pet. i. ii. c.
1. Pet. i. d.
4. Pet. i. d.

1. Cor. iii.
Eph. ii. d

Consideration that the booke before are founde in the Hebrie tongue, receiued of all men: and that the other folowynge, whiche are callid Apocrypha (because they were wont to be read, not openly and in commune, but as it were in secreete and apart) are neither founde in the Hebrie nor in the Chaldee, in whiche tongues they haue not of long ben lost written (unless it were haply the booke of Sapience) whereupon it were nowe very harde to repaire and amende them: And that also they are not receiued nor taken as legitimate, and lawfull, as wel of the Hebries as of the whole church, as. f. Hierome sheweth, we haue seperated them, and set them aside, that they maie the better be knowne, to the intent that men may knowe of whiche booke wotynne ought to be receiued, and of whiche not. For the sapde. f. Hierome speakynge of the booke of Judith (whiche is Apocryphe / saph), that the authoutie therof is not esteemed worthy and sufficiente to confirme and stablish the thynges that are in disputation.

And generally of all the booke called Apocrypha, he sayeth, that menne may reade them to the edifying of the people, but not to confirme and strengthen the doctrine of the church. I leane oute here the lawe (as they call it of canon. c. Sancta Romana. xv. distinct) where he sheweth thys iudgement. Ephe. vi. the glose of. c. Canons. xiii. distinct. whiche sayth, that we read them, but not in general, as though he shoulde say, that generally and thorowly they are not allowed. And not without cause. For that they haue bene corrupted and falsified in manie places, it appeareth sufficiently by Eusebius in hys booke callid Historia Ecclesi-astica. Whiche thinge is easy to be knowne even nowe a dayes in certayne pointes, namely in the booke of Machabees, whose seconde booke. S. Hierome confesseth that he found not in the Hebrie, by the meanes whereof it is become to vs the more suspect, & the lesse receiued. In the same maner is it of the thirde and fourth booke of Esdras, whiche Hierome professeth that he would not haue translated, estimynge them for dreames, where as Iosephus yet in hys booke of Antiquities declareth the summe of the matter after the thirde of Esdras, although he he esteeme the booke compiled frome the tyme of Artaxerxes vnto hys tyme, to be Apocrypha.

Wherefore then, when thou shouldest mapntayne any thyng for certayne, receiuinge a reason of thy sayeth, take hede to procede therein by the lpyng, and pithy Scripture, folow-ynge Sapient Peter, whiche sayeth. He that speaketh, let hym speake as though he spake the worde of God. He sayeth the worde of God, as a thinge moste true, and certayne, opened by the Prophetes and Apostles inspired with the holpe ghosste, of whom we haue wotynne more clere then the daye. Sathiers haunne greate desyre to confirme and stablish the opinions by the lawe of man, like that they shoulde to speake without lawe. How much more fearre and drede then ought they to haue, that sayeth he is a churlian, the whiche holdeth not hym selfe, or testeth not in the lawes of the lpyng God, but in mens inuentions. iudynge of all thynges accordynge to them, and leynge to an uncertayne imagination and phantasie. Let vs therefore that are builded on the foundation of the holpe Prophetes and Apostles and on the heade corner stone (on whiche they them selues were founded, and whiche they preached, that is Iesus Christe the sure stone) leane the thynges that are uncertayne to folow the certayne: holdynge vs and restynge vs in them, and fastening our ancre there as in a sure place. For our churlian sayeth consisteth not in doubtfull thynges, but in playne and moste certayne assurance, and in most true perswasion, taken and confirmed by infallible veritie.

In whiche God graunte vs to walke perpetuallie, to the intente that accordynge to it (fulfyllynge hys holpe wyll in vs, and setynge asyde all inuencions contrary vnto hym) we may lpye to hys honoure, and to the edifyinge of the Church.

So be it.

A Prologe to the Reader.

In the Pro-
loge to the Prouerbe

In the pro-
loge before
Judith.

In the pro-
loge to the Prouerbe.

In the ill.
booke p. xii.
chap.

In the pro-
loge vpo p
booke of the hyngers.

In the pro-
loge of Ec-
cl.
viii.

In the xl.
xii. xii. of p
Antiquities

1. Pet. i. ii. c.
1. Pet. i. d.
4. Pet. i. d.

1. Cor. iii.
Eph. ii. d

Consideration that the booke before are founde in the Hebrie tongue, receiued of all men: and that the other folowynge, whiche are call'd Apocrypha (because they were wont to be read, not openly and in commune, but as it were in secreete and apart) are neither founde in the Hebrie nor in the Chaldee, in whiche tongues they haue not of long ben lost written (unless it were haply the booke of Sapience) whereupon it were nowe very harde to repaire and amende them: And that also they are not receiued nor taken as legitimate, and lawfull, as wel of the Hebries as of the whole church, as. l. Hierome sheweth, we haue seperated them, and set them aside, that they maie the better be knowne, to the intent that men may knowe of whiche booke wotynne ought to be receiued, and of whiche not. For the sapde. l. Hierome speakynge of the booke of Judith (whiche is Apocryphe / saph), that the authour thereof is not esteemed worthy and sufficiente to confirme and stablish the thynges that are in disputation.

And generally of all the booke called Apocrypha, he sayeth, that menne may reade them to the edifying of the people, but not to confirme and strengthen the doctrine of the church. I leane oute here the lawe (as they call it of canon. c. Sancta Romana. xv. distinct) where he sheweth this iudgement. Ephe. v. se the glose of. l. Canons. xiii. distinct. whiche sayth, that we read them, but not in general, as though he shoulde say, that generally and thorowly they are not allowed. And not without cause. For that they haue bene corrupted and falsified in manie places, it appeareth sufficiently by Eusebius in his booke call'd Historia Ecclesi-astica. Whiche thinge is easy to be knowne even nowe a dayes in certayne pointes, namely in the booke of Machabees, whose seconde booke. S. Hierome confesseth that he found not in the Hebrie, but the meanes wherof it is become to vs the more suspect, & the lesse receiued. In like maner is it of the thirde and fourth booke of Esdras, whiche Hierome professeth that he would not haue translated, estimynge them for dreames, where as Iosephus yet in his booke of Antiquities declareth the summe of the matter after the thirde of Esdras, although he he esteeme the booke compiled from the tyme of Artaxerxes vnto his tyme, to be Apocrypha.

Wherefore then, when thou shouldest mapntayne any thyng for certayne, receiuinge a reason of thy sayeth, take hede to procede therein by the lpyng, and pithy Scripture, folowinge Sapient Peter, whiche sayeth. He that speaketh, let hym speake as though he spake the worde of God. He sayeth the worde of God, as a thinge moste true, and certayne, opened by the Prophetes and Apostles inspired with the holpe ghoste, of whom we haue wotynne more clere then the daye. Satiuers hauninge greate desyre to confirme and stablish the opinions by the lawe of man, like that they shoulde to speake without lawe. How much more fearre and drede then ought he to haue, that sayeth he is a churman, the whiche holdeth not hym selfe, or testeth not in the lawes of the lpyng God, but in mens inuentions: iudynge of all thynges accordynge to them, and leanyng to an uncertayne imagination and phanta-
sie. Let vs therefore that are builded on the foundation of the holpe Prophetes and Apostles and on the heade corner stone (on whiche they them selues were founded, and whiche they preached, that is Iesus Christe the sure stone) leane the thynges that are uncertayne to folow
the certayne: holdynge vs and restynge vs in them, and fastening our ancre there as in a sure place. For our churman sayeth consisteth not in doubtfull thynges, but in playne and moste certayne assurance, and in most true perswasion, taken and confirmed by infallible veritie.

In whiche God graunte vs to walke perpetuallie, to the intente that accordynge to it (fulfyllynge his holpe wyll in vs, and setynge asyde all inuencions contrary vnto hym) we may lpye to his honoure, and to the edifyinge of the Church.

So be it.

The thynde

boke of Esdras.

The fyrste Chapter.

Josias holdeth Pasche. After hys deathe is Jeconias hys sonne made kynge in his steade: whom the kynge of Egypt putteth oute, and setteth in hys brother Zochym. Hierusalem is destroyed, and Sedechias taken.

When Josias held the feast of easter to þe lord in Jerusalem, he had appointed the priestes in their vestmentes euerie man in his course, to do daily service in the Temple of the Lorde, offering the Pasche the xiiii. day of the firste moneth, he commaunded the Leuites whiche were the holy ministers of Israel, to halowe them selues vnto the Lorde, and to set hys holpe Acche in the temple, whiche kynge Salomon the sonne of Dauid had builded. You shall no more (saith he) beare it vpon your shouldeys, but from hence forth serue the Lorde out of the house, and hys people of Jerusalem after the order of your families, & repbes accordynge as kynge Dauid the kynge of Israel hath ordeyned, and accordynge to the roial prescription of hys sonne Salomon, and euerie manne as he is chiefest of your Leuiticall families, so standynge in order in the temple, in the sight of al your brethren the Israelites, offer ye the Paschal Lambe, and make ready sacrifices for them, and kepe the solempne Paschall feast, after the commaundement of þe Lorde, that was geuen to Moyses.

And Josias gaue vnto the people tabernacles where they were there present a great nūbre. xxx. thousand. Lambe and kiddeys, & .iiii. thousand. calves, whiche cost by couenant was geuen vnto the people. priestes, and Leuites, out of the kinges coffers. Also Helkias, zacharias & Iehiel wardes of the temple, to kepe thys solempne feast of the Pasche. gaue vnto the priestes, two. thousand. shepe with .iiii. hundred calves.

Moreouer, Jeconias, Schamasas, and Barabael hys brother, Baschabias, Ieremias, and Josabab, the tribunes gaue to the Leuites to kepe thys feast, true. thousand. shepe and true. thousand. calves. Whyle these thynges were handsonly in doing, the priestes and Leuites stode in ordre after thys order, & as euerie manne had taken of the fathers theyr best feate, holding in the sight of the people the vnleuened breade, whiche

The .ii. chapter. Fol. ii.

they had consecrate vnto the Lorde after the prescription of the booke of Moyses. And these thynges were thus done in the morning. The Paschal Lambe they tossed as mete it was, but as for other sacrifices they sodde them, some in brasse pottes, and some in cauldrons with fire were sauous, and gaue to the people. After they prepared good meate for them selues, and for thys brethren, priestes that came of Aton: for the priestes burned the fat vntill the convenient time was expired: but the Leuites for them selues, and their brethren, priestes that came of Aton prepared good meate. And the holy spynge menne, the childre of Asaph did euerie man hys duty in order, as it was appoynted them by Dauid, that is Asaph, zacharias, and Jeduthum were appoynted by the kynge.

As for þe porters whiche watched before euerie gate, it was not lawfull to any of the to leaue hys standing, for their brethren the Leuites prepared meates for them. Thus al thynges that apperayned to the sacrifice of the Lorde, in keepynge the pasche and preparynge the sacrifices that should be offered at the altare of the Lorde, were performed þe same day accordynge to the commaundement of kynge Josias. So the childre of Israel with theyr were then present held an honourable pasche, and the feast of the shewe bread. viii. dayes longe. Yea such a pasche was not kepte in Israel sith the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

And in hys tyme neuer byd any kynge of Israel kepe suche an Easter as Josias byd, and the priestes & Leuites, the Jewes and al þe Israelites, whiche the shewe verie many at Jerusalem. Thys pasche was kept in the .xviii. yere of the raigne of Josias, & rightly were all his workes ordeined in the sight of hys Lorde, for they came euer fro an herte full of godlines. But the history of those thynges that be moze, are written in the aunciente Chronicles, euen of suche as synned and were moze vngodly agaynst the Lorde then all other nations and kynge domes, and theyr subreg be also declared wherewith they offended him, in so much that the prophetes of god preuayled agaynst Israel. After Josias had done al thys acte, it happened þe Pharaoh kynge of Egypt, went out and moued battail agaynst Carchemish, whiche is by þe riuer of Euphrates, & whyle Josias went to mete him, the king of Egypt sent me vnto him & bych sayd. O kynge of Iuda, what haste thou to do with me?

I am not sent of the Lorde agaynst the, but agaynst Euphrates is my warre, yea, and the Lorde is on my syde, & maketh speche to helpe me. medle not with me, nor withstand him. Yet wold not Josias turne backe hym selfe to his chariot agayne, but prepared to fyghte, and harkened not to the wordes of the prophet Jeremias, that came fro the Lorde, but entered battel with

Exo. xii. b.

11. pa. xxv. b.

The thynde

boke of Esdras.

The fyrste Chapter.

Josias holdeth Pasche. After hys deathe is Jeconias hys sonne made kynge in his steade: whom the kynge of Egypt putteth oute, and setteth in hys brother Zedechias. Hierusalem is destroyed, and Sedechias taken.

When Josias held the feast of easter to the lord in Jerusalem, he had appointed the priests in their vestmentes euerie man in his course, to do daily service in the temple of the Lorde, offering the Pasche the xiiii. day of the firste moneth, he commaunded the Leuites whiche were the holy ministers of Israel, to salowe them selues vnto the Lorde, and to set hys holpe Acche in the temple, whiche kynge Salomon the sonne of Dauid had builded. You shall no more (saith he) beare it vpon your shoulders, but from hence forth serue the Lorde out of the house, and hys people of Jerusalem after the order of your families, as they be accordynge as kynge Dauid the kynge of Israel hath ordeyned, and accordynge to the roial prescription of hys sonne Salomon, and euerie manne as he is chiefest of your Leuiticall families, so standynge in order in the temple, in the sight of al your brethren the Israelites, offer ye the Paschal Lambe, and make ready sacrifices for them, and kepe the solempne Paschal feast, after the commaundement of the Lord, that was geuen to Moses.

And Josias gaue vnto the people tabernacles where they were there present a great number. xxx. thousand lambes and kids, & iii. thousand calves, whiche cost by covenant was geuen vnto the people. priests, and Leuites, out of the kinges coffers. Also Helkias, zacharias & Jehiel wardens of the temple, to kepe this solempne feast of the Pasche. gaue vnto the priests, two thousand. And to the Leuites, two thousand. And to the people, two hundred calves.

Amoreouer, Jeconias, Schamasas, and Baruchiel hys brother, Paschabias, Jeziel, and Josabab, the tribunes gaue to the Leuites to kepe this feast, five hundred. And to the people, five hundred. And whyle these thinges were handsomly in doing, the priests and Leuites stode in ordre after their tribes, and as euerie manne had taken of the fatters they best feate, holding in the sight of the people the vntenured brace, whereby they had consecrate vnto the Lorde after the prescription of the booke of Moses. And these thinges were thus done in the morning. The Paschal Lambe they roasted as mete it was, but as for other sacrifices they sodde them, some in brasse pottes, and some in caudrons with fire saucers, and gaue to the people. After they prepared good meate for them selues, and for their brethren, priests that came of Aton: for the priests burned the fat vntill the convenient time was expired: but the Leuites for them selues, and their brethren, priests that came of Aton prepared good meate. And the holy spynge menne, the childre of Asaph did euerie man hys duty in order, as it was appoynted them by Dauid, that is Asaph, zacharias, and Jeduthun were appoynted by the kynge.

The ii. chapter. Fol. ii.

As for the porters which watched before euerie gate, it was not lawfull to any of the to leaue hys standing, for their brethren the Leuites prepared meates for them. Thus al thinges that appertained to the sacrifice of the Lorde, in keepinge the pasche and preparinge the sacrifices that should be offered at the altare of the Lorde, were performed the same day accordynge to the commaundement of kynge Josias. So the children of Israel with they were then present held an honourable pasche, and the feast of the seven bread. viii. dayes longe. Yea such a pasche was not kepte in Israel the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

And in hys tyme neuer had any kynge of Israel kepte suche an Easter as Josias did, and the priests & Leuites, the Jewes and al the Israelites, which the shode were man at Jerusalem. This pasche was kepte in the xviii. yere of the raigne of Josias, & rightly were all his workes ordered in the sight of hys Lorde, for they came euer fro an herte full of godlines. But the history of those thinges that be moze, are written in the aunciente Chronicles, euen of suche as synned and were moze vngodlye agaynst the Lorde then all other nations and kingedomes, and they shal be also declared wherewith they offended him, in so much that the prophecies of god preuayled agaynst Israel. After Josias had done al this acte, it happened that Pharaoh kynge of Egypt, went out and moued battail agaynst Carchemish, which is by the river of Euphrates, & whyle Josias went to mete him, the king of Egypt sent messengers to him to sayd. O kynge of Iuda, what haste thou to do with me?

I am not sent to the Lorde agaynst thee, but agaynst Euphrates is my warre, yea, and the Lorde is on my syde, & maketh speede to helpe me. medle not with me, nor withstand him. Yet wold not Josias turne backe hym selfe to his chariot agayne, but prepared to fyghte, and harkened not to the wordes of the prophete Jeremy, that came fro the Lorde, but entered battel with

The.iii.booke of Ecdias.

The.iii.Chapter.

hym in the playne of Magado. And whan the wyntes were come to kynge Hosias he cried vnto his seruantes saying. Carry me awaye oute of this battayle, for I am sore wounded. And straightwaye hys seruantes carried him out fro the front of the battell. And whan he was vp vpon the second Chariot, and was come vnto Hierusalem, he dyed, and was buryed in hys fathers Sepulchre. And in all Iewrye was great mournynge for Hosias. Yea, the eunlers also and theyr wyues made lamentacion for hym euen vnto this day. And this was done euer syll in Israel.

But these thinges be written in the histories of the kings of Iuda, eue euer thing particularly as Hosias did the, & also how great hys glozy was, & his vnderstanding in the lawe of God. But hys foreactes, & those þ we nowe haue spoken of, are wyrtten in þ cronicles of the kynges of Israel and Iuda. * Also the people toke Joachas the sonne of Hosias, and made him king in the place of Hosias, being the .xliii. yere olde, he reigned in Iuda and Hierusalem. thre monethes, vntill the kyng of Egypte depased hym from hys kyngedome, and raydynge a rare vpon the people of an hundred talentes of syluer, and one talente of gold, * he made Joachim kynge of Iuda and Hierusalem, and caste the magistrates into pryson, and led him with zaraces the kinges brother faste bounde into Egypte.

Firste yeres olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he dyd ruyll before the LORD, and Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babilon married vpon him, bounde him in charues and carped him awaye vnto Babilon, and toke awaye parte of the halowed vessels of the Lorde, and sette them in his temple at Babilon. But the historye of hym, hys vncleanenes and vngodlines, is wyrtten in the Actes of the booke of the kynges. And hys soune Joachim succaded hym in hys kyngdome, and was .xviii. yere olde when he was made kynge. He raygned .iii. monethes and ten dayes at Hierusalem, and dyd wyckedlye before the Lorde, and one yere after Nabuchodonosor sente hys Acempe, and caused hym to be brought to Babilon, euen wyth the holye vessels of the Lorde, and made zedechias kinge of Iewrye and Hierusalem, beinge .xvi. yere olde: whiche raygned .xi. yere, and greuouslye offended the lord.

For he regarded not the sermones * of the prophet Ieremy spoken vnto him fro the mouth of the lord, & wher he hadde sworne to Nabuchodonosor, he falselye brake hys othe, & waxed styfnecked & hard hearted, he brake all the lawes of þ lord God of Israel. Forcouer the heabes of the people & prestes did manye thinges vnto hyselpe, & became worse the all the gentils & defiled the most holy temple at Hierusalem. And the god of their fathers sente hys messengers vnto them to turne them backe, because he woulde haue spared the tabernacle, but they laughed his messengers to scoone, and as ofte as the Lorde spake vnto them, they made but a reffe at hys prophetes, vntill he beinge moued wyth anger agaynst hys people for their wycked dedes, commaunded þ kynges of the Chaldees to ryse agaynst the, which led their yong men with the swerde, yea, in þ cōpasse of their holpe temple. They spared neither yong nor olde, maide nor yong man, but al were deliuered into their handes. And as for all the holy vessels of the lord, as well greace as small, and instrumetes of the arcke of God, wyth all the kynges treasure, they carried them away to Babilon, they set the Lordes temple on fyre, they pulled downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fyre vpon the corners, cast vnder fote al their noble buildynges: & those that were not slayne with swerde, they led captiue to Babilon, herte they serued the king & his chyldre, eue vnto þ raigne of the Persians, þ it might be fulfilled which the lord had spoken by the mouth of þ prophete Ieremy, eue vntill þ lad had swerelye tested her saboties, & had kept her seruantes all the tyme of her lyng wast, whiche was eue till seuenty yeres were expired.

Jer. xxi. & xxi. b.

The.iii. Chapter.

Cirus geueth licence to the Jewes to returne to Hierusalem and restoreth them the vessels of the temple. After that are there letters sent to Artaretres, whiche accuse the Jewes for buildenge the Citie, and so is the buildynge begun of vntill the seconde yere of Darius.

In the first yere of Cyrus kinge of Persians, the lord intending to performe what he had promised by þ mouth of the prophete Ieremy, he stirred by the mynd of Cyrus king of Persians to make proclamation thorowout all hys realme, wyting on this wyse. These thinges commaunded Cyrus the king of the Persians. The Lord of Israel, that breste Lorde, hath made me kynge of the worlde, and hath commaunded me for to bulde vppon hys Temple of Hierusalem, whiche is in Iurpe, wherfore if there be any of your people þ lord be wyth hym, and let him go to Hierusalem which is in Iurpe, and buyld the temple to the lord of Israel. This is the Lorde that had a tabernacle at Hierusalem. As manye therefore as dwell there aboute, Lette them helpe them, whether it be wyth golde or wyth syluer, wyth giftes, wyth hoises, or necessarye catrel, & al other thinges þ are brought to the house of the Lorde in the temple of Hierusalem. Then the principal menne of the Trybes and families of Iuda & Benjamin wyth the prestes and Levites, yea and all (whose spiryte the Lorde had raysed) wente vp together to bulde the temple at Hierusalem, and the people þ were there aboute, holpe all that they coude w

silver

Je. xxi. b. & xxi. b.

Is. l. & l. a.

The.iii.booke of Ecdias.

The.iii.Chapter.

hym in the playne of Magado. And whan the wyntes were come to kynge Hosias he cried vnto his seruantes saying. Carry me awaye oute of this battayle, for I am sore wounded. And straightwaye hys seruantes carried him out fro the front of the battell. And whan he was vp vpon the second Chariot, and was come vnto Hierusalem, he dyed, and was buryed in hys fathers Sepulchre. And in all Iewrye was great mournynge for Hosias. Yea, the euners also and theyr wyues made lamentacion for hym euen vnto this day. And this was done euer styl in Israel.

But these thinges be written in the histories of the kings of Iuda, eue euer thing particularly as Hosias did the, & also how great hys glozy was, & his vnderstanding in the lawe of God. But hys forecettes, & those þ we nowe haue spoken of, are wyrtten in þ cronicles of the kynges of Israel and Iuda. * Also the people toke Joachas the sonne of Hosias, and made him king in the place of Hosias, being the .xliii. yere olde, he reigned in Iuda and Hierusalem. thre monethes, vntill the kyng of Egypte depased hym from hys kyngedome, and raydynge a rare vpon the people of an hundred talentes of syluer, and one talente of gold, * he made Joachim kynge of Iuda and Hierusalem, and caste the magistrates into pryson, and led him with zaraces the kinges brother faste bounde into Egypte.

Firste yeres olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he dyd ryl before the LORD, and Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon warred vpon him, bounde him in charues and carped him awaye vnto Babylon, and toke awaye parte of the halowed vessels of the Lorde, and sette them in his temple at Babylon.

But the historye of hym, hys vncleanenes and vngodlynes, is wyrtten in the Actes of the booke of the kynges. And hys soune Joachim succaded hym in hys kyngdome, and was .xviii. yere olde when he was made kynge. He raygned. iii. monethes and ten dayes at Hierusalem, and dyd wyckedlye before the Lorde, and one yere after Nabuchodonosor sente hys Acempe, and caused hym to be brought to Babylon, euen wyth the holye vessels of the Lorde, and made zedechias kinge of Iewrye and Hierusalem, beinge .xvi. yere olde: whiche raygned .xi. yere, and greuouslye offended the lord.

For he regarded not the sermons * of the prophet Jeremy spoken vnto him fro the mouth of the lord, & wher he hadde sworne to Nabuchodonosor, he falselye brake hys othe, & waxed styfnecked & hard hearted, he brake all the lawes of þ lord God of Israel. Forcouer the heabes of the people & prestes did manye thinges vnto selfe, & became worse the all the gentils & defiled the most holy temple at Hierusalem. And the god of their fathers sent hys messengers vnto them to turne them backe, because he woulde haue spared the and hys Tabernacle, but they laughed his messengers to scoone, and as ofte as the Lorde spake vnto them, they made but a reffe at hys prophetes, vntill he beinge moued wyth anger agaynst hys people for their wycked dedes, commaunded þ kynges of the Chaldees to ryse agaynst the, which led their yong men with the swerde, yea, in þ cōpasse of their holpe temple. They spared neither yong nor olde, maide nor yong man, but al were deliuered into their handes. And as for all the holye vessels of the lord, as well greace as small, and instrumetes of the arcke of God, wyth all the kynges treasure, they carried them away to Babylon, they set the Lordes temple on fyre, they pulled downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fyre vpon the corners, cast vnder fote al their noble buildynges: & those that were not slayne with swerde, they led captiue to Babylon, herte they serued the king & his chyldre, eue vnto þ raigne of the Persians, þ it might be fulfilled which the lord had spake by the mouth of þ prophete Jeremy, eue vntill þ lad had swerelye tested her saboties, & had kept her seruantes all the tyme of her lping wast, whiche was eue till seuenty yeres were expired.

Jer. xxi. & xxi. b.

The.iii. Chapter.

Cirus geueth licence to the Jewes to returne to Hierusalem and restoreth them the vessels of the temple. After that are there letters sent to Artaretres, whiche accuse the Jewes for buildenge the Citie, and so is the buildynge begun of vntill the seconde yere of Darius.

The first yere of Cyrus kinge of Persians, the lord intending to performe what he had promised by þ mouth of the prophete Jeremy,

Is. xli. & xli. a.

he stirred by the mynd of Cyrus king of Persians to make proclamation thorowout all hys realme, wyrtting on this wyse. These thinges commaundet Cyrus the king of the Persians. The Lord of Israel, that breste Lorde, hath made me kynge of the worlde, and hath commaunded me for to bulde vpp hys Temple of Hierusalem, whiche is in Iurpe, wherfore if there be any of poure people þ lord be wyth hym, and let him go to Hierusalem which is in Iuscy, and buyld the temple to the lord of Israel. This is the Lorde that had a tabernacle at Hierusalem. As manye therefore as dwell there aboute, Lette them helpe them, whether it be wyth golde or wyth syluer, with giftes, with hoises, or necessarye catrel, & al other thinges þ are brought to the house of the Lorde in the temple of Hierusalem. Then the principal menne of the Trybes and families of Iuda & Benjamin wyth the prestes and Levites, yea and all (whose spiryte the Lorde had raysed) wente vp together to bulde the temple at Hierusalem, and the people þ were there aboute, holpe all that they coude w

silver

Syluer golde, hoxes, labouringe beastes, and many other vntwoforthynges, whose mynde was Expreed thereunto.

Kynge Cyrus also brought oute all the halowed Vesselles of the LORD, whiche Nabuchodonosor hadde taken from Hierusalem and set in hys temple, and when they were brought forth, kynge Cyrus deliuered them vnto Esdras his treasurer, and by hym they were deliuered to Sathabasar President of Turpe. And thys was the nombre of theym: A thousande castyng bowles of syluer, and a thousande also of golde. xxii. syluer basyns for sacrifice. xxx. basyns of Golde, and of Syluer cxx. iii. and ten, and a thousand other besyde. All these vessels of golde and syluer that were brought, were fyue. iii. and were broughte to Hierusalem by Sathabasar and other that came with hym from the captiuitie of Babilon.

 So as in the tyme of Artaxerxes kynge of the Persians that tyme, Dilescimus, Esdras, Tabell, Rahimus, Becltemus, and Semellius the scribe, and their felowes, with other that dwelte at Samaria, and else where, wrote thys Epistle that foloweth.

Rahimus wyrtter of commentaries, Semellius the scribe with other felowes of the same courte thy seruantes, and also the iudges in Celosia and Phenicia vnto their lord kynge Artaxerxes.

Be it knowne and manifest to our lord the kynge that the Jewes whych are come frome you to vs, after they were come to Hierusalem into that false and malicious Citie, begynne to buyde vpre agayne the market places, and to repaire the walles and temple a newe. And if thys Citie be buyded agayne, and the walles finished, they wyll neuer paye tribute, yea they wil resist the kynges. And because they be hot about the buildyng of the temple, we thinke it wel done, not to set lycht by the matter, but to tel it vnto our lord the kynge, that if it be thought good, the booke of the cronicles maye be soughte. For in those olde booke, ye shall fynde wyrtynge of these thynges, and you shal fynde that this cite was euer rebellious, noysome to kynges and cities, and that the false Jewes themselves haue bene euer spykers vp of warte & geue to it euen sed their spyl beginning, for þ which cause the cite was destroyed. Therefore our Lord the kynge we spynne vnto the, that if thys be restored, and the walles buyde vpre agayne, thou canst haue no passage into Celosia and Phenicia.

When more the king to Rahimus the story wrytter, to Becltemus, and to Semellius the scribe, and to other officers of the same order, and inhabitautes of Samaria, Sclaria, & Phenicia after thys maner. I haue read the letter that you sent me, and when I hadde commaunded to make diligente searche, it was founde that the cite hath euer resisted kynges, and that the people are much geue to leditlen and warre, and that myghty kynges haue earned in Hierusalem, and raysed by taxes in Celosia, and Phenicia.

Therefore now I thought good to geue a commaundement that the people should cease from buildyng, and that no more be done, neyther that the worke go further forth to trouble the kynges anye more with their malice. Nowe whā Rahimus and the scribe Semellius and the felowes whiche they had chosen vnto them, hadde reade the wyrtynge whiche came frome kynge Artaxerxes, they gate them vp, and made haste to goo to Hierusalem, with a great host of horsemen and foot men, and forbade them to buyde.

So the buildyng of the temple of Hierusalem was left of, vnto the seconde yere of Darius kynge of Persians.

The.iii. Chapter.

Darius maketh a feast, the.iii. scēces of the.iii. yong men, of which the fyrst is declared.

When Darius was kynge, he made a great feast to all his countreymen, seruantes, and officers of Egipte and Persia, to all the deputies and rulers that were vnder hym from India vnto Ethiopia, on vnto dyed and. xvii. countres, when they hadde wel eat and dronk, and gone home agayne, kynge Darius also wente into a chambze, laped hym downe to slepe, and so awaked. Then. iii. yonge men that kept the kynges person, sayde one to an other.

Let euery one of vs put forth somwhat that whose sayinge is wiser than þ other, kynge Darius maye geue hym greete rewardes and gyftes, and clothe hym in purple, and make hym dryncke, and sleepe in golde, and maye be carryed in a charet all trimmed with goulde, and haue a benet of whyte spicke with a chayne of goulde about his necke, and for his reward maye be counted nexte vnto Darius, and called bys chosen. So whā euery man had wryten bys sayinge and sealed it, they putte it vnder the kynges pylowes, sayyng: when þ kyng shall awake, we wil geue hym this scrol, and whome the kynge and. iii. of the chiftest men of Persia shall iudge wisest for his sayyng, let hym haue þ victory. One wrote: Wyne is a stronge thyng. Another wrote: The kynge is a stronge thyng. The thyrde wrote: Women are a stronge thyng, but aboue all: The truth beareth away the victory. Now when the kynge was risen, they toke theyr wyrtynge and deliuered them vnto hym, and he reade them. Then sent he forth to call all bys chifse lordes, all bys deputies and rulers, chifse captaynes and Consuls of Persia and Egipta. And when he was set at counsell the wyrtynge were reade before them. And he commaun-

Whyſuer golde, hoiſes, labourynge beaſtes, and many other vnyuersall offerynges, whole mynde was ſpyred thereunto.

1.Esd.4. Kyng Darius alſo brought oute all the halowed Veffelles of the LORD, whych Nabuchodonozor hadde taken from Hieruſalem and ſet in hys temple, and when they were brought forth, kyng Darius deliuered them vnto Arbithades his treaſurer, and by hym they were deliuered to ſaſababel preſident of Iurpe. And thys was the nombre of theym: A thouſande caſting botles of ſyluer, and a thouſande alſo of golde. xxii. ſyluer baſyns for ſacrifice. xxx. baſyns of Golde, and of ſyluer cxxx. 1.Esd.4.11. and ten, and a thouſand other beſyde. All theſe veffels of golde and ſyluer that were brought, were ſyue. 1.Esd.4.12. and were broughte to Hieruſalem by ſaſabababel and other that came with hym from the captiuitie of Babilon.

1.Esd.4.13. * So as in the tyme of Artaxerxes kyng of the Perſians theſe men, Viſſidemus, Arbithades, Tabell, Rabimus, Beſteemus, and Semellius the ſcribe, and their ſeloues, with other that dwelte at Samaria, and eſſe where, wrote thys Epistle that foloweth.

Rabimus wyrtter of commentaries, Semellius the ſcribe with other ſeloues of the ſame courte thy ſeruauntes, and alſo the iudges in Celſicia and Phenicia vnto their lord kyng Artaxerxes.

Be it knowne and manifeſt to our lord the kyng that the Jewes whych are come frome you to vs, ſiter they were come to Hieruſalem into that falſe and malicious Citie, begynne to buyde vpre agayne the market places, and to repayre the walles and temple a newe. And if thys Citie be buyded agayne, and the walles finiſhed, they wyll neuer paye tribute, yea they wil reſiſt the kynges. And becauſe they be hot about the buildynge of the temple, we thinke it wel done, not to ſet lycht by the matter, but to tel it vnto our lord the kyng, that if it be thought good, the booke of the cronicles maye be ſoughte. For in thoſe olde booke, ye ſhall fynde wyrtynge of theſe thynges, and you ſhal fynde that this cite was euer rebellious, noyſome to kynges and citie, and that the falſe Jewes them ſelues haue bene euer ſpyrers vp of warte & geue to it euen ſed their ſpall beginning, for ſ which cauſe the cite was deſtroyed. Therefore our Lord the kyng we ſpynſpe vnto the, that if thys be reſtored, and the walles buyde vpre agayne, thou canſt haue no paſſage into Celſicia and Phenicia.

D Wherfore the king to Rabimus the ſtory writer, to Beſteemus, and to Semellius the ſcribe, and to other officers of the ſame order, and inhabitants of Samaria, ſelcia, & Phenicia after thys maner. I haue read the letter that you ſent me, and when I hadde commaunded to make diligente ſearch, it was founde that the cite hath euer reſiſted kynges, and that the people are much geue to lediteu and warte, and that myghty kynges haue earned in Hieruſalem, and rayſed by taxes in Celſicia, and Phenicia.

Therefore now I thought good to geue a commaundement that the people ſhould ceaſe from buildynge, and that no more be done, neyther that the worke go further forth to trouble the kynges anye more with their malice. Nowe whā Rabimus and the ſcribe Semellius and the ſeloues whiche they had choſen vnto them, hadde reade the wyrtynge whych came frome kyng Artaxerxes, they gate them vp, and made haſte to goo to Hieruſalem, with a great hoſt of hoſemen and ſore men, and forbade them to buyde.

So the buildynge of the temple of Hieruſalem was leſte of, vnto the ſeconde yere of Darius kyng of Perſians.

The.iii. Chapter.

Darius maketh a feaſt, the.iii. ſcēces of the.iii. yong men, of which the fyrſt is declared.

AND when Darius was kyng, he made a greaſt feaſt to all his contere men, ſeruauntes, and officers of Egipte and Perſia, to all the deputies and rulers that were vnder hym from India vnto Ethiopia, on vnyuersal and. xvi. conteres, when they hadde wel eat and dronk, and gone home agayne, kyng Darius alſo wente into a chambze, laped hym downe to ſlep, and ſo awaked. Then.iii. yonge men that kept the kynges perſon, ſayde one to an other.

Let euery one of vs put forth ſomewhat that whoſe ſayinge is wiſer than ſ other, kyng Darius maye geue hym greaſt rewardes and gyftes, and clothe hym in purple, and make hym dryncke, and ſleepe in golde, and maye be carryed in a charet all trimmed with goulde, and haue a benet of whyte ſpliche with a chayne of goulde about his necke, and for his ſ ſome maye be counted nexte vnto Darius, and called bys coſen. So whā euery man had writen bys ſayinge and ſealed it, they putte it vnder the kynges pyllowes, ſaying: when ſ kyng ſhall awake, we wyll geue hym this ſcrol, and whome the kyng and. iii. of the chieſteſt men of Perſia ſhall iudge wiſeſte for his ſayinge, let hym haue ſ victory. One wrote: Wyne is a ſtrong thing. Another wrote: The kyng is a ſtrong thing. The thyrde wrote: Women are a ſtrong thing. but aboue all: The truth beareth away the victory. Now when the kyng was ryſen, they toke theſe wyrtynge and deliuered them vnto hym, and he reade them. Then ſent he forth to call all bys chyſe lordes, all bys deputies and rulers, chieſe captaynes and Conſuls of Perſia and Media. And when he was ſet at counſel the wyrtynge were reade befoze them. And he commaū-

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

ded to call for the ponge men, that they might declare their meanynges them selues by mouth. So when they were sent for, and were come in, the kyng sayd vnto the, shew vs and make vs to vnderstand what the thynges are þat you haue writen. Then began the fyrste, whiche had spoken of the strength of wyne, and said thus. O ye men, Howe much stronger is wyne, then all the men that drinke it? It blindeth the mynd, pea, it maketh the king, the people, the freeman and the bond, the rich and the poore, all alpe, and in verye dede it turneth all mens myndes into feastyng, pastimes, and mirth, so that no manne remembreth anye honestie or det. For it filleth mens myndes with ryches, so that no manne regardeth eyther the kyng or the ruler, and causeth vs that we speake nothyng but of thousand poundes. More ouer they do not remember whan they be dronke, any frendshipp or brotherly loue, but for the wyth draw out thei swerds, but whan they be waken so bre, thei remember not what they haue done. Doe th not wyne then (O ye meyne) excell in strength, whiche forceth men to do such thynges? And whan he had spoken thus, he helde his peace.

The.iii. Chapter.

The declaration of the.ii. last sentences of the pong men propounded in þ chapter before of which the laste, that is that verite bereth the victorie, in all thynges is most comended & allowed. Darius writeth letters to all the rulers vnder him, that they shold and zorobabel to the buildyng of Hierusalem.

When the seconde whiche had spoken of the kynges power, began to speke. O ye men, are not they most excellent whiche conquere the lande and the sea, & all that is therein? And yet is the kyng stronger, for he is ruler ouer them, & ouer al, and what he commaundeth they do it. If he commaund any to warre vpon other, they do it, if he send the against their enemies, they gooe, they pull downe mountaynes, walles and towers, they kyll and be kyled, neyther dare they passe the kynges commaundement, & if they haue the victorie, they bring al to the king as wel þ spoile as al other thyngs. Againe they that go not to warre face but tyll the ground, whā they haue moored downe that they sowed, they bypuge it to the king, and eche call to other to paye hym tribute, although he be but one mā. If he commaund to kyll, they kyll: if to let go, they let go, to stryke they stryke, to waste they waste: to builde they builde: to cut downe, they cut downe: to plant, they plant: & al the people, and his greates lordes becken to hym only. The king him self (in the meane season) sitteth downe, eaterh, drinketh, & sleapeth. But they watch rounde about hym, neyther may any man go to: her him list aboute his owne busines, but be ready at the kynges call. O ye men, why should not

The.iiii. Chapter.

now the king be the mightiest to whom so greates obedience is geuen? And whē he had helde his peace, than began the thirde to speake, and that was zorobabel, why: the had spoken before of women & truetb. O ye men, truly the power of a great king or many men, or of wine is not byest: what the is hieft or bereth lordshipp ouer them? do not women? Women haue brought forth into this world the kyng him selfe and al the people that rule both by land & by sea. And of the borte were borne & brought vp euē those selfe same men þ plat vineyards from whence wyne doth come, they make mens garmentes, they bypuge woithp to man, neyther can we lacke the. And if any hath gathered together golde, or siluer, or other precious thynges, whan we be delited in the beautye of an excellent faire woman, do we not leaue al those, and stand gapping vnder her? & desire hit more the either golde or siluer, or other precious thynges?

A man leueth his father that broughtre him vp and his owne contray, and abiderh with his wyfe. He liueth with his wyfe and careth not for the lacke of his father, mother, nor contray. So, by this ye maye know that womē beate the rule ouer you. Do ye not labour and take great paynes, and bypuge and geue al to women. A man takerh his swerde, and goeth his waye to robbe, to murder, or takerh shyp, or happeneth to se a Lion, and goeth into þ darcke: and whan he hath stolen, robbed, & spoiled, he bypugeth that that he hath gotten vnto his loue. So, so much more doeth a man loue his wyfe, than eyther his father or mother. And many one euen chooth the sight of women haue fallen mad, & become bondmen for their lokes, manye also haue perished and ben slaine, pea, & haue sinned because of women. Wherefore now beleue me. Is not a kyng greates bycause of his power? are not al mē aserde to touch hym? And yet I saw him, and howe that Apame the daughter of the greates kyng Barzacus the kynges concubine, sat on his right hand, and toke the crowne from the kings heade and put it vpon his owne: pea, and with his left hand he smote the king: and yet dyd he nothyng but gase and gape vpon hy. If he laughed vnder him, he laughed: but if he were angry, he would speake fayre to gette hy fauoure. O ye men, why should not women be most myghty, seinge they do suche thynges? Then the kynges & the nobles looked one vpon an other. And after he began to speake of truetb.

O ye men, are not women very strong, yet great is the earth, hie is the heuen. & swift in runnyng is the Sunne, for he rotheth in the circle of heauen, and in one daye cometh agayne to his elde place. Is not he greates þ doth these thynges? Yet is a truetb greater & mightier about al. * The whole world speaketh out the truetb, the heauens praiseth it, al woorkes shalke & tremble at it, and Gene. ii.

Math. xix.
1. Cor. vi.

D

O collector
vpon.

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

ded to call for the ponge men, that they might declare their meanynges them selues by mouth. So when they were sent for, and were come in, the kyng sayd vnto the, shew vs and make vs to vnderstand what the thynges are þat you haue writen. Then began the fyrste, whiche had spoken of the strength of wyne, and said thus. O ye men, Howe much stronger is wyne, then all the men that drinke it? It blindeth the mynd, pea, it maketh the king, the people, the freeman and the bond, the rich and the poore, all alike, and in verye deede it turneth all mens myndes into feasting, pastimes, and mirth, so that no manne remembreth anye honestie or det. For it filleth mens myndes with ryches, so that no manne regardeth eyther the kyng or the ruler, and causeth vs that we speake nothyng but of thousand poundes. More ouer they do not remember whan they be dronke, any frendship or brotherly loue, but for the wyth draw out thei swerds, but whan they be waken so bre, thei remember not what they haue done. Doe th not wyne then (O ye meyne) excell in strength, whiche forceth men to do such thynges? And whan he had spoken thus, he helde his peace.

The.iii. Chapter.

The declaration of the.ii. last sentences of the pong men propounded in þ chapter before of which the laste, that is that verite bereth the victorie, in all thynges is most commended & allowed. Darius writeth letters to all the rulers vnder him, that they shold and zorobabel to the buildinge of Iherusalem.

When the seconde whiche had spoken of the kynges power, began to speke. O ye men, are not they most excellent whiche conquere the lande and the sea, & all that is therein? And yet is the kyng stronger, for he is ruler ouer them, & ouer al, and what he commaundeth they do it. If he commaund any to warre vpon other, they do it, if he send the against their enemies, they gooe, they pull downe mountaynes, walles and towers, they kyll and be kyled, neyther dare they passe the kynges commaundement, & if they haue the victorie, they bring al to the king as wel þ spoile as al other thyngs. Againe they that go not to warre face but tyll the ground, whā they haue moored downe that they sowed, they bypuge it to the king, and eche call to other to paye hym tribute, although he be but one mā. If he commaund to kyll, they kyll: if to let go, they let go, to stryke they stryke, to waste they waste: to builde they builde: to cut downe, they cut downe: to plant, they plant: & al the people, and his greates lordes becken to hym only. The king him self (in the meane season) sitteth downe, eateth, drinketh, & sleepeth. But they watch rounde about hym, neyther may any man go to: her him list aboute his owne busines, but he ready at the kynges call. O ye men, why should not

The.iiii. Chapter.

now the king be the mightiest to whom so greates obedience is geuen? And whē he had helde his peace, than began the thirde to speake, and that was zorobabel, why: the had spoken before of women & truetb. O ye men, truly the power of a great king or many men, or of wine is not byest: what the is hiest or bereth lordship ouer them? do not women? Women haue brought forth into this world the kyng him selfe and al the people that rule both by land & by sea. And of the borte were borne & brought vp euē those selfe same men þat plant vineyards from whence wyne doth come, they make mens garmentes, they bypuge woithp to man, neyther can we lacke the. And if any hath gathered together golde, or siluer, or other precious thynges, whan we be delighted in the beautye of an excellent faire woman, do we not leaue al those, and stand gazing vpon her? & desire hit more the either golde or siluer, or other precious thynges?

A man leueth his father that broughtre him vp and his owne contray, and abiderh with his wyfe. He liueth with his wyfe and careth not for the lacke of his father, mother, nor contray. So, by this ye maye know that womē beate the rule ouer you. Do ye not labour and take great paynes, and bypuge and geue al to women. A man takerh his swerde, and goeth his waye to robbe, to murder, or takerh shyp, or happeneth to se a Lion, and goeth into þ darcke: and whan he hath stolen, robbed, & spoiled, he bypugeth that that he hath gotten vnto his loue. So, so much more doeth a man loue his wyfe, than eyther his father or mother. And many one euen chooseth the sight of women haue fallen mad, & become bondmen for their sakes, manye also haue perished and ben slaine, pea, & haue sinned because of women. Wherefore now beleue me. Is not a kyng greates bycause of his power? are not al mē aserde to touch hym? And yet I saw him, and howe that Apame the daughter of the greates kyng Barzacus the kinges concubine, sat on his right hand, and toke the crowne from the kings heade and put it vpon his owne: pea, and with his left hand he smote the king: and yet dyd he nothyng but gase and gape vpon hy. If he laughed vpon him, he laughed: but if he were angry, he would speake fayre to gette hy fauoure. O ye men, why should not women be most myghty, seinge they do suche thynges? Then the kynges & the nobles looked one vpon an other. And after he began to speake of truetb.

O ye men, are not women verye strong, yet great is the earth, hie is the heuen. & swift in runnyng is the Sunne, for he rotheth in the circle of heauen, and in one daye cometh agayne to his elde place. Is not he greates þ doth these thynges? Yet is a truetb greater & mightier about al. * The whole world speaketh out the truetb, the heauens praiseth it, al woorkes shalke & tremble at it, and Gene. ii.

Math. xix.
1. Cor. vi.

D

O collector
vpon.

and vnto it is toyned no fault or corruptiō. Wine is faulty, the king is faulty, womē be faulty, and faulty is all mankinde and all their workes, neither in them is any solidnes, & whoso their fault they shal perceiue: but truely abyeth and dotheth for euer, it liueth, and lasteth euer, nerher with by is any difference or respect of persons, but doth all thyngs iustly, without al vntyghevousenes. Euerp man aloweth by dedes and no iniquitie is in his iudgement.

Finally he is vertue, kyngdome, power and maiestie worlde without end. Blessed be the Lorde God of Trueth. And wh that he held his tonge, and al the people cried & sayd: Great is the truth, and moſte myghtye. Than sayde the king vnto hym. Aske if thou wilt haue anye more than is in the wyrtynge, and we will giue it the, bicause thou art found wiser than the rest, & thou shalt sitte nexte vnto me, and be called my kynnesmanne. Than sayde he to the kyng. Remembre thy vowe whiche thou madest the same daye thou wast made kyng, to buylde vp Hierusalem, and to send againe all the vessels that were taken from thence, whiche Cyrus hadde when he vowed to destroye Babilon, and to sende them thither againe. Thou didest promise to buylde vp the temple whiche the Idumees destroyed when Ierusalem was wasted by the Caldees.

Wherfore my lord kyng, this is that I desyre of the, and that moſte vertue: this is the magnificence whiche I aske of the: I saye, I praye the to perswade thy vow, which thou hast with thine owne mouth thou vowedst to the king of heuen to do. * The arose vp kyng Darius and kissed him, and wrote letters in his fauoure to the presidentes, chiefe captaynes, and head rulers to conuey hym, and al that went with him to Hierusalem. He wrote letters also vnto al the head rulers in Celosiria, Phenicia, and Libanus, to prouide that Cedre trees mighte be caried from Libanus to Hierusalem, & to helpe him to buylde vp the cite. More ouer vnto all the Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Iury he gaue a freedom, that no man beeyng officer, presidente, chiefe Lord or other officer should enter into their houses, but that al the region, which they possessed shold be free, & that all the Idumees shoulde depart out of the Iude's coastes wherin they dwelt. Also that toward the buyldinge of the temple there shuld be geue euery yere. xii. talentes vnto the time that it were finished, & to the halowynge of the burnt offerings vpon the altar euerye daye that they were commaunded so to do, to pay ten talentes yerely. And that al they which came fro Babilon to buylde the cite, shoulde haue fre libertie they and their children, & all the priestes. He wrote also the charges, and what garmentes the Levites shoulde weare until the temple were finished, and Hierusalem built vp. Moreouer he appoynted stipendes and pensions to the keepers of the cite. He gaue ouer also all the vessels that Cyrus had seperated from Babilon, & whatsoever Cyrus hadde commaunded: the same commaunded he also to be sente to Hierusalem. Now whē the yonge man was come out, lyfinge by his face to heue toward Hierusalem, he spake vnto the king of heauen in these wordes. From the cometh victori, fro the wisdome and from the cometh al glory: I o hear thy seruast. Praise be thou which hast geue me wisdome, & therfore O Lorde of our fathers, I geue the thanks. And so he toke the letters & wente to Babilon, & shewed bys bryther, and they praised the God of their fathers, bicause he had geue them leaue to buylde Hierusalem and the temple which is there called after the name of the lord: and they spent. vii. dayes in reioysing in songes and gladnes.

The.v. Chapter.

They that returned to Hierusalem are numbered, they begynne to laye the fundacion of the temple, but are let by the meanes of enemies: and so is the buyldynge dyscuen of by the space of two yeres.

When these thyngs were done, then were chose to go ther: ioseph, the chiefe of their fathers families, after their tribes with their wyues, sonnes, and daughters, seruautes and maidens and labouring cattel, and with the sent Darius a. vii. horsemen to leade them on the way, until they were come safe to Hierusalem, and they made mery, euē al the brethren synnyng & playng, vpon tympanes and shalmes.

The priestes the sonne of Phinches the sonne of Aaron.

Jesus the sonne of Iosedech, the sonne of Sarata, and Joachim the sonne of zoobabel, the sonne of Salathiel of the stocke of Dauid, of the kynce of Iudah, whiche vnder Darius king of Persians, wrote wise sermons & secōde yere of his raigne the first moneth of Nisan. And these be the Jewes that came fro exile out of captiuitie, whiche Nabuchodonazor kyng of Babilon brought to Babilon, from whence they came to Hierusalem, and other patres of Ieremye, euerye manne into his owne wyte with zoobabel and Jesu, with Nehemias and zacharias, Reesaias, Eucio, Jarbocho, Belsamo, Mispharaso, Reelia, Rehumo, and Baana their captaynes.

The numbze accordynge to their kindes and captaynes

Of the chyldren of Iudah two. vii. hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldren of Schaphatia three hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldren of Arch. vii. hundred. lvi. Of the chyldren of Ihabath. vii. hundred. Of the chyldren of Iesethuanah. two. vii. hundred. and. xii. Of the chyldren of Silam a. vii. hundred. lxxi.

ii. Esd. ii. b
iii. Esd. vi. b

That is to take tale of
saxt.

and vnto it is toyned no fault or corruptiō. Wine is faulty, the king is faulty, womē be faulty, and faulty is all mankinde and all their workes, neither in them is any solidnes, & whoso their fault they shal perceiue: but truely abyeth and dotheth for euer, it liueth, and lasteth euer, nerher with by is any difference or respect of persons, but doth all thyngs iustly, without al vntyghevousenes. Euerp man aloweth by dedes and no iniquitie is in his iudgement.

Finally he is vertue, kyngdome, power and maiestie worlde without end. Blessed be the Lorde God of Trueth. And wh that he held his tonge, and al the people cried & sayd: Great is the truth, and moſte myghtye. Than sayde the king vnto hym. Aske if thou wilt haue anye more than is in the wyrtynge, and we will giue it the, bicause thou art found wiser than the rest, & thou shalt sitte nexte vnto me, and be called my kynnesmanne. Than sayde he to the kyng. Remembre thy vowe whiche thou madest the same daye thou wast made kyng, to buylde vp Hierusalem, and to send againe all the vessels that were taken from thence, whiche Cyrus hadde when he vowed to destroye Babilon, and to sende them thither againe. Thou didest promise to buylde vp the temple whiche the Idumees destroyed when Jeruſalem was wasted by the Caldees.

Wherfore my lord kyng, this is that I desyre of the, and that moſte vertue: this is the magnificence whiche I aske of the: I saye, I praye the to perswade thy vow, which thou hast with thine owne mouth thou vowedst to the king of heuen to do. * The arose vp kyng Darius and kissed him, and wrote letters in his fauoure to the presidentes, chiefe captaynes, and head rulers to conuey hym, and al that went with him to Hierusalem. He wrote letters also vnto al þ head rulers in Celosiria, Phenicia, and Libanus, to prouide that Cedre trees mighte be caried from Libanus to Hierusalem, & to helpe him to buylde vp the cite. More ouer vnto all the Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Exyle he gaue a freidome, that no man beeyng officer, presidente, chiefe Lord or other officer should enter into thei houses, but that al þ region, which they possessed shold be free, & that all the Idumees shoulde depart out of the Jues coastes wherin they dwelt. Also that toward the buyldinge of the temple there shuld be geue euery yere. xii. talentes vnto the time þ it were finished, & to the halowynge of the burnt offerings vpon the altar euerye daye that they were commaunded so to do, to pay ten talentes yere. And that al they which came fro Babilon to buylde the cite, shoulde haue fre libertie they and thei children, & all the priestes. He wrote also the charges, and what garmentes the Leuites shoulde weare until þ temple were finished, and Hierusalem built vp. Moreouer he appoynted stipendes and pensions to the keepers of the cite. He gaue ouer also all the vessels that Cyrus had seperated from Babilon, & whatsoever Cyrus hadde commaunded: the same commaunded he also to be sente to Hierusalem. Now whē the yonge man was come out, lyfinge by his face to heue toward Hierusalem, he spake vnto the king of heauen in these wordes. From the cometh victori, fro the wisdome and from the cometh al glory: I o hear thy seruast. Praise be thou which hast geue me wisdome, & therfore O Lorde of our fathers, I geue the thanks. And so he toke þ letters & wente to Babilon, & shewed bys bierthe, and they praised the God of their fathers, bicause he had geue them leaue to buylde Hierusalem and the temple which is there called after the name of the lord: and they spent. vii. dayes in reioysing in songes and gladnes.

The.v. Chapter.

They that returned to Hierusalem are numbered, they begynne to laye the fundacion of the temple, but are let by the meanes of enemies: and so is the buyldinge dyscuen of by the space of two yeres.

When these thyngs were done, then were chose to go ther: ioseph, the chiefe of their fathers families, after their tribes with thei wyues, sonnes, and daughters, seruautes and maidens and labouring catel, and with the sent Darius a. vii. horsemen to leade them on the way, until they were come safe to Hierusalem, and they made mery, euē al the brethren synnyng & playng, vpon tympanes and shalmes.

The priestes the sonne of Phinices the sonne of Aaron.

Jesus the sonne of Iosedech, the sonne of Sarata, and Joachim the sonne of zoobabel, the sonne of Salathiel of the stocke of Dauid, of the kynce of Iudah, whiche vnder Darius king of Persians, wrote wise sermons þ secōde yere of bys raigne the first moneth of Aisan. And these be the Jewes that came fro exile out of captiuitie, whiche Nabuchodonazor kyng of Babilon brought to Babilon, from whence they came to Hierusalem, and other patres of Jewrye, euerye manne into bys owne wyte with zoobabel and Jesu, with Nehemias and zacharias, Reesais, Euenio, Jarbocho, Belsamo, Mispharaso, Reelia, Rehumo, and Baana their captaynes.

The numbze accordynge to thei kyndes and captaynes

Of the chyldren of Iudah two. vii. hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldrene of Schaphatia three hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldre of Arch. vii. hundred. lvi. Of the chyldren of Ihabath vii. hundred. xii. Of the chyldre of Iethuanaab. two. vii. hundred. and. xii. Of the chyldren of Silam a. vii. hundred. lxxi.

ii. Esd. ii. b
iii. Esd. vi. b

That is to take tale of
saxt.

The.iii. booke of Esdras.

lxxx. Of the chyldren of Zabai. ii. hundred.
xli. Of the chyldren of Lozbe. vii. C. and. v.
Of the chyldrene of Bani. vi. C. xlviii. Of the chyldrene of Bibai. vi. C. xliii. Of the chyldren of Argad. iii. C. ii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Adoni came. vi. C. lxxvii. Of the chyldren of Bagot. ii. C. lxxvi. Of the chyldre of Adin. iii. C. lxxv. Of the chyldre of Ater Ihericia. ii. hundred & viii. Of the chyldren of Ceilan & Zera. iii. scoze and. vii. Of the chyldre of Azuran. iii. hundred. xxvii. Of the chyldren of Anania an hundred.
One of the chyldren of Aram. Of the chyldre of Basai. iii. hundred. xxiii. Of the chyldren of Arisphurich. an hundred and. ii. Of the chyldren of Meterus. iii. C. and. v. Of the chyldren of Berthelem an hundred. xxii.
Of the chyldren of Netophath. lv. Of the chyldren of Anathoth an hundred. xxviii.
Of the chyldren of Bethshamos. xlii. Of the chyldren of Carathparim. xxv. Of the chyldren of Capirah and Bethseul hundred. xlii. Of the chyldrene of Pirah. vii. hundred. Of the chyldrene of Cadias and Ammidol. iii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Baramah & Bavea. vi. hundred. xli. Of the chyldren of Agamias an hundred. xlii. Of the chyldren of Bethel. lii. Of the chyldren of Rebo an hundred. lvi. Of the chyldrene of Calamolao and Ono. vii. hundred. xxv.
Of the chyldrene of Jericho. iii. hundred.
xlv. Of the chyldren of Sannah. iii. C. iii. hundred. xxx.

The Priestes.

From Jedania that came of Iesu, to the sonnes of SanaSyb were increased, nine hundred. lxxii. The chyldre of Emera. C.
v. C. ii. The chyldren of Phaschura. a. C. xlvii. The chyldren of Charim a. C. xvii.

The Levites.

The chyldren of Feathue and Cadmiell, and Banna and Sura leui. sonnes.

The Holpe Syngetes.

The chyldren of Asaph. C. xlviii.

The Porters.

The chyldren of Shalum, the chyldrene of Ater, the chyldren of Salmon, the chyldren of Acub, the chyldren of Aicra, the chyldrene of Schobp: All were an hundred xxix.

The holp Ministers.

The chyldrene of Zea, the chyldrene of Balschupha, the chyldren of Zabaoth, the chyldrene of Cerob, the chyldren of Sula, the chyldrene of Ishalen, the chyldren of Cabana, the chyldren of Hagaba, the children of Acub, the chyldren of Tira, the children of Cerab, the chyldren of Hagab, the chyldren of Sibui, the chyldren of Hagan, the chyldrene of Cathua, the chyldrene of Beddun, the chyldren of Raia, the chyldren of Daisanne, the chyldren of Recoda, the chyldrene of Thaccha, the chyldren of Bazema, the chyldren of Azia, the chyldre of Ibynees, the chyldren of Aicra, the children of Bacat, the chyldren of Asanah, the chyldren of Agennim, the chyldren of Saphicim, the chyldren of Bacubuc, the children of Bacupha, the chyldren of Bacbut, the chyldren of Ipharacim, the chyldrene of Bazalorb, the chyldren of Eschida, the chyldren of Turba, the chyldren of Thate-sa, the chyldrene of Bacchus, the chyldren of Aserer, the chyldrene of Thoniob, the chyldrene of Razib, the chyldrene of Batipha.

The.v. Chapter.

The chyldren of Solomons seruauntes.

The chyldre of Bazopbozath, the chyldre of Ipharada, the chyldren of Icelab, the chyldre of Lozon, the chyldre of Siddael, the chyldre of Stapheria, the chyldre of Azia, the children of Ipharacub, the chyldren of zabun, the chyldren of Satorbia, the chyldren of Masias, the chyldren of Bar, the chyldre of Addus, the chyldren of Subah, the chyldre of Appera, the chyldre of Barodie, the chyldren of Sabat, the chyldren of A'lum, And all the holpe Agnistes and chyldren that came of Solomons seruauntes were three hundred. lxxii.

These were they that wente vpp from Bethmelah and Betharscha, & their Captaine was Taraathaler, and Alaar, neysther could they leue their family or kyndered, howe they came of Israel, the sonnes of Salatus, the sonne of Tubies, the son-nes of Recoda, sixe hundred. lxi.

And of the priestes whych executed the office of priesthod, & knew not what stocke they came of, were the chyldren of Dobia, i. C. lvi. the chyldre of Dacca, & chyldren of Addus,
* whiche married Angia, one of the daughters of Barzilai & was named after him.
They sekynge in the register for their kynred & not findinge it, were remoued from doyng any sacrifice. And Nehemias and Gatharias, let them from partakynge of the holre rightes vntyl there came an hye priest & was instructed * in doctryne and verite. But al & came of Israel from. xli. yete old, and pong me, made. xl. C. beside me seruauntes & maidens: their seruauntes mee-
it. C. lii. C. & xl. & theyr maidens. vii. C.
lii. C. xlvii. singynge men & women, li. C. xlv.
& vii. C. xxxvi. horses. Mules. ii. C. xlv. asses foure. C. v. C. xxv. More ouer there were of the chiefe men of the families whych whē they were come to the temple of god to Ieru-salem, did howe that they wold build vp the same enen in his owne place euer maaccordynge to his powere. & that they wold goue vnto the holp treasure of the worke
a. C. poundes of goulde. and. v. C. of syluer, and an. C. priestes vestimentes. Then the priestes & Levites, and the other people, aswel at Ierusalem, as in other regyons & houte, & also the holp singers & porters, & all the Israelites to be dwellynge places in their townes. * And vnto the senyng ma-neth, whē that now the Israelites euer ma-was in possession of his owne, and were come

That is that coulde declare trus-ly by leasynge their kinred.

i. C. lvi.

The.iii. booke of Esdras.

lxxx. Of the chyldren of Zabai. ii. hundred. xlv. Of the chyldren of Lozbe. vii. C. and. v. Of the chyldrene of Bani. vi. C. xlviii. Of the chyldrene of Bibai. vi. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Argad. iii. C. ii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Adoni came. vi. C. lxxv. Of the chyldren of Bagot. ii. C. lxxvi. Of the chyldren of Adin. iii. C. lxxv. Of the chyldren of Ater. Ihericia. ii. hundred. & viii. Of the chyldren of Ceilan & Azeta. iii. score and. vii. Of the chyldren of Azuran. iii. hundred. xxii. Of the chyldren of Anania an hundred. One of the chyldren of Aram. Of the chyldren of Basai. iii. hundred. xxiii. Of the chyldren of Arisphurich. an hundred and. ii. Of the chyldren of Meterus. iii. C. and. v. Of the chyldren of Berthelem an hundred. xxii. Of the chyldren of Netophath. lv. Of the chyldren of Anathoth an hundred. xxviii. Of the chyldren of Beththamos. xlii. Of the chyldren of Carathparim. xlv. Of the chyldren of Capirah and Bethseul hundred. xlii. Of the chyldrene of Pirah. vii. hundred. Of the chyldrene of Cadias and Ammidol. iii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Baramah & Bavea. vi. hundred. xli. Of the chyldren of Agamias an hundred. xlii. Of the chyldren of Bethel. lii. Of the chyldren of Rebo an hundred. lvi. Of the chyldrene of Calamolao and Ono. vii. hundred. xxv. Of the chyldrene of Jericho. iii. hundred. xlv. Of the chyldren of Sannah. iii. C. iii. hundred. xxx.

The Priestes.

From Jedania that came of Iesu, to the sonnes of SanaSyb were increased, nine hundred. lxxii. The chyldren of Emera. C. v. C. ii. The chyldren of Phaschura. C. C. lxxii. The chyldren of Charim. C. C. xlvii.

The Levites.

The chyldren of Feathue and Cadmiell, and Banna and Sura lxxii. sonnes.

The Holpe Syngetes.

The chyldren of Asaph. C. xlviii.

The Porters.

The chyldren of Shalum, the chyldrene of Ater, the chyldren of Salmon, the chyldren of Acub, the chyldren of Aicra, the chyldrene of Schobp: All were an hundred. xxxix.

The holp Ministers.

The chyldrene of Zea, the chyldrene of Baschupha, the chyldren of Zabaoth, the chyldrene of Cerob, the chyldren of Sula, the chyldrene of Shalen, the chyldren of Cabana, the chyldren of Hagaba, the chyldren of Acub, the chyldren of Tira, the chyldren of Cerab, the chyldren of Hagab, the chyldren of Sibn, the chyldren of Hagan, the chyldrene of Cathua, the chyldrene of Beddun, the chyldren of Raia, the chyldren of Daisanne, the chyldren of Recoda, the chyldrene of Thaccha, the chyldren of Bazema, the chyldren of Azia, the chyldren of Shynnes, the chyldren of Aicra, the chyldren

The.v. Chapter.

dyen of Bacat, the chyldren of Alanah, the chyldren of Agennim, the chyldren of Sappicim, the chyldren of Bacubuc, the chyldren of Bacupha, the chyldren of Bacbut, the chyldren of Pharacim, the chyldrene of Bazalorb, the chyldren of Eschida, the chyldren of Turba, the chyldren of Tharesta, the chyldrene of Bacchus, the chyldren of Aserer, the chyldrene of Thoniob, the chyldrene of Razib, the chyldrene of Batupha.

The chyldren of Solomons seruantes.

The chyldren of Bazopbozath, the chyldren of Pharuda, the chyldren of Icelab, the chyldren of Lozon, the chyldren of Siddael, the chyldren of Stapheria, the chyldren of Azia, the chyldren of Pharacub, the chyldren of Zabun, the chyldren of Satorbia, the chyldren of Masias, the chyldren of Bar, the chyldren of Addus, the chyldren of Subah, the chyldren of Appera, the chyldren of Barodie, the chyldren of Sabat, the chyldren of A'lum. And all the holpe Agnistes and chyldren that came of Solomons seruantes were three hundred. lxxii.

These were they that wente vpp from Bethmelah and Betharscha, & their Captayne was Taraathaler, and Alaar, neyther could they leue their family or kyndred, howe they came of Israel, the sonnes of Salatus, the sonne of Tubies, the sonnes of Recoda, sixe hundred. lxxii.

And of the priestes whych executed the office of priesthod, & knew not what stocke they came of, were the chyldren of Dobia, the chyldren of Dacca, & chyldren of Addus, whiche married Angia, one of the daughters of Barzillai & was named after him. They sekynge in the register for their kyndred & not findinge it, were remoued from dorynge any sacrifice. And Nehemias and Garbarias, let them from partakynge of the holre rightes vntyl there came an hye priest that was instructed in doctryne and veritie. But al that came of Israel from, xli. yere old, and pong me, made. xli. C. beside me seruantes & maidens: their seruantes mee. ii. C. lii. C. & xli. & theyr maidens. vii. C. lii. C. xlvii. singynge men & women. ii. C. xlv. & vii. C. xxxvi. horses. Mules. ii. C. xlv. asses foue. C. v. C. xxv. More ouer there were of the chiefe men of the families whych wher they were come to the temple of god to Hierusalem, did know that they wold build vpon the same euen in his owne place euer more accordynge to his powere. & that they wold geue vnto the holp treasure of the worke. a. C. poundes of goulde. and. v. C. of syluer, and an. C. priestes vestimentes. Then the priestes & Levites, and the other people, aswel at Hierusalem, as in other regyons & houte, & also the holp singers & porters, & all the Israelites to be dwellynge places in their townes. And vnto the senexim: which was in possession of his owne, and were come

That is that coulde declare truly by leasynge their kyndred.

l. C. lii.

come with one consent into the porch that was before the east gate, Jesus the sonne of Josedeck, his brethren the priests, and with the zojobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren rose up, & made ready the altare to offer burnt sacrifice upon it, as it was commaunded in the booke of Moses that godli mā. And although other nacions came against them, & were their enemies, and all nacions wronged the, yet let they by the altar in his own place, & in due season offered sacrifices & burnt offerings both at moone & at eue, they kept also the feast of their tabernacles as it was commaunded by law, they kept also daily sacrifices, and also their offerings upon the sabbathes, calendes, & al other hie feastes.

* Moreover al that had made any vow to god, began to do sacrifice to him at the kalendes of the .vii. moneth, although his temple was not yet builded up, and they paid money to the masons & carpenters, & gave meat, drinke, and carres unto the of Sids & Tyre, to carpenters of Cedre & libanus by ship into the haven of Joppes, even as they had in commaundement by proclamation from Cyrus the king of Persians. And in the seconde pere after that zojobabel, the sonne of Salathiel was come unto the temple of god unto Hierusalem, in the seconde moneth, and Jesus the Sonne of Josedeck, with al his brethren, and al the priests & leuites, pea and altogether were come to Hierusalem from captivite, they began to laye the fundation of the church of God in the Calendes of the second moneth of the second pere, after they were come into Jappe & to Hierusalem: & they made chiefe over seers of the worke, the Leuites eue from the .xx. pere of theyr age. So Jesus with his sonnes and brethren, labored fast, & his brother Admetell, the child of Adiabun, of Jode, & of Delta Dune, with theyr sonnes and brethren, and al the Leuites with one mind called saie upon the workmen, & laboured much for the church of god might be builded. And as the workmen were laboring upon the church of god, the priests stood in their stoles with instruments of musike & trumpets, and also the Leuites that came of Asaph holdinge cimballs, & singing unto the Lorde & praising him after the manner of David king of Israel, for they spake aloud, & song verses of gratulation & mirth: for his goodnes and glory was without al Israel perpetuall. Al the people song with trumpets, & cried out with a loud voyce, singing praises of the lord for the building of his church. And then came to the building of this, of the priests & Leuites and elder men that had sene the old temple, with great weeping & lamentation, & many song and cried out for sorow, in so much that for their lamentation the trumpets could not be heard, & yet was the noise very great, & heard far off. Wherefore when the enemies had heard the sound of the tribes of Juda and Benjamin and had found that those that were let go out of captivite, did build a temple to the lord god of Israel, they went unto zojobabel, Jesus, and the chiefe men of the families, and said: We also will help you to build, for we likewise be obedient to your lord, and do sacrifice from the tyme of Astarth the king of Assyrians, which brought us hither. To which zojobabel and the other chiefe men made answer: We and you agree not to build a temple to our Lorde, for we will buyde onely to the Lorde God of Israel, as Cyrus king of Persians hath commaunded us. And the inhabitants of the land mocked the Jewes, and let theyr building by partakinge and other naughty assemblies, so that they let the buildinge come finishunge, all the tyme of kynge Cyrus. Thus were they lette by the space of two peres, but in the tyme of Darius.

The.vi. Chapter.

Aggeus and zacharye prophesie. They build the temple without let or hynderaunce by the commaundementes of Darius.

 And in the second pere of the raigne of Darius, Aggeus and zacharye the which was the sonne of Addo, the kynge prophetes, and prophesie in the name of Israel what should happen to the Jewes, and inhabitants of Jure and Jerusalem, I sat at the same tyme zojobabel Salathiel's sonne, and Jesus the sonne of Josedeck began to build the temple of the lord at Jerusalem, the prophetes of the Lorde toprunge theyr selves unto them, and helppng them. At the same tyme was ther preser Sisenues the gouernoure of Siria, and Phenicia, & Sathrabusanes with his felowes, and they asked them, upon whom beate you your selves bolde to build up this temple, and go about this greate buildinge, and all other thynges? Heuertheles the sentours of the Jewes had such grace of the lord, that their building was not let, vntill they had wyrtten and receyued letters agayne from Darius. The example of the Epistle that was wyrtten and sente to Darius.

Sisenues gouernour of Siria, and Phenicia, and Sathrabusanes and his felows that be chiefe men in Siria and Phenicia, send greeting to kynge Darius. Be it well knowne unto our lord the king, that when we were entered into Juda, and were come to the city of Jerusalem, there we did find the sentours of the Jewes which were as prisoners, building in the same city of Jerusalem a great temple unto the Lorde, and a new, with marvellous fyne and precious stones, and the beames were now layed upon the wals, and the worke to go wel forward, and the matter to come wel to passe under their handes, and it shoulde be performed very gorgeously, and with much diligence. And when we had asked the

Lam. xxi.

1. Esd. iii. d

Esd. xli. b

1. pa. xvi. d

1. Esd. iii.

1. Esd. iii.

come with one consent into the porch that was before the east gate, Jesus the sonne of Josedeck, his brethren the priests, and with the zojobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren rose up, & made ready the altare to offer burnt sacrifice upon it, as it was commaunded in the booke of Moses that godli mā. And although other nacions came against them, & were their enemies, and all nacions wronged the, yet let they by the altar in his own place, & in due season offered sacrifices & burnt offerings both at moone & at eue, they kept also the feast of their tabernacles as it was commaunded by law, they kept also daily sacrifices, and also their offerings upon the sabbathes, calendes, & al other hie feastes.

* Moreover al that had made any vow to god, began to do sacrifice to him at the kalendes of the .vii. moneth, although his temple was not yet builded up, and they paid money to the masons & carpenters, & gave meat, drinke, and carres unto the of Sids & Tyre, to carpenters of Cedre & libanus by ship into the haven of Joppes, even as they had in commaundement by proclamation from Cyrus the king of Persians. And in the seconde pere after that zojobabel, the sonne of Salathiel was come unto the temple of god unto Hierusalem, in the seconde moneth, and Jesus the Sonne of Josedeck, with al his brethren, and al the priests & leuites, pea and altogether were come to Hierusalem from captivite, they began to laye the fundation of the church of God in the Calendes of the second moneth of the second pere, after they were come into Jappe & to Hierusalem: & they made chiefe over seers of the worke, the Leuites eue from the .xx. pere of theyr age. So Jesus with his sonnes and brethren, labored fast, & his brother Admetell, the child of Adiabun, of Jode, & of Delta Dune, with theyr sonnes and brethren, and al the Leuites with one mind called saie upon the workmen, & laboured much for the church of god might be builded. And as the workmen were laboring upon the church of the lord, the priests stood in their stoles with instruments of musike & trumpets, and also the Leuites that came of Asaph holdinge cimballs, & singing unto the Lord & praising him after the manner of David king of Israel, for they spake aloud, & song verses of gratulation & mirth: for his goodnes and glory was without al Israel perpetuall. Al the people song with trumpets, & cried out with a loud voyce, singing praises of the lord for the building of his church. And then came to the building of this, of the priests & Leuites and elder men that had sene the old temple, with great weeping & lamentation, & many song and cried out for sorow, in so much that for their lamentation the trumpets could not be heard, & yet was the noise very great, & heard far off. Wherefore when the enemies had heard the sound of the tribes of Juda and Benjamin and had found that those that were let go out of captivite, did build a temple to the lord god of Israel, they went unto zojobabel, Jesus, and the chiefe men of the families, and said: We also will help you to build, for we likewise be obedient to your lord, and do sacrifice from the tyme of Astarth the king of Assyrians, which brought us hither. To which zojobabel and the other chiefe men made answer: We and you agree not to build a temple to our Lord, for we will buyde onely to the Lord God of Israel, as Cyrus king of Persians hath commaunded us. And the inhabitants of the land mocked the Jewes, and let theyr building by partakinge and other naughty assemblies, so that they let the buildinge come finishunge, all the tyme of the kynge Cyrus. Thus were they lette by the space of two peres, but in the tyme of Darius.

The.vi. Chapter.

Aggeus and zacharye prophesie. They build the temple without let or hynderaunce by the commaundementes of Darius.

 And in the second pere of the raigne of Darius, Aggeus and zacharye the which was the sonne of Addo, the kynge prophetes, and prophesie in the name of Israel what should happen to the Jewes, and inhabitants of Jure and Jerusalem, I sat at the same tyme zojobabel Salathiel's sonne, and Jesus the sonne of Josedeck began to build the temple of the lord at Jerusalem, the prophetes of the Lord toprunge theyr selves unto them, and helppng them. At the same tyme was ther preser Sisenues the gouernoure of Siria, and Phenicia, & Sathrabusanes with his felowes, and they asked them, upon whom beate you your selves bolde to build up this temple, and go about this greate buildinge, and all other thynges? Heuertheles the sentours of the Jewes had such grace of the lord, that their building was not let, vntill they had wyrtten and receyued letters agayne from Darius. The example of the Epistle that was wyrtten and sente to Darius.

Sisenues gouernour of Siria, and Phenicia, and Sathrabusanes and his felowes that be chiefe men in Siria and Phenicia, send greeting to kynge Darius. Be it well knowne unto our lord the king, that when we were entered into Juda, and were come to the city of Jerusalem, there we did find the sentours of the Jewes which were as prisoners, building in the same city of Jerusalem a great temple unto the Lord, and a new, with marvellous fyne and precious stones, and the beames were now layed upon the wals, and the worke to go wel forward, and the matter to come wel to passe under their handes, and it shoulde be performed very gorgeously, and with much diligence. And when we had asked the

Lcu. xxi.

1. Esd. iii. d

Esd. xli. b

1. pa. xvi. d

1. Esd. iii.

1. Esd. iii.

The.iii. booke of Eldias.

the seniores thus, at whose commaundement build you this church, or do you this worke? I say when we had axed these me of these thinges, and had demaunded, that they shoulde wyte and signifie vnto you who were the begynners, and þ they shoulde wyte the captaynes names: they made vs this answer. We be the seruantes of the Lord creatour of heauen and earth.

iii. Re. vi. a * And where as this temple manye yeres befoze this was built, of the great & most myghty kynge of Isracell and finished, the heauens Lord (because our fathers of Isracell hadde angred hym with their synnes) deliuered them into the handes * of Nabugodonosor kynge of Babylon in Chaldea, whych pulled downe this temple and dynt it, & ledde the people captiue to Babylon. And king Cyrus the first yere of his kingdome in Babylon, sent out his letters that this temple shoulde be buylded, and that the holy vessels as wel of gold as of silver whych Nabuchodonosor hadde taken out of the Temple of Hierusalem and sette in his owne church, the same kynge Cyrus brought the agayne to the vidence out of Babylon. And they were deliuered to zoroabel, and Sanabassar a chiefe ruler, with

Commaundementes þ the same vessels that were taken away, he shold put the agayne in the temple of Hierusalem, and put them agayne in the temple of the Lord, euen in theyr owne place. Then that noble manne Sanabassar, whē he was come byther, he layde the fundation of the temple of the Lord at Hierusalem, and yet in buyldyng frome that tyme vnto this daye, it is not yet finished. Wherefore now if it please the kynge, let serch be made among the kynges wyrynges, & if it may be found þ the buyldyng of this temple of the lord at Hierusalem be begone by the kinges decre, that it will please our lord the kynge to certify vs of it. * The king Darius commaunded that serch shoulde be made in all the kynges libaries at Babylon, and in the city of Ecbatans, whych is in the contrey of Medes, was found one booke, in the whiche it was thus enacted. Cyrus the kynge in the first yere of his captiue, commaunded a temple to be buylt at Hierusalem, where sacrifice shoulde be done, and fyre kepte perpetually whose heigth shold be. lx. cubites, and the bredth, of as many cubites, with the houses of fyne polished stone, and one house of loft of the same contrey stone, and al new. And that the charges shold be payde out of Cyrus house, and þ the holy vessels of the temple of the Lord, as well of golde as silver, whych Nabuchodonosor toke out of þ temple of Hierusalem, shoulde be set agayne in the same place þ they were befoze. And he gaue charge to Sisenna deputye of Syria, and Idenicia, that they shoulde not medle with that place, but þ they shoulde suffer zoroabel the seruant of the lord, & deputye of Astepe, & all the whole cōsil of the Jewes to build in þ same place the temple of the lord. Sooreuer I thoughte mete to geue in remaundement, that þ buyldyng shoulde be finished, and that the Jewes shoulde be holpen vnto the temple of the Lord were builded vp. Also that of the tribute of Celosia & Idenicia, a good appoyntment shoulde be geuen to them and their chiefe heade zoroabel to be bestowed vpon Oren, rammes, and Lambes, vpon corne also, salte and wyne, euery yere continually, without gaynsaying, as the priestes of Hierusalem shold it dayly to be spent, and that offerings may be geuen to the lorde God, for the kynge and his chyldren, and supplications made for the prosperite of their life. Also it was enacted, that whosoever did transgreffe any of these wyrynges or sayynges, there shold be taken out of his grounde a tree, where vpon he shoulde be hanged, & all his goodes forsaie to the kynge. And therfore that ELIAS, whose name is there celebrated, rote out and put away all those kynge and people whych put to their hand to hynder or trouble the buyldyng of the temple of the Lord that is at Hierusalem. These thinges haue I king Darius decreed, that all thinges shoulde be done exactlye, accordyng as is aforesayde.

The.vii. Chapter.

The.vii. Chapter.

The temple is finished and dedicate, & the feast of vnleued breade is holden.

Sisenna the deputye of Celosia and Idenicia and Sanabassar with his felowes doynge the commaundementes of kynge Darius, were verie diligente in these holy workes, the elders of the priestes and the ouersers of the Temple helpyng them. And these holy workes went forward and prospered, when Aggeus and zacharias the prophetes did their propheticall offices, and they were brought vnto an ende after the commaundement of the Lord God of Isracell, and the decre of Cyrus, Darius, & Artaxerxes kinges of Persians, vnto the first yere of kynge Darius, in the which that most holy temple was finished, the. vii. daye of the moneth of Adar, þ first yere of kynge Darius. And the chyldren of Isracell, as wel priestes as Leuites and other of their felowes that came fro the captiuitie, dyd as the booke of Esaias commaunded them, and hallored for the dedication of the temple of the Lord, an hundred oren, ii. hundred rammes, v. hundred Lambes, and for the synnes of all the people of Isracell. xii. kyddes, after þ number of the. xii. tribes of Isracell, the priestes, and Leuites beinge assted in their vestmentes accordyng to their tribes and standing in the worke of the Lord God of Isracell, after the prescription of the booke of Esaias, and the porters also standyng befoze euery doore. And the Isractites that were come fro captiuitie kept the solempne feast of Pas-

The.iii. booke of Eldias.

the seniores thus, at whose commaundement build you this church, or do you this worke? I say when we had axed these me of these thinges, and had demaunded, that they shoulde wyte and signifie vnto you who were the begynners, and þ they shoulde wyte the captaynes names: they made vs this answer. We be the seruantes of the Lord creatour of heauen and earth.

iii. Re. vi. a * And where as this temple manye yeres befoze this was built, of the great & most myghty kynge of Isracell and finished, the heauens Lord (because our fathers of Isracell hadde angred hym with their synnes) deliuered them into the handes * of Nabugodonosor kynge of Babylon in Chaldea, whych pulled downe this temple and dynt it, & ledde the people captiue to Babylon. And king Cyrus the first yere of his kingdome in Babylon, sent out his letters that this temple shoulde be buylded, and that the holy vessels as wel of gold as of silver whych Nabuchodonosor hadde taken out of the Temple of Hierusalem and sette in his owne church, the same kynge Cyrus broughte the agayne to the vncience out of Babylon. And they were deliuered to zoroabel, and Sanabassar a chiefe ruler, with

C commaundementes þ the same vessels that were taken away, he shold put the agayne in the temple of Hierusalem, and put them agayne in the temple of the Lord, euen in theyr owne place. Then that noble manne Sanabassar, whē he was come byther, he layde the fundation of the temple of the Lord at Hierusalem, and yet in buyldyng frome that tyme vnto this daye, it is not yet finished. Wherefore now if it please the kynge, let sech be made among the kynges wyrynges, & if it may be found þ the buyldyng of this temple of the lord at Hierusalem be begone by the kinges decre, that it will please our lord the kynge to certify vs of it. * The king Darius commaunded that sech shoulde be made in all the kynges libaries at Babylon, and in the city of Ecbatani, whych is in the contrey of Medes, was found one booke, in the whiche it was thus enacted. Cyrus the kynge in the first yere of his captiue, commaunded a temple to be buylt at Hierusalem, where sacrifice shoulde be done, and fyre kepte perpetually whose heigth shold be. lx. cubites, and the bredth, of as many cubites, with the houses of fyne polished stone, and one house of loft of the same contrey stone, and al new. And that the charges shold be payde out of Cyrus house, and þ the holy vessels of the temple of the Lord, as well of golde as silver, whych Nabuchodonosor toke out of þ temple of Hierusalem, shoulde be set agayne in the same place þ they were befoze. And he gaue charge to Sisenna deputye of Syria, and Idenicia, that they shoulde not medle with that place, but þ they shoulde suffer zoroabel the seruant of the lord, & deputye of Astepe, & all the whole cōsil of the Jewes to build in þ same place the temple of the lord. Sooreuer I thoughte mete to geue in remaundement, that þ buyldyng shoulde be finished, and that the Jewes shoulde be holpen vnto the temple of the Lord were builded vp. Also that of the tribute of Celosia & Idenicia, a good appoyntment shoulde be geuen to them and their chiefe heade zoroabel to be bestowed vpon Oren, rammes, and Lambes, vpon coine also, salte and wyne, euery yere continually, without gaynsaying, as the priestes of Hierusalem shold it dayly to be spent, and that offerings may be geuen to the lorde God, for the kynge and his chyldren, and supplications made for the prosperite of their life. Also it was enacted, that whosoever did transgreffe any of these wyrynges or sayynges, there shold be taken out of his grounde a tree, where vpon he shoulde be hanged, & all his goodes forsaie to the kynge. And therfore that ELIAS, whose name is there celebrated, rote out and put away all those kynge and people whych put to their hand to hynder or trouble the buyldyng of the temple of the Lord that is at Hierusalem. These thinges haue I king Darius decreed, that all thinges shoulde be done exactlye, accordyng as is aforesayde.

The.vii. Chapter.

The.vii. Chapter.

The temple is finished and dedicate, & the feast of vntroued breade is holden.

Sisenna the deputye of Celosia and Idenicia and Sanabassar with his felowes doynge the commaundementes of kynge Darius, were verie diligente in these holy workes, the elders of the priestes and the ouersers of the Temple helpyng them. And these holy workes went forward and prospered, when Aggeus and zacharias the prophetes did their propheticall offices, and they were brought vnto an ende after the commaundement of the Lord God of Isracell, and the decre of Cyrus, Darius, & Artaxerxes kinges of Persians, vnto the first yere of kynge Darius, in the which that most holy temple was finished, the. vii. daye of the moneth of Adar, þ first yere of kynge Darius. And the chyldren of Isracell, as wel priestes as Leuites and other of their felowes that came fro the captiuitie, dyd as the booke of Esaias commaunded them, and hallored for the dedication of the temple of the Lord, an hundred oren, ii. hundred rammes, v. hundred Lambes, and for the spynes of all the people of Isracell. xii. kyddes, after þ number of the. xii. tribes of Isracell, the priestes, and Leuites beinge assted in their vestmentes accordyng to their tribes and standing in the worke of the Lord God of Isracell, after the prescription of the booke of Esaias, and the porters also standyng befoze euery doore. And the Isractites that were come fro captiuitie kept the solempne feast of Pas-

of Easter, the xiiii. day of the first moneth when the priests and the Levites, with all them that came from captivity were sanctified. For they were sanctified and offered the Paschal Lambe, for all them that were come out of captivity, and they were sanctified altogether, and killed the Paschal Lambe for all their brethren the priests as well as for them selves. Thus dyd all the Israelites that were come from captivity ease and make merye, escaping from the abominations of the land of the gentils, as followers of the LORD: and they kept the feast of the unleavened breade seven dayes, being very mery in the sight of the LORD, because he hadde turned the purpose and yett of the kynge of Assyrians toward them, and hadde styrted them to put to theyr bandes to the workes of the LORD God of Israel.

The.viii. Chapter.

Esdras causeth the people to assemble, and come together, & then readeth them the law. They kept the feast of the tabernacles.

After these thynges were done, when Artaxerxes kynge of Persians reigned, came Esdras the sonne of Sathias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helkias, the sonne of Schalum, the sonne of Zadoch, the sonne of Achitov, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Serior, the sonne of Zacharias, the sonne of Saria, the sonne of Boccus, the sonne of Abischa, the sonne of Ithinees the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aarab the first priest. This Esdras came up from Babylon, well sene in the lawe of Moses, which was geuen by god to Israel, and the king made hym ryght honorable, and he was in great fauour with hym in all þe he woulde requyre. And whiche hym came up of the chyldren of Israel to Jerusalem, as well priests & Levites, as porters, & holi ministers, the .viii. yers of the reigne of Artaxerxes: & they came to Jerusalem in the first moneth of þe same seuere of his reigne. For comynge from Babylon in the new moneth of the first moneth, they came to Jerusalem, such good speche dyd the LORD geue them in their journey. This Esdras was a great cunnyng man, so that he woulde let passe none of those things that were to be taught by the lawe of Moses, & commandementes of the LORD, & could teach all Israel all the rites & lawes. Unto this priest Esdras, & professor of the lawe of God, was deliuered a mystryng of kynge Artaxerxes whose example here ensueth.

Kynge Artaxerxes vnto the priest Esdras, and professor of the lawe of the LORD, sendeth gretynge.

I moued by frendshipp & good wil, haue thought good to ordaine þe euery one of the nation of the Iues, priests, & Levites, that were in our kingdome (al such as thought good) should go with me into the land of Israel, as it hath pleased me, & .viii. of my fellows, let the rise & go this journey with me, and after the lawe of the LORD se to the matters of Jewrye and Jerusalem. And let them take with the gyfts to Jerusalem for the LORD of Israel, such as I and my frendes haue borrowed: and all the gold and siluer that they may gette in the land of Babylon, lette them carpe it to the LORD to Jerusalem: and all that is gotten by the offerpuges of the people, let the take it into the temple of the LORD at Jerusalem, that as well the golde as the siluer may be gathered to be oren, tammes, Lambes and other lyke, to be offered for sacrifices at Jerusalem vpon the autare of the LORD their GOD. Also, whatsoever thou & thy brethren wil do with this gold and siluer, do it after the wil of the LORD; and the holy vessels of the LORD that were geuen the to serue in the temple of thy god that is at Jerusalem, let them euen there before the LORD. Likewise al other thynges euen as thou shal thinke them necessary for the Temple of thy God, thou shal take them out of our regall treasure. For King Artaxerxes haue charged my treasurers of Siria and Phenicia, that whatsoever the priest Esdras, the professor of the lawe of the LORD, shal sende for, that they shal with diligence geue it hym: euen vnto the summe of an. C. talentes of siluer, and lykewyse also of corne, an. C. mesures and as many vessels of ropne: And all other thynges let them bountuouly be geuen after þe diuine lawe, vnto the LORD, that his wrath arise not agaynst þe kinges kingdome, and to his sonnes. We charge you also þe requyre no take nor tribute of the priests, levites, holpe syngeters, porters, ministers, or any other that serue in this temple, and that no manne take vpon hym, to let any charge vpon them. And as for the, Esdras, accordyng to thy diuine wisdom, appoynt Iudges & Arbitrars, to shew the lawe thorowout all Siria, and Phenicia euen such as be well sene in the lawe of thy LORD: and such as be not, teach the, that whosoever breaketh the lawe of God, or of the kynge, may be surely punished, either by death or bodely payne, or by amercement of money, or else by banishment. I ban sayde Esdras the wyrtier. Blessed onely be the LORD GOD of my fathers, that hath geue so good a mynd vnto the kynge to magnifie his house that is at Jerusalem, and hath made me to be accepted & honored in the sight of the kynge, of his counsel, of his frendes, & of his nobles: wherby, trustyng vpon the help of my LORD god, I might wate the boldre, which also hath geuen men vnto me of the stocke of Israel to go up with me.

And these are the heades of the kyn

of Easter, the xiiii. day of the first moneth when the priests and the Levites, with all them that came from captivity were sanctified. For they were sanctified and offered the Paschal Lambe, for all them that were come out of captivity, and they were sanctified altogether, and killed the Paschal Lambe for all their brethren the priests as well as for them selves. Thus dyd all the Israelites that were come from captivity ease and make merye, escaping from the abominations of the land of the gentils, as followers of the LORD: and they kept the feast of the unleavened breade seven dayes, being very mery in the sight of the LORD, because he hadde turned the purpose and yett of the kynge of Assyrians toward them, and hadde styrted them to put to theyr bandes to the workes of the LORD God of Israel.

The.viii. Chapter.

Esdras causeth the people to assemble, and come together, & then readeth them the law. They kept the feast of the tabernacles.

After these thynges were done, when Artaxerxes kynge of Persians reigned, came Esdras the sonne of Sathias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helkias, the sonne of Schalum, the sonne of Zadoch, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Serior, the sonne of Zacharias, the sonne of Saria, the sonne of Bocus, the sonne of Abischa, the sonne of Ithinees the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aarab the first priest. This Esdras came up from Babylon, well sene in the lawe of Moses, which was geuen by god to Israel, and the king made hym ryght honorable, and he was in great fauour with hym in all he woulde requyre. And wher hym came up of the chyldren of Israel to Jerusalem, as well priests & Levites, as porters, & holi ministers, the .viii. yers of the reigne of Artaxerxes: & they came to Jerusalem in the first moneth of the same seuerall yere of his reigne. For comynge from Babylon in the new moneth of the first moneth, they came to Jerusalem, such good spede dyd the LORD geue them in their journey. This Esdras was a great cunnyng man, so that he woulde let passe none of those things that were to be taught by the lawe of Moses, & commandementes of the LORD, & could teach all Israel all the rites & lawes. Unto this priest Esdras, & professor of the lawe of God, was deliuered a mystryng of kynge Artaxerxes whose example here ensueth.

Kynge Artaxerxes vnto the priest Esdras, and professor of the lawe of the LORD, sendeth gretynge.

I moued by frendshipp & good wil, haue thought good to ordaine & euery one of the nation of the Iues, priests, & Levites, that were in our kingdome (al such as thought good) should go with me into the land of Israel, as it hath pleased me, & .viii. of my counsellours, let the rise & go this journey with me, and after the lawe of the LORD se to the matters of Jewrye and Jerusalem. And let them take with the gyfts to Jerusalem for the LORD of Israel, such as I and my frendes haue borrowed: and all the gold and siluer that they may gette in the land of Babylon, lette them carie it to the LORD to Jerusalem: and all that is gotten by the offerpuges of the people, let them take it into the temple of the LORD at Jerusalem, that as well the golde as the siluer may be gathered to be oren, tammes, Lambes and other lyke, to be offered for sacrifices at Jerusalem vpon the autare of the LORD their GOD. Also, whatsoever thou & thy brethren wil do with this gold and siluer, do it after the wil of the LORD: and the holy vessels of the LORD that were geuen the to serue in the temple of thy god that is at Jerusalem, let them euen there before the LORD. Likewise al other thynges euen as thou shal thinke them necessary for the Temple of thy God, thou shal take them out of our regall treasure. For King Artaxerxes haue charged my treasurers of Siria and Phenicia, that whatsoever the priest Esdras, the professor of the lawe of the LORD, shal sende for, that they shal with diligence geue it hym: euen vnto the summe of an. C. talentes of siluer, and lykewyse also of corne, an. C. mesures and as many vessels of ropne: And all other thynges let them bountouously be geuen after the diuine law, vnto the LORD, that his wrath arise not agaynst the kinges kingdome, and to his sonnes. We charge you also that ye requyre no take nor tribute of the priests, levites, holpe syngeters, porters, ministers, or any other that serue in this temple, and that no manne take vpon hym, to let any charge vpon them. And as for the, Esdras, accordyng to thy diuine wisdom, appoynt Iudges & Arbitrars, to shew the lawe thorowout all Siria, and Phenicia euen such as be well sene in the lawe of thy LORD: and such as be not, teach the, that whosoever breaketh the lawe of God, or of the kynge, may be surely punished, either by death or bodely payne, or by amercement of money, or else by banishment. I ban sayde Esdras the wyrtier. Blessed onely be the LORD GOD of my fathers, that hath geue so good a mynd vnto the kynge to magnifie his house that is at Jerusalem, and hath made me to be accepted & honored in the sight of the kynge, of his counsel, of his frendes, & of his nobles: wherby, trustyng vpon the help of my LORD god, I might wate the boldre, which also hath geuen men vnto me of the stocke of Israel to go up with me.

And these are the heades of the kyn

The.iii. boke of Esdras.

kyntedes of houses, eury one as he is in degre wherch went to me from Babilon in the tyme of the raigne of kinge Artaxerxes.

Of the Sonnes of Ithiners, Gerson: of the sonnes of Ithamer, Samas: of the sonnes of David, Hecus the sonne of Sechemiah: of the sonnes of Ithobos, zacharias, and with him were bilied an hundred and l. men: of the sonnes of captaine Moab, Elihoenai the sonne of zacharie, and with hym two hundred: of the children of zachor, Sechemiah the sonne of Iehziel, and with him.iii. hundred: of the sonnes of Adin, Gedeb the sonne of Jonathai, and with two hundred and ffty: of the sonnes of Elam, Josaias the sonne of Borkelias, and with hym seuentye: of the sonnes of Saphatiah, zarahab the sonne of Michaeil, and with hym. lxxx. men: of the sonnes of Ieab, Zabadiab the sonne of Iehziel, and with him ii. hundred and. xii. menne: of the sonnes of Banicah, Solomith the sonne of Josaphic, and with hym an hundred. lx. men: of the sonnes of Babi, zacharias the sonne of Bezbat, and with hym. xxviii. menne: of the Sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Baccatan, and with hym an hundred and x. men: of the sonnes of Adoniam, whiche were laste, and these are their names, Eliphaz, Ieiel, Semetias, and with them lxxii. men: of the children of Magot, Uziel the sonne of Ithacur, and with hym. lxxii. menne. All these gathered together at the river called Eberas, wher we pitched our tentes, and taried there thre dayes and there mustered. But when I founde none ther of the blited of the priestes and Leuites, I sent an host, to whom also came Eleazarus, Saaalmo, Aluathas, Semaias, Joubun, Zachas, Aluathas zacharym, and Mosollas, whiche were the chiefe heades & men of good experience. And I commaunded them to go vnto that grete man Addeus, which dwelt in a place by the treasury, and gaue them commaundementes to shewe vnto Addeus and his bretheren, and those that dwelt by the treasury, that they shoulde sende vs suche men as myght execute the priestes office in the house of the Lorde our God. And so they brought vnto vs (suche is the myghty hande of God) men of good experience, from amonge the sonnes of Moab, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel. Serabiam with his sonnes and bretheren which were. xvi. and Basabiam and Annon with Iesaias his brother, of the Sonnes of Canane, whose Sonnes were. xx. and also of the holpe ministers, whiche David had ordeyned, and whiche were the chiefe of the Levitical worke, I say they brought of holy ministers. ii. l. & xx. The commaunded I a saynge vnto the yung men before our God by vowe, for they shoulde despise of him a prosperous journey

The.viii. Chapter.

for vs, our children, and our carrell. I durst not requyre of the king for me or for seme to conuey vs safe agaynst our enemies. For we had sayde vnto the kynge, that the power of the Lorde our god shoulde be with them to do all thynges wel, that seke hym with the whole hert. And therfore agayne we besought god for these thynges, and we founde hym mercifull vnto vs. And when I had chosen oute of the rulers and of the priestes. xii. men, that is to saye Serabia, and Basabia, and with the. x. of their brethren: I weped vnto them the syluer and golde, and the holpe vessels of the house of the Lorde and the gyftes of the kynge, and his counsellers, and of the noble men, and of all the people of Israel. I saye I gaue vnto the of that I had weped an. l. a fifty talentes of siluer, and of siluer vessels an. l. talentes, and an hundred talentes of gold, with. xx. golden vessels, and. xii. of goodly brasse that glistened lyke the gold, & sayde vnto the. Ye are hallowed vnto the Lorde, and the vessels also are holpe, and this gold & siluer is vowed vnto the lord of our fathers. Watche therfore and kepe it wel & untyll ye deliuer it vnto the rulers of the people, to the priestes, the Leuites, and to the principall men of the houses of Israel in Hierusalem, and in the chambere of the house of our god & untyll the priestes and Leuites after they haue receyued this syluer and golde and vessels, bring it into the temple of the Lorde at Hierusalem. And when we were remoued from the ctyer of Thera, the. xii. day of the first moneth we came to Hierusalem, the myghty hande of god defendyng vs: For the first entrafice into our iourney the LORDE saued vs from all our enemies, and we came to Hierusalem. And when the thyrde daye was past, the fourth daye the syluer and golde that was wayed, was deliuered in þ house of the Lorde vnto Sarimoth the sonne of Uria the priest, and with hym vnto Eleazar Ithineres sonne, and to their schollers, Rozabad the sonne of Iesu, and Moedias, Bannul a Leuites sonne, I saye all was deliuered by numbre & weyghre, and at the same tyme all the weyght was wyten. And the sacrifice that was come from captiuitie they offered it to the Lord God of Israel, for all Israel. xii. Oxen, nynerpe and fyre rammes. lxxii. Lambes, & twelue geates for synne, all to be sacrificed vnto the Lorde. And after they hadde deliuered the kyngs commission vnto the schawdes and deputies of Elosicia, and Iudicia, they gaue great honour vnto þ people, and temple of god. * Some when these thynges were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde: Neither the princes of the people of Israel, neither the priestes, neither þ Leuites haue abstained frome people of straunge landes, or frome filthynes of the gentyle, the Cananites, the Decyites, the Pherezites, the Jebusites, the Moabites,

l. Esd. viii.

l. Esd. ix. a.

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

kyntedes of houses, eury one as he is in degre wherch went to me from Babilon in the tyme of the raigne of kinge Artaxerxes.

Of the Sonnes of Ithiners, Gerson: of the sonnes of Ithamer, Samai: of the sonnes of Dauid, Hecus the sonne of Sechemiah: of the sonnes of Ithobos, zacharias, and with him were bilied an hundred and l. men: of the sonnes of captaine Moab, Elnathan the sonne of zacharie, and with hym two hundred: of the children of zachor, Sechemiah the sonne of Iechiel, and with him.iii. hundred: of the sonnes of Adin, Gedeb the sonne of Jonathab, and with two hundred and ffty: of the sonnes of Elam, Josaias the sonne of Borthia, and with hym seuentye: of the sonnes of Saphatiah zarahab the sonne of Michaeil, and with hym. lxxx. men: of the sonnes of Icab, Zabadiab the sonne of Iechiel, and with him ii. hundred and. xii. menne: of the sonnes of Bancah, Solomith the sonne of Josaphic, and with hym an hundred. lx. men: of the sonnes of Babi, zacharias the sonne of Bezbat, and with hym. xxviii. menne: of the Sonnes of Azgad, Johanan the sonne of Baccatan, and with hym an hundred and x. men: of the sonnes of Adoniam, whiche were laste, and these are their names, Eliphaz, Iechiel, Semetias, and with them lxxii. men: of the children of Lagot, Uziel the sonne of Ithacur, and with hym. lxxii. menne. All these gathered together at the river called Eberas, wher we pitched our tentes, and taried there thre dayes and there mustered. But when I founde none ther of the blited of the priestes and Leuites, I sent an host, to whom also came Eleazarus, Saaia, Aluath, Semaias, Joubun, Zacha, Aluath zacharym, and Mosollas, whiche were the chiefe heades & men of good experience. And I commaunded them to go vnto that grete man Addus, which dwelt in a place by the treasury, and gaue them commaundementes to shewe vnto Addus and his bretheren, and those that dwelt by the treasury, that they shoulde sende vs suche men as myght execute the priestes office in the house of the Lorde our God. And so they brought vnto vs (suche is the myghty hande of God) men of good experience, from amonge the sonnes of Moab, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel. Serabiam with his sonnes and bretheren which were. xvi. and Babeliam and Annon with Iesaias his brother, of the Sonnes of Canane, whose Sonnes were. xx. and also of the holpe ministers, whiche Dauid had ordeyned, and whiche were the chiefe of the Levitical worke, I say they brought of holy ministers. ii. l. & xx. The commaunded I a saynge vnto the yung men before our God by vowe, for they should despyse of him a prosperous journey

The.viii. Chapter.

for vs, our children, and our cattel. I durst not requyre of the king for me or for seme to conuey vs safe agaynst our enemies. For we had sayde vnto the kynge, that the power of the Lorde our god should be with them to do all thynges wel, that seke hym with the whole hert. And therfore agayne we besought god for these thynges, and we founde hym mercifull vnto vs. And when I had chosen oute of the rulers and of the priestes. xii. men, that is to saye Serabia, and Babelia, and with the. x. of their brethren: I weped vnto them the syluer and golde, and the holpe vessels of the house of the Lorde and the gyftes of the kynge, and his counsellers, and of the noble men, and of all the people of Israel. I saye I gaue vnto the of that I had weped an. l. a fifty talentes of siluer, and of siluer vessels an. l. talentes, and an hundred talentes of gold, with. xx. golden vessels, and. xii. of goodly brasse that glistened lyke the gold, & sayde vnto the. Ye are hallowed vnto the Lorde, and the vessels also are holpe, and this gold & siluer is vowed vnto the lord of our fathers. Watche therfore and kepe it wel & untyll ye deliuer it vnto the rulers of the people, to the priestes, the Leuites, and to the principall men of the houses of Israel in Hierusalem, and in the chambere of the house of our god & untyll the priestes and Leuites after they haue receyued this syluer and golde and vessels, bring it into the temple of the Lorde at Hierusalem. And when we were remoued from the ctyuer of Thera, the. xii. day of the first moneth we came to Hierusalem, the myghty hande of god defendyng vs: For the first entrafice into our iourney the LORDE saued vs from all our enemies, and we came to Hierusalem. And when the thyrde daye was past, the fourth daye the syluer and golde that was wayed, was deliuered in þ house of the Lorde vnto Sarimoth the sonne of Uria the priest, and with hym vnto Eleazar Ithineres sonne, and to their schollers, Rozabad the sonne of Iesu, and Moedias, Bannul a Leuites sonne, I saye all was deliuered by numbre & weyghre, and at the same tyme all the weyght was wyrtten. And the sacrifice that was come from captiuitie they offered it to the Lord God of Israel, for all Israel. xii. Oxen, nyner & syre lammes. lxxii. Lambes, & twelue geates for synne, all to be sacrificed vnto the Lorde. And after they hadde deliuered the kyngs commission vnto the schawdes and deputies of Elosicia, and Ibenicia, they gaue great honour vnto þ people, and temple of god. * Some when these thynges were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde: Neither the princes of the people of Israel, neither the priestes, neither þ Leuites haue abstained frome people of straunge landes, or frome filthynes of the gentyle, the Cananites, the Decyites, the Pherezites, the Jebusites, the Moabites,

l. Esd. viii.

l. Esd. ix. a.

the Egyptians, the Idumies. For they haue married wth thei^r daughters, euen they and thei^r sonnes, and the holy sede is mingled wth people of straunge land: & pactakers of thei^r faulte and wyckednesse haue ben the chief rulers and heades, eueⁿ seuce the begynnyng of thei^r rule.

And when I vnder stode these thynges, immediately I rent my clothes & holy vestiments, yuld out the heere of my head and my bearde, and sare me downe sorrowfully and heauy: and there came to me as I mourned for this synne all that were moued wth the lord God of Israel. And whē I had s^t mourning vntyl the euenyng sacrifice, then rose I vp from fastyng, and hauping my clothes all to rent, and the holy garment, knelyng upon my knees, and

1. Esdr. vi. b

Deut. xxviii

holdinge vp my handes, I sayde: O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face, for our synnes are become many vnto out heades, and our wickednes euen from the tymes of oure forefathers is reached vp to heauen, and euen at this daye be in verie greete faulte and synne. And for the synnes of us & of our forefathers we w^old oure brethren wth our synnes, and wth our priestes haue bene deliuered vnto the kynges of the earth, into the sword, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle wth confusion and shame vnto this day. And now oh lord God, how great is the mercy that wee haue gotten of the: in that thou haste leste vs a rote and a name, in the place of the Sanctuarie, that lyght shoulde shyne agayne vnto vs in the house of the Lord our God, and that we shoulde haue meat all the tyme of oure bondage. For in oure feruour we were not forsaken of the, oure LORD, but thou madeste vs in fauoure before the kynges of the Persians, so that they gaue vs meate, and gaue honoure to the temple of oure Lord, boeth to repaire the wasted places of Sion, and that we shoulde haue a sure dwellinge place in Iudaea, & Ierusalem. And now Oh Lord, what shal we say, seeing al these thynges be happened to vs? for we haue brought thi^r commandments which thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruantes the prophetes, saying: The lād þ^r go to to haue in possession, this land is defiled wth þ^r filthynes of straunge nations, & filled wth their abominations, wherfore ye shall not tope thei^r daughters vnto your sonnes in marriage, nor marie your sonnes vnto thei^r daughters: no, ye shall not seeke to haue peace wth the at any tyme, that you may wat^r ströge, & enjoy this plentiful cōtre, & geue it vnto your childre as they inherite it for euer more. So now all these chāces haue happened vnto vs for our euil dedes, & our greuous synnes. Yet hast thou Lord geuen vs such a rote, that we are comen agayne into our lād, & we are so wicked, þ^r we haue broken thy statutes and commaundements agayne, and mingled our selues wth the uncleannes of the outlād^r heathen: mightest not thou haue bene so angry wth vs, euen to haue utterly destroyed vs, so that neyther roote, nor seed, nor name shoulde haue bene left vs? O Lord God of Israel, thou art full of trouth, for our roote endureth yet to this present daye. Behold now are we in thy syght wth our synnes, and we are not able to stand before the in this cause.

When * Esdras had knowleged these thynges before the Temple, wth much praying, weeping, and lying flat vpon the ground, there gathered vnto hym from Ierusalem a greete multitude of men and women, of yonge men & maydens, for there was a verie greete weeping & mourning in the congregation. Then Seronias an Israelite Nehiels sonne cryed out aloud & said: O Esdras, we haue sinned agaynst the Lord, and we haue married outlād^r women of the heathen, and now is all the people of Israel at a stāye. Let vs therefore binde oure selues vnto the Lord by an othe, to put away all our wyues which we haue taken of the heathen wth their children, if you thinke it beste, and al thei^r that be ruled by the lame of God, arise and do this thyng, for it is thyne office, and we will helpe the: quyte thy selfe manly. So Esdras arose and swore the chief priestes and Leuites and the chiefe of al Israel, to do after these thynges: and they swate.

1. Esdr. x. a

That is thei^r haue bē in a doubt what is best to be done & howe this fault may be amended.

1. Esdr. vi.

The.ii. Chapter.

After Esdras had read the lawe, the people put a way their strange wyues, & then returned euery man nerily vnto his owne dwellinge.

When Esdras after he was risen out of the * porche of the temple, he went into the chambre of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib, and there he tarped, and nether eat nor dranke because he mourned for the greuous syns of the people. And when proclamaciō was made thow^omeoute all Iurpe and Ierusalem, that al that were come from captiuitie shoulde come to Ierusalem, and who soeuer was not there wthin two or three dayes after, accordinge as the chief elders had decreed, that cartell shoulde be sacrificed, and they themselves put away from the company of them that came from captiuitie wthin the dayes: the twenty day of the nynthe moneth, were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Benjamin gathered together at Ierusalem. And the whole multitude sate tēbling in þ^r court of the tēple, for it was a verie cold wynter: So Esdras arose vp, and sayd vnto them. Seyng that you haue done wyckedly, in that you haue married outlād^r wyues, & so increased the synne of Israel, now confesse the same and geue prayse vnto the Lord God of oure fathers: and obeyng his wyl, sepetate

1. Esdr. x.

Deu. vii. a.

Wb. i.

your

the Egyptians, the Idumies. For they haue married wth thei^r daughters, euen they and thei^r sonnes, and the holy sede is mingled wth people of straunge land: & pactakers of thei^r faulte and wyckednesse haue ben the chief rulers and heades, eueⁿ seuce the begynnyng of thei^r rule.

And when I vnder stode these thynges, immediately I rent my clothes & holy vestiments, yuld out the heere of my head and my bearde, and sare me downe sorrowfully and heauy: and there came to me as I mourned for this synne all that were moued wth the lord God of Israel. And whē I had s^t mourning vntyl the euenyng sacrifice, then rose I vp from fastyng, and hauping my clothes all to rent, and the holy garment, knelyng upon my knees, and

1. Esdr. vi. b

Deut. xxviii

holdinge vp my handes, I sayde: O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face, for our synnes are become many vnto out heades, and our wickednes euen from the tymes of oure forefathers is reached vp to heauen, and euen at this daye be in verie greete faulte and synne. And for the synnes of us & of our forefathers we w^old oure brethren wth our synnes, and wth our priestes haue bene deliuered vnto the kynges of the earth, into the sword, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle wth confusion and shame vnto this day. And now oh lord God, how great is the mercy that wee haue gotten of the: in that thou haste leste vs a rote and a name, in the place of the Sanctuarie, that lyght shoulde shyne agayne vnto vs in the house of the Lord our God, and that we shoulde haue meat all the tyme of oure bondage. For in oure feruencye we were not forsaken of the, oure LORD, but thou madeste vs in fauoure before the kynges of the Persians, so that they gaue vs meate, and gaue honoure to the temple of oure Lord, boeth to repaire the wasted places of Sion, and that we shoulde haue a sure dwellinge place in Iudaea, & Ierusalem. And now Oh Lord, what shal we say, seeing al these thynges be happened to vs? for we haue brought thi^e commandments which thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruantes the prophetes, saying: The lād þ^e ye go to to haue in possession, this land is defiled wth þ^e filthynes of straunge nations, & filled wth their abominations, wherfore ye shall not tope thei^r daughters vnto your sonnes in marriage, nor marie your sonnes vnto thei^r daughters: no, ye shall not seeke to haue peace wth the at any tyme, that you may wat^e ströge, & enjoy this plentiful cōtre, & geue it vnto your childre as they inherite it for euer more. So now all these chāces haue happened vnto vs for our euil dedes, & our greuous synnes. Yet hast thou Lord geuen vs such a rote, that we are comen agayne into our lād, & we are so wicked, þ^e we haue broken thy statutes and commaundements agayne, and mingled our selues wth the uncleannes of the outlādish heathen: mightest not thou haue bene so angry wth vs, euen to haue utterly destroyed vs, so that neyther roote, nor seed, nor name shoulde haue bene left vs? O Lord God of Israel, thou art full of truely, for our roote endureth yet to this present daye. Behold now are we in thy syght wth our synnes, and we are not able to stand before the in this cause.

When * Esdras had knowleged these thynges before the Temple, wth much praying, weeping, and lying flat vpon the ground, there gathered vnto hym from Ierusalem a greete multitude of men and women, of yonge men & maydens, for there was a verie greete weeping & mourning in the congregation. Then Serchias an Israelite Nehiels sonne cryed out aloud & said: O Esdras, we haue sinned agaynst the Lord, and we haue married outlādish women of the heathen, and now is all the people of Israel at a * stave. Let vs therefore brynde oure selues vnto the Lord by an othe, to put away all our wyues which we haue taken of the heathen wth their children, if you thinke it beste, and al they that be ruled by the lame of God, arise and do this thyng, for it is thyne office, and we will helpe the: quyte thy selfe manly. So Esdras arose and swore the chief priestes and Leuites and the chiefe of al Israel, to do after these thynges: and they swate.

1. Esdr. x. a

That is that haue be in a doubte what is best to be done & howe this fault may be amended.

1. Esdr. vi.

The.ii. Chapter.

After Esdras had read the lawe, the people put a way their strange wyues, & then returned euery man nerily vnto his owne dwellinge.

When Esdras after he was risen out of the * porche of the temple, he went into the chambre of Johanan the sonne of Eliash, and there he tarped, and nether eat nor dranke because he mourned for the greuous syns of the people. And when proclamaciō was made throughout all Iurpe and Ierusalem, that al that were come from captiuitie shoulde come to Ierusalem, and who soeuer was not there wthin two or three dayes after, accordinge as the chief elders had decreed, that cartell shoulde be sacrificed, and they themselves put away from the company of them that came from captiuitie wthin the dayes: the twenty day of the nynthe moneth, were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Benjamin gathered together at Ierusalem. And the whole multitude sate tēbling in þ^e court of the tēple, for it was a verie cold wynter: So Esdras arose vp, and sayd vnto them. Seyng that you haue done wyckedly, in that you haue married outlādish wyues, & so increased the synne of Israel, now confesse the same and geue prayse vnto the Lord God of oure fathers: and obeyng his wyl, sepetate

1. Esdr. x.

Deu. vii. a.

Wb. i.

your

The.iii. booke of Esdras

Wrought selues from the gentiles, and ourslau-dyke wyues. Then cried all the people a loude and sayd, we wil do as thou byddest
vs. But seynge here is a greace multitude and that it is the tyme of winter, and that we be not able to stand wpythout þe doze, & namely þe this is not the worke of a day or two (for we be many þe haue sinned in this thing) let there be appointed rulers among þe multitude, & whosoever in our companyes haue straungers to thet wyues, let the appoint a tyme, & be redy wpyth the iudges & eloers of euerye place, vntyll the wrath of
the lord be appeased touching this precept & commaundement. The Jonathan the sonne of Asabell, & Nabrias the sonne of Thabrus toke þe chary of this matter, & Azofalla, Le-ui & Sabathai holp thet: & in al these pointes behaued the selues as men þe were come fro the captiuitie. And the prestes be chose vnto him the chiefe of the fathers, namely those þe had sitte at the inquisition of this matter in the newe moneth of the tenth mo-neth. And the matters cherynyng the men þe had outslaudyke wyues was ended in the newe moneth of þe first moneth. And of þe priestes which had married outlandyke wyues were founde: Of the sonnes of Jesu the sonne of Josedece and his brethyen, Masias, Eliazer, Jorib, and Jodanis. These offered to put away thet wyues, and to offer rammes for thet ignoraunce. Of the sonnes of Immer, Hanani, Zabbiah, Es-nas, Samaias, Jeraal, Azarias. Of the sonnes of Jhebur, Elionas, Maasias, Jes-maell, Barbanai, Osdaius, and Alasab.
And of the Leuites, Josabad, Semet, Co-
lias called also Calitas, Bartheas, Jodan-das and Jonas. And of the holpe syngers, Elasib, and Bacchurus.

Of the porters, Sallum, and Tolbanes.

Of the Israelites.

Of the sonnes of Jotham, Lemas, Ede-
das, Malchias, Maclus, Eleazer, Asubias Benaias. Of the chyldren of Elam, Ma-thanas, zacharias, Jebai, Jerimoth and Baltas. Of the sonnes of Jathora, Eladas, Elisib, Agorhonias, Jarimoth, zabab, and Sardalus. Of the sonnes of Jibai, Jovanā
and Benanias, & Josabadus, & Emathias
Of þe sonnes of Bani, Olamus, Maluch, Je-daias, Jasub, Jasael, & Jeremoth. Of the sonnes of Addin, Naarbus, and Moosias, Laccunus, and Benaias and Maathanias
and Bezeliel, and Bannui and Maanasses.
Of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, Alcas,
Malchias, Sammaias, Simon Cholama-
as. Of the sonnes of Basam, Raathanias, Maathanias, Banuaios, Eliphalab, Ma-nasses, Symet. Of the sonnes of Bannu, Jeremias, Moadi, Amet, Juel, Banaias
Badias, Jomias, Maathanias, Elasib, Maathanias, Maathanias, Elasib, Bannui,
Elasib, Samat Selemias, Raathanias.
Of the chyldren of Ozoia, Seli, Ezrel, Jezabel, Samaros, zambis, Joseph. Of the

The.ii. Chapter.

chyldren of Jotha, Raathanias, zabab, Je-dai, Juel, Banaias.

All these married outlandyke wyues, and forsoke them and thet children. The priestes and Leuites and all thet that were
of Israel, dwelte at Hierusalem: and thet comout all the Lande in the newe moneth of the seveneth moneth, and the chyldren of Israel were in thet dwellinge when the whole multitude wpyth one assente came together vpon the flowre, whych is at the gate of the Temple on the Callespde, and delivered Esdras the priest and Reader, to byngge for thet vnto them the lawe of Moses that was geuen by the Lord God of Israel. And so thet hye priest Esdras in the newe Moone in the seveneth moneth, brought for thet the lawe, thet al the people both men and women myght heare it, and all the wytes also: and he reade it in the flowre of Jotha, that is before the ho-lye doze of the temple, from the mornynge earlye vnto noone, before men and women and all the multitude whych gaue good eare vnto the lawe. And Esdras the priest and Reader of the lawe stode vpon a scaffolde of woode made for him, and vpon his ryghte hande stode by him Raathanias, Sannus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Zecheas and Balasamus: and vpon his left hand stode Jhabaias, Agisael, Malachie, Aotasuphos, Raathanias: and Esdras saluynge
the booke before all the people (for he bym selte sate ch. ceste honourable in all thet synges) & while he expounded the lawe al other stode by. J say Esdras gaue thankes vnto the Lord the hye God, the almyghty
God of hoodes, and all the people cryed
Amen. And Jelus, Bani, Saathanias, Ja-minius, Acub, Sabathai, Judaias, Maassaias, Calita, Azarias, Josabad, Bannu, and Jhilatas the Leuites helde by thet handes, and bowed thet selues vpon the grounde, and expounded the Lawe of the Lord, and made playne the thynges that were read. Mozeouer Bartheas spake vnto Esdras thet hye byshoppe and reader and to al the Leuites that taught the people and sayde thus: Seynge this daye is bellowed vnto the Lord, and that al haue geuen them selues to wepyngge, while the lawe was in reacyngge, when ye be gone hence, eate of the best, and drynke the swe-teste, and sende by thes of meate to thet that haue none: For this daye is holye vnto
the Lord, and be not ye loy.

Then wente they thet way euerychone to eate and drynke and make merpe, and sent meate wpyth great love to them that had none. For they were exceedingly re-ioysed through the wordes that were reade vnto them in the lawe, and were altogether at Hierusalem.

The ende of the thyrde booke of Esdras.

The

The.iii. booke of Esdras

Wrought selues from the gentiles, and ourslau-dyke wyues. Then cried all the people a loude and sayd, we wil do as thou byddest
vs. But seynge here is a greace multitude
and that it is the tyme of winter, and that we be not able to stand wpythout þe doze, & namely þe this is not the worke of a day or two (for we be many þe haue sinned in this thing) let there be appointed rulers among
þe multitude, & whosoever in our companyes
haue straungers to thet wyues, let the appoint a tyme, & be redy wpyth the iudges & eloers of euerye place, vntyll the wrath of
the lord be appeased touching this precept & commaundement. The Jonathan the sonne of Asahel, & Nabrias the sonne of Thabrus toke þe chary of this matter, & Azosalla, Le-ui & Sabathai holp thet: & in al these poun-tes behaued thet selues as men þe were come fro the captiuitie. And the prestes be chose vnto him the chiefe of the fathers, namely
those þe had sitte at the inquisition of this matter in the newe moneth of the tenth mo-neth. And the matters cheryng the men þe had outslaudyke wyues was ended in the newe moneth of þe first moneth. And of þe priestes which had married outlandyke wyues
were founde: Of the sonnes of Jesu the sonne of Josedece and his brethren, Masias, Eliazer, Jorib, and Jodanis. These offered to put away thet wyues, and to offer rammes for thet ignoraunce. Of the sonnes of Immer, Hanani, Zabbiah, Es-
nas, Samaias, Jeraal, Azarias. Of the
sonnes of Jhebur, Elionas, Maasias, Jesmael, Barbanai, Osdaius, and Alasab.
And of the Leuites, Josabad, Semet, Co-
lias called also Calitas, Bartheas, Jodan-das and Jonas. And of the holpe syngers, Elasib, and Bacchurus.

Of the porters, Sellum, and Tolbanes.

Of the Israelites.

Of the sonnes of Jotham, Lemas, Ede-
das, Malchias, Maclus, Eleazer, Asubias Benaias. Of the chyldren of Elam, Ma-thanas, zacharias, Jebai, Jerimoth and Baltas. Of the sonnes of Jathora, Eladas, Elisib, Agorhonias, Jarimoth, zabab, and Sardalus. Of the sonnes of Jibai, Jovanā
and Benanias, & Josabadus, & Emathias
Of þe sonnes of Bani, Olamus, Maluch, Je-daias, Jasub, Jasael, & Jeremoth. Of the sonnes of Addin, Naarbus, and Moosias, Laccunus, and Benaias and Maathanias
and Bezeliel, and Bannui and Maanasses.
Of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, Alcas,
Malchias, Sammaias, Simon Cholama-
as. Of the sonnes of Basam, Raathanias, Maathanias, Banuatos, Eliphalab, Ma-
nasses, Symet. Of the sonnes of Bannu,
Jeremias, Moadi, Amet, Juel, Banaias
Badias, Jomias, Maathanias, Elasib,
Maathanias, Maathanias, Elasib, Bannui,
Elasib, Samat Selemias, Raathanias.
Of the chyldren of Ozoia, Seli, Ezrel, Je-zai, Samatos, zambis, Joseph. Of the

The.ii. Chapter.

chyldren of Jova, Raathanias, zabab, Je-
dai, Juel, Banaias.

All these married outlandyke wyues, and forsoke them and thet children. The priestes and Leuites and all thet that were
of Israel, dwelte at Hierusalem: and thet
comout all the Lande in the newe moneth of the seven the moneth, and the chyldren of Israel were in thet dwellinge when the whole multitude wpyth one assente came
together vpon the flowre, whych is at the gate of the Temple on the Callespde, and delivered Esdras the priest and Reader, to byng thet vnto them the lawe of Moses that was geuen by the Lord God of Israel. And so thet hye priest Esdras in the newe Moone in the seven the moneth, brought forth the lawe, thet al the people both men and women myght heare it, and all the wythes also: and he reade it in the flowre of Jorib, that is before the ho-lye doze of the temple, from the mornynge
earlye vnto noone, before men and women
and all the multitude whych gaue good eare vnto the lawe. And Esdras the priest and Reader of the lawe stode vpon a scaffolde of woode made for him, and vpon his
ryghte hande stode by him Raathanias, Sannus, Ananias, Azarias, Elias, Ezze-
as and Balasamus: and vpon his left hand stode Jhadaias, Agisael, Malachie, Aot-suphos, Raathanias: and Esdras saluynge
the booke before all the people (for he bym selte late ch. este honourable in all thet synges) & while he expounded the lawe al
other stode by. J say Esdras gaue thankes
vnto the Lord the hye God, the almyghty
God of hoodes, and all the people cryed
Amen. And Jelus, Bani, Saathanias, Ja-minius, Acub, Sabathai, Judaias, Ma-
saias, Calita, Azarias, Josabad, Bannu,
and Jhilatas the Leuites helde by thet
handes, and bowed thet selues vpon the
grounde, and expounded the Lawe of the Lord, and made playne the thynges that were read. Mozeouer Barthesaias spake vnto Esdras thet hye byshoppe and reader
and to al the Leuites that taught the people and sayde thus: Seynge this daye is
bellowed vnto the Lord, and that al haue geuen them selues to wepyng, while the lawe was in reacyng, when ye be gone hence, eate of the best, and drynke the swe-
teste, and sende by thes of meate to thet that haue none: For this daye is holy vnto
the Lord, and be not ye loy.

Then wente they thet way euerychone
to eate and drynke and make merpe, and
sent meate wpyth great love to them that had none. For they were exceedingly re-ioysed through the wordes that were
reade vnto them in the lawe,
and were altogether at Hierusalem.

The ende of the thyrde booke
of Esdras.

The

The fourthe

Booke of Esdras.

(*)

The .iij. Chapter.

The people are reproveth for their unthriftfulness. God will finde an other people if these will not be reformed.

E the seconde booke of the prophete Esdras the son of Sathaias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Selchya, the sonne of Salum, the sonne of Saboc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amecias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Maratob, the sonne of Saabias, the sonne of Ezi, the sonne of Bnebus, the sonne of Abisu, the sonne of Whinces, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi, which was prisoner in the lande of Chaldees, in the tyme of Artaxerxes kynge of Persia.

And the word of the LORD came vnto me, sayinge: go thy waye, & shewe my people their synfull dedes, and their chyldren theyr wickednes, which they haue done agaynst me: that they may tel their chyldren chyldren the same, for the synnes of their fathers are increased in them. And whyle they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto straunge Goddes. I am not I coulde be, that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage: but they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and despised my counsels. Pull thou out then the heete of thy heade, and calle all euyl vnto them, for they haue not bene obedient vnto my lawe.

It is a people without learninge and without. How long shall I forbear them, vnto whome I haue done so much good? * Many kinges haue I destroyed for their sake: * Wheras with thy seruantes and all thy power haue I smitten downe and layne: * All the nations haue I destroyed and cored out before the, * and in the east haue I brought two landes and people to naught, euen Tyre and Sidon, and haue layne all their enemies. Speake thou therefore vnto them, sayinge: Thus sayeth the LORD: * I led you throughe the sea. & haue geue you sure stetes sence the beginning. * I gaue you Moses to be your captaine, and Aaron to be the priest: * I gaue you lyght in a pillar of fyre, and grete wenders haue I done among you: yet haue you forgotten me sayeth the LORD.

Thus sayeth the almighty LORD: * I gaue you quapies to eate, and I sentes for your succoure: * Neuerthelesse ye mutmurced, and ascribed not the victorie of your enemies vnto my name: yea, this same day do ye yet mutmure. Where are the benefites that I haue done for you? When ye were hungry in the wilderness, did ye not cry vnto me: why hast thou brought us into this wilderness, to kill vs? It had ben better for us, to haue serued the Egyptians, then to dye in this wilderness.

Then had I put upon your mountinges, and gaue you manna to eat. * Ye eat angels fode. * When ye were thirsty, did not I hewe the harde stone, and cause water to flowe therout? For the heat, I covered you with the leaues of the trees. A good pleasaunt fat land gaue I you: I cast out the Chanaites, the Idumeites & Philistines before you. * What shall I do more for you sayeth the LORD?

Thus sayeth the almighty LORD: * Why ye were in the wilderness in the water of the Amorites, being a chaste, and blaspheminge my name, I gaue you not fire for your blasphemies, but caste a tree into the water, and made the water sweet. What shall I do vnto the Jacob? Thou Juda wouldeste not obey me. * I will turne me to an other people, and vnto those will I geue my name, that they may kepe my statutes. Separe ye haue forsaken me, I will forsake you also. When ye desyre me to be gracious vnto you, I shall haue no mercy vpon you. * When ye call vpon me, I will not heare you. For ye haue defiled your handes with bloude, and your secretes swete to committe manslaughter. Ye haue not forsake me (in a manner) but your owne selues sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the almighty LORD: haue I not prayed for you, as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and as a nurse his ronge babes, that ye woulde be my people, and I shoulde be your GOD: that ye woulde be my children, & I shoulde be your own father? * I gathered you together as a hen gathereth hir chickens vnder hir winges.

But now what shall I do vnto you? I shall cast you oute from my face. * When ye offer vnto me, I shall turne my face from you: for your solempne feste dayes, your newe moones, and your circumcisions haue I forsaken, I sente vnto you my seruantes the prophetes, which ye haue take and layne, and torne their bodies in pieces, whose bloude I will requyre of your handes, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the almighty LORD: your house muste be desolate, I will cast you out as the wind doth strawe: your children shall not be fruitful, for they haue despised my commaundementes, and done the thinge that is euyl before me.

Thus sayeth the LORD: your house muste be desolate, I will cast you out as the wind doth strawe: your children shall not be fruitful, for they haue despised my commaundementes, and done the thinge that is euyl before me.

Thus sayeth the LORD.

Exo. xvi. d.

Num. xiii.

Exo. xvi. c.

Num. xx. b.

Exo. v. a.

Exo. xv.

Exo. xx.

Exo. i. d.

Math. xiii.

Exo. i. d.

Exo. xx.

Esdr. vii. a.

Esdr. vii. d.

An. xlii. d.
Ex. xlii. g.
Num. xi.
John. viii.

Exo. xlii. c.
Exo. xlii. b.

An. xlii. a.
Exo. xlii. d.

The.iii. boke of Esdras

Your houses wyl I geue vnto a people that shall come, and they that neuer heard me, shall beleue in me: and they vnto whō I neuer shewed token, shall do the thyng that I commaunde them.

They haue sene no prophetes, yet shall they cal their sinnes to remembraunce, & know ledge theym. I reposit me vnto the grace, that I wyl do for the people whych is to come, whose chyldren reioyce in gladnes: and thoughte they haue not sene me wth bodely eyes, yet in spirite they beleue the thyng that I saye. And nowe brother be holde what great worshyp; and se the people that cometh frome the East, vnto whome I wyl geue the Dukedome of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Of Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, of Joel, Abdi, Jonas, Baam, and Abacuck, of Saphon, Aggeus, zachary, and Malachy, whych is called also an Angell (or Messenger) of the Lorde.

Mal. iii.

The.ii. Chapter.

The Synagoge findeth faulte wth his owne chyldren. The Gentyles are called.

A Thus sayeth the Lorde: I brought this people oute of bondage, I gaue them my commaundmentes by my seruantes the prophetes, whō thou wouldest not heare, but despisyd my counsels. The mother & bare the, sayth vnto the: So your wal ye childre for I am a widowe & forsake: I broughte you vp wth gladnes, but wth sorrow & heuines haue I loste you, for ye haue synned before the Lorde your God, and done the thyng that is euil before hym. But what shall I now do vnto you? I am a widowe and forsaken: go your waye, O my chyldren, and aske mercy of the LORD. As for me O father, I call vpon the for a wyne ouer the mother of these chyldren, which woulde not kepe my couenaunt: that thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoyle, that she breace no more. Lette their names be scattered abroad among the heathen, lette theym be putte out of the earth, for they haue thoughte scoone of my couenaunt.

O rather they would not heare.

Gene. xix.

Woe be vnto the Art, thou that hiddest the vnghtuous by the. Thou wicked people, remembre what I dyd vnto Sodome and Gomorre, whose lande is turned to pytche and ashes. Euen so also wyl I do vnto all theym that heare me not, sayeth the almighty Lorde. Thus sayth the Lorde vnto Esdras: Tell my people that I wyl geue them the kyngedome of Hierusalem, whych I would haue geuen vnto Israel. Their glory also wyl I take vnto me, and geue them the euerlastyng Tabernacles, whych I had prepared for those.

B The tree of life shall be vnto the a sweete smellng opynement: they shall neyther labour nor be wterpe. So your way, & you shall receyue it. Praye for your selues a fewe dayes, that ye maye dwell therein. Nowe is the kyngdome prepared for you, therefore watche. Take heauen and earth to wytnes, for I haue broken the euill in pieces, & created the good, for I lyue sayth the Lorde. Embrace thy chyldren, and bringe them wth gladnes: make their feete as faste as a salter, for I haue chosen the, sayeth the Lorde.

The.ii. Chapter.

And those that be deade wyl I raise vp agayne frome their places, and bringe them out of the graue, for I haue knowen my name in Israel. Feare not thou mother of the chyldren, for I haue chosen the sayth the Lorde. And for thy helpe I shall sende the my seruantes Eay and Jeremye, after whose counsell I haue sanctified and prepared for the. fig. trees, wth diuerse frutes, and as many welles, flowe: purge wth mylke and honny, and. vii. moystaynes, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, wherein I wil fil my *chyldre wth tope. Execute iustice for the wyddowe, be iudge for the fatherles, geue to the poore, defende the comfortles, clothe the naked, heale the wounded and synke, laughe not a lame man to scorne, defende the creple, and let the blynde come into the syghte of my clerenes. Kepe the old and yong wth in thy walles: where so euer thou syncke the deade, token them, and bury them, and I shall geue the the firste place in my Resurrection. Holde still (O my people) and take thy reste, for thy quietnes is come.

Erod. xv.

O rather thy chyldre

Cobi. xv.

Fede thy chyldren, O thou good nurse, stably the their feete. As for their seruantes whom I haue geuen the, there shall not one of theym perishe, for I wyl seke them to thy numbre, were not thy selfe. For when the day of trouble and heuines cometh, other shall wepe and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry and plentious. The Heathen shall be gelous, but they shall be able to do nothyng against the, sayeth the Lorde. My handes shall couer the, so that thy chyldren shall not see the syre euerlastyng. Be ioyfull O thou mother wth thy chyldren, for I wyl deliuer the sayth the Lorde. Remember thy dead chyldren, for I shall bringe them oute of the earth, and shewe mercy vnto them, for I am mercifull, sayth the Lorde almighty. Embrace thy chyldren vntill I come, and shewe mercy vnto them, for my welles shal ouer, and my grace shall not faile. I Esdras receyued a charge of the Lorde vpon the mount Oreb, that I shoulde go vnto Israel. But when I came vnto Israel, they sette me at naughte, and despised the commaundementes of the Lorde. And therefore I saye vnto you, O ye Heathen that heare and vnderstande: Take for your shepherds, he shall geue you euerlastyng rest: for he is nye at hande, that shall come in the ende of the worlde. Be readye to the rewarde of the kyngedome for the euerlastyng

As yuge lyght shall come vpon you for ever: more. Ife the shadowe of thys worlde, receyue the fulnes of your glorie. I receiue mye sautoure openly: O receiue the gift that is geuen you, and be glad geuing thakes vnto hym, that hath called you to the beauenlye kyngedome.

Arise vp, and stand fast, behold the number of those that be sealed in the feast of the Lorde, whiche are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receyued gloriouse garmentes of the Lorde. Take the nombre O Esdras, and shew vnto the people, whiche haue fulfilled the lawe of the LORD. The nombre of the chyldren whom thou longedest for, is fulfilled: beseeche the power of the Lorde, that thy people whiche haue bene called from the begynnyng, maye be hallowed.

Esdras. vii. I Esdras sawe vpon the mounte Sion a grete people, whom I coulde not number, and they all praised the LORD with songes of thankes geuyng. And in the myddeste of them there was a yonge man of an hye stature, more excellent then all they, and vpon euerye one of their heades he set a crowne, and was euerye hygher and higher, whiche I maruailed at greatlye. So I asked the angel, and said: O what are these? He answered and said vnto me: These be they, that haue put of the mortal clothyng, and put on the immortall, haue testified and knowleged the name of god: Nowe are they crowned, & receyue the reward. Then said I vnto the angel: what yonge person is it, that crownethe them, and geueth them the palmes in their handes? So he answered and sayde vnto me: It is the sonne of God, whome they haue knowleged in the worlde. Then beganne I greatly to commend them, that stood so styfely for the name of the Lorde. And so the Angell sayde vnto me: Go thy waye, and tel my people what maner of thynges and howe grete wondres of the LORD thy God, thou hast seene.

The.iii. Chapter.

The wonderful workes whiche god dyd for the people are recited. Esdras maruailed that GOD suffereth the Babilonians to haue rule ouer his people, whiche yet are synners also.

In the thyrtye yere of the fall of the Citie, I was at Babilon, and lay troubled vpon my bedde, and my thoughtes came vpon ouer my herte: for I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the pleruous wealth of them, that dwel at Babilon, and my spyrte was sore moued, so that I began to speake seatefull wordes to the most hery, and said: O Lord God, thou spakest at the begynning, when thou plantedst the earthe (and that thy selfe alone) and gauest commaundementes vnto the people, and a booke vnto Adam, which was a creature of thy handes, and hast breathed in him the bryth of lyfe, and so he liued before the, and thou leddest him into Paradyce, whiche garden of pleasure thy ryght hand hadde planed ouer the earth was made. And vnto hym thou gauest commaundement to loue thy waye, whiche he transgressed, and immediately thou appointedst deathe in hym, and in his generations. Of hym came nations, crybes, people, and kynredes out of nombre. And euery people walked after their owne wil and dyd vnto thynges before the, as for thy commaundementes, they despised them.

But in proces of tyme thou broughtest the water flood vpon those that dwelt in the worlde, and destruydest them. And like as the deeth was in Adam, so was the water flood also in these. I recordeles one of them thou leueste, namelike Noe with his household, of whom came all crybtuous men. And it happened that when they that dwelt vpon the earthe, began to multiplye, and had gotten many chyldren, and were a grete people, they beganne to be more vngodlye then the first.

Nowe when they all lyued so wickedly before the, thou diddest chuse the a man fro among them, whose name was Abraham. Hym thou loudest, and vnto hym onelye thou shewedst thy will, and madest an everlastinge couenaunte with him, promisinge hym that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede. And vnto hym thou gauest Isaac, vnto Isaac also thou gauest Jacob, and Esau. As for Jacob thou diddest chuse him, and put backe Esau. And so Jacob became a grete multitude.

And it happened that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypte, thou broughtest them vp into the mounte Sinai, bringinge downe the beaueus, settinge faste the earth, mounge the grounde, makinge the depthes to shake, & troubling the worlde. And thy glorie wente thorow foure portes of fyre, and earthquakes & wyndes, and colde, that thou mightest geue the law vnto the seede of Jacob, and diligēce vnto the generation of Israell.

And yet tokeste thou not awaye frome the that wicked herte, that thy lawe might bringe forth fruite in them. * For the first Adam bare a wycked herte, transgressed, and was overcome, and so be all they that are borne of him. Thus remayned weakenes in the lawe of the herte of the people, with the wyckednes of the roote: so that the good departed awaye, and the euill abode still. So the tyme passed awaye, and the peres were brought to an ende.

Then diddest thou raise vp a seruaunte called David, whom thou commaundest to builde a Citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto the there in. Thys was done nowe manye yeres. Then the inhabyters of the Citie forsoke the, and in all thynges dyd euerye as Adam and all his generations hadde done: for

Gene. vi. 6.

Gene. vii. 1.

1. Pe. ii. 2.

Gen. xii. 1.

Gene. xxi. 1.

Rom. ix. 6.

Gene. xxi. 1.

and. xxii. 1.

Exod. xxi. 1.

Deu. xxi. 1.

Gene. ii. 1.

11. Reg. v. 1.

they also had a wycked herte.

D And so thou gaueste thy cipe ouer into the handes of thyne enemies. Are they of Babilon more better and more ryghtuous then thy people, that they shall therefore haue the dominion of Sion? For when I came there, and sawe theyr vngodlinesse, and so greate wickednes that it could not be numbred: yea, when my soule sawe so manye euill doers (in the. xxx. yere) rap herte sayled me, for I sawe how thou suffereste them in suche vngodlines, and sparest the wycked doers, but thyne own people hast þe cored out, & preserued thyne enemies, and this hast thou not shewed me.

Jer. x. 6.

I canne not perceyue howe this happeneth. Do they of Babilon then better, the they of Sion? Or is there any other people that knowe eith the, saunge thy people of Israel? Or what generatiō hath so beleued thy cōmānēces as Jacob? And yet their reward appereth not, & their labour hath no fruit. For I haue gone here & ther to, & to the heben, & I se þe they be ryche, and wealchy, and thynke not vpon thy cōmānēces. Weyghe thou therefore our wyckednes nowe in the balauce, and theirs also that dwel in the world, and so shall thy name be no where sounde but in Israel. Or where is there a people vpon the earth, that hath not sinned before the? Or what people hath so kept thy cōmānēces? Thou shalt fynde, that Israel by name hath kepte thy preceptes, but not the other people and Heathen.

The.iii. Chapter.

The aungell reproveth ESDRAS, because he seemed to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

And the Aungell that was sente vnto me (whose name was Uriel) gaue me an answer, and sayde: Thy herte hath been taken to much vpon it in this world, and þe thynkest to comprehend the waye of the hest. Then sayde I: yea my Lorde. And he answered me, and sayde: I am sente to shewe the thye wayes, and to set for the thye similitudes before the: wherof if thou canste declare me one, I wyll shewe the also the waye that thou desireste too see: and I shal shew the from whence the wicked herte cometh. And I sayde: Tell on my Lorde. Then sayed he vnto me: Go thy waye, weyge me the weyghte of the fyre, or measure me the blasle of the wind, or call me agayne the daye that is past. Then answered I, and said: What man borne is able to doo that? Why requitest thou suche of me? And he sayde vnto me: If I shoulde aske the, howe deepe dwellinges are in the sea? Or howe great water springes are vpon þe firmament? Or howe greate water springes are in the begynnyng of the depe? Or wherby are the out-gopnges of Paradyse, peradventure thou wouldest say vnto me: I neuer wēt downe yet into the depe nor hell, neither dyd I euer clyme vp into heauen. Answerethelle nowe haue I asked the but onely of fyre, & wynde, and of the day, wher the som thou hast traueyled, and from the wherch thou canste not be seperated, and yet canst thou geue me no answer of them.

He sayde moreover vnto me: Thyne owne thynge, and suche as are growen vpon the, canste thou not knowe, howe shouldest thou velle then be able to comprehend the waye of the hest, and now outwardly in the corrupte world, to vnderstande the corruption that is euident in my syght? Then sayd I vnto him: It were better that wee were not at all, then that we shoulde lyue in wyckednes, and to suffer and not to knowe wherfore. He answered me and sayde: I went in a woode, and the trees toke such a deuice, and sayde:

Come lette vs go and syghte agaynst the sea, that it maye departe awaye before vs, and þe we may make vs yet more woodes.

The flowdes of the seas also in like manner toke this deuice, & sayde: Come, let vs go vp, and syghte agaynst the trees of the woode, that we maye make our lande the wider. The thought a deuice of the woode was but vayne, and nothyng worthe, for the fyre came and consumed the woode.

The thought of þe flowdes of the sea came likewise to naught also, for the sand stode vpon and stopped them.

If thou were Iudge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, or whō wouldest thou condemne? I answered and sayde: Verily it is a folie the thoughte that they boeth haue deuised.

For the ground is geuen vnto the woode, and the Sea also hath hys place to beate hys flowdes. Then answered he me, and sayd: Thou hast geuen a ryght iudgement, whye iudgeste thou not thy selfe also? For like as the ground is geuen vnto the wood, & the sea to his flowdes: & thus so they that dwell vpon earthe maye vnderstande nothyng but that wherch is vpon earth: and he that dwelleth about the heuens maye onely vnderstande the thynge that are about the heuens. Then answered I, and sayde: I beseeche the O LORD, let me haue vnderstandyng: for it was not my mynde to be curiouse of thy hye thynge, but of suche as wee daylye meeblye wyth: all, namele wherfore that Israel is blasphemed of þe Heathen, and for what cause the people (whome thou euer hast loued) is geue ouer, to be punished of the vngodly nations: & why the lawe of our fathers is brought to naught, and the wyrtten cōuēnātes come to none effect, and we passe awaye oute of the world as the grasshopers, and our lyfe is a verye scare, and we are not worthy to obayne mercye. What will he do then vnto hys name, wherby is called

Gal. 1. 6. c.
John. 1. 1. c.
1. Cor. 1. 1. b called vpon euery vs: Of these thynges haue I asked question.

Then answered he me, and sayde: The more thou searcest, the more thou shalt maue, for the worlde hath fast to passe away, and can not compend the thynges that are promised for the rightuouse in tyme to come, for this worlde is full of vniuersalnes and weakenes.

But as concerninge the thynges wher-of thou asked me, I wyl tell the. The euyl is sowne, but the destruction thereof is not yet come. If the euyl now that is sowne be not turned vpside downe, & if the place where the euyl is sowne passe not awaye, then canne not the thyng come that is sowne wth good. For the corne of euyl seed hath bene sowne in the heart of manne frome the begynnyng, and how much vngodlynesse hath he brought vpon this tyme, and howe much shall he yet bringe forth until he come into the barne?

Wonder now by thy selfe, whet the corne of euyl seed is cut downe, howe greete a barne shall it fylle? I answered and sayd: How, and when shall these thynges come to passe? Wherefore are our peres faine and euyl? And he answered me, sayinge:

Hast not thou to much vpon the byest, for thy hastynesse to bee about hym, is but vayne, thou makest to much a do. Dyd not the soules also of the rightuous aske question of these thynges in their holines, sayinge: * How longe shall I hope of this sauour? Whet cometh the fruite of my barne and my reward? And vpon this Ieremiall the archangel, gaue them answer and sayd: Euen when the numbre of the seedes is filled in you: for he hath weyed þ world in the balance, in measure and numbre harbe he measured the tyme, and moueth it not until the same measure be fulfilled.

Then answered I and sayde: O Lorde Lorde, now are we all ful of synne, and for our sakes peradventure it is, that the barne of the rightuous shal not be filled because of the synnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

So he answered me and sayde: Booe thy waye to a womanne wth chylde, and aske of her when she hath fulfilled her nine monethes, if her chylde may keere the byrthe any longer wth in her. Then sayd I: No Lorde that canne she not.

And he sayde vnto me: In hell the secreete places of soules are like the priue chamber of a woman. For lyke as a womanne that travellet, maketh hast whet the tyme and necessity of the byrthe is at hande: Euen so doth * she haste to deliuer it that is committed vnto hir. Loke what thou desi-rest to se, it shal be shewed the from the begynnyng. Then answered I and sayde:
If I haue founde fauoure in thy sighte, and if it be possible, & if I be mere therfore, shewe me then, whether there be more to come then is past, or more passe, then is for to come, What is passe I know: but what is for to come, I knowe not.

And he sayde vnto me: Stande vpon the righte syde, and I shall expounde the similitude vnto the. * So I stode, and he holde an hore butynge ouen weate whet before me: and it happened that when the flame was gone by, the smoke had the v-pper hande. After this, there went ouer before me, a waeter clyde, and sent downe much rapne wth a storme, and when the storme came was past, the droppes remained styll. The said he vnto me: like as the raie is more then the droppes, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke, euen so the measure of the thynges that are passe hath the upper hande. Then went the droppes and the smoke about: & I praied & said: O Ioue I Ioue (thyngest thou) until that tyme?
What shall happen in those dayes? He answered me, and sayde: As for the tokens wherof thou asked me, I may tel the of them in a parte: but as touchyng * thy lyfe, I maye not shewe the, for I am not sent therfore.

On a sim-il declaration of the thyng that is asked.

Some read
my lyfe.

The.v. Chapter.

Ezechias and the aungel comen together.

¶ Euen so, as concerninge the tokens, marke this: Beholde the dayes shall come that they whych dwell vpon earth shall be taken in a greete numbre, * and the maye of the reuer shall be vpon, & the lande shall be barren from fertility: but iniquitye shall haue the upper hande, lyke as thou hast sene now, * and as thou hast hearde longe ago. And the lande that thou seest now to haue rule, shalt thou shortly se waste. But if god graunt the to Ioue, thou shalt se after the the third tyme, & the sunne shal soddely shyne againe in the night, & the moone thrice tymes in the daye, and bloude shall dropp oute of woode, and the stone shall geue his voyce and the people shall be vnquiet: and euen he shall rule whome they hope not, that dwell vpon earth, and the folles shall dye, and the Sodomitish sea shall caste oute synne, and make a noyse in the nyght, wherby manye shal not knowe, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fyre shal be oft sent agayne and the wyld beasts shal go theyr waye, and monstrous women shall beare monsters, and salte waters shal be found in the swete: one scende shall fight agaynst an other: then shall al wpt and understanding be vpon and put aside into their secreete places, and shal be sought of man, and yet not founde. Then shall vniuersalnes & voluptuousnesse haue the upper hande vpon earth. One lande also shal aske another, and say: is rightuousnes gone thowm the?
And it shal saye: no. At the same tyme shall men hope, but notynge obtayne: they shal laboure, but their wayes shal not prosper.

Or rather
shal be tase
of the begi-
led wgrete ryches.
What, xxi. ii
Or rather more then thou now seest, or her-dest longe
ago.

Apoc. vi. b.

Or rather
do they.

The.iii. booke of Elishas

To shewe the such tokens I haue leue, and if thou wylte praye agayne, and wepe as nowe, and faste seuen daies. thou shalt heare yet greater thynges. Then I awaked, and fearfullnes went thorow all my bodye, and my mynde was feble and care-full, so that I almost sowned wrythall. So the aungell that was come to talke wryth me, helde me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.

And in the seconde nyghte it happened that Salathiel the captayne of the people came vnto me, sayinge: Where haste thou bene? & why is thy countenance so heauy?
Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto the, in the laude of their captiui-tie? Up then and cate, and forsake vs not as the shepherde that leaueth his flocke in the handes of wycked wolues. * Then sayde I vnto hym: So thy waye from me, and come not nye me: and he heard it, and as I sayde, so went he his waye from me.
And so I fasted seuen daies, mowynge and wepyng, lyke as Aziel the Aungell commaunded me. And after seuen daies it happened, & the thoughtes of my herte were verie greuous vnto me agayne, and my soule receiued the spirite of vnderstandyng, and I beganne to talke wryth the mooste chyste agayne, and sayde: O Lorde Lorde, of every woode of the earth and of all the trees therof, thou hast chosen the one onely vyneparde, and of all landes of the whole worlde, thou hast chosen the one pytte: and of al the flowers of the ground, thou hast chosen the one lilye: and of all the depes of the Sea, thou hast fylled the one cyter: and of all builded Cityes, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe: and of all the fowles that are created, thou hast named the one Dove: and of al the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided the one shepe: and amonge all the multitudes of folkes, thou hast gotten & one people, and vnto this people whiche thou loudest: thou gauest a lawe, that I am proued of all.

And nowe O Lorde, whye hast thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou hast prepared other, and whye hast thou scattered the one onely people among many? whye treade them downe, yea whye haue cuted wryth-stand thy promises, and neuer beleued thy counauntes? And though thou wereste enemie vnto thy people, yet wouldest thou punyssh them wryth thine owne handes.
Nowe when I had spoken these wordes the Aungell that came vnto me the nyght afore, was sente to me, and saide vnto me: Heare me, and hearken vnto the thing that I say: and I shal tel the more. And I said:
Speake on my Lorde.

Then sayde he vnto me: thou arte soozebered and troubled for Israels sake. Lo-uest thou that people better then hym * that made them? And I sayde: No Lorde, but of verie griefe and compassion haue I

The. v. Chapter.

spoken. For my paynes payne me euerie he & made houre, because I woulde haue experience them.
of the waye of the mooste chyste, and to seke oute part of his iudgement. And he sayde vnto me, that thou maist not. And I sayd, wherefore Lorde? Wherunto was I borne this? Or why was not my mothers chyld-bedde then my graue? So had I not sene the miserie and trouble of Iacob, and the trauayle of my people of Israel.

And he sayde vnto me: Number me the thynges that are not yet come: gather me together the droppes that are scattered abrode: make me the houses giene agayne that are wythered: open me the thyng that is closed: and byng me for the the wyndes, that are shure vnto: Shewe me the ymage of a voyce, and then shall I declare the & thynges that thou labourest to knowe. And I sayd: O Lorde, Lorde, who may knowe these thynges, but he that hath yot his dwellinge wryth men? As for me, I am vnto: howe maye I then speake of these thynges wherof thou hast made me? Then sayde he vnto me: lyke as thou canst doo none of these thynges that I haue spoken of, euen so canst thou not synde ouer my Iudgemente, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people. And I sayde: Beholde O Lorde yet arte thou nye vnto them that haue no ende: * and what shall they doo that haue bene before me, the ende is or he that be nowe, or they that shal come at hande. after vs? And he sayde vnto me: I wyl li-ken my Iudgemente vnto a cyng. Lyke as there is no slackenye of the laste, euen so is there no clemencye of the fyrste. So I answered and sayde: Coudest thou not make those (that haue bene made, and that be nowe, and that are for to come) in one, that thou mightest shewe thy Iudge-ment the soner? Then answered he me, and sayde: The creatures maye not haue about the maker, neither maye the worlde holde thym at once, that shall be created.

And I saye, Howe haste thou sayde then vnto thy seruante, that thou shouldest maker haste made the creature liuing at once and the creature bare it? euen so myghte it nowe also beare thym that be present, at once. And he sayde vnto me, Aske the chyldbedde of a woman, and say vnto hir:
If thou byngest for the chyldren, whye doest thou it not together, but one after another? Isape her therfore to byng for the ten chyldren at once. And I sayde she can not, but muste do it one after another.

Then sayde he vnto me: Euen so haue I geuen a chyldbedde vnto the earth, for those that be sowne vpon it be proctise of tyme. For lyke as a yonge chyld maye not byng for the the thynges that belonge to the aged, euen so haue I ordeyned & worlde whyche I made.

And I asked and sayde: Serue thou hast nowe geuen me away, I wyl speake before the, for oue mother of whom thou hast

That is as monge the handes of the whyche
by crueltye
are wolues.

Or rather better then

hast tolde me, is yet yonge, and nowe thee draweth nye vnto age. He answered me, and sayde: Aske a womanne that beareth children, and she shall tell the. Saye vnto her: wherfore are not they (whā thou hast now brought forth) like those that were before the, but lesse of stature? And she shall answer the. They that be borne in the youth of strength are of one fashion, & they that are borne in the tyme of age (whē the childe bedde fayleth) are otherwyse. Consider nowe thy selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you, and so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures whych now begyn to be olde, and haue passed euē the strength of youth. Then sayde I: Lorde I beseeche the, if I haue founde sauour in thy syght, shewe thy seruaunte by a hom doest thou visite thy creature?

As to who will thou commite
the ouer-
sight of thy workman-shipp.

The.vi. Chapter.

The angell instructeth Ecdias, & geueth hym answer to his questions.

As he saide vnto me: In the begynnyng when the ground was made, before þ world stode, or euer the wynde blew, before it thundered and lyghtened, or euer the foundations of Paradise were layd, before the fayre flowers were seene, or euer the mouable powers were stablyshed, before the innumerable multitude of angelles were gathered toggyther, or euer the byghnesses of the aye were spred vp, afore the measures of the firmamente were named, or euer the chymneys of Sion were bote, and or the presentepes were sought out, and or euer the inuencions of theym that now spurne, were putte aside, before they were scaled that now gather sayeth for a treasure: theddyd I consider and ponder all these thynges, and they all were made thowow me, and thowow none other, by me also they are ended, and by none other. Then answered I, and sayde: whych shall be the partynge a sunder of the tymes? Or when shall be the ende of the spyle, and the begynnyng of it that foloweth? And he sayde vnto me: Frome Abraham vnto Isaac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of hym, Iacobys hande held the spyle the bele of Esau: for Esau is the ende of this world and Iacob is the begynnyng of it that foloweth. The hande of manne betwixt the bele and the had. Other question (Ecdias) aske thou not.

Gen. xlv. c.

I answered and then sayde: O Lorde, I beseeche the shewe thy seruaunte the end of thi tokes, wherof thou shewdest me parte the last nyght. So he answered and sayd vnto me: Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare the perfite voyce and sounde. There shall come a greates motion, but the place where thou standest shall not be mooued. And therfore when thou hearest the wordes, be not astraied: for of the ende shall the worde, and fundation of the earthe be vnderstande. And whype the worde therof trebleth and quaketh, for it knoweth that it must be chaunged at the ende. And it happened, that when I hadde heard it, I stode vp vpon my feete, and berkened: and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it was like the sounde of many waters, and it sayde: Behoulde, the dayes come, that I wyll begynne to draw nie, and to viset the that dwel vpon earth, and will begynne to make inquisition of them what they be that haue hurte equity with butyghenousnes, and when the low estate of Sion shall be fulfilled: and when the worlde, that shall vanyshe away, shall be ouerleated, then wil I do these tokens.

B

The bookes shall be opened before þ firmament, and they shall se aloggyther, and the chyliden of a peare olde shall speake with these voyces: the women with child shall bynge forth the vnyrmye chyliden of thre or foure monethes olde, and they shall lyue and be raysed vp: and sodenly shall the sound places appeare as the vnsound, the full store houses shall sodenly be found empty, and the trumpet shall geue a sound, whiche when euerie manne heareth, they shall be hastily astraied. At that tyme shall frendes fyght one agaynst an other lyke enemies, and the earthe shall stande in feare with them.

Ezech. ix. a.
Dan. vii. a

The springes of the welles shall stande dry, and in thre houres they shall not flue. Whosoeuer remaineth from al these thynges that I haue tolde the, shall escape, and se my saluation, & the end of your worlde.

* And the menne that are receyued, shall see it, they that haue not tasted death frome theyr byrthe: and the bert of the indwellers shall be chaunged, and turned into an other meynynge. For cupyll shall be put oute, and dysceyte shall be quenched. As for sayeth, it shall floryshe, corruption shall be overcome: and the truerth, whiche hath bene so long about fruite, shall be declared. And it happened when he talked with me, that I looked demurely vpon hym, before whome I stode, and these wordes saide he vnto me: I am come to shew the, the tyme of the nyghte for to come.

Or healeth
full wofe.

If thou wylte praye yet more, and faste seven dayes agayne, I shall tell the more thynges and greater then before: * for thy voyce is heard before the Hieste: for whiche the myghty hath sene thy rightuous deasire. Inge, he hath sene also thy chastite, whiche thou hast hadde euer sence thy youth: and therfore hath he sente me to shewe the all these thynges, and to save vnto the. Be of good conforce, and feare not, and haue not with the tymes that are past, to thinke vayne thynges, and make not hast of the latter tymes.

Or by ma
kinge haste
thou go fro
the remembrance of the latter tymes.

And it happened after this, that I wept agayne, and fasted seven dayes in like manner

The.iii.boke of Edoas

The.vii.Chapter.

ner, that I myght fulfill the thre weekes which he toke me. In the eight night was my herte vered within me agayne, and I began to speake before the vnt: for my spirit was greatly sette on fyre, & my soule was in distres, and saide: O LORD thou spakest vnto thy Creature from the begynnyng (even the first day) and saydest: * Let heauen and earth be made, and thy worlde was a perfecte worke. And then was there light, and darkenesse were yet on euery syde, and silence: there was no mannes voyce as yet beside the. Then commaundedst thou a sayre lyght to come forth out of thy treasures, that thy worke myght appeare and be seene.

D Upon the seconde daye thou madeest the spirit of the firmamente, and commaundedst it to parte a sinder, and to make a diuision betwene the Waters, that the one parte myght remaine aboue, and the other beneath. Upon the thirde daye thou broughtest to passe, that the waters were gathered in the seventh part of the earth. Syre partes hast thou dyed vp, and kepte them, to the intente that men myght sowe and occup husbandrye therein. As sone as thy worlde went forth, the worke was made. For immediatlye there was greute innumerable fruite, & manye diuerse pleasures and desires of temptation, and thys was done the thirde daye.

Upon the fourth daye thou commaundedst that the sunne shoulde geue hys shine, and the moone hys lyght: the steres byddest thou set in order, and * gauest them a charge to do seruice euen vnto man, that was for to be made. Upon the fyfte daye thou * saydest vnto the seventh part (where the waters were gathered) that they shold bringe forth diuerse beasts, fowles and fyshes. And so it came to passe, that the donne waters, & without soule, broughte forth the luyng beasts, at the commaundemente of WDD, that all people myght prayse thy wonderous workes.

Thou didest thou preserue two soules, & one thou calledst Enoch, and the other Leuiathan, and diddest separte the one frome the other: for the seventh parte (namelye, where the water was gathered together) myght not helde them both. Vnto Enoch thou gauest one parte, which was dyed vp the thirde daye, that he shoulde dwell in the same parte, wherein are a thousande bylles. But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seventh parte namelye the moyste, and hast kepte hym to deuoure what thou wylte and when. Upon the syxte daye thou gauest commaundemente vnto the earth, that before the it shoulde bringe forth beasts, cattell, and all that crepe, and besides thys, Adam also, whom thou madeest Lord of all thy creatures.

Oft thou comest me al, & the people also whos thou hast chosen, specially vnto thy selfe. All thys haue I said now, and spoken before the, that I myght shew how that he worlde is made for our sakes. As for the other people whiche also come of Adam, thou hast saide that they are nothing but be like a speckle, and hast likened the multitude of them vnto a droppe that tallery from the rouse of the house.

And now O Lord, the Heathen whiche haue euer bene reputed as nothinge, haue begunne to be Lordes ouer vs, and to be vnto vs: but we thy people (whos thou hast called the first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy fetter louers) are geue into their handes and power. If the worlde now be made for our sakes, wher haue we not the inheritance in possession wth the worlde? Howe longe shall thys indure?

The.viii.Chapter

The angel sheweth Edoas many thynges to come.

AD it happened after that I hadde spoken out these wordes, there was sent vnto me an angel, which had bene by me also the nyghtes before, and he sayde vnto me: Up Edoas, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell the. And I sayde: speake on Lord my God. Then sayd he vnto me: The Sea is sette in a wyde place, that it myght be depe and greute, but the entrance is narrowe and small lyke a ryuer. For who woulde go into the Sea, to looke and to rule it? If he wente not thorow the narrowe, howe myght he come into the broad?

Item an other: A Citie is buylded and sette vpon a wyde felde, and is full of all goodes: the entrance is narrowe and so darne. lyke as if there were a sicke at the eyght hand, and a depe water at the lefte, and as it were ouer one straght pathe betwixte them boeth, so small, that there coulde but one man go there.

If thys Citie now were geuen to an herie, and he neuer wente thorow the perillouse waye, howe woulde he receyue his inheritance? And I sayde: It is so Lord. Then sayde he. Euen so is Israel also a porcion. And wher? for these sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thyng indged that was done. Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrow, full of sorowe and trauaile: They are but few and euell, full of perilles and labour. For the entrances of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and broughte innumerable fruite.

If they now which are entred into this world, may not comprehend these straght and darne thynges, muche lesse may they comprehend and vnderstande the secret thynges. Where disquietest thou thy selfe then, seynge thou arte but a corruptible manne? And what wouldest thou knowe where as thou art but mortall? And wher hast

Gene. i. a.

Exo. xiii. 5

Deu. xiii.

Gene. i. a

haste thou not receyued into thyne herte the thyng that is for to come, but that is presente?

When said I, O Lord Lord, thou hast ordeined in thy lawe, * that the ryghtuous should inherite these thynges, but that the vnlawfull and vngodly shoulde perishe. Neuerthelesse the ryghtuous shall suffer straunge thynges, and hope for wyde, for they that haue lyued vngodly and suffered straunge thynges, shall not see the wyde.

And he sayde vnto me: There is no Judge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstandinge aboue the wyseste. For there be manye that perishe, because they despise the lawe of God that is set before them. For God hath geuen straught commaundement to suche as come, that they knowe what they do, and howe they shoulde lyue: and if they kept this they shold not be punished.

Neuerthelesse they were not obedient vnto hym, but spake agaynst hym, imagined vayne thynges, and purposed to synne, and sayd moreover that there was no god, and that God regarded them not. Hys wyues haue they not knowen, hys lawe haue they despised and denyed hys promyses: in hys statutes and ordinaunces haue they not bene saythful and Obedient, & haue not performed hys workes.

And therefore Eldras: vnto the ful, plenty: and to the emptye, emptines. Behold the tyme shall come that these tokens whiche I haue told the shall come to passe, and the wyde shall appeare: and the earth that nowe passeth awaye shall be shewed, and whosoever is deliuered frome the euilles, shall see my wonders. For my sonne Iesus shall be openly declared, with those that be with hym: and they that remaine, shall be met in foure hundred yeres.

After these same yeres shall my sonne Christe dye, and all men that haue life: and the worlde shall be turned into the olde silence, vii. dayes, lyke as in the soze iudgements. * so that no man shall remaine.

And after seven dayes, the world that yet awaketh not, shall be rased vp, and shall be corrupte. And the earth shall restore those that haue slept in hye, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secrete places shall deliuer those that be committed vnto them.

And the mooste hyest shall be openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, & all miserie shall vanishe awaye, and longe sufferinge shall be gathered together. But the iudgement shall continue, the truth shall remaine and fayeth shall wane stronge, the worlde shall solome and the reward shall be shewed, the ryghtuousnesse shall watche, and the vngodlynesse shall beate no rule.

Then sayde I: Abraham prayed for the Sodomites, and Moses * for the fathers that synned in the wilderness, and he that came after hym for Israell, in the tyme of Ahas and Samuell: and Dauid

* for the destruction and Salomon for the that came into the Sanctuarie, and Helias * for those that receyued capte, and for the deade, that be myghty lyue: and Elias for the * people in the tyme of Senacherib: and diuerse other in like maner, whiche haue prayed for manye.

Even so nowe synge the corrupte is growen vp, and wickednes increased, and the ryghtuous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherfore shall it not be so now also?

He answered me, and sayd: This presente worlde is not the ende, there remaineth muche honoure in it, therefore haue they prayed for the weake. But the daye of dome shall be the ende of this tyme, and the begynnyng of the immortallitie for to come, wherein all corruption vanishe, all voluptuousnes is lowed, all misbelieve taken awaye, ryghtuousnes growen, and the veritye spronge vp. Then shall no man be able to saue hym that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorie. I answered then, and sayd.

This is my fyrst and laste sayunge that it hadde ben better, not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam, or else when it was geuen hym, to kepe hym that he shoulde not synne. For what profite is it for men now in this presente tyme to lyue in heauines, and after deathe to loke for punishment? O thou Adam, what haste thou done? For thouge * it was thou that synned, thou art not fallen alone, but wee all that come of the. For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortall tyme where as wee medle with deadele workes? and that there is promised vs an euerlastyng hope, where as we our selues are euill and vayne: and that there are layde vp for vs dwellynge of heahe and freedom, where as wee haue lyued euill: and that the moost hye of the vnde is kepte to defende them whiche haue led a patient lyfe, where as wee haue walked in the mooste wicked wayes of all? And that they shall be shewed a Paradise, whose fruit endureth for euer, wherein is freedom & medycine, where as wee shall not goo in: for we haue walked in vnpleasaunte places: And that the faces of them whiche haue abstayned, shall shyne aboue the starrs, wher as our faces shall be blacke & darke? For whyle wee lyued and dyd vngodly, we considered not that we shoulde suffer therfore after deathe.

Then answered he me and sayd: This is the consideration and thought of the basele wherby man hath vpon the earth: that if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou haste sayde. But if he get the victory he shall receyue the thyng that I say. For this is the lyfe wherof Moses spake vnto the people sayinge: * Those the lyfe that thou mayest lyue. Neuerthelesse they beleued hym not: neyther the Prophetes after hym. So now me whiche haue spoken

ii. ge. viii.
ii. par. de c
iii. re. xii. a Jaco. v.
iii. re. xviii

Rom. v.

Or as there was silence before the world was made.

Gene. ix.
Exo. xxiii.

Deu. xxi. d.

Ken

The.iii. booke of Edoias

ken vnto them, that beauiues shoulde not teache vnto them to theyr destruction, like as toye is soe to come ouer those that haue suffered them selues to be inuolued in saluation.

I answered then and sayde: I knowe Lorde, that the byeste is mercifull, in that he hath mercy vpon them whiche are not yet in the worlde, and vpon those also that walke in hys lawe, and that he is patient * and longe sufferinge toward those that haue sinned in their workes: and that he is liberall to geue where as it requireth: and that he is of greete mercy, for he multiplieth his louinge kyndenesse toward those that are presente, and that are past, and to them whiche are soe to come.

For if he multiplie not hys mercyes, the worlde shal not be made liuinge, with those that dwell therein: He geueth also, for if he gaue not of his goodnes that they whiche haue done euil, might be eased, &c. thousande parte of manne shoulde not be made liuinge. And if the Judge forgave not those that be healed with hys worde, and if he woulde destroye the multitude that styneth, there shoulde be verie fewe left in an innumerable multitude.

The.viii. Chapter.

Edoias prayeth God rather to loke vpon hys owne Mercy, then on the synnes of the people.

Ad he answered me, sayinge: The mooste byeste made this world for manie, but the world to come for fewe. I will tell the a similitude, Edoias: As when thou askest the earth, it shal saye vnto the, that it geueth muche mould, wherof earthen vessels are made, but little of it that coulde cometh of: Euen so is it with the worke of this world. * There be many created, but fewe shal be preserued. Then answered I, and sayde: Then swallowe vp the wytt (thou soule) and deuoure the vnderstandynge, for thou arte agreed to berken and to geue eare, and wyllynge to prophesye: for thou haste no longer space geuen the, but onely to lyue. O Lorde, wilt thou not geue thy seruante leue, that we may praye before the: and that thou mayeste geue sence vnto our bette, and byrde our vnderstandynge, that there maye come fruite of it, and that euerye one whiche is corrupte, and beareth the state and place of a man, may lyue?

For thou arte alone, and wee all are one workmanship of thy handes, like as thou hast said, and like as the body is fashioned not in the chyldbed, and thou geueste the members. and thy Creature is preserued in spye and water: and, &c. monethes doth thy worke suffer thy creature, whiche is fashioned in hys: but the thyng that preserueth, and it that is preserued shal

The.viii. Chapter.

boeth be kepte together: and when tyme is, the chyldbed deliuereth the thyng that is kepte and growen in her.

For thou hast commaunded the byestes to geue mylke vnto the frute, that þ thing which is created and fashioned, maye be nourished for a tyme: and then thou despoilest and orderest it with thy mercy, dyngeste it vp with thy ryghtuousnes, naturalliste it in thy lawe, and resourment it with thy vnderstandynge, mortifieste it as thy Creature, and makeste it liuinge as thy worke.

Seynge then that thou doeste destroye him, whiche with so greete laboures is created and fashioned thorow thy commaundement, thou couldest lyghlye ordeyne also, that the thyng which is made myghte be preserued.

And this I speake now of all menne in general, as thou knowest: but of thy people, for whose sake I am sorre: and of thy inheritance for whose cause I mourne: and of Iseacil, for whome I am wofull: and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieved: therefore begynne I to praye before the for my selfe and for them, for I see the fal of vs, euen of vs that dwell vpon earth. But I haue verbe & swyftnes of the iudge whiche is to come: therefore heare my voice and vnderstande my wordes, * and I shal speake before the.

This is the beginning of the wordes of Edoias, before he was receyued: O Lorde, thou þ dwellest in euerlastyngnes, whose eyes are lyft vp in the ayre, whose stole is excedding hye, whose glory & maiesty may not be comprehended, before whome the hostes of heauen stande with tremblinge, whose keepynge is turned in wynd and fire, whose worde is true, whose talkynge is stedfast, whose commaundement is stronge, whose ordinance is fearefull, whose lokenge byeth vp the depthes, whose worche maketh the mountaynes to melte away, and whose trueth beareth wytnes: O heare the prayer of thy seruante, and marke with thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

For whyle I lyue I will speake, and so longe as I haue vnderstandynge, I will answer. O looke not vpon the synnes of thy people, whiche serue the in the truth. Haue no respecte vnto the wycked studies of the Heathen, but to the desyre of those that kepe thy testimonies with sorowes. Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fawndly before the, but vpon them whiche with will haue knowen thy feare.

Let it not be thy will to destroye them, whiche haue hadde beastly maners, but to loke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy lawe. Take thou no indignation at them, whiche are worse then Beastes: but loue them that alwayes putte theyr truste in thy rightuousnes and glory: for we and our fathers haue al the same sicknesses and disaile, but because of our synnes thou

Rom. ii. a

O rather whiche I
shal speake.
Rom. xii. d.

at. x. b
and. xii. b.

thou shalt be called mercifull.

Exhort thou hast mercy vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull, wher as we haue no workes of righteousness: for the righteous which haue saped vpon many good workes together, shall out of their dedes receiue reward. For what is man, þ thou shouldest take displeasure at hym? Or what is the corruptible mortall generation, that thou shouldest be so rough towards hym?

iii.re.viii.a For of a truth there is no man amonge ii. Bar. vi. f them that be borne, but he hath deli-
i. Tho. i. b. uerely, and amonge the saydfull there is none whiche hath not done amysse.

For in thys (O Lorde) thy righteousness and thy goodnes shalbe praysed and declared, if thou be mercifull vnto them, whiche are not riche in good workes.

Then answered he me & sayde: Some thynges haste thou spoken a ryghte, and accordynge vnto thy wordes it shall be.

For I will not verely consydre the workes of them, whiche haue sinned before deathe, before the iudgemente, before de-

Gene. iii. a. struction, but I will reioyce & vnto the worke and thoughte of the ryghteous. I will remembre also the pylgrymage, the holy makinge and the reward. Lyke as I haue spoken nowe, so shall it come to passe. For as the husbnde man soweth muche seede vpon the grounde, and plan-terh many trees, and yet al way the thing that is sowne or planted, is not all kepte safe, neither dothe it all take rote: Euen so is it of them that are sowne in the worlde, they shall not al be preserued.

Mat. xx. c. I answered then and sayde. If I haue founde grace, then let me speake. Lyke as the husbnde mans seade percyeth, if it receyue not rapne in due season, or if there come to muche rapne vpon it: Euen so peryeth man also, whiche is created wth thy handes, and is lyke vnto thyne owne pymage & to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made al thynges, and lykened him vnto the husbnde mans seade. Be not wroth at vs, O Lorde, but spare thy people and haue mercy vpon thynne owne inheritaunce: O be mercifull vnto thy creature.

DThen answered he me and said: Thin-ges present are for the present, & thynges to come, for suche as be to come. For thou wastest yet muche. seyng thou mayest loue my creature aboue me: I haue ofte tymes drawen nye vnto the, but neuer to the vnghteous. In thys also þ art mar-uelous before the Highest, in that thou haste humbled thy selfe, as it be comethe the,
and haste not regarded thyne owne selfe, that thou art had in such honour amonge the righteous. Therefore shall great wretchednes and miserie come vpon them, that in the latter tyme shall dwel in the worlde, for they haue walked in great pryde.

But vnderstand thou for thy selfe, and seke out glozy for suche as be like the: for butts you is paradyse openeo, the tree of life is planteo, the tyme to come is prepared, plenteousnes made ready: a cytie is builded for you, & a rest is prepared, pea-perfect goodnes and wysdome. & yett of euell is marked from you, the weaknes and moche is hyd from you, and in to delieth corruption in forgetfaines. Sorowes are vanisshed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalyte.

And therefore aske thou no more questions concernynge the multitude of them that peryshe. For they haue taken libertie, des-pyed the Highest thoughte scorn of his lawe, and so: taken his wayes.

Moreover, they haue troden doune his ryghteous, and sayde in theyr herte: that there is no God, yea and that wretfully, for they dye. For lyke as the thyng that I haue spoken of, is made redye for you: psal. xli. a.
Euen so is thyrt and payne prepared for them. For it was not his will that man shoulde come to na. ght: but they whiche be created haue despyed the name of hym that made them, and are vnbaukeful vnto hym, which prepared ipse for them. And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hand.
These thynges haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namelye vnto the,
and to such as be lyke the.

Then answered I and sayde: Beholde O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the tokens, whiche thou wilt begyn to do at the last, but at what tyme and when, thou haste not shewed me.

The. ix. Chapter.

Eldras hath visions shewed vnto hym.

Exhort me then and sayde: I measure thou the tyme diligently in it selfe, when thou seest that one partie of the tokens come to passe, which I haue tolde the before: so shalt þ vnderstand, þ it is the very same tyme, wherem þ Highest will begynne to vnter the worlde, whiche be made. And when there shalbe sene earthquake and uproare of the people in the worlde, then shalt þ vnderstand, that þ most hyest spake of those thynges, from the dayes that were before the, euen from the begynnyng.

For lyke as al þ is made in the worlde, hath a begynnyng and ende, and the ende is manifest: Euen so the tymes also of the bieste haue playne begynnynge in wordes and signes, and the end, in workynge and in tokens. And euere one þ shall be saued, and shall be able to escape by his workes, and by fapth, wher in he haue be-lieued, shall he preserued from the sayed perils, and shall see my sauoure in my land and wrythyn my borders, for I haue vatowed me from the worlde.

Then shal they be in carefulnesse whiche nowe haue abused my wayes: and they þ haue cast them out despytefully, shal dwel in paynes.

Eccl. i. For

The.iiii.boke of Eldras

For suche as in their lyfe haue receyued benelytes, and haue not knowen me, and they that haue abhorred my lawe, whyle they had yet freedom, and when they had yet open cōwme of amendement and cōfession, and vnderstode not, but despised it: the same must knowe it after death in payne. And therfore be thou no more carefull, howe the vngodlye shalbe punished, and howe the righteous shalbe saved, and whose the world is, and for whō the worlde, and when it is. Then answered I and sayde: * I haue talked before, and nowe I speake, and will speake also hereafter, that there be many moo of the which perishe, then shalbe saved, lyke as the floudde is greater then the droppes.

And he answered me, sayinge: lyke as the felde is, so is also y^e seide: as the floures be, so are the colours also: such as the workeman is, such is also the worke: And as the housbande man is hym selfe, so is his housbandy^e also, for it was the tyme of the worlde. And when I prepared for them that are nowe, or ever the worlde was made, wherein they shoulde dwell, then was there no man that with-stode me. * Nowe when euery one was, and the maker also in the worlde whiche is nowe prepared, and the meneth that ceaseth not, and the lawe whiche is vni-searcheable, their maners were corrupte. So I considered the worlde and beheld there was payn, because of the thoughtes that were come into it. And I saue and spared them greatly, and haue kepte me a winebery of the grapes, and a plant from amonge manye generations. Let the multitude perishe then whiche are growen up in payne, and lette my grape and wynebery be kepte euen my plant: for with greate labour haue I made it vp.

Reuerberce if thou wilt take vpon the yet seuen dayes moo (but thou shalt not taste in them) goe thy waye then into the felde of floures, where no house is buylded, and eate onelye of the floures of the felde, taste not fleshe, dryncke no wyne, but eate floures onelye. I praye vnto the Grest continuallye, so will I come, and talke with the.

So I wente my waye and came into the felde which is called Ardath (lyke as he commaunded me) and there I sat among the floures, and eate of the herbes of the felde, and the meate of the same satisfied me. After seuen dayes I sat vpon the grasse, and my barre was vered with me lyke as afore: & I opened my mouth and beganne to talke before the Grest, & sayde: * O Lorde, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto oure fathers in the wyldernes, in a place wher no man dwelleth, in a bare place, when they came oute of Egypte. & thou spakest, sayinge: Heare me O Israel, and make me thy wo: des thou seide of Jacob. Behold I sowe my lawe in you, and it shall bringe fruite in you, and ye shalbe honoured in it for euer. For our fathers which receyued the lawe, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinaunces & statutes, & the fruite of thy lawe was not declared: for it myghte not, for why? it was thine. * For they that receyued it, perisshed because they kept not the thyng that was sowed in them.

The.ix.Chapter.

It is a custome when the ground receyueh seide, or the sea a shippe, or a vessel meate and dryncke, that when it perissheth or is broken wherin a thyng is sowed, or wherin any thyng is put: the thynges also perishe and are broken, which are sowed or put therein. But vnto vs it hath not happened so: for we that haue receyued the lawe, perishe in sonne, and oure barre which also receyued the lawe: not with-standinge the lawe perissheth not, but remaineth in his labour.

And when I considered these thynges in my herte after thys maner, I looked aboute me with myne eyes, and vpon the right side I sawe a womā, which mourned sore, made greate lamentacion, and wepte with a loude voyce: her clothes were rente in pieces, and she hadde a shew vpon her heade.

Then let my thoughtes go, that I was in, and turned vnto her and sayde: wherfore wepest thou? why art thou so sorow and discomforted? And she sayde vnto me: Syr, lette me bewaile my selfe & take yet more sorowe: for I am sore bered in my minde, and brought very lowe. And I sayde vnto her: what apleth the? Or what hath done any thyng to the? tel me. She sayd: I haue bene vnfuteful and barren and haue had an housbande. xxx. yeres. And these xxx. yeres I do nothing els day and nyght & all houres, but make my prayer to the Grest. After xxx. yeres God hearde me thy handmayden, looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne, and I was gladd of hym, so was my housbande also, and all my neyghbours, and we gaue greate honoure vnto the mightie. And I nourished hym with greate traualle. So when he grew vp and came to the tyme, he shoulde haue a wyfe, I made a feast.

The.x.Chapter.

Eldras and the woman that appeareth vnto hym comen together.

And it happened that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dreed: then asuerberce we all the lyghtes, and all my neyghbours rose vp to comfort me. Then toke I my rest vnto the second daye at upght: and when they had all rested, that they myghte conforthe me: I rested also, and rose vp by upght, and Arde, and am come hyther into thys felde, as thou iii. Eld.

viii. a
xv. ath. x. c

Or rather,
but now in this worlde
is made,
the maners
of them that be created,
is corrupted
as it were with a cor-
ruptual seide:
lawe that can not be broken.

Eld. x. d.
and. xiii. a
xv. xiii. b

Eld. xiii. f

Eld. xiii. a
ii. Eld. ii. a

iii. Eld. xv.

as thou seest: I am purposed not to come in the cite, but to remayne here, and neither to eate nor drynke, but continually to mourne and to fast, untill I dye.

Then let I my meditations and thoughtes fel, that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure: Thou foolyshe woman, seeste thou not our heuines and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs: howe Syon our mother is all wofull and soyr, and howe she is cleane brought doune and in misery: seynge we be all now in heuines, and make our mone (for we be all sorrowfull,) As for the heuines that thou takest, it is but for one sonne. Remaund þe earth and she shall tell the, that it is she whiche ought (by reason) to mourne, for the fall of so manie that growe vpon her.

For from the beginninge all men are bozne of her, and other shall come: and be holde, they walke almost al in the destruction, and many of them shall be reored out.

Who should the by reason make more mourning the she that hath lost so great a multitude: and not thou, whiche art sorrie but for one. But if thou wouldest sape vnto me: My mourning is not lyke the mourning of the earth, for I haue lost the fruite of my bodie, which I bare with heuines: but the earth is accordyng to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude goth agayne into her, as it is come to passe: Then saue I vnto thee: lyke as thou hast bozne with trauayll and sorrow, euen so the earth also fro the beginninge geueth her fruite vnto man, for hym that made her. * And therefore withhold thy sorrow and heuines by thy selfe, and looke what happeneth vnto the, beate it stronglys. For if thou iudgeth the marke and end of God to be ryghteous and good, and receuest his counsaile in time, thou shalt be commended therein. So thy way then tute the cite to thy husband.

And she sayde vnto me: that wyl I not do, I wyl not go into the cite, but here wyl I dye. So I commened more with her, and said: Do not so, but be counsailed, and folowe me: for howe many fallis hath Syon? Be of good comforte because of the sorrow of Hierusalem. For thou seest that our Sanctuary is layed waste, our altar broken, our temple destroyed, our playnynge of instrumentes and synngynge layed doune, the thankesgeyng put to silence, our mirth is banyshe away, the lyghte of our candelstykke is quenched, the Arcke of the couenaunte is taken from vs, all our holy thinges are despyled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is dishonoured: our chyldren are put to shame, our priestes are brente, our Leuites are carped arope into captiuitie, our virgines are despyled, and our wyues rauyned, our righteous men spoyled, and our chyldren destroyed, our yonge men are brought in bondage, and our strong wothynges are become weak: and Syon (which seale is the greates of all) is leuesed up from her worshyppe: for she is deliuered into the handes of the that hate vs.

And therefore shake of thy greate heuines, and put away the multitude of sorowes: that the mighti maye be merciful vnto the, and that the Spect maye geue the reste from thy labour and trauayle. And it happened that whē I was talking with her, her face dyd shyne and glyster, so that I was aseyed of her, and mused what it myght be. And immediatly she caste out a greate voyce, very fearefull, so that the earth shoke at the noyse of the woman: and I looked, and behold the woman appered vnto me no more: but there was a cype buyled, and a place was hewed from the ground and foundation.

Then was I aseyed, and cryed with loude voyce, and sayde: where is Christ? the Angell, whiche came to me at the first? * For he hath caused me to come in many considerations and by thoughtes, and myne ende is turned too corruption, and my prayer to reduce. And as I was speakinge these wordes, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me, and I laye as one that had bene dead, and myne vnderstandynge was altered, and he toke me by the ryght hande, and comforted me, and set me vpon my fere, and sayde vnto me: what ayleth the? and why is thyne vnderstandynge vered, and the vnderstandynge of thy verite? and wherfore art thou soyr? And I sayd: Because thou hast forsaken me: * and I haue done accordyng vnto thy wordes. I went into the feld, & there haue I sene thynges, þ I am not able to expre. He sayd vnto me: Stande vp and be manly, and I shall geue thee exhortacion.

Then sayed I: Speake on to me my Loyde, forsake me not, lest I die in paine, for I haue sene that I knewe not, and beate that I do not knowe. * Shall my vnderstanding be desceiued, and my mind? But howe I beseeche the, that thou wylt shewe thy seruante of thys wonder. He answered me then and sayed: beate me, and I shall enfortme the, and tel þ wherfore thou arte aseyed, for the dyed hath opened many secret thynges vnto the.

He hath sene that thy waye is ryghte, and that thou tokest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest greate lamentacion for Syon: and therefore vnderstand the vyssion which thou sawest a litle while ago after thys maner: Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou hast comforted her: Neutheles now seest thou the lyknes of the woman no more, but thou thoughtest there was a cype buyled: and lyke as she tolde the of the fall of her sonne, so is this the answer.

The woman whome thou sawest, is Syon: and where as she tolde the, that she hath bene thynne peaces vnscurful and baren, those are the.ccc. peaces, wherein there was no offsprynge made in her.

But after.ccc. peaces, Solomō builded her, and offred, and then bare the baren a sonne. And to here as he told the that he noyphed hym with laboure, that was that dwelling of Hierusalem. But to here as the sonne dyed in her chamber, that is the fall of Hierusalem. And thou sawest her sickness, how she mourned for her sonne: & what els happened vnto her, I haue shewed thee. And now God seeth that thou arte sore in thy mynde, and sufferedst from thy hart for her, and so hath he shewed the her cleannes, and the saltenes of her bemyte.

And therefore I had the remaine in the freld, wher no house is buylded. For I knewe that the best would shew this vnto the, therefore I commaunded the to go into the field, where no foundaciō nor buildyng is. For in the place where the best dwyll heu his cite, there shal be no mans buyldynge. And therefore feare not, and let not thynne hearte bee afraied, but go thy way in, and see the glorious and fayne buyldynge, and how greate it is, and how great thou thinkest it after the measure of thynne eyes, and then shalte thou heare as muche as thynne eares maye comprehend. For thou arte blessed aboue many other, and art called with the best, as the fewe. But to morowe at night thou shalt remayne here, and so shalt the best shew the visions of bytynge, which he will downto them that dwell vpon earth in the last dayes. So I slepte þat same night lyke as he commaunded me.

The.xi. Chapter.

In this chapter and in the.ii. next ensu- ing, he entreateth of certayne visions & of the interpretations thereof.

When I sawe I adreamed: and beholde, there came vp some the sea an Eagle, which had twelue wynges and thre heades. And I saw, and beholde, he spred his wynges ouer all the earth, and all the wyndes of the ayre blew in then, and so they were put together agayne. And I beholde, and out of his feathers there gre w other lytle contrarie feathers, the heades rested, the head in the myddest was greater then the other, & rested it with the residue.

Moreover I sawe that the Eagle lewe with his wynges, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer all them that dwell vpon the earth: and I sawe that all thinges vnder heauen were subiecte vnto hym, and no mā spake againe hym no nor our creature vpon earth. I sawe also that the Eagle stode vpon vpon his clawes, & gaue a sound with his feathers, & a voyce saynge after this maner: wate it not altogether, lete euery man in his owne place, and wate for a tyme, but let the heades be preserved at the laste. Neuerthelesse I sawe that the voyce went not out of his heades, but fro the myddest of his body. And I numbred his contrarie feathers, & beholde, they were eynghre of them. And I looked, and beholde vpon the righte side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth. And it happened that when it reigned, the ende of it came, & the place therof appeared no more.

So the nexte folowynge stode vp, and reigned and had a greate tyme: And it happened that when it reigned, the ende of it came also, lyke as the fyrste, so that it appeared no more.

Then came there a voyce vnto it, and sayde: Heare thou that haste kept in the peache so longe, this I saye vnto the: before thou beganest to appeare no more, there shall none after the attorne vnto thy tyme. Then arose the thrid, and reigned as the other afore, and appeared no more also. So went it with all the residue one after a nother, so that euery one reigned, and then appered no more. Then I looked, and beholde, in proceste of tyme the feathers that folowed were set vp vpon the righte syde, that they myghte rule also: and some of they ruled, but within a whyle they appeared no more: for some of them were sette vp, but ruled not. After this I looked, and beholde the.iii. feathers appeared no more, and the two wynges: and there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but.ii. heades that rested, and fere feathers. Then sawe I also that the fere feathers were parted in two, and remayned vnder the head that was vpon the righte side, for the fere continued in their place. So I looked, and beholde, they that were vnder the wynges, thought to set by themselves, and to haue the rule. Then was there one sette vp, but shortly it appeared no more: and the seconde was sooner awaye then the first. And I beholde, & so the two thought also by themselves to reigne: and when they so thought, beholde there waked one of the heades that were at rest, namely it that was in the myddest: for that was the greater of the two heades. And then I sawe that the two heades were spiled with hym, and the heade was turned with them that were by hym, and ease by the two vnder wynges, that would haue reigned.

But this heade ouer the whole peache in feare, and bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth with in the laste tyme: and he had the gouernance of the world, ouer all the soules that haue bene. After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the myddest, suddenly appeared no more, lyke as the wynges: then came the two heades, which ruled vpon earth and ouer those þat dwell therein. And I beholde, and so, the head vpon the righte side beaured it that was vpon the left side.

And.

And I heard a voyce, which said vnto me: loke before the, and consider the thyng thou seist. Then I sawe, and behold as it were a Lyon that croucheth, rennyng hastely out of the wood, and he sent out a mannes voyce vnto the Eagle, and sayde: Heare thou, I wyll talke wpeh the, and the Spesse shall say vnto the: As it not thou that haste the victory of the four beastes whome I made to raygne vpon earthe and in my world, and that the ende of their tymes myghte come thorow the?

And the fourthe came, and ouerthrew all the beastes that were past, and had power ouer the world wpeh great fearfulness, and ouer the whole compass of the earth, wpeh the mooste wycked laboure, and so longe tyme dwelt he vpon the earth wpeh discreete: and the earth haste thou iudged not wpeh treuer. For thou haste troubled the mecke, thou haste hurte the peaceable and quiet, thou haste loured Lysars, and destroyed dwellinges of the that broughte forth fruite, and hast caste downe the walles of such as dyd the no harme. Therefore is thy wrongeous dealing and blasphemie come vnto the Spesse, and thy iudgement vnto the myghte. The Spesse also hath looked vpon the proude times, and beholde they are ended, and theyr abominations are fulfilled. And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wycked fethers, and thy vngacious beades, and thy synful clawes and all thy bayne body: that the earth may be refreshed and come agayne to hyr selfe, when she is deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgemente and mercy of hym that made hir.

The.xiii. Chapter.

AND it happened when the Lyon spake these wordes vnto the Eagle. I sawe, and beholde, the beade that afore had the vyper hande, appeared no more: neyther dyd the four wynges appeare anye more þe same vnto hym, and were sette vpe to raygne: and their kyngdome was small and full of vprour. And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more: and the whole bodye of the Eagle was brente, and the earth was in greate feare. When awaked I out of the traunce of my mynd, and from great fear, and sayde to my spirite: Lo, thus hast thou geue me, in that thou searchest out þe wayes of the Spesse: loe, yet am I weare in my mynd, and very weak in my spirit, and little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receyued thys night. Therefore sayd I vnto my selfe: I now beseech the Spesse, that he wil comfort me vnto the ende: and I said, Hoide, Hoide, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified wpeh the before manye other, and if my prayer be come vnto thy face, comfort me the, and shewe me, thy seruaunt, the interpretation and plaine difference of thys horrible sight, that thou maied perfectly comforte my soule: for thou haste iudged me worthy to shewe me the last of tymes.

And he sayde vnto me: this is the interpretation of thys sight. The Eagle whome thou sawest come vnto the Sea, is the kyngdome whiche was sene in the vision of thy brother Daniell, but it was not expounded vnto hym, for nowe I declare it vnto the. Beholde, the dayes come, that there shall rise vnto a kyngdome vpon earth and it shall be feared aboue all the kyngdomes that were before it. In the same kyngdomes shall twelue kynges raygne one after another. For the secunde shall begynne to raygne, and shall haue more tyme then the other, and thys do the .xii. wynges signifie, whiche thou sawest. As for the voyce that spake, and that thou sawest go out fro the beades, but not from the body, it betokeneth, that after the tyme of that kyngdome, there shall arise greate stryppes, and it shall stande in perill of falsspunge: neuertheles it shall not yet fall, but shall be set into bys begynnynge. And the ryghte underwings whiche thou sawest hang vnto the wynges of hym, betoken that in hym there shall arise eyght kynges, whose tyme shall be but small, and theyr yerres swifte, and two of them shall beare.
But when the middle tyme cometh, there shall be four kept in the tyme, wpeh his tyme be gynneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shall be kepte vnto the ende.

And where as thou sawest thre beades resting, this is the interpretation. In his last shall the beste raise vnto the kyngdomes, and call manye agayne into them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth, and of those that dwell therein, wpeh muche laboure aboue all those that were before them. Therefore are they called the beades of the Eagle: for it is they that shall bring forth his wickednes agayne, & þe shall persourne and finish his laste. And where as thou sawest, that the great beade appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall dye vpon his bed, and yet with paine, for the two that remaine shall be sharpe wpeh the swerde. For the swerd of the one shall deuoure the other, but at the laste shall he fall thorow the swerd himselfe.

And where as thou sawest two underwings vnto the head that is on the ryght side, it signifieth that it is they, whom the Spesse hath kepte vnto the ende: this is a small kyngdome, full of trouble. The Lion whome thou sawest rising vnto the wynde, and coatinge, and speakinge vnto the Eagle, and rebukynge hym for his vngaciousnesse, is the wynde whiche the Spesse hath kepte for them, and for their wickednesse vnto the ende: he shall reprove them, and reuente them a sundre before them. For he shall sette them lounge before the iudgemente, and shall rebuke
them

theim: for the residue of my people shall be deliuered wth trouble, whose war he persecuted ouer myne endes: and he shall make them ioyful vntill the comming of the day of iudgement, wherof I haue spoken vnto the from the begynnyng. This is the dreame that thou sawest, and this is the interpretation. Thou only haste ben me to know the secretes of the bypse.

Therefore wyte all these thynges that thou haste sene in a booke, and hyde theim, and teache theim the wylle of the people, whose vertes thou knowest maye comprehend and keepe these secretes. But wyte thou here thy selfe per seuen dayes moore, that it maye be shewed the, whatsoeuer pleaseth the bypse to declare vnto the, and wth that he wente his waye.

D And when all the people perceyued that the seuen dayes were past, and I nor come agayne into the cite, they gathered them al together from the leaste vnto the mooste, and came vnto me, and sayde: what haue we offended the, and what euill haue we done agaynst the, that thou forsakest vs, & syttest here in this place? For of all people thou onely arte lefte vs as a grape of the vyne, and as a candell in a darcke place, and as an haueu and shyp preserved from the tempeste. Haue we not els aduersitee inough, but thou muste forsake vs? Were it not better for vs, that wee hadde bene byente wth Sion? For we are no better: then they that dyed there: and they wepte wth loud voyce. Then answered I them, and sayde: Be of good consoyte O Israell, and be not heauy thou house of Iacob: for the bypse hath you in remembraunce, and the myghthe hath not forgotten you, in temptation. As for me, I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come vnto this place to praye, because of the misery of Israell, that I might seeke Mercye for the lowe estate of poure Sanctuarie. And now goo poure waye home euery manne, and after these dayes wyl I come vnto you. So the people went thei waye into the cite, lyke as I commaunded theim: but I remayned still in the field seuen dayes, as the Angell bade me, and I ate onely of the flowers of the feldes, and hadde my meate of the herbes in those dayes.

The.iiii. Chapter.

D And it happened after the seuen dayes, that I dreamed a dreame by night. And behold there arose a wynde from the Sea that it moued all the rowdes therof. And I looked, and beholde, the man was stronge and increased wth the cloudes of heauen: * and when he turned his countenance to consider, all the thynges trembled that were sene vnder hym: and when the voyce wente out of his mouth, all they byente that heard him, lyke as the earth when it feleth the fyre.

After these I sawe, and beholde: there was gathered together a multitude of men oute of numbre, frome the four wyndes of the heauen, to fyght agaynst the man, that came oute from the sea. And I looked, and beholde, he graued hym selfe a greete moynayne & flew vpon it. But I woulde haue sene the border or place, wherout he cut oure. But I was grauen, and I coulde not.

I sawe after this, that all they whiche came to fight agaynst him, were soze afraied, and per dueste they fyghe. Nevertheless when he saw the scarcenes and violence of the people, he neither lyst vpon his hand nor helde swerde nor any weapon: but onely (as I sawe) he sent out of his mouth as it had bene a blast of fyre, and oute of his lippes the wynde of the flame, & out of his tounge he caste oute sparckes and stormes, and they were all myxt together: the blast of fyre, the wynde of the flammes, and the greete storme, and fell wth a rushe vpon the people, whiche was prepared to fight, and byente theim by euery bone: so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing sene but onely dust & smoke. Wher I sawe this, I was afraied.

Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountayne, and callynge vnto hym an order peaceable people: and there came muche people vnto hym: some were glad, some were soze, some of theim were bounde, * so that they were carped. Then was I sycke thorow greete feare, and I awaked, and sayde: thou hast shewed thy seruante all thy wonders frome the begynnyng, and hast counted me thou: that thou mightest receyue my praye: shewe me now per the interpretation of this dreame. For thus I consider in my vnderstandynge: Wo vnto theim that shall be leste in those dayes: and muche more woe vnto theim that are not leste: behynde: for they that were not leste, were in deuynes.

Nowe vnderstande I the thynges that are layd vpon in the latter dayes, whiche shall happen vnto them, and to those that are not leste behynde. Therefore are they come into greete perilles, and manye necessities, lyke as these dreames declare. Yet is it easier, that he whiche suffereth hurte, come in these: then to passe away as a clowde oure of the world, and now to se the thynges that shall happen in the laste.

Then answered he me, and sayde: The interpretation of the syghe shall I shewe the, and I wyl open vnto the, the thynges that thou hast requyred. For thou hast spoken of theim that are leste behynde, and this is the interpretation. He that taketh awaye the perill in that tyme, hath kept hym selfe. They that be fallen into harme are such as haue workes and sayeth vnto the mooste myghthe. Knowe this therefore that they which be leste behynde, are more blessed

O rather
not more fortunate.

O rather some other bynging men that were sacrificed or offered by.

What shall be a lyre.
What is that is dead

O rather it became a man, wth thousandes
of heauen.

blesed, then they that be deade.

As bys is the meaning of the vision. Wher as thou sawest a man coming up from the depe of the sea, the same is he whom God the hystory hath kept a greete season, wherby his owne selfe shal deliuer his creature, and he shal order the that are left behind. And where as thou sawest that out of hys mouth there came a blaske of wynd, spye, & storme. & how þ he lifted up neyther sword nor weapon, but that the rushing in of hym destroyed the whole multitude, that came to fight agaynst hym: it signifieth that the dayes come when God will destroye theym that are vpon earth, and in a season of mynd shal be come vpon them that dwell in the earth. * And one shal undertake to fighte agaynst another, and cite agaynst another. one place agaynst another, one people agaynst another, one realme agaynst another. When this cometh to passe, then shall the tokens come that I shewed the before: & the shall my sonne be declared, whom thou sawest clyme up as a man. And when all the people heare hys voice, euery man shal in their owne land leaue the battaile þ they haue one agaynst another, & an innumerable multitude shal be gathered together, as they that be myllyng to come, & to overcome hym by fighting. But he shall stand vpon the toppe of the mounte Sion.

Nevertheless Sion shall come, and shall be shewed, beinge prepared & hurled forth al me, lyke as thou sawest the hyll grauen forth without any handes. But my sonne shall rebuke the people that are come for their wickednes, with the tempest, and for theyr euill imaginations: and their paynes wherewith they shall be punished, are likened vnto the same: and without any labour shall be destroyed theym, euen by the lawe, whiche is compared vnto the spye. And where as thou sawest that he gathered an other peaceable people vnto hym: those are the tenne Tribes, whiche were caried awaye prisoners out of their owne Land, in the tyme of Oseas the king whome Salmanafer the kynge of Assyria took prisoner, and caried them ouer the water, and so came they into an other land.

But they gaue them this counsell, that they should leaue the multitude of the deathe, and to go forth into a further conceit, where neuer mankynde dwelte: that they myght ther kept theyr statutes, whiche they neuer kepte in their owne lande.

And so they entered in at the narrow passages of the water of Euphrates, and God shewed tokens for theym, and helde syl the founteyn they were passed ouer: for thow that catter there was a great wave, namelie of a nere and a halfe foute:

Ezr. xiii. c.
fol. xiii. d.

Other read
Ararat. that is Armenia.

for þ same region is called * Azareth. And when they came forth agayne, the blessed shal hold syl the springes of the Arme agayne, that they maye go thowme: therefore sawest thou þ multitude with peace. And they that be left behynde of thy people, are those that be fowde within my border. Nowe when he destroyed the multitude that is gathered together, he shal defend his people that remaine, and they shall be shewe them greete wonders.

Then sayde I, O Lord, Lorde, shewe me this: wherfore haue I sene the man cominge up from the depe of the sea? And he sayde vnto me: Lyke as thou canst neither seeke out nor knowe these thinges that are in the depe of the sea, euen so maist thou not se my sonne or those that be with him but in the tyme of the day. This is the interpretation of the dreame whiche thou sawest, therefore thou only art here lightened, for thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto mine and sought it. Thy lyfe hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called vnderstandinge thy god, and therefore haue I shewed the the treasure of the hest.

After thre dayes I will shewe the more, and talke with the at more large, pea bea up and wonderous thinges myl I declare vnto the.

Then went I forth into the felde geuing prayse and thankes greatly vnto God because of hys wonders whiche he dyd in tyme, & because he gouerneth the same, and such as is in tyme, and there I sate thre dayes.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

God appeareth vnto Esdras in the bush, and sheweth him what he shal do.

On the thyrde daye I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bush and sayde: Esdras, Esdras: *

Exod. iii. a.

And I sayde: Here am I Lorde, and stood vpon my feet. Then spake he vnto me:

In the bush dyd I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him, when my people serued in Egypte, and I sente him, and led my people out of Egypte, and broughte hym vpon the mounte Sion, where I held hym by me a longe season, and tolde hym my wonderous workes, and shewed hym the secrettes of the times and the ende, and commaunded hym, sayinge:

These wordes shalt thou declare and not hyde theym. And nowe I saye vnto the, that thou lay vp in thine heart the dreames that thou hast sene, and the interpretations whiche I haue shewed the: for thou shalt be receyued * of al, thou shalt be trusted and remaine with my counsell, and with such as be like the, vntill the times be ended. For the worlde hath loste hys youth, and the tymes beginne to waxe old. For the tyme is deuyded into twelue partes, and tenne partes of it are gone al ready, and halfe of the tenth parte: yet remaineth

Or rather
taken out of al.

mayner there that whiche is after the halie of the tenth parte.

Wherfore prepare and ordre thy house, and reforme thy people, comforte suche of theym as be in trouble: and tell now of the destruction: lette go from the mortall thoughtes: caste awaye the burthens of man: putte of the weake nature: lay vp in some places the thoughtes that are moste heauye vnto the, and haue the to flyt from these times: for suche euill and wyckednes as thou haste sene happen, shal they do yet much worse.*

Mat. xlii.
ii. Joh. ii. c.

For the weaker that the world and the tyme is, the more shall spore and wyckednesse increase, in theym that dwell vpon earth. For the trowth is fledde far awaye, and lesynge* is harde at hande. For nowe hasteth the vision to come, that thou haste sene.

O rather
vanitie.

Then answered I, and sayde: Behold Lorde, I will go as thou haste commaunded me, and reforme the people which are presente. But they that shall be bozne afterwarde, who will exhort or rebuke the?
Thus* the worlde is set in darkenes, and they that dwell therein, are without lyght:
for thy lawe is kyndled, because* no man knoweth the thynges that are done of the, or what shall be done. If I haue solid grace before the, sende the holpe good into me, and I shall wyte all that haue bene done in the worlde sence the begynnyng, whiche was wyrtten in thy lawe, that men maye find the path, and that they which wil liue in the latter dayes, may lyue.

O rather
for the. v.

O rather
wherefore

And he answered me, saynge: Soo thy ware, gather thy people together, & saue vnto them, that they seke not for the fortye dayes, but loke thou gather the manye Borerees, & and take with the Saira, Dabiri, Seremita, Echanus, and Ashall, these foue, which are ready to wyte swiftlye, and come byther, and I shall light a candell of vnderstandynge in thine herte, wherof shall not be put oute, till the thynges be performed wherch thou shalt be-gynne to wyte. And then shalt thou declare some thynges openly vnto the perfect, and some thynges shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wyse. To morowe thys houre shalt thou begynne to wyte.

O rather rebles of dore.

Then wente I forth (as he commaunded me) and gathered all my people togy-ther & said: Heare these wordes* O Israel: Our fathers from the begynning were straungers in Egypte, from thence they were deliuered and receyued the lawe of lyfe. * whiche they kepte not, whiche ye also haue transgressed after them. Then was this lande and the land of Sion parted among you by lot to possesse. But your fathers, and ye your selues also haue done vngodlynes, & haue not kept what is whiche the hest commaunded you.

Ge. xlviii. a.

Deu. xlii.

And for so muche as he is a ryghteous Iudge, he toke from you in tyme the thyng that he hadde geuen you. And nowe are ye here and your brethren amonge you.

Act. vi. i. ix

Wherfore if so be that ye will subdue your otone vnderstandynge, and reforme your hert, ye shal be kept alyue, and after death shall ye obtayne meercy. For after death shall the Iudgemente come, when we shal lyue agayne, and then shall the names of the ryghteous be manifest, and the names of the vngodly with their workes shal be declared. Let no man therfore come nowe vnto me, nor aske any question at me these fortye dayes.

So I toke the fye men (as he commaunded me) and we wente into the felde, and remayned there. The next day a voice called me, saynge: Edoas open thy mouth, and drynke that I geue the.

* Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached me a full cuppe, whiche was full of water, but the colour of it was like fire. And I toke it & dranke. And when I had dronke it, my hert had vnderstanding, & wisdom grew in my breast: for my spirit was kept in remembrance, and my mouth was opened and shut no more. The drynke gaue vnderstanding vnto the fye men that they wote the brethynges of the ryghte, whiche they vnderstode not. But in the night they ate brede: as for me, I spake in the daye, and helde not my tongue by nyght.
In xl. daies, they wote two hundred and foure booke. And it happened when the fortye dayes were fulfilled, that the breste spoke, saynge: The spirit that thou haste wyrtten speake openly, that the worthy and vnmortall may reade it. But kepe the secret that thou maist shewe it onely to such as be wise amonge thy people. For in them is the for. noe of vnderstandynge, the fountaine of wisdom, and the stream of knowelenge. And I did so.

The. xv. Chapter.

The purpouse that euil people shal haue whiche God commaundeth Edoas to shew vnto them.

Behold, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of pro-phete, whiche I will putte in thy mouth, sayeth the Lorde: and cause them to be wyrtten in a letter, for it is the trowth. Feare not the imaginacions against the, lette not the vnfaithfulnesse of them trouble the, that speake agaynst the. For all the vnsperefull shal dye in their vnfaithfulnes. Beholde sayeth the Lorde: I will brynge plagues vpon the worlde, the swerde, hunger, death, and destruction, for wyckednes hath the vpper-hande in all the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfilled.

Wherfore sayeth the Lorde: I will holde my tounge no more vnto their wyckednesse, wherch they do so vngodly: nepether will I suffer them in the thynges, that they deale with that so wyckedly.

Beholde, the Innocente* bloude of the troubled

Apoc. vi. b

troubled cōſpecte vnto me; and the ſoules of the cōſcious complayne cōtinuallie: and therefore ſayeth the Lorde) I will ſurely auenge, and receiue vnto me al the innocent bloude from amonge them.

Beholde, my people is led as a flocke of ſhepe to be ſlaine, I will not ſuffer theſe now to dwell in Egypte, but will bring the out wpth a myghtie hāde, and a ſtretched out arme, and ſmyte it wpth plagues as afore, and will deſtroye al the land of it. Egypte ſhall mourne, & the foundations of it ſhall be ſmyren wth the plague and puniſhment, that God ſhall bring vpon it.

B They that tye the grounde, ſhall mourne: for they ſeedes ſhall be deſtroyed thorow the blaſtinge and hayle, and an horrible ſcarre. Wo worthe the worlde and them that dwell therein, for the ſwarde and theire deſtruction draweth nē: and one people ſhall ſtande vpon to ſyghte agaynſt another, and ſwerdes in theyr handes.

For men ſhall be vnterſt, and ſome ſhall do violence vnto other: they ſhall not reſpecte theyr kynges & princes; the wayes of theyr doinges and handinges in theyr power. A man ſhall deſpise to go into the cōtrye, and ſhall not be able. For becauſe of theyr pryde, the cōtries ſhall be broughte in ſcare, the houſes ſhall ſhake, & men ſhall be aſtrayed. A man ſhall haue no prync vpon his neyghboure, but one ſhall prouoke another vnto battail to ſpoile theyr goods becauſe of the hunger of bread, & becauſe of the greate trouble.

E Beholde I gather and call together al the kynges of the earthe whiche are from the vpperynge, from the South, from the Eaſte and Aſſyrians to tounne vnto them, and reſtore the thynges that they haue geuen them. Lyke as they do yet this daye vnto my choſen, ſo will I do alſo, and recompence them in theyr houſe. Thus ſayeth the Lorde God: Egypte ſhall not ſpare the ſpynners, and my ſwarde ſhall not ceaſe ouer them. That ſheade the innocent bloude vpon earth. The ſper is gone oute from vnto warthe, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, & the ſinners lyke the ſtrawe that is kindled. Wo worthe them that ſpynne, and kepe not my commandementes, ſayeth the Lorde. I will not ſpare them. So poue warre cōſpyren from violence, deſile not my Sanctuary: for ſo Lorde knoweth al them that ſyn agaynſt him, & therefore deſpuereth he the vnto deathe & deſtruction: for nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye ſhall remaine in the. For God ſhall not deſpise pou, becauſe ye haue ſpynned agaynſt hym.

D Beholde, an horrible viſion cometh from the Eaſte, where generacions of Dragons ſhall come oute, and the people of the Arabies wpth many charrettes, and the multitude of them ſhall be as ſo wynde vpon earth, that all they whiche beare them tagenge in theyr warthe, may feare & and be aſtrayed: and as the wynde bores oute of the wood, ſo ſhall they go out, and wpth great power ſhall they come, and ſtande ſyghting wpth them; and ſhall waſte the porcion of the lande of the Aſſyrians.

And then ſhall the Dragons haue the vpper hande, not remembryng theyr byrthe, and ſhall turne aboute ſwearinge togyther in greate power, to perſecute them. But theſe ſhall be aſtrayed, and kepe ſilence at their power, and ſhall ſce: and one oute of the lande of the Aſſyrians ſhall beſiege them, and consume one of them, and in their hoost ſhall be feare and drede, & ſilence amonge theyr kynges.

Beholde cloudes from the Eaſte, and from the north vnto the South, & they are very horrible to loke vpon, full of warthe & ſtorm. They ſhall ſmyte one vpon another, & they ſhall ſmyte at ſo great ſtar vpon earth, & their ſtar, and the bloud ſhall be from the ſwerd vnto the belly, & the ſmoke of man vnto the camels litter: & And then ſhall be greate fearfulnes and tremblinge vpon earth, & they ſhall be the warth, ſhall be aſtrayed, and a tremblinge ſhall come vpon them.

And then ſhall there come great raines from the South and from the North, and part from the Weſt, and from the Eaſt, and ſhall ſit them vpon agayne, and the cloude whiche be rayſed vpon in warthe, and the ſcarre to cauſe ſcare towarde the Eaſt & Weſt wynde, ſhall be deſtroyed: & the great clouds ſhall be liſt vpon, & the myghty clouds full of warthe, & the ſtar ſo they may make all ſeard aſtrayed, & the that dwell therein, and that they may poure out ouer al places an horrible ſcar, fire and hayle and ſpynge ſwerdes, and many waters, that al fieldes may be full and al ciues: and they ſhall breake downe the ciues and walles, mountaynes and hilles, al trees, wood, and ſo graſſe of the medowes, and all their fruyte. And they ſhall go ſtedfaſt vnto Babilon, and make her aſtrayed, they ſhall come to her and beſiege her, the ſtar and all warth ſhall they poure out vpon her.

Then ſhall the duſt and ſmoke go vpon to the heauen, and all they that be aboute her, ſhall bewaile her: and they that remaine vnder her, ſhall do ſeruiſe vnto the that haue put her in ſcare. And thou Aſia that comforteſt thy ſelfe alſo vpon the hope of Babilon, and art a worſhyppre of her perſon: Wo be vnto the thou wretched, becauſe thou haſt made thy ſelfe lyke vnto her, and haſte deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they myghte triumphe and pleaſe thy louers, which haue alway deſpised to commite whoredome wpth thee: thou haſt folowed the abhominable city in all her workes and inuencions.

Therefore ſayeth God: I will ſend vpon thee, wyndwhode, pouerthe, hunger, warthes, and peſtillence, to waſte thy houſes wpth

Or rather
the laughter ſhall be ſuch that the bloud ſhall
be in depe
and ſo ſhall
of many bloude to the camels
grythe.

With destruction and dearthe, and the glorye of thy power shall be dyed vp as a floure, when the heare aspyerth that is sent ouer the. Thou shalt be sick as a poxe wife that is plaged and beaten of women: so that the myghty and louer shall not be able to receyue the. Wouldest thou hate the sayerth the Lorde, If thou haddest not al-way sayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy handes, and saied ouer their death, when thou wast drunken: set fourth the beauty of thy countenance?

The reward of thy whoresome shall be recompensed the in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou receyue *reward.

Some
read: no
reward.

Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen (sayerth the Lorde) even so shall God do vnto the, and shall delruer the into the plage. Thy chyldren shall dye of hunger, and thou shalt fall thorow the swearde.
Thy cities shall be broken doune, and all thyne shall perishe wth the sweerde in the field. They that be in the moitiesnes shall dye of hunger, & eat their owne flesh, and drynke their owne blood for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water. Thou vnhap-py shalt come thorow the sea, & receyue plages agayne. In the passage they shall cast doune the sayne clype, and shall rote oute one parte of thy lande, and consume the porcion of thy glory. They shall treade the doune lyke stubble, and they shall be thy foie and shall consume the, thy cities and thy lande, thy wood and thy feuteful trees shall they buene vp wth the fyre.
Thy chyldren shall they carry away captiue, and take what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and mar the beauty of thy face.

The.xvi.chapter.

The heathen shall be punished.

Whe vnto the Babilon and Asia, woe vnto the Egypte and Syria: gyde your selves wth clothes of sacke and herre, and mourn for your chyldren, be cause, for your destruction is at hand. A sweerde is sente vpon you, and who wyll rounne it backe?
A fyre is kindled amonge you, and who wyll quenche it? Plages are sente vnto you, and what is he that wyll dryue them away? Maye anye man dryue awaye an hungerpe lion in the woode? Or maye anye manne quenche the fyre in the stubble, when it hath begonne to burne? Agayn one tounne agayne the arrowe, that is shot of a strong archer? The myghty Lorde sendeth the plages, and what is he that wyll dryue them away. The fyre is kindled & gone forth in his wrath, and what is he that wyll quenche it? He shall caste fyghtynges, and who shall not feare? He shall thunder, & who shall not be afrayed? The Lorde shall threaten, and who shall not battere be beaten to powder at his presence? The earthe quaketh, and the foundacions thereof: the sea, aspyerth vp wth waues from the depe, and the floudes of it are vnyquyte, and the fyshes thereof also before the Lorde, and before the gloire of his power: For stronge is his ryghte hand & boldeth his bow, his arrows & he sho-teth, & sharp, & shall not mys, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

Beholde, the plages are sent, and shall not turne agayne, tyl they come vpon erth.
The fyre is kindled, and shall not be put oute, tyl it consume the foundations of the earthe. Lyke as an arrowe whiche is shot of a myghty archer, returneth not backward: even so the plages that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne agayne.
Woe is me, woe is me, who wyll delruer me in those daies? The beginning of sorrowes & great mourning: & beginning of dearth and great dearth: the beginning of war-res, and the powers shall stand in feare:
the beginning of euils, and they shall ter-rifie euery one. What shall I do in these thynges, when the plages come? Behold hunger, and plage, trouble and angurthe are sente, as scourges for amendemente.
But for all these thynges they shall not turne from their wyckednesse, nor be al-waye myndeful of the scourges.

Behold, vnto the shall be so good chepe vpon earth, that they shall thynke themselves to be in good case: and euen the mischiefe growe vpon earth, warres, dearth and great disquietnes. For many of them that dwell vpon earth shall perishe of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall the sweerde destroye: and the deade shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort the. For the earth shall be wasted, & the ciues shall be cast down: there shall be no man left to toll the earthe and to sow it. The trees shall geue fruite, and who shall plucke the of and gather them?
The grapes shall be ripe, and who shall tread the? For all places shall be desolate of men, so that one man shall desyre to se another, or to heare his voice. For of one whole cytie there shall be left, and two in the felde, whiche shall hyde them selves in the thicke bushes, and in the clyffes of stones: lyke as when there remaine thye or four olives vpon the olive tree, or as when a vyneparde is gathered, there are left grapes, of them that diligent ly soughte thorow the vyneparde.

Even so in those daies there shall be three or four left, for them that seache their houses wth the sweerde. And & earth shall be left waste, & the fieldes thereof shall beare olde: & her inayes and al her pathes shall growe ful of thornes, because no man shall traualle ther thorow. The daughters shall mourne, hauing no hydegromes: the women shall make lamentacion, hauing no housewades they: daughters shall mourne, hauing no helpe of they: by begome.
In the warres shall they be destroyed, and they: husbandes shall perishe of hunger.

Or rather,
grete mourninge beginneth:
and so of the other.

O ye ſeruauntes of the Lorde, heare theſe thynges, and marcke them. Beholde, the worde of the Lorde. O receyue it: beholde, the plages drame vpe and are not ſlacke in tarynge. Lyke as a trauaplynge woman which aſter the .ix. moneth bringeth forth a ſonne, when then the bounte of the byrthe ſa come, an houre two of thye afore that the paynes come vpon her bodye, * and when the chyldre cometh to the byrthe, they tarpe not the trowpkyng of an eye: Euen ſo ſhall not the plages be ſlacke to come vpon earth, and the worlde ſhall mouene, and ſozowes ſhall come vpon it on enery ſyde.

O my people; heare my worde, make you ready to the battayle, and in all be euen as pilgrims vpon earth. He þ ſelleth let hym be as he that ſpeth bys war: and he that byeth, as one that wylleſe. Who ſo occupieth marchaundise, as he þ wynneth not: and he that buydeth, as he that ſhall not dwell therein: he that ſometh as one that ſhall not reſpe: he that trowpeth the vnpurſede, as he that ſhall not gather the grapes: they that marry, as they that ſhall get no chyldren: and they that marry not, as the wyddowes: and they that labour, labour in vayne. For ſtraungers ſhall reape their ſcuptes, ſpoyle their goodes, ouerthrow their houſes, and take their chyldren captiue: for in captiuitie and hunger ſhall they get chyldren. And they that occupie their marchaundise with robbery, how longe they decker their cities, their houſes, their poſſeſſions, and perſonnes, the more wyl I puniſhe them for their ſynnes, ſayerh the Lorde. Lyke as an whore couereth an honeſt woman, ſo ſhall ryghtheouſnes haue inquiry, whē ſhe deckerh her ſelfe, * ſhall accuſe her to her face, when he cometh that defendeth, whiche ſhall make inquiry ſcoun for all ſonne vpon earth. And therefore be not ye lyke therunto, nor to the workes thereof: for ouer it be longe, iniquity ſhall be taken away out of the earth, and rightheouſnes ſhall raigne amonge you.

Let not the ſynner ſaye, that he hath not ſynned: for coales of fire ſhall burne vpon his head, whiche ſaith before the Lord God and his glory: I haue not ſynned. * Behold, the Lorde knoweth all the workes of men, theſe Imagynacions, their thoughtes and their heertes. For he ſpake but the worde *: let the earth be made, and it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was made: In his worde were the ſtarrs made, and he knoweth the number of them. He ſearcheth the grounde of the deene, and the treaſures thereof: he hath meaſured the ſea. & what it concerneth. He hath that the ſea in the miſt of the waters, and with his word he hanged the earth vpon the waters. He ſozdereth out the heauē lyke a harp, vpon the waters hath he founded it. In the de-ſerte & dry wyldernes hath he made ſpryngeſ of water, and pooles vpon the toppe of the mountaynes, that the flouds myght poure doun from the ſtony rockes to water the carthe. He made man, and put his bette in the myddle of the bodye, & gaue hym breath, lyfe and vnderſtandynge, rea, and the ſpittle of þ almighty God, whiche made all thynges, and hath ſearched the grounde of all the ſecretes of the earth.

He knoweth your Imagynacions and Intencions, and what ye thynke when ye ſinne; and woulde vnde your ſynnes. Therefore hath the Lorde ſearched and ſought oute all your workes, and he ſhall betraye you all. And when your ſynnes are broughte forth, ye ſhall be aſhamed before me, and your owne ſynnes ſhall be your accuſers in that day. What wyl ye do? O howe wyl ye hyde your ſynnes before God and his Angelles? Beholde, God him ſelfe is the iudge, ſcare hym, leaue of from your ſynnes, and forget your vncyghtrouſneſſes, and meble no more with them: ſo ſhall God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

For beholde, the heate of a greare multitude is kyndled agaynſt you, and they ſhall take away * certayne of you, and fede the idle wyrd the ſidols: and they that conſent vnto the, ſhall be had in deſpicion, laughed to ſcorn and troden vnder ſole.

For vnto the places that ſhal be a place, and in the nexte cyties a greate inſurreccion vpon thoſe that leaue the Lorde. They ſhal be lyke mad menne, they ſhall ſpave no man: they ſhall ſpoyle and waſte ſuche as feare the Lorde: theye goodes ſhall they take frome them, and ſhutte them oute of theye houſes. Then ſhall it be knowne who are my choſen, and they ſhall be tryed as the golde in the fyre. Heare O ye my beloued, ſayerh the Lord, beholde, the daies of trouble are at hande, but I wyl deliuer you from the ſame. Be not ye aſtrayed, byſparye not, for God is your captayne.

Who ſo keepeth my commandementes and preceptes (ſaith the Lord God) lette not your ſinnes weygh you doun, and lette not your vncyghtrouſneſſe be lyfte vp. Who be vnto them that are ſubdued vnto theye ſinnes, and tangeled in there wyckedneſſes, lyke as a felde is hedged in with buſhes, and the parthe thereof cou-ered with thornes, that no man may trauail thowhe:

and ſo is he taken, & caſt
in the fyre, and
brente.

The ende of the.iii.boke of Eſdras.

The

O rather belge.

O rather ſhall not the
to leade idols with all.

Eſd. xvi.
E. Luke. xii. c.
Gene. i. a.
plal. xiii. b.

O ye seruautes of the Lorde, heare these thynges, and marcke them. Beholde, the worde of the Lorde. O receyue it: beholde, the plagues drawe nye and are not slacke in tarynge. Lyke as a trauaplynge woman which asiet the.ii. moneth bringeth forth a sonne, when then the bounte of the byrthe is come, an houre two or thre afore that the paynes come vpon her bodye, * and when the chyldre cometh to the byrthe, they tarpe not the trowpkyng of an eye: Euen so shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon earth, and the worlde shall moue, and sorowes shall come vpon it on enery syde.

O my people; heare my worde, make you ready to the battayle, and in all be euen as pilgrims vpon earth. He þ sellerh let hym be as he that speth bys war: and he that byeth, as one that wyllese. Who so occupieth marchaundise, as he þ wynneth not: and he that buydeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: he that someth as one that shall not reue: he that trowpeth the vnpurde, as he that shall not gather the grapes: they that marry, as they that shall get no chyldren: and they that marry not, as the wyddowes: and they that labour, labour in vayne. For straungers shall reape their frutes, spyle their goodes, ouerthrow their houses, and take their chyldren captiue: for in captiuitie and hunger shall they get chyldren. And they that occupie their marchaundise with robbery, how longe they decker their cities, their houses, their possessions, and personnes, the more wyl I punishe them for their synnes, sayeth the Lorde. Lyke as an whore couereth an honest woman, so shall ryghtheousnes bare iniquity, whē she deckerh her selfe, * shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that defendeth, whiche shall make iniquitye scann for all synne vpon earth. And therefore be not ye lyke therunto, nor to the workes thereof: for ouer it be longe, iniquitye shall be taken away out of the earth, and ryghtheousnes shall reigne amonge you.

Let not the synner saye, that he hath not synned: for coales of fire shall burne vpon his head, whiche sayeth before the Lord God and his glory: I haue not synned. * Behold, the Lorde knoweth all the workes of men, their magnacions, their thoughtes and their heertes. For he spake but the worde *: let the earth be made, and it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was made: In his worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them. He searcheth the grounde of the deene, and the treasures thereof: he hath measured the sea. * what it concerneth. He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and wryth his word he hangeth the earth vpon the waters. He foredoth out the heauē lyke a hart, vpon the waters hath he founded it. In the desserte & dry wyldernes hath he made springes of water, and pooles vpon the toppe of the mountaynes, that the flouds myghte poutre downe from the stony rockes to water the carthe. He made man, and put his bette in the myddle of the bodye, & gaue hym breath, lyfe and vnderstandynge, yea, and the spirite of þ almighty God, whiche made all thynges, and hath searched the grounde of all the secretes of the earth.

He knoweth your magnacions and luccions, and what ye thynke when ye synne; and woulde hyde your synnes. Therefore hath the Lorde searched and soughte oute all your workes, and he shall betraye you all. And when your synnes are broughte forth, ye shall be ashamed before me, and your owne synnes shall be your accusers in that day. What wyl ye do? O howe wyl ye hyde your synnes before God and his Angelles? Beholde, God hym selfe is the iudge, seare hym, leaue of from your synnes, and forget your vncyghtrousnes, and meble no more with them: so shall God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

For beholde, the heate of a greare multitude is kyndled ouer you, and they shall take away * certayne of you, and fede the idle wyrd the idols: and they that consent vnto the, shall be had in derision, laughed to scorn and troden vnder foote.

For vnto the places that shall be a place, and in the nexte cytes a greate insurrection vpon those that leaue the Lorde. They shall be lyke mad menne, they shall spare no man: they shall spyle and waste such as feare the Lorde: theye goodes shall they take frome them, and shute them oute of theye houses. Then shall it be knowne who are my chosen, and they shall be tryed as the golde in the fyre. Heare O ye my beloued, sayeth the Lord, beholde, the daies of trouble are at hande, but I wyl deliuer you from the same. Be not ye afrayed, byspare not, for God is your captayne.

Who so keperh my commandementes and preceptes (saith the Lord God) lette not your synnes weygh you downe, and lette not your vncyghtrousnesse be lyfte vp. Woe be vnto them that are subdured vnto theye synnes, and tangeled in there wyckednesse, lyke as a felde is hedged in with bushes, and the parthe thereof cou-ered with thornes, that no man may tra-

uaille thowhe:
and so is he taken, & cast
in the fyre, and
brente.

The ende of the.iii.boke of Edoas.

O rather
belge.

O rather shall not they so leade idols with all.

Ecc. xxi.
c.
Lu. x. c.
Gene. i. a.
psal. xiii. b.

The Booke of Tobias.

The first Chapter.

Tobias bringe taken prisoner forsaketh not þe law of truth. The mercy & charitie of Tobias, & the maners of hym in his yowthe. He taketh Hannah to wyfe, by who he hath a sonne named Tobias. He socoureth Gabell for monny. He and his are faine to dye, but after the death of Sennacherib they retorne agayne.

The Booke of the bystorres of Tobias, the sonne of Tobie the sonne of Ananiel, the sonne of Abuelis, whiche came of Gabell, of the seede of Israhel, of the tribe of Nephtalim, whiche in þe tyme of Salmana-

1st. cc. xvi.

nasar kynge of the Assyrians, was led prisoner oute of Tyris, which is on þe righte hande of Lades Nephtalim in Galilee, whiche aboute Aser. I Tobias all þe tyme of my lyf, wente in the waie of vertue and iustice, and bestowed manie thynges bothe tyllfully upon the bretheren of my nacion which came wryth me to Ninive, that is in the lande of Assyria. For whē I was in my tēte in the lande of Israhel, being yet but a yonge man, & al my fathers tribe Nephtalim was fallen from þe temple of his Hierusalem, whiche among al the tribes of Israhel was chosen out to sacrifice, where the temple, the house of the best was bestowed and builded to stand for ever. And when al the tribes þe fel away wryth the dyd sacrifice unto the yfge herfat of Baal, whiche

1st. cc. xvi. f

Jeroboam the kynge of Israhel had set up: yea & my fathers house Nephtalim also I only (as it was prescribed by the commaundement of God) unto all the people of Israhel, came often tymes to Hierusalem, bringynge my & my frutes, and tēches of my frutes: even wryth all that, that was spyt home: and did offer those thynges at the altare unto the priestes, the chyldren of Aaron. I gaue the spyt tēches of all my frutes to the priestes that came of Aaron, that mynistred at Hierusalem, the second I sold. And when I had done at Hierusalem, I went furthe and gaue theym in almes euery yere, and

1st. cc. xvi. f
and. xvi. f
Deu. xvi. a xviii. a xxvi. a

the thyde I gaue there, as it was conuenient, as I had in commaundement of Debboia my fathers mother, when I was left of my father a pupil and yonge lunge, under tuition and other mennes gouernaunce. But when I was waten a manne, takinge to wyfe Anna, & of the stocke of my kynred, I begate of her Tobias, and enen from his infancy I

1st. cc. xvi. f

The. i. Chapter.

taughte hym to reuerence God, and to abstayne from all synne. And when I was ledde prisoner to Ninive wryth my wyfe and al my tribe, al the bretheren of my kynred eatynge of the meate & of the Wynter, yet forbare I my pleasure, and ate not wryth them, because wryth all my wyte & I loued the religion of God. And therefore the best made me in greate fauoure wryth Salmanasar, in somuch, that he made me his carer, and gaue me licence to go whithet so euer I wold, and do what I lyst. And I wēt vnto some of my felowes that were in captiuitie, and instructed theym wryth holle monitions: And goynge into Media to Gabell Gabrias brother, (whom among many of my kynred, and also one of my tribe, I sawe had greate neede) I lent hym the ten talentes of siluer, whiche I had receyued as an honorable rewarde of the kynge, and toke a byl of his hande. Afterward when Salmanasar was dead, his sonne Sennacherib succeeded hym, in whose troublous tyme, I coulde not go into Media. Yet in the tymes of Salmanasar I vied much libetallite to my bretheren, I fed the hongry and clothed the naked: and if I sawe any of my kynred dead, and caste about the walles of Ninive, I buryed hym. And if Sennacherib had kyled any (for in his tyme he kyled many) what tyme God punished him for his blasphemie when he had fled from Ninive, and was come home agayne, & I buryed them: that when their carcases were sought for of the kynge, they shoulde not be found. But when one of the Ninuites had shewed the kynge that I buryed them, I had my selfe: and when I knewe they sought for me, to kyll me, for feare I fled. So al my goodes were take away, & I had nothyng lefte me, save my wyfe Anna, & my sone Tobias. But on euer fifty dayes were past, bys two sonnes kyled hym. So when I had fled into the mountaynes Acarath, Sarchadonus, whiche succeeded hym in his kyngdome, made Achibachas my brother Aniels son, chyef auditor of all his fathers accomptes, and bys fathers steward. And when Achibachas had made peticion for me, I came agayne to Ninive: for Achibachas was bys cup bearer, and of bys signet, bys receiver, and bygh steward. and had made Sarchadonus my brothers sone vnder hym.

1st. Reg. 11. 8
2d. Reg. 11. 8
1st. Reg. 11. 8

The second Chapter.

Tobias biddeh Luche of his frendes as frendes God to a banquet feaste. He is reppoynd of his frendes. He feareth God more the the kynge. He becometh blinde by the petytion and fustillace of god his kynfolke he moche hym.

Afterwardes whē I was com home & my wyfe Anna, & my sonne also Tobias was restored vnto me, by the solempne feaste of Penthecost, which is the is the holre daye of seuen weekes, when I had prepared a good feaste, I sat downe to meate. And haupnge inoughe, I sayed unto my sonne: go call euery poore one of our bretheren, that thou canst fynde, whiche loueth the Lord: and so I wyltarye in the meane tyme vntyll thou comest agayne.

And he wente, and when he was come a-gayne, he sayed: O father one of our brethren is dead in the streete. Then I ordered I hadde eaten any meate lefte by,
and toke hym awaye and hydde hym in myne house vntyll the sunne was downe, and afterwarde I came agayne, and was shed with mournynge, I remembred the prophecie of Amos whome he had sayed: Your solemne feastes shalbe turned into mournynge, and all your ioyes into lamentacions. So after the sunne was downe, I wente mournynge, and I made a graue and put hym in it. Then sayed my neygh-bours in scoone: This felow feareth not (sayeth he) to be kylled for this ded, whiche aloughe he fled: yet loo, he buryeth this agayne. Yet I fearynge God more then the kynge, stole awaye priuely the bodye of hym that was slayne, and bydynge thym in my house, buryed thym at mydnighte. And the same night commynge all berailed from the burpall, when I had layed me downe at home to slepe by the wal side my face uncoverd, the wallowes whiche were in the wal and I knew not, lee-fel their tohor dung vpon mine open eyes, so that soone growynge in them, I went vnto the physicians: but they could not help, and I fell bynd. With this temptacion byd the Lord suffer Tobie to be in scopady, to shewe example of patience to them that came after, as he byd of that holy man Job: for in somuche as he euer feared God from his yowth up, and kept his commaundementes, he was not angry with God that the plage of God chaunced vnto hym, but remayned cheerefull in the feate of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his lyfe. For lyke as riche men mocked Job, so byd his cosens and kynse folke mocke hym, sayinge: where is thy hope, in the whiche thou hast done almost and buryed the deade? But Tobias rebuked them, sayinge: Speake no such thyngges, for we are the chyldren of holy men, and looke for the lyfe whiche God shall geue vnto them that neuer tourne theire helpes from hym. Also Achiorachus found me meate vntyll I wente to Elphatida.
Anna my wyfe worked byed womens workes, labourynge as muche as shee myghte to gette her luyuge: and when she had sente home the worke to the masters, and receyued monye, they gaue her also a kid. which when it was come to me and began to bleat, from whence cometh this kidde sayd I? As it is stolen: Restore it to the masters, for we may not eat of that is stolen. And my wyfe sayed, it was giuen her aboue her hye. But I beleuyng her not, commaunded it shuld be deliuered to the owners, and was ashamed for her. Job. ii.

Then she answered, sayinge. * Where are betwixt thy great almes, and thy lust bedes? Lo how they be nowe scne in the?
With these and such lyke wordes byd she call me in the tethe.

The.iii. Chapter.

The prayer of Tobias. Sara the daughter of Raguel is lauded of her fathers seruantes.
The prayer and fasting of Sara, and also the innocency and chastite of her. The prayers of Tobias and Sara are heard.

Then Tobias tokett heuely, and sorrowful and wepyng, made his prayere thus: Just art thou O Lord, and all thy dedes, and wayes, ar mercy & helth, and thou makest thy iudgement sound and iust for euer. Remember me, and haue pittie vpon me: punish me not for my synnes and errors of myne, or my forefathers, for we haue sinned in thy sighte. For we haue stopped our eares at thy commaundementes. Therefore are we spoyled and broughte into cap-tivitye, to deathe & perdition & a home vnto all nacions amonge whome thou hast scattered vs. And nowe many luste caused hast thou to deale with me accordynge to my synnes & to syns of my parentes, because we haue not kept thy commaundementes, neether ordred oure selues puretye before the.

Therefore do nowe wme after thyne omyne Dr. x. v. l. l. wyl, and commaunde my spirite to bee take awaye frome me, that I maye departe, and be resolued into earth. For better it were for me to be deade, then lyue, for I haue herd vnbrynges vnto my help, and I am in greete heauines. Commaunde me nowe to go out of these panges into rest euerlas-tyng, and touche not thy face from me.
And the same tyme it happened, that Sara the daughter of Raguel at Ecbatana whiche is in Media, suffered muche rebuke of her fathers maidens: For that she had be-marrd to leue me, & Ananias that deuyll had kylled them or euer they had lpen with them after the maner of a marrd wyfe.

So when she rebuked a certen mayden for her sake, why, quoth she: dost thou not knowe that thou hast kylled thy husbandes? Thou hast had seuen men, and yet wast thou not named after one. Why beatest thou vs for them or wyle thou kyl vs as thou hast done thy leue husbandes?
When she herd these wordes, she was mer-uelous so, in so much that she thought to strangle her self: yet sayd she: I am my fathers only daughter, and yf I shuld so do, it wold be grete shame to hym: & I shuld lead his olde age to death with heauines.
And she gat her vp into an hye garret of her house, & neither eat nor drake. iii. dayes, nor the nightes: but continyng in prayer she prayed vnto god with teares, to deliuer her from this slander. And the xij. day

DD. i. ending

Am. i. vii. b
ii. d. i. d.

To. i. d.

Dea. xii. d.

The booke of Tobie

ending her prayer & praising God, & making her prayer by to the window, she sayed: O my Lord God worthy art thou to be prayed, and glorious is thy maiestie holy and noble, and to be prayed for ever, whiche althoughe thou be anger, yet shewest thou thy selfe mercifull, and wilt me call in tyme of affliction to geue out synnes. All thy workes praise the for ever. Behold now, O Lord, I haue fastened myne eyes and countenance vpon the, I may no more becauise in þe tresh. Thou knowest Lord that I haue kept me cleane from all synnyng with man, and that I haue kept my mynde from all concupiscence, and that I haue despyled neither my name, nor yet my fathers, while I was in captiuitie. I neuer kept companye with those that passe their tyme in spoyle, neither was I companion with light persons. In husband haue I consecrated to take, not for pleasure but in thy feare, and ether I was worthy for them, or they vniuerse for me, because peraduenture thou hast kepte me to another maner: for whyle thy counsaile is not in the power of man. But thy may euery man be sure of that worshyppe the, if his lyfe be good that he shall be crowned, and deliuered in his affliction: and if he will amend his lyfe, he shall be pardoned of the. For thou delightest not in our destruction, but after tempest sendest saye whether, and after teares, gladnes. Praised be thy name O Lord God of Israel for ever. I am my fathers only daughter, neither hath he any man chyld to be his heire, no nor yet any brother or brothers, whose wyfe I myght be. He is alrede be dead: why did I lyue? And if thou thyselfe it not good that I shulddye, haue regarde vnto me: and lette me be sounde no more. Both these folkes prayes beinge herd of þe maiestie of the grete God, Raphael was sent vnto them bothe to help them, to Tobie to put awaye his blyndenes, to Sara Raguels daughter, that Tobias shuld geue her as myfe vnto his sonne Tobias, and to bynd þe deuel Imdrus, because he shuld haue Tobias. The same tyme Tobias came agayne, and wente into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raguel came down from the hye loft of the garret.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Tobias the praynge to hye, geue a godly exhortacion and monicion to his sonne.

The same tyme Tobias remembered that he had let money to Gabael at wages in the land of Media, and sayed with himselfe: I haue besteed for death, why do I not call my sonne Tobias & geue him good monicion before I dye? And when he had called him, he sayd vnto him: hearkne my sonne what I wil say, and lay in thy wordes in thy heart as a foundation. My sonne when I am dead bury me, and after despyse not thy mother, but

The. iiii. Chapter.

* honour her all the dayes of thy lyfe, and do to please her, and not to displease her. Exod. i. Eccl. vii. My sonne remember how great perils she suffered beinge the in her womb? And when she is dead, bury her in the same graue by me. So me, reuerence our Lord god at all tyme, * spenne not, nor breake nor his com- Rom vi. mandements, but loue verue all the dayes of thy lyfe, and walke not in the wayes of wickednes. For whyle thou studrest B for vertue, thou shalt haue good successe in al that thou goest about: and so shalt al they haue that loue godnes. * Do almoste of thy substance, and be not scante in doinge of it: Turne not thy face away from any poore man, as thou wouldest that god shuld not turne away his from the. Eccl. xiii. b. Eccl. xiii. c. Eccl. xiii. d. Eccl. xiii. e. Eccl. xiii. f. Eccl. xiii. g. Eccl. xiii. h. Eccl. xiii. i. Eccl. xiii. j. Eccl. xiii. k. Eccl. xiii. l. Eccl. xiii. m. Eccl. xiii. n. Eccl. xiii. o. Eccl. xiii. p. Eccl. xiii. q. Eccl. xiii. r. Eccl. xiii. s. Eccl. xiii. t. Eccl. xiii. u. Eccl. xiii. v. Eccl. xiii. w. Eccl. xiii. x. Eccl. xiii. y. Eccl. xiii. z. Eccl. xiii. aa. Eccl. xiii. ab. Eccl. xiii. ac. Eccl. xiii. ad. Eccl. xiii. ae. Eccl. xiii. af. Eccl. xiii. ag. Eccl. xiii. ah. Eccl. xiii. ai. Eccl. xiii. aj. Eccl. xiii. ak. Eccl. xiii. al. Eccl. xiii. am. Eccl. xiii. an. Eccl. xiii. ao. Eccl. xiii. ap. Eccl. xiii. aq. Eccl. xiii. ar. Eccl. xiii. as. Eccl. xiii. at. Eccl. xiii. au. Eccl. xiii. av. Eccl. xiii. aw. Eccl. xiii. ax. Eccl. xiii. ay. Eccl. xiii. az. Eccl. xiii. ba. Eccl. xiii. bb. Eccl. xiii. bc. Eccl. xiii. bd. Eccl. xiii. be. Eccl. xiii. bf. Eccl. xiii. bg. Eccl. xiii. bh. Eccl. xiii. bi. Eccl. xiii. bj. Eccl. xiii. bk. Eccl. xiii. bl. Eccl. xiii. bm. Eccl. xiii. bn. Eccl. xiii. bo. Eccl. xiii. bp. Eccl. xiii. bq. Eccl. xiii. br. Eccl. xiii. bs. Eccl. xiii. bt. Eccl. xiii. bu. Eccl. xiii. bv. Eccl. xiii. bw. Eccl. xiii. bx. Eccl. xiii. by. Eccl. xiii. bz. Eccl. xiii. ca. Eccl. xiii. cb. Eccl. xiii. cc. Eccl. xiii. cd. Eccl. xiii. ce. Eccl. xiii. cf. Eccl. xiii. cg. Eccl. xiii. ch. Eccl. xiii. ci. Eccl. xiii. cj. Eccl. xiii. ck. Eccl. xiii. cl. Eccl. xiii. cm. Eccl. xiii. cn. Eccl. xiii. co. Eccl. xiii. cp. Eccl. xiii. cq. Eccl. xiii. cr. Eccl. xiii. cs. Eccl. xiii. ct. Eccl. xiii. cu. Eccl. xiii. cv. Eccl. xiii. cw. Eccl. xiii. cx. Eccl. xiii. cy. Eccl. xiii. cz. Eccl. xiii. da. Eccl. xiii. db. Eccl. xiii. dc. Eccl. xiii. dd. Eccl. xiii. de. Eccl. xiii. df. Eccl. xiii. dg. Eccl. xiii. dh. Eccl. xiii. di. Eccl. xiii. dj. Eccl. xiii. dk. Eccl. xiii. dl. Eccl. xiii. dm. Eccl. xiii. dn. Eccl. xiii. do. Eccl. xiii. dp. Eccl. xiii. dq. Eccl. xiii. dr. Eccl. xiii. ds. Eccl. xiii. dt. Eccl. xiii. du. Eccl. xiii. dv. Eccl. xiii. dw. Eccl. xiii. dx. Eccl. xiii. dy. Eccl. xiii. dz. Eccl. xiii. ea. Eccl. xiii. eb. Eccl. xiii. ec. Eccl. xiii. ed. Eccl. xiii. ee. Eccl. xiii. ef. Eccl. xiii. eg. Eccl. xiii. eh. Eccl. xiii. ei. Eccl. xiii. ej. Eccl. xiii. ek. Eccl. xiii. el. Eccl. xiii. em. Eccl. xiii. en. Eccl. xiii. eo. Eccl. xiii. ep. Eccl. xiii. eq. Eccl. xiii. er. Eccl. xiii. es. Eccl. xiii. et. Eccl. xiii. eu. Eccl. xiii. ev. Eccl. xiii. ew. Eccl. xiii. ex. Eccl. xiii. ey. Eccl. xiii. ez. Eccl. xiii. fa. Eccl. xiii. fb. Eccl. xiii. fc. Eccl. xiii. fd. Eccl. xiii. fe. Eccl. xiii. ff. Eccl. xiii. fg. Eccl. xiii. fh. Eccl. xiii. fi. Eccl. xiii. fj. Eccl. xiii. fk. Eccl. xiii. fl. Eccl. xiii. fm. Eccl. xiii. fn. Eccl. xiii. fo. Eccl. xiii. fp. Eccl. xiii. fq. Eccl. xiii. fr. Eccl. xiii. fs. Eccl. xiii. ft. Eccl. xiii. fu. Eccl. xiii. fv. Eccl. xiii. fw. Eccl. xiii. fx. Eccl. xiii. fy. Eccl. xiii. fz. Eccl. xiii. ga. Eccl. xiii. gb. Eccl. xiii. gc. Eccl. xiii. gd. Eccl. xiii. ge. Eccl. xiii. gf. Eccl. xiii. gg. Eccl. xiii. gh. Eccl. xiii. gi. Eccl. xiii. gj. Eccl. xiii. gk. Eccl. xiii. gl. Eccl. xiii. gm. Eccl. xiii. gn. Eccl. xiii. go. Eccl. xiii. gp. Eccl. xiii. gq. Eccl. xiii. gr. Eccl. xiii. gs. Eccl. xiii. gt. Eccl. xiii. gu. Eccl. xiii. gv. Eccl. xiii. gw. Eccl. xiii. gx. Eccl. xiii. gy. Eccl. xiii. gz. Eccl. xiii. ha. Eccl. xiii. hb. Eccl. xiii. hc. Eccl. xiii. hd. Eccl. xiii. he. Eccl. xiii. hf. Eccl. xiii. hg. Eccl. xiii. hh. Eccl. xiii. hi. Eccl. xiii. hj. Eccl. xiii. hk. Eccl. xiii. hl. Eccl. xiii. hm. Eccl. xiii. hn. Eccl. xiii. ho. Eccl. xiii. hp. Eccl. xiii. hq. Eccl. xiii. hr. Eccl. xiii. hs. Eccl. xiii. ht. Eccl. xiii. hu. Eccl. xiii. hv. Eccl. xiii. hw. Eccl. xiii. hx. Eccl. xiii. hy. Eccl. xiii. hz. Eccl. xiii. ia. Eccl. xiii. ib. Eccl. xiii. ic. Eccl. xiii. id. Eccl. xiii. ie. Eccl. xiii. if. Eccl. xiii. ig. Eccl. xiii. ih. Eccl. xiii. ii. Eccl. xiii. ij. Eccl. xiii. ik. Eccl. xiii. il. Eccl. xiii. im. Eccl. xiii. in. Eccl. xiii. io. Eccl. xiii. ip. Eccl. xiii. iq. Eccl. xiii. ir. Eccl. xiii. is. Eccl. xiii. it. Eccl. xiii. iu. Eccl. xiii. iv. Eccl. xiii. iw. Eccl. xiii. ix. Eccl. xiii. iy. Eccl. xiii. iz. Eccl. xiii. ja. Eccl. xiii. jb. Eccl. xiii. jc. Eccl. xiii. jd. Eccl. xiii. je. Eccl. xiii. jf. Eccl. xiii. jg. Eccl. xiii. jh. Eccl. xiii. ji. Eccl. xiii. jj. Eccl. xiii. jk. Eccl. xiii. jl. Eccl. xiii. jm. Eccl. xiii. jn. Eccl. xiii. jo. Eccl. xiii. jp. Eccl. xiii. jq. Eccl. xiii. jr. Eccl. xiii. js. Eccl. xiii. jt. Eccl. xiii. ju. Eccl. xiii. jv. Eccl. xiii. jw. Eccl. xiii. jx. Eccl. xiii. jy. Eccl. xiii. jz. Eccl. xiii. ka. Eccl. xiii. kb. Eccl. xiii. kc. Eccl. xiii. kd. Eccl. xiii. ke. Eccl. xiii. kf. Eccl. xiii. kg. Eccl. xiii. kh. Eccl. xiii. ki. Eccl. xiii. kj. Eccl. xiii. kk. Eccl. xiii. kl. Eccl. xiii. km. Eccl. xiii. kn. Eccl. xiii. ko. Eccl. xiii. kp. Eccl. xiii. kq. Eccl. xiii. kr. Eccl. xiii. ks. Eccl. xiii. kt. Eccl. xiii. ku. Eccl. xiii. kv. Eccl. xiii. kw. Eccl. xiii. kx. Eccl. xiii. ky. Eccl. xiii. kz. Eccl. xiii. la. Eccl. xiii. lb. Eccl. xiii. lc. Eccl. xiii. ld. Eccl. xiii. le. Eccl. xiii. lf. Eccl. xiii. lg. Eccl. xiii. lh. Eccl. xiii. li. Eccl. xiii. lj. Eccl. xiii. lk. Eccl. xiii. ll. Eccl. xiii. lm. Eccl. xiii. ln. Eccl. xiii. lo. Eccl. xiii. lp. Eccl. xiii. lq. Eccl. xiii. lr. Eccl. xiii. ls. Eccl. xiii. lt. Eccl. xiii. lu. Eccl. xiii. lv. Eccl. xiii. lw. Eccl. xiii. lx. Eccl. xiii. ly. Eccl. xiii. lz. Eccl. xiii. ma. Eccl. xiii. mb. Eccl. xiii. mc. Eccl. xiii. md. Eccl. xiii. me. Eccl. xiii. mf. Eccl. xiii. mg. Eccl. xiii. mh. Eccl. xiii. mi. Eccl. xiii. mj. Eccl. xiii. mk. Eccl. xiii. ml. Eccl. xiii. mm. Eccl. xiii. mn. Eccl. xiii. mo. Eccl. xiii. mp. Eccl. xiii. mq. Eccl. xiii. mr. Eccl. xiii. ms. Eccl. xiii. mt. Eccl. xiii. mu. Eccl. xiii. mv. Eccl. xiii. mw. Eccl. xiii. mx. Eccl. xiii. my. Eccl. xiii. mz. Eccl. xiii. na. Eccl. xiii. nb. Eccl. xiii. nc. Eccl. xiii. nd. Eccl. xiii. ne. Eccl. xiii. nf. Eccl. xiii. ng. Eccl. xiii. nh. Eccl. xiii. ni. Eccl. xiii. nj. Eccl. xiii. nk. Eccl. xiii. nl. Eccl. xiii. nm. Eccl. xiii. nn. Eccl. xiii. no. Eccl. xiii. np. Eccl. xiii. nq. Eccl. xiii. nr. Eccl. xiii. ns. Eccl. xiii. nt. Eccl. xiii. nu. Eccl. xiii. nv. Eccl. xiii. nw. Eccl. xiii. nx. Eccl. xiii. ny. Eccl. xiii. nz. Eccl. xiii. oa. Eccl. xiii. ob. Eccl. xiii. oc. Eccl. xiii. od. Eccl. xiii. oe. Eccl. xiii. of. Eccl. xiii. og. Eccl. xiii. oh. Eccl. xiii. oi. Eccl. xiii. oj. Eccl. xiii. ok. Eccl. xiii. ol. Eccl. xiii. om. Eccl. xiii. on. Eccl. xiii. oo. Eccl. xiii. op. Eccl. xiii. oq. Eccl. xiii. or. Eccl. xiii. os. Eccl. xiii. ot. Eccl. xiii. ou. Eccl. xiii. ov. Eccl. xiii. ow. Eccl. xiii. ox. Eccl. xiii. oy. Eccl. xiii. oz. Eccl. xiii. pa. Eccl. xiii. pb. Eccl. xiii. pc. Eccl. xiii. pd. Eccl. xiii. pe. Eccl. xiii. pf. Eccl. xiii. pg. Eccl. xiii. ph. Eccl. xiii. pi. Eccl. xiii. pj. Eccl. xiii. pk. Eccl. xiii. pl. Eccl. xiii. pm. Eccl. xiii. pn. Eccl. xiii. po. Eccl. xiii. pp. Eccl. xiii. pq. Eccl. xiii. pr. Eccl. xiii. ps. Eccl. xiii. pt. Eccl. xiii. pu. Eccl. xiii. pv. Eccl. xiii. pw. Eccl. xiii. px. Eccl. xiii. py. Eccl. xiii. pz. Eccl. xiii. qa. Eccl. xiii. qb. Eccl. xiii. qc. Eccl. xiii. qd. Eccl. xiii. qe. Eccl. xiii. qf. Eccl. xiii. qg. Eccl. xiii. qh. Eccl. xiii. qi. Eccl. xiii. qj. Eccl. xiii. qk. Eccl. xiii. ql. Eccl. xiii. qm. Eccl. xiii. qn. Eccl. xiii. qo. Eccl. xiii. qp. Eccl. xiii. qq. Eccl. xiii. qr. Eccl. xiii. qs. Eccl. xiii. qt. Eccl. xiii. qu. Eccl. xiii. qv. Eccl. xiii. qw. Eccl. xiii. qx. Eccl. xiii. qy. Eccl. xiii. qz. Eccl. xiii. ra. Eccl. xiii. rb. Eccl. xiii. rc. Eccl. xiii. rd. Eccl. xiii. re. Eccl. xiii. rf. Eccl. xiii. rg. Eccl. xiii. rh. Eccl. xiii. ri. Eccl. xiii. rj. Eccl. xiii. rk. Eccl. xiii. rl. Eccl. xiii. rm. Eccl. xiii. rn. Eccl. xiii. ro. Eccl. xiii. rp. Eccl. xiii. rq. Eccl. xiii. rr. Eccl. xiii. rs. Eccl. xiii. rt. Eccl. xiii. ru. Eccl. xiii. rv. Eccl. xiii. rw. Eccl. xiii. rx. Eccl. xiii. ry. Eccl. xiii. rz. Eccl. xiii. sa. Eccl. xiii. sb. Eccl. xiii. sc. Eccl. xiii. sd. Eccl. xiii. se. Eccl. xiii. sf. Eccl. xiii. sg. Eccl. xiii. sh. Eccl. xiii. si. Eccl. xiii. sj. Eccl. xiii. sk. Eccl. xiii. sl. Eccl. xiii. sm. Eccl. xiii. sn. Eccl. xiii. so. Eccl. xiii. sp. Eccl. xiii. sq. Eccl. xiii. sr. Eccl. xiii. ss. Eccl. xiii. st. Eccl. xiii. su. Eccl. xiii. sv. Eccl. xiii. sw. Eccl. xiii. sx. Eccl. xiii. sy. Eccl. xiii. sz. Eccl. xiii. ta. Eccl. xiii. tb. Eccl. xiii. tc. Eccl. xiii. td. Eccl. xiii. te. Eccl. xiii. tf. Eccl. xiii. tg. Eccl. xiii. th. Eccl. xiii. ti. Eccl. xiii. tj. Eccl. xiii. tk. Eccl. xiii. tl. Eccl. xiii. tm. Eccl. xiii. tn. Eccl. xiii. to. Eccl. xiii. tp. Eccl. xiii. tq. Eccl. xiii. tr. Eccl. xiii. ts. Eccl. xiii. tt. Eccl. xiii. tu. Eccl. xiii. tv. Eccl. xiii. tw. Eccl. xiii. tx. Eccl. xiii. ty. Eccl. xiii. tz. Eccl. xiii. ua. Eccl. xiii. ub. Eccl. xiii. uc. Eccl. xiii. ud. Eccl. xiii. ue. Eccl. xiii. uf. Eccl. xiii. ug. Eccl. xiii. uh. Eccl. xiii. ui. Eccl. xiii. uj. Eccl. xiii. uk. Eccl. xiii. ul. Eccl. xiii. um. Eccl. xiii. un. Eccl. xiii. uo. Eccl. xiii. up. Eccl. xiii. uq. Eccl. xiii. ur. Eccl. xiii. us. Eccl. xiii. ut. Eccl. xiii. uu. Eccl. xiii. uv. Eccl. xiii. uw. Eccl. xiii. ux. Eccl. xiii. uy. Eccl. xiii. uz. Eccl. xiii. va. Eccl. xiii. vb. Eccl. xiii. vc. Eccl. xiii. vd. Eccl. xiii. ve. Eccl. xiii. vf. Eccl. xiii. vg. Eccl. xiii. vh. Eccl. xiii. vi. Eccl. xiii. vj. Eccl. xiii. vk. Eccl. xiii. vl. Eccl. xiii. vm. Eccl. xiii. vn. Eccl. xiii. vo. Eccl. xiii. vp. Eccl. xiii. vq. Eccl. xiii. vr. Eccl. xiii. vs. Eccl. xiii. vt. Eccl. xiii. vu. Eccl. xiii. vv. Eccl. xiii. vw. Eccl. xiii. vx. Eccl. xiii. vy. Eccl. xiii. vz. Eccl. xiii. wa. Eccl. xiii. wb. Eccl. xiii. wc. Eccl. xiii. wd. Eccl. xiii. we. Eccl. xiii. wf. Eccl. xiii. wg. Eccl. xiii. wh. Eccl. xiii. wi. Eccl. xiii. wj. Eccl. xiii. wk. Eccl. xiii. wl. Eccl. xiii. wm. Eccl. xiii. wn. Eccl. xiii. wo. Eccl. xiii. wp. Eccl. xiii. wq. Eccl. xiii. wr. Eccl. xiii. ws. Eccl. xiii. wt. Eccl. xiii. wu. Eccl. xiii. wv. Eccl. xiii. ww. Eccl. xiii. wx. Eccl. xiii. wy. Eccl. xiii. wz. Eccl. xiii. xa. Eccl. xiii. xb. Eccl. xiii. xc. Eccl. xiii. xd. Eccl. xiii. xe. Eccl. xiii. xf. Eccl. xiii. xg. Eccl. xiii. xh. Eccl. xiii. xi. Eccl. xiii. xj. Eccl. xiii. xk. Eccl. xiii. xl. Eccl. xiii. xm. Eccl. xiii. xn. Eccl. xiii. xo. Eccl. xiii. xp. Eccl. xiii. xq. Eccl. xiii. xr. Eccl. xiii. xs. Eccl. xiii. xt. Eccl. xiii. xu. Eccl. xiii. xv. Eccl. xiii. xw. Eccl. xiii. xx. Eccl. xiii. xy. Eccl. xiii. xz. Eccl. xiii. ya. Eccl. xiii. yb. Eccl. xiii. yc. Eccl. xiii. yd. Eccl. xiii. ye. Eccl. xiii. yf. Eccl. xiii. yg. Eccl. xiii. yh. Eccl. xiii. yi. Eccl. xiii. yj. Eccl. xiii. yk. Eccl. xiii. yl. Eccl. xiii. ym. Eccl. xiii. yn. Eccl. xiii. yo. Eccl. xiii. yp. Eccl. xiii. yq. Eccl. xiii. yr. Eccl. xiii. ys. Eccl. xiii. yt. Eccl. xiii. yu. Eccl. xiii. yv. Eccl. xiii. yw. Eccl. xiii. yx. Eccl. xiii. yy. Eccl. xiii. yz. Eccl. xiii. za. Eccl. xiii. zb. Eccl. xiii. zc. Eccl. xiii. zd. Eccl. xiii. ze. Eccl. xiii. zf. Eccl. xiii. zg. Eccl. xiii. zh. Eccl. xiii. zi. Eccl. xiii. zj. Eccl. xiii. zk. Eccl. xiii. zl. Eccl. xiii. zm. Eccl. xiii. zn. Eccl. xiii. zo. Eccl. xiii. zp. Eccl. xiii. zq. Eccl. xiii. zr. Eccl. xiii. zs. Eccl. xiii. zt. Eccl. xiii. zu. Eccl. xiii. zv. Eccl. xiii. zw. Eccl. xiii. zx. Eccl. xiii. zy. Eccl. xiii. zz.

Therefore

Tobi. ix. d.

Therefore my sonne remember my preceptes, and put them not out of thy moude.
Of * thyss also my sonne I thought to tel the, that when thou wast yet but a chylde, I deliuered .x. talentes of syluer vnto Sabelus Gabrias brother at Ragas a cytye of Medes, and his hande wytyng haue I by me. And therefore seke some meanes how thou mayest come by hym, and when thou hast receyued of hym þe sayd weyght of syluer, gyue him his hande, wytyng a-gayne. My sonne be not afrayed that we leade a poore lyf: for I feare God & studie to please * hym, thou hast goods enough.

Ro. vii. d.

The .v. Chapter.

The obedyence of yonge Tobias to his father, whiche is sent into Ragas. An aungel accompanieth hym in his iourney.

A

Then answered Tobias and sayed: father al that thou hast commaunded me wyl I do, but some thal I gettys syluer, se-ing I know him not. What token thal I gyue him? Then sayd his father: I haue a bil of his hand wylch me, asone as þe shal shew it hym, he wil pay the mony: And so he gaue hym his hande wytyng. So thy way now and seke some man to go with the, whylest I am alyue, for I wyl paye hym his byre: and go & fetch thy mony. So when he was gone to seke one, he founde Raphael standyng in the strete, a goodlye yong man gydded up, and as he wet redy to go: whom not knowyng to be an angel, he spake vnto and sayd: Goud yonge man from whence comest thou? And he sayd, from the sonnes of Israel. Tobias arood by my agyon. May I haue thy company as farre as Ragas, whiche is in Media? or know you those quarters? Then sayd the angell, I wyl go with the: I know that way and haue gone thither oft, and haue dwelled wythout brother Gabael, which dwelleth at Ragas, that is a cytye of the Medes stading on the mount Echarans.
Then sayd Tobias: tary me tyl I thewe my father. Then sayde he: go thy wayes and tary not. So he went in, and thewed his father al the matter. Too father quod he, I haue founde one to goo wylch me. The he matueplynge, sayed: Cal him vnto me, that I may knowe of what tribe he is, and whether he be a faythfull companion or not. So when he was called & come in, and that he had salute dorbet, the yong man sayed: Syr euerlastyng love moughte you haue. And Tobias sayed: what toy can I haue, whē I sit in darkenes, and may not se the lyghte of þe heauē? And the yong mā sayd: be of good chere, for the tyme wyl come shortly when you shal be healed of God. Further Tobias arood him: Can you bryng me sen to Gabael, as farre as Ra-gas, a cytye of Media, and when you come agayne I wyl gyue you your byre? The aungell answered. Merely I wyl bryng hym thither, and bryng him to the agayne.

Tobias arood hym agayne: Of what tribe or stock art thou come, tel me. And he sayed doest thou seke for a tyebe or famillye, or an hyperlyng to goo thyss iourne wyth thy sonne? Then sayed Tobias: Brother I wolde sayne know thy kynred, and thy name. Then sayed he: To put the oute of care and doute, I come of the kynred of Azarcas, and the greate Ananias, thy brethe. Then sayde Tobias, wel mought thou seke for thy companyng byther, and be not angry wyth me, because I arood of thy kynred and famillye. Merely thou arte my brother, come of a good and honest kynred.

For I knew Ananias & Monathas, sounes of the greate Samaias, euen then when I went together with them to Hierusalem to do woithpye, and to consecrate my frylings, and offer vp the tentres of my frutes: for they had forgottē their co-sens. Brother thou arte come of a greate stocke. But tell me what I shal gyue the, or wylt thou haue a grete a day wylch necessaries, such as my sonne hath? but if you come home agayne safe, I wyl double thy byre. The angell sayed vnto hym agayne.

I wyl leade out and bryng home agayne thy sonne safe. Whē they wet thus agreed, he sayed vnto Tobias: Make thy self redy to go, and God send you good spede.
So his sonne prepared all thynges necessary for his iourney, and badde both his father and mother farewell. And his father sayd: Thou shalt go wylch this man, but God that dwelleth in heaueu prosper your iourney, and his aungell be in your company. So when they were both gone on their iourney, and the yong mannes dog wylch them, Anna his mother wept & chyd wylch Tobias, sayyng: why hast thou sent our sonne away, was * he not the staffe of our hand to leade vs to and from? Syluer wold not haue come to syluer, but yet for our saynes sake, we shou'd not haue cared for it. For as muche as God hath geuen vs to lyue on that is sufficiente for vs, & we shoulde haue thoughte the syght of our son our tyebe. Then sayd Tobias: my sister be not pensyfe, he shal come home safe, and thynne eyes shal se hym. For he hath a good aungel that is in his company, and after a prosperous iourney shal retourne safe. Then at these wordes the mother of yong manne, made an ende of wepyng and geide her peace.

Tobi. x. d.

The .vi. Chapter.

Yong Tobias is deliuered from the fythe by the aungel. The aungel exhorteth Tobias, to take Sara to his wyfe.

Also they wet forth on their iourney, & at euē came to the cytye Egetis, & there abode.
And when the yonge mā was gane downe to washe him, an horrible grete fythe lept out of the cytye, wold haue deuoured him, whē Tobias fea-ringe,

DD. H.

rynge, cryed with a loude voyce, sayinge: Lo, he be commeth vpon me. And the angel said vnto hym: take the fythe by the gill, & draw him to thee. And so he caughte the fythe, and caste hym vpon the lande, and he lept at hys fete. And the angel said to hym agayne: bowell the fythe, and take the harte and the lyuer and the gall, and laye them asyde safe, for they serue for a good medecyne. And þ yong man did as the angel commaunded: & they roasted the fish & eat, & part they toke with the in their iourne, & salted as much as was sufficient for the, til they came to Ragas, a cite of the Medes. And whē they were gone on their iourney, and drew nye to Echaranis, the yong man asked þ Angel: Brother Azaria, what meanest thou by this, liuer and gal of þ fythe, wherefore be they good? that thou biddest me kepe them. And he said to him: If thou laye a pece of the herte vpon the coales, the smoke thereof dryueth away al maner of euyl spirites, whether it be of man or woman, so that after they shal trouble them no more. The gall is good to anoynt or stroke the eyes withall, where as there is any blemish in them. And whē they drew nye to Ragas, and that Tobias asked wher they shuld purne, the Angel sayd vnto the yong man: Brother, we wil now lodge with Raguell, & he is thy cosyn, and hys onely daughter is Sara: and I wil comen with hym, that he wil geue her the to wyfe: and are her of her father, that he wil geue her the in matrimony. All hys goodes thou muste haue, for thou onely remaynest alpye of his stocke, and the mayde is fayre and wyse. Wherefore be ruled by me, and I wil be in hand with her father, that whē we come agayn to Ragas, the mariage shalbe solemnised. For I know Raguel, and that after the name of Moses he wil in no wyse marry her to any other, or els he shall do himselfe harme: for the hereditaunce muste needs come to the, rather then to anye other.

Then answered the yong man to the angel: Brother Azaria, truly I haue herd saye, that this mayden hath ben maryed to vii. men, whych haue all dyed in the bed chamber. Now I am my fathers onely son, and am afrayed lest when I am come in, I shulde perishe as dyd the other before, because the Deuill loueth her: for he hurteth none but suche as wold lye with her: Wherefore now I am afrayed lest I shulde die, and dryng the lyfe of my parentes vnto the graue for sorowe of me, and that they shal haue none other son to burye them. To whom the angel answered agayne: Heare me, and I wil tell the vpon whom the deuill hath power, & wher they come to matrimony, and excluding God from them, & out of their mind, geue them selues to bodely lust after the fashion of brute bestes, & horse or mule: whose be in the power of the Deuill. Doest thou not remember the lessons that thy father gaue the, how thou shuldest chose a wyfe of thine own kynred? Wherefore by the now heke to me, for she shal be thy wyfe: & as for the Deuill, care not for hym, for euen this night he shal be married vnto the. But when thou shalt enter into thy chamber, three daies kepe the selfe, & do nothing, but geue thy selfe to prayer with her, thou shalt take host coles to make a fumigaciō, & lay vpon the herte and lyuer, part of the fythe: and thow the smell thereof, the deuill shal flye away, and shal neuer come agayne wyle the world standeth. And in the second nyght thou shalt be admytted into the selowth of holy Patriarches, & in þ third, thou shalt obtayne such blessing, that thy children begotten by you, shal be healthful and longe lyued. But when the thyrde nyght is past, and that you shal come together, arse both, & desyre God to be mercifull to you, and he shal haue mercy vpon you, & saue you. Then shal you loyne this virgin to you with the feare of the Lord, rather to haue chylde, the for the lust, that you may get blessednes in your chylde, thow the seide of Abrahā. Fear not, for she was appointed to the before the worlde was made: wherfore thou shalt kepe her, & she shal go with the, & I thynke thou shalt haue chylde by her. After this Tobias was taken with her loue, and set hys mynde greatly vnto her.

The vii. Chapter.

¶ Yonge Tobias and the Angel come to the house of Raguell, he requyryth Raguels daughter to wyfe and obteyneth her.

When they were come to Echaranis, & to Raguels house, Sara came out to the: & when they hadde eche saluted other, she brought them into the house, and Raguell receyued them ioyfully, & beholding Tobias sayd vnto his wyfe Sara: how lyke is this yong man vnto Tobias my sisters sonne. And asked them, from whence come ye brethren? They sayd: from the children of Reptalim, prisoners in Babilone. He sayd agayne: know you our brother Tobias? They sayd: we know him. Then said he, how doo ye? They answered, he is alpye, & in good helth. And as he spake much good of hym, Tobias sayd: he is my father. Then Raguel leapyng for ioy, kyssed hym and wept, and toke hym aboute þ necke, and wyshed hym wel, sayinge: Gods blessing haue thou my sonne. Thou hast a good and an honest man to thy father. And when he had herd þ Tobias was blinde, he and hys wyfe Sara were very sorowful, and their daughter Sara wept. But they welcomed them hartely, and killing a ram of their stocke, they set meat before them largely. Then sayd Tobias to Raguel: brother Azaria, cast out a word of those thynges that you spake with me by the way

Ag. xvi. a.
xxxvi. a.

Mal. xxi. a.

the way, that the matter may be brought to pass. And so he opened þe matter to Raguel, which when Raguel vnderstode, he was aſtayed, knowing what had happened to þ. vii. men þ. went vnto her: & he feared, lest the lyke shuld happen to hym. As he was thus, & gaue no answer to that was asked hym, the angell saueh searce: nor to handefarre her to hym, for thy daughter ought to be his wife, for he is a true wor- shipper of god, & therfore none other man maye enioyne her. Then sayed Raguel, I doubt not but God hath heard my prayers and reares, and in dede I beleue that he hath brought you hither, that she after þe lawe of Moyses, maye be ioynd to a man of her own kynred. Therfore doute not but I will shortly make her suer to hym. So Raguel desired Tobias to eate and drinke, and be merry. For it is meete, sayed he, that you shuldest marry my daughter. Yet will I tell the truthe: I maryed my daughter to seven husbundes, whiche in the same nyght that they shulde lye with her, dyed, but yet take thou a good harte & be merry. Then sayed Tobias: truly I wylle care no more, tyll thou hast graun- ted my petition, & brought her hither and married her vnto me. And Raguel answer- ed: now from henceforth take her for thy wife as reason is, for she is of thy kynred, and that mercifull Lord graunt vnto you verie well to do. So he called Sara his daughter, & when she was come, he took her by the hand, and gaue her to wyfe vnto Tobias, saying: Lo take this woman ac- cording to the lawe of Moyses: and take her with the to thy fathers house, & ther- with desired God to sende thei toge- ther, saying: The god of Abrahā, & god of Isaac, the god of Iacob be with you, join you together, & fulfill his blessing in you. Then called he his wyfe Edna, & toke a let- ter & made a mystrug of the marriage, and sealed it, and praysed God, and wente to their mate. Raguel called his wyfe Ed- na agayn and said: sister prepare an other chamber, and bring her into it. And when she had doen as he had bid, & had brought her in meping, she chaford her daughter & sayed: Be of good cheere, the Lord of heauē and earth wylle euen this sorrow of thine into ioye, wherefore o daughter be merie.

The. viii. Chapter.

The angell byndeth the deuel. Tobias ex- hosteth his wyfe to prayer, and they praye. iiii. dayes before they lye together.

And whē supper was do, they brought Tobias vnto her: & as he came he thought vpon the wordes of Raguel, and toke out of his bagge the beet & loue of the fish, & sayed: vpon the horte coles, & made a fumi-gar: & whē the deuel smelt the sante, he fled into the farthest parte of Agore, where the angell bound him in byds. And whē they were both that in, Tobias arose out of his bed, saying: arise & thou sister also, & let vs pray God to haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs do thus now, to morow, & þ. next day: for these iiii. nyghtes must we reconcile our selues to God, and after the thrid nyght, we shall take the pleasure of our marriage. For we be the chyldren of satins, and we may not come together as the beaſt þ. knowe not God. And so whē they were ryſen vp both together, they besought God e-nestelye þ. he wold preferue them. And Tobias bega. I praysed be thou O God of our fathers, & praised be thy holy & glorious name for e- uer. The heauens and þ. earth, þ. fountay- nes & founts, & al þ. thou hast made prayse thy. * Thou madest Adam and gauest him Eue to his wyfe for an helper, and of them came al mankynde. Thou saydest, it is not good for mā to lye alone, lette vs make an helper for him lyke himselfe. And now O Lord I take vnto me this my wyfe, not for lust & voluptuousnes, but of a pure heart, for thy ony desire to haue chyldre, by whō thy name may be praised to the worldsend. Shew thy selfe therfore mercifull vnto me, that I may lye with her vntill I be old. Then sayd she with hym: Amen, And the same nyght that he laye with her, Raguel a rose, and aboute cockcrowe called vp his seruantes, and went out and dygged a graue, saying: peradventure this man also is dead, as the other seven, that went to her. And when he was come home he sayed to his wyfe Edna: Sende one of thy maydens to know whether he be alieue or not: & if he be not, we may burye hym to- morow, as any man knowe it. So she may- den that he sente opened the doore and went in, & found the both slepyng safe & sounde, and came agayn and sayd, the man was a lyue. Then Raguel and his wyfe gaue thankes vnto the Lord, and sayde: O God with most holy & pure heart praysed maye thou be: and all thy saintes prayse the and all thy workes, al angels and the elect prayse þ. for euer. Lord I thanke the that thou hast chered me, and that it hath not happened as I feared, but hast dealt mee ciſully with vs pityng yonder two onelye bregotten chyldren, and hast dyuen away from vs our enemy, that so folowed vs. And now further O Lord shewe thy selfe mercifull vnto them, that they may leade their lyfe in health and gladnes thowme thy mercy, and that they may greatlye please the, by the sacrifice of thankes ge- uing, whereby it may appere vnto all nac- tions, that thou art the God alone thow out al the earth. Then he commaunded his seruantes to fill vp the graue or euer it was day, he commaunded his wyfe to pre- pare a feast, & make ready al such thynges, & meate that they shulde haue neede of by the waye, and he caused also to be killed ii. fat kyne, & iiii. rames, & made a feast to all his neighbours & frendes, & helpe it

1. Cor. vii.

Ecce. ii. b.

Ru. xxi. b.

D D D. iii. xiii.

The.iiii.boke of Edoas xiii. days. For Raguell before these feast-full days of the mariage were out, caused Tobias to sweare that he shuld not depart, tyll those fourtene feastfull dayes of the martyed were ended, and that then receyving the one halfe of hys goodes, he shuld go home agayne to hys fathers, and after his death haue the rest of hys and hys wy-ues goodes, & thereof he made a wyrring.

The.ii. Chapter.

The angel goth to Gabelus, at þe desyer of Tobias: which deliuereth the letters & receyueth the monye.

A Then Tobias calleth Raphael, whom he thought to haue ben a man, and sayed vnto hym: I pray the hearken what I shall say: If I wold geue my self to be thy ser-uaunt, yet were I not worthy to waite vpon such a wyse man as thou art: yet I pray the of this thyng, Brother Azaria, take of the a seruauant, and ii. camels, and go thy wayes to Gabelus in Ragas, which is in Medea, and deliuer hym this myrring, and receyue of hym the syluer, and bring hym to my mariage. For Ra-guell hath sworn that I shall not depart, & I may not set light by hys othe. And as thou knowest, my father counteth þe days: and yf I tary but one day to long, he wyl be here sore. So Raphael, with foure of Raguels seruantes, & two Cammels, wente vnto Ragas, whiche is a cytye in Medea, and came to Gabelus: and when he hadde deliuered vnto hym the myrring he brought by the monye that was sealed, and deliuered it vnto hym.

A Afterwardes when he had told hym both the matters wiche Tobias, they came forth togethe earlye in the mornynge to the marage. And when they were come into Raguels house, they founde Tobias at meate, and he leapt vp, and he salured other with a kys, and Gabelus wept for ioye, and gaue God great thanks, and sayd: the blessing of the Lord God of Israel haue thou, for thou arte the sonne of a ryght veruous and iust man, and one þe fearer of God, and geueth greute almes.
And blessinge haue thy wyse and your parentes, that ye may se your chyldren, and your chylders chyldren, euen to the thrid and fourth generacion. And blessed maye be your seede by the Lord God of Israel, whiche caryneth worlde without ende.
And when they hadde all sayed, amen, they went to kepe thys feast of the marage, with the feast of the Lord: and Tobias gat hys wyse with chyldre.

The.iii. Chapter.

Tobias & his wyse are sad for þe mariagge of their sonne. Raguell sendeth agayne Tobias with hys wyse.

A When Tobias & his father couered e-uery day, & when the dayes þe were appointed for hys iourney wer out, & they not come, Tobias sa-

The.ii. Chapter.

ying because of hys mariage, the father ber pefise. sayd: why doth my son tary, for what holdest him? hath he gone (quod he) perchance in vaine, or is Raguell dead, or will he no more pay him þe money? Thus began he to be very sorrowful, he and his wyse, & began to wepe both together, because their son was not come agayne vnto the at þe day appointed. And his wyse sayd, my sonne is lost that he tareth thus longe, and began with discomfortable teares, & he to sayd:
Now let I by nothyng, my sonne, sayng I haue lost the, the lycht of myne eyes, the staffe of myne olde age, and the confort of my lyfe, and the helpe of our flocke. Wo is me, wo is me, my sonne, why scite we the away from vs, al our helye stode in the,
and we shuld not haue sent the fro vs. The sayd Tobias: hold thy peace, & be not discomforted, þe man that we sent with him is trustie enough. And he sayd: hold thy peace, mocke me not, my sonne is dead: & will no wyse he would be comforted. And e-uery day he went out into that waye that they went forth, and looked aboute what way soeuer he hoped they shoulde come, and looked whither he could se them coming as far as: all the day tyme he wolde eate no meate, and lay wepyng continually all the nightes for his son Tobias, till those xiii. dayes of the marage, the which Ra-guell swore he shuld tary, were passe.

A Then sayde Tobias to Raguell: Let me go, for my parentes thynke they shall neuer se me agayne. But hys father in lawe prayed hym to tary with hym, and sayde he woulde sende hys father worde of all hys matters. For so, sayd Tobias, but lette me go to my father. For I knowe that my parentes darbe count the dayes, and are sore vexed in their mynde.

And although Raguell made much praying to Tobias, yet could he by no meanes perswade hym to tary. Then Raguell rose up, and when he had deliuered vnto hym hys wyse Sara, with the one halfe of his substaunce, as wel seruantes as beastes and mony, he wysshed them good fortune, and let them go, sayinge: The beauenlye God be your good frende, and leade you in your iourney, and I pray God mine eyes may se your chyldren or euer that I dye.
The holy angel of the Lord accompanye you in your iourney, and lead you safe, þe you may fynde all thynges in good case at your fathers and mothers. And to hys daughter he spake these wordes: Honour thy father & mother in lawe, which are now thy parents, and se that I may hear good tidynges of the. Loue thy husbande, take hede of thy household, and kepe well thy house, and shewe thy selfe faultlesse, and tarry with hym. Also Edna spake thus vnto Tobias: deare brother, The Lorde of heauen bringe you home agayne and graunte me to se chyldren of my daughter Sara, that I maye ioye in
God

God. And here I graunte vnto you my daughter as a pledge, that ye increat her not vngentillye.

And after this Tobias wote his wife, thankpge God that he had geuen hym a prosperous iourney. And when he had bid- den Raguel and Sona farewell, he went in his iourney, vntyl on the leuenth day, he came to Charan, which is in the myddell of his iourney, and he drew nye vnto A- nite.

The. xi. Chapter.

Yonge Tobias leuynge his wife and house- hold in the midway, cometh before with the angel. The dreme of his mother loynge after her sonne. He is ioyfullie receiued of his father and mother. Sara cometh. vii. dayes after.

A Den Raphael said vnto To- bias: Thou knowest how thou hast left thy father, Therefore if thou wilt, we will goo be- fore, and let the householde with thy wife and the cattell come sone & saue after vs. But se that thou haue the gall of the fi with the, for it shall do vs seruite. So they went before, and the dog followed after. But Anna sat daily by the way side vpon the top of an hill, from whence she myght se a farre of: and whyle she was watynge there for his comynge she looked a farre of, & anon she percepued her sonne comynge, and knewe hym, and shewed his father. No wonder is thy sonne comynge and the man that went out with him. And Raphael saide, I knowe that thy father shall reioyce of thy sight. Therefore as sone as thou shalt come in to the house, after thou hast made thy prayer vnto God, and geuen him thanks, and art come to thy father, kisse hym, and anoynte his eyes with the gall that thou hast with the: & with rubbing he shall smarte, but the payne shall go awaye, and straightwaye his eyes shall be opened, and thy father shall se the light of the heauē and the also. And Anna came running and hong vpon her sonnes necke, sayynge: Son, since I haue seen the, I am content to die, and both fel in weepynge. And the dogge that had gone all the waye with them, ranne before, and came as a messēger, & wagged his taile for gladnes. And blind Tobias gaue his seruant his hand, and came to mete his son, & stom- bled at that done, and his sonne ran, and toke him vp, and he embraced hym as dyd his wife, and kysed hym weepynge for ioy: and when they hadde worshipped and gaue thanks to God, they sat down. Then with the fishes gall anoynted he his fathers eyes, and had hym be in good comfort, and sayd the space of halfe an houre. And whā his eyes beganne to prycke, he rubbed the, vntill the blemish wente oute from the corners of his eyes like scales or white skynne of an egge. the which Tobias toke and drew from his eyes, and he recepued his sight. Then beholdinge his sonne, he toke hym aboute the necke, and he & his wife prayspnge God before al them that were there presente, sayed: worthy are thou to be praysed O God, and thy name to be exalted for euer, & blessed be all thyne angels, for thou hast scourged me, and hast had pty on me, by cause that lo I se nowe my sonne Tobie. And so his sonne came in merily and told his father all the benefices which had goodlye chaused vnto hym in Medea, thow the man þ was leader in the iourney. So seuen dayes after came Tobias with his wife Sara and all his householde, they camels and all ther cattell safe with much mony, & with þ also that they had recepued of Babelus, & geuyng thanks to God, he wente out to mete his daughter in lawe at the gate of Antioch: and they that sawe hym, mira- uayled to se hym go, and that he had recei- ued his sight: and he testified before them al, þ God had shewed his mercy vnto him. And whā he was come to his daughter in law, he saluted her, sayng: welcōe daughter, for I geue thanks vnto God which hath broughte the to vs, and next to thy parentes. And this was ioy to al the bre- thren that wer at Antioch. And ther came Achabus, & Galbas his brothers sonne, and thanked God for all the benefices that God had geuen hym: & Tobias marriage was kept the space of seuen dayes.

The. xii. Chapter.

Yonge Tobias rekeneth vnto his father the pleasures that the angel dyd hym. He of- fertyth vnto the angel halfe the goodes that he brought with hym.

Then Tobias called his sonne to hym, and sayed: loke what hye we may geue this man þ wente with the: yea we had neede to make hym some greater amendes. And he sayed: sat her I am content he haue halfe of these thynges that I haue brought with me. For what rewarde shuld we geue him, or what can we geue hym worthy his de- seetes: for it is he that hath broughte me home agayne safe, and toke charge of my wyfe, he made me to haue her, he draue awaye the deuel, & brought ioy to her pa- rentes, & saued me from the fishes mouth: he brought the mony from Babelus, and restored to the thy healt, and made the se the light of heauen, and by hym we are made rich with al these goodes. What cā we do for hym agayne worthy these thynges: Therefore good father I desyre the, þ thou wolt are of hym if it please hym to take half of these that he brought. Then sayed the olde manne: He is worthy to haue it, and callynge vnto him the angel, take quod he, half of these that thou hast brought, and go thy wayes safe with the. And he callynge them bothe asyde, sayed: prayse God, and geue hym thanks, prayse hym and confesse these thynges þ he hath done vnto you, before al menne ly-upage. It is a goodlye thyng to prayse God, & to extolle hys name. And therefore speake mooste honourably of gods dedes, and gve hym thankes. It is good to hude the kynges secrettes. but contrary, to shewe openly the workes of God, it is an honorable thyng. If ye do wel, no euill shall come to you. Those be good prayers that be toynd wth fasting, almosse, & iustice.

Better is a litle wth iustice, the much w-wrong. It is better to gve almosse, the to hord up treasures of gold. Almosse deliue-reth from deach, and clenseth all synne, and obteyneth forgeuenes, and byngeth to euerlasting lyfe. They that vse almosse and iustice, shall get lyfe euerlastyng: But euell men are enemies to theyr own soules.
I wyl lyde nothinge from you, but tell you as the truth is.

The sayde it was well done to hyde the kynges secrettes, & contrary, & it was honorable to shew forth openly the workes of God. When thou diddest wepe and Sara thy daughter in law & pray, I bare a me-more of your prayers before & hylp God: and when thou dyddest bury the dead, I lykewyse was by the, & when thou dydst crye from thy meate, and forsokest thy diner to bury the: bothe in the nyght and day tyme, I knewe thy good dede, and was ther present wth the. But because God loued the, it was necessary to proue the by temptation. Therefore now God sent me downe to helpe the, and also to deliuer thy daughter in lawe Sara from the Deuyll. I am Raphael, one of the seuē Angelles that beate by the prayers of holy men, and & are messengers of hys holy wyl. The wyf bothe they troubled & afraid, and for feare fell downe flat vpon the ground. The sayd the Angel: fear not, for al your matters shal be wel, but thake God: for I came not for my sake, but at & wyl of the same God your Lord, wherfore praise hym for euer. I was at al times a spyrite, for I nether eat nor drinke, but you & thou as I did: for I vse no meate nor drynke that maye be seen. Wherfore now gve hym thankes vnto the Lorde, for I go vp to hym that sent me, and wyte al thynges that be done. Now when they were risen, and could not se hym in any place, they fel doun vpon theyr face, & praysed God the houtes together: & after they were risen, they praysed the grete and marueylous workes of God, and how they had sente the Angel of the Lorde.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Tobias thelder giveth thankes vnto god.
And Tobias thelder wrot a memoration of thankes geuyn that came out of hys own mouth after this maner. The lufing god muste be praysed eternally, and hys kingdom also for euer more. For he punisheth and hath mercy, he putteth downe, and byngeth vp, nor there is no manne that can escape hys bande.

You chyldren of Israell gve thankes vnto hym before the gentyles, for he hath scattered you amongest them. There shewe abrode hys magnificence, and praise hym before all them that be aloue, and teach & ther is none other God almighty but he.
For he is the Lorde, and our god, he is our father euerlastyng. He wyl punyssh vs for our naughtynes, and agayne wyl haue piatye vpon vs, and wyl gather vs together agayne from all the nactons among whō we be disperced. If ye be touchyd vnto hym wth al your hert, and al your mynd, to lyue deuoutly before hym, he wyl also tourne hym to you, and wyl not tourne awaye hys face from you, but you shall se what he wyl do wth you. Praise hym in saluacyon, praise the Lorde of iustice, wth feare and trembling, and wth your wor-kes praise the kyng euerlastyng. I verely wyl gve hym thankes in the lande of my captiuitie, and wyl praise hys power and royalte vnto the people that are geue to spine. O ye wicked come agayne into the cruel way, and tse goodnes in his sight.
Who can tel whether he wyl call his good wyl to you or not, and gve you forgyue-nesse? I wyl lyft up and praise my God, and my mynde shal gve thankes to the kyng of heauen. Lette all manne praise hys magnificence, lette them be merce, and thanke hym for hys goodnesse.

O Ierusalem thou holve cytye, be wyl scourge the for the dedes of thy chyldren, and agayne wyl haue ptye vpon the chy-dren of iust men. Rather se the goodnes of the Lorde, and praise the Lorde eternally, & the tabernacle may be buylded agayne wth ioye, and mane make the prysoners mercy in the, and receyue into hys fauour for euermore those that be in mysery: thou shal shyne wth a goodly lycht, and all ends of the earth shal praise the. * To the name of the Lord God many nactons shal come from afarre of, byngynge gyses in theyr hand, I say gyses, vnto the kyng celestiall. Many nactons shal praise the, & gve the thankes. In the they shal more shyre the Lorde: and thy land they shal call halowed, for in the they shal call vpon the grete name. Al that hate the shal deserue to be hated, and al that hurte the shal be condempned: and al that loue the, shal haue loye euerlastyng. Reioyce and be gladd for the sonnes of iuste menne, for they shall be fortunate, and come together to praise the Lorde of the iuste. O blessed be they that loue the, for they shal take pleasure of thy rest: Blessed be they that haue bene sore for thy punysshment, for they shal reioyce for thy sake, when they shal see all thy glorie, and they shal reioyce for euer. Lette my soule praise God the grete kyng, because he hath deliuered his citty Ierusalem from al his afflictions,

Toby. ii.

gent. xviii.
a. 1. 12. a.
Jud. xii. 6.

Eccl. ix. 4.
Dan. viii. 1.
Actes. ii. 2.

Tpo. xli.

afflictions, euen the Lorde our God.
Happy shall I be, if there shall remaine of my seede that shall see the noblenes of Ierusalem: * For Ierusalem shall be built with saphyres, smaragd, & precious stones.
The walles shall be built with fyne golde, with arches and towers, and the steres shall be paved with peble, carbuncle & white marble, and Alleluta shall be sang in al her steres. Praised be þ Lord, shall they saye, whych hath sette her on hye for euer, that she may capgne euermore. Amen. And so Tobias made an ende of hys ioyous taulkyng.

The. xliii. Chapter.

Tobias prophesieth the destruction of Asinue: hys sonne recourmeth to Raguel after the deceasse of hys father and mother.

Tobias was eighte and syrie pene old whē he lost his sight, and eyghte penes after he had it agayne, and helped after he was delpueted frome hys blindnes two and forty penes: and when he had liued ful an hundred two penes, he was honorably buried at Sinue. Also he boie yocie meune, and worshipped God deuoutely, and prayed hym.

But when he was come to extreme olde age, aboute the houre of his deathe, he called hys sonne, and hys sonnes chyldre, and sayed: O sonne take thy chyldren, for
I am now verry olde and at dethes doze, and gooth wayes into Media my sonne.
For the tyme is nye that Sinue shall be destroied: for the worde of God can not fayle. For I do beleue those thynges that the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of Sinue, that it shulde be destroied, and þ the worlde shulde be more quiet in Media for a while. And that our bretheren shall be caste oute of theyr plentiful countrey, and scattered into the worlde, and that Ieru-

t. Edo. xli.
vi.

salem shall be left desolate, & that the house of God in it shall be burned and forsaken for a tyme, And þ God againe shall take mercy, and bringe them agayne into theyr countrey where theyr temple shall be buylt. per vnlpe the sytt: when þ tyme shal be fulfilled that they shall come euery man in from the captiuitie whiche shulde build agayne Ierusalem royalty, and that goodly house of God shall be builde vp for euer, as the prophetes haue propheted of it, when al the gentiles shall turne them selles vnto God and worshyp hym with true and syncrete religion, and shall hyde theyr Idoles in the grounde, and come to dwel at Ierusalem, when all nacrons shall prayse the Lorde, and his people shall geue thanckes vnto hym, and the Lorde shall lyfte them up: and all laudynge theire Lorde God, in vertue and in iustice, and doinge good vnto theyr bretheren, shall re-ioyce and be verrey glad.

Wherefore nowe my sonne get the oute of Sinue, for all those thynges shall come to pas in dede, whiche the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of before: and I perceyue that her naughtines shall be her destruction. * But kepe thou the same and commaundementes, and shewe thy selfe mercifull and iust, that thou mayst pro-fite. Haue God in thy remembraunce, and praise hym at all tymes w al thy myghte:

And bury me honestly, & thy mother with me, and say no longer at Sinue. Remember sonne howe Aman handled Archiarus whych noyshed and brought him vp, down he brought hym from lyght to darkness, & what reward he gaue hym: but per Archiarus was saued, and he serued alpe, & went into darkenes. Ganall's vled meecy, and escaped out of the deadly snare whiche they had set for hym: But Aman fell into it, and perished. Wherefore nowe my son, se what mercie dorbe, and howe iustice deliuereth. After he had sayd these wordes, he gaue vp the goost in hys bedde, when he was an. C. and. viii. penes olde: & he buried hym honorably, and his mother Anna also after she was dead, and laid her
in hys fathers graue: but he w hys wyfe,
and hys chyldren went vnto Ecbaranis to Raguel hys father in lawe. And when he was come to honorable olde age, when hys father and mother in lawe were dead (whom he found verrey olde, and dyd muche for them) he buried them honorably, and was herie of all theyr substance, and of hys fathers also: and when he was an. C.
and. xviij. penes old, he died at Ecbaranis, whiche is a cite of Media, after he had
lone hys chylders chyldre to the lyfte age.
Also before he dyed, he berde howe Sinue was destroied, whiche was taken of Ra-buchodonozor and Assuerus, and before hys deathe reposed thereat. And all hys brued, and offspring continued in a good lyfe, & velp conuersaciō. so that they were loued bothe of God and man, & al the people of the land.

E
Deut. vi c.
i. reg. vi. a
ioli. xliii.

The ende of the booke
of Tobias.

The Booke of Judith.

The first Chapter.

The building of Ecbaranis. The victorie of Rabuchodonozor ag. all Arphaxat. The meagers of Rabuchodonozor are despised.

At Arphaxat had ouer-
come many nacions, and helde the kyngdome of Medes at Ecbaranis
and had compassed it aboure with a wall, seue-
tie cubites hye, and fiftie cubites broad, the stones betwixt four square,

Tpo. xli.

afflictions, euen the Lorde oure God.
Happyr shall I be, if there shall remayne of my seide that shal se the noblenes of Ierusalem: * For Ierusalem shal be builde wyt h sapphyr, smaragd, & precious stones.
Thy walles shal be built wyt h fyne golde, wyt h arches and toures, and the steres shal be paved wyt h peele, carbuncle & white marble, and Alleluta shal be sang in al her steres. Praise be to Lord, shall they saye, whych hath sette her on hye for euer, that she may raygne euermore. Amen. And so Tobias made an ende of hys ioyous taul-
kyng.

The. xliii. Chapter.

Tobias prophesieth the destruction of Asinue: hys sonne recourmeth to Raguel after the deceasse of hys father and mother.

Tobias was eighte and syrie pene old whē he lost his sight,
and eyghte penes after he had
it agayne, and helped after he was deliuered from hys blindnes two and forty penes: and when he had liued ful an hundred two penes, he was honorably buried at Ninue. Also he boie yonge meene, and worshipped
God deuoutely, and prayed hym.

But when he was come to extreme olde
age, aboute the houre of his deathe, he called hys sonne, and hys sonnes chyldre, and sayed: O sonne take thy chyldren, for
I am now verry olde and at dethes doze, and gooth wapes into Media my sonne.
For the tyme is nye that Ninue shal be destroied: for the worde of God can not fayle. For I do beleue those thynges that the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of Ninue, that it shulde be destroied, and the worlde shulde be more quiet in Media for a while. And that our brethren shal be caste oute of theyr plentiful countrey, and
scattered into the worlde, and that Ieru-

t. Edo. xli.
vi.

salem shal be left desolate, & that the house of God in it shal be burned and forsaken for a tyme, And I God agayne shal take mercy, and bringe them agayne into theyr countrey where theyr temple shal be buylt. per vylke the syrt: when I tyme shal be fulfilled that they shal come euery
man in from the captiuitie whiche shulde
build agayne Ierusalem royalty, and that goodly house of God shal be builde vp for euer, as the prophetes haue propheted of it, when al the gentiles shal turne them selles vnto God and worship hym wyt true and syncrete religion, and shal hyde theyr Idoles in the grounde, and come to
dwel at Ierusalem, when all nacrons shal praise the Lorde, and his people shal geue thanckes vnto hym, and the Lorde shal lyfte them up: and all laudynge there Lorde God, in vertue and in iustice, and doinge good vnto theyr brethren, shal re-ioyce and be verrey glad.

Wherefore nowe my sonne get the oute of Ninue, for all those thynges shal come to pas in dede, whiche the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of before: and I perceyue that her naughtines shal be her destruction. * But kepe thou the same and comma mandementes, and shewe thy selfe mercifull and iust, that thou mayst pro-fite. Haue God in thy remembraunce, and praise hym at all tymes w al thy myghte:

And bury me honestly, & thy mother wyt me, and ray no longer at Ninue. Remember sonne howe Aman handled Archiarus
whych noyshed and brought him vp, down
he brought hym from lyght to darkness, & what reward he gaue hym: but yet Archiarus was saued, and he serued alke, & went into darkenes. Ganall's vylde meecy, and escaped out of the deadly snare
whiche they had set for hym: But Aman
fell into it, and perished. Wherefore nowe
my son, se what mercie dorbe, and howe iustice deliuered. After he had sayd these wordes, he gaue vp the goost in hys bedde, when he was an. C. and. lviij. penes olde: &
he buried hym honorably, and his mother Anna also after she was dead, and laid her
in hys fathers graue: but he w hys wyfe,
and hys chyldren went vnto Ecbaranis
to Raguel hys father in lawe. And when he was come to honorable olde age, when
hys father and mother in lawe were dead (whom he found verrey olde, and dyd muche for them) he buried them honorably, and
was herie of all theyr substance, and of
hys fathers also: and when he was an. C.
and. cxiij. penes olde, he died at Ecbaranis, whiche is a cite of Media, after he had
lone hys chylders chyldre to the lyfte age.
Also before he dyed, he berde howe Ninue was destroied, whiche was taken of Asbuchodonozor and Assuerus, and before hys deathe reposed therat. And all hys brued, and offsprynge continued in a good lyfe, & vylp conuersaciō. so that they were loued bothe of God and man, & al the people of the land.

Deut. vi c.
i. reg. vi. a
ioli. xliii.

The ende of the booke
of Tobias.

The Booke of Judith.

The first Chapter.

The building of Ecbaranis. The victorie of Abuchodonozor ag. all Arphaxat. The meagers of Abuchodonozor are despised.

At Arphaxat had ouer-
come many nacions, and helde the kyngdome of Medes at Ecbaranis
and had compassed it aboure with a wall, seue-
tie cubites hye, and fiftie cubites broad, the stones betwix four square,

The booke of Judith.

square, euery one thre cubites broad, and fyre cubites longe, and also had made towres in the gates, of an hundred cubites hie, and had made euery one at the foundation thre store cubites brade, and hys gates also foure cubites wyde, for the more easy entrynge in of hys myghty armye, and hys orders of footemen, and lxx. cubites hie. And now in maner making hym selfe face thowhe the myghte of hys armye, and retyng in hys glorious chare, kynge Nabuchodonosor the. xii. yere of hys reygne, that he sayned in the myghty cite of Ninue, set vp on the same kynge Arpharad in the great wyde feld, which is in the borders of Ragau. And ther lorned vnto hym all that dwelled vpon the mountaynes, and those that dwelled by Euphrates, Tybris, Hydaspes, and the feld of Artoch that was kynges of Elimees, and many people of the nation of Gelob lorned theyr armyes wth hym.

Then Nabuchodonosor kynge of the Assyrians, hys power beyng increased, & waring proud in hys mynde, sent for all them that dwelte at Persis, and all that dwelte medeward, the inhabitants of Cilicia, Damascus, Libanus, and Antilibanus, and for them also that dwelt on the sea coaste, and for those that inhabited Carmelium and Cedar, and Galaad, and the hert Galilee, and the great feld Efozelom, and for them also that dwelt in Samaria, and the cities of the same, and beyond Jordan, euen as farre as Ierusalem, and Bethauen, and Chellus, and Bades, and the floud of Egypte, and Gaphnes, and Ramelle, and as farre as to them that dwell at Belsem beyonde Eanais, euen to Memphis, yea & to all that dwell in Egypte, euen as far as the borders of Ethiopia. And yet all the inhabitants of these landes denied hym, & wold not lorne to help in battayle, for they feared hym not, but despyed hym as beyng but one man, wherfore they sent hys messengers oute of theyr sight wth dishonour, and nothyng done.

Then Nabuchodonosor exceeding angry wth all those contreyes, swore by the throne of hys kyngdom, that he wold be reuenged vpon all the coastes of Syria, Damascus, and Siria: and that wth hys swerde he wold haue all the inhabitants of the lande of Moabites, the nations of Ammon, all the Jewes and Egyptians, vntill he were come to the endes of bothe the seas. So wth hys owne power he soughte agaynst kynge Arpharad in the seuentene yere: and whē he hadde overcome hym in battayle, and that all Arpharads armye, horsemen, and chariottes were runne awaye, and that he had got all hys cities, and was come as farre as Ecbatanis, and destroyinge the citres had chaunged hys honour to same, and solowynge Arpharad him selfe in the mountaynes of Ragau, had thurst hym thowhe wth hys darts, and had overcome hym, pursuynge hym all the daye, he comynge agayne to Ninue wth all hys compaigne and greate multitude of men of war, he rested hym ther: making feastes wth all hys armye by the space of an hundred and. cc. daies.

The.ii. Chapter.

The.ii. Chapter.

Holofernes is sent of Nabuchodonosor to subdue all the world. The preparatione and pursuit of Holofernes.

And in the. xviii. yere the. xxi. daye of the fyfte moneth, in the house of Nabuchodonosor kynge of the Assyrians, communication was had to take punishment vpon all the earth, as he had said he wold. And when he had called all that were vnder hym, and all the nobles, and had entred wth the of all the secrettes of hys counsell, and had repeted and shewed wth his owne mouth all the malice and euil of other nations, & that they had consented, that all menne shold not obey the commaundement of hys mouth, shulde be slayne, it so chaunced, that when the counsell was done, Nabuchodonosor kynge of the Assyrians called vnto hym Holofernes general of his armye, and in power nexte vnto hym, and sayed these wordes: These thynges commaundeth the grete kynge of the whole world.

Lo whē thou art gon from my sight, thou shalt take vnto the of the strongest men to the number of. xx. thousand fote men, and of horsemen. xii. thousand. and wth speede invade all the west countreies, because they haue not obeyed my commaundement. Thou shalt commande them to prepare there land and water for me, wth which I will invade them in my fury, and wil kyl all theyr countreies wth the feete of my armyes, vnto whō I will geue the as a spoyle, so shal they shal wth theyr blood fyl the valleys and ryuers, and the floudes shall be ful of dead carcases: and I wil sende theyr captiues into the farthest partes of the world. And thou shalt go before me, and fyl all theyr land, and such as I wil yeld them vnto the, keepe them till I come to talke wth the: but * as for the rebells thou shalt not lorde it so mercifully, but that thou kyl them and spoyle them thowhe the whole land. Thou shalt spare no kyngdom, but shalt subdue vnto my dominion all fenced towncs. For I swere by my lyfe, and the power of my kyngedome, I will do all thynges that I haue spoke, wth myne owne hande. And beware that thou leaue not one commaundement of thy lordes vnbone, but as I haue commaunded the do them wth all dyligence, and make no delaye in doynge them. Then Holofernes when he was gone from the sight of his lord, callynge together all the men of power, power, captaines, and chiefe rulers of the Assyrians army, as he was commaunded by his Lord, he mustred vps meune to good quickely forwarde: & they were aboute an hundred thousande, and of archers on horsebacke about. xii. thousand.

Esth. 4. 1.

And whē he hadde ordered them as armies are wonte to be, hauing a great multitude of Camels, and Asses to beate burdens, wyth shepe for theyre iourney, and innumerable oxen and gores, and vitaple also for all the multitude, besyde graine whiche he appointed to haue oute of all Syria as he wote, wyth muche golde also and siluer for the kynges court, he wyth all his armye wente on theyre iourney: & before Nabuchodonosor came, he myghte couer al the East countrey with his charrettes, and horsemen, and his chosen footemen. And there went wyth hym of rascals so manye that they were lyke grethoppers, and launde of the earth, & could not be tolde they were so manye. So whē they were paste Betulie. iii. daies iourney, and come into the plaine of Becrolet at the mountayn of Ange which standeth on the left hand of the vpper Cilicia, he mured his tentes & led al his army as well horsemen as footemen with theyr charrettes into the mountaynes, & inuading theyr castris, and winnyng theyr holdes he brake into the famous citty Agolopus. He destroyed Ithub and Iud and spoyled al the people of Rasas and Ismaell that dwelt toward the desert at the southside of Chalceus. And the passyng ouer Euphrates he went by Mesopotamia and al the Noble cityes & stode by the ryuer Arbonay, he destroyed them euen to the sea syde, and subdued the coastes of Cilicia, and tene all that withstode hym. And he came vnto the borders of Iaphet, that is agaynst Aluster and Arabia, and he wente thorow all the countrey of Media, and sette theyre tentes on fyer and burned theire houses, and euen as he dounte into & fildes of Damascus, in harueste, and set on fyre al theyr landes, bynes, and trees, and burnt theyr stocke & cattayl, and spoyled theyr cityes, and fildes, and killed all theyr pouth wyth the edge of the swerde.

The.iii. Chapter.

Howe they become willingly subject to Holofernes. The tyranny and cruelty of hym.

And the feare and tremblinge of hym came vpon all that dwelt vpon the sea coaste of Sydd and Tyre, and vpon al that dwelt at Sur, Oclis and Hemnaan, and the cityes of Azotus & Ascald were greatlye afraied of hym. Wherefore the kynges of all cytyes and prouinces, and Princes of Syria, Mesopotamia, Syria Soball, Cilicia & Cilicia sente embassatours vnto hym, to respect of hym nowe after this facyon. Howe the seruantes of the greake kyng Nabuchodonosor, be here before thynne eyes to do with vs what thou list. Lo here our houses wyth mountaynes and hyles and all our medowes and cornfelde, our flockes of shepe and gores, and broue of beastes, horses and camels, and al that be wythyn our stalles, al our ryches & houses holde are in thy power, do what thou list. Lo our cityes, & citizens be thy seruantes. So when thou comest do wyth them as thou shalte thynke good. Be no more angrye wyth vs. For better it is to serue the greake kyng Nabuchodonosor, & to haue our lyfe and obey the, then to dye, and yet runne into the daunger of bondage. And when these men were come to Holofernes, and had shewed hym the message, he wyth his armye came down to the sea coast, and set gystons in those goodly cityes & mustred out of the best to helpe hym.

Then al the citizes of those cityes stroke with feare, as wel the chyet men & Iudices, as the people: & al & cōteys therabout came out wyth lampes & pyres, wyth garlandes and daunces and timbrelles to receyue hym, but he wasted al theyr borders, cut down theyr woodes, nether could they for all these thynges swage & fearce of his hert. For he was determined (as Nabuchodonosor commaunded hym) to destroye all the gods on the earth, that all people shulde worship only Nabuchodonosor, and all tonges and nations shulde call hym God. And as he passed thorow Syria, Sobal, and all Apamea, Ascalon, Ramia and Adumea, he came into the sight of Ascalon nye vnto Doray, whiche is agaynst the strait passage of Turpe: and pitchynge his tentes betwixt Baba, and Scythou Holim, he tarped there all that moneth, when he had toke the cityes, whylet he gathered together all the vessels & belonged to his army.

The.iii. Chapter.

Israel requirerth helpe of God against Holofernes. They fast and pray.

When & Israelites whiche dwelt in Jerus, after they had herde al those thynges that Holofernes, generall of Nabuchodonosors armye kyng of the Assyrians, was determined to do agaynst the gentyles, and how he had robbed and destroyed all their temples, they were greatlye afraied of hym, and sore troubled for Hierusalem, & the temple of their Lorde God: leaste he woulde do to these as he hadde done to other cityes and temples of theirs. For they were lately come out of captivite, and lastelye all the people had assembled thorow Judea, & theyr vessels, theire altar wyth theyr temple wer poured frome all vnholines. And so they sente into all the borders and stretes of Samaria and Berborton, and Belmen, and Tericho, and Chabab, and Esdra, & into the vallye of Salem, that they shulde kepe the tops of the hygh mountaynes, and enclose the stretes with walles, Deut. xx. c.

Jud. xv. b.

The booke of Judith.

Walles, and laye vp vitaple for war, for in theire fieldes harvest was but larche done. And Joachym þe hye Byshop, which was then at Hierusalem, wrote to them that dwelte at Bethulia, and Bethonemecan, whiche is cyghte agaynste Edozalon in the syght of the playne that is nye Dothan, commaundynge them to kepe the gopng vp to the mountaynes, by þe which they myghte come into Jewry, and that it was easi to stop them, the strait beinge such, as that there myghte come but two menne together. So the Israelites dyd as Joachym þe prynces had appoynted the: and the counsell of al the people of Israel, whiche sat at Hierusalem, and all the mene of Israel cried hartelye vpon God, prayng for them selues straitlye by fastynge and prayer, and with theyr wyues, chyldren, carrell and all theyr tenantes, bried men and seruautes, they girded the selues with heate clothes: and al the women with womenne with theyr chyldren. And the citizens of Hierusalem fallynge vpon their face before the temple, and castynge duste vpon theire heades, and weynge clothes of heate before the Lorde, caste such also vpon the altar, and with one praye called for the helpe of God, that he wolde not set oute these choldren to be spoiled, theyr wyues to be a praye, or theyr cyties of interprauce to be destroyed, or theyr halowed thynges, to be vnhalowed and scorned at, which shulde be a pleasure to the gentyles. Joachym also hym selfe the hye prynces of the Lorde, mente aboute al the Israelites and comforted them, sayynge: Be ye sure þe Lorde wyll heare your prayers, yf you continue constantely in fastynge and prayers before him. Remember Moses the seruaunt of the Lord whiche ouercame Amalech, trustynge in hye strengthe, power, armie, wyldes and chariottes, and horses, not by fygthynge with swerde, but by continuynge in doyle prayers. The lyke shall chaunce vnto all the enemies of the Israelites, yf ye continue in your purpose. Euen beynge comforted by this exhortaciō, continued still before the Lorde in prayer. And so God hearde theyr prayers, and lokyd vpon theire affliction, the people thowme oute all Jewrye and Hierusalem fastynge manye dayes before the Sanctuarie of þe Lorde omni ioste. And Joachym the hye Byshoppe, and all the prynces that stode before the Lord and dyd theyr office, beinge clothed with heate, and offerynge the continual brenthe offerynge with al þe gofres that were wyllingely bowed of the people, castynge dust vpon theyr meters, besoughte the Lorde hartely with teares, that he wold mercifully lōke vpon all the house of Israel.

The v Chapter.

Holofernes is discontented with the Jewes, Asyrius cometh vnto Holofernes the marquis

The.iii. chapter

les of God done vnto the Jewes, for which thing þe rulers vnder Holofernes wer very angry wyth them.

And when it was shewed Holofernes generall of the Assyrians armie, that the Israelites prepared them selues to fyght, and that the wayes betwixte the mostaynes beinge stopped w al their bylles well manned, they had made a stop for commynge into the plain, þen a great surp, callynge together þe prynces of Moab, and the capitaines of Ammon, and the rulers on the sea coast, þen he then quorth, you Cananites, what people this is that dwelseth on the mountaynes, what, what manner, and howe great cities they inhabyte, what number they haue in theyr armie, in what thyng standeth theyr strengthe & power, who is theyr kynge, or captayn appoynted for theyr war, or of what purpose they befoze all other that dwel in the East, haue not come oute and mette me, and receyued vs peaceably. * Then the duke Achyris answered in all the name of the Ammonites: My Lorde, maye it please you to heare all the matter at the mouth of your seruante. For I wyll tell you the truerth of this people that dwelseth in the byl countrie nye vnto you, and I wil make you vnderstande. These people came oute of Chaldee, and first dwelt in Mesopotamia, for they wolde not folowe the gods of theyr fathers, that were worshipped in the land of Chaldee. So when they had gone out of the waye of theyr fathers, whiche stode in the multitude of goddes, and worshipped the God of heauen whiche they knewe, and beynge caste frome the syghte of those gods, they fled into Mesopotamia, wher they tarped a longe tyme, vntill theyr God bad them go out of that straunge countrey, and go into the land of Canaan. Where they dwelt and encreched with muche golde, syluer and cattall they wente into Egypte, because there was hunger in all the land of Canaan, * and there tarped foure hundred yeres, vntill they began to be vered: for whē they were greatly encreased, and theyr stocke exceeded all number, the kynge of * Egypte moued agaynste them, compassed them by subtiltie, and oppressed them by laboure of makynge bycke to buyde cyties, and made the bys slaues. So whē they hadde called for helpe of theire God, and he hadde plagued all Egypte with vncurable plagues. * * Egypte compassed them oute of their fryght, and when they were agayne deliuered frome theire plague, they persecuted the to haue them in bondage.

Then did that God of theire dyre by the red sea before them, and set the waters on both sydes lyke a wal, so that they wente dyre thowde they were to the botome of the sea, and in the same place innumerable of the Egyptians þat folowed them, were drowned,

Jud. xi. 2.

Gene. xi. 6.
J. 1. 2. 3. 4.

Gene. xli. 6.
Gen. xli. 6.

Exod. i. 2.
Exod. i. 2.

Exod. xli. 6.
Exod. xli. 6.

Erod. xv.
xvi.

hounded, so þat not one escaped, so thewe the that came after: and so he broughte them to the mounte Sina * and Cades Barne, and plates that men coulde not dwelt in,
wher bytter fountaynes wer made swete water, and xl. yere he goue them meate from heauen. They castynge oute of the inhabitantes of the deserte, satled them selues in the lande of the Amorheans.

And when they had destroyed al that dwelt in Eschou, passinge ouer Jordan, they inhabited all the mountaine countrey. Wherther so they wente, their God foughte for them, & they conquered and that without bowe, arrowe, buckler or swerde. *

Josa. i. ii.

When they dysputinge oute before them the Cananites, the Hethites, and the Jebusee, & Si-chem, and all the Gerges and myghtye men of Hesebon, helde that countrey a longe whyle. And as longe as they byd not sonne agaynst their God, they hadde prosperite, for because that their God hatynge synne, byd fauoure them: and when they * were turned from the waye, that he had prescribed them, and besyde that God worshipped another, they wer aboue measure punished by warre, and made as a pray, slayn & mocked, and led captiue into another land. Then was the temple of their God pulled downe to the ground, & the cite take of their enemyes.

Judith. iii.
iii.
iud. re. xv.

1. Esd. ii.

* But nowe bringe tourned vnto theyr God, they be come agayne frome their scatteringe abode: and Hierusalem the seat of this religion recovered agayne, they dwell agayne in the mountaine coun-trei whiche was forsaken. For as ofte as they repented the for the forsaking of the religion of theyre God, the same God strengthened them to withstande their e-nemyes. Nowe therfore o Lord of Lords, serue sekerly oure wherbet there be anye faute in this people, wher in they do amys, for that wyl be their vntyre, and we maye go and subdue the. For God verelie wyl helpe them into thy handes and call the wynde the poe of thy power. But if there be no faute in this people, my Lorde lette them alone, leaste peradventure theyre Lorde and God fyghtinge for them, we take shame at theyre handes thowowe the whole worlde.

Judith. vi.

The.vi. Chapter.

Achior is committed into the handes of the Jewes by Holofernes. He is tyed to a tree, but is loosed of the Jewes. The prayer of the people Achior to comfort of the Jewes.

A

When Achior had spoken thus,
and helde bys peace, all the people that rode about the tente, toke soze indignacion, and the chefe men about Holofernes, and all that dwelt on the sea coast, and Joab, cryed that he was worthy to dye, and said: What say you to this felow, whiche affirmeth that the Israhelites men vnatmed, and þat can no skyll of warre, be able to resist kynge Nabuchodonosor and his power. For we feare not the sight of the Israhelites; seying too it is a weake people & of no strengthe agaynst a stronge army.

Wherfore let vs go vp, that Achior maye knowe that he telleth vs false tales, and when we haue overcome the chiefe and myghtiest men, he shall be slayne with them: that all nations may knowe Nabu-chodonosor to be the God of the earth, & none other saue he: for thyne armye, o Lorde Holofernes, shall deuoure him.
So when the greake noyse of them that rode about was ceased, Holofernes generall of the Assyrians armye before all the strangers and Joabites that toke wages, and before Ephraim, spake thus vnto Achior. What arte thou Achior, that vasse played the prophet before vs this daye, and haste sayde that the stocke of Hieru-salem is invincible in warre and that their God dothe defend it, or what God is that but Nabuchodonosor? He shall send his power, and roote the out of the earth, and theyr God shall not saue them, but wee his seruantes wyllea * them as they wyl but one man, and they shall neuer be able to abyde the strengthe of our horses, for with them we wyl treade them vnder our fete, and their mountaynes shall flowe with theyr blood, and the fieldes, shall be fylled with theyr dead carcasses, nor they shal not stand & abyde our sighte, no nor none that Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the earth shall commaunde to be slayne. None of my wordes be spoken in vayne. But thou Achior that takest wages among the Ammonites, because thou hast spoken these wordes, from this day forwarde, shalt not come in my syghte, vntill I be reuenged of this nation that commeth oute of Egypt. Then shall the sword of myne armye, and my people that segue me, thrust the thowowe both sides, & thou shalt be slaine amonge them, when I haue put the to the gyght. For my seruantes shall take the into the hye countreys, and leauie the in some of theyr ciues that be in the gorge up to theyr mountaynes, and thou shalt not dye vntill thou be kylled with them. And if thou hope in thy mynde þat they shall not be overcome, thou shalt not so be so abashed: nor looke so pale, if thou hearest my wordes shall take none effecte, I haue sayde: nor I haue not spoken anye worde in vayne. So Holofernes commaunded bys seruantes þat rode aboute bys tent that they shulde take Achior and leade hym away to Bethulia, & helpe hym into the handes of the Israheli-tes. Then byd bys seruantes take Achior, and leaue hym into the myddes of the felde frome the tentes, they afterwardes caried hym into the mountaine countrey. And when they were come to the fountaines that wer vnder Bethulia, the countes meene that were in the toppe

B

Judith. v.

Judith. xvi.

C

of the mountaynes seynge them, armed them and came they 3 Jewes vnto the sprynges date of the towne into the toppe of the mountaynes, and takynge þe hyll they began to scape the wyth bones. Yet they came up the mountayne, and when they had bound Achior hand & foote to a tree, at the foote of an hyll, they forsoke him and let hym lye, and went home to theyre Lord. But the Israelites when they were come oute of theire towne, they came about hym and leul'd hym, and led hym to Bethulia, and brought hym before the chefe of the towne, whiche were then O-zias Giechma, borne of the tribe of Simeon & Chabris Gorthonclis, and Charmis the sonne of Giechiel. When they had called together al the sentours of the towne, & all the ydme and all the womē were come to hear, Ozias set Achior in the mydd of al þe people, & axed of what had happened. The Achior answeringe shewed the of al thynges þe were done in the sittinge that was kept before Holophernes, & the words þe he had among the chefe men of the As-srians, & al þe Holophernes proudly basted agaynst þe temple of Ierusalem. And for these sayings þe he was almost kylled of Holophernes people, and that he was commaunded by Holophernes in his auger, to be delivered to the Israelites, þe when they were overcome, he myghte also be cruellye tormented, because he sayed that the God of heauen was theire defendoure. So all the people fel down vpon the grounde, and woy, & prayed God and called for his helyp wyth lamentacion and wepyng, sayinge: Peeuilly Lord behold these mys accorgit, and haue mercy vpon oure stocke, whych dumblith them selues vnto the, and looke vpon them nowe that be balowed vnto the, and declare that thou wilt neuer for-saue those that put theyre hope in the, and that thou thrustest doune such as glorie in theire own power, and trust in theyre owne selues. And they comforted Achior, and greatly praysed hym and sayed: The God of oure fathers, whose myghte thou dost commend & set forth, requite the again, that thou rather maist see theire destruction. And wilt our God shall geue his seruantes fre lybertie, the same God helyp the among vs, þe after thy desyre thou mayst be among vs with all thyne. And the when Ozias had brought hym to his house, led thes comu-nicacion, and had set hym at dynner wyth the elders, all þe indolentighte they prayed for helyp of the Lord God of Israel.

The vii. Chapter.

Bethulia is beleued of Holophernes. The people requierth helyp of God. They of Bethu-lia wold geue oure the cire for the of water. The prayer of the people wyth teares and lamentacion.

And the nexte daye Holophernes commanded all his army and the people, and those that hadde toyed w hym; to moue theyre tentes toward Bethulia, and to take before, the goynge vnto the moustanes, and begynne warre wyth the Israelites. And that daye who was strongest they went forth wyth theire warre lyke armes, of soore menne an hundred and

* scutye thousande, of horsmen twelue thousande besyde cartage and menne that folowed on foote a greate multitude, that were taken prysounes of cyrpes and prysones.

Judith.

All these prepared to battayle, came on the hyll syde vnto the toppe of the mountayne that looketh ouer Dothaim, and pitched theyre tentes by a fountaine in a valleie that is nere to Bethulia, and in Dothaim and rounde aboute far from Bethulia euen to Epaimon that is ouer a-gaynst Elzalon. But the Israelites when they sawe the multitude, were sore troubled: and prostrate vpon the grounde they caste earth vpon theyre heades, and wyth one assente called for the helyp of the Lorde God of Israel, that he wold shewe his mercy vpon his people, and one sayd vnto another.

These myll nowe haue all the grounde of the earth, so that whether the vne mountayne nor hyll, nor valleies shall be va-ble to helde them. So euerye manne put on his harness, and kepte the scarpes besyde the mountaynes, and made spers, and watched all nyghte in theyr toures.
The day folowynge Holophernes brought out all his horse menne, so that they that dwelte at Bethulia myghte se them, he searched the goynge by in theire cire, and sounde out the water springes which from the southe syde was conuected into the cire: and commaundynge them to be cutte of, lest there menne of water, and wente byn selfe to the tentes of his people. Yet not farre from the wallis were fountaines from whence they drew water pryncely, wyth which they rather refreshed theselues, the lacked theire thirst.

Then wente vnto Holophernes al the chefe men of the chyliden of Esau and al the rulers of the people of the Moabites, wyth the captaynes that dwelt on the sea coast, and sayde: Pleaseth it your Lordshippe to heare vs speake that your army shuld haue no harme?

For the trust of this people of Israel standeth not in speares, but in the toppes of the mountaynes where they dwell, and it is not easie to commynge to the toppes of the mountaynes whiche they haue well fenced. So nowe therefore that none of this people shuld be slayne, set not vpon them wyth a set battayle, but kepe wythin the fences, to saue al your men. And let your seruantes marche the fountayne water, that cometh from the foote of the hyll, for there the Bethulians set all their water, and so they shal do for thurst, or shal be dynen to yeld the cire: which they thinke 15

nowe can not betroun bycause it standeth vpon the toppe of an hill. And we wyth our people wyl go vp into the next moun-taynes, & there we wyl make a bulworke to saue vs, that no man shall come out of þ cyrte, that they may be sampted w they wines & they chylde, & or euer þ rage of þ sword come they may dye in they own streets: and so you may punysh the because they haue gon about sedicion, & haue not quietly obeyed þ commaundement. They sayinges pleased Holofernes wel, & al his seruautes and he purposed to do as they had sayed: and there were set an hundred men at every well cound about. So the Ammonites went out & v. M. A. Ticians w the, and pitchyng their tentes in þ valleyes, they stoped sch þ Israelites all þ waters and cōdūtes. And the kyned of Elau & the Ammonites went vnto the moun-taynes, and pitched they tentes ryght a-gains the Dorbaim, sendyng part of their men southward, toward Decibel fast by Chulph, whych standeth vpon the ruer of Mochmur. The rest of the Assyrians ar-mye laye in a great plaine, & couered al þ ground, they tentes & cariages were soo grete. The Israelites greatly dyscomforted, called vpon their Lorde God, because they were enclosed rounde about w they enemies, and coulde not escape from them. And ful. xxxiii. dayes had all the multitude of the Assyrians bothe foote men and horsemen wth they Chariottes cō-passed the roūd about on euery side: Whē they of Bethulia began to lack water in al they vessels, so that all they cisternes wer drye and had not water inoughe for one daye, but toke it to drynke by measure. Wherefore they infants and they pong men & women also drynge for theyr self, and fallynge down in the stretes of the cy-te & at the gates, and that they strength fayled, al the people and ponge men wth wemē & chylde, came to Oziās and the heades of the cite, and cryng wth a loud voice before al the sentoures. Sayde: * God be iudge betwixte vs & you, for you haue done vs grete wronge, because ye haue not dealte frendlye wth the Assyrians.

For nowe there is none to help vs, but God hath soude vs into there handes, that we shulde dye before them wth hunger and grete plages. Yet at the last call them nowe, and gyue the cite hole for a spoule to the people of Holofernes, and to all his hole armye. For better it is that we be spouled, then dye for theyr. For we shall be theyre seruautes, and our lyues shall be saued, and we shall not see (wth shame before al men) the death of our in-fautes before our eyes, neither our wines and our chylde dryngge by the goost.
We take beaume and earthe this daye to reorde, & the God of our fathers whiche punysherth vs as wel our synnes as our fathers, and gyue you warninge, that you gyue vp this cyte into the handes of Holofernes armye, þ we rather quickly be kyled wth the edge of the sword, then to be tormented wth longe theyr.

And wth these wordes arose amongest all the people, a grete wepyng, callinge vpon their Lorde God wth loud voice, and sayinge. We and our fathers haue synned, haue done vnto selfe, and committed iniquite. Thou that arte mercy-ful, haue mercy vpon vs, or els punysh oure wyckednes wth thy scourge, nept her de-lyue those that prayse the, vnto a people þ knoweth þ not: þ it may be sayed amonge the gentiles: wher is their God? w suche crys and wepyng at the last beyng weried, they held theyr peace. Then Oziās rose vp, & þ teares came fro his eyes, & said vnto them thus. Bether be of good hart, and let vs set farye. v. dayes, wthyn the whych the God wyl tourne his mercy vpon vs. For peraduenture, he wyl swage his anger, and will care for the gloire of his name: for he wyl not vtterly forsake vs.
But if those dayes be passe, and that wee haue no helpe, I wyl do your requestes.
Thus sendyng away the people to theyre bulworks, currie manne wente to þ walle and towres sendyng theyr wyues & chyldre home: and in the cyte they greatlye afflicted them selues.

The.viii. Chapter.

Of the vertuous woman Judith, whych re-proued the ancientes because they tempted the Lord. She also mūeth the to encourage and harten the people, and sheweth her councel agaynst the enemies of the Jewes.

And these wordes then hearde A Judith þ daughter of Merari, the son of Op, þ son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Me-lea, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Be-deon, the sonne of Raphaym, the sonne of Achyrho, the sonne of Elias, the sonne of Rathanaell, the sonne of Samasell, the sonne of Salasaday, the sonne of Israel.
Ananias was her husbāde of the same tribe and sample that she was, whiche died in the barley heruest tyme.

For whyle he was busylie bindyng the sheaves togyther in the fiede, heate toke hym in the head, and cast hym into sick-nes, & he dyed in the cite Bethulia, and is buryed amonge his fore fathers, in a grounde that lyeth betwixt Dorbais and Balamus. Nowe was Judith his desolate widow thre yeres & four monethes.
And in the hert partes of her house, she made her selfe a priue chamber, where she dwelt, beyng closed in wth her maydēs, and wore a smocke of heete, and her wydowes garmentes, and passed all the dayes that she was wydowe in fastinges, except the Sabbothes, & the dayes that went before the newe mones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kepte feastfull and mery. She was a very

The booke of Judith.

sayre and beutifull person.

Judith. vii.

And besyde that her husband Manasses had sette her golde and syluer, men seruantes and maidens, catel and land, which she dyd possesse, and in all her lyfe was a woman of good name, and in whom no man could fynd any faute: for she worshipped and feared the Lord greatly. So whē she hearde what the peple had sayde to theyr heades, and that they were in dispaire for lacke of water: I say when Judith understode all þe Oziab had sayde to the peple, how that he had sworne þe after. v. dayes he wolde yelde þe citie to the Assyrians, she sent before her inard, whych had the chiefe kepninge of al her substance to call vnto her Oziab, Chabrim, & Charmon, counsellors of the Cytie: and when they were come she spake thus vnto them. Heare you princes of þe people that dwel at Bethulia: your sayinge is not good, whiche you haue had to day before the peple, and haue decreed by an othe made betwixt you and God, and sayde that you wolde yelde the citie vnto your enemies, excepte within thre dayes the Lord turne to helpe you. And what manner of men be you whiche thynke to tempt God wth a daye, and beginge men, to play gods parte. These be not þe words that can get mercy, but rather raise anger, and kinde wrath. Wyl you prescribe a time to the Lord to pardon you? wyl you appoint hym a daye at your wyl? That and if ye will go about to search the omnipotencie of god, ther cā neuer be thynge more perillous. Seinge ye cā not seke out the depth of mans heart, & comprehend the reasons of his mynde, how can ye enter into the knowledge of God that made man? howe can ye learne hym mynde, or fynd out hym wayes? Verely brother by no meane, & therefore prouoke not your Lord God to anger. For if he wyl not help vs within thre. v. dayes, yet hath he power to defend vs in what dayes he wyl, yea & in all dayes, or to destroy vs before the eyes of our enemies.

And as for you, bynde you the counsellors of the Lord God, for he is not as man whiche ether is moued with threatening, or as borne of man, þe may be iudged. Yea rather because the Lord is parenteuen for that cause let vs repente, lokeinge for healthe of hym, and callinge for his helpe: that if it please hym, he may heare our voyce. Therefore lette vs submytte our myndes vnto hym, and wth lowly requestes redye to serue hym, lette vs bowe our selues doune wth teares, that he wyl graue vs hym mercy, according to hym wil & pleasure: that lyke as our myndes are feared by theyre pryde, so we againe may get gloire by our owne affliction. For in our tyme there hath not bene, nor is not anye tyme, samoly people or cytye amonge vs, that dothe worship goddes made with hande, as it was before tyme: for whiche

Judith. ii. b.
iii. a. and
vi. a.

The. viii. Chapter.

thynges our fathers whych leuynge theire owne God, and worshipped strange goddes, were sette out to be slaine, and taken for a pray, & killed wth greate laughter before their enemyes. But we haue knowledged none other God, so that we maye truste he wyl not forget vs nor none of our flock, but that he wyl deliuer vs fro being oppressed of our enemyes, and that he wyl tame all nacions that hath cysen agaynst vs, and that our Lord wyl sende them awaye wth shame. For when we shall be taken, hym name shal not remayne in Judea but our halowed thynges shalbe take awaye, and God shal punyssh the vngodly words that come from our mouth, and shall cast vpon our heades before all the Gentilles whycher wee go to scule, feare amonge all our brethern, the captiuitie of our lande and forsakinge of our possession, and we shall be a shaunder and shame before al our Lordes: for our seruice shall neuer get fauoure, but our Lord wil make it full of shame.

Wherefore now brethern, whiche are þe elders of God, let vs shewe an example vnto our brethern, for their mynde ligger vpon vs, and al the holy thynges, temple and altar in likewyse. Wherefore let vs raise their myndes wth some comfortable words. And aboute all thynges, let vs geue thanks to the Lord our God & whiche proueth vs as he dyd our elders, whiche they worshipped hym in dede or not.

Deut. viii.
ii. Para.
xxii.

* Remember what he dyd vnto Abraham, whych beinge tempted and tryed thowme many tribulacions, was founde a loue and friend of God. Remember howe he proued Isaac, and howe manie were the chaunces of * Jacob that fed Laban hym vncles hepe in Mesopotamia of Syria, & also of Moses, and of al that pleased God, by howe many troubles they becam saythfull. For they that haue not receiued the temptacions wth the feare of God, but haue shewed their impaciencie and shamefull mutmuringe agaynst God, they haue perished of the destroyer, and were slayne by the serpente. So we therefore lette vs not reuenge our selues for those thynges that we suffer, but countenge that these punysshementes are the scourges of God, les then our synnes, wher wth we be punysshed lyke seruantes, let vs beleue that they pertaine to our amendemente, and not to our destruction. For lyke as he proued them to see their hartes, so proueth he vs and not reuengerd, but * the Lord punisheth those þe desyre to come to hym, to geue them a warninge. Oziab answered her: all that thou hast spoken is come of a good mynde, and ther is no man that wyl say agaynst thy wordes. For this is not þe first tyme that thou hast shewed thy wisedome, but all the peple knoweth it from the beginninge, howe that thou studied vpon good thynges. But the people

Gene. xvi.
xii.

ge. xvi. d

Rom. viii.

bered

bered wth greate thynges, compelled vs to do those thynges wth them that we saped, that was to make vs swere, wthch of he we must not breake. Wherefore now thou seynge thou art a vertuous woman, make thy prayers for vs, that the Lord wyl send rayn to fyl our lakes, that we dy not for thyng. Then sayd Judith agayne: Heare me, and I wyl do a notable dede, whych shal be spoken of al that euer come after. Lyke as pou knowe it cometh of God that I speake, so whether that thing that I entend to do come of God or not, consyder you, and pray hym to persourne it. This night you shal stand at the gate, and I and my mayden wyl go out whyle you praye, that wthin the daries that we haue sayd ye wyl peld the cite to oure ennemyes, the Lord of Israell may helpe you thowme my hande. But what I wyl do aske ye no question, for I wyl not tell you what I purpose to do vntill it be done. Do nothyng in the meane tyme but praye for me vnto the Lord our God. And Nysas whal the chersemen saied vnto her So thy may, & wel myght thou speke, and the Lord God go before the to auer our enemyes, and so turning to thei rentes, euerie man wente to hys standinge.

The .ix. Chapter.

The prayer of Judith for the victory.
Then they were gone they way Judith went into her litle house that was appoynted for prayer, and fel down vpon her face, and when she had cast vpon her bed, she put on her betty smocke euen now at the eu-rude, whil smocke sauntes mee burning in the house of the Lord at Ierusalē, and she cryed wth a loud voice: Lord God of my father Simeon, * to whom thou didst geue a swerd to be reuenged vpon straungers whych defiled maydes in the holie place, whych thou forbadden, and per dyd they those thynges.

Wherefore thou sufferedst their heades to be shapne, and they beddes to come in bloude, and the seruantes to lye dead vpon the duners, and the princes vpon the ser-uantes, and therie wyues to be take for a praye, and they daughters to be led into captivity, and gauest all the spoyles to be delouered vnto thy deare sonnes, to them whych let a spere wth thine auger, abhorred the fault that was done to their bloud; and called for they helpe: thou the same Lord my God, heare me also being a widowe. For thou dydst both these thynges that wet before, and that folowed after: and wth thy presence thoughtest also vpon those thynges that wet to come.
Then stande by the vpon whom thou to-kest counsell, and let me be here say they.
And quickely are thy draynes prepared, and thy iudgements rounded for. Beholde now the reutes of the Assyrians, as thou didst vouchsafe once to lye vpon the sentes of the Egyptians, when they folowed in harness thy seruantes, trusting vpon their charters and horsemen and multitude of souldiers. But whē I looked down vpon their pauldres, darckenes did wery the, & their foot slack in shod, & wet drowned in sh waters. The like Lord graunt may come to these: behold I Assyrians be many in vomer, & be proud of their horses & horsemen, & boasting in the strenght of their fore men, they trust in buckler, bow, & spynge, & know not I to be Lord I destroyer warres, & I I art Lord alone. By thy strenght, breake their, & put out thynne seme as thou didst once, & breake down their power in thynne dunger. For they are determynd to defile thy hallowed thynges, & to pollute the sabernacle, the scare of thy glozious name, & to breake downe I corners of thine altar wth sword. Behold they pryde, and send thynne anger vpon their heades, and sendyng strength into the hand of me I am a widow, as I haue purposed, I may the-row * a false tale by the seruante wh the prince, & the prince wh the seruant: break their stoutnes wth a womans hand, byll that proude fellowe wh hys owne swerd, & cause that thowme me he may be taken in the snare of hys eyes. Strengthen my mynde to despyse him, and strengthen me wth strength to destroy hym. For this shal percapne to I memory of thy name, of a woman overcome hym. * For thy strengthe standeth not in multitude, nor thy power in stronge men, thou destroyest not stronge horses, nor proude men neuer pleased the, but thou art the Lord of the meke, and helpee of the inferiour, the strengthe of the weake, and defender of the forsaken. So to my fatherly God, the God of thy possypon of Israell, the Lord of heauen and earth, the maker of waters, the kyng of all thynges that thou haste made, heare thou my prayers whych truste vpon thy mercye, and remember O Lord thy promise, euen my woordes into their burde, wounde, and scourge, whych haue taken cruell counselles agaynst thy testament, agaynst thy holy house and moite Sion, and agaynst the house possided of thy chyldren. Strengthen this purpose in my mynde, I thy house maye mainteine thy religion. Shewe an example thowme out all thy nation and tribe, that it may bee seene that thou art the God of all strengthe and power, and that there is none other defender of the people of Israell but thou.

The .x. Chapter.

Judith decketh her selfe to go to Holophernes. The blessinge that she others gaue Judith. Holophernes is in loue wth Judith.

Ad whē she hadde made an end of callinge vpon the Lord God of Israell, and hadde ended all her woordes, she rose vp from the place

Gen. xxi. i.
Eccl. xxi. i.

Jud. iii. b.
b. d.

ll. pa. r. i. i.
c. xvi. b.
c. d.
Jud. vi. a

b

place where she lay vpon the ground, and callenge her mayden, when she was gone into her house where she was wont to be in the Sabbathes and holpe daies, she pulled of the sacke clothe that she hadde on, and layd aside her wydowes garmentes, and washed her body, anoynted it with swete opntemente, and platted her heare, and set an hane vpon it, and put on her best holpe daie garmentes, with which she was wont to be goodlye arrayed, when her husbande Manasses lyued: and when she had put her shypers vpon her fete, and decked her with armicletes, bracelettes, ringes, earlynge, and all her best apparel, she set her countenance verie pleasant to entyse all mennes eyes that looked vpon her. The Lord gaue her a speciall beaute and fairnes, for all thys decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnes, but of a ryght discretio. And of al when she had geuen a botell of wyne and a pottle full of oyle vnto her maide, and fylled her wallet with meale, cheese, and fyng breade, and wrapped all her vessels together, and layde them vpon her backe, goinge oute at the gate of the citty of Bervulia, they found * Oziam and the senatours of the citty, Chabrim & Chabrim standing there: whiche when they sawe her, and that she had an other countenance, and that her behauioure was chaunged, marueyllynge greatlye at her bentre, spake thus vnto her: God, peac the God of oure fathers, gyue the grace, and bringe all thy benynges vnto the glorye of Israell, and excellence of Ierusalem, that thy name may be praised in the number of sayntes and iuste menne.

And she sayed: commaunde the gate of the citty to be opened that I maye goe oute, and persourne in dede the mooordes that you haue had with me. Then commaunded they the yong men to open the gates as she had requyred, whiche thing when they had done, Judith wente oute with her maide, and the towne men looked after her as she wente down the hill aboute the risinge of the sunne, tyl she went thorow the valley, so þ they loste the syghte of her. So they went straght alonge the balleye tyl they came to the Assyans, whiche kepte warde before the tentes, whiche toke her and asked her: What costlye woman art thou, from whence comest thou, or whither wilt thou? And she sayed, * I am a doughter of the Hebriues, and am fled from them, for they shall be spoiled of you, because they wold not wyllynge yelde the selues to you, to obtayne yowre pardō. And I come to se Holofernes master of yowre semre, to tell hym a true tale, and to shewe hym before hys eyes a waye, by whiche he may go in, and get all the mountayne countrye: and neither anye manne of hys souldiers, nor of hys beastes, shalbe hurte. When they hearde these wordes of her, the men beholdynge her countenance, and delygnted with her great beaute, sayed vnto her: Thou hast saved thy lufe, whiche hast takē such cost: I makest haile to come in to the syghte of our Lorde. So they for nowe vnto hys tent, some of vs will go with the vntyll thou be brought vnto hym. But whil you shall come before hym, be not abashed, but tel on pounce tale, as you tolde vs, and he will entreate you wel, and ye shal be very wel come to hym. So they chose oute of þ companye an hundred men, whiche together in a charret with her and the maide, brought her to Holofernes tente. Then came they all rannynge out of the tentes, because her commynge was noyed thoroughout, and the people came about her: and she sayed without Holofernes passion, tyl it was tolde hym of her. And they maruailed at her bewty, and at the Israhelites, and sayd one to another: who woulde se syght by these people whiche haue such womē amongst them, for whom we maye iustly syghte? Merelye it is not good that one of vs be left aloue, whiche if they be let goo, be able to bringe the hols woelde into myschefe. So they that watched Holofernes person, and all hys seruantes, brought her into his pauplyd. As it than chaunced Holofernes rested hym vpon hys bedde, vnder a canapre þ was woven with purple, gold, smaragde, and precious stones: and whē it was tolde hym of her, he came to the entry of hys tabernacle, and they bare before hym siluer lāpes. When when Judith was come into hys syghte, and the syghte of them that serued hym, all maruailed at her beaute, and euen at the first sighte Holofernes wold take with her lufe, but she fel downe vpon her face, and worshipped hym.

The. vi. Chapter.

Holofernes requereth of Judith the cause of her commynge, which geueth hym a subtile answer.

And when Holofernes seruantes had takē her vp, he hym selfe spake thus vnto her, womē haue good hope, and be not afrayed: for I neuer barred anye, whiche wolde do seruite to Nabuchodonozor kynge of the eastre: and if thys thy people that dwel- leth in þ mountayne countrye, had not despised me, I wold neuer a lyft vp my staffe agaynst the, but they are the cause of those chynge the selues. And nowe tel me whyle thou arte fledde frome them and come hys: therfor thy commynge is for thy wealthe. Be of good cheare, for thou shalt lyue thys nyghte and after. For there is no manne shall do the harme, but thou shalt be wel entreated, as the seruantes of my kynge Nabuchodonozor are wonte to be entreated. To whome Judith answered. What are the saynges of thy hand mayden what Judi. vii.

Judi. viii.

What the wyl save before þ: for this night wyl I save uo ly unto my Lorde. And yf youfome thowwylve the adafle of your handemayden, God þat byngre the matter to paffe wryth you, & you my Lorde þall have your purpose. For I take to wrynes the lyfe of Nabachodonofor kynge of all the earthe and hys power, that hath sente the to correcte all lypunge men, that not onelye thowme the all men þat fecue him, but also al wylde beastes of the felde and cattel, & byrdes of the ayre thy power þat lyue under þ subiectiō of Nabachodonofor & of al his household. For of thy wylsome and prudence and actiuite of thy mynde we haue herde, and it is spoken of thow out all the worlde that thou onelye arte the chyfe in all his realme, and moost to be maruayled at for thyne excellentē science and knowledge in warre. We haue known also what comanication & Achior hadde in thy presence, and what words he spake, and also how thou dydst cause hym to be handeled. For they that dwelle at Bethulsa haue gotte hym, to whom he told all that he spake before the. Wherefore o Lorde of Lordes, sette not lyghte by hys warnynges, but marche them wel in your mynde, for they be true. For our naciō can not be harmed, neyther can the swerde do anye thyng a iaynter, except they offend their God by synne. And it is playne that he is now so displeased with our synnes, that by his prophetes he hath sente word to the people, that he wyl punyſhe them for thair synnes. And because þ Achiores do knowe that they haue made their God angrye with them, they are aſcaped of the.
And now that my Lorde ſhould not loſe his hope, or gne aware hys matter not ſp-ryſhed, but that they al may ſuffer deathe, ſuche a ſaue is now chynge vpon them, wherby they ſhall anget their God yf they do that miſcheuous deed. For now because they lacke meate & water they haue deter-mynd to kyl their cattel, and drinke their bloude, and then are decreed to eate what ſoener meate God hath ſet forbydden by his lawes. yea eue the verie frut ſeeds of their corne, and the ſches of their wyne & oyle, whiche they reſerued beynge conſecrate vnto the viſſe of Jeruſalem in pynnyſſyng in the ſyghte of the Lorde: I ſaye they be purpoſed to eate them, where as it is not laweful for anye of þ people once to touche them. And they haue ſente vnto Jeruſale (for they that dwelle there haue done ſuch thynges) that they maye haue ſpece from the counſell. It ſhal happen therefore that whē they haue a ſuſwere ſo to do, the ſame day they ſhal be deſtroyed vnto the to be ſlayne. Wherefor I thy marden when I kneue all theſe thynges, came aſware from them: & God byng angyr wryth them, ſent me to go thowme wryth this thyng, wryth whiche he wyl make all the worlde to wonder that ſhal heare of it.

For thy handemayde is one that feareth
God, and wyl ſupper vnto myght and day.
Wherefore wote o Lorde, I wyl ſay to the the, & in the night thy mayde wyl go out into the valley, and ſay vnto God, that he wyl ſhew me when they haue committed their synnes: then wyl I come and ſhewe the all, and thou ſhal beare vpon thy wryth thyne army, and there ſhall be none hable to reſiſt þ, & I wyl leade the thow the myddell of Jewrye, tyll thou comeſt into the ſyght of Jeruſalem, and I wyl make thy ſeate in the myddell of it. Thus ſhal þ dyne the before þ as theye that lacke a ſhepherd, and not ſo muche as a dogge ſhall barke agaynſte the: for theſe thynges mer ſhewed me before by reuelacion, and I was ſente to tel the of them.

Theſe wordes pleaſed Holophernes and all his ſeruauntes, and they maruayled at her wyſdome, ſayinge: There is not a woman from one ende of the worlde to the other lyke her, in beuſtie and eloquence, in tellpuge her tale: and thertwyt Holop-hernes ſpake thus vnto her: God hath done well that he hath ſent the byther before this people, to byng ſtrength vnto our handes, and deſtruction to the that deſpiſe my lord: in verr deeth thou art beuſifull to behold & canſt ſpeke eloquently, & yf thou perſoutme þ thou haſt promiſed, that God of thyne ſhal be my God, and thou ſhalt ſpe in Nabachodonofors houſe, and ſhalte be ſpoke of thowme out all bys lande,

The. xii. Chapter.

Holophernes commaundeth that Iudith be wel entreated, ſhe deſpyrth licence to go out in the night ſeaſon to pray and obrepnyth it, Agao is ſent vnto her to mouche to come to Holophernes to a banquet, and ſhe cometh.
Holophernes is dyonchen.

Iden commaunded be her to be brought into the cellar, where I byſplaye household ſuffe was,
and that ſhe ſhulde haue a table of ſeame meate, and drinke of his owne wyne.

But Iudith ſayd: * Of thyng I wyl not eate, leaſt I diſpleaſe God: but I wyl be Gene. xlii. f ſerued wryth thoſe thynges that I haue Dani. xii. b broughte with me. Then ſayd Holophernes: Tob. i. b nes: But yf theſe that thou haſt doe ſayle, howe ſhal we get lyke for the.

For we haue none left of this ſorte Iudith anſwered: as treuſas þ lyueſt my Lord, ſo ſhall not thy handemayde conſume that I haue, or euer the Lord thowme my haue haue broughte bys purpoſe to paſſe. So Holophernes ſeruauntes brought her into the tent, wher after ſhe had ſepte tyl midnyghte, aboute þ morning watch ſhe roſe vnto, and ſent to Holophernes one to ſay.
Ware it pleaſe my Lorde to commaunde that hys mayden maye be let out to ſtare.
And when Holophernes had com natiſhed them that kept his perſon that they ſhuld not ſtop her, ſhe raiſed in hys tentes. iii. dayes, & in þ nyght went into the valley o f.

The booke of Judith.

Bethulia, and washed her self in a founteyn that was in the tentes: and when she was come out she desired þe Lord God of Israel that he would prosper her purpose, to help her wardes the kintred of her people: and goinge agayn into her tent, there she abode pure and cleane, about euentyng: that she went to meat. And it happened on þe fourth day that Holofernes kept a costly feast with none but his seruantes, nor byd not bid to sup with him any of the chiefe officers. Then said Holofernes to Bagoas the galarng, whiche had the keying of all his substance, go thy wyse and counsaill thys womā of the Hebrewes whych is with the, to come to vs and eate & drinke with vs. For so it is greare shame to oure personne, if we should let such a woman scape and haue not to do with her: yf we drinke her not vnto vs, she wyl mocke vs also. So Bagoas when he was gone out of Holofernes sight, and come to her, said: O my ladye please you say mayd to come vnto my master, and to be honoured before him, and to drinke wyne with vs to make you merke & to doe this day as þe þoughters of the Assyrians whiche be in Babilagodonozors house. And Judith said: what art thou, that thou shouldest say my Lord he hath in any thinge? yea canst thou whatsoeuer shall please him, or þe shal thinke good, I wyl do it quickly, for it shal be to my praise til I dye. And therewith she arose, and decked her selfe in her garments, and all her women appaell: and her mayden came, and layed furred skynnes for her vpon the ground, euen ryght agaynst Holofernes, whiche she had receyued of Bagoas to occupie euery day, to lye vpon the, and eate her meate. And when Judith was set, Holofernes her began to burne vpon her, and his mynd was moued so that he greatly desired to haue to do with her. For euen now from the firste daye that he se her, he sought for occasiō to abuse her.

So Holofernes saide vnto her: drinke home and be merre with vs, for thou hast sold fauour in my sight. And Judith said: yea home I wyl drinke with good wyll, for I am to haue more pleasauntly disposed, the euer I was before lence I was borne: and she began to eate and drinke before him suche thynges as her mayde had prepared for her.

So Holofernes was gladd because of her, and drinke her muche wyne, so much as he neuer drinke before in one day at any other tyme, sence he was borne.

The xlii. Chapter.

Holofernes slepeth for very dronkenesse, and Judith cutteth off his head and goeth thence with to her owne people, of whome she is receaued with ioye. They geue thyses vnto her for the ydyl seruante. Judith speaketh vnto Achior, whiche mannapleth at her fente vnto Holofernes.

The xlii. Chapter.

At nowe when it was late in the night, and that his seruantes had fast euery manne in his longinge, and that Bagoas had shutte the vnter dore of the tabernacle, and that all that were there were gone out of the masters sygh, euery man went to his bed: because they were wearied with longe quaffinge. So Judith was left in the tent alone, and Holofernes laye along in his bed all drunken. And Judith had her mayd to stand without the chamber, and wayle for his comynge oute, as she was daylye wont to do. For she sayed she wolde come oute to praye, and in the myghte tolde the Bagoas. So when all were gone out of her sighte and that none was left in the chamber, small nor great, Judith standing at his beddes syde, sayed thus in her mynde with her self: O Lord God of all strengthe, loke in this house to the workes of my handes, that Ierusalem may be exalted as thou hast promised. For nowe is it tyme to helpe thy possession, and by the trust that I haue in the, to perfourm my purpose, to the putting down of our enemies, whiche are risen agaynst vs: and therewith she came vnto the piller of the bed, which was at Holofernes head, and toke out from thence his sword. And when she had toled her selfe toward the bed, she toke hyr by the hette of the head, saying: Strengthen me now O Lord God of Israel, and gaue two strokes vpon his necke as harde as she could: and cut of his head: and afterwarde tolong his body in the bed, and taking the canopy from the pillers, tolong in a while after she wente oute, and beliddered Holofernes heade to her mayde, which when she hadde put into her meate bag, they went forth both together after the maner that they were wont to pray. So going out from the tentes, they came about by the waye, and went by the byl of Bethulia. And when they were come to the gates, Judith a far of celled to þe watchmen that kept the gates: Go to open the gates, open, God is with vs. I save our God, the wyng his strength yet in Ierusalem, and his power agaynst his enemies, as he hath done euē now at this tyme. When they heard her speak thus, the councailmen came doun quicklie to the gates of the cite, & when they had called the counsailers, all came cunynge together: from the leaste to þe greatest, (for they looked not for her comynge:) and makinge speere to haue lyght, they opened the gate and stode about the. And she goinge into an hye place, wher they kepte silence, spake out aloud, and sayd: Laude and praise god, for he hath not withdrawen his mercy from the house of Israel, nor hath not forsake those that truste in hym, but with my hand this night hath trode doun our enemies: and is these mondes brought out, and shewed the the head, Eccle. xxi.

1. Reg. xvi.
11. 2. Reg. vii.

C

saying

saying: Lo, behold þe head of Holofernes, general of the Assyrians armye, and behold the canopy that he sape on when he was drunke, when God slew hym by a womans hand. I take to wytnesse the sayyng God which hath kept me by þe way that I haue gone, that he was deceyved by lokyng vpon my face to his destruction, and that he hath done to me no fylthy abhominacion. All ye prayse God, for he is good, and his mercye endureth for euer. The maruelled þe people greatly, and when they had bowed doune theselues, and worshipped God, they sayd altogether: O our God, worthy art thou to be praised, which at this tyme haue brought to naught the enemies of the people. And Ozias sayd to her: Blessed arte thou, O daughter of the Lord the hye God, above all women vpon the earth, & blessed be the Lord maker of heauen & earth, which hath gydded the sayght to Smyte of the head of the capayne of our enemies. For the memoire of thy hope shal neuer go out of the myndes of me that speake of the power of God. God graunt the this to thy everlasting glorie, to entriche the with goodes, because thou hast not spared thy selfe whē our kynd was in adiccion. but goyng the sayght way before our Lord God, hast holpen ou. fall. And all the people sayd: Amen: Amen.

The.xiiii.Chapter.

The counsaile of Judith, Achior beyng an heathen man tourneth to god. The Assyrians are strayed of the Jewes.

11. Mac. xv

Judith sayd vnto all the people: b:erh: heare me: take this head, and hang it on a pole vpon oue wallis, and asone as it is day and the sunn rysen, let euery man put on his barres, and all the valiaunt mē with their captaine shal b:eke out of þe cite as though ye would go down to the first campe of the Assyrians: and yet he shall not so do. And then all they puttyng on their barres, wyl go into their tentes to raise vp the capitaines of the Assyrians host, and wil make toward Holofernes pavilion: & when they spyd hym not, but se his headlesse bodye tolled in bloude, feare wyl come vpon them, and wyl flye from your sight. Then you folowynge with all that dwell in Israel, ouerthrowe al in the way before you. For God shall proue the vnto you to be troden vnder your fete. But afore these thynges be done, call to me Achior the Armonite, hym that was sente vnto vs to be slayne, & he may se and beholde hym that despyed the house of Israel. So Achior was called out of the house of Ozias: which when he was come, and Holofernes head in a mas had that was amongst the people, fell doune vpon his face in a swone, and whē he was come agayne to hym self, he fel before Judiths fete, and when he hadde worshipped her face, he sayed: Praise mought thou be thowme out al the tentes of Juda, and amonge all nations, whiche shall heare of thy name. But reherse now vnto me what thou hast done at this tyme. And amonge all the people Jewish reherseb vnto him al that he had done, sence the tyme he went forth, euen tyll now that he spake vnto them. The God of Israel, quod he whiche thou saydest would reuenge hym self of his enemies, he this nyght hath cut of the heades of al the vngodly with my hand: whiche thyng to be true, tois heade of Holofernes doth proue: which with a proude contempte dysprayed the God of Israel, and manaced to kyll the, sayyng: when I haue vanquished the people of Israel, I wyl commaunde the to be thowme thowme both the sydes with a swerde.

And after she had made an ende of sayyng, the people shoutyng aloud, gaue great cryes thowme out the cite for ioy. And Achior seing all these thynges that þe God of Israel had done, trusted greatly in God: and his foresyn beynge circumcised, was toyned vnto the house of Israel with all his kyndred that came after, euen vnto this day. And when it was day, Holofernes head being hanged vpon þe wallis all the mē put on their barres, and turned them selues tosid in a tynge without at the going down of the hye: when the Assyrians saw, they sent messengers vnto the Centurians, and they vnto the capitaines and tribunes: and all these men, whiche after they were come to Holofernes tente, they sayed to him that had charge of al his gere

1. Reg. xiii. a

Call * vp I pray the our Lord that for as much as these slayes be so bold to come & fight with vs, they may be al slayn. And in the entree before his chamber they rumbled together, and made a noise for the nonce to wake hym, that he shoulde be awakend not by them that called hym vp, but rather by their meanes that rustled together. For no man durst knocke at his masters chamber doore, or open it to go in. Then Bagoas entreynge in knocked within the entree of his paylyd, because he thought he was in bed with Judith. But no man would heare him, the putting þe doore asyde and entreynge into the chamber, when he saw hym cast vpon his bed, and his head being of, he cryyng out aloud with wepyng and maylyng, and a great outcry, he race his garmentes: And entring into the tabernacle also wher Judith was wylt to be, whē he found not her neither, he leyt out before the people, cryyng out: & he certauites haue done a great mischief, this one woman of the Jewes hath brought great shame into the house of kynge Nabuchodonosor: for loke wher Holofernes lieth flat vpon the ground, and his head of. When the chiefe men of the Assyrians host herd these words, they tore their clothes, & wer maruelously afraied in their myndes: and ther arose in the midst of the tentes a greare crye and howlyng out.

The booke of Judith.

The. xv. Chapter.

The sight of the Assyrians. The pursuit of Israel after them. Israel becometh rich by the spoiles of the Assyrians. Judith is praised of Joachim and of the people.

And also they that were in their pavilions, when they herde of this dedde, despitte of better & counsaill, & were amazed, and great feare and tremblunge came vpon them: and there was none that coulde abyde to se other, but assouped all together: and by all the wayes as well of the hilly as campion countrey, casting downe their heades, and leaping all behind them intending to escape the Assyrians, whome they hard say came fast after the: & they also had sensed them selues within the mountaynes aboute Bethulia, ran away.

BThen dro the beste warriour of the Israelites putte after them with sound of trumpets, and great cry: and because the Assyrians fledde scaggelyng here and there helonges, and that the Israelites folowed with their hols armes, they kyled as many as they coulde ouertake.

And Oziar sent to Bethomasta, Bebar, Chobay, Cholam, and into all the borders of Israel, to beare tidings of the thinge was done, to thintent that al should come to the laughter of the enemye.

And whē they herde this, the Israelites altogether came vpon them, and chased the, & slew the, euen as farre as Choba. They of Hierusalem came also, and out of al the mountayne country, (for vnto them also came tidings of those thinges that were done in the tentes of their enemyes) and the Galaadites also & the Galilees diaue the with great laughter beyond Damasco and the borders of the same. The other inhabitautes of Bethulia inuaded & tentes of the Assyrians, & by their praye gat great riches. The Israelites that came from the laughter had that that was left, and the villages & cities, as well of the chapid as mountayne country, gatte great spoiles: of the whiche they had great plenty. And Joachim the hysde Wythod, and the Senatores of Israel that dwelt at Hierusalem, came to reuise, and beare wytnesse of the benefites which God hath geuen to the Israelites, and also to se Judith, and gentelly to salute her: which whē they were come to her, with one mouth testified their lofe toward her, sayinge:

Thou the honoure of Hierusalem, thou the greatesor of Israel, & the royal host of our kynned, thou hast done all these thynges with thine own hand, and hast endued Israel with these benefites, and God with his fauoure hath furthered the. Thou hast is strenghtened because thou louest chastite, and tokest none other after thy husband, therefore hath the hand of God strengthened thee. Blessed be thou before God for ever.

DAnd all the people sayde: So be it.

The. xvi. Chapter.

But the people spying the tentes by the space of xxx. dayes, gaue vnto Judith his tentes, all his splute, hys beddes, hys basins, and all his household stuffe, which he layde vpon mules, and in her cartes. Then came running to se her al the womē of Israel, and prayed her, and appointed to daunce: and she toke the women by the handes that were with her, and gaue the goodly nescaptes, and puttyng vpon her owne head and her maydens a garland of olpue, leading the daunce before all the people, with before al the womē, al the men of Israel in barnes with garlandes, with orgas, harpes & songes, which they sange.

The. xvi. Chapter.

The songe of Judith for the victory. After the victorye obtayned, the people cometh to Hierusalem to worship and praise God.

And Judith began this song of lofe among al the Israelites, and al the people sange this praise with loude voyce, and Judith begane.

Begyn vnto my Lorde vpon tabrettes, and singe vnto my Lorde vpon cymbals, syng a songe vnto him, prayse him, and call vpon his name.

For the Lorde is the destroyer of battayles, wher he hath put his tente in the myddel of his people, and hath deliuered me from the handes of them that persecuted me. The Assyrian came from the mountaynes out of the north, he came with thousandes in his army, and his multitude shut in all the skemes about, & his horsemen couered the ballies.

Judith. vii. c

He sayde he woulde consume my boundes with swerd, and slay my yong men with sword, and brayn my suckpuge chyldren, & that he woulde geue myne infanties for a praye, and dyue awaye my virgins. The Lorde omnipotent hath decerued them of their purpose by the hand of a woman.

For he was not slayne by strong hand of yonge men, neyther byd they that were borne of woman kyll hym, neither greates gyaantes set vpon hym, but Judith the daughter of Otharath, scattered the with the beutye of her face.

Judith. x

For when she hadde putte of hys impropres apparell, and put on her holidayes apparell, to helpe the Israelites that were in leuoydye, her face beynge anoynted with sweete oyntment, and her herte reyned with an dore and with a linen stole, she decerued hym.

Her syluer caught hys eyes, and hys mynde was taken with her beutye & hys swerd went thorow his necke.

The Persians feared her audacite, and the Medes maruelled at her boldnes.

Then reyned myne humble people, and the weak cryed out, burned for thirst, and they were afraied, & cryed & ranne awaye.

The sonnes of our women leue the, and the seruantes of my Lorde God wounded them and leue them, as cunninge Iacobs.

C

J. w. g. h.

Gen. i.
Psa. m. ccc.
and. ccc. ii.
Psal. c. iii.

Thou shalt singe a songe and praise vnto the Lorde. O Lorde thou art great & glorious, maruailous in strengthe, and invincible.
At thy hand worke is created the, for thou
com naunted it: and it was thou sendest out thy spirite, and it was made, for there is nothinge that canne resiste thy worde.
For the mountaynes shalbe moued with the waters frome the founteyns, and the stones shal melt in thy sight like ware, & yet arte thou mercifull to the that feare thee.

The ende of the booke of Judith.

The reste of the

Chapters of the booke of Esther, whiche are neither found in the Hebrew nor in the Chaldee.

The. xi. Chapter after the Latyne.
The dream of Mordecheus.

Mordecheus the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Se-mer, the sonne of Eliel of the tribe of Benjamin,
a Jewe which had bys dwellinge in Susa, a
maunne of great reputa-

cyon and excellence amonge all them that were in the kynges court. (Reuerchele
he was one of the prysoners, whom Nabu-chodonosor the kyng of Babylon had caried a way from Iherusalem vnto Babilo-nyth Iechonpas the kyng of Iuda.) In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first dawe of the moneth Nisan, hadde thys Mordecheus such a dreame: He thought he herd a greet speeche, horrible thunder clappes, earthquakes,
and great vnrout in the land: and that he
saw. ii. great dragons, readye to fyghte one agaynst another. Theyr crye was great. At the whiche roarynge and cry all heaven were vp, to fyght agaynst the tyrannous people. And the same dawe was full of darckenes and very vnclere, full of troubie and anquyete. yea, a greates fear-fulness was there in all the land. The righteous were amysed, for they feared the plague and euill that was dewysed ouer them, and were at a point with themselves to dye. So they cryed vnto God: and while they were cryinge, the lottel tress grewe into a great tress and into many waters.
And with that it was day, and the sunne rose vp agayn. And slowly were created, and deuouted the glorious and proude.

More whiche Mordecheus had sene this dreame, he awoke, and mused he fast in his heart, what God would do: and so bedesetued to know all the matter, and bys myght was therupon butyll he myght.

The. xii. Chapter.

Mordecheus receyved the letters deuysed agaynst the kyng, and is therfore rewarded of hym.

In the same tyme dwelt Mor-docheus with Bagasba and Tates the kynges chamberlaynes, and porters of the palace. But when he herd their deuyce and had diligently considered theyr imagynacions, he perceyued that they went aboute to laye their cruel han-des vpon the kyng Artaxerxes: and so certified the kyng thereof. Then caused the kyng to craue the two gelded wyth toir-mentes. And whiche they hadde graunted it, they were put to death.

This the kyng caused to be put in the Chronicles for an euerylastyng remembraunce of Mordocheus wryt by the same matter.
So the kyng commaunded that Mordo-cheus shoulde do seruyce in the court, and for this faythfulness of his he gaue him a reward. But Amas the sone of Amadabhu the Agagite, which was holden in greates honour and reputation in the kyngs court, vnderooke to hurte Mordocheus and bys people, because of the two chamberlaynes that were put to deathe.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst the Jewes. The prayer of Mordocheus.

De greates kyng Artaxerxes
whiche raygned frome India
vnto Egipt, ouer an hundred and seynt and twentye landes, sendeth bys frendelye salutacyon vnto all princes and debities of the countries, whiche be subiecte vnto bys domynyon.
When I was made Lorde ouer manye
people, and had subdued the whole earthe vnto my domynyon, my mynde was not wyth crueltie and wrounge too exalte my selfe by the reason of my power: but purposed wyth requyte alwaye and Beneficence, too gouerne those that be vnder my iurisdyccyon, and wholye to sette them in a peaceable life, and therfore too byngt my kyngdom vnto tranquillite,
that me might safely go thorow ouer euer syde, and to renue peace agayne, whiche al meane desyre. Some when I asked my counsaillers how these thynges mighte be brought to a good ende, there was one by us, excellent in wysedome, whose good wyll, trust, and faythfulness hath ofie bene shewed and proued (whiche was also the pryncypall and next vnto the kyng) A man by name: whiche certified vs, howe that in all landes there were crepte in a rebellious folcke, that made statutes and lawes agaynst all other people, and haue alwaye despyed the proclaimed commaundementes of kynges: and home that for this cause it were not to be suffered that suche rule shoulde contynue by you and not to be put downe. Seinge now we per-ceiue the same, that this people alone are contrary

Gen. i.
Psa. m. ccc.
and. ccc. ii.
Psal. c. iii.

Thou shalt singe a songe and praise vnto the Lorde. O Lord thou art great & glorious, maruailous in strengthe, and invincible.
At thy hand worke is created the, for thou
com naunted it: and it was thou sendest out thy spirit, and it was made, for there is nothinge that canne resist thy worde.
For the mountaynes shalbe moued with the waters frome the fountaynes, and
the stones shal melt in thy sight like ware, & yet arte thou mercifull to the that feare thee.

The ende of the booke of Judith.

The reste of the

Chapters of the booke of Esther, which are neither found in the Hebrew
nor in the Chaldee.

The. xi. Chapter after the Latyne.
The dreame of Mordecheus.

Mordecheus the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Se-
mer, the sonne of Aisai of the tribe of Benjamin,
a Jewe which had bys dwellinge in Susa, a
maunne of great reputa-

cyon and excellence amonge all them that
were in the kynges court. (Reuerchele
he was one of the prysoners, whom Nabu-chodonosor the kyng of Babylon had ca-
ried a way from Iherusalem vnto Babilo-nyth Iechonpas the kyng of Iuda.) In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first dawe of the moneth Nisan, hadde thys Mordecheus such a dreame: He thought he herd a greet speeche,
horrible thunder clappes, earthquakes,
and great vnrout in the land: and that he
saw. ii. great dragons, readye to fyghte one agaynst another. Theyr crye was great. At the whiche roarynge and cry all heaven were vp, to fyght agaynst the tyrannous people. And the same dawe was full of darckenes and very vnclere, full of troubie and angurthe. sea, a greates fear-fulness was there in all the land. The righteous were amysed, for they feared the
plague and euill that was dewysed ouer
them, and were at a point with themselves
to dye. So they cryed vnto God: and while they were crying, the lottel tress grewe into a great tress and into many waters.
And with that it was day, and the sunne
rose vp agayn. And slowly were created,
and deuouted the glorious and proude.

More whē Mordecheus had sene this dreame, he awoke, and mused he fastly in his heart, what God would do: and so be-
desetued to know all the matter, and bys
myght was therupon butyll he myght.

The. xii. Chapter.

Mordecheus directeth the letters deuysed agaynst the king, and is therfore rewarded of hym.

At the same tyme dwelt Mor-docheus with Bagartha and Tates the kynges chamberlaynes, and porters of the palace. But when he herd their deuyce and had diligently considered theyr imagynacions, he perceyued that
they went aboute to laye their cruel han-
des vpon the kyng Artaxerxes: and so certified the kyng thereof. Then caused the kyng to craue the two gelded wyth toir-mentes. And whē they hadde graunted it, they were put to death.

This the kyng caused to be put in the Chronicles for an euerylastyng remembraunce of Mordecheus wryt by the same matter.
So the kyng commaunded that Mordo-
cheus shoulde do seruyce in the court, and for this faithfulness of his he gaue him a reward. But Amā the sone of Amadabhu the Agagite, which was holden in greates honour and reputation in the kyngs court, vnderooke to hurte Mordecheus and bys people, because of the two chamberlaynes
that were put to deathe.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst the Jewes. The prayer of Mordecheus.

De greates kyng Artaxerxes
whiche raygned frome India
vnto Egipt, ouer an hundred and seynt and twentye landes, sendeth bys stendelpe salutacyon vnto all prynces and debities of the countries, whiche be subiecte vnto bys domynyon.
When I was made Lorde ouer manye
people, and had subdued the whole earthe
vnto my domynyon, my mynde was not wyth crueltye and wronge too exalte my selfe by the reason of my power: but purposed wyth requyte alwaye and Benselucte, too gouerne those that be vn-
der my iurisdyccyon, and wholye to sette
them in a peaceable life, and therfore too
byngt my kyngdom vnto tranquillite,
that me might safely go thorow ouer euer
syde, and to renue peace agayne, whiche al meane desyre. Some when I asked my counsaillers how these thynges mighte be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs, excellent in wysedome, whose good wyll, trust, and faithfulness hath ofie bene shewed and proued (whiche was also the pryncypall and next vnto the kyng) A
man by name: whiche certified vs, howe
that in all landes there were crepte in a rebellious folcke, that made statutes and
lawes agaynst all other people, and haue alwaye despyed the proclaimed commaun-
dementes of kynges: and home that for this cause it were not to be suffered that
suche rule shoulde contynue by you and not to be put downe. Seinge now we per-ceiue the same, that this people alone are contrary

contrary vnto euerie man, vsing straunge and order maner of lawes, and withade our statutes and doynge, and go aboute to stablysh shrewd matters, that our kynge-dome shoulde neuer come to good estate, and subsistues: Therefore haue we commaunded that al they that are appointed in wyppynge and shewynge vnto you by And (which is ordeyned and set ouer al our bus-sines and the most pryncypall next vnto the kynge, and in maner as a father) shall with theyr wyues & chyldren be destroyed and rooted oute with the swerde of thei-re enemies and aduersaries: and that ther shalbe no mercy shewed, and no aid spared.
And this shalbe done the.xiii. daye of the monech (called Adar) of this yere, that thei which of old (and now also) haue euer bene rebellious, may in one daye with vyolence be thrust downe into the hell to the intent that after this maner, our empyre may haue peace and tranquillite.

But Ahasuerus thoughte vpon al the workes and noble actes of the Lorde, and made hys prayer vnto hym, sayinge: O Lorde Lorde, thou valciant and almyghty kyng (for all thynges are in thy power) and if thou wilt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstand nor let the: for thou hast made heauen and earth, and what wonderful thynges soeuer is vnder the heauen) thou art Lorde of all thynges, and there is no man that can resist þe. O Lord Thou knowest all thynges, thou wast Lorde, that it was nerther of malice, nor presumption nor for any desyre of glory, that I woulde not bowe downe my selfe nor worshippe vnder proud prosumptuous Aman (for I woulde haue bene contente and that with good will, if I myghte haue done Israel anye good, to haue had euen his forefeythes) but that I dyd it because I woulde not let the honore of a man in the shade of the glorie of God, and because I woulde worshippe none but onely the my Lorde. And thus haue I done in no wyse nor presumption.

E And therfore O Lorde thou God, and kyng, haue merce vpon thy people: for they prayn how they maye bypug vs to naught, yea their mind and desyre is to de-stroye and to ouerthrowe the people, that hath euer ben thyne enteraunce of olde.
O despyse not thy voyce, whiche thou hast deliuered and broughte oute of Egypt for thyne owne selfe. Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy people whome thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe.
Turne out complaine and sorow into joy, that we maye lue O Lord, and prayse thy name. O Lorde suffer not the mouth of theim that prayse the, to be destroyed.

All þe people of Israel in like maner reled as earnestly as they could vnto þe Lorde, for their death & destructione stode before their eyes.

The.xiii. Chapter.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of hys and her people.

Ene Esther also beyng in the barraple of death, resorted vnto the Lorde, layed a myghty glorious apparell, and put on the garmentes that serued for syghynge and mournynge. In the dead of piteous syn-ment, she scattered ashes and benge vpon her head, and as for her body, she humbled it, and brought it very lowe. All the places wher she was wonte to haue ioye as fore, those filled she with the berr, that she plucked oute her selfe. She prayed also vnto the Lorde God of Israel in these wordes.

O my Lorde, thou onely art our kyng, helpe me desolate woman, whiche haue no helper but thee, for my mysfeynde struccyd is hard at my hdd. From my yowth vp I haue ben oute of the kyned of my father, that thou tokest Israel for amonge all the people, and so haue our fathers of their fore elders, that they shoulde be thy perpetual inheritance: & loke what thou wyldest promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

Now wel Lorde we haue sinned before the, therefore hast thou geuen vs into the handes of our enemies, because we worshipped their gods. Lorde thou art ryghteuous: neuertheless it satisfieth the not that we are in bytter & heauy captiuitie and oppressed among them, but thou hast layed their handes vpon the handes of their gods: so that they begon to take awaye the thynges þe thou with thy mouth hast ordeined, and appointed: to destroye thine inheritance, to shur & to stop þe mou-thes of them that prayse the, to quene the glorie and worshyp of thy house and thine aule, and to open the mouthes of the Heathen, that they may prayse the power and vertue of the goddes, and to magnifye the thynges kyng for euer.

O Lorde, geue not thy scepter vnto them that be northynge, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our mysfeynde and fall: but turne they deuyce vpon them selfe, and punysh hym that hath begon the same once vs, and set hym to an example. Thyngke vpon vs O Lorde, & shew thy selfe in the tyme of oure distress and of our trouble. Strengthen me O thou kyng of Goddes, thou Lorde of al power, geue an eloquence & pleasante speech in my mouth before the Lorde.

Turne his herte into þe hate of our enemy, to destroye hym, and all such as consent vnto him. But deliuer vs with thy hand, and helpe me desolate woman, whiche haue no defence nor helper but onely the.
Lorde thou knowest all thynges, thou wast that I loue not the glorie and worshyppe of the wyrgheous, and that I hate and abhorre the beede of the vncircumcised, and of all Heathen.

Thou knowest and wastest my necessitye, that I hate the token of my prehemi-uence and worshyp, whiche I beare vpon my head what tyme as I must shewe my selfe

selfe and be sene: and that I abhorre it as an uncleane clothe, and that I wote it not when I am quere and alone by my selfe. Thou knowest also that I thy hand mayden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delice in the Kinges feaste, & I haue not droncke the drinke offringes, and that I thy hand-mayden had no ioye sence the daye that I was broughte byther, vnto this daye, but onely in & O Lord. O thou God of Abrahā, O thou myghty God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wycked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The. xv. Chapter.

¶ Harbocheus moueth Hester to go in to the kynge and make intercession for her people, & Mepherfourmeth his requeste.

¶ And vpon the third daye it hap-pened, that Hester laied a waye the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparell, & decked herselfe goodly: & after she had called vpon God (which is the be-holder and Sauer of all thynges) toke ii. maydens with her: vpon the one she leaned her selfe as out that was tender, the other folowed her, & bare & traue of her vesture. The shyne of her bewty made her face rose coloured. The similitude of her face was chereful, amiable, but her heart was sorrow-ful for great feare. She went in thorow all the doores, & stode before the king. The king sat vpon the throne of his kyngdome, & was clothed in his goodly acap, al of gold, & set with precious stones, and he was verie terrible. He loked vpon his face, that shone in & clearnes, and loked grimly vpon her. The fel the Quene doune, was pale and faint, leaned her selfe vpon the head of the maide that wente with her.

¶ Nevertheless God turned the kynges mynde that he was gentle, that he leapt out of his seate for feare, and gat her in his armes, and helde her vntill she came to her selfe agayne. He gaue her lounge wordes also, and sayde vnto her: Hester what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheate, thou shalt not dye: for our commandement toucheth the comynge not the: Come nye. And when that he helde vnto his golden wand, and layed it vpon her necke, and embraced her frendely, and sayed: talke with me. The sated she: I saw the (O Lord) as an Angell of God, and my heart was troubled for feare of thy ma-iesty and fearcenesse. For excellent and wonderfull art thou (O Lord) and thy face is full of amytie. But as she was thus speakinge vnto hym, she fel doune agayne for faintnes: for & which cause the king was astraped, & all his seruantes comforted her.

The. xvi. Chapter.

¶ The copye of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he toucheth those which he hath sent forth.

¶ The great kynge Artaxerxes, & A-raxerxes from India vnto A-thiopia ouer an hundred, and xxv. landes, sendeth vnto the priuies and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his frendly salutation. There be many that for the sondy frendshippes and benefites which are byuerselye done vnto them for their worshippe euer the more proude & byt mynded, & undertake not only to hurt oure subiectes (for plenty-uous benefites make they not suffre, and begun to pryng some thyng agaynst those that do them good, & take not onelye al thankfull awaye from men) but in pryde and presumption (as they that be vnderfull & vnderthankfull for the good dedes) they go about to escape the iudgement of God & seeth al thynges, which (iudgement) heareth & punisheth al wickednes. It happeneth ofte also, that they which be sette in office by the dyce powers, & vnto whome the busines and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, were proud, and despyle them selves with the pryde of innocent bloude, which bringeth them to intolerable hurt. Which al so with false and disceitfull wordes and with lying tales, dysceps and betraie the innocent goodnes of priuies.

¶ Nowe is it profitable and good, that we take hede, make search thereafter, and consider not oulpe what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamesfull, vnbo-nest, and nopsome thynges, that the de-tyes haue nowe taken in hande before oure eyes: and thereby to beware in tyme to come, that we may make the kyngdome quere and peaceable for all men, and that we myght sometime drawe it to a changer: and as for the chynge that nowe is present before oure eyes to withstand it, & to put it downe, after the most frendlye manner.

¶ What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadachu the Macedonian (a straunger verely of the Persians bloude, and far from oure goodnes) was come in amonge vs as an aleunt, and had obtained the frendshyppe that we beate toward all people, so that he was called our father, & had in hygh honoure of euery man, as the next and principal vnto the kyng, he could not forbeare himselfe from his pryde, but hath undertaken not onely to robbe vs of the kyngdome, but of oure lyfe.

¶ Wpith manifold disceate also hath he desoyed to destroye Harbocheus our hel-per and preseruer, whiche hath done vs good in all thynges: and innocent Hester the lyke partaker of our kyngdome, with all her people. For his mynde was (when he had taken them out of the waye, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kyngdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedons. But we fonde, that the Jewes (whiche were accused of the wycked, that they myght be des-

ff. l. l. Drops

selfe and be seene: and that I abhorre it as an uncleane clothe, and that I weare it not when I am quere and alone by my selfe. Thou knowest also that I thy hand mayden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delice in the Kinges feaste, & I haue not droncke the drinke offringes, and that I thy hand-mayden had no ioye sence the daye that I was broughte byther, vnto this daye, but onely in & O Lord. O thou God of Abrahā, O thou myghty God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wycked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The. xv. Chapter.

Mardocheus moueth Hester to go in to the kynge and make intercession for her people, & Mardocheus maketh his requeste.

Ad vpon the third daye it happened, that Hester laid a waye the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparell, & decked herselfe goodly: & after she had called vpon God (which is the be-holder and Sauer of all thynges) she came forth with her: vpon the one she leane her selfe as out that was tender, the other folowed her, & bare & traue of her vesture. The shyne of her bewty made her face rose coloured. The similitude of her face was chereful, amiable, but her heart was sorrowful for great feare. She went in thorow all the doores, & stode before the king. The king sat vpon the throne of his kyngdom, & was clothed in his goodly array, al of gold, & set with precious stones, and he was verie terrible. He loked vpon his face, that shone in clearnes, and loked grimly vpon her. The fel the Quene dourne, was pale and faint, leane her selfe vpon the head of the maide that wente with her.

Neuertheles God turned the kynges mynde that he was gentle, that he leapt out of his seate for feare, and gat her in his armes, and helde her vntill she came to her selfe agayne. He gaue her louynge wordes also, and sayde vnto her: Hester what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheate, thou shalt not dye: for our commandement toucheth the comynge not the: Come nye. And when that he helde vnto his golden wand, and layed it vpon her necke, and embraced her frendly, and sayed: talke with me. The sated she: I saw the (O Lord) as an Angell of God, and my heart was troubled for feare of thy maiesty and fearefulness. For excellent and wonderfull art thou (O Lord) and thy face is full of amytie. But as she was thus speakinge vnto hym, she fel dourne agayne for faintnes: for & which cause the king was afrayed, & all his seruantes comforted her.

The. xvi. Chapter.

The copye of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he toucheth those which he hath sent forth.

The great kynge Artaxerxes, & A raygneth from Indavnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred, and xxv. landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his frendly salutation. There be many that for the sondy frendshippes and benefites which are byuerselye done vnto them for their worshippe euer the more proude & byt mynded, & undertake not only to hurt oure subiectes (for plentiful benefites make they not suffer, and begun to pryng some thyng agaynst those that do them good, & take not onelye al thankfull awaye from men) but in pryde and presumption (as they that be vnderfull & vnderthankfull for the good dedes) they go about to escape the iudgement of God & seeth al thynges, which (iudgement) heareth & punisheth al wickednes. It happeneth ofte also, that they which be sette in office by the dyce powers, & vnto whome the busines and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, were proud, and despyle them selves with the pryde of innocent bloude, which bringeth them to intolerable hurt. Which al so with false and disceitfull wordes and with lying tales, dyscepe and betraye the innocent goodnes of princes.

Now is it profitable and good, that we take hede, make search thereafter, and consider not onelye what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamesfull, vnbonest, and nopsome thynges, that the dyces haue nowe taken in hand before oure eyes: and thereby to beware in tyme to come, that we may make the kyngdome quiete and peaceable for all men, and that we myght sometime drawe it to a changer: and as for the thyng that nowe is present before oure eyes to withstand it, & to put it downe, after the most frendlye manner.

What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian (a straunger verely of the Persians bloude, and far from oure goodnes) was come in amonge vs as an aleunt, and had obtained the frendshyppe that we beate toward all people, so that he was called our father, & had in hygh honoure of euery man, as the next and principal vnto the kyng, he could not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, but hath undertaken not onelye to robbe vs of the kyngdome, but of oure lyfe.

With manifold disceate also hath he desired to destroye Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, whiche hath done vs good in all thynges: and innocent Hester the lyke partaker of our kyngdome, with all her people. For his mynde was (when he had taken them out of the waye, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kyngdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedons. But we fynde, that the Jewes (whiche were accused of the wycked, that they myght be des-

xxi. Drops

The rake of wisdom.

droyed) are no eueldoers, but the reasonable & right laies: & that they be p che dzen
 of the most hygh luyngg God; by whiche p kyngdome of us and oure progenitours hath bene well ordred heretofore & doctore, as for the letters & commandementes, that here put fith by A man the sonne of A me:
 hath he shal do wel if he holde the of none effect: for he that for the vp & down the banger at Sufis before the poore the d his byneed, & God (whiche hath al thinges in his power) hath rewarded hym wth a hys defecuyng. Amen.

And vpon this vernal publick & set by copie of this lesson at place, that the Romans may seele and without hindrance hold the selles after their owne desires & that they may be helped, and that vpon the
xii. day of þ xii. moneth And that they maye be auenged of them, whiche in the tyme of their augursh and trouble, would haue oppressed vs. For the God that gouerneth al thinges, hath raiused to loue þ day, wherein the chosen people should haue perished. . .

Wherfore, amonge þe hye solēme dayes that ye haue, we shall hold this daye also
with al gladnesse: that nowe & in the tyme to come this day may be a remembraunce of God, for al such as loue þe proferty of the werld: but a remembraunce of þe destruction, to those that be fedicious vnto vs.

¶ All cities and landes that do not chuse shall herebye praysh to be destroyed with the sword and fire, and shal not ouerly be no more inhabited of men, but inhabited also of the wilde beastes and foules.

ה'תשנ"ב, י"ג כסלו

1. The under the Duke of Eber.

The beke of Boyscome.

The 6 Chapters: 13 to 18

Chow we oughte to searche and enquire after God, and who be those that seare him. Of þ help shal. We oughte to stepe from bache byprynge and inouermurynge, etc. ¶

 Sette youre affectiō vnto w^rldō, yt that be iudges of the factō, haue a good * opinion of the Lord, & like him in the singleness off et. For he will be found of them that tempte him not, and appeareth vnto such as put their trust in him. But the scoward chauntres thei separate fro God, and verue (re he be allowed, refoutmeth þ vntomple. And wher w^rldome shal not enter into a scoward sale, he dwell in the body that is subdues vnto synne. For the holy ghost abhorreth farned nurtour, & with-draweth him selfe from the thoughtes that are without understāding; and wher wiskednesse hath the upperhande, he fleeth fro thence. For þ spiritte of w^rldome is iouinge,

Ref. Bib. n.
Cf. pag. 101 e

of Barb.
and. r. b. a

Yes, Sir.

4512.0

The 1. Chapter

gentle & gracious, & wilt haue no pleasure in him that speaketh so: but his heart is for: God is an i. n. e. r. e. d. i. m. i. t. a. b. l. e.
f. e. e. d. e. r. o. f. h. i. s. b. e. l. i. e. v. e. r. and an hearer of his tongue For: he k. n. o. w. e. t. h. I. e. i. d. e. f. i. e. l. l. e. t. h. the rounde compass of the worlde; and the same that by holdeth all things, hath
k. n. o. w. l. e. d. g. e. a. l. s. o. of the voyce.

¶ Therefore he that speaketh vnapprehended things, cannot be vnder neither may he effecte the iudgement of rejoyce. And when inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes
of the vngodly, & the effect of his wordes shal come vnto God, to that his wickednes shalbe purged. For the care of glory heareth all things & the nose of the giugones shall not be won. ¶ Therefore beware of murmuring, which is working wrath, & restraine your tongue with silence. For here is no worde so darke and secret that it shal goe forought: & the mouth that speakeeth lies, shall be the loue.

These not your owne death in the estate of your life, destroye not your sel-ues throughe the workes of your owne hand-es. For God hath not made * death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuenge. For he created all thinges, that they might haue their being: yea all the people of the earth both he made & they should haue health: that there should be no destruction in them, and the punishment of helle shoulde not be vpon earth (for euerlastinge is euellasting and immortal, but vntowardnesse bringeth death.) I neuer thelesse the vngodly call her vnto them, both with wordes and with deedes, and while they thinke to haue a fifth part they come to naught: for the vngodly that are liues deere with her and take her part, are worthy of death.

The ii. Chapter.

The magistrates and deacons of the ward, and their calling on the 1st of the month.

F Or the wondrous talbe and ymag gen thus amouge them felues (but not right) the tyme of our

Iste is but thotte and redpouge, and when a man is once gone, he hath no more ioye ne plesure, neyther knowe we any man that turneth agayne from death:
 for we are borne of nought, and we shall be hereafter as though we had neuer be.
 For our breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the wordes as a sparkes to moue our herte. As for oure bodie, it shall be verie ashes that are quenched, and oure soule shall vanishe as the soles aye. Oure lyfe shall passe awaye as the trace of a cloude, and come to naught as the myste that is diuyned awaie with the beames of the sunne, and put downe with the heate thereof. Oure name also shall be forgotte by lytle and litle and no man shall haue our workes in remembraunce.

For our time is a brief habitation that passeth away, and after our end there is no

4 Sep. vi. a
 7 Dec. xi i. b
 8 Dec. vii. a 1-

11. K. r. g.
12. K. r. g.
13. K. r. g.

2008. 12. 12.

Deut. 111 6

Arch. f. b. and xxiii.6

104. b. ff. a.
 104. b. ff. b.
 104. b. ff. c.

The Roke of Wifedome.

droyed) are no eueldoers, but the reasonable & right laies: & that they be p che dzen
 of the most hygh luyngg God; by whiche p
 kyngdome of us and oure progenitours hath bene well ordred & heretofore as for the letters & commandementes, that here put forth by A man the sonne of A me:
 hath he shal do wel if he holde the of none
 effect: for he that for the vp & down the danger at Sufrs before the poore thed w his byneed, & God (whiche hath al thinges in his power) hath rewarded hym w a hys defecuyng. Amen.

And vpon this vernal publick & set by
 copie of this lesson at place, that the Romans may seele and without hindrance hold the selles after their owne courses &
 that they may be helped, and that vpon the
 xii. day of þ. xii. moneth. And that they maye be auenged of them, whiche in the tyme of
 their augursh and trouble, would haue oppressed vs. For the God that gouerneth al thinges, hath raiused to loue þ. day, wherein
 the chosen people should haue perished. . .

Wherfore, amonge þe hye solēme dayes
that ye haue, we shall hold this daye also
with al gladnesse: that nowe & in the tyme
to come this day may be a remembraunce of God, for al such as loue þe proferty of the world: but a remembraunce of þe destruction, to those that be fidicious vnto vs.

¶ All cities and landes that do not chuse
shall herebye praysh to be destroyed with
the sword and fire, and shal not ouerly be
no more inhabited of men, but inhabited
also of the wilde beastes and foules.

Q The underfebe booke of Ephet.

The beke of Boyschoone.

The 6 Chapters: 13 to 18

¶ Now we oughte to frarche and enquire after God, and who be thole that frarke him. Of þ holp shooll. We oughte to flete from backe byrthe and inuencurpge, etc. ¶

 Seeke your afflicciō wth w^{is}dō, ye that be iudges of the ractō,
 haue a good * opinion of the Lord, & like him in the singleness offet. For he will be found of them that tempte him not, and appeareth vnto such as put their trust in him. But the scoward chaunteth the sepetate fōr God, and verue (if it be allowed, refoutmeth p vnto p^{er}. And wher w^{is}dome that not enter into a scoward sale, ne dwell in the body that is subdues vnto spūe. For the holy ghost abhorreth fained nūmour, & with-draweth him selfe from the thoughtes that are without vnderstanding; and wher wiskednesse hath the vpperhande, be fleeth fōr thence. For p^{er} spūe of w^{is}dome is iouinge,

181. B. 11. 11.
 182. B. 11. 11.

of Barb. c
and. r. b. a

Yes, Sir.

4418. b. a

The 1. Chapter

gentle & gracious, & wilt haue no pleasure in him that speaketh thee? and thus it is, &c.
For: God is an Father of his creatures, a true Teacher of his beites; and an hearer of his tongue. For: he knoweth all; & hee filleth the round compass of the worlde; and the same sharveth both all things, hath knowledge also of the voice.

¶ Therefore he that speaketh vnapprehended things, cannot be vnder neither may he be lawful iudgement of reproofe. And when inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes
of the vngodly, & the effect of his wordes shal come vnto God, to char his wickednes shal be purged. For the ease of glory heareth all thinges & the nose of the giuginges shal not be lye. ¶ Therefore beware of murmuring, which is nothing woorth, reclaime your tongue with selander. For here is no worde so darcke and secrete that it shal goe for thought: & the mouth that speakeeth it, shal speake the loue.

Please not your owne death in the extreme of your life, destroye not your sel-ues throughe the moynes of your owne hands. For God hath not made * death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuenge. For he created all thinges, that they might haue their being: yea all the people of the earth both he made & they should haue helth: that there should be no destruction in them, and the punishment of
 helle shoulde not be vpon earth (for euerlasting is euellasting and immortal, but vntimoroussnesse bringeth death.) I neuer thelesse the vngodly call her vnto them, both with wordes and moynes, and while they thinke to haue a fith of her they come to naught: for the vngodly are all liues deere with her and take her part, are worthy of death.

The ii. Chapter.

The magistrates and clergy of the wicked, and their unfailing evil the result.

F Or the unordly talke and ymagyn thus amouge them felues (but not tpyght) The tyme of our lyfe is but shorte and redrong.

and when a man is once gone, he hath no more sōre ne pleasure, neither know we any man that turneth agayne from death:
for we are borne of nought, and we shall be hereafter as though we had neuer bē.
For our breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the wordes as a sparcke to moue our hearte. As for oure bodie, it shall be verpe ashes that are quenched, and oure soule
shall vanishe as the soles aye, Oure lyfe
shall passe awaye as the trace of a cloude,
and come to naught as the myste that is dissolued alwaie wth the beames of the sunne, and put downe wth the heate thereof. Oure name also shall be forgotten by lyfe and litle and no mā shall haue our workes in remembraunce.

For our time is a brief habitation that passeth away, and after our end there is no

Cap. vi. a
Err. xi. d
Err. vi. a 1.

11. K. r. g.
12. K. r. g.
13. K. r. g.

五、

Deut. 111 0

Arch. f. b.
and. xxii. 6

04. b. 11. a.
Wat. 111. b
201. xv. b.

no returnyng, for it is faste sealed, so that no man cometh agayne. Come on herfore, let vs enioye the pleasures that be present, and let vs sone vse the creature lyke as in youth. We wyll sell our selues wth good myne & opntement, there shal no floure of fytme go by vs. We wyll trowe out selues wth roles afore they be wythered. There shalbe no sayre medow, but our lust shal go thorow it. Let euery one of you be partaker of our voluptuousnesse. Let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for þ is oure porcion, els get we nothyng.
 Let vs oppresse the poore ryghteous, let vs not spare the wydow ne old mā, let vs not regarde the heades that are crop for age.

Let the lawe of vntygheousnesse be our auctorite, for þ thinge that is feble is nothyng worth. Therfore let vs defraud the ryghteous, & wth þe is not for our prosperyte he is cleane contrary to our doynges.
 He checketh vs for offendynge agaynst the law, & salaundreth vs as transgressours of all nuryture. He maketh his boast to haue þ knowledge of God, yea he calleth him selfe gods sonne. He is þ biter of our thoughtes: He greueth vs also to lōke vpon him, for his lyfe is not lyke other mē's, his wayes are of an other fashon. He cōtēneth vs but vayne persons, he withdra-weth hym selfe from oure wayes as from filthynesse: he commendeth greatlye the latterende of the tūte, & maketh his booke that God is his father. Let vs se then þ his wordes be trewe, let vs proue what shal come vpon him: so shal we know what ende he shal haue.

D For þe be the true sonne of God, he wyll receyue hym and deliuer hym from þ handes of his enemyes. Let vs examyn hym wth despitful rebuke and tormentyng, that we may know his dignite, and proue his patience. Let vs condemne hym wth the most shamefull death: for lyke as he hath spoken so shal he be rewarded.

Such thinges do the vngodly pmyghand go astraye: for their owne wyckednesse hath blinded them. As for the miseries of God, they vnderstand them not: they nether haue for þ reward of ryghteousnesse, ne regarde the wylshyppe that holy soules shal haue. For God created man to be vnderstode, yea after the ymage of his owne lykenesse made he hym. Heurelesse, thorow enur of the deuill, came death into the worlde, and they that hold of his syde, do as he doth.

The.iii. Chapter.

The cōuersaciō & assurance of þ ryghteous.
 The rewardes of the f ythfull.

At the soules of the ryghteous are in the hāde of God, & the payne of death shal not touch the. In the sight of the vnyerse they appeare to dye, and their ende is taken for veyn destruction. The ware of the ryghteous is iudged to be veyn destruction, but they are in rest. And though they suffer pain before mē, yet is they hope ful of immortalte. Wom. viii. 2

 * They are punished but in fewe thynges, 1. Cor. v. 5. neuerthelesse in many thynges shal they 1. Pet. i. 1.
 be wel rewarded. * For God pmygh- Exod. xvi. 2 and findeth them more so bym selfe: yea Deut. 28 as the gold in the furnace both by the fire, 1. Cor. x. 2 & receiveth the as a burnt offering: & in the 1. Cor. x. 2 tyme cometh, they shal be looked vpon.

The ryghious shal lyue as the sparke that renneth in the reed by the: they shal iudge the nations, and haue dominion over the people, and they: Lorde shal reigne for euer. They that put they trust in him, shal vnderstande the trow and such as be faythful, wyll agree vnto hym in loue: for bys chose shal haue gyftes and peace. Wth the vngodly shal be punished accordyng to theyr own imaginacions, for they haue despised þ ryghious, & forsaken the Lord.

Who so despyseth a plesome and nur-tur, he is vnhappie: and as for the hope of such, it is but vayne: they laboures vn-fruteful, and they: trokes vnyolytable. 1. Cor. x. 2 * Theyr wyces are vndiscret, & they: chil- 1. Cor. x. 2 dren most vngodly. Their creature is cur- 1. Cor. x. 2
 sed. Blessed is rather the barren and vnde- 1. Cor. x. 2 filed which hath not knowen þ synful dede: 1. Cor. x. 2 she shal haue teute in the reward of þ help 1. Cor. x. 2 soules. And blessed is the gelded, whiche 1. Cor. x. 2 wth his labes hath brought no vntyg- 1. Cor. x. 2 tuousnes, ne imagined nyked thynges 1. Cor. x. 2 agaynst God. For vnto him shal be gruen 1. Cor. x. 2 the special gift of fayth, & the most accep- 1. Cor. x. 2 table porcion in the reple of god. For glo- 1. Cor. x. 2 ryous is the fruit of good laboure, and the 1. Cor. x. 2 roote of wysdom shal neuer fade away.

As for the children of aduocaters, they shal come to an end, and the side of an vn-ryghious ded shal be rooted oute. And though they lyue longe, yet shal they be nothyng regarded, and they: last age shal be without honoure. Yf they dye hastilye, they haue no hope, neyther shal they be spokē to in the day of knowlege. For dorrible is þ death & end of the vntygheous.

The.iiii. Chapter.

Of the chaste generaciō of the faythful, & of their seipity. Of the death of the ryghious & of the condemnaciō of the vnfaythful.

Dow saye is a chaste generaciō on wth vertue. The memorail thereof is immortalle, for it is knowen wth good men. When it is presente, men take example thereat: and if it go awaye, yet they desyre it.
 It is alwaye crowned and holden in ho-noure. and wynerth the rewardes of the vnderfled battayle. But the multitude of vngodly children is vnyolytable, and the thynges that are planted wth wylshyppome, shal take no depe roote, & are any faste foundation. Though they be grene in the braunches for a tyme yet shal they be waken wth the wynde, for they stande not fast: and thorow the vehemencie of the wynde, they shal be rooted out.

For. For

The booke of wysdom.

For the vnperfect braines shall be broken, their fruit shall be vnprofitable and some to eate, yea mere for nothing. And whyp all the chyldren þat are boine of þ wicked, must beate recorde of þ wickednes agaynst thei fathers and mothers, when they be asked. But though þ ryphteous be ouertaken with death, yet shal be in rest.

W Age is an honoꝛable thyng, neuertheless it standeth not only in the length of tyme, ne in the multitude of yeres: but a mans wysdome is the grape berre, and an vndeiled yse is the old age. He pleased God, & was beloued of hym: so that wher as he lyued amonge synners, he translated hym. Yea suddenly was he taken away, to the extent that mykednes shoulde not alter his vnderstandyng, & that hypocrisie shoulde not beguyle his soule. For þ crafty bewitchyng of lytes, make good thynges darke: the vailed fastnes alsoo and wickednes of voluptuous desyre, tunc asyde the vnderstandyng of the simple. Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he muche tyme. For his soule pleased God, therefoze hastid he to take hym awaye from amonges the wicked. This the people se & vnderstand it not: they laye not vp suche thynges in their hertes, how þ the louinge fauoure & mercy of God is vpp his saintes and that he hath reserued vnto his chosen.

Thus the ryphteous that is deade, condeuener the vngodly whiche are lyuynge: and the youth that is soone brought to an end, the longe lyfe of the vnter ghteous. For they se the end of the wyse, but they vnderstand not what God hath deured for hym, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken hym awaye. And whyp: then se hym and despyse hym, therefore shal God also laugh them to scorn: so that they them selues shal dye hereafter (but wythout honer) yea in shame amonge the deade for euermore. For without any voyce, shal he burye those that be put vp, and remoue them from the foundations, so that they shall be layed waste vnto the byest. They shall inuaine, and their memorie shall perishe. So they beynge asayed shall remember them synnes, and thei owne wyckednes shall bewaie them.

The v. Chapter.

The comfort of the ryphteous before their persecuters. The hope of the vnfarethful is vndurable and vayne. The blessednesse and fortunatenesse of the saintes and godly.

When shal the ryphteous stand in great needfastnes, agaynst suche as haue deliuered them wyth thei labours, and taken awaye thei labours. When they se it, they shall be vexed wyth horrible feare, and shall wonder at the basynesse of the sodayn helth: groyng for very distresse of mynde, and shall saye within thei selues, haueing inwarde sorow and mouenng for verrey anguysh of mynde: These are they, whome we sometyme had in deticion, and ielled vpon: We soles thought they: yse verrey madned, & they ende to be wy: bout honoure. But lo howe they are couned amonge the chyldren of God, & thei portion is amonge the saintes. Therfore haue we erred from the way of truth, the lyghte of ryphtousnesse hath not shyned vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstandyng is not vpon vs. We haue meayed our selues in the waye of wyckednesse and destruction. Tedyous wayes haue we gone: but the waye of the Lorde we haue not knowen.

The v. Chapter.

What good hath our pryde done vnto vs? Or what profite hath the pompe of cyches brought vs? All these thynges are passed awaye lyke a shadowe, and as a messenger runnyng before: as a wynd that passeth ouer the waues of watre, whiche when it is gone by, the trace therof can not be follo, neither þ path of it in the floudes. Or as a bird that flieth thorow þ aere, and no man can se any token where she is flown, but onely heareth the noyse of her wynges, bearinge the lyghte wynde, passinge the aier thorow the vehemence of her fyghe, and flyeth on shakynge her wynges, where as afterwarde no token of her waye can be founde. Or lyke as when an actone is shet at a make, it patereth the aier, whiche immediatly commeth toge: ther agayne, so that a man can not knowe wher it went thorow: Euen so, we in lyke maner as sone as we were boine, beganne immediatly to drawe to our ende, & haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wyckednesse.

Such wordes shall they that haue synned speake in the hel: for the hope of the vngodly is like a drye wyllow tree (or dust) that is blowne awaye wyth the wynde: lyke as thynke that is scattered abroad wyth the wynde, lyke as the smoke whiche is disperced here and ther wyth the wynde, and as the remembrance of a stranger that tarperth for a day, & then departeth. But the ryphteous shal liue for euermore, thei reward also is with the lord: and thei remembrance is in the highest. Euerfore shall they receiue a glorious kyngedome and a beaufull crowne of the Lordes hande: for wyth his ryphte hand shal he couer thei, & wyth his owne arme shal he defend them. His gylousy also shal take hardnesse, and shal arme the creature to be auenged of the enemyes. He shall put on ryphtousnesse for a brest plate, and take sure iudgement in stede of an helmet. The inuincible shield of equitye shal he take, his cruel wyath shal be sharpe for a speare, and the hole chappell of the world shal fight wyth hym agaynst the vntypse.

Then shal the shouder boltes goo oute of the ryphtynge, and come oute of the rainbowe of the cloudes to the place appointed, oute of the hard stony indignacion there shal fall thyke bayles, and the water

B

1. Par. xix. c.
Eapi ii. b.
Psal. xxi. b.

Job. v. d. a Psal. ii. b
Prou. x. d.
and. xi. a Iacob. i. b.

1. Cor. xiii. c.
Psal. xxi. b.

Eph. vi. b.

D

The booke of wysedome.

water of the sea shall be wroth agaynst them, and the cloudes shall renne together together. Yea a myghtye wynde shall stand vp agaynst them, & a storme shall rise vp agaynst them, and a storme shall scatter them abroad. Thus the vncouthreous dealyng of them shall vntinge all the lande to a wyldernesse, and wretchednesse shall ouerthrowe the dwellings of the myghtye.

Book, vi. chapter.

The callinge of Bishops, Bishops, & Judges whiche are also exhorted to search wisdoms

Wisdomme is better then strength, and a man of vnderstandyng is more worthe then one that is stronge. Heare therfore (O ye kynge) and vnderstand. Discerne ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth. Spue out ye that rule the multitudes, and desire in manche people. For the power is gi-uen you of the Lord, and the strength from the hiest: whiche shall try poure workes, and searche out poure pimaginations.

Howe that ye beynge officers of his kynge-dome, haue not executed true iudgement, haue not kepte the law of ryghteousnesse, nor walked after his will: Wherby and that right soone shall be appere vnto you: for a harde iudgemente shall they haue þ breake rule. Whereye is graunted vnto the simple, but they þ be in auctoritee shalbe soe punished. * For God wherch is Lord ouer all, shal excepte no mans person, ney: ther shall he stand in awe of anye mans greatnesse: for he hath made the small and greate, and carech for all alyke. But the myghtye shall haue the soe punished.

Unto you therefore (O re kynges) do I speake, that we may learne wyldeome and not go amys: for they that kepe rygh-teousnesse, shal be ryghteously iudged: and they that are learned in ryghteous thynges, shal find to make answer. Wherefore set your lust vpon my wordes, and loue them, so shall ye come by no actour. Wyldeome is a noble thyng, and neuer faileth a waye: yea she is enuylous of them that loue her, and sound of such as seke her.

I She preuenteth them that desyre her, that she may first know her selfe vnto the.
Whoso awaketh vnto her by rymes, shall haue no great trauayle, for he shall fynde her springe redde at his doore. To chynke vpon her, is perfect vnderstandynge, and whoso watcheth for her, shall be safe, and that soone. For she goeth aboute sekynge such as are mete for her, & bringeth her selfe chearefully vnto them in their gopnges, and meeteth them with all diligence.

For the vnfayned desyre of reformation is her begynnyng: to care for nouelties is loue, and loue is the keepyng of her lawes.
Now the keepyng of lawes is perfeccion and an vncorrupte life: and an vncorrupt life maketh a man samplier wyth God.

And so the despite of wysedome leddeth to in the kyngdome euerlasting.

If your desire be then in royall seats

The.vi.Chapter. Fol.rriii.

And scepters (O ye kinglyes of the people) set your lust upon wysdome that ye may raygne for euer moze. Glorie the lycht of wysdom al ye that be rulers of the people.
As for wysdome what she is, and how she came vp, I wyl tell you, and wyl not hyde the miseries of God fro you: but wyl seke her oute from the beginninge of the na-turyte, and byrge the knowelodge of her into lycht, and wyl not kepe backe the truth: Repeth wyl I haue to do with cosumyng euyl, for such a man shal not be parta-ker of wysdome. But the multitude of the wylse, is the welfare of the world, & a wylse kyng is the vpholdynge of the people.
O receyue nurture then thoro my wo-rdes, and it shal do you good.

The.vii.Chapter.

Wisdom ought to be preferred before all things.

 I myselfe also am a mortall manlyke as all other, and am come of the earthye generacion of hym that was fyrste made, and in my mothers wombe was I fashioned to be such: In the tyme of ten monethes, was I brought together in bloude, thor-to w the seide of man, and the commodious appetite of slepe. When I was borne, I receyued lyke aye as other men, & fel vpon the earth (which is my nature) ceping & weepinge at the fyrst, as al other do: I was wapped in swadling clothes and brought vp with greare cares. Forther is no kynge that had any other begynnyng of byrthe.
All men then haue one entraunce vnto lyfe and one goynge out in lyke maner.

Wherefore I bespree, and vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, and the spirit of wisdom came into me. I set more by her then by kingdomes and royal states, and counted riches nothyng in comparison of her. As for precious stone I compared it not vnto her: for all gold is grauel vnto her, and syluer shalbe counted but clay before her syght. I loued her aboue welfare and beauty, and purposed to take her for my light, for her shynne cannot be quered, All good thynges came to me by her,
and innumerable riches thorow her han-des. I was glad in them all, for this wis-dome wente before me, and I knewe not that she is the mother of all good thynges. Now as I my selfe learned unfaynely, so do I make other men parta-kers of her, and byde her riches from no man: for she is an infinite treasure vnto men, whiche who so vse, become parta-kers of the loue and frendshyppe of God, and are accepted vnto hym for the gyfte of wisdom.

God hath graunted me to talke wyselye, and conueniently to handle the thynges that be vnto the graciously leaue me.
For it is he that leadeth vnto wysdome, and teacheth to vse wysdome a ryght. In Sap. xiii.
his hande are we and oure wordes, yea, all oure wysdome, and vnderstandyng ¶ Ps. lxxi. and

Ed. III. and Myfedom.

Eccl. 1. d
Pro. 1. d.
Job 1. d.
Lynge.
Rom. 1. d.

Etid. r. e.
 Deute. r. d.
 1 Pa. r. d. c.
 Jo. r. d. u. b.
 Gal. r. d. b.
 Rom. u. b.
 Ephe. b. b.
 Coloss. b. b.
 Act. x. e.

700.9.2
710.9.2

Job. 4: 11

100. Rec. 66. 8
27. 11. 18. 8

The boke of wysdome.

And knowledge of all our workes: For he hath gyven me the true science of these thynges, so that I know how the world was made, and the powers of the elemētes, the begynnyng, endyng and myddell of the tymes: howe the tymes alter, how one goeth after an other, and howe they are fulfilled: the course of the yere, the ordinaunces of the stars, the natures and kyndnesse of beastes, & furcioulnes of beastes, the power of the wynds, by the pma-ginacions of men, the diuersities of vonge plantes, the vertues of rootes, and al such thynges as are secrete and not looked for, haue I learned. For the workemaster of all thynges hath chauged me wysdome.

B As yet is the spirit of vnderstandyng, whiche is holy, manyfolde, one onely, subtil, curteous, discrete, quick, vnderstod, yfaine swete, souynge the thyng that is good, sharpe, which forbiddeth not to doo well, gentle, kinde, steadfast, sure, free: haupnge al vertues, circumspecte in al thynges, receyving al spirites of vnderstandyng, beynge cleane & sharpe. For wysdome is nimble: then al nimble thynges, she goeth thorow and attayneth to all thynges, because of her cleannes. For she is the breath of the power of God, & a pure cleane exprestyng of the cleannes of almighty God. Therefore can no despyled thyng come vnto her: for she is the brightnesse of the euellastyng light, the vnderstod myrrour of the maiestie of God, and the ymage of his goodnesse.

Heb. 1. 3

S And for so much as she is one, she mayed o all thynges: and beynge steadfast her selfe she tenueth al, and among the people chaiereth she yet selfe into the dolye soules. She maketh Gods seintes and prophetes, for God loueth no man, but hym in whome wysdome dwelleth. For she is more beautifull then the Sunne, and gayer more lyght then the sterres, and the daye is not to be compared vnto her: for vpon the daye commeth nyght: But wickednesse cannot ouercome wysdome, and folshewe may not be with her.

The viii. Chapter.

The effectes of wysdome.

Wysdome reacheth from one end to an other myghtily, & souynge lyth doth she order all thynges. I haue loued her, and labouered for her euen fro my yowth by: I dyd my diligence to marry my selfe wth her, suche loue had I vnto her beauty. Whoso hath the companye of God, commendeth her noblyste, yea the Lord of al thynges hym selfe, loueth her. For she is the scholmasteresse of the nurture of God, and the choser out of his workes. Yf man would despyre riches in this lyfe: what is cypher then wysdome, that worketh all thynges? Thou myght saye: vnderstandyng worketh. What is it amonge all thynges, that worketh more then wysdome? If a man loue her, and reghreousnesse, let hym labour

Whether
gouernor of the wyse.

The viii. Chapter.

for wysdome, for she hath greace vertues. And why? she teacheth sobriety and prudence, reghreousnesse and strenght, whiche are suche thynges as man canne haue no thyng more profitabill in their lyfe.

B

If a man despyre much knowledge, he can tell the thynges that are past, and discrete thynges for to come: he knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and can expound darcke sentences. She can tell of tokens and wonderous thynges, or euer they come to passe, and she endes of all tymes and ages. So I purposed after this maner: I myght take her vnto my company, and commensouynge wth her: no doubt, she shall gyue me good counsell, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulesse and greife. For yet take shall I be well and vnestly taken, among the commes & lordes of the counsell. Though I be younge, yet shall I haue sharpe vnderstandyng, so that I shall be metuelous in the sight of greate men, and the faces of wyse men shall wonder at me. When I shal be my tounge, they shall bide my pleasure: when I speake they shall loke vpon me: & yf I talke much they shall lay their handes vnder their mouth.

Job. 32. 1. c.

Howeuer by the meanes of her, I shall obtayne immortallity, & leaue behynde me an euellastyng memoriall, among the that come after me. I shall set people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me. Horrible tyrantes shalbe asayed, when they do but heare of me: among the multitude I shall be counted good, and myghtie in battayle. When I come home, I shall fynde rest with her: for her companye hath no discretesse, and her seloweshyppe hath no reghreousnesse, but myght and love.

Sowe when I considered these thynges by my selfe, and pondered thein in my heart, how that to be ioined vnto wysdome is immortallitye, and greate pleasure to haue her frendshipp: how that in the workes of her handes are inspyred thynges: how that, whoso keepeth companye wth her shall be wyse: and that he whiche talketh with her, shal come to honoure: I went about sekynge, to get her vnto me. For I was a chyld of a rype wytt, and had a good vnderstandyng.

But when I grewe to more vnderstandyng I came to a kyndred bodye. Nevertheless when I perceiued that I could not kepe my selfe chaist except God gaue it me (and that was a poynt of wysdome also to knowe whose gift it was) I flepte vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my hole heart I sayed after this maner.

Jacob. 1. 6
Lhab. 1. 1.

The ix. Chapter.

A prayer of Salomon to obtayne wysdome.

God of my fathers, and Lord of mercies (thou that haste made all thynges with thy * worde, and ordeyned man thorow the wysdome, that he shoulde haue dominion ouer the creature whiche thou haste made

1st. Mc. 11. 3
Gen. 1. 1.

made: that he should order the worlde accordyng to equite and ryghtousnes, and execute iudgement wth a true heart) give me wysdome, whiche is ceter aboute thy fear: and put me not oute from amonges thy chylde: for I thy seruant and sonne of thy handmayden am a feble personne, of a short tyme, and to p^{er}lyge to the vnder psal. xlv. b.

1. para. xlv. b.

erod. xv. b.

plou. viii. c.

Thou hast commaunded me to buyde a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an altar in þe cite wherein thou dwellest, a likeness of thy holpe tabernacle whiche thou hast prepared from the begynnyng; and thy wysdome wth the, whiche knoweth thy workes: whiche also was wth the when thou madest the worlde, and knewe what was acceptable in thy sight, and tyghe in thy commaundementes. O send her out of thy holy beuens, and from the throne of thy maieste, that she maye be wth me, and laboure wth me: I maye knowe, what is acceptable in thy sight. For she knoweth & vnderstandeth al thynges: and she shall leade me soberlye in my workes, & preserve me in her power: So shall my workes be acceptable, & she shall I gouern thy people rightously, & be wth thy to syt in my fathers seate: For what man is he, that may knowe the counsaile of God? Or who can thynke what the wil of God is? For the thoughtes of mortall men are myserable, and oute forecastes are but vncertaine. And wher a mortall and corruptible bodye, is heauy vnto the soule: and the eerty m^{an}tion kepeth doune the vnderstandyng that museth vpon many thynges. Wther hardlye can we discerne the thynges that are vpon earth, & great laboure haue we or we can fynd the thynges whiche are before our eyes: Who wil the seke out þe ground of the thynges that are done in beuens? Oh Lorde, who can haue knowledge of thy vnderstandyng & meanyng, excepte thou gyue wysdome, and sende thy holpe ghost from aboue, that the wayes of them whiche are vpon earth, may be reformed: that me mayerne the thynges that are pleisant vnto the, and be preserved thowme wysdome.

Eccl. xl. b.

Rom. xl. b.

1. Cor. ii. b.

1. Cor. v. a.

The .x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the ryghtous cometh thowme wysdome.

Wysdome preserved the first man whome God made a father of the worlde, when he was created alone, brought hym oute of his offence, toke him out of the mould of the earth, and gaue hym power to rule all thynges. When the vngyghtous went

Gene. i. b.

Gene. iii. b.

awaye in his wthache from this wysdome, the byrthhead perished thowme the ward of myghter. Agayne, when the wther destroyed the hole worlde, wysdome preserved the ryghtous thowme a poore tree, wherof he was gouernour her selfe. Agayne, when wyckednesse had gotten the upper hand, so that the nacyns were putt up wth pride, she knewe the ryghtous, preserved hym faultlesse vnto God, and layed vpon hym mercie for his chylde. She preserved the ryghtous, when he fled from the vngodlye that perished, what tyme as the fyre fell downe vpon þe false cytyes: Like as yet this day the vnfaythfull, wast, and smokynge land g^uerch testymoune of their wyckednesse: yea the vntrewe and vntimely fruites that growe vpon the trees.

Gene. vi. b.

Gene. xi. b.

Gene. xxi. b.

And for a token of a remembraunce of the vnfaythfull soule, she stander a pylle of salt. For all surbe as regarded not wysdome gat not onlye this butte, þe they knewe not the thynges whiche wer good, but also lest behynde them vnto men, a memoral of their folyshenesse: so that in the thynges wherein they synned, they coulde not be byd. But as for such as take vnto wysdome, she shall deliuer them from sorowe.

W

When the ryghtous fled because of his brothers wthach, wysdome led him þe right way, she wth hym the kyngdome of God, gaue hym knowledge of holy thynges, made hym t^{ch} in his laboures, and brought to passe the thynges that he went about. In þe discreitnes of such as defrauded hym, she stode by hym and made hym t^{ch}. She saued hym from the enemyes, and defended hym fro the dyscreitnes. She made hym strong in batrail, & gaue hym the victorie, that he myght knowe, howe that wysdome is stronger then all thynges. When the ryghtous was solde, she forsoke hym not, but deliuered hym from synners. She wth hym into the dungeon, and caried hym not in the bandes: till she had brought hym þe scepter of the realme, and power agaynst those that oppressed hym. And those that had accused hym, she declared them to be lyers, and brought hym to perpetuall worship.

ge. xxi. b.

ge. xxi. b.

Gene. xl. b.

Exo. i. b.

Exo. ii. b.

psal. lxxv. b.

erod. xxi. b.

Exo. xxi. b.

psal. vii. b.

psal. li. b.

She deliuered the ryghtous people and faultlesse, from the nation that oppressed them. She entred into the soule of the seruant of God, and stode by hym in wordes and toyes agaynst the horrible king. She gaue the ryghtous the rewarde of their laboures, and led them forth a mercifulous way: on the day tyme she was a shadowe vnto them, and a syghte of stars in the nyght season. She brought them thowme the reede sea and caried them thowme the great water. She destroyed their enemyes in the sea, and broughte them oute of the depe. So the ryghtous toke the peoples of the vngodlye, and praysed thy holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy

Victorious

The booke of wisdom.

by glorious hand with one accorde. For wisdom openeth the mouth of the dumb, & maketh the tongues of babes to speake.

The.xi.Chapter.

The miracles done for Israel. The vengeance of synners. The great power and mercy of God.

Exod. xvi. a.

He ordred their workes in the handes of the holy prophete: so that they went thowyn the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in the wast desert. They stode agaynst their enemies, & were avenged of their adversaries. When they were chastyte, they called upon the, & water was givyn them out of the rock, and they chastyte flaked out of the hard stone. For by the thyngs wher thowme they enemies were punished, were they helped in their nede. For unto the enemies thou gavest many bloude in fiede of sprayng water. And wheras they had scarcenes in the rebuke when the chylde was flayed, thou gavest unto thyne owne, a plenteous water vnto them: declaring by the chylde that was at that tyme, howe thou woldst hyng thyne owne unto honoure, and day their adversaries.

Exod. xv. b.

Exod. xvi. b.

Exod. xvi. b.

For when they were tryed out & nurtured with fatherly mercy, they knowledged howe the ungodly were iudged, and punished thowme the iudgement of God. These hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued the: but vnto thyne owne thou hast bene a vngodly kynge, layed harde to their charge, and condemned them. When they were absente or presente, their punishment was alike. For they grete was double: namely, mournynge, and the remembrance of thynges past. But when they perceyued that their punishment was good, they thought upon the Lord, and wondered at the ende. For at the last they beke much of him, of whom in the oute castynge they thoughte scoyne, as of an abiection.

Nevertheless the righteous dyd not so when they were chastyte: but even lyke as the thoughtes of the folow were, so was also their myghtnes. When as certayne men now (thowme et route) dyd worship dome serpentes and vayne beastes, thou seddest a multitude of domine beastes vpon them for a vengeance, that they myght know that wherewith a man synneth, by that same also shall he be punished. For unto the almyghty handes that made the worlde of nought, it was not impossible to send amonge them an heape of beastes, or wood lions, or cruel beastes of a strange kynde, suche as are unknowne, or spoure fyre, or cast out a smokynge byrb, or shoure horrible sparkes out of their eyes, wherby myght not only destroye them with burnynge, but also kille the with their horrible sighte. Yea withoute these beastes myght they haue bene slayne w one wynd, being persecuted of the: whome workes, & scattered thowme the byrb of the lower.

The.xi.Chapter.

Nevertheless thou hast ordred all thynges in measure, number, & weight, for thou hast euer had grete strenght and myght, and who maye withstand the power of thyne arme? And wher? like as the small thyng that the balounce weyeth, so is the thyng before the: yea as a drop of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the carth. Thou hast mercy vpon all, for thou hast power of all thynges, and makest the, as though thou sawest not the synnes of me, because they shulde amende. For thou lovest all the thynges that are, and hateste none of them whome thou haste made: neither dydest thou ordeyne or make any thyng of euill will.

Howe myght any thynges endure, yf it were not thy will? For howe couldst any thyng be preserved, except it were called of the? But thou sparest al, for al are thyne, O Lord, thou souerayn of soules.

The.xii.Chapter.

The mercy of God toward synners, the workes of God are vngodly. God giueth lesse to repent vs.

Lord, howe gracious and sweete is thy spirit in all thynges? I beseeche thee chastyte thou them measurably that go wronge, & warnest them concerninge the thynges wherby they offende: thou speakest vnto them, O Lord, and exhorted them to leaue their wickednes, and put their trust in the. As for those old inhabitants of thy holy land, thou myghtest not away with them, for they committed abhominable workes against thee as witchcraft, sorcery, & ydolatre: they slew their owne chylde without mercy, they were vngodly, and deuoured the bloud: yea because of such abominacions, mysbycles and offynses, thou remeste the fathers of the desolate soules, by the handes of our forefathers, that the lande wherby thou louest aboue al other, might be a dwellinge for the chylde of God.

Nevertheless thou sparedst them also as men, and sendedst the forerunners of thyne host. even boiuettes to destroye them out by lytle and lytle. Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the ungodly vnto the righte in battell, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough word to destroye them together: But thy mynde was to dryue them out by lytle and lytle, gyuyng them tyme and place to amende, knowinge wel that it was an vngodly nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thoughte myght neuer be altered: for it was a cursed seede from the begynnyng, and feared no man: yet hast thou pardoned their synnes. For who wyl saye vnto the: wher hast thou done that? Or who wyl stand agaynst thy iudgement? Or who wyl come before thy face, an auenger of vngodly men?

Roma. ii. a.

Deut. ix. a. xii. b. and xiii. b.

Exod. xvi. b.

Exod. xvi. b.

Althou, O our God art swifter
long suffering and true, and in mercy ordrest thou all thynges.
I thought we should, yet are we thynges; for we knowe thy strength. If we spoke not, then are we sure that thou regardest vs. For to knowe the, is perfecte righteousnesse: Yea to knowe thy strength ousness and power, is the roote of immor-talitye. As for the thynges that men haue founde out thowgh theye euyl sentence sitteth not dysceyning: as the payntinge
of the picture (an unprofitable labour),
and carued image wyth dyuers coloures, whose syght enuyls the ignorance: so that he honoureth and loueth the picture, of a dead ymage that hath no soule.

Better beliesth they that loue such euyl thynges are worthy of death: they that trust in them, they that make them, they
that loue the, and they that honoure the.
* The potter also taketh and tempereth
* soft earth, laboureth it, and giveth it
* facion of a vessel, wharsoeuer serueth for our vse: and so of one piece of claye he ma-keth sundrye vessels for seruice, & some contrace. But whereto euery vessel serueth, that knoweth the potter him selfe.
So wyth his claye labourer he maketh a God of the same claye: Whys doeth he
he maketh a lytle afore was made of earth hym selfe, and wythin a lytle whyle after (when he dieth) turned to dust again.

Cotwithstandinge he careth not the more because he shall labour, ne because his lyfe is short, but stryeth to erect gold smythes, the siluer smythes and copper-smythes, & maketh it for an honor to make vayne thynges. For his herte is ashy, his hope is but vayne earth; and his lyfe is more vyle then claye: for so muche as he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue hym his soule to worke, and breathed in hym the breath of lyfe. They count our life but a pastyme, and our conuersation to
be but a market, and that men shuld euer
be gettinge, and that by euyl meanes.
Knowe he that of earth maketh fragile vessels and ymages, knoweth hym selfe to be aboue all other.

D All the enemyes of thy people and
holde them in subjection, are vnto the, vniuersallye, and exceedynge proude vnto their owne soules: for they iudge all the rebelles
of the heathen to be gods, whiche neether haue sight to se, nor noses to smel, ne eares to heare, nor syngers of bandes for to goye: and as for theyr feete, they are to stowe to goo: for man made them, and he
that hath but a borrowed spyrte facioned them. But no man can make a God like vnto hym: for seeing he is but mortall hym selfe, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnto the, whome he worshippeth, for he lyued though he was mortall, but so dyd neuer they. Yea, they worshipp beastes also, whiche are most miserable: for to pare thynges that can not feele, vnto them, and they are worse then those. Yet is ther not one of these beastes that with his syght ca-behold any good thing, neether haue they gyuen prayse ne thanks vnto God.

The xvi. Chapter.

The punishment of Idolaters, and the be-neficio don vnto the faithfull.

Althou, O our God art swifter
long suffering and true, and in
mercy ordrest thou all thynges.
I thought we should, yet are we thynges; for we knowe thy strength. If we spoke not, then are we sure that thou regardest vs. For to knowe the, is perfecte righteousnesse: Yea to knowe thy strength
ousness and power, is the roote of immor-talitye. As for the thynges that men haue founde out thowgh theye euyl sentence sitteth not dysceyning: as the payntinge
of the picture (an unprofitable labour),
and carued image wyth dyuers coloures,
whose syght enuyls the ignorance: so
that he honoureth and loueth the picture,
of a dead ymage that hath no soule.

Better beliesth they that loue such euyl
thynges are worthy of death: they that trust in them, they that make them, they
that loue the, and they that honoure the.
* The potter also taketh and tempereth
* soft earth, laboureth it, and giveth it
* facion of a vessel, wharsoeuer serueth for our vse: and so of one piece of claye he ma-
keth sundrye vessels for seruice, & some contrace. But whereto euery vessel serueth, that knoweth the potter him selfe.
So wyth his claye labourer he maketh a God of the same claye: Whys doeth he
he maketh a lytle afore was made of earth
hym selfe, and wythin a lytle whyle after (when he dieth) turned to dust again.

Cotwithstandinge he careth not the
more because he shall labour, ne because
his lyfe is short, but stryeth to erect gold smythes, the siluer smythes and copper-smythes, & maketh it for an honor to make vayne thynges. For his herte is ashy, his hope is but vayne earth; and his lyfe is more vyle then claye: for so muche as he
knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue hym his soule to worke, and breathed in hym the breath of lyfe. They count our life but a pastyme, and our conuersation to
be but a market, and that men shuld euer
be gettinge, and that by euyl meanes.
Knowe he that of earth maketh fragile vessels and ymages, knoweth hym selfe to
be aboue all other.

D All the enemyes of thy people and
holde them in subjection, are vnto the, vniuersallye, and exceedynge proude vnto their
owne soules: for they iudge all the rebelles
of the heathen to be gods, whiche neether
haue sight to se, nor noses to smel, ne eares
to heare, nor syngers of bandes for to
goye: and as for theyr feete, they are to stowe to goo: for man made them, and he
that hath but a borrowed spyrte facioned
them. But no man can make a God like
vnto hym: for seeing he is but mortall hym
selfe, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnto the, whome he worshippeth, for he
lyued though he was mortall, but so dyd neuer they. Yea, they worshipp beastes al-

Num. xi. 2

That is to say of frog
ges.

Num. xxi. 2
p. al. lxviii.

Num. xxi. 5

Exod. ix. 2.
and. viii. 5.
Apoca. ix.

Exod. ix. 2.
and. viii. 5.
Apoca. ix.

Exod. ix. 2.

Thoma se. d.
D. clape.

Images.

psal. cxlii. d

The booke of wysedome.

secuted, and thowme fyre were they consumed. For it was a wonderous thyng þe fyre myghte do moie then water, whiche quencherh all thynges: but the world is the auenger of þe rygthous. Sometime was the fyre so tame that the bestes whiche were sent to punyssh the vngodly, dyer not: and that because they shoulde se and know that they were persecuted wth the punishment of God. And sometime brent the fyre in the water on euery side, that it myghte descepe the vncyghtous nation of the earth. Again thou hast sed thyne owne people wth angels lode, and sent them bread cede from heauen, withoute their labour, beinge very pleasant and wel gotten. And to shew the cyches and swerthe vnto the chyldren, thou gauest euery one hys desyre, so that euery man mighte take what lyked hym best. But the snowe and yse abode the violence of the fire, and melted not: that they myghte knowe that the fyre burnynge in the dayle and nyghte, destroyed the feyre of the enemyes, þe fyre also forgat hys strenght agayne, that the rygthous myghte be noyshed. For the creature that seketh the (whiche is the maker) is ferce in punysshing the vncyghtous, but is easie and gentle to do good vnto such as put their trust in the. Therefore dyd all thynges sulter at the same time, and were al obedient vnto thy grace, whiche is þe ruler of all thynges, accordyng to the desyre of them that had neede thereof, that thy chyldren, O Lord, whom thou lovest, myghte knowe that it is not nature and the geuynge of scryptes that sedeth men, but that it is thy word whiche perswadyth them that put their trust in the: for loke what myghte not be destroyed wth the fyre, as sone as it was warmed wth a lytle sunne beame, it melted: that all myghte knowe that thankes oughte to be gyuen vnto the before the sunne clyse, and that thou oughtest to be worshipped before the day spring: for the hope of the vncthankfull shall melt away as the wynter yse, & perishe as water þe is not necessary.

The xviii. Chapter.

The iudgements of God vpon the Egyptians.

A

reate are thy iudgements, O Lord, and thy counsels can not be expressed. therefore me do erre, that will not be reformed wth thy wysedome. For when the vncyghtous thoughte to haue thy holy people in subjection, they were bounde wth the bandes of darknesse and long nyght, that wher the rose, thinkinge to escape the eney lastyng wylsom. And whyle they thoughte to be hid in þe darknesse of theyr syns, they were scattered abroad in the deep myddes of the darcke couerynge of forgetfulness, put to horrible feare, & wonderouslly vexed. For þe corner wher they were myghte not kepe the from feare: because the sound

The xvii. Chapter.

came downe and vexed them: yea many rectyble and straunge visions made them asfearde.

No power of the fyre myghte geue them lyght, neyther myghte the clere flambes of the sters lyghten that horrible nyghte: for there appered vnto the a sodayne fire very dreadfull. At the whiche (when they sawe nothyng) they were so asfayed, that they thoughte the thyng whiche they sawe to be the more fearefull. As for the sorcery and enchauntment that they used, it came to derision, and the proud wysdome was brought to shame: for they that promised to dyspue away the fearfulness and drede from þe meake soules, were spake for feare the selues, and that wth scoone. And though none of the wonders feared the, yet were they asfayed at the bestes whiche came vpon them; and at the bysnyng of the serpentes. In so muche that wth trembling they swyned, and sayed they sawe not the nyre, whiche no man yet maye escape.

For it is an heuy thyng, when a man's owne conscience beareth recorde of hys wyckednesse & conuersed hym. And whiche a vexed & wounded conscience, taketh euery cruel thinge in vbad. Ferfulness is nothing els, but a declarynge þe man in seker helpe and defence, to answer for hym selfe. And loke how muche lesse the hope is tryphyn, the more is the vncertaintye of the matter for the whiche he is punyshed. But they that came in the myghty nyght slepe the slepe that fell vpon them from vnder and from aboue: sometyme were they asfayed thowme the feare of the wonders, & sometyme they were so meake þe they couched wthal: for an hast and sodayn fearfulness came vpon them. Afterwarde, if anye of them had fallen, he was kepte and shue in prysyn, but without cheynes. But if anye dwelte in a byllage, if it had bene an heathen or huswaddie, he suffered intolerable necessitis: for they were all bound wth one cheyne of darkenesse.

Whether it were a blastynge wynde, or a swete songe of the bydes amonge the shycke branches of the trees, or the beherment of hasty runnyng water, or great noyse of the fallynge doun of stons, or the playynge and runnyng of bestes whiche they sawe not, or the myghty noyse of corynge beastes, or the sound that answered agayne in the hye mountaynes, it made the sound for very feare. For al erth shined wth clere lyght, and no man was dysdaunted in hys labour. Onely vpon them ther fell an heuy nyghte, and ymage of darkenesse that was to come vpon them. Yea they were vnto them selues the most heuy and horrible darkenesse.

Ede. xviii. Chapter.

The fire lyghte that the Isrealites had in Egypt. The persecution of the faythful. The Lord smote all the fyrst borne of Egypt. The spawe of the people in the wylde deserte.

Ero. xvi. a.
Thon. vi. d.
Jhu. xi. d.
plal. lxxvii.

Den. vi. d.
math. lvi. a

Rom. xi. d.

Ero. x. c.

Ero. vii. b

E

plal. xlv. a.

1. Pet. v. 8. Who wilt blame the, if the people perceive whom thou hast made? For there is none other God but thou, that carest for all thynges: & thou mayest declare howe that thy iudgement is not vntyghe: there dare neither kynge ne cōpraunt in thy sight require accomptes of them whom thou hast destroyed.

Job. ix. 4. For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou ordrest all thynges ryght-ously, and punysshest euen hym that hath not deserved to be punyshed, and takest hym for a straunger and alpauntre in the land of thy power. For thy power is the begynnyng of ryghteousnesse: and because thou art Lorde of all thynges, therefore art thou gracious vnto all. Whē men shrinke the not to be of a full strength, thou declarest thy power, and boldly deluereest thou them ouer that knowe the not. But thou Lorde of power, iudget quietly, & ordrest vs wth great wysdome, for thou mayest do as thou wylt.

D By such workes now hast thou taught thy people, that a man also should be iust and louyng, and hast made thy chyldren to be of a good hope: for euen whē thou iudget, thou graunt comē to amend from synnes.
For in so much as thou hast punyshed, & wth such diligence deluereest the enemies of thy seruantes whych were worthy to dye (wherthowē thou gauest the tyme and place of amendement that they myghte turne from theyr wyckednesse) to home greates diligence the punyshest thou thyne owne chyldren, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworn and made cōuēnantes of good promyses: So where as thou doest but chaste vs, thou punyshest oure enemies byuers wayes, to the tūte that whē we punysh, we should remember thy goodnesse: and when we oure selues are punyshed, to put oure trust in thy mercye.

1. Cor. x. 1. Wherefore wher as we haue liued igno-rantly and vntygheously, thou hast punyshed them sore, euen thowōwe the same thynges that they worshipped: for they went astray very longe in the way of er-roure, and held the beastes (whych euen theyr enemies despised) for goddes, lyuynge as chyldren of no vnderstandynge.
Wherefore hast thou sent a scornfull punishment amonge them, as amonge the chyldren of ignorance. As for suche as wolde not be reformed by those scornes and rebukes, they felt the worthy punishment of God. For the thynges that they suffered, they bare them vnpaciently, beinge not content in them, but vntylling.
And whē they perceyued by the same thynges that they toke for Gods, they knowledged that ther was but one true god: whō afore they wolde not know, therefore came the ende of theyr damnacion vpon them.

The .xiii. Chapter.

All thynges be vayne except the knowledge of God. Idolaters and Idols are mocked.

Aync are all men, whych haue not the knowledge of God: as were they þ out of the good thin-ges whych are sene, knewe not hym, that of hym selfe is euerythynge. According to the knowledge of the wor-kes that are made, as to know who was the crafterman of them: but some toke the sire, some the wynde or aye some þ course of the sters. Some & water, some toke sunne and moone, or the lyghtes of heauē, which rule the earth, for goddes. But thoughte they had suche pleasure in their beauty, þ they thought them to haue bene goddes, yet shoulde they haue known how much more fayrer he is that made them: for the maker of beauty hath ordyned all these thynges. Or if they maruelled at the power and workes of them, they shoulde haue perceyued thereby that he whiche made these thynges is myghty yet then they.

Roma. i. c.
Lamphe
losophers.

For by the greatnes and beauty of the creature, the maker thereof may plainlie be known. For wherthowē they are the lesse to be blamed that soughte God, and would haue founde hym, and yet mysted: & why? for in as much as they were about in hys workes, and soughte after hym, it is a tokē that they regarded & held in ch of hys workes that are sene: howe be it, they are not holy to be excused. For if they vnderstandynge and knowledge was so great, that they could dyscerne the world, and the creatures, why dyd they not rather fynd out the Lord thereof?

Roma. i. c.

But vnhappy are they, and among the dead is their hope that call them goddes whych are but the workes of mens han-des: golde, syluer, and the charge that is found out by cunnynge: the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath ben made by hand of old. Or as when a carpeter cutteth downe a tre out of the wood, and pareth of the backe of it cunnynge, and so wth the one parte maketh a vessel to be used and dyeth meat wth the residue. As for the other parte that is lefte whych is profitles for nothyng (for it is a croked piece of wood and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligently thowōwe hys vanitie, and accordinge to the knowledge of hys cunnynge, he geuerh it some proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man, or maketh it lyke some beaste, or maketh it ouer wth red, and painteth it, and loke what foule spotte is in it, he callith some coloure vpon it.

Democherly
idolaters

Images.

Then maketh he a conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in the walle, and ma-keth it fast wth yron: prouydynge so for it, lest it happen to fall, for it is wel know-en þ it cā not helpe it selfe. And wher it is but an image, & muste of necessity be helped. Then goth he & offereth of his goods vnto it, for his chyldren, & for hys wyfe, he seeketh helpe at it, he asketh counsell of it, he is not ashamed to speke vnto it that is

D

The booke of wysedome:

hath no soule: for helth, he maketh hys petition vnto him that is lyfe: for lyfe, he prayeth vnto hym that is dead: he calleth vpon hym for helpe, that is not hable to helpe hym selfe: and to sende hym a good turney, he prayeth hym that may not go. And in all the thynges that he taketh in hand (whether it be to obseyne any thing or to worke) he prayeth vnto him that can do no manner of good.

The. xlii. Chapter.

The detestacion and abhominacion of ymagēs. A curse of the god of hym that maketh the. The curse that cometh of ydolatre.

Agayne an other man purposing to sayle, and beginning to take hys iourneye thorow the ragynge sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke that is farre weaker then the tree that beareth hym. For as for it, countenell of money hath found it out, and the craftesman made it wth hys cunningge. But by prouidence, O father, gouerneth all thynges from the begynnyng, for thou hast made a waye in the sea, and a sure pache in the myddest of the waves: declarunge therby, that thou hast power to helpe in all thynges, yea though a mā wete to the sea wthoute shyppe. Neuerthelesse that the workes of the wysedome shoulde not be wayne, thou hast caused an arke to be made, and therfore do not commit theyr lynes to a small piece of wood, passinge ouer the sea in a shyppe, and are saued.

Exo. xlii. d

Gen. vi. c.

Gen. vii. b

psal. ciii. b

1. cor. xiii. c.

2. cor. vi. d

psal. vii. a.

For in the old tyme also whē the proud gyauntes perished, he (in whom the hope was leste to encrease the worlde) wente into the shyppe whiche was gouerned thorow the band, and so left sede bebynde hym vnto the world. For happy is the re wherethorow ryghtousnes cometh: but cursed is the ymage of wood, that is made wth hands, yea both it and he that made it. He bycause he made it: and it, bycause it was called God, where as it is but a scaple thyng. For the vngodly and hys vngodlynesse are both lyke abhominable vnto God. Euen so the worke and he that made it also shall be punished together. Therefore shall there a plage come vpon the ymagēs of the heathen, for out of the creature of God they are become an abhominacion, a temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the fete of the vnwyle. And wher the sekynge oute of ymagēs is the begynnyng of heevedome, and the byngnyng vp of theym is the destruction of lyfe. For they were not from the begynnyng, neyther shall they conpynue for ever. The wel: by ydolensse of men hath found them out vpon earth, therfore shall they come shortly to an ende.

When a father mourned for hys sonne that was taken away from hym, he made him an image (in al that he had) of his dead son, & so began to worship him as a God, whiche was but a dead mā, and ordeyned hys ser-

The. xlii. Chapter.

uants to offer vnto hym. Thus by processe of tyme, and thorow longe custome, this erreure was kept as a lawe, and cryauntes compelled men by violence to honour ymagēs. As for those that were so farre of charme myght not worship them presently, theyr picture was broughte from farre (lyke the ymage of a kynge to whome they woulde honour) to the intent that with great diligence they might worship hym, whiche was farre of, as though he had bene presente. Agayne, the synfuler cunningge of the craftesman gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to worship ymagēs. For the workeman wyllynge to do hym a pleasure that set hym a worke, laboured wth all hys cunningge to make the ymage of the best fashion. And so thorow the beaute of the worke, the common people was deceyued, in so much that they toke hym now for a God, whiche a lyfe afore was but honoured as a man. And this was the erreure of mans lyfe, when men (eyther for to serue their owne affection, or to do some pleasure vnto kynnes) ascribed to stones & stockes the name of god, whiche ought to be geue to no mā.

Wherfore this was not prouide for the, that they erred in the knowledge of God, but wher as they lyued in the great wars of ignorance, those many & great plagues called they peace. For eyther they slew their owne chyldren, and offered them and did sacrifice in the night season, or els yelde vnto unreasonable matches: so that they kepte neyther lyfene maryage cleue: but eyther one slewe another to death maliciously, or els greued hys neyghbour wth aduoutte. And thus were all thynges myxt together, bloud, manslaughter, thefe, dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulness, sedicion, perjurye, dysquetyng of good men, vnthankfulness, despyng of soules, charyng of byrthe, vnstedfastnes of maryage, misorder of aduoutte & vncleanesse. And wher the honourynge of abhominable ymagēs is the cause, the begynnyng and ende of all euyl. For they that worship ydoles, eyther they are mad whiche they are merue, or prophete lyes, or lye vngodly, or els lightly forswere them selves: for in so much as they trust is in the ydoles, whiche haue neyther soule ne vnderstandyng, though they were falselpe, yet they thinke it shal not hurte them.

Therefore cometh a great plage vpon them, and that worthely: for they haue an euill opinion of God, grynge hede vnto ydoles, swerynge vniustly to disceue, and despyng ryghtousnesse: for they swerynge is no vertue, but a plage of the that lyue, and goth euer wth the offence of the vngodlye.

The. xlii. Chapter.

The voice of the faithful pryncing the mercy of God, for whose graces sake they serue not ydoles.

Gen. xlii. d
Exo. vii. a.
and. xlii. a.

Image
worshipp pers.

berneffe. Aaron stode by the lyue and the deade, wth his censoure.

Exod. x. f.

Everthelesse thy * holpe had a very great lyght, and the enne-
mies heard theyr voice, but they saw not the figure of them. And bpcause they suffered not þ same thynges, they magnified the: & they þ were vered afore (bpcause they were not hurt wome) thawed the, & befought the. Wed, that there might be a dyctice. Therefore had they a buckynge pyller of fyre to lede the
in the unknownen way, and thou gauest the the sunne for a fee gyfte, wth out anre harte. Reason it was þ they shoulde want lyght, & be put in the pysson of darkenesse, whych kepte thy chyldren in captivite, by whom the uncorrupte lichte of the lawe of the moirde was for to be gyven.

Exo. xii. a plal. lxxv. a
and, cv. d.

13

Exod. x. f.

Exo. xii. b.

When they thought to see the habes of the ryghteous (one very lode on it, as preferred to be leader unto þ other) thou broughtest out the hole multitude of the chyldren, and destroyedst the in the myght-ty warre. Of that myght were our fat hers certified afore, that they knowynge vnto to what othes they had gyven credence, myght be of good cheere. Thus thy people receyved the healeth of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed. For lyke as thou hast not hurt our enemies, so hast thou promoted us whom thou calledst afore. For the ryghteous chyldren of the good men offered secretly, and ordred the lawe of ryghteousnes vnto vntie, that the full shalbe receyue good & evyll in lyke maner, synge prayles unto the father of all men. Agayn, there was heard a disaccordynge voyce of the enemies, and a piteous cry for chyldren that were bewayled.
The master and the servant were punyshed in v're maner. For they altogether, had unnumerable that dyed one deathe.

Exod. xii. c.

Neperther were they synge la fcovent to bruce & deade, for in the myghtyng of an eye, the noble nation of them was destroyed. As ofte as God helped them afore, yet wolde it not make them beleue, but in the destruction of the spyte borne,
they knowledged that it was the people of God. For whyle all thynges were still
and when the nyght was in the myddest of her course, thy almyghty word, o lorde leste doun from heauen oute of thy top all thine as a rough manne of wyce, in the myddeste of the land that was destroyed: and the sharpe swerde persure wch thy stryde to n narydenes, stin-dunge and slaynge all thynges wth deathe: yea it stode upon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen. When the fog of the evyll dreames vered the sodeynpe, & fearefulness came upon them vnto wares.

When laye ther one here, an other ther, halfe deade, halfe quicke, and showed the cause of hys deathe. For the visings that vered theym, shewed theym thes thynges

afore: so that they were not ignorant wherefore they perished.

The temptation of leathe touched the ryghteous also amonges the multitude,
in the wyldernes there was insurreccion, but thy wythe endured not longe.

num. xvi. g.

For the faultes man went in at the last,
and toke the barrail upon hym, brought forthe the weapon of hys ministracion: euen prayer, and the censoures of reconcy-lynge: set hym selfe agaynst the wythe, and so brought the mysery to an end: declarynge thereby, that he was thy seruaunte. For he overcame not the multy-tude wth bodily power, ne wth weapones of myght: but wth the word he subdued hym that vered hym, putynge
the in remembrance of the othe and covenant made vnto the fathers. For to þ þ dead were falle doun by heapes one upon another, he stode in the myddst, pacified the wythe, and pacied the way vnto the ly-ving. And whiche in vrs long garment was al hys dewte, & in þ. lili. rowes of þ. stons, was þ. glory of þ. fathers graue, & thy ma-iesty was writte in þ. crowne of hys head.
Unto these the destroyer gaue place, and was a scared of them: for it was onely a temptacion worthy of deathe.

Exo. xxxiii. d.

The xix. Chapter.

The death of the Egeptians, and the great joye of the Hebrewes. The meate that was gyven at the dysce of the people. The elesm n'es serve not onely to the wyll of God, but also the wyll of man.

For the vngodlye, the brathe came upon them wthout mercy vnto the ende. For he knewe what shold happen vnto them, howe that (when they had consented to let them go, and had sent them out wth great diligence) they wold repent and so-lwe upon them. For when they were permourninge and making lamentacyon by the graues of the dead, they deuysed an other fyll benefite, so that they persecuted them in theyr flying, whom they had caste out afore wth prayer. Worthy necessitye also brought them vnto this end, for they had clene forgotten the thynges that happened vnto them afore. But the thyng that was wantynge of theyr punishment, was a fyll fyll to be fyll upon them wth tormentes: that thy people myght have a marvelous payge thoroine, and that these myght fynd a straunge deathe.

Exo. xlii. a

Then was every creature ficyoned a-gayne of newe, accordyng to the wyll of theyr maker, obeying thy commyndentes, that thy chyldren myght be kept in thy our harte. For the gloude over shadowed theyr tentes, and the dyve earth appered, wyth afore was water: so that in the red sea, there was a way wthoute impedym-ent, and the great depe became a grene felde, where thow all the people wente
that were defended wth thy hand, seruantes thy wonderous and marvellous workes.

13

Exo. i. For

berneffe. Aaron stode by the lyue and the deade, wth his ensoure.

Exod. x. f.

Everthelesse thy * holpe had a very great lyght, and the enne-
mies heard theyr voice, but they saw not the figure of them. And bpcause they suffered not þ same thynges,
they magnified the: & they þ were vered afre (bpcause they were not hurt wome) thawed the, & befought the. Wed, that there might be a dyctice. Therefore had they a buckynge pyller of fyre to lede the
in the unknown way, and thou gauest
the the sunne for a fee gyfte, wth out anre harte. Reason it was þ they shoulde want lyght, & be put in the pylson of darkenes, & whych kepte thy chyldren in captivite, by whom the uncorrupt lichte of the lawe of the worlde was for to be gyuen.

Exo. xii. a
plal. lxxv. a
and, cv. d.

13

Exod. x. f.

Exo. xlii. b.

When they thought to see the habes of the ryghteous (one very lode on it, & to preferred to be leader unto þ other) thou broughtest out the hole multitude of the
chyldren, and destroyedst the in the myght of thy wate. Of that nyght were our fat iers certified afore, that they knowynge wnt to what othes they had gyuen credence, myght be of good chere. Thus thy people receyved the healch of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed. For lyke as thou hast not hurt our enemies, so hast thou promoted us whom thou calledst afore. For the ryghteous chyldren of the good men offered secretly, and ordred the lawe of ryghteousnes unto vntie, that the iust shoulde receiue good & euill in lyke maner, singynge prayles unto the father of all men. Agayn, there was heard a disaccordynge voyce of the enemies, and a piteous cry for chyldren that were bewayled.
The master and the seruant were punyshed in vñe maner. For they altogether, had unnumerable that dyed one deathe.

Exod. xlii. c.

Neperther were they lynges lafcovent to breke the dead, for in the rymekyng
of an eye, the noble nation of them was destroyed. As ofte as God helped them afore, yet wolde it not make them beleue, but in the destruction of the spete borne,
they knowledged that it was the people of God. For whyle all thynges were still
and when the nyght was in the myddest
of her course, thy almyghty word, o worde leste doun from heauen oute of thy top all thynge as a rough manne of wyce,
in the myddeste of the land that was destroyed: and the sharpe swerde persure wch thy stryde to n nauydenyng, stin-dunge and slaynge all thynges wth deathe: yea it stode upon the earthe, and reached unto the heauen. When the fogge of the euill dreames vered the sodeynpe, & feartfulness came upon them vñ wates.

When laye ther one here, an other ther, halfe deade, halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of hys deathe. For the visyng that vered theym, shewed theym thes thynges

afore: so that they were not ignorant
wherefore they perished.

The temptation of leathe touched the
ryghteous also amonges the multitude,
in the wyldernes there was insurreccyon, but thy wate endured not longe.

num. xvi. g.

For the faultes man went in at the last,
and toke the barrail upon hym, brought
forthe the weapon of hys ministracion: euen prayer, and the censoures of reconcy-lynge: set hym selfe agaynste the wate, and so brought the mysery to an end: des-clarynge thetbye, that he was thy seruaunte. For he ouercame not the multy-tude wth bodilpe power, ne wth weapones of myght: but wth the word he
subdued hym that vered hym, putynge
the in remembrance of the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers. For to he þ dead were falle doun by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the myddst, pacified the wate, and pacied the way vnto the lyuynge. And whiche in vñs long garnet was al hys deathe, & in þ. lili. rowes of þ. stons,
was þ. glory of þ. fathers graue, & thy ma-iesty wñs writte in þ. crowne of hys head.
Unto these the destroyer gaue place, and
was a scared of them: for it was onely a temptacion worthy of deathe.

Exo. xxxviii. d.

The xix. Chapter.

The death of the Egeptians, and the great ioye of the hebreys. The meate that was gyuen at the dysce of the people. The elesm nres serue not onely to the wyl of God, but also the wyl of man.

For the vngodlye, the brathe came vpon them wthout mercy vnto the ende. For he knewe
what shold happen vnto them,
howe that (when they had consented to
let them go, and had sent them out wth
great diligence) they wold repent and so-lwe vpon them. For when they were permourninge and makynge lamentacyon by the graues of the dead, they deuysed an other fyll benefite, so that they persecuted them in theyr flyng, whom they had caste
out afore wth prayer. Worthy necessitye also brought them vnto this end, for they
had clene forgotten the thynges that happened vnto them afore. But the thyng
that was wantynge of theyr punishment, was a rē uñte to be fulfilled vpon them wth tormentes: that thy people myghte haue a maruelous patyge thoroynge, and that these myghte fynd a straunge deathe.

Exo. xlii. e.

Then was every creature fliconed a-gayne of newe, accordyng to the wyl of theyr maker, obeying thy commāndemētes, that thy chyldren myght be kept in thy our harte. For the gloude ouer shadowed theyr tentes, and the dyre earthe appered, wyth afore was wate: so that in the red sea, there was a waye wthoute impedymēment, and the great depe became a grene felde, where thow all the people wente
that were defended wth thy hand, seruantes thy wonderous and maruelous workes.

13

Exo. i. For

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

For as the boyes, so were they fed, and lepre like lambes praysynge the Lord, whiche hadst deliuered them. And why? they were yet myndefull of the thynges that happened whyle they dwelte in the lande: howe the grounde broughte forth sypes in stede of cattell, and how the rpuer scauled wth the multitude of frogges, in stede of sypes.

C But at the last they saw a newe creatur: on of byrdes, what time as they were discipled wth Iust, and desired helpeate me: res. For when they were speakynge of theyr appetyte, the quayles came by to them from the sea, and punishment came upon the sonners, not without the tokes whiche came to passe afore by the vehemence of the streames: for they suffered worthelpe accordynge to their mykednesse, they delre so abhominabyl and churlysh wth strangers.

Some receyued no vnkowen gesses, some broughte the strangers into bondage that byd them good. Besyde al these thynges there were some, that not only receyued no strangers with their wylls, but persecuted those also, and byd them much evil, that receyued them gladly. Therefore were they punished wth blindness, like as they that were covered wth sobeyne darknes at the doores of the tyghrous, so peruerp one sought per entrance of Ihs doir.

D Thus the elementes turned into them selues, like as when one tyme is changed upon an instrument of musike, and yet al the residue kepe theyr melody, which may easelpe be percepued by the syghte of the thynges that come to passe. The dry lode was turned into a watery, and the thynges that afore swam in the water, wente now upon the dry ground. The fyre hath power in the water (contrary to hys own vertue) and the water soygatte hys owne kynd, to quench. Agayne, the flames of the noysome beastes butte not the flesh of them that wente wth them, nerher melted theyr pfe, whiche els melted lightly. In al thynges had I promoted thy people (O Lord) and brought them to honour: thou haste not despyed them, but al waye and in all places haste thou stande by the.

The ende of the booke of wisdom.

The prologue of Jesus the sonne of Sirach unto hys booke.

Any and great me haue declared wisdom vnto vs out of the law, out of the prophets, and out of other that folowed the. In the whiche thynges I least ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisdom. Therefore they that haue it, and reade it, should not onely themselves be wylle thereto, but seme other also wth teachynge and wytyng.

The i. Chapter.

After that my graunde father Jesus had geue diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophets and other booke that were left of our fathers, and had well receyued hym selfe therein: he purposed also to wyte somethynge of wisdom & good manners, to the intente that they whiche were wyllynge to learne and to be wylle myght haue the moie vnderstandynge, and be the moie apte to leade a good conuersation.

Wherefore I exhort you to receyue it longynghly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is wyte in the hebrewe tong, soundeth not so wel when it is traslated into another speech. Not onely this booke of myne, but also the law, the prophets and other booke sounde farre other wylle, then they do, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Now in the xxviii. yere when I came into Egypt in the tyme of Ptolomey Euergetes, and continued there al my lyfe, I gat liberty to reade and wyte many good thynges. Wherefore I thought it good & necessary, to bestow my diligence & trauple to interprete this booke. And considering that I had tyme, I laboured and byd my best to perfourme this booke, and to bynne it vnto lyght, that the strangers also (whiche are disposed to leare) myghte applye the liffes vnto good manners, and lyue accordynge to the lawe of the Lord.

The booke of

Jesus the sonne of Sirach,

whiche is called in latine

Ecclesiasticus.

The i. Chapter.

Wisdome procreath and cometh of God. A pralle of the feare of God. Ryghtconnes is a degre to come by wisdom.

Wisdom cometh of God the Lord, & hath bene euer wth hym, and is befoze al tyme. Who hath numbred the sand of the sea, & droppes of raine, and the dayes of tyme? Who hath measured the height of heauē, & bredth of the earth, & the deepenesse of the sea? Who hath sought out the golde of Soddes wifed, which hath bene befoze al thynges? Wisdō hath bene befoze al thynges, & the vnderstandynge of prudence fro euertlasting. (Godes word in the begyn is the welle of wisdom, and the euertlasting comāndementes are the euertlastynge of her.) Vnto whome hath the rote of wisdom bene declared? Vnto whome hath the rote of wisdom bene discovered & shewed? and who hath vnderstand the manufolde entraunce of her? There is one: even the best, & maker of al thynges, & almighty, the king of power (of whom me oughte to stande greatly in awe) which sitteth upon hys throne, beinge a God of dominion: he hath created her, thowgh the holpe of hys be hath sene her, nūbred her, and mesured her.

ill. re. tit. b. and. tit. c. ioh. xviii. b. Jacob. i. a. The com- mendacion of wisdom.

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

For as the boyes, so were they fed, and lepre like lambes prapspunge the Lord, whiche hadst delpured them. And whyp? they were yet mynde full of the thynges that happened whyle they dwelte in the lande: howe the grounde broughte forth sypes in stede of cattell, and how the rpuer scauled wth the multitude of frogges, in stede of sypes.

C But at the last they saw a newe creatur: on of byrdes, what time as they were discipled wth Iust, and desired helpeate me: res. For when they were speakyng of theyr appetyte, the quayles came by to them from the sea, and punishment came upon the sonners, not without the tokes whiche came to passe afore by the vehemence of the streames: for they suffred worthelpe accordyng to their myckednesses, they delre so abhominabyl and churlysh wth strangers.

Some receyved no unknown gestes, some broughte the strangers into bddage that byd them good. Besyde al these thynges there were some, that not only receyved no strangers with their wylls, but persecuted those also, and byd them much evil, that receyved them gladly. Therefore were they punished wth blindness, like as they that were covered wth sobeyne darknes at the doores of the tyghrous, so p eury one sought p entrance of Ihs doir.

D Thus the elementes turned into them selves, like as when one tyme is changed upon an instrument of musike, and yet al the residue kepe theyr melody, which may easelpe be percepued by the syghte of the thynges p are come to passe. The dry lode was turned into a watery, and the thynges that afore swam in the water, went now upon the dry gounde. The fyre hath power in the water (contrary to hys own vertue) and the water soygatte hys owne kynd, to quench. Agayne, the flames of the noysome beastes butte not the flesh of them that went wth them, nerher melted they p se, whiche els melted lightly. In al thynges had p promoted thy people (O Lord) and brought them to honour: thou haste not despyed them, but al waye and in all places haste thou stonde by the.

The ende of the booke of wisdom.

The prologue of Jesus p sonne of Sirach unto hys booke.

Any and great me have declared wisdom unto us out of the law, out of the prophets, and out of other that folowed the. In the whiche thynges I least ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisdom. Therefore they that have it, and read it, should not onely themselves be wylle thereto, but seme other also wth teachyng and wytyng.

The i. Chapter.

After that my graunde father Jesus had geue diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophets and other booke that were left of our fathers, and had well receyved hym selfe therein: he purposed also to wyte somethyng of wisdom & good manners, to the intente that they whiche were wyllyng to learne and to be wylle myght have the moie vnderstandyng, and be the moie apte to leade a good conuersion.

Wherefore I exhort you to receyue it longyngly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is wyte in the hebreue tong, soundeth not so wel when it is traslated into another speech. Not onely this booke of myne, but also p law, the prophets and other booke sounde farre other wylle, then they do, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Now in the xxviii. yere when I came into Egypt in the tyme of Ptolomey Euergetes, and continued there al my lyfe, I gat liberty to read and wyte many good thynges. Wherefore I thought it good & necessary, to bestow my diligence & trauple to interprete this booke. And considering that I had tyme, I laboured and byd my best to perfourme this booke, and to byng it unto lyght, that the strangers also (whiche are disposed to learn) myghte applye the lyses unto good manners, and lyue accordyng to the lawe of the Lord.

The booke of

Jesus the sonne of Sirach,

whiche is called in latine

Ecclesiasticus.

The i. Chapter.

Wisdome proceadeth and cometh of God. A prail of the feare of God. Ryghtconnes is a degre to come by wisdom.

Wisdom cometh of God p Lord, & hath bene euer w hym, and is befoze al tyme. Who hath numbred the sand of the sea, p droppes of p raine and the dayes of tyme? Who hath measured p height of heauē. p bredth of the earth, & the deepenesse of p sea? Who hath sought out the troide of Goddes wisdome, whiche hath bene befoze al thynges? Wisdome hath bene befoze all thynges, & the vnderstandyng of prudence fro euylastinge. (Gods word in the begyn is the welle of wisdom, and the euylasting comāndementes are the euylasting of her.) Unto whome hath the rote of wisdom bene declared? Who hath known her tyme? Unto whom hath p doctryne of wisdom bene discovered & shewed? and who hath vnderstand the manufolde entraunce of her? There is one: even the best, p maker of al thynges, p almighty, the king of power (of whom me oughte to stonde greatly in awe) whiche sitteth upon hys throne, beinge a God of dominion: he hath created her thowto the holpe of hys be hath sene her, nūbred her, and mesured her.

ill. re. tit. b. and. tit. c. ioh. xviii. b. Jacob. i. a. The com- mendacion of wisdom.

The.ii. Chapter.

The religious & feare
of God is hys wisdom.

Ver: He hath poured her out vpon all hys workes, and vpon all flesh, accordyng to hys gift he geueth her truely vnto them p loue hym. The feare of the Lord is worthypp and trumpe, gladnesse and a top-full crowne. The feare of the Lord ma-keth a mety hert, geueth gladnesse ioye & long lyfe. Who so feareth the Lord, it shal go well wyth hym at the laste, and in the daye of hys death he shall be blessed.

Pro. ix. b.
Eccl. i. b.

The sonne of God is honorable wisdom loke vnto whome it appereth, they loue it, for they se what wonderous thynges it doth. The feare of the Lord is the begynnyng of wisdom, and was made wyth the faithful in the mothers wombe, it shal go wyth the chosen womē, & shal be known of the ryghteous and faryth ill.
The feare of the Lord is the ryght Gods seruyce, that pryserveth and iustifyeth the herte, and geueth myrthe and gladnesse.
Who so feareth the Lord shal be happier: and when he hath neede of comfort, he shall be blessed. To feare God is the wisdom that maketh verbe, and byngeth a good wyth her. She fylleth p whole house wyth he gothes, and the garners wth her trefure.
The feare of p Lord is the crowne of wise-dome, & geueth plenteous peace & healtre.
He hath sene her and noumbered her: kno-ledge and understandinge of wysdom hath he poured out as rapre, and chē that helpe her fast, hath he brought vnto honoure.

The feare of the Lord is the cote of wis-dome, and her branches are longe lyfe.
In the treasures of wysdome is understandinge and deuotion of knowledge (but wysdome is abhorred of synners.) The feare of the Lord dyueth out synne, for be it it is wythout feare, cannot be made righteous, and hys wyllfull boldnes is hys owne destruction. A patient man wyl suffer vnto the tyme. And the shall haue the reward of ioye. A good understanding wyl hyde hys wordes for a tyme, & many mens lippes shall speake of hys wysdom.

An exhortation to patience in the study of religion.

Wherin p
study of wisdom
standeth.

How wisdom muste
be coue vnto

In the treasures of wysdom is the declaration of doctrine, but the synner abhorreth the mozhyppe of God. My sonne, if thou desyre wysdome, kepe the com-maundemente, and God shall geue her vnto the: for the feare of the Lord is wis-dome and nourture, he hath pleasure in fayeth and lounge meknesse, and he shal fylle the treasures thereof. Be not obdru-nate and vnfayethfull to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto hym wyth a double herte. Be not an hypocrite in the syghre of men, and take good hede what thou sayest. Mark well these thynges, lest thou happen to fal and bring thy soule to dishonoure, and so God dyscouer thy secrettes, and cast the downe in the myd-dest of the congregacion, because thou wouldest not receyue the fere of God, and because thy hert is ful of sapnednes, and discreate.

He exhorteth the seruautes of God to ryghteousnes, loue, vnderstandinge, & pa-cience, & exhorteth hym that feareth God to believe, to hope, and to loue because God neither confoundeth nor forsaketh them that trust in hym. A curie vpon the fytell, feare, and impacient of herte.

Y sonne, if thou wylt come into the seruyce of God, & stande last in ryghteousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to reseract, sette thyne hert. & be patient: bow downe thyne face, receyue the wordes of vnderstanding & strike not away, whē thou art enuysed.
Holde the fast vpo god, ioyne thy selfe vnto hym & suffer, that thy lyfe maye encrease at the last. Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto the, receyue it: suffer in beaynesse, and be patient in thy trouble. For lyke as gold and siluer are tryed in the fyre, euen so are acceptrable men in the soynace of aduersy-tye. Believe in God, and he shall helpe the: order thy waye aright, and put thy trust in hym. Holde fast hys feare, and growe therein. O ye that feare the Lord, take sure holde of hys mercy: thynke not awaye from hym, p ye fall not. O ye that feare p Lord, believe hym, and your reward shall not be empty. O ye that feare p Lord put your trust in hym, and mercy shall come vnto you for pleasure. O ye that feare the Lord set your loue vpon hym, and your vertes shal be lychtened.

Math. xxi. a
Eccl. i. b.
Eccl. i. b.

he p loueth
wisdom,
had nece-
of patience

Sept. xxi. a
Job. xxi. a

Consider the olde generacions of men (O ye chyl dren) and marke the well: was there ever any one confounded, that put hys trust in the Lord? & Who ever contem-ned his feare, and was forsaken? O whome hys deuyll despise, that called faptfully vpon hym? For God is gracyous and mercysfull, he forgyueth synnes in the tyme of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seke hym in the truthe. Wo be vnto hym that hath a double hert, wyre-ked lippes and euell occupied hands, and to the synner that goeth two maner of wayes. Wo be vnto them that are loose of herte, whiche put not theyr trust in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of hym. Wo be vnto them that haue lost patience, forsaken the ryght wayes, & turned backe into froward wayes. What wyl they do when the Lord shall begyn to vset them?

Stat. xxi. a
Eccl. i. b.

ill. re. c. b. d. e.

They that feare the Lord, wyl not mistrust hys word: & they that loue hym, wyl kepe hys commaundemente. They that feare the Lord wyl seke out the thynges that are pleisant vnto hym, and they that loue hym, shal fulfyll hys lawe. They that feare the Lord wyl prepare their hertes, and humble theyr soules in hys sight. They that feare the Lord, kepe hys com-maundemente, and wyl be patient tyl they se hym selfe, saying: better it is for vs to fall into the hands of the Lord, then into

Job. xxi. b

ill. re. xxi. a

BB. ii. into

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

into the handes of men: for his mercy is as greate as hym selfe.

The.iii. Chapter.

TO our father and mother ought we to geue double honour. Of the blessing and curse of the father & mother. No man ought over curiously to seare out the secretes of God.

WHICH children of wysedome are a congregacyon of the ryghteous, and theyr exercise is obedience & loue. Heare me yowre father (O my chyldren) and do thereafter, that ye may be safe. * For the Lorde wyl haue the father honoured of the chyldren, and loke what a mother commaundeth her chyldren to do, he wyl haue it kepte. Who so honoureth hys father, hys synnes shalbe forgiven hym: and he þ honoureth hys mother, is lyke one that gathereth treasure together. Who so honoureth his father shal haue lope of hys owne chyldren: and when he maketh hys prayer, he shalbe hearde. He that honoureth hys father, shal haue a longe lyfe: and he that is obedient to the Lordes sake, hys mother shal haue lope of hym.

HE that feareth the Lorde, honoureth hys father and mother, and doth the same, as it were unto the Lorde hym selfe. Honour thy father in dede, in worde, * and in all patience, * that thou mayest haue hys blessing: for the blessing of the father buildeth up the houses of the chyldren, but the mothers curse rotyeth out the foundations. Repulse not when thy father is reproued, for it is no honour unto the, but a shame. For the worshippe of a mans father is hys owne worship, and where the father is without honour, it is the dishonour of the sonne. Say sonne, in the muche of thy father in hys age, and greue hym not as long as he lyueth. And if hys understandynge faile, haue patience wth hym, and despyse hym not in thy strength. For the good dede that thou sheweste unto thy father, shal not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wastest, it shal be rewarded the (and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed w good, yea it shalbe rewarded for þ in righteousnes) & in the day of trouble þ shalt be remembered: thy synnes also shal melt away lyke as yse in the sayre warme brether.

HE that forsaketh hys father, shal come to shame: and he that despecth hys mother, is cursed of God. Say sonne, perswade thy workes wth lounge mekenesse, so that thou be loved above other men. The * greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe (in al thynges) & thou shalt finde fauour in the syghte of God. For greate power belongeth only unto God, and he is honoured of the lowly.

Seke not out the thynges that are above thy capacity, & seche not the greuous and of such thynges as are to myghtry for the: yownd men, but loke what God hath commaunded

The.iii. Chapter.

the, * thynke upon that alwaye, and be not curious in many of hys workes. For it is not nedefull for the to se wth thynne eyes, the thynges that are secrete. Make not thou to muche searce in superfluous thynges, and be not curious in manere of hys workes: for manye thynges are shewed vnto the alkynd, whiche bee above the capacite of men. The medling wth such hath begyled many a man, and tangled theyr wits in vauptye. Nowe be that lovest parel, shal perpe thetyn.

An hard herte shal fare euell at the last (an herte þ goth two wayes, shal not prosper, and he that is frowarde of herte, wil euer be worse and worse.) A wicked herte shal be laden wth sorowes, and the vngodlye sonner wyl heape one sinne vpon another. The counsell of the proude hath no healte, for the plante of synne shal be rooted oute in the. The dert of hym that hath understandynge shal perceyue hys thynges, and a good eate wyl gladly herken vnto wysedome. An herte that is wyse and hath understandynge, wyl abstayne from synnes, and increase in the workes of righteousnes. * Watter quencheþ burnyng fyre, and mercy receyueþ synnes. God hath respect vnto hym that is thankfull: he that honoureth hym agaynst the tyme to come: so that when he shal be, he shal fynde a stronge holde.

The.iii. Chapter.

A mans muste be dynne wth all maneres. The studie of wysedome: and her secrete. A man ought to be mercifull. An exhortacyon to eschue euell, and to do good.

SAY sonne, defraude not the poore of hys almes, and turne not away thynne eyes fro hym þ hath neede. Despyse not an bougneye soule, and despy not the poore in hys necessity: greue not the herte of hym that is helpelesse, and wythdrawe not the gyfte from the nedefull. Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, & turne not away thy face from the nedre. Cast not thynne eyes asyde fro the poore, that thou geue hym not occasion to speake euell of the. For if he complayne of the in the bytternes of hys soule, his prayer shal be heard: euen he that made hym, shal heare hym. Be courteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto the elder, and bowe down thynne head to a man of worship. See it not greue þ to bow down thine eare vnto the poore, but pay thy det, and geue hym a frendlye answer & that wth mekenes.

Despise not hym that suffereth wrong from the * hande of the oppressoure, and he not saynt harted when þ strest in iudgement. Be mercifull vnto þ fatherles as a father, be in steade of an housband vnto these motherles: so shalt thou be as an obedient sonne of the Byeste, and he shal loue the more then thy mother doeth. Wysedome byeth lyfe into her, and wyl go before them

Pro. xii.
Roma. xii.
Deut. xii.

Isa. xl. a.
Dan. iii. b.
Mat. v. a.
Ecclesiastes
of almose.

Deut. xv. a Math. xxiii.
Job. xli. b

Ecc. xii.
Eccl. ii.

He cometh
agayn to the comyn dacion of wysedome.

That we ought to be obedient to our syn-
ces.

Eccl. xii.
Deut. v.
Eph. vi.

Gen. xlii.
Deut. xlii.

Rowlmes.
Phil. ii. b.

Agaynst
the

them in the waye of righteousnes. He that loueth her, loueth hys selfe, and they that seke her diligently, shall haue great joy. They that kepe her, shall haue the heretage of lyfe: for where she entereth in, there is the blessing of God. They that honoure her, shall be the seruauntes of the holie one: & they that loue her, are beloued of God.

Who so geue theare vnto her, shall iudge the heathen: and he that hath respects vnto her, shall dwell safely.

E He that beleueth her, shall haue her in possession, and hys generacion shall endure: for when he falleth, she shall go wryth hym, before al. Feare, drede, and temptacion shall she bynge vpon hym, and tere hym in her doctryne, yll she haue so proued hym in hys thoughtes, that he comytte hys soule vnto her. When shall she stablysh hym, bynge the righte waye vnto hym, make hym a glad man, shew hym her secretes, & heape vpon hym the treasures of knowlege, vnderstanding & righte doctryne. But if he go wryth she shall forsake hym, & geue him ouer into the handes of his enemyes. If thou make much of the tyme, eschue the thinge that is euell, and for thy lyfe shewe not to say the truth. For there is a shame that byngeth synne, and there is a shame that byngeth worshippe and fauoure. Accepte no person after thyne own wyll, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decay. Be not ashamed of thy neyghboure in hys aduersitee, & kepe not backe thy counsel when it maye do good, neither hyde thy wysdome in her bewte. For in the tonge is wysdome knowen, so is vnderstanding, knowlege and learning in the talkyng of the wylle, and steadfastnes in the workes of righteousnes. In no wyse forsake agaynst the word of truth, but be ashamed of the lies of thyne owne ignorance. Shame not to cōfess thyne erroure, & submit not thy selfe vnto euery man because of synne. Wrythstande not the face of the myghty, and stande not agaynst the stream. But in the truth stande thou vnto death, and God shall fight for the agaynst thyne enemyes. Be not hasty in thy tong, neither slacke and neglygent in thy workes. Be not as a lion in thine owne house destroyinge thyne householde folkes, and oppressing them that are vnder the. Let not thyne hand be stretched to receyue, and shut when thou shouldest geue.

The.v. Chapter.

In thynges maye we not put any confidence. The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and to repentance may we not be slowe.

Truste not vnto thy thynges, and saye not: truste, I haue enough for my lyfe. (For it shall not helpe in the tyme of vengeance and temptacion). Followe not the luste of thyne owne herte in thy strenght, & saye not: truste, howe haue I had strenght: for who wyl bynge me vnder because of my workes: for doubtes God shall auenge it. And say not: I haue comytted no synnes but what euell hath happened me? For the Almyghty is a patient rewarder. Because thy synne is forgiven the, be not therfore without feare, neither heape one synne vpon another. And say not: truste, the mercy of the Lord is grete, he shall forgue me my synnes, be they neuer so manye. For lyke as he is mercifull, so goeth he wryth from hym also, and hys indignacion comyth downe vpon synners.

Make no taryng to taryng vnto the Lord, and put not of from day to day: for suddenlye shall hys wrath come, and in the tyme of vengeance he shall destroye the. Truste not in thy riches for they shall not helpe in the day of punishment and tribulacion. Be not caried aboute to euery wynde, and goe not oute into euery waye: for so doeth the synner that hath a double tonge. Stand fast in the way of the Lord, be steadfast in the vnderstanding: abyde by the word, and folow the waye of peace, and righteousnes. Be gentle to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstande it, and make a true answer wryth wysdome. Be slowe to heare, but slowe and patiente in geuynge answer. If thou haste vnderstanding, shewe thy neyghbours an answer: If no, lay thyne hande vpon thy mouth: lest thou be trapped in an vnsecrete word, and so confounded. Honoure and worshippe is a manys worste talkyng, but the tonge of the vnsecrete is hys owne destruction. Be not a pryncipe accuser as longe as thou lyuest, and vse no slander wryth thy tounge. For shame and sorow goth ouer the thynges, and an euell name ouer hym that is double tonged: but he that is a pryncipe accuser of other men, shall be hated, enuyed, and confounded. Se that thou iustify the small & grete alpe.

The.vi. Chapter.

It is the propertye of a synner to be euell tonged. The doctryne and good counsell of the wise is to be embraced. Wysdome shoulde be searched for. The profit thereof.

Not thy neyghbours enemye for thy frendes sake: for who so is cruell, shall be herye of rebuke and dishonoure, and who soeuer beareth enuy & a double tonge, of senderly. Be not proude in the deure of thyne owne vnderstandinge, leaste thy leues wyther, and thy fruyte be destroyed, and so thou be left as a drye tree. For a wycked soule destroyeth hym that hath it, maketh hym to be laughed to scorne of hys enemyes, (and byngeth hym to the prison of the vngodly). I smere wryth my tongue the frendes, and pacifieth them that be at variance: and a thankfull tounge wyl be plenteous in a good man. Holde frendshipp wryth manye, neuer theles haue but one counsellor of a thousande.

Wisg. vi. 31

Depration
folo wryth
the h. deliue wysdome.

Rom. xii. b

A nough
shewe.

pro. xii. b

Qualite to be feared.

Acte. x. e.
Curious-
nes.

Qualite. xii.
The truite
in richesse.

Pro. x. a.
rich. vi. b Inconstan-
ces.

Jacob. i. b.

Moderns
c. o of woz-
des.

Rom. xii. e.
Philip. ii.

Eccle. x. b.

Jesus the son of Sirach.

what feeds thou shalt gette.

Eccl. xxi. 1.

Eccl. xxi. 1.

In exortation to discipline.

Eccl. ii. 1.

If thou gettest a friend, procure him first,
* and be not hasty to give him credence.
For some man is a friend, but for a time, and will not abide in the day of trouble.
And there is some friend that turneth to enemy, and taketh part against thee, and if he knowe any hurt by thee, he telleth it oute. Agayne, some friend is but a companion * at the table, and in the day of neede he continueth not. But a sure friend will be unto thee even as thyne owne selfe, and deale faithfully with thy household folke. If thou suffer trouble and adversi-tye, be it with thee, and he will not forsake thee. Depart from thyne enemies, yea and beware of thy frendes.

C A faithful friend is a strong defence:
who so findeth such one, findeth a noble treasure. A faithful friend hath no price,
* nor weight of golde and silver is not to be compared to the goodnesse of his favour.
A faithful friend is a medicine of life, and they that feare the Lord, shall finde him. Who so feareth the Lord, shall proper with frendes: and as he is to him selfe, so shall his friend be also. * For thou receivest doctrine from thy youth up, so shalt thou finde wisdom till thou be olde. Good to her as one that ploweth and soweth, and maye pacientlye for her good fruites.

* For thou shalt have but little labour in her work, but thou shalt ease of her fruites right soone. * Howe exceedingly harpe is wisdom to unlearned men: an unstedfast body wil not remaine in her.
Unto such she is as it were a touch stone, and he casteth her from him in all * haste:
for wisdom is with him but in name, yet he hath not knowledge of her. But with them that know her, she abideth ever unto the appearing of God.

D Give ear (my sonne) receive my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell. Put thy fore into her links, and take her poeke upon thy necke: bowe downe thy shoulder under her, beare her patientlye, and be not weary of her bandes. Come unto her with thy whole heart, & kepe her wayes with thy power. Seke after her and she shall be shewed * unto thee: thou shalt have her, for she is at hand: thou shalt find rest in her and she shall be turned in to thy great joy.
Thee shall her letters be a strong defence for thee, and her poeke a glorious raimente.
For the beauty of life is in her, and her ban-des are * coupling together of salvation.
Yea, a glorious raimente is it, thou shalt put it on, & the same crowne of life shalt thou weare.

E My sonne, if thou wilt take heed, thou shalt have understanding: and if thou wilt reprove thy minde, thou shalt be wise. If thou wilt bowe downe thyne ear, thou shalt receive doctrine: and if thou helpe in hearing, thou shalt be wise.
Stand with the multitude of such elders as have understanding, and consent

The. vii. Chapter.

unto the wise wisdom with thyne heart,
* that thou mayest heare all godly sermons, and that the worthy sentences escape thee not. And if thou see a man of discrete understanding, get thee soone unto him, and let thy foot treade upon * his of his doxes. Let thy minde be upon the commandmentes of God, and he earnestly occupied in his laws: so shall he stablish thy heart, and geve thee wisdom at thyne owne desire.

The. vii. Chapter.

We must forsake evil, & yet not suffise our selues. The behaviour of the wise toward his wife, his friend, his children, his servants, his father and mother, his prelate, &c.

No evil, so shall there be no harm. *
Depart from the thinge that is wicked, and no misfortune shall medle with thee. * For some lowe no evil thinge ges in the sorowes of unrighteousnes, so shalt thou not reape therein seede.

Labour not unto man for any Lord. * For neither unto the Kinge for the fear of honour. Truste not thy selfe before God (for he knoweth the heart) and desyre not to be reputed wise in the presence of the King. Make no labour to be made a iudge, except it so be, that thou couldest mightilye put downe wickednes: for if thou shalt stand in awe of the presence of the mightie, thou shalt not faile in geving sentence. Offende not in the multitude of the curie, and put not thyselfe amonge the people. And not two spouses together, for in one * sinne shalt thou not be unpunished. Say not such, God will loke upon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the Lord God, he will accepte it.

Be not faine hearted when thou ma-keth thy prayer, neither slacke in giving of almes. Laughe no man to scorne in the heavynesse of thy soule, for God (whych seeth all thynges) is he that can bringe downe and set up agayne. * Accepte no les-sing agaynst thy brother, neither do the same agaynst thy friend. Use not to make any manner of lye, for the custome thereof is not good. Make not many words when thou art among the elders: and when thou prayer, make not much babling. Let no laborious work be tedious unto thee, neither the husbandrye whych the Almighty hath created. Make not thy boaste in the multitude of thy wickednes, but humble thy selfe even from thyne heart: and remember that the wrath shall not be long in carrying, and that the vengeance of the flesh of the ungodly, is a very fyre and worme. Be not over thy friend for any good, nor thy faithful brother for the best golde.

C Depart not from a discrete and good woman, that is fallē unto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord, for the gift of

Eccl. vii. 1.

Psalm. 1. 1.

Psalm. 119. 1.

Eccl. vii. 1.

Job. 12. 1.

Luke. 21. 1.

Eccl. vii. 1.

Eccl. vii. 1.

Of thy family & hou-
hold.

of her honesty is above golde. * When as thy seruaunt worketh truly, increace hym not euell, nor the bretyng that is sayd full vnto the. Loue a dyscrete seruaunt as thyne owne soule: deffraude hym not of his lybertye, neyther leaue hym a poore man.
If thou haue cattel, loke well to them, and yf they be for thy profyt, keepe them. If thou haue sonnes, byngge them vp in nurture and learninge, and hold them in awe from their yowthe vp. If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and shew not thy face cheresull toward them. Maie thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weighty matter: but geue her to a man of vnderstandyng. If thou haue a wyfe after thyne owne mynde, forsake her not: (but commit not thy selfe to the harteles.)

Donoure thy father from thy whole heart, and forget not þe sorrowfull trauaile that thy mother had wth the: remember that thou wast borne thowgh them: and how canst thou recompense it? the thynges that they haue done for the: Feare the Lord with all thy soule, & donour his ministers.
Loue thy maker wth all thy strengthe, & forsake not his seruantes. Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and donour his priestes.
Geue them their porcion of the spysse futes and increase of the earth, spke * as is commanded the: geue them the shoultres, and their appointed offerynges & forsteluynges.
Reache thine hand vnto the pore, that God maye blesse the wth plenteousnes. Be lyberall vnto all menne luyng yet lette not but do good * euen to them that are dead.
Let * not them that were be wthout comforte, but moune wth such a moun.
* Let it not greue the to lyse the freke, for that shal make the to be beloved. What soeuer thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt neuer do amysse.

The viii. Chapter.

Against thy better is no stryng: of the death of thyne enemy mayst thou not reioyce, nor dispyle thy neyghbours, nor the wordes of the wyse.

Strive not wth a myghty man lest thou chaunce to fall into his handes. * Make no vaspauce wth a rich man, lest he happen to bring by an hard quarell agaynst the.
For gold and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea euen the bettes of kynge hath he made to fall. Strive not wth a man that is ful of wordes, and lay no stikes vpon his feme. Kepe not company wth the vnlearned, lest he gyue thy kynred an euell report.

Despise not a man that turneth hym selfe away from synne, and cast him not in the reath wth hall: remembre that we are scalle euerichon. * Thinke scoone of no man in his olde age, for we were olde also. Be not glad of the death of thyne enemy, but remember that we must dye all the sort of vs (and sayne moulde we come into for.) Despyse not the * sermones of such elder as haue vnderstandyng, but aquainte thy selfe wth the wyse sentences of them: for of the thou shalt learne wysdome and the doctryne of vnderstandyng, and howe to serue great men wthout complaynte.

Be not from the doctryne of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers.
For of them thou shalt learne vnderstandyng, so that thou mayest make answer in the tyme of neede. Kynde not the coales of sinners, lest thou be brente in the fyre flames of their synnis. Resist not the face of the blasphemour, that he lay not wayte for thy mouthe. * Lend not vnto hym that is myghtyer then thy selfe: If thou lendest hym count it but lost. Be not swetty aboue thy power: yf thou be, then thyne suretye to paye it. Good not to lawe wth þe iudge, for he will iudge accordyng to his owne honoure. * Trauayle not by the way wth him that is braynles, lest he do the euill: for he foloweth his owne wysfulness, and so shalt thou perishe thowgh he be soke.

Strive not wth hym that is angrie & cruell, go not wth him into the wyldernes:
for bloudy is notyng in his syghte, & wether there is no helpe, he shal murder the. Take
* no cōfisel at sales, for they loue nothinge but the thynges that please them selues.
Make no counsell before a straunger, for thou canst not tell what myll come of it.
Open not thine heart vnto euery man, leasse he be vnto the, & put þe to reprose.

The ix. Chapter.

The searpyes of chastenes are to be eschys-ed. An old frend is to be preferred before a new The gloire and rychesse of synners. Ryghteous men should be bidden to geft. A bourse is the chyffe thyng in a wytheman, and wysdome in a pyppre.

Not gelous ouer the wyse of a thy bosome, lest she shewe some shewd poynte of wycked doctrine vnto the. Geue not þe power of thy lyfe vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.
Loke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, lest thou fall into her snares.
Use not the companye of a woman that is a plaier and daunser, and heare her not lest thou perishe thowgh thou be entyspyng. * Behold not a mayden, that thou be not hurt in her betwye. * Cast not thy mynde vpon har-lottes in any * maner of thyng, lest thou destroy both thy selfe and thyne herityage.
Be not aboute gasyng in euery lane of the cite, neyther wander thou abrode in the streets thereof. * Tourne a way thy face fro a beutyfull woman, and loke not vpon the faynetye of other.

Gayn a man hath perished thowgh he þe betwye of women, for thowgh it be the desyre is kyndled as it were a fyre. An adouertous woman shal be trodden vnder foote as myre. of euery one that goeth by the way.
* Gaue a man mendering at the beauty of a straunge woman, hath ben cast out, for

W B g. iiii. her

Eccle. xxxi. a

Gene. iiii. b

Pro. xxi. d.
Eccl. i. a.

Eccle. ix. c.
and. xxi. vi. a

Howe yow
ould be haue your self toward your wyfe.

Gene. vi. a.

Pro. v. a.

Pro. v. a.

Math. v. c.

St. xiii. c.
ll. Reg. ii. a

Num. xxi. c.

Liberalitie

Cobi. i. d.

Roma xii. b
Mat. v. c.

Eccle. xxi. a.

Sale. vi.
u. Cor. ii. b.

Leuit. xix.

Eccle. vi.

Jehus the sone of Sirach.

The.x. Chapter.

Jud. x. xi. xii her words spud'e as a fire. * Spete not with another mans wyse by any meanes, lye not wyth her vpon the bed, make no wordes with her at the wyne, lest thyne verie consente vnto her, & so thou with thy bloud fall into destruction. Forsake not an old frend, for the new shal not be * like him.

Amici, scind
Oppre. A new frende is neme wyse: let hym be old, & thou shalt drinke hym wyth pleasure. * Despye not the honoure and cyches of a spynner, for thou knoweste not what destruction is for to come vpon him. Despye not thou in the chynge that the vngodly haue pleasure in, beinge sure þ the vngodly shal not be accepted vntyl their graue.

Judi. ix.
ii. Reg. xv. a C Kepe the from the man that hath power to slay, so nedest thou not to be afraied of death. And yf thou comeste vnto him, make no faute, lest he happen to take away thy lyfe. Remember that thou goest in þ myds of snares, and vpon the Boulworkes of the city. Behaue of thy neyghboure as nye as thyn cause, * and medle with such as be wyse and haue vnderstandynge. Let iuste men be thy gesses, let thy mythe be in the feare of God, let the remembrance of God be in thy mynd, and let all thy talkynge be in the commandementes of the Dyest. In the handes of craftsmen shal the workes be commended, so shal the wyces of the people in the wysdome of their talkynge. * A man full of wordes is peryllous in hys cōuersation: and he that is temerarious and past shame in hys talkynge, is to be abhorred.

Eccl. ix. c.
xviii. a. b.

Commendatiō. x. i. Reg. i.

The.x. Chapter.

C Of Kinges & Judges. Wyse & couetousnes are to be abhorred, Labor is praysed.

Of rulers. Pro. xix. b.
iii. Reg. xii. a Wyse iudge will order his people with discrecion, and where a man of vnderstandynge beareth rule, there goeth it well, * As the iudge of the people is hym selfe, euē so are his officers: & loke what maner of manne þ ruler of þ cytie is, suche are they that dwel therein also. * An unwyse kynge destroyeth his people, but where they þ be in authoritie are mē of vnderstandynge, there the cytie prospereth.

The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and when his tyme is, he shal set a profitable ruler vpon it. In the hand of God is the power of man, and vpon the Scribes shal he lay his honoure. Remember no wrong of thy neyghbour, * and meddle thou with no vnyghtuous workes. Wyde is hartful before God and man, & al wickednes of the Heathē is to be abhorred. * Because of vnyghtuous dealinge, wronge, blasphemies, and diuerse discretes, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another.

Agaynst inuery wyde. Leuit. xix. c.
See. xxvii. a
Dan. iiii. B * Ther is no thyng worse then a couetous man. Why art thou proude, O thou earth & ashes? Ther is not a more wycked thyng then to loue money. And why? such one hath hys soule to sell: yet is he but filthy donge whyle he loueth.

And though the physician shew his help neuer so longe, yet in conclusyon it goeth after this maner, to day a kynge to morow deade. For when a man dyeth, he is depre of serpentes, beastes and wormes. The begynnynge of mans pryde, is to fall away from God: and why? His vert is gone fro his maker, for pryde is þ original of al synne. Who so taketh holde therof shalbe fylled with cuttynges, and at the last it shal ouerthrow him. Therfore hath þ Lord brought the congregacions of the wicked to dishonoure, and destroyed them vnto the ende.

* God hath destroyed the scales of proude prynces, and sette vpon the meke in their steade. * God hath withered the rotes of the proude Heathen, and planted the lowly amonge them. God hath ouerthrowne the landes of the Heathen, and destroyed them out of the grounde. He hath caused them to wythe awaye, he hath broughte them to slaught, and made the memorial of them to cease from out of the earth. (God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble of minde.) Wyde was not made for man, neyther wrathfulnes for mens chyldren. * The sede of men that feareth God shal be broughte to honoure, but the sede which transgresseth the commandementes of the Lorde shalbe shamed. He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in venouce amonge them, and he regardeth such as feare the Lorde. The gloie of the cyche, of the honoutable, and of the poore, is the feate of God.

Despye not thou the iuste poore man, and magnify not the cyche vngodly. Great is the iudge and myghty in honoure, yet is ther none greater then he that feareth God. * Vnto the seruant that is discrete, shal the fre do seruice. He that is wyse & well nurtured, wyl not grudge when he is resourmed, and an ignorant body shal not come to honoure. Be not proude to do thy worke, and dispayre not in the tyme of aduersite. * Better is he that laboureth & commendeth and hath plentifulnesse of all thynges, then he that is gorgeous and wanteth bread. Pro. xii. b.

My sonne, kepe thy soule in mekenes, & geue her due honoure. Who shal iustify that rethym, þ sinneth agaynst hym selfe? Who gard ought wyl honoure hym, that dyshonoureth his to be had of owne lyfe? The poie is honoured for hys outelyte, faythfulnes and truth, but the cyche is had in reputacion because of hys goods. He þ ordereth hym selfe honestly in pouertie, home much more shal he behaue hym selfe honestly in riches? And who so ordereth hym selfe vnhonestly in cyches, how much more shal he behaue hym selfe vnhonestly in pouertie?

The. xi. Chapter.

C The prayse of humilite. After the outwarde apperance ought yet not to iudge. Of heauy and rash iudgemente. The cyche is not without offence. All thynges come of God. All mē are not to be broughte into thyn house.

The

Gene. xli. f.
Dan. vi. a.

Beautie.

Be wysedome of hym that is brought lowe, that lyfte vp his head, and shal make him to sit amonge great men. * Comed not a man in his bewty, neither despyse a mā in his utter apperance.

Petro. xli. d.
Wpde.

The Bee is but a small beast among the foules, yet is her scute exceedynge swete. * Be not proude of thy rayment, and exalte not thy selfe in the dape of thy honoure: for the workes of þe best onely are wonderfull: yea glorious, secrete and vngnomen are his workes. * Manye praunces haue bene fayne to sit downe vpon the earthe, & the vnphely hath wonne the crowne. Many myghtye men haue bene broughte lowe, & the honorable haue bene despyred into other mens handes. * Condemne no man before thou hast triede it in the market: and when þu hast made enq. usion, then reforme thynges. * Beue no sentence before thou hast herd the cause, but first let men tell out their tales.

Prudence.
Deut. xli. b
and xli. b.
Job. vi. c.
and xli. c.
Petro. xli. b

Steepe not for a matter that toucheth not thy selfe, and stande not in the iudgement of synners. App. sonne, medle not wth many matters: and yf thou wilt be rich, thou shalt not get it: and though thou rennest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape. There is some man that lieth, and the more he wretcheth himself, þe less he hath: Again, some man is iouryfull, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great pouerty, and Gods eye loketh vpon him to good, setteth him vp from his lowe estate, & lyftech vp his head, so þu maye see matuell at him, & geue honour vnto God.

Job. i. c.
Ez. xli. a.
Prosperite
aduersite commeth of
God.

* Prosperite and aduersite, lyfe and death, pouerty and ryches come all of the Lord. Wysdome, nourtur, and knowledge of þe lawe are wth god: loue and þu waitest of þe good are wth him. Erroure & darknes are made for synners: and they that craue them selues in euell, wace olde in euell.

Luke. xli.
Wpde. x.

The gyfte of God remaineth for the righteous, and his good wyll shall geue prosperite for euer. Some man is rych by his ynge nypgardly, and that is the porcion of his rewarde in that he sauerh: * no man haue I gotten cest, and no man will feare and drinke of my goodes my selfe alone. And yet he confydeth not, that the tyme draweth nore that he muste leaue all these thynges vnto other men, and dye hym self.

It is þe offe
re of a man
to labour:
to bynne
prosperite belongeth to
God.

* Stande thou fast in thy covenante, & exerce thy selfe therein, and remaine in the worke vnto thy age. Continue not in the workes of synners, but put thy trust in God, and orde in thyne estate: for it is but an easie thyng in þe sight of God, to make a poore man ryche, and that suddenly. The blessing of God waiteth to the reward of þe righteous, and maketh his scutes some to flourish & prosper. Saue not what helpeth it me? And what shall I haue the while? Agayne saue not: I haue ynough, by me can I wante? When thou art in welfare forget not aduersite: and wth it goeth not well wth the, haue a good hope, that it shal be better. For it is but a small thyng vnto God, in the day of deathe to rewarde euery man accordyng to his wayes. The aduersite of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, his workes are discouered. Praise no body before his death. For a man shal be knowe in his chyldren.

Bring not euery man into thyne house, for the discretfull layeth wayte diuersly. Lyke as a parrich in a maund, so is the herte of the proude: and like as a spy, that loketh vpon the fall of his neyghboure. For he turneth good vnto euell, and scantereth the chosen. Of one sparke is made a greete fyre, & an vngodly mā layeth waste for bloude. Beware of the discretfull, for he ymagyneth wycked thynges, to bringe the into a perpetuall shame. If thou takest an alsauce vnto the, he shall despoile the in vnpyntes, and dyspue the from thyne aune wayes.

That euery mā is not to be trusted.

The xli. Chapter.

Unto who n we oughte to do good. Enemies oughte to be eschued.

When thou wilt do good, knowe to whom thou doest it, & so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefices. Do good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt fynde great rewarde, though not of hym, yet no doute þe Lord hym selfe shall rewarde the. Be asidder not in a good case that is alwaye occupied in euell, and geueth no alynes: for the best haterh the synners, and hathynerece vpon them that shew the workes of reprobance. * Beue thou vnto such as feare God, and receyue not a synner. As for the vngodly and synners, he shall recompense vengeance vnto them, and kepe them to the day of wrath. Beue thou vnto the good and receyue not the synner: do well vnto hym that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly. Let not the breade be geue him, that he be not myghtier the thy selfe therein. For so shalt thou receyue twofold as much euell, in all the good that thou doest vnto him: And wth the best haterh synners, & shal rewarde the vengeance to the vngodly.

To whom thou shalt rest do good and to whā
not.

In prosperite, a frend shall not be knowne, and in aduersite an enemy shall not be hid. For when a mā is in wealth it greueth his enemies: but in heynnes and trouble a man shal know his frende. Trust neuer thine enemy, for like as an yron rusteth, so doeth his wyckednes. And though he make muche croutchyng and knelling, yet kepe wel thy mind, and beware of him. Set hym not by the, neither let hym sit at thy ryght hand, lest he turne hym, get into the place, take thy coume, and seke thy seat: and so thou at the last remember my words, and be pycked at my sayings.

Frendes and fooes.

Brnde not two synnes together, for thet shal not one be vnpunished. Who wilt haue

Jesus the son of Sirach.

have pitie of þe charmer, þe is dynged of the serpēt. of al such as comenpe the beasts?
Eue so is it with him that kepeth cōpanie with a tocked man, and lappeth him selfe in hys spynes. For a season wyl be hyde with tye: but yf thou stōle, he carterh not.
* An enemye is swete in his lyppes, he can make many wordes, & speake many good thynges: Yea he can wepe with hys eyes, but in hys herte he ymagyneth howe to throwe the into the pytte: and yf he may fynnd oportunitie, he wyl not be satisfied with bloud. If aduersitie come vpon the, thou shalt fynde him there sitte, & though he pretende to do the helpe. yet shall he be determine the. He shall shake his heade, and clap his handes ouer the for verie gladnes, and while he maketh many wordes, he shal desgysse hys countenance.

The.xiii. Chapter.

The companyes of þe proude and of the riche are to be eschued. The loue of God. Lyke do companyes with thier lyke.

Who toucheth pytche, shall be spyled with all: and he that is familiar with the proude, shall clothe hym selfe with pryde. He taketh a vurchen vpon hym, that accōpanieth a more honoratle mā then hym selfe.
Therefore kepe no familiarite with one that is rycher then thy selfe. Howe agree the kettel and the pot together? For yf the one be fyrten agaynst the other it shall be broken. The rich dealeth vnrightrously, and threatheneth with all, but the poore be yuge oppressed and wrongously dealeth with all, he feareth scarcenesse, and geneth fayre wordes. * If thou be for his proficte he vseth the: out if thou haue nothyng he shall forsake the. As lōge as thou hast any thyng of thyne owne, he shal be a good se-loue with the: yea he shal make the a bare man, and not be forye for the. If he haue uede of the, he shall defraud the: and (with a pryue moke) shall be put the in an hope, and geue the all good wordes, & say what wantest thou? Thus shall he shame the in his meate, vntill he haue sapt the cleane vp tyme of thyse, and at the last shall be laugh the to scoine. Afterwarde, when he seeth þe thou hast nothyng, he shall forsake the, and shake his heade at the.

Beware that thou be not deceyued and brought downe in thy synolence. Be not to humble in thy wysdome, lest when thou art brought lowe, thou be deceyued thome folishenes. * If thou be called of a myghty man, absent thy selfe, so shal he cal the to hym the more oft. Wreasse not thou vnto hym, that thou be not shut out: but goe not thou far of, lest he forget the.
Withdrow not thy selfe from his speech, but beleue not hys manye wordes. For with much communicacion shall he tēpt the, and with a pryue moke shal he questid of thy secretes. The vnrightrous man of hys, maketh thy wordes, he shal not spare to do the butte & to put þe in pyson. Beware and take good vede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in paret of thy ouerthrowyng.

The.xiii. Chapter.

Now when thou hearest his wordes, make the as though thou werest in a dreame, wake vp. Loue God all thy lyfe longe, and call vpon him in thy nyde. Euerie beaste lo-ueth his lyke, euen so let euerie man loue his neyghboure. Alasch wil resorte to their lyke, and euerie man wyl kepe company with such as he is himselfe. * But as the wolfe agreeth with the lambe, so doth the vngodly with the vnrightrous. What fe-lowshipp should an holy man haue with a dog? How can the rich and the poore agree together? The wyld Ass is the lions pray in the wyldernes, euen so are poore mē the meate of the rich. Lyke as the proude may not atway with lowlynes, euen so doth the rich abhorre the poore. If a rich man fall, his frendes set hym vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, his frendes forsake hym.
If a rich mā fall into an erroure, he hath many helpers: he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifye hym.

But yf a poore man go wrong, he is punyshed: yea though he speake wylfely, yet can it haue no place. When the rich man speaketh, euerie body holdeth hys tounge:
and loke what he saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes. But yf the poore man speake, they say: What felowe is this? and yf he do amysse, they shal destroy hym. Ryches are good vnto hym that hath no synne in his conscience, and pouertie is a wycked thyng in the mouth of the vngodly. The bett of mā chaungeth hys countenance, wherbet it be in good or euell. A chearfull countenance is a token of a good herte, for eys is it an hard thyng to know þe thought.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

The offence of the tongue. Mā is a but a vayne thing. happy is he þe continueth in wysdome.

Telled is the man, that hath not falle with þe merde of his mouth, and is not ricked with the cons-science of synne. happy is he that hath no beynnes in his mynde, and is not fallen from hys hope. It becommeth not a couetous man and a nygard * to be rycher: and what shoulde a nygard do with gold? He that with all hys carefulnes heapech together vnrightrously, gathereth for other folkes, and another mā shal make good chere with hys goods. He that is wycked vnto hym selfe, howe shulde he be good vnto other men? Howe can such one haue anye pleasure of hys goods?
There is nothyng worse then to be one dysfauourer hym selfe, and this is a reward of his wyckednes. If he do any good, he doth it not knowyng therof, and agaynst hys wyl, and at the last he declareth hys vnrightrousnes. A nygarde hath a wycked eye, he turneth awaye hys face, and despiseth his owne soule. A couetous mans eye hath neuer ynough in the poynt of wishednesse,

Jer. xlii. 5.

Deut. vii. a

A church about the right

The comon people for-lowe fortune.

To haue to do with the myghty

1. Cor. vi. 5.

Eccle. xlii. 5.
and. xlii. 5.
Jacob. i. 5.

Jerem. xlii. 5.

Conetousnes and nygarde.

Wednesday, untill the time that he wyther way, and haue lost his owne soule. * A wycked clypeth bycades, & there is scarce of his name upon his table. * Wisdomme, do good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and geue the Lorde his due offering. Remember that death waiteth not, and how that the couenaunce of the graue is shewed vnto the: for þe countnaunt of this worlde shal be the death. *

Do good vnto thy frend before thou dye, & according to thy abilitie teach out thine hande, and geue vnto the poore. Be not disappointed of the good daye, and let not the portion of the good daye ouerpass the.

Shalt thou not leaue thy traualles and labours vnto other men? In the burying of the heritage geue and take, and sanctify thy soule. Worke thou righteousness before thy death, for in heil there is no meat to fynde. * All flethe shall fade awaye lyke grasse, & lyke a flouresprynge lease in a grene tree. Some growe, some are caste downe: eue so is þe generation of flethe & bloud: one cometh vnto an ende, another is bozne.

All transitory thyngs shall fayle at the last, and the worker thereof shall go wyth all. Every chosen worke shalbe iustified, and he that meyleth wythal, shal haue honour therein. * Blessed is the man that kepeth him in wisdomme, and excepteth himselfe in vnderstandyng, and wyth discrecion shal he thynke vpon the forknowledge of God. Whiche conspidereth the wayes of wisdomme in his herte, hath vnderstandyng in her secrettes, goeth after her (as one that seeketh her out) and continueth in her wayes. He loketh in at her wyndowes and hearkeneth at her doores: He taketh his rest beside her house, and fasteneth his flake in her wals: He shall pryche his tent vnto her hande, and in his tente shal good thynges rest for euermore. He shall set his chyldren vnder her couerynge, and shall dwell vnder her braunches. Vnder her couerynge shal he be defended from the heat, and in her glorie shal he rest.

The xv. Chapter.

The goodnes that foloweth hym whiche feareth god. God reuereth a casteth of sinners.
God is not the author of euil.

Who feareth God, wyll doo good: and who so keepeth the law shal obayne wisdomme. As an honorable mother shal she mete hym, and as a virgin shal she receiue hym.
* Wyth the bread of lyfe and vnderstandyng shal she feede hym, and geue hym the water of bosome wisdomme to drynke.
If he be constant in her, he shal not be moued: and if he holde him fast by her, he shal not come to confusion. She shal dryng him to honoure amonge his neighbours, and in the myddell of the congregacion shal she open his mouth. Wyth the spirit of wis-domme and vnderstandyng shal she fyl him, and clothe him with the garment of glorie.
She shal beape the treasure of myrrour and joy vpon hym, and geue hym an euerlastyng name to herprage. Follysh men wyll not takehold vpon her, but such as haue vnderstandyng, wyll mete her, for he is farre from pryde and discreit. * Wise that go about with lyfes wyll not remember her: but men of truth shalbe found in her, euen to the be-holdyng of God. Praise is not semely in the mouth of the vngodlye, for he is not sent of the Lorde. For of God cometh wysedome, and the prayse shal stode by the wysedome of God, and shal be plentiful in a faythfull mouth, and the Lorde shal geue her vnto hym.

* Say not thou: It is the Lordes fauour that I am gone by, for thou shalte not do the thynges that God hateth. Sare not thou: he hath caused me to go wronge, for he hath no neede of þe vngodly. God hateth all abhominacion of erroure, and they that feare god wyll loue none such. * God made man from the begynnyng, and left him in the hande of his counsaile. He gaue hym his commaundementes and preceptes: yf thou wilt obserue the commaundementes, and kepe acceptable sayntifullnes for euer they shal preferue the. He hath set water and fre before the, teach out thine hande vnto which thou wilt. Before man is lyfe and death, good and euil: loke what hym lykerh, shalbe geuen hym. For the wysedome of God is greates & mighty in power, and beholdeth all men continually. * The eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare hym, and he knoweth all the workes of man. He hath commaunded no man to do vngodly, neyther hath he geuen anye man leue to synne.

The xvi. Chapter.

Who unhappy and wycked chyldren. No man can hyde him selfe from God. An exhortacion to the recepyng of instruction.

Wilt thou in the multitude of vngodly chyldren, and haue no pleasure in them, yf they feare not God. Truste not thou too their lyfe, and regard not their laboures:
for one soune that feareth God, is better then a thousande vngodlye. And better it is for a man to dye without chyldren, then to leaue behynde hym suche chyldre as are vngodly. For by one that hath vnderstandyng, may a whole cite be vpholden, but though þe vngodly be many, yet shal it be wasted thorow the. * Why such thynges hath myne eye seene & greter thynges the these haue I herd in mine eares. * In the cōgregacion of þe vngodly shal a fire burne, & among vnfaithfull people shal þe wyrt be kynbled. * The old giants obtained no grace for their synnes, whych were destroied, trustyng to their owne strength.
* Neither spared he the among whiche Lorde was stranger, but smote them, and aborted them because of the pryde of their wor-des. He had no pitye vpon them, but destroied all the people, that were so foure

W God is not the author of synne.

Gen. i. b.

Jerem. xii. b.

psal. cxxv. b.
Job. i. c.

The multitude of syn-
ners.

Eccle. xxi. b.
To beware
of synners.

Gen. vi. a.
Gen. xix. c.

psal. c. b.
Eccl. i. a.

Eccle. i. a.
Job. iii. b.
Luz. xvi. b.

Eccl. i. a.
Job. i. b.
Jacob. i. b.

psal. c.
An. h. p. a.
tion to w. p.
sedome.

A comenda-
tion of wy-
sedome.

psal. i. a.
Thon. iii. b.

Pu. xl. xlii.
and. xvi.
Eccle. v.
 in sinne. And for so muche as he overcame not the fyre hundred thousand * that gathered them selues together in the hardnes of thir hert, it were marae; le if one beynge hard necked shulde be free. * For mercy and wrath is wryth hrm: he is born myghty to forgeue, and to potoze out disple-sare. Lpke as his mercy is great, even so is his punishment: also he iudgeth a man accordyng to hys workes. The ungodlye shall not escape in hys spore, and the longe patience of hym that themerly mercy shall not byde beynd. All merce shall make place to euery man accordyng to the deseruyng of hys workes, and after the vnderstandyng of hys pylgrimage.

C Have not thou I wyl hyde my selfe fro God, for who wyl chynke upon me from about? I shall not be knowen in so greute a heape of people, for what is my soule among so many creatures? Behold * the heu. 13. ver. the heu. of heauens the depe, the earth and all that therein is, shall be moued at his presence: the mountaynes, the hylles, and the foundacions of the earth shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them. These thynges doth no hert vnderstande, but he vnderstandeth euery hert: and who vnderstandeth his mapes? No ma seeth hys honnes, and the moost part of hys workes are secret. Who wyl declare the workes of hys tpyghtousnes? Or who shall be able to abyde them? For the counault is far from some, and the reuyng oute of men is in the fulfylling. Be that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such thynges:
 but an vnwyse and erroneous man callyth his mynde vnto folysh thynges.

D As soune bearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstandyng, and marke my wordes. * For I haue a sate doctrine, and plannye shall I instructe the. God hath set hys workes in good ordie from the begynnyng. A parte of the n hath be sundred from the other.
 He hath garnysshid hys workes from senerlastyng, and their begynnynges accor-dyng to their generacions. None of them humbered another, neyther was aune of them bysobyndent vnto hys word. After this, God lok d vpon the earth, and folled it wryth his goodes. Wryth all maner of syuynge beastes hath he couered the ground, & they al shalbe turned vnto earth againe.

The. xlii. Chapter.

C The creation of m, and the goodnes of God
 ha. h done vnto hym. Of almofa & repedat.

G And the man of the earth, and turned him vnto earth againe.
E He gaue him the number of daies and ceetapn tyme, yea and gaue hym power of the thynges that are vpon earth. He clothed hym wryth fteugthe, & made hym afree his owne lyknes.

G He made al sech to stand in awe of him, so that he had the domynion of all beastes and soules. He made out of hym an helpee lyke vnto hym selfe, and gaue them discretion and tonge, eyes an. ears, and a herte to vnderstande, and fylled them wryth instruction and vnderstandyng. He created for them also knowlidge of the spire, fylled theire hartes wryth vnderstandyng, and shewed them good and euill. He set wisepe vpon their hartes, teclaryng vnto them his greute and noble workes. What they shoulde prayse his holpe name together, & tope of his worders, and be tellunge of his noble actes. Besyde this, he gaue them instructior, and the lawe of lyfe for an herpage.

H He made hym in euery thyng: & euery man with a sate & sate thm. s. tpyghteoulnes and iudgements. They same hys gloyp wryth thir eyes, & thir eares heard the maner of his voyce. And he sayd vnto them: beware of all vnpyghteous thynges.
 * He gaue them a sate & sate thm. s. tpyghteoulnes and iudgements.

Their mapes are euer before hym, & are not byd from his eyes. * He hath set a tye vpon euery people, but A. eall is the Lordes porcyon. All their workes are as the sun in the sight of God, and hys eyes are alway lokyng vpon their mapes. All their vnpyghteousnes are manifest vnto hym, and all their wpykednes are open in his syght. The mercy that a man sheweth, is as it were a puse wryth hym, and a mannes goet dede pfectueth hym as the apple of an eye. * At the laste shall he awake, and rewarde euery man vpon his beade as he hath deserued, and shall tyme thm. s. tpyghteoulnes and iudgements. They same hys gloyp wryth thir eyes, & thir eares heard
 the maner of his voyce. And he sayd vnto them: beware of all vnpyghteous thynges.
 * He gaue them a sate & sate thm. s. tpyghte-
 oulnes and iudgements.

* O turne then vnto the Lord, forsake thy frus, make thy prayre before the lord, do thy offence, turne agayne vnto the lord, forsake thy vnpyghteousnes, be an viter enemy to abhominacion. Ierne to knowe the tpyghteoulnes and iudgements of God, stand in porcyon that is set forth for the, and in the prayre of the moost hie God. Go into the porcyon of the holy moite, wryth such as be lyuynge and geue thankes vnto God.

* Who wyl prayse the Lord in the hel? C Abyde not thou in the erreure of the vngodly, but geue him thankes before death.
 As for the dede thankfulness veyrlyth from hym as nothynge. Beue thou thankes in thy lyfe, yea wryth thou art lyuynge, and holt thalt thou geue thankes, and prayse God, and tope in hys mercy. O howe greute is the louynge kyndnesse of the Lord, and his mercyfull goodnes vnto such as tyme vnto hym. For al thynges may not be in man: and why? The soune of man is not immortall, and he hath pleasure in the va-nyte of wpykednes. What is more cleare then the Sunne: yet shal it fayle. Or what

Deu. xlii. v.
 and. x.

Exo. xlii. xlii.
 xlii. xlii.

Rom. xlii. a.
 Deu. xlii. c.
 and. x. c.

Eccle. xlii. b
 & at. xlii. c.

Isa. xlii. e.

Anethozas
 c. 10. a. m. s.
 dependent of
 lyfe.

Isa. xlii. b.
 & at. xlii. c.
 & at. xlii. c.

is more wycked then the thyng that flethe and bloud hath ymagined: and that same shall be reprovied. The Lord seeth the power of the hye heauen, and al are but earthe and ashes. The xix. Chapter.

The marvellous works of God, the misery and wretchednes of mā. Against god ought we not to cōplaine. Pray must we continually.

Gene. i. a.
The prayse
of God.

If I liueth for euer more, made al thyngs together. God only is ryghteous, and remayneth a byctorous kynge for euer. Who shall be able to expresse þe workes of hym? Who hath sought out the ground of þys noble acts? Who shall declare the power of his greatness? Who will take vpon hym to tel out his mercy? As for þe wonderous works of the Lord, ther may nothyng be taken fro thē, nothyng may be put vnto thē, neyther may the ground of thē be found out. But whē a mā hath done his best, he must begin agayn: & when he thinketh to be come to an end, he must go again to þys labour. What is man? Whereto is he worth? What good or euel can he do? If the numbrie of a mans dayes be almoste an hundred yere, it is muche.

Like as the drops of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauel stone is in comparyson of the land: so are thet yeres to the dayes euerlastyng. * Therfore is the Lord pacifed wth them, and pouerth out þys mercy vpon them. He saw and perceyued þe thoughtes and ymaginacions of thet heart, that they were euill: therfore heaped be vpon þys merciful goodnes vpon them, and shewed them the waye of ryghteousnes. The mercye that a man hath receyved to þys neyghbour: but the mercye of God is vpon all flethe. He chasteneth, he teacheth and nuretureth: pea. euen as a shepheard turneth agayne þys flocke, so doth he all them that receyue chastenyng, nureture, and doctrine. Mercyfull is he vnto them that stande in awe of þys iudgementes.

Approue, when thou doest good, make no gudgeunge at it, and what soeuer thou geuest, speake no discomfortable wordes. Shall not the dewe coule the heate? Euen so is a worde better then a gyfte. * Is not a scendelyre worde a good honeste gyfte? but a gractous man geueth them both. * A foole that call a man in the teerhe and that roughlye, and a gyfte of the nygarde putteth out the eyes. * Let the ryghteousnes before thou come to iudgement. Leane before thou speake, and go to physicke or euer thou be speke: examyn and iudge thy selfe, before the iudgemente come, and so shalt thou fonde grace in the sight of God.

Mumble thy selfe afore thou be speke, and in tyme of thy dyscase steme thy conuersacion. Lette not to praye alwaye, and stande not in feare to be reformed vnto deathe, for the rewarde of God endureth for euer. Be fore thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tepteth God Thynke vpon the wrathful indignacion þe shall be at the end, & the hour of vengeance, when he shall turne away his face. * When thou hast ynough, remēber the tyme of bonget: and when thou art ryche, thynke vpon the tyme of pouertye and scarcenesse.

From the mornyng vntyl the euenyng the tyme is chaunged, and all suche thynges are soone doone in the sight of God. A wyse man feareth God in all thynges, and in the dayes of transgression he keepeth hym selfe from synne. A dyscrete man hath pleasure in wysdome, and he that sindeeth her, maketh muche of her. They that haue hadde vnderstandyng, haue dealte wylfely in wordes, haue vnderstande the truthe and ryghteousnes, and haue founde out wise sentences and iudgements. * For loke not thy lusts but turne the from thine owne wyl. For if thou geuest thy soule her despyre, it shall make thyne enemyes to laugh the to scorne. Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, and meddle not to muche wythal. Make not to great cheare of the chynge that thou hast wonne by aduauantage, least thou fall into pouertye, and haue nothyng in thy purse.

The. xix. Chapter.

Wise and whoosedome byngemen to pouerty. In thy wordes must thou vse dyscrecyon. The dyscrecyon of the wysdome of God and man. Wherby thou mayest know what is in a man. Correction muste be vsed wthout anger.

Labouryng man that is geuen vnto drunkenesse, shall not be rich: and he þe maketh not muche of small thynges, shall fall by lytle and lytle. Wyne and women make wyse men cennagares, and put men of vnderstanding to reprove, & he that accompanyeth aduoucers shall become a wicked mā. Gorythes & wormes shall haue hym to heritage, pea he shall be set vnto a greater example, and þys soule shall be rooted out of the number. * He that is hasty to geue credence is lychtmynded, and doth agaynst hym selfe. Who so relosseth in wyckednes, shall be punyshed: he that hateth to be reformed, þys lyfe shall be shortened: and he that aduoceteth babylunge of wordes, quencherh wyckednes. He that offendeth agaynst his owne soule, shall repente it: and he that relosseth in wyckednes, shall be punyshed.

Rebearse not a wycked and chutlyshe worde to wyse, & thou shalt not be hyndered. * Shew thy secretis neyther to frende nor foe, and if thou hast offended, tel it not out. For he shall harken vnto the and marcke the, and when he fyndeth oppoortunyte, he shall bare the. * If thou hast heard a worde agaynst thy neyghbour let it be dead wth in the: and be sure thou shalt haue no harm therby. A foole trausyleth wth a worde, lyke as a womanne that is payned wth bearyng of chyld. Lyke as an arrow shot in a dogges thrygh, so is a word in a fool's heart. * Tel thy frend his faure, least he be ignorant, and saye: I haue not done it: or

Rom. vi. b.
and. xii. b.

Roma. vi. b.
and. xii. b.
Tēperance

Gene. xix. g.
iii. Re. xi. a.

Dymetse
good leas.

Eccle. xlii.

Eccle. xxi. b.
1. x. vii. c. d.

1. cor. x. c. d.
2. a. x. vii. b.

1. b. d. i. p. b.

Jesus the sone of Syrach.

If he haue done it, that he doo it no more. Except he be neyghbour, & he kepe his tōg: and if he haue spoken, & he saie it no more.

Tell thy neyghboure his faulte, for ofte tymes an offence is made, and geue not credence to euery worde: And man falleth for meryme with his tounge, but not with his wyll. * For what is he that hath not offended in his tounge? Geue thy neyghboure warning before thou threaten hym, and geue place vnto the Lorde. * The feare of God is all wysedom, and he that is a right wyse man, kepereth the lawe. As for the doctrine of wickednes, it is no wysdome, & the prudence of synners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wickednes, and abhominacion, and a blasphemynge of wysdome. A simple manne of small vnderstandinge that feareth God, is better then one that hath muche wysdome, and traffyggereth the lawe of his breth. A crafty fottel man can not be wyse, but he is vnrightheous, and with gyftes be wasteth the open and manifest lawe. * A wicked man can be haue hym selfe humbly, and can bouke with his heade, and yet is he but a decepter within. He hyderh his face, and disguyseth it: and because he should not be knowen, he presenteth the.

And though he be so meake that he can do the no harme, yet when he maye synde oportunitie, he shall do some euill. A man may be knowen by his face, & one that hath vnderstanding may be perceiued by the loke of his countenance. A mannes garmente, laughter, and goynge, declare what he is.

The. xxi. Chapter.

Of correction and repentance. Of the gyfte of the wyse man and of the folle. Of synge.

Some man reproveth his neyghboure oft tymes, but not in due season: Agayne, some man holdeh his tounge, and he is wyse and discrete. It is muche better to geue warninge and to reprove, then to beate euell wyll: for he that knowledgeth hym selfe openly, shall be preserved from hurte and destruction. Lyke as when a gelded man chorowe before and luste despyerh a maiden, euen so is it with hym that useth violence and vnrightheousnes in the lawe: How good a thyngge is it, a man that is reproveth to shew openly his repentance: for so shall he escape wyllfull synne.

Some man kepereth silence, and is found wyse: but he that is not ashamed what he saith, is hateful. Some man holdeth his tounge, because he hath not the vnderstandinge of the language: and some man kepereth silence waytynge a convenient tyme. * A wyse man holdeth his tounge till he see oportunitie, but a wanton and vndersecrete body shall regard no tyme, he that useth many wordes, shall hurte his owne soule: and he that taketh authorite upon hym vnrightheously, shall be hated. Some man hath oft tymes prospered in wicked thinges:

The. xxi. Chapter.

Agayne, some man getteth much, and hath harme, and losse. There is a gyft is noughtynge worth: Agayne ther is some gyfte, whose rewarde is double. Some man getteth a falle for beynge to proude, and some cometh to worshippe from lowe estate. Some man bieth muche for a lytle pryce, and must pay for it seven folde.

A wyse man with his wordes maketh hym selfe to be loued, but the fauouters of foolles shall be poured oute. The gyft of the vnrwyse shall do the no good, for his eyes are seven folde. He shall geue lytle, and sale he gaue muche: he openeth his mouthe and cryeth oute as it were one that cryeth out wyne. To daye he lenderh, to morowe he asketh it agayne, and such a man is to be hated. The foolle saith, I haue no frende, I haue no thanke for al my good dedes: yea euen they that ate my bread speake no good of me. How oft & of how many shall he be laughed to scorn? He taketh a more peryllous sal by suche wordes then if he fel upon the ground: euen so shall the failles of wicked men come hastily. In the mouth of hym that is vnrughte, are many vnrightheous and vnrightheous words. A wise sentence shall not be slowe at his mouth of folle, for he speaketh it not in due season.

Some man synneth not, because he hath not wherewithal, and in his rest he shall be synned. Some man there is that despoyleth his owne soule with shame, and for an vnrwyse bodys sake destroyeth he it, and with acceptynge of personnes shall he vndo hym selfe. Some man promyseth his frende a gyft for very shame, and getteth an enemy of him for naught. * A lyte is a wicked shame in a man: yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnrwyse. A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they bothe shall haue destruction to heritage. The condicions of lyers are vnrightheous, & thet shame is euer with them.

A wyse man shall bring hym selfe to honour with his wordes and he that hath vnderstandinge shall be sette by amonge great men. He that collecth his loude, shall increase his heape of corne, he that worketh vnrightheousnes, shall be exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shall escape muche euill. Remardes & gyftes blind the eyes of the wyse, and make him dumme that he cannot tel men their faultes. * Wysdome that is hid, and treasure that is hoorded by, what profyete is in them both? Better is he that kepereth his ignorance secret, then a man that viderh his wysdome.

The. xxi. Chapter.

Of the repetoire of sinne. We may not haue sinne vpon syn. The boldnesse of an heretike. The end of synners. Of folle & of the wyse manne. Of hym that curseth the deuil.

If thou shalt synned, do it no more: but praye for thy synnes, that they maye be forgiven the. It is from synne, euen as from a sleep we

Ecc. xlii. a
and. xxi. b.
Jacob. iii. a

A comment
dario of the fear of god.

It is no wis dom, that lacketh the fear of god.

Math. i. b.

Ecc. xxi. c.

A
When we much we when not
Ecc. xxi. d.

Ecc. xxi. e.

Ecc. xxi. f.
Ecc. iii. a.

Ecc. vi. a.

Ecc. xxi. g.
and. xli. c.

Ecc. xxi. h.
Ips.

Sent. xli. f.
Dan. ii. g.

Pro. xii. h.

The corrup
tio of gilia.

Ecc. xli. i.

Ecc. v. a.
and. xli. c.
Psal. xli.
Luk. xv.

a serpent: for if thou comest to nys her, she wyl bite the. * The teeth therof are as the teeth of a Lyon, to slep the soules of men.
The wyckednes of man is a sharpe two edged swerde, whych maketh such woundes that they cannot be healed.

Strype and wrongeous dealing shall make aware a mannes goodes, and thotome yfth a rych house shall be broughte to naught: so the ryches of the proude shall be rooted oute. The prayer of the poore goeth oute of the mouthe, and commeth vnto the eares, and bys vengeance (or defence) shall come, and that hastye.
Who so hateth to be resourmed, it is a token of an vngodly personne: but he that feareth God, wyl remember hym selfe.
A myghty man is knowen a far of by his tounge, but he that hath vnderstandynge, perceyvet that he shal haue a fall.

B Who so buildeth his house wth other mens cost, is lyke one that gathereth stones in wynter. * The congregacion of the vngodly is lyke stubble gathered together. they ende is a flame of fyre. The waye of the vngodly is set wth stones, but in their ende is hel, darthnes, and paynes. He that keperth the lawe, wyl holde fast the vnderstandynge therof: and the ende of the feare of God, is wysdome. He that is not wyse, wyl not be taught in good: but the vniuersal man aboundeth in wyckednes, and where bitternes is, there is no vnderstandynge.
* The knowledge of þyngs that flowe lyke water that runneth ouer, and bys counsell is a fountayne of lyfe.

Eccle. xvi.

E The heart of a foole is lyke a broken vessel: he can keepe no wysedome. When a manne of vnderstandynge heareth a wyse word, he shal commend it, and make much of it. But if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but cast it behynde his backe. The talckynge of a foole is lyke an heuy burthen by the way, but to heare a wyse manne speake, it is a pleasure. Where a doubte is in the con-gregacion, it is asked at the mouthe of the wyse, and they shal ponder his wordes in their heartes. Lyke as a house that is destroyed, even so is wysedome vnto a foole:
As for the knowledge of the vniuersal, it is but darcke wordes. Doctryne is vnto hym that hath no vnderstandynge, even as letters about his feete, and lyke manny-cles vpon his ryght hand. * A foole listeth by his voyce wth laughter, but a wyse man shal scarce laugh secretly.

Eccle. xxi.

W Teaching is vnto a wyse manne a Jewel of golde, and lyke an armylet vpon his ryght arme. A foole he mans foote is soue in his neighbours house, but one that hath experiens, shal be ashamed at the person of the myghty. A foole wyl peepe in at the window into the house, but he that is wel nourished wyl stand wythoute. A foole he man standeth berkenyng at the doore, but he that is wyse, wyl be ashamed.

The lips of the vniuersal wyl be tallynge foolysh thynges, but the wordes of such as haue vnderstandynge, shal be wared in the balaunce. The heart of foolles is in their mouthe, but the mouth of þe wyse is in their bert. When the vngodly cutteth the blasphemer, he cutteth his owne soule. * A pri-uy accuser of other men shal destitute his owne soule, and be hated of euery manne: but he that keperth his tounge and is discrete, shal come to honour.

Jude. i. c.
Eccle. xvi. d.
Eccle. xvi. c.
Eccle. xvi. d.

The xxii. Chapter.

The purgacion of the foolish. Of the fooly the sonne and daughter. we must haue discrecion how and to whom we ought to preach: of so-rrowynge vpon the deade. A foole is not to be much talked wth al. Fynnynges and wronges do breake frendshipp and amysse.

Slothful bodye is moulded of a stone of clape: he that toucheth it hym. must washe his handes a-gayne. A myshactured sonne is the dishonoure of the father. A fooly the daughter shall be lytle regarded. A wyse daughter is an heyrage vnto her husband, but she that commeth to dyshoneyste, byn-geth her father in heauynes. A daughter that is parte shame, dyshonoureth both her father and her husband: the vngodly shal regarde her, but they both shal despyse her.
The playnynge of Gulycke is not meete where beuynnes is, even so is the correction and doctryne of wysdome euer vnplea-saunte vnto foolles.

Longg. q.
uile.

* Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleueth a pot. Hearde together: as one that telleth a tale to hym that heareth hym not, and as one that sayeth a maoute of an heauye sleepe. Who so telleth a foole of wysdome, is euen as a man which speaketh to one that is a slepe: When he hath tolde his tale, he sauyth: what is the matter? When one dyeth, lamentacion is made for hym, because the lyghte sapleth hym: euen so let men mourne ouer a foole for he wanteth vnderstandynge. Make but lytle weppynge because of the deade, for he is come to rest: but the lyfe of the foole is worse then the death. Seuen dayes do me mourne for him þe is deade, but the lamentacion ouer the vniuersal and vngodly shuld endure al the dayes of their lyfe.

B Agaynst a foole.

cc. xxi. d.

Genesis. v.

Talke not muche wth a foole, and go not wth hym that hath no vnderstanding.
Beware of hym, leaste it turne the to tra-uayle, and thou shalt not be despyled wth his synne. Depart from hym, and thou shalt fynde rest, and shalt not be drawen backe into his foolyshnes.

Pro. xvi. a

What is heauier then leade? And what shuld a foole be called els but leade? * sand, salt, and a lumme of yron is easer to beare then an vniuersal, fooly the, and vngodly man. Lyke as the band of woodde bounde together in the foundation of the house can not be lewted, even so is it wth the hearte that is stablished in the thoughte of counsell. The thoughte of the wyse shall

Ps. ii. nys

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

The.xiii. Chapter.

neither feare, nor be offended at any tyme, Lyke as a faire playsted wall in a winter house, and an hye buyldynge maye not abyde the wynde and storme, even so is a fooles herte asayed in his ymaginacion: he feareth at euery thyng, and can not endure. * He that wyppeth a mannes ere, byngeth forth the teares: and he that prycketh the herte, byngeth forth the meaning and thought. Whoso casteth a stone at the bydes, frayeth them away: and he that blasphemeth his frend, breaketh the frendship: though thou dyest * a sword at thy seide per dore not for thou mayest come as gayn to thy frend. If he speake sowerly feare not, for ye may be agreed together a garnier: cepte it be þ thou blasphemest him, bydaine him, open his secrettes and wound hym traitorously, for all suche thynges shall dyue away a frend.

Be sayeful unto thy neyghboure in his pouertye, that thou mayest reioyce also in his prosperite. Abyde steadfaste unto hym in the tyme of his trouble, that thou mayest be helye wth hym in his heritage. Like as the vapoure & smoke goeth oure at þ ouen before þ fyre, even so euil wordes, rebuke & chieatynge go before blond besting. Be not ashamed to defend thy frend: as for me, I wyll not hyde my face fro hym, though he shuld do me harm. Whosoeuer heareth it, shal beware of him. Who shal set a watch before * my mouth, & a sure seale upon my lippes, that I fall not wth them, and that my tong destroy me not?

The.xiiii. Chapter.

A prayer agaynst pryde, lechery and glotony.
 Of othes, blasphemye, and of wyse communication. Of the kindes of Cynnes. Of the synnes procede of aduoutry. Of the feare of God.

Lorde, * father & gouernour of my lyfe, leaue me not in thine y-maginacion and counsell. Obler-me not fall in suche reprove.

Who wyll kepe my thoughtes wth the scourge, & the doctrine of wysdom in mine herte: that he spare not myne ignorauce that I fall not wth the, leaue myne ignoraunces increace, that myne offences be not many in number, & that my synnes excede not, lest I fall before myne enemies, and to my aduersary reioyce. O Lorde thou sa-ther & God of my lyfe, leaue me not in thine ymaginacion. O let me not haue a proude looke, but turne awaye all voluptuousnes frome me. Take frome me the lustes of the body, lette not the desyres of vncleines take hold vpon me, and geue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate mynde.

Deare me (O pe chyldren) I wyll geue you a doctrine, bothe ye shall order your mouth: who so keperth it, shal not perperthorowe his lippes nor be hurte thorowe wycked workes. As for the synner, he shall be taken in his owne banitye: he that is proude and cuffed shall fall therein. * Let not thy mouth be accustomed wth swea-

cyng, for in it there are many fautes.
 Let not the namynge of God be continuallye in thy mouth: for lyke as a seruaunt whiche is oft punyshed can not be wthoute some soze, even soo whatsoeuer he be that sweareth and nameth God, shall not be clean purged from syn. A man that vseth muche swearyng, shall be fylled wth wyckednes, & the plage shall neuer go fro his house. If he begyle his brother, his fault shalve vpon him, yf he knowledg not his synne, he maketh a double offence: & yf he sweare in vayne, he shall not be found righteous, for his house shalve full of plagis.

* The wordes of the sweare byngeth deathe (God graunt that it be not found in the house of Jacob) But they that feare Godeschue all such, and lye not welcryn-in synne. * Use not thy mouth to vn honest and fylthy talkynge, for it is the word of synne. Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou art set among great men, lest God forgette the in thine sight, and least thou dotynge in thy custome, suffer rebuke, and wythe not to haue ben born, and so curte þ dare of thy nature. * The man that is accustomed wth the wordes of blasphemye, wyll neuer be resourmed althe dayes of his lyfe. To syn thyse is to muche but the chyd byngeth wryth and destruccyon. An hore stomacke can not be quenched (even lyke a burnyng fyre) tyl it haue swallowed up some thyng: even so an vncaste man hath no rest in his fleshe, tyl he haue knowen a fyre.

Al bread is swete to an whoremonger, he wyll not leaue of tyl he haue bys purpose. A manne that breaketh wedlocke, and regaderth not his soule, but foreth: Suche, who seeth me? I am compassed aboute wth barrenesse, the trailes couet me, no body seeth me: whom nebe I to fear? The byest wyll not remeber my syns.
 He vnderstandeth not that his eyes se all thynges, for al frech feare of men bypuerth away the feare of god fro him: for he feareth one lyfe the eyes of men, & consydereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clere then the Sunne, beholdynge all the wayes of men and the grounde of the depe, and lokynge euen to mennes hertes in secrette places: The Lorde God knewe all thyngges before, or euer they were made, and after they be broughte to passe also he lo-keth vpon them all. * The same man shall be openly punyshed in the stretes of the cyty, and shalbe chased abroad lyke a pong hore foale: and when he thynketh least vpon it, he shall be taken. Thus shall he be put to shame of euery manne, because he wolde not vnderstand the feare of the lord.
 And thus shal it go also wth every wyfe that leaueth her housband, and getteth enherstaunce by a straunge maryage.

Fyrst she hath bene vnfaithfull vnto the lawe of the byest: Secondly she hath forsaken her owne housband: Thirde, she hath

1. Cor. xiii.
 1. Cor. xiii. c.

friendship.

Ecl. xii. b.
 1. Cor. xiii. c.

1. Cor. xiii. c.

1. Cor. xiii. c.

Against babeling and captiages.

1. Cor. xiii. b.
 1. Cor. xiii. b.
 1. Cor. xiii. b.

Leuit. xiii.

Eph. v. 9.

1. Cor. xiii. c.

1. Cor. xiii. c.

1. Cor. xiii. c.
 1. Cor. xiii. c.

Leuit. xiii. b.
 Deut. xiii.

1. Cor. xiii. b.

harbe played the whore in aduouterye and gotten her chyldren by another man. She shall be brought sure of the congregaciō, and her chyldren shall be loked vpon. Her chyldre shall not take rote: and as for frute, her branches shall byng forth none.

A shamefull repore shall she leaue behynd her, and her dishonour shall not be put out. And they that remayn shall knowe that there is nothyng better, then the feare of God: & that there is nothyng sweeter then to take hede vnto the commaundementes of the Lord. A great worship is it to folowe þe Lord, for lōg lyfe shall be receiued of him.

The. xliii. Chapter.

A prayer of wysdome procedyng forth of þe mouth of God. Of her workes & place where she regeth.

The prayse of wysdome.

Wysdom shall prayse her selfe and be honored in God, and reioyce in the myddest of hys people: In the congregaciōs of the bled shall she open her mouth, and triumphe in the beholdinge of his power. In þe myddest of her people shall she be exalted and worshyd as in the holpe fulnes: In the multitude of the chosen shall she be commended, and amonge such as be blessed, she shall be praysed, and shall saye: I am come oute of the mouth of the highest, for þe bozne before all creatures. I caused the lychte that shal not to asple in the heauen, and conuerted all the eary as a cloude. My dwellinge is aboue in the beygde, and my seate is in the pyllet of the cloude. I my selfe alone haue gone rounde aboute the compassse of heauen, and pearced the grounde of the depe: I haue walked in the floudes of the sea, and haue stand in all the landes. My dominion is in euery people, and in euery naciō, and wyth my power haue I trodded down the heces of al. both hie & lowe.

In al these thynges also I sought rest, and a dwellinge in some inberptaunce.

So the creator of all thyngs gaue me a commaundemente, and he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, & sayd vnto me. Let thy dwellinge be in Jacob, & thine inberptaunce in Israell, & tote thy selfe among my chosen. * I was created fro the begynnyng, & before the world, & shall not leaue of vnto the world to come. In the holpe inhabitation haue I secured before hym, and so was I stablyshed in Syon. In the holpe cite rested I in lyke maner: and in Ierusalem was my power: I toke rote in an honorable people, even in the porcion of the Lord and in his heritage, and he re me in the fulnes of the sainctes. I am set by an hie lyke a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cypress tree vpon the mount Hermon: * I am exalted lyke a palme tree in Eades, and as a rose plante in Acrecho: As a fayre olpue tree in the feld, and am exalted lyke as a planteyne tree, by the water syde. I haue greden a smell in the stretes, as the Cinamom and Balme, that hath so good a sauoure: yea, a swete odoure haue I geuen as it were Saryre of the beste. I haue made my dwellinges to smelle as it were of rospn, Salbanum, of Clowes, and incense, and as Lybanus whē it is not betwē beuē: & mine odoure is as the pure Balm. As the Sereninte haue I stretched out my branches, & my branches at the branches of honour & louing fauoure. * As the vyne haue I broughte forth frute, a swete sauour: & my floure as the frute of honour and riches. I am the mother of benytre, of loue, of feare, of knowledge and of holpe hope. I am grace of life & truthe. In me is all hope of lyfe & vertue. Come to me all ye þe despyous of me, & fil your selves w my treasures: for my spirit is sweter then hony, & so is my inheritaunce more the the hony combe: the remembraunce of me endureth for euer more. They þe eat me, & shal haue the more bouget: and they þe drinke me, shall thirste more. Who so herken to vnto me, shall not come to confusiō: & they that vnto me shall not offend. They þe make me to be known, shall haue euerylastyng lyfe.

All these thynges are the booke of lyfe, the couenant of the highest, and the knowledge of the truthe. Moses commaunded the lawe in the preceptes of ryghteousnes: for an heritage to the house of Jacob, and commytted the promyses vnto Israell. Out of Dauid hys seruante he ordeined to raise up a moste myghty king sittynge in the seate of honoure for euer more. * I was fullen vnto wysdome lyke as the floude of Durson, and as the floud of Tigris when þe new frutes are growynge.

This bringerth a plenteous vnderstandynge lyke Euphrates, and filleth it by, as the Jordan in þe time of baruen. This maketh noutout to breake forth as the lychte, & as the water Gibon in the barnest. The spirit hath not knowen her perfectly, no more that the laste seke oute the ground of her. For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsaile is profounder then the greete depe. I wysdome haue taste oute floudes. I am as a greete waterbroke out of the ryuer. I am the ryuer Donk, & as a water condyte am I come oute of þe garden of pleasure. I sayed: I wyl water þe garden of my pōge places & fol the frute of my truthe. So my waterbroke became increasynge grete, & my ryuer apperched vnto þe sea. For I make doctre ne to be vnto all mēne as lighte as þe fyre morninge, and I shall make it to be euer the clearer. I wyl pearse thorow all þe somer parties of the earth. I wyl ke vnto al such as be a slepe, & lighte al the þe out their trust in þe Lord. I shall yet poure out doctre lyke as prophesie & leaue it vnto such as seke after wysdome: and theire generaciōs shall I neuer faile vnto þe euerylastyng world. * Behold I haue not laboured for my selfe onely, but for al that seke after þe truthe.

The.

John. xlv. a

John. xlv. a

John. vi. d

Exod. xx. v.

and. xliii. a

psal. cxv. b

actes. ii. d.

Deut. xxx. q.

and. xli. b

John. vi. c.

Eccl. x. c.

Jesus the son of Sirach.

The. xxv. Chapter.

Of the thynges whiche please God, and of the whiche he hateth. Of. ix. thynges that be not to be suspect, and of the tenth: chedye of the malice of a woman.

Gene. xlii. b
Rom. xlii. b

Eccle. xl.
i. xxi. vi.

Eccle. xl. b.

Gene. ii. b.

These thynges there are, that my spirit fauoreth, wherby he also alowed before God & me. * The vnitye of brethren, the loue of neighbours, and man and wyfe that agree well together.

These thynges there be whiche my soule hateth, and I utterly abhorre the lyfe of them: I pooze man that is proude. A ryche man that is a frat, and an olde body that doeth, & is vncouth. If thou haste gathered nothyng in thy yowth, what wyse thou fynd then in thine age? O how pleasaunt a thyng is it, when gray headed men are discrete, and wher the eldres can geue good counsayll: O how conly a thyng is wyse: dome vnto aged men, yea vnderstanding and counsaile is a glorious thyng. The crowne of old men is to haue much experyence, and the feare of God is their worshipp.

There be. ix. thynges wherby I haue iudged in my herte to be happye, and the tenth wyll I tell furthe vnto men wyth my tonge. A man that wyll be lyuer, hath hope of hys chyldren, and seeth the fall of his enemyes. * Well is hym that dwel- leth with an housewyfe of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen byth hys tonge, and that hath not bene saue to sette such as are vnmete for hym. Well is hym that fyndeth a saythfull secunde: and wel is hym whiche talkech of wysedome to an eare that heareth hym.

Eccle. xlii. a
and. xii.
Iacob. iii. a

A comment:
dacion of feare of the Lord.

An euyl wo man.

O how great is he, that fyndeth wysedome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue hym that feareth the Lord. * The feare of god hath set it selfe aboue all thynges. Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God. Vnto whome shall he be lykned, & kepeth it fast? The feare of God is the begynnyng of hys loue, and the begynnyng of sayth is to cleaue faste vnto it. The heauyns of the herte is all & punishment, and the wyckednes of a woman goeth aboue all. All punishment and plage is nothyng in comparyson of & plage of the herte. * euen so all wyckednes is nothyng to the wyckednes of a woman.

Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparyson of it that hys euell wyll do vnto hym: and all vengeance is nothyng to the vengeance of the enemy.

Pro. xvi. e.

There is not a more wycked head then the heade of the Serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman. * I wyll rather dwel wyth a Lyon and dyag, then to kepe house wyth a wycked wyfe. The wyckednesse of a woman chaungeth her face, she shall moue her countenance as it were a Beer, and as a sacke shall she shewe it amonge the neighbours. Her housebande is brought to shame amonge

The. xxv. Chapter.

hys neighbours, and when he heareth it, it maketh hym to sygh. All wyckednes is but lytle to the wyckednes of a woman, the porcion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her.

Lyke as to clymme vp a sandy way is to the scere of the aged, euen so is a wyfe full of wordes to a styl quere man.

* Take not to hartely vpon the, betwixt of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in desyre toward her. The wrath of a woman is dishonoure and greete confusion. If a woman get the mastery, then is she contrary to her husbande. A wycked wyfe maketh a sorow hert: an heauy countenance, and a dead wound. * Of the woman came the begynnyng of synne, and thowt we be all are dead. Beue the water no pas- sage, no not a lytle, neyther geue a wycked woman her wyll. If she walke not after thy hande, she shall confounde the in the syght of thy enemyes. Cut her of then from thy fleshe, that she do not alway abuse the.

Eccle. xlii. b
ii. Reg. xi. a
and. xlii. a.

Gene. iii. a.

The. xxvi. Chapter.

The prayse of a good woman. Of & feare of these thynges & of the fourth. Of & Ielouse and dyonchen woman. Of two thynges that cause sorow, and of the thyng whiche moueth wythe. It is harde to fynde a mar- chaunte wythout discreete or a tauerne wyth- out synne in hys tonge.

Appy is the man that hath a vertuous wyfe, for & nombie of his peetes shalbe double. An honest woman maketh her husband a ioyfull man, & shal fill the peetes of his life in peace. A vertuous woman is a noble gyfte, which shal be geue for a good porcyon vnto such as feare God. Whether a man be ryche or pooze he may haue euer a merre herte, and a chearefull countenance. There be these thynges that my hert feareth, and my face is a scaped of the fourth. Treason in a cypre, a sedicious people, & noysome tonges, all these are he- uyer then & deathe. But wher one is gelous ouer his wyfe, it byngeth payne & sorowe vnto the herte: and a woman that telleth out al thynges, is a scourge of the tong. * When one hath an euyl wyfe, it is euen as when an vnylyke payre of oren must drawe together: be that getteth her, getteth a scorpion. A dyonchen woman is a great plage, for she can not couer her owne shame.

A good
wyfe.

Judg. xvi.

Eccle. xlii. a

The whooredome of a woman maye be knowne in the pryde of her eyes and eyes lyddes. If thy daughter be not shamesfast, hold her scapelye, lest she abuse her selfe thowt ouermuch libertye. Beware of all the dishonesty of her eyes, and maruell not if she do agaynst the. Lyke as one that goeth by the way and is thyrstye, so shall she open her mouth, and drynche of euery nerte water that she may get. Wy euerie hedge shall she set her doune, and open her quyer agaynst euery arrowe. * A ioy- nge wyfe reioyseth her husbande, and feareth

feareth his bones with her wisdom. A woman of fewe wordes is a gift of God, and to a well nourished mynde may no thyng be compared.

An honest and manerly woman is a gift about other gyftes, and ther is no weight to be compared unto a mynde that can rule it selfe. Like as the Sunne when it is rised, is an ornamente in the hye heauē of the Lord, so is a vertuous wife the bewe of all her house. * Like as the cleare lyght is upon the holy candelsticke, so is the bewe of the face upon an honest woman. Like as the golden pylles are upon the sockettes of syluer, so are the fayre legges upon a woman that hath a countenance mynde. Perpetuall are the foundations that be layed upon a whole stoupe, so are the commaundementes of God upon an holy woman.

There be two thynges that greue my heart, & in the thyrde is a displeasure come upon me. When an expert man of warre suffereth fear, fere and pouerty. When men of vnderstandynge and wisdom are not let by: And when one departeth fro thyngs trewlynes vnto synne. Who so doth such, the Lord hath prepared hym to the sword. There be two maner of thynges, whiche me thynke to be harde and peccylous. A marchaunte canue not lyghlye keepe hym from wronge, neither a traueiler him selfe from synne.

The. xlviii. Chapter.

Of the poore that woulde be riche. The probation of the man that feareth God. The vncertaintye of a foole. The secretes of a frende are not to be vndered. The wretched praymeth euil, whiche returneth vpon hym selfe.

* Cause of prynces haue many one offended: and he that seeketh to be trewe, toucheth his eyes aspyde. Like as a nail in a wall stryketh it selfe vnto the wall, so doth synne stryke betwixt the buyer and the seller. If he holde hym not diligently in the feare of the Lord, his house shall soone be ouerthrowen. Like as when one suffereth, the felchynes remapeth in the soue: So re may each tyme some vncleane thyng in the thought of man. * The ouer prouerb the porters be tel, so doth the tacyon of trouble to the righteous men.

* The tree of the sylde is known by his frute, so is the thought of mans heart known by his wordes. Waple no man except thou haue hearde hym, for a man is known by his wordes. If thou folowest righteousness, thou shalt get her, and put her vpon the as a fayre garment. And thou shalt smel with her and she shall defende the for euer, and in the daye of knowledge thou shalt fynd stedfastnes. The bydes resorte vnto thev like, so doth the treuth turne vnto the that be occupied withal. The upon wapleth for the praye: so do p synnes lurke vpon the workers of wretchednes. The talyng of hym that feareth God, is nothyng but wisdom, as for a foole, he changeth as the moone. If thou be among the vndiscere, * kepe thy word to a conueniente tyme, but amonge suche as be wyle, speake on hardelpe. The talyng of foolcs is abhomyne, and thev spore is voluptuousnes and misnourture. Suche sweatinge maketh the heart to stande by, & to stryue with such, stoppeth the eares. The strife of the proud is bloud sheddyng, and thev blasphemynge is heuie to heare. * Who so discovereth secretes, leseth his credence, and fyndeth no frende after his wyl. Loue thy frende and bynde thy selfe in faithfulness with hym: but if thou bewrapst thy secretes, thou shalt not get hym agayne: For like as the man that destroyeth his enemy, so is he also that dealeth falsly in the frendship of his neyghboure.

Like as one that letteth a byde goe oute of his hand, cannot take her againe: Euen so thou, if thou gve ouer thy frend, thou canst not get hym agayne: Yea, thou canst not come by hym, for he is to farre of. He is vnto the as a koe escaped oute of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

As for woundes, they maye be bounde by as gayne, and an euil word may be reconceled: but who so bewrapeth the secretes of a frende, there is no more hope to be had vnto hym. He that wyndeth with the eyes praymeth some euil, & no man shall take hym from it. When thou arte present, he shall hylve commend & prayse thy wordes: but at the laste he shall turne his tale, and sounder thy sayinge. Many thynges haue I dated, but nothyng so euill, for the Lord himselfe also abhorreth suche one.

Who so casteth a stone on hye, it shall fall vpon his owne heade: and he that smothereth with gyle, woundeth hym selfe. * Who so dyggeth a pye, shall fall therein, & he that layeth a snare shall be taken in it hym selfe. Who so geuerd a wicked hope to some countaile, it shall come vpon hym selfe, & he shall not knowe from whence. The proud blasphemers are scornfull, but vengeance lurketh for them as a Lyon. They that reioyse at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, and gylt of heart shall chuse them before they dye. Anger and rigorosnes are two abhominable thynges, and the vngodlye hath the both vpon hym.

The. xlviii. Chapter.

We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. Of the tongue, and of the daungers therof.

That seeketh vengeance, shall fynde vengeance of the Lord which shall surely kepe hym his synnes. Forgiue thy neyghboure

Rom. xii. b

Eccl. xiii. b

Eccl. xvi. b. and xxi. b. friendship.

Pro. x. b.

Eccl. x. b. and xxi. b.

Deu. xxi. a. Rom. xii. c. Math. v. b. and xvi. b.

Eccl. v. b.

Eccl. v. b.

Eccl. v. b. and xxi. a.

Trouble. Sap. iii. a. Jer. xli. b. Amos. vi. b.

Jesus the son of Sirach.

the hurte that he hath done the, and so shall thy synnes be forgiven the also, whē thou prayest. A man that beareth hatred against another, how can he desire forgiveness of God? He that sheweth no mercie to a manne whiche is lyke hym selfe, how can he aske forgiveness of his synnes? If he that is but flesh beareth hatred and keepeth it, who will intreate for his synnes? Remember the ende, and lette enmytie passe, whiche seeketh deathe and destruction, and abyde thou in the commaundementes. Remember the commaundemente so shalt thou not be rygourous over thy neyghboure. Thynke vpon the counsaile

Eccl. viii. 1. Against peace breakehers.
Ps. xvi. 1.

W of the best, and forgive thy neyghbours ignorance, * Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy synnes fewer. For an angry man kindleth variance, and the vngodlye disquieteth friends, and putteth his foe among them that be at peace.

The more woode ther is, the more behement is the fyre: and the myghtyer that men be, the greater is the wrath: and the longer the stryfe endureth, the more it burneth.

Eccl. xxi. 10

An hastye blameynge kindleth a fyre, and a hastye stryfe heareth bloude. If thou blotte the sparke, it shall burne: If thou spyt vpon it, it shall goo forthe, and both these go out of thy mouth. The schlanderer, & double tonged is cursed, for many one that be friends setteth he at variance. The double tonge hath disquieted manye one & draweth the frende to another, & cities hath he broken down, & ouerthrowne the houses of great men. The thrid tonge hathe cast out an honeste woman, and robbed them of theyre laboures. Who so hearkeneth vnto suche, shall neuer fynde rest and neuer dwel safely. The stroke of the rod maketh vdders, but the stroke of the tong smiteth the bones in sundre. Ther be manye that haue perished in the swerde, but manye moe thowgh the tong.

Wel is hym that is kepte from an euil tong, and cometh not in the dāger thereof, whiche draweth not the poeke of such, and in no bounde is the bandes of it.

For the poeke thereof is of yron, and the bande of it of stele, the deatch thereof is a very euell deathe: hell were better for one, then suche a tonge. But the fyre of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flame thereof maye not burne them.

Suche as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein: and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quenche it. It shall fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuour them as a leopard. Thou hedgest thy goodes in thowes: why dost thou not rather make doores and barres for thy mouth?

Thou wepest thy gold & syluer: why dost thou not wep thy wordes also vpon thy balance? Beware that thou slide not in thy tong, and so fall before thyne enemies that lay wait for the.

The xxix. Chapter.

The xxix. Chapter.

Howe we ought to lend ouer money, and do almes. Of a saythfull man answerynge for his frende. Of lyberalitye and hospitalite.

Who so wyl shewe mercie, let hym lende vnto his neyghboure, and he that is able, let hym kepe the commaundemente. Lende vnto thy neyghboure in tyme of his neede: and paye thou thy neyghboure agayne in due season. Keepe thy word and be saythfull to hym, and thou shalt alwaye fynde the thyng that is necessary for the. There haue be many, that when a thyng was lent them, rekened it to be soude, & made them trauail and laboure, that had helped them. Whyle they receiue any thyng they kysse the handes of suche as geue them, and for theyre neyghbours good they humble theyr voyce. But when they shoulde paye agayne, they kepe it backe, and geue euill wordes, and make manie excuses by reasonne of the tyme: and though he be vnable, yet geuerh he scarce the halfe agayn, and rekeneth the other to be soude. If he withholde not his money, yet hath he an enemye of hym, & that vnderstand. He payeth hym with cursing and rebuke, & geuerh hym euil wordes for his good dede. There be many one which are not glad for to lend, not because of euill, but they feare to lese the thyng that they lend. Yet haue thou patience w the simple, and withhold not mercie fro hym. Helpe the poore for the comaundementes sake, and lette hym not goo empty from the, because of his necessity. Lese thy money for thy brother and neyghbours sake, & burye it not vnder a stone, where it rusteth and corrupteth. * Wasteth thy treasure after the commaundemente of the best, and so shall it bringe the more profite then golde. Laye vp thy almes in the hand of the poore, and it shall kepe the from al euil. A mannes almes is a purse with hym, and shall kepe a mans fauour as a papple of an eye: & afterwarde shall it arise, & pay every mā his rewarde vnto his head. It shall fight for a gaynst thyne enemies, better then the shield of a gyant, or speere of the myghty.

* A good honest man is surety for his neyghboure, but a wycked person letteth hym come to shame. Forget not the frendshyppe of thy surety, for he hath geuen his soule for the. The vngodlye despiseth the good dedes of his surety, and the vnbankfull & ignorant leaueth his surety in daunges. Some man promyseth for his neyghboure: & when he hath losse his honestie, he shall forsake hym. Suretyshyppe hath destroyed manye a ryghte manne, and remoued them as the haues in the sea. Synners people hath it dysuened awaie, and caused them to wander in straunge countreys. An vngodlye man transgressinge the commaundement of the Leuit. vi. 1.

Deut. 23.

B

Math. vi. 19.
Luke. xxi. 12.
1. Timo. vi. 17.
2. Cor. xiii. 11.
1. Tim. vi. 17.
2. Cor. xiii. 11.
1. Tim. vi. 17.
2. Cor. xiii. 11.

1. Tim. vi. 17.
2. Cor. xiii. 11.
1. Tim. vi. 17.
2. Cor. xiii. 11.

the Lorde, shall fall into an euell sweete-shyppe: and though he force hym selfe to gette oute, yet shall he fall into iudgement.
Help thy neyghbour out after thy power, and beware that þy selfe fall not in such bettes. * The chypse thynges that keperth in the lyfe, is water and breade, clothynge and lodgynges to couer the shame.

D Better is it to haue a poore lyuynge in a mannes owne house, then delycate fare amonge the straunge. Be it lytle or muche that thou haste, holde the content wyth all, and thou shalt not be blamed as a vaga-bonde: for a mysecable life is it to go from house to house: and where a man is fremd, he darre not open his mouth. Though he one be lodged and haue meate and drynke, yet shall he be taken as vnworthye, and heare manyp better rougher wordes, namely thus:
Woe thy way thou straunger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feede me also of þy thou haste. Away thou straunger (so that he regardeth his honoure nomore) my brother cometh into my house, and so he rel-leth hym the necessitie of his house. These thynges are heauy to a man that hath vnderstandynge: namely, the forbyddynge of the house, and that the lender calleth hym in the tere.

The. xxx. Chapter.

Of the correction of chyldren, of the commodity of health. Death is better then a sorowful lyfe. Of hye wisdom. Of the loye and sorowe of the hert.

Chastysynge
of chyldren
p. 10. ciii. e.
and. xiii. b
p. 10. ciii. e
and. xiii. b

Deut. vi. a.

W * Do so loueth his chyldre, hol-derth hym still vnder correcty-on that he maye haue loye of hym afterwarde, and that he gripe not after his neyghbours doyes.

He that teacheth his sonne, shall haue toy in hym, and uede not to be ashamed of hym amonge his aquaryntes. * Who so enforneth and teacheth his sonne, greuerth the enuemye: and before his frendes he may haue loye of hym. Though the father dye, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath lefte one behynde hym that is lyke hym. In his lyfe he sawe hym, and had loye in hym, and was not sorre in his death, neither was he ashamed before the ennemyes. For he lefte behynde hym an auenger agaynst his enemyes; and a good doer vnto the frendes. For the lyfe of chyldren he shall bynde the woundes together, and his herte is greued at euerye orpe. A vntamed horse wyll be hard, and a wanton chyldre wyll be wilfull. If thou byngeth up thy sonne delycatelye, he shall make the afraide: and if thou playe wyth hym, he shall byngeth the to heuyn.

Laughe not wyth hym, lest thou wepe w-thym also, & lest thy tere be set on edge at the laste. * Seue hym no lybertye in his youth, & excuse not his folye. Bowe down his neck while he is yong, hit hym vpon þy sides while he is yet but a chyldre, lest he war stubburn, & geue no more force of the & so shalt þy haue beuines of soule. Teach thy chyld, & be diligent therein, lest it be to thy shame. Better is þy pore beyng whole and conge, then a man to be ryche, & not to haue his health. Health and welfare is aboue all gold, and a whole body aboue all treasure. There is no ryche aboue a sounde bodye, and no loye aboue the loye of þy herte. Deathe is better then a wretched lyfe, or continuall syknesse. * The good thynges þy are put in a close mouth, are lyke as when meat is layed vpon the grau.

The prayse
of health.

Against
carelesse
men.

What good doeth the offerynge vnto an Idoll? For he can neither eate, taste, nor smell. Euen so is he that is chased of the Lorde, and beareth the rewardes of iniquyte. He seeth wyth his eyes, and groweth lyke a gelded manne, that lyeth wyth a byrgyne, and syngeth. * Seue not ouer thy mynde into beuynes, and bere not thy selfe in thyne owne counsell. The loye and chearefulnesse of the herte is the lyfe of manne, and a mannes gladnes is the prolongynge of his dayes. Loue thyne owne soule, and conforte thyne herte: as for sorowe and beuynes, dyue it farre fro the.
* For beuynes hath slayn many a man, and byngeth no profit: zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the lyfe: carelesnes and sorow byng age before the tyme. Vnto a mery hert euery thyng hath a good tast that he eaterth.

Eccle. xx. a.
prou. xii. b
xv. b. and
xvii. b.
prou. xiii.

II. Cor. vii.

The. xxxi. Chapter.

We ought to geue diligent hede to honesty.
Of them that take payne to gather ryches.
The prayse of a ryche man wythout a fault.
We ought to fye dyonchenes and folowe sobrenes.

Sauaple and carelesnes for ryches taketh awaye the slepe, & maketh the fleshe to consume.
When one lyeth & taketh care, he waketh euery wyte, lyke as great sicknes breaketh the slepe. The ryche hath greate laboure in gatherynge ryches togyther, and then taketh the pleasure of his ryches he taketh his tere and is refreshed. But who so labourerth and prospererth not, he is poorer: and though he leaue of, yet is he a begger. He that loueth ryches, shall not be sufficed: and who so foloweth corrupcyon, shall haue inoughe thereof. * Many one are come in greate myfortune by the reason of gold, and haue founde theyr destruc-cion before the. It is a tree of fallynge vnto them that offer it vp, and all suche as be foloweth fall therein. Blessed is the ryche, whiche is founde withoute blemyshe, and hath not go after gold, nor hoped in mony and treasures. Where is there suche one? and we shall commend hym, and cal hym blessed, for greate thynges doeth he among his people. Who so is tried & founde per-fecte in suche thynges, shall be commended and praysed. Who myght offend, & hath not offended? Who coulde do euell, and harde

I. Tim. vi.
Carelesnes.

Eccle. viii.

Expecta Ite. I have not done it: Therefore shall his good be stablished, & the whole congregation shall declare his almes. * If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth upon it, & make not many wordes. Remember that an euell eye is a shew.

B What thyng created is worse then a wycked eye: therefore weperth it before euery mannes face. Laye not thyne hand upon euery thyng that thyne eye seeth, and styue not wyth hym in the dish. Donder by thy selfe what thy neyghbour wold sayne haue, & be discrete in euery pointe. Eate the thyng that is sette before the mannerlye, as it becommeth a man, and eate not to muche, lest thou be abhorred. Leave þ of fyrst of all because of nourtour, lest thou be he wold no man may satisfye, whiche maye turne to thy decay. When thou syttest amonge manye meene, reach not thyne hand out fyrst of all. How wel contente is a wyse manne wyth a lytle wyne: so þ in slepe thou shalt not be sycke thereof, ne fele anye payne. A swete whol some slepe shall such one haue, & feele no inward greife. He ryseth up by tymes in þ morning, & is wel at ease in him selfe. But an vnfacible eater seperth vnquyetly, & hath ach & payn of the body. If thou felest that thou haste eat to much, aryse, go thy way, cast it of thy stomacke, & take thy rest.

Rom. xli. b. Who so heare me and despise me not, and at the laste thou shalt fynde as I haue tolde the. In all thy works be diligent and quicke, so there shall no spekenes happen unto þ. Who so is liberal in beling out his meate manye men shall blesse hym & praysse hym in their lippes, and the same is a sure token of his loue & faythe. But he þ is vnfaithful in meate, the whole cytie shall cōplayne of hym: and þ is a sure experience of his infydelity and wickednes. Be not þ a wyne bibber, for wyne hath destroyed many a man. The syre proueth the hardy prou, euen so doeth wyne proue the vertes of the proud when they be droncken.

Expecta Ite. Wyne soberly dronken quickeneth the life of man. If thou dryncke't measurably, thou shalt be temperate. What lyfe is it, that maye contynue withoute wyne? Pro. xlii. a. Wyne was made from the begynnyng to make manne gladd (and not for drunkennes.) Eccl. x. Wyne measurably dronken is a relosynge of the soule and bodye. But if it be dronken wyth excess, it maketh byternes and sorowe unto the mynd. Drunkennes folleth the mynde of the folye wyth shame and tyme, mounyeth the strength and maketh wounds. * Rebu're not thy neyghboure at the wyne, and despyse hym not in his myrthe. Geue him no despayrefull wordes, and preasse not hyon hym wyth contrarie saynges.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

Of the discrecion and prayse of the preacher, and of the hearer. Of the feare, sayth, and confidence of God.

If thou be made a ruler, pryde not thy selfe therein, but be thou as one of the people. Take diligent care for them, and loke well vnto: and when thou hast done all thy dewty, sitte the doune, that thou mayest be merce wyth them, and receyue a crowne of honoure. Take mysely and honestly, for wysedome becommeth the ryght well. Bynder not musycke. * Speake not, wher ther is no audience: and potwre not forth wysedome out of tyme, at an importunyte. Lyke as the Carbuncle stone shyneth that is set in gold, so both a song garnysheth the wyne feaste: and as the Smaragde that is set in golde, so is the sweetness of wysdome by the myrth of wyne.

B Thou ponge man, speake that becommeth the, and that is profitable, and yet scarce when thou art thyse asked. Comprehende muche wyth fewe wordes. In many thynges be as one that is ignorant, geue care, and holde thy tounge wythall. * If thou be amonge men of hyer authority, desyre not to compare thy selfe vnto them: & when an elder speaketh, make not thou manye wordes therein. Before the thounder goeth lyghtenynge, and before nourtoure, and shamelastnes, goeth loue and fauoure. Stande by by tymes, & be not the last: but get the home sone, and there take thy pastyme, and do what thou wylter: so that thou do no euill, and despyse no man. But for all thynges geue thakes vnto hym that hath made the, and replenished the wyth his goodes.

C Who so feareth the Lorde, wyl receyue his doctryne: and they that gette them to hym by tymes, shall fynd grace. He that sekerh the law, shall be fylled wythall: As for him that is but saued, he wyl be offended therat. They that feare the Lorde, shall fynd the iudgement, and they rightuousnes shall be kindled as a lyghte. An vngodly man wyl not be reformed, but can helpe hym selfe wyth the exaple of other in his purpose. A man of vnderstandynge despyseth no good counsell: but a wyld & proud body hath no feare. My sonne, do nothing withoute aduysment, so shall it not repent the after the dede. Go not in the way wher thou mayest fall, nor wher thou mayest stumble agaynst the stone. Geue not thy selfe into a laborious slippery way, & beware of thyne owne chyldren. In all thy workes put thy trust in god for thy whole best, for that is the keepynge of the comāndmentes. Who so beleueth Goddes word takerh vnde to the comāndmentes: & he that putteth his trust in the Lorde shall wante nothyng.

The xxxiiii. Chapter.

Of the diuinaunce of hym that feareth God: The answers of the wise. The lyttel description of a sole. Man is in the hande of God, as the earthe is in the hande of the potter. Wroughte not to despyse oure selues, to become subiects to other.

Ther

The feare
of God.

Here shall no euill happen vnto him that feareth God: but whē he is in temptacion, the Lorde shall deliuer hym. A wyse man bareth not the law, but an hypocrite is as a shyp in a ragyng water. A man of vnderstandynge geueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the law is saythful vnto him.
Be sure of the matter, then talke thereof.
Be friste wel instructed, then makest thou gute answere. * The herte of the foolpish is lyke a cartewhele, and hys thoughtes run about like the ecelstre. Like as a wyld horse that neieth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon hym: so is it wth a scoinesfull frende. Why doth one day excel another, save all the dayes of the yere come of the Sunne? The wysedome of the Lorde hath so parted them a sunder, and so hath he ordered the tymes and solempne seasons. Some of them hath he chosen and halowed before other dayes. * And al men are made of the grounde, and oute of the earth of Adam.

Eccle. xxi.

That the gyfts of God be di-
uerse.

Gen. i. d.

In the multitude of science hath the Lorde sunoered theym, and made theyr wayes of dyuersse fashyons. Some of them habe he blessed, made muche of theym, hallowed theym, and claped them to hym selfe. But some of them hath he cursed & broughte them lowe, and put them oute of theyr estate. * Lyke as the clay is in the potter's hand, and al the ordynge thereof at hys pleasure: so are men also in the hande of hym that made them, so that he maye geue the as it lykerh hym best. * Agaynst euil is good, and agaynst death is lyfe: so is þe vngodly agaynst such as feare God.
Beholde thus al the workes of the Wyse, and there are euer * two agaynst two, & one set agaynst another. I am abashed by lyste of all, as one that gathereth afree in harneste. In the gyfts of God, in hys blessynge I am increased, and haue filled my wyne presse, lyke a grape gatherer.
* Beholde, howe I haue not laboured on-lye for my selfe, but for al such as loue iustice and wysedome.

Roma. ix. c

II. Cor. vii. c

Some reue-
le. agaynst
one.

Eccle. xxi. d.

Heare me, O ye greute men of the people, and hearken wth your eares ye rulers Note not of the congregaciō. * Beue not thy soune thy libertie and wyse, thy brother and frend, power ouer the whyle thou lyuest: and geue not away thy substaunce and good to another, lest it repent the, and thou be sayne to beg therefore thy selfe. As long as thou lyuest and hast brethe, let no man chaunge the:
For better it is thy children to praye the shew what thou shouldest be sayne to lōke in theire handes. In all thy workes be excellente, & thy honoure be neuer stained.
At þe tyme when thou shalt end thy dayes, and forshy thy lyfe, bestow the thyne in beritance. The fodder, the whip and the buttōwe to den belōgeth vnto the Ate: Wheat, cooression, and worke vnto the seruante.
* If thou set thy seruante to labour, thou shalt fynde rest: But if thou let hym go ydel, he shall seke lybertie. The pocke and the whyppe bowe downe the necke, but tame thou thy euell seruante wth bondes and correction. Sende hym to laboure, that he go not ydle. For ydelnesse bryngeth much euil. Set hym to worke for that belongeth vnto hym, and become meth hym wel. If he be not obedient, bind hys fete: but do not so much vnto hym in any wyse, and wthout discrecion do nothyng. If thou haue a (saythfull) seruante let hym be vnto the as thyne owne soule, for in bloude hast thou gotten hym. * If thou haue a seruante, holde hym as thy selfe, for thou haste nedde of hym as of thy selfe. If thou increasest hym euil, and kepest him hard, and makest hym to be proud and to renne away from the, thou canst not tel what way thou shalt seke hym.

Eccle. vii. d.

The. xxxiii. Chapter.

Of dreames, diuinations, and enchauntementes. We oughte to confute vayne hope and lyngge. The prayse of them that feare God.
Of dyuers workes of men. God doth not allowe the workes of an vnfaithfull man.

A wyse people begyle them sel-ues wth vayne and disceitfull hope, & folow trulle in dreames.
Who so regardeth dreames, is lyke hym that will take hold of a shadow, and folow after þe wynd: For so is it wth the appearnges of dreames. Before the face is the lyknes of a face. Who can be cleansed of the vncleane? Or what truerh can be spokē of a liar? Sothsayng, wyrd-craft, sorcery and dreamynge, is but vanetye: lyke as when a woman traunpleth wth chyldre, and hath many fantasies in her hert. Wher as such visions come not of God, sette not thyne herte vpon them:
For dreames haue disceyued many a man, & then sayled that put their truste therein.

A Dreames.

The law shall be fulfilled wthout lies, & and wysedome is sufficient to a saythfull mouth. A wyse man that is well instructe vnderstandeth muche: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wysdome. He that hath no experience, knoweth little: & he that erreth causeth much trowblednes.
When I was yet in erreute, I lerned muche also: yea, I was so lerned that I could not expresse it all, and came ofte in pauell of death ther ouer, tyll I was deli-uered from it. Now I se, that they which feare God, haue the right spryit: for they hoke standeth in hym that can helpe them.
Who so feareth the Lord, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afeard, for the Lord is his hope and comfort.

Blessed is the soule of hym that feareth the Lord: In whō putteth he hys truste? who is hys strengthe? For the eyes of þe Lord haue respect vnto them that loue hym. He is their myghty protectōr, & strong grownd: A defence for the heate, a refuge for the hate none day, & succoure for sombyng,

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

The. xxxv. Chapter.

and an helpe for fallynge. He scattereth by the soule, and lighteneth the eyes: He geueth health, lyfe and blessinge. * He that geueth an offerynge of vntygthuous good, his offerynge is refused: and the scornful dealynge of the vntygthuous please not God. * God hath no delire in the offerynge of the vngodlye, neither may synne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations. Who so bringeth an offerynge out of the goods of the poore, dotheuen as one þat kylleth the sonne before the fathers eyes.

D The bread of the needful is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth hym therof, is a man of bloude. Who so robbereth his neyghboure of his lyuing, doeth as great syn as though he slew hym to death. * He þat defraudeth the labourer of his hye, is a bloud shedder. When one buildeth and another breaketh downe, what profyte haue they then but labour? When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce wyl the Lorde heare? He that wasteth hym selfe because of a deade bodye, and then toucheth the deade agayne, what doeth his wastynge? * So is it w a man that fasteth for his synnes, and doth the agayne: who wyl heare his prayer? Or what doth his fastynge helpe hym?

The. xxxv. Chapter.

It is well done to pray, and to doo sacrifice. The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widowe and of hym that humbleth hym selfe.

Who so kepereth the lawe, bynggeth offrynges ynough. He that holdeth fast þat commaundemente, offereth the ryght healethfull offerynge. He that is thankfull and recompenseth, offereth hys due. * Who so is mercifull and geueth almes, that is the ryghte thanke offerynge. God hath pleasure when one departeth from synne: and to forsake vntygthuousnes, recouereth vs wyth hym.

Thou shalt not appere empty before the Lorde, for al such is done because of þat commaundemente. The offerynge of the tyghtuous maketh the altier fat, and a sweete smelle is it before the Ghest. * The offerynge of the tyghtuous is acceptable vnto God, and shall neuer be forgotten. Geue God hys honoure wyth a chearfull ere, and kepe not backe the spyllynge of thy handes. * In all thy grates shewe a mercie countenance, and halow thy ryches vnto God, accordyng as he hath enriched and prospered the: and loke what thine hand is able, that geue wyth a chearefull ere: for the Lorde recompenseth, and geueth the seven tymes as muche agayne.

Geue no vntygthuous gifts, for such wyl he not receyue. * Beware of wrongeous offerynge, for the Lorde is a tyghtuous iudge: and regardeth no mans person, he accepteth not the personne of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

He despiseth not þat despise of the fatherles, nor of the wyddowe, whē she poureth oute her prayer before hym. Douth not God se the teares that renne downe the chekes of the wyddowe? Or heareth he not the complaynte, ouer such as make her to wepe? Who so serueth God after hys pleasure, shalbe accepted, and hys prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes. * The prayer of hym that humbleth hym selfe, goeth thorow the cloudes, tyl he come nye. She wyl not be comforted, ner go her way, tyl the hyest God haue respecte vnto her, geue true sentence, and persourme the iudgemente. And the Lorde wyl not be slacke in comynge, nor tary longe: tyl he haue smitten in sonder the backes of the vntygthful, and auenged hym selfe of the Heathen: till he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of the vntygthuous: tyl he geue euery man after hys workes, and rewarde them as they haue deserued: tyl he haue deliuered hys people, magnifyed their cause, and relosed them in hys mercye. D home saye a thyng is mercye in the tyme of angurthe and trouble? It is lyke a cloude of raine, that cometh in the tyme of a drouche.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

A prayer to God in the person of all sayethfull men, with the prayse of a good woman.

Gue mercye vpon vs, O Lorde thou God of all thynges. Haue respecte vnto vs, shewe vs the lyght of thy mercyes, and send thy feare amonge the Heathen and Strangers, whych seke not after the: þat they may know, how that ther is no God but thou, and that they maye shewe thy wonderous workes. * Lyst vp thine eare ouer the outlandy Heathen, that they may leerne to knowe thy myghte and powere. Lyke as thou arte halowed in vs before them, so bynge to passe that thou mayeste be magnified also in them before vs: that they may knowe the, lyke as we knowe the. For there is none other God, but onely thou O Lorde. Kenne thy tokens and chaunge thy wonderous workes. Shewe thine hande and thy ryght arme gloriouly. Lay se vp thy indignacion, & powere oute thy wrath. Take away the aduersary, & smite the enemye. Make the tyme shorte, remember thy couenaunte, that thy wonderous workes may be praysed. Let the wrath of the fire consume the that lyue so careles: and let the perpy that do the people hurt. Smite in sonder þat head of the wyntes that be our enemyes, and say: ther is none other but we.

* Gather al þat tribes of Iacob together agayne, that they may knowe home that ther is none other God but onely thou, þat they maye shewe thy wonderous workes, and be thy people, and herstage, lyke as from the begynnyng. O Lord haue mercie vpon the people that hath thy name. & vpon

Israel

True sacr
fices.

Phil. ii. i.

erod. xxiii.

Gene. llii.

ii. Cor. ix. b
Job. iii. b

God is ha re of al in justice.

Jud. llii. b
erod. llii. b

Geno. llii.
Acto. x. a.

Jerem. p.

W

A prayer for the goble.

Exo. lvi. 1. 1. Par. vi. 5. Rom. vi. 10. 1. Cor. ii. 15. The comen- dation of a good wyfe. Eccle. vi. Israell whom thou hast lickened to a first borne sonne. * O be mercifull vnto Ierusalem the city of thy Sanctuary, the city of thy rest. For thou wilt thy people with thy glorie. Beare thy people vnto thy creature, whom thou madest from the beginning, & raise up the prophetes that haue bene shewed in thy name. Remembre them that marvell for thee, that the prophetes may be found faithfull. O Lord beare the prayer of thy seruantes, according to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people: that al they which dwell vpon the earth, may knowe & thou art the Lord the eternall God, whiche is from euerlasting.

The bellye deuoureth all meates, yet is one meate better then another. Lyke as the tongue tasteth venyson, so drieth an hert of vnderstandynge marke false wordes.

A frowarde herte geueth besynnes, but a manne of experyence listeth hym vp agayn. The womanne receaueth euery manne, yet is one daughter better then another.

* A fawse wyfe reioysyth her house she, and a true loutch nothing better. If she be loutche and vertuous with all, then is not her husbunde lyke other men. He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possid: he is vnto him an helpe, and pryncer wherupon he resteth. Wher no herte is, ther the goodes are spoiled: and wher no house wyfe is, there the frencheles mouen the. Lyke as there is no credence geuen to a robber, that goeth from one cotre to another: So is not the man beleued, that hath no nest, and must turne in wyche he maye abyde in the nyghte.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

Howe a man shoulde knowe frenches, and counsellors, and searche the company of a holy man.

Every frend sith: I wyll be frendlye vnto hym also. But there is some frend, whiche is only a frend in name. Remembre there not braunes vnto death, when a companion and frende is turned to an enemye? O most wicked presumption: From whence arte thou sprunge up, to couer the earth with falscheade and dyscrete? There is some companion whiche in prosperyte reioysyth with his frende: but in the tyme of trouble, he taketh parte agaynst hym.

There is some companion that mouereth thy reb his frend for the belly sake: but in trouble he shal be taketh hold of the thyld. Forget not thy frend in thy mynde, & thinke vnto hym in thy tynes. Euery counsellor bringeth forth his cosell: neuertheless there is some & counsellor but for his own pryncer. Beware of the counsellor, and be aduysed afore whereto thou wilt vse hym, for he wyll counsel for hym selfe: lest he cast the for upon the, and sape vnto the: Thy way and purpose is good, and afterward he stand agaynst the, and loke what shal become of the.

* Aske no counsell at hym, that suspecteth the for an enemye, and hyde thy cosell from such as hate the. Aske no counsell at a woman concerninge the thynges that she longeth for: net at a feartull and fawse berred bodie, in matters of warre: or at a mischaunte, howe beate he wyll escape the wares towardes hym: or at a brete of lyllyng: or at an enuious manne, of thyngelgeyng: or at the vntrewe: full of loutche kyndes: or at the flauty: full of workynge: or at an byselyng whiche hath no house, of prosperite or wealtre. (Anyde body woulde not gladly heare speake of myche laboure.) Take no suche folkes to counsell, but be diligent to seke counsell at a vertuous man that feareth God, such one as thou knowest to be a keeper of the commaundements, whiche hath a mynde after thine owne mynde, and is sorry for the when thou comblest.

And holde thy counsell faste in thyne herte: for there is no man more fyerfull to kepe it, then thou thy selfe. For a mans mynde is sometyme more dysposed to tell oute, then seuen watchemen that sitte aboute in an hye place loopyng aboute them. And above all thynges, praye the breste that he wyl leade thy way in faythfulnes, and truth. Before all thynges aske counsell first: and or euer thou do any thyng be well aduysed. There be foure thynges that declare a chaunged herte, wher oure there springeth euill & good, deache and lyfe, and a masterfull counge that dablyeth muche. Some man is aye & well instructed in many thynges: and yet very vnproffitable vnto hym selfe. Some man there is that can geue wyse and prudent counsell, and yet is dated, & counted a begger, for that grace is not geuen hym of God to be accepted. An other is robbed of all wyse dome, yet is he wyse vnto hym selfe, and the fruite of vnderstandynge is saythfull in hy mouth.

A wyse man keperth his people wyse, and the scutes of his wysdoms faile not. A wyse man shal be plenteously blessed of God: & all they that see hym shal speake good of hym. The lyfe of man standeth in the number of the dayes, but the dayes of Israell are innumerable. A wyse man shal obtayne faythfulnes and credence amonge his people, & his name shal be perpetual. My sonne pryncer thy soule in thy lyfe: and if thou se any euill thyng, geue it not vnto her. For all thynges are not profprable for al men, neyther hath euery soule plesure in euery thyng. Be not greued in euery eatynge, & not to halp vpon all meate. For excelle of meates bringeth sickenes, & glotony cometh at the last to an vntreweable beate. Wherome glotony haue many one perished: but he & dieth hym selfe temperately, & prolongeth his lyfe.

Al. i. The

B Myth who
y Guiden counsaile.

Exo. xlii.

ii Cor. vi. c
and x. i.

Ecc. xxxi. b

Jesus the sone of Strach.

The. xxxviii. Chapter.

A Philitian. In sickness ought we to pray & send a Philitian who the healer by prayer. The beweping of the dead. Sadness. Woful home. Arriviers of craftemen.

3. comendacion of phisike.

Exo. xv. d. tit. Reg. tit. c.

Honour & phisician: honoure him because of necessity. God hath created him (for of & dyest cometh medycine) & he shall receyve gyfts of & king. The wisdom of the phisician bringeth hym to great worship, & in the sight of & grete men of this worlde, he shalbe honouablie taken. The Lorde hath created medycine of & earth, and he that is wise wyl not abhorre it. Was not the opter water made swete wth a tree? that men myghte lerne to knowe the vertue thereof? The Lorde hath given men wisdom and understan- dyng. that he myght be honoured in his wondrous workes. Wth such doeth he heale mē, & taketh away their paynes: Of such doth the Apothecary make a confec- tion, yet can no man perfectme all his workes. For of the Lorde cometh pros- perous wealth over all the earth.

Bey sonne, despise not this in thy sick- nes but praye unto the Lorde, and he shall make the whole. Leave of from sinne, and order thy bandes a ryght: cleanse thyne heart from all wickednes. Beue a swete sa- voured offryng, and the fine floure for a token of remembrance: make the offering fatte, as one that geueth the first scutes, and geue comme to the phisician. For the Lorde hath created him: let hym not go frō the, for thou haste neede of hym. The hour may come, that the sycke may be helped thowowe them, when they praye unto the Lorde, & they may recouer, and get healt to lye longer. He that synneth before his maker, shall fall into the vades of the phisician.

C* Bey sonne, bringe forth thy teares o- ver the deade: and begynne to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered greare harme thy selfe: and then couer thy body after a con- uenient maner, and despyse not thy burial. Enforce thy selfe to wepe, and prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentati- on excediently, and that a day or two, lest thou be euell spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe because of the beauties. * For of heuines cometh death, the heuines of the heart breaketh strength. Heuines & pouer- ty greueth & better, in thyracy & offence. Take no heuines to heart, dyue it awaye, & remember the last thyngs. Forget it not, for ther is no turnyng agayn. Thou shalt do hym no good, but hurt thy selfe. Remem- ber thy iudgement, thyne also shal be lyke wyse: vnto me yester day, vnto the to day. Let the remembrance of the deade cease in his rest, and conforthe thy selfe agayne ouer hym, serenge thy spirit is departed from hym. * The wisdom of the scribe is at conuenient tyme of rest: and he that ceaseth from exerceyse and labour, shal- be wyse. He that holdeth the plough, and hath pleasure in proddynge and dyngyn the oren, and goeth about wth such wo- kes, he can speake of oren. He setteth his heart to make sowes, and is diligent to geue the kyne fodder. So is euery car- penter also and workemaster, that labou- reth wth nyght and day: he carueth, gra- ueth and cutteth oute, and his desire is in sondy connyng rynges, and his heart imagineth, howe he may connynglye cast an image, his diligence also and watching performeth the worke. The prynciple in lyke maner bideth by his art, & doth his diligence to labour the prync. The va- pour of the fyre byndeth his flesh, & he must fight wth the heat of & foyr. The noise of the hammer soundeth euer in his eares, and his eyes loke styl vpon the thing that he maketh. He hath set his mynde there vpon, that he wyl make out his worke, & therfore he watcheth, howe he maye set it out, and bringe it to an ende.

The. xxxviii. Chapter.

So doth the potter sit by his worke, he turneth the whele aboute wth his fete, he is diligent & careful in all his doynge, and his labour & worke is without nūbre. He fashioneth the claye wth his arme, and wth his fete he tempereth it. His heart imagineth howe he maye make it pleasaunt, and his diligence is to cleanse the out. Al these hope in their hands, and euery one thynketh to be connyng in his worke. Wthout these maye not the cy- pres be maintained, inhabited nor occu- pyed: yet come they not hys in the congre- gation: they understaunde not the coue- nant of the lame: they canne not declare cquyte and iudgement: they can not fynde out the darke sentences, but thowowe them shall the creature of the worlde be main- tained: their prayer concerneth onely the worke and labour of connyng.

The. xxxix. Chapter.

A wyse man. The workes of God. Vnto the good, good thyngs do profite, but vnto the euill euill good thynges are euill.

He that applyeth his mynde to vnderstande the same of God, doeth diligentelye seeke oute & wysedome of them of the olde tyme, and exerceyeth hym selfe in the prophetes. He keepeth the sayn- ges of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstandynge of darcke sentences of wysedome. He seeketh oute the mystere of secrete saynges, and exerceyeth hym selfe therein continually. He doth serue among great men, and appereth before & prync. He goeth into a straunge countrer, and traueseth thowowe it: looke what good or euill is amonge men, he proueth it and sekerh it oute. He purposeth in his heart, to resorte earlye vnto the Lorde that made hym, and to praye before the best god. He openeth his mouth in prayer, and

Who shall get true wisdom.

And prayeth for his synners. When the greate Lord will, he shall be spyled wth the spyrte of understādyng, that he may then poure out wyse sentences, and geue thanckes vnto the Lord in his praye.
He shall orde his deuyce, and leade his knowledge a ryghte, and geue hym understandyng of secrete thynges. He shal hewe for the the science of his learninge, and reioyce in the couenaunte of the lawe of the Lord. The whole congregacion shal commende his wysedome, and it shal neuer be put oute. The remembraunce of hym shal neuer be forgotten, & his name shall continue from one generacyon to another. His wysedome shall be spoken of, and the whole congregacion shal open ly declare his prayse. Whyle he lyueth he hath a greater name then a thousand besyde, and after his deathe his same name remaineth vnto hym. Yet will I speake of mo men of understādyng, for I am ful as the sycone.

eccl. xlii. b.

An exhorta-
cion to pra-
yse God.

Gen. i. d.

Gen. vi. d.

Harken vnto me (ye holpe vertuous chyliden) bynges for the scure, as the rose that is planted by the brokes of the feld, and geue ye a swete smell as Lybanus.
Glorifie as the rose garden, syng a song of prayse. O geue thanckes vnto God ouer all his workes. Geue glory & honoure vnto the Lord, hewe his prayse wth your lyppes. Yea euen wth the song of your lyppes, wth harpes and playng and in geuynge thanckes vnto hym, saye after this manner: All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commaundementes are mete and convenient in due season.

* A man nedeth not to saye: what is that? what is that? for at tyme convenient they shal all be sought. At his commaundement the water was as a wall, and at the word of his mouth the waters stode styll. In his commaundement is euery thyng acceptable and reconcyled, and his healt he can not be minished. The workes of all flesh are before hym, and there is nothinge hid from his eyes. He seeth from euery syng to euery syng, and there is nothyng to wonderfull of hym vnto hym. A man nedeth not to saye then: what is this or that? For he hath made all thynges to do good vnto man. His blessing shall ouerrun as a streame, & moisture shall lyke a foud of water. Like as he maketh the water for drought, so shal his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

Rom. vii. d.
eccl. xlii. c.

Tim. i. d.

His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iuste, but the vngodlye stumbe at the.
* For the good are good thynges created from the begynnyng, and euery thynges for the vngodlye. All thynges necessarye for the lyfe of manne are created from the begynnyng: water, fyre, yron, and salte, meel, wheat and honye, mylke and wyne, orle and clothyng. All these thynges are created * for the best to the faythful: But to the vngodlye shal all these thynges be turned to the hurt and harme. Where be spites that are created for vengeance, and in theyr rygourousnes haue they fastened theyr tormentes. In the tyme of the end they shal pour out theyr fure, & pacifye the wrath of hym that made the. Fyre, hail, hunger & deathe: all thynges are created for vengeance.

The rest of myld norfome beastes, the scorpions, serps, & the fowles, are created also for vengeance, to the destruction of the vngodly. They shal be glad to do his commaundementes, and when nedeth is, they shal be redy vpon earth: & whē their hour is come they shal not ouerpass the commandement of the Lord.

Gen. i. d.

Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the begynnyng, and thought to put these thynges in waityng, and to leaue them behynde me. * All the workes of the Lord are good, and he geueth euery one in due season, and when nedeth is, so that a man nedeth not to saye: this is worse then that. For in due season they are all pleasur & good: And therefore praise the Lord wth whole herte and mouth, and geue thanckes vnto his name.

The xl. Chapter.

Many miseries light in a mans lyfe. All thynges pass away, but a tyme and stable fowth remaineth. Of the blessing of the ryghteous, and prerogatyue of the feare of god.

Great trouble is created for all men, and an heauy yoke vpon all mens chyliden, from the daye that they go oute of theyr mothers wombe, tyll they be buryed in (the earthe) the mother of all thynges: namely, their thoughtes and imaginacions, feare of the hert, counsaile, meditacions, longyng and desyre, the day of deeth, from the best that syteth vpon the glorious seat, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earthe: from hym that is gloriously arrayed and weareth a crowne, vnto tyll hym that is but homely and symple clothed. There is nothyng but mythe, zele, fearfulness, vniquenes, and feare of deathe, rygourous anger and fowle. And in the nyght when one should rest and slepe vpon his bedde, the slepe changerh his understandyng & knowledge. A lytle as nothyng is his rest, in the slepe as wel as in the day of labour.

The miseries
of manlyfe.

He feareth and is disquieted in the blys-son of his hert, as one that renneth out of a battayle: and in the tyme of healt he beawaketh, and maruaileth that the feare was nothyng. Such thynges happē vnto all flesh, bothe man and beaste: but shuen folde to the vngodly. * Moreover deathe, bloudsheddyng, fowle, and sweerde, oppression, hunger, destruction and puny-ment: these thynges are all created agaynst the vngodlye, and for theyr sake came the flood also. All that is of the earthe, shal turne

eccl. xxi. d.
Gen. vii. d.
and. iii. d.

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

turne to erth agayne: and all waters ebbe agayn into the sea. Al bypbes and unrighteousnes shalbe put awaye, but saythfulnes and tructh shall endure for ever. The substance and goods of the vngodly shall be dryed vp and spicke awaye as a water floude, & they shall make a sounde like a great thounder in the rayne.

Elyke as the rpyghteous reioysseth when he openeth his hande, so shall the transgressours be faynte, when they goods banyshe and consume awaye. * The chyldren of the vngodly shall not obtayne manye branches: and the vncleanerotes vpon the hye rockes shalbe tored out before the grasse by the water syde and vpon the ryuer bankes.

Frendshypnes and lyberalyppe in the increase and blessinge of God, is lyke a paradise and garden of pleasure: such meetynge also & kyndnes endureth for ever. * To labour and to be content wth that a man hath, is a swete pleasaunt lyfe: and that is to fynd a treasure aboue all treasures. To beget chyldre & to repaire the city, maketh a perpetual name, but an honest woman is more worth then they both. Wyne and mynstrelsy reioyse the heart, but the loue of wysdome is aboue them bothe.

Happynge and harpynge make a swete norse, but a frendlyp tonge goeth beyond them both. Thynne eye desyret saoure & bewtye, but a grene fede time rather then they bothe. A frende and companion come together at oportunitie, but aboue them bothe is a wyfe that agreeth wth her housband. One brother helpeth another in the tyme of trouble, but almes shall deliuer more then they bothe. Golde and syluer fasten the fete, but a good counsaile is more: * Aunt then they bothe. Temporal substance and strengthe lyfe by the mynde: but the feare of the Lord more the they bothe. The feare of the Lord wanteth nothyng, and neberth no helpe. The feare of the Lord is as a pleasaunt garde of blessinge, and nothyng is so beutyfull as it is. My soune leade not a beggers life, for better it were to dye then to begge.

Whoso loketh to another mans table, taketh no thought for his own lyuynge howe to vpholde his lyfe, for he seeth hym selfe wth other mens meat. But a wyse and wel nactoured man wol beware thereof. Begginge is swete in the mouth of the vnshamefast, but in his belly there burneth a fyre.

The.xlii. Chapter.

Of the remembrance of death. Death is not to be feared. A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God. Good name and fame. An exhortacion to geue hede vnto wysdom. Of what thynges a man ought to be ashamed.

Deathe, howe bitter is the remembrance of the, to a manne that sekerth rest and comfort in his substance and ryches, vnto

The.xlii. Chapter.

the man that hath nothyng to bere him: and that hath prosperyppe in all thynges, yea, vnto hym that is yet able to receyue meate? O deathe, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needy, and vnto hym whose strength sayleth, & that is nowe in his laste age, and that in all thynges is full of care and fearfulness: vnto hym also that is in dyspayre, & hath no hope nor patience? Be not thou * Afraid of deathe: remembre them that haue bene before the, and that come after the: this is the iudgemente of the Lord ouer all fleshe. And whye woldest thou be agaynst thy pleasure of the best? Whether it be ten, an hundred or a thousand yeres, deathe asketh not howe longe one hath lyued.

The chyldren of the vngodly are abhominable chyldren, and so are they that kepe compaigne wth the vngodly. * The inheritance of vngodly chyldre shall come to naught, and they possessorie shall haue perpetuall shame & confusion. The chyldren complayne of an vngodly father, and whye: for his sake they are rebuked & despyed. Wo be vnto you (O ye vngodly) whiche haue forsaken the lawe of the best God: if ye be boine, ye shall be boine to cursinge, if ye dye, the curse shall bee your porcion.

* All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth agayne: so go the vngodly also oute of the curse into destruction. The sorowe of men is in their bodye, but the name of the vngodly shall be put oute, for it is nothinge worth. Labour to get the a good name, for that shall continue suer by the then a thousand great treasures of golde. A good lyfe hath a number of dayes, but a good name endureth euer.

My chyldren, kepe wysdome in peace, for wysdome that is hyd, and a treasure that is not sene, what profit is in them both? A man that hydeth his folysynes, is better then a man that hydeth his wysdome. Therefore be ye turned at my wordes: for it is not good in all thynges, and alway to be ashamed. True sayth muelpone and measure it.

Be ashamed of whoredome before thy father and mother: Be ashamed of leasping before the prynces, and men of authorite: Of synne, before the Judge and Ruler: Of offence, before the congregacion, and people: Of vntyghteousnes, before a companion & friend. Of theste, before the neighbours. As for the feare of God and his couenaunt, be not ashamed thereof.

Be ashamed to lye wth thine elbowes vpon the bread: Be ashamed to lye vpon harlors: Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy frend: Be ashamed to take and not to geue: * Be ashamed also to lye vpon another mans wyfe, and too make manye trespassinge wordes wth her mayden, or to stand by her bedsyde. Be ashamed

Gen. 18.

The chyldren of the vngodly.

Eccle. 1. d.

130. xlii. a Eccle. xlii. a
A good name.

Eccle. 17. d.

Where
shamefastnes is to be gloried.

Rom. 1. d.

Math. 23. c.
Eccle. 10. d.
Eccle. 10. d.

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

shamed to vphrayde thy frend when thou geurste any thyng, caste hym not in the seerch wythall.

The.xlii. Chapter.

Secretes maye not be opened. The lawe of God must be taught. A daughter. A woman. God knoweth all thynges, yea, euen the secretes of the herte.

g

Shearse not a thyng thyse, & disclose not the wordes, that thou haste heard in secrete. Be shamefast and wel mannered in dede, so shall euey man fauoure the.

Things * Of these thynges be not thou a shamed, and accepte no personne to offende. not to be as shamed of. meire, of these thynges be not a shamed: Of the lawe of God, of the couenaunte, of iudgemente: to byngne the vngodlye from vngodlynes vnto ryghteousnes, and to make hym a good man: to deale saythfully wyth thy nepghboure and companion: to distribute the heritage vnto the frendes: to be dyligence to kepe true measure and weyghre: to be content, wher ther þ gettest much or lytle: to deale truly wyth temporal goods in byngne & selling: to byngne vp chyldren wyth diligence: to correcte an euell seruaunte: to kepe that thyng is from an euell wyse, to set a locke wher many handes are: what thou deliuecest and geuest out to be kepte, to tell it, and to weye it: to wyte vp all the outegaynges and receyvinges: to enloume the vnlearned and vnywysse: Of the aged, that are iudged of the yonge: If thou be dyligent in these thynges, truly thou shalt be learned and wysse, and accepted of all men.

B

What we ought to kepe our daughters in greates waresnes. Eccle.xvii.

The doughter maketh the father to marre secrete: and the carefulnes that he hath for hir, taketh away his slepyng in the night, lest she shuld ouergrowne: & when she hath an husband, lest she shuld be hated: lest she shoulde be despyed or rayshed in her virginite, or gotten wyth chylde in her fathers house: Or (when she cometh to the man) lest she behaue herselfe not ryghte, or conceyue vntrutefull.

ecc. xvii. b

* If thy daughter be wanton kepe her straitlye, lest she cause thyne enemies to laugh the to scorn, and the whole cyp to geue the an euill reporte, and so thou be fayne to heat thy shame of euey man, and be confounded before all the people. Beholde not euerye bodys beuty, and haue not much dwellinge amonge womenne. For lyke as the woime and mothe cometh out of clothinge, so doth wychednes come of women.

Gene. iii. d.

L

It is better to be wyth an euell man, then wyth a fendelye wyse, that putterh one to shame and rebuke. I wyll remember the workes of the Lorde, and declare the thynges that I haue sene. In the wordes of the Lorde are his workes. The sone ouerloketh all thynges wyth his wyne, and all his workes are ful of the clearenes therof. Hath not the Lorde broughte to pasle, that his sayntes shoulde tel out all his wonderous workes, whiche the almyghy Lorde hath stablished: Al thynges endure in his glorie. He seketh out the grounde of the depe and the bette, and he knoweth all they: ymagynacion and wisdom. For the Lorde knoweth all science, and he loketh into the token of the tyme. He declarerh the thynges that are passe and so to come, and discloseth thynges that are secrete. No thought may escape hym, neyther maye anye worde be hydde from hym. He hath garnished the hye excellent workes of wysedome, and le is it euerlastyng to euerlastyng. Vnto hym maye no thyng be added, neyther can he be diminished. he hath no nede also of anye cofsaile. O how amiable are all his workes and as a sparke to loke vpon: They lyue al, and endure for euer: and when soeuer nede is, they are al obedyente vnto hym. * Ther are al druble, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath laure or blemyshe. He hath stablished the goods of euerye one: and who may be satisfyed wyth his glorie, when he sayth it?

The.xlii. Chapter: Jo.ii.

Job. xlii. a

Esa. xli. b

ecc. xlii. b

Gen. xli. a

The.xlii. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

At glorie of the heygthe, is the faire and cleare firmament, the heuene of heauen is his glorie: his clearenes, the sunne when it appeareth declarerh the day in the goyng out of it, a maruelous worke of the hyest. At noone it burneth the earth, and who maye abyde for the heate thereof? Who so kepeth an ouen when it is hote, thre times more doth the sunne burne vpon the mountaynes, when it bretherh out the spyr beames and shineth: wyth the brightnes of it, it blindeth the eyes. Great is the Lorde þ made it, and in his commaundemente he causeth it to runne hastily.

g

Psal. lx. a.

The Moone also is in al, and at conuenient season it sheweth the tymes, and is a token of the tyme. The token of the solpne least is take of the Moone, a lyght that mynysheth and increaseth agayne.

Gene. i. b.

Ecc. xli. a.

The moneth is called after the Moone, it groweth wonderously in her changyng.

B

The army of beaue also is in the heygth in the firmamente of beauen, it geueth a cleare and gloriuous wyne. This is the clearenes of the starrs, the beutyfull apparel of beauen, the apparel that þ Lorde lyghnerh in þ heygth. In his holy worke they continue in their order, & not one of them faileth in his watch. Loke vpon þ rayne borne, and prayse hym that made it: bevy beutyfull is it in his wyne. He compassed the heauen aboute wyth his clearenes and glorie, & the handes of the hyest haue bened it. Thowme his commaundemente he maketh the snowe to fall, and the thonder of his iudgemente to synne hastily. Thowme his commaundemente

Gene. ix. b.

clap. xi. c.

Al. iii. dement

Jesus the son of Sirach.

When the treasures are opened, and the cloudes be as the fowles. In his power hath he been ybened the cloudes, and broken the hable stoues.

The mountaynes melte at the sighte of hym, the wynde bloweth accordyng to his will. The sounde of his thonder beareth the earth, and so doth the storme of the north: the wynde wynde also lyghterh downe as a feathered soule, casteth oute and spreadeth the snowe abroad: and as the grethoppers that destroye all, so fallerh it downe. The eye marvelerh at the beaute of the whitenes thereof, and the hert is afrayed at the rayne of it. He pouereth out þe frost vpon earth, lyke salt, & wher it is frost, it is as harp as þe piper of a thymble. When the cold North wynde bloweth, hard is all comerth of þe water. He lyghterh downe vpon all the garberynges together of water, & putterh on þe waters as a bycast place. He deuoureth the moystaynes, & burneth þe wylderne-sses, & take what is greene, he putterh it oute lyke fyre. The medicine of al these is, wher a cloude comerth hastelie, and when a dew comerth vpon the heare, it shall be refresched agayne.

In his worde he spillet the wynde. In his counsaile he setteth the depe, and the Lorde Jesus planteth it. They that sayle ouer the sea, tell of his payels, and haue mes: and when we heare it with oure eares, we maruaile thereat. For there be strange wonderful workes, diuerse maner of nyct beastes and whalffishes. Tho-row hym are all thynges set in good order and persourmed, and in his worde all thynges endure.

D I speake much, but I can not sufficiently attayne vnto it, for he hym selfe on-lye is the perfeccion of all wordes. We should praysse the Lorde after all our power, for he is great in all his workes. The Lorde is to be feared, yea very greatly he is, & maruelous is his power. Praysse þe Lorde and magnify hym as much as ye may, yet bothe he farre exceedeth all praysse. O mag-nifye hym with al your power, & labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wise able sufficiently to praysse hym. * Who hath sene him that he myght tel vs? Who can magnifye hym so greatly as he is? For there are hynde yet greater thynges then these be:
as for vs we haue sene but few of his wor-kes. For þe Lorde hath made al thynges, and geuen wysdome to such as feare God.

The. xliii. Chapter.

The praysse of certē holy men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

In his commende the noble famous men, and the generacion of our fore fathers and fathers.
Many more glorious acts hath the Lorde done, and shewed his grete power euer sence the begynnyng. The noble famous men reigned in their kyngdomes,

The. xliii. Chapter.

& bare excellent rule. In their wysdome and understanding, they folowed the counsaile shewed in the prophecies. They led þe folke thow the counsaile and wisdom of the Scribes of the people. Wise sentences are founde in their instructiō. They sought the sweetenes & melody of quipspeke, and broughte forth the pleasaunt songes in scripture. They were rich also, & could chfite and pacify those that dwelt with the.
Al these were verie noble and honorable men in their generaciōs, and were wel reported of in their tymes. These haue left a name behynde the, so that their praysse shall alwaye be spoken of. Afterwarde there wer some, whose remembrance is gone. Gene. xlii. b They came to naughte and perished, as though they had neuer bene: and became as though they had neuer bene borne, yea and their chyldren also with them.

Nevertheless these are lounge men, whose ryghteousnesse shall neuer be forgotten, but continue by their posterite.
Their chyldren are an holy good heritage:
Theyr seide endured fast in the couenaunt.
For theyr sakes shall theyr chyldren & seide continue for euer, and theyr praysse shall neuer be put downe. Their bodies are buryed in peace, but their name lyueth for euermore. The people can speake of their wysdome, and the congregacyon can talke of theyr praysse. * Enoch walked with God and acceptaue before the Lorde, therefore was he translated for an example of amendement to the generaciōs. Noe was redfast and a righteous man and in the tyme of warhe he became a reconcylunge. Therefore was he left a remnant vnto the earth, when the floude came.

An euerylunge couenaunt was in the tyme of hym, that all flesh shoulde perysh more with the water. Abraham was a grete father of many people. In glorie was there none lyke vnto hym. He kepte the lawe of the best, and came into a couenaunt with hym. He set the couenaunt into his flesh, and when he was tempted
* he was found faythful. Therefore swore God vnto him with an othe, that he wold bless al people in his seide, þe wold multiplie and increase hym as the duste of the earth, & to exalt his seide as þe stars: yea, and that his seide shoulde haue the possession & inheritaunce of the land fro sea to sea, and fro the ryuer vnto the borders of the land. * With Isaac was he stablysh the same couenaunt, for Abraham his fathers sake. Yea, that gracious blessing & health of al men, & couenaunt did he sta-blysh with Isaac, and made it to reste vpon the heade of Jacob. He knewe hym in that he prospered hym so well and rechelle, and gaue hym an heritage, and sanctified his power by it self, and departed it among the twelue tribes. Mercifull men brought he out of hym, which found fauour before al flesh.

The

The.xlv.Chapter.

The praise of Moses, Aaron, and Phineas

Exo.xi.c.
Act.vii.c.

Moses beloved of God & men, whose remembrance is in the people: hym that the Lord made lyke in the glory of the sayntes and magnified hym so that the enemyes stode in awe of hym, thowgh hym moordes he did great wonders. He made hym great in the syghe of kynge, gave him commaundement before hym people, and shewed him hym glorious power. He stablished hym with sayntines and mekenes, and chose hym out of al men. For he herde his voyce, and led hym in the darcke cloude, and there he gaue hym the commaundementes, yea the law of lyfe & wisdom, þe might teach Jacob the couenaunt, & ysaac hym lawes.

Rume.xii.a

He chose Aaron hym brother also out of the tribes of Leui, created hym, and made hym suche spke. In euerylastyng couenaunt made he with him & gaue him þe priesthode in þe people. He made hym glorious in bewtiful appare, and clothed hym with the garmentes of honoure. He put perfecte lore vp on hym, and girded hym with strenght. He decre hym with side clothes, and a tunicle, with an ouerboddy cote also and a gyrdle. Round about made he hym belles of gold, and that many: that when he went in, the sounde myght be hearde, that they myght make a noyse in the Sanctuary, and geue the people warnyng. The holy garmente was wrought and dyed with gold, yelow spike, and purple. And in the breastplate ther was a goodly work, wherein was fastened lyght and perfectnesse.

Exo.xvii.ii

Upon the same also ther was a woork fastened, & set with costly precious stones, al bound with gold: and this he broughte in hym ministracion. The stones wer fastened for a remembrance, after the twelve tribes of Israel. Up on hym miter, ther was a plate of pure gold, a grauen image of hyssopes, a famous & noble woike, garnished and pleasaunt to looke vpon. Before hym were ther sene no such sayre ornamentes, and these it behoued hym alwaye to vse: There myght none other put them on, but only hym chyldren and hym chylders chyldre perpetually. Dayly persourmed he his burntofferpyges, ii. tymes, Morles tyllid his handes, & annoynted hym w holp oyle.

Leui.viii.a

Thus was now confirmed hym with an euerylastyng couenaunt, and to hym secede, as the dayes of heauen: namely, that hym chyldren shoulde alwaye mynister before hym, and persourme the office of the priesthode, and wyshe the people good in hym name. Before all melodyng chose he hym, that he shoulde offer before the Lord, and make oboures for a sweete sauoure and remembrance, that he shoulde reconcile the people of the Lord with hym agayne. He gaue hym auctorite also in hym commaundementes, and in the Deut.xviii.c.

and.ii.a.
Galat.ii.a.

couenaunt, that he shoulde teache Jacob the statutes and testimonys, and to enserue Israel in hym law.

Therfore ther stode vp certayne against hym, and had enuye at hym in the wyldernes: namely, they that were of Dathan, and Abirams syde, and the furious congregacion of Chore. Thus the Lord saw, and it dyspleased hym, and in hym mouthfull indignacion were they consumed. A great wonder byd he vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre.

Beside this, he made Aaron yet more honourable and glorious. He gaue hym an herptage, and parted the spyd scates vnto hym. Auto hym specialyve he appoynted the bread for sustynance (for the priestes eate of the offerpyges of the Lord) thus gaue he vnto hym and hym secede. Else had he no heritage nor porcion in the lande with the people. For the Lord hym selfe is hym porcion and enherptance.

Exod.xviii.f
Leui.xxiii

The chyldre noble and excellent man is Phineas the son of Elazar, whych pleased the God of Israel, because he had the zeale and feare of the Lord. For when the people wer turned backe, he put him selfe forth ryghte soone, and that with a good wil, to pacify the wrath of the Lord toward Israel. Therfore was there a couenaunt of peace made with hym, that he shoulde be the principall among the righteous and the people, that he and hym posterite shoulde haue the office of the priesthode for euer: Lyke as there was made a couenaunt with Dauid of the tribe of Iuda, that from among hym sonnes only ther shoulde be a kynge: And that Aaron also and hym secede shoulde be the herptage, to geue vs wysdome in our herre, to iudge his people in the ryghteousnes: that hym goodes shuld not come into forgetfulness, and that they honoure myght endure for euer.

Rume.xv.c

The.xlv.Chapter.

The people of Josue, Caleb, and Samuell.

Josue and Caleb in battaile was Jesus the sonne of Naue, whych in reade of Moyses the prophet was geuen to be captayne of the people, whych accordyng vnto hym name was a great saulour vnto the elect of god, to punish the enemyes that rose vp against Israel, that Israel myght obtayne theyr inherptance. How greute, noble, and excellent was he, when he lyft vp his hand and dyed out his smert against the cities? Who stode so manly before hym? For the Lord hym selfe brought in the enemyes. Stode not the sunne styl at hym commaundement, and one day was as long as two? He called vpon the best and most myghty, when the enemyes pressed vpon hym on euery syde: and the Lord hearde hym with the harte stones. They smote the Heathen with people myghtely, and in falling downe, they slew al the abuersaries, so that the Heathen knewe hym booke, and Josue.xi.c.

Rume.xviii.b
Deuter.iii.b
Josue.i.c.

Josue.xi.c.

al hym

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

The. xlvii. Chapter.

all hys defence, that the Lorde hym selfe fought agaynst them, for he folowed vpon the myghty men of them.

In the tyme of Moyses also he & Caleb the sonne of Iephune, byd a good worke, whych stode agaynst the enemies, withheld the people from synne, and styllid the wicked murmuring. * And of spce. C. thousand people of foote, they two were preserved, when they wer brought into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth wth mylke & hony. The Lorde gaue strength also vnto Caleb, whych remained wth hym vnto hys age: so that he wente vpon into the hys places of the land, and hys seide conquered the same for an heritage: that all the chyldren of Israel myght se how good a thing it is, to be obedient vnto the Lorde. And the iudges or rulers (euer one after his name) whose herre went not a whorng, nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsake not the Lorde vnfaithfully, whose remembrance hath a good report: Yes they bones shal be sure of theyr place, and theyr name shal neuer be chaunged.

* Samuel the prophete beloued of the Lorde, ordeined a kynge, and anointed the princes ouer the people. In the law of the Lorde ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lorde had respect vnto Jacob. The prophete was founde bylygent in his saythfulness: yea in hys saythfulness was the saythfulness of the byson known. * He called vpon the Lorde almyghty, when the enemies pleased vpon hym on euery syde, what tyme as he offered the suckynge lambs. And the Lorde rhondred from heauen, and made hys voyce to be herd wth a great noyse. He byscomforted the bynces of Egipte, all the rulers of the Philistines. * Before hys last end he made protection in the syght of the Lorde, and hys anointed, that he toke nept er subaunce nor good of any man, nor so muche as a shoe: and no man myght accuse him. * After this he told that hys ende was at hand, and shewed the kynge also hys ende and death: and from the earth lyste he vpon hys voyce in the prophete, that the vngodly people shoulde perishe.

The. xlvii. Chapter.

The praise of Nathan, David, and Salomon.

Afterwarde in the tyme of kynge David, there rose vp a prophete called Nathan: For lyke as the far is taken away from the offerynge, so was David chosen oute of the chyldren of Israel. He toke hys pasture wth the Lyons and wth kyddes, and wth beeres lyke as wth lambs. Sleth he not a gaunt whē he was yet but yong, and toke away rebuke from hys people what tyme as he toke the stone in hys hande, and smote downe proude Goliath wth the slong: For he called vpon the best Lorde, whiche gaue hym strengthe in hys ryght hande, so that he ouerthrew the myghty gaunte in the battayle, that he myghte set vpon the borne of hys people agayne. Thus broughte he hym to worshyppe aboute all prynces, and made hym to haue a good repaire in the prayse of the Lorde, that he shoulde weare a crowne of glorie. For he stroped the ennemyes on euery syde, rooted oute the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake theyr borne in sundry lyke as it is broken pet theyr baye. In all hys woorkes he prayid the best and holpest, and ascribed the honour vnto hym. Wth hys whole bearte dyd he praise and loue hym that made hym. He sette fingers also before the aulter, and in theyr tyme he made swete songes. He ordeined to keepe the holy dayes worshipfully, and that the solempne feastes shoulde be holden wth prayse synginge the name of the Lorde, and wth hys syngynge by tymes in the morninge in the Sanctuary.

The Lorde toke away hys synnes, and exalted hys borne for euer. He gaue hym the councsaunte of the kyngdome, and the throne of worshyp in Israel. After him ther arose by the wyse sonne called Salomon, and for hys sake he diuice the ennemyes away far of. Thus Salomon reigned wth peace in hys tyme (for God gaue hym rest from hys ennemyes on euery syde, that he myghte buyld hym an house in hys name, and prepare the Sanctuary for euer) lyke as he was wel instruct in hys pouthē, and fylled wth wysdome and vnderstandynge, as it were wth a water floud. He couered and fylled the whole land wth synplytudes and wyse prudente sentences.

Hys name went abroad in the Isles, because of hys peace he was beloued. All landes manueled at his songes, proverbes, sayntitudes, & at hys peace, & at the name of the Lorde God, which is called the God of Israel. He gathered gold as tyme, and he had as muche syluer as lead. He was moued in vniuersall loue toward the women, & was overcome in affection. He stained his honour and worshyp, yea hys posterite defiled he also, in byngynge the maye of the Lorde vpon hys chyldren, and sorowe after hys lope: so that hys kyngdome was deuided, and Ephraim became an vnfaithfull, and an vnconstant kyngedome. Nevertheless God forsoke not hys mercy, neither was he vntrely destroyed because of hys woorkes that he shoulde leaue hym no posterite.

As for the seed that came vpon hym, whych he he loued, he broughte it not vnto naughte, but gaue yet a remnaunce vnto Jacob, and a coore vnto David oute of hym. Thus rested Salomon wth hys father, and out of hys seide he lefte behind hym a verry foolshynes of the people, and such one as had no vnderstandynge: namely Ieroboam, whych turned away the people thowme hys counsell, and Jeroboam the

As xlvii. c.
Deut. 1.
Josh. xiii.

1. Reg. 1. a.
and .xvi. c.

1. Reg. vii.

1. Reg. xii. a

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. a

1. Reg. xvii. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. a

1. Paral. xvi. a.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c.

the sonne of Abat, whych caused Israell to sinne, and thence Ephraim the waye of vngodlynes: in so much that they sonnes and misdoers had the upper hand so sore, that at the last they were dryuen out of the land for the same. Yea he sought out, and brought up al wyckednes, till the vengeance of God came vpon them.

The xlii. Chapter.

The praye of Eliah, Elizeus, Hiezechiah, and Iay.

Eliah the prophete as a fyre, and his worde brent lyke a cresset. He brought an vnderget vpon them, & in his zeale he made the fyre in namoer. For they might not away wyth the commaundementes of the Lorde. Therefore the woorde of the Lorde be shut the heauen, and the tymes brought he the fyre downe.

Thus became Eliah honorable in his wonderous deedes. Whiche maye make his boast to be lyke hym: For that was deade raysed he from deathe, and in the wynde of the byest he brought him out of his graue a yagye. He cast downe kyngs and destroyed the, and the honourable from theyr seat. Upon the mount Sinai he heard the punishment, and vpon Horeb the iudgemente of the vengeance. He prophesied recompensynge vnto kynges, and ordered prophetes after hym. He was taken in the forme of fyre in a charette of horses of the Lord. He was ordeyned in the reproofes in tyme to pacifye the wrath, to turne the hertes of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the cypres of Jacob agayne. Blessed were they that saw the and were gathered in loue: for he was in lyfe.

Eliah was crucified in the storme, but Heliseus was spyled with his mouth. While he liued he was feared of no prince, and no man myghte overcome hym. There could no woorde dysceyue hym, and after his deathe, his bodye prophesied. He dyd wonders in his lyfe, and in deathe were his woorkes maruelous. For al thys the people ameded not, neither departed they from theyr synnes: till they were carryed awaye prysoners out of the lande, and were scattered abrode in al countreys so that of them ther remayned but a verie lytle people and a prince vnto the house of Dauid. Therefore some of the bydtyght, and some heaped vpon vngodlynes.

* Hiezechiah made his crepe strong, conuered water into it, dygged thorow the stonne rocke with yron, and made vpe a well by the water syde. In his tyme came Sennacherib, and sent Rabshakeh, in fre by his hande agaynst Syon, and beset them with greate pyre. When trembled they: heeetes and handes so that they looked lyke a woman trauaylunge with childe. So they called vpon the Lorde, whych is merciful, and lyft vp theyr handes before hym. Immediately the Lorde, heard them out of heauen, and deliuered them by the hande of Slaye. * He smote the hooke of the Assyrians, and bys angel destroyed them. For Hiezechiah hadde done the thyng that pleased the Lorde, and remayned stedfast in the waye of Dauid his father. Whiche Slaye was greate and saythful in his vspions. In his tyme the sunne wente backwarde. And he lengthened the kynges lyfe. Wyth a tyght spryng prophesied he what shoulde come to passe at the last: and to suche as were sorrowful in Syon, he gaue consolation. wherewith they myghte comforte them selues for euermore. He shewed thynges that were for to come and secrete, or euer they came to passe.

The xlii. Chapter.

Of Josiah, Hiezechiah, Dauid, Jerem, Ezechiel, Jobababel, Jesus, Nehemiah, Enoch, & Joseph.

He remembraunce of Josiah is like as when the Apotecary maketh many precious sweet smelling things together. His remembraunce shalbe sweete as honey in al mouthes, and as the playing of an instrument by the myne. He was appointed to turne the people agayne, and to take awaye al abhominacions of the vngodlye. He dyrected his heart vnto the Lorde, and in the tyme of the vngodlye, he sette vp the worship of God agayne: al kynges, except Dauid, Hiezechiah and Josiah committed wyckednes, for euen the kynges of Iuda also forsoke the lawe of God. For they gaue theyr herte vnto other, theyr honoure and worship also to a straunge people.

Therefore was the electe city of the sanctuary dynt with fyre, and the streets thereof laye desolate and wast: for they intreated Jeremey euyl, wherby neuertheles was a prophete ordained from his mothers wombe, that he myght rote out, breake of, and destroye: and that he myght build vp and plante agayne. Ezechiel saw the glory of the Lorde in a vspion whiche was shewed him vpon the charer of the Cherubyns. For he thought vpon the enemies in the carne, to do good vnto suche as hadde ordred theyr wayes aright. * And his bones of the ruelue prophets shoyled fro out of theyr place: for they gaue comfort & consolation vnto Jacob, & deliuered them saythfull. How shal we praise Jobababel, which was as a ringe in the tyght hand.

So was Jesus also the sonne of Hosedec: these men in their times builded the house, and set vp the Sanctuary of the Lord agayne, whiche was prepared for an everlastinge worship. And Nehemiah is alwaye to be commended, which set vp for vs the wals that were broken downe, made the portes & barres agayne, and builded our houses of the newe. But vpon each is there no man created lyke Enoch, for he was taken vp from the earth. And Joseph, whych was

ill. re. xix. g

ill. re. xx. b.

Esa. xlviii.

ill. re. xxi. a

ill. re. xxi. a

ill. re. xxi. a

ill. re. xxi. a

Jerem. i. a.

Ezech. i.

Ezech. i.

Zgge. ii. a.

ill. re. xxi. a.

ill. re. xxi. a.

ill. re. xxi. a.

Ezech. i.

Ezech. i.

Jesus the sonne of Syrach.

Loide of hys brethern, and the upholder of hys people: hys bones were couched and kept. Seth and Sem wer in great honour among the people: and so was Adam about al the beastes, when he was created.

The .i. Chapter.

¶ Of Symon the sonne of Oniah.

Symon the sonne of Oniah the hys pyeste, whiche in hys lyfe set vp the house agayne and in hys dayes made fast the temple.

The heythe of the temple was founded of hym, the double buylde and the hie walles of the temple. In hys dayes the welles of water flowed oute, and were exceedynge ful as the sea. He toke care for hys people, and deluered them from destruction. He kept hys cite, and made it strong, that it should not be besieged. He dwelt in honoz and worship among his people, and enlarged the entrance of the house and p court. He geueh lyght as the moynynge starre in p myddest of the cloudes, and as the mone when it is ful. He shyneth as the sunne in the temple of God. He is as bryght as the rarnebow in the saye cloudes, and as pweeth as floures and roses in the sprynge of the peate, and as sylues by the rpuers of water. Lyke as the braunches vpon the mount Lybanus in the tyme of Somer: as a spye and incense that is kyndled: lyke as an whole ornament of pure golde set wth all maner of precious stones: and as an olpue tre that is scutefull, and as a Syperg tre whiche groweth vpon hys. When he put on the garment of honoz, and was clothed wth al beure, when he went to the holy aulter to garnysh the couerynge of the sanctuary: when he toke the portions out of the pyestes hand, he hym selfe stode by the harte of the aulter, and hys brethern round about hym. And as braiches of Cedre vpon the mount Lybanus, so stode they rounde aboute hym. And as the braunches of the olpue tre so stode al the sonnes of Aaron in theyr glorie. And that he myghte sufficiently perfourme hys scrupce vpon the aulter, and garnysh the offerynge of the hiest god, he stretched out hys hand & toke of the dyrach offering, and poured in of the myne: and so he poured vpon the botome of the aulter a good smell vnto the hiest pynce.

Then beganne the sonnes of Aaron to syuge, and to blow the teompettes, and to make a greate noise, for a remembraunce, and prayse vnto the Loide. Then were the people asayed and fel downe to the earth vpon theyr faces, to worshoppe the Loide then God, and to geue thanks to the almighty God. They sounge goodlye also wth theyr voyces, so there was a pleasant noise in the great house of the Loide. And the people in theyr prayce besoughte the Loide the hiest, that he would be mercyfull, tyl the honouze of the Loide were perfourmed. Thus ended they theyr minis-

The .ii. Chapter.

tracion and seruite. Then went he downe, and stretched oute hys handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they shoulde geue prayse and thanks oute of theyr lippes vnto the Loide, for exalps in hys name. He began yet once also to praye, that he myght openlye shewe the thanksgyunge before the hiest, namelye thus: O geue prayse and thanks (ye all) vnto p Loide our god which hath euer done noble and greate thynges: whiche hath increased out daies from our mothers wombe, and dealt wth vs accordyng to hys mercye: that he wyl geue vs the ioyfulness of bett, & peace for our time in Israel. Which sayethully keepeth hys mercy for vs euer more, & alway deliuereth vs in due season.

There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my hearte: as for the thypide, whome I hate, it is no people: They that spt vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the idyllitynes, and the foolyshe people that dwel in Sichimis.

I Jesus the sonne of Syrach Pleazarus of Ierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wysedome and vnderstandynge in this booke, and pouered out the wysedome of my herte. Blessed is he that exercyseth hym selfe therin, and who so taketh such to heart, shal be wise. If he do these thynges, he shal be strong in all. For the lpyght of the Loide leadeh hym.

The .ii. Chapter.

¶ The prayer of Jesus the sonne of Syrach.

Thank the O Loide and kyng, and prayse the O God my sauiour. I wyl yelde prayse vnto thy name: for thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, from the snare of traitterous tounge, and from the lippes that are occupied wth lyes. Thou hast bene my helper from such as stode vp agaynst me, and hast deluered me after the multitude of thy mercy, & for thy holy names sake. Thou hast deliuered me from the companyng of them that prepared them selues to deuoure me, oute of the bandes of such as sought after my lyfe: from the multitude of them that troubled me, and wente aboute to sette fyre vpon me on euery syde, so that I am not byente in the myddest of the fyre. From the depe of hel, from an vn-cleane tounge, from lying wordes, from the myched kyng, and from an vnerghteous tounge. My soule shal prayse the Loide vnto death, for my lyfe dyewenye vnto hel.

They compassed me rounde aboute on euery syde, and there was no man to helpe me. I looked about me, if there were anye man that would socoure me: and ther was none. Then thought I vpon thy mercy, O Loide, and vpon thy actes that thou hast done euer of olde, namelye, that thou deliueredst such as put theyr trust in thee, and coddest them out of the bandes of the bea-then. Thus lyst I vp my prayer sed earth, and

ii. Macha.
xxviii.
ii. Mac. iii
and. iiii.

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

and prayed for deliuerance from deathe. I called vpon the Lord my father, that he would not leaue me without helpe, in the daye of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude. I prayed for name continuallye, yeldyng honour and thanks vnto it and so my prayer was herd. Thou saudest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vntygheuous tyme. Therefore wyl I acknowledge and prayse the, and magnify the name of the Lord.

When I was yet but younge, or euer I went astraye, I despyed wysdome openlye in my prayer. I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last. Then flooyshed she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe. My heart reioysed in her, then wylt my foote the ryght way, pea from my pouthypp soughte I after her: I bowed downe myne eare and receiued her. I founde me much wysdome, and prospered greatlye in her. Therefore wyl I ascribe the glorie vnto hym, that geueth me wysdome: for I am aduised to do thereafter. I wyl be gelous to cleue vnto the thyng that is good, so shall I not be confounded. My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her. I lyfte vp mine handes on hye, then was my soule lighned to the wysdome, that I knoweledged my foolishnes. I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one heart from the begynnyng, and I found her in clennes. And therefore shall I not be forsaken.

My heart longed after her, and I gat a good treasure. I boroow her the Lord hath geuen me a new tonge, wherewith I wyl prayse hym. Come vnto me ye vndered, and dwell in the house of wysdome, wythdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commen these thyngs, for your soules are very chastyt, I opened my mouth and spake: * Come and bye wysdome wythout money, bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shal receyue wisdom. She is hard at hand, and is content to be found. Behold wyth your eyes, howe that I haue had but lytle labour, and yet haue found much rest. I receyue wysdome, and ye shall haue plenteousnes of syluer, & golde in possession. Lette your mynde reioyse in hys mercye, and be not ashamed of his praise. Worke hys worke verymely, and he shal gyue you your reward in due tyme.

(*)

The ende of the booke of Jesus the sonne of Sirach, whiche is called in Latyn Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The first Chapter.

Baruche wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, whiche he redde before Jechoniah, and of the people. The Jewes sent the booke wyth money to Hierusalem to theyr other brethren, to the intent that they shoulde prayse for them.

And Baruch dyd read the wordes of this booke before Jechoniah the sonne of Joachim king of Juda might heare: and in the presence of al the people that were come to heare the booke: yea, and before al the noble knyghts sonnes, before the Lordes of the counsaile and elders: and before the whole people, from the lowest to the hiest, before al the that dwelt at Babylon by the water of Euphrate: which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

They made a collection also of money, accordinge to euery mannes power, and sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachym the sonne of Belshazzar, the sonne of Salou priest, wyth the other priestes: and to al the people whiche were wyth hym at Hierusalem, what tyme as they had gotten the ornaments of the temple of the Lord (that were taken away out of the temple) that they myght bring them agayne into the lande of Juda. The name of the maner was: namelye syluer vessels, whiche Sederchiah the sonne of Josiah king of Juda had made. After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon hadde taken Jechoniah wyth all hys princes, lordes, and al the people, and ledde them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon.

And they sayde: * Behold, we haue sent you money, to bye you burntofferings and incense wythal: make you vnto euery daye, and offer for synne vpon the aulter of the Lord our God. * And pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and of Balchazar hys sonne: that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauyn: that god also may geue vs strength, and lychtne our eyes: that we may lyue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balchazar hys sonne: that we maye longe do them seruyce, and fynde fauoure in their syghte. Prayre for vs also vnto the Lord our God, for we haue sinned agaynst the Lord our god, to this daye is not his wrath turned yett away from vs. And see that ye reade this booke (whiche we haue sent vnto you to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lord) vpon the hye dayes, and at tyme conueniente.

Thus shal ye saye: The lord our God

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

and prayed for deliuerance from deathe. I called vpon the Lord my father, that he would not leaue me without helpe, in the daye of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude. I prayed for name continuallye, yeldyng honour and thanks vnto it and so my prayer was herd. Thou saudest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vntygheuous tyme. Therefore wyl I acknowledge and prayse the, and magnify the name of the Lord.

When I was yet but younge, or euer I went astraye, I despyed wysdome openly in my prayer. I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last. Then flooyshed she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe. My heart reioysed in her, then wylt my foote the ryght way, pea from my pouth vpon soughe I aser her: I bowed downe myne eare and receiued her. I found me much wysdome, and prospered greatly in her. Therefore wyl I ascribe the gloire vnto hym, that geueth me wysdome: for I am aduised to do thereafter. I wyl be gelous to cleue vnto the thyng that is good, so shall I not be confounded. My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her. I lyke vpon mine handes on hie, then was my soule lighned to the wysdome, that I knoweledged my foolishnes. I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one heart from the begynnyng, and I found her in clennes. And therefore shall I not be forsaken.

My heart longed after her, and I gat a good treasure. I boroow her the Lord hath geuen me a new tonge, wherewith I wyl prayse hym. Come vnto me ye vndered, and dwell in the house of wysdome, wythdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commen these thyngs, for your soules are very chastyt, I opened my mouth and spake: * Come and bye wysdome wythout money, bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shal receyue wisdom. She is hard at hand, and is content to be found. Behold wyth your eyes, howe that I haue had but lytle laboure, and yet haue found much rest. I receyue wysdome, and ye shall haue plenteousnes of syluer, & golde in possession. Lette your mynde reioyse in hys mercye, and be not ashamed of his praise. Worke hys worke verynes, and he shal gyue you your reward in due tyme.

(*)

The ende of the booke of Jesus the sonne of Sirach, whiche is called in Latyn Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The first Chapter.

Baruche wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, whiche he redde before Jechoniah, and of the people. The Jewes sent the booke wyth money to Hierusalem to theyr other brethren, to the intent that they shoulde prayse for them.

And Baruch dyd read the wordes of this booke before Jechoniah the sonne of Joachin king of Iuda might heare: and in the presence of al the people that were come to heare the booke: yea, and before al the noble knyghts sonnes, before the Lordes of the counsaile and elders: and before the whole people, from the lowest to the hiest, before al the that dwelt at Babylon by the water of Euphrate: which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

They made a collection also of money, accordinge to euery mannes power, and sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachym the sonne of Belshazzar, the sonne of Salou priest, wyth the other priestes: and to al the people whiche were wyth hym at Hierusalem, what tyme as they had gotten the ornaments of the temple of the Lord (that were taken away out of the temple) that they myght bring them agayne into the lande of Iuda. The name of the maner was: namely syluer vessels, whiche Sederchab the sonne of Josiab king of Iuda had made. After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon hadde taken Jechoniah wyth all hys princes, lordes, and al the people, and ledde them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon.

And they sayde: * Behold, we haue sent you money, to bye you burntofferings and incense wythal: make you vnto euery daye, and offer for spynne vpon the aulter of the Lord our God. * And pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and of Balshazar hys sonne: that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauyn: that god also may geue vs strength, and lychtne out eyes: that we may lyue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balshazar hys sonne: that we maye longe do them scruple, and fynde sauoure in their synne. Prayre for vs also vnto the Lord our God, for we haue synned agaynst the Lord our god, to this daye is not his wrath turned yett away from vs. And see that ye reade this booke (whiche we haue sent vnto you to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lord) vpon the hye dayes, and at tyme conueniente.

Thus shal ye saye: The lord our God

is righteous, but we are worthy of confusion and shame: lyke as it is come to passe Baruch. ii. b this day, vnto al Iuda, and to euery one Dani. ii. a, that dwelleth at Hierusalem: to our kyn- ges, princes, priestes, prophets, and to our fathers. We haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in hym nor geuen hym credence, we haue not obeyed hym, we haue not harkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commaundementes that he gaue vs. Sence the day that he brought our forefa- thers out of the lande of Egypt vnto this present day, we haue bene euer a mysbelee- uinge, and an vnfaithful people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues by- terly, and chynnyng backe, that we shuld not heare his voyce.

¶ Wherefore ther are come vpon vs greate plagues and dyuerse curses, lyke as the lord dynged by Moyses his seruante whiche brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, to geue vs a land that floweth with mylke and honye, lyke as it is to see this day. Neuerthelesse, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, accordyng to al the wordes of the prophetes, whiche he sent vnto vs and to our rulers: but eueri man folowed his owne mynde and wicked imagynacion: to offer vnto strange gods, and to doo euyl in the syghte of the Lorde our God.

The.ii. Chapter.

¶ The Jewes confesse that they suffer iustly for they synnes. The true confession of the Chyrtien. The Jewes desyre to haue the wrath of God turned from them. The lord wyl that we obey vnto princes although they be euyl. He promyseth that he wyl call agayn the people from captiuitie, and geue them a new and euerylastyng testament.

Dani. ix. b.

¶ Of the whiche cause the Lorde our God hath persecuted his deuyce, whereof he certyfied vs and our heads that ruled in Hierusalem, yea and our kynges, oure princes, with al Israel and Iuda. And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, lyke as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, accordyng as it is written in the same of Moyses that a man shoulde eat the flesh of his owne sone, and the flesh of his owne daughter. Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of al kynges, that are rounde aboute vs (to be confounded and desolare) and scattered them abroad in al landes and nations. Thus are we brought beneath, and not aboue, for we haue synned against the lord God, and not bene obedynt to his voyce.

Baruch i. b.

¶ Therefore the Lorde our God is righteous, and we with our fathers (as reason is) are brought to open shame, as it is to see this daye. And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alreadye, the Lorde hadde deuyced them for vs: yet woulde we not praye vnto the Lorde our God, that we myght euery man turne from his vngodly wayes. So the Lorde hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs, for he is righteous in al his woorkes whiche he hath commaunded vs: which we also haue not done nor harkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde that he had geuen vnto vs.

¶ And nowe O Lord God of Israel thou that haste brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a myghty hand, with tokens and wonders, with thy greate power and outstretched arme: and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day. O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in al thy righteousnes- ses. Turne thy wrath from vs (we beseeche the) for we are but fewe lesse amonge the heathen, where thou haste scattered vs. Heare our prayers (O Lorde) and our petiti- ons, bring vs out of captiuitie, for thine owne sake: get vs sauoure in the syghte of them which haue led vs away: that al lan- des may knowe that thou art the Lord our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

¶ O Lord, loke downe from thy holy house vpon vs, encline thine eare, and heare vs. For the dead, that be gone downe to theyr graues, whose soules are oute of theyr bodies, ascribte vnto the Lord neither prayse nor righteous making, but the soule that is viced for þ multitude of her sins whiche goeth on beautily and weakely, whose eyes begyn to faile, yea suche a soule ascribeth prayse and righteousness vnto the Lord. O Lord, we poure out our prayers before the, and requyre mercy in thy syghte, O Lorde, our God, not for any godhynes of oure forefathers, but because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignacion vpon vs: accordyng as thou dydest threaten by thy ser- uautes the prophetes, saying.

¶ Thus saith the Lorde: Bowe downe your shoulders and neckes, and serue the kyng of Babylon, so shal ye remayne still in the lande, that I gaue vnto your fathers. If ye wyl not do this, nor heare the voyce of the Lorde your God, to serue the kyng of Babylon, I shal destroy you in the cities of Iuda, within Hierusalem and without. I wyl also take fro you the voyce of mirth and the voyce of ioye, the voyce of the bride- grome and the voyce of the byrde, and ther shall no man dwell more in the lande. But they woulde not hearken vnto the voyce to do the kyng of Babylon serupce: and therfore hath thou persecuted the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes the pro- phetes: namely that the bones of our kynges, and the bones of oure fathers shoulde be translated out of theyr place.

And lo, nowe they are layed oute in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the nyghte, and dead in greate miserie: with hunger, with sword, with pestilence, and Dent. ix. d.

Exod. vii. b. but. and. ix.

ii. Para. vi.

Dent. xvi. b. Esay. lxiii. a Ierc. xlii.

are cleane caste forthe. As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast layd it wast, as it is to se this day: and that for the wyckednes of the house of Israel and the house of Iuda. O Lord our God thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnes, and accordyng to all that greates louyng mercy of thyne, like as thou spakest by thy seruaunte Agobias, in the daye when thou dydest commaunde bym to wyte thy lawe before the chyldren of Israel, saying: If ye wyl not beken vnto my voyce, then shall this greates multitude be turned into a very small people: for I wyl scatter them abroade. Forwylstandyng I am sure that this folke wyl not heare me: for it is an hard necked people. But in the land of theyr captiuitie, they shall remember themselves, and learne to knowe that I am the Lord theyr God, when I geue the an herre to vnderstand and eares to heare. Then shall they prayse me in the land of theyr captiuitie, and thynke vpon my name. Then shall they turne them from theyr hard backs, and from theyr vngodlynes: Then shall they remember the thynges that happened vnto theyr forefathers, wherby synned against me. So wyl I bring them againe into the land, wherby I promysed with an oth vnto theyr fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: and they shal be Lordes of it, yea I wyl increase them, and not minyssh them. And I wyl make another covenante with them, such one as shal endure for euer: namely, that I wyl be theyr God, and they shall be my people: and I wyl no more bypue my people the chyldren of Israel, oute of the land that I haue geuen them.

The.iii. Chapter.

The people contineth in theyr prayer begone for theyr deliuerance. He prayeth wylsom vnto the people, shewyng that so great aduersities came vnto them for the dyspyllage thereof. Only God is the fyrer of wisdom. Of the incarnation of Chy. A.

Baruch the sonne of Neraias the scribe sayeth thus. O Lord almyghty, thou God of Israel: our soule that is in trouble, and our spytte that is peryshed, cryeth vnto the: heare thou (O Lord) and haue ppyty vpon vs for thou art a merciful God: be gractous vnto vs, for we haue synned before the. Thou endurest for euer, shoulde we then vnterpepe to the? O Lord almyghty thou God of Israel: Heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites and of theyr chyldren wherby haue synned before thee, and not backened vnto the voyce of the Lord theyr God, for the which cause these plagges hang now vpon vs. O Lord, remember not the wyckednes of our forefathers, but thynke vpon thy power and name nowe at this tyme, for thou art the Lord our god, and the (O Lord) wyl we prayse. For thou hast put thy feare in our hartes, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name, and prayse the in our captiuitie: and that we myght turne fro the wyckednesse of our forefathers, that synned before thee.

Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, wher as thou hast scattered vs, to be an abhominacion, curie, and synne: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also because of all theyr wyckednes: and departing from the. O Israel hear the commaundementes of Ise: pouder them well with thyne eares, that thou mayest leaue wylsom. But howe happened it to Israel that thou art in thyne enemyes land: thou art waxen old in a straunge country, and despyled with the dead. Why art thou become lyke them that goe downe to theyr graues? But because thou hast forsake the lawe of wylsom. For if thou haddest walked in the way of god, truly thou shouldest haue remayned still safe in thine own land.

Learn then wher discretion is, wher vertue is, wher vnderstandyng is: that thou mayest knowe also from whence cometh long life, a necessary lyving, & lycht of the eyes and quietnes. Who euer solid out her place, or howe came euer into her treasures?

Where are the pyrces of the Beathan become and such as ruled the beathan vpon the earth? They that had theyr pastime with the fountes of the apye, they that hoorded by syluer and gold (wherby men truste so much) and made no ende of theyr garbeyng: What is worth of them that couched syluer, and were so careful, and coulde not bringe theyr woordes to passe? They be tored out, and gone downe to hell, and other menne are come vp in theyr stead. Young menne haue sene lycht, and dwelt vpon earthe, but the mane of the reformation haue they not knowen, nor vnderstande the parties thereof: neither haue theyr chyldren receyued it, yea ryghte sarre is it from them. It hath not bene hearde of in the lande of Canaan, neyther hath it bene sene at Egipt.

The Agarenes sought after wylsom, but that which is earthly, lyke as the manchautes of the land do. They of Egipt are conyng also, and they labour for wylsom and vnderstandyng: but the mane of true wylsom they knowe not, neyther doo they thynke vpon the parties thereof. O Israel, howe great is the house of God: and howe large is the place of his confelssion. Great is he, and hath none ende: hys and hys vnmesurable. What is become of those famous gyautes, that were so great of body, and so worthy of mar? Those had not the Lord chose, neyther haue they solid the waye of reformation, therefore were they destroyed: and for so much as they had no wylsom, they perished because of theyr folyshnes.

Who hath gone by into heauen to take wylsom there, and broughte her downe from the cloudes? Who hath gone oute the sea to fynde her, and hath she

Gen. i. ten her above golbe, and so brought her his
 Gen. i. c. cher? No man knoweth the wayes of mys-Eccl. xvi. a. dome, neyther is ther any that can seke out her pathes. But he that woecebrall things, knoweth her and he hath founde her oute wth his foreknowledge. & he same is he which prepared & carryed at the beginnyngs, and filled it with all maner of foules and bestes. When he sendeth out the lyght, it goeth: and when he calleth it agayne, it cometh byn wth fcare. The starres keepe theyr watche, and geue theyr lyghte pces, and that gladly: When he calleth the, they saye: here we be. And so by the certaynes they shewen light vnto a byn that made to be.
 Deut. xlii. a. Thus is our God and ther shal none other be compared to hym: It is he that hath founde oute all wysdome, and hath geuen her vnto Jacob his seruante, and to Israel his beloued. Afterward he shew him selfe vpon ezech, and dwelt among me.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The reward of them that kepe the law, and the punishment of them that despoile it. A comfortyng of the people being in captiui-tie. A complaint of Ierusalem, and vnder the figure thereof, of the church. A consolation and comfortyng of the same.

Althys is the booke of the commandements of God; and the lawe that endureth for ever. All they that kepe it, shall come to lyfe:
 but such as forsake it, shal come to death.
 Turne the O Jacob, and take holde of it:
 walke by his way thow thys byghnes and shynne. Geue not thyne honour to another, and thy worship to a strange people.
 O Israel, how happy are we, seying þ God hath shewed vs such thynges as are pleassant vnto hym? We of good cheate thou people of God, O thou annunciate. Israel.
 How are ye sold among the heathen, how be it, not for your vther destruction: but because ye prouoked God the Lord to wrath and displeasure, therefore were ye deliue-red vnto your enemies, for ye displeased þ euertlastyng God that made you, offeryng vnto deuyls and not to God. Ye haue forgotten hym that brought you vp, and your truste haue ye greued. O Ierusalem.

When the same that the wrath of God was commyng vpon you, he sayd: Heken O ye that dwel about Sion, for god hath brought me into great heuines: and why?
 I se the captiuitie of my people, of my son-nes and daughters, wherby the euertlastyng God myll bringe vpon them. Word toye byd I noyþ them, and now must I leaue them wth wepyng and sorowe.

Let no man reioyce ouer me in yddow-ne, and forsaken: wherby for the synnes of my chyldren, and desolate of euery man. For wherby they departed from the lawe of God, they woulde not knowe his ryghtuousnes, nor walke in the waye of his commandements: and as for the pathes of the truth and godlynesse, they hadde no luste to go in them.

O ye dwellers aboute Sion, come and lette vs call to remembraunce the captiui-tie, that the euertlastyng God hath brought vpon my sonnes and my daughters. He hath broughte a people vpon them from far, an vnconfortous people and of a straunge language: wherby neyther regardeth the old nor yet the yonge.

These haue carryed awaye the beate beloved of my yddowes, leaueing me alone, both desolate and childles. But alas, what can I helpe you? Now he þ hath brought these plagues vpon you, helpe you also from the handes of our enemies.

O our way (O my chyldren) go yowre waye: for I am desolate and forsaken, I haue put of the clothyng of peace, and put on me the sacke cloth of prouer, and for my tyme I wyl cal vpon the most hyest. We of good cheate, O my chyldren, crye vnto the Lord, and he shal deliuer you from the power of the bynnes, your enemies.

For verely, I haue euery good hope of your prosperous healtie: pea a very glad-nes is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shal haue of our euertlastyng sauoure.

With moutyng and wepyng byd I let you go from me, but with ioy and perpetuall gladnes, shal the Lord bring you again vnto me. Lyke as the neighbours of Sidon saw your captiuitie from God: Even so shall they also se shortly your healtie in God, wherby shal come on you wth great honour and euertlastyng worshippe.

O my chyldren, suffer patiently the thyng that shal come vpon you. For the enemye hath persecuted the, but shortly shal he se his destruction, and shal he treade vpon his necke. My beate lungs haue gon rough by the wayes: for they are led awaye, as a flocke that is scattered abroad to the en-nemies. But be of good comforte (O my chyldren) and cry vnto the lord: for he that led you a whyle, hath you yet in remembraunce:
 and like as ye haue bene minded to warne from your God, so shall ye now endeavour your selues, .c. tymes more to turne again, and to seeke him. For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shal bringe you euertlastyng ioy agayne wth your healtie.
 Take a good heart vnto thee, O Ierusalem: for he wherby gaue thee that name ex-porteth the so to do.

The wicked doers that now put thee to trouble, shal perishe: and such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shal be punished. The cities whom the chyldren serue, and that haue carryed awaye thy sonnes, shal be correcte. For lyke as they be now glad of thy decaye, so shal they moue in theyr vther destruction. The ioye of theyr multitude shal be taken awaye, and theyr cheate shal be turned into sorowe. For a fyre shal fall vpon them from the euertlastyng God, long to endure: and it shal be inhabyted of by-

De. xlii. a.
 Jer. vi.

Deut. xlii. c.
 and. xxi. a.
 psal. cxx. a.

Eccl. xvi. c.

Eccl. i. v. b.

Jer. i. a. b. c.

upis for a greate season.

The. v. Chapter.

Jerusalem is moued vnto gladnes for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure therof, the church.

Jerusalem, looke aboute the to-warde the east, and beholde the top that cometh vnto the from God. For lo, thy sonnes (whome thou hast forsaken, and that wer scattered abroade come gathered toge: her from the east and west, reioysing in the moorde of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

But of thy mourning clothes (O Jerusalem) and thy sorowe, and decke the with the wo: shyppe and honoure that cometh vnto thee from God, with euertlasting glory. God shal put þe cloke of ryghteousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euertlasting wo: shyppe vpon thyne heade: for vpon the wyl God declare his brightnesse that is vnder the heauen: Yes an euertlastynge name shal be giuen the of God, with peace of ryghteousnesse, and the honoure of gods des seare.

Apple O Jerusalem, stande vp on hye: looke about thee towarde the east, and be-holde thy chyldren gathered from the east, vnto the west, whiche reioyce in the holy ho: rde, haupuge God in remembraunce.
They departed from the one sore, and wer led away of they: enemies: but now shall the Loyde brynge them carped with ho-noure, as chyldren of the kyngdome. For God is purposed to brynge downe al stoumountaynes yea and al hye cockes, to fyll the valleres, and so to make them even with the grounde, that Israel may be dy-ligent to liue vnto the honour of god. The moordes and al pleasaunt trees shal ouer-shadowe Israel, at the commaundemente of God. For hyther shal God brynge Israel with ioyful myrthe, and in the light of his magesty: with the mercy and ryghteousnes that cometh of hym selfe.

The. vi. Chapter.

A copy of the Epistle that Jeremy sent vnto the Jewes, whiche were led away prisoners by the kynge of Babylon: wherein he certifieth them of the thyng that was commaunded hym of God.

Be cause of the syns that ye haue done agaynst God, ye shall be ledde a maye captiue vnto Babylon euen of Nabuchodonazor the kyng of Babylon. So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shal remayne there ma-nye yeres, and for a longe season, namely seuen generacions: and after that wyl I brynge you a maye peaceably from thence.

* Nowe shall ye see in Babylon, Goddes of golde, of syluer, of moode, and of stoue, borne vpon mennes shouldeers, to cast ouer a searefulness before the Heathen. But looke that ye done not as the other: be not ye afrayed, and lette not the feare of them ouercome you.

Therefore, when ye se the multitude of people, wo: shyppe them behynde and before, say ye in your heartes: * O Lord, it is thou that oughtest onely to be wo: shypped. Agayne angell also shall be with you, Deut. vi, and I my selfe wyl care for your soules.
As for the tymber of those goddes, the carpenter hath polished them: yea, gylted be Deut. vii, 8 they, and laped ouer with syluer, yet are they but bayne things, and can not speake.
Lyke as a man that loueth peramours, is truly deere, euen so are these made and hanged with golde. Crownes of golde becelye haue they: goddes vpon they: hea-des: so the pryestes them selues take the golde and syluer from them, and put it to they: owne vles: yea, they geue of the same vnto harlots, and trymme they: whoores with ball: agayne, they take it frome they:
whores, and decke they: gods therewith.
* Yet can not these gods deliuer the selues fro cust and mothes. Whether haue come Jer. x. 2 red the with clothyng of purple, they wipe they: faces for the dust of the temple, wher of ther is much among them. One hath a septer in his hand, as though he wer iudge of the countrey, yet can he not slay such as offende him. Another hath a swerde: or an axe in his hand: for al that is he neyther able to defende hym selfe from battayl, nor from mucheters.

By this ye maye vnderstand, that they be no goddes: therefore se that ye nerther wo: shyppe them, nor feare them. For lyke as a vessel that a manne useth is nothyng worth when it is broken, euen so is it with they: Goddes. When they be set vp in the temple, they: eyes be ful of dust, thowm the fere of those that come in. And lyke as the doores are shutte in counte aboute vpon hym that hath offended the kynges: O: as it were a dead body kept besyde the graue: Euen so the pryestes keepe the doores with barres, and lockes, leasse they: Goddes be spoiled with robbers. They sette vp candels before them, yea verpyle and that manpe, wherof they can not se one, but euen as blockes, so stande they in the temple. It is sayd that the serpentes and wozmes whiche come of the earth, gnawe ouer they: hertes, carpyge them and they: clothes also: and yet they fele it not. Therr faces are blacke, thowm the smoke that is in the temple. The Owles, Swalowes, and bydes flye vpon them, yea and the cattes tunne ouer they: heades.

If this ye maye be sure that they are not goddes, therefore feare them not. The golde that they haue, is to make them deu-tiful: for all that, except some body dyghte of they: rust, they wyl geue no shynne: and when they were caste into a fourme, they felt it not. They are bought for money, and haue no breth of life within them. * When muste be borne vpon mennes shouldeers, as those that haue no frete: wherby they be clace vnto manne, that they be nothyng

Ex. x. 1. worth.

psa. xlii. b
Esa. xlv. a.
Isa. xlii. a.
and. xlii. a.

Esa. xlii. a word. Confounded be they then that wor-shipppe them. For yf they fall to the ground, they can not rylse by agayne of them sel-ues. Yea, though one heale them vp and sette them ryghte, yet are they not able to staunde alone: but muste haue proppes sette vnder them, lyke deade menne. As for the thyng that is offered vnto them, they priestes sell it, and abuse it: yea, the presistes wyues take therof, but vnto the sicke and poore, they geue nothyng of it, the women wyth chylde, and the menstuous lape bandes of they: offerynges. By this ye maye be sure that they are no Goddes, therefore be not ye afrayed of them. From whence cometh it then that they be called Gods? The women syt before the gods of syluer, golde and woodde, and the priestes syt in they: temples, haung open clothes, whose heades and beades ar shauen and haue nothyng vpon they: heades: coatyng and ceping vpon they: gods, as men do at the feast, when one is deade.

E The priestes also take awaye the garmentes of the ymages, and decke they:
wynes and chyldren wythall. Whether it be good or euill that anye manne do vnto them they are not able to recompence it: they can neyther set vp a kynge nor putte hym downe. In lyke maner they maye neither geue ryches, nor rewarde euill.

Eccles. vii. a.

Though a man make a vowe vnto them and keepe it not, they will not requyre it.
They can not restore a blynde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his nede. They can shewe no mercye to the wyddow, nor do good to the fatherles. They: goddes of woodde, stone, golde and syluer, are but e-nen as other stones, that be vemen of the mountayne. They that worshipppe them, shal be confounded. How shuld they: be taken for goddes? yea, howe dare men call them gods? And though the Caldees worshypped them, not hearyng that they were but domme and coulde not speake, yet they them selues offer vnto Belle, & would saye haue hym to speake: as who saye, they coulde feele, that may not moue. But whē these me come to vnderstanding, they shal forsake them, for they: Gods haue no selpng. A greate sorte of women gytt wyth coardes syt in the stetes and burne olyue bertes. Now if one of them be conueyed away, and lye wyth any such as come by: she casteth her neyghboure in the teeth, because she was so worthely reputed, nor her coard broken. Whatsoeuer is done for them, it is but bayne and lost: Howe maye it then be thought or sayed, that they are gods? Carpenters and goldsmithes make them, neither be there any other thyng, but euen what the woorkemen wyl make of them.
Yea, golde smytches them selues that make them, are of no longe continuance: How shoulde then the thynges that are made of them, be goddes?

Wayne therefore are the thynges (yea because shame is it) that they leaue behynde the for they: posterite. For as soone as there cometh anye warre or plage vpon them, then the wyettes ymagyne where they maye hyde them selues wyth them. Howe can men thynke then that they be goddes, whyche neyther maye defende them sel-ues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune? For seynge they be but of wood, of stone, of syluer, and of golde: al people and kynge shal knowe here after, that they be but wayne thyngs, yea it shal be openly declared that they be no gods: *but euen the very woorkes of mennes handes, and that God hath nothyng to dooe wyth them.
They can sette no kynge in the lande, nor geue capte vnto men. They canne geue no sentence of a matter, neyther defende the lande from wrouge: For they are not able to do so muche as the crowe that flyeth betwixt heauen and earth.

Psal. xlv.
Sap. xiii. b

When there happeneth a fyre into the house of those gods of wood, of syluer, and of golde, the priestes wyl escape and saue them selues, but the gods buthe as the balkes therin. They can not wythstaunde anye kynge or bartell: howe maye it then be thought or graunted that they be goddes?
Howeouer these gods of wood, of stone, of golde and syluer may neyther defende them selues from theues nor robbers: yea the be-ste wycked are stronger then they. These strypppe them oute of they: apparell that they be clothed wythall, these take they:
golde and syluer from them, and so gette them awaye: yet can they not healepe them selues. Therefore it is muche better for a manne to be a kynge and so to shewe his powe: or els a profitable vessel in a house, wherein be that omerly it, myghte haue pleasure: yea or to be a doore in a house, to keepe suche thynges safe as be therein, then to be suche a wayne God. The Sunne, the Moone and al the starrs, when they geue they: lyght and lyght, are obedyente and doe men good. When the lyghtnyng glistereth al is cleare: The wynde bloweth in euery countrey, and when God com-maundereth the cloudes to goo round about the whole world, they dooe as they at hyd-den: when the fyre is sent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth vp byls and wooddes: But as for those Goddes, they are not lyke one of these thynges, neyther in beautye nor strengthe. Wherefore men shoulde not thynke nor saye that they be gods, seing they can neyther geue sentence in iudgemente, nor do men good.
For so much as ye are sure that they be no gods, then feare them not. For they canne neyther speake euill nor good of kynge.
They can shewe no tokens in heauen for the bearchen, neyther lyght as the Sunne, nor geue lyght as the Moone: yea the unreasonable beastes are better then they, so; they can get them vnder y rose, and doo
them

the selues good. So can we be certified by no manner of meanes, that they be Gods: therefore feare them not. For like as a scarbuggarde in a garden of Letumbers keepeth nothing, euen so are they: Goddes of woodde, of siluer and gold: and lyke as a myrre thorne in an orcharde, that euerie byrde fyeth upon: yea lyke as a dead bo- dy that is caste in the darcke: Euen so is it toyt those Goddes of woodde, siluer and gold. By þ purple and scarlet wyche they haue upon them, and soone faderth away, þe maye vnderstand that they be no gods, yea they themselves shall be consumed at the last, whych shal be a greate confusyon of the land. Blessed is the Godly man that hath no Images, and worshippeth none: for he shal be far from reproche.

The songe of the three chyldeyn, whych were put into the bore burning Ouen. The common translation reader þys song in þ. iii. Chap. of Daniel.

As they walked in the myddest of the flme prais- yng God, and magnify- yng the Lorde. As rayd stode up and prayed in this maner. Euen in the myddest of the fyre open- ed he þys oracion, and said: Blessed be thou (O Lorde God of oure fathers) ryght worthy to be praysed and honoured is that name of thine for euer- more: for thou art rightuous in al the thynges that thou hast done to vs: Yea faithful are al thy wordes, thy wayes are ryghte, and thy iudgements true. In al the thynges that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and vpon the holy cyty of our fathers, euen Je- rusalem, thou hast executed true iudge- ment: yea accordyng to ryghte and equyte hast thou broughte these thynges vpon vs because of our synnes.

For now we haue offended, and done wickedlye, depactyng from the: In al thynges we haue refused and not obeyed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neyther done as thou hast bydden us that we myght prosper. Wherefore al that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and euerie charge that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement: As in help- yng us into the handes of oure enemies amonge vngodly and wicked abhomy- natis, and to an vngodly kyng, yea the most cowardly vpon earthe. And now we maye not open oure mouthes, we are become a shame and reproche vnto thy ser- uantes, and to them that worshippe thee. Yet for thy names sake (we beseeche thee) geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy co- venant, and take not awaye thy mercye for thy seruante Isaacs sake, and for thy byp Israels sake: to whom thou hast spok- en and promised that thou wouldest mul- tylye them: as the starrs of heauen, and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore. For we (O Lorde) are become les the an people, and be kept vnder thy day. In al the world, because of our synnes: So that now we haue neyther prince, duke, prophet, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor Sanctuary before the.

Wherefore in a contryte herte and an humble spyrte let vs be receyued, that we maye obtayne thy mercye. Lyke as in the burnt offering of rams and bullockes, and lyke as in a thousand of fat lambes: so let oure offeringe be in thy syght this daye, that it may please thee, for there is no con- fession vnto them that put their truste in thee. And now we praye thee wyth all oure herte, me feare thee, and seke thy face. But be not to shame, but deale to vs after thy loyng kyndnes, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercyes. Deliuere vs by thy miracles (O lord) and get thy name an honour: that al they whych do thy seruau- res eue, may be confounded. Let them be a shamed thorow thy almighty power, and lette their strengthe be broken: that they maye know how þ thou only art the lord God, and honoure worthe thorowout all the world.

And the kynges seruantes that put the in, ceased not to make the ouen boie toyt wylde fyre, byt draw, ppyche, and sagots: so that the flme went out of the ouen vpon a. xlii. cubites: yea it toke a may & dynt by those Caldres. that it gat hold vpon be- side the ouen. But the Angell of the Lorde came downe in the ouen to Asioch and bys felowes, and smote the flme of the fyre out of the ouen, and made the myddest of the oue as it had bene a cold wynde blow- ing: so that the fyre narythe touched them, greued them, nor dyd them hurt. And these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, honored, and blessed god in the furnace, saying: Bless- ed be thou, O Lorde God of oure fathers: for thou art prayse and honour worthy, yea and to be magnified for euermore. Blessed be the holpe name of thy gloire, for it is worthy to be praysed, and mag- nified in al worldes. Blessed be thou in the holpe temple of thy gloire, for aboute all thynges thou arte to be praysed yea and more then worthy to be magnified for e- uer. Blessed be thou in the trone of thy kyngdome, for aboute al thou art worthy to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for eue. Blessed be thou that lo- kest thorow the depe, and syttest vpon the Cherubins: for thou art worthy to be prai- sed, and aboute al to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in the firmament of hea- uen, for thou arte prayse and honour wor- thy for euer.

O all ye workes of the Lorde, speake Psal. lvi. good

Dani. 3. c.

Baruc. 3. b

Jerem. 11. b

Psal. lvi. c

Gen. 22. c. uenante, and take not awaye thy mercye Psal. 136. b. from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, Psal. 136. b.

the selues good. So can we be certified by no manner of meanes, that they be Gods: therefore feare them not. For like as a scarbuggarde in a garden of Letumbers keepeth nothing, euen so are they: Goddes of woodde, of siluer and gold: and lyke as a myrre thorne in an orcharde, that euerie byrde fyeth vpon: yea lyke as a dead bo- dy that is caste in the darcke: Euen so is it toyt those Goddes of woodde, siluer and gold. By þ purple and scarlet wyche they haue vpon them, and soone faderth away, þe maye vnderstand that they be no gods, yea they themselves shall be consumed at the last, whych shal be a greate confu- sion of the land. Blessed is the Godly man that hath no Images, and worshippeth none: for he shal be far from reprofe.

The songe of the three chyldezen, whych were put into the bore burning Ouen. The common translacion readerþ this song in þ. iii. Chap.
of Daniel.

As they walked in the myddest of the flme prai- sing God, and magnify- yng the Lorde. Asera- d stode vp and prayed in this maner. Euen in the myddest of the fyre open- ed he his mouth, and said: Blessed be thou (O Lorde God of oure fathers) ryght worthy to be prayesd and honoured is that name of thine for euer- more: for thou art rightuous in al the thynges that thou hast done to vs: Yea faithful are al thy wordes, thy wayes are ryghte, and thy iudgements true. In al the thynges that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and vpon the holy cyty of our fathers, euen Je- rusalem, thou hast executed true iudge- ment: yea accordyng to ryghte and equyte hast thou broughte these thynges vpon vs because of our synnes.

Dani. 3. c.

For now we haue offended, and done wickedlye, departinge from the: In al thynges we haue refused and not obey- ed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast bydden us that we myght prosper. Wherefore al that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and euerie thynge that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement: As in help- yng vs into the handes of oure enemies amonge vngodly and wicked abhomy- natis, and to an vngodly kyng, yea the most cowardly vpon earthe. And now we maye not open oure mouthes, we are become a shame and reproche vnto thy ser- uantes, and to them that worshippe thee. Yet for thy names sake (we beseeche thee) geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy co- venant, and take not awaye thy mercye

Gen. 22. c. vnto vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruaunte Isaacs sake, and for thy help Isaacs sake: to whom thou hast spok- en and promised that thou wouldest mul- tiplie them: as the starrs of heauen, and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore. For we (O Lorde) are become les the an people, and be kept vnder thy day. In al the world, because of our synnes: So that now we haue neither priuce, duke, prophet, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor sanctuary before the.

Wherefore in a contryte herte and an humble spyrte let vs be receyued, that we maye obtayne thy mercye. Lyke as in the burnt offering of rams and bullockes, and lyke as in a thousand of fat lambes: so let oure offeringe be in thy syght this daye, that it may please thee, for there is no con- fession vnto them that put their truste in thee. And now we praye thee wyth all oure herte, me feare thee, and seke thy face. But be not to shame, but deale to vs after thy loyng kyndnes, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercyes. Deliuere vs by thy miracles (O lord) and get thy name an honour: that al they whych do thy seruau- res eue, may be confounded. Let them be a shamed thorow thy almighty power, and lette their strengthe be broken: that they maye know how þ thou only art the lord God, and honoure worthe thorowout all the world.

And the kynges seruantes that put the in, ceased not to make the ouen hote wyth wyld fire, drye straw, ppyche, and sagots: so that the flme went out of the ouen vpon a. xlii. cubites: yea it toke a may & dynt by those Caldes. that it gat hold vpon be- side the ouen. But the Angell of the Lorde came downe in the ouen to Asch and his felowes, and smote the flme of the fyre out of the ouen, and made the myddest of the ouen as it had bene a cold wynde blow- ing: so that the fyre nether touched them, greued them, nor dyd them hurt. And these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, honored, and blessed god in the furnace, saying: Bless- ed be thou, O Lorde God of oure fathers: for thou art prayse and honour worthy, yea and to be magnified for euermore. Blessed be the holie name of thy gloire, for it is worthy to be prayesd, and mag- nified in al worldes. Blessed be thou in the holie temple of thy gloire, for aboute all thynges thou arte to be prayesd yea and more then worthy to be magnified for e- uer. Blessed be thou in the trone of thy kyngdome, for aboute al thou art worthy to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for eue. Blessed be thou that lo- kest thorow the depe, and syttest vpon the Cherubins: for thou art worthy to be pra- sed, and aboute al to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in the firmament of hea- uen, for thou arte prayse and honour wor- thy for euer.

1. Pet. 1. c. Rom. 1. c. 1. Cor. 1. c. 1. Tim. 1. c.

1. Pet. 1. c.

O all ye workes of the Lorde, speake his name. good

the selues good. So can we be certified by no manner of meanes, that they be Gods: therefore feare them not. For like as a scarbuggarde in a garden of Letumbers keepeth nothing, euen so are they: Goddes of woodde, of siluer and gold: and lyke as a myrre thorne in an orcharde, that euerie byrde fyeth vpon: yea lyke as a dead bo- dy that is caste in the darcke: Euen so is it toyt those Goddes of woodde, siluer and gold. By þ purple and scarlet wyche they haue vpon them, and soone faderth away, þe maye vnderstand that they be no gods, yea they themselves shall be consumed at the last, whych shal be a greate confusyon of the land. Blessed is the Godly man that hath no Images, and worshippeth none: for he shal be far from reprofe.

The songe of the three chyldeyn, whych were put into the bore burning Ouen. The common translation reader þys song in þ. iii. Chap. of Daniel.

As they walked in the myddest of the flme prais- yng God, and magnify- yng the Lorde. As rayd stode vp and prayed in this maner. Euen in the myddest of the fyre open- ed he þys oryente, and said: Blessed be thou (O Lorde God of oure fathers) ryght worthy to be praysed and honoured is that name of thine for euer- more: for thou art rightuous in al the thynges that thou hast done to vs: Yea faithful are al thy wordes, thy wordes are ryghte, and thy iudgements true. In al the thynges that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and vpon the holy cyty of our fathers, euen Je- rusalem, thou hast executed true iudge- ment: yea accordyng to ryghte and equyte hast thou broughte these thynges vpon vs because of our synnes.

Dani. 3. c.

For now we haue offended, and done wickedlye, depactyng from the: In al thynges we haue refused and not obey- ed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neether done as thou hast bydden us that we myght prosper. Wherefore al that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and euerie thynge that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement: As in help- yng us into the handes of oure enemies amonge vngodly and wicked abhomy- natis, and to an vngodly kyng, yea the most cowardly vpon earthe. And now we maye not open oure mouthes, we are become a shame and reproche vnto thy ser- uantes, and to them that worshippe thee. Yet for thy names sake (we beseeche thee) geue us not vp for euer, breake not thy co- uenante, and take not awaye thy mercye

Gen. 22. c. uenante, and take not awaye thy mercye from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, Mat. 23. b.

for thy seruante Isaacs sake, and for thy wyf Israels sake: to whom thou hast spok- en and promised that thou wouldest mul- tiplie them: as the starrs of heauen, and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore. For we (O Lorde) are become les the an people, and be kept vnder thy day. In al the world, because of our synnes: So that now we haue neither priuce, duke, prophet, bartofering, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor Sanctuary before the.

Searcheth in a contryte herte and an humble spytte let vs be receyued, that we maye obtayne thy mercye. Lyke as in the burnt offering of rams and bullockes, and lyke as in a thousand of fat lambes: so let oure offeringe be in thy syght this daye, that it may please thee, for there is no con- fession vnto them that put their truste in thee. And now we praye thee wyth all oure herte, me feare thee, and seke thy face. But be not to shame, but deale to vs after thy loyng kyndnes, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercyes. Deliuere vs by thy miracles (O Lorde) and get thy name an honour: that al they whych do thy seruau- res eue, may be confounded. Let them be a shamed thorow thy almighty power, and lette their strengthe be broken: that they maye know how þ thou only art the lord God, and honoure worthe thorowout all the worlde.

1. Pet. 3. c. Rom. 1. c. Gal. 3. c. Rom. 1. c.

And the kynges seruantes that put the in, ceased not to make the ouen boie toyt wylde fyre, dyt draw, ppyche, and sagots: so that the flme went out of the ouen vpon a. xlii. cubites: yea it toke a may & dynt by those Caldres. that it gat hold vpon be- side the ouen. But the Angell of the Lorde came downe in the ouen to Asioch and bys felowes, and smote the flme of the fyre out of the ouen, and made the myddest of the oue as it had bene a cold wynde blow- ing: so that the fyre nether touched them, greued them, nor dyd them hurt. And these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, honored, and blessed god in the furnace, saying: Bless- ed be thou, O Lorde God of oure fathers: for thou art prayse and honoure worthy, yea and to be magnified for euermore. Blessed be the holve name of thy gloire, for it is worthy to be praysed, and mag- nified in al worldes. Blessed be thou in the holve temple of thy gloire, for about all thynges thou arte to be praysed yea and more then worthy to be magnified for e- uer. Blessed be thou in the trone of thy kyngdome, for about al thou art worthy to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for eue. Blessed be thou that lo- kest thorow the depe, and syttest vpon the Cherubins: for thou art worthy to be prai- sed, and about al to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in the firmament of hea- uen, for thou arte prayse and honoure wor- thy for euer.

Pla lxxi. c.

O all ye workes of the Lorde, speake his name. good

The song of the.iii. childre

good of the Lord: prayse hym and set him Psal. cxl. c.
and. cxl. c. up for euer.

O ye angels of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym up for euer.

O ye heauens speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O al ye waters that be about the firmament, speake good of the Lord: prayse him
 and set hym up for euer.

O al ye powers of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set him up for euer.

Psal. cxlix. a O ye Sunne and Moone, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym up for euer.

Psal. cxxvi O ye stars of heauen speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye thowres & dew, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him up for euer.

O al ye windes of god, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye fire & heat, speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym and set hym up for euer.

O ye winter & sommer, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set him up for euer.

O ye dewes and frostes, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym & set him up for euer.

O ye frost and colde, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, and set hym up for euer.

O ye yse and snowe, speake good of the
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye nyghtes and dayes, speake good of the Lord: prayse him & set hym up for euer.

O ye lycht and darknes, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym up for euer.

O ye lychtynnges and cloudes, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him
 up for euer.

O lette the earth speake good of the Lord, yea lette it prayse hym, and set hym
 up for euer.

O ye mountaynes and hilles, speake
 good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym
 up for euer.

O al ye grene thynges vpon the earth, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye welles, speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye seas and foudres, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym and set hym up for euer.

O ye myles & al that is in the waters, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym
 and set hym up for euer.

O al ye fowles of the ayre, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and sette hym up for euer.

O al ye bestes and cattel, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and sette hym up
 for euer.

O ye chyldre of men, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O let Israel speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye prynces of the Lord, speake good of the Lord, prayse him, & set him up for euer.

O ye seruantes of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym
 up for euer.

Psal. cxlii. a
cxliii. a. 1.
cxliii. a Apoc. xix. a.

The story of Susanna.

O ye spirites and soules of the righteous speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, & set
 hym up for euer

O ye holy and blyble men of here, speake ye good of the Lord: prayse ye hym, and set hym up for euer.

O Ananias. Azarias, & Mysael, speake ye good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer. Whiche hath deliuered vs from the hel, kept vs from the hande of death, tydded vs from the myddel of the burnynge fyre, and saued vs euen in the myddel of the fyre. O geue thanks there:
 for ye vnto the Lord: for he is kynde harted, and his mercede endureth for euer.

Iere. xx. c.
Ezra. viii. a Psal. cxv. a
and. cxvi.

O al deuout men, speake good of the Lord, euen the God of all Gods: O prayse hym, and geue hym thanks for his mercede endureth world without ende.

The story of Susanna, whiche is the. xiiij. Chapter of Daniel, after the Laryne.

Here dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joachym, that tooke a
 wyfe, whose name
 was Susanna, the daughter of Helchi-
 ab, a very sapie wo-
 ma, and such one as feared God. Her father and mother also were godly people, & taught their daughter accordyng to the law of Moyses. Some Joachim her husbände was a great rych man and had a fayre orchard lounyng vnto his house. And to him resorted the Jewes communly, because he was a man of reputation amonge them.

The same yere wher they made two iudges,
 such as the Lord speakech of: Al the wickednes of Babilon, cometh fro the elders (that is) fro the iudges, whiche come to rule the people. These came oft to Joachims house and al such as had any thyng to do in the law came thither vnto them.

Now when the people came agayne after noone, Susanna went into her husbā-des orcharde, to walke. The elders sepyng this, that she went in dayly, & walked, they burned for luste to her, yea, they were almost out of their wyres, & cast down their eyes, that they shuld not se beauen, nor remember that God is a righteous iudge. For they wer both welled with the love of her, neither durst one shew another his grieve.
 And for shame they durst not tel her they inordinate lust that they would faine haue had to do wyth her. Yea they layd wayte for her earnestly fro day to day, that they might (at the last) haue a sight of her. And so one said to another: Wo, let vs go home, for it is dinner tyme. So they went they way from her. When they turned agayne, they came together enuoyrge oute the matter betwixt them selues: yea, the one tolde
 the

The song of the.iii. childre

good of the Lorde: prayse hym and set him Psal. cxi. c.
and. c. li. a. up for euer.

O ye angels of the Lord, speake good of þe Lorde: prayse him, & set hym up for euer.

O ye heauens speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O al ye waters that be about the firmament, speake good of the Lord: prayse him
 and set hym up for euer.

O al ye powers of þe Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him, & set him up for euer.

Psal. cxix. a. O ye Sunne and Moone, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym up for euer.

Psal. cxix. b. O ye stars of heauen speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye thowres & dew, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him up for euer.

O al ye windes of god, speake good of þe
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye fire & heat, speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym and set hym up for euer.

O ye winter & sommer, speake good of the Lord: praise him, & set him up for euer.

O ye dewes and frostes, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym & set him up for euer.

O ye frost and colde, speake good of the
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye yse and snowe, speake good of the
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye nyghtes and dayes, speake good of the Lord: praise him & set hym up for euer.

O ye lycht and darknes, speake good of the Lord: praise him, & set hym up for euer.

O ye lychtynghes and cloudes, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set him
 up for euer.

O lette the earth speake good of the Lorde, yea lette it prayse hym, and set hym
 up for euer.

O ye mountaynes and hilles, speake good of the Lord: praise hym, and set hym
 up for euer.

O al ye grene thynges vpon the earth, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and
 set hym up for euer.

O ye welles, speake good of the Lorde:
 prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye seas and foudes, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym and set hym up for euer.

O ye myles & al that is in the waters, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym
 and set hym up for euer.

O al ye fowles of the ayre, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and sette hym up
 for euer.

O al ye bestes and cattel, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and sette hym up
 for euer.

O ye chyldre of men, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O let Israel speake good of the Lorde:
 prayse hym, and set hym up for euer.

O ye prynces of the Lord, speake good of the Lord, praise him, & set him up for euer.

O ye seruantes of the Lorde, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym
 up for euer.

Psal. cxlii. a.
cxliii. a. 1.
cxliii. b.
Apoc. xii. a.

The story of Susanna.

O ye spirites and soules of the righteous speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, & set
 hym up for euer.

O ye holy and blyble men of here, speake ye good of the Lorde: praise ye hym, and set hym up for euer.

O Ananias. Azarias, & Mysael, speake ye good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym up for euer. Whiche hath deliuered vs from the hel, kept vs from the hande of death, tydde vs from the myddel of the burnynge fyre, and saued vs euen in the myddel of the fyre. O geue thanks there:
 Iere. xx. c.
 Psal. cxv. a.
 and. cxi.

O al deuout mē, speake good of þe Lord,
 euen the God of all Gods: O prayse hym, and geue hym thanks for hys mercede endureth world without ende.

The story of Susanna, whiche is the. xiiij. Chapter of Daniel, after the Laryne.

Here dwelt a mē in Bablon, called Jo-
 achym, that tooke a
 wyfe, whose name
 was Susanna, the daughter of Belshiz-
 ab, a very sapie wo-mā, and such one as feared God. Her father and mother also were godly people, & taught their daughter accordyng to þe law of Moyses. Some Joachim her husbāde was a great rych man and had a fayre orchard lounyng vnto hys house. And to him resorted the Jewes communly, because he was a man of reputation amonge them.

The same yere wher they made two iudges,
 such as the Lord speakech of: Al the wickednes of Babilō, cometh fro the elders (that
 is) fro the iudges, whiche come to rule the people. These came oft to Joachims house and al such as had any thyng to do in the law came thither vnto them.

Now when the people came agayne after noone, Susanna went into her husbā-
 des orcharde, to walke. The elders sepyng this, that she went in dayly, & walked, they burned for luste to her, yea, they were almost out of thei wytes, & cast down thei eyes, that they shuld not se beauen, nor remember that God is a righteous iudge. For they wer both welled with þe loue of her, neither durst one shew another hys grefe.
 And for shame they durst not tel her thei inordinatē lust that they would faine haue had to do wyth her. Yea they layd wayte
 for her earnestly fro day to day, that they might (at þe lest) haue a sight of her. And þe one said to another: Wo, let vs go home, for it is dinner tyme. So they went thei way from her. When they turned agayne, they came together enquyryng oute the matter betwixt them selues: yea, the one tolde
 the

the order of hys wycked lust. The appoynted they a tyme when they myghte take Susanna alone.

Et ha ppened also, that they spred oute a conuenient tyme, when she wente forth to walke (as her maner was) and no body wryth her, but two maidens, & thoughte to walsh her selfe in the garden, for it was an hore season: And ther was not one person there, except the two eldres, that had hys them selves, to beholde her. So she said to her maydens: go for me oyle and sope and shut the orcharde doore, that I maye washe me. And they dyd as she had them, and shut the orchard doore, and wente oute the selfes at a backe doore, to set the thynge that she had commaunded: but Susanna knew not þ the eldres laye ther hid wryth in. Nowe when the maydens were gone forth, the two eldres gat them vp: & canne vpon her, saying: nowe the orcharde doores are shut, that no man can se vs, we haue a lust vnto the, therfore consent vnto vs, and lye wryth vs.

If thou wylt not, we shal bypunge a testimental agaynst the: that ther was a yong felow wryth the, & that þ hast sent away thy maydens from the for the same cause. Susanna soughed, and sayde: Alas, I am in trouble oueuer I spe. Though I folow poure mynde, it wyl be my deathe: and if I consente vnto you, I canne not escape poure bandes. Well, it is better for me too falle into poure hande wrythout þ deede doyng, the to synne in the syghte of the Lorde, and wryth that she cryed oure wryth a loude voyce: the eldres also cryed out agaynst her.

Then ran there one to þ orcharde doore, and smote it open. Nowe when the seruantes of the house herde the crye in the orcharde they rushed in at the backe doore to se what the matter was. So when the eldres told them, the seruantes were greatly ashamed: for whye there was neuer suche reporte made of Susanna. On the morow after came the people to Joachim her houschande, and the two eldres came also, full of mischeuous imagynacions agaynst Susanna, to bypunge her vnto deathe, and spake thus before the people: Sende for Susanna the daughter of Helkias, Joachims wyfe. And immediatly they sent for her. So she came wryth her father and mother, her chyldren and all her kintred. Nowe Susanna was a tender personne, and maruelous faire of face. Therefore the wycked men commaunded to take the clothes fro her face (for she was couered) that at the leaste they myght so be satisfied in her betwix. The her scoldes, yea, & al they that knew her, beganne to wepe.

These two eldres stode vp in the mydd of the people, and layed they bandes vpon the heade of Susanna, whiche wayte, and loked so toward heauen, for her hert hadde a sure truste in the Lorde. And the eldres sayed: As we were walkyng in the orcharde alone, this woman came in wryth her two maydens: whome she sent away from her, and spaired the orchard doores. Wryth that, a yong felow (whiche there was byd) came vnto her, and laye wryth her. As for vs, we stode in a corner of the orcharde. And when we sawe this wyckednes, we ranne to her, and perceyved, that they had medled together. But we coude not holde hym, for he was stronge then we: & thus he opened the doore, and gat hym away. Nowe when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong felow this was, but she would not tel vs. This is the matter, and we be wytnesses of the same. The comite sothe beleued the as those that were eldres and iudges of þ people, and so they condempned her to deathe. Susanna cryed out wryth a loude voyce, & sayed. O euell thinge God, thou seercher of secretes, thou that knowest all thynges afore they come to pass, thou wotest that they haue borne false witness against me: and beholde. I muste dye, where as I neuer dyd anre suche thynges, as these men haue malicously inuented agaynst me. And the Lorde herde her voyce. For whil she was ledde forth to deathe, the Lorde rased vp þ spryte of a yong chyld, whose name was Daniel whiche cryed wryth a loude voyce: I am cleane from this bloud. And all the people turned then toward hym, and sayed. What meane these words, that thou hast spoken? Danuell stode in þ myddeste of the and sayed: Are ye suche foolles, O ye chyldren of Israel, that ye cannot discern? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Israel vnto deathe, and knowe not the treuth therfore: So lye on iudgements agayne, for they haue spoken false witness agaynst her.

Wherefore the people turned agayne in all the haste. And the eldres (that is, the principall beades) sayed vnto hym: come sit downe here amonge vs, and heere vs this matter, seynge God hath geuen the as greate honoure as an eldres. And Danuell sayde vnto the: But these two aske one from another, and then shall I heare them. When they were put a sinder one from another, he called one of the and said vnto hym: O thou olde cankered racle, that hast vied thy wyckednes so long, thyne vnglacious deedes whiche thou hast done afore, are nowe come to lpyght. For þ hast geuen false iudgements, thou hast oppressed the innocente, and letten the grete good fre, wher as yet the Lorde saith: The innocent and ryghteous se thou save nor. Well thā, if thou hast sene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them talchyng together? He answered: Vnder a myghty berpe tree. And Daniel sayde: verye well, now thou iweste euen vpon thyne heade. So the messenger of the Lorde barke receyued the sentence of hym, to cut the in two.

Exk. xiii. Then

the order of hys wycked lust. The appoynted they a tyme when they myghte take Susanna alone.

Et ha ppened also, that they spred oute a conuenient tyme, when she wente forth to walke (as her maner was) and no body wryth her, but two maidens, & thoughte to walsh her selfe in the garden, for it was an hore season: And ther was not one person there, except the two eldres, that had hys them selves, to beholde her. So she said to her maydens: go for me oyle and sope and shut the orcharde doore, that I maye washe me. And they dyd as she bad them, and shut the orchard doore, and wente oute the selfes at a backe doore, to set the thynge that she had commaunded: but Susanna knew not þ the eldres laye ther hid wryth in. Nowe when the maydens were gone forth, the two eldres gat them vp: & canne vpon her, saying: nowe the orcharde doores are shut, that no man can se vs, we haue a lust vnto the, therfore consent vnto vs, and lye wryth vs.

If thou wylt not, we shal bypunge a testimental agaynst the: that ther was a yong felow wryth the, & that þ hast sent away thy maydens from the for the same cause. Susanna soughed, and sayde: Alas, I am in trouble oueuer I spe. Though I folow poure mynde, it wyl be my deathe: and if I consente vnto you, I canne not escape poure handes. Well, it is better for me too falle into poure hande wrythout þ deede doyng, the to synne in the syghte of the Lorde, and wryth that she cryed oure wryth a loude voyce: the eldres also cryed out agaynst her.

Then ran there one to þ orcharde doore, and smote it open. Nowe when the seruantes of the house herde the crye in the orcharde they rushed in at the backe doore to se what the matter was. So when the eldres told them, the seruantes were greatly ashamed: for whye there was neuer suche reporte made of Susanna. On the morow after came the people to Joachim her houschande, and the two eldres came also, full of mischeuous imagynacions agaynst Susanna, to bypunge her vnto deathe, and spake thus before the people: Sende for Susanna the daughter of Helkias, Joachims wyfe. And immediatly they sent for her. So she came wryth her father and mother, her chyldren and all her kynred. Nowe Susanna was a tender personne, and maruelous faire of face. Therefore the wycked men commaunded to take the clothes fro her face (for she was couered) that at the leaste they myght so be satisfied in her betwix. The her scoldes, yea, & al they that knew her, beganne to wepe.

These two eldres stode vp in the mydd of the people, and layed theyr handes vpon the heade of Susanna, whiche wayte, and loked so toward heauen, for her hert hadde a sure truste in the Lorde. And the eldres sayed: As we were walkyng in the orcharde alone, this woman came in wryth her two maydens: whome she sent away from her, and spaired the orchard doores. Wryth that, a yong felow (whiche there was by) came vnto her, and laye wryth her. As for vs, we stode in a corner of the orcharde. And when we sawe this wyckednes, we ranne to her, and perceyved, that they had medled together. But we coude not holde hym, for he was stronge then we: & thus he opened the doore, and gat hym away. Nowe when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong felow this was, but she would not tel vs. This is the matter, and we be wytnesses of the same. The comite sothe beleued the as those that were eldres and iudges of þ people, and so they condempned her to deathe. Susanna cryed out wryth a loude voyce, & sayed. O euell thinge God, thou seercher of secretes, thou that knowest all thynges afore they come to pass, thou wotest that they haue borne false witness against me: and beholde. I muste dye, where as I neuer dyd anre suche thynges, as these men haue malicously inuented agaynst me. And the Lorde herde her voyce. For whil she was ledde forth to deathe, the Lorde rased vp þ spryte of a yong chyld, whose name was Daniel whiche cryed wryth a loude voyce: I am cleane from this bloud. Then all the people turned them toward hym, and sayed. What meane these words, that thou hast spoken? Danuell stode in þ myddeste of the and sayed: Are ye suche foolles, O ye chyldren of Israel, that ye cannot discern? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Israel vnto deathe, and knowe not the treuth therfore: So lye on iudgements agayne, for they haue spoken false witness agaynst her.

Wherfore the people turned agayne in all the haste. And the eldres (that is, the principall beades) sayed vnto hym: come sit downe here amonge vs, and heare vs this matter, seynge God hath geuen the as greate honoure as an eldres. And Danuell sayde vnto the: But these two aske one from another, and then shall I heare them. When they were put a sinder one from another, he called one of the and said vnto hym: O thou olde cankered racle, that hast vsed thy wyckednes so long, thyne vngacious deedes whiche thou haste done afore, are nowe come to lyght. For þ haste geuen false iudgements, thou haste oppressed the innocente, and letten the grete good fre, wher as yet the Lorde saith: The innocent and ryghteous se thou save nor. Well thā, if thou haste sene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them talchyng together? He answered: Vnder a myghty berpe tree. And Daniel sayde: verye well, now thou iweste euen vpon thyne heade. So the messenger of the Lorde barke receyued the sentence of hym, to cut the in two.

Ih. xiii. Then

The story of Bel.

Then put he hym aspyde, and called for the orther and sayde unto hym: O thou sede of Canaan, but not of Juda: fayrenesse hath disceyved the, & luste hath subverted thine herte. Thus dealt ye afore wth þe daughter of Israel, and they (for feare) consented unto you: but the daughter of Juda wold not abyde your wickednesse. Now tel me than under what tree dydest thou take them, speakinge together? He answered: Under a pomegranat tre. Then sayd Daniell unto hym: Verie well, nowe thou make also even upon thine head. The mefenger of the kinde standeth way: yuge wth the sword to cut the in two, and so slay you both.

With that, al the whole multitude gaue a greate shout, and prayd God, wthche alwaie beliveth in that our fater crulle in hym. And then came upon the two elders (whome Daniell had convyct wth their owne mounthe: that they had geuen false wytnesse) and dealt wth them, even lyke wyle as they shoulde have done wth their neighbours: yea, they dyd accordyng to the lawe of Moyses, and put the to deathe. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.

Then Belchias and his wyfe prayd God, for their daughter Susanna, wth Joachim her housbande, and all the knyghtes: that there was no dishoneste launde there, from that daye furthe was Daniel had in greate reputation in the cytye of the people.

The ende of the storye of Susanna.

The storye of Bel, & the Dragon, whiche is the.xliii. Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

Behold was at Babilon an image, called Bel: and there were s. lxx. vpon hym every day, xli. cakes and .xl. shepe, and s. lxx. great portes of wine. Hym dyd the kinge worship hym selfe, and wente dayly to honoure hym: but Daniell was hapyed bys owne God. And the kynge sayd unto hym: Why dost thou not worship Bel? He answered and sayd: Because I maye not nor worshippe thynges that be in the woth hysdes, but I praye God whiche is in the heave and earth, hath power vpon al the be. The kinge sayd unto hym: thynkest thou not that Bel is a lypage God? Or seest thou not howe muche he eateth and drinketh euery day? Daniell smiled, and sayd: O kynge deceyue not thy selfe: this is but made of clay wth chym, & of metal wythout, neyther eateth he euer any thyng.

Then the kinge was wroth, and called for his prestes, and sayd unto them: If ye tell me not to whom this is, that eateth vpon these expenses, ye shall dye: but if ye can certifie me þe Bel eateth them, then Daniell shall dye, for he hath spoken blasphemie agaynst Bel. And Daniell sayd unto the kynge: let it so be, accordyng as thou hast sayd. The prestes of Bel were .lxx. helpe they wyues and children. And the kinge wente wth Daniell into the temple of Bel. So Bel's prestes sayd: Lo: we wyl go oure, and set thou the meate there (O kynge) and pour in the wyne: then shut the doore fast and seall it wth thine owne signet: and to morowe when thou comest in, if thou spydest not that Bel hath eaten vpon al we wyl suffer deathe or else Daniell, & haue lordship vpon us. The prestes thoughte them selues sure ynoughe, for vnder the aulter they hadde made a prentz entrance, and there wente they in euer, & care vpon what there was.

So whil they were gone forthe the kinge set meates before Bel. Nowe Daniell had commaunded his seruantes to bringe a bes, and these he sited thorow oute all the temple, that the kyng myght se. Then went they oure, & sated the dyne, sealing it wth the kynges signet, and so departed. In the nyghte came the prestes wth their wyues and children: as they were wonte to do) and ate and dronke vpon all. In the morninge betimes at the breake of the daye, the kynge arose, and Daniell trow hym. And the kyng sayd: Daniell, are the scales whole yet? He answered yea, O kynge they be whole. Nowe as sone as he had opened the doore, the kyng looked vnto the aulter, & cryed wth a loud voice: Great art thou O Bel, and woth the is no deceit. Then laughed Daniell, and held the kyng þe shoulde not do in, & sayd: Beholde the pavement, mark well whose footesteps are these? The kyng said: I se þe footesteps of men, women and children.

Therefore the kyng was angry, & toke the prestes, wth their wyues & children, & they shewed hym the pryuy dores, wher they came in and eat vpon suche thynges as were on the aulter. For þe whiche cause the kyng flew to the, & deliuered Bel into Daniell's power, whiche destroyed hym & his temple. And in that same place there was a greate Dragon, whiche they of Babilon worshipped. And the kyng sayd vnto Daniell: sayst þe that this is but a God of metall & clay? lo: he hath eaten and dronken: so that thou canst not save, that he is no lypage God, therefore worshippe hym. Daniell sayd vnto the kyng: I wyl worshippe the Lorde my God, he psal. xlii. a.

Deut. xli. d
Deut. xli. a.

Is Isid. xli. a.

Isid. xli. a.

D

Isid. xli. a.
Isid. xli. a.
Isid. xli. a.

Deut. xli. d
and. v. a.
Exo. x. a.
Deut. vi. d
math. xli. a.

Is

The story of Bel.

Then put he hym aspyde, and called for the orher and sayde unto hym: O thou sede of Canaan, but not of Juda: fayrenesse hath disceyved the, & luste hath subverted thine herre. Thus dealt ye afore wth þ haughters of Israel, and they (for feare) consented unto you: but the daughter of Juda wold not abyde your wickednesse. Now tell me than under what tree dydest thou take them, speakinge together? He answered: Under a pomegranat tre. Then sayd Danuell unto hym: Verie well, now thou make also even upon thine head. The messenger of the Roie standeth wthynge wth the sword to cut the in two, and to slay you both.

With that, al the whole multitude gaue a greate shout, and prayfed God, wthche almate deliuered us that we toke truste in hym. And then came upon the two elders (whome Danuell had conuertyd wth theri owne mynde: that they had geuen falle wythnesse) and deale wth them, even lyke wyle as they shoulde haue done wth theri neyghbours: yea, they dyd accord-ynge to the lawe of Moyses, and put the to deathe. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

Then Belshazzar and his wyfe prayfed
God, for theri daughter Susanna, wth Joachim her housbande, and all the knytes: that there was no dishoneste sounde there, from that daye furthe was Daniel hath in greate reputation in the sytye of the people.

The ende of the storye of Susanna.

The storye of Bel, & the Dragon, whiche is the.xiii. Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

Here was at Babilon an im-mage, called Bel: and ther
were s. lxx. vy-
on hym euery
day, xli. cakes
and .xl. shepe,
and s. lxx. great porters of wine
hym drd the kinge woth by

hym selfe, and wente daylye to honoure hym: but Danuell wth byp. ed his owne God. And the kynge sayed vnto hym: Why dost thou not worshyp Bel? He answered and sayed: Because I maye not nor shyppe thynges that be in the woth hydes, but ye praynge God whiche is in the heauen and earth, hath p. o. u. on al the be. The kinge sayed vnto hym: thynkest thou not that Bel is a praynge God? Or seest thou

The.xiii. Chapter.

not howe muche he eateth and draketh euery daye? Danuell smiled, and sayed: O kynge deceyue not thy selfe: this is but made of clay wth wyne, & of metall wthout, neither eateth he euery thyng.

Then the kinge was woth, and called for his prestes, and sayed vnto them: If ye tell me not to whom this is, that eateth up these expenses, ye shall dye: but if ye can certifie me þ Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall dye, for he hath spoken blasphemie agaynst Bel. And Daniel sayed vnto the kynge: let it so be, accordynge as thou hast sayed. The prestes of Bel were .lxx. helfe they wyues and children. And the kinge wente wth Danuell into the temple of Bel. So Bel's prestes sayed: Lo: we wyl go oure, and set thou the meate there (O kynge) and pour in the wyne: then shut the doore fast and seall it wth thine owne signet: and to morowe when thou comest in, yf thou spydest not that Bel hath eaten vp al we wyl suffer deathe or else Daniel, & haue lord upon us. The prestes thoughte them selues sure ynoughe, for vnder the aulter they hadde made a prent intraunce, and there wente they in euery daye vnto what there was.

So whil they were gone forthe the king set meates before Bel. Nowe Daniel had commaunded his seruantes to bringe a bes, and these he sited thorow oute all the temple, that the kynge myght se. Then went they oure, & sated the wyne, sealing it wth the kynges signet, and so departed. In the nyghte came the prestes wth theri wyues and children: as they were wont to do) and eate and dronke vp all.
In the morninge betimes at the breake of the daye, the kynge arose, and Daniell told hym. And the kynge sayd: Daniel, are the scales whole yet? He answered yea, O kynge they be whole. Nowe as sone as he had opened the doore, the kynge looked vnto the aulter, & cryed wth a loud voyce: Great art thou O Bel, and woth the is no deceit. Then laughed Daniel, and held the kynge þ he shoulde not do so, & sayed: Beholde the pavement, mark well whose foetsteps are these? The kynge said: I se þ foetsteps of men, women and children.

Therefore the kinge was angry, & toke the prestes, wth theri wyues & children, & they shewed hym the pryuy doore, wher they came in and eat vp suche thynges as were on the aulter. For þ whiche cause the kinge knew the prestes deliuered Bel into Daniel's power, whiche destroyed hym & his temple. And in that same place there was a greate Dragon, whiche they of Babilon worshipped. And the kynge sayed vnto Daniel: sayst thou that this is but a God of metall & clay? lo: he hath eaten and dronken: so that thou canst not save, that he is no hyman God, therefore worshype hym. Daniel sayd vnto the kynge: I wyl worshype the Lo:be my God, he
is

psal. xlii. a.

Deut. xli. d
Deut. xli. a.

Is
& ed. xli. a.

Is
& ed. xli. a.

D

Is
& ed. xli. a.
Is
& ed. xli. a.

Deut. xli. d
and. v. a.
Ero. x. a.
Deut. vi. d.
math. xli. a.

is the true kynge God: as for this, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kynge) and I shall destroye this Dragon withoute swerde or staf. The kynge sayed: I geue þe leaue. Then Danyell toke pitch, fat and heatey woll, and byd set the together, and made lompes therof: this he putte in the Dragons mouth, & so the Dragon brake in sunder: and Daniel sayed: lo, there is he whome ye worshipped. When they of Babylon hearde þe, they toke great indignation, and gathered the together agaynste the kynge, sayinge: The kynge is become a Jew also, he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slayne the Dragon, and put the priestes to deathe. So they came to the kynge, and sayd: let vs haue Daniell, or els we wyl destroye the and thine house. Now when the kynge sawe that they rushed in so sore vpon hym, & that necessity constrained hym he deliuered Daniel vnto the: which cast hym in to the Lyons den, wher he was. vii. dayes. In the den ther wer seven Lions, and they had geuen the euery day two bodies and two shepe: whych then were not geuen then, þe they might deuour Daniell.

There was in Jewye a Prophet called Abachuch, whych had made porage & broken breade in a deepe platree, and was gorynge into the selde, for to brynge it to þe moynes. But the aungel of the Lord saied vnto Abachuch: go carpe the meate þe thou haste into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whych is in the Lyons den. And Abachuch sayed: Lord, I neuer saw Babylon: and as for þe denne, I knowe it not. Then the aungel of the Lord toke hym by the toppe, and bare hym by the herte of the head, and (choyng a myghtie wynde) set him in Babilon vpon þe den. And Abachuch cryed, sayinge: O Daniel thou seruante of God, haue, take the breakfast þe God hath sent the. And Daniel sayd: O God, hast thou thought vpon me? wel, thou neuer saydest them that loue the. So Daniel arose and eat: and the aungell of the Lord set Abachuch in hys owne place agayne immediatlye.

Upon the seventh day, the kynge went to beweepe Daniell: and wher he cam to the denne, he looked in: and behoulde, Daniel sate in the mydd of the Lyons. Then cryed the kynge with a loud voice, sayinge: Great arte thou, O Lord God of Daniel: and be drewe hym oute of the denne. As for those that wet þe cause of his destruction, he byd cast them into the den, and they were deuoured in a moment before hys face.

After this wrote the kynge vnto al people, knyghtes and tounes, that dwelte in al countreys, sayinge: peace be multiplied with you. My commaundement is, in all the dominion of my realm, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God, for he is the living God whych endureth ever: his kyngdome abydeth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting. It is he that can helpe and saue: he dothe wonders and mar-uelous workes in heauen and earth, for he hath saued Daniell from the power of the Lyon.

The ende of the Booke of Bell.

The prayer of Danieſh kynge of Iuda when he was holden captiue in Babilon.

Lord almyghtie, god of oure fathers, Abrahā, Isaac, and Jacob, and of the ryghteous seeds of them: whyche haste made heauen & earth, with all the ornamēt thereof, whych hast ordeyned the sea by the worde of thy commaundement: whych hast shure vp the depe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull & laudable name, whych al men feare, & reuerence before the face of thy verue, and for þe anger of thy threatnyng, the whych is impossible to sinners.

But the mercie of thy promys is greate and vnsearchable: for thou arte the Lord god most hygh, aboue all the earth, long sufferynge, and exceeding merciful, and repentant for the malice of me. Thou Lord after thy goodnes hast prompted repentance for the remission of synnes: and thou that arte the God of the ryghteous, hast not put repentance to the ryghteous Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, vnto them that haue not sinned agaynste the: But because I haue sinned aboue the nūber of the sandes of the sea, & that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am humbled with many bandes of yron, and there is in me no breathynge. I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euil before the incommensurable abhominacions and multiplying offences. And now I bow the knees of my herte, requyringe goodnes of the O Lord: I haue sinned, Lord I haue sinned, and knowe mine iniquitie. I beseeche the by prayer, O Lord forgeue me: forgeue me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember myne euilles to punishe them, but saue me (whych am unworthy) after thy greete mercie: and I wyl prayse þe euerlastinglye, al the dayes of my lyfe: for all the verue of heauen prayseth the, and vnto þe belongeth glorie world withoute ende.

Thy

Dani. vi. c.

Dani. vi. c.

Eccl. viii. a.

Eccl. viii. a.

Jer. xlviii. b.
Eccl. viii. b.
Dani. vi. c.

Dani. vi. c.

Luke. i. b.

Eccl. xlviii. b.

Eccl. xlviii. b.

is the true kynge God: as for this, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kynge) and I shall destroye this Diagon withoute swerde or staf. The kynge ſayed: I geue ſleaue. Then Danyell toke pyrche, ſat and heatey woll, and dyd ſet the together, and made lompes therof: this he putte in the Dragons mouth, ſo the Diagon brake in ſunder: and Daniel ſayed: lo, there is he whome ye worſhipped. When they of Babylon hearde ſ, they toke great indignation, and gathered the together againſte the kynge, ſayinge: The kynge is become a Jew alſo, he hath deſtroyed Bel, he hath ſlayne the Dragon, and put the pyrches to deathe. So they came to the kynge, and ſayd: let vs have Daniell, or els we wyl deſtroye the and thine houſe. Now when the kynge ſawe that they ruſhed in ſo ſore vpon hym, & that neceſſite conſtrained hym he deliuered Daniel vnto the: which caſt hym in to the Lyons den, wher he was.
vi. dayes. In the den ther wer ſeuē Lyons, and they had geuen the euery day two bodyes and two ſhepe: which then were not geuen then, ſ they might deuour Daniell.

There was in Jewrye a Prophet called Abachuch, whiche had made porage & broken breade in a deepe platree, and was gorynge into the ſelde, for to brynge it to ſ mothers. But the aungel of the Lord ſaid vnto Abachuch: go carpe the meate ſ thou haſte into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whiche is in the Lyons den. And Abachuch ſayed: Lorde, I neuer ſaw Babylon: and as for ſ denne, I knowe it not. Then the aungel of the Lorde toke hym by the toppe, and bare hym by the hette of the head, and (choyſing a myghtie wynde) ſet him in Babilon vpon ſ den. And Abachuch cryed, ſayinge: O Daniel thou ſeruaunte of God, haue, take the breakfaſt ſ God hath ſent the. And Daniel ſayd: O God, haſt thou thought vpon me: wel, thou neuer ſaydeſt them that loue the. So Daniel aroſe and eat: and the agell of the Lord ſet Abachuch in hys owne place agayne immediatlye.

Upon the ſeuente day, the kynge went to bewepe Daniell: and whē he cam to the denne, he looked in: and behoulde, Daniel ſate in the mydd of the Lyons. Then cryed the kynge with a loud voice, ſaying: Great arte thou, O Lorde God of Daniel: and bedeme hym out of the denne. As for thoſe that met ſ the uſe of hys deſtruction, he dyd caſt them into the den, and they were de-uoured in a moment before hys face.

After this wrote the kynge vnto al people, knyghtes and tounes, that dwelte in al countreyes, ſayinge: peace be multiplied with you. My commaundement is, in all the dominion of my realm, that men feare and ſtand in awe of Daniels God, for he is the livinge God which endureth ever: his kingdome abydeth vncorrupt, and his oower is euerlaſting. It is he that can deſpace and ſaue: he dothe wonders and ma-
-

nelous workes in heauen and earth, for he hath ſaued Daniell from the power of the Lyon.
Lions.

The ende of the Booke of Bell.

The prayer of Danieſh kynge of Iuda when he was holden captiue in Babilon.

Lorde almyghty
re, god of our fathers, Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, and of the cryghreous
ſeede of them:
whiche haſte
made heauen & earth, with all the ornamēt thereof, which

haſte ordeyned the ſea by the worde of thy commādemēt: which haſt ſhurte vp the depe, and haſte ſealed it for thy ſcarefull & laudable name, whiche al men feare, & re-ſpect before the face of thy verue, and for ſ anger of thy threatnyng, the which is im-poſſible to ſumers.

But the mercye of thy promiſe is greate and unſearchable: for thou arte the Lorde god moſt hygh, aboue all the earth, long ſufferynge, and exceeding merciful, and repentant for the malice of me. Thou Lord after thy goodnes haſte prompſed repentance for the remiſſion of ſinnes: and thou that arte the God of the cryghreous, haſt not put repentance to the cryghreous Abram, Iſaac and Jacob, vnto them that haue not ſinned agaynſte the: But becauſe I haue ſinned aboue the nūber of the ſan-des of the ſea, & that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am humbled with manye bandes of yron, and there is in me no breasthyng. I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euil before the incommytynge abominaciōs and multiplying offences.
And now I bow the knees of my hert, requyringe goodnes of the O Lorde: I haue ſynned, Lorde I haue ſynned, and knowe mine iniquitie. I deſyre the by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me: forgeue me, and deſtroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember myne euils les to puniſhe them, but ſaue me (whiche am unworthy) after thy greate mercye: and I wyl prayſe ſ euerlaſtinge lyfe, al the dayes of my lyfe: for all the ver-
tue of heauen
prayſeth the,
and vnto ſ belō-
geth
glorie world
withoute ende.

Hand. vol. c.

DE 16 0311.0.

Ver. 251611,

Don. v. c.

Firstly,

May, 1911

b.

De, ridd.

The end of the Ropy of Bell.

holden captive in Babylon.

Lorde almyghty
 tie, god of oure fathers, Abrahā, Isaac, and Iacob, and of the ryghteous
 seeds of them:
 wherby haste
 made heauen & earth, wyth all the oznamēt
 thereof, wherby

thou alwayes remember myne euell-les to punishe them, but saue me (whiche am unworthy) after thy greate mercye: and I my prayse þe euerclastinge lyfe, al the dayes of my lyfe: for all the verna-
tue of heauen
praiseth the,
and unto þe belō-
geth
glorie world
wthoute ende.

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

After the death of Alexander the kynge of Macedonia, Antiochus taketh the kingdome. Some of the children of Israel make couenaunte with the Gentiles. Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Ierusalem vnto his domination. Ierusalem beinge burnt maketh lawes of her owne, and forbyddeth to kepe goddes lawes. Antiochus setteth vp an Idoll ouer the altier of God.

After that Alexander the sonne of Philippe, kynge of Macedonia wēt south of the lande of Cechum, and slew Darius kynge of the Persians & Macedes: It happened, that he toke great warres in had, wan very many strong cityes, & slew manye kynges of the earth, goinge thowtwe to the endes of the worlde, and gettinge manye spoiles of the people: In so muche that the worlde stode in great awe of hym, and therefore was he proude in his herte. Nowe when he had gathered a myghty strong host, and subdued the landes and people with chey prynces, so that they became tributaries vnto hym: he fell sicke. And when he perceyued that he must needs dye, he cal'ed for his noble estates (whiche hadde bene broughte vp with hym of children) and parted his kyngdom among the, whyle he was yet a lyue. So alexander raigned. xlii. yere, and then dyed. After his death fell the kyngedome vnto his prynces, & they obeyned it euery one in his tyme, & caused them selues to be crowned as kynges: and so dyd they children after them many yeres, and muche wickednes increased in the worlde. Out of these came the vngacious roie, noble Antiochus the sonne of Antiochus & kynge * (whiche had bene a pledge at Rome) and he raigned in the. C. xxviii. yere of the raigne of the Grekes.

In these daies went thre orie of Israel wicked men, whiche moued muche people with them, sayinge: * Let vs go and make a couenaunte with the heathen that are rounde aboute vs: * for since we departed from the, we haue had muche sorrowe. So this deuice pleased the well and certayne of the people toke vpon them for to go vnto the kynge, whiche gaue the licence to do after the ordinance of & heathen. The sekeren * by an open scholl (at Ierusalem) of the labors of the heathen, and were no more circumsised: but forsoke & holy Testament, and loosed the selues to & heathen, * & were clean sold to do mischefe.

So when Antiochus began to be mighty in his kyngdom he went aboute to obeyn the land of Egypte also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes. Upon this entred he into Egypte with a strong host, with chariottes, Elephanres, horsemen & a great number of hyss, & began to warre agaynst Ptolome the kynge of Egypte. But Ptolome was afrayed of hym, and fled, & manye of his people were wounded to deathe. Thus Antiochus wan many stronge cityes, and toke away great good oute of the land of Egypte.

2. Chapter.

And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypte, * he turned agayn in the. C. lxxi. yere, and went toward Israel: & came by to Ierusalem with a myghty people: & entred proudly into the Sanctuare, and toke away the golden altier, the candell sticke, and all the ornaumes therof, the table of the shewbread, the pouring vessel, the chargers, the golden spoons, the vail, the crownes, and golden apparell of the temple, and brake down al. He toke al so the siluer and gold, the precious Jewels and the secret treasures that he founde. And when he had taken away altogether, caused a great myrther of men, and so fulfilled his malicious pryde, he departed into his owne lode. Thus ther arose great heynes and mysery in all the land of Israel. The prynces and the elders of & people mourned, the yong men & the maidens were defiled, and the laye beuty of womē was chaunged: the bydgrom & the byde toke them to mourning: the land & those that dwelt therein, was moued: for all the house of Jacob was brought to confusid.

* After two yeres the kynge sent his chiefe treasures vnto the cyties of Iuda, whiche came to Ierusalem with a great multitude of people, speakinge peaceable wordes vnto them, but all was deceite: * for when they had geuen hym tribute, he fell suddenly vpon the cytye, and smote it sure, and destroyed muche people of Israel. * And when he hadde spoiled the cytye, he set fyre on it, cast downe houses and walles on euery syde.

The women and they children toke they captiue, and led away they cattel. Then builded they the castell of David with a great and thicke wal, and with myghty towres, and made it a stronge holde for the. Beside al this they set wicked people and vngodly men to kepe it. Hoarded it w weapons and vitayles: gathered the goodes of Ierusalem, and layd them by ther: thus became it a thurke castell.

And this was done to laye waite for the people that wente into the Sanctuare, and for the cruell destruction of Israel. Thus they shed innocent bloude on euery syde of the sanctuare, and defyled it: In so muche & the cytyens were fayne to departe, and the cytye became an habitacon of straungers beinge desolate of her own febe: For her own natyues were fayne to leaue her. Her Sanctuare was cleane wasted, her * holy daies were turned into mourning, her Sabottes were had in derision,

ii. mach. v.

ii. mach. v. & That is, after that Helcus began to raign

ii. mach. v. & ii. mach. v. c.

ii. mach. vii. b

ii. mach. ii.

i. Mach. vi. a.

Judith. i. b

Josephus. Dani. vi. a. a. iud. viii. b.

i. Mach. viii. a.

Deu. vii. a. Iudi. ii. a. * Jer. xliii. a.

ii. mach. iiii. b.

iii. Reg. xii

Amos. viii.

Eobi. ii. b.

ryson, & her honoure brought to naught. None howe great her gloire was afore, so great was her confusion, and her hope turned into sorrow.

¶ Antiochus also the kynge sente oute a commission vnto all hys kyngedome, that all þe people shoulde be such. Then they lette euery man hys lawe, and all the heathen agreed to the commaundement of kynge Antiochus: Yea manie of the Israelites consented thereto, offeringe vnto Idoles, and despyng the Sabbath.

¶ Josephus in his antiquities of the Iewes Chap. vi. b.

¶ So the kynge Antiochus sent hys messengers with this commission to Ierusalem, and to all the cities of Iuda: þat they shoulde forsake the lawes of the heathen, & forsake ther burnt offering, meat offering, & peace offering to be made in the temple of God, and that there shoulde no Sabbath nor holy day be kept: but commaunded that the Sanctuary and the holpe people of Israel shoulde be defiled.

¶ He commaunded also that there shoulde be sette vp other altars, temples and Idoles, to offer vp swynes flethe and other uncleane beastes, that menne shoulde leaue their chyldre vncircumcised to defyle their soules with all manner of uncleannesse, & abominacion: that they myghte so forsake the law, and chaunge all the holy ordinances of God: and that whosoever shoulde not do accordinge to the commaundement of kynge Antiochus, shoulde suffer deathe. In lyke maner commaunded he thowme oute all hys realme, and sette rulers ouer the people, for to compele the to do these thynges, commaundyng the cyties of Iuda to do sacrifice vnto Idoles.

¶ Then went the people vnto the hearths by heapes, forsoke the lawe of the Lorde, & committed muche euell in the land: perchaunced oute the secret Israelites whiche had hid themselves in corners and priuy places. The. x. day of the moneth Gallie, in the. xlv. yere, set kynge Antiochus an abhominable Idoll of desolacion vpon the altare of God, and they builde altars thowme oute of the cities of Iuda on euery syde, before the doores of the houses, and in the stretes: wher they brente incense, & byd sacrifice.

¶ 1. Macc. x. b.

¶ And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they brent them in the fore, and rente them in peces. Whosoever he was that had a booke of the testamente of the Lorde, founde by hym, perchauncer endantered hym selfe to kepe the lawe of the Lorde, the kynge's commaundement was, that they shoulde put hym to deathe. And thowhys auctorite they executed these thynges euery monethe, vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the cyties.

¶ 1. Macc. vii. b.

¶ The thre and twente daye of the moneth what tyme as they byd sacrifice byd the altar (whych stode in stead of the altar of the Lorde) accordinge to the commaundement of kynge Antiochus, they put certeyn women to deathe, whiche had caused theyr chyldren to be circumcised: Not onely that, but they hanged vp the chyldren by þe neckes thowme oute all theyr houses, and sette the circumcisers of them.

¶ Yet were there manie of the people of Israel, whiche decremyned in them selues, that they woulde not eat uncleane thynges: but chose rather to suffer deathe, then to be defiled with uncleane meates. So because they woulde not breake the blessed lawe of God, they were cruellye slayne. And this greates crueltie increased verpe soze vpon the people of Israel.

The.ii. Chapter.

¶ The mourninge of Mathathias hys sonnes for the destruction of the holpe cytye. They refuse to do sacrifice vnto Idoles. The role of Mathathias for the law of god. They are slayne and wyl not fight agayne because of the Sabbath day. Mathathias dyng, commaundeth hys sonnes to styche by the wordes of god after the example of the fathers.

¶ In those dayes there byd stand vpon one Mathathias & sonne of Symeon the pyrelle (oute of the kyndred of Iodars) scd Ierusalem and dwelt vpon þe mount of Modin, & hadde. v. sonnes: Robn called Sada: Simon called Thasi, Judas otherwylle called Machabeus: Eleazer, otherwylle called Abarone: and Jonathan, whose sur name was Aphus. These same the euell that was done among the people of Iuda and Ierusalem, and Mathathias sayd: Wo is me, alas þeuer I was born, to se this myschance of my people, and the pitous destruction of the holpe cite, & thus to sit so still it being deliuered into þe handes of the enemies. Her Sanctuary is come in to the power of straungers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost hys good name. Her precious ornaments are caried aways captiue, her olde men are slayne in the stretes, and her yonge men are fallen thowme the sword of the enemyes.

¶ What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kyngdome? What hath not gotten some of her spoyle? Al her gloire is taken awaye. She was a Quene, & now she is become an handmayde. Beholde ouer Sanctuarye, ouer her temple and danoure is wasted a way, and defiled by þe Gentiles. What helpech it be then to lye? And Mathathias rent hys clothes he and hys sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned verpe soze.

¶ Then came the menne tother whiche were sente of kynge Antiochus, to compele such as were fled into the ctye of Modin, for to do sacrifice and to burn incense vnto Idoles, and to forsake þe lawe of God. So manie of the people of Israel consented and enclyned vnto them, but Mathathias and hys sonnes remayned stedfast. Then spake the commissioners of kynge Antiochus, ¶ Josephus in antiquities. the. xii. Chapter.

1. Mach. i. b.

13

The .i. booke of the Psalms.

Antiochus, & said vnto mathathiah: Thou art a noble man of thy reputation, & great in thy country, hauing many children and brethren. Come thou therefore quickly, and fulfill the kynges commandement, lyke as all the heathen haue done, yea and the men of Iuda and Iuche & sctemayne at Ierusalem: so shalt thou and thy children be in the kynges fauour, and enriched wth gold, syluer and greate rewards.

Actes. v. b. * Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voice: I thought all nations obeye the kyng Antiochus, and sal awaye euery man from keepinge the lawe of their fathers, though they consente to his com-mandements per myll I and my sonnes and my bretheren, nor fall from the lawe of oure fathers. God forbid we shoulde: that wee not good for vs that we shoulde forsake the lawe and ordinaunces of God, and to agree vnto the commandement of kyng Antiochus. Therefore we will do no suche sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our lawe * to go another way. And when he had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes to breche open in the sight of al byd sacrifice vnto the Idols, vpon the alter in the city of Molin, accordynge to the kynges commandement.

E When Mithathiah saie this, it gree-ued him at the herte, so that hys eynes were dryed up, and hys herte was troubled for herte zeale of the lawe. With that he gaue a shryue for the and killed the Jew besyde the altar: Yes, and stire the knyges the missioner, that compelled hym to do sacrifice and destroyed the altar at the same tyme: suche a zeale hadde he unto the lawe of God, * lyke as Phinehes dyd unto Je-hoyachin the sonne of Salomon. And Mithathiah cryed with a loud voyce throum the ctry, saying: Who so is setuent in the lawe, and wyl kepe the couenaunte, let hym folowe me. * So he and hys sonnes fled into the mountaynes and left al that ever they had in the ctry. Many other godly men also departed into the wilderness with their chyl dren, their wyues and their cattell, and remayned there: for the tyranny increased so sore upon them.

D Nowe when the kynges seruantes, and the host, whiche was at Ierusalem in the tyme of Dauid, herde that certayn men had broken the kynges commaundemente & were gone theryn waye to the wildernesse into the secrett places, and & ther wer many departed after the: they solomed vpon them to fight agaynst them in þ Sabbothe daye. and sayed: Wyl ye yet rebell? Gette you hence and do the commaun-dement of kynge Antiochus & ye shall lyue.
They answered: * We wil not go for the, neither wyl we do the kynges commaun-dement, to defile the Sabboth day. The began they to fight agaynst them, neuer-theles they gaue the none other answer, neither cast they one stone at the, nor made

The.ii.Chapter.

faste they priuie places, but fayed. We myf dre al in our innocente, heauen and earth that teftify myth vs, that ye put vs to deathe wrongouly. Thus they fought agaynft them vpon the Sabbath, & fclme boordemen and catrel. they wpyes & their chyldy, fo the nūbye of a thoufand people.

When Satharblah and his friends brede his, they mourned for them right fore, and sayed one to another: If so be we all do as our brethren haue done, and fghte not for our liues & for our names agaynst the heathen, then shall they the seuer roots be out of the arthe. So they concluded amonge them selves at the same tyme saying: Whatsoeuer be he that commeth to make backe apill wyth vs vpon the Sabbathe daye, we will fghte agaynst him, and not dye all, as our brethren that were murdered so hapnoure. Vpon this came the Synagog of Ierusalem vnto this stronge manne of Israel, all suche as were skilful in the lawe. And all they that were fled for persecution came to help the, and to stande by them: In so muche that they gathered an host of men, and them for to dore in their gelyuys. & the Ungodly men in their wythe. Some of the wicked fled vnto the heathen, and eschard.

Thus Asathathras and his frendes broke about, and deftored the auldres, & circumcised the children, that had not yet received circumcision. as manie as they found tothin the coastes of Escar: and so-loned mightily vpon the childre of virbe, and thre acte profetted in their handes:
In so much, that they kept f lam againe the power of the gentiles and the kinglys, and gave not ouer theyr dominion vnto my: ch doers.

After this when he came downe on fast that Methathab should dye, he sayd vnto his sonnes: Now is tribbe and persecutiō increased, now is the time of destruction & mortal displeasure: therefore (O my son nes) be ye secul in the late, and trope your selues for the Testament of the fa thers: cal to remembrance what aces our fathers dyd in their time, so shal ye receiue great honoure and an euerlastyng name.

Remember Abraham, was not he found faithfull in temptation, and it was rekened vnto hym for rightuousnes? * Joseph in time of his trouble kept the commandement, and was made a Lorde of Egypt,
* Whiche our father was so seruente for the honour of God, that he obtained the covenante of an everlastinge priesthode. * Iosue for fulfilling the worde of God was made the captaine of Israel.
Calde bare recorde before the congrega-cion, and receyued an herirage. Dauid also in his meekefull kindnes, obtained the throne of an everlastinge kingdome.

* Elrab being jealous and feruent in the law, was taken vp into heauen. Dananias, Gargas and Misael remained with

Gen. et al.
Gen. et al.
Gen. et al.

P. 1. 1. 1.
 m. 1. 1. 1.
 3. 1. 1. 1.
 P. 1. 1. 1.
 1. 1. 1. 1.

(14. re. H.C.
Exam. 11. *

Dant. vi. c. fast in faith, & were deliuered out of þe fire. In lyke maner Dauid beynge vngodlye, was saued from the mouthe of the Lyons.

Feb. xi. b. And thus ye may consider thorow oute all ages sence the world began, that whosoever put their trust in God, were not overcome. Feare not ye then the wordes of an vngodly man, for his gloire is but dong and wormes: to day is de set up, and to morow is he gone: for he is turned into earthe, and his memoriall is come to naught. Wherefore (O my sonnes) take good hertes vnto you, and quyte your selues lyke men in the lawe: for if ye do the thynges that are commaunded you in the lawe of the Lorde poure God, ye shall obtaigne greate honoure therein.

And beholde, I knowe that poure brother Simon is a man of wisdom: se that ye geue eare vnto hym alway, he shalbe a father vnto you. As for Judas Machabeus, he hath euer bene myghty and stronge from his yowth up: let hym be your captain, and order the batayle of the people, thus shal ye bring vnto you all those þat fauoure þe lawe, & se þe saluege the wronge of poure people, & recompence the heathen agayn, and apply your selues whole to þe commaundement of the lawe. So he gaue them his blessing, and was layed by his father: and dyed in the C. and. xliij. yere at Godin, wher his sonnes buryed hym in his fathers sepulchre, and all Israell made greate lamentacion for hym.

The.iiij.Chapter.

C Judas is made ruler ouer the Jewes. He killeth Appolonius and Seron the Prince of Syria. The confidence of Judas toward God. Judas determineth to fyghe agaynst Antiochus, whome Antiochus had made captain ouer his hoste. The prayer of the abseyntes.

Whe rode by Judas Machabeus in his fathers rede & all his brethren helped hym, & so dyd all they þe helde with his father, & foughte wth chearefulnesse for Israell. So Judas gat the people greate honoure: He put on a brestplate as a graunte, & armed hym selfe wth his harnesse, and descended the hille wth his swerde. In his actes he was lyke a Lion, and as a Lions whelp roaringe at his praye.

* He was an enemye to the wycked, & hunted them oute, and brent vp those that hered his people: So that his enemyes fledde for feare of hym, and all the workers of vngodlynes were put to trouble: suche lucke and prosperytie was in his hande. Thys greued dyuerse kynges, but Jacob was greatly reioysed thorow his acts, & he gat hym selfe a great name for euer.

He wote thorow þe cities of Juda, destroyinge the vngodlye oute of them, turninge awaye the wrath of Israell, & recompensinge suche as were oppressed: & the same of hym wote vnto þe bittermoste parte of the earth. * The Appolonius (a Prince of Syria) gathered a myghty great hoste of the heathen and oute of Samaria, to fight agaynst Israell. Whiche when Judas perceyued, he went forth to meete him, foughte wth hym, slew him, & a great multitude wth hym: the remnaite fled, and he toke their substauce. Judas also toke Appolonius own sword, & fought wth it all his life long. Now when Seron (another Prince of Syria) hearde saye that Judas hadde gathered vnto hym the congregation and church of the saythfull, he sayed: I will gette me a name and prayse thorow oute the realme: for I will go fyghe wth Judas and them that are wth hym as many as haue despyled the kynges commaundement. So he made hym readie, and there wote wth hym a great myghty host of the vngodly, to stand by hym, and to be auenged of the chyldren of Israell. And when they came nye vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth agaynst them wth a small company. And when his people sawe such an host before them, they sayed vnto Judas: How are we able, (being so fewe) to fyghe agaynst so great a multitude & so stronge, synge we be so weake, and haue fasted all this daye?

But Judas sayde: It is a smalle matter for many to be overcome wth fewe: for there is no difference to þe God of heauē, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company: * for the victorie of the battell stablisheth not in the multitude of the hoste, but the strength cometh from heauē. Beholde they come agaynst vs wth a presumptuous and proude multitude, to destroye vs, our wyues and our children, and to robbe vs. But we will fyghe for our liues, and for our lawes, and the Lorde hym selfe shal destroye them before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.

As sone as he had spoken these wordes, he leapt sodenlye vpon them. Thus was Seron smitten, and his host put to flight, and Judas folowed vpon them beyonde Bethoron vnto the plaine feld: wher they were slayne eight hundred men of the, & the residue fled into the lande of the phylistynes. The al the heathen on euery syde were afrayed for Judas and his brethren: so that the rumoure of hym came vnto the kynges eares, for all the Gentyles coulde telle of the warres of Judas.

So when kyng Antiochus heard these thynges, he was angrie in his mynde: wherefore he sente forth and gathered an hoste of his whole realme, very stronge armys: and opened his treasury, & gaue his host a yeres wages in hand, commaunding them to be ready at all tymes.

After this lette when he sawe that there was not moneye ynough in his treasury, and that thorow the discord and persecution, whiche he made in the lande (to put

LI. i. downe

Joseph. ca.
viii. c. li.
ii. Antiq.

ii. Mach.
viii. c.

The. i. booke of the Mach.

domine the lawes that hadde bene of olde tymes) bys customes and tributes of the law were minished, he feared that he was not able to beare the costes and charges any longer: nor to haue such gifts, to geue so liberally as he dyd afore, more then the kynges þat were before hym. * Wherefore he was heauy in bys mynde, and thought to goo into Idesides, for to take tributes of the land, and so to gather much mony.

1. mac. vi. a

1. mac. vi. c.

* So he left Eysias (a noble man of the kyngs bloude) to curesse the kyngs business, from the water Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt: and to kepe wel his sonne Antiochus, tyll he came agayne.

Moreover, he gaue vnto hym halfe of bys holic and Elephanes, & comyned vnto hym euery thinge of bys mynde, concerninge those whych dwelt in Iuda & Iherusalem: that he shoulde sende out an army agaynst them, to destroye and to rote out the power of Israel and the remnant of Iherusalem: to put out theyr memorial from that place to set straungers for to inhabyt al their quarters, and to part their lande amonge them. Thus the kyng toke the other parte of the hooite, and departed from Antioche (a cite of bys realme) ouer the water of Euphrates, in the hundredth and. xlii. yere, and went thowhe the bre countreys.

Joseph cap. x. li. xli. a.

1. mac. viii. b.

* And Eysias chose vnto hym Ptolome the sonne of Doriminius, Arcanor & Borygras myghty men, and the kynges scensdes. These he sent with. xl. m. footemen & .xli. thousand horsmen, for to go into the land of Iuda, and to destroye it as þe kyng commanded. So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus in to the planne felde. When the machauages heard the rumoure of them, they and their seruantes toke verie muche silver and golde, for to bye the chyldren of Israel to be their bnde men. There came vnto them also yet mo men of warre on euery side, out of Syria & from the Palestines.

Now when Judas and bys bretheren sawe that trouble increased, and that the hooite drewe nye vnto theyr borders: consideringe the kynges wordes whiche he commanded vnto the people: namely, þe they shuld utterly wast and destroye them: They sayd one to another: Let vs redresse the dreace of our people, let vs fight for our folke and for our Sanctuaty. Then the congregation were soone ready gathered to fight, to pray and to make supplication vnto God for mercy and grace.

1. mac. i. c.

As for Iherusalem, it lay vord, and was as it had bene a wyldernes. There wene no man in nor out at it, and the Sanctuaty was troden doune. The aleuants kept the castel, ther was the habitation of the Heathen. The mych of Jacob was take away, the pye and the harpe was gone from amonge them.

The Israelites gathered them together, and came to Maspha before Iherusalem: for in Maspha was the place wher they prayed afore tyme. So they fasted þe day, and put sacke clothes vpon them, cast ashes vpon their heads, & tē their clothes, and laid forth the booke of the law (wher out the Heathen soughte the lykenesse of their ymages) and broughte the pyccles ornaments, the sushpnynges & the tiches.

The. iiii. Chapter.

* They set there also the abstayners (whych had fulfilled their dayes) before God and cryed with a loud voice toward heauen, sayinge: What shall we do with these? & whycher shal we carry the awaye? For the Sanctuaty is troden doune and defiled, thy pyccles are come to heuyns and dishonoure: and beholde, the Heathen are come together for to destroye vs. Whom knowest what thynges they imagine agaynst vs. How may we stand before the, except thou (O God) be our help?

They bleme out the trumpet also with a loude voyce. Then Judas ordeined capytaynes ouer the people: ouer thousandes, ouer hundredes, ouer fiftye, and ouer ten. But as for suche as builded them houses, married wyues, planted them vineyardes, and those that were fearfull, he commaunded the euery man to go home, according to the law. So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the southsyde of Emmaus.

Deut. xx. a. Jud. vii. a

And Judas sayd: Arme your selues, be stronge (O my chyldren) make you redye agaynst to morow in the morning, that ye maye fight with these people, whych are agreed together to destroye vs & oure Sanctuaty. Better it is for vs to dye in bataille, the to se our people and our Sanctuaty in such a miserable case. Neuertheles, as the wyll is in heauen, so be it.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Judas goth agaynst Borygras whych lieth in warte. He purerth Borygras & his hooite in flight. Iudas inuaderth Ierusalem, but Judas dyspurch hym oute. Judas purerth the temple and dedicateth the altar.

Then toke Borygras fyue thousand men of foote, & a thousand of the best horsmen: & remoued by nyght, to come vnto wher the Iewes hooite lay, & so to slay the sodenlye. Nowe the men þe kept the castel, were the conueyers of the. The arose Judas to smyte þe cheife & principall of the kynges hooite at Emmaus, for the army was not yet come together.

In the meane season came Borygras by nyght into Judas tentes: and when he founde no man there, he soughte them in the mostaynes, and thoughte they had bene fled awaye because of hym. But whē it was day, Judas thewed hym selfe in the felde with thre thousande men onely, whych hadde neyther harnesse nor swordes to theyr myndes.

But on the otherside, they sawe that the heathen were myghtye and well harnessed, Josephus his ant. q. the. xii. Chapter.

The .i. booke of the Machi nessed, and theyr horsemen about them, and all these well experie in feates of warre. Then sayed Judas to the menne that were with him: Feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afrayed of theyr violence and pryde: remember how our fathers were deliuered in the redde sea, * when Pharaos threatened them with a greete hoste.

Then so let vs also receiue now towards heauen: and the Lord shal haue mercy vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea and destroy this host before our face this day: And al the Hechen shal knowe that it is God hym selfe, whyche helpeth and sauerth Israel.

B When the heathen lyft up their eyes: & when they sawe that they were comminge agaynst them, they went out of theyr tents into the battayl: and they that were with Judas, blew vpon the trumpettes.

So they buckled together, * and the Hechen were discouered & fled ouer the plaine felde: but the ynnmost of the were slayne. For they folowed vpon them vnto Altarmoth, and into the fieldes of Idumea towards Azore, and Jamna: so that they were slayne of them vpon a thie thousand men. So Judas turned agayn with his hoste, and said vnto the people: Be not greedy of spoyle, we haue yet a battaile to fight: for Gorgias and his host are here by vs in the mountaynes, but stande ye faste agaynst our enemies, and overcome them: then may ye safely take the spoyle.

As Judas was speakynge these wordes there appeared one part of them vpon the mount. But when Gorgias saw that they of his party were fled, and the tents were by (for by the smoke they myghte vnderstand what was done) they perceauynge this, were very sore afrayed: and when they saw also that Judas and his hoste were in the field ready to strike battaile, they fled euerychone into the land of the Heathen.

So Judas turned agayne to spoyle the tentes, where they gat muche golde and siluer, precious stones, purple, and greete riches. Thus they went home and songe a psalme of thankesguyng, and praysed God in heauen: * for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer: And so Israel had a great victory in that day.

Nowe all the Heathen that escaped, came and tolde Apphas euery thing as it happened. Wherefore Apphas was sore afrayed and greued in his mynde, because Israel had not gotten such misfortune as he wold they shoulde, neyther as the kynge commaunded. The next yere salowynge gathered Apphas thre score thousand chosen men of sorte, and fyue thousand horsemen, to fyght agaynst them.

D So they came into Hebron, and pitched their tentes at Bethoron, where Judas came agaynst them with ten thousand men. And when he sawe so great & myghty an hoste, he made his prayer and sayed:

The .iii. Chapter: Fol. lxi.

Blessed be thou (* O sauyour of Israel) whyche bydest destroye the violence of the graunt, in the hand of thy seruant Dauid, and gauest the host of the Heathen into the hand of Ionathas (the sonne of Saule) and of his weapon bearer.

But this host now into the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them be comforted in their multitude & horsemen. Make them afrayed, and discomfite the boldnes of their strengthe, that they may be moued thorough their destruction. Caste them downe thorough the swerde of thy louers, then shall all they that knowe thy name, prayse the with thankesguyng.

So they stroke the battel, and there were slayne of Apphas host, fyue thousand men. Then Apphas sepyng the discomfitinge of his menne, and the manynesse of the Jewes, howe they were ready, eynher to lyue or to die like me: He wente vnto Asyroche & chose our men of warre, that when they were gathered together they myghte come again into Hebron. Then sayed Judas and his brethren: beholde, our enemies are discomfited: Let vs now go vp, to cleanse and to repaire the Sanctuary.

Upon this, all the hoste gathered together, and wente * vpon mount Syon. Nowe when they sawe the Sanctuary lard waste, the aulter defyled, the doores vnto the court, the shubbes growynge in the court, like as in a monde vpon mountaynes, yea and the priestes selles were broken downe, they rent their clothes, made great lamentacion, caste ashes vpon their heades, fell downe flat to the grounde, made a greete noyse with the trumpettes and cryed towards heauen.

Then Judas appointed certayn men to fyght agaynst those which were in the castell tyll they had cleansed the Sanctuary. So he chose priestes that were undefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God, and they cleansed the Sanctuary, & bare out the defyled stones into an vncleane place. And for so muche as the alter of burnt offerynges was vndalowed, he toke aduysment what he myght do wth all: so he thought it was best to destroy it (lest it shoulde happen to do the anye shame) for the heathen had defyled it, and therefore they brake it downe. As for the stones they layd them vp vpon the mountayne by the house in a conuenient place: till ther came a prophet to shewe what shoulde be done with them.

* So they toke whole stones accordynge to the lawe, and builded a newe alter such one as was before, and made vpon the Sanctuary within and without, and dalowed the court. They made new ornaments, and brought the candelsticke, the aulter of incense, and the table into the temple. The incense layd they vpon the alter, & lighted the lampes which were vpon the candelsticke, that they myght burne in the temple. They set the shewbread vpon the table,

III. ii. and

Deu. ix.

exo. xiii. f.
i. mac. ix. c.

i. mac. xiii.

i. Re. xiii.

i. mac. x. a.

psal. cxli.
psal. cxviii.

exo. xxv. f.
deu. x. vii. a
i. sol. viii. g

The .i. boke of the Mach.

fl. arch.
p. a. b.

(L. 12000.
111. 11.

31000, E.C.

f. 24. 61.

Joseph cap.
fil. lib. fil.

Arch. xv.
A. 5. xv. a.

H. MAR. 6.

& hanged vp the vaille, and set vp the temple, as it was afore. And vpon the .xxv. day of þ. ii. moneth, whiche was called þ. moneth of Calieu in þ. c. xlviii. yere: they rose vp by tymes in the morninge for to do sacrifice (accordynge to þ. lawe) vpon the newe burnt offering altar þ. they had made after þ. tyme & season þ. the heathen had defiled it. The same day was it set vp agayn, wth songs pipes, harps & cymbales. And al the people fell vpon their faces, worshippynge & thankynge the god of heauen whych had graunted the victorie. So they kept the dedicacion of the altar, viii. dayes, offering burnt sacrifices & thankoffering wth gladnesse. They deckt the temple also wth crownes and shylde of golde, & halowed the ports and relles, and hanged doores vpon the. Thus there was very greate gladnes amōg þ. people, because the blasphemy of þ. heathen was put away. So Judas & his brethren wth the whole congregation of Israel, ordeyned that the tyme of the dedicacion of the altar should be kepte in this season from yere to yere, by the space of. viii. dayes, from the .xxv. day of the moneth Calieu, yea and that wth myrris and gladnes.

And at the same tyme buildd they vp the mount Sion with his walles & strong towers round about: lest the gentils shuld come & tread it downe, as they dyd afore.
Therefore Iudas set men of war in it, to kepe it: and made it strong, * for to defend Ierusalem: that the people myght haue a refuge agaynst the Edomites.

The. v. Chapter.

Cudas banquished the Heathen & god about to destroye Israel, is helpen of hys brethren Syme and Jonathas. We outcrieth with the crye of Ephraim because they denied hym pas sage thorow it.

It happened also þæt wha þæt Heathē rounde aboute, heard how þæt the altar & the Sanctuary were set vp in their olde estate: it displeased them very sore, wherfore they thought to destroy þæt generaciō of Jacob þæt was among thē: In so muche þæt they beganne to flaye & to persecute certayne of the people. Then Judas fought agaynst þæt chyldren of Aſau in Idumea, & agaynst those which were at Arabathane (for they dwelt round about þæt Iſraelites) wher he slew & spoyled a great multitude of them. He thoughte also vpon the malice and unfaithfulness of the chyldren of Beniamin, howe they were a snare and stop vnto the people, and howe they layed waie for the in in the bre wyse: wherfore he shut the vp into towres, and came vnto them, condemned them, and bent vp the towers, with al that were in them.

Afterward went he agaynst the childre of Ammō, wherof he sold a mighty power & a great multitude of people to Timorby their captaine. So he drake many battais

The. v. Chapter:

les with them, whiche were destroyed before him. And when he had slayne them, he waxen Bozeth the cipe, w^{ch} the towne belon-gynge thereto, and so turned agayne into Jewry. The Heithen also in Galaad gathered the together agaynst the Israelites þ^{ch} were in their quarters to slay them: but they fled to the Castell of Dathemā, & sent letters vnto Judas & his brethren, saying:
The Heithen are gathered agaynst vs on e-uery side, to destroy vs, & nowe they make the for to come, and lay siege to the castell, wherunto we are fled, & Timothee is þ^{ch} captain of their host: come therfore, & deliuer vs out of their hādes: for there is a great multitude of vs slayne all redy. Yea, & our brethren that were at Eubin are slayne & destroyed (welyn a thousand men) & theyr wifues, theyr chyldren, and theyr goodes haue the enemyes led away captiue.

While the letters wer yet a redyng, behold, ther came other messengers fro Bas-sile w thence clothes, whych tolde even the same thynges, & sayd that they of Stolce-mars. of Atrus, & of Sidon, were gathered agaynst them, and that al Basile was filled w enemyes to destroy Iſrael. Whe Judas, and the people hearde thys, they came together (a great congegacion) to deuyse what they myght do for them, bes-ther than that were in trouble, and besieged of theyr enemyes. And Judas sayde vnto Simon hys brother: chose the oute rectayne men, and go deliuer thy brethren in Basilee: As for me and my brother Jona-thas, we wyl go into Galaadithim. So he lefte Iosephus the sonne of zacharye, and Zartias to be captaynes of the people, and to kepe the remnant of the host in Iewry, and commaunded them, saying: Take the ouersight of thys people, & se that ye make no warre agaynst the Heathen, vntyll the tyme that we come agayne. And vnto Simon he gaue thre thousande menne for to goe into Basilee, but Judas hym selfe hadde eight thousande in Galaadithym.

Then wente Symon into Galyle, and stroke bluetse battayles wth the heathē:
whom he discomfited, and folowed vpon them vnto the porte of Iherosoloms. And there were Rayne of the Heathen almost iij. thousande men. So he toke the spoyles of them, and caried away the Iherusalem were in Galyle and Iherusalem, wth theyr wines, theyr chylde and al that they had, & broughte them into Iherusalem wth grete glednes. Judas Machabeus also and his brother Jonathan, wente ouer Iordaine, and traupled iij. daies iourney in þe wil-dernes: Where the Iherusalem met the,
and receyued them louyngly, and told the euery thing that had happened vnto the brethren in Galpadythym, and howe that many of them were besieged in Betsaie, Bosor, Alims, Casphor, Maged and Lata-naim (all these are strong walled and myghty great cyties) and that they were kept

kept in other cities of Galaad also: and to morowe they are appointed too bynge theyr hooſte vnto the cities, to take them and to wynn them in one daye.

So Judas and hys hooſte turned in all the haile in the wyldernesse towardes Bosfor, and wanne the ctyte, ſlew all þe males wth the ſword, tooke all their goodes, and sette fyre vpon the ctyte. And in the nyght they toke theyr iourney fro thence, & came to the caſtel. And by tymes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, ther was an innumerable people bearyng ladders and other instrumentes of warre to take the caſtell, and to overcome them.

When Judas ſaw that the battayl began, and that the horſe therof wente vp and ran ge vnto the heauen, and that ther was ſo greates a crye in the ctyte, he ſayde vnto hys hooſte: ſyghte this daye for your brethren. And ſo came behynde theyr enemies in thre companies, and blew vpon the trumpets, & cryed in theyr prayer to God.

But as ſoone as Timotheus hooſte perceived that Achabebus was there, they fled from hym, & the other ſaw the downe fyghe ſore, ſo that there were kyled of the that ſame daye, almoſte eyght thouſand men. Then departed Judas vnto Maſpha, laid ſiege vnto it, and wth it, ſlew all the males in it, ſpoiled it, and ſet fyre vpon it. From thence went he and toke Caſbod. Maſgeth. Boſor and the other cities in Galaad. After thys gathered Timothy another hoſt, wherby ptyched theyr cities before Maſpha beyond þe water. Judas ſent to ſpy þe hoſt, & they brought hym word agayn, ſayinge: All the heathen that be round about vs are gathered vnto hym, & the hoſt is very great: Nea they haue byred the Arabians to help them, & haue ptyched theyr tentes beyond the water, & are ready to come and ſyghte agaynſte the. So Judas went on to meete them.

And Timothy ſayd to the captaynes of hys hoſt: when Judas and hys hoſt come npe the ctyte, if he go ouer fyrſt, we ſhall not be able to wyſtande hym: for whype he wyll be ſo ſtronge for vs: But if he dare not come ouer, ſo that he ptych hys tente beyond the water, then wyll we go ouer: for we ſhal be ſtrong enough agaynſt hym. Some as ſoone as Judas came to the ctyte, he appointed certayne ſcrybes of the people, and commaunded them, ſayinge: ſe that ye leaue none behynd vpon thys ſode of the ctyte, but let euery mā come to the battayl. So he wente fyrſt ouer vnto the hys people after hym.

And all the heathen wer diſcomfited before hym, and let theyr weapons ſal, & ran duto þe ctyle that was at Carnaim, which ctyte Judas wanne, and oriente the temple wth all that were in it: So was Carnaim ſubdued, and myghte not wyſtande Judas. Then Judas gathered all the Iſraelites that wer in Galaad wth hym, fro the leaſt vnto the moſt, wth theyr wyues and theyr chyldren (a verpe great hoſt) ſo to come into the lande of Iſrael.

So they came into Ephyon, wherby was a myghty, great and ſtronge ctyte, & laye in theyr waye. For they coude not go by it neither of the righte hande nor of the left, but muſt go thorow it. Neuetheles they that wer in þe ctyte wold not let them go thorow, but walled by the ports wth ſtones. And Judas ſente vnto them wth peaceable wordes, ſayinge: * Let vs paſſe thorow your land that we maye goo into our owne countrey: ther ſhall no body do you harme, we wyll but only go thorow. But they woulde not let them in.

Therefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made thorow oute the hoſt, that euery man ſhuld kepe hys order: and ſo they did theyr beſt lyke valiant men.

And Judas beſieged the ctyte all that day and all that nyghte, and ſo wanne it: wher they ſlew as many as were males, and deſtroyed the ctyte and ſpoiled it, & went thorow all the ctyte ouer the þe were daye. Then wente they ouer Jordan into the playne ſeld before Beethſan. And Judas beſieged thoſe ſortward þe came behynd, & gaue the people good exhortacion al the way thorow, till they were come into the lad of Judas. * Thus they beſt vp vnto the mount Sion, wher they offered wth myſth & ſhakesgentyng: becauſe ther were none of the ſam, but came home again peaceably.

Some what tyme as Judas and Jonathan were in the lande of Galaad, & Symon theyr brother in Galile before the romays: Then Joſephus the ſonne of Zacharie and Alſarab the captaynes, bearynge of the actes that were done, and of the battels that were ſtroken, ſayde: let vs get vs a name alſo, and go fight agaynſt þe heathen that are round about vs.

So they gaue their hooſt commaunders raent, and went toward Jampah. Then came Gorgias & hys men oute of the ctyte, to fight agaynſt them: Joſephus alſo and Alſarab were chaſed vnto the borders of Jemry, and ther were ſlayne that day of þe people of Iſrael. ii. cc. men: ſo that there was a greates miſerpe amonge the people, and all becauſe they were * not obedyente vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they ſhulde quyte them ſelues manfully. Neuetheles ther came not of the ſeede of thoſe men, by whome Iſrael was helped. But the men þe were wth Judas, were greatlye commended in the ſyght of al Iſrael and all heathen, wherſoeuer theyr name was heard vpon, and the people came vnto them byddynge them welcome.

After thys went Judas forth wth hys brethren, and fought agaynſt the chyldren of Eſau, in the land that lieth toward the ſouth, wher he man the ctyte of Bebron and the townes that lye beſide it: and ſo the wailles and towyes rounde aboute

The .i. booke of the Mach:

it, he went the vp. The remoued he to god into the lande of the Iherulphines, & wente thowow Samaria. All that same time wer ther many prestes slaine in the battayle, whiche wilfulle & without aduysemente wente oute for to fighte to gette them honoure. And when Judas came to Azot in the Iherulphines lande, & he brake doune their altars, bente the ymages of theyr Idoles, spoyled the cyres, and came agayne into the lande of Iuda.

The .vi. Chapter.

Antiochus wellying to take the cytre of Elymas for a praye is hyuen away of the Elymas he falleth into speches and dyeth. Hys sonne Antiochus is made kynge. The beleage of the towre of Syon. Eupator cometh into Jewry with a greate armye. The boldnes of Eleazer.

One whiche kynge Antiochus trauctled thowow the bre countries, he heard that Elymas in Persia was a noble and plenteous city in syluer, and golde, & that there was in it a verry rich temple: wher as were clothes, cote armours and sheldes of golde whiche Alexander & sonne of Philippe king of Macedonie, had left behind him. Wherfore he went about to take the cite and to spoyle it, but he was not able, for the citizels wer warned of it, and foughte wth him. And so he fled & departed with great heuynesse, and came agayne into Babilon. Agaynether came one whiche brought hym tidynges in Persie, that hys hostes which wer in the lad of Iuda, were dritun away, and howe that Lysias wente furth with a greate power, and was dritun away of the Jewes: howe & they had won the victory, and gotten great goodes out of the hostes that perished: howe they had brake doune the abhominacion: whiche he set vp vpon the altier at Ierusalem, & fencd the Sanctuary with hys malle, like as it was afore: and Ierusalem hys cytre also.

So it chaunced, that when the kyng had heard these wordis, he was afraied, and greued very sore. Wherfore he layed hym doune vpon hys bed, and fel sicke for very sorow: and all because it had not happened as he had deuised. And ther continued he long, for hys greif was euer more and more, so that he sawe he must needes dye. Therfore he sent for hys frendes, and said vnto them: the slepe is gone fro mine eyes, for the very sorow and veracion of heart that I haue. For when I consider in my mind the great aduersite that I am come vnto, and the clouds of heuynes whiche I am come in, wher as afore tyme I was so mety, and so greatly set by (by reason of my power) Agayne, considerynge the tyll that I haue done at Ierusalem fro whiche I toke all the ryches of golde and siluer & met in it, and sent to scatch away the inhabytours of Jewry without any reason why: I knowe & these troublis are come

The .vi. Chapter:

vpon me for the same cause. And beholde, I must die with great sorow in a straunge lad. Then called he for one Iherulph a frend of his, whiche he made ruler of al his realme, & gaue hym the croune, hys robe and hys rynge, & he shulde take hys sonne Antiochus vnto hym, and bringe hym vp till he myght raigne hym selfe. So the kynge Antiochus dyed ther in .xl. yere. Whiche Lysias knewe & the kyng was dead, he ordeyned Antiochus hys sonne & (whom he had brought vp) to raigne in hys fathers stede, & called hym Eupator. & Some they say that were in the castell at Ierusalem, kepte the Jewes rounde aboute the Sanctuary, and soughte euer still to do them harme, for & strenghtning of the Heathen.

Wherfore Judas thought to destoye them, and called all the people together, that they myght laye siege vnto them. So they came together in .xl. yere, and besieged them, layinge forth theyr ordynance and instrumentes of war. Then certene of them that were besieged went forth (vnto whiche some vngodly men of Israel tynded them selues also) and wente vnto the kynge, saying: Some longe wyll it be, or thou punyssh and auenge our brethren: We haue euer ben minded to do thy farther seruice, to walke in hys statutes, & to obey his commaundementes. Therfore oure people fel from vs, and where soeuer they founde anye of vs, they slewe them: and they haue not onely medled with vs, but with al our countrey: and behold, this dare we thyr beseyging the castell at Ierusalem. & and haue made by the stryde hold in Bersura: And if & doeste not preuente the right soone, they wil do more thynke, & thou shalt not be able to ouercome the.

When the kynge heard thys, he was very angry, and called hys frendes the Cap taines of hys fute men, & of al hys horsmen together. He byied men of warre also out of other realmes & out of the Isles of the sea, whiche came vnto hym. And the number of his host was an. C. M. footemen, & .xx. M. horsmen, & .xxii. Elephantes well exercised to battayle. These came thowow Iudaea vnto Bersura, and beseged it a g longe season. & made diuers instrumentes of war agaynst it. But the Jewes came oute and brence them, & fought lyke men. Then departed Judas from the castell at Ierusalem, & remoued the host to ward Bersurata oute agaynst & hys kynges army.

So the kynge arose before the day, and brought the power of hys hoste into the way to Bersuratan, wher the Idoles made them to & battayles blowynge the rehettes. And to prouoke the Elephantes for to fyghte, they shewed them the sappe of read grapes and mulberies. And deuysed the Elephantes among the hoste: so that by euery Elephante there stode .x. men well harnessed, and helmers of slece vpon theyr heads: Yea vnto euery one

Deu. vii. a.

11. mac. ix. a.
Joseph. ca.
p. vi. lib. vi.
ant. qui.

1. mac. xli. e.
and. liii.

1. mach. i. f.

11. mac. ix. a.
b. c. d. e.

Joseph. cap.
viii. lib. vi.
1. mac. xli. b.
Eupator
Antiochus
sonne.

1. mac. llii. g

1. mac. xlii. a

Josephus
his antiquit.
lib. x. c. vii. v
p. lii. a. b. a. p.

1. mac. llii.
and. vi. f

of the Elephantes also, were ordeined. vi. C. horsemen of the best, whych wayted on the Elephant going wher so euer he wylt, and departed not from hym. Euerie Elephant was couered wth a stronge tower of wood, wher vpon wer. xxii. valesunre men wth weapons to fyght, and wthyn it was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

As for the remnaunt of the horsemen, he set them vps both the sydes in two partes wth trompets, to prouoke the hoste, and to styre vp such as wer slow in the army. And when the sunne shone vpon thei sheldes of gold and stele, the mountaines glistered agayne at them, and were as bright as the tressers of fyre. The kynges host also was deuyded, one parte vpon the hie mountaynes, the other lowe benethe: so they went on, takyng good herbe, and keepyng theyi order. And al they that dwelce in the lande, were asfayed at the noise of theyi host, whē the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smot together, for the beste was bothe greate and myghtye.

* Judas also and his host entered into the battayle, and drew v. C. men of the kynges army. Now when Eleasar the sonne of Saura dyd se one of þe Elephantes deckt wth the kynges badge, and was a more goodly beast then þe other: he thought the kyng shoulde be vpon hym, and leoparde hym selfe to destruet his people, and to geue hym a perpetual name.

Wherfore he ran wth a courage vnto þe Elephant in the myddest of the hoste smytynge them downe of both the sydes, and sleme many about hym. So went he to the Elephantes feete, and gat hym vnder him, and drew hym: then set the Elephant down vpon hym, and ther he dyed. It was also and his men seying the power of the kyng, and the myghty vpolence of his hoste, departed from them. And the kynges army went by agaynst them toward Ierusalem, and pitched theyi tentes in Ierme besyde mount Sion. * Moreover the kyng tooke truce wth them that were at Berbsura.

1. Ma. ii. 6.
and vi. d.
ii. Ma. ii. 6.
and. xii. 6.

But when they came oute of the ctype (because they had no vntayles wthyn, and the land lay vntilled) the kyng tooke Berbsura, and set mē to kepe it, and turned his host to the place of the sanctuary, and layed siege to it a great while. Wher he made al maner ordinaunces, handbolmes, fyre batteries, rackets to cast stones scorpions to shote arrowes, and synners. The Jewes also made ordinaunce agaynst theyi, and foughtre a long season.

But in the cite there were no vytayles for it was the seuenth yere of the wars, and those beathen that remayned in Ieremy had eaten vp al theyi store. And in the Sanctuary met seme men left, for the hie get came so vpon them, that they wer scattered abroad euerie man to his own place.

* So when Lysias hearde that Iulius (whom Antiochus the kyng whyle he was yet lyving, had ordeined to bring by Antiochus his sonne, that he might be kyng) was come agayne out of Persia and Medea wth the kynges host, and thought to obtayne the kyngdom: he gat hym to the kyng in al the haste, and to the capitaines of the host, and said: we decrease daily, and our vytayles are but small: Agayne, the place that we lay siege vnto, is very stryde, and it were our parte to se for the realme. Let vs agre wth these mē and take truce wth them, and wth al theyi people, and graunte them to lyue after theyi lawe, as they dyd afore. For they be greued and do all these thynges agaynst vs, because we haue despyed theyi lawe. So the kyng and the princes were contente, and sente vnto them to make peace, and they receaued it. Now when the kyng and the princes had made an ord vnto them, they came oute of the castel, and the kyng went vp to mount Sion. But when he sawe that the place was well fenced, he brake the orde that he had made, and commaunded to destroy the wal round about. Then departed he in all the haste, and returned vnto Antioch. wher he found Iulius hauing dominion of the cite, so he fought agaynst hym, and took the ctype agayne into his handes.

The.vii. Chapter.

Demetrius reigne after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias. He troubleth the children of Israel thow the counsell of euerie ctype wished perion. The prayr of the pypettes agaynst Sicanos Judas killeth Sicanos, after he had made his prayr.

At the. xlii. yere came Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from the cite of Rome wth a smal company of men, vnto a ctype of the sea coaste, and there he bare rule. And it chaunced that when he came to Antioch the cite of his progenitours, his host tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him. But when it was told hym, he sayd: let me not se their faces. So the host put the to deathe. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kyngdome, there came vnto hym wretched and vngodly men of Israel: whose capayne was Alcimus, that wold haue bene made his pite. These men accused the people of Israel vnto the kyng, saying: Judas & his brechren haue Rayne thy frendes, and driven vs out of our own lande. Wherfore sende now some men (to whom thou geuest credence) that he maye go and se al the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kynges land, and let hym be punished wth al his frendes and fauourers.

Then the kyng chose Bathydes a frend of his, whych was a man of great power in the realme (beyond the greate water) and saythfull vnto the kyng: and sente hym to se the destruction that Judas had done. And as for that wretched Alcimus, he

III. iii. made

1. Ma. xlii. 6.
Josephus
in his antie quities.

made hym hys pryeste, and commaunded hym to be auenged of the chyldren of Israel. So they stode vp, and came wth a great host into the land of Iudas, sendynge messengers to Iudas and hys brethren, and speakynge vnto them wth peaceable wordes: but vnder disceate. * Therefore Iudas and hys people beleued not they sayng, for they sawe that they were come wth a greare host.

After this came they scribes together vnto Alcimus and Balthides, trustynge they best vnto them. And first the Aspreans requyred peace of them, saynge: Alcimus the pryest is come of the seede of Aaron, howe can he deceyue vs? So they gaue them louynge wordes, and swore vnto them, and sayde: we wil doo you no harme, neyther poue frendes, and they beleued them. But the very same day toke they. iij. menne of them and slawe them accordynge to the wordes that are wyrtten: * They haue cast the flesch of thy sanctes, and shed their blood round aboute Hierusalem, and there was no man that would burye the. So they came a great fear and dread among the people, sayng: ther is neyther truth nor righte-ousnes in them, for they haue broken the appoyntemente and othe that they made. And Balthides remoued hys host from Hierusalem, and pitched hys tent at Berchoz: wher he sent forth, and toke many of them that had forsaken hym: he slew many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit. Then comitted he the land vnto Alcimus, and left men of war with hym to helpe him, and Balthides hym selfe went vnto the kynge. And thus Alcimus besetted his hie pryesthoode, and all suche as were of Israel, resorted vnto him: In so much that they obtayned the lande of Iudas, and byd much euyl vnto the Israelites.

Now when Iudas sawe al the mischiese that Alcimus and hys company had done (yea, more then the Deathe them selues) vnto the Israelites: He went forth round about al the borders of Iewry, and punished those vnfaithful renegates, so that they came no more out into the countrey. So when Alcimus sawe that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpperhand, and that he was not able to abyde them: he went agayne to the kynge, and sayed all the worlde of them that he coude. * Then the kynge sent Ricano, one of hys chiefe prynces (whych bare euyl wyl vnto Israel) and commaunded him that he shoulde vnto the people.

So Ricano came to Hierusalem wth a great host, and sent vnto Iudas and his brethren wth frendly wordes (but vnder disceate) sayng: ther shal be no warre betwixt me and you: I wil come wth a fewe men to se how ye do, wth frendship. Vpon this he came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enmyes were appoynted to take Iudas by violence. Nevertheless it was told Iudas that he came vnto hym but vnder disceate, wherfore he gatte him awaye from hym, and woulde see hys face no more. When Ricano perceyued that his counsaile was betrayed, he went out to fight agaynst Iudas, besyde Capbarsalama wher there were thayne of Ricano's hoste thye thousande men, the rest due fled vnto the castel of Dauid.

After this came Ricano by vnto moose Ston: and the pryests wth the elders of the people went forth to salute him peaceably, and to shew hym the burnt sacrifice that was offered for the kynge. * But he laughed them to scorn, mocked them, besetled they offerynge, and spake dysdaynfully, yea, and swore in hys wrath, sayng: If Iudas and hys hoste be not deliuered nowe into my bandes, as soone as euer I come agayne (and farewell) I shall burne vnto this house. With that went he out in a greare anger. Then the pryests came in, and stode before the altier of the temple, wepyng and sayng: * For so much as thou (O Lorde) hast chosen this house that thy name myght be called vpon therein, and that it shoulde be an house of prayer and petition vnto the people, be auenged of this man and hys hoste, and let them be slayn wth the sword: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer them not to continue anye longer.

When Ricano was gon from Hierusalem, he pitched hys tent at Berchozon, and ther an host met hym out of Syrya. And Iudas came to Adassa wth thye thousand men, and made hys prayer vnto god, sayng: O Lorde * because the messengers of kynge Senacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went forth, and slew. lxxv. of them: Euen so destroye thou this hoste before vs to daye, that other people maye knowe how that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie: and punyssh hym accordynge to his malitiousnes.

And so the hostes stroke the felde the thyrtyenth daye of the moneth Adar: and Ricano's hoste was dyscomfyted, and he hym selfe was by the slayne in the battaile. When Ricano's menne of warre sawe that he was kylled, they cast awaye they weapons and fled: but the Iewes followed vpon them an whole dayes iourney, from Adazer vnto Bazara, blowynge wth the trompets, and makynge tokens after them. So the Iewes came forth vnto al the townes there about, and blew oute theyr hornes vnto them, and turned agaynst the: Thus were they all slayne, and not one of them left.

The they toke they substance for a praye and smote of Ricano's head, and his right hand (wherby he bolde vp so proudly) and brought it wth them, and hanged it vnto a fore Hierusalem. Wherfore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer

II. mar. xlii

III. re. vii. f

II. sa. xlii

II. sa. v

II. sa. xlii

II. sa. xlii

II. sa. vii. b

II. sa. vii. b

II. sa. vii. b

II. sa. xlii

II. sa. xlii

II. sa. xlii

II. sa. xlii

that day in great gladnes. And Judas ordeyned that same daye (namelye the xiiij. day of the month Adar) should be kepte in myghty euerie yere. Thus the land of Juda was in rest a lytle whyle.

The. viii. Chapter.

Judas consideringe the power and godly pollicie of the Romaynes, maketh peace with them. The rescript of the Romaynes sent vnto the Jewes.

Joseph in his booke of antiquities.
chap. xlii.

Judas heard also the fame of the Romaynes, & they were myghty and valiant men, and agreeable to all thynges that are requyred of the, and make peace wth al men, wherch come vnto the, and howe they were doughty men of strength. Besydes that it was tolde hym of theyr barayles and noble actes wherch they dyd in Balacta, howe they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute: and what greates thynges they had done in Spayne, howe that wth theyr wysedome, and sober behauoure they had wonne the cyties of syluer and gold that are ther, and obtayned of the lande, wth other places farre fro them: how they had dyscomfited and slayne downe the kyngs that came vpon them, from the uttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euerie yere: How they had slayne and ouercome Philip and Perseus kyng of Macedon, and other mo (in batayle) wherch had brought theyr ordynance agaynst them: how they dyscomfited greates Antiochus kyng of Asia (that would neuer fyght wth them) hauing an hundred and. xx. Elephanes, with horsemen, chariottes, and a very great host: how they toke him selfe alyue, and ordeyned hym wth such as shoulde raygne after hym, to paye them a greates tribute, yea, and to fynde the good wretches and pledges: besides al this, how they had take from hym India, Persia, and Lybia (his best landes) and geue them to kyng Eumenus. Againe when they perceyving that the Grekes were comyng to vex them, sent agaynst them a captain of an host, wherch gaue them batayle: slew many of them, led away theyr wyues and chyldren captiue, spoyled the, toke possession of theyr land, destroyed theyr stronge hold, and subdued them to be theyr bondemen, vnto this day: Moreover, howe that as for other kyngdomes and Isles, wherch sometime wthstode them, they destroyed them and brought them vnder theyr domination: But helpe euer theyr owne frendes and those that were confederat wth them, and conquered kyngdomes bothe far and nye: and that whosoever herd of theyr renowne, was afrayed of them. For whome they wold helpe to theyr kyngdoms, those raygned: and whom it lyked not them to raygne, they put hym downe: And howe they were come to greates preeminence, theyr was no kyng among them, neyther anye man clothed in purple, to be magnified ther thorow, but had ordeyned them selfe a parliament, wher in they sat. iij. c. and twenty Senatours dayly vpon the counsaile, to dyspatch euer the busynesse of the people, and to kepe good order. And howe that euerie yere they chose a Magistrate, to haue the gouernance of al theyr land, to whom euerie man was obedient: and that ther was neyther euill wyl nor discencion among them.

Then Judas chose Eupolemus the son of Jibon, the sonne of Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and set the to Rome for to make frendshyppe and a bonde of loue wth them, that they myght take fro them the bondage of the Grekes, for the Jewes sawe that the Grekes would subdue the kyngdome of Israel.

So they went vnto Rome (a very greates towne) and came into the parliamente, and sayed: Judas Machabeus wth his brether, and the people of the Jewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bonde of frendshyppe and peace wth you, and ye to note vs as your louers and frendes. And the matter pleased the Romaynes fyghe well, wherfore it was writte vpon of the which the Romaynes made a writing in tables of Latine, and sente it to Iherusalem, that they myght haue by them a memorie of the same peace and bonde of frendshyp, after this maner: God saue the Romaynes and the people of the Jewes bothe by sea and by land, and kepe the swerd and chace my from them for euer more. If ther come any war vpon the Romaynes or any of theyr frendes thorow out al theyr domination, the people of the Jewes shall helpe them (as the tyme requyred) and that wth al theyr barres. Also they shal neyther geue nor send vnto theyr enemyes viarles, weapons, money, nor shippes, but fulfyll this charge at the Romaynes pleasure, and take nothinge from thee therfore. Againe if the people of the Jewes happen first to haue war, the Romaynes shall stand by them wth a good wyl, according as the tyme wyl suffer. Nether shal they geue vnto the Jewes enemyes, wyues, weapons, money, nor shippes. This are the Romaynes covenent to do, and shal fulfyll theyr charge wthout any dyscreete.

Accordinge to these articles the Romaynes made the bond wth the Jewes. Rome after these articles (sayed they) if anye of the parties wyl putte to them, or take any thyng from them, they shal doo it wth the consent of bothe: and whatsoeuer they ad vnto them, or take from the, it shal stand faste. And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Jewes, we haue writte vnto him saying: Wherfore layest thou thy heavy yoke vpon the Jewes out frendes and louers? If they make any complaine of the agayne vnto vs, we shal deliuer them, and fyghte wth

The .i. booke of the Mach.

with the, by sea and by lande.

The .i. Chapter.

After the death of Sicanor, Donathus ledeth his army agaynst Judas. Judas is slaine.
Jonathas is put in the beds of his brother.
The keyes betwene Jonathas and Bachides.
Alcimus is taken with the palseye, and byeth Bachides reioiceth agayne into the kingdome. He remembereth upon Jonathas by the countes of certayne wyched persons, and is overcome. The tyme of Jonathas with Bachides.

mar. viii.
Joseph. ca.
xvii. lib. iii.

In the meane season whē Demetrius heard that Sicanor and his host was slaine in the felde, he proceeded farther to send Bachides and Alcimus agayn into Syria, and those that were in the tryngyn wyng of his host, with them.
So they went forth by the way that lead-eth vnto Galgala, and pitched their ten-tes before Bethlath, whiche is in Arbel-his, and wā the tyne, and slew much people. In the first moneth of the .C. lii. yere they brought their host to Ierusalem and rose vp an came to Betea, with .x. .C. footemen, and .ii. .C. horsemen.

Now Judas had pitched his tente at Betea, with the thousande chosen men.
And when they saw the multitude of the other army that it was so great they were foreastred, and many conuered them sel-ues out of the host. In so much that there abode no more of them but .viii. .C. .C. .C.
Judas saw that his host was led by him, and that he must needs fight, he brake his heart, that he had no tyme to gather them together: he therefore the man was in extreme trouble. Nevertheless he said vnto them, that I am much with you: let vs goe agayn our enemies, yet aduise we shal be able to fight with them. But they would by no means heare him saying: we shall not be able therefore let vs not save our lives, and turne agayne to our brethren, and let vs fight agaynst them, for we are here but few. And Judas forbode them to do so. And he said vnto them, Wherfore I am here, let vs come, let vs be māfully for our brethren: let vs not stain our honour. Then the host remoued oute of the tentes and stood agaynst them. The host was a great number in two partes: the strong castles and the archers went before the host. In the firste morning men were for-most in the felde. Bachides himself was in the right wyng of the battaille: and the host drew vnto in two partes, and blew the trumpets. They of Judas blew the trumpets also, and the earth shake at the noise of the hostes, and they stroke a felde from the morning till night. And when Judas saw that Bachides host was stronger of the right syde, he took with him all the hardy men, and brake the right wyng of that host, and folowed vpon them vnto the mount Zion.

Nowe when they were on the

The .ii. Chapter.

left wyng, sawe that the right syde was discomfited, they persecuted Judas and them that were with him. Then was there a sore battaille, for many were slaine and wounded of both partes. Judas also himselfe was kylled, and the remnaunce fled.
So Jonathas and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the city of Bethin. All the people of Israel made great lamentacion for him, and moued longe, saying: Alas, that this worthy should be slaine, whiche deliuered the people of Israel. As for other thynges pertaining to the battails of Judas, the noble actes that he did, and of his worthynes, they are not written, for they were very many.

And after the death of Judas, wyched men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, and they arose al such as worke vngodlynes.
In those dayes was there a great dearth in the land, and all the country gaue ouer the selues and their vnes Bachides. So Bachides chose wyched men, and made them lordes in the land. These sought out and made search for Judas friends, and brought them vnto Bachides, which auenged himselfe vpon them with great despyre. And there came so greate trouble in Israel as was not sence the tyme that any prophet was sence then.

Joseph. ca.
li. r. i. an.
45.

Then came all Judas frendes together, and said vnto Jonathas: for so much as thy brother Judas is dead, there is none like hym to go forth agaynst our enemies, agaynst Bachides, and such as are aduer-saries vnto our people. Wherefore this day we caule the for hym, to be our prince and captayne to order our battaille. And Jonathas took the gouernance vnto him at the same tyme, and ruled in steade of his brother Judas. When Bachides gat knowe thereof, he sought for to slay him. But Jonathas and Simon his brothers, perceyving that, fled into the wor-ldes of Thema with all their company, pitched their tentes by the water poule of Asphath.

Whych when Bachides vnderstode, he came ouer Iordane with all his host vnto the Sabbath day. Now had Jonathas set his brother Jhon (a captain of the people) to pray the frendes the Sabbath dayes, that they would lend the the Iordane, for they had much. So the child of Jham-bir came out of Gadaba, and took Jhon and all that he had, and wente vnto Iordane with him. Then came word vnto Jonathas and Simon his brother that the child of Jambir made a greate marriage, and broughte the wyde from Gadaba with great pompe, for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan. Wherefore they remembered the blende of Jhon their brother, and set vnto and hid the under the shadowe of the mountayne.

So they left up the Iordane, and looked
and

The.i. booke of the Mach.

and behold, there was much ado, & greates repayre: for the bydegrome came forth, and his friends, and his brethren mette them with tympanes, instrumentes of musycke, and many weapons. Then Jonathan, and they that were with hym, met hym, rose out of their lurking places agaynst them, and slewe many of them. As for the remnaunt, they fled into the mountaynes, and they toke all theyr substance. Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of theyr melodye into lamentation. And so when they had augmented the bloude of theyr brother, they turned agayne unto Jordan.

Bachides hearing this, came unto the very border of Jordan with great power upon the Sabbath day. And Jonathan sayd to his company: let us go up and fyght agaynst our enemies: for it standeth not with us to day, as in tymes past. Behold our enemies are in our waye, the water of Jordan upon the one syde of us, with banks, and fennes, and wooddes of the other syde, so that there is no place for us to depart unto. Wherefore cry now unto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from your enemies. So they stroke battayle.

And Jonathan stretched out his hande to smyte Bachides, but he fled backward. Then Jonathan, and they that were with hym leapt into Jordan, and swymmed ouer Jordan vnto hym, and there were slayne of Bachides syde that day. xx. men.

Wherefore Bachides with his host turned agayne to Hierusalem, and buylde up the castles and strong holdes that were in Iewry, Iericho, Emaus, Berhoron, Bethel, Thamata, Ithara, and Topo, with his walles, with portes, and with lockes, and set men to kepe them, that they might vse theyr malice upon Israel. He walled up Bethluta, Bazarab, and the castill at Hierusalem also, and prouided them with men, and vittayles: He toke also the chiefest mens houses in the countrey for pleyces, and put the in the castill of Hierusalem to be kept. Afterward in the .c. liii. yere in the second moneth, Alcimus commaunded that the walles of the inmost sanctuary should be destroyed, and the buildings of the prophetes also. And when he began to destroy them, the chynge that he went about, was hyndred: for he was smitten with a paller, and his mouth so shut that he coude no more speake, nor commaunde any of his house concerning his busynes.

Thus died Alcimus in great miserie at the same tyme. And when Bachides sawe that Alcimus was dead, he turned agayne to the kyng, and so the land was at rest. Then all the vngodly men held a counsaile, saying: Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care. Wherefore let us byng Bachides with them, and he shall take them all in one night.

So they went and gaue Bachides this

The.ii. Chapter. Fol. lxxvi.

counsaile, whiche arose to come with a greates host, and sent letters pryuely to his adherents whiche were in Iewry, to take Jonathan and those that were with hym: but they myght not: for the other had gotten knowledge of theyr deapce. * And Jonathan toke .l. men of the countrey (which were the ringleaders of them) and slew the. Then Jonathan and Simon with their company departed vnto the cite Bethbelsa, whiche lyeth in the wyldernes, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong. When Bachides knew this, he gathered all his host, and sente word to them that were of Iewry. Then came he and layed siege to Bethbelsa, and fought agaynst it a longe season, and made instrumentes of war. Now Jonathan left his brother Simon in the cite, and went forth hym selfe into the countrey, and came with a certain number and slew Iddabs and his brethren, and the children of Ithasaron in their tentes: so that he began to be stronge and to increase in power.

As for Simon and his company, they went out of the cite, and buylde up the instrumentes of warre, and fought agaynst Bachides, and discomfited hym. And Bachides was sore vexed, because his counsaile and traualle was in vayne. Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked men (that gaue him counsaile to come into their land) and slew many of them. Then purposed he with his company to go awaye into his owne countrey: whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent Embassadors to hym, for to make peace with him, and that he shoulde deliuer hym his prisoners agayne. For he whiche Bachides consented gladly, and byd accordyng to his besyche, and made an othe that he shoulde neuer do him harme at the dayes of his life. So he restored vnto hym all the prisoners that he had taken out of the land of Iuda, and then turned and went his waye into his owne land, neyther proceeded he anye further to come to the borders of Iuda. Thus Israel had no more war. And Jonathan dwelt at Eschmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

The.x. Chapter.

Demetrius despyeth to haue peace with Jonathan. Alexander moueth war agaynst Demetrius. Demetrius is slayne. The frendshipp of Ptolomus and Alexander.

In the .c. li. yere came Alexander the sonne of Noble Antiochus, and toke Ptolomus whose citizens receyued him, and there he reigned. When Demetrius herd thereof, he gathered an exceeding greates host, and went forth agaynst hym to fyght. Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan with louing wordes, and prayled him greatly. For he sayd: we wyl fyght make peace with hym before he

ii. Be. xxi.

ii. Bar. x. n.
i. Mac. liii.

ii.

Joseph cap.
ii. iii. li. xii.

The.i. booke of the Mach.

he bynde hym selfe wth Alexander agaynst vs, els he shall remember the sayll that we haue done agaynst hym, bys brother and his people. And so he gaue Jonathan leave to gather an host, to make weapons, and to be confederate wth him, and commaunded the pledges that were in the castel, to be deliuered vnto hym.

Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, and red the letters in the audyence of all the people, and of them that were in the castel. And therfore were they sore afraied, because they herd that the kyng had geuen him licence to gather an host. * Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathan, whiche restored them to theyr elders. Jonathan dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to burde by and to repaire the city: commaunding the workmen to walke it, and the mount Sion round about wth free stone, to be a strong holde, and so they dyd. As for the heathen that were in the castels whiche Balthes hadde made by, they fledde: so that euery man lefte the place, and wente into his owne countrey. Quelye at Bethsura remayned certayne of the Jewes, whiche had forsaken the lawe and commaundementes of God: for Bethsura was theyr refuge.

Now when kynge Alexander heard of the promyses that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan, and whē it was told him of the battayles and noble actes whiche he and his brother had done, and of the great traualles that they hadde taken, he sayed: Where shal we finde suche a man? Wel, we wyll make hym our frende, and be confederate wth hym. Upon this he wrote a letter vnto hym, wth these wordes: Kynge Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathan. We haue hearde of the that thou art a valiaunte man, and mete to be our frende: wherefore this daye we ordayne the to be the hie priest of thy people, and to be called the kynges frende. (Upon this he sent hym a purple clothynge, and a crowne of golde) that thou mayest consider what is for our profit, & kepe friendship toward vs.

So in the vii. moneth of the .c. lxx. yere, upon the solemne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathan put the holy raiment vpon hym. Then gathered he an host, & made many weapons. Whiche when Demetrius herd, he was maruelous sorre, and sayed: Alas, what haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in gettinge the friendship of the Jewes, for his owne defence? Yet wyll I write louingly vnto them also, yea, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they maye be of my side. Whereupon he wrote vnto them these wordes: Kynge Demetrius sendeth greetynge vnto the people of the Jewes. Where as ye haue kepte your couenaunte toward vs, and continued in our friendship, not enclinyng to our enemye, we were glad when we herd thereof. Wherefore remayne

The.ii. Chapter.

And be saythful to vs, and we shal well recompence you for the thynges that ye haue done on our party: we shal relese you of many charges, and geue you rewardes. And now I discharge you and all the Jewes from tributes, I forgiue you the customes of salt, and relese you of the troumtares, of the thirde parte of seed, and halfe of the fenice of rees, whiche is myne owne duty. These I leue for you, from this day forth, so that they shal not be taken of the land of Iuda, nor * of the thre cities whiche are added thereto out of Samaria. I. 22. 23. and Galile, from this day for evermore. Ierusalem also it is all thynges belonging thereto, shal be holy and free, yea the tythes and tributes shal pertaine vnto it. As for the power of the castell whiche is at Ierusalem, I comette and geue it vnto thy priest, that he maye set in it such men, as he shal chose to kepe it. I steelye de lyue al the Jewes that are prysoners, tho rownt al my realme: so that euery one of them shal be free from payng anye tribute, yea, euen of their cattel.

Al the solemne feastes, Sabbathes, new moones, the dayes appointed, the thre dayes before and after the feast, shal be free for all the Jewes in my realme: so that in them no man shal haue power to do anye thyng, or to moue any busynes agaynst any of them in any maner of cause. There shal .ccc. .xx. also of the Jewes be written by in the kynges booke, and haue theyr mages payed, as al other men of warre of the kynges shoulde haue: and of them shal be ordeyned certayne, to kepe the kynges stryde holdes: yea, and some of them shal be set ouer the kynges busynesse, that they maye saythfullye deale wth the same. The Jewes also shal haue prynces of theyr own, and walke in theyr own lawes, as the kyng hath commaunded in the land of Iuda.

And the cities that are fallen vnto Ier from the countrey of Samaria, and Galile, shal be taken as Ieruse, and be vnder one: neyther be subiecte to anye straunge lord, but to the hie priest. As for Ieroloma: is and the land pertainyng thereto, I geue it vnto the Sanctuary at Ierusalem, for the necessarye expences of the holie thynges. Moreover, I wyll geue euery yere .xx. thousand sicles of syluer out of the kynges cheker (whiche pertaineth vnto me) to the worke of the temple: yea, and looke what remayneth (whiche they that hadde our matres in hand in tymes past, haue not payed) that same shal they geue vnto them also. And besides all this, the .v. .cc. sicles whiche they take yearly of the rentes of the Sanctuary, shal belyng vnto the priests that do service.

Item, whosoener they be that come vnto the temple at Ierusalem or wthin the liberties thereof, where as they are fallen into the kynges daunger for anye maner of busynes, they shal be pardoned, and all the

The.i. booke of the Mach.

Then brought Symon forth his host, and set them agaynst the footemen. For the horsemen were weary already. So he dyscomfyred them, and they fled. And they that were scattered in the feld, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their Idole, that they myghte there save their lyues. But Jonathan sette fire vpon Azotus and al the cytyes rounde about it, and toke their goodes, and byente vpon the temple of Dagon with al them that were fled into it.

1 Mach. 2 Thus were thine and byent wel nix. viii. thousand men. So Jonathan removed the host from thence, and brought them to Ascalon: wher the men of that cytye came forth, and met hym with greute worship. After this went Jonathan and his host agayne to Hierusalem, with greute substance of good. And whē kyng Alexander herd these thynges, he thought to do Jonathan more worship, and sent hym a colar of golde, as the vse is to be geuen to suche as are of the kynges next blood. He gaue hym also the cytye of Accaron (with the landes belonyng thereto) in possession.

The.xi. Chapter.

The dysencion betwixt Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in law. The deathe of Alexander. Demetrius raygneth after the deathe of Ptolomeus. Dion is besyged of Jonathan. Demetrius sayng that no man ferst hym sendeth his armie agayne. Tryphon rayneth Antiochus agaynst Demetrius. Demetrius is deliuered by the fauour of Jonathan. After his deliuerance he breaketh his couenaunt that he had made.

2 Joseph. cap. vii. lib. xii. And the kyng of Egypt gathered an host, lyke the sand that is streid vpon the sea shore, and many shippes: and went about the border decreas to obtayne the kingdom of Alexander, and to toke it vnto his owne realme. Upon this he toke his iourney into Siria, and was letten in to the cytyes, and men came forth to mete hym: for kyng Alexander had commaunded them so to do, because he was his father in law. Now whē Ptolomeus entred into any cite he left men of warre to kepe it, and this he dyd thorowoute all the cytyes. And whē he came to Azotus, they shewed hym the temple of Dagon and Azotus that was byente by with the other thynges whiche were destroyed, the deade bodies cast abrode, and the graues that they had made by the way syde for such as were slayne in the feld: And told the kyng that Jonathan had done all these thynges, to the intent that they myghte get hym euill wyl. But the kyng sayed not a word there to. And Jonathan mette the kyng with greute honoure at Hoppa, where they saluted one another, & toke their rest. So whē Jonathan had gone with the kyng vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned agayne to Hierusalem. Nowe Ptolomeus hadde gotten the dominion of the cy-ties vnto Seleucia vnder the sea coast, ymagining wicked counceils agaynst Alexander, and sent Embassitours to Demetrius, saying: Come let vs make a bond betwixt vs, so shall I geue the my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt raygne in thy fathers kingdome. I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to sle me. And thus he sleaunders Alexander, because he wold haue had his realme.

The.xi. Chapter.

Thus he toke his daughter from hym, 1. Reg. 2. 13 gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsoke Alexander, so that his malice was openly known. And Ptolomeus came to Antioche wher he set two crownes vpon his owne head: the crown of Egypt and of Asia. In the meane season was kyng Alexander in Cilicia, for they that dwelte in those places, had rebelled agaynst hym. But whē Alexander herd of this, he came to warre agaynst hym. So kyng Ptolomeus brought forth his host and met hym with a myghty power, and chased hym away.

Then fled Alexander into Araby, therto be defended, and kyng Ptolomeus honour increased. And Sabbaiel the Arabian smote of Alexanders heade, and sent it vnto Ptolomeus. But the thrid day after dyed kyng Ptolomeus hym selfe: and they whom he hadde sette in the strong holdes, were slayne of those that were within the cities. And Demetrius raygned in the hundred and seuen and forty years.

At the same tyme gathered Jonathan them that were in Iewry to lay siege vnto the castell whiche was at Hierusalem, and so they made manye instrumentes of warre agaynst it. Then went there certayne vngodly persons (whiche hated theyr owne people) vnto kyng Demetrius, and tolde hym that Jonathan besyged the castell. When he heard it, he was angry, and immediately came vnto Ptolomeus, and shewed vnto Jonathan, that he should not lay siege to the castell but come and speake with him in al the hast. Nevertheless whē Jonathan heard this, he commaunded to besyge it. He chose also certayne of the elders, and priestes of Israel, and put hym selfe in the verue, and toke with hym gold, syluer, clothynge, and dyuerse presentes, and went to Ptolomeus vnto the kyng, and found hym gracious.

And though the certayne vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon hym, yet the kyng increased hym lyke as his predecessours hadde done before: and promoted hym in the syght of al his frendes, confirmed hym in the hye priest hood with al the worship that he had afore, and made hym his chiefe friend. Jonathan also despyed the kyng that he woulde make Iewry free, with the thre heade cyties of Samaria, and the landes pertaining thereto: vpon this did Jonathan promyse him the hundred talentes, wherunto the kyng consented, and gaue Jonathan wytynges of the gooddes that they haue in my realme, shalbe free. For the buyllonge also and repairing of the worke of the Sanctuary, ex-pences shalbe geuen out of the kyngs che-ker: Yea, and for the makinge of the wals round about Iherusalem, for þe breakinge downe of the old, and for settinge vp of the strong holdes in Ieru. 22, shal the costs and charges be geuen out of the kyngs cheker.

The .i. booke of the Mach:

But when Jonathan & the people heard
1. mac. vii 5 these wordes, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receyued them: for they re-membred the greate wyckednesse that he had done vnto Israel, and how sore he had vexed them. Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prynee that hadde dealt frendly with them, and so they stode by hym alway. Then gathered king Alexander a great host, and brought hym army agaynst Demetrius. So the two kynges strooke battayle together, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander folowed after and fel vpon hym. A myghty fore field was it, continuing tyl the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

Joseph. cap
v lib. xii.
antiquis,

And Alerxder sent Embassadors vnto to Ptolomey the kyng of Egypt wryth these wordes, sayinge: For so much as I am come agayne to my realme, and am sette in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercomed Demetrius, conquered the lande, and streken a speilde wyth hym, so that we haue dyscomfyred both him and his hoste, and sit in þe throne of his kyngdom: let vs now make frendshyppe together, geue me thy daughter to wyfe: so that I be thy sonne in law, & both geue the rewards, and her great dignette.
Ptolomey the kyng gaue answer, sayinge:
Happy be the day wher in thou arte come agayne to the laud of thy progenitours, & set in the throne of thery kyngdome. As now wil I fulfill thy wryting, but mere me at Ptolomais, þe we maye se one another, and that I may marre my daughter vnto the, according to thy desire. So Ptolomey went out of Egypt wth his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in þe .x. yere, wher King Alexander met hym, and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolomais wyth great worship. Lyke as the maner of kynges is to be: Then wrote kyng Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde come and meete hym. So he went honozably vnto Ptolomais, & ther he met the two kynges, and gaue them great presents of gold and siluer and found fauour in their sight.
And ther cam together agaynst Jonathas certaine wicked men and vngacious persons of Israell, makinge complaynes of hym, but the kyng regarded them not. As for Jonathas, the kyng commanded to take of hys garmentes, and to clothe hym in purple: and so they dyd. Then the kyng appoynted hym to sit by hym, and said vnto his princes: So wyth hym into

The. i. Chapter. Fel. ix bss the middle of þe citi, & make a proclamation, that no man complaine against hym of any mattee, and that no man trouble by us for any maner of cause.

So it happened that when his accusers saw the worship which was proclaymed of hym; and þe he was clothed in purple, they sied euerychone. And the kyng made much of hym, wrote hym among his chiefe fren-des, made hym a duke, and partaker of his dominion. Thus Ananias went againe to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse. Jos. cap. 19.
In the C. lxx. yere, came Demetrius the v. l. king, ansonne of Demetrius from Creta into hys l. Mat. 22.
fathers land: wherof whil Alexander herd rel, he was right soye, and returned vnto Antioche. And Demetrius chose Appollonius (which had the gouernauce of Celstria) to be hys captaine.

So he gathered a greate host, and came vnto Hamna, and sent worde vnto Jona-thas the hye prieste, sayinge: Darest thou wythstand vs thy selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne and waied, because thou proudest thy strength agaynst vs in the mountaines. Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thyne own strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and ther let vs proue our strength to gether: thou shalt finde that I haue valsaunte men of war wyth me: and shalt know whō I am, and the other that stande by me.

Which say, that your fore is not able to stand before our face, for thy fathers haue bene wise chased into the y^e ptaine lande. And now, how wilt thou be able to abyde so great on host of horsemen and footemen in the field, wher as is neither locke, none, nor place to fyre vnto?

When Jonathan heard the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherefore he chose .x. thousand menne and went out of Hierusalem, & hymd his brother wth him for to helpe hym. And they pitched theyr tentes at Bappa, but the city kept him forth, for Bappa was an holbe of Apollonius. Then Jonathan layd siege to it, and they that were in the cty, for better lease let him in: and so Jonathan won Bappa. Apollonius hearing of this, tooketh thousand horsemen wth a great host on foote, and went as though he would go to Azotus, and came immediatly into the playne bycuse because he had so many horsemen, and put his truste in them. So Jonathan folowed vpon hym to Azotus, and there they stroke the battayle. Nowe hadde Apollonius left a thousand horsemenne beynde them bycuse to the tentes. And when Jonathan knewe that such wayte was layd beynd them, they went rounde aboute the enemyes booke, and shotte dartes at the people from the morning to the eueninge. As for Jonathan people, they kepte theyr order as he had commaunded them, and the enemyes horses were euen labouryng.

Ernst. Eber.

The.i.booke of the Mach.

of the same, containing these wordes. King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathan, and to the people of the Iewes. We sende you here a copie of the letter which we haue wryte vnto our elder Lashenus, concerning you, that ye shoulde knowe it.

D King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lashenus his elder. For the cause of al that our frendes the people of the Iewes kepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnes whiche they beare toward vs, we are determyned to do them good. Wherefore we ordeine al the coastes of Iewrye wth iii. cities, Iudia and Ramatha (whiche are added vnto Iewry from Samaria) and al the landes pertainyng therunto, to be frely separated for such as do sacrifice in Ierusalem: both concerning the paymentes whiche the king toke yearly afore tyme, & the frutes also of the earth and trees. As for other tithes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharge them therof for this tyme forth. In lyke maner we graunt vnto the al the customes of salte & crowne taxes whiche were brought vnto vs. And this freedom shal they haue firme and steadfast, from this tyme forth for euer more.

1. Mac. xii. 1 Therefore he that he make a copie of these out letters, & deliuer it to Jonathan that it may be kept vpon the holpe mount in a conuenient place. After this, when Demetrius the king saw that his lande was in rest, and that no resistance was made him: he sent away al his host euerie man to his own place, except an army of strangers, whom he brought fro the Iles of the heathen, wherfore al his fathers hoste had euyl wyl at him. * Now was ther one Tryphon (that had bene of Alexanders patre afore) whiche when he saw that al the host murmured agaynst Demetrius: he wente to Emacluel the Arabian (that broughte vp Antiochus, the sonne of Alexander) and lape sore vpon hym: to deliuer hym this yong Antiochus: that he might raigne in his fathers steade. He told hym also what great euyl Demetrius had done, and how his men of war loued hym not: and so remained ther a long season.

1. Mac. xii. 2 And Jonathan sent vnto kynge Demetrius, to dryue them oute whiche were in the castell at Ierusalem, and in the other refuges, for they byd Israel great harme. So Demetrius sent word vnto Jonathan saying: I wyl not onely dooe these thynges for the and thy people, but at tyme conuenient I wyl do both the and thy people great worshipp. But now thou shalte doo me a pleasure, if thou wylt send me men to helpe me: for al myne army is gon fro me. So Jonathan sent him iii. my. strong men vnto Antioche, and they came vnto the king, wherfore the king was verie glad at their commynge. But they that were of the citee (euen an. C. xx. thousand men) gathered them to gether, and would haue

The.xi.Chapter. Fo.lxxviii.

slayne the king, whiche fled into his court: and the citisens kept the stretes of the ctyte, and began to fyght.

Then the king called for the Iewes helpe whiche came vnto hym altogether, & went abroade thowme the ctyte, and slawe the same day an hundred thousande menne: sette fyre vpon the ctyte, gat manye spoyles in that day, and deliuered the kinge. So when the ctyte sawe that the Iewes hadde gotten thei wyl of the ctyte, and they them selues dysapoynted of thei purpose, they made thei supplication vnto the kinge. sayinge: Graunte vs peace, and lette the Iewes ceasse from troubling vs and the ctyte, and vpon this they cast away their weapens. Thus they made peace, and the Iewes gatte greace worshyppe in the syghte of the kinge, and in the syght of al that were in his realme, and were spoken of thowoute the kyngdome: and so they came agayne to Ierusalem wth greace goodes.

So the kinge Demetrius satte in the throne of his kyngdome, and had peace in his lande. Nevertheless he dyssembled in al that euer he spake, and wyndewe hym selfe from Jonathan, neyther rewarded hym accordyng to the benefytes whiche he had done for hym, but troubled hym very sore. After this came Tryphon agayne wth yonge Antiochus, whiche captured and was crowned kinge. Then there gathered vnto him al the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away: these foughte agaynst Demetrius, whiche fled and turned his backe. So Tryphon toke the Elephanthes, and was Antioche. And yonge Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathan, saying: I cōspyre the in this pitefollhode, and make the ruler of foure countreys, that thou mayest be a scende of the kinges.

Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, to be clothed in purple, & to weare a collar of gold. He made his brother Simon also captayne from the coastes of Itrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

Then Jonathan tooke his journey, and went thowme the ctyes beyonde the water (of Iordane) and all the men of warre of Siria gathered them vnto hym for to holde hym. So he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the ctyte receyued hym honourably: and from thence went he vnto Gaza, but they would not let hym in: wherfore he laied siege vnto it burning vp and spoiling the places that wer about the ctyte.

And the ctyzens of Gaza submitted them selues vnto Jonathan, whiche made peace wth them, but toke of thei sonnes to pledge, sente them to Ierusalem, and went thowme the countrey vnto Damascus. Now when Jonathan herd that Demetrius princes wer come into Cadus (whiche is in Galile) wth a great host, purposing to put Demetrius oute from medlynge in Agam. 11. the

The.i. booke of the Mach.

the realme, he came agaynst them and left Simeon his brother in the lande: wherhe came to Bethsura, and layed spege to it a longe season, and dyscomfited them. So they desired to haue peace with him, whiche he graunted them, and after ward put them out from thence, tooke the cite, and set me to kepe it. And Jonathan with his host came to the water of Gensar, and by tymes in the morninge gatte them to the playne felde of Asor.

And beholde, the hostes of the Heathen met them in the feld, and layd watch for them in the mountaynes: so that whē Jonathan came agaynst the, the other (which were layed to watch) rose oute of their places, and fought, and they that were of Jonathan syde, fled euery man: and there was not left one of them, excepte Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphyr, the captayne of the hoste. Then Jonathan rent his clothes, layed earth vpon his head, made his prayer, and turned agayne to them * in the feld where they fought together, and he put them to flight. Now when his own men that were fled sawe this: they turned agayne to hym, and helped hym to slowe vpon all their enemyes vnto their tentes at Cades. So ther were slayne of the heathen the same day. iii. M. men, and Jonathan turned agayne to Ierusalem.

The.ii. Chapter.

Jonathan sendeth Embassitours to Rome, and to the people of Sparta, to renewe their covenante of frendshipp. Jonathan putteth to flight the prynces of Demetrius. Triphon taketh Jonathan by deceipt.

Joseph. iiii. booke of an. equi. vii. Chapter.

Jonathan seynge that the tyme was mete for him, chose certain men, and sent them vnto Rome for to stablish and to renewe the frendshipp with them. He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner. So they went vnto Rome, and entered into the counsel, and sayd: Jonathan the hye priest and the people of the Jewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe the old frendshipp and bonde of loue. Vpon this the Romaynes gaue them free passages, that nene shoulde leade them home into the land of Iuda, peaceably. And this is the toppe of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians.

Jonathan the hye priest with the elders priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greting vnto the Spartians their brethren. Ther were letters sente longe ago vnto * Onias the hye priest, from Arius, wherby then raygned amonge you: that ye are our brethren, as the wrytynge made therof, specifieth. And Onias entreated the Embassitoure that was sente honourably, and receiued the letters wherein ther was mencion made of the bonde of loue and frendshipp. But as for vs, we neede no such wrytynge: for wher, we haue the holy booke of scripture in oure handes to our comfort. Nevertheless, we had rather send vnto you, for the renewng of the brotherhoode and frendshipp, least we shoulde be straunge vnto you, for it is longe sence that ye sent words vnto vs. Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer and other Ceremonies vpon the hye solempne daies and other, we alway remember you without ceasinge (lyke as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thynke vpon oure brethren) yea and are ryght glad of your prosperous honour.

The.xii. Chapter.

And though we haue had greates troubles and warres, so that the Kinges aboute vs haue foughten agaynst vs, yet would we not be greuous vnto you nor to other of our louers and frendes in these warres. For we haue had helpe from heauen, so that we are deliuered, and our enemyes subdued. Wherefore we chose Numeus the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romayns, for to renewe the old bond of frendshipp and loue with them. We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concernyng the renouacion of our brotherhoode. And now ye shall do ryght well, to geue vs an answer therunto.

* And this is the copy of the wrytynge wherby Arius the kynge of Sparta sente Joseph. lib. vnto Onias: Arius kynge of the Sparta. iiii. cap. v. and sendeth greetynge vnto Onias the hye priest. It is founde in wrytynge, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generacyon of Abraham. And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shal do wel to wryte vnto vs of your prosperite. As for vs, we haue wrytten our mynde vnto you: Our carell and goodes are yours, and yours ours. These thynges haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

When Jonathan herd that Demetrius prynces were come forth to fight agaynst him, with a greater host then afore, he went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Bematb, for he gaue them not space to come into his own countrey. And he sente spies vnto their tentes, which came agayne to tolde him that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night season. Wherefore whē the sunne was gone down, Jonathan commaunded his men to watch all the nyght, and to be ready with weapons for to fight: and set watchmen round about the hoste. But whē the aduersaries herd that Jonathan was ready with his men to the battel, they feared, and were afraied in their tentes, and kindled fires in their tents, brake vp, and gat them away. Nevertheless Jonathan and his company knew it not, tyl the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

Then Jonathan folowed vpon them, but he myght not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

So

Joseph. lib. xii. cap. v.

So Jonathan departed to the Arabians (whych were called Zababai) betwixt the, and toke thei gooddes. He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow al that country. But Symon his brother toke his iourney and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes: departing vnto Joppa, and wan it. For he herde that they would stand of Demetrius party: wherefore he sent men of war into the cite, to kepe it. After this came Jonathan home agayne, and called the elders of the people together: and deuyled with them for to buyld vp the strong holdes in Jertsey, and the walles of Ierusalem, to set vp on the walles betwixt the castell and the cite, for to sepetate it from the cite, that it might be alone, and that men should neither be nor sel in it.

Upon this they came together for to buyld vp the cite: and for asmuch as the wal upon the broke of the west side (called Caphetheart) was fallen downe, they repaired it. And Symon set vp Abadab in Joseph. cap. Sephelab, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes vpon it. Nowe when Tryphon purposed to capue in Asya, to be crowned, and to slay the kynge Antiochus, he was afrayed that Jonathan would not suffer hym, but spyghte agaynst hym. Wherefore he was about to take Jonathan and to kyl hym.

So he departed, and came vnto Bethsa: Then went Jonathan forth agaynst hym to the battayle with xl. thousande chosen men, & came vnto Bethsan also. But whē Tryphon sawe that Jonathan came with so great an host to destroy hym, he was afrayed: and therefore he receyued hym honorably, commended hym vnto al his frendes, and gaue hym rewardes, and commaunded his men of war to be as obedyent vnto hym, as to hym selfe.

And sayde vnto Jonathan: whys haue thou caused this people to take such trouble, seynge there is no warre betwixt vs? Therefore sende them home agayne, and chole certayne menne to wayte vpon thee, & come thou with me to Iscolomais: for I will geue it the, with the other strong holdes, men of warre and thei officers. As for me, I must depart, this is only the cause of my commynge. Jonathan beleued hym, and vnd as he sayd, puttyng alwaye his host, whych went into the land of Iuda. He kept but. iii. M. of hym, wherof he sent. ii. M. into Galile, and one. M. went with hym selfe.

Now as soone as Jonathan entred into Iscolomais, the egyptians sparmed the gates of the cite, and toke hym, and slew all them with the sword, that came in with hym. Then sent Tryphon an host of foote men and horsemen into Galilee and into the great playne fylde, to destroy all Jonathan company. But whē they knewe that Jonathan was taken, and all they sayne that waited vpon hym, they tooke counsell together, and came forth ready to the battayle. So when they whych followed vpon them, saw that it was a matter of lyfe, they turned backe agayne. As for the other, they went into the lande of Iuda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathan, and them that were with hym right sore. And Isaac made great lamentacion. The all the Beathen that were rounde aboute them, soughte to destroye them. For they sayed: nowe haue they no captayne, nor any man to helpe them. Therefore lette vs overcome them, and roote out they name from among men.

The. xiii. Chapter.

After Jonathan was taken, Simon & his son captayned of whome Tryphon takinge his choldren and money for the redemption of Jonathan, kylled hym and his choldren. The graue of Jonathan. Tryphon kylled Antiochus, and possessed the reame. Demetrius came thence with Simon. Simon wonneth Asia. He possessed the towne of Sion. He maketh his sonne John captaine.

Now when Simon herd that Tryphon had gathered a great host to come into the lande of Iuda and to destroy it: and sawe that the people was in greate scarcifullnes and care: He came vp to Ierusalem and gathered the people together, and gaue thei exhortacion, saying: Ye knowe what greate battayles I and my brethren and my fathers house haue styken for the lame and the sanctuarie, and what manner of troubles we haue sene: thorow occasion wherof, all my brethren are sayne for Israels sake, and I am left alone. And nowe lette me not spare my owne lyfe in anye maner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren: but will avenge my people and the Sanctuarie, our choldren and our wifes: for all the beathen are gathered together, to destroy vs for very malice.

At these wordes the heartes of the people were kyndled together, so that they cryed with a loude voyce, saying: Thou shalt be our captayne in steade of Iudas and Jonathan thy brethren, order thou our battayle, and what soeuer thou commaundest vs, we shall doo it. So he gathered all the men of war makinge hast to frysh al the walls of Ierusalem, which he made strong round about. Then sent he Jonathan the sonne of Absalomus with a freche hoste vnto Joppa, whych droue them oute that were in the castell and remayned ther hym selfe. Tryphon also remoued from Iscolomais with a great army to come into the land of Iuda, and Jonathan with hym in ward. And Simon pitched his tentes at Addus before the playne fylde.

But when Tryphon knewe that Simon doode vp in steade of his brother Jonathan, and that he would be warre agaynst hym

Joseph. lib. iiii. cap. ix.

Mac. vi. c. ix. v. i. b.

13

The.i. booke of the Mach.

him: he sent messengers vnto hym, saying: Wher as we haue kepte Jonathas thy brother, it is for monye that he is owynge in the kynges accompte, concerninge the busynesse that he had in hand. Wherfore sende nowe an. C. talentes of syluer, and hys two sonnes for suretye, that when he is letre forth he shal not forsake vs, and we shal send hym agayne.

Neuertheles Simon knew that he disguised in hys wordes: yet commaunded he the mony and chyldren to be deliuered vnto hym, lest he should be the greater enemye agaynst the people of Israel, and say: because he sent hym not the mony and the chyldren, therefore is Jonathas dead.

So Symon sent hym the chyldren and an hundred talentes, but he dyssembled, & would not let Jonathas go. Afterward came Tryphon in to the land, to destroye it, and went round aboute by the waye that leadeth vnto Ador. But wher so euer they went, chyther went Simon and hys hoste also. Nowe they that were in the castell sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wyldernes, and to send them vnto Tryphon. And Tryphon made ready al hys hostmen to come that same nyght. Neuerthelesse it was a very greate shame, so that he came not in Galaadithim. And when he dyeme nye Baschama, he sawe Jonathas and hys sonnes ther, and they turned for to go home into hys owne land.

Then sent Symon for to sette hys brothers deade coarfe, and buryed it in Agodim hys fathers cypre. So al Israel bewailed hym with great lamentaciō, and mourned for hym very long. And Symon made vpon the sepulchre of hys father and hys brethren a burying hye to looke vnto. of the stone behynde and before: and set vp seven pylers, one agaynst another (for hys father, hys mother and four brethren) and set great pylers round about with armes vpon them for a perpetual memoire: and caued hyss besyde the armes, that they myght be sene of men saylynge in the sea. Thys sepulchre whiche he made at Agodim, standeth yet vnto this day.

Now as Tryphon went forth to walke with the yong kynge Antiochus, he sawe him trayterously, and raigned in his dead, crowned hym selfe kyng of Asia, and dyd much euyl in the land. Simon also builded hy castles in Iewry, making them stronge with hye towars, great walles, ports and lockes, and layed vpon yttales in the strong holdes. And Symon chose certayne men, and sent them to kyng Demetrius to desyre hym that he would discharge the land from al bondage, for Tryphon had spoiled it verie sore. Where vpon Demetrius the kyng answered hym, and wrote vnto hym after this maner.

Demetrius the kyng sendeth greetynge vnto Simon the hye priest his frend, with the elders and people of the Jewes. The golden crowne and precions stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receyued: and are readye to make a stedfast peace with you, pea and to wyte vnto our officers, for to release you, concerninge the things wher in we made you fre, and the appointment that we make with you, shalbe firme and stable. The strong holdes whiche ye haue builded, shal be your owne. As for any ouer syght or fault committed vnto this day, we forgeue it, and the crowne care þe oughte vs also. And wher as was anye other rebute in Ierusalem, it shal nowe be no rebute: and looke who are mere among you to be in our court, let them be wyrtren vp, that ther may be peace betwixt vs.

The.iii. Chapter.

Thus the pocke of the Heathen was taken from Israel, in the hundred and fortye yere. And the people of the Jewes began to write in their letters and actes on this maner: In the firste yere of Simons the hye priest, and prince of the Jewes.

In those dayes went Simon vnto Gaza. and besieged it round about, where he set up ordinaunce of war, and wait a route maych he toke. So they that gat into the to me, lepe into the cite, whiche was in a great feare: In so much that the people of the cite rent their clothes, and clumed vpon the walles with their iopes and chyldren, beseechynge Simon to be at one word with them, saying: O rewarde vs not after our wickednes, but be gracious vnto vs, and we shal do the scrupce. Then Simon for very pity, would fight no more agaynst them, but put them out of the cypre, and caused the houses (wherin the Images were) to be clenfed: and so entered the cite with psalmes of prayse, geuyng thanks vnto the Lorde. So when he had caste all abominacions oute of the cypre, he sette such men in it as kept the law of god, and made the cite strong, and builded a dwelling place for hym selfe.

Now when they in the castell at Ierusalem were kept so straightly, that they could not come forth nor into the countrey, and myght neyther buye nor sel, they were verie hungry & many of the samptied to death: In so much that they besoughte Simon to be at one word with them, whiche he graunted them. So he put them out from thence and clenfed the castell from fylchynesse.

And vpon the. xlii. daye of the seconde moneth in the. C. lxxi. yere, they entred in to it with thanks geuyng, & bzaunches of olme trees, with harpes, crowds, cymbals, and lutes, syngynge psalmes and songes of prayse vnto God, for that the great enemye of Israel was overcome.

And Simon ordeined that the same day shuld be kept every yere in gladnes, and made stronge the wall of the temple that was besyde the castell, wher he dwelt hym selfe with his company. Simō also perceyving that Tryphon hys sonne was a myghty man

The.i. booke of the Mach.

man of armes, made hym captayne of al þ hones, and caused hym to dwell at Gaza.

The.xiii. Chapter.

Demetrius is overcome of Asaces. Simon beinge captayne, there is great quietnes in Israel. The covenante of frendshipp wth the Romaines, & wth þ people of Sparta is renewed.

In the. xliiii. yere gathered k^{ing} Demetrius hys hoste, and departed vnto Medra, to gette hym helpe for to fyghe agaynst Triphon. Nowe when Asaces the k^{ing}e of Persia and Media heard that Demetrius was wthin hys borders: he sente one of hys princes to take hym asprue, and to bringe hym vnto hym. So he wente & flew Demetrius host, toke hym selfe, brought hym to Asaces, wher he kept hym in ward. And all the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon liued, for he sought the wealthe of hys people, therfore were they glad to haue him for theyr ruler, and to do hym worshipp alway.

Simon was the c^{ty} of Joppa also for an haueu towne, and made it an entrance into the Isles of þ sea. He enlarged þ boiders of hys people, & conquered the more land: He gathered v^y many of their people þ were prisoners: he had þ dominion of Gaza, Beetsura, & the castel, wher he cleansed from filthynes, & ther was no m^a. that resisted hym: So that every man tilled hys ground in peace: the lande of Juda and the trees gaue their fruite and increase. The elders sat al in iudgemente, & toke theyr decyze for the wealthe of the land: the pong men put on worship & har-nes vpon them. He prouided vitalles for the cyties and made goodly stronge hol-des of them: so that the fame of hys wor-shipp was spoken of vnto the ende of the world. For he made peace thorowout the land, and Israel was ful of myth & joy.

Euery man sat vnder hys vine and fig trees, and ther was no man to feare them away. There was none in þ land to fight agaynst them, for then the k^{ing}es were overcome. He helped those that were in aduersitie among hys people, he was diligent to se the lawe kepte: as for suche as were vngodly and wycked, he toke them away. He set vp the Sanctuarie and increased the holy vessels of the temple.

When the Romaines and Spartans had gotten worde þ Jonathas was dead, they were right so^r. But wh^{en} they heard that Simon hys brother was made h^{er} p^{ri}este in hys steade, and howe he had wonne the lande agayne wth the egyptes in it, they wrot vnto him in tables of lat-tayne, to renew the frendshipp, and bond of loue, wher they had made afore wth Judas and Jonathas hys brether. Which writinges were red afore the congregation at Jerusalem.

And thys is the copp^y of the letters that

The.xiiii. Chapter. Fo.lxx.

the Spartans sente: The Senatours and cyties of Sparta send greetyn^g vnto Simon the great p^{ri}est wth the elders p^{ri}ests, & þ other people of þ Jewes theyr bretheren: When your embassitours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worshipp, honoure, and prosperous wealch, we were glad of theyr commyn^g:
and haue wrytten the etrand wher they spake before þ coscel of the people: namely that Numentus the son of Antiochus, and Antipater þ sonne of Jason þ Jewes embassitours are come vnto vs for to renew the olde frendshipp wth vs, vpon thys the people consented that the men shoulde be honorably intreated, and the copp^y of theyr etrand shoulde be wrytten in the special booke of the people, for a perpetuall memo^ry vnto the Spartians: yea and that we shoulde send a copp^y of þ same vnto Symon the great p^{ri}este.

After thys v^y Sim^{on} sende Numentus vnto Rome wth a golden shryb of a thousande pounds weyghre, to confirme the frendshipp wth them: wherby when the Romaines vnderstode, they sayde: what chances shal we recompence agayne vnto Simon and hys chyldren? For he haue doublyed his bretheren, and overcome the enmyes of Israel. Wherfore they granted hym to be fre. And all thys wrotte the Jewes in tables of latine, & naped it to the pillars vpon the mount Sion. The copie of the wrytyn^g is thys.

The.xviii. day of the moneth Elul in þ xliiii. yere, in the thirde yere of Symon the h^{er} p^{ri}este, in the greete congregaci^on of the p^{ri}ests, rulers of þ people, & elders of the countre at Asaram, were these wo^r-des openly declared.

For so much as ther was much war wth our land, therfore Sim^{on} the sonne of Ma-tathias (come of the chyldren of Iacob) & hys brether, put them selues in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people: that theyr Sanctuarie and lawe might be maintained, and did theyr people greete wor-shipp. Jonathas in lyke maner, after that he had gouerned hys people and ben their h^{er} p^{ri}este, dyed and lyeth buried beside hys elders.

After that woulde their ennemyes haue troden theyr holy thynges vnder foote, be-stroyed their lande, and utterly wasted theyr Sanctuarie. Then Sim^{on} withstode th^{em}, and fought for hys people, sp^{er}t muche of hys owne moneye, weaponed the vale-ant men of hys people, gaue them wages, made stronge the cyties of Iuda, wth Bethsurah that lyeth vpon the borders of Iewrye (wher the ordinaunce of their enmyes laye sometime) and sette Jewes there for to kepe it.

He made fast Joppa also, wher lyeth vpon the sea, and Gaza that bordereth vpon Azotus (wher þ enemies dwelt afore) and ther beset Jewes to kepe it: & what-

Am. iiii. soeuer

Gen. xvi. 9
Isa. xli. 10

1 Ma. viii.
e. d. i. fil. a.

The .i. booke of the Macc.

forer was mere for the subduynge of the aduersaries, that layed he therein. Nowe when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worshyp he purposed to do for them, bys godlye behauiour, and superfluellie whiche he kepte vnto the, and how he fought by all wates & wealthe of bys people, because he dydde all thys, therfore they chose him to be theyr prince and hie prieste. And in his tyme they prospered well by hym, so that the Heathen were taken oute of theyr lande: and they also whiche were in the ctyte of Ierusalem at Ierusalem in the castell, where they went out and despoiled al things that were aboute the Sanctuary, and dyd greete harme vnto chanelines, and Symon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the lande and the ctyte, and set vp the walles of Ierusalem.

And kynge Demetrius confirmed hym in bys hie priesthode, made hym his frend, & dyd him great worshyp. For he herde that the Romaynes called & Jewes their frends louers and brethren: how honorably they receyued Simons embassytours, how the Jewes & priestes consented & he shoulde be theyr prince & hie priest perpetually (epl God rayled by the true prophet) and that he shoulde be theyr captaine, to care for the Sanctuary, and to set officers byd the workes therof, ouer the land, ouer the weyhs, ouer the houses of defence, to make provision for the holy thynges, and to be obeyed of euery man, and all the wytynges of the law to be made in bys name: that he shoulde be clothed in purple and gold, and that it shuld be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these thynges, to wythstand bys wordes, nor to call any congregacion in the lande wythoute hym: that he shuld be clothed in purple, & weare a collar of golde: And if ther wer anye whiche disobeyed or brake thys ordynance, that he shuld be punished.

So al & people consented to alove Simon, & to do accordinge to these wordes. Simon also vnto hym selfe took he vpon hym, & was content to be the hie priest, & captaine and prince of the Jewes, & priestes, and to gouerne the all. And they commaunded to make thys wytyng in tables of latine, & fasten it vnto the compass of the Sanctuary in an open place: and to laye by a cōpye of the same in the treasure, that Symon, and bys posteritie myght haue it.

The .xv. Chapter.

Antiochus maketh a couenaunte of frendshyp with Simon, and Triphonis persecuted. The Romaynes wrote letters vnto kinges and nationis in the defence of the Jewes. Antiochus refusinge the help that Simon sent hym, breaketh bys couenaunte.

After kynge Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius. sente letters to the Kinges of the sea, vnto Simon the hie priest & prince of the Jewes, and to al the people, conteynyng these wordes: Antiochus the kynge sendeth greetynge vnto Symon the hie priest, & to the people of the Jewes. For so much as certain wycked men haue gotte the kyngdom of our progenytours, I am purposed to chalenge the realme agayne, to restore it to the olde estate.

The .xv. Chapter.

Wherefore I haue gathered a greete hoste, and made shippes of warre: that I maye go thorow the countrey, and be auenged of them whiche haue destoyed our lande, and wasted manye ctytes in my realme. And therfore nowe I make the free also from all the tributes, whiche of al kynges my progenytours haue discharged the, and from other customes (wher from they haue released the) what forer they be: Yea I geue the leaue to Smyte monye of thyn owne wythin thy lande. As for Ierusalem, I wyll that it be holy and free: and all the weapons and houses of defence whiche thou hast builded and kept in thyn bandes, shalbe thine. Wher as any thyng is or shal be omynge vnto the kynge, I forgeue it the, from this tyme forth for euermore. And when we haue obteyned our kyngdom, we shal do the, thy people and the temple great worshyp, so that your honour shalbe knowne thorow out the whole worlde.

In the .Cxxiii. yere went Antiochus B in to bys fathers land, & all the mē of warre came together vnto hym, so that schew were lesse wyth Triphon. So the kynge Antiochus folowed vpon hym, but he fledde vnto Dora, whiche lyeth by the sea syde: for he sawe that ther was a myschance comynge vnto hym, and that bys hoste had forsaken hym. Then came Antiochus vnto Dora wyth an hundred and twentye thousande men of armes vpon foote, and eight thousand boismen. So he compassed the ctyte round about, and the shippes came by the sea. Thus they beseged the ctyte i. mac. xlii. by land and by water, in so muche & they suffred no man to go in nor out.

In the meane season came Ptolemy C (and they that had bene wyth hym) from the ctyte of Rome, hauing letters wyrtten vnto the kynges, and prouynces, wherewith were conteyned these wordes: Lucius the Agate of Rome sendeth greetynge vnto Isidolom the kynge. The embassytours of the Jewes our frendes beyng sent from Symon the hie priest, and from the people of the Jewes, came vnto vs for to renewe the olde frendshyppe (and bonde of loue) and broughte a shylde of golde wyrtynge a thousande pound, whiche we were contente to receyue of them. Wherefore we thought it good to wyrtte vnto the kinges and prouynces, to do them no harme, nor to take parte agaynst them, they ctytes nor countreys, neyther to maintaine theyr ennemyes agaynst them. If there be any wycked personnes therfore that do their their countrey vnto you, deliuer the vnto Symon the hie priest, that he may punyſhe them accordynge to their ſtone lawe.

D The ſame wordes wrote the Romaynes alſo vnto Demetrius the kynge, to Artalus, Araba, Arſaces, and to all regyons: as Samſanes, to the of Sparta, Delo, Mydo, Sydon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycra, Alicarnaſſum, and to the Rhodes, to Paſelis, Coos, Sida, Acado, Bortina, Burdum, to Cyprus & to Cyren. And of euery letter they ſet a coppy to Symon the hie prieſt, and to the people of Iewes. So Antiochus the kynge brought his hooſte vnto Doza the ſeconde tyme to take it: where he made diuerſe ordinance of warre, and kepte Triphon in, that he ſhoulde not come forth. Then ſent Symon to Antiochus, two thouſand choſen me to helpe hym wyth gold, ſiluer and other precious geer: neuertheles he wold not receyue the, but brake al ſe couciant which he made wyth Symon afore, & wythdrew hym ſelfe from hym.

E He ſent Athenobius alſo a frend of his vnto Symon, for to reaſon wyth hym ſauinge: Ne withholdeſt me Toppa and Gaza (wyth the caſtel that is at Jeruſalem) whiche are cyties of my realme, whole borders ye haue deſtroyed, & done greaue euell in them, and haunge the dominacon in manie other places of my kyngedome. Wherefore deliuer now the cyties which ye haue taken, wyth the tributes of places that ye haue rule vpon, wythout ſ borders of Iewye: Or elſe geue me ſoue hundred talents of ſiluer, pea and for the harm that ye haue done in the cyties & for the tributes of the ſame, other ſoue hundred talents. If no, we ſhal come and fyght agaynſte you.

Judi. xl. c. So Athenobius the kynge's frende came to Jeruſalem, and when he ſaw the great worſhip, & honoure of Symon, in golde, ſiluer & ſo great plenty of cynamets, he marvelled: & coulde Symon as the kynge commaunded him. The answered Symon and ſaid vnto hym: As for vs we haue neither taken other mens land, nor wythholde the, but oure our fathers heritage, which oure enemies had vntygrounle in poſſeſſion a certayne tyme. Thys heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in proces of tyme. And where as thou complaineſt concerning Toppa & Gaza, they dyd greaue harm to oure people and in our land, yet wyl me geue an. C. talents for them.

Neuertheleſſe Athenobius answered hym not one worde, but touned agayne wrathfully vnto the kynge, and told him all theſe wordes, and the greaue bygnitye of Symon, wyth al that he had ſene: and the kynge was verie angere. In the mean tyme ſed Triphon by ſhip vnto Dioſpolis. Then the kynge made Cendebeus captayne of the ſea coſt and gaue hym an hoſt of foote me & horſme, commaunding hym to remoue the hoſte towarde Iewry, and to builde vp the ctyte of Cedron, to make vp the portes, & to war agaynſt the people of the Iewes. As for the kynge hym ſelfe, he folowed vpon Triphon. So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, & beganne to bere the people, to tread down Iewry, to take the people priſoners, to ſlaue them & to builde vp Cedron: where he ſette horſmenne and other menne of war, ſ they myghte come forth & go throughe the ſtreets of Iewry, lyke as the kynge had commaunded hym.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captayne of Antiochus hoſt is put to flight of the ſonnes of Symon. Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus killeth Symon and his. ii. ſonnes at a banquet. Thon killeth them that be in wayte for hys lyfe.

Then came Thon vp from Gaza, and tolde Symon hys ſalut, what Cendebeus had done amonge thery people.

Thon theſe called Symon two of hys eldeſt ſonnes, Judas and Thon, & ſayed vnto them: I and my brethren and my fathers houſe, haue euer ſtriven agaynſt the enemies of Iſrael, and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Iſrael oft tymes. And now for ſo muche as I am olde, be ye in ſtead of me & my brethren to go forth and fight for our people, & the help of God be wyth you. So he choſe cc. fighting men of the countrey, wyth horſemen alſo which wente forth agaynſt Cendebeus, & reſted at Agodin.

In the morning they aroſe, and wente into the playne felde: and behold, a myghty great hoſt came agaynſt them, bothe of foote me and horſmen. Nowe was ther a water broke betwixt them, and Thon remoued the hoſt towarde them. And whē he ſawe that the people was aſtayed to go ouer ſ water broke, he wyl ouer ſpyll hym ſelfe: & the men ſpyng theſe folowed him.

Then Thon ſet hys horſemen and foote men in order, the one by ſ other, for thery enemies horſmen were verie manye. But when they blew vp the piteles trumpets, Cendebeus ſed wyth hys hooſte, wherof many were ſlarne, and the remanent gat them to thery ſtronge holde. Judas alſo Thons brother was wounded at ſ ſame tyme. And Thon folowed ſpyll vpon the enemies, & tyll he came to Cedron whiche he buyled. The enemies ſed alſo vnto ſ towres that were in the felde of Azotus, and thoſe dyd Thon burne vp. Thus ther were ſlarne. ii. cc. men of them, and Thon turned agayne peaceably into Iewry.

And in the felde of Jericho was Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus made captayne: whiche becauſe he had abundance of ſiluer and golde (for he had maryed the daughter of Symonne the hie prieſte) waxed proude in hys mynd, & thought to conquere the lande, pmyſſynge ſalſhed agaynſt Symon

A i. Mac. xii. ioseph. lib. xii. cap. xii

B

i. Mac. xv. iosephus lib. xii. ca. 11.

Sumon

their countrey vnto you, deliuer the vnto Symon the hie priest, that he may punyſhe them accordynge to their ſtone lawe.

D The ſame wordes wrote the Romaynes alſo vnto Demetrius the kynge, to Artalus, Araba, Arſaces, and to all regyons: as Samſanes, to the of Sparta, Delo, Mydo, Sydon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycra, Alicarnaſſum, and to the Rhodes, to Paſelis, Coo, Sida, Acado, Bortina, Burydum, to Cyprus & to Cyren. And of euery letter they ſet a coppy to Symon the hie prieſt, and to the people of Jewes. So Antiochus the kynge brought his hooſte vnto Doza the ſeconde tyme to take it: where he made diuerſe ordinance of warre, and kepte Triphon in, that he ſhoulde not come forth. Then ſent Symon to Antiochus, two thouſand choſen men to helpe hym wyth gold, ſiluer and other precious geer: neuertheles he wold not receyue the, but brake al ſcouciant whiche he made wyth Symon afore, & wythdrew hym ſelfe from hym.

E He ſent Athenobius alſo a frend of his vnto Symon, for to reaſon wyth hym ſauage: Ye withholdeſt me Toppa and Gaza (wyth the caſtel that is at Jeruſalem) whiche are cyties of my realme, whole borders ye haue deſtroyed, & done greaue euell in them, and haunge the dominacon in manie other places of my kyngedome. Wherefore deliuer now the cyties whiche ye haue taken, wyth the tributes of places that ye haue rule vpon, wythout ſ borders of Jewrye: Or elſe geue me ſoue hundred talents of ſiluer, pea and for the harm that ye haue done in the cyties & for the tributes of the ſame, other ſoue hundred talents. If ſho, we ſhal come and fyght agaynſte you.

Judi. xl. c. So Athenobius the kynge's frende came to Jeruſalem, and when he ſaw the great worſhip, & honoure of Symon, in golde, ſiluer & ſo great plenty of cynamets, he marvelled: & coulde Symon as the kynge commaunded him. The answered Symon and ſaid vnto hym: As for vs we haue neither taken other mens land, nor wythholdeu the, but oure our fathers heritage, whiche oure enemies had vntygrounle in poſſeſſion a certayne tyme. Thys heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in proces of tyme. And where as thou complaineſt concerning Toppa & Gaza, they dyd greaue harm to oure people and in our land, yet wyl me geue an. C. talents for them.

Neuertheleſſe Athenobius answered hym not one worde, but touned agayne wrathfully vnto the kynge, and told him all theſe wordes, and the greaue bygnitye of Symon, wyth al that he had ſene: and the kynge was verie angere. In the mean tyme ſed Triphon by ſhip vnto Dioſpolis. Then the kynge made Cendebeus captayne of the ſea coſt and gaue hym an hoſt of foote men & horſmen, commaunding hym to remoue the hoſte towarde Jekiry, and to builde vp the ctyte of Cedron, to make vp the portes, & to war agaynſt the people of the Jewes. As for the kynge hym ſelfe, he folowed vpon Triphon. So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, & beganne to bere the people, to tread down Jekiry, to take the people priſoners, to ſlaue them & to builde vp Cedron: where he ſette horſmenne and other menne of war, ſ they myghte come forth & go thorow the ſtreets of Jekiry, lyke as the kynge had commaunded hym.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captayne of Antiochus hoſt is put to flight of the ſonnes of Symon. Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus killeth Symon and his. ii. ſonnes at a banquet. Thon killeth them that be in wayte for hys lyfe.

Then came Thon vp from Gaza, and tolde Symon hys ſalut, what Cendebeus had done amonge their people.

Thon theſe called Symon two of hys eldeſt ſonnes, Judas and Thon, & ſayed vnto them: I and my brethren and my fathers houſe, haue euer ſtriven agaynſt the enemies of Iſrael, and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Iſrael oft tymes. And now for ſo muche as I am olde, be ye in ſtead of me & my brethren to go forth and fight for our people, & the help of God be wyth you. So he choſe cc. fighting men of the countrey, wyth horſemen alſo whiche wente forth agaynſt Cendebeus, & reſted at Agodin.

In the morning they aroſe, and wente into the playne felde: and behold, a myghty great hoſt came agaynſt them, bothe of foote men and horſmen. Nowe was ther a water broke betwixt them, and Thon remoued the hoſt towarde them. And whiche ſawe that the people was aſtayed to go ouer ſ water broke, he wold ouer ſpyll hym ſelfe: & the men ſpyng theſe folowed him.

B Then Thon ſet hys horſemen and foote men in order, the one by ſ other, for the enemies horſmen were verie manye. But when they blew vp the piteles trumpets, Cendebeus ſed wyth hys hooſte, whicheof many were ſlaine, and the remanent gat them to their ſtrong holde. Judas alſo Thons brother was wounded at ſ ſame tyme. And Thon folowed ſpyll vpon the enemies, & tyll he came to Cedron whiche he buyled. The enemies ſed alſo vnto ſ towres that were in the felde of Azotus, and thoſe dyd Thon burne vp. Thus ther were ſlaine. ii. cc. men of them, and Thon turned agayne peaceably into Jekiry.

And in the felde of Jekiry was Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus made captayne: whiche becauſe he had abundance of ſiluer and golde (for he had maryed the daughter of Symonne the hie prieſte) waxed proude in hys mynd, & thought to conquere the lande, pynnyng ſalſhed agaynſt Symon

A i. Mac. xii. ioseph. lib. xii. cap. xii

i. Mac. xv. iosephus lib. xii. ca. 11.

The.ii. booke of the Mach.

Simon and his sonnes, to destroy them.
Now as Symon was going aboute the-
 rowe the cities, that were in the country of Jewry, and caring for them: he came doune to Jericho, with Garathiah and Judas his sonnes, in the .C.lxxvi. yere, in .p.xi. moneth called Sabat. Then Ptolomy the sonne of Abobus receyued them (but with dysceare) into a stronge house of his, called Doch, whiche he had buyl-ded, where he made them a bancket.

So when Symon and his sonnes were met and had droncken well, Ptolome stode up with his me (whom he had ther) and toke their weapons, entred into the bancket house, & slew Symon with his two sonnes, & certaine of his seruants.
 Suche great unfaithfulness he had Ptolomy in Israell, and recompensed euell for good. Then wrot this Ptolome the same vnto King Antiochus, requiringe hym p he should send him an hooste to helpe him:
 and so should he deliuer hym the lande, w the cyties, & tributes of the same. He sent other men also vnto Baza, for to take John: & wrote vnto the captaynes to come to hym, and he should geue them spuer, golde and rewardes. And to Hierusalem he sent other, to take it and the Sanctuarie.

Then came there one before; and tolde
 John in Baza, p his father and his brethren were slayne, & howe that Ptolome had sente to slay hym also. When John heard this, he was sore abashed, and layd handes on them that were come to destroy hym, and slew them: for he knew that they went about to kyll hym.

As for other thynges concernyng Jhd,
 of his warres, of his noble actes (wherein he behaued hym selfe manfully) of the buyldyng of the walles whiche he made,
 and other of his dedes: They are writte in the chronicles of his priesthode, fro the tyme forth that he was made hye pieste after his father.

The ende of the first booke
 of the Machabees.

The second booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

In Epistle of the Jewes that dwelt in Jerusalem, sente vnto them whiche dwelt in Egypt: wherein they exhort them to geue charges for the death of Antiochus. Of the tyme that was byd in the ppt. The prayer of Re-hemiah.

9

He breth: of p Jewes
 whiche be at Jerusalem
 and in the land of Jewry, wythe vnto those brethren of the Jewes
 that are thowme oute
 Egypte, good fortune,

The.i. Chapter.

health, and peace. God the Lorde be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his counaut that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruantes:
 * and geue you alsuche an herte, that ye Deut. xxx. 6
 may loue and serue hym, pca, & perfourme his wyl with a whole hert, and of a wyl-linge mynde: He open your hertes in his lawe, and in his comāndementes, sende you peace: heare your prayers, bee at one with you, & neuer forsake you in tyme of trouble. This is herte out prayer for you.

What tyme as Demetrius reigned, in the .C.lxx. yere, wee Jewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs. In those yeres after that Jason departed out of the holy lande and kyngdome, they bryt vp the portes, and shed innocent blood. Then made we our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered and lighted the candels, setting forth trakes & bread. And now we came ye vnto the
 * feast of tabernacles in p moneth Cassu. Leui. xxiii.

In the .C.lxxviii. yere, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Jewry, the cos-cell, and Judas hym selfe, sent this whol some salutation vnto Aristobolus kyng Ptolomeus master, which came of the generation of the anointed priestes, and to the Jewes that were in Egypte: In so much as God hath deliuered vs fro great perilles, we thanke hym with hylle, in that we resisted so myghty a kyng.

And wher he brought me out of Persis by deapes, to fight against vs & p holy cytye.
 For as he was in Persis (namely the cap-tein in the great hoste) he perceyued in the temple of Meneas, being discepued thowm the deute of Meneas priestes. For as he was purposed to haue dwelt there, Antiochus and his frendes came thither, to re-ceue much money for a dowry. So when Meneas priestes had laide forth p money; he entred in a small company into p chappell of the temple, and so they shut the temple:

Now when Antiochus entred by ope-nyng the priuey entrayne of the temple, the priestes stoned the captayne to death, beheaded them in peces that were with him, smote of their heades, and threwe the out in al thynges. God be praised which hath deliuered the wycked into our handes.

Whereas we nowe are purposed to kepe the purification of the temple vpon the
 xxv. day of p moneth Cassu, we thought necessary to certifie you therof: that ye
 also myght kepe the tabernacles feaste daye, and the day of the fyre, whiche was geuen vs when Nehemiah offered, a fete
 that he had set vp the temple, and the alter. For what tyme as our fathers were led awaye vnto Persis, p priestes (which then sought the honour of God) toke fyre pyruclpe from the altar, and byd it in a valley, where as was a depe dyke ppt: and therein they kept it, because the place was unknowne to euery man. Nowe after many

The.ii. booke of the Mach.

Simon and his sonnes, to destroy them.
Now as Symon was going aboute the-
 rowe the cities, that were in the country
 of Jewry, and caring for them: he came
 doune to Jericho, with Garathiah and Judas his sonnes, in the .C.lxxvi. yere,
 in .p.xi. moneth called Sabat. Then Ptolomy the sonne of Abobus receyued them (but with dysceare) into a stronge house
 of his, called Doch, whiche he had buyl-
 ded, where he made them a bancket.

So when Symon and his sonnes were
 met and had droncken well, Ptolome
 stode up with his me (whom he had ther)
 and toke their weapons, entred into the bancket house, & slew Symon with his
 two sonnes, & certaine of his seruants.
 Suche great unfaithfulness had Ptolmy in Israell, and recompensed euell for good. Then wrot this Ptolome the same vnto King Antiochus, requiringe hym p he should send him an hoste to helpe him:
 and so should he deliuer hym the lande, w
 the cyties, & tributes of the same. He sent other men also vnto Baza, for to take John: & wrote vnto the captaynes to come
 to hym, and he should geue them spuer, golde and rewardes. And to Hierusalem he sent other, to take it and the Sanctuarie.

Then came there one before; and tolde
 John in Baza, p his father and his brethren were slayne, & howe that Ptolome had sente to slay hym also. When John heard this, he was sore abashed, and layd handes on them that were come to destroy
 hym, and slew them: for he knew that they
 went about to kyll hym.

As for other thynges concernyng Jhd,
 of his warres, of his noble actes (where-
 in he behaued hym selfe manfully) of the
 buyldyng of the walles whiche he made,
 and other of his dedes: They are writte
 in the chronicles of his priesthode, fro the tyme forth that he was made hye prieste after his father.

The ende of the first booke
 of the Machabees.

The second booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

In Epistle of the Jewes that dwelt in Jerusalem, sente vnto them whiche dwelt in Egypt: wherein they exhort them to geue charges for the death of Antiochus. Of the tyme that was byd in the ppt. The prayer of Re-hemiah.

9

He breth: of p Jewes
 whiche be at Jerusalem
 and in the land of Jewry, wythe vnto those
 brethren of the Jewes
 that are thowme oute
 Egypte, good fortune,

The.i. Chapter.

health, and peace. God the Lorde be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his counaut that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruantes:
 * and geue you alsuche an herte, that ye Deut. xxx. 6
 may loue and serue hym, yea, & perfourme his wyl with a whole hert, and of a wyl-linge mynde: He open your hertes in his lawe, and in his commaundementes, sende
 you peace: heare your prayers, bee at one with you, & neuer forsake you in tyme of trouble. This is herte out prayer for you.

What tyme as Demetrius reigned, in
 the .C.lxx. yere, wee Jewes wrote vnto
 you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs. In those yeres after that Jason departed out of the holy lande and kyngdome, they bryt vp the portes, and shed innocent blood. Then made we our prayer
 vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered
 and lighted the candels, setting forth trakes & bread. And now we came ye vnto the
 * feast of tabernacles in p moneth Cassu. Leui. xxiii.

In the .C.lxxviii. yere, the people that
 was at Jerusalem, and in Jewry, the cos-
 cell, and Judas hym selfe, sent this whol
 some salutation vnto Aristobolus kyng Ptolomeus master, which came of the generation of the anointed priesles, and to the Jewes that were in Egypte: In so much as God hath deliuered vs fro great perilles, we thanke hym highly, in that we resisted so myghty a kyng.

And wher he brought me out of Persis by
 deapes, to fight against vs & p holy cytye.
 For as he was in Persis (namely the cap-tein w the great hoste) he perceyued in the temple of Meneas, being discepued thowm the deuce of Meneas priesles. For as he was purposed to haue dwelt there, Antio-
 chus and his frendes came thither, to re-ceue much money for a dowry. So when Meneas priesles had laide forth p money; he entred w a small company into p chappell
 of the temple, and so they shut the temple:

Now when Antiochus entred by ope-
 nyng the priuey entrayne of the temple, the priesles stoned the captayne to death, bewed them in peces that wer with him, smote of theyr heades, and threwe the out in al thynges. God be praysed which hath deliuered the wycked into our handes.

Whereas we nowe are purposed to kepe
 the purification of the temple vpon the
 xxv. day of p moneth Cassu, we thought
 necessary to certifie you therof: that ye
 also myght kepe the tabernacles feaste
 daye, and the day of the fyre, whiche was geuen vs when Nehemiah offered, a fete
 that he had set vp the temple, and the alter. For what tyme as our fathers were led awaye vnto Persis, p priesles (which then sought the honour of God) toke fyre vnto the altar, and byd it in a valley, where as was a depe dyke ppt: and therein they kept it, because the place was unknowne to euery man. Nowe after many

Leuit. vii. a. many peeces when it pleased God * that
 2. a. 1. 1. 1. a. Nehemias should be sente from the King of Persia, he sent the chyldeys chyldeys of those pypes (whiche had the fyre) to seke it: And as they tolde vs, they founde no fyre, but thicke water. The commaunded he them to drawe it vp, and to bypne it hym, and the offeringes wrythall. Nowe when the sacrifices wer layde on and orded, & priest Nehemias commaunded to sprinkle them & the wood with & water.
 While this was done, & the tyme come & the Sun shone, wherby afore was byd in & cloud: ther was a great fyre kyndled, In so much & euery man maruelled. Nowe al the pypes prayed while & sacrifice was a makpuge. Jonathas prayed fyrst, & the other gaue answer.

And Nehemias prayer was after this manner: O Lorde God maker of all thyngges, thou ferfull and stronge, thou tygh-teous and mercifull, thou that art onely a gracious kynge, onely lyberall, onely iuste, Almyghty and euerylastyng, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, & that haste chosen the fathers and bawed them: receyvinge the offeringe for the whole people of Israel, preserve thyne own porcion and baw it. Gather those together, that are scattered abroad from vs: deliuer them that are vnder the Hea-then's bondage, take vpon them whiche are despised and abhorred, that the Heathen maye knowe and se, howe that thou art our God: Punyssh the that oppresse, and proudly put vs to dishonour. * Set thy people again in thy holy place, lyke as Moyses hath spoken.

And the priestes song psalmes of thankes geuyng, so longe as the sacrifice endured. Now whē the sacrifice was byte, Nehemias commaunded the great stones to be sprinkled wryth & residue of the water. Wherby, when it was done, ther was kyndled a flame of them also: but it was consumed thorow the lyght that shyned from the alter. So whē this matter was known, it was tolde the kinge of Persia, that the place wher the priestes (whiche were led awaye) had byd fyre, there appeared water in steede of fyre, & that Nehemias and his company had purified & sacrifices wryth all. Then the kynge consideryng and pouderyng the matter di-ligentlye, made hym a reuyle to proue the thyng that was done. And when he found it so in deede, he gaue the priestes many gyftes, and diuerse rewardes: yea he toke them wryth his owne hande, and gaue the. And Nehemias called the same place Reptar, which is as much to say, as a cle-synge: but many men call it Sephy.

The.ii.Chapter.

Howe Jeremie had the tabernacle, the Arke, and the aultare in the byll. Of the.ii.bokes of Jason contained in one.

It is found also in the writpuge of Jeremie the prophet, that he commaunded them which were caried awaye to take fyre, as it is sayed afore. He commaunded them also, that they shoulde not forget the lawe and commaundementes of the Lord, and that they shoulde not erre in their myndes, wryth the Images of siluer and golde wryth their oznamentes. These and suche other thynges commaunded he them, and exhorted them, that they shoulde not let the lawe of God go out of their hertes.

It is writen also, howe the prophete (at the commaundement of God) charged them, to take the tabernacle and the arke wryth them: and he wente forth vnto the mountayne, wher Moyses climed vpp, and sawe the heretage of God. And when Jeremie came there, he founde an open caue wher he layed the tabernacle, the arke, and the aultar of incense, and so stopped the hooles. There came certayne men together also folowynge hym, to make the place, but they coude not fynde it.
 Whiche when Jeremie perceyued, he re-proued them, sayinge: As for that place, it shalbe unknowne, vntill the tyme that God gather his people together agayne, and receyue them vnto mercy. Then shall God shew the these thynges, and the ma-nyfeste of the Lorde shall appere, and the cloude also, lyke as it was shewed vnto Moyses: and lyke as when Salomon despyred that the place myght be sanctified, & it was shewed hym.

For he being a wise man, handled honourably & wisely & offeringe vnto God in the halowynge of the temple, whē it was finished. And lyke as when Moyses prayed vnto & Lord, & fyre came down from heaue, & consumed the burnt offeringe: Euen so prayed Salomon also, and the fyre came down from heauen and consumed & burnt offerynge. And Moyses sayd: because the sin offerynge was not eaten, therfore it is consumed. In like maner Salomon kept the dedication, for halowynge, syght daies.

In the Annotations and wrytynge of
 * Jeremie, were these thynges put also,
 howe he made a lybrary, and how he gathered out of al countrees & bookes of the prophetes, of David, the Epistles of the kynges, and of the priestes: Euen so Jus-das also, looke what he learned by experiencce of war, and suche thynges as hath happened vnto vs, he gathered the al together, and so we haue them by vs. If ye now desire to haue the same, send some body to fetch the vnto you. Where as we then are aboute to celebrate the purification, we haue writen vnto you. Therfore ye shal do wel, if ye kepe the same daies.
 We hope also, that the God (whiche deli-uered his people, and gaue them al & heritage, kyngdom, priest hode & Sanctuarie & he promised the in the law) wyl shortlye haue

ii. Ma. c. 1.

Jere. xxi. 8.

Baruch.
vi. 8.

Deu. xliii. 8.

B

Ero. xlii. d.
lii. cc. vii. b

Leuit. ix. d.

ii. pa. vii. a

C
Some read
Nehemias.

Deut. xxx. 4

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

haue mercy vpon vs, & gather vs together from vnder the beaue into hys holy place: for he hath saued vs from greete perils, and hath cleansed the place.

As concerning Judas Machabees & hys brethren the purification of the greete temple; the dedicacion of the altar; yea and of the warres that concerne Noble Antiochus, and Eupator hys sonne, of the shrynges that came downe from heauen vpon those, whiche manfully defended the Jewes: For though they were but fewe, yet defended they the whole lande. Droue away the enimies hoste, recovered agayne the temple, that was spoken of to come oute all the world; bespured the cytye, doinge theite beste that the lawe of the Lorde whiche was put downe, myghte wryth all tranquillyte be restored agayne vnto the Lorde that was so mercifull vnto them. As touching Jason also of Citak, we haue undertaken compendiously to bring into one boke, & things that were comprehended of hym in true. For we considering the multitude of & bookes & howe hard it shulde be for them & wolde medle wth storpes & acts (& that because of so diuerse matters) haue undertaken so to comprehend the storpes, that such as are disposed to reade, myghte haue pleasure & pastyme therein: and that they whiche are diligente in such thynges, myghte better thinke vpon them: yea and that whosoever read them, myght haue profit thereby.

Nevertheless we our selues that haue medled wth this mater for the shortning of it, haue take no smal labour, but greete diligence, watching and trauayle. Like as they that make a feast, wold saye do other men pleasure: Euen so we also (for many mens sakes) are very well content to take the labour, wher as we may shortly comprehend the thynges that other men haue truly wrytten.

For he that buyldeth an house a newe muste poulde for manye thynges, to the wholbe buyldinge: but he that paynterh it afterward seeketh but only what is chylr, mete & conuenient to garnish it wth al, Euen so do we also in lyke manner. And wher that begynneth to wryte a story for the first, must wth hys vnderstanding gather the matter together, set hys wordes in order and diligently seke out of euery part: But he that afterward wold shorten it, vserh fewe wordes, & toucheth not & matter at the largest. Let this be sufficient for a prologe, now wyl I begin to shew & matter: for it is but a folish thyng to make a long prologe, and to be short in the story it selfe.

The.iii. Chapter.

Of the honoure done vnto the temple by the kynge of the Gentiles. Simon viterly what treasure is in the temple. Heliodorus is sente to take them away. He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

The.iii. Chapter.

What tyme as the holy cyty was inhabited in all peace, & welth, and when the lawes were yet very well kepte, (For so was ordeyned by Onias the hys prynces and other godlye menne, that were enemies to wickednesse) It came therto, that euen & kynge and prynces themselves did the place greete worship, and garnished the temple wth greete gyftes: In so muche that Seleucus kyng of Asia of hys owne rents bare al the costes belonging to the seruice of the offerings. Then Simon of the tribe of Ben Amin, a ruler of the temple, laboured to worke some myschefe in the cyty: but the hys prynces respected hym.

Nevertheless when he myghte not overcome Onias he gat hym to Appolontus the sonne of Thersa (whiche the was cheyfe Lorde in Celospira and Phenices) and tolde hym that the treasure in Hierusalem was ful of innumerable mony, & how that the comon goodes (whiche belonged not vnto the offerings) were exceedinge great also: yea and howe it were possible, that all these myght come vnder the kynge's power.

Nowe when Appolontus had shewed the kynge of the mony, as it was tolde hym, the kynge called for Heliodorus hys steward, and sente him wth a commandement, to bring him the same mony. Thus mediatly Heliodorus toke hys iourneye but vnder a coloute, as though he woulde go thowen Celospira and Phenices to visit the cities, but hys purpose was to satisfy the kynge's pleasure. So when he came to Hierusalem, and was lounge receyued of the hys prynces into the cyty: he tolde what was determined concerning the mony, and shewed the cause of his coming: he asked also, if it were so in dede. Then the hys prynces tolde hym, that there was such money layd up for the vpholdinge of wyddowes and fatherlesse chyldren, and how that a certayne of it belonged vnto Hieranus Tobias a noble man, and that of all the mony (whiche & wicked Simon had vnto,) ther were. iiii. hundred talents of siluer; and. ii. hundred of gold: yea & that it were impossible for these mens meaning to be discerned, that had layd up the mony in the place & temple (whiche is had in worship thowen the whole world) for & maintenance & vnto of & same. Wherunto Heliodorus answered, that the kyng had commaunded hym in any wise, to bringe hym in the money.

So then the daye appointed Heliodorus entered into the temple to order this matter. But there was no small feare thowout & whole cite. The prynces fel downe before the altar in their vestimentes, and called vnto heauen vpon hym, whiche had made a law concerning such geuen to kepe, that they shoulde be safely preserved, for such as committe them vnto the

ii. Mac. i. 1. 1.

ii. Mac. i. 1. 1.

ii. Mac. i. 1. 1.

Pro. i. 1. 1.

keppinge. Then who so had looked the hye pyeste in the face, it woulde haue geueid hys herte: for hys countenance and chaun-gynge of hys coloure declared þe inward sorrow of hys mynd. The man was al in heauyness, & hys body in fear, wherby they þe laked vpon hym, myght perceiue the grief of hys herte. The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto þe common prayre, because the place was like to come to confusion. The women came together thorow the streets, wth heate clothes about their byesses. The virgins also that wer kept in, ran to Onias, some to þe wal-les, other some looked out of þe windowes: for they al helde vp their handes toward heauen, and prayed. A myserable thyng was it to loke vpon the common people, & the hye pyeste, beinge in such trouble.

D But they besoughte almyghty God that the goods whiche were committed vnto them, myght be kept whole, for those that had deliuered them vnto theyr keppinge.
Nethertheless the thyng that Heliodorus was determyned too doo, that per-soured he in the same place, he hym selfe personallye beinge about the treasury wth hys men of war. But the spryde of almyghty God shewed hym selfe open-lye, so that all they whiche presumed to obey Heliodorus, felt thorowlye the power of God into a great fearfulness and drede.
For ther appeared vnto them an hoste wth a certen man syttyng vpon hym, deckt in goodly aray, and the hoys smot at Heliodorus wth hys saie seie. Nowe he that sat vpon the hoys, had harness of golde vpon hym.

ll. mac. x. c.
and. xl. b.

ll. mac. v. c.

E

Agourouer, ther appeared. ll. saye and bemyful yonge men in goodly aray, which stode by hym, scourged hym on bothe the sydes, and gaue hym many scyppes wthoute ceasynge. Wth that fel Heliodorus sodentlie vnto the grounde, so they toke hym vp (beinge compassed about wth greate darknes) and bare hym vpon a bier.
Thus he that came wth so many rúners and men of warre into the sayed treasury, was born out wher as no man myght helpe hym: and so the power of God was manifest and knowen. He lay syl domme also by the power of God destitute of all hope and lyfe. And they praised þe Lorde þe he had shewed hys power vpon hys place and temple, wher a litle afore was ful of fear and trouble: and that thorow the re-uelacion of þe almyghty Lorde it was s^{pl}- ed wth joy and gladnesse.

Then certayne of Heliodorus fren-des praised Onias that in al hase he wold call vpon God, to graunte hym hys lyfe, which was geurnge by the goodle. So the hye pyest considered the matter, and lest the kyng shulde suspecte that the Jewes had done Heliodorus some euill: he offered an health offeringe for hym. Nowe when the hye pyest had obteyned hys petition, the same yonge men in the same clothyng appered, & stode beside Heliodorus, sayinge: Thanke Onias the hye pyeste, for hys saie hath the Lorde graunted the thy lyfe: for therfore scynge that God hath scourged the, geue hym prayse and thankes, and shew eueri man hys myght & power. And when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no moze.

ll. mac. x. c.
and. xl. b.

So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made grete vowes vnto hym which had grated hym hys lyfe, thanked Onias, toke hys hoodie and went agayne to the kyng.
Then testified he vnto eueri man of the grete workes of God, that he had sene wth hys eyes. And when the kyng asked Heliodorus who wer mete to be sent yet once agayne to Ierusalem, he said: if thou hast any enemy or aduersary vnto thy realme, sende hym thither, and thou shalt haue hym punished, if he escape wth his lyfe:
for in þe place (no doubt) ther is a specyall power and workinge of God. For he that dwelleth in heauen, visiteth & defendeth þe place: and al þe come to do it harme, he per-isheth the and plagerh the. This is now the matter concernyng Heliodorus, & the keppynge of the treasury at Ierusalem.

The.iii. chapter.

Simon reporteth the euill of Onias. Jason despyng þe office of þe hye pyeste, corrupteth the kyng wth rewardes. The wyll of Iason.

His Simon now (of whom we spoke afore) beinge a bewyaper of the mony and of hys owne natural countrey, reported the moiste of Onias: as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though he had bene a bynger vp of euill, Thus as he not ashamed to cal hym an enemy of the realme, that was so saythfull an uersee and defender of the c^{ty}te, & of hys people: yea and so feruente in the same of God. But when the malice of Symon increased so far þe thorow his fren-des ther wer certeyne m^{al}laughters compyted, Onias considered the perill þe might come tho-rowe this styfe, & how that Appolonius (namely the chief lord in Celosyria & Iude-nices) was all set vpon tyranny, and Sym-ons malice increased the same: he gat hym to the kyng, not as an accuser of the c^{ty}te, but as one that by hym selfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude. For he saw it was not possible to lue in peace, nerher Symon to lue of sch his folowes, except the kyng dyd loke thereto. But after þe deeth of Seleucus, wh^{ch} Antiochus (whiche is called the noble) toke the kyngdom, & Jason the brother of Onias laboured to be hye pyeste: for he came vnto the kyng, and promysed hym the hundred. and. lx. talentres of syluer, and of other rentes. lxxx. talentres. Besides this he promised hym yet an hundred and fiftye, if he myght haue the schole

ll. mach. l.

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

of the chyliden, and that he myght call the of Jerusalem Antiochians. Whych when the kynge had geaunte, and he had got þe superiourtye; he beganne immediatly to drawe his kynsmen to the custome of the heathen, put downe the thynges that the Jewes had set up of loue, by John the father of Eupolemius, whych was sent embassytoure vnto Rome, for to make the bond of frendshipp and loue. He put downe all the Jewes and libertyes of the Jewes, and set up þe wycked statutes. He durst make a fyghtynge scoule vnder the castell, and set fayre yonge men to lerne the maners of whores and brothels.

This was now the begynnynge of the heathenish and straunge conuersacyon, brought in thorow the vngacious & vnderde wyckednesse of Jason, whych shuld not be called a pryeste, but an vngodlye person. In so muche that the prestes were now no more occupied about the seruice of þe altier, but despised the temple, regarded not the offeryngs: yea gaue they dyspysce to learne to fight, to wassle, to leape, to daunce, & to put at the shone: not lettynge by the honoure of the fathers, but lyked the glory of the Grekes best of all: for the whych they stroue perperously, & were geue by to solom theyr statutes, yea their luste was in all thynges to be lyke the, whych they alore were theyr enemyes and destroyers. Howe be it to do wickedly agaynst þe law of god, shal not escape unpunished, but of thys we shal speake here after.

What tyme as þe Olympiades sportes were played at Trus (the kynge hym selfe besyde present, thys vngacious Jason sente wycked meyne bearynge from them of Jerusalem (whych they now were called Antiochians). at .C. drachmes of syluer for an offeryng to Hercules. These had they that carped them, despised vnder such a fashyon, as though they shoulde not haue bene offered, but bestowd to other vscs. Neuerthelesse he that sent the, sente them to thynke that they shoulde be offered vnto Hercules. But because of those that were presente, they were geuen as to the makynge of hyppes And Appollonius the son of Nestus was sente into Egypte, because of the Noble meyne of kynge Ptolome phylometor. Now whē Antiochus perceyued that he was put out from meddlynge in the realme, he sought his own profit, departed fro thence, came to Toppa, and then to Jerusalem: wher he was honourably receyued of Jason and þe cyp, and was brought in with torch light and wth great prayse and so he turned his host vnto Iherusalem.

After.iii. yere Jason sente Menelaus the forsaide Symons brother, to beate þe monye vnto the kynge, and to bring hym answer of other necessaie matters. But he (when he was praised of the kynge for magnyficyunge of his power) turned þe priesthode vnto hym selfe, laynge vp .iii. hundred talentes of syluer for Jason.

The.iii.Chapter.

So when he had gotten commaundements from the kynge, he came hauping nothing þe becommeth a prest, but beatinge the stomacke of a cruel tyrante, and the ward of a wyle brute beast. When Jason (whych had deceyued his owne brother) seing þe hym selfe was begiled also, was fayne to ge into þe laide of the Ammonites, and Menelaus gat the dominion. But as for the monye þe he had promised vnto the kynge, he did nothing therin, whē Sosstratus the ruler of the castell required it of hym. For Sosstratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherfore they were bothe called before the kynge. Thus was Menelaus put out of þe priesthode, & Epistarchus his brother came in his stead. Sosstratus also was made Lord of the Syrians. It happened in the meane season, that the Evarions & Galloicians made insurreccion, because they were geuen for a present vnto kynge Antiochus concubine. Then came the kynge in all the haste, to styll them agayne, & to pacify the matter, leauynge Andronicus there to be his deputye, as one mete therfore. Nowe Menelaus supposinge þe he had gotten a ryghte conuenient tyme, stole certayne vessels of gold out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present, & some he solde at Tyzus and in the citles therby.

Whych when Onias knewe of a surety he reproued hym: but he kepte hym in a Sanctuarie besyde Daphnys, that lyeth by Antioch. Wherfore Menelaus gat hym to Andronicus, and prayed hym that he woulde slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counsaied hym craftely to come out of the Sanctuarie, geupinge him his hande with an othe (howe be it he suspect hym) and then he slew Onias, without any regarde of righteousnesse. For the whych cause not onely the Jewes, but other nacjons also toke indignacyon, and were displeased for the vnrightheous death of so godlye a man.

And when the kynge was come agayne from Cilicia, the Jewes and certayne of the Grekes went vnto hym, complaining for the vnrightheous death of Onias. Yea Antiochus hym selfe was sorowful in his mynd for Onias, so þe he pitied hym, and he wepte, remembryng his sobernes & manerly behauiour. Wherfore he was so kyndled in his mynd, þe he comaunded Andronicus to be strypped out of his purple clothinge, and so to be led thorowout al the cyp: yea and the vngacious man to be layne in the same place, where he commytted his wyckednes vpon Onias. Thus the lord rewarded hym his punishment, as he had deserued. Nowe when Epistarchus had done many wycked deedes in the temple thorowe the counsell of Menelaus, and the voice came abyde, the multitude gathered

It was. viii.

These were kepte every daye here.

It was. viii.

thered the together agaynst Apolymachus for he had caried out toow much gold.

So when the people arose, and were full of dyspleasure, Apolymachus armed. iii. cc.
with his firs to defende hym: a certayne cy-traunte beinge their captraune, which was growen both in age and woodnesse. But when the people vnderstode the purpose of Apolymachus, some gat stones, some good stronge clubbes, and some cast ashes vpon on Apolymachus. Thus there were manie of them vndered, some beinge aspyne, and all the other chased away. But as for the wycked churche robber himselfe, they kyl-led hym beside the treasury. Of these matters therfore there was kepte a courte asgaynst Agnelaus. Nowe when the kynge came to Egiptus, they made a chplaynte to hym of Agnelaus, concerninge this businesse, and the embassytours were there.
But Agnelaus went and promised Stolomy to geue him much mony, if he would persuade the kynge. So Stolomy went to the kynge into a court, (wher as he was set to coole by sh) & broughte hym out of þ mynd. In so muche þ he discharged Agnelaus from the accusacions, that not w-standing was cause of al myscheffe: & those poore men, wherch if they had told their cause yea before the Scythians, they shuld haue bene iudged innocente, them he condemned to deathe.

Thus were they soon punyshed, which folowed vpon the matter for the crite, for the people, and for the holy vessel. Wherefore ther of Egiptus toke indignacion and buried them honourablye. And so thow the courtousnesse of the that was in power, Agnelaus remained still in authori-tye, increasyng in malice, to the hurte of the critezens.

The.v.Chapter.

Of the signes & tokens sene in Jerusalem.

Of the ende and offence of Jason. The pur-sute of Antiochus agaynst the Jewes. The spoylinge of the temple.

e. Mach. i. b 11. Re. vii
1. 1. 1. 1.

At the same tyme Antiochus made hym ready to go agayne into Egipte. Then were there sene at Jerusalem fourty daies longe, hoysmenne runnyng to and froo in the ayre, whiche hadde capment of goulde, and speares. There were sene also wholl boordes of manne weapened, and hoyses runnyng in an order, how they came together, how they belid forth theyr shyldes, howe þ harnessed men drew out theyr swerdes, and shot theyr dardes.

The shine of the golden weapons was sene, and of al manner of armure. Wherefore euery man prayed, that those tokens myghte turne to good. Nowe when there was gon forth a false turnout, as though Antiochus had ben deade, Jason toke a few men, and came sodenlye vpon the cy-ty. The critezens ran vnto the walles: at the last was the cyty taken, & Agnelaus led into the castell.

As for Jason, he spared not hym on a critezens in the slaughter, neyther considered he what greate euell it were to de-stroye the prosperite of his owne kynsmenne: but byd as one þ hadde gotten the victorie of his enemyes, and not of his frendes. For all this gatte he not the su-perstytie, but at þ lasse receyued chastysement for his malice, and led agayne lyke a bage bunde into the lande of the Ammonytes. 11. mach. 111.

Finallye for a rewarde of his wyckednesse he was accused before Artaba the kinge of þ Arabians: In so muche that he was faine to fle from crite to crite, beinge despyed of euery man, as a forsaker of þ laws, and an abhominable person. And at the last (an open enemy of his owne natural cuntry & of the critezens) he was dy-uen into Egipte.

Thus he þ afore put many out of theyr owne natue land, perished from home himselfe. He wente to Lacedemon, þynkinge there to haue gotten socour by reason of kynred. And he that afore had casten many one oute vndered, was thowen oute hym selfe, no man moutyng for hym, nor puttyng hym in his grave: so þ he neither enioyed þ burial of a stranger, neyther was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

* Nowe when this was done, the kynge suspect þ the Jewes wold haue fallen fro hym: wherefore he came in a grente dyspleasure out of Egipte, and toke the crite by violence. He commaunded his men of war also that they shoulde kyl & not spare, but slay boune suche as withstode them, or clymmed vpon vpon the houses. 1. Mach. i. 6

Thus was there a greate slaughter of younge men, and olde men, women, chyldren and virgins. In. iii. daies were theyr slau-lxx. cc. fourty thousande put in pryson, and no lesse solde. Yet was he not content with this, but durst go into the most holy temple (Agnelaus that trapehouse to þ lawes and to his owne natue all cuntry, beinge his gyde) and with his wycked hands toke þ holy vessel, wherch other kynges & cities had geuen theyr bet for the garnyshyng & honoz of the place, them toke he in his habes vnworthely, and defiled the.

So mad was Antiochus, that he considered not howe that god was a litle wroth for the synnes of them that dwelte in the crite, for the wherch suche confusion came vpon that place. And wherch if it had not happened them to haue bene lapped in many synnes, this Antiochus (as soone as he had come) had sodenly bene punyshed, and shutte out for his presumption, lyke as Herodorus was, whom Seleucus the kynge Judi. v. d.
11. mach. iii. 6
sent to rob the treasury. For the which god hath not chosen the people for the places sake, but the place for the people sake: and therfore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwarde shall it enioye the wealth of them. And lyke as

As. ii. 11. It is

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

It is now forsake in the wrath of almighty God, so when the great God is reconciled, it shall be set up in his worship again.

E So when Antiochus had taken .a. M. and .viii. talents out of the temple, he gat him to Antioch in all the hast, thinking in his pryde, that he myghte make menne sayle upon the drye lande and goe vpon the sea, such an hye mynde had he. He leste debilities there to bere the people: At Hierusalem lest he shoulde a whigian in maners more cruel then hym selfe that set him ther: At Batism he left Andronicus and Ganelaus, which were more greuous to the cytyens then other. Nowe as he was thus set in malice against the Jewes, he sente Appollonius an hated prynce, myght. xxi. M. commaundynge hym to slaye all those that were of perfect age, and to sel the women, maydes & chyldren. When he came nowe to Hierusalem, he layned peace, and kepte him still vntyl the Sabbath day. And then he commaunded hymen to take them to their weapons (for the Jewes kept holye day) and so he slewe all that were gone forth to the open play, cumynge here and ther thowme the cytye wth hymen weaponed, and murdered a great nuber. * But Judas Machabeus which was the tenth, fled into the wyldernesse, led hym selfe ther with his company amonge the wyld beastes and vpon the mountaynes, dwellynge there, & eatynge grasse, lest they shoulde be partakers of the filthynesse.

The.vi.Chapter.

The Jewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. The temple is defiled. The readers are monished that they shall not abboze & aduerse where wth the Lord suffereth them. The greuous pain of Eleazarus.

At longe after this, sente the kynge a messenger of Antioche for to compell the Jewes to alter the ordinaunces of the fathers and the lawe of God, to desyle the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius: & they shuld be in Gazarim as those which dwelt at the place of Iupiter the herberous. This wicked sedition of the ungodly was heauy vpon all the people: for the temple was ful of voluptuousnes, dymyng & bollinge of the heathen, of rebauers, and harlots together. The women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawfull. The altar also was ful of vnlawfull thynges, which the law forbiddeth to lay vpon it. The Sabbathes were not kepte, the other solempne feastes of the lande were not regarded. To be playne, there durste no man be a knowen that he was a Jew. In the day of the kynges birth they were compeled parforce to offer: and when the feast of Bacchus was kept they were constrained to wear garlands of pype, & so to goe about for the honour of Bacchus.

The.vi.Chapter.

Moreouer thowme the counsaile of Ptolomey there went oute a commaundement in the nexte cities of the heathen, that they shoulde intreate the Jewes in lyke maner: namelye, to compell them for to do sacrifice after the lawes of the gentils: & whoso wold not, to put the to death. A piteous thing was it to se. * There were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes, wherby they had led to death about the city (the babies hanging at their breasts) they cast the doune beddings ouer the walles. Some that were crepte into dens & had kept the Sabbath, were accused vnto Philip, & bryt in the fire: because they kept the commandment to stand, & wold be not defiled the selfe. Now I beseech al those which read this booke, & they refuse it not for these felts of aduersite, & iuge the things (that are hapned) for no destruction, but for a chastening of our people. And why? When God suffereth not synners longe to folowe theyr owne mynde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great longynge kyndnesse. For this grace haue we of God more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sin unpunished like other nations, that when the day of iudgemente cometh, he may punish them in the fulnes of theyr synnes. If we sinne he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraueth his mercye from vs: and though he punish wth aduersite, yet doth he neuer forsake his people. But let this that we haue spoken now be fewe wordes, be for a warning & exhortaciō of the heathen. Nowe wil we come to the declaring of the matter. Eleazer one of principall scribes, an aged man, of a well fauored countenaunce, was constrained to gape wth open mouth, & to care swynes flesh. But he desiring rather to be gloriously the to lyue wth shame, offered hym self willingly to the martyrdom. Now when he sawe that he muste nedes goo to it, he toke it pacientely: for he was at a poynte wth hym selfe, that he wolde consente to no vnlawfull thyng for any pleasure of lyfe. They that stode by beynge moued wth ppyte (but not a ryghe) for the old frendshipp of the man, toke hym aspyde pryncely, & praid hym that he wold let such flesh be brought hym as it were lawfull to eate, & the to make a countenaunce as though he had eate of the flesh of the sacrifice, lyke as the kynge commaunded, for so he myghte be deliuered from deathe: and so for the old frendshipp of the manne, they shewed hym this kyndnes. But he began to consider his discret & honorable age, his noble & worshipful stocke, & how that he had ben of an honest & good conuersaciō, & how constantly he had kept the ordinaunces & lawes comaunded by god: wherfore he gaue the this answer, & said. Yet had I rather first be layd in my graue. For it be cometh not mine age (sayde he) in any wyse to dyssemble, wherby many shoulde be

1. Mac. ii.

1. Mac. i. c.
Josephus.
iii. boke.
vii. chap.

1. Mac. i.

1. Mac. i. c.

1. Mac. i. c.

1. Mac. i. c.

Amos .i. a.

sonnes mighte thinke þe Eleazar beinge
xxx. yere olde and .x. wyte howe gon to a straunge lende so thowom mine hypocrite (for a litle tyme of a transitorye life) they myght be deceyued: by thys meane also shuld I defile mine age. & make it abhorminable. For though I were now delivered from the tormentes of mē, yet I shuld
I not escape the hand of the almyghty God, neyther alpye nor deade. Wherefore I wyll dye manfully, and do as I becommeth myne age: Wherby I may peradventure leave an example of stedfastnesse for such as be yonge, if I wyth a ready mind manfully dye an honest death for the most worthy and holy lawes.

When he had said these words, imme-diatly he was drawen to þe torment. Now they þe led hym and yet myde a lytel as-sore, begonne to take displeasure because of þe words þe he said: for they thought he had spoke the of an vnghe mind. But when he was in his martyrdom, he mourned and sayd: Thou (O Lord) whiche hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly þe wher as I myght be deliuered from deathe, I suffer these sore paynes of my body: but in my mind I am wel chere to suffer the, because I feare the. Thus this man died, leauinge the memoryall of his death for an example, not onely vnto yonge men but vnto all the people, too be stedfast and manlye.

The vii. Chapter.

The punishmente of the. vii. brethren, and of therr mother.

Gen. xl. a.

It happened also that thet were
vii. brethren (wyth their mother) taken, and compelled by þe king agaynst the lawe, to eat swy-nes fleshe: namely wyth scourges & latherren whypps. And one of them whiche was the chiefe, sayde: What schelt thou, and what requierest thou of vs? As for vs we are ready rather to suffer deathe, then to offend the lawes of God and the fatheres.
Then was the kynge angry, and had heat cauldrons and brasen pottes. Whiche when they were made hote, immediatly he commaunded the sounge of hym that spoke first, to be cut out, to put the skynne ouer hys head, to pare of the edges of hys hands and fete: yea, and that in the sight of his mother, and the other of hys brethren.
Now whē he was cleane matted, he commaunded a fyre to be made, and so (while there was any breath in him) to be scalded in þe cauld. In the whiche whē he had bene long payned, the other brethren whiche mother exhorted hym to dye manfully, sayng:
The Lord God shall regarde the crueltie, & comfort vs, like as Moyses testifieth and declareth in hys sounge, sayng: & he wyll haue compassion on hys seruantes.

Deut. xxxi. c.

So when the fyre was dead after thys manner, they brought the seconde to haue hym in deerspon, pulled the skynne wyth the heat ouer hys heade, and asked hym if he would eat swynes fleshe, or he were pay-ned in the other members also thowom ouer hys body. But he answered boldely, and sayd: I wyll not do it. And so was he tormented like as the first, and when he was cruel at the geupnge of the good, he sayde: Thou most vngacious personne puttest vs to deathe, but the kynge of þe world shal raise vs up (whiche dye for his lawes) in the resurrection of euerlastyng lyfe.

After hym, was the thirde had (a deyr-ful), and when he was requiered, he put out hys tongue, and that right sore, holdinge forth his handes manfully, & spake wyth a stedfast face: These haue I of heauen, but now for the lawe of God I despise them, for my trust is that I shal receyue them of hym agayne. In so muche þe kynge and they whiche were wyth hym, maruelled at the yonge mans boldnes, that he nothing regarded the paynes.

Nowe whē he was ded also, they vexed the fourth wyth tormentes in lyke manner.
So when he was now at hys deathe, he sayde: It is better that we beinge put to deathe of mē, haue our hope & trust in god, for he shal raise vs up agayne. As for the,
thou shalt haue no resurrection to lyfe.

Ihon. v. c.

And when they had spoken to the fyth, they tormented hym. Then looked he vnto the kynge, and sayde: thou hast paynted as monge me, for thou arte a mortal man also thy selfe, to do what thou wyll, but thynke not þe God hath forsaken oure ge-neracion. Abide the, tary a while, & þe shalt see the great power of God, howe he wil punish the, & the seide. After hym they brought þe sixt, which being at the point of deathe, sayd: We are not deceiued (O king) for thys we suffer for oure own sake because we haue offended our god, & therefore manuelous things are shewed vs. But thynke not thou, whiche taken in haue so cruell & gainst god, that þe shalt escape vnpunished.

Thys excellent mother (worthy to be well reported of, & had in remembrance) sawe her seven sonnes dye in one haire, and suffered it patiently, because of the hope þe she had in god: yea she exhorted euery one of them in speciall, and that boldely and stedfastly wyth pacite wisdom, wakyng up her wyppes though she wyth a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto the: I can not tel howe ye came in my wombe, for I nerher gaue you breath nor soul, nor yet life. It is not I that toynd the members of your bodies together, but þe maker of þe world, whiche fashioned the birth of man, & began all thyngs. Then he also of hys owne mercy shal geue you breath & lyfe agayne, lyke as ye now regard not your own sel-ues for hys lawes sake.

Nowe thoughte Antiochus that the hadde despyled hym, therefore he let her go to her reprobous, & began to exhort the yongest sone (which yet was left) not ou-lye wyth words, but swore vnto hym in an

An. ii. of the

The.ii.boke of the Mach:

oche, & he shulde make hym a tych & weal the man (if he wolde forsake the lawes of his fathers) yea & that he shuld geue him wharsoeuer were necessary for hym. But whē he yong in 3 wolde not be moued, for al these thyngs he called his mother, & told her to saue her sones life. And when he had exhorted her in many wordes, he promised hym & she shuld speake vnto her sonne. So she turned her vnto him (laughing & cruel tchant to scorn) & spake wryth a bolde voice: O my sonne haue ppyr vpon me & bare the .xx. monethes in my wombe, that gaue the sucke, nourished & brought the vp vnto this age.

I beseeche the (my sonne) loke vpon heauen & earth & al that is therein, and conspder & God made them, and mans generation of nought: so shalte thou not feare thy hangman, but suffer death steadfastly, lyke as thy brethren haue done: that I may receyue the agayn in the same mercy as thy brethren.

Whyle he was yet speakinge these wordes, the yong men sayd: Whom loke re for? Wherefore do ye saye? I wil not obeye the kynngs commaundemente, but the law that God gaue vs by Moyses. As for the that imagyneth al mischete agaynst the Jewes, thou shalt not escape & hand of God for we suffer these thynges because of synnes.

And thoughte God by angere wryth vs a litle while for our trasgessing & reforma-cion) yet that he be at our agayn wryth his seruantes. But thou (O shamefull and most a homynable person,) ppyr not thy felicity now by any hope, in being so malicious vpon the seruantes of God: for & hast not escaped the iudgement of the God thy brother is almighty, and doeth al thynges.
 O brethren that haue suffered a litle payne are now vnder the commaunde of euerlastyng life: but thorow & iudgement of God, thou shalt be punyshed rightous-ly for thy pryde.

As for me (lyke as my brethren haue done)
 I for my soul and my body & for my fathers of our fathers, callinge vpon God that he will soone be merciful vnto our people:
 * yea and wryth payne and punyshement to make the graunt, that he ouerly is god.
 In me now and in my brethren the wrath of almyghty God is at an end, whiche rightous is fallen vpon al our people.

Then the kynge beyng kyled in anger was more cruell vpon hym then vpon al the other, and toke indignacion, that he was so lightly regarded. So this yonge man bred vndeiled, and put his trust fil in the Lorde. Laste of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also. Let this now be pough spoken, concernyng the offeringes, and extrenis cruellness.

The.viii.chapter.

Judas gathereth together his host. Aicanor

The.viii.chapter.

not is sente agaynst Judas. Judas exhorteth his souldyars to constantnes. Aicanor is ouercome. The Jewes geue thanks after they haue put their enemyes to flight, & put bringe the spoyle vnto the fatherles, and vnto the wydowes. Aicanor dyeth vnto Antiochus.

Judas Machabeus & they that were wryth hym, went priuely into the towne, called the kynstolkes and frendes together, toke vnto them al suche as contynued yet in the sayth & law of & Jewes, and brought forth .vi. myn.

So they called vpon the Lorde, that he woulde haue an eye vnto his people, whiche he was troden doune of eueri mā, be gracyous vnto the temple, that was defiled of the vngodly: to haue compassyon vpon the destruction of & ctyte, which was wryth-lyke like to be laied wast, to heare the voice of the bloud & cryed vnto hym, to remeber the most vngodly deathes of yonge innocent chyldren, the blasphemers also done vnto his name, and to punyche them.

Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was to myghtry for the Heathen (for the warthe of the Lorde was turned into mercy) he set vpon the towne and ctytes & wares, brente them, toke the moste commodous places and slew many of & enemyes. But specially he made suche chales by nyght, in so muche & his manlynes was spoken of euerie where.

So when Ithylippe saw that the man increased by hie and lyte, and that the matter prospered wryth hym for the moste parte, he wrote vnto Ithylippe (whiche was a captaigne in Cilicia and Ithylippe was) to helpe hym in the kynge's busynes.
 When sent he Aicanor Ithylippe (a spescial frend of his) in al the hast, and gaue hym of the comen forre of the Heathen no lesse then .xx. myn. barnessed men, to roote oute the whole generation of the Jewes, haryng to helpe hym one Sorigas a man of warre whiche in matters concernyng battayles hadde greare experience. Ays-canor ordeined also the tribute (which the Romaynes shoulde haue had) to be geuen vnto the kynge out of the captiuitie of the Jewes, namely .ii. myn. talentes. And imme-diatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requyryng them for to bye Jewes to be thete seruantes, & bondme, promysing to sel the .xx. for one talent: but he considered not & wrath of almyghty god, that was to come vpon hym.

When Judas knew of this, he told the Jewes that were wryth hym of Aicanors commyng. Nowe were there some of the fearful, not trustyng vnto the rightous-nes of God, and fled their wape.

But the other that remayned, came together, and besought the Lorde to deliuer them from that wycked Aicanor, whiche

Gen. xxi. a.
 Gen. xxi. a.

ff

Mat. ii. a

Mat. ii.

1. Mac. v. b had solde them or euer he came vnto them: and thowhe he woulde not do it for theyr sakes, yet for the couenaut that he made wth theyr fathers, and because they called on his holy and glorious name. * And Deu. 32. 9 so Machabeus called his men together, 11. Ma. 11. 6 namely about. vi. M. exhorting them not to agree vnto their enemies, neither to be astrayed for the multitude of theyr aduersaries committing agaynst them vnto p^resent: but to fight manly, considering the reproche that they had done to his holy place without cause, how they had despised and oppressed the cytye, yea and destroyed the lawes of the fathers. For they (sayde he) truste in theyr weapons and boldnes, but our confidence is in the almyghty Lorde, whych in the tynklynge of an eye maye both destroy them that come agaynst vs, and all the worlde.

11. Ma. 11. 6 11. Ma. 11. 6 He exhorted them also to cal to remembrance the helpe that God shewed vnto theyr fathers, as when they perished at C. and. lxxv. M. of Sennacheribbes people. And of the battayle that they had in Babylon agaynst the Gallatians: howe that all the Macedonians that came to help them, stode in feare: and howe they beyng but onely. vi. M. slew an. C. and. xx. M. thow the helpe that was geuen them from heauen, whereby they also had receyued many benefites.

Thow these words they toke good hertes vnto them, ready to dye for the law and the countrey. So he set vpon every company, a captayne, one of his own brethren, Simon, Joseph and Ionathas: geuyng eche one. xv. M. men. He caused Eldas also to read the holy booke vnto them, and to geue them a token of the helpe of God.

1. Ma. 11. 6 Then he hym selfe beyng captayne in the fore fronte of his battayle, buckled wth his p^recious. And God was theyr helpe, in so muche that they slew aboute. ix. M. men

1. Ma. 11. 6 and compelled the more part of Sicanors host to flye, they were so wounded and feeble. Thus they toke the monye from those that came to hyt them, and folowed vpon them on euery syde. But when the tyme came vpon them, they returned, for it was the Sabbath, and therefore they folowed no more vpon them. So they toke theyr weapons and spoyle, and kept the Sabbath, geuyng thanks vnto the Lord, which An. xxi. 6 had deliuered them that day, and 1. Ma. 11. 6 named them by his mercy. After the Sabbath they distributed the spoyle to the speke, to the fatherlesse, and to the wyddowes, and the residue had they themselves wth theyrs. When this was done, and they all hadde made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lorde to be at one wth his seruantes.

Of those also that were wth Timotheus and Bacchides, whych fought agaynst them, they slew. xx. M. wanne by a stryde bolde, and deuyded his spoyle: euer ge-uyng an equall porcion vnto the speke, to the fatherlesse, to wyddowes and to aged persons. And when they had diligently gathered their weapons together, they layed them all in conuenient places, and the remnant of the spoyle brought they to Ierusalem. They slew Philathes that wicked person, whych was wth Timotheus, and had vered many Jewes. And when they helde the thankesgeuyng at Ierusalem for the victory, they brynte those that had set fyre on the portes of the temple: namely Calisthenes, whych was fled into an house: and so they gat a worthy reward for theyr wickednesse. As for the most vngenerous Sicanor, whych had brought a thousand marchauntes to bye the Jewes, he was thow the helpe of the Lorde brought downe euen of the whiche he regarded not: in so muche that he put of his glorious capment, fled by sea, and came alone to Antioche, wth great shame and dishonour, whych he gat thow the destruction of his host. Thus he that promysed the Romaynes to pay them theyr tribute, whiche he toke Ierusalem: began now to say plainly, that God was the defender of the Jewes, and therefore not possible to wounde the, because they folowed the lawes which God had made.

The.ii.Chapter.

1. Ma. 11. 6 Antiochus wyllyng to spoyle Ierusalem is duen to flight, as he persecuteth his Jewes, he is broken of the Lorde. He sayned repentance of Antiochus. He dyeth.

1. Ma. 11. 6 At the same tyme came Antiochus agayne wth dyshonour out of Persia. For when he came to Ierusalem, and undertooke to rob the temple and to subdue the cytye, the people ranne together and defended themselves, in so muche that he and his were fayne to flye wth shame. And so after his flight it happened that Antiochus came agayne wth dyshonour. But when he came to Egbatana he gat knowledge what was happened vnto Sycanor and Timotheus. Now as he was auarunge hym selfe in his wrath he thought he was able to avenge the tynnyng that was done to them, vpon the Jewes: and therefore commaunded to make ready his charer, hastynge on his iourney wth out ceasing, the iudgemente of God prouokynge hym, because he had spoken so proudlye, that he woulde come to Ierusalem, and make it a graue of the Jewes. But the Lord God of Israel, that seeth all thynges, smot hym wth an insupportable plague, which no man coulde heale.

For as soone as he hadde spoken these wordes, there came vpon hym an horrible paine of his bowels, & a sore greife of the charmes. And that was but right, for he had martyred other mens bowels wth dyuerse and strange tormentes, howebeit he would in no wyse cease from his malice.

1. Ma. 11. 6 158.

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

lice. Yea, he was yet the prouder and more malicious agaynst the Jewes: But while he was commanding to make hast in the matter, it happened that he felldowne violently fro the charer, so that it broked his body, and byd hym great payne.

Actes. 25, b

And so he that thought he myght commaunde the floud of the sea (so proud was he beyond the condycion of man) and to wey the hys moistaynes in a payr of scales, was now brought downe to the grounde, and carped vpon an hoyselpytter, knowledging the manifest power of god vpon hym: so that the myched body of hys was full of moymes, whych in hys payne fel quicke out of hys flesh: In so much that hys holte was greued wth the sinel and syncke of hym. Thus he that a lytle afore thought he myght reach to the stars of heauen, him myght no man now abyde nor beate, for the vehemence of syncke.

¶ Therfore he beyng broughte from hys great pynte, began for to come to þ knowledg of him self: for the punishment of God warned hym, and hys payne increased euer more and more. And when he hym selfe myght not abyde hys owne syncke, he sayde these woordes: It is reason to be obedient vnto God, and that a man desyre not to be lyke vnto hym. These myched person prayed also vnto the Lord, of whom he shoulde haue obayne no mercede. And as for the cite that he came vnto so hastily, to byng it downe to the grounde, and to make it a graue for deade men, now he desyred to deliuer it free.

1. Mac. 11.

And as touchyng the Jewes, whom he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue cast them out for to be deuoured of the foules and wyld beasts, saying that he would haue destroyed both old and younge, now he promysed to make them lyke the cyprians of Athens. And where as he had spoyled the holpe temple afore, now he maketh promys to garnish it wth great gyltes, to increase the holy ornamente, and of hys owne rentes to beate the costes and charges belonging to the offeryng: yea, & that he would also become a Jewe him selfe, to go thowen euer place of the world, & to preache the power of God. But when his paines would not cease (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a very despayre he wrote vnto the Jewes a letter of intercession, concerning these woordes: The king and pryncce Antiochus, wyscheth vnto the vertuous ciuities of þ Jewes, much health and good prosperite.

¶ Iste and your children farewell, and if al thynges go after your mynde, we geue great thankes. In my sickenesse also do I remember you lounge: for as I came out of Persia, & was taken w sore disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common wealth. Neither despayre I in my self, but haue a good hope to escape this speke

The.x.chapter.

nes. But consyderinge that my father led an host sometyme in the hyer places, and shewed who shoulde raygne after hym, that if there happened anye controuersie or anye hard thyng were declared, they in the lande myght know theyr chiefe lord, that they shoulde be no insurreccion: Agayne, when I ponder by my selfe, howe that all the myghty men and neryghbours round about, are layng wayte, and loke but for oportunitie to do harme, I haue ordeyned that my sonne Antiochus shall raygne after me, whom I oft commended to manie of you, whil I was in the hyer kyngdoms, and haue written vnto him as it foloweth hereafter. Therefore I praye you and requyre you, to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally and in especial. For I hope that he shal be of sober and lounge behauour and if he folow my deuyce, he shal be indifferet vnto you.

2. Mac. 11. c

* Thus that muttherer and blasphemour of God was sore smytten: and lyke as he had intreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a straunge country vpon a mooraine. And his body did philip (that went wth him) carry away: whiche fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypte to ptolome phylometor.

The.x.chapter.

Judas Machabeus taketh the cite and the temple. He beginneth to shew the actes of Antiochus. The Jewes fight agaynst the Idumeans. Timotheus iuueth Jewes, wth whom Judas iopneth battayle. Four men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Jewes. Timothe is slayne.

¶ Antiochus now and hys compaignes (thowen the helpe of the lord) 1. Mac. 11. c. 1. 2. Mac. 11. c. 1. 3. Mac. 11. c. 1. 4. Mac. 11. c. 1. 5. Mac. 11. c. 1. 6. Mac. 11. c. 1. 7. Mac. 11. c. 1. 8. Mac. 11. c. 1. 9. Mac. 11. c. 1. 10. Mac. 11. c. 1. 11. Mac. 11. c. 1. 12. Mac. 11. c. 1. 13. Mac. 11. c. 1. 14. Mac. 11. c. 1. 15. Mac. 11. c. 1. 16. Mac. 11. c. 1. 17. Mac. 11. c. 1. 18. Mac. 11. c. 1. 19. Mac. 11. c. 1. 20. Mac. 11. c. 1. 21. Mac. 11. c. 1. 22. Mac. 11. c. 1. 23. Mac. 11. c. 1. 24. Mac. 11. c. 1. 25. Mac. 11. c. 1. 26. Mac. 11. c. 1. 27. Mac. 11. c. 1. 28. Mac. 11. c. 1. 29. Mac. 11. c. 1. 30. Mac. 11. c. 1. 31. Mac. 11. c. 1. 32. Mac. 11. c. 1. 33. Mac. 11. c. 1. 34. Mac. 11. c. 1. 35. Mac. 11. c. 1. 36. Mac. 11. c. 1. 37. Mac. 11. c. 1. 38. Mac. 11. c. 1. 39. Mac. 11. c. 1. 40. Mac. 11. c. 1. 41. Mac. 11. c. 1. 42. Mac. 11. c. 1. 43. Mac. 11. c. 1. 44. Mac. 11. c. 1. 45. Mac. 11. c. 1. 46. Mac. 11. c. 1. 47. Mac. 11. c. 1. 48. Mac. 11. c. 1. 49. Mac. 11. c. 1. 50. Mac. 11. c. 1. 51. Mac. 11. c. 1. 52. Mac. 11. c. 1. 53. Mac. 11. c. 1. 54. Mac. 11. c. 1. 55. Mac. 11. c. 1. 56. Mac. 11. c. 1. 57. Mac. 11. c. 1. 58. Mac. 11. c. 1. 59. Mac. 11. c. 1. 60. Mac. 11. c. 1. 61. Mac. 11. c. 1. 62. Mac. 11. c. 1. 63. Mac. 11. c. 1. 64. Mac. 11. c. 1. 65. Mac. 11. c. 1. 66. Mac. 11. c. 1. 67. Mac. 11. c. 1. 68. Mac. 11. c. 1. 69. Mac. 11. c. 1. 70. Mac. 11. c. 1. 71. Mac. 11. c. 1. 72. Mac. 11. c. 1. 73. Mac. 11. c. 1. 74. Mac. 11. c. 1. 75. Mac. 11. c. 1. 76. Mac. 11. c. 1. 77. Mac. 11. c. 1. 78. Mac. 11. c. 1. 79. Mac. 11. c. 1. 80. Mac. 11. c. 1. 81. Mac. 11. c. 1. 82. Mac. 11. c. 1. 83. Mac. 11. c. 1. 84. Mac. 11. c. 1. 85. Mac. 11. c. 1. 86. Mac. 11. c. 1. 87. Mac. 11. c. 1. 88. Mac. 11. c. 1. 89. Mac. 11. c. 1. 90. Mac. 11. c. 1. 91. Mac. 11. c. 1. 92. Mac. 11. c. 1. 93. Mac. 11. c. 1. 94. Mac. 11. c. 1. 95. Mac. 11. c. 1. 96. Mac. 11. c. 1. 97. Mac. 11. c. 1. 98. Mac. 11. c. 1. 99. Mac. 11. c. 1. 100. Mac. 11. c. 1. 101. Mac. 11. c. 1. 102. Mac. 11. c. 1. 103. Mac. 11. c. 1. 104. Mac. 11. c. 1. 105. Mac. 11. c. 1. 106. Mac. 11. c. 1. 107. Mac. 11. c. 1. 108. Mac. 11. c. 1. 109. Mac. 11. c. 1. 110. Mac. 11. c. 1. 111. Mac. 11. c. 1. 112. Mac. 11. c. 1. 113. Mac. 11. c. 1. 114. Mac. 11. c. 1. 115. Mac. 11. c. 1. 116. Mac. 11. c. 1. 117. Mac. 11. c. 1. 118. Mac. 11. c. 1. 119. Mac. 11. c. 1. 120. Mac. 11. c. 1. 121. Mac. 11. c. 1. 122. Mac. 11. c. 1. 123. Mac. 11. c. 1. 124. Mac. 11. c. 1. 125. Mac. 11. c. 1. 126. Mac. 11. c. 1. 127. Mac. 11. c. 1. 128. Mac. 11. c. 1. 129. Mac. 11. c. 1. 130. Mac. 11. c. 1. 131. Mac. 11. c. 1. 132. Mac. 11. c. 1. 133. Mac. 11. c. 1. 134. Mac. 11. c. 1. 135. Mac. 11. c. 1. 136. Mac. 11. c. 1. 137. Mac. 11. c. 1. 138. Mac. 11. c. 1. 139. Mac. 11. c. 1. 140. Mac. 11. c. 1. 141. Mac. 11. c. 1. 142. Mac. 11. c. 1. 143. Mac. 11. c. 1. 144. Mac. 11. c. 1. 145. Mac. 11. c. 1. 146. Mac. 11. c. 1. 147. Mac. 11. c. 1. 148. Mac. 11. c. 1. 149. Mac. 11. c. 1. 150. Mac. 11. c. 1. 151. Mac. 11. c. 1. 152. Mac. 11. c. 1. 153. Mac. 11. c. 1. 154. Mac. 11. c. 1. 155. Mac. 11. c. 1. 156. Mac. 11. c. 1. 157. Mac. 11. c. 1. 158. Mac. 11. c. 1. 159. Mac. 11. c. 1. 160. Mac. 11. c. 1. 161. Mac. 11. c. 1. 162. Mac. 11. c. 1. 163. Mac. 11. c. 1. 164. Mac. 11. c. 1. 165. Mac. 11. c. 1. 166. Mac. 11. c. 1. 167. Mac. 11. c. 1. 168. Mac. 11. c. 1. 169. Mac. 11. c. 1. 170. Mac. 11. c. 1. 171. Mac. 11. c. 1. 172. Mac. 11. c. 1. 173. Mac. 11. c. 1. 174. Mac. 11. c. 1. 175. Mac. 11. c. 1. 176. Mac. 11. c. 1. 177. Mac. 11. c. 1. 178. Mac. 11. c. 1. 179. Mac. 11. c. 1. 180. Mac. 11. c. 1. 181. Mac. 11. c. 1. 182. Mac. 11. c. 1. 183. Mac. 11. c. 1. 184. Mac. 11. c. 1. 185. Mac. 11. c. 1. 186. Mac. 11. c. 1. 187. Mac. 11. c. 1. 188. Mac. 11. c. 1. 189. Mac. 11. c. 1. 190. Mac. 11. c. 1. 191. Mac. 11. c. 1. 192. Mac. 11. c. 1. 193. Mac. 11. c. 1. 194. Mac. 11. c. 1. 195. Mac. 11. c. 1. 196. Mac. 11. c. 1. 197. Mac. 11. c. 1. 198. Mac. 11. c. 1. 199. Mac. 11. c. 1. 200. Mac. 11. c. 1. 201. Mac. 11. c. 1. 202. Mac. 11. c. 1. 203. Mac. 11. c. 1. 204. Mac. 11. c. 1. 205. Mac. 11. c. 1. 206. Mac. 11. c. 1. 207. Mac. 11. c. 1. 208. Mac. 11. c. 1. 209. Mac. 11. c. 1. 210. Mac. 11. c. 1. 211. Mac. 11. c. 1. 212. Mac. 11. c. 1. 213. Mac. 11. c. 1. 214. Mac. 11. c. 1. 215. Mac. 11. c. 1. 216. Mac. 11. c. 1. 217. Mac. 11. c. 1. 218. Mac. 11. c. 1. 219. Mac. 11. c. 1. 220. Mac. 11. c. 1. 221. Mac. 11. c. 1. 222. Mac. 11. c. 1. 223. Mac. 11. c. 1. 224. Mac. 11. c. 1. 225. Mac. 11. c. 1. 226. Mac. 11. c. 1. 227. Mac. 11. c. 1. 228. Mac. 11. c. 1. 229. Mac. 11. c. 1. 230. Mac. 11. c. 1. 231. Mac. 11. c. 1. 232. Mac. 11. c. 1. 233. Mac. 11. c. 1. 234. Mac. 11. c. 1. 235. Mac. 11. c. 1. 236. Mac. 11. c. 1. 237. Mac. 11. c. 1. 238. Mac. 11. c. 1. 239. Mac. 11. c. 1. 240. Mac. 11. c. 1. 241. Mac. 11. c. 1. 242. Mac. 11. c. 1. 243. Mac. 11. c. 1. 244. Mac. 11. c. 1. 245. Mac. 11. c. 1. 246. Mac. 11. c. 1. 247. Mac. 11. c. 1. 248. Mac. 11. c. 1. 249. Mac. 11. c. 1. 250. Mac. 11. c. 1. 251. Mac. 11. c. 1. 252. Mac. 11. c. 1. 253. Mac. 11. c. 1. 254. Mac. 11. c. 1. 255. Mac. 11. c. 1. 256. Mac. 11. c. 1. 257. Mac. 11. c. 1. 258. Mac. 11. c. 1. 259. Mac. 11. c. 1. 260. Mac. 11. c. 1. 261. Mac. 11. c. 1. 262. Mac. 11. c. 1. 263. Mac. 11. c. 1. 264. Mac. 11. c. 1. 265. Mac. 11. c. 1. 266. Mac. 11. c. 1. 267. Mac. 11. c. 1. 268. Mac. 11. c. 1. 269. Mac. 11. c. 1. 270. Mac. 11. c. 1. 271. Mac. 11. c. 1. 272. Mac. 11. c. 1. 273. Mac. 11. c. 1. 274. Mac. 11. c. 1. 275. Mac. 11. c. 1. 276. Mac. 11. c. 1. 277. Mac. 11. c. 1. 278. Mac. 11. c. 1. 279. Mac. 11. c. 1. 280. Mac. 11. c. 1. 281. Mac. 11. c. 1. 282. Mac. 11. c. 1. 283. Mac. 11. c. 1. 284. Mac. 11. c. 1. 285. Mac. 11. c. 1. 286. Mac. 11. c. 1. 287. Mac. 11. c. 1. 288. Mac. 11. c. 1. 289. Mac. 11. c. 1. 290. Mac. 11. c. 1. 291. Mac. 11. c. 1. 292. Mac. 11. c. 1. 293. Mac. 11. c. 1. 294. Mac. 11. c. 1. 295. Mac. 11. c. 1. 296. Mac. 11. c. 1. 297. Mac. 11. c. 1. 298. Mac. 11. c. 1. 299. Mac. 11. c. 1. 300. Mac. 11. c. 1. 301. Mac. 11. c. 1. 302. Mac. 11. c. 1. 303. Mac. 11. c. 1. 304. Mac. 11. c. 1. 305. Mac. 11. c. 1. 306. Mac. 11. c. 1. 307. Mac. 11. c. 1. 308. Mac. 11. c. 1. 309. Mac. 11. c. 1. 310. Mac. 11. c. 1. 311. Mac. 11. c. 1. 312. Mac. 11. c. 1. 313. Mac. 11. c. 1. 314. Mac. 11. c. 1. 315. Mac. 11. c. 1. 316. Mac. 11. c. 1. 317. Mac. 11. c. 1. 318. Mac. 11. c. 1. 319. Mac. 11. c. 1. 320. Mac. 11. c. 1. 321. Mac. 11. c. 1. 322. Mac. 11. c. 1. 323. Mac. 11. c. 1. 324. Mac. 11. c. 1. 325. Mac. 11. c. 1. 326. Mac. 11. c. 1. 327. Mac. 11. c. 1. 328. Mac. 11. c. 1. 329. Mac. 11. c. 1. 330. Mac. 11. c. 1. 331. Mac. 11. c. 1. 332. Mac. 11. c. 1. 333. Mac. 11. c. 1. 334. Mac. 11. c. 1. 335. Mac. 11. c. 1. 336. Mac. 11. c. 1. 337. Mac. 11. c. 1. 338. Mac. 11. c. 1. 339. Mac. 11. c. 1. 340. Mac. 11. c. 1. 341. Mac. 11. c. 1. 342. Mac. 11. c. 1. 343. Mac. 11. c. 1. 344. Mac. 11. c. 1. 345. Mac. 11. c. 1. 346. Mac. 11. c. 1. 347. Mac. 11. c. 1. 348. Mac. 11. c. 1. 349. Mac. 11. c. 1. 350. Mac. 11. c. 1. 351. Mac. 11. c. 1. 352. Mac. 11. c. 1. 353. Mac. 11. c. 1. 354. Mac. 11. c. 1. 355. Mac. 11. c. 1. 356. Mac. 11. c. 1. 357. Mac. 11. c. 1. 358. Mac. 11. c. 1. 359. Mac. 11. c. 1. 360. Mac. 11. c. 1. 361. Mac. 11. c. 1. 362. Mac. 11. c. 1. 363. Mac. 11. c. 1. 364. Mac. 11. c. 1. 365. Mac. 11. c. 1. 366. Mac. 11. c. 1. 367. Mac. 11. c. 1. 368. Mac. 11. c. 1. 369. Mac. 11. c. 1. 370. Mac. 11. c. 1. 371. Mac. 11. c. 1. 372. Mac. 11. c. 1. 373. Mac. 11. c. 1. 374. Mac. 11. c. 1. 375. Mac. 11. c. 1. 376. Mac. 11. c. 1. 377. Mac. 11. c. 1. 378. Mac. 11. c. 1. 379. Mac. 11. c. 1. 380. Mac. 11. c. 1. 381. Mac. 11. c. 1. 382. Mac. 11. c. 1. 383. Mac. 11. c. 1. 384. Mac. 11. c. 1. 385. Mac. 11. c. 1. 386. Mac. 11. c. 1. 387. Mac. 11. c. 1. 388. Mac. 11. c. 1. 389. Mac. 11. c. 1. 390. Mac. 11. c. 1. 391. Mac. 11. c. 1. 392. Mac. 11. c. 1. 393. Mac. 11. c. 1. 394. Mac. 11. c. 1. 395. Mac. 11. c. 1. 396. Mac. 11. c. 1. 397. Mac. 11. c. 1. 398. Mac. 11. c. 1. 399. Mac. 11. c. 1. 400. Mac. 11. c. 1. 401. Mac. 11. c. 1. 402. Mac. 11. c. 1. 403. Mac. 11. c. 1. 404. Mac. 11. c. 1. 405. Mac. 11. c. 1. 406. Mac. 11. c. 1. 407. Mac. 11. c. 1. 408. Mac. 11. c. 1. 409. Mac. 11. c. 1. 410. Mac. 11. c. 1. 411. Mac. 11. c. 1. 412. Mac. 11. c. 1. 413. Mac. 11. c. 1. 414. Mac. 11. c. 1. 415. Mac. 11. c. 1. 416. Mac. 11. c. 1. 417. Mac. 11. c. 1. 418. Mac. 11. c. 1. 419. Mac. 11. c. 1. 420. Mac. 11. c. 1. 421. Mac. 11. c. 1. 422. Mac. 11. c. 1. 423. Mac. 11. c. 1. 424. Mac. 11. c. 1. 425. Mac. 11. c. 1. 426. Mac. 11. c. 1. 427. Mac. 11. c. 1. 428. Mac. 11. c. 1. 429. Mac. 11. c. 1. 430. Mac. 11. c. 1. 431. Mac. 11. c. 1. 432. Mac. 11. c. 1. 433. Mac. 11. c. 1. 434. Mac. 11. c. 1. 435. Mac. 11. c. 1. 436. Mac. 11. c. 1. 437. Mac. 11. c. 1. 438. Mac. 11. c. 1. 439. Mac. 11. c. 1. 440. Mac. 11. c. 1. 441. Mac. 11. c. 1. 442. Mac. 11. c. 1. 443. Mac. 11. c. 1. 444. Mac. 11. c. 1. 445. Mac. 11. c. 1. 446. Mac. 11. c. 1. 447. Mac. 11. c. 1. 448. Mac. 11. c. 1. 449. Mac. 11. c. 1. 450. Mac. 11. c. 1. 451. Mac. 11. c. 1. 452. Mac. 11. c. 1. 453. Mac. 11. c. 1. 454. Mac. 11. c. 1. 455. Mac. 11. c. 1. 456. Mac. 11. c. 1. 457. Mac. 11. c. 1. 458. Mac. 11. c. 1. 459. Mac. 11. c. 1. 460. Mac. 11. c. 1. 461. Mac. 11. c. 1. 462. Mac. 11. c. 1. 463. Mac. 11. c. 1. 464. Mac. 11. c. 1. 465. Mac. 11. c. 1. 466. Mac. 11. c. 1. 467. Mac. 11. c. 1. 468. Mac. 11. c. 1. 469. Mac. 11. c. 1. 470. Mac. 11. c. 1. 471. Mac. 11. c. 1. 472. Mac. 11. c. 1. 473. Mac. 11. c. 1. 474. Mac. 11. c. 1. 475. Mac. 11. c. 1. 476. Mac. 11. c. 1. 477. Mac. 11. c. 1. 478. Mac. 11. c. 1. 479. Mac. 11. c. 1. 480. Mac. 11. c. 1. 481. Mac. 11. c. 1. 482. Mac. 11. c. 1. 483. Mac. 11. c. 1. 484. Mac. 11. c. 1. 485. Mac. 11. c. 1. 486. Mac. 11. c. 1. 487. Mac. 11. c. 1. 488. Mac. 11. c. 1. 489. Mac. 11. c. 1. 490. Mac. 11. c. 1. 491. Mac. 11. c. 1. 492. Mac. 11. c. 1. 493. Mac. 11. c. 1. 494. Mac. 11. c. 1. 495. Mac. 11. c. 1. 496. Mac. 11. c. 1. 497. Mac. 11. c. 1. 498. Mac. 11. c. 1. 499. Mac. 11. c. 1. 500. Mac. 11. c. 1. 501. Mac. 11. c. 1. 502. Mac. 11. c. 1. 503. Mac. 11. c. 1. 504. Mac. 11. c. 1. 505. Mac. 11. c. 1. 506. Mac. 11. c. 1. 507. Mac. 11. c. 1. 508. Mac. 11. c. 1. 509. Mac. 11. c. 1. 510. Mac. 11. c. 1. 511. Mac. 11. c. 1. 512. Mac. 11. c. 1. 513. Mac. 11. c. 1. 514. Mac. 11. c. 1. 515. Mac. 11. c. 1. 516. Mac. 11. c. 1. 517. Mac. 11. c. 1. 518. Mac. 11. c. 1. 519. Mac. 11. c. 1. 520. Mac. 11. c. 1. 521. Mac. 11. c. 1. 522. Mac. 11. c. 1. 523. Mac. 11. c. 1. 524. Mac. 11. c. 1. 525. Mac. 11. c. 1. 526. Mac. 11. c. 1. 527. Mac. 11. c. 1. 528. Mac. 11. c. 1. 529. Mac. 11. c. 1. 530. Mac. 11. c. 1. 531. Mac. 11. c. 1. 532. Mac. 11. c. 1. 533. Mac. 11. c. 1. 534. Mac. 11. c. 1. 535. Mac. 11. c. 1. 536. Mac. 11. c. 1. 537. Mac. 11. c. 1. 538. Mac. 11. c. 1. 539. Mac. 11. c. 1. 540. Mac. 11. c. 1. 541. Mac. 11. c. 1. 542. Mac. 11. c. 1. 543. Mac. 11. c. 1. 544. Mac. 11. c. 1. 545. Mac. 11. c. 1. 546. Mac. 11. c. 1. 547. Mac. 11. c. 1. 548. Mac. 11. c. 1. 549. Mac. 11. c. 1. 550. Mac. 11. c. 1. 551. Mac. 11. c. 1. 552. Mac. 11. c. 1. 553. Mac. 11. c. 1. 554. Mac. 11. c. 1. 555. Mac. 11. c. 1. 556. Mac. 11. c. 1. 557. Mac. 11. c. 1. 558. Mac. 11. c. 1. 559. Mac. 11. c. 1. 560. Mac. 11. c. 1. 561. Mac. 11. c. 1. 562. Mac. 11. c. 1. 563. Mac. 11. c. 1. 564. Mac. 11. c. 1. 565. Mac. 11. c. 1. 566. Mac. 11. c. 1. 567. Mac. 11. c. 1. 568. Mac. 11. c. 1. 569. Mac. 11. c. 1. 570. Mac. 11. c. 1. 571. Mac. 11. c. 1. 572. Mac. 11. c. 1. 573. Mac. 11. c. 1. 574. Mac. 11. c. 1. 575. Mac. 11. c. 1. 576. Mac. 11. c. 1. 577. Mac. 11. c. 1. 578. Mac. 11. c. 1. 579. Mac. 11. c. 1. 580. Mac. 11. c. 1. 581. Mac. 11. c. 1. 582. Mac. 11. c. 1. 583. Mac. 11. c. 1. 584. Mac. 11. c. 1. 585. Mac. 11. c. 1. 586. Mac. 11. c. 1. 587. Mac. 11. c. 1. 588. Mac. 11. c. 1. 589. Mac. 11. c. 1. 590. Mac. 11. c. 1. 591. Mac. 11. c. 1. 592. Mac. 11. c. 1. 593. Mac. 11. c. 1. 594. Mac. 11. c. 1. 595. Mac. 11. c. 1. 596. Mac. 11. c. 1. 597. Mac. 11. c. 1. 598. Mac. 11. c. 1. 599. Mac. 11. c. 1. 600. Mac. 11. c. 1. 601. Mac. 11. c. 1. 602. Mac. 11. c. 1. 603. Mac. 11. c. 1. 604. Mac. 11. c. 1. 605. Mac. 11. c. 1. 606. Mac. 11. c. 1. 607. Mac. 11. c. 1. 608. Mac. 11. c. 1. 609. Mac. 11. c. 1. 610. Mac. 11. c. 1. 611. Mac. 11. c. 1. 612. Mac. 11. c. 1. 613. Mac. 11. c. 1. 614. Mac. 11. c. 1. 615. Mac. 11. c. 1. 616. Mac. 11. c. 1. 617. Mac. 11. c. 1. 618. Mac. 11. c. 1. 619. Mac. 11. c. 1. 620. Mac. 11. c. 1. 621. Mac. 11. c. 1. 622. Mac. 11. c. 1. 623. Mac. 11. c. 1. 624. Mac. 11. c. 1. 625. Mac. 11. c. 1. 626. Mac. 11. c. 1. 627. Mac. 11. c. 1. 628. Mac. 11. c. 1. 629. Mac. 11. c. 1. 630. Mac. 11. c. 1. 631. Mac. 11. c. 1. 632. Mac. 11. c. 1. 633. Mac. 11. c. 1. 634. Mac. 11. c. 1. 635. Mac. 11. c. 1. 636. Mac. 11. c. 1. 637. Mac. 11. c. 1. 638. Mac. 11. c. 1. 639. Mac. 11. c. 1. 640. Mac. 11. c. 1. 641. Mac. 11. c. 1. 642. Mac. 11. c. 1. 643. Mac. 11. c. 1. 644. Mac. 11. c. 1. 645. Mac. 11. c. 1. 646. Mac. 11. c. 1. 647. Mac. 11. c. 1. 648. Mac. 11. c. 1. 649. Mac. 11. c. 1. 650. Mac. 11. c. 1. 651. Mac. 11. c. 1. 652. Mac. 11. c. 1. 653. Mac. 11. c. 1. 654. Mac. 11. c. 1. 655. Mac. 11. c. 1. 656. Mac. 11. c. 1. 657. Mac. 11. c. 1. 658. Mac. 11. c. 1. 659. Mac. 11. c. 1. 660. Mac. 11. c. 1. 661. Mac. 11. c. 1. 662. Mac. 11. c. 1. 663. Mac. 11. c. 1. 664. Mac. 11. c. 1. 665. Mac.

together, and made a statute, that euery peate those dayes should be solemnly kept of al the people of the Jewes.

How Antiochus then (that was called the noble) dyed, it is sufficiently told. Now I will speake of Antiochus the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, how it happened wth hym: and so wth some wordes to comprehend the aduersity that chaunced in the wars. When he had taken the kyng dome, he made one Lysias (whiche hadde bene capayne of the host in Iheronimes and Siria) ruler ouer þ matters of the realme. For Isidore that was called Agathon, being a ruler for the Jewes (and specially to sit in iudgement for such wronge as was done vnto them) undertoke to deale peaceably wth them. For the which cause he was accused of the scendes before Eupator: and when he was suspecte to be a traitour (because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he departed fro noble Antiochus, that he was come vnto) he poisoned hym selfe, and dyed.

Now when Boigpas was gouernour of the same places, he tooke straungers, and undertoke otre times to war with the Jewes. Moreover the Idumeans that healde the stronge holdes, receiued those that were diuyn from Ierusalem, and tooke in hande to warre also. * But they that were wth Machabeus, besoughte and prayed vnto the Lord that he woulde be thei helper: and so they fell into the strong holdes of þ Idumeans, & wan many places by strengthe: Suche as came agaynst them, they slewe, and kille no lesse (of altogether) then twelue thousand. Reuerthelesse some, no lesse then nyne thousand, were fledde into two stronge towres, haupnge all maner of ordynance to wthstande them.

Then Machabeus leaunge Symon, Josephus, zachaus and those that were wth them (whych were very many) went to besiege them, & to fight wher most nede was. Nowe they that were wth Simon being led wth couctousnes, were increased for many, & howe certayn of those that he in the towres: toke. Ier. Machabes and lette some of them scape. But when it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called the capaynes of the people together, accusing those persons, that they had sold the breche for money, and let their enemyes go. So he slewe those traitours, and immediately went in hande wth the two towres. And when they hadde ordeed hem selues manly wth thei weapons and handes, they slewe in the two castles mo then twenty thousand.

Nowe Timotheus to whom the Jewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of straunge people, broughte an hoste also of horsemen, of Asians, to wynde Jewrye by strength. But when he drew neie, Mach chabeus and they that were wth hym fel to their prayer, sprinkled ashes vpon their heedes, being girded wth heren cloth aboute thei loynes. fell downe before the aulter, and besoughte the Lord that he woulde be mercifull to them, but an engempe vnto thei enemyes, and take parte agaynst thei aduersaries, accor dyng as it is promysed in the lawe. * So after the prayer, they went on farther from the cryte: and when they came nye the enemyes, they prepared them selues agaynst them. And by tymes in the morning at the breake of the daye, both the hostes buckled togerher. * The one part had the lorbe for thei refuge, which is the geuer of prosperite, strength and victory. The other had a manly stomacke, whiche is a capayne of warre.

The battaille now being great, there appeared vnto the enemyes from heauen v. men vpon horsebackes wth byrdes of gold, leading the Jewes. and two of them haupng Machabeus betwixt them, that kepte hym safe on euery syde wth thei weapons, but worre darts and lightninges vpon the enemyes: wher thorow they were confounded wth blindnesse and so fore afrayed, that they fell downe. There were slayne of fote men twenty thousand and fye hundred, and sixe hundred horsemen. As for Timotheus hym selfe, he fled vnto Bazar a very stronge holde, wherem Cereas was capayne. But Machabeus and his compaigne layed siege to it cheerfully. iiii. dayes.

Now they that were wth in trustunge to the strength of the place, cursed and ban ned exceedingly, and made great creaking wth wicket wordes. Reuerthelesse vpon the first day in the morning, twenty young men of Machabeus compaign, being set on fyre in thei myndes, because of the blasphemy, came manfully vnto the wal, and wth bold stomakes they and thei other compaignons climed vp vpon the towres, undertakynge to set fyre vpon the portes, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke. Two dayes were they destructione the castell, whiche when they founde Timotheus that was crept into a corner, they kyled hym, and slewe Cereas his brother in lyke maner wth Apolophanes.

When this was done, they song psalms, wth prayes and thankes leuynge vnto the Lord, whych had deue so greete thynges for Israel, and geuen them the victorye.

The.xi.Chapter.

Lias goeth about to ouercome the Jewes. Hircan is sent from heauen vnto the Jewes. The letter of Lysias to the Jewes. A letter of kynge Antiochus vnto Lysias. A letter of the same vnto the Jewes. A letter of the Romaynes to the Jewes.

1 Mach. x.

Of long after this, Apstas the kynge's steward and a kynsman of hys (whych had the governance of his matters) toke sore displeasure for the thynges that had hapned: and when he had gathered. lxxx. men of sote, with al the host of the boism, he came against the Jewes, thynking to win the cite, & to make it an habitation for the Heathen, and the temple would he have to be an house of lucte, lyke as the other gods houses of the Heathen are, and to sel the pyrcles offyce every yere: Not considering the power of God, but was wylde in his mynde, trustinge in the multitude of foremen, in thousandes of horsemen, and in hys. lxxx. Elephanes.

John. ii. b.

1 Mach. vi. b.

So he came into Jewrye, and then to Bethsura (a castel of defence, lying in a narrow place, b. furlongs from Jerusalem) and won it. Now when Machabeus and hys company knew that the strong holds were taken, they sel to theyr prayers with weping and teares before the Lord: and al the people in lyke maner besought hym, that he would send a good angell to delivere Israel. Machabeus hym selfe was the myste that made hym ready to the battle, exhorting the other that were with hym, to reparde them selves, and to helpe theyr brethren. And when they were aspyng forth of Jerusalem together with a ready and wyllyng mynde, they appeared before them upon horsebacke a manne in myrre clothynge with harness of gold, makinge hys speare. Thus they praised the Lord altogether, whiche had shewed them mercy, and were comforted in theyr myndes: in so much that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruel beasts, yea and to run thorow walles of iron.

1 Mach. x. c.

1 Mach. iii. b.
1 Mach. v.

Thus they went on wyllyngly hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lord merciful unto them. They sel mightily upon theyr enemyes lyke Lyons, brought downe xi. c. sote men, cvi. horsemen, put al the other to flight, many of them being wounded and some gat away naked. Yea Estas hym selfe was layne to the shamefull yce, and so to escape. Neuertheles the ma was not without understanding, but considered by hym self that hys power was mistaken, and pondered how the Jewes being defended by the helpe of Almighty God were not able to be overcome: wherefore he sente them wordes, and promysed that he would consent to al thynges which were reasonable, and to make the kynge theyr friend. To the which prayer of Estas, Machabeus agreed saying in al thynges comyn men's weale: and what soever Machabeus wrote unto Estas concerning the Jewes, the king graunted it: For they were letters written unto the Jewes from Estas concerning these wordes.

Apstas sendeth greetynge to the people of the Jewes. Thou and Absalon whiche were sent fro you, deliuered me writings, and requyred me to fulfill the thyngs concerning theyr errand. And forsooke what myght be graunted, I certyfyed the king therof: and what soever was convenient, I agreed thereto. If ye nowe wyl be seythfull in the matters, I shall endeavour my selfe hereafter also to do you good. As concerning other thynges by euery statute thereof, I have commytted them to your messangers, and to those whom I sent vnto you, to comyn with you of the same, save ye well. In the hundred. and xliii. yere of the moneth Diescorinibius.

Now the kynge's letter conteyned these wordes: Kynge Antiochus sendeth greetynge vnto hys brother Epstas. For so muche as our father is now deade, our wyl is, that they whiche are in our realme, shoulde put out any insurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters. We vnderstand also, that the Jewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but as yet to kepe theyr owne statutes: for the whiche cause they requyre of vs also, to let the same stand by theyr owne lawes.

Wherefore our mynde is, that this people shal be in rest: we haue concluded and determined also, to restore them theyr temple agayne, that they may lye accordinge to the use and custome of their forefathers. Thou shalt doo vs a pleasure therfore, if thou send vnto them and agree with them, that when they are certified of our mynde, they may be of good cheare, and looke to theyr owne weale.

And this was the letter that the kynge wrote vnto the Jewes: Kynge Antiochus sendeth greetynge vnto the counsell and the other people of the Jewes. If ye save well we haue ouer desyre: as for vs, we are in good health. Agnelaus came and told vs, how that your desyre was to come downe to your people, with vs.

Wherefore those that wil come, we haue them frely liberty, vnto the. xxi. daye of the month of April, that they may use the mettes of the Jewes and theyr owne lawes, lyke as afore: and none of them by any myner of wayes to haue harme, for thynges done in ignorance. Agnelaus whom we haue sent vnto you, shal comyn with you at large. Fare ye well. In the. Cxliii. yere of the. xv. daye of the month of April.

The Romaynes also sente a letter certifying these wordes. Quintus Aemilius and Titus Aemilius Ambassadors of the Romaynes, sende greetynge vnto the people of the Jewes. Looke what Apstas the kynge's kynsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also. But as concerning the thynges whiche be referred to the king, sende hither some with speche: and pōder the matter diligently amonge your selves.

selues, that we may caste the best to your profit, for we must depart now vnto Antioche. And therefore wyte shortly agayne, that we may know your minde. Farewel. In the hundred. xlvi. yere. the. xii. day of the moneth April.

The.xii.Chapter.

Timothus troubleth the Jewes. The wyshed dede of the Jamnites agaynst þe Jewes. Judas is auenged of them. He setteth fyre on the gate of Jamnia. The pursute of the Jewes agaynst Timothus. Timothus taken and let go unhurt. Judas pursueth Sotages. Judas offereth sacrifice for the dead, sheweth the hope of the resurrection.

When these couenautes wer made, Lysias went vnto the kynge, and the Jewes tyled the ground. But Timotheus, Appolonius þe sonne of Benai, Jerome and Demophon the proude, Ricano, the captayne of Cipers, and they that laye in those places, would not let them lyue in rest and peace. They of Ioppa also dede such a shamefull dede. They prayed the Jewes that dwelt among them to go wyth their wyues and children into the shippes whiche they had prepared, and byd wyth the, as though they had ought them no euyl wyll. For so much then as there was gone forth a general proclamation thow the citey because of peace, they consented thereto, and suspected nothing: but whē they wer gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two. C. of them.

When Judas knew of this cruelty shewed vnto his people, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready, exhorting them to call vpon God the righteous iudge, wē forth agaynst those murderers of his brethren, set fyre in the haven by nyght, brent vp the shippes, and those that escaped fro the fyre, he slew wyth the sword. And when he had done this, he departed as though he would come agayne, and rote out al them of Ioppa. But when he had gotten woorde that the Jamnites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Jewes whych dwelt among them, he came vpon the Jamnites by nyght, and set fyre in the haven with the shippes: so that þe light of the fyre was sene at Ierusalem, vpon two. C. and. xl. furlonges.

Now when they wer gone from thence ix. furlonges, in theyr iourney toward Timotheus. v. C. men of fote, and. v. C. horsemen of the Arabians fought with him. So when the battaile was earnest, and prospered with Judas thow the help of god: the residue of the Arabians beyng overcome, besoughte Judas to be at one wyth them, and promised to geue hym certayne pastures, and to do him good in other thinges. Judas thinckynge that they should indeede be profitable concerning many thinges, promysed them peace: wherupon they shoke hands, and so they departed to their tents. Judas wēt also vnto a citey, whych was verie fast kept wyth byrdes, fenced round about with wals, and diuers kinds of people dwelling therein, called Caspin.

They that wer within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in the store of vitayles, that they wer the lacke in theyr doinges, cursing and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speaking such words as it becommeth not. But Machabeus calling vpon the great Prince of the world (whych without any battail rānes or ordinaunces of war, byd cast downe the wals of Jericho, in the time of Iosue) fell manfully vpon the wals, toke the citey, and (thow the help of the Lord made an exceeding great slaughter: In so much that a lake of. ii. furlonges brode whych lay ther by, semed to flow with þe blood of the slain.

Josue. vi. 6

Then departed they from thence. vii. C. and. l. furlonges, & came to Taraca vnto þe Jewes that are called Subianet: but, as for Timotheus, they coulde not gette hym there: for (not one maner dysparched) he was departed from thence, and had left certayne men in a very strong holde. But Dosithus and Sosipater, whiche were Captaynes wyth Machabeus, sate those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, euen. x. C. men. And Machabeus prepared hym with the. vi. C. menne that wer about hym, set the in order by companies, and went forth agaynst Timotheus, whych had with him an hundred and. xx. C. men of fote. ii. C. and. v. C. horsemen.

When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women, chyldre, and the other baggage vnto a castell called Carnion. (For it could not be won, & was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the same places wer so narrow) and whē Judas & his paup came first in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, thow the presence of God which seeth al thinges: In so much that they slepe one here, another there, wer rather discomfited of theyr own people and wounded wyth the strokes of theyr owne swordes. Judas also was very earnest in following vpon the, punishing those vngodly, and slew. xxx. C. men of them. Timotheus also him selfe fel into the bandes of Dosithus and Sosipater, whom he besought with manye prayers, to let hym go with his life: because he had many of þe Jewes sarkes and brethre in prisō, whych (if they put hym to deathe) myght be dysappointed. So when he had promysed faythfully to deliuer them agayne accordyng to the condiction made, they let hym go wyth out harme, for the healthe of the brethren. And when Judas hadde slayne. xlv. C. he went from Carnion.

Judith vii. 1. cc. xlii. c. li. 134. xx. d.

Now after that he hadde chased away and slayne his ennemyes, he remoued the host toward Ephron a strong citey wher in dwelt many diuerse people of the Heathen, & the strong yong men kept the wals, besedging them mightily. In this citey was

1. Mach. 11

The.ii.bake of the Bath.

was much ordinaunce, and prouisiō of da-11. Par. x. tes. But when Judas and his cōpany had called vpon almyghty God, * whych myth his power breakech the strenght of the enemies, they wan the citie, and slew. xxi.
 12. Par. x. of them that were wythin. From thence wente they to the ctyte of the Sircians, whych lych. vi. l. furlonges from Jerusalem. But when the Jewes whych were in the ctyte resisted, that the cyrcians dealt lounge lytely wth them, yea, and intreated them kyndly in the tyme of theyr aduersetie, Judas and his companie gaue them thankes, desyring them to be scendly styvnte them: and so they came to Jerusalem the hye feast of the weekes beyng at hand.
 And after the feast, they wēt forth against Bozias the gouernour of Idumea, wth
 13. Par. x. men of foote, and. lxx. l. horsemen.
 Whych when they met together, it chaun-ced a fewe of the Jewes to be slayne. And Dositheus one of the Bachanors a myghty horsmanooke holde of Bozias, and woulde haue taken hym quicke: But an horsman of Thracia fell vpon hym, and smote his arme, so that Bozias scaped and fled into Moza. Whē they now that were of Bozias syde, had foughten long and were weare. Judas called vpon the Lorde that he woulde be theyr helper, and captayne of the fyeilde: and myth that he began wth a manly voyce to take vp a song of prayse, and a ctyte: In so much that he made the enemies afraide, and Bozias as men of war toke theyr apghte. So Jus-das gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleused them selues (as the custome was) and kepte the Sab-both in the same place. And vpon the daye folowynge, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slayne, and to burye them in the fathers graues. Now vnder the cores of certayne Jewes whiche were slayne, they founde Jewels that they had taken oute of the temple from the Idols of the Idumites: whych thing is forbidden the Jewes by the law.
 When euerye man sawe that thys was the cause, wherfore they were slayne.

14. Par. x. And so euerye man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his ryghtuous iudgemente which had opened the thing that was hid.
 They fell downe also vnto theyr prayes, and besought God that the faute whiche was made, might be put out of remembra-ce. Besydes that, Judas exhorted the people equelly to kepe them selues from such sin:
 for so much as they sawe before theyr eyes, that these men were slayne for the same offence. So he gathered of euerye one a certaine, in so much that he brought together two thousande drachmes of syluer which he sent vnto Jerusalem, that ther myghte a sacrifice be offered for synners. In the whych place he dyd wel and ryghte: for he had some consyderacion and pōdyng of

The.xiii.Chapter.

the lyfe that is after this tyme. For yf he had not thoughte that they, whych were slayne, did yet lyue, it had bene superfluous and vayne, to make any voyce of sacrifice * for them that were dead. But for so much as he sawe that they whiche dye in the fa-uoure and blesse of God, are in good rest and ioye, he thoughte it to be good and honourable for a reconcylng, to doo the same for those whych were slayne, that the offence myght be forgiven.

The.xiii.Chapter.

The commynge of Eupator into Ierowe. The death of Antiochus. Antiochus gornace to fight agaynst Eupator, manich his souldy-ers vnto paper. He killeth xxi. thousande men in the tentes of Antiochus. Antiochus the betraier of the Jewes is taken. Anti-ochus retourneth frendly wth the Jewes.

In the. lxx. yere sat Jus-das knowledg that Antiochus Eupator, was comming wth a great power into Ieru-salem, and Lysias þ steward and ruler of his matters wth hym: having an
 l. and. x. men of foote, v. l. horsemen.
 Elephantes, and. iii. l. charretts, etc. nelas also iorned hym selfe wth the (but wth great dysceat) and spake saye to the king not for any good of the countrey but because he thought to haue ben made some great man of authoryte. But the kyng of kinges moud Antiochus mynde agaynst thys vngodly person, and Lysias informed the kyng that thys Antiochus was the cause of al myschance: so that the kyng commanded to take hym, and (as the maner of them is) to put hym vnto deathe in the same place.

There was also in the same place a tower of. l. cubytes highe, beate wth a she-but about it was so made, that men myght loke downe on euery syde. Wherunto the king commaunded that shamefull person to be cast amōg the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngodlynes. And reasoner was, that the vniuersite should dye suche a death, and not to be buried: for he had done much myschance vnto the aulter of God (whose sye and ashes were holy) therefore was it ryght, that he hym selfe also should be destroyed wth ashes.

But the king was wroth in his mynde, & came to shew hym selfe more cruell to the Jewes, the his father was. * Whych whiche Judas perceiued, he comaūded the people to cal vpon the lord night and day: that he would wote helpe them also, like as he had done alway. For thei were afraide to be put from theyr law, from theyr naturall country, and from the holpe temple: and not to suffer the people (which a lytle while afore began to reconer) to be subdued agayne of the blasphemous nacions.

So when they had done thys together and besought the Lorde for mercye, wth wepyng and fastyng thre dayes long, sat vpon

Judas vnder place
 whether þ opinio had ben to pray for the dead
 as to be baptised for the
 l. and. x. v.
 whych thys
 was onely
 done to con-
 fesse þ hone of the re-stituer. to offers drade, not to deliuer

them fro as nye parne.
 12. Paule
 dyd not as low the cer-emonye of chystenynge
 for þ dead, pomeye don eth any place of þ canonical scriptures alow
 the ceremon-
 ny for offe-rpyng for þ dead. Furthermore,
 thys hole
 booke of the Machabees
 and special 13 lye thys ses-

 cond is not of suffycke authorite to make an ac-
 ticle of our fayth, as is befoe sufficiently proued by the authoryte of saint Je-come in the prologe of these booke called Apocriphia
 14. Mach. 2.

11. Par. x.
 12. Par. x.

The .ii. booke of the Mach.

upon the ground: Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready. But he and the elders together devised, to go fourth first wth theyr people, afore the kynge brought his host into Jeru^{sa}lem and afore he besieged the city, and so to commit the matter vnto God.

Wherfore he ascribed the power of all things vnto God & maker of the world, exhorting his people to fyght manfully (yea eue vnto death) for the lawes, the temple, the city, thei^r own natie couⁿtre, and to defend the ci^{ti}zens: and sette his host before Jeru^{sa}lem. He gaue them also that met with him, a token of the victory of god: choosing out the manliest young men, went by night into the kinges p^{ar}ty, slew of the host xiij. men, and the greatest * Elephas, wth those that sat vpon them.

1. Mac. vi. c.

Thus when they had brought a great feare and tumult among thei^r enemies, and all things went prosperously wth they, they departed in the break of the day, God beinge thei^r helper and defender. Now wh^{en} the kynge perceiued the manlynes of the Jewes, he went about to take the strong places by craft, and removed his host to Bethsura which was a well kept house of defence, of 5 Jewes: but they were chased away, hurt and dyscomfited.

11. Mac. xi. a

And Judas sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessarye. In the Jewes host also ther was one Iahobocus, wh^och told the enemies thei^r secrets: but they sought hym out, & wh^{en} they had gotten him, they put hym in prison. After this dyd the kynge comen with thei^r that were in Bethsura, toke truce wth them, departed & stroke a battayle with Judas which ouercame hym.

1. Mac. ix. b

* But when he understode, that Ithobab (whom he had left to be ouerseer of his busynesse at Antioche) beganne to rebell against hym, he was astoyned in his mind: so that he yelded hym selfe to the Jewes, and made them an othe, to do whatsoeuer they thought ryght.

Now when he was reconciled with thei^r, he offered, made muche of the temple, gaue great gifts vnto it, embraced Machabeus, making him capitaine and gouernour of Idolomais to the Berrens.

Nevertheless when he came to Idolomais, the people of the cytye were not content wth that bond of frendshipp: for they were afrayed, that he wold breake the couenaunte. Then went Ap^{po}spas vp into the seate and enformed the people, shewing the cause wh^{er}e, and pacified them. So he came againe to Antioche. This is now the matter concernynge the kynges sournye, and his returne.

The .xiii. Chapter.

By the motion of the Lord, Demetrius sendeth Nicano^r to hyl the Jewes. Nicano^r maketh a compacte wth the Jewes, wh^{er}eby he p^{ro}miseth thei^r the motion of the king. Nicano^r commaundeth Razis to be taken. The boldnes of Razis.

The .xiii. Chapter. Fol. lxxix.

After the peaces was Judas informed, how that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp wth a great power and shippes thow^{er} the haven of Tispolis, to take certayne commodious places and countreys agaynst Antiochus and his capitaine Lissias. Now Alcimus (wh^och hadde bene hye priest, and wilfully defiled him selfe, in the time of the mixting) seeing that by no meanes he could be helped, nor haue any more int^{er}uence to the aultar, he came to kynge Demetrius in the hundred and one and fifti^y year, presenting vnto hym a crowne of gold, a p^{ar}me & an olive tree, wh^{er}ch (as men thought) belonged to the temple, and that day he held his counge. But when he had gotten oportunitie for his malice, Demetrius called hym to counsaile and asked hym, what thinge so^r counsaile the Jewes leaue vnto? He answered: The Jewes that he called Iudei (wh^ose cap^{ta}ine is Judas Machabeus) may in anye wars, make insurrections, and wil not let the realme be in peace.

For I beinge depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hye p^{ri}esthood) am come hither partly because I was faithful vnto the kynge, and partly because I soughe the profyte of the ci^{ti}zens. And wh^{en} al one people thow^{er} the wickednes of thei^r ac^{ti}ons a lytle troubled. Wherfore I beseeche thee (O kynge) consider al thynges diligently, and then make some prouision for the land and the people, according to thy kyndnes that thou hast offered vnto thei^r. For as long as Judas hath the upperhande, it is not possible that men can lyue in peace.

When he had spoken these wordes other frendes also hauing an euyl wil at Judas, set kynge Demetrius on fyre agaynst hym. Wh^{er}ch immediately sent Nicano^r (ruler of the Elephants) a capitaine, into Jeru^{sa}lem: commaunding him to take Judas him selfe al^{so}, but to slay thei^r that met with him, & to make Alcimus high priest of the temple.

Then the heathen wh^{er}ch fledde out of Jeru^{sa}lem from Judas, came to Nicano^r by flockes, shynking the harme and decaye of the Jewes to be thei^r wellfare. Now wh^{en} the Jewes herd of Nicano^rs commynge, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprynckled thei^r selues with earth, and besought hym wh^{er}ch made thei^r his people, and euer defended his owne port^{er}on wth euident tokens, that he wold preserue thei^r l^{iv}es. So at the commaundem^{en}t of the cap^{ta}ine, they removed from thence, and came to a towne called Bessasan. And Symon Judas brother sel in hand wth Nicano^r, but thow^{er} the sodaine commynge of the enemies, he was afrayed.

11. Mac. i. c.

Nevertheless Nicano^r hearing the malices of them that were wth Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had to fyght for thei^r naturall countrey, durst not proue the matter wth bloodsheddyng.

1. Mac. i. Wher

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

Wherefore he sent Bassidontus, Theodorisus and Mathias before, to geue & to take peace. So when they had taken longe aduplement therupon, & the captayne themed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one mynde, to haue peace. And they appointed a day to sytte vpon these matters qurely among them selues, the roles also were brought and set forth. Neuerthelesse Judas commaunded certayne men of armes to wayte in conuenient places, leaue they should suddenly asyle any euyl thowthe enemies. And so they communed reasonably together.

D Nicano, whyle he abode at Hierusale, ordred him self not vntreasonably, but sent away the people that were gathered together. He loued Judas euer with his best, and fauoured hym. He praised him also to take a wyfe, and to bring forth chyldren. So he married, liued in rest, and they led a chymen lyfe. But Alcimus perceyvinge the issue that was betwixt them, and how they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and told hym that Nicano had taken straunge matters in hand, and ordeyned Judas (an enemy of the realme) to be the kynges successor. When the kyng was fore displeased, and thow the wycked accusations whych Alcimus made of Nica-no, he was so prouoked, that he wrote to Nicano, saying that he was very angrye for the frendshipp and agreement, whych he had made with Machabeus. Neuertheles he commaunded hym in al the hast, that he should take Machabeus prisoner, and led hym to Antioche.

E Whych letters whē Nicano had sene, he was at his wyttes ende, and sore gre-ued that he should breake þe chynge wher-in they had agreed: specially, sernge Ma-chabeus was the man, that neuer did him harme. But because he myghte not withstand the kyng, he soughte oportunitie to fulfyl his commaundement. Notwith-standyng when Machabeus saw that Ni-cano began to be churlysh vnto hym, and that he increased hym more roughlye then he was wonte, he perceyued that suche un-kyndnesse came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, and withdrew hym selfe from Nicano. Whych when he knewe that Machabeus had ma-fully preynted hym, he came into the great and most holpe temple: and commaunded the priestes (whych were doinge thei usual offerynge) to deliuer hym the man. And when they sawe that they coulde not tell where the man was whome he soughte, he stretched out his hand, and made an othe, saying: I fre wyl not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shal remoue this temple of god in to the plain field, I shal breake downe the aulter, and cōsecrate this temple vnto Bacchus. After these wordes he departed.

F Then the priestes lyfte vp thei handes toward heauen, and besoughte hym that

The.xv.Chapter.

was euer the defender of thei people saying: Thou O Lord of all, whych hast neede of nothynge woldest that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs. Wherefore now O most holpe Lord, keepe this house euer vndefyled, whych lately was cleansed.
Some was there accused vnto Nicano, one Razis an Alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good repute, whych for the kynde herte that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes. This man oft tymes, when the Jewes were mynded to keepe them sel-ues vndefyled, defended and deliuered the, bering content stedfastly to speke his body and his lyfe for his people. So Nicano wyllynge to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent syue. C. men to take him: for he thought if he gat him, he shuld bring the Jewes to great decay. Now when the people beganne to rushe in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fyre on it, he being now taken, wold haue defended hym selfe with his sword, chosynge rather to dye manfully, then to yelde hym selfe to those hatched doers: & because of his noble stock, he hadde rather haue bene put to extreme cruelty. Notwithstandyng what time as he myghte of his stroke for hast, and þe multitude fell in vvolently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and caste hym selfe downe manfully among the deape of them, whych gaue sone place to his fall, so that he fel vpon his belipe. Neuerthelesse whyle ther was yet breathe withyn hym, he was kyndled in his mynde: and whyle his bloud gushed out exceedynge (for he was very sore wounded) he ranne thowthe myddest of the people, and gat hym to the toppe of the walke. So when his bloud was now gon, he toke out his owne bottles with both his handes, and threme the vpon the people: calling vpon the Lord of lyfe and soure, to reward him this again, and so he dyed.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Nicano went aboute to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day. The blasphem of Ni-cano. Machabeus expoundyng vnto the Jewes the vylson, & oldeneth thei herres.
The prayer of Machabeus. After the host of Nicano is ouercome, Machabeus commaunded his heade and his handes to be cut of, and his tounge to be geuen vnto the foules.

Some when Nicano knew that Judas was in the countrey of Samarita, he thoughte with all his power to strike a feld with him on a sabbath day. Neuertheles þe Jewes es that were compelled to goo with hym, sayde: O do not so cruelly and unkyndlye, but valow the Sabbath day, and worship hym that seeth al thynges. For al this yet said þe vngacious persō. * Is ther a mighty one in beauen, that commaunded þe sabbath day to be kept? And when they sayd: yea the lyving God, the myghty Lord in heauen

1 mac. iiii. a
11. 20. 21.

11.

1 mac. vii. a

1 mac. vii. b

11. 12. 13. 14.

Exo. xx. d.

Heaven * commaunded the seventh daye to be kept, he said: And I am mighty wth each to commaund the so: to arme the selues, & to performe the kings busines. For withstanding he myght not haue hys purpose.

Hicanoz had deuised wth great pryde to ouercome Judas, and to bring awai the victorie. But Machabeus had euer a false confidence, and a perfect hope in god, that he would helpe him, and exhorted his people not to be afrayed at the cominge of the heathen: but alway to remember the helpe that had ben shewed vnto them fr^o heauⁿ, yea and to be sure now also, that almighty God would geue the victorie. He spake vnto the out of the law and prophets, putting the in remembrance of the battailes that they had strick afore, and made them to be of a good courage.

So when their battes were plucked vp, he shewed them also the discreafulnes of the heathen, and how they would kepe no countenance nor othe. Thus he weapened them not with armour of spide and speare, but wth wholesome words and exhortacions. He shewed them a dreame also, wherethorow he made al the glad, which was this: he thought that he saw Onias (which had bene hys priest, a verruous and louing maⁿ, sad, and of honest conuersation, wel spok^e, and one that had bene exercised in goodnes from a chyld) holdynge vp his handes toward heauen, and praying for hys people. After this they appeared vnto hym another maⁿ, which was aged, honorable and glorious. And Onias said: This is the tower of the hierien, and of the people of Israel. This is he that prayeth much for the people, and for al the holy ci^{ty}. Ieremy the the prophet of God. He thought also that Ieremy held out his right hand, and gaue hym (namely vnto Judas) a swerde of gold, sayng. Take this holy swerd a gifte from God, wherewith thou shalt smyte down the enemies of the people of Israel.

And so they were wel comforted wth the words of Judas, and toke courage vnto them, so that the yong men were decremyⁿed in theyr myndes to fyght, and to vnde^{re}stand it. In so much that in the thyngs which they toke in hande, they holdnesse shewed the same, because the ci^{ty} and the temple were in perill: for the whiche they toke more care, then for theyr wyues, chyldren, bretheren and kinsfolke. Agayne, they that were in the ci^{ty}, were most careful for those which were to fyght. Now wh^{en} they were al in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand and penymentes drew nye, the host being set in aray, the elephantes and horsemen euery one standynge in hys place. Machabeus considered the comynge of the multitude, the ordinaunce of diuerse weapens, the cruelnes of beastes and held vp hys hands toward heauⁿ calling vpon the Lord that doth wonders, which geueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons and power of the hoste, but to them that please hym accordynge to hys owne wyl. Therfore in hys prayer he sayde these wordes.

O Lord, thou that biddest sende thine angel in the tyme of Ezekiah kyng of Iuda, and in the bestie of Sennacherib slewest an hundred, and foure score and foure thousand: sende now also thy good angel before vs. O Lord of heauⁿ, in the fearefulness & dread of thy mighty arme, that they which come against thy holy people to blasphemie the, may be afrayed. And so he made an ende of hys wordes. Then Hicanoz and they that were wth hym, drewe nye wth shawmes and songes: but Judas and hys company wth prayer and calling vpon God. Wth theyr handes they smote, but wth theyr bettes they prayed to the lord, & shew no les the. xxx. m. For whorow the persure helpe of God, they were gloriously comforted.

Now wh^{en} they left of, and were turning againe wth theyr vnderstode that Hicanoz hym selfe was slayn wth the other. Then they gaue a greate shout and a crye, praysing the almighty Lord wth a loude voyce. And Judas, which was euer ready to spend his body and lyfe for his ci^{ty}zens) commaunded to smyte of Hicanoz's head, wth his arme and hand, & to be brought to Hierusalem. When he came ther he called al the people, and the priestes at the alter, wth those that were in the castel, and shewed them Hicanoz's head, and his wycked hand, whiche he had presumptuously holden by agaynst the temple of God. He caused the tong also of that vngodly Hicanoz to be cut in litle peces, and to be cast to the soules, and the cruel mens hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

So euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, sayng: blessed be he that hath kepte hys place vnderfild. * As for Hicanoz's head, he hanged it vp vpon the hye castel, for an euident and plaine token of the helpe of God. And so they agreed al together to kepe the day holy, namely the thirtieth day of the moneth Aban, which in the Syrians language is called the next day before Machabeus day. Thus was Hicanoz slayn, and from that tyme forth, the Iewes had the cy^{ty} in possession: And here wyl I now make an ende.

The ende of the second booke of the Machabees.

God. Al.

cl. Pa. rlll. 3m. vii. b. lll. re. xix. g. & l. xxxvii. c. i. mar. vii. c. i. ma. vii. d.

Iud. p. rlll.

The third booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

Philopater ouercommeth Antiochus. The Jewes declare the hope for hys vntope. He desyret to enter into the holiest place.
They denye hym.

When Philopator had understand by those þe were comen agayne, that An-tiochus had taken from hym suche holdes as he had, he caried al hys ar-mye, as v el footemen as horsemen, and takyng wpyth hym his sister Arsinoe, he ran out euen as far as the co-styes of Iasubia, that were borderyng on hym, where Antiochus host camped. And one Theodotus chynkynge to bypunge the matter to passe by crafty meanes, when he had taken the strongest men of armes that were put vnto hym by Ptolomeus, in the nyght he gat hym to Ptolomeus tent to kil hym vnwares, and so make an ende of the battayle. But Dosithheus called the sonne of Dymitrys a Jewe boiue, & afterwarde forsakynge the lawe and turned from hys fathers wydmannces which was byed for the purpose, put in hys scabbe in the sente an other poore man whych chaunced to be clapne for hym. And as they foughte friste together (but Antiochus more) Arsinoe went dyspygenely about her men, wepyng pytfully, hat heare aboute her shoulde-res, and desyred them that they woulde helpe her valpaully, promysynge to geue vnto euery of theyr wyues and chyldren, if they had the vycorye, thre hundredes of golde.
Thus it chaunced that theyr enemyes were ouerthrowen, and many taken. When whil he hadde thus dysapoynted thei traies, he went about the cytyes that were next,
and thought to comferte them wpyth wodes, whych when he had done, he gaue gif-tes vnto theyr churche, and comforted the subiects hartes. And when the Jewes had sent the elders of theyr counsellors to philopater to salute hym, beeryng gyses and to shewe theyr hope for the thynges that he had done, it fortuneth that he had a greater desyre to go to them, alioone as myght be. So he came to Ierusalem, and hys sacrifice to the most myghty god: and when he hadde done, he dyd to the place as was conuenient.

And after when he was come in, he w-died to se the collyve woork, and meuep-lyng at the syne buyldynge of the temple, desyred to go also into the inner tabernacle that was holiest of al. But when they denyed hym, sayynge it was not lawefull no not to any that were borne there, to go in, not so muche as for the prestes themselues, saue onely for the chyrche Byshoppe,

The. i. Chapter.

*and that but once a yere only: yet woulde he not be turned one whir. And when they red vnto hym the lawe, yet woulde he not cease, but sayd he must nedes go in.

And although this honour was denyed to them, yet that it oughte not to be so to hym: and axed them why no man yet stopped hym from going into any temple: And when one hadde made answer vnadysed-ly, that they dyd eyll because they did not, but this (quod he) shal be done, and be the cause: what soeuer they lyke, he woulde in-whether they woulde or not. * And when the prestes had fallen theyr face vpon the ground, and were in al theyr vestimentes, and prayed vnto the best God, to healse them in theyr most neede, and that he wold put away hys strength that threathend to hurt them, and had fylled the temple with cryng and wepyng, the rest that were in the cytye beyng greatly amased, and not knowyng what had happened, came oute as fast as they could: Clipyng that were in theyr chambers, and women in theyr bedde came forth, castyng dust vpon there heades, and spilling the steres with moue-nyng and lamentacion. And the banners that they hadde alytle before prepared to goe meete hym, forgetyng the maner that became them, they bare them aboute the cytye, and forsakynge the yonge infantes, boith mothers and nurses came wau-derynge aboute the steres, some one way some another into the best temple, and beyng gathered together, prayed dyscelle agaynst these thynges whych he wpyked: lye went about. Besyde this the ceterens moued wpyth boldenesse, woulde not suffer hym to rushe in, and accomplysh his purpose, but toke them to theyr weapons, and wpyth great cries redy to suffer deach, they stryed by a great busynesse in that place, but yet remoued backe by the prestes and seniours, they came agayne to theyr olde place of prayer.

And the common people as they hadde begone in dede were sette to prayer, but the elders standyng aboute the kynge as-sayde many wayes to remoue hys proude mynde from his purpose and entent. But he styde agaynst them al purposed to go in, chynkynge to perforce that, that he had once sayde.

Whych the thyng when they sawe, that held agaynst hym, turnynge them to hym, wpyth whom al power is, called vpon him, they and theyr people to healse them at that presente, and not to wyke at that proude and mystheuous dede, in so muche that for the greates nyse that was among the carefulle people, the cytye was incontparable. For it seemed as though they hadde runne thowre not onely other mens brades, but thorow the walles also,
and all the pavement: all men then rather wythynge to dye, then to haue the place defyled and vnhalowed.

Prod xxx. d
huc. x. g.
hebr. x. a.

ll. mar. li. s

D

The

The.ii. Chapter.

The Jewes fel to praye to let the kyng of bys purpose. he was punished by God, but he repented not.

And in dede Symon the hyghe prest. such; uge t p g h e before the balon ed place, and boldynge vp hys handes decentlye, prayed after this facon: Lord Lord kyng of heauen, and ruler of al thynges that be made, holdest among sayntes, kyng omnipotent, haue mercy vpon vs whiche are oppressed thowtyn boldnes and powte. For thou arte he that hast made al thynges, a lust pynce, that ruled al, thou art iudge of those that do proudly and wrongfully. Thou brodest den for in olde tyme the workers of wyckednesse amonge whom were Spauites rustling in theyr strength and boldnes, and browndst them in the floure. Thou mayngest the proude Scoumites that were gane to al mischance and clamour to al that came after, but turned them wylth fyre and brimstone. Thou vnto the stubburne pharao that kept in bondage the helpe people of Israel, dydest them thy power scoutynge hym wylth many and diuers punishments, wherby thy grete myghte was knowne: and when he folowed thy people wylth hys chariotes and al hys company, thou browndst hym in the sea, and ledest them safe that trusted in the, the kyng of al thynges, whych knowledgyng al these thynges to be done by thy hande. prayest thee the Lorde omnipotent. Thou kyng and maker of thys infinite & immeasurable earth. hast chosen this clay, and hast balow ed thys place to honour the in, although thou haue nede of no: hyng, and hast made it goodly to be seene. to thyne owne prayse and gloire of thy grete and royal name. For the loue also of þ house of Israel thou hast promysed that when we haue erred, wherby troubles shoulde come vpon vs, if we come into this place to pray, that thou wylt heare our prayers. And verely thou art sayntful and full of truth. And because thou hast often holpe our forefathers whiche haue bene oppressed wylth reuile, & hast deliuered them out of great perilles, and now also behold O holy kyng howe that we for our many and great synnes be pressed, and in our enemies subiection fall downe in our mysery for lacke of strenght, and that thys stubburn and unclean person greth aboute to defyle thy holy place. whych is dedicated here in the earth to thy holy name (for other temple thy house is in heauen a place that no man can come vnto) I say because that of thyne own good wilt thou haue geuen thys gloire to thy people in decreasyng thys place vnto the. lay not to our charge the vnclensynesse of these men, or correcte vs for the vnbalowynge, that these wycked persons more not boast in therr mynnes and auance towd the: to unges that they haue destoyed our holy temple, as they do treade vnder foote al other temples that thou hatest. Put oute our synnes and styke awaye our fautes, & nowe shewe thy mercye. Let vs haue thy mercye thowtelye, and make the mouthes of them that be fallen and broken, prayse the, and geue vs peace.

Then he that seeth al thynges, that God of al the most holpest, hearynge the prayseful prayer, bringynge hym hither and thither whych he was pulled vp by violence and grete stubburnesse, euen as the wynde dorthe the reede, dyd so scourge hym, that nowe he laye vpon the grounde meete for nothyng, letwylth in al þ parts of his body, and iustlye wrapped in punishment, was not able to speake one woorde: wherfore hys frendes and garde that kepte his body, beholdynge hys sodayne punishment wherewith he was oppressed, fearing also least he woulde die, stek þ hylch greet feare, ther drew hym out. And after whiche he was come agayne to hym selfe, although he was punished, yet repented he nothing, but wylth his wyues, and threatened them soze. So when he was come agayne into Egypt, as wel by hys owne encrease in mischance, as bys other felowes that boalpe hym, whych wer past al goodnes, not onely he gaue hym selfe to innumerable lustes, but waxed so madde, to speake euill euere where: and many of hys frendes knowing the kynges mynde, folowed hys wyl also. And when the kyng had determyned to put to open shame the nation of þ Jewes, he caused to be engrauen with letters in a tower that he had in hys place, That no manne whych he woulde not dooe sacrifyce shoulde enter into the temples of the Egyptians: and that all the Jewes, theyr goodes beynge ceased, shoulde be broughte to slaueyre. To the whiche thyng if anye gapncsayde, that they shoulde dye, and if any woulde become seruauntes that they shoulde be brent in the bodies wylth the mark of an Ape leafe, for that was Sacchus badge.

And such as woulde doo so, he woulde shoulde enfore thys lawe and not dye. But because he woulde seme not to be angry wylth al, he more vnderneath, that if any amonge them that were in solempne holy ordres, had rather to dwell amongest them, that then they shoulde be taken for cyrenes aswell as the Alexandrians. So some in the cities which hated the degrees of the religion in the cite, yelded them selues, as though they shoulde get great gloire by accompanyng wylth the kyng, but many that were of valpount courage woulde not go from theyr godlynes, but redempynge theyr lyues for money, went boldly to deliuer the selues, because they wold not become seruauntes, hauing good hope to haue healpe: and those that fell from them, they abhorred them and toke them for enemies of theyr nacion, and whited them.

Gene. vii. d
Gene. xix. d.

Exod. vii. d
Exod. xii. d
Exod. xiii. d Exod. xv. d

iii. d. d.

d

2

Do. iii. d. d. them

The.iii. booke of the Mach.

them from hauyng anye thyng to dooe wpth them.

The.iii. Chapter.

The kynge maketh a soye decree agaynst the Jewes, and writeth a letter that they shuld be broughte to Egypte as captiues, and there kyllid.

When he understode these thinges, that wycked man was so angry, that not only he shewed hys anger at Alexandria, but wared a greuous enemye to all them that dwelle in other partes of the country: and commaunded al to be gathered together as sone as might be, and to be kyllid. Whyle these thinges wer doing agaynst the Jewes, ther wæs a great fame that now that those men which intended to do hurt, had occasioun geuen them, they wold so do, to let þat lawes that they myght not be kept amongst them. But the Jewes kept stil theyr fidelitie and loue toward the king: but because they worshipped god and lyued after hys lawes, they shut out some from amongst them, and sent them away: wherfore they appeared to some to be enemies, when lyving commonly well and iustly, they wer worthy to be commended of al men. As for the good deedes that were spoken of in euery place of that nation, the straungers let nought by: But in theyr communicacijs, they reprocued the discension in theyr maners and worshippinges, saying, that they loued neither the kynge nor the powers, but that they were enemies and cleane agaynst the common profites. And it were no smal thinges that these men found fault at: but the Grecians that were in the city wronged in nothing, perceyving thys sodayne tumult agaynst these men, and that people came hastily running together, seing they were not able to healde because all was ruled by tyrannye, wer greatly angere, and comforted them and looked for a chasge, and that this basy faction could not endure. Theyr neighbours also and frendes, and such as bargained wpth them, calling some men pryncely, promysed them theyr healde, and all that they coude make. But he warden proude by thys prosperite, and not consyderyng the power of the greatest God, but thynke kynge that he shoulde haue alwayes hys purpose, wrote thys Epistle agaynst the Jewes.

Kynge Stolumenus Philopater, to the captaynes, and souldiours in Egypt wher soeuer they be, seuerly heald, and gretyng. As for me, I am in good healt, and my matters well, and in good state. After we hadde taken our iourney into Asia as you know, and that we had ready succours geuen vnto vs of the Goddes, and thowwe oure strengthe hadde synned oure iourney, euen as we wold desyre, we thought not by violence of armes, but to entyse by gentelnes and muche humanitie, the people that dwel in Celosicia and Phenices, and to prouoke them wpth out benefices: and after we hadde sente many ctyres and churches, we were moued to go by to Jerusalem to honour the temple of those mischeuous persons, which wyl euer be mad. And they in woordes shewed them selues glad of our commynge, but in dede were falsely mynded: when we desyred to go in to theyr holiest place, and to adorne it wth excellent and goodly gyfts, they moued after theyr olde pryde, would not lette vs come in, nor knowynge our power, and the humanyte that we shewe vnto al mē. And shewing theyr hatefull heart to vs, as though there were none but they, they troude admit no lawfull offer, for the tribournes that they beare agaynst kynges, and gloze in theyr benefactors. We moued wth theyr madnes, and that after our victorie we wer come againe into Egypte, vsing gentelnes toward al nations, bid as became vs and by proclamacijs declaring to forget in thys matter al the iniuries of theyr kyndred, as well for theyr felowshyp, as for that in the begynnyng thowwe simplicity we commytred vnto them infinite vspites, we enterprysed to chaunge theyr estate, and made them citizens of Alexandria, and receyued them to be partakers of the perpetual priesthoode. Yet they taking the thynge otherwys, and refusing thys our goodnes, euen of a certayne natural euil bert, alwayes ready to euil, bid not only shamefully refuse and dyspryse our clype, but also in wordes and deedes fewe of them beare vs good wyl, trusting alwayes that shortly we shal come to a shameful deathe.

The.iii. Chapter.

Wherfore coniecturynge surely that they are all the meanes they canne euill mynded toward vs, and forseyng that they shoulde not sodaynely raise a tumult, and that we shuld haue at our backs these wycked traitours, and cruell enemyes, we thought good to geue you in commaundement, that as sone as thys Epistle shal be deliuered vnto you, that euen the same day, those that be in wytyng wpth theyr wyues and chyldren shal be bounde in pryncaines wpth much veracion be sent vnto vs, to theyr great calamity, and shameful slaughter, and as is mete for enemyes. For as sone as we shal haue punished these, we thinke our matters shal afterwards stand sure and in good condicion. And if any man from the best to the lowest, defende anye Jewe, yea, and it be but a suckynge chyld, lette hym wpth al hys household be moste shamefully tormeted, & he that wyl bringe anye of theyr names, besydes that he shal haue al the goodes of the condemned person, he shal haue also of the kynge's gyft, ff. thousand grotes of syluer, and a garlande of lybertye. And in what place so euer a Jewe shal be found to be receyued, let it be walled wpth fyre, and for euer be made vnmete meie for any man to dwel in. And thys is the coppe of hys wyppell.

The.iii. Chapter.

The people had pte to se the so greuously handled, and said they were so many that the names could be not be wyrtten.

A

And whiche soeuer this proclamaciō was broughe, the people made cōmon feastes wth great ioye and gladnes, & olde malyce that was hardned in theyr mynd, now when they had licence, shewing it selfe forth. But þe Jewes were in great mourning: and lamentablye complained, groning in theyr bettes & bewaylyng that sentence of death was thus suddenly geuen agaynst them. What offyce or cyty, or what place inhabited, what by wayes was not ful of theyr waylyng and mourning? For they were sente away by so bytter and cruell sentence of the chiefe officers in the cytye, that for the straunge kynde of punishmentes, some of theyr enemyes setting befoze their eyes the misfertes that may happen to al men, and remembryng in theyr mynde the incertaine change of thys lyfe, bryd bewayle theyr ptefull sendyng away. For there were let be a greete softe of olde mē with hoie beds, & theyr legges crooked for age, whiche were threatened and rebuked, and made goo fast whichever they wold or no.

And the maydes that were lately maryed in steade of pleasure hadde mourning, and theyr beare that was embawmed, was now all dusted, and they sang mourning songes in steade of ioyefull balads, and all to vexed wth strange women, they were bounde and harrowed even tyl they came to theyr pte. Theyr husbands also haung balgars about theyr neckes in steade of gatlandes, beyng in theyr pong and florishyng peres, in steade of myght & quyetnesse passed the rest of the maryage dayes in mourning, and sawe deathe befoze they fete. And they were caryed away lyke wild beastes, and drawen wth chaynes, some were hold to the tops of theyr byrds by the necke, and other were so fettered that they coude not be vndone, and eablis set ouer theyr beades, because they shulde not see, al the while they sayled. When they had thus led the to theyr, when the sojney was done as the kynge commaunded, he had theyr shoulde be sette in the tentes, in the greete roume, that is befoze the cytye where horses do runne, for an example of punishment to all mē that come into þe cytye, and that go out into the countrey, whether wyllyng the to be amonge the men in hys army. nor yet wthyn the compasse of hys walles. When thys was done, and that he herde say that certayn of theyr nacion was gone pryncipe oute of the cytye, and byd olde betwale thys shameful mis-erte of theyr byerchren, beyng angepe. he cōmaunded them also to be handeled after the same manner that the other were, theyr punishment norbyng to be dysmisyshed, and that all theyr kyndred by name shulde be attaynted. For he sayde that he wolde not nowe take anye of them into paynfull seruyce, but that in one daye he wolde slea them all wth suche punishmente as hath not ben deuised. So they were proclaimed traytours mooste bytterly, and scallions was kept continually frome the ryse of the sunne to the goinge downe, and yet was it not fourtye dayes. In the meane seasonne the kynge full of greete and continually ioye, kept feastes befoze all the images, hys mynde sette frome the truthe, and wth a mysed mouthe praycyng dumme thynges whiche coude nother speake nor helpe, & agaynst al reason blasphemynge the God of myght. And after that, when þe scribes had shewed the kynge, that they were habile to punish the Jewes no longer for the great multitude of them, for many of the were scattered abroad in the countrey, some yet at home, and some in other places, so that it was a thyng impossible to do for all the officers in Egypte. þe kynge threatened the soze, as though he they had bene byred to helpe them for grates. Yet so it fortuneth that they perswaded him. shewing evidently that they lacked bothe sword and pennies to serue the. And this was the plaine worke of hys prouidence, which byd sende helpe to the Jewes from heauē.

The.v. Chapter.

The kynge called for Hermon the Master of his Elephantes and had hym prepare the that they myght kill the Jewes, but by the myght of God the king fel n to such forgetfulness, that he wold not what he commaunded: and they were laud.

Then after he had sent for Hermon master of the elephantes beyng full of greete and vnplesurable anger, he commaunded that the nexte daye there shulde be geuen to hys elephantes greete quantite of fragrant sence wth muche wyne to dronke, that when they had myghtely dronke they myght be brought in sturke mad to kill the Jewes. And when he had commaunded these thynges, callinge together hys frendes and the chiefe of hys armye whiche were cruellye mynded agaynst the Jewes, he gat hym to hys scalle. But Hermon the master of hys Elephantes byd hys cōmaundementes hand somly, and hys seruantes came aboute eueninge and boide the selfe soules handes, and did al thynges þe was to be done amōge them, thynking about twylght to kill all the whole nacion. Now the Jewes semed to the gentiles to be destitute of all succoure, because they were so harde bounde wth handes, but all. Mach.

Do.iii. they

vi. b.
Josephus
agaynst ap
p on in hys
second booke

The.iii. booke of the Mach.

they with one voice, with teares called vpon the omnipotent Lord, & they merciful God and father, whiche was aboue all power; desyringe hym to turne away this wicked deute taken agaynst them, and that by his royal commynge, he wold take theyre fere oute of this desyre. And thus they prayed toward heauen con-tinuallie. But Hermon, whiche had filled these cruel elephants with blinde proude and frankensence, came erlye in the mornyng to the court to tell the kynge of it.
But that goodly workman shipp of day and nyght made from the begynnyng of the worlde, & whiche is sente of hym that geueth largely vnto all that he wyl, was partely sente vnto the kynge, for he was false in sleepe, and was muche deceyued of his cruel purpose and frustrate of his angrye iudgemente. So þe Jewes when they had passed þe tyme þe was appoynted; they prayed thei holpe God, and prayed vnto hym agayne, that he wold shewe vnto the proude gētilles the strengthe of his myghty hand. And when it was halfe an houre past ten of the clocke, his seruants seing that manie were come that he had sente for, came and waked the kynge, and tolde hym the slepe yet shante oute of his eyes, that bynnet tyme passed awaye, and tolde hym of the men that were come: and the kynge remembryng hym, went wher they were, & commaunded them that were come to dīet to sit ryghte agaynst hym; and so doynge he exhorted them to eate, & to make merie al the dīet whyle. And as they sate in longe talkyng, the kynge sent for Hermon, and axed sharypely, wher the Jewes were suffered alūe that dare. And when he had shewed that he had done his commaundement that nyght, and his frendes had boyned mynes to the same, he more cruel then Jhalatis, wel quoth he, lette them thanke that I slepe so longe to day, but thou without sayng, prepare me the Elephantes agaynst to morowe, euen after the same facyon to kyll these Jewes cruelly. When all they that were ther wer glad, and prayed this commaun-dement of the kynge; euerie man went home to his own house, wher they bestowed y night, not so muche in slepe but to de-uise as it was thought, all maner of meanes howe to moche these selve soules.
So as sone as the cocke crew erly in the mornyng, Hermon began to dyue these armed beastes in a great walkyng place; and all the people thowout the cry came in se this awful syngelokynge. At that tyme almoste heade with weeping prayers & wooll songes holding up their handes to heauen, prayed almyghty god that he wold helpe them shoules agayne.
And on the next day, whē the kynge receyved his frendes, Hermon stode and called to his vnto, and declared vnto them that

The.v. Chapter.

it was the kynge mynde: whiche thynge when the kynge hearde, meruayllinge at this cruel syght, as a man that had forgotten al, axed what was the cause, wher he dyd such thynge so diligently?

* But this was the myghty worke of God that ruleth al, whiche made hym forget al thynge that he thought vpon before. And when Hermon sayde, both all thy frendes, beastes, and menne of armes & kynge are ready after thy pleasure, he for these saynges verye fore angrye that he hadde loste the remembraunce of all these thynge thowout the prouidence of God, lokyng fierlye and with great threates nynges, sayde: as manie as be here þe haue children, or that be boyned of the parentes, that haue geuen vnto these cruel beastes this much meate, lette them be sculd as the innocēt Jewes shuld haue ben, whiche haue excellentlye declared theyre sure and perfitte sayntfulnes both to me and myne auctorours, although no mā for sauoure that they haue bene brought vpon with vs & done sculte was euer deuyed of his life for them. Thus Hermon had fore checkes vnto the kynge, & was maruylouslye abashed and astrayed, and euerie one of his frendes wente theyre waye with heuy chere, & sent away those that were come euerie mā to do his own busynesse. And when þe Jewes knew what the kynge had sayed, they prayed the myghty Lord kynge of kynge, of whom they hadde gotten this helpe. And whē the kynge after his olde custome had prepared a feast, and exhorted them to be merie, callinge Hermon vnto hym with grete threates, he sayed. Thou wyldest how ofte shal I commaunde the to do one thynge? Let se now at the last if thou canst prepare the elephantes to kyll the Jewes?
The kynge knokked that sat with hym, maruyllyng at the inconstancye of his mynde, sayd these wordes: O kynge howe longe wyldest thou tempte vs as though we were mad, whiche nowe commaun-dest vs to be slayned the thrid tyme, & chaged agayne in doing the thynge, breakest þe thou hast appoynted.

Verely the cōte for this cause is in a grete rōdlyng, and manie come together, threacyng that they wyl go away.
Wherfor the kynge full of madnes euen in all pōntes like an other Jhalatis, not regardyng the chaungyng of his mynde toward the slaying of the Jewes, swore stis-ly, that he wold kyll them without delay, that they shuld be all to roden with the sete and knees of the beastes, and that after he wold go into Jewrye, and there with sword and fyre wast it all, and the bo-ly place also of the Jewes, that he myght not come suto, and bute al them that there wer offer sacrific. Then his frendes and knokke when they were gone, appoynted for the army the most conuenient plasces of the cōte to be surely kept. And þe mā

Deu. xviii

11. 22 ac. 1.

Act

her of the elephan'es, had brought his beastes even almost to madnesse w^{ch} were drunke wth tempred wth frankensence, and decked fearefullie to loke to. And nowe a boute the morninge the cyte beinge replenished wth innumerable people about the place w^{ch} horses be coured, one went unto the kyng movinge hym to come to this sight. Wherewith an angry and cruel mynde came out wth al his myghtye Ollyphantes, wth a fiers mynde, desiringe to see the lamentable destruction of the aforesayd selve soules. And when the Jewes sawe about the gate the dust that the elephan'es made in theyr commynge out, and the host that folowed in harnes, and the dust of the peoples fere, and herd the horrible noise, thynkinge it to be the laste momente of theyr lyfe, and the ende of theyr myserie that they looked for, tournyng them selves to mourninge, eche embraced and kyssed other, and toke theyr kynfolke aboute theyr neckes, the father the sonnes, and the mothers the dought-ters, and some put theyr infants to theyr brestes to sucke theyr laste. And agayne myndfull of the helpe that they had before from heauen, wth one consente they fell flat to the grounde, takynge theyr chyldren from theyr papves, & wth one voyce cried aloude makinge theyr prayers to all myghty God, that he wolde come and helpe them that were nowe come to dea-thes dole.

The.vi Chapter.

Cleazarus maketh his prayer. The kyng commaundeth yet agayne to kyll the Jewes by the fowle of Elephants. Angels appeere and save them. The kyng is turned to mercy.

And one Cleazarus a noble man, one of the pryests of that countrey, a verie aged man, & ver-tuous all his lyfe, w^{ch} other sad mē about hym, callinge unto the holre God, prayed thus.

O myghty kyng and mooste myghty almygh-tye God, wherby mercifullie gouernest al thynges that thou hast made, loke vpon the fode of Abraham, and the chyldren of thy holre Jacob, thy chosen people consecrate unto the beinge straungers in an other land, and that Halbezarne vnto thelye, o father. Thou destroyedst pharaos hapyng manie chariottes, sometyme þ kyng of this Egypt, puffed up wth cruel subberneise, & boastyng of tongue, thou brownedst hym and his proude host in the sea, & wth thy lyght of mercy dydest shine vnto the Israelytes. Thou o Lorde ouer-threwest Sennacherib the kyng of the Assyrians beinge proud for all his inu-incible fort of men, wherby he had subdued vnto his power all the whole lande, and was left vp agaynst the holre crite speakyng cruel and proud wordes, shewing openly vnto the gentiles thy power. Thou sauest those thy frendes in Babylon, Dan. iii. & wherby w^{ch} good chere gaue theyr lyues to the fyre, because they wold not worship vayne thyngs, and dydest cast demer into þ butyrnge furnace, and sauest them vnto vnto, even the verie beastes of theyr head, turning the flame vpon al theyr enemies.

Thou broughtest Danell safe into lyghte out of the den, wherby by false accusacyon thoioy enuie was caste vnder the earte to the lyons, to be deuoured of wyld beastes, and dydest bring agayne Jonas safe vnto his frendes, when he had ben fore troubled in þ whales bely that was byed in the sea. Nowe also O mercifull beholder of al thynges, say not but shewe thy selfe vnto the people of Israell as thou ly-as maye be, that it is vniuersally cruelly bad-led of the vngacious and wycked gentiles. And if our sturunge be w^{ch}en lyghte by dwellinge in a straunge countrey, take vs out of our enemies handes, o Lorde, and destroie vs by what deeth thou wilt, least they that thynke vayne thyngs, retorse hauynge of those mens destruction wher thou hast loued, and saye. Mo not they owne God hard deliuered them. Wherfore thou that arte strengest and myghtiest o eternal God, loke vpon vs now and haue mercy vpon vs, wherby by the myghte of wycked men, be taken oute of our lyfe as though we were traptoures. Make the gentyles to wonder at thy myghty power, and vse thy strength to the healyng of the kyndred of Jacob. Al these pong infers be seche the hereof, and theyr fathers also in teares. Let it be sene to al gentiles o Lorde that thou helpest vs, & þ thou hast not turned thy face fro vs, but that þ haste not forgotten vs, no not in our enemies land. Deu. x. viij O lord do even so. When Cleazarus had made an end of prayinge thus, þ kyng & al his great company was come w^{ch} his beastes to þ horse courting place: wherby when the Jewes saw, they made a greate shoute to beaut in so much that all the valeys sounded therof, eue that the people wept sore.
The þ glorious, omnipotent and true God shewing his holle face, opened his heuyn gates, fro whence ther came two angels fereble to loke vpon, whom al dyd se saue the Jewes. They let theyr enemies army, and folled them w^{ch} fere and trouble, and bounde them w^{ch} such fetters that they myght not sturce. Then trembled the kynges bodye, & he began to forgette his pyful boldnesse.

The beastes also turned agaynst the mē w^{ch} they that were in harnesse & trode them vnder theyr fere and kyled them. So the kyng turned his angre into pity, and to bewail these thynges that he had done before.
For when he herde the crye, after þ sawe them all troden to deathe, he mynde and angelre rebukynge his frendes, he as-buse the kyng quoth he, and passe all thy rauntes in cruelty, pea and go aboute to take

Exo. xiiij.

Esa. xlvij.

Josephus
agaynst Ap-
p. on second booke.

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

take spirit and life from me, whiche haue done for you, desiringe pryncely thynges that be not for the profit of my realme.
Who hather for hyther and vnworthelye put oute of theyr houses these men, which kepte the holdes of oure realme saychfullye: Who hather so cruelllye punished those men, whiche euen from the begynnyng, haue bene aboue all other nations mooste louynge vnto vs: Leuse the bondes þe they vniuersally be bound wryth al, I say leuse the,
and let them go false for theyr good dedes that they haue done before: let go the children of the omnipotent and liuynge god, whiche frome the tyme of our aduocates to this daye, hather kept the state of oure realme vntrobled. And these wordes spake he, and they incontynente being leused wher they had escaped deathe, praised the holpe God theyr sauoure. Then afterwarde the kyng commynge agayne into the cite, called vnto hym his steward, and commaunded hym and other thynges þe per-tayne to a feaste, to be geuen to the by the space of vii. dayes, and decreed that in the same place that they thought they shuld haue suffered deathe, eue there they shulde make merue. The they whiche before were wounded and lyke to dye, pea goynge to theyr deathe, in steade of cruell and bytter deathe, keepynge an hollesome feast, being full of gladnes, pointed out wryth their stoles the place þe they were appointed to be slayne in and buryed: and leuynge theyr song of lamentacion, began a newe prayesynge theyr sauoure and mercifulous God: and puttynge amare all mourninge and cryynge, daunted to thewre theyr gladnesse.
Likewyse also the kyng keepynge a great feast gaue great prayses to god in heauen for the healeth that he had geuen vnto the vnloued for. And they that before appoy-ned the to be kyled & deuoured of byrdes & appointed them to the swerde, were ashamed, and for theyr botte boldenesse, koolled wryth dishonestye. So the Jewes as we haue sayd, geuynge them selues to haun-singe and feastyng, were full of ioye and syrnging, & made a lawe of these thynges to all þe came after, of theyr beyng in this straunge councey: and appoynted the foresayde dayes of theyr myrthe to be kepte, not to byp and bowle in for glottony, but for the healeth that was geue to them by God: and afterwarde they wente vnto the kyng and desyred that they myghte goe home to theyr owne houses. * But theyr description was kept from the. xxi.
day of Macho vnto the nyne daye of Epyr, fourtye dayes longe: and to bestrope them they labored frome the iij. daye of Epyr vnto the seuenche of the same that is. iij. dayes, in the whiche the Lord of al shewing his merue wonderfullpe, saued the all wrythout harme, and they kept feastes, the kyng geuynge the al thynges thereto euen to the. xiii. day, in the which

The.vii. Chapter.

they went, desyringe that they myght go home. And when the kyng had prayed the, he wrote this Epistle that foloweth, declaryng the grete vehemencie of his mynde.

The.vii. Chapter.

The kyng wryteth to all the rulers in Egypt to suffer the Jewes to go home. They take chippynge. They put theyr troubles in writing, and praye the Lord God of Israel for cure.

King Ptolome Philopater to all his rulers that be thowme Egypte, & al that beare any office, sendeth gretinge and helth, for we and our chyldren be in healtre. After þe great God had sende us as good spede as we oure selfe wolde wyshe, some of our frendes thowme theyr waywardnes made ofte iustante laboure vnto vs, and perswaded vs to call together the Jewes that were vnder our subiection, and cruellye to punyshe them as captiues: for they sayed we shal neuer be in quiete, because of þe hatred that they bare against all nations, tyll we hadde so done. And after they had so cvered them, and broughte the bytter bounde as slaues, or rather as theues & murderers, wrythout al enquy-ryng or pleading of theyr cause they wold haue kyled the more cruel the þe Scythians.
But we rebuking them sharply for it, according to our gentylnes toward al men, and after we had muche worke to saue the alyue by oure sauour, and when we hact for a surtye that the heauenly God defended the Jewes, and that in euery poynt he holp them as the father his chyldren, and that also we byd consyder the good wyll whiche they bere vnto vs, as they haue to oure auncetours, we haue iustelye quyte them frome all fautes whatsoeuer was layed agaynst them: and haue commaunded euery man in euery place that they shulde be suffered to go to theyr own, and that no man shoulde hurte them, or caste them in the teethe wryth any thyng that they haue suffered wrongfullye. For you shal vnderstand that if we haue done any hurte agaynst them maliciously or by any meanes haue made them sadde, that we shal haue agaynst vs not a man, but þe God ruler of all power, to be reuenged of these dedes in euery poynt alwayes, and neuer hable to be auoided: Fare you wel.
Yet when they had receyued this Epistle, they made not haste straitwayes to go theyr wayes, but they desyred this thyng also of the kyng, that whosoever of the Jewes nacion had violat the holy God, and willnglye broken his lawe, þe they myghte be punished of them as they had deserued: sayinge that they whiche hadde transgressed goddes lawe for theyr belye sake, would neuer be saythfull to the knyges commaundement. He thynkinge the to say true, prayed them, and gaue them power

psal. xlii. a

Josephus
against Appion second boke.

ii. mac. llii.
4.

Jer. xxi. a
i. mach. ii. b.

ii. mac. ii. b.

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

power to kyl whome oure al hye kynge:
dome those that had broke þe law of God, & that they shulde not seke for anye power fro the kinge. Then they as reson was, thankyng the kynge, they piped and all the people with them cryng Alleluya, wente awaye wth ioye: and as they wnt kylled euery one of theyr naciþ that was nought, for example to other: and in dede that daye, they kylled aboue. iiii. hundred menne, and were very ioyous as they kyl-led them. But those that facke to God to death, hauinge þe ful fruite of theyr healeth, they went out of the cyye, crowned wth verye swete floures of all sortes, wth cry-ng and gladnesse, geuynge prayse to the holye God of theyr fathers, the sauer of Israell. And when they wnt come to Strolomis Rodophoros, so called after the nature of the place, where a nauye taried for the, they kepte a feaste there by theyr hole consente, seuen dayes, the kynge ge-uynge vnto them gladlye all chynges necessary to theyr iourney tyl they came home.

The.vii.Chapter. Fol.lxxxiii.

So departynge false wth worlde gratu-lacions, there also they purposed to kepe those glad dayes for the tyme of theyr being in a straunge land: and makynge and dedicating a pyllet of prayse in the place wher they feasted, they went theyr wayes false dorbe by lande and by sea, fre & mestye, and euerpe manne came home to hye house by the kynges commaundement, hauinge greater power agaynst theyr enemyes wth gloyre and feare, then euer they had before: they were not let frome theyr goodes by any man. For al men re-ceyued theyr goodes, as they were named in the bil of atteyndure, so that whosoever had any thing of theirs, restored it agayne wth greute feare, the hie God finishing theyr matres to al their healthes. Praise be God the helper of Israell wth
out ende.

Thomas Mitten

His Book Acquainted 1718

Mary, 19: Sept: 27: 1673.

THE JOURNAL
OF
THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
PUBLISHED WEEKLY
CHICAGO, ILL.
1914

T The Newe

Testament of oure Sauoure I. Iu. Chaste, diligently tranuared, according to þe Greeke, with certayne Notes followinge the chapters. wherein the hardest doubtis are declared for þe better understanding of the vntrea-
ned reader,

ii. Timoth. ii.

All scripture geuen by inspiration of God, is profitable to teache, to re-proue, to amerce, and to instruct in righteteousnes, that the man of God may be perfect and prepared to al good workes.

Anno. M. D. LII.

W. Tyndall vnto the Chri- styan Reader.

Hence had thou
most deere Reader, the fewe testament of Couenant made be-twix of God and Christ a cloud.
Whiche I haue looked ouer a-gayne / nowe at the last, with all diligence, & compared it vnto the

Greeke, and haue weeded out of it many faultes, whych for lacke of helpe at the begynnyng and ouerlyght, did flow therein. It ought some chaged, or not altogether agreeing with the Greeke, let the sinder of the faulte, consider the Greeke phrase, or manner of speech left in þe Greeke or
des. All hole piterperfectencie and pterfence is bothe one, and the futuretence is the optative mode also, and the futuretence is of the imperative mode in the actus voyce, and in the passive ruer. Lre whose person for person, nombre for nombre, and interrogatyon for a conditional, and such lyke is wyth the Greekes a comon blage.

I haue also in many places set lyght in the margin to vnderstand the text by. If any mā fynd faultes either in the translation, or ought helpde (whiche is easer for many to do, then so wel to haue translated it themselves of their owne pugnunt wyttes at the begynnyng wth h out an example) to the same it shall be lawfull to translate it themselves, and to put what they lust thereto. If I shall perceyue epyther by my self or by the informatyon of other that ought be escaped me, or myght be more playnly translated, I wyl shew after cause it to be amē-ded. Howbeit, in many places, wth thynketh it better, to put a declaracion in the margin, then to runne to far from the text. And in many places, where the text seemeth at the first chop hard to be vnderstand, yet the circumstances before and after, and often readyng together, makerh it plain paough, &c.

Wherouer, because the kyngdome of heauen (wher is the scrip^{ture} and a ord of God, may be so locked vp, that he whych readeth or heareth it, can not vnderstand it: as Christ testify-eth how that the scribys and pharisees had so shut it vp. Math. xxiii. and had taken away the keye of knowledge. Lu. xi. that the Jewes which thought themselves wythin, were yet so locked out, and are to this day, that they can vnderstand no sentence of the scrip^{ture} vnto their saluation, though they can rehearse the letters creepe where, and dyspute therof as subtilly as the po-pythe Doctours of Dunelm daeche learyng, & whych wyth they sophistry serued vs, as the pharisees did the Jewes. Therefore, that I my-ght be found faithfull to my father and Lord in distributyng vnto my brethren and felowes of one fayrly tuer due and necessary foode: so by, & byng it and seasonyng it that the weake Ro-manes may receyue it, and also be the better for it: I thought it my dutye most deere reader to waite thus before, and to shewe the, the ryghte way in, and to geue the the true keye to open it

W. T. to the Reader.

wythall, and to arme the agaynst false prophetes and malicious hypocrites, whose perpetual sudge is to leuene the scrip^{ture} wyth gloses, & ther to locke it vp, where it should laue soules, and to make vs shote at a wryng mark, to put our trust in those thynges that profyte their bellyes onely, and dea our soules.

The ryght waye (yea and the onely waye) to vnderstand the scrip^{ture} vnto saluacion, is that we earnestly and aboute all thyng search for the professyon of our baptysme or couenantes made betwene God and vs: so for an example.
Christ sayth. Mat. v. happy are the mercyfull, for they shall obtayne mercy. So, here God hath made a couenant wyth vs, to be mercyfull vnto vs, if we wyl be mercyfull one to another, so that the man whych sheweth mercy vnto his neighbour, may be bold to trust in God for mercy at all nedes. And contrary wyse, iudgement wythout mercy, shalbe to hym that sheweth no mercy. So nowe if he that sheweth no mercy, truste in God for mercy, his faith is carnall and worldly, and but vayne presumption. For God hath promysed mercy onely to the mercyfull.

The ryght way into þ scrip^{ture}.

Jacob. ii.

And therfore the mercies haue not goddes wo:rd that they shall haue mercy: but contrary wyse that they shall haue iudgement withoute mercy. And Math. vi. If ye shall forgyue men their fautes, your heauy father shall forgyue you: but and if ye shall not forgyue men their fautes, no more shall your father forgyue you your fautes.

There also by the vertue and strength of this couenant, wher wyth God of his mercy hath bound hym self to vs vntoworth, may he that forgyuehys neyghbour, be bold when he restourneh and amendeth, to beleue and trust in God for remysyon of whatsoeuer he hath done amys. And contrary wyse, he that will not forgyue, cannot but dyspayre of forgyuenesse in the ende, and feare iudgement withoute mercy. The generall couenant wherewith all other are com-prehended and included, is this. If we make our selues to God to kepe all his lawes, after the example of Christ, then God hath bounde hymself vnto vs, to kepe and make good all þ merces promysed in Christ, theowout all the scrip^{ture}.

All the whole lawe whych was gauen to vs: Lawe. for our corrupt nature, is comprehended in the ten commaundementes. And the ten commaundementes are comprehended in these two: loue God and thy neyghbour. And he that loueth his neyghbour in God and Christe, fulfillerh these two, and consequently the ten, and finally the other. Now if we loue our neyghbours in God & Christ, that is to wyte, if we be louinge kynde and mercyfull to them, because god hath created them vnto his kynde, and Christ hath redemed them and bought them with his blood: then maye we be bolde to trust in God thowout Christ and his detourne, for all merere. For God hath promysed and bound hym self to vs, so that we shall not need to feare the power of all oure aduersaries.

Nowe if any man that submyttech not hym selfe to kepe the commaundemente, do thynke that he hath any faith in God, the same manes faith is vayne, worldly, damnable, deuplythe, and vayne presumption: as it is aboute sayd:
and is no faith that can iustify or be accepted before God. And that is it that James meanerh in his epistle. For how ca a man beleue (sayeth Paul, without a preacher? Rom. x. Now read all the

all the scripture, and he where God sent anye to preache merce to anye, saue vnto them ones ly that repente and turne to God wth of thepy lictes, to kepe hys commandmentes. Vnto þ disobedient that wil not turne, is threatened wrath, vengeance and damnacion, accordyng to all the terrible iustices and feartfull examples of the Bible.

what faith
it is that sa
ueth.

Faith nowe in God the father thowow oure hoide Iesus xpiist, accordyng to the couena ntes and appoyment made betwix God and vs, is our saluacion. Wherefore I haue euer no ted the couenautes in the margentes, and also promises. Wherouer wher thou findest a pro mise and no couenaunt expessed therewith: ther must thou vnderstand a couenaunt, that we, wh we be reueined to grace, knowe it to be our tu rpe to kepe the law. As for an example: Wh the scripture sayeth. Mat. xii. Are and it shal be geuen you, like and ye shall fynde, knoeke and it shal be opened vnto you: It is to be vnder stand, if that when thy neighbour areth, ihereth or knoeke to the, thou thinke wth him the same mercy whiche thou despyst of God, then hath god pouid himselfe to helpe the againe, & else not.

if. thynges
are requy red to be gyn a chry
stian man.

Also ye se that two thynges are requyred to begynne a chrystian man. The firste is a Redfist sayth and trueth in almighty god, to obayne al the merce that he hath promysed be, thowow the deseruinge and merites of a bystres bloude ones ly, without al respecte to our owne workes.

And the other is that we forsake euyl, & turne to god to kepe his lawes, and to fyght agaynst our felices and our corrupt nature perpetually, that we may do the wil of god euerye daye bet ter and better.

What the nature of gods word
is,

Whis haue I sayed (moste deare reader) to warne the, leaue thou shouldest be deceyued, and shouldest not onely read the scriptures in vain, and to no prof, ie, but also vnto thy greater dā nacion. For the nature of goddes word is, that wholouer read it, or heare it reasond, and dis posed before him, it wyl becom immediatly to make him euery daye better and better, tyll he be growen into a perfecte man in the knowledge of xpiist, & loue of the lawe of god: of else make hym worse and worse, tyll he be hardened that he opawle resist the spire of God, and the blas phemy, after the exple of Pharo, Gogan, Abirō, Sala, Judas, Simon Magus, & luche other.

Whys to be euen so, þ word of xpiist, John
iii. do well confirme. Whis is condempnacion (sayeth he) the light is come into the world, but the mē loued darkenes more the light: for the deedes were euil. Behold whē the lyyght of gods word cometh to a man, whether he readeth or heare it preached and testifyed, and he yet haue no loue therto, to fastyon his lyfe thereafter, but contineth styll vnto his olde dedes of igno rance, then beginneth his iust dampnacion im mediatly, and he so hencforth without excuse in that he refused merce offered hym: for God offereth merce, vpon the condicpon that he wil mende his liuing: but he wil not come vnder the couenaunt. And from that houre forwarde, he wreth worse and worse, God takyng hys spi rit of merce and grace from him for his un thankfulness sake. And Paule writeth. Roma.
i. that the heathen because when they knewe God, they had no luste to honoure hym wth Godly luyng, therefore god poured hys wrath vpon them, and toke his spiret from them, and gouē them vp to their vntes iustices, to lerne synne, from iniquity to iniquity, tyll they were thowow hardened and paste repentance.

And Pharo, because when the word of god was in his countrey, and gods people scattered thowow al hys land, and yet neither loued them nor it, therefore God gaue him vp: and in takynng his spiret of grace from him, so harden ed his herte with conceitnes, that afterward no miracle could conuert hym.

Hereto pertayneth the parable of the talen tes. Mat. xxi. The lord commaundeth the ta lente to be taken awaye fro the euyl and foly ful seruante, and to bind him hand and foot, & to cast him into vnter darknes, and to geue the talent vnto hym that had ten, sayng: to al that haue, more shal be geuen. But fro hym that hath not, that he hath shal be taken from him. What is to saye: he that hath a good herte toward the word of god, and to garnish it wth godly luy ng, and to trusty it to other, the same shal in crease more & more dayly in the grace of xpiist.
But he that loueth it not to lye thereafter and to ete it other, the same shal lose the grace of true know ledg, and be blyssed no more, and eu ry daye wyl be worse and worse, and blinder and blinder, tyll he be an vnter enemy of the word of god, and his herte so hardened, that it shal be impossible to conuert hym.

And Luke. xxi. The seruante that knoweth hys maysters wyl, and prepareth not himselfe, shal be beaten with many strypps: that is, shal haue greater dampnacion. And Math. xxi. All that heare the word of god, and do not obser ue, blyde on sand: that is: as the foundacyon layd of sand, cannot resist violence of water, but is vndermined and ouerthrowen, euen so þ sayth of them that haue no luste, nor loue to the lawe of god, but lyd vpon the sand of theyr own Imaginacyons, and not on the rocke of Gods word, accordyng to his couenaunt, turneth to despayre in tyme of tribulacion, & when God cometh to iudge.

And the vnyuersite. Math. xxi. planteth & hye red out to the husbende men that wuld not render to the lord of the fruite in due tyme, and therefore was taken from them, and hyed out to other, both confirme the same. For xpiist sayth to the Jewes: the kyngdome of heauen shal be taken from you, and geuen to a nation that wil bryng forth the frutes thereof, as it is come to passe. For þ Jewes haue lert þ spiritual know ledge of his commandmentes, and also of all the scripture, so that they can vnderstande no thyng godly. And the doct is locked vp that al their knowyng is in vayne, though manye of the take greute paine for Gods sake. And in Luke. iii. the trye that beareth no frute, is com maunded to be plucked vp.

And finally, hereto pertayneth wth infinit other, the terrible parable of the vnticare spy rit (Luk. xi. whych after he is cast out) when he cometh and fyndeth his house swete and gar nyshed, taketh to hym euen worse then himselfe, and cometh and entreaty in, and dwelleth ther:
and so is the end of the man worse then the be gynnyng. The Jewes, they had cleuid them selues with Gods word from all outwarte idolatre and worshipping of idoles, But their heres remained styll sapiblle to Godward, and toward hys merce and truth: and therefore without loue also & luste to his lawe, & to their neighbour for hys sake: & thowow false trust in their owne workes to whiche heretofore, the chyl dren of perdicpon the wyched by Moys of Rome wth his lawes hath brought vs xpiist more ed homynable ydolaters then before) became ten tyme worse in the end then at the begynnyng.

W. T. to the Reader.

For the first idolatry was soone spied, and easy to be rebuked of the prophetes by the scripture. But the latter is more subtle to beyle withal, and an hundred tymes of more difficultie to be waded oute of mennes hertes.

This also is a conclusyon nothyng more reuerent, or more proued by the testimonys & exam- ples of the scrip. ure, that if any that fauoureth the worde of God, be so weake that he can not chaſte his flesh, hym wyll the Lord chaſtise, & scourge euery day wharper and wharper, with tribulacion and myſfortune, that nothyng shal prosper wth hym, but all shal go agaynst him whatſocuer he taketh in hande, and shal viſcite hym wth poverte, with synnethes and disea- ses, and shal plague him with plague vpon plague, eche more lothsome, terrible and fearful then other, till he be at better deſiance wth his flesh.

Let vs therfore that haue none at this tyme oure eyes opened agayn thow the tender mer- cy of God, kepe a meane. Let vs so put oure trust in þ mercy of God thow Jesus Christ, that we knowe it our dute to kepe the lawe of God, and to loue our neyghbours for their fa- thers sake, which created them and bought the- so deſerue wth hys blood. Let vs walke in the feare of God, and haue our eyes open to bothe partes of Goddes covenantes, certified that none shalbe farther of the mercy, saue he that will fight agaynst the flesh to kepe hys lawe. And let vs arme oure selues wth this remem- brance, that as a byſtles wynges iuſtifie from synne and set vs in the fauour of God, so oure owne dedes thow we working of the ſpíríte of God, heulpe vs to continue in the fauour and the grace, vnto which Christ hath bought vs, & that we can no longer continue in fauour and grace, then while our hertes do kepe the lawe.

Furthermore, concerninge the lawe of God, this is a generall conclusyon, that the whole lawe, whether they be ceremonies, sacrifices, yea or sacramentes eyther, or preceptes of equi- tyte betwene man and man thow we out all de- grees of the worlde, all were giuen for our pro- fit and necessity onely, and not for anye rebe that God hath of our keepinge them, or that hys roye is encreased ther by, or that the dede it self doth please hym. That is all that God requy- reth of vs when we be at one wth hym, and do put our trust in hym, and loue euery man hys neyghbour to þe hym, and to haue compaſſyō on hym in al hys nedes, and to be merciful vnto hym. This to be cūn to, & haue testifieth.

Let vs layinge this is the lawe & the pro- phetes, that is, to do as thou wouldest be done to, accordinge I meane to þ doctrine of the scrip- ture, and not to do as thou wouldest not haue done to the, is al that the lawe requyeth and þ prophetes. And Paule to the Roma. xiii. affi- meth also, that loue is the fulfilling of the law, and that he whiche loueth, dothe of hys owne accord all that the lawe requyeth. And 1. Tim. i. Paule sayth that the loue of a pure hert and good conscience and fayth vnſpained, is the end and fulfilling of the lawe. For sayth vnſpained in Christes blood, causeth the to loue for Christes sake.

For the cause of loue.

Whiche loue is the pure loue onely, and the onely cause of a good conscience for then is the conscience pure when the eye loueth Christ in al hys dedes, to do them for hys sake, and not for hys own singular aduantage or any other wretched purpose. And John both in hys Gospel & also epistles, speaketh neuer of any other lawe then to loue one another purly, & synge þ

W. T. to the reader.

we haue God hym self dwelling in vs, and al that God desyeth, if we loue one the other.

Requyeth then that sayth to God, and loue & mercifulnes to our neyghbours is al that we must vnderſtande and interpet by them, so þ all inſeruitour lawes are to be kepte and obser- ued as long as they be seruantes to fayth and loue: and then to be broken immediatly, if tho- rowe anye occasion, they hurte eyther the fayth whiche we woulde haue to Godward in the con- ſcience of a byſtles bloude, or the loue whiche we owe to oure neyghbours for Christes sake. And therfore when the bynd Pharisees mur- mured and grudged at hym and hys discy- ples, that they brake the Saboth daye and trady- ons of the elders, and that hym self did ease the publycans & synners, he answered. Each. it alledgyng. O leas the Prophet: So rather I learne what this meaneth. I requyre mercy & not sacrifice. And Matthew. xii. Whiche sayth what this meaneth I requyre mercy and not sacrifice. For onely loue and mercifulnes vnderſtande the lawe, and alle nothyng. And he that hath not that wrytten in hys herte, shall neuer vnderſtand the lawe no though al þ an- gels of heauen went about to teach hym. And he that hath that grauen in hys herte, shal not onely vnderſtande the lawe, but also shal do of hys owne inclination al that is requyred of the lawe, though neuer lawe had lent grace: as all mothers do of themselves without lawe. This theyr chyldren al þ can be requyred by any law, loue ouercomynge al pain, griefe, triboulness or lothſomnes: and euen so no dout if we had con- tynued in our first state of innocencye, we wuld euer haue fulfilled the lawe without compul- ſion of the lawe.

Only loue
vnderſtand
beth þ lawe.

And because the lawe whiche as a doctrine, thow teachyng euery man hys duty, doth de- ſerue our corrupt nature, is laſtly & partly deſcribed by Moyses, therfore is lytle mention made therof in the newe testament, saue of loue onely, wherein al the lawe is included: as is dede men- tion made of the newe testament in the olde lawe, saue hert and there are promyses made vnto them that Christe shoulde come and clieſe them and deliuer them, and that the Gospel & newe Testament shoulde be preached and publi- shed vnto al nacjons.

The Gospel is glad tydynges of mercy, & grace, and that our corrupt nature shalbe hea- led agayne for Christes sake, and for þ merces of hys deſeruynges onely: yet on that condycion that we wyl turne to God, to learn to kepe his lawes ſpirituallly, that is to ſay, of loue for his sake, and wyl also ſuffer the curſynge of our in- fymities.

Gospel.

The new Testament is as much for to ſay, as a newe cōmāunt. The old Testament is an old temporall cōmāunt made betwene God & the carnal chyldren of Abraham, Isaac, and Ia- cob, otherwyſe called Iſrael, vpon the dedes and the obſeruyng of a temporall lawe. Wher the reward of the keeping is temporall lyte and prosperite in the land of Canaan, and the byea- ringe is rewarded wth temporall death and punyſhment.

Newe Testament.

But the newe Testament is an euerylaſting cōmāunt made vnto the chyldren of God tho- rough apde in Christ, vpon the deſeruynges of Christ: Wher eternall lyte is promysed to al þ beleeue, and death to all that are vnbelyeuynge. For dedes if I kepe þ lawe are rewarded wth the temporall promyses of this lyfe. But if I beleeue in Christ, Christes dedes haue purcha- sed

sed

for me the eternal promises of everlasting life. If I commit nothing unto by or do, I desire to my read, that no man shall see. If I hurt no man, I am not here that no man hurt me. If I help my neighbour, I am most happy. If I help me against, so that with cure and desire, with which I serve other men, I desire that other men do the same to me in the same way, and they extend no further. But I have a desire to abide to life everlasting unto all that believe. These be some things in this place, concerning the law and the Gospel, the new Testament and the old: so that there is but one God, one Christ, one faith, and one baptism. I desire that thou, that it is but one Gospel, though many write it, and many preach it. For all preach the same Christ, and bring the same glad tidings. And the twelve Apostles with the Gospel of John and his twelve Epistle, and the first Epistle of St. Peter, are most pure Gospel, and most plainly and publicly describe the glory of the grace of Christ. If ye require more of the law, like in the Prologue to the Romanes, and in other places, where it is sufficiently intreated of.

Repentance.

Repentance this word is taken of an old man, who is called to, persuade the penitent in the old testament generally. So it is to turn, to be converted. For which the translation that we take for St. Jerome hath most part to turn, to turn, or to be converted, and sometimes penitence. And in the Greek the new testament hath perpetually translated to turn in the heart and mind, and to come to the right knowledge, and to a mans right way again. For which Martinus Dantes translation hath sometimes (ago penitentiam) I do repent, sometimes penitence, sometimes (habeo penitentiam) I have repentance, sometimes (penitet me) it repenteth me. And Erasmus voucheth much this word (revertor), I come to my self, or to my right mind again. And the very sense and significatyon both of the Hebrew and also of the Greek word is, to be converted, to turn to God with all the heart, to know his will, to live according to his laws, and to be cured of our corruption with the oil of his spirit, and wine of obedience to his doctrine. In which conversion or turning, if it be unfinished, these four do accompany it, and are included therein. Confession, not in the priestes care, for that is but mans iuratron, but to God in thy heart, and before all the congregation of God, how that we be sinners and synners, and that our whole nature is corrupt and inclined to synne and all unrighteousness, and therefore cursed, wicked, and damnable, and his lawe help and iule, by which our spiritual nature is delivered, and also to our neighbours, if we have offended any person particularly. When confession and sorrowfulness, that we be such damnable sinners, and not only have sinned, but are wholly inclined to sinne still.

The four partes of repentance

Thirdly, of which our old doctors have made no mention at all in the description of their penance, that God for Christes sake do his good, and receive us to mercy, and is at one with us, and will heal our corrupt nature. And fourthly satisfaction, or amendment making, not to God, but to his holy will, to my neighbour, whom I have hurt, and to the congregation of God, whom I have offended (if any open crime be founde in me, and such a thing of a mans selfe unto the congregation or church of Christ, and to the officer of the same, to have his selfe corrected and governed henceforth of them, according to the true doctrine of Christ. And note this: that as satisfaction or amendment making is counted righteousness before the world, and a purging of the synne, so that the world when I have made a full amendment hath no further to complain: And so faith in Christes blood is counted righteousness, and a purging of all synne before God.

Satisfaction.

Discover he that synneth against his brother, synneth also against his father almighty God. And as the synne committed against his brother, is purged before the world with amendment, or allying himselfe, so is the synne committed against God, purged thorough faith in Christes blood only. For Christ saith. John. 1. If ye love me, keep my commandments. That is to say, if ye love me, that there be no other sacrifice or satisfaction to Godward than me, ye remaine in synne before God, howsoever righteous ye appear before the world. Therefore now we see how he call this (Martinus) repentance, conversion, or turning again to God, either amending, or whether ye say repent, be converted, turne to God, amend your living, or what ye lust, I am content so ye understand what is meant thereby, as I have now declared.

Elders.

In the old Testament the temporal leaders and rulers of the Jews, which had the governance over the people are called elders, as ye may see in the four Evangelistes. Out of which custom, Paul in his epistles, and also Peter, call the prelates and spiritual governors which are bishopps and priestes, elders. Nowe whether ye call them elders or priestes, it is to me all one, so that ye do understande, that they be officers and servants of the word of God, unto the which all men both high and lowe that will not rebel against Christ, must obeye as long as they preach and rule true, and no longer.

upon the Gospell of S. Mathew.

to become a preacher, a feeder of souls. Finally in a prince of the republicans, a father of justice;

Touching the Euangelistes, ye see in the new Testament clearly, what they were. First Matthew, as ye read Matthew 10. 3. & 11. 2. & 13. 5. was one of Christes Apostles, & was with Christ all the tyme of hys preaching, and heard hys owne selfe almost all that he wrote.

at lyuu.

The Fifth Chapter.

That he maye proue Iesus to be the messias, whom the Prophetes promised, he counteth bys Genealogie euen from Abrahā.
Then describeth he the assurance of Mary & Ioseph, & how Christ was conceived throough the holy ghost, & howe Ioseph warned by the Angell, toke Mary to his wyfe.

Ops is the boke of p generation of (a) Iesus Christ, the sonne of (b) Dauid, the sonne also of Abraham.

*Abrahā begat ʿIsaac:
ʿIsaac begat ʿJacob:

2 Ge. xxi. 1 Jacob begat Judas and his brethren.
 * Ge. xxi. 1 + Judas begat Phares + Zarah of Thamar:
 1. 40. 11. a Phares begat Esrom:
 Gen. xxi. 1 Esrom begat Aram:
 Gen. xxi. 1 Aram begat Aminadab:
 Ruth. iii. 1 Aminadab begat Naasson:
 1. 40. 11. a Naasson begat Salmon:
 1. 40. 11. a Salmon begat Booz of Rachab: Ruth. iii. 1 Booz begat Obed of Ruth:
 Ruth. iii. 1 Obed begat Jesse:
 1. 40. 11. a Jesse begat Dauid the king:
 Ruth. iii. 1 + Dauid the king begat Salomon. of her

B that was the wife of Aipe:
 * Salomon begat Roboam: Roboam begat Abia:
 Abia begat Asa:
 Asa begat Josaphat:

Ala begat Eolaphat:

Josaphat begat Joram:
 ‡ Joram begat, c, ~~Mo~~o~~z~~ias:
 * ~~Mo~~o~~z~~ias begat Joatham: ‡ Joatham begat Achaz:
 Achaz begat Ezechias: Ezechias begat Manasses: Manasses begat Amon.
 Amon begat Josias:
 Josias begat (b) Jeichonias & his brethren about the tyme they were carped awaye to Bablon.

And after they were brought to Babilō, Jechonias begat Salathiel: Salathiel begat Zorobabel:
Zorobabel begat Abiud Abiud begat Eliacim:
Eliacim begat Azoj
Azoj begat Sadoc
Sadoc begat Achin
Achin begat Eliud
Eliud begat Eleazar.
Eleazar begat Matthan.
Matthan begat Jacob.
Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whych was borne that Iesus, that is called(e) Christe. &

Althe generacions from Abrahā to Dauid, are xiii generacions And from Dauid vnto the captiuitie of Babilon, are. xiii. generacions. And from the captiuitie of Babilon vnto Chriſt, are alſo fouetene generacions.

+ The birth of Iesus Christ was on thys wise. When his mother Mary was betrothed to Ioseph, before they came to dwell together. He was found wpth childe by the holy ghost. Then Ioseph hys husband be-eing a perfect man and loth to make an example of hys was minded to put hys away secretly. + While he thus thoughte, beholde the g Angell of the Lord apered vnto him in a dreame, saying: Ioseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take vnto the Mary thy wfe. For that which is concepued in her, is of the holy ghoste. She shall bunge forth a sonne, and thou shalt call hys name Iesus. For he shall saue his people from theyr synnes. +

All this was done to fulfill þat which was spoken of the Lorde by the prophet, saying. Behold a mayd shalbe wþ child, and shal bringe forth a sonne, & they shal call his name, h, Emanuel, which is by interpretacion, God wþ vs. h

And Joseph as soon as he awoke out of slepe, sayd as the Angell of the Lorde had bydden him, and toke his wyfe vnto hym, and knewe her not, tyll she had broughte forth by the first sonne, & called his name Iesus.

The Notes.

(a) Jesus, or after the Hebrew Jesus, is by inter Jesus. ppetation. Saviour.
 (b) David and Abraham are first rehearsed, be- David. cause Christ was especially promised unto the
 to be of theyr seed.
 (c) Read the. iii. chap. in the 1st & 2nd booke of Mo-saie. in 6th letter b. where thou shalt se what hath Honar.
 be left

e li. Para.
pdt. d
I li. Para.
pdt. n. and schil. d
lit. Regum
pdt. n. v. ruf
pdt. ruf.
el. Parat.
xvlt.
lit. Parat. c Agge. i a
i. ely. lit. n
i. Parat.

1040. f. b.

卷之四，五。六。 並刊註，七。八。

D
 Dist. II. 8
 Acta. III. 8
 Clape. VII.
 Emanuel.

Joachim. be left out in this place.
(d) In the booke of our tyme is left out Joachim, the father of Iechonias, as appeareth by the first booke of Paralypo. the. ii. chap. in the letter B. wher Iechonias is declared to be Iechonias sonne.

Epiphany. (e) Christ is in Hebrew, Greek, and signifies anointed, which name was given to all high-priests and prophets in the old lawe, because they were anointed with oyle: but to the sonne of the virgin, because he was anointed with the oyle of the spirit more abundantly then any other, in his anointinge was also signified by the other.

Example. (f) They be made examples, whiche be example punysshed as cruel doctes, to put others in feare to do the lyke.

Angel. (g) Angel, is by interpretation, Messenger, wherfore the priests and al other that do declare and set forth the will of worde of God, are in scripture called Angels.

Emmanuel. (h) Emmanuel, is interpreted, God with us. Wherfore the name was given unto Christ, because he being God, was as Paule witnesseth, found lyke unto us in all thyngs, synne only excepted.

First borne sonne. (i) The myghte of the Evangelist wher he declared Christ to be the first sonne of Mary, was to proue that he was the sonne of a virgin, accordyng to the prophesie that was spoken of him, and not to declare that Mary had no chyldren after hym, as some phantasy.

The ii. Chapter.

When men come from the east, and worship Christ with worshippe of gifts, in hom Herode by treason, desired to destroy. But hindered by God of his purpote herein, he slew all the young chyldren in Bethleem. But Christ at the warning of an Angel is carryed into Egypt, and by counsaile of the same Angel returneth into Nazareth.

When Jesus was borne at Bethleem in Jewry in the tyme of Herode the kyng: Beholde, there came (a) wylmen from the east to Jerusalem, saying: Where is he that is borne kyng of Jewes? We have seen his starre in the east, and are come to worship hym.

Mathew. ii. a
John. vii. b When Herode the kyng had heard this, he was troubled, and al Jerusalem with hym, and he gathered all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people, and axed of them, where Christ shoulde be borne. And they sayed unto hym: at Bethleem in Iudye. For thus it is written by the prophete. (b) And thou Bethleem in the land of Iudye, arte not the least, concernyng the pounces of Juda. For oute of the hall come the capitayne, that hall (c) gouerne my people Israel.

Then Herode privily called the wylmen, and diligently enquired of them, the tyme of the ster that appeared, and sent them to Bethleem, saying: Go and search diligently for the chyld. And when ye have founde hym bring me word, that I may come and worship hym also.

Clave. 1e a
Mat. xxi. b When they heard the kyng, they departed: and lo, the ster wher they sawe in the east wente before them, tyll it came a stode ouer the place wher the chyld was. When they sawe the starre, they were maruelously glad, and went into the house, & founde the chyld with Mary his mother, and kneeled downe and worshipped hym, & opened their treasures and offered to hym gyftes, * gold, frankincense & myrr. And after they wer warned of god in a dreame, that they shoulde not go agayn to Herode, they returned into theyr owne countreys another waye.

When they were departed, Beholde the angel of the Lorde appered to Joseph in a dreame, saying: Arise, and take the chyld and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and abyde there tyll I bypnyng the word. For Herode will seeke the chyld to destroye hym. Then he arose, & toke the chyld, & his mother by nyght, and departed into Egypt, & was ther vnto the death of Herod, to fulfill that wher was spoken of the Lorde by the prophete, whiche sayeth, * Out of Egypt have I called my sonne.

(e) When Herode perceyving that he was mocked of the wylmen, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth and slew all the chyldren that were in Bethleem, and in all the coastes therof, as many as were two yere old and under: (f) accordyng to the tyme which he had diligently searched out of the wylmen.

Then was fulfilled that wher was spoken by the prophete Jeremie, saying: On the hilles was a voice heard, mournynge, wepyng and great lamentacion. Rachel weping for hyr chyldren, and woulde not be comforted, because they were not. * When Herode was dead: behold, an angel of the Lorde appeared in a dreame to Joseph in Egypt, saying: Arise and take the chyld and his mother, and go into the land of Israel. For they are dead * whiche sought the chyldes lyfe. Then he arose up, and toke the chyld and his mother, & came into the land of Israel. But wher he heard that Archelaus dyd raygne in Iudye in the roume of his father Herode, he was afraid to go thither. Notwithstandynge after he was warned of God in a dream, he turned asyde into the parties of Galile, and went & dwelt in a cytie called Nazareth, to fulfill that which was spokn by the prophetes: he shalbe called (h) a Nazarene. &

The Notes.

(a) Strabo, who was in the tyme of Christes birth sayeth, that the the wylmen, were certayne sage men among the Persians, as Apollonius was among the Hebrewes. He sayeth also, that they were the priests of the Persians.

(b) Note, that wher it is sayd, And thou Bethleem in the land of Iudye, arte not the least &c.

The scribes ded as our prelates do, when they had rather rehearse a piece of scripture, as they find interpreted by some of the doctours, then as it lyeth in the text. For the place of Archelaus, hath thus. And thou Bethleem Ephraim, art lytle amonge the thousandes of Juda.

(c) To gouerne, is to rule the people by law. To gouern

Mat. xxi. c
Luce. ii. c

Jer. xxxi. c

Mat. ii. d

Mat. ii. d
Luce. ii. d
John. i. d

Jude. i. d
Clave. 1.

Wile men.

Note.

To gouern

of S. Hather.

chasse wyth ynquencheable frys. 6 7. 8

¶ The hebreues do often vse thys worde wor-shipp for bowyng of reuerence wth the inclination and bowyng of the body, as ye haue. Gene. xliii. a. And Reg. xlii. &c

15. Anacrepins in the fourth chap. of his Diurnales, maketh mention that Augustus Caesar hearing that Herode had slayne his owne sonne among the other infantes, sayd: It is better to be Herodes swyne, then his sonne. Meaning that he would not kyll his sworne, because the Lawes lawe forbode o' vs. of swyns flesh.

(f) According to the tyme. &c. were in vs be gathered that it was. ii. yeares after the byrth of Christ, per the wplemen had found him,

(g) Were not, is as much to say, as they remaine not in. o her This prophesie is one of the 3 be verified a fullfilld. Divers waves, & at sundry times, being truly spoken of the al. Is appereth by the exl. chap. of Ieremy, wher immediately after this prophesie is promised the returne of the child, en of Israel fro captiuitie. a 3s al. b. c. d. & a. a. a. a. This was spoken of Sampson But for as much as the holpe ghost had ordeyned Sampson to be a figure of Christ, it is necessary that the thinges spoken of him, should be fulfilled in Christ.

Chem. Chapter.

John being comended for the hardnes of his tye, beginneth to set forth the gospel with preaching and Baptysme. he reponeth the hypocrisse of the Pharisees, & consaileth the to repent. And Christ being baptised of him, & heard by a voice þ came frō aboue to be þ son of god.

And those daies John ^{the} * Baptiste came & preached in the a wyldenes of Iurp. saying: ~ Repent, ^{for} kingdome of heuē is at hande *
This is he of whom it is spoken by the p^{ro}- phet & say w^hich sayeth: The voyce of a crier in wylernes prepare the Lordes way, and make his pathes str^{ai}te.

¶ This John had his garment of Camels herre, and a gaddell of a skinn about his loynes. His meate was b Locustes and wild honie. Then went oute to hym, Jerusalem and al Iurpe all the region round about Jordan, and were baptised of him in Jordan, confessing their finnes. &

+ When he sawe manie of the pharisees and of the Saduces come to his baptisme, he sayd vnto the: * O generation of euy-peters, who hath taught you to flee from the vengeance to come? Bynge forth therefore the frutes belonging to repentance.

And se þe once tynke not to lye in port selues. we haue Abrahā to our father. For ʒ say vnto pou. þ ʒod is able of these stones to raise vp chyldren vnto Abrahā. Que now is the axe put vnto the roote of the trees. so þ euery tre w'ch bringeth not forth the good fruit. is hewē downe and cast into the fire.

I baptise you in water* in token of repentance, but he that cometh after me, is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthye to beare. He shall baptise you with the holygheste and with fyre, whiche bath also hys fan in his hande, and will purge hys floure, and gather the (d) wheat into hys garner, and will burne the ¶ Then came Iesus from Iordane to Iordan, unto Iohn to be baptised of hym. But Iohn forbad hym, saying: I ought to be baptised of thee: & comest thou to me? Iesus answered and said to him: Let it be so nowe. For thus it becometh vs to fulfill al righteousness. & he he suffered hym. And Iesus as soon as he was baptised, came straight out of the water. And lo, heauen was open ouer hym: & Iohn sawe the spirit of God descend like a dole, & lyght vpon him. And lo, there came a voyce fro heauen, sayinge. This is my beloued son, in who is my delpte. ¶ The Notes.

(a) Wilderness. This wilderness was not a place altogether void of habitations, but as our fort lies be. small inhabited.

(6) Locusts after Plinie, are certaine beasts, which the Parthians and Ethioppans doe commonly use to eat. See the xi. booke, and xi. chapter. And xvi. booke, xii. chapter of Plinie. Notwithstanding some hold op n on that they be coppes or budbes of trees or fruites.

(c. Clipped at certain lengths, u n g e n t i r is to receive b i p mouth, wherbi p female biteth of p males head, & the yong gnaw out the daws beap. Reade plinie in lps. x. boke. s. xvi. clj.

(c) All righteousness, that is to do all the ordinances of god, for such purpose as god ordained the same. The.iii. Chapter.

Jesus being led into the beire, fasteth, and ouercometh Satans temptacions. Then he goeth to Galyle and preacheth the Gospell, and calling Peter and Andrew, John and James to be his disciples, approueth his doctrine by healing miraculously, many diseases.

Then was Jesus (a) led awaye of the Spūte into wilderness to be tempted of the deuill. And whē he had fasted .xl. dayes & .xl. nightes, he was afterward an hūgred. & he came to hym the temptour, and sayd: if thou be the sonne of God, command that these stones be made bread. He answered & sayde: it is written, *mā shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

Then the deuyll toke hym vp into the holpe ctyte, and set hym on a pynacle of the temple. and sayd to hym p^rph^rie the sonne of God, cast thy selfe down. For it is wrytten, * he shall geue his aungels charge ouer the, & they shall be ready to carrye thee in their handes, that thou dash the not thy foote agaynst a stone. And Iesus sayd to hym, it is wrytten also. Thou shalt not tempte thy Lord God. The deuyll touchyn hym agayn, & led him into an erce long breuynunt p^rnt, and shewed him all the synagogs of the world, and all the glory of them, and sayde to hym, all these will I geue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship me. The lord Iesus bote hym, & sayd, sayeth Iohⁿ is wrytten thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and hym only shalt thou serue.

When he came forth, and beheld the angels came and ministered unto him. † When

D
Mat. i. b.
Luc. iii. b.
John. i. c
Mat. i. b.
Luc. ii. d.
Eph. vi. a
mat. xxi. a Luke. i f. b.
Mark. i. b.
ii. det. f. v.

Wilderness.
Sept 2

Locusts.

Tippecanoe.

We hear,
 all cry
 Ours.

3
1. 2. 3. 4.
5. 6. 7. 8.

It is, viz. a Chap. xvi. c
 244. 11. 2

10 sat. 11. 12.

Deut. vi. 8.
and, iii. 9.

Dr. H. C.
and Dr.
H. C.

Luke. vii. 6 When Iesus had heard that John was taken, he departed into Galile and left Nazareth, and went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is a cite upon the sea, in the coastes of Zabulon and Neptalim, to fulfil that, which was spoken by Esay the prophet, saying, The land of Zabulon & Neptalim, the way of the sea beyonde Jordan, Galyle of the Gentyls, the people which sat in darknes, sawe greate lycht, and to them which sat in the region and shadowe of death, lycht is begon to shyne.

C From that tyme Iesus began to preach, and to say (b) repent: for the kyngdome of heauen is at hand. Mat. i. 16 As Iesus walked by the sea of Galile, he sawe two brethren: Simon which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishers: and he said vnto them folowe me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they straightway left their nettes, and folowed hym.

And he went forth fro thence, & saw ether two brethren, James the sonne of zebede & John hys brother, in the shipp, with zebede his father mending their nettes, & he called the. And they without taryng left the shipp and their father, and folowed hym. Mat. ix. 10 And Iesus wente about all Galile, teaching in their synagoges & preaching the gospell of the kyngdome, and healing all manner of sicknesses, and all manner of diseases amonge the people. And his fame spredde abroad throughout all Syria. And they brought vnto hym all like people that were taken wth divers diseases & grypings, & them he wet possessed wth deuyls: & those he wet lymatike, & those that had the palsy: & he healed the. And they folowed him a great number of people from Ierusalem, & from Turp, & from the regions that lye beyonde Jordan.

The Notes,

Led awaye into wilderness. (a) Led awaye into wilderness, &c. Not because no man can be tempted of the deuyll oute of wilderness, but because our Sauour (who vled to eate and drynke indifferently in all mens company) myght not haue fasted so longe, and so straitely in those partes where he had bene before conversant, wherby the deuyll myght haue iust occasiō to tempte him in such sort as he did. To repent. (b) To repent is to sorrow euē fro the bottom of the heart & see we dyd so, thynge wherof we repēt, & to endeuoure wth our might to do the contrarye. Gospell. (c) Gospell is the glad tydings of the fre mercy and redemption thowme Ch. 11. c.

The v. Chapter.

There is described the whol sermo of Christ, in the which first he sheweth what trow blessednes is: & what be the offices of those that shoulde be chiefe. After that he declareth the true sence of the law, by bringyng oute of examples of murdres, adulter, swearing, & loue of the neighbour.

Luke. vii. 1 When he saw the people, he went vp into a mountayne: & when he was set, his disciples came to him, and he opened his mouth, and taught them, sayinge Blessed are the (a) pure in sparte, for they shal see the kyngdome of heauen. Blessed are they that moorne, for they shal be comforted. Blessed are the meke, for they shal inherite the earth. Blessed are they which (b) hunger and thirst for ryghteousnes, for they shal be filled. Blessed are they that are merciful, for they shal receiue mercy. Blessed are they that are pure in herte, for they shal see God. Blessed are the (c) peacemakers: for they shal be called the children of God. Blessed are they which suffer (d) persecution for ryghteousnes sake, for they shal be the kyngdome of heauen. Blessed are ye when men reuile you, & persecut you, & shal falsely say of you, that ye are blasphemers, & be glad, for great is your reward in heauen. For so persecuted they the prophets which were before you. Ye are the salte of the earth: but if the salte haue lost her saltnes, what can be salted therewith? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trode vnder fote of men. Ye are the lycht of the world. A cite that is set on an hill, can not be hid, neither do men light a candle and put it vnder a bushel, but on a candelsticke, and it lychteth all that are in the house. Lette you poure lycht so shyne before men, that they may see your good woorkes, and glorifie your father which is in heauen.

Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: no, I am not come to destroy the, but to fulfil them. For truly I say vnto you, till heauen and earth perishe, one iote or one tittle of the lawe shall not escape, till all be fulfilled.

Whosoever breaketh one of these least commaundementes, and teacheth men so, he shal be called the least in the kyngdome of heauen. But whosoever (e) obserueth and teacheth the same, shall be called greate in the kyngdome of heauen.

For I say vnto you, except your ryghteousnes exceede the rightuousnes, of the scribes and pharises, ye can not enter into the kyngdome of heauen.

Ye haue heard howe it was sayed vnto them of the old tyme, Thou shalt not kyll. For whosoever killeth, shal be in daunger of iudgement. But I say vnto you, whosoever is angry wth his brother withoute a cause, shall be in daunger of iudgement. Whosoever sayth to his brother (f) Racha, shall be in daunger of a council. But whosoever sayth thou fool, shall be in daunger of hel fire.

Therefore when thou goest to offer thy gifte at the altare, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought agaynst the: leue there thy offering before the altare, and go thy way first and be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gifte.

Agre wth thine aduersary quickly, whiles thou art in the way wth hym, lest that thy aduersary deliuer the to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer the to the mynister, & then thou be cast into prison. I say vnto the, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast payed the vttermost farthinge.

Ye

Ier. xxi. 3

1 Pet. ii. c. iii. c. iii. c.

Act. v. c.

Ye Salt.

Mat. ix. c. Luke. xiii. c. Lycht.

Mat. x. c. Luke. xiii. c. and. x. c. Mat. vi. c. 1. Pet. ii. b.

Luke xvi. b. Esay. vi. c. Lu. xvi. b. 3. Job. ii. b. Eccl. xvi. b.

Exod. xx. c. Deut. v. b. Leuit. xxi. c. Mat. v. c.

Will sp. e. Job. xli. b. Mat. v. c. Mat. v. c. Lycht.

Luke. xiii. c. 2. 1. Pet. ii. c.

The Gospell

of S. Mathew.

E Ye haue hearde howe it was said to them of old tyme. Thou shalt not commit adultery. But I say vnto you, that whosoever loketh on a wyfe with luste after her, hath comitted adultery with her already in his hert.

Wherfore if thy right eye offendeth thee, plucke him out, & cast hym fro. Better it is for thee that one of thy members perishe, then that thy hole bodye shoulde be cast into hel. Also if thy right hand offendeth thee, cutt hym off and cast hym from thee. Better it is that one of thy members perishe, then that thy hole bodye shoulde be cast into hel.

It is sayed, whosoever putteth awaye his wyfe let hym geue her a testimoniall also of the deuorcement. But I saye vnto you, whosoever putteth awaye his wyfe (excepte it be for fornicacion) causeth her to breake matymonpe. And whosoever marryeth her that is deuorced, breaketh wedlocke.

Agayne ye haue heard howe it was sayed to them of olde tyme, thou shalt not forswear thy selfe, but shalt performe thyne othe to god. But I saye vnto you, sweare not at all, neither by heuē, for it is gods seat: nor yet by the earth, for it is his fote stole: neither by Iherusalem, for it is the citie of that great kynge: neither shalt thou sweare by thy heade: because thou canst not make one whyte haire or blacke. But your communicaciō shalbe yea yea: nay nay. For whatsoeuer is more than these, cometh of euil.

Ye haue hearde howe it is sayed: an eye for an eye, a tethe for a toth. But I saye to you, that ye resyste not wronge. But whosoever smyth thee a blow on thy right cheeke, turne to hym the other. And if any man wyl sue thee at the law, and take awaye thy cote, let hym haue thy cloake also. And whosoever wyl compell thee to go a myle, go with hym twayne. Geue to hym that arerh, and from hym that woulde borrowe tourne not away.

Ye haue heard howe it is said: thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemye. But I saye vnto you, loue your enemyes. Blesse them that curse you. Do good to them that hate you. pray for them which do you wronge and persecute you: that ye maye be the chyldren of your father that is in heauen: for he maketh his sunne to aryse on the euil, and on the good, sendeth his raine on the iust and vniuste. For if ye loue them which loue you: what rewarde shal ye haue? Do not the publicans euil so? And if ye be frendly to your brethren only what singular thyng do ye? Do not the publicans likewise? Ye shall therefore be perfect, euē as your father which is in heauen, is perfect.

The Notes.

(a) Woe in spirit are such as set not their care upon the gettinge or keepinge of riches, but labour diligently in their vocacion, because god hath commaunded so. And if the riches of the world chaunce to the, they receiue it as thāgers & enuious to desire no more. And hath commaunded.

(b) To haue and cherishe righteuousness, is to be as deuout of the righte hert and mind of god, and the framing of our lyfe to god.

For as the bodye is of meate and drinke, (c) Peace makers are called the chyldren of god, because they are not only makers of outward & worldly peace, but also of peace makers of conscience, who do by the comfortable promises of the scriptures, make amonement betwene god & our conscience.

(d) God rewardeth his faithful seruantes, not because they be perfect, but because the perfection cometh for his sake.

(e) This obseruynge & teaching, is not of outward letter, but of spirit. Which who lo obserueth & teacheth, shalbe great in the kyngdome of God: That is, in his preaching the word of God. For his dedes and wordes shal preach both one thyng. That is declared by that that followeth: Except your righteousness, &c.

(f) Matha after Chrysostome, is a word of god which speche, by which is shewed that the mind is moued to anger. But vnder this word foole, doeth St. Augustine & Chrysostome vnderstande all inury, opprobriouse and despitful wordes.

(g) This offeryng is mentioned in Paul. Ro. xii. (h) To plucke out the eye, is to mortifye the concupiscence of the herte, proceeding by the means of the eye. And likewise to cut of handes & fete, as Math. xviii. 9. & Mar. ix. 43.

(i) Hate thine enemye. This had the pharisees added to the commaundement, because of that they found written in Exodus. xvi. 17. & Deut. xxi. 16. & 19. & 20. & 21. & 22. & 23. & 24. & 25. & 26. & 27. & 28. & 29. & 30. & 31. & 32. & 33. & 34. & 35. & 36. & 37. & 38. & 39. & 40. & 41. & 42. & 43. & 44. & 45. & 46. & 47. & 48. & 49. & 50. & 51. & 52. & 53. & 54. & 55. & 56. & 57. & 58. & 59. & 60. & 61. & 62. & 63. & 64. & 65. & 66. & 67. & 68. & 69. & 70. & 71. & 72. & 73. & 74. & 75. & 76. & 77. & 78. & 79. & 80. & 81. & 82. & 83. & 84. & 85. & 86. & 87. & 88. & 89. & 90. & 91. & 92. & 93. & 94. & 95. & 96. & 97. & 98. & 99. & 100. & 101. & 102. & 103. & 104. & 105. & 106. & 107. & 108. & 109. & 110. & 111. & 112. & 113. & 114. & 115. & 116. & 117. & 118. & 119. & 120. & 121. & 122. & 123. & 124. & 125. & 126. & 127. & 128. & 129. & 130. & 131. & 132. & 133. & 134. & 135. & 136. & 137. & 138. & 139. & 140. & 141. & 142. & 143. & 144. & 145. & 146. & 147. & 148. & 149. & 150. & 151. & 152. & 153. & 154. & 155. & 156. & 157. & 158. & 159. & 160. & 161. & 162. & 163. & 164. & 165. & 166. & 167. & 168. & 169. & 170. & 171. & 172. & 173. & 174. & 175. & 176. & 177. & 178. & 179. & 180. & 181. & 182. & 183. & 184. & 185. & 186. & 187. & 188. & 189. & 190. & 191. & 192. & 193. & 194. & 195. & 196. & 197. & 198. & 199. & 200. & 201. & 202. & 203. & 204. & 205. & 206. & 207. & 208. & 209. & 210. & 211. & 212. & 213. & 214. & 215. & 216. & 217. & 218. & 219. & 220. & 221. & 222. & 223. & 224. & 225. & 226. & 227. & 228. & 229. & 230. & 231. & 232. & 233. & 234. & 235. & 236. & 237. & 238. & 239. & 240. & 241. & 242. & 243. & 244. & 245. & 246. & 247. & 248. & 249. & 250. & 251. & 252. & 253. & 254. & 255. & 256. & 257. & 258. & 259. & 260. & 261. & 262. & 263. & 264. & 265. & 266. & 267. & 268. & 269. & 270. & 271. & 272. & 273. & 274. & 275. & 276. & 277. & 278. & 279. & 280. & 281. & 282. & 283. & 284. & 285. & 286. & 287. & 288. & 289. & 290. & 291. & 292. & 293. & 294. & 295. & 296. & 297. & 298. & 299. & 300. & 301. & 302. & 303. & 304. & 305. & 306. & 307. & 308. & 309. & 310. & 311. & 312. & 313. & 314. & 315. & 316. & 317. & 318. & 319. & 320. & 321. & 322. & 323. & 324. & 325. & 326. & 327. & 328. & 329. & 330. & 331. & 332. & 333. & 334. & 335. & 336. & 337. & 338. & 339. & 340. & 341. & 342. & 343. & 344. & 345. & 346. & 347. & 348. & 349. & 350. & 351. & 352. & 353. & 354. & 355. & 356. & 357. & 358. & 359. & 360. & 361. & 362. & 363. & 364. & 365. & 366. & 367. & 368. & 369. & 370. & 371. & 372. & 373. & 374. & 375. & 376. & 377. & 378. & 379. & 380. & 381. & 382. & 383. & 384. & 385. & 386. & 387. & 388. & 389. & 390. & 391. & 392. & 393. & 394. & 395. & 396. & 397. & 398. & 399. & 400. & 401. & 402. & 403. & 404. & 405. & 406. & 407. & 408. & 409. & 410. & 411. & 412. & 413. & 414. & 415. & 416. & 417. & 418. & 419. & 420. & 421. & 422. & 423. & 424. & 425. & 426. & 427. & 428. & 429. & 430. & 431. & 432. & 433. & 434. & 435. & 436. & 437. & 438. & 439. & 440. & 441. & 442. & 443. & 444. & 445. & 446. & 447. & 448. & 449. & 450. & 451. & 452. & 453. & 454. & 455. & 456. & 457. & 458. & 459. & 460. & 461. & 462. & 463. & 464. & 465. & 466. & 467. & 468. & 469. & 470. & 471. & 472. & 473. & 474. & 475. & 476. & 477. & 478. & 479. & 480. & 481. & 482. & 483. & 484. & 485. & 486. & 487. & 488. & 489. & 490. & 491. & 492. & 493. & 494. & 495. & 496. & 497. & 498. & 499. & 500. & 501. & 502. & 503. & 504. & 505. & 506. & 507. & 508. & 509. & 510. & 511. & 512. & 513. & 514. & 515. & 516. & 517. & 518. & 519. & 520. & 521. & 522. & 523. & 524. & 525. & 526. & 527. & 528. & 529. & 530. & 531. & 532. & 533. & 534. & 535. & 536. & 537. & 538. & 539. & 540. & 541. & 542. & 543. & 544. & 545. & 546. & 547. & 548. & 549. & 550. & 551. & 552. & 553. & 554. & 555. & 556. & 557. & 558. & 559. & 560. & 561. & 562. & 563. & 564. & 565. & 566. & 567. & 568. & 569. & 570. & 571. & 572. & 573. & 574. & 575. & 576. & 577. & 578. & 579. & 580. & 581. & 582. & 583. & 584. & 585. & 586. & 587. & 588. & 589. & 590. & 591. & 592. & 593. & 594. & 595. & 596. & 597. & 598. & 599. & 600. & 601. & 602. & 603. & 604. & 605. & 606. & 607. & 608. & 609. & 610. & 611. & 612. & 613. & 614. & 615. & 616. & 617. & 618. & 619. & 620. & 621. & 622. & 623. & 624. & 625. & 626. & 627. & 628. & 629. & 630. & 631. & 632. & 633. & 634. & 635. & 636. & 637. & 638. & 639. & 640. & 641. & 642. & 643. & 644. & 645. & 646. & 647. & 648. & 649. & 650. & 651. & 652. & 653. & 654. & 655. & 656. & 657. & 658. & 659. & 660. & 661. & 662. & 663. & 664. & 665. & 666. & 667. & 668. & 669. & 670. & 671. & 672. & 673. & 674. & 675. & 676. & 677. & 678. & 679. & 680. & 681. & 682. & 683. & 684. & 685. & 686. & 687. & 688. & 689. & 690. & 691. & 692. & 693. & 694. & 695. & 696. & 697. & 698. & 699. & 700. & 701. & 702. & 703. & 704. & 705. & 706. & 707. & 708. & 709. & 710. & 711. & 712. & 713. & 714. & 715. & 716. & 717. & 718. & 719. & 720. & 721. & 722. & 723. & 724. & 725. & 726. & 727. & 728. & 729. & 730. & 731. & 732. & 733. & 734. & 735. & 736. & 737. & 738. & 739. & 740. & 741. & 742. & 743. & 744. & 745. & 746. & 747. & 748. & 749. & 750. & 751. & 752. & 753. & 754. & 755. & 756. & 757. & 758. & 759. & 760. & 761. & 762. & 763. & 764. & 765. & 766. & 767. & 768. & 769. & 770. & 771. & 772. & 773. & 774. & 775. & 776. & 777. & 778. & 779. & 780. & 781. & 782. & 783. & 784. & 785. & 786. & 787. & 788. & 789. & 790. & 791. & 792. & 793. & 794. & 795. & 796. & 797. & 798. & 799. & 800. & 801. & 802. & 803. & 804. & 805. & 806. & 807. & 808. & 809. & 810. & 811. & 812. & 813. & 814. & 815. & 816. & 817. & 818. & 819. & 820. & 821. & 822. & 823. & 824. & 825. & 826. & 827. & 828. & 829. & 830. & 831. & 832. & 833. & 834. & 835. & 836. & 837. & 838. & 839. & 840. & 841. & 842. & 843. & 844. & 845. & 846. & 847. & 848. & 849. & 850. & 851. & 852. & 853. & 854. & 855. & 856. & 857. & 858. & 859. & 860. & 861. & 862. & 863. & 864. & 865. & 866. & 867. & 868. & 869. & 870. & 871. & 872. & 873. & 874. & 875. & 876. & 877. & 878. & 879. & 880. & 881. & 882. & 883. & 884. & 885. & 886. & 887. & 888. & 889. & 890. & 891. & 892. & 893. & 894. & 895. & 896. & 897. & 898. & 899. & 900. & 901. & 902. & 903. & 904. & 905. & 906. & 907. & 908. & 909. & 910. & 911. & 912. & 913. & 914. & 915. & 916. & 917. & 918. & 919. & 920. & 921. & 922. & 923. & 924. & 925. & 926. & 927. & 928. & 929. & 930. & 931. & 932. & 933. & 934. & 935. & 936. & 937. & 938. & 939. & 940. & 941. & 942. & 943. & 944. & 945. & 946. & 947. & 948. & 949. & 950. & 951. & 952. & 953. & 954. & 955. & 956. & 957. & 958. & 959. & 960. & 961. & 962. & 963. & 964. & 965. & 966. & 967. & 968. & 969. & 970. & 971. & 972. & 973. & 974. & 975. & 976. & 977. & 978. & 979. & 980. & 981. & 982. & 983. & 984. & 985. & 986. & 987. & 988. & 989. & 990. & 991. & 992. & 993. & 994. & 995. & 996. & 997. & 998. & 999. & 1000.

(m) Be not careful, etc. There is not forbidden of S. Mathew.

Walter,
Walter.
Huk etc.
Hites, etc.

D
 3 fol. 61. b.
 mat. rebt. a Duke, v. e.
 Roma. 11. b

The forbyddeth rather iudgements of other mannes fautes. He exhorteth to continual prayers: & sheweth the summe of the law, the way of saluation, and how to know false prophetes. Last of al, he sheweth that the worde of God not only must be heard, but also expressed in dedes.

Iudge (a) not, that ye be not iudged. For as ye iudge. so shall ye be iudged. And wpth what measure ye mete, wpth the same shall it be measured to you againe. Why seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, & perceapest not the beame that is in thyne owne eye? Or why sayest thou to thy brother: suffer me to plucke out the mote out of thine eye, and beholde a beame is in thyne owne eye? Thou sayest, spcke cast out the beame out of thine owne eye and then shall thou see cleaerly to plucke out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

Ms. xviii. a

Some b not þ which is holy to dogges, neither can ye poure peales before same:
least they tread the n. vnder them: fete, and the other turne againe and all to rent you.

Are and it shalbe geuen you. Seke and ye shall fynde. Knocke and it shalbe opened vnto you. For whosoever wille, receaueth the that seeketh, fyndeth, and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened. Yf there anye man amonge you which has sonne aged yn breade, would he offer hym a stone? Or if he had a fyre, would he proffer hym a stick, or a thorn whyle he are euill, can geue hys chylde good gyfte. Howe muche more shal your father vnto you in heauen, geue good thynges to them that aske hym.

27

Therefore whatsoever we would that we should do to our enemies so do to the things of the same in the prophets

111

Enter in at the straight gate: for wide is the gate and broad is the way that lead-eth to destruction: many that be which go in thither. And the strait gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life:
many strive to enter in, but few are able that to find it.

& beauer of faile & prophetes which come to point thees clotheinge, but inwardlye they are mannyng woules. Ye shall know byn hyt by the frutes. Do not a this grapes of the corrector fogges of bynners: Even so myng of the bynnger's frute good frute.
 But a curst of the bynnger's frute ill frute.
 I goe further in my bynng frute bad frute:
 I praye a bynnger to myng to my good frute.
 I praye to be bynnger's frute not to myng good frute shall be bynnger's frute and out into the frute. Therefore by the frute ye shall know the frute.

Book, Vol. C

219 St. 211. 0
219 St. 211. 0

11.4.

1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2101, 2102, 2103, 2104, 2105, 2106, 2107, 2108, 2109, 2110, 2111, 2112, 2113, 2114, 2115, 2116, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2120, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2124, 2125, 2126, 2127, 2128, 2129, 2130, 2131, 2132, 2133, 2134, 2135, 2136, 2137, 2138, 2139, 2140, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2145, 2146, 2147, 2148, 2149, 2150, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2154, 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 2166, 2167, 2168, 2169, 2170, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2174, 2175, 2176, 2177, 2178, 2179, 2180, 2181, 2182, 2183, 2184, 2185, 2186, 2187, 2188, 2189, 2190, 2191, 2192, 2193, 2194, 2195, 2196, 2197, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2202, 2203, 2204, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2208, 2209, 2210, 2211, 2212, 2213, 2214, 2215, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2221, 2222, 2223, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2227, 2228, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2233, 2234, 2235, 2236, 2237, 2238, 2239, 2240, 2241, 2242, 2243, 2244, 2245, 2246, 2247, 2248, 2249, 2250, 2251, 2252, 2253, 2254, 2255, 2256, 2257, 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2264, 2265, 2266, 2267, 2268, 2269, 2270, 2271, 2272, 2273, 2274, 2275, 2276, 2277, 2278, 2279, 2280, 2281, 2282, 2283, 2284, 2285, 2286, 2287, 2288, 2289, 2290, 2291, 2292, 2293, 2294, 2295, 2296, 2297, 2298, 2299, 2300, 2301, 2302, 2303, 2304, 2305, 2306, 2307, 2308, 2309, 2310, 2311, 2312, 2313, 2314, 2315, 2316, 2317, 2318, 2319, 2320, 2321, 2322, 2323, 2324, 2325, 2326, 2327, 2328, 2329, 2330, 2331, 2332, 2333, 2334, 2335, 2336, 2337, 2338, 2339, 2340, 2341, 2342, 2343, 2344, 2345, 2346, 2347, 2348, 2349, 2350, 2351, 2352, 2353, 2354, 2355, 2356, 2357, 2358, 2359, 2360, 2361, 2362, 2363, 2364, 2365, 2366, 2367, 2368, 2369, 2370, 2371, 2372, 2373, 2374, 2375, 2376, 2377, 2378, 2379, 2380, 2381, 2382, 2383, 2384, 2385, 2386, 2387, 2388, 2389, 2390, 2391, 2392, 2393, 2394, 2395, 2396, 2397, 2398, 2399, 2400, 2401, 2402, 2403, 2404, 2405, 2406, 2407, 2408, 2409, 2410, 2411, 2412, 2413, 2414, 2415, 2416, 2417, 2418, 2419, 2420, 2421, 2422, 2423, 2424, 2425, 2426, 2427, 2428, 2429, 2430, 2431, 2432, 2433, 2434, 2435, 2436, 2437, 2438, 2439, 2440, 2441, 2442, 2443, 2444, 2445, 2446, 2447, 2448, 2449, 2450, 2451, 2452, 2453, 2454, 2455, 2456, 2457, 2458, 2459, 2460, 2461, 2462, 2463, 2464, 2465, 2466, 2467, 2468, 2469, 2470, 2471, 2472, 2473, 2474, 2475, 2476, 2477, 2478, 2479, 2480, 2481, 2482, 2483, 2484, 2485, 2486, 2487, 2488, 2489, 2490, 2491, 2492, 2493, 2494, 2495, 2496, 2497, 2498, 2499, 2500, 2501, 2502, 2503, 2504, 2505, 2506, 2507, 2508, 2509, 2510, 2511, 2512, 2513, 2514, 2515, 2516, 2517, 2518, 2519, 2520, 2521, 2522, 2523, 2524, 2525, 2526, 2527, 2528, 2529, 2530, 2531, 2532, 2533, 2534, 2535, 2536, 2537, 2538, 2539, 2540, 2541, 2542, 2543, 2544, 2545, 2546, 2547, 2548, 2549, 2550, 2551, 2552, 2553, 2554, 2555, 2556, 2557, 2558, 2559, 2560, 2561, 2562, 2563, 2564, 2565, 2566, 2567, 2568, 2569, 2570, 2571, 2572, 25

307. 1896. 1897.

110. W. E. 11. 6

...

33. 1. 15. von Claffenbuitone, 23. 1. 15.

Master, shill enter into the kingdome of heauen: but he that doeth my fathers wyl which is in heauen. Many wil saye to me in that day. Master, Master, haue we not in thy name prophesied: And in thy name haue caste oute deuylls: And in thy name haue done many miracles: And then wyl I knowlege vnto the, that I neuer knew theem. Departe from me, ye workers of iniquitye.

Whosoever heareth of me these sayings and doeth the same, I will liken him vnto a wise man which buildeth his house on a rock, and abundance of raine descended, and the floods came, and the windes blew, and yet upon that same house, and it falle not, because it was grounded on the rock.
And whosoever heareth of me these sayin-ges and doeth the same, he will be likened vnto a foolish man which buildeth his house vpon the sand: and abundance of raine descended, and the floods came, and the win-des blew, and yet upon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

And it came to passe, that when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were assured at his doctrine. For he taught them as one, having power, and not as the scribes. The Notes.

Est. i. d.
Luh. 161. d

¶ I doe not so muche as the righteousness of God, that he will please with the same. thyn-ges that the offence is committed with all. As is mine ord' in þe booke of W^{id}domes the xi Chapter, C. xlviii. ver. C. So that: if we mysdome other vpon lyke occasions, we shal in lyke manner be mysdemed of other. If we haue small except: we shal send as little. &c.

Judge not,

of God. The Dogges are the obstinate blinded which are ready to persecute all such as go against to encrease that. And such are such as be light in belly lapping so much, that if they be not to be forced to leave they, surely per will they incontinence returne to the same.

Give not.

3. Beware of false prophets, &c. False prophets are preachers that pervert & wrest the word of God to their own uses, signify the appearance of outward holynes, Ravens & wolves are typical of such that delight in persecution, and murthering of innocent blood. 3. &c.

Falte 1010
4212.

Whoſoever heareth, &c. This ſimilitude of the ſtone declarerh that our ſhould be grounde our confidence upon none other foundation, but the ſure rocke of Chriſt Ieſus.

Badbyng.

There is one haupnge power. vi. This power is of spirit of prophets, wherhe appeared not in the old testament. For they build altogether vpon old testament constitucions. . . . The .viii. Chapter

Source.

Christ healing of Lepers by miracle, the mather had the pottie, Peters mother in law, and many other, shewed the power of his di-uinitie, and of the power of faith in him: & also appeasing the tempest by and by with his worde, and casting the deuiils into hog-ges. And amonge these thinges he sheweth what woulde he woulde haue them to be of that follow hym.

When he was come downe fro the mountaine. muche people folo-wed him. And so, that came a leper and worshipped him saying

ing: Master. if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane. And Jesus put forth his hande and touched him, saying: I will be thou cleane, and immediatly his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus sayde vnto hym: See thou tel no man, but go and shewe thy selfe to the priesse, and offer the (a) gyfte that Moses commaunded in wytnes to them.

¶ When Jesus was entred into Capernaum, ther came vnto hym a certayne Centurion, and besought hym saying: My lord my seruaunte lyeth speke at home of the palsy, and is greuously payned. And Jesus sayde vnto hym: I will come and heale hym. The Centurion answered and sayde: Sir, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my rofe, but speake the worde onely, and my seruaunte shalbe healed. For I also my selfe am a man vnder power, and haue souldiers vnder me: and I saye to one go, and he goeth, and to another come, and he cometh, and to my seruaunte, do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus hearde that, he merueled and sayed to them that folowed hym: Clerely I saye vnto you, I haue not found so great fayth no not in Israel. I saye therfore vnto you that manye shall come from the East and west, and (b) shall rest wth Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kyngdome of heauen: & the chyldren of the kyngdome shalbe cast out into viter darckenes: there shalbe weeping and gnashynge of tethe. Then Jesus sayed vnto the Centurion, go thy way, and as thou beleuest, so be it vnto the. And his seruaunt was healed the selfe houre.

¶ And then Jesus went to Peters house, and sawe his wyues mother lyinge speke of a feuer, and touched her hande, and the feuer left hyr: and she arose, and mynystred vnto them.

¶ When the euen was come, they brought vnto hym many that were possessed with deuyls. And he caste out the spites wth a worde, and healed all that were speke, too fullfyll that which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying. He toke on hym oure inprynties, and bare our weakenes.

¶ When Jesus sawe muche people about hym: he commaunded to go ouer the water. And there came a scribe and sayed vnto hym: master, I will folowe the whithersoever thou shalt go. And Jesus sayd vnto him: the foxes haue holes, and the byrdes of the ayre haue nestes, but the (c) sonne of man hath not wherein to reste his heade. Another that was one of his Disciples sayed vnto hym: master suffer me first to go and burye my father. But Jesus sayd vnto him, folow me: let the deade burye the dead.

¶ And he entred into a shyp, and his Disciples folowed hym. And beholde there arose a greate tempest in the sea, in so much that the shyppe was couered wth waues and he was a slepe. And his Disciples came vnto hym, and awoke hym, saying: master saue vs, we perishe. And he sayed vnto the why are ye feareful, O ye of lytle fayth? Then he arose, and rebuked the wyndes & the sea, and there folowed a greate calme. And the men maruailed and sayed: what man is this, that both wyndes and sea obey hym? &

¶ And when he was come to the other syde into the countrey of the Bergesites, ther mete hym two possessed of deuyls, whiche came oute of the graues, and were oute of measure feare, so that no manne myghte go by that waye. And behold they cried out saying: O Jesu the sonne of God, what haue we to do wth the? Art thou come hither to tormente vs before (e) the tyme be come? And there was a good waye of from them a greate herde of swyne feeding. The deuyls besoughte hym saying: if thou caste vs out, suffer vs to go oute waye into the herde of swyne. And he sayed vnto the: go your wayes. Then wente they out and departed into the heard of swyne. And beholde the whole hearde of swyne was carryed wth violence headlong into the sea, and perished in the water. Then the heard men fled and wente they wayes into the cite, and tolde euery thyng, and what had fortunied vnto the possessed of the deuyls. And beholde all the cite came out and met Jesus, and when they sawe hym they besoughte hym for to departe oute of theyr coastes.

¶ The Notes.
(a) The gyfte of the gyfte is mentioned in the rule of Antiochus in the letter B. And Christ commaunded the gyfte to offer it, as a worship to the priesse that he would not haue one rote of the lawe left vndone tyll it were fulfilled in him.
(b) What rest, &c. To rest with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, is to be of the same fayth and hope that they were. The chyldren of the kyngdome are the people of the Jewes. Viter darckenes, is gnoyance of gods mysteries. Gnashynge of tethe is paine, the greefe wherof cannot be expressed wth tounge. The east and west, are all the parts of the world.
(c) The sonne of manne, is a name muche bled amongst the prophete, and communely geuen vnto hym that shoulde conserue and rebuke synnes of the people. Wherfore I haue to declare hym selfe to be no lesse then a prophete, & yet to be a very naturall man, callinge hymselfe to be the sonne of man.

(d) Let the deade burye the deade: is as muche to saye, as let such as endeuoure not to folow my doctrine, without whiche no soule lyueth, burye the deade carcases: wherunto they may ryght well be compared.

(e) The tyme wherin the wycked spites shalbe tormented, is the daye of Iudgement.

¶ The ix. Chapter.
¶ Ch. 9. healeth him that was lyke of a palsy. He taketh Mathew & Paulian to be one of his disciples, & rebuketh the counterfeyt holines of the Pharisees, & of Johns disciples whiche stode in outward things. He healeth a woman that was sycke of a bloody flux, he rebuketh a madden that was deade to lye, healeth the dumme and hym that was possessed of the deuyll, he rebuketh the Pharisees that murmured agaynst hym, and hath pite of the people.

Job. xxi. 6
Psal. cxi. 5

D
Mat. v. 2.
Luk. vii. 1.
Bergesites.

II. Cor. vi. 2.
Math. v.

Isa. xli. 1.

The gyfte.

To rest.

Sonne of man.

The deade.

The tyme

When

Mat. ii. 9.
Luce. v. 8.
John. v. 8.

When he entred into a shippe and passed ouer, and came into hys owne cite. And lo they brought to hym a man sicke of the palsey, lying in his bed. And when Jesus sawe the faythe of them, he sayde to the synners be forgiuen the. And behold certayne of the scribes said in thei selues: this man blasphemeth. And whē Jesus sawe their thoughtes, he sayde: wherfore thinke ye euill in your hertes. Whether is easier to saye, thy synnes be forgiuen the, or to saye: arise and walke. (a) What ye maye knowe that the sonne of man hath the power to forgiue syns in earth, then sayde he vnto the synners: arise, take vp thy bedde, and go home to thy house. And he arose and departed to hys owne house. And when the people sawe it, they maruailed and glorified God which had geuen suche (b) power too men.

Actes. ix. 6.
and. iii. 8.

Mat. ix. 1.
Luce v. 1.
and. x. 1.
Mathew.

And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man sit, receiuinge of custome, named Mathew, and sayde to hym: folow me. And he arose and folowed him. And it came to passe, as he sat at meate in the house: behold manie publicans and sinners came and satte downe also wth Jesus and hys Disciples.

When the pharises saw that, they said to hys Disciples: wherfore eateth your master with publicans and synners. When Jesus hearde that, he sayde vnto them: The whole nede not the physicion, but they that are synners. Go and (c) learn what that meaneth: I haue pleasure in merce, and not in offeringe. For I am not come to call the ryghteous but synners vnto repentance. Then came the disciples of John to hym sayinge: why do we and the pharises fast oft: but thy Disciples fast not? And Jesus sayd vnto them. Can the wedding childe moune as long as the bydegrome is with them? The tyme will come when the bydegrome shall be taken from them, and then (d) shall they fast. No man receiue an olde garmente wth a peice of new cloth. For the tyme taketh he away the peice again from the garment & the rent is made greater. Ther do men put newe wine into old vessels, for then the vessels breake, and the wine runneth out and the vessels perishe. But they putte newe wine into newe vessels, and so are bothe saued together.

Mat. vi. 1.
Luce. xii. 1.
and. x. 1.

Act. ii. 1.

Mark. v. 1.
Luce. xii. 1.
and. x. 1.

Whyles he thus spake vnto them, behold there came a certayne ruler, and worshipped hym sayinge: my daughter is euen nowe deceased, but come and laye thy hand on her, and she shall liue. And Jesus arose & folowed him with his Disciples. And behold, a woman which was oppressed with an issue of bloude, came behinde hym & touched the hem of his vesture. For she sayde in hir selfe: if I may touch but euen his vesture onely, I shall be safe. Then Jesus turned hym about and beheld her, sayinge: Doughter be of good comfort, thy faythe hath made the safe. And she was made whole euen that same houre.

And when Jesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the mynstrels and the people raginge, he sayde vnto them: Gette you hence, for the mayde is not deade, but sleepe. And they laughed hym to scorne. As sone as the people were putte forth, he wente in and toke her by the hand, and the mayde arose. And this was noised through out all that land.

Mark. v. 1.
Luce. vii. 1.
John. xi. 1.

And as Jesus departed thence, two blind men folowed hym cryinge and sayinge: O thou sonne of Dauid haue merce on vs. And when he was come home, the blinde came to hym. And Jesus sayde vnto them. (e) Seleue ye that I am able to do this? And they sayde vnto him: yea Lorde. Then touched he they eyes, sayinge: accordyng to your fayth, be it vnto you. And their eyes were opened. And Jesus charged them, sayinge: Se that no manne knowe of it. But they as they were departed, spred abroad hys name througheout all the lande.

As they were come oute, beholde a dum man possessed of a deuil, was broughte too hym. And as sone as the deuil was cast out, the dum spake: And the people merueiled, sayinge: it was neuer so sene in Israel. But the pharises sayd: he casteth out deuils, by the power of the chiefe deuell.

Mark. vii. 1.
Luce. ix. 1.
and. x. 1.
Mathew.

And Jesus wente aboute all ctytes and townes teachyng in the synagoges and preachyng the gladd tydings of the king dome, and healyng al manner sicknesses and disease amonge the people. But when he saw the people, he had compassion on them because they were oppressed awaye, and scattered abroad euen as shepe hauing no shepherde.

Then sayed he to hys Disciples (g) the harvest is greate but the labourers are few. Wherfore praye the Lord of the harvest to sende forth labourers into his harvest.

The Notes.

- (a) This miracle shalbe a signe vnto you, that I haue power to forgiue synne.
- (b) The I. was sayng that he to be none other but man: glorified God which had geuen such power vnto men, as was the healyng of the synners, whiche was comonly geuen vnto al the prophetes, as a confirmation of the doctrine. But the chiefe thyng to be noted here, is that such as haue this power, haue also power too keepe syn. For he heled the synners, that they by they might knowe he had power to keepe syn. This remitting of syn therfore is the certifying of the synners of his syns be forgiuen.
- (c) Learne what this meaneth. For this was declared that the repentant wil seke to do the workes of merce (omitting wherof he shalbe charged at the latte day): not to appease the wrath of god with sacrifice, for that must be the work of such one as is already iust and perfect, & not of a synner that seeketh for iustice thow he syn.
- (d) This is no superstitious fast upon nyether dayes, but such as is mentioned in the Actes the xxv. Chap. and in other places of the Epistles.

That ye may knowe howe to men.

Learne. etc.

They shall fast.

Sapeth.

e, It is the phrase of speache to saye that the thyng which made vs apte to receiue any benefit, gaue vs the benefyte. The sayth of the woman healed hir not: but made hir apt to be healed of Christ. Euen so when we saye that sayth onely maketh vs apte to receiue iustys from God by Christ, and for Christes sake.

Believe ye.
sc.

f. This questiō declareth that faith prepareth and maketh vs meete to receiue Goddes benefites. And the charge he gaue them, not to tell any man of it, declareth that he would not haue vs reioyce in temporall benefytes as that was.
And they spreadyng abrode of the thyng, declareth that they sought þ̄ glory of God, whose power they had afore confessed to be in Christ.

The heruest

g. The heruest is the heries of men prepared to receiue the word, as it appereth of the Samaritane. John. iiii. f.

The x Chapter.

Christ sendeth forth his twelue disciples to preache his worde, hauyng power to do miracles, with warnynges and commaundementes, what they shoulde do, and what they shoulde beware of, what rewardes they shoulde looke for of the worlde, and contrary what of God.
Beside this he sheweth what rewardes they shoulde haue that receiue them, and howe they shoulde be mynded that folow hym.

Mark iii. b and vi. a
Lu. vi. b.
12. a. 9. c. a.
Apostles
are sent.

 And he called his xii. disciples vnto him, and gaue them power ou-er vncleane spirites, to cast the oute, and to heale all maner of sickneses, and al maner of diseases. The names of the xii. Apostles are these. The first Simon called also Peter: and Andrew hys brother. James the sonne of Zebede, & John hys brother: Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Mathew the publican, James the sonne of Alpha, and Lebbeus, otherwyse called Thaddeus. Simon of Cana, and Judas Iscarioth, which also betrayed hym.

Luk. ix. a.

These xii. sent Iesus, and commaunded them, sayinge: Go not into the wayes that leade to the Gentyles, and into the cities of the Samaritanes enter ye not. But go rather to the losse shepe of the house of Israel. Go and preache, sayinge that the kingdome of heauen is at hande. Heal the sicke, cleanse the lepers, rase the dead, cast out the deuils. Frelye ye haue receyued, frelye geue agayne. Possesse not golde, nor siluer, or brasse in your girdles, nor yet scrip towardes your iourney: neither two coates, neither shues, nor yet a staffe. For the workman is worthy to haue hys meate.
Into whatsoeuer cite, or towne ye shall come, enquire who is worthy in it, & there abide till ye be go thence.

Act. viii. b.
Lu. ix. a. x. a.

Philip. ii. a
1. Tim. v. c
Luk. x. c.

Act. xii. e.
aud. xvi. a.

And when ye come into an house, salute the same: and if the house be worthy, your peace shall come vpon it. But if it be not worthy, your peace shall retourne to you agayne.

And

And whosoever shall not receiue you, nor will heare your preachyng, when ye depart out of that house or that cite, shake of the dust of your fete. I saye vnto

Luke. x. a.

you: it shalbe e. easier for þ̄ lād of zodoma and Gomorra in the dape of iudgemente, then for that cite.

Mat. x. f. d.
Lu. x. b.
Tho. xvi. a.

Behold I send you forth as shepe among wolves. Be ye therefore d wyle as serpentes, and innocēt as deues. Beware of men, for they shall deliuer you vp to the coun-cels, and shall scourge you in the syna-goges. And ye shalbe broughte to the head tulers and kyniges for my sake, in wytnes to them and to the Gentyles.

Luke. xii. b.
and. xii. b
John. v. d.
mych. vii. a.

But when they deliuer you, take no thought, howe or what ye shall speake, for it shalbe geuen you, euen in þ̄ same houre, what ye shall saye. For it is not ye that speake, but the spirit of your father which speaketh in you.

The brother shall betraye the brother to death, and the father the sonne. And the chylidren shall arise agaynst their fathers and mothers, and shall put them to death:
and ye shall be hated of all menne for my name. But he that endureth to the ende, shalbe saued.

When they persecute you in one cite, flee into another. I tell you for a truthe, ye shall not finish all the cities of Israel till the sonne of man be come. The discyples is not aboue his maister, nor yet the seruant aboue his Lord. It is ynough for the discyple to be as his maister is: and that the seruant be as his Lord is. If they haue called the Lord of the house f. Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of hys householde so? Feare not therefore.

Mat. xxiii. a Iere. i. a.
Mat. ii. c.
Act. viii. a.
and. xiii. a
Luk. vi. d
John. xii. b
and. xv.

There is nothing so close, that shall not be opened: and nothing so hyd, that shall not be known. What I tell you in darcknes, that speake ye in lycht. And what ye heare in the eare, that preache ye on the house toppes.

Mat. xiii. f.
Luk. viii.
and. xii. a.
Luk. xii. a

And feare ye not them which kyll the body, and be not able to kyll the soule. But rather feare him, which is able to destroye both soule and bodye to hell. Are not two sparowes sold for a fertyng? And none of them doth lycht on the grounde, withoute your father. And now are all the heares of your heades numbred: feare ye not therefore ye are of more value then many sparowes.

Whosoever therefore shall acknowledge me before men, him wil I acknowledge also before my father, which is in heauen. But whosoever shall denye me before men, him wil I also denye before my father, which is in heauen. I shalke not that I am come to sende peace into the earth. I came not to sende peace but a sword: for I am come to set a mā at variance agaynst his father, & þ̄ doughter agaynst her mother, & þ̄ doughter in law agaynst her mother in lawe. And a mā foes shalbe they of his own household.
He that loueth his father, or mother more then me, is not mete for me. And he that lo-ueth his sonne or doughter more then me, is not mete for me. And he that taketh not hys crosse and foloweth me, is not mete

Mat. viii. e
Lu. ix. d.
and. xii. a.
John. xii. b

Lu. xii. f.

much. vii. a.

The Gospell

of S. Mathew.

Luk. xiii. f forme. Be that g'fyndeth his luse, shall lose it, and he that loseth his luse for my sake, shall fynde it.

Mat. xxi. a. Mark. viii. c. John. xii. c. iii. Regum xvi. a. John. xii. c. Mark. ix. f. He that recepueth you, recepueth me, and he that recepueth me, recepueth hym that sent me. He that recepueth a prophete in the name of a prophete, shall receiue a prophetes reward. And he that recepueth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receiue the rewarde of a righteous man. And whosoener shall geue vnto one of these litle ones to drinke a cup of colde water onely in the name of a disciple: I tell you of a truth, he shall not lose his rewarde.

The Notes.

Epue not. (a) This forbyddynge was to declare that he was chiefly sent to the Iraelites. And the forbyddynge of prouision, was to pull them from the cares of this worlde, agayn he shuld sende them into the vniuersal worlde.

Eyl pe go. (b) Tyl pe go thence, is as much to saue, as till pe departe the cite. For it is not becomyng that the messengers of God should be so cypsumspect in placynge themselfe to be lodged in a cite, that they should afterwarde suffer lodgynges.

Easier, &c. (c) Not that it shalbe eaiser to the sodomites in that daye: but in comparison of the vengeance prepared for such as refuse the true preachers.

Wise and innocent, (d) The wysedome that is noted in the serpent is to auoyde the sweete songes of them, that goo about to destroye hym whyle he geueth eare to them, so by this wysedome he escapeth death at their handes. So shoulde we by this wysedome escape the handes of the persecutores.

The innocencie noted in doves, is to hurt none other beast, but simply to take her foode where she fyndeth it and if any other beast p'offert her wrong, she resisteth not but death, and so endeuoureth to escape.

Take no thought. (e) There are we admonished not to defende our cause: or rather this cause by the wytry answer that we can. auerunt but to truste vpon this wysedome that he shall geue in the self instant, his spirite answering in vs.

Beliedub. (f) This word signifieth God or Lord of flies. And by this name dyd the Jewes call the great Idol Bel, because of the greete multitude of flies that reioyced to the bloude and wyne that was shed in the sacrifice done therunto. And for the abomination of the Idol, they repudied it as Dance of Demons.

The lyfe. (g) To fynde his luse, is to satisfye the desyre of his hearte, refulyng of hyching agaynst the crosse of Christe, that is the persecution that followeth the professyng of the truth, or whatsoeuer burden God layeth vpon vs.

Rewarde. (h) The rewarde of a prophete, is increase of knowledge in this lyfe, and euerylastynge ioye in the lyfe to come, accordynge to the parable. To hym that hath wylbe geuen. And agayne, Wel done good seruant, enter into thy lordes ioye.

The xi. Chapter.

John sendeth his disciples to Christe to enquire of hym, whom Christe sendeth agayne and parseth John: than vpbrydeth he the Jewes with their ingratitude as well toward him as John, yet prouoketh he all men to his very sweete poete.

And it came to passe when Jesus had made an ende of commaundynge his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teache & to preache in their cities.

When John being in prison, heard the workes of Christe, he sent two of his disciples and sayd vnto him. Art thou he that shalt come: or shall we loke for another? He answered and sayd vnto them. a. And shew John what ye haue heard & sene. He blind se, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed: the deafe heare, the dead rylse agayne, and the glad tydynges is preached to the poore. And happy is he that is not offended by me.

And as they departed, Jesus beganne to speake vnto the people of John: What thyng wente ye out into the wyldernes to see? went ye out to se a rebe? Shall I shake with the wynde? ept he what went ye oute for to see? A man clothed in soft capmet? Behold they that weare soft clothynge, are in kinges houses. But what went ye out for to se? A prophete? Yea I say to you, and more then a prophete. For this is he of whom it is wyrtten. Beholde, I sende my messengers before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before the.

Clearly I say vnto you, amonge the children of women arose ther not a greater then John the Baptist. Notwithstandynge he that is lesse in the kingdome of heauen, is greater then he. From the tyme of John Baptiste hitherto, the kingdome of heauen suffereth violence, and they that go to it wpth violence plucke it out of them. For all the prophetes and the lawe prophesied vnto the tyme of John. And if ye wyl receiue it, this is that Elias which should come. Be that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

But wherunto shal I liken this generation? It is lyke vnto children whych sit in the market and cal vnto their felowes, and saye: O we haue p'posed vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: We haue mounted vnto you, & ye haue not sorowed. For John came nether eatynge nor drynkyng, & they saye, he hath the deuyll. The sonne of man came eatynge and drynkyng, and they say: behold a glutton & drunker of wine, and a frend vnto publicans & sinners. I reuert the later wisdom is iustified of his childre.

Then began he to vpbryd the cities, in which most of his miracles were done, because they mended not. Wo be to the Chorazin: Wo be to the Bethsaida: for if the miracles, which were shewed in you, had beene done in Tyre & Sidon, they had repented long agoe in sackcloth and ashes, I reuert helesse I say to you: it shalbe easier for Tyre & Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you. And thou Capernaum, which art lift vp vnto heauen, shalt be brought down to hel. For if the miracles whych haue been done in the, had been shewed in zodom, they had

Luk. vii. c.

John sendeth to Christe. Esa. xlii. a. Esa. lxi. a

Luk. vii.

Mal. iii. a

Luk. vi.

Luk. xvi. b.

Mal. iii. b

Luk. vii. b

wisedome, Luk. x. c

D

of S. Mathew. Fo. viii.

Loine.
Deu xxi.
Sabbaths,
i. reg. xii. b
Leuit. x. b Malowed
loues.
nu. xvi. b.

Wherey and not sacrilegious
type.
Mat. v. b.
Ex. xi. b.
Deut. iii. a.
Luke. vi. b.
Mythical
hande,
B
Luke i. c.
Sabbathe.
Deut. x. i. b.

Mat. ii. a
John. x. b.
and xi. c.

Εφα.χλιτ.π.

E
Mat. ix. d
Mat. xiii. c
Luke xi. b.
Island and,
dumbe.

Christ defendeng his Disciples whiche plucked the eares of corne vpon the Sabbath day, and healyng hym whose hand was dyed vp, and hym that was vexed wth the deuell, rebuked and reprovoued the hypocrites and malice of the Pharisees. When they asked hym a sygne he denyed them, and being sought for of his parents: he shewed what they were, & were best beloued of hym.

2000.000, 0, 7400.000, 0,

of S. Mathewe.

come, he findeth the house emptye & swept and garnished. When he goeth his waie & taketh vnto hym seue other spirits, worse then himselfe, and so enter they in & dwell there: And the ende of that man is worse then the beginning. Eue so shal it be with this euill nacion.

Whole he per talked to the people, be= 11. Pet. 11. v holde his mother & his brethren stode with= Mark. vi. 8. out, desiring to speake with him. & then one Mark. iii. 3. sayd unto hym: behold thy mother and bre= Luk. viii. 1. thren stand withoute, desiringe to speake with the.

He answered and said to him that told him: Who is my mother? Who are my brethren? And he stretched forth his hand over his disciples, and said: behold my mother & my brethren. For whosoever doth my fathers will, which is in heaven, the same is my brother, sister and mother. &

Mother &
 barthzen.
 Tho. xvi. 6.

(a) This blasphemie is when men se and know the open and manifeste truth of God and his word, their consciences being fully certified thereof: and yet notwithstanding will rable upon it, and persecute it to the uttermost of their power, saying it is of the devil and not of God. Wherby youe shal not be so grieved for so is the mangring of scyther in this worlde, no in the worlde to come, as appeareth by the other Evangelists.

Evill & abvourous.

(c) These bye places are the herbes of men so dried up with the sunne beames of Gods word, Dye places that the quick spirits can haue no commodious dwelling there. §§§

Guil + ab.
moutons.

Q Christ teacheth in parables, what is the effect and strength of the word of God amongst men and he sheweth the cause why he useth parables. And he is light set by of his people, because he was a poor man borne.

The same day wente Iesus out of the house, & late by the sea syde. & much people resorted vnto hym, so greatly, that he went and late in a shyp, and all the people stode on the shore. And he spake manie thynges to them in similitudes, saying. Behold, the sower went forth for to sowe. And as he sowed, some fell by the wayes syde, and the fowles deuoured it vp. Some fell vpon stonpe grounde, where it had not muche earth: & anon it spronge vp, because it had no depth of earth: and when the sun was vp, & caughte heate, and forlacke of rooting, withdried awaie. Some fell amonge thornes, and the thornes sprong vp & choked it, so it fel in good ground, and broughte forth the good fruite: some an hundred folde, some sixty folde, some thyrty folde. Whosoever hath eares to heare, lett hym heare.

And the disciples came and sayed to' e hyin: Where speakest thou to them in quat. xlv. c paca=

Either how can a mā enter into a strong mans house, and violently take away his goodes, excepte he fyrste binde the strong man; and then spoyle his house? 4. Be that is not with me, is against me. And he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroad.
 Wherfore I saye vnto you; all manner of synne and a blasphemy shall be forgiven vnto men, but the blasphemy of the spirit, shall not be forgiven vnto men. And whosoeuer speaketh a worde against the sonne of man, it shall be forgiven hym. But whosoeuer speaketh agaynst the holpe ghost, it shall not be forgiven hym: no, neptier in this world, neptier in þe world to come.

Either make the tree good, & hys fruite good also; or els make the tree euill, and his fruite euill also. For the tree is knowen by his fruite. A generation of vipers, howe can ye sape well, when ye poure selues are euill? For of the aboundaunce of the heart, the mouth speaketh. A good man oute of the good treasure of hys haire, bringeth forth good thynges. And an euill man out of his euill treasure, bringeth forth euill thynges. But I say vnto you, that of euery ydel word that men shal haue spoken, they shal geue accountes at the daye of iudge-mente. For by thy wordes thou shalt be iustified: and by thy wordes thou shalt be condemned.

Luke. xi. b. Then answered certaine of the Scribes & mat. xvi. a. of the Pharisees, saying. Quia. we wold mar. vii. a. see a signe of the He answered and said to them. b. The euill and aduourous generacyn seeketh a signe, but there shal no signe be giuen to them. save the signe of the prophet Jonas. For as Jonas was thre daies and thre nightes in the whales belly, so shal the son of man be thre daies & thre nightes in the berte of the earth. The men of sinne shal arise at the day of iud-gement with this nacion, and condemne them: for they amended at the preaching of Jonas: And behold, a greater then Jonas is here. The quene of s south shall rise at the day of iudgement with this generation, and shal condemne them, for she came from the uttermost partes of the world, to heare the wisedome of Salomon. And be-holde a greater then Salomon is here.

Luk. xi. c

 holde a greater then Salomon is here.
 When the vnclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout e, drye places, seeking rest & findeth none. Then he sayth: I wyl retorne again into my house, from whence I came out. And when he is

Mat. xiii. c in parables? He answered and sayde vnto them. it is geuen vnto you to knowe the secretes of the kingdome of heauen. but to them it is not geuen. (a) For whosoever hath. to hym shal be geuen. and he shal haue aboundaunce. But who soeuer hath not. from hym shal be taken awaye even that he hath. Therefore speake I to them in similitudes: for though they see. they see not. and heareinge they heare not. neither vnderstande. And in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esayas. whiche prophesie saythe: wylth the eares ye shall heare. and shall not vnderstande. and with the eyes ye shall see. and shall not perceiue. For this peoples hartes are waxed grosse. and their eares were dunt of hearynge. and their eyes haue they closed. leaste they shulde se wylth their eyes and heare wylth their eares. and shuld vnderstande wylth their hartes. and shuld tounne. that I myghte heale them.

Cap. vi. b.
Mat. xiii. b.
Luc. vii. b.
Thon. xii. f.
De. xlviii. f.
Moia. xi. b.

Luke. x. d.

But blessed are your eyes. for they see: and your eares. for they heare. Verily I say vnto you. that manie prophetes and perfect men haue desired too see the thynges whiche ye se. and haue not sene them: and to heare the thynges whiche ye heare. and haue not hearde them. Heare ye therefore the similitude of the sower. Whosoever heareth the worde of the kyngdome and vnderstandeth it not. there cometh the euill man and catcheth awaye that which was sowne in the waye syde. But he that was sowne by the stonpe grounde. is he whiche heareth the worde of God. and anon wylth rote receyuethe it. yet hath he no rootes in hym selfe. and therefore dureth but a season. For as soon as tribulacion or persecucion aryseth because of the worde. by and by he falleth. He that was sowne amonge thornes. is he that heareth the worde of God. but the care of this worlde. and the desceitfulness of riches choke the word. and so is he made vnfertill. He whiche is sowne in the good grounde. is he that also heareth the worde and vnderstandeth it. which also beareth fruite and byngeth forth. some an. C. folde. some sixty folde. and some xxx. folde.

D Another similitude put he forth vnto them sayinge: The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a man whiche sowed good seede in his felde. But whyle men slepte. there came his foe. and sowed tares amonge the wheate. and wente his waye. When the blade was spronge by and had brought forth the fruite. then appeared the tares also. The seruauntes came to the housholder. and said vnto hym. Sir. sowedst not thou good seede in this close? From whence then hath it tares? He sayde too them. The enuyous man hath done this. When the seruauntes sayde vnto him. Wilt thou then that we go and gather them? But he sayde. naye. leaste whyle ye go aboute to weede oute the tares. ye plucke by also wylth them the wheate by the rootes. Lette both growe together tyll haruest come. and in the tyme of harueste I wyl saye to the reapers. gather ye first the tares. and bynde them in sheues to be brent. but gather the wheate into my barn.

Another parable he putte forth vnto them. sayinge: The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a grain of musterd seede. which a man taketh and soweth it in his felde. whiche is the leaste of all seedes. But when it is grown. it is the greatest among herbes. and it groweth by into a tre. so that the byrdes of the ayre come. and bilde in the braunches of it. Another similitude sayde he to them. The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto leauen. whiche a woman taketh and bydeth in three peckes of meale. tyll all be leuened.

All the thynges spake Iesus vnto the people by similitudes. and wylthoute synecrysmes spake he nothyng to them. to fulfill that whiche was spoken by the prophetes. saying. I wyl open my mouth in similitudes. and wyl speake forth thynges whiche haue bene kepte secreete from the beginning of the worlde.

Then sente Iesus the people awaye. and came to house. And his discipples came vnto hym. sayinge. declare vnto vs the similitude of the tares of the felde. Then answered he and sayde to them. He that soweth the good seede. is the sonne of man. And the felde is the worlde. And the chylidren of the kyngdome. they are the good seede. And the tares are the chylidren of the wycked. And the enemye that soweth them. is the deuill. The haruest is the ende of the worlde. And the reapers be the aungels. For euen as the tares are gathered. and brente in the fyre. so shall it be in the ende of this worlde. The sonne of manne shal send forth his aungels. and they shal gather oute of his kyngdome all thynges that offende. and them whiche do iniquyte. and shal cast them into a fornaice of fyre. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the iust men shyne as brighte as the sunne in the kyngdome of their father. Whosoever hath eares to heare. lette hym heare.

Agayne the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a treasure hidde in the felde. the whiche a man fyndeth and bydeth: and for ioy thereof. goeth and selleth al that he hath. and byeth that felde.

Agayne the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a merchant that seeketh good pearles. which when he hadde founde one preciouse pearle. wente and soude all that he hadde and boughte it.

Agayne the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a net caste into the sea. that gathereth of all kyndes of fyshes. whiche when it is full. menne drawe to lande. and sit and gather the good into vessels. and caste the bad away. So shal it be at the ende of the worlde. The aungels shal come oute. and seuer the bad from the good. and shal caste them into a fornaice of fyre. there shal be weeping and

Mat. xiii. c
Luke. xiii. d
Mustarde seede.

Luke. x. d

Leuen.
Mat. xiii. d

Psalme.
Lxxviii. a

Tares are expounded

Apo. xii. a
L. xiii. d

Day. xiii. b
L. an. xiii. d
L. xiii. xv

Treasure

Pearles.

Nette.

The Gospell

of S. Mathewe.

and gnawinge of teeth. Iesus sayed vnto the vnderstand ye all these thynges: They sayd: yea lord. Then sayd he vnto them.

Metwold Therefore euery d, Scribe, which is taught vnto the kingdome of heauen is lyke an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure, thynges both new and olde.

John. vi. c And it came to passe, when Iesus had finished these synplectudes, that he departed thence, and came into hys owne countie, and taught them in their synagoges, in so much that they were astounded & sayd: whence cometh all this wysdome and power vnto hym? Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Mary? & hys brethren called James and Ioses, and Prophete. Simon and Judas? And are not his sisters all here with vs? Whence hath he all these thynges? And they were offended by hym. Then Iesus sayed to them: a prophet is not without honour, saue in his own countrey, and amonge his owne kynne. And he dyd not manie miracles there, for their vnbelefe sake.

The Notes.

Who so hath. (a) That is to him that hath a good hearte toward Goddes worde to fulfill it, shall be more grace geuen. And from him that hath not, shall be taken awaye euen the same knowledge that he hath, and hys harte so hardened, that he shall not repente.

Kingdome (b) Kingdome signifieth here the gospell, by the which & in the herdes of the earth. And it signifieth Christ who is our kyng, and our kyngdome rayning in vs, in whom we raigne, as we say.

Discpe. (c) Thys slepe signifieth negligencie that men haue in the thynges belonging to God, whiche is by the carelesnes of epyches, and pleasures of thys worlde.

Decebes. (d) Decebes were they that had the office of interpreting and answering to the sentences of the prophetes, as it appeareth by that Herode enquired of the Herodes, in the third Chapter afore.

The xiii. Chapter.

Here is described the death of John, which being knownen, Christ goyng into wilderness fedde certayne thousands of men with fyue loues. Whendenge hys discipples becom by shyppe, he folowed walkyng vpon the water. Peter comyng to meete hym, when for his doubtful sayth he began to be drowned, is saued by Christ. In Genesareth manie are deliuered from diseases by touchyngs hys garment.

Arch. vi. c Luke. ix. a. At that tyme Herode the (a) Tetrarcha, heard of the fame of Iesu, and sayed vnto his seruantes: This is John Baptist. He is gyven agayne from death, & therefore are such miracles wrought by hym.

John Bap For Herode had taken John and bounde tist is prp. him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake (b) hys brother Philippos wyfe. For Iohn sayd vnto hym. It is not lawefull for the to haue hys And whē he wold haue put him to death, he feared the people, because they counted him as a prophet.

But when Herodes byth daye was come, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herode. Wherfore he promysed wth an oth, p he would geue hys whatsoeuer she wold aske. And she being intouned of her mother before, said: geue me here John Baptistes heade in a platter. And the king sorowed. Nevertheless for his othe sake, and for their sakes that sat also at the table, he commaunded it to be geuen her; and sent and beheaded John in prison, & his head was brought in a platter, and geuen to the damsel, and she brought it to hys mother. And hys discipples came and toke by the body, and buried it, and went and told Iesus.

When Iesus hearde that, he departed thens by shyp into a desert place out of the way. And when the people had heard thereof, they folowed him on fote out of the cities. And Iesus went forth & saw muche people, and his hearte dyd melle vpon the, and he healed of the those that were sicke. When euen was come, his discipples came to him, sayinge: This is a desert place, and the day is spent: let the people depart, that they may go into the townes, and bye the bryttels. But Iesus sayed vnto them: They haue no nede to go away. Gue pr them to eate. Then sayed they vnto him: we haue here but fyue loues and two fishes: And he said: bringe them hither. And he commaunded the people to sitte downe on the grasse: and toke the fyue loues, & the two fishes, and loke vnto heauen, and blessed, and brake, and gaue the loues to hys discipples, and the discipples gaue them to the people. And they did all eate and were suffised. And they gathered vp the scrappes that remarned, twelue baskettes ful. And they that ate, were in number about fyue thousand men, besyde women & children.

*And straight way Iesus made hys discipples enter into a shyppe, and to go ouer before him, whyle he sent the people awaye. And as soon as he sente the people awaye, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: and when nyght was come, he was there hym selfe alone. And the shyp was nowe in the middell of the sea, and was tosse wth waues: for it was a contrary wind (d). In the forth watch of the nyght, Iesus came vnto them walkyng on the sea. And when his discipples saw hym walking on the sea, they were troubled, sayinge: it is some spirit, and cryed out for feare. And straight waye Iesus spake vnto them, sayinge: be of good cheate, it is I, be not afayed.

Peter answered him, and sayed: master if thou be he, bid me come vnto the on the water. And he said: come. And whē Peter was come downe out of the shyppe, he walked on the water to go to Iesus. But when he sawe a myghty wynde, he was afayed. And as he began to synke, he cryed, sayinge: Master, saue me. And immediatly Iesus stretched forth hys hand and caughte him, and sayed to hym: Thou of lytle fathre, wher and. xi. c. Mat. xxi. b

John Bap tist is be headed.

Luke. ix. b Mat. vi. s John. vi. c ffire loues & ii. fishes.

Mat. vi. e Joh. vi. b Luke. vi. b

Iesus wal keth on the water.

Peter wal keth on the water.

Mar. vi. a. wherfore diddest thou doubt? And as soon as they were come into the shippe, & wind ceased. Then they that were in the shippe came and worshipped him, sayinge: of a truth thou art the sonne of God.

Mar. vi. c. And when they were come over, they wente into the land of Benezareth. And whē the men of that place had knowledge of hym, they sent out into all that countrey roundabout, & brought vnto him all that were speke, and besoughte him, that they mighte but touche the hem of his besture only. And as manye as touched it, were made safe.

The Notes.

Tetrarche (a) Tetrarcha is a king or a Lord of one of the partes, of a region or contrey deuised into four partes. Such one was Herode in Iuda, which was (as Eusebius witnesseth) deuised into iiii. partes. Read Eusebius. l. i. c. x.

Wothers wyte. b Note that his brother was then liuing for if he had bene dead, Herode myght haue answered, that by the lawe of the Jewes, he myghte marrye hys owne syster beinge fre from other menne, as it appeareth in the xlii. Chapter of the seconde booke of the kynges, betwene Amnon & Thamar his sister.

Weste. (c) To blisse is in most places of the newe Testament, to prayse God, and geue hym thanks, as after in ioe. xxi. c.

Fourth watche. (d) The Hebrewes diuided the nyghte into foure partes, which he called the watches. Wherfore the fourth watche was next to the morning and was called the morning watche, as in the first of the kynges, the. xl. c.

The xv. Chapter.

He rebuketh the false hypocrisy of the scribes in outward things, and teacheth what is true holynes. The constant sayth also of the woman of Cananie in ch. x. is described, and the maruelous healinge of manye men. Last of certayne thousands of men fed with. vii. loaves and a fewe fishes.

Mar. vii. a. THEN came to Jesus, Scribes and pharisees from Ierusalem, sayinge: whye doo thy disciples transgresse the traditions of the elders? for they washe not theyr

Traditions Pro. xx. b Exode. v. b and xxvi. c Ephe. vi. a Exod. xxi. c Leuit. xx. b pp. xxviii. d Esa. xxi. d And he called the people vnto him & said to them: heare & vnderstande that whiche handes when they eat bread. He answered and sayed vnto them: whye do ye also transgresse the commaundement of God thowow your traditions? For God commaunded, sayinge: * honour thy father and mother, and he that curseth father or mother shall suffer death. But ye saye: euery mā that say to his father or mother: that whiche thou desirest of me to heale the with, is geuen God, and so shal he not honour his father or mother. And thus haue ye made that the commaundement of God is without effecte. thowow your traditions. Lippocrites, wel prophesied of you Esaias sayinge: This people draweth nre vnto me with their mouthes, & honoureth me with their lippes, howbeit their hertes are far from me: but in vaine they worshippe me, teaching doctrynes, whiche are not hyng but mens preceptes.

B And he called the people vnto him & said to them: heare & vnderstande that whiche goeth into the mouth, defileth not the mā: but that whiche cometh out of the mouth, defyleth the man.

Then came his disciples, and sayd vnto hym: perceuest thou not how that & pharisees & are offended in hearinge thy sayinge? He answered and sayed: (b) al plantes which my heauy father hath not plantēd, shall be plucked vp by the rotes. Lette them alone, they be the blinde leaders of the blind. If the blinde leade the blinde, both shall fall into the dytche.

Then answered Peter and sayd to him: declare vnto vs this parable. Then saide Iesus: are ye yet withoute vnderstandinge: perceiue ye not that e whatsoeuer goeth in at the mouth, descendeth downe into the bealpe, and is caste out into the draughte? But those thynges, which procede out of the mouth, come from the hert, and they defyle the man. For out of the hert come euill thoughtes, murder, breakynge of wedlocke, whoredome, theft, false witness bearing, blasphemie. These are the thynges which defyle a man. But to eat wyth vncleane handes, defyleth not a man. &

And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyre and Sydon. And behold, a woman whiche was a Cananite came out of the same coastes, and cried vnto him saying. haue merce on me Lord, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is piteously vexed with a deuill. And he gaue her neuer a word to answer. Then came to him his disciples, and besought hym, saying: sende her awaye, for she foloweth vs cryinge. He answered, and said: I am not sent, but vnto the losse shepe of the house of Israel. Then she came and worshipped him, sayinge: Master helpe me. He answered & sayd: It is not good to take the childrens breade, and cast it to (d) dogges. She answered and said: truth lord, neuerthelesse the whelpes eate of the crummes whiche fall from their masters table. The Iesus answered & sayd vnto her: O thou woman, great is thy fayth: be it to thee as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole euen at that same houre. &

Then Iesus went awaye from thence, & came vnto the sea of Galilee, and wente vp into a mountayn, and sat downe ther. And much people came vnto hym, haupng with them, halt, blinde, dumme, maymed, and other many: and cast them down at Iesus fete. And he healed them, in so muche that the people wddered, to see dumme speake, the maymed whole, the halt to go, and the blind to see. And they glorified the God of Israel.

Then Iesus called hys disciples to him, and sayed: I haue compassion on the people, because they haue continued wyth me now the dayes and haue nought to eate, & I will not let them departe fasting, lest they perish in the waye. And his disciples sayd Mens preceptes.

Mar. vii. What defileth a mā Plantes.
Luk. vi. f
Actu. v. c

Blind leaders.

Mar. vii. c

with what man is defiled.

Mar. vii. c
The woman of Canane.

Luk. xxi. d

Mar. vii. b

Esa. xxi. b

Mar. vii. a

Mat. xvi. 6
Seuen lo-
ues.
said vnto him: Whence shoulde we get so much breade in the wyldernes, as shoulde suffice so great a multitude? And Iesus sayde vnto them: Howe manye loues haue ye? And they sayd: * seuen and a few litle fishes. And he commanded the people to sit downe on the grounde, and toke the seuen loues, and the fishes, and gaue thankes, & brake them, and gaue to hys disciples, and the disciples gaue them to the people. And they dyd all eate, and were suffysed. And they toke vp of the broken meat that was left, seuen baskets full. And yet they that eate were. iiii. M. men, besyde women and chyldren. And he sent away the people, and toke shyppe and came into the parties of Magdala.

The Notes.

Offence. (a) Offence in this place signifieth the greivous gange of men, when any thynketh that an other doth or sayeth euyl, and so grudgeth in hys mynde, and is offended in hys conscience at hys doynge or sayinge. Whiche offence we are not bound to refraine so longe as oure wordes and dedes be good, and the parties offended, be not weake but obstinat. For charytee byndeth vs to beare wth þ weake, but not wth the obstinat.

All plantes (b) These plantes are doctrynes and inuencions of men, whiche are not grounded on the wordes of God.

Whatsoever goeth in at the mouth. (c) Lette men beware that they stumbe not at any pce of scripture. For it meaneth nothing lesse, then that we shoulde thynke it lawefull for vs to poure in meate and drynke whyle the Ro make wyl holde, but that no kynde of meate, at what tyme or vnder what soeuer locuer it be take (so it be only for þ necessitie of our bodies) can despyle the man that taketh it wth thankes geuyng.

Dogs. (d) The Jewes call the heathen and gentyls Dogges, because of theyr ydolatrie. But thescilp for theyr small mercy in denouring the flocke of Israel.

Rayeth (e) This sayth is geare. The greatnes of euery mans fayth is known by the benefytes, that we receiue at Gods hand. For as Paule wyrteth God geueth hys gyftes to euery of his seruauntes, accordynge to the measure of the fayth that is founde in the same. Not because þ rayeth deserueth them, but because he hath made them vnto benefites for so ppyous treoure to be bestowed in.

The xvi. Chapter.

Christe chobeth them, because they asked a sygne, and byddeth them abstayne from the leuen of the Jewes. Whē the disciples were axed of hym, they confesse hym to be Messiah, and the sonne of God, to whom also he sheweth his death to come, and commendeth the crosse.

Mat. xvi. 6
Luke. xii. 6
Jhon. v. 6

Then came the pharises and Saduces, and dyd tempte him, despyting him to shew them some signe from heauen. He answered & sayd vnto them. * At euerye saye, we shall haue saye wether, and that because the skye is red: and in the mornynge ye say, to daye shall be foule wether, and that because the skye is cloude and red. O ye hypocrites ye can discerne the fashion of the skye, and can ye not dyscerne the signes of the times? The froward nacion and ad-

Mat. xii. 11
Spigne of Jonas.

noutrous seeketh a sygne: and ther shal no other sygne be geuen vnto them, but the sygne of the * prophet Jonas. So left he them and departed.

And when his disciples were come to the other syde of the water, they had forgotten to take breade with them. Then Iesus sayd vnto them: Take hede and beware of the (a) leuen of the pharises and of þ Saduces. And they thought in theselues, sayinge: because we haue broughte no breade with vs. When Iesus vnderstode that, he sayd vnto them: O ye of litle fayth, whye are your myndes cumbered, because ye haue brought no bread? Do ye not yet perceiue neyther remember those spue loues when there were spue thousande men, and howe manye baskets toke ye vp? Neither the seuen loues, when there were. iiii. thousande, and howe many baskets toke ye vp? Whye perceiue ye not then that I spake not vnto you of breade, when I sayed: beware of the leuen of the pharises and of the Saduces. Then vnderstode they, howe that he had not them beware of the leue of bread, but of the doctryne of the pharises and of the Saduces.

¶ When Iesus * came into the coastes of the citie, which is called Cesarea philippi, he axed his disciples, sayinge: whom do men saye, that I the sonne of man am? They sayed: some saye, that thou art e John Baptiste, some Elias, some Ieremias, or one of the prophetes. He sayd vnto them: but whom saye ye that I am? Simon I Peter answered and sayed: Thou arte Christus the sonne of the liuinge God. And Iesus answered and said to him: happy art thou Simon the sonne of Jonas, for the he and blond hath not opened vnto the that * but my father whiche is in heauen. And I saye also vnto the, that thou art Peter: and (b) vpon this rocke I wil build my congregacion. And the c gates of hell shall not preuaile agaynst it. And I wyl geue vnto the (d) the keyes of the kyngdome of heauen, and whatsoeuer thou bindest vpon earth, shall be bounde in heauen, and (e) whatsoeuer thou lewest on earth, shall be lewest in heauen.

¶ Then he charged his disciples, that they shoulde tel no man, þ he was Iesus Christ. From that tyme forth Iesus beganne to shewe vnto his disciples, how that he must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer many thynges of the elders, and of the hygh priestes, of the scribes, and must be kylled, and rise agayne the thrid day. But Peter toke him aside, and beganne to rebuke him, sayinge: Master, saue thy self: this shal not come vnto the. Then tourned he aboute & sayed vnto Peter: come after me. (f) Sath thou offendest me, because thou sauourest not godly thynges, but worldly thynges.

Iesus then said to his disciples. If anye man will folowe me, lette him (g) forsake hym selfe, and take vp his crosse, & folowe me.

Jonas. ii. 2,

Mat. xvi. 6
Luke. xii. 6

Mat. xii. 6
and. xv. 2.
Joh. viii. 6.

Mat. xvi. 6
Luke. ix. 6

Luke. ix. 6
Jhon. vi. 6

Expos.
Jon. vi. 6.
Ro. in. c. 6
Epnd and
lofr.
Mat. xviii.

Mat. xvi. 6
and. xv. 2.
Jhon. ix. 6.

11. Re. iii. 6.
Satan.

Thas
Principles
Mat. x. 6.
me.

me. viii. d. me For whosoever will save his life shall lose it. And whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it. What shall it profit a man though he should winne all the whole world if he lose his owne soule? Or is what shall a man give to redeme his soule againe withal? For the sonne of man shall come in the glory of his father with his angels: and then shall he reward every man according to his dedes. Verily I say unto you: Some (h)ther be among this that here stande, whiche shall not taste of death till they shall have sene the sonne of man come in his kingdome.

The Notes.

- Heaven. (a) Heaven is some time taken in an euill sense, as here. And sometime in a good, as above in the xii. chap. c.
- The roche. (b) Upon this roche. That is as sayeth saint Augustine upon the confession which thou hast made, acknowledging me to be Christ the sonne of the living God, I will build my congregation of church.
- The gates of hell. (c) By the gates of hell, are signified, death, hell, desperation, sinne, violence, a tyrannous handling, persecution, &c.
- The keyes of the kingdome. (d) Luke in the letter G. of his. ii. chapter: telleth the keyes, the keyes of the kingdome, that is to say of the knowledge of God by the scriptures, which keyes Christ gaue to his Apostles, that they might open vnto the world the treasures of the kingdome, that is to say, common on of the faithful, remission of synnes, and life ever lasting, through Christ, and for Christes sake only. The knowledge wherof was by the lawes and prophesies hyd from the people of the Jewes, by whom they were taught to put confidence in wyl woordes of theyn inuencion, and the outward obseruance of the lawe.
- Spnde and lose. (e) Whosoever. as Luke as Peter's confession was the confession of all the rest of the Apostles, so was this promise made vnto Peter, commune to them all. That whatsoever they should binde on earth, should be so in heaven. And then haue you the meaning thereof in the xviij. of Mathew. 18. and the xx. John. 17.
- Mathan. (f) Mathan, is by interpretation, Abuerlarge. Wherof the name was Peter called by his name when he by his counsell would haue withstanding the will of God, whiche was, that Christ should suffer all those thynges that he had declared vnto them.
- For sake, &c. (g) To forsake him self, is utterly to do agaynst the will of his flesh, mortifyinge the affections of the meane, worshiping the glory of God & profit of our neighbour. As it is sayd. Roma. the xv. and 13. 1. ii.
- There be etc. (h) This was spoken of the transfiguration of our Saviour before his disciples, wherof is mentioned in the Chapter followinge.

The xviij. Chapter.

Christ beinge transformed before his disciples, sheweth them the fashion of his maiesty to come, and shewed who was that Elias that was to come. He healeth the Lunaticke whom his disciples coude not helpe. He sheweth the power of faith, and by miracle getting a colne, he payed his geote.

After this. Jesus tooke Peter and James, and John his brother, and brought them vp into an hye mountayne oute of the way, and was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sunne: & his clothes were as white as the lighte, & behold, they appered vnto them Moyses and Elias, talkinge with him. Then answered Peter and sayd to Jesus: master, here is good beinge for vs. If thou wilt, let vs make here thre tabernacles, one for thee, & one for Moyses, & one for Elias. While he yet spake, behold a brighte cloude shadowed the. And behold there came a voice out of the cloude, saying: This is my deare son, in whom I delict, (a) heare hym. And when the disciples heard that, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraped. And Jesus came and touched them, and said: arise and be not afraped. And when they looked vp, they sawe no man save Jesus onely.

And as they came down from the mountayne, Jesus charged them, saying: se t at ye shewe the vision to no man, vntill the sonne of man be risen againe fro death. & And his disciples aied of him sayinge: Whye then say the Scribes that Elias must first come? Jesus answered and said vnto them. Elias shall first come, and reuere all thynges. And I say vnto you, that Elias is come alreadye, and they knowe him not, but haue done vnto him what soeuer they listed. In likewise shall also the sonne of man suffer of them. Then the disciples perceiued that he spake vnto them of (b) John Baptist.

And when they were come to the people, there came a certain man, & kneeled downe to hym, and sayed: Master haue mercie on my sonne, for he is frantike, and is seized. For oft tymes he falleth into fire: and oft into water. * And I broughte hym to thy disciples, and they coude not heale hym. Jesus answered & sayed: O generation fapthles and croked, how long shall I be with you: how longe shall I suffer you? bunge hym hyther to me. And Jesus rebuked the deupl, and he came out of him. And the chyld was healed euē that same houre.

Then came the disciples to Jesus secretly, and sayd: Why coude not we cast hym out? Jesus sayed vnto them: Because of your unbeliefe. For I saye verily vnto you: if ye had faith as a graine of mustard seed, ye shoulde saye vnto this mountayne, remove hence to pender place, and he should remoue: neyther shoulde any thyng be impossible for you to do. Howbeit this kynnd goeth not out, but by (c) prayer and fasting.

As they passed the tyme in Galyle, Jesus saied vnto them: the sonne of man shall be betrayed into the handes of men, and they shall kill hym, and the thirde day he shall rise againe. And they sorrowed greatly. & And when they were come to Capernaum, they that were wont to gather pel monye, came to Peter and sayed: Weth your master paye tribute. He sayd: yea. And when he was come into the house, Jesus spake

Mat. xiii. a.
Mat. i. b.
Mark. i. c.
Heare hym

Mat. ix. g.

Mat. iii. b.
Mat. xvi. b.
John Baptist
is Elias.

Mark. ix. c.
Luke. ix. d.

Mark. xvi. d.
Unbeliete

Prayer & fasting.

Mat. ix. e.
Mark. ix. f.
Passion.
Mark. ix. g.

Mat. ix. a.
Luke. ix. d.

Tribute. spst to hym, sayinge. What thinkest thou Simon, of whom do the kynges of þe earth take tribute or poll monye: of thei chyl- dyen, or of straungers? Peter sayed vnto hym: of straungers. Then sayed Iesus vnto hym againe: Then are the children free. Ie- uerthelesse, lest we should (a) offend them: goo to the sea and cast in thyne angle, and take the fishe that firste cometh vp, and when thou haste opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a peece of .xx. pence: that take and paye for me and the. &

The Notes.

Hearc hym (a) Here are we taught to geu. care to the word of God onely, and not to folowe oure own fan- talyes. For immediate as Peter had deuised to haue in tētes or tabernacles made for Christ Ies. as, & Boyles to dwelle in, the bryghnesse of the godhead astonied them, & the voyce of the father was heard, say ng: This is my wel belo- ued sonne, heare hym. As who should saye: Godd wpll is not that you fantasie thynges of poure owne byaines, but that you follow the doctryne that he shall teache

Elias. (b) John Baptiste is called Helias, because he preached wth the spyt of Helias, that is, re- buied syn. & sp. ly as Helias dyd.

Peter and sayng. (c) Here take the superstitious Papistes, great holde for their prescripte sayngs and let num- bres of paper: But fondly. For there is nothing whereupon to buyde any prescripte daye of gumble. For this is all that maye be gathered of the text. That such as be ones troubled wth the wycked spyt of frensy, can not be deliuered of him, tyll such tyme as they geue themselves to true prayer (that is continuall lyfing vp of their hertes to Godward, and sayng, that is subduinge of the fleshe to the spyt by wry- drawyng from it not onely the plentious and delicious foode that it despyeth, but also soft clo- thyng, and all other thynges that it delyteth in. So that in this place his meanyng is none o- ther, then if he had sayde. For wthstandyng that poue weak faith were a great parte of the cause that you coulde not cast out this deuill, yet was there also another cause. That is on þe lyche mans behaue. For he had not put hymselfe wholly into the handes of God, neyther hadde endeuoured to mortyfy his fleshe, by true pray- er and sayng.

Offence. (d) If a husse had not payed the toll monye, he should haue offended the people. That is, hys example should haue caused the people to with- holde the tribute, which must of necessity be pay- ed vnto kynges.

The .xviii. Chapter.

He commendeth humylyte to his disciples by an example of a chylde, and sheweth howe great a synne it is to geue an occasyō of euil. And why he came into the world, he sheweth vnder þe fygure of a shepe that goeth astray. The condicions to pardon one another, and how we should do with our enemyes, he de- clareth by an elegant parable.

The same tyme the disciples came vnto Iesus, sayinge: who is the greatest in the kyngdome of hea- uen? Iesus called a chylde vnto hym, and set him in the myddes of them: and sayed. Letelpe I saye vnto pou, except ye turne, and become as chylde, ye can not enter into the kyngdome of heauē.

Whosoever therefore humblyeth him self as this childe, the same is the greatest in the kyngdome of heauen. And whosoever re- ceueth such a chylde in my name, recep- ueth me. But whosoever a, offende one of these lytle ones, which beleue in me: it were better for him, that a millstone were han- ged about his necke, and that he wer drow- ned in the depth of the sea. Wo be vnto the world, because of offences. Howbeit it ca- not be auoyded, but that offences shalbe geuen. Ieuerthelesse wo be to the man, by whom the offence cometh.

Wherefore if thy hand or thy fote offend the, cut hym of and cast him from the. It is better for þe to enter into lyfe, halt or may- med, rather then thou shouldeste, haunge two handes or two feete, be cast into euer- lasting fyre. And, if also thyne eye offende the, plucke hym out, and cast him from the. It is better for the, to enter into lyfe wth one eye, then haunge two eyes to be caste into hell fyre.

See that ye despyse not one of these ly- tel ones. For I saye vnto pou, that in hea- uen they angels alwaies beholde the face of my father, which is in heauē. & Yea and the sonne of mā is come to saue that which is lost. How thyne ye? If a man haue an hundred shepe, and one of them be gone a- stray, doth he not leaue ninety and nyne in the mountaynes, and go and seke that one which is gone astray? If it happen that he fynde him, verely I say vnto pou: he re- ioyceth more of þe shepe, then of the nyne- ty and nyne, which went not astray. Euen so it is not the wpll of your father in heauen, that one of these lytle ones should perishe.

Moreover, if thy brother trespassen a- gainst the, go and tell him his fault be- twene hym and the alone. If he heare the, thou hast won thy brother. But if he heare the not, then take yet with the one or two: that in the mouth of two or thre witnesses, all thynges maye be stablished. If he heare not them, tell it vnto the congregacion. If he heare not the congregacion take hym as an heathen man, and as a publicā. Cle- rely I say vnto pou, what soever ye (c) bind on earth, shalbe bound in heauē. And what soever ye lose on earth, shalbe losed in hea- uen.

Againe I saye vnto pou, that if two of you shall agree in earth vpon anye maner thyng (d) what soever they shall despye, it shalbe geuf them of my father which is in heauen. For whete two or thre are gathe- red together in my name, ther am I in the myddes of them.

Then came Peter to him, and said: mai- set how oft shall I forgeue my brother, if he sinne agaynst me, seuen tymes? Iesus sayd vnto hym: I saye not vnto the seuen tymes: but seuentye tymes seuen tymes. & Therefore is the kyngdome of heauen op- ened vnto a certayne kyngdome, which wold take

Mat. ix. f.
Luk. xii. a
John. xiii.
1. Cor. xi. d.

Mat. ix. f.
Math. v. d
Luk. vi. a

Luk. xix. b
Luk. xv. d.
Hundred
shepe.

Some men
hym and lose.
Lu. xxi. a
Jacob. v. d

Lu. xix
Eccl. xix. d
1. Cor. xiii. a
Heb. x. c
Joh. viii. b
1. Tim. i. c
Deu. xvi. b
and .xix. c

In the mid
des.

Seuen ty-
mes.

Mat. ix. c.
Luk. ix. c

Grateff.
1. Pet. ii. a

take accountes of hys seruantes And whē he had begonne to reken, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thousande talentes: whom bicause he had nought to paye, his maister commaunded hym to be sold, and his wyfe, and his children, and al that he had, and payment to be made. The seruant fell down and besought him, sayinge: Spere me respite, and I will paye it euery whyle. Then had the Lorde pitie on that seruant, and leuied him, and forgaue him the dette.

And the saide seruante wente oute and founde one of hys felowes whiche oughte him an hundred pence, and laid handes on hym, and toke him by the throte, sayinge: paye me that thou oweste. And this felowe fell downe and besought him, sayinge: haue paciens with me, and I will paye the all. But he woulde not, but went and cast him into pryson, tyll he should paye the dett.

When hys other felowes sawe what was done, they were verie sorre, and came and tolde vnto theyr Lorde all that happened.

Then his Lorde called him, and sayd vnto him. O euill seruante, I forgaue the all that dett, because thou praydest me: was it not mete also that thou shouldest haue had compassion on thy fellowe, euell as I had pitie on the? And his Lorde was wroth and deliuered him to the iapers, tyll he shoulde paye all that was due to him. So lke wyse shall my heauensly father do vnto you, (e) except ye forgiue with youre hartes, eache one to hys brother their trespasses.

The Notes.

(a) To offende them that be true in Christe, is to do the thynges that is euill in the syghte of the weaklynges (for suche are called lytle ones or chyldren) wherby they take ensample to do euill. And to receyue one of those lytle ones in hys name, is to instructe them, to beare wth theyr weaknes, and to endeuour to make them strong in Christ.

(b) Like the exposition of this in Mathewe. v. c. When we haue after the order of charity aduertysed our brother, and he for hys obstynacy be without helpe accompted as a Publicane, by the whole consens of the congregacion, then are we sure by this that God brudech the same in heauen, or loseth, if we vpon hys penitence hart remit hys faulte, and take him as a fellow member with vs of Christs myshapall bodye.

(d) This whatsoeuer, teacheth no farther then thynges seed in Christs name. And in hys name can we do no thyng, but we must referre the whole to the wyll of the father, as Christe hym self dyd, and taught this to doo, saying: Not as I wyll father, but thy wyll be done.

(e) In this parable, it is manfeste declared, that onely the mercyfull shall fynde mercy wth God. For they onely are the chyldren of God. And this is the onely entente of the parable. Wherfore all suche wordes and sentences as do not make vtterly for this purpose, ar not to be taken as thynges worthy to buyde oure sayth vpon, as is this.

(f) The Lorde forgaue the dett. And yet when he was enfourmed of hys seruantes unmercifulnes, he reuoked hys leniency, and caste hym in pryson for the whole. If oure heauensly father were compared vnto this Lorde in this point: then shoulde it folowe that he were not the searcher of the hart, but iudged accordyng to the vnter apperance as menne do. Righte so it is of all other parables.

The xix. Chapter.

Christ reuoketh the olde instruction of Matthe. He putteth hys handes vpon lytle chyldren. Howe perillous the possession of ryches is: and howe dayne the truste of oure wythes is we learne by example of the pong man, and also what reward they shal haue that leaue all and folowe Christ.

And it came to passe when Iesus hadde finished those saynges, he gat him from Galile, and came into the coastes of Jewry beyond Jordan, and muche people folowed him, and he healed them there. Then came vnto hym the pharises temptyng him, and sayinge to hym: Is it lawefull for a man to put away his wife for all maner of causes? He answered and said vnto they: Haue ye not reade howe that he whiche made man at the begynnyng, made them man and woman? and sayd: for this thyng, shall a man leaue father and mother and cleue vnto his wife, and they twayne shal be one fleshe. Wherfore nowe are they not twayne, but one fleshe. Let no man therefore put a sunder, that which god hath coupled together.

Then said they to him: why did Moses commaund to geue a testimonial of diuorment, and to put her away? He said vnto them: Moses, because of the hardnes of your hartes, suffered you to putte away your wyfes. But from the beginninge it was not so. I say therefore vnto you who, soeuer putteth away his wife, (except it be for fornication and marieth another, hea keth a doctok And whosoever marieth her whiche is deuorced, doeth committe aduoutrye.

Then said his disciples to him: if the matter be so betwene man and wife, then is it not good to marie. He sayd vnto they: all men can not away with that sayinge, save they to whome it is geuen. There are chaste, which were so borne out of the wombers bealy. And there are chaste whiche be made of men. And there be chaste a whiche haue made themselves chaste, for the kyngdome of heauens sake. Whiche can take it, let him take it.

Then were brought to hym yonge chyldren: that he should put his handes on they and pray. And the disciples rebured them. But Iesus said suffer the chyldren to come to me: for of such is the kyngdome of heauen. And when he had put his handes on them, he departed thence. And behold one came and said to him good master, what good thing shall I do, that I may haue eternal life? He said to him: why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is God. But if thou wilt enter into Life.

James. ii. b

Math. vi. b
Mark. xi.

Offence.

Out of thy hand.
Howe men bynde.

Whatsoeuer
act is.

Exepte.

Mark. x. b

Deuoye.

Gen. ii. d.

Genel. i. d.
Eph. v. g.
1. Co. vi. d.
Jere. iii. a.
De reui. a
Math. v. c.
Mark. x. b
Luce. xvi. b
1. Co. vii

Map. viii. c

Mark. x. b
Luce. xvi. c.

Mark. x. b
Luce. xvi. c.

Psalm. viii.

The Gospel

of S. Mathew.

Comaunders,
 deuenies,
 God. x. c.
 Tent. iii. a
 and. v. a
 i. reg. xii. b
 Galat. v. b.
 Luke. xii. b
 Mat. vi. c.

lyse, kepe the commaunders. The other saide to him. Whicher? And Jesus saide. Breake not wedlocke, kyll not, steale not: beate not false wytnes, honoure father & mother, & loue thy neyghboure as thy self. And the yong man saide vnto hym: I haue obserued all these thynges from my youth, what lacke I yet? And Jesus saide vnto hym: if thou wilt be perfect, (c) goode and sell that thou hast, and geue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come and folow me: When the yong man heard that sayinge, he went awaye mournynge. For he had great possessions.

Then Jesus saide vnto his disciples. Verely I saie vnto you, it is harde for a rich man to enter into the kyngdome of heauen. And mozeouer I saie vnto you, it is easier for (d) a Camel to go thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kyngdome of God. When his disciples heard that, they were excedynge amazed, sayng: who then can be saued? Jesus beheld them and saide vnto them: with men this is impossible, but with God all thynges are possible.

Then answered Peter & saide vnto him: Beholde we haue forsaken all and folowed the, what shall we haue? Jesus saide vnto them: Verely I saie vnto you, when the son of man shall sitte in the seate of his maiestye, ye whiche folowe me in the second generation, shall sitte also vpon thir seates. & (e) iudge the twelue tribes of Israel. And whosoever forsaketh houses or brethren, or sisters, either father or mother, or wyfe or chyldren, or landes for my names sake, the same shall receyue an hundred fold, and shall inherite euerlastynge lyfe. Many that are first shall be last, and the last shall be first.

The Moyses.

(a) The monkes, seiers, and other wiccles make chauntes, bragged veremuch of thys chastye. As though they had made themselves chaste for the kyngdome of God, But they wer far wyde. For whether ye take it thus, that as the other whiche dyd echer by nature lacke the strength of generacion, or els were by men made gelded: so these should echer by medicines destroy the naturall operation in thir bodyes, or els geld themselves for the kyngdome of Goddes sake. Or els, that they dyd by fast labour and abstinence subdue thir bodyes, so that they myght refrayne the appetite of the fleshe: neyther waye serueth for thir purpose. For thir rule was to be sure of thir ynnur members, wherfore they might not geld themselves. Labourer they might not, and as for thir fastynge was but continuall exceise. The manner of geldynge herfore, that Christ wylleth men to embrace, is spiritual. Echer when a man hauynge the gyfte of the sole life bleseth it to the settinge forth of Goddes wyll, & els beynge gelded by manne: bleseth the same to the same end. Or els beynge a perfecte and naturall man: taketh hym an honest wyfe to helpe, and lyueth in chast marriage wyth her, because women shoulde not take occasyon by thys fleshe to lyuynge to make receyue the kyngdome of God, whiche is by word. This shall be further declared in Pauls

Epistles, where occasyon shall be geuen. (b) All the creatures of God are good, because they are his creatures, and serue to the vse that he hath appoynted them. But God onely is good of hymselfe, and for hymselfe.

(c) Christ had hym go sell all, to make hym declare hym selfe a lyar, in that he had boasted hym selfe to haue kepte all the commaunders. For if he had kepte but the first commaunders that is, loue God aboue all thynges: he would not haue stycked to sell his goodes to be perfect, that is to be a mere scholer for Chyrties schole.

(d) Theophylactus readeth a Fable. The greke word signifieth both Camel and Cable. But that forreth not, the meanynge is al one. It is as impossible that a ryche manne, that is to saye, suche one as maketh his riches his treasure, shoulde enter into the kyngdome of God, that is shoulde become a true Christian: as that echer a Camel or Cable shoulde passe thorow the eye of a needle.

(e) This is lyke as the goddynes shall iudge & spyes of Judas, that is, shall excelle the to fynde, that they themselves shall throue themselves worthy condemnation in comparison of the other. For none shall geue sentence but onely Christ, to whome father hath geue al iudgement.

The x. Chapter.

How by the only goodnes of God, and thow his iustice we receyue the reward of saluacion. The parable of the vine & the workman is expounded. Christ sheweth his deathe before vnto his disciples. And when the sonnes of iehudas had axed an hys dignite of Christ, by his owne example he taught them humilitie. He restored the syghe vnto two blynd men.

In the kyngdome of heauē is like he vnto an housholder: which went out early in the mornynge to hyre labourers into his vineyard. And he agreed wth labourers for a peny a daye, and sent the into his vineyard. And he went out aboute the thyrde houre, and sawe other standing idell in the markett place, and saide vnto them: go ye also into my vineyard: & whatsoeuer is righte, I will geue you. And they went then way. Agayne he went out about the fyfte and sixth houre, and dyd lyke wyse. And he went out the eleuent houre, and found other standynge idell, and saide vnto them. Whiche stande ye here all the day idell? They saide vnto hym: because no man hath hyred vs. He saide to them: go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right that shall ye receyue.

When euen was come, the Lorde of the vineyard saide vnto his steward: call the labourers, and geue them thair hyre, begynnynge at the last, tyll thou come to the first. And they which were hyred about the eleuent houre came, & receyued euery man a peny. Then came the first, supposynge that they shoulde receyue more, and thei likewise receyued euery man a peny. And when thei had receyued it, they murmured agaynst the good man of the house, sayynge: These laste haue wroughte but one houre, and thou

God onely is good.

Go sell all.

Camel

Judgement.

Vineyard

The Jewes rehen one, when the sunne is by an houre.

Camel.

Yach. viii. a
 Mark. x. c.
 Luk. xviii. c
 Mat. iii. c
 Luk. xii. b
 Louenast
 Sapi. v.
 Deu. xxi. a
 Luk. xii.
 An hundred folde.

Chaste.

thou hast made them equal vnto vs whiche haue borne the burthen and heate of the day.

And immediatly thei eyes receyued sight: And they folowed him.

The Notes.

(a) The whole purpose of this parable, is to proue that God rewardeth not his workmen according to the tyme they worke, & payes that they take in his dynetard, but is in this world, but according to his mercede. For thus he concludeth that any are called but fewe elected. As though he shuld haue sayd, They be not all elected that be called to the ceremoniall law of the Jewes, neither al chosen that be called of the rule of the gospel. But on whom he will, he taketh mercede: and whome he lusteth maketh hard hatred. Rom. ix. (b) Here is to be noted, that the Jewes were in such bondage to the Romannes at the death of Christ, that they myght do no execution them selues, but deliuer thei euill doers to the Emperours souldiours to be tormentid. (c) This request of thei declareth what opinion they had of the kyngdom of this world. Euen that it shoulde be an earthly kyngdome, wherein the next about hym shuld beare most rule. But Christes answer declareth thei ignorance, and the eternall predestination of God. (d) Woe be vnto princes and rulers learne your duty. Suppress and make them slaues that would be great. The I say that by offices in your court, and sue to be your chaplaynes: for that is the way to be made great.

Matth. ix. a
Mark. x. c.
Luke. xli. f Matth. xvi. f
and. xvi. f
Mark. xvi. c.
Passion.
Luk. xvi. f

friend & do the no wronge, dydest thou not agree wth him for a penny? Take that which is thy due, and go thy waye, I will geue vnto this last as muche as to the. Is it not lawfull for me to do as me listeth with mine owne? Is thisne eue euill because I am good? So the laste shalbe firste, and the firste shalbe last. For manye are called, and fewe be chosen.

And Jesus ascended to Ierusalem & toke the xii. Discyples aparte in the waye, and sayed to them. Beholde we go vnto Ierusalem, and the sonne of man shalbe betrayed vnto the chiefe priestes and vnto the scribes: and they shal condemne hym to death and shal deliuer hym to the gentyles, to be mocked, to be scourged, and to be crucified, and the thirde day he shal rise againe.

Mark. x. e Mother of zebedees
chyl dren,

Then came to hym the mother of zebedees chyl dren wth hir sonnes worshipping hym and desyringe a certayne thyng of hym. And he sayd vnto hir: what wilt thou haue? She sayed vnto hym: Graunte that these my two sonnes maye sitte, the one on the ryghte hand, and the other on the left hand in thy kyngdome.

Jesus answered and sayed: Ye wot not what ye aske: Are ye able to dryncke of the cup that I shal dryncke of: and to be baptised wth the baptysme that I shal be baptised wth? They answered to hym: that we are. And he sayed vnto the: Ye shal drinke of my cuppe, and shal be baptised wth the baptysme that I shal be baptised wth. But to sit on my ryghte hande, and on my left is not mine to geue: but to them for whom it is prepared of my father.

Mark. x. e
Luk. ix. f
and. xli. f
Great.

And when the ten hearde this, they dysdained at the two brethren. But Jesus called them vnto hym and sayd. Ye know that Lordes of the Gentiles haue dominion ouer them, And they that are great, exercise power ouer them. It shal not be so amonge you. But whosoever wyl be great amonge you lett hym be your minister, and whosoever wyl be chiefe, lett hym be your seruaunt, euen as the sonne of manne came not to be ministered vnto, but to be minister, and to geue his lyfe for the redemption of many.

Gerico.
Mark. x. e

And as they departed from Gerico, much people folowed hym. And behold two blind men sittinge by the waye syde, when they herde Jesus passe by, cryed sayinge: Thou Lord the son of Dauid haue mercie on vs. And the people rebuked them: because they shoulde holde thei peace. But they cryed the more, sayinge: Haue mercie on vs thou Lord whiche arte the son of Dauid. Then Jesus stode still, & called them, & sayed: What wilt thou that I shuld do to you? They sayd to him Lord that our eyes maye be opened. Jesus had compassion on them, & touchyd thei eyes.

Luk. x. f
Mark. ix. c
Two
blind men.

Christ to shewe his kyngly power, ryd to Ierusalem vpon an asse, he censed the churche, he cursed the fig tree, he defended his authority against the Pharisees, whose false religion and vngodlynes, & myndes desirous of murther, he declarith by this parable of this vine. But when they wold haue taken hym they wer let because they feared the people.

When they drewe nigh vnto Ierusalem, and were come to Bethpaz, to mount oluete, then sent Jesus two of his disciples, sayinge to the: Go into the towne that lieth ouer agaynst you, and anon he shal fynde an asse bound, and a colte wth her, lose them and bryng them vnto me. And if any man say oughte vnto you, saye that the Lord hath neede of them: and straight waye he wyl let them go. All this was done to fulfill that which was spoken by the prophete, sayinge. Tell ye the daughter of Zion: beholde the kyng cometh vnto thee, and sittinge vpon an asse and a colte, the foale of an asse bled to the pooke. The Disciples went and dyd as Jesus commaunded them and brought the asse and the colte, and put on them thei clothes, and set hym thereon. And many of the people spred thei garmentes in the way. Other cut downe branches fro the trees, and strowed them in the waye. Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that came after, cryed sayinge: Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid. Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the hiest.

Hosanna
Ps. cxviii.

And when he was come into Ierusalem, all the citty was moued sayinge: who

Mat. x. 6.
Luke. x. 9.
John. u. 14.
Workers and sellers.

is this? And the people sayd: this is Jesus the prophete of Nazareth a Cytie of Galile. And Jesus wente into the temple of God, and caste out all them that soude and boughte in the temple, & ouerthrew the tables of the menp chaungers, and the seates of them that soude doues, and saped to the: It is wrytten: my house shalbe called a house of prayer. But ye haue made it a den of theues. And the blind & the halte came to hym in the temple, and he heled the.

Cap. xlii. c.
Jer. vii. b.

¶

Gosanna.
We beseeche thee giue us
healy.

When the chiefe priestes sawe the ma-uiples that he dyd, and the chyliden crypunge in the temple and sayinge Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they dysdained & sayd vnto hym: hearest thou what these saye? Jesus sayd vnto them, yea. Haue ye neuerred: of the mouth of babes and sucklynges thou hast ordeyned prayse? And he lefte them, and wente out of the cite vnto Bethanpe: and had hys abyding there.

Mat. x. 6.
ffpage tre

In the mornynge as he retourned into the cite agayne, he hungered, and spied c) a fygge tre in the way, and came to it, and founde nothing thereon, but leaues one-ly, and sayd to it. neuer truste growen the hence forwardes. And anon the fygge tre wyddered awaye. And when his Disciples sawe that, they maruailed sayinge: Howe sone is t. : fygge tree wyddered awaye? Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them: Verelpe I saye vnto pou: if ye shal haue (d) sayeth, and shal not doute, ye shal not onelp doo that whiche I haue done to the fygge tree, but also if ye shal saye vnto this mountayne. take thi selfe a waye and caste thy selfe into the sea, it shal be done. And whatsoeuer ye shal saye in prayer (if ye beleue) ye shal receyue it. And when he was come into the temple, the chiefe priestes and the elders of the people came vnto him as he was teachyng, and sayd: By what authoritie doest thou these thynges, and who gaue the this power? Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them: I also wyl aske of pou a certain question: whiche if ye aske me, I wyl like-wylse wyl tel pou by what authoritie I do these thynges. The Baptysme of John whence was it, from heauen or of men?

Mat. x. 6.

Mat. x. 6.
Luke. x. 6.

¶ Then they reasoned amonge them selues sayinge. If we shal saye from heauen, he wyl saye vnto vs: wher dyd ye not then beleue hym? But and if we shal saye of men, then feare we the people. For al men helde John as a prophete. And they answered Jesus and sayd: we cannot tell. And he lykewylse sayd vnto them: neyther tell I pou by what authoritie (f) I doo these thynges. ¶

Baptysme
of John whence.

Mat. x. 6.
Luke. x. 6.
Mat. x. 6.

Two son-
nes.

What saye ye to this? ¶ A certayne man had two sonnes, and came to the elder and sayd: sonne go and worke to daye in my vineyard. He answered and sayd I wyl not, but afterwarde repented and wente.
Then came he to the second, and sayd like-wylse. And he answered and sayd, I wyl lykewylse went not. Whether of them twaine did the wil of the father? And they sayd vnto him: the fyrste. Jesus sayd vnto the: ver-elpe I say vnto pou, that the publicanes & the harlotes, shal come into the kyngdom of God before pou. For John came vnto pou in the waye of rightuousnes, and ye beleued hym not. But the publicanes and harlotes beleued hym. And yet ye (though ye sawe it) were not yet moued wth repentaunce, that ye myght afterward haue be-leued him. ¶

Publicans
math. iii. c.
Harlotes.

¶ Berken another similitude. Ther was a certayne housholder, whiche planted a vineyard, and hedged it round aboute, and made a wyne presse in it, and bylde a tower, and lette it oute to husbandmen, and went into a straunge countrey. And when the tyme of the fruite drew neare, he sent hys seruauntes to the husbandmen to receyue the frutes of it. And the husband-men caught his seruauntes and beate one, kylled another, & stoned another. Agayne he sent other seruauntes, mo then the first and they serued them lykewylse. But laste, of all he sent vnto them hys owne son sayynge: they wyl feare my sonne. But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they saped among them selues: This is the heyre, come, let vs kyl hym, and let vs take hys inheritaunce to ourselues. And they caught hym, and thrust hym out of the vineyard, & kille him. When the Lord of the vineyard cometh, what wil he do with those husbā-men? They sayd vnto him: He they cruelly destroye those euil persons, and will let out hys vineyard vnto other husbandmen, whiche shal deliuer hym the fruite at tyme conuenient.

¶ Luk. x. 6.
Cap. v. a.
Hier. li. b.
Vineyard
that is let out to hys sonne. Mat. x. 6.
Luk. x. 6.

Jesus sayd vnto thepm: dyd ye neuer reide in the scriptures? The stone whiche the buylders refused, the same is set in the pyncipall part of the corner: this was the Lordes doynge, and it is merueylous in our eyes. Therefore say I vnto pou, the kyngdom of god shalbe taken from pou, & shal-be geuen to the gentyles, which shal bring foorth the fruite of it. And whosoever shal fall on this stone, he (f) shalbe broken: but on whosoever it shal fall vpon, it wil grynd him to powder. And when the chiefe priestes and pharises heard these similitudes, they perceyued that he spake of the. And they wente aboute to laye handes on him, but they feared the people, because they tooke hym as a prophete. ¶ The Notes.

¶ Jer. xlii. b.
Jer. xlii. b.
Jer. xlii. b.
Jer. xlii. b.
Jer. xlii. b.

(a) Let it not trouble the gentel reader, that in the other thre euangelistes is no mention of the stone but of the colte only (whiche thynge some curiouse readers do greatly note) for it is not a thing pertaining to the purpose, for as much as the intent of the prophete was to declare that our Saviour should be of so base sort and smal reputation in the world, that he should haue none other poulcrep but a ponge alle whereon no man had late before hym, yea a foale that hadde bene used to draw in the pock. Wherfore it sufficed to name the foale, & not to saye he hadde fence.

¶ Mat. x. 6.
Luk. x. 6.

of S. Bathew. Fo. xiii:

Spunge of teeth. For manye are called, and fewe be chosen. R

If David call him Aorde, howe is he Accc. iii. then

E
Eay. rif. b
Luh. ex b
Act. xxi. b
Deu xxx. b

Tribute to Klar.

D
Black. 11.6
N. 11.6. 11.6.

Donnerstag.

McCurry
on.
2400. 11. 5

2 ar. xii. c
m. 5.

Druck. 64. 84.
Hefe 150.
Handdruck.

Cal. 4. 2.

The Gospel

of S. Mathew.

Then hye sonne? And none coulde answer him agayne one worde, neyther durst anpe from that day forth, are hym any more que stions. &

The Notes.

Garage
garment.

Gene to Le
far w.

As angels.

The God of the ly ving.

Lord.

(a) This is the garment that is mentyoned in Ezay. lxi. chapter in D. And it is none other, but the lyvely sayth which is most beautifullpe decked wth the workes of the spyrte.

(b) By this Cesar is ment all temporal rulers, to whom we ought of conscience to geue al thin ges that the lawe of the countrey we be in byn deth vs to geue. Whether it be our goods, oure selfe, oure chyldren, or seruantes to do them see uice.

(c) To be as angels, is to be wythoute all cor ruption and inlympnyes of the fleste, so that þ deluyes of the same do neuer trouble vs.

(d) If God be not the God of the dead, but of þ lyving: When must Abraham nedes lyue, sythen he is Abrahams God. Wpneke not at this place you Saduces of our tyme, which wyl not be lieue and confesse that the soule of man is im mortall.

(e) Notwithstandyng that Chy. ste. in that he was man, was the sonne of Dauid: yet Dau id seynge in spyrte that he was God, called hym lozbe. But the Pharises, who we- all fleshe, could not perceiue so much of the spyrte.

The xiii. Chapter.

A bitter chydnyng of the hypocrites that taught falsly, to whom also be bybaideth they counte saye holynes, and bylpyng of wyphetes. After he threatheneth reuerence to Ierusalem, for they bygodlye bybaid nes.

A

Then spake Iesus to the people, and to his disciples, sayyng: The Scribes and the pharises sit in

(a) Moyses seate. All therefore whatsoeuer they bid pou obserue, that ob serue & do, but after they workes, do not, for they say and do not. Yea and they bind heauy burthens and greuous to be borne & lay them on mennes shoulers: but they themselves wyl not heare at them wth one of their fingers. All their workes they do for to be sene of men. They set abroade their phylacteries and make large borders on theyr garmentes, and loue to synne vp permost at feastes, and to haue the chiefe seates in the synagoges, and greynages in the markets & to be called of men Rabbi.

But ye shall not suffer pou selues to be called Rabbi. For one is pou maister, that is to wytte Chust, and all ye brethren. And call no man poue b, father vpon the earth, for there is but one poue father, and he is in heauen. Be not called maisters: for ther is but one poue maister, and he is Chust.

Ye þ is gre itest amdg pou, shalbe poue ser uant. But whosoer exalteth hymselfe, shalbe brought low: and he that humbly hymselfe, shalbe exalted. &

Do be vnto pou Scribes and pharises, hypocrites for ye c, shut vp þ kingdome of heauen before men: ye poue selues goo not in, neyther suffer ye them that come to en

Do be vnto pou Scribes and pharises, hypocrites. ye deuour wyddowes houses, and that vnder a coloure of prayyng longe prayers: wherfore ye shall receyue greater damnacion.

Do be vnto pou Scribes and pharises hypocrites, which compass sea and land, to bypnyge one into poue belefe, and when he is brought, ye make hym two folde more the chylde of hell, then ye poue selues are.

Do be vnto pou blind guides, which saye: whosoer sweare by the temple, it is nothyng, but whosoer sweareth by the golde of the temple, he offendeth. Ye fooles and blinde, whether is greater the golde, or the temple that sanctifyeth the golde? And whosoer sweareth by the altare, it is no thyng: but whosoer sweareth by the offe ryng that lyeth on the auter, offendeth.

Ye fooles and blinde, whether is greater þ offering, or the auter, which sanctifyeth the offeringe? Whosoer therfore swea teth by the altare, sweareth by it and by all þ theron is. And whosoer sweareth by the temple, sweareth by it and by hym þ dwelleth therein. And he that sweareth by heauen, sweareth by the seate of God, and by hym that sitteth thereon.

Do be to pou Scribes and pharises, hi pocrites which tpythmynt, anise & cumine, and leaue the weightier matters of þ lawe vndone: iudgement, merce, and faythe.
These ought ye to haue done and not haue left þ other vndone. Ye blind guides which straine oute a gnat and swalowe a Cam mell.

Do be to pou Scribes and pharises, hi pocrites, which make cleane the vtter side of the cuppe and of the platter: but wth in they are ful of bybpy and excelle. Thou blind pharise, cleane tyn the innesyde of the cuppe and platter, that the outsyde of them may be cleane also.

Do be to pou Scribes and pharises hi pocrites, for ye are lyke vnto paynted tom bes, which appere bewtiful outward, but are within full of dead bones and of all fyl thynes. So are ye, for outwarde ye appere ryghteous vnto men, when within, ye are full of hypocresy and iniquyte.

Do be vnto pou Scribes and pharises hypocrites, ye byde the tombes of the wy phetes, and garnyshe the sepulchres of the righteous and saye: if we had bene in the dages of oure fathers, we would not haue bene parteners wth them in the bloude of the wyphetes. So then ye be wptnesses to poue selues, that ye are the chyldren of the which killed þ wyphetes. Fyls þ ye lyke wyle the measure of poue fathers. Ye ser pentes and generacyon of byppers, howe shoulde ye escape the damnacion of hell?

Wherfore, beholde I send vnto poue pro phetes, wysemen, and Scribes: of them ye shall kyll, and crucifye: and of them ye shal scourge in poue synagoges, and persecute from city to city, that vpon poue maye come all the

Wyddowes
houses.

C

Temple.

Altare.

pynte.
Anise.
Luke xli
Judgement
and merce Blinde
guides.

Citus. d. a.

Innesyde
wainted sepulchres.

Ye byde
the tombes.

Mat. li. v.

Heauy bur
then.

Luke. xli. g

Act. xv.

Mat. xii. d

Luke. xxi. g.

Phylacte

ries.

Whyle sea

res.

Graynges.

Great.

Crall.

Luke xlii. c

and. xviii. c

The kyng

dom is thus

Luke. xx. g.

Mat. xiii. b.
11. pa. xxi. i.
An. cent
blond.

all the rightuous blood that was shed vpon the earth, from the blood of rightuous Abel, vnto the blood of zachar as the sonne of Barachias, wher in ye shewe betwene the temple & the aulter. Verily I say vnto you, all these thynges shall I pgl. t vpon this generacion. Jerusalem, Jerusalem, wherch killest the prophetes, and stonest them which are sent to thee, yett woften would I haue gathered thy children together, as the henne gathereth her chickens vnder hir winges, but ye (d) would not. Behold yere habitation shall be left vnto yere desolate. For I saye to you, ye shall not see me henceforth, tyll that ye say, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord. &

Mat. xiii. b.
11. pa. xxi. i. d

Whyles
scate.

The Notes.
(a) It is to be thought that the Jewes had in the temple, some certayne place wher in was a seat or chaire for him that read the lawe of Moyses to the people, to spe on wh. he read, as we haue now in our churches, for them that read the scripture and Gospell to the people: wher he myghte ryghte well be called Whyles scate, because Moyses lawe onely was read in that place.

Now the Scribes and Pharisees were appointed to that scate: wherfore our Saviour commanded his disciples to obserue al that they teach. For whyle they sate in that scate they taught Moyses lawe onely. In like maner shall it wch vs and our Pharisees: so longe as they spe on Chyistes seat and read vnto vs Chyistes one of the holyc Bible booke, we are by Chyistes commaundment bound to obey them. But when they runne to thei owne tradicions: we are as free from them as the Apostles were from the Scribes, and Pharisees of their tyme.

Father.

(b) Here is the bishop of Rome declared a plain Antichrist in that he would be called the moste holyc father, and that al Chyisten men should acknowledge him so; no lesse then their spiri- uall father, notwithstanding these plain wordes of Chyist: Cal no man your father.

To that by kingdom

(c) To shut vp the kyngdome of God before me is to dispence with mens consciences for pleasure of Goddes commaundment vndone appointing them workes of they owne inuention to supplie to the same (as our ghostly fathers haue used to do in confession). For this is the kyngdome of God, when men be studious to do the will of God, and thynke it not sufficient to leaue Gods wyl vndone, and then to satisfy after they owne fantasie, wherfore al such as hynder this study, shut the kyngdome of God before men.

Would not.

(d) Upon this place is builded a wonderfull choyse and fre wyl of man. Who maye (as the Papes and certayne other Antichrists) imagine withstande the wyl of God, wher he is, say they, that al men should be saved and come to the acknowledgeynge of the truth: wher he thynge, man may of him selfe refuse or embrace.

That thou be not deceived in this, Chyisten reader, thou shalt note that the wyl of God muste be considered two maner of wayes. First it is eternal, inmutable and vnderstandable, so that it cannot be resisted, but must be fulfilled, though all the worlde would saye naye. After this maner would not Chyist haue gathered the Jewes together. For both I saye in this Chapter, and the Psalm. I will. I hadde prophesied theyr obstinacye, even accordingly as this eternal wyl of God had prescribed. Secondly the wyl of God is to be considered, as it is known to men by the scriptures. That is that men should loue God aboue all thynges, and do to oher, as they would be done by.

After this sort would God haue gathered the Jewes together in declaringe this his wyl to them by the Prophetes, but they would not because they were those stiffnecked people, that the vnsearchable wyl of God, had ordeined to be and not pererius, to heare and not vnderstand, lest they should conuerse and be made heale the.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Chyist sheweth the fatal destruction that was to come vpon Jerusalem, describinge also what troubles and tokens should goe before the destruction: and howe cruell the wasting should be after the destruction: he telleth of the destruction of the whole worlde, of the consummation of the world and of the gloriouse conuynge of the sonne of man vnto iudgement, exhorting al men to watche and be sober, sayinge for the rewardes and paynes.

AND Jesus went out and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to see him in the buildinge of the temple.

Jesus sayd vnto them: See ye not all these thynges? verily I saye vnto you, there shall not here be left one stone vpon another that shall not be cast downe.

And as he sate vpon the mount Oliuet, his disciples came vnto him secretly, saying: Tell vs when these thynges shall be: & what sygne shall be of thy conuynge and of the ende of the worlde? And Jesus answered and said vnto them: take hede that no man deceyue you. For maner shall come in my name, saying: I am Chyist, and shall deceyue maner.

Ye shall heare of warres, and of the same of warres: but se that ye be not troubled. For all these thynges must come to passe, but the ende is not yet. For nation shall rise agaynst nation, and realme agaynst realme: and there shall be pestilence, hunger and earthquakes here and there. All these are the beginninge of sorowes.

Then shall they put you to trouble, and shall kyll you: and ye shall be hated of al nations for my names sake: And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one the other. And many false prophetes shall aryse, and shall deceyue many. And because iniquitie shall haue the vpperhand, the loue of many shall abate. But he that endureth to the ende, the same shall be safe. And this glad tydinge of the kyngdome shall be preached in al the worlde, for a witness vnto al nacions: and then shall the ende come.

When ye therefore shall see the abomination that beokeneth desolacion, spoken of by Daniell the prophet, stand in the holy place let him that readeth it, vnderstand it: then let them which be in the furpe, flye into the mountaynes. And let him which

Mat. xvi. b.
and xix. g.
what, in a
of the temple

Eph. v. b.

John xvi. a

Sal. p. 10
phets.

Mat. xii. a.
Mat. xiii. c
Luk. xvi. b

Eccl. iii. is on

is on the house toppe, not come downe to set any thyng out of his house. Neither let him which is in the fildes, retorne back to fetch his clothes. Wdoe in those dayes to them that are with childe, and to them that geue sucke. But pray that your flight be not in the winter, neyther on the Saboth day. For then shalbe great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world to this tyme, nor shalbe: yea and excepte those dayes shoulde be shortened, there shoulde no fleshe be saved: but for the chosens sake those dayes shalbe shortened.

Winter.

Mar. xiii. c.
Luk. xvi. c.

Then if any man shall save unto you: lo here is Christ, or there is Christ: beleue it not. For there shal arise false Christs, and false prophetes, and shall do great miracles and wonders. In so much that if it were possible the verbe elect shoulde be deceived. Take heed. I haue told you before. Wherefore, if they shall save unto you: be- hold he is in deserte: go not forth. Beholde he is in the secreete places, beleue not. For as the lpyghtenynge cometh oute of the east, and shyneth into the weste, so shal the commynge of the son of man be. For wher- soeuer a dead carkeas is, euen thither will the (d) Eagles resort.

Mar. xiii. c.
Luk. xvi. c.
Ex. xxi. b.
Esa. xii. b.
Thon. iii. c.
Apoc. i. b.
Mar. xiii. a

Immediately after the tribulations of those dayes, shall the sunne be darke- ned: and the moone shal not geue her light, and the starres shal fall from heauen, and the powers of heauen shal moue. And then shal appeare the signe of the sonne of man in heauen. And then shall all the kyndes of the earth mourne, and they shal see the sonne of man come in the cloudes of hea- uen with power and great glory. And then shal he send his (f) angels with the greates- voice of a trompe, and they shal gather to- gether his chosen: from the four windes, and from the one ende of the worlde to the other.

figg tree.
Mar. xiii. d
Luk. xvi. c

Learn a similitude of the figge tree: when his braunches are yet tender, & his leaues spronge ye knowe that sommer is nye. So likewise, when ye see all these thynges, be ye sure, that it is neare euen at the doores. Merely I say vnto you, that this (g) generacion shall not passe tyll all these be fulfilled. Heauen and earth shal perishe, but my wordes shal abide. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no not the an- gels of heauen, but my father onely.

Gene. vi. b
and. vii. b Noe.

As the tyme of Noe was, so likewise shall the comynge of the sonne of man be. For as in the dayes before the floude, they dyd eate and drynke, marie and were ma- ried, euen vnto the daye that Noe entered into the shippe, and knewe of nothyng, til the floude came and toke them all awape: So shall also the comynge of the son of man be. Then (h) two shal be in the fildes, the one shalbe receyued, and the other shal be refused, two shalbe gryndynge at the mill, the one shalbe receyued, and the other shalbe refused.

Wake therefore, because ye knowe not what houre your maister wil come. Of this be sure that if the good man of the house knewe what houre the thiefe would come, he wold surely watche, and not suffer his house to be broken up. Therefore be ye also ready, for in (i) the houre ye thinke he wold not, will the sonne of man come. If there be any faithfull seruaunte and wyse, who his maister hath made ruler ouer his hous- holde to geue them meate in season conue- nient: happy is that seruaunte whom his maister (when he cometh, shall find so do- ynge. Merely I say vnto you, he shal make him ruler ouer all his goods. But and if p- euil seruaunte shall save in his herte: my maister will defer his comynge, and begyn to smyte his fellowes, yea and to eate and to dunke with the drunken, that seruaun- tes maister will come in a day when he lo- keth not for him, and in an hour that he is not ware of, and will deuyde him, & geue hym his rewarde with hypocrites. There shal be weppynge and gnashynge of teth.

Luk. xvi. b

Mar. xiii. b
Luk. xiii.

Math. xv.
faithfull
seruaunte.
Apoc. xvi. c Iupll ser-uaunt.

The Notes.

(a) Thys holie place is the temple of God, that is the congregation of Christ, as Paule wy- teth.

Holy place

(b) Here is to be thoughte that Christ dyd co- men the aduertysement by descriptioe of the tyme of the yere and daye of the destruction of Hieru- salem. For as Strabo wytteth in his. xvi. booke Pompeius toke them on the Saboth daye, & so dyd Titus and Vaspasian also, As is men- tyoned in Frontinus. But yet it is rather to be thought that he vied these wordes wynter & Saboth, to the entent to sette forth the great- nes of the trouble that shoulde chaunce in those dayes, to be such, that if it fell in the wynter or in the Saboth daye when they myght not by p- laue travel past one myle, it shoulde not be pos- sible for them to escape by flying awaye.

Winter.

(c) It is not possible that those who God hath elected from the beginning of the world shoulde be seduced, so that they shoulde hate or persecute the waye of the Lorde, whiche they haue once professed.

Elect.

(d) Eagles are byrds that flye high and feed vpon carkeas. Wherefore they resorte vnto the dead car- keas that lyeth somtyme far from them. It is therefore a meete similitude to declare that the Christians, whose conuersacion is high in hea- uen, shal at the last daye resorte to Christ, they flye, from all partes of the worlde.

Egles.

(e) The sunne shalbe berched, shalbe made as sackcloth or smoke. The moone shal not geue her lpyght, shalbe turned into blood before that day come, and the starres shal falle. No doubt all thys must be spiritually vnderstande. That is, for the sunne the worde of God whiche is the lpyght of the worlde, and for the moone man lawes &c. For as it was at Noes floude: so shal the comynge of the sonne of man be. But the sunne was byght then, euen to the very houre &c.

The sunne

(f) These angels are the Prophetes and prea- chers of the latter daye, who shal blowe the trump of lpyght, and thereby gather toge- ther the chosen from all quarters of the world, as is declared in the reuelacion.

Angels.

Gene.

Generacio. (g) Generacion is taken here for that empyre, which was then chiefe of the whole world, that was Rome. Whyle Rome therfore beareth the name of the chiefe empyre of Aghustedome, shall the latter daye come.

Two in the feld. (b) Thys declareth, that euen to the daye of iudgement, the good and bad shall dwell together.

In the house ye thinke not. (i) In the house ye thinke not. Here maye we learne that at the signes of the last daye are to be taken spiritually. For so shall he come when men that loke for them to be carnally fulfilled, thinke least.

The .xv. Chapter.

The parable of the .x. virgins and talentes warneth vs to watche and to haue fapth in nypnge wpth woikes, and byddeth vs to be myndfull of our office. After he sheweth vnto vs after what maner the last iudgement shall be.

Virgins. Then the (a) kyngdome of heauen shall be likened vnto ten virgins, which toke their lampes and wet to mete the brudegrome. Fyue of them were folishe: and fyue were wysse. The folyshe toke theyr (b) lampes, but toke none oyle wpth them. But the wysse toke oyle wpth them in their vessels wpth theyr lampes also. Whyle the brudegrome tarped, al slumbred and slepte. And euen at midnight there was a crye made: beholde, the brudegrome cometh, go out agaynst him. Then al those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes. And the folyshe saped to the wysse: gyue vs of your oyle, for our lampes go oute. But the wise answered, sayinge: not so, least ther be not (c) ynough for vs and you: but goo rather to them that sel, and bye for your selues.

And while they went to bye, the brudegrome came, and they that were redy, wet in with him to the weddinge, and the gate was shutte vp. Afterwardes came also the other virgins, sayinge: * Maister maister, open to vs. But he answered and said: verelpe I sape vnto you: I know you not (d) watche therfore: for ye knowe neyther the daye nor yet the houre, when the sonne of man shall come.

Talentes. A lke wylse as a certayne man, readye to take hys iorney to a straunge country, called his seruauntes, and deliuered to them his goodes. And vnto one he gaue fyue talentes, to another two, and to another one: to every mā after his abilitie, and straight wape departed. Then he that receiued the fyue talentes, went and bestowed them, and made another fyue talentes. Likewise he that receiued two, garned other two. But he that receiued the one, went and digged a pitt in the earth, and hid his maisters monye. After a longe season the Lord of those seruauntes came & rekened with them. Then came he that had receiued fyue talentes, & brought other fyue talentes, sayinge: maister, thou deliueredst vnto me fyue talentes, beholde I haue garned with them fyue talentes mo. Then his maister said vnto him: Well good seruaunt and fapthfull. Thou hast bene fapthfull in litle, I wyl make the ruler ouer much: e, enter into thy maisters ioye. Also he that receiued two talentes, came and said: maister thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes, behold: I haue wonne two other talentes with them. And hys maister sayd vnto him: well good seruaunt and fapthfull. Thou hast bene fapthfull in litle, I wyl make the ruler ouer much: goe into thy maisters ioye. Then he whiche had receiued the one talente came and sayde: maister, I conspacted that thou wast an harde man, which repest where thou sowedst not, & gathered where thou strawedst not, and was therefore as trayde, and went and hid thy talente in the earth: beholde, thou hast thyne owne. His maister answered and saped vnto him: thou euil seruaunt and slouthful, thou knewest that I reape wher I sowed not, & gather where I strawed not: thou oughtest therefore to haue had my mony to the chaungers, and then at my commynge shouldest I haue receiued myne owne wpth haurytage. Take therfor the talente from him, and gyue it vnto hym whych hath tenne talentes. For vnto every man that hath, e, shall be geuen, and he shall haue aboundaunce: and fro hym that hath not shall be taken away, euen that he hath. And cast that vnproffitable seruaunt into vtter darcknes: ther shall be wepyngge and gnasyngge of teeth.

* When the sonne of man cometh in his glorie, and al the holy Angelles wpth him, then shall he sitte vpon the seate of his glorye, and before him shall be gathered al nacions, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepheard deuydeth the shepe from the goates. And he shall set the shepe on hys righte hande, and the goates on hys lefte.

Then shall the kyng say to them on hys right hande: Come ye blessed chyldren of my father, inherite ye the kyngdome prepared for you from the beginningge of the world. For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meat, I thurst, and ye gaue me drynke, I was herbycles and ye lodged me, I was naked and ye clothed me, I was sicke, and ye visited me, I was in prison, and ye came vnto me. Then shall the righteous answer him, sayinge. Maister, when sawe we the an hungred, and fed the, or a thurst, and gaue the drynke? when sawe we the herbycles, and lodged the? or naked and clothed the? or when sawe we the sicke, or in prison, and came vnto the? And the kyng shall answer and sape vnto them: verelpe, I sape vnto you: in as much as ye haue done it to one of the least of these my brether, ye haue done it vnto me.

Then shall the kyng say vnto them that shall be on the lyfte hande. Departe fro me ye cursed, into euerylastyng fyre, whych is prepared for the Deuill & his angells. For I was an hungred & ye gaue me no meate, I thurst & ye gaue me no drynke, I was

Mat. xvi. 13
Mat. xvi. 14
Lokenast
Luk. xvi. 15
Mat. xvi. 16
and. xvi. 17
The iudge
ment.
Sheepe.
Goates.
Eze. xxxiii.

Eccl. vii. 1.

Mat. vi. 1.
Luk. xvi. 1

The Gospell

herbourles, and ye lodged me not: I was naked and ye clothed me not, I was sicke and in prison, and ye visited me not.

Then shall they answer him, sayinge: maister, when sawe we the an hungred, or a thyrste, or herbourles or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and dyd not minister vnto the?

Conuersat

Then shall he answer them and saye: I tely I saye vnto you, in as much as ye dyd it not to one of these lytle ones, ye dyd it not vnto me. And these shall go into euerylasyng payne. And the rightuous into lyfe eternall.

John. v. d.

The Notes.

Kingdome of heauen.

(a) In this place the kyngdome of heauen signifieth the hole congregation of beleevers: beeing yet conuersant in this lyfe, whiche God gouerneth invisibly as Luke the. vii. c.

Lampes without oyle.

(b) These Lampes are such dead sayth as James declarerh to be in byuels and rotten trees, whiche bying forth no fruite.

ynough.

(c) Here is to be noted, that not wpthstandyng the woordes that do pcedde of sayth, are neuer so copious, yet haue we none ouerplus to distrust vnto other, as the hypocritish religious sayned them selues to haue.

Watche.

(d) The whole entente of this parable is that we shoulde be alwayes in a redynes to departe this lyfe.

Enter into thy maisters love. To hyne that hath. Enter darke.

(e) To enter bys maisters love, is to be partaker with his inheritance in his possessions, and so shall the faithful be toyne byppes with Christ in his kyngdome.

(f) Like the exposition of the afore said (g) After darknes doeth here signifye extreme ignorance of God and his woordes. And the meaning of the whole parable is no more, but that such as do not thankfully applie the giftes that God gauerh them to their brothers profit, shall haue those giftes taken from them, and be made most voyded of al such giftes.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Christ in the house of Simon the leaper, prepared to his buriall, is betrayed of Judas. And after that he indured his supper, he goeth out to the mount Oluet, where the souldiers take him, and brought him to the senours of the people and priestes, whowhole sentences he was condemned. But Peter beinge asrayd, denyed hym threes as the loyde shewed vnto him before.

The passio. mat. xiii. a. Luk. xxi. a.

And it came to passe, when Iesus had finished al these sayinges, he sayed vnto his disciples: I know that after two dayes shall be Easter, and the sonne of manne shall be deliuered to be crucified.

Capphas.

Then assembled together the chiefe priestes, and the scribes and the elders of the people to the palice of the hyghe priest, called Capphas: and held a counsell, how they mighte take Iesus by subtiltye and kill hym. But they sayed: not on the holy daye lest anye bypote aryse amongst the people.

John. xii. a. Mat. xii. d.

When Iesus was in Bethanpe, in the house of Simon the leper, there came to hym a woman, whiche hadde an alabastr boze of precious oymntment, and poured it on hys head, as he sat at the bourde.

When hys dysciples sawe that, they had indignacion, sayinge: what neded thys he is a wast? This oymntment myght haue ben wel solde, and gauen to the poore. When Iesus vnderstode that, he sayed vnto them: why trouble ye the womā? She hath wrought (a) a good worke vpon me. For ye shall haue poore folcke alwayes wpth you: but me shall ye not haue alwayes. And in that she casteth this oymntment on my bode, she dyd it to burye me withall. Verelpe I saye vnto you: whersoever thys Gospell shall be preached throughout all the worlde, there shall also this that she hath done, be tolde for a memoraill of hir.

The Gospell

He is appointed.

Then one of the twelue called Judas Iscarioth, went vnto the chiefe priestes, and sayed: What will ye geue me, and I wyl deliuer hym vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thyrtye peces of siluer. And from that tyme he sought oportunitie to betraye hym.

He is sold.

The first day of (b) swete bread, the disciples came to Iesus, sayinge vnto him: where wilt thou that we prepare for the to eate the paschall lambe? And he sayed: goo into the cite vnto suche a man, and saye to hym: the maister saith: my tyme is at hand, I will kepe myne Easter at thy house wpth my disciples. And the disciples dyd as Iesus had appointed them, and made readye the Easter lambe.

Mar. xiii. Luk. xxi. a.

When the enen was come, he sate down wpth the twelue. And as they dyd eate, he sayd. Verelpe I saye vnto you, that one of you shall betraye me. And they were excebyng sorrowfull, and beganne euery one of them to saye vnto him: is it I maister? He answered and sayed: he that dyppeth hys hande wpth me in the dyshe, the same shall betraye me. The sonne of man goeth as it is witten of him, but wo be to that man, by whom the sonne of man shall be betrayed. It had bene good for that man, if he hadde neuer bene bozne.

Mar. xiii. Luk. xxi. b. John. xii. c.

Then Judas which betrayed hym: answered and sayed: is it I maister? He sayed vnto him. thou hast sayd As they dyd eate, Iesus toke breade and gaue thakes brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and sayd: Take eate (c) this is my bode. And he toke the cuppe, and thanked, and gaue it them, sayinge: dryncke of it euery one: For this is my bloude of the newe testamente, that shall be shed for manpe, for the remission of synnes. I say vnto you: I wyl not drynke henceforth of this fruite of the vyne tre, but tyll that daye, when I shall drynke it new with you in my fathers kingdome.

The institution of the sacrament. 1. Cor. x. c.

And when they hadde sate grace, they went out into mounte Oluet. Then sayde Iesus vnto them: all ye shall be dyoffended by me thys nyght. For it is witten, I wyl smyte the shepelharde, and the shepe of the flocke shall be scattered abroad. But after I am risen agayne, I wyl goo before you into Galyle. Peter answered and sayed vnto him: though all men shoulde be offended

Mat. xiii. c. Luk. xxi. b. Jo. xiii. a. Zacha. xiii. c.

offended by the, yet wold I neuer be offended. Iesus said vnto him: Verelpe I sape vnto the, that this same night before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denye me thryse.
Peter said vnto him. If I should dye with the, yet woulde I not denye the. Likewise also sayed all the disciples.

Mat. xiii. c.
Luk. xxi. b
Jho. xxi. d

Then wente Iesus with them into a place whiche is called Gethsemane, and said vnto the disciples: sit ye here while I go and praye ponder. And he toke wth hym Peter and the two sonnes of zebedee, and began to waxe sorrowfull and to be in an agony. Then said Iesus vnto the: my (e) soul is heauye euen to death. Stay ye here and wathe with me. And he went a litle aparte, and fell flat on his face, & prayed, sayinge: O my father, if it be possible let this cuppe passe from me: neuertheles, not as I will, but as thou wilt. And he came vnto the disciples and founde them a sleepe, and sayed to Peter: what coulde ye not watch wth me one hour? wathe and praye, that ye fall not into temptacion.
(f) The spirit is readye, and the flesh is weake.

Mat. xxi. d
Luk. xxi. d

¶ He went awaie ones more, and prayed, sayinge: O my father, if this cuppe cannot passe away from me. Let that I desire of it, thy will be fulfilled. And he came and founde them a slepe againe. For their eyes were heauye. And he left them and wente agayne and prayed the third tyme, sayinge the same wordes. Then came he to his disciples and said vnto the: (g) Sleepe henceforth and take your rest: for so, the houre is at hand, and the sonne of man shall be deli-uered into the handes of sinners. Rise, let vs be gone: beholde he is at hand, that shall betraye me. Whiche of the twelve came, and with him a greate multitude with sweordes and staves sent from the chiefe puestes and elders of the people. And he that betrayed him had geuen them a token, sayinge: whosoever I kysse, that same is he: here he is on hym. And forthwith all, he came to Jesus, and sayed: hallo maister, & kissed him.
And Iesus said vnto him: friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and layed handes on Iesus, and toke hym.

He arueth hymselfe against the
passion.

Mat. xxi. d.
Luk. xxi. c
Jho. xxi. a.

He is betrayed.

Gene. ix. a.
Apoc. xxi. c

And beholde, one of them which were wth Iesus, stretched out his hande & drew hys swerd and stroke a seruaunt of the hie puest, and smote of hys eare. Then sayed Iesus vnto him: putte by thy swerde into his place. For all that beare handes on the swerde, shall perishe wth the swerde.
Either thinkest thou that I can not now praye to my father, and he shall geue me more then twelue legions of angels? But howe then shoulde the scriptures be fulfilled: for so must it be.

Mat. xxi. c.

The same tyme sayed Iesus to the multitude: ye be come out as it were vnto a thiefe wth sweordes and staves for to take me. I sate daylye teachynge in the temple among you, and ye toke me not.

All this was done that the Scripture of the prophetes might be fulfilled. The all the disciples forsoke hym, and fled. And they toke Iesus and led hym to Caphas the hie puest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled. And Peter folowed hym a farte of vnto the hie puestes palace: and went in and sat with the seruauntes, to se the ende.

Mat. xxi. c
Luk. xxi. c
Jho. xxi. c

The chiefe puestes and the elders, and all the counsell, soughte false wptnes against Iesus, for to put hym to death, but founde none: in so muche, that when ma-nye false wptnes came, yet founde they none. At the last came two false wptnes and sayed: This fellowe sayed: I can de-stroye the temple of God, and builde it againe in thre daies.

He is falses
lye accused.

Jhon. vii. d.

And the chiefe pueste arose, and sayed to him: answeredst thou nothyng? Howe is it that these beare wptnes agaynst the?
But Iesus helde hys peace. And the chiefe puest answered & sayed to hym: I charge the in the name of the lypunge God, that thou tell vs, whether thou be Christus the sonne of God. Iesus said to him, thou hast said. Neuertheles I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye se the sonne of man sittynge on the right hande of power, and come in the cloudes of the skye.

¶ Then the hie puest rent his clothes, sayinge: He hath blasphemed: what nede we of any more wptnes? Beholde nowe ye haue heard hys blasphemie, what thinke ye? They answered and sayd: he is worthy to dye. Then spat they in his face, and bo-feted him with fylles. And other smote hym wth the palme of their handes on the face, sayinge: tell vs thou Christus, who is he that smote the?

Mat. xxi. f
Luk. xxi. f
Jho. xxi. c
Peter desayeth.

¶ Peter sate without in the palace. And a damsel came to hym, saying: Thou also wast with Iesus of Galile: but he denyed before them all, sayinge: I wote not what thou sayest. When he was gone oute into the porche, another wenche saw hym, and said vnto them that were there. This fe-lowe was also wth Iesus of Galilee, and againe he denied with an othe, that he knew not the man. And after a while came vnto him they that stood by, and said vnto Peter: forswere thou a lye euen one of them, for thy speache bewrayeth the. Then began he to curse and to sweare that he knew not the man. And immediatlye the cocke crowed. And Peter remembered the wordes of Iesu, which sayed vnto him: I before the cocke crowe, thou shalt deny me thryse. And went out at the doores and wept bitterly.

The Notes.

(a) This good worke is it that the Papistes good buyde all the pomp and wast of theyr temples worke. vpon, accountynge it so better bestowed, then vpon the poore. But far worse. For Christ praysed it not for a good dede, in that thing which might haue bene geuen to the poore and wasted. but

The Gospell

Of S. Mathew

but because it was bestowed upon hym, who (as then) stode in neede of it. For the daye of hys buriall was at hand, when he should neede such syntmentes to be buried accordyng to the manner of the Jewes buryng.

The day of sweet bread.

(b) In the twelfth chapter of Exodus, Malt thou sende the number of these dayes to be leuen.
And they are called the dayes of sweete breade, because the Jewes myghte not in those dayes eate leuenered breade.

This is my body.

(c) In these wordes speth all the controuersye that hath bene, and is aboute the beleeue of the Sacrament of Chyistes body & bloude. Some saye that when he spake these wordes, he popularized to hys owne bodye, as who shoulde saye, he woulde speake one thyng and poplarize another, that none might vnderstande his meaning but such as saw him onely. Of these men I woulde saye to what he poplarized, when he sayed, this is my bloud, &c. Another saye, that by the ver-tue of those wordes he turned breade into hys berye naturall bodye, euen substantially and res-aile. Of these men I woulde knowe, whether his bodye were then corruptible or not. The chyrche saye there be whiche saye, that he neyther poplarized to hys owne bodye, neyther turned the breade into hys bodye: but spake of the breade, calling it his bodye in signification. As though he shoulde haue sayde, this breade being broken, becupped among you and eaten of you, signifieth vnto you my bodye, whiche shalbe broken for you. These men are called heretikes, but are in deede the true Chyistians.

Offence.
The soule.

(d) This offence is spoken afore in the xi. chap.
(e) This soule is the mynde or herte. For so it was the maner of the Hebrewes to speake as it appereyth in the Psalmes abundantly.

The spirit
is prompt.

(f) The occasion that our sauoure hadde to speake these wordes to hys discyples, declarith that this spirit which he sayeth is ready, is not the spirit of man whiche Paul calleth the inward man, but the euill spirit that tempteth man. For when he had exhorted them to watche and to praye, he shewed them the cause whye.
Lest they shoulde be tempted. And then to declare the neede they had so to do, he telleth them that the spirit is ready (and as Saynt Peter sayeth, goeth aboute seluyng whome he maye deuoure, and the fleche is weake, not able to resyst the temptacions).

Hepe hte
fozly.

(g) This is an Ironye, whiche is one thyng spoken and another meant. For in byddyng the slepe, he admonyssheth that they were moze then needefull for them selues, considering how nigh he was at hande that betrayed hym.

To laye hande on the swerde

(h) He layeth hande on the swerde, that beynge a pynate person wyl take in hande to reuenge wylth the swerde, wylthoute anye lawe or consente of the countrye to beare hym (yea or rather contrapne hym) all such are chyete-ned to perithe wylth the swerde.

Before the cocke crow

(i) Here are two thynges to be not. d. Firste howe able Peter was to fulfill his wantull prouyse, whiche was that though he shoulde dye wylth Chyiste, yet woulde he not denye hym.
The other, howe impossible it is that the word of God shoulde not be founde true and fulfilled.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Judas when he sawe that Iesus was de-liuered to Pilate, castynge awaye hys re-warde for betrayinge hym, longe hym selfe.
Pilate when he hadde assayed manye way-es and coulde not pcuraple, he scourged Ie-su, and commaunded hym to be crucified.

When he was hanged, they mocked hym.
Manye signes folowed after hys death: he was gorgeously buried by Ioseph. The Je-wes, because he should not rylse, let menne to kepe the sepulchre.

When the morning was come, all the chiefe priestes and the elders of the people helde a counsell agaynst Iesus, to put hym to death, & broughte hym bounde, and deliuered hym vnto Pontius Pilate the oberthe.

Then when Judas whiche betrayed hym, sawe that he was condemned, he re-pentet hymselfe, and brought agayn the thryttee plates of syluer, to the chiefe priestes and elders, sayinge: I haue sinned betraying the innocent bloud. And ther sayde: what is that to vs? Se thou to that. And he caste downe the syluer plates in the temple and departed, and wente and a longe hymselfe.

And the chiefe priestes toke the syluer plates and sayed: it is not lawefull for to putte them into the treasury, because it is
(b) the pryce of bloude. And they toke counsell, and bought with them a potters field to bury straungers in. Wherfore that field is called the fiede of bloude vntyll this day. Then was fulfilled that whiche was spoken by Ieremye the prophete, sayinge:
and they toke the thryttee syluer plates the pryce of hym that was valued, whom they bought of the chyldren of Israel, and they gaue them for the potters fiede: as the Lord appoynted me.

Iesus stode before the debite, and the debite aied him, sayinge: Art thou the king of the Jewes? Iesus said vnto hym: Thou sayest: and when he was accused of the chiefe priestes and elders, he answered no thyng. Then said Pilate vnto hym: hea-rest thou not howe manye thynges they say against the? And he answered hym to neuer a word: in so much that the debite meruelled greatlye.

At that feaste the debite was wont to deliuer to the people a pynsonet, who they woulde desyre. He had then a notable pynsonet called Barrabas: And when they wer gathered together, Pilate sayde to them: whether wyl ye that I let lose vnto you, Barrabas or Iesu, whiche is called Chyist? Barrabas For he knewe well that for eny they had deliuered hym.

When he was set downe to geue iudge-ment, his wyfe sente to hym, sayinge: haue thou nothing to do with that iust man. For I haue suffred manye thynges this daye in a dreame about hym.

But the chiefe priestes and the elders hadde perswaded the people, that they shoulde aie Barrabas and destroye Iesus.
Then the debite answered and sayed vnto them: whether of the twayne wyl ye that I lette lose vnto you? And they saved Barrabas.

Mat. xv. 8
Luk. xxi. 8.
He is deli-uered to Pilate.

Judas.

Act. i. c.

Zachar. xi. 12

Mat. xv. 8
Luk. xxi. 8.

He holdeth
his peace.

Barrabas

Mat. xv. 8
Luk. xxi. c
Jh. xviii. 8

Barrabas. Pilate sayed vnto them: what shal I do then wpth Iesus which is called Christ? They al sayed vnto hym, let hym be crucified. Then sayed the debite: what euel hath he doen? And they cryed the more sayng: let him be crucified.

His Judge
confesseth hym an innocente.

When Pilate sawe that he preuailed no thyng, but that more busynes was made,
he toke water and washed hys handes before the people, sayng: I am innocent of
the bloude of this iust personne, on poure parell be it. Then answered all the people and sayde: hys bloude be on vs, and on our chyldren. Then let he Barrabas lewe vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deli-uered hym to be crucified.

He is scour-
ged.

Then the souldiers of the debite tooke Iesus to the comen hal, and gathered to hym all the compaigne. And they strypped hym, and putte on hym a purple robe, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on hys heade, and a reed in his ryghte hande,
and bowed theyr knees before hym & mocked hym, sayng: haille kyng of the Ie-
wes. and spyttyd vpon hym and tooke the reed and smote hym on the heade.

Mat. xv. b.
Thon. xii. a
He is crowned.

And when they hadde mocked hym, they
toke the robe of hym agayne, and put hys owne rayment on hym, and led hym away to crucify hym. And as they came out, they found a man of Spren named Simon: hym they compelled to beare hys crosse. And when they came vnto the place, called Golgotha that is to say, a place of deade mes-sculles, they gaue hym vineger to dryncke myngled wth gall. And when he had tasted therof, he would not dryncke.

Mat. xv. b.
Luk. xii. b
He dryn-
keth vine-
ger & gall.
Thon. xii. f.
He is cruci-
fied.

When they had crucified hym, they parted hys garments, and dyd cast lottes, to fulfyll that was spoken by the prophete:
They deuidded my garments among the,
and vpon my vesture dyd cast lottes. And they sat and watched hym ther. And they set vp ouer hys head the cause of his death wrytten. This is Iesus the kyng of the Iewes. And there were two theues crucified wth hym, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

He is rap-
ped on.

They that passed by reupled hym, wagging theyr heades, and sayng: Thou that destrodest the temple of God and buyldest it in thre dayes: saue thy selfe. Yf thou be the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse. Likewise also the hye priestes mockyng hym wth the scribes and elders sayed. He saued other, hym selfe he cannot saue. Yf he be the kyng of Israell, let him nowe come downe from the crosse, and we wyl beleue him. He trusted in God let him deliuer him now, if he wyl, haue him: for he sayd I am the sonne of god. That same also the theues which were crucified with him cast in hys teth.

Isal. xli. a

From the syrte houre was the darckenes ouer al the land vnto the ninth houre.
And aboute the nynt houre Iesus cryed
with a lowd voyce, sayng: Eli Eli Lama

Sabathanne. That is to saye, my God my God, why haste thou forsaken me? Some of them that stode there, when they hearde that, sayed. This man calleth for Helias.
And straight way one of the ran and toke a sponge and fylled it ful of vineger, and put it on a reed, and gaue him to dryncke.
Other sayed, let be: let vs se whether Heli-as wyl come and deliuer hym. Iesus cryed agayne wth a lowde voyce, and yelded hyt the gost.

He getteth
hyt the gost

And beholde the vaple of the temple dyd rente in twayne from the top to the bot-tome, and the earth dyd quake, and rocks
dyd rent, and graues dyd open, and the bodies of many sayntes whiche slepte alose
and came out of the graues after hys resurreccion: and came into the holy Cytie, and appered vnto man.

The vaple
renteth.
Each bodi
dies ryle.

When the Centurian and they that wet wth hym watchynge Iesus, sawe the earth quake and those thyngs whiche happened, they feared greatly, sayng: Of a suertye this was the sonne of God.

And manie women were there, beholdynge hym a farr of, whiche folowed Jesus from Galile, ministerynge vnto hym.
Amonge whiche was Marye Magdalen
and Marye the mother of James and Jo-ses, and the mother of Iebedees children.

When the euen was come, there came a ryche man of Aramathea, named Ioseph, whiche same also was Iesus Disciple. He wente to Pilate and begged the bodye of Iesus. When Pilate commaunded the bo-dye to be deliuered And Ioseph toke the
bodye, & wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth and put it in hys new tombe: whiche he had hewen out euen in the rocke, and rolled a great stone to the dore of the sepulchre and departed. And there was Marye Magdalene and the other Marye spytinge ouer a-gaynst the sepulchre.

Mat. xv. b
Luk. xii. g.
Thon. xii. g

The nexte day that foloweth good fridaye the hye priestes and pharisees got them selues to Pilate and sayed. Sir, we remember that this deceuer sayd, wyle
he was yet a lyue: After thre dayes I wyl arise agayne. Commaunde therefore that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the thirde day, lest peraduenture hys Disciples cun-
and steale hym awaye, and saye vnto the people, he is ryisen from death: and the last errore be worse then the fyrste. Pilate sayed vnto them. Take watch men: Go, and make it as sure as ye can. And they wente
and made the sepulchre sure with watche men, & sealed the stone.

He is buried.

He is watched for spug again

The Notes.

(a) This repentance of Judas was great, for it caused hym to hange hym selfe: but it was not accepted, because it lacked fayth in Christ. Whiche he shoulde haue caused hym to hope for remission and forgiveness of hys faultes.

Bar g hym
selfe.

(b) A wonderfull matter. The outward obseruation of the lawe late so highly in theyr concrence, that they woulde not put the money whiche they had byered the traytoure wthall, into the

Price of
bloude.

Barrabas. Pilate sayed vnto them: what shal I do then wpth Iesus which is called Christ? They al sayed vnto hym, let hym be crucified. Then sayed the debite: what euel hath he doen? And they cryed the more sayng: let him be crucified.

His Judge
confesseth
hym an in-
nocente.

When Pilate sawe that he preuailed no
thyng, but that more busynes was made,
he toke water and washed hys handes before the people, sayng: I am innocent of
the bloude of this iust personne, on poure parell be it. Then answered all the people and sayde: hys bloude be on vs, and on our chyldren. Then let he Barrabas lewe vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deli-uered hym to be crucified.

He is scour-
ged.

Then the souldiers of the debite tooke Iesus to the comen hal, and gathered to
hym all the compaigne. And they strypped hym, and putte on hym a purple robe, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on
hys heade, and a reed in his ryghte hande,
and bowed theyr knees before hym & mocked hym, sayng: haille kyng of the Ie-
wes. and spytte vpon hym and tooke the reed and smote hym on the heade.

Mat. xv. b.
Thon. xii. a
He is crow-
ned.

And when they hadde mocked hym, they
toke the robe of hym agayne, and put hys
owne rayment on hym, and led hym away
to crucify hym. And as they came out, they found a man of Spren named Simon: hym they compelled to beare hys crosse. And wher they came vnto the place, called Golgotha that is to say, a place of deade mes-
sculles they gaue hym vineger to dryncke myngled wth gall. And when he had tasted therof, he would not dryncke.

Mat. xv. b.
Luk. xiii. b
He dryn-
keth vine-
ger & gall.
Thon. xii. f.
He is cruci-
fied.

When they had crucified hym, they parted hys garments, and dyd cast lottes, to
fulfyll that was spoken by the prophete:
They deuidd my garments among the,
and vpon my vesture dyd cast lottes. And they sat and watched hym ther. And they set vp ouer hys head the cause of his death wrytten. This is Iesus the kyng of the Iewes. And there were two theues crucified wth hym, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

He is rap-
led on.

They that passed by reupled hym, wagging theyr heades, and sayng: Thou that destrodest the temple of God and buyldest
it in thre dayes: saue thy selfe. Yf thou be the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse. Likewise also the hye priestes mockyng hym wth the scribes and elders sa-
yed. He saued other, hym selfe he cannot saue. Yf he be the kyng of Israell, let him nowe come downe from the crosse, and we wyl beleue him. He trusted in God let him deliuer him nowe, if he wyl, haue him: for he sayd I am the sonne of god. That same also the theues which were crucified with him cast in hys teth.

Isal. xli. a

From the syrtte houte was the darckenes ouer al the land vnto the ninth houre.
And aboute the nynt houre Iesus cryed
with a lowd voyce, sayng: Eli Eli Lama

Sabathanne. That is to saye, my God my God, why haste thou forsaken me? Some of them that stode there, when they hearde
that, sayed. This man calleth for Helias.
And straight way one of the ran and toke
a sponge and fylled it ful of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to dryncke.
Other sayed, let be: let vs se whether Heli-
as wyl come and deliuer hym. Iesus cryed agayne wth a lowde voyce, and yelded
hyt the gost.

He giveth
hyt the gost

And beholde the vaple of the temple dyd
rente in twayne from the top to the bot-
tome. and the earth dyd quake, and rocks
dyd rent, and graues dyd open, and the bodies of many sayntes whiche slepte alose
and came out of the graues after hys resurreccion: and came into the holy Cytie, and appered vnto man.

The vaple
renteth.
Each bodi
dies ryle.

When the Centurian and they that wet wth hym watchynge Iesus, sawe the earth quake and those thyngs whiche happened, they feared greatly, sayng: Of a suertye this was the sonne of God.

And manie women were there, beholdynge hym a farr of, whiche folowed Jesus from Galile, ministerynge vnto hym.
Amonge whiche was Marye Magdalen
and Marye the mother of James and Jo-
ses, and the mother of Iebedees children.

When the euen was come, there came a
ryche man of Aramathea, named Ioseph, whiche same also was Iesus Disciple. He wente to Pilate and begged the bodye of Iesus. Then Pilate commaunded the bo-dye to be deliuered. And Ioseph toke the
bodye, & wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth
and put it in hys new tombe: whiche he had hewen out euen in the rocke, and rolled a great stone to the dore of the sepulchre and
departed. And there was Marye Magdalene and the other Marye spytinge ouer a-gaynst the sepulchre.

Mat. xv. b
Luk. xiii. g.
Thon. xii. g

He is bur-
ied.

The nexte day that foloweth good fri-
daye the hye priestes and pharisees got them selues to Pilate and sayed. Sir, we remember that this deceuer sayd, wyle
he was yet a lyue: After thre dayes I wyl arise agayne. Commaunde therefore that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the thirde
day, lest peraduenture hys Disciples cun-
and steale hym awaye, and saye vnto the people, he is risen from death: and the last erroure be worse then the fyrste. Pilate sayed vnto them. Take watch men: Go, and make it as sure as ye can. And they wente
and made the sepulchre sure with watche
men, & sealed the stone.

He is watched for spug again

The Notes.

(a) This repentance of Judas was great, for it caused hym to hange hym selfe: but it was not accepted, because it lacked fayth in Christ. Whiche
he shoulde haue caused hym to hope for remission and forgiveness of hys faulte.

Bar g hym
selfe.

(b) A wonderfull matter. The outward obseruation of the lawe late so highly in theyr concrence, that they woulde not put the money whiche they had byered the traytoure wthall, into the

Price of
bloude.

The Gospel

treasure. But the promysse of the innocentes dearely troubled them not at all. & eue every man searche his own conscience and se whether there be not many lyke questions in these our dayes.

The xxviii. Chapter.

The Angell sheweth vnto the Maryes, that Christ is risen from death. The Jewes go about to dashen his resurrection by giftes and lyes. Christ speaking with his disciples in Galile, putteth them in trust wryth preaching of the Gospel.

Mat. xvi. a
Thon. xx. c.
Lu. xxi. a

In the Saboth day at euen whiche dauneth the morow after the Saboth, Marpe Magdalene and the other Marpe came to se the sepulchre. And beholde ther was a great earthquake. For the angell of the Lorde descended from heauen: and came and rowled backe the stone from the doore, and sat vpon it. His countenance was lyke lightynge, and his rayment whyle as snowe. And for feare of hym the keepers were astonied, and became as deademen.

Mat. xvi. b
Lu. xxi. a

The angell answered and said to the women: feare ye not. I knowe that ye seke Jesus which was crucified: he (b) is not here: he is risen as he sayd. Come and se the place where the Lorde was put, and go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from death. And beholde, he wyl goe before you into Galile, ther ye shal se him. Lo, I haue told you.

Mat. xvi. b
Lu. xxi. a

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre wryth feare and great ioye: and did runne to bringe his disciples worde. And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Jesus meete them, sayinge: all haille. And they came and helde him by the feete, and worshipped hym. Then sayde Jesus to them: be not astrapd. Goe and tell my brethren that they go into Galile, and there shal they se me.

When they were gone, beholde some of the keepers came into the cite, and shewed vnto the hye priestes all the thynges that were happened. And they gathered them together with the elders, and toke counsell and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, sayinge: Saye that his disciples came by night, and stole him away while ye slept: and if this come too the rulers eares, wee wyl peace him, and saue you harmles. And they toke the money, and did as they were taught. And this sayinge is noised amonge the Jewes vnto this daye.

Mat. xvi. c
Al power.
Tho. xvi. a

Then the eleuen disciples wente awaye into Galile, into a mountayne wher Jesus hadde appoynted them. And when they sawe him, they worshipped him. But some of them doubted. And Jesus came and spake vnto them, sayinge: all power is gauen vnto me in heauen and earth. Therefore and teache al nacions, baptysing them in the name of the father, & the sonne and the holpe ghost: teaching them to obserue all thynges whatsoeuer I commaunded you. And lo (c) I am wryth you alwaye, euen vntill the ende of the world.

of S. Mathew.

The Notes.

(a) Here note, that the Jewes Saboth, was that daye which we call Easter euen, and oure good Fridaye was the daye of preparing. And the daye after the Saboth, was oure Easter daye.

(b) This is spoken of his bodelye presence for his diuine presence, was, is, and shal be, there, here, and in all places. But as Saynt Augu-
He is not here.
In the Epistle to dardanus
I am wryth
you.

(c) This bringe with his, is not as the Papists haue saied in the Sacrament of the altare, but by the assistance of his spirite, euen as he sayd. Where two or thye are gathered together in my name, there am I in the myddell of them.

There endeth the Gospel of Saynt Mathew.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospel of Saynt Marke.

For Marke we read Act. xii. how Peter after he came out of prison by the angell, came to Mar-
his mother's house, where manye of the disciples were prayinge for his deliuerance. And Paul and Barnabas toke him with them from Hierusalem, and brought h into Antioche. Act. xii. And Act. xiii. Paul & Barnabas toke Marke with them when they were sent to preach: fro whom he also departed, as it appereth in the sayde chappier, and returned to Hierusalem againe. And Act. xv. Paul and Barnabas were at variaunce about him: Paul not willinge to take him wryth them, because he forsooke them in their firste iourney. Notwithstandynge yet, when Paul wrote the Epistle to the Colossians, Marke was wryth him as he saith in the fourth chapter, of whom Paul also telleth speyly how that he was Barnabas sisters sonne, and also his felowe worker in the kingdome of God. And 11. Timothe. Paul commaundeth Timothe to bringe Marke wryth hym, assuryng that he was needefull to hym, to mynyster to hym.

Finallye, he was also wryth Peter when he wrote his firste Epistle, and so saith that Peter called him his son. Whereof ye le, of who he learned his Gospel, euen of the verbe Apostles, with who he had his continual conuersation, and also of what authortie his writinge is, and how worthy of credence.

The

The Gospel

treasure. But the promysse of the innocentes dearely troubled them not at all. & eue every man searche his own conscience and se whether there be not many lyke questions in these our dayes.

The xxviii. Chapter.

The Angell sheweth vnto the Maryes, that Christ is risen from death. The Jewes go about to barten his resurrection by giftes and lyes. Christ speaking with his disciples in Galile, putteth them in trust wryth preaching of the Gospel.

Mat. xvi. a
Thon. xx. c.
Lu. xxi. a

IN the Saboth day at euen whiche dauneth the morow after the Saboth, Marpe Magdalene and the other Marpe came to se the sepulchre. And beholde ther was a great earthquake. For the angell of the Lorde descended from heauen: and came and rowled backe the stone from the doore, and sat vpon it. His countenance was lyke lightynge, and his rayment whyle as snowe. And for feare of hym the keepers were alymped, and became as deademen.

Mat. xvi. b
Lu. xxi. a

The angell answered and said to the women: feare ye not. I knowe that ye seke Jesus which was crucified: he (b) is not here: he is risen as he sayd. Come and se the place where the Lorde was put, and go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from death. And beholde, he wyl goe before you into Galile, ther ye shal se him. Lo, I haue told you.

Mat. xvi. b
Lu. xxi. a

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre wryth feare and great ioye: and did runne to bringe his disciples worde. And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Jesus meete them, sayinge: all haille. And they came and helde him by the feete, and worshipped hym. Then sayde Jesus to them: be not alympd. Go and tell my brethren that they go into Galile, and there shal they se me.

When they were gone, beholde some of the keepers came into the cite, and shewed vnto the hye priestes all the thynges that were happened. And they gathered them together with the elders, and toke counsell and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, sayinge: Saye that his disciples came by night, and stole him away while ye slept: and if this come too the rulers eares, wee wyl peace him, and saue you harmles. And they toke the money, and did as they were taught. And this sayinge is noised amonge the Jewes vnto this daye.

Mat. xvi. c
Al power.
Tho. xvi. a

Then the eleuen disciples wente awaye into Galile, into a mountayne wher Jesus hadde appoynted them. And when they sawe him, they worshipped him. But some of them doubted. And Jesus came and spake vnto them, sayinge: all power is gauen vnto me in heauen and earth. Therefore and teache al nacjous, baptysing them in the name of the father, & the sonne and the holpe ghost: teaching them to obserue all thynges whatsoeuer I commaunded you. And lo (c) I am wryth you alwaye, euen vntill the ende of the world.

of S. Mathew.

The Notes.

(a) Here note, that the Jewes Saboth, was that daye which we call Easter euen, and oure good Fridaye was the daye of preparing. And the daye after the Saboth, was oure Easter daye.

(b) This is spoken of his bodelye presence for his diuine presence, was, is, and shal be, there, here, and in all places. But as Saynt Augu-
He is not here.
In the Epistle to
dardanus
I am wryth
you.

(c) This bringe with his, is not as the Papists haue saied in the Sacrament of the altare, but by the assistance of his spirite, euen as he sayd. Where two or thye are gathered together in my name, there am I in the myddell of them.

There endeth the Gospel of Saynt Mathew.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospel of Saynt Marke.

For Marke we read Act. xii. how Peter after he came out of prison by the angell, came to Mar-
his mother's house, where manye of the disciples were prayinge for his deliuerance. And Paul and Barnabas toke him with them from Hierusalem, and brought h into Antioche. Act. xii. And Act. xiii. Paul & Barnabas toke Marke with them when they were sent to preach: fro whom he also departed, as it appereth in the sayde chappier, and returned to Hierusalem agayne. And Act. xv. Paul and Barnabas were at variaunce about him: Paul not willinge to take him wryth them, because he forsooke them in their firste iourney. Notwithstandynge yet, when Paul wrote the Epistle to the Colossians, Marke was wryth him as he saith in the fourth chapter, of whom Paul also telleth spech both that he was Barnabas sisters sonne, and also his felowe worker in the kingdome of God. And 11. Timothe. Paul commaundeth Timothe to bringe Marke wryth hym, assuryng that he was needefull to hym, to mynyster to hym.

Finallye, he was also wryth Peter when he wrote his firste Epistle, and so saith that Peter called him his son. Whereof ye le, of who he learned his Gospel, euen of the verbe Apostles, with who he had his continual conuersation, and also of what authoryte his writinge is, and how worthy of credence.

The

The Gospell The Gospell of of Saynt Marke.

of S. Marke. Fo. xix.

The first Chapter.

In the beginning his Gospell at John, but firste speaketh of his Baptisme and preaching. And Christ when he was baptised of him, called his disciples and beginneth the office of preaching: he deliuereth him that was vexed with the deui from the euill spirit, and Peters mother in lawe from the aken. Lyke power he vied thowowe ouer all Galyle, where he also healed the Leper.

Mat. iii. a.
Luke. iii. a.

He beginnynge of the Gospell of Iesu Christ, the sonne of God, as it is wrytten in the prophetes: beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

Isay. xl. a.
Jhon. i. c.

For the voice of a crier in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his pathes straight.

Jhon baptised.
Mat. iii. a.

Jhon did baptise in the wilderness, and preached the baptisme of repentance for the remission of synnes. And all the lande of Iude, and they of Ierusalem went out vnto hym, and were all baptised of hym in the ruer Iordane, confessynge theyr synnes.

Math. iii. a.
Jhon. i. b.

Jhon was clothed with Cammels haire, and with a girdell of a skynne aboute his loines. And he dyd eate locustes, and wilde honey, and preached, sayinge: a stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to stoupe downe and vnlose. I haue baptised you wpth water: but he shall baptise you with (a) the holpe ghest. &

And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazareth, a cite of Galile, and was baptised of John in Jordan. And as soon as he was come out of the water, (b) Jhon sawe heauen open, and the holpe ghest descendynge vpon hym lyke a doue. And there came a voice from heauen: Thou art my deare sonne in whom I delight.

Mat. iii. a.
Luke. iii. b

And immediatly the spiryte draue him into wilderness, and he was ther in the wilderness. xl. dayes, and was tempted of Satan, and was wpth wilde bestes. And the angels ministered vnto him.

Mat. iii. a.
Luke. iii. a.
Jhon. i. b

After Jhon was taken, Iesus came into Galile, preachinge the Gospell of the kingdome of God, and sayinge: the tyme is come, and the kyngdome of God is at hand, repent and beleue the Gospell.

Mat. iii. b
Luke. iii. e
Jhon. i. c
Mat. iii. c
Luke. v. a.

And as he walked by the sea of Galile, he sawe Simon and Andrew, his brother, casting nettes into the sea, for they were fishers. And Iesus sayd vnto them: folowe me, and I will make you fishers of men. And straightwaye they forsoke theyr nettes, and folowed hym.

Simon
Andrew.

And when he had gone a litle further hence, he sawe James the sonne of zebede, and John his brother, euen as they were in the shyppe mending their nettes. And anon he called them. And they left their father zebede in the shyppe wpth his hyred seruantes, and went their way after him.

James &
John.

And they entered into Capernaum: and straightwaye on the Saboth dayes, he entered into the synagoge and taught, & they marueyled at his learning. For he taught them as one that had power with him, and not as the scribes.

Luke. xiii. c

And there was in theyr synagoge a man vexed with an vncleane spyte, that cryed, sayinge: let be, what haue we to do with thee thou Iesus of Nazareth? arte thou come to destroy vs? I knowe the what thou arte, even that helpe of God. And Iesus rebuked hym, sayinge: hold thy peace, and come out of hym. And the vncleane spyte fare hym, and cryed with a loude voice, and came out of hym. And they were all amazed, in so muche that they demaunded one of another amonge themselves, sayinge: what thyng is this? what newe doctryn is this? For he commaundeth the foule spyte wpth power, and they obey hym. And immediatlye his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

The vn-
cleane spite is cast
oute.

And forth with, as soon as they were come out of the synagoge, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, wpth James and John, and Simons mother in lawe laye speke of a feuer. And anon they tolde him of hit. And he came and toke hit by the hand & lift hit vp, and the feuer for-

Mat. viii. d.
Luke. ix. f
Simons
mother in lawe.

Dodd. ii. soke

The Gospel

Of S. Marke.

toke hit by and by: and he ministered vnto them.

D And at euen when the sunne was down, they brought to him all that were dysseased, and them that were possessed with deuils. And all the cite gathered together at the doore, and he healed many that were speke of diuers diseases. And he cast out manie deuils, & suffered not the deuils to speake, because they knew hym.

And in one morning very early, Jesus arose and went out into a solitarie place, & there prayed. And Simon & they that were with him, folowed after hym. And when they had founde hym, they sayd vnto him: all men seke for thee. And he sayd vnto the: let vs go into the next townes, that I may preache there also: for truly I came oute for that purpose. And he preached in theyr synagogues throughout all Galile, & caste the deuils out.

E And ther came a leper to him, beseeching hym and kneled downe vnto him, and said to hym: if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane. And Jesus had compassion on hym, and put forth his hande, touched hym, and sayed to him: I will, be thou cleane. And as sone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosy departed from hym, and he was cleane. And he charged hym, and sent hym away forth with, and sayde vnto him: See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence & shew thy selfe to the priest, & offer for thy cleansing those thinges which Moyses commaunded, for a testimonial vnto the. But he (as sone as he departed, beganne to tell many thinges, and to publyshe & dede in so muche, that Jesus coulde no more openly enter into the cite, but was wthout in desert places. And they came to him from every quarter.

The Notes.

The holpe
ghost.

(a) To baptise with the holpe Ghost, is too worke that thyng inwardly, that the baptysme in water doth synnys, that is to purge the soul thow sayth in Chyrties bloude.

Heauen
open.

(b) Notwithstandyng that John saw the cloudes open, and the holpe ghost descendyng in the lykenesse of a dove, and so resting vpon Chyrt, yet is there an other thyng to be noted in this opening of the heauen. That is, that he had manifest knowledge of the Godhede of Chyrt, and was fullye certeyned, that it was euen he, that was sente of God to be the Sauoure of all that shoulde beleue in hym. As it is in Ezechiel. i. a

Howe doctrine.

(c) Here mayest thou perceyue Christian reader of what synnys they be, that be so sore offended wth the Gospel, callynge it new doctrine. For sothe euen the spirit of ignorance, as they were that synne gaue it the name. For hadde they knowen the scriptures, they woulde haue sayd, this is the doctrine that was spoken of by the Prophetes these manie hundred yeres sence.

The ii. Chapter.

Chyrt deliuered hym that was sicke of the palsey both from his synne and his synnes. He toynd Mathewe to his dysciples. He shewed the cause of his commynge to the Jewes that murmured. He correcteth the to muche and counterfayte religion of fastynge. He defendeth his dysciples that were accused for breakyng the Saboth daye by the example of Dauid.

After a few dayes, he entered into Capernaum agayne, and it was noyed that he was in a house. And anon many gathered together, in so muche that now there was no rounne to receiue them: no, not so much as about the doore. And he preached the word vnto them. And there came vnto him that broughte one sicke of the palsey, borne of four men. And because they coulde not come nye to him for preace, they vncouered the rofe of the house where he was. And when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed wherin the sicke of the palsey laye. When Jesus sawe their fayth, he sayed to the sicke of the palsey: Sonne thy synnes are forgiven the.

And there were certayne of the Scribes sittynge ther, and reasonynge in their hartes: howe doth this felowe so blasphem? Who can forgive synnes, but God onely? And immediatly when Jesus perceyued in his spirit, that they so reasoned in them selues, he said vnto them: whye thinke ye suche thynges in your hartes? Whether is it easer to saye to the sicke of the palsey, thy synnes are forgiven the: or to saye, arise take vp thy bed, and walke? That ye maye knowe that the sonne of man hath power in earth to forgive synnes, he spake vnto the sicke of the palsey: I saye vnto the, arise, and take vp the bedde, and gette thee hence into thine own house: and by & by he arose, toke vp the bed, and went forth before them all: in so much that they were amazed, and glorified God, sayynge: we neuer saw it on this fashion.

And he went agayne vnto the sea, and all & people resorted vnto him, & he taught them. And as Jesus passed by, he saw Leuphe sonne of Alphaei syt at the reterte of custome, and sayed vnto hym: folowe me. And he arose and folowed him. And it came to passe, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and synners came at meat also with Jesus and his disciples. Forther were manie that folowed hym. And when the Scribes and pharisees sawe him eate wth publicans and synners they sayed vnto his disciples: how is it that he eateth and drynketh wth publicans and synners? When Jesus heard that, he sayd vnto them: The whole haue no neede of the physicion, but the sicke. & I came not to call the ryghteous, but the synners to repentance.

And the disciples of John and the pharisees drd faste: and therefore came and sayed vnto hym. Whye do the disciples of John and of the pharisees fast, and thy disciples fast not? And Jesus sayd vnto the: can

Mar. ix. 8.
Luk. v. 6

Palsey.

Ca. xlii. c
and. xl. li. d
Luk. v. 6.

The byssi-ble miracle a signe
of the misible power.
Mat. xii. 8
Luk. v. 6

John. v. 6.

Mar. ix. 8.

Publicans
& synners eat wth Chyrt.

Mat. xlii. b
Luk. v. 6.

Thydis disciples
fast not.

Can the chylidren of a weddinge fast, whiles the bydegrome is wpth the? As long as they haue the bydegrome wpth them, they cannot fast. But the dayes wpll come whē the bydegrome shalbe taken from the, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

Newe and old agree
not.

Also no manne soweth a ppeece of newe cloth vnto an olde garmente, for then tak-eth he awaye the newe peece from the old and so is the rente worse. In like wise, no man pouret h newe wyne into olde vessels: for if he doo, the newe wyne breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are marred. But new wine must be poured into newe vessels.

Mat. xii. a.
Luk. vi. a.
Ther pluck peares on the saboth
day.

And it chaunced that he wente thorow the corn: fieldes on the sabboth day: and hys disciples as they went on theyr way, began to plucke the eares of Corne. And the Pharises sayd vnto hym: beholde why do they on the Saboth dayes that whiche is not lawful? And he sayed to them: haue ye neuer red what Dauid did when he had need e, and was an hongred, bothe he and they that were wpth hym? Howe he wente into the house of God in the daies of Abiathar the hys puerle, and dyd eate the halowed loues, whiche is lawful to eate but for the puerles onely: and gaue also to the whiche were wpth hym? And he sayed too them: the Saboth daye was made (a) for man, and not man for the Sabboth daye.
Wherfore the sonne of man is Lord euen of the sabboth daye.

1. Re. xii. b.
the saboth
was made for man.

Thys is Lord ouer
the saboth

The Notes.

(a) He who would say, man is not so bounde to the outward obseruation of the Saboth, that he maye in no case breake it, but that vpon necessary considerations, he maye do thynges forbyd-den to be done as then.

The.iii. Chapter

Christ healed vpon the sabboth day h m that had his hande dyed bp, and escaped the han-des of the that conspired agaynst hym: a great companye folowe hym, of the whiche he de-liuered manye from diuers dyscales and de-uils. He gat hym. xii. Disciples. When the Phariseys sayd that he caste out deuils by Beelzebub, he made them an answer, and he shewed who were hys byrthyen.

Mat. xii. a.
Lu. vi. a.
Withered
hand.

And he entred agayne into the Na-gogge, & there was a man there whych had a withered hande.
And they watched hym to se whē they would heale hym on the Saboth day, that they myght accuse hym.
And he sayed vnto the man whych had the wpyddered hand: arise and stand in the mid-des. And he sayd to them: whether is it lawful to do a good dede on the saboth dayes, or an euill? to saue lyfe or kyll? But they healde their peace. And he looked rounde about on them angerly: mourning on the blindnes of theyr heartes, and sayed to the manne: stretch forth thyne hande. And he stretched it out. And hys hand was retoyred euen as whole as the other.

Mat. xii. b.
Lu. vi. b.
11. re. xii. c
Mat. xii. b.

And the Pharises departed and straight waye gathered a counsell wpth them that beloged to Herode agaynst hym, that they myghte destroye hym. And Iesus asseynded wpth hys Disciples to the sea. And a great multitude folowed hym from Galyle, and from Turpe, and from Hierusalem, & from Idumea, and from beyonde Iordan, and they that dwelled about Tyre and Sydon a greate multitude: whiche when they had herde what thynges he dyd, came vnto hym.

Mat. xii. b
Luk. vi. c
Ihon. vi. a

And he commaunded hys disciples that a Wypp should wayte on hym, because of the people: lest they shoulde thronge hym. For he had healed many, in so muche that they pressed vpon hym, for to touche hym, as many as had plagues. And whē the vnclene spirates sawe (a) hym, they fell downe before hym, and cryed sayinge: thou arte the sonne of God. And he straghtly charged them that they shoulde not vtter hym.

And he went vp into a mountayne, and called vnto hym whom he would, and they came vnto hym. And he ordayned the. xii. that they shoulde be wpth him, and that he myght send the to preach, that they might haue power to heale sykneses, and to cast out deuyls. And he gaue Symon to name Peter. And he called James the sonne of zebede and Ihon James brother, and gaue them Bonarges to name, whiche is to saue the sonnes of thunder. And Andrew, and Philippe, and Bartelmew, and Mattheu, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Al-phey, and Laddeus, and Symon of Cane, and Judas Iscariot, whiche same also betrayed hym.

Mat. x. a.
Luk. vi. d
The apostles at chosen.

And they came into a house, and the people assembled together agayne, so greatly that they had not leasure so muche as to eate breade: And when they that longed vnto hym hearde of it, they wente oute to holde hym. For they thoughte he had bene besyde hym selfe. And the scribes whiche came from Ierusalem, said: he hath Beelzebub: and by the power of the chyefe deuill casteth out deuils. And he called the vnto hym, and sayd vnto the in similitude.

Mat. x. e.
Lu. xi. b.

How can Satan dyscuss out Satan? For if a realme be deuided agaynst it selfe, that realme can not endure. Or if a house be deuyded agaynst it selfe, that house cannot contynue. So if Sathan make insurreccion agaynst hym selfe, and be deuoyded, he can not contynue, but is at an end. No man can enter into a strong mans house & take awaye hys goods: except he fynd bynd that stronge man, and then spople hys house.
Verely I saye vnto you, all synnes shalbe forguen vnto mens chylidren and blasphemie my wherwith they blaspheme. But he that blasphemeth the holi gost, shall neuer haue forguenes, but is in daunger of eternal damnacion, because they sayde: he had an vnclene spire.

Mat. xii. a.
Luk. xi. b
The synne
agaynst the holi gost.

Then came hys Mother and hys byr-thyen.

Wodd. iii.

Mat. xiii. a. And he stode wpythout and sent vnto hym Luk. viii. b. and called hym. And the people sate about his mo- him, and sayed vnto hym: beholde thy mother and thy brydhe seke for the wpythout. ther se- And he answered them sayyng: who is my keth hym. mother and my brethren? And he looked rounde about on hys Dysciples, whiche sate in compasse aboute hym, and said. behold my mother and my brethren. For who soeuer doth the wyl of God, he is my brother, my sister, and mother.

The Notes.

Uncleane (a) Here are the men possessed with uncleane spirites. spirites, called uncleane spirites. For it were saw chust. the men that sawe Christe, and fell downe before hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

The power of Gods worde, and howe it is to be hearde, he declareth the parable of the seede and exhorteth to diligence, to whych he soyne the similitude of the greyne of muster. And he appalled the floure of the sea, by his deuine power.

Mat. xiii. a. And he began agayne to teache by the sea syde. And there gathered together vnto hym muche people, so greatly that he entred into the shyp, * and sate in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the shore.
 And he taughte them many thynges in sy-mulitudes: and sayed vnto them in hys doctrine. Beholde. * There went out a sower to sow. And it fortuned as he sowed, that some fell by the wayes syde, and the fowles of the ayre came and deuoured it vp. Some fel on stonpe grounde, where it had not much earth, and by & by spronge vp because it had not depth of earth, but as sone as the sunne was vpe, it caughte heate, and because it had no rotyng. widdered away. And some fel among the thoz-nes, and the thornes grewe vp and choked it, so that it gaue no fruite. And some fell vpon good grounde, and dodyde fruite, some thyrtye folde, some fyrtye fould, and some an hundred folde. And he sayed vnto them. He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare. f.

Sower. And when he was alone, they that were aboute hym wpyth the mared hym of the similitude. & he sayed vnto them: & pou it is geuen to know the myserie of the kyngdome of God. But vnto them that are wout that al thynges be done in similitudes:
 that when they se, they shall se, and not discerne: and when they * heare, they shall heare, and not vnderstand: lest at any tyme they shoulde tourne, and their synnes shuld be forgiven them, and he sayd vnto them: perceyue ye not this similitude? how the shoulde ye vnderstande all other simili-tudes?

The sower soweth the worde, and they that are by the wayes syde, wher the word is sowne, are they to whom as sone as they haue hearde it, Sathan cometh immediately, and taketh awape the worde that was sowne in thei heartes. And lykewise they that are sowne on the stonpe grounde are they whiche when they haue herde the worde, at once receyue it wpyth gladnes, yet haue no rootes in them selues: and so endure but a tyme, and anone as trouble and persecucion ariseth for the woordes sake, they fall immediatly. And they that are so-wen among the thornes are such as heare the worde, and the cares of this worlde, and the dysceitfulnes of ryches, and the lustes of other thynges, enter in and choke the worde: and it is made vnfertyll. And those that wer: sowne in good grounde, are they that heare the worde and receyue it, and brynge forth fruite, some thyrtye folde, and some fyrtye folde, some an hundred fold.

And he sayed vnto thei: is the candell lyghted to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table, and not rather to be put on a candle? For there is no thyng so pryue that shall not be opened: neyther so secret, but that it shall come abroad. If anye man haue eares to heare, let hym heare. And he sayed vnto them: take hede what ye heare.
 Wpyth what measure ye mete, wpyth the same shall it be measured vnto you agayn.
 And vnto pou that heare shall more be geuen. * For vnto hym that hath, shall it be geuen: & from hym that hath not, shall be taken away, even that he hath.

And he sayde. so is the kyngdome of god euen as if a man shoulde sowe seede in the grounde and shoulde sleepe and ryse vpe nyghte and day, and the seede shoulde spring and growe vp, he not ware. For the earth bryngeth forth fruite of her selfe: first the blade, the eares, after that, ful come in the eares. And as sone as fruite is brought forth anon he thrusteth in the sickel, because the heruest is come.

And he sayed, where vnto that we lyken the kyngdom of God: or wpyth what comparison shall we compare it? It is lyke a greyne of mustarde seede, whych when it is sowne in the earth, is the lest of all seedes be in the earth, but after that it is sowne it groweth vp & is greater of all herbes and beareth great braches, so that the fowles of the ayre may dwell vnder the shadow of it.

And with many such similitudes he preached the word vnto thei: after as they might heare it. And wpythout similitude spake he nothyng vnto thei. But when they were apart he expounded al thyngs to hys Disciples. And the same daye, when euen was come, he sayed vnto thei: Let vs passe over all vnto the other syde. And they lefte the people, and toke hym euen as he was in the shyp. And there were also wpyth hym other shyps.

And there arose a greete storme of wynd and dashed the waves into the shyp so that it was full. And he was in the sterne asleepe on a pillowe. And they awoke hym, and sayde to hym: Master carest thou not that wee perishe? And he rose vp and rebuked

Mat. v. b.
 Luk. viii. b
 Mat. x. a. c.
 Candel.

Measure
 A couenant to the & loue the worlde of God to win other with word
 and deede,
 and an other to the
 that loue
 it not, that it shall be their dys-
 struction.
 Mustarde
 seede.
 Mat. xiii. e
 Luk. xii. d

Mat. vii. d

Jesus sepeth in the shyp.

buked the wynde, and sayde vnto the sea: peace and be still. And the wynde alayed, & there folowed a great calme. And he sayde vnto them. Why are ye so fearfull? how is it that ye haue no fapth? And they feared exceedingly, and sayde one to another: What fellow is this: for both wynde and sea obey him?

The Notes.

¶ Into pou. (a) ¶ Into pou, that is vnto pou whiche are with out decepte, and are not curiose nor trust in a ny thyng that pertaineth to man, is giuen of my mercifull father of hys mercifull goodnes, to know the mystery that is the secret of the kingdome of God, that is of the Gospell, in whiche is taught the kingdome. Whiche is oure ryghteousnes, peace and ioye in the holpe ghost. But vnto them whiche are wythoute, that is, vnto such as be curiose, and trust more in theyrown workes, then in the righteounesse of Christ: are all thynges spoken in parables. That is, al that they heare is euen obscure and darke to them: as though they were in dede parables. (b) ¶ Into hym that hath. Look in Mathewe xxi. b.

The Chapter.

¶ Christ in the lande of the Gaderenites, cast out of a man possessed wth the deuyl, a legion of diuels. A woman that was loyered wth the bloudye flure, was holpen by the touchynge of hys garment. The daughter that was dead, at Chykses commaundement was reioyed vnto lyfe.

Gaderenites.

Mat. viii. d. Luk. viii. d.

AND they came ouer to the other syde of the sea into the country of the Gaderenites. And when he was come oute of the ship, furthwith there met him out of the graues, a man possessed of an vnclene spicite, which had his abyding among the graues. And no man could bynd hym, no nor wth chaines, because that when he was often bound wth fetters & chaines, he plucked the chaines asunder, and brake the fetters in peces. Nepther could any man tame him. And alwayes both night and daye he cryed in the mountaines and in the graues, and beat himselfe with stones. When he hadde spyed Iesus a far of, he ranne and (a) worshipped hym, and cried with a loud voyce, & sayed: what haue I to doo with the Iesus the sonne of the most hysell God? I requyte the in the name of God, & thou toyme me not. For he had said vnto hym: come out of the man thou foule spicite. And he aied him: what is thy name? And he answered, sayyng: my name is legion, for we are manye. And he prayed him instantly, that he wold not send them awaye out of the countrey.

Legion.

B And there was nye there vnto the mountayne a great herd of swyne feedynge, and all the deuils besought him, sayyng: sende vs into the heard of swyne, that wee maye enter into them. And anon Iesus gaue them leaue. And the vnclene spicites wet out and entred into the swyne. And the herd startled, and ran hedlynge into the sea.

Swyne.

They were about. ii. c. swyne, and they were drowned in the sea. And the swyne herds fled, & told it in the cite, & in the countrey. And they came out for to se what had happened: & came to Iesus, & saw him that was vered with the fiende, & had the legiō, spt both clothed and in his right mind: and were afraied. And they that sawe it, tolde the how it had happened to hym that was possessed with the deuill: and also of the swyne. And they began to praye hym, that he woulde departe from theyr coastes. And when he was come into the shippe, he that had the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him. Howbeit Iesus wold not suffer him, but said vnto him: go home into thyne owne house, and to thy frendes, and shewe them what great thynges the Worde hath done vnto the, and how he had compassion on the. And he departed, and began to publish in the ten cities what great thynges Iesus had done vnto hym, and al men dyd meruaile.

And when Iesus was come ouer agayn by ship vnto the other side, much people gathered vnto him, & he was nye vnto the sea. And behold, ther came one of the rulers of the Synagoges, whose name was Jairus: & when he saw him he fel doune at his fete, & besought him greatly, sayyng: my daughter lieth at pointe of death, I woulde thou wouldest come and lay thy hande on her, & she might be safe & liue. And he went wth hym, and muche people folowed hym, and thronged hym.

And there was a certayn woman, which was diseased of an pssue of bloude yee res, and had suffered many thynges of many physicians, & had spent al that she had, & felt none amendement at all, but wored worse & worse. Whē she had hearde of Iesus, she came into the pcece behinde hym, & touched his garmente. For she thought: if I maye but touche hys clothes, I shal be whole. And straightway hit fountayne of bloude was dyed vp, and she felt in hir bodye, that she was healed of the plage.

And Iesus immediatly felt in hym selfe the vertue that went out of him, and touched him round about in the pcece, & sayd: who touched my clothes? And his disciples sayed vnto him: seest thou the people thrust the, and yett aye who dyd touche me? And he looked roundabout, for to se hit that had done that thinge. The woman feared and trembled (for she knewe what was done within hir, and she came and fel doune before him, and tolde him the truth of euery thyng. And he sayed to hir: Doughter, thy fapth hath made the whole: go in peace, & be whole of thy plage.

Whyle he yett spake, there came from the rulers of the synagoges house, certayn whiche sayed: thy daughter is dead: whye diseasedst thou the Master any further? As sone as Iesus hearde that worde spoken, he said vnto the ruler of the Synagoge: be not afraied, only beleue. And he suffered no man to folow him mo the Peter & James, &

Ddd. iii. Jhon

Math. ix. c. Luk. viii. c. The rulers daughter.

Bloudye pssue.

The Gospell

John the brother of James. And he came vnto the house of the ruler of the sinagoge and saw the wondring, & them that wept, and wailed greatly, and went in and sayde vnto them: why make ye thus a do & wepe? The mayden is not dead, but slepeth. And they laught him to scorne. Then he putte them all oute, and toke the father and the mother of the mayden, and them that wer with him, and entered in wher the mayden laye, and toke the mayden by the hande, and said vnto hir: Tabitha cumi: which is by interpretation: mayden. I say vnto the arise. And straight the maiden arose, and went on hyr feete. For she was of the age of twelue yeres. And they were astonied at it oute of measure. And he charged them straitly, that no man should know of it, and commaunded to geue hir meat.

The Notes.

(a) Worshyppe here, is not to graue due honore that pertayneth vnto God, but such reuerence as pertayneth vnto men. As bowyng of knees, or making of curtesie.

The vi. Chapter.

Christ is despyed in hys owne country. He sendeth oute hys Apostles to preache. The death of John is desceybed. Certayne thousandes of men are fed with fyue loaves. Jesus sendyng hys disciples before by ship, followeth them walkyng vpon the waters, and ceaseth the tempest. Many sicke men are healed by touchyng of hys garment.

And he departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, and whē the Saboth day was come, he beganne to teache in the synagoge.

And many that heard him were astonished, and said: Fro whens hath he these thynges? and what wylsome is this that is geuen vnto hym, and such miracles that are wroughte by his handes? Is not this that carpenter Saries sonne, the brother of James and Ioses and of Juda and Symon? and are not his sisters here wth vs? And they were offended by him. And Jesus sayde vnto them: a prophet is not despyed but in his owne country, and amonge hys owne kynne, and among them that are of the same household. And he could ther shew no miracles, but laid his hands vpon a few syncke folke, and healed them. And he was vexed at their vnbeliefe. &

And he went aboute by the townes that lay on euery syde, teachyng: and he called the twelue, and began to sendethem, two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirites: and commaunded the that they should take nothinge vnto them. For nup (a) saue a rod only. Neither scappe, neyther bread, neither money in their purses: but shoulde be shooed with sandalles: and that they shoulde not put on two coates. And he said vnto them: whersoever ye enter into an house, there abide in tyll ye departe thence. And whosoever shall not receyue you, nor heare you: when ye departe thence, shake of the dust that is vnder your

of S. Marke.

feete, for a wytnes vnto them: I say verely vnto you, it shalbe easer for yodome and Gomor at the daye of iudgement, then for that cytie.

And they went oute and preached, that they shoulde repent: and they cast out many dyuelles. And they anointed many that were syncke wth ople, and healed them.

And kynge Herode heard of hym (for his name was spreade abroad) and sayd: John Baptiste is risen agayne from death, and therfore myracles are wrought by him. Other saide: it is Elias: and some sayd: it is a prophet or as one of the prophetes. But when Herode hearde of hym, he saide: it is John whom I beheaded, he is risen from death agayne.

& For Herode himselfe had sent forth and had taken John, and bound him and caste him into prison for Herodias sake whiche was hys brother Philips wife. For he had married hir. John sayd vnto Herode: It is not lawefull for the to haue thy brothers wife. Herodias laied waite for him, & wold haue kyllid him, but she could not. For Herode feared John, knowyng that he was a iust man and holpe, & gaue hym reuerence: and when he hearde him, he dyd many thynges, and heard him gladly.

But when a conuenient daye was come: Herode on his birth day made a supper to the Lordes, capitaines, and chiefe estates of Galyle. And the daughter of the sayd Herodias came in and daunced, and pleased Herode, and them that sate at bouche also. When the king sayd vnto the maiden: axe of me what thou wilt, and I wyl geue it the.

And he swore to her, whatsoeuer thou shalt axe of me, I will geue it the, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome. And she went forth and saide to hir mother: what shall I axe? And she saide: John Baptistes heade. And she came in straightway with hast vnto the kynge, and axed, sayyng: I will that thou geue me by and by in a charger the heade of John Baptist. And the kinge was sore, howe be it for his othys sake, and for their sakes whiche sate at supper also, he wold not put hir besyde her purpose. And immediatly the kynge sent the hangman, and commaunded his heade to be broughte in. And he went and beheaded him in prison, and brought his heade in a charger, and gaue it to the maiden, and the maiden gaue it to hir mother. And when his disciples heard of it, they came and toke by his body and put it in a tombe. &

And the Apostles gathered them selues together to Jesus, and tolde him all thynges, both what they hadde done, and what they had taught.

And he saide vnto them: Come ye aparte into the wilderness and reste a whyle. For there were many commers and goers, that they had no leasure so much as to eat. And he went by shippe oute of the way in-

Anoynte.

Ma. xiii. 5
Math. ix. 5

Ma. xiii. 5
Luke. xii. 5

D

John Baptiste is beheaded.

Ma. xiii. 5
Luke. ix. 5

Ma. xiii. 5
Luke. xii. 5

Carpenter.

A prophet is not honoured in hys owne countrey.

Math. x. 5
Luke. ix. 5

The apostles at sent forth.

Acto xiii. 5
Dust.

Mat. ix. d. to a desert place. But the people spied the when they departed, and many knew him, and came thither before them, and came together vnto him. And Jesus went out & sawe muche people, and had compassion on the, because they were like shepe which had no shepheard. And he began to teach them many thynges.

Mat. xii. d. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came vnto him saying: this is a desert place, and now the daye is farre passed, let them departe, that they may go into the countrey roundabout, and into the townes, and bye them bread, for they haue nothing to eate. He answered and said vnto them: giue ye them to eat. And they said vnto hym: Shall we go and bye u. l. penny worth of breade and giue them to eate? He sayed vnto them: howe many loaves haue ye? And loke And when they had searched they sayd: five and two fishes. And he commaunded them to make them all sitte doune by companies vpon the grene grasse.

Thon. vi. a. And they late doune here a rowe, and ther a rowe, by hundrethes, and fiftyes. And he toke the fyue loaves and the ii. fishes, and looked vnto heauen and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gaue them to his disciples to put before them, and the ii. fishes he deuided among them all. And they al dyd eat, and wer satisfied. And they toke by twelue baskettes full of the gobbettes and of the fishes. And they that ate were about fyue thousand men.

Mat. xiii. e. And straight way he caused his disciples to go into the ship, and to go ouer the water before vnto Bethsaida, whyle he sente awaye the people. And as sone as he hadde sent them awaye, he departed into a mountayne to praye.

Thon. vi. b. And when euen was come, the ship was in the middes of the sea, and he alone on the lande, and he sawe them troubled in rowyng, for the wind was contrary vnto the. And about the fourth quarter of the night he came vnto them walkyng vpon the sea, and woulde haue passed by them. When they sawe him walkyng vpon the sea, they supposed it hadde bene a spirit, and cryed out: for they all sawe him, and wer afraied. And anon he talked with them, and saide vnto them Be of good chere, it is I, be not afrayd. And he went by vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceased, and they were sore amased in theselues beyond measure, & inuenciled. For they remembred not of the loaves, because their hertes were blynded.

Jesus walketh on the sea And they came ouer & went into the lande of Genezareth, and dyd by into the haue. And as sone as they were come oute of the ship, straight they knewe hym, and ranne forth thorowout all the region roundabout, and began to cary about in beddes all that were speke, to the place where they hearde tell he was. And whether soeuer he entered into townes, cytyes, or byllages, they laid their speke in the stretes, and prayed him that they myght touche, and it was but the hemme of his vesture, and as many as touched him, wer safe. &

The Notes.

(a) In Mathew the. l. a. is sayd For a staffe. Rod of And in Luke the. ii. also, he shall scine to forbyd them a rodde, yet doth not the text meane to in dede. But so, byddeth, rote, mowes, rod, &c. by a figure, to the intent onelye, that they shoulde vterlye put from them all carefulesse of anye such prouision, as a scrip or any of the other, amonge which the staffe may be one, for almyche as it is a wepen of defence, wher the rod is but rather a token or a sygne of peace.

The vii. Chapter.

Christ rebuketh the Hypocrites which be holpe in outwarde thynges, and he sheweth what is true holpnes. After he deliuereth the daughter of the Synaghe from the deuyll, and by the miracle helpeyth the dumme and the deafe.

And the pharisees came togyther vnto him, and diuers of the Scribes whiche came from Ierusalem. And when they sawe certayne of his disciples eat bread with comen handes (that is to saye wth vnwaschen handes) they complayned. For the pharisees and all the Jewes, excepte they wase their handes oft, eat not: obseruing the traditions of the elders. And wher they come from the market, except they wase they eat not. And manye other thynges they be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washyng of cuppes, and cruces, and of brassen vessels, & of tables.

Then axed him the pharisees and Scribes, why walke not thy disciples according to the traditions of the elders, but eat bread with vnwaschen handes? He answered and sayed vnto them: well prophesied & sayd of pou hypocrites, as it is witen: This people honoureth me wth their lippes, but their harte is farre from me: In vayne they worshippe me, teachyng doctrine which are nothing but the commaundementes of men. For ye lay the commaundement of God apart, and obserue the traditions of men, as the washyng of cruces and of cuppes, and manye other suche lyke thynges ye do.

And he sayed vnto them: well, ye cast asyde the commaundementes of God to make your owne traditions. For Moyses sayed: Honour thy father and thy mother: and whosoer curseth father or mother, let him dye for it. But ye say: a man shall say to father or mother, Corban: whiche is, I thou despaynt me to heaule the wth, is geuen God. And so ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother, making the word of God of none effect, thow your owne traditions which ye haue ordayned. And manye such thynges ye do.

And he called all the people vnto him, and said to them: Harken to me euery one of you

Edge of hym.

Math. xv. a

Unwaschen handes.

Mens commaundementes.

13

Leuit. xx. b. Thou shalt say to father or mother, Corban.

That gospel him, despyeth not

The Gospell

of you and vnderstand: There is nothynge withoute a man that can despye him when it entred into hym: but those thyngs which procede out of him are those whych despye the man. If any man haue eares to hear let hym hear. And when he came into an house awaye from the people, hys disciples asked him of the similitude. And he said to them: Are ye so without vnderstandinge? Doo ye not yet perceiue, that whatsoeuer thyng come from without entred into a man, it canot despye hym, because it entred not into hys herte, but into his bealy: and goeth out in to draught that pourgeth out al meates?

That com
meth oute
of a man defileth.

And he said: that deileth a man which cometh out of a man. For from wythin, euen out of the hert of men, procede euill thoughtes, adulterie, fornication, murther, theft, couetousnes, wyckednes, decept, vn cleanenes, and a wicked eye, blasphemie, pnde, foli shes: all these euill thyngs come from wythin, and despye a man.

Math. v. c.

And from thence he arose and went in to the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen: but he coulde not be hydd. For a certayne woman whose daughter had a foule spirit, heard of hym: & came and fell at hys feete. The womanne was a Syrophenicia. She besought hym that he would cast out the deuyll oute of hir daughter. And Iesus sayd vnto her: Let the chyldren first be fedde. For it is not mete, to take the chyldrens breade, and to caste it vnto whelpes. She answered and sayed vnto him: euen so maister, neuertheless the whelpes also eate vnder the table of the chyldrens crummes. And he said vnto hir: for thys sayinge gooth y wape, the dyuell is gone oute of thy daughter. And when she was come home to hys house, she found the deuyll departed, and hir daughter lpyng on the bed.

Mat. xv. c.

And he departed agayn from the coastes of Tyre and Sidon, and came to the sea of Galilee thorow the myddell of the coastes of the ten cities. And they brought vnto hym one that was deafe and lambed in his speache: and prayed him to lay hys hand vpon hym. And he took him asyde from the people, and put hys fyrnges in hys eares, & did spit & touched his tongue, & looked vp to heauen & spghed & said vnto him: ephata, o is to saye be opened. And straightwape hys eares wer opened, & the string of his tongue was losed, & he spake plain. And he commaunded them that they should tel no man. But the more he forbad the, so much the more a great deale they published it: and were beyond measure astonysed, sayinge: He hath done all thynges well, and hath made both the deafe to heare, & the domme to speake.

The deafe
and dumb

Genes. l. v.
Eccl. x. x. c.

The viii Chapter.

With seven loaves are, six, or men filled. When he drew a syane to the Idhar sea, he bade them he ware of their leuen, he restored to the blynd man hys syght, he maketh the 3 pooles to confesse what he was, he shewed the before of his death, and warned all men to take the crosse, and folow hym.

Of S. Marke.

In those dayes when there was a very greate company and had nothing to eat, Iesus called his disciples to him and said vnto them: I haue compassyon on thys people, because they haue now bene with me thye dayes and haue nothynge to eat. And if I shoulde send them away fastynge to their own houses, they shoulde faint by the way. For diuers of them came fro farre. And hys disciples answered him: wher might a man haue bread here in the wilderness to satisfy these? And he asked them: how manye loaves haue ye? They sayd seven. And he commaunded the people to lytte downe on the grounde. And he toke 7 seven loaves, gaue thanks, brake, and gaue to his disciples, too sette before them. And they did sette them before the people. And they hadde a fewe small fyshes. And he blessed them, and commanded them also to be set before the. And they ate, and were suffised. And they toke vp of the broken meate that was left, seven baskets full. And they that ate wer in number about foure thousande. And he sent them awaye.

Mat. xv. d

Seven
loaves.

And anone entered into shippe with hys disciples, and came into the partes of Dalmanutha. And the pharises came forth & began to dispute with him, sekynge of hym a sygne from heauen and temptynge hym. And he spghed in hys spirit and sayed: why doeth thys generacion seke a sygne? Clearely I say vnto you, there shal no signe be geuen vnto this generacion. And he lette them, and went into the ship agayne, and departed ouer the water.

Mat. xvi. a
Luk. xii. g.

And they hadde forgotten to take bread with them, neyther had they in the shippe with them more then one loafe. And he charged them, sayinge.

Mat. xvi. a

Take hede of the leuen of the pharises, and of the leuen of Herode. And they reasoned among themselves, sayinge: we haue no breade. And when Iesus knew that, he sayed vnto them: why take ye thought, because ye haue no breade? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? Haue ye your hertes yet blynded? Haue ye eyes and se not? and haue ye eares and hear not? Doe ye not remember? When I brake 5 loaves among 5000 how many baskettes full of broken meate toke ye vp? They sayed vnto him, twelve. When I brake seven among foure 00, how many baskettes of the leuynges of broken meate toke ye vp? They sayed: seven. And he sayed vnto them: Howe is it that ye vnderstande not?

John. vi. b

And he came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blynde man vnto him, and desired him to touche him. And he caughte the blind by the hande, and lead him out of the town, and spat in hys eyes, & put his handes vpon him, and asked him whether he sawe ought. And he looked vp & said: I see the men for

Mat. xvi. d.
Luk. ix. c.

Cesarea
Philippi.

The passio

Peter is Sathan

mat. xvi. d.
Luk. ix. c.
Xpistis disciple.

Mat. x. d.
Luk. ix. c.

Mat. xvi. d.
Luk. ix. c.

for I se them walke, as they were steees. After that he put his handes agayne vpon his eyes, and made him se. And he was restored to his sight, and sawe euery thi-clearly. And he sent him home to his house sayinge: neyther go into the towne, nor tel it to any in the towne. And Iesus wente out and his disciples into the townes that longe to the citty called Cesarea philippi. And by the waye he asked his disciples say-punge: whom do men saye that I am? And they answered some saye that thou arte John Baptiste: some saye Helias, & some one of the prophetes. And he sayed vnto them: But whom saye ye that I am? Peter answered & sayed vnto hym: Thou art be-tpe Chrysie. And he charged them that they shoulde tell no man of hym. And he began to teache them, howe that the sonne of ma-must suffer many thynges, and shoulde be re-proued of the elders and of the priestes and scribes, and be kylled, and after three dayes rise agayne. And he spake that sayinge openly. And Peter toke hym asyde, and beganne to chide hym. Then he-toured aboute, and looked on his disciples and rebuked Peter sayinge: go after me Sathan: for thou sauerest not the thinges of God, but the thinges of men.

And he called the people vnto hym, with his disciples also, and sayed vnto them: Whoso euer will folowe me lette hym forsake hym selfe, and take vpon his crosse, and folowe me. For whoso euer will saue his lyfe shall lose it. But whoso euer shall lose his lyfe for my sake and the Gospells, the same shall saue it. What shall it profyte a man if he shoulde wyne all the world and lose his owne soule? What shall a manne geue to redeme his soule agayne? Whoso euer therefore shalbe ashamed of me and of my woordes, amonge thys aduoutours and synfull generacion, of hym shall the sonne of man be ashamed when he cometh in the glorie of his father with the holy Angells. And he sayd vnto them: Wherelpe I care vnto you: There be some of them that stande here, whiche shall not tast of death tyll they haue sene the kyngdome of God come wth power.

The ix. Chapter.

Christe is transfigured in the mount before his disciples, and sheweth who is Helias. He casteth out the dum spirite whiche his disciples coulde not do. He sheweth them agayne of his death, and he sheweth who shalbe the greatest amongest them, and byd-derth them beware of geuynge occasion to other to do euill.

mat. xvi. d.
Luk. ix. c.
Transfigu-
red.

And after .vi. dayes Iesus tooke Peter, James and John, & leade theym vpon into an hye mountapne out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before theym. And his raimente byd shyne, and was made very whyte euen as snow: so whyte as no fuller can make vpon the earth. And there appered vnto them Helias wth Moses

And they talked wth Iesu. And Peter answered and sayed to Iesu: Master here is a good helynge for vs, let vs make thre tabernacles, one for the, one for Moses, and another for Helias. And yet he wiste not what he sayed, for they were asrayed. And there was a cloude that shadowed the. And a voyce came out of the cloude, sayinge: This is my deare sonne, heare hym. And sodenly they looked toward about the & saw no man more then Iesus only wth them.

And as they came doune from the mte, he charged them that they shoulde tel no man what they had sene, tyll the sonne of man were risen from death agayne. And they kepte that sayinge wth them and remembred one of another what that sayinge signified death agayne shoulde meane. And they ared him saying. Why then say the scribes that Helias must first come? He answered and sayed vnto them: Helias verelpe shall first come & restore all thynges. And also the sonne of man as it is wyrtten, shall suffer many things, & shal be set at nought. Moreover I say vnto you, that Helias is come, and they haue done vnto hym what soeuer pleased the, as it is wyrtten of hym.

And he came to his disciples, & saw much people about them, and the scribes dyspu-tunge wth them. And straight way at the people when they behelde hym, were amased, and ran to hym, and saluted hym. And he sayed vnto the scribes: what dyspute ye with them.

And one of the company answered and sayed: Master. I haue broughte my sonne vnto the whiche hath a dumme spirite. And whensoeuer he taketh him, he teareth him, and he smytheth and gnaweth wth his teth, and pyneth awaye. And I spake too the disciples that they shoulde cast him out, and they coulde not.

He answered hym and sayed: O generation wythout faith, howe longe shall I be with you? Howe longe shall I suffer you? Byngh him vnto me. And they brought hym vnto hym: And as sone as the spirite sawe hym, he tare hym. And he fell doune on the grounde, wallowynge and foming. And he asked his father: howe longe is it ago, sence thys hath happened hym? And he sayed, of a childe: & oft times casteth hym in to the fyre, and also into the water to destroy hym. But if thou canst do any thing, haue mercy vpon vs, and helpe vs.

And Iesus sayd vnto him: For if thou couldest beleue all thynges are possible to him that beleueth. And straight waye the father of the childe cried with teares, saying: Forde I beleue, helpe mine vnbelefe.

When Iesus sawe that the people cam runninge together vnto him, he rebuked the dumme spirite, sayinge vnto him: Thou dumme & deafe spirite, I charge the come oute of him, & enter no more into hym. And the spirite cried & sente hym sore, & came out. And he was as one that had bene deade, in so muche math. xvi. d.

Seave hym

Luk. ix. c.
The passion
foloweth
f. h. r. v. i. d.
math. iii. d.
Luk. ix. c.
Luk. ix. c.

mat. xvi. d.
Luk. ix. c.

Helpe mine
vnbelefe.
mat. xv. d.

The d. d. s.
m. d. e. at
sp. i. e. is cast out.

The Gospell

of S. Marke.

Prayer &
fasting.
mat. xvi. a luke. ix. c
Passion.

much that many sayd, he is dead. But Jesus cing to his hand and lyft him vp: and he rose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples aied him secretly: why could not we cast him out? And he sayd vnto them: this kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by prayer & fasting. And they departed thence, and toke their iorney through Babilon, and he would not that any man should haue knowen it. For he taught his disciples, and sayd vnto the: the sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men, and they shall kyll hym, & after that he is kyll'd, he shall rylse agayn the thrid day. But they wist not what that sayng meant, and wer afrayed to aie him.

mat. xvi. a
luke. ix. c.

And he came to Capernaum. And when he was come into an house, he aied them: what was it that ye disputed betwene you by the way? And they helde their peace: for by the waye they reasoned amenge themselves, who shoulde be the chiefest. And he sat down and called the twelue vnto him, and said vnto them: if any man desire to be first, the same shall be laste of all, and seruaunt vnto al. And he toke a childe, and set him in the middes of them, and toke hym in his armes, and said vnto them: Who-soeuer receiueth ane such a childe in my name, receiueth me. And whosoever receiueth me, receiueth not me, but him that sent me. &

Chiefe of
greace.

John answered him, saying: & Maister, we saw one casting out devils in thy name which foloweth vs, & we forbade him, because he foloweth vs not. But Jesus said: forbid him not. For there is no man that shall do a miracle in my name, that cā lightly speake euill of me. Whosoever is not against you, is on your part. And whosoever shall geue you a cuppe of water to drynke for my names sake, because ye belonge to Christ, verely I saye vnto you, he shall not lose his (a) reward.

And whosoever shall offend one of these litle ones that beleue in me, it were better for him that a milstone wer hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea. Wherefore if thy hand offende the, cut hym of. It is better for the, to enter into lyfe maimed, then hauinge two handes, to goe into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched, where their worme dieth not, and the fyre neuer goeth out. Likewise, if thy fote offende the, cut him of. For it is better for the to go halte into life, then hauinge two fete, be caste into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched: where their worme dieth not, and the fyre neuer goeth out. Euen so if thine eye offende the, plucke hym out. It is better for the to go into the kyngdome of God with one eye, then hauinge two eyes to be cast into hell fyre: where their worme dieth not, and the fyre neuer goeth out.

Mat. xv. a Jhesu salt.

& Euerie man therefore shalbe salted with (b) fyre. And euerie sacrifice shalbe seasoned with salte. Salte is good. But if the salt be vnlawfull, what shall ye salt therewith? Se that ye haue salt in your selues, & haue peace amōg your selues, one with another.

The Notes.

(a) Whosoever thou workest at the commaundement of God, thou shalt haue the reward therfore that pertayneth vnto a saythfull worker, which is thy curclastynge. Not that it is due to the worke but to thy sayth, out of the which the thy worke proceedeth. For we receyue that promise by sayth, and not by worke.

Rewarde.

(b) Fyre here signifieth tribulacion. And the salte is Goddes worde.

Salted
with fyre.

The .x. Chapter.

He prescribeth lawes of matrimony, and blesteth yonge infants. He dyddeth & yonge mā that was proude in trust of his wyke, leaue all & folowe him: and he sheweth what greates incommodities is in riches, and what rewardes they shall haue that folowe them. He teacheth the chyldren of yehude that wold haue bene hyest, to be lowly, and restorcyth syght to Bartimeus.

And he rose from thence, & wente into the coastes of Tyre throughe the region that is beyonde Tyre & Sidon. And the people resorted vnto him a frethe, & as he was wont, he taught them agayne. And the phariseis came and aied hym a question: whether it were lawefull for a man to put away his wyfe, to proue him. And he answered & said vnto them: What did Moyses bid you do? And they saide: Moyses suffered to write a testimoniall of diuorcement, and to putte hyr away. And Jesus answered and saide vnto them: For the hardnes of your hartes he wrote this precept vnto you. But at the first creatiō, God made them man and woman. And for this thinges sake shall man leaue his father and mother, and byde by his wyfe & they twayne shall be one fleshe. So then are they now not twayn, but one fleshe & therfore what God hath coupled, let not man separate.

Diuorces
ment.
Deu. xxi. a
Mat. xix. a
Gene. i. b.

And in the house his disciples aied hym again of the matter. And he said vnto the: Whosoever putteth away his wyfe, & marieth another, breaketh wedlocke to hyr wyfe. And if a womanne forsake hyr husbande, and be married to another, she committeth aduoutery.

Mat. xix. a
Lu. xvi. b

And they brought chyldren to him, that he shoulde touche them. And his disciples rebuked those that broughte them. When Jesus sawe that, he was displeased, & said to them. Suffer the chyldren to come vnto me, and forbid them not. For of such is the kyngdome of God. Verely I saye vnto you: whosoever shal not receyue the kyngdome of God as a chylde, he shal not enter therein. And he toke them in his armes, and put his handes vpon them and blessed them.

Mat. xix. b,
Lu. xvi. c
Chyldren.

& And when he was come into the waye, ther came one running and kneeled to him, and aied hym: good Maister, what shall I do, that I may enherit eternall lyfe? Jesus sayd vnto him: whye callest thou me good?

Mat. xix. b
Lu. xvi. d

Exod. xx. c. good? Ther is (a) none good but one, which is God. Thou knowest the commaundementes: breake not matrimony: kill not, steale not, beare not false wptnes: defraud no man: honoure thy father and mother. He answered to hym: Maister, all these I haue obserued from my youth. Jesus beheld hym and had a fauour to hym, & sayed vnto hym: one thyng is lackyng vnto the. So and sell all that thou hast, and geue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and folow me, and take vp thy crosse. * But he was discomforted wth that sayng, and went awaye mourning, for he had great possessiōns.

The riche man may abide no crosse: his seruicion.

Camel.

And Jesus looked roundabout, and said vnto his disciples: what au hard thing is it for thē that haue riches, to enter into the kyngdome of God? And his disciples were astonied at his words. But Jesus answered againe, and sayed vnto them: chyldren howe harde is it for them that truste in ryche, to enter into the kyngdome of God? It is easer for a camell, to go thorow the eye of a needle, then for a ryche man to enter into the kyngdome of God. And they were astonied out of measure, sayinge betwene themselves: who thē can be saued? Jesus looked vpon them & sayed: wth men it is impossible, but not with God, for wth God all thynges are possible.

Mat. xix. d. To xliii. c. Dymyded folde.

first & last.

And Peter beganne to saye vnto hym: Lo, we haue forsake all, and haue folowed the. Jesus answered and sayed: Verely I saye vnto you, there is no man that forsaketh house, or brethren, or sisters, or father or mother, or wyfe, epyther chyldren, or landes, for my sake and the Gospels, whiche shall not receyue an hundred folde now in this lyfe: houses, and brethren, and sisters and mothers, and chyldren, & landes, wth persecuciōns, and in the world to come eternal lyfe. Many that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be first. And they were in the way goynge vnto Hierusalem. And Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they folowed they were a frayd.

The sonnes of zebede.

And Jesus toke the twelue agayne, and began to tell them what thynges shoulde happen vnto him. Beholde wee goe vp to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shall be deliuered into the handes of the hyepreestes, and vnto the scribes: and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the gentyls: and they shall mocke hym and scourge hym, and spyt vpon him, and kill him. And the thirde daye he shall rise agayne.

And then James and John the sonnes of zebede came vnto hym, sayinge: Maister, we woulde that thou shouldest do for vs, whatsoeuer we desire. He sayd vnto them: what woulde ye I shoulde doo vnto you? They sayed vnto hym: graunt vs that wee may sit one on thy right hand, & the other on thy left hand, in thy glory. But Jesus sayd vnto thē: Ye wot not what ye aske. Can ye drynke of the cup that I shall drynke of, and be baptised in the baptisme that I shall be baptised in? And they said vnto him: that we can. Jesus sayd vnto them, ye shall drynke of the cup that I shall drynke of, and be baptised wth the baptisme that I shall be baptised in: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hande is not myne to geue, but to them for whom it is prepared.

And when they heard that, they began to dysdaigne at James and John. But Jesus called them vnto hym, and sayd to thē: Ye knowe that they whiche seme to beare rule amonge the gentyls, reigne as lordes ouer them. And they that be great amonge them, exercise autoritie ouer thē. So shall it not be among you, but whosoever of you wil be greate amonge you, shall be your minister. And whosoever wil be chiefe shall be seruaunte vnto all. For euen the sonne of man came not to be ministered vnto, but to minister, and to geue his lyfe for the redemption of many.

And they came to Hierico: and as he went out of Hierico wth his disciples & a great nombre of people, Barthimeus the son of Thimeus, whiche was blynde, sat by the hie wayes syde beggyng. And when he hearde that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he beganne to crye and to saye: Jesus the sonne of Dauid, haue mercye on me. And many rebuked hym, that he shoulde holde hys peace. But he cryed the more a greate deale: Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercye on me. And Jesus stode still and commaunded hym to be called. And they called the blynde, saying vnto him: Be of good comfort: tyme, he calleth the. And he threwe away his clooke, and rose and came to Jesus. And Jesus answered and sayed vnto him: What wilt thou that I do vnto the? The blynde sayed vnto hym: Maister, that I might se. Jesus sayde vnto hym: So thy way, thy fapth hath saued the. And by and by he receyued his sight, and folowed Jesus in the waye.

Mat. xxi. c.

Hierico. Barthimeus the blynde.

The Notes.

(a) Take in Mathew. xix.
(b) That is, plucke thynge herte from all that thou dost possesse, and so forsake them wth all thine herte, that in al thy mynde thou dost sell them, and be redy also in dede to sell them if the necessitie of thy neighbour require it. The affecte and truste in thynges possessed, muste we euer renounce, or els are we not perfect.

No man good. So sell all.

The. xi. Chapter.

Christe rode to Hierusalem vpon an asse colt. He curseth the figgers that lacked fruite. He cast out of the temple the bpers and sellers, he teacheth the strength of fapth, and putteth oute of countenance the pharisees that ased him of the power gyven vnto him, by an other question.

And when they came nye to Hierusalem vnto Bethphage and Bethany, besides mounte Oluet, he sent forth the two of his disciples, & sayd vnto them: Go your wayes

Mat. xxi. c. Bethphage.

Ecc. i. into

The Gospel

into the town ouer against pou. And as sone as pou be entred into it, ye shall fynd a colt tyed, wher on neuer man sate, lose hym: & brynge hym hither.

And if anye man saye vnto pou: whye do ye so? Say that the Lord hath nede of hym: and straightway he will send hym hither: & they went they waye and founde a colt tyed by the dore withoute in a place where two wayes mette, and they losed hym. And diuers of them that stode there, sayed vnto them: What do ye lewspnge the colt. And they sayed vnto them, euen as Iesus hadde commaunded them. And they let them go. And they brought the colt to Iesus and cast their garments on hym: and he sate thereon. And many spred theyr garments in the way. Other cut downe branches of the trees, and strowed them in the waye.

And they that went before, and they that folowed: cried, saying: a) Hosanna: blef sed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord. Blessed be the kyngdome that cometh in the name of hym that is Lord of our father Dauid, Hosanna in the highest.

And the Lord entred into Ierusalem, & into the temple. And when he hadde looked round aboute vpon all thynges, and now the euentide was come, he went oute vnto Bethany, with the twelue. And on the morrow when they were come oute from Bethany, he hungered, and spied a figg tree a farr off, hauing leaues: & went to se whether he might fynd any thyng thereon. But when he came thereto, he founde nothinge but leues: for the tyme of figgys was not yet. And Iesus answered and said to it: neuer man eate fruit of the hereafter, whyle the worlde standeth. And his discyples heard it.

And they came to Ierusalem. And Iesus went into the temple, and beganne to caste oute sellers and buyers in the temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money chaungers, and the stoles of them that solde doves, and woulde not suffer that anye man carped a vessel through the temple. And he taught saying vnto them, is it not writtē: my house shall be called the house of praye vnto all nacions: But ye haue made it a den of theues.

And the Scribes and hye priestes heard it: and soughte howe to destroye hym. For they feared hym, because all the people maruelled at his doctrine. And when eue was come, he went out of the cite. And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe a figg tree dryed vpon by the rotes. And Peter remembred, and said vnto hym: master, behold, the figg tree which thou cursedest, is withered away. And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them: Haue confidence in God. Verely I say vnto pou, that whosoener shall say to this mount, take away thy selfe into the sea, and shall not wauer in his herte: but shall beleue that those thynges, whiche he sayeth shall come to pass, whatsoeuer he saith shall be done to hym. Therefore I saye vnto pou, whatsoeuer ye desire when ye praye, beleue that ye shall haue it, and it shall be done vnto pou. And when ye stande and praye, forgue if ye haue any thyng against anye man, that your father also, which is in heauen, maye forgue you your trespasses.

Of S. Marke.

And they came agayne to Ierusalem. And as he walked in the temple, there came to hym the priestes and Scribes, and the elders, and sayed vnto hym: by what authority dost thou these thynges? And who gaue the thes authority to do these thynges? Iesus answered and sayd vnto the: I will also aske of you a certayne thyng: & answer ye me, and I wil tell you by what authority I do these thynges. The Baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? Answer me. And they thought in themselves, sayinge: if we shall saye from heauen: he wyl say then, whye dyd ye not beleue hym? but if we shall say, of men, they feare we the people. For al menne counted Iohn that he was a very prophet.

And they answered & sayd vnto Iesus: we can not tel. And Iesus answered & sayed vnto them: neither wyl I tel you, by what authority I do these thynges.

The Notes.

- (a) Luke in Mathew. xxi. b
- (b) Ibidem.
- (c) Luke Mathew. xxi. c

The .xii. Chapter.

By the parable of the vineyard and of husband men, Ihs. rebuketh the ingratitude of the Jewes, and forleth the question of paying money he confuteth the Saducees touching the resurrection, and sheweth what is the chiefest commandement, and whose sonne he is. He byddeth to auoyde the Seruitus, and sheweth with what mynde we shuld serue God.

As he began to speake vnto the in similitudes. A certayn man plan ted a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge & ordeyned a wyne presse, and builde a tower in it.

And let it out to hye vnto husband men, & went into a straunge countrey. And when the tyme was come, he sent to the tennantes a seruaunt, that he myghte receyue of the tennantes of the fruit of the vineyard. And they caught him, and beate hym, and sente hym awaye empty. And moreover he sent vnto them an other seruaunt, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him agayne all to temple. And agayne he sent another, and hym they kyl led and many other: beatinge some, and kyl ling some.

Yet had he one sonne, whom he loued ten derly, hym also he sente at the laste vnto them, saying: they wyl feare my sonne. But the tennantes sayed among them sel ues: this is the heire, come let vs kyl him, & the inheritance shall be ours. And they toke hym, & killed him, & cast him out of the vineyard.

Mat. xxi. c.
Mat. vii. a
Mat. vi. b.
Luke. xi. b.
covenant.
Eccl. xiii.

Mat. xxi. c.
Luke. ix. a.

The Bap
tisme of Iohn.

Hosanna.
Figg tree.
Of man.

Mat. xxi. b
Vineyard

Luke. xx. b.
Lay. i. a Quere. ii. b.

Eccl. xxi. biii.

Thon. xii. b

Hosanna.
Bl. xv. a. b
Iohn. xii. b

Mat. xxi. b.
Luke. xxi. b

Figg tree.

Sellers &
buyers are cast out.

Eccl. xxi. c
Iohn. xii. b

of S. Mark: Jo. xlv.

psa. rvi d e^a revui.
Teru. cat.
Rom. ix g.
v. Det. ii. a.

13
1219 1111.6
1211.6 11.1

Tribute to Cesar.

130m.ziff.c

27. Mat. xxi. c.
 Luke. xx. D.
 Luc. xxv. b Saduccees.

Refur-reccion.
exod. iii. b

2700 N. 1st St. U
J. H. C. & C.

Ser. A com
n alidca
mcl.f.
I catc. b'ra

Exult. xiv.
 Huc. xvi. q
 Rom. xiii. c
 Galat. v. c.

D
 24. 11. 2
 Lake re g.
 Bands
 fume.
 Plat. re g

more of a like a t. long clothes.

Luc. xxi. 3
poore wi
dowe.

Not far from

Not far from

Thys expoundeth the horrible destruction of Iherusalem howe it shoulde be, and what sygnes shoulde goe before. After by occasion he talketh of the last iudgement, and reco-meth vp the sygnes of it, exhortynge all men to sobyetye and watchynge.

Dec. 11. 1923

The Gospel

mat. xiii. a
The destruction
of the temple.

As he went out of the temple, one of his disciples sayde unto him: Master, se what stones, and what buildinges are here. And Jesus answered and said unto him. Seest thou these great buildynges? There shal not be left one stone vpon another, & shal not be throwen downe.

And as he sate on mounte Oluete, ouer against the temple, Peter & James, & John & Andrew ased him secretly: tell vs, when al these thynges shalbe fulfilled? and Jesus answered them, and began to saye: take hede, lest any man deceiue you: For manye shal come in my name, saying: I am Christ and shall deceiue manye.

Antichrist

When ye shall heare of warre & tpydngs of warre, be ye not troubled. For such thynges must nedes be. But the ende is not yet. For ther shal nacion aryse against nacion, & kingdome agaynst kyngdome. And there shalbe earthquakes in some places, and famyshmente and troubles. These are the begynnyng of sorowes.

But take ye hed to your selues. for then shal bring you vp to the counseils & into the synagoges, & ye shalbe beten, & ye shalbe brought before rulers & kings for my sake, for a testimony vnto them. And the Gospel must first be published amonge al nacions.

Mat. x. b.

But when they lead you, & present you, take no thought afoze hand what ye shall say, neyther ymagin but whatsoeuer is geuen you at the same time, & speake. For it shal not be ye & shal speake, but the holy gost.

The spirit
answereth.

Yea, & the brother shal deliuer the brother to death, & the father the sonne, & the chyl- dzen shal ryse against their fathers and mo- thers, and shal put them to death. And ye shalbe hated of al men for my names sake. But whosoever shal endure vnto the ende, the same shalbe safe.

Mat. xxiii.
Luke. xxi. b.
Dan. ix. a.
Daniel.

Moreouer, when ye see the abhominacion that betokeneth desolacion, wherof is spo- ken by Daniell the prophet, stand where it ought not, let him & readeth vnderstand.

Winter.

Then let them that be in Iurp, fflye to the mountaines. And let him that is on the house top, not descend doune into the house, neyther enter therein, to fetch any thyng out of his house. And let him that is in the fildes, not turne backe againe vnto the thynges which be left behind him for to take his clothes wpth him. Wo is thē to them that are wpth chylde, & to them that geue soucke in those dayes. But pray, that your flight be not in the winter. For there shalbe in those dayes such tribulacion as was not fro the beginning of creaturcs, which god cre- ated vnto this time, neither shalbe. And ex- cepte that the Lorde shoulde shorten those dayes, noman shoulde be saued. But for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes. * And then if anye manne say to you lo here is Christ, lo, he is ther, heldeue not: for false Christes shal ryse & false prophetes, & shal shew miracles and

Mat. xxiii.
Luk. xxi. b.

Of S. Marke.

wonders to deceiue, if it were possible, e- uen the electe. But take ye hede: behold, I haue shewed you all thynges before.

Moreouer in those dayes, after that tri- bulacion, the sun shal waxe darke, and the mone shal not geue hit light, & the starres of heauen shal fall: & the powers which are in heauen, shal moue. And then shal they see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power & glorie. And then shal he send his angels, & shal gather together his electe from the fower wyndes, and fro the one ende of the world to the other.

Learn a symilitude of the fig tre. When his braches are yet tender, & hath brought forth leaues, ye know & the soner is neare: so in like maner, when ye see these thynges come to passe, vnderstand that it is nye e- uen at the doores. Therelpe I saye vnto you, that this generacion shal not passe till al these thynges be done. Heauen and earth shal passe, but my wordes shal not passe. But of that day & houre knoweth no man: no not the angels whych are in heauen, neyther the son himselfe, saue & father only.

Take hede, watche & pray, for ye knowe not when the time is. As a manne which is gone into a straunge countrey, & hath left his house & geue authoritie to his seruaun- tes, and euery man his worke, and comaun- ded the porter to watche. Watch therefore, for ye knowe not when the maister of the house wyl come, whether at euē, or at mid- night: whether at the cocke crowing or in the dawninge, lest if he come sodenlye he shoulde fynde you sleping. And that I say vnto you, I say vnto al men, watche.

D
Ere. xxi. b
Esa. xli. b.

Fig tree.

That day knoweth
no man.

Mat. xiii.
Watche &
praye.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in Mathew. xxi. b.
(b) As he was man, he knewe it not. But as he was God, he knewe it.

Winter.
Neither
the sonne
hym selfe.

The xii. Chapter.

In the thirte last chapters he describeth the same thyng which Mathew did, that is & death of our sauour Iesu Christ, and what hath both gone before, and foloweth after.

After two daies foloweth Ester, & the daies of swete bread. And the hye priestes & the Scribes sought meanes howe they myghte take him by craft, & put him to death. But they sayd: Not in the feast dayes, lest any busines arise amonge the people.

When he was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper, euē as he sate at meat, ther came a woman haupnge an alabastr boze of ointmente, called narde, that was pure and costly: and she brake the boze and powred it on hys head. And there wer some that were not contente in themselves, and sayd: what neded this wast of ointment? For it might haue bene solde for more then the hundred pence, and bene geuen vnto the poore? And they grudged agaynst it.

And Jesus saied: let hit bein vnto me, whiche hath done a good worke on me. * For ye shal haue poore men wpth you

Mat. xxi. a
Luk. xxi. a

Mat. xxi. a

Jesus is anointed.

Mat. xv. c.

Mat. xv. c. you alwayes, and when so euer ye wyl, ye maye doo theym good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes. She hathe doone that she coulde: she came afore hande to anoint my body to hys burying warde. Merely I sape vnto you: whete so euer thys Gospell shal be preached throughout the whole worlde thys also that she hath done, shalbe rehearsed in remembraunce of hyr.

Mat. xvi. a
Luk. xxi. a.
He is be-
trayed.
And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelue wente awape vnto the hys priestes, to betraye hym vnto theym. When they hearde that, they were glad, and promysed that they wold geue him money. And he sought howe he myghte conuenientelpe betraye hym.

Mat. xxvi.
Luk. xxi. a
And the first daye of swete bread, when menne offer the paschall lambe, hys Disciples sayed vnto him: where wylt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayst eate the easter lambe? And he sente forth two of his Disciples, and sayed vnto them: Go ye in to the cite: and ther shall a man mete pou beatyng a ppyer of water, folowe hym. And whither soeuer he goeth in, sape ye to the good man of the house: the maister sayeth where is the best chamber where I shall eate the easter lambe wth my Disciples? And he wyl shewe you a greete parloure, paved, and prepared: ther make ready for vs. And hys Disciples wente forth, & came to the cite, and founde as he had sayd vnto them: and made ready the easter lambe.

Mat. xvi.
Luk. xxi. b.
Jhon. xiii.
Gal. xi. c
And at euen he came with the xii and as they sate at bord and eate. Jesus sayd: Trelp I sape vnto you: that one of you shall betraye me whiche eateth wth me. And they began to mourne, and to sape to hym one by one: as if I? and another sayed as if I? He answered and sayd vnto them: It is one of the twelue: and the same dyppeth wth me in the platter. The sonne of man goeth as it is wrytten of hym, but wo be to that man, by whom the sonne of man is betrayed: good were it for hym if that mē had neuer bene borne.

1 Cor. ix. c
The institucio of s Sacramēt
And as they eate, Jesus toke bread, blessed and brake, and gaue theym and sayed: Take, eate. This is my bodye. And he toke the cup, gaue thankes and gaue it to them and they all dranke of it. And he sayed vnto them: This is my bloude of the newe testament whiche is shedde for manye. Trelpe I sape vnto you: I wyl drynke no more of thys fruite of the vyne, vntill that day, that I drynke it new in the kyngdom of God. And when they had sayed grace, then they went out to mount Oluet.

Mat. xvi.
Jach. xii.
An. iii. b.
Jhon. xiii.
And Jesus sayed vnto them: All ye shall be offended throughe me this nyghte. For it is wrytten: I wyl smyte the shepheard, and the shepe shall be scattered. But after that I am rysen agayne, I wyl goo into Babilone before you. Peter sayed vnto hym: And thoughe all men shoulde be offended, yet woulde not I. And Jesus sayed vnto hym: Trelpe I sape vnto the, thys daye euē in thys nyghte before the cocke crowe twyse, thou shalt denye me thyspe. And he spake boldelye: no, if I shoulde dye wth the, I wyl not denye the. A pkewise also sayed they all.

Mat. xxvi.
Luk. xxi. b
And they came into a place named Beth Semanpe. and he sayed to hys Disciples: Set ye here vntill I go a praye and praye. And he toke wth hym Peter, James, and Jhon, and he began to waue abafted, and to be in an agonpe and sayed vnto theym. My soule is verpe heaupe euē vnto the death: tarye here and watch. And he wente forth a lytle and fell downe on the ground & prayed, that if it were possible, the houre myghte passe from hym. And he sayed: Abba father, althpnyes are possible vnto the, take awape thys cup from me. Neuerthelesse, not that I wyl, but that thou wylt, be done.

And he came, and founde them sleeppng and sayde to Peter, Symon sleepest thou? Couldeste not thou watche wth me one houre? watche ye, and praye leaste ye enter into temptacion: the spirite is readye, and the fleshy is weake. And agayne he went away and prayed, and spake the same wordes. And he returned and founde theym a slepe agayne, for theye eyes were heaupe: neyther wyl they what to answer hym. And he came the thyrde tyme and sayed vnto theym: slepe henceforth and take poure ease, it is ynough. The houre is come, beholde the son of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of spykers. Ryse vp let vs goo. Lo he that betrayeth me is at hand.

And immediately whyle he yet spake, came Judas one of the twelue, and wth hym a greete number of people wth sweardes and staves from the hygh priestes and Scribes and elders.

And he that betrayed hym had geuen them a generall token, sayinge: whosoever I do kysse, he it is. take hym and leade him away warrelpe. And as sone as he was come, he wente straghte waye to hym, and said vnto hym: maister maister and kysed hym. And they sayed theye handes on hym, and toke hym. And one of them s Rodē by dyue out a swerd, and smote a seruaunte of the hye pnyss, and cut of his eare.

And Jesus answered and sayd vnto the: If ye be come out as vnto a thefe wth sweardes & staves: for to take me. I was dapply wth you in the tēple teaching, & ye toke me not: but that the scriptures shuld be fulfilled. And they all forsoke hym and ranne awape. And ther folowed hym a certayne pong man clothed in linnen vpon the bare and s pong mē caught him, and he left hys linnen and fled from them naked.

And they led Jesus away to the hie priest of al. and to hym came al the hye priestes and the elders, and the Scribes: And Peter folowed hym a great waye of euen into the pallace of the hie prieste, and sat wth the seruautes, and warmed hym selfe at

Sec. iii the

Mat. xvi. a

Mat. xxvi.
Luk. xxi. b

he armethe him selfe a gagnt his passion.

Mat. xxvi.
Luk. xxi. c.
Jhon. xiii.

He is betrayed of Judas
which also gaue them
a token to know him
by.

The pong
mā s was clothed in linnen.

Mat. xvi.

In xxiij. the fire. And the hye puestes, and al the cou-
He is false sell sounge for wptnes agaynst Jhesu too ly accused put him to death, and found none. Yet many eace false wptnes agaynst hym, but they wptnes agreed not together. And there arose certayne broughte false witnes agaynst hym, sayinge: we hearde hym say: I wyl destruye this temple made with handes, and within in dayes I wil bulde another made wpythout handes. But they wptnes agreed not together.

Jon. iij. And the hyest pueste stode by amongest them and ased Jhesus sayinge: aunswere thou nothyng: Howe is it that these beare wptnes agaynst the: And he held his peace and aunswere nothyng. Agayne the hyhe holdeth est pueste ased hym, and sayd vnto hym: Art hys peace. thou Christe the sonne of the blessed: And Jhesus sayde: I am. And ye shall se the sonne of man sit on the ryght hand of power and come in the cloudes of heauen. Then the hyest pueste rente his clothes, and sayde:

He is mte What nede we any further of wptnes: ye
ked. spit d. have heare of the bla. phen. p. what thyncke byd folded ye: And then they al gaue sentenec that he g bu. fcted. was worthy of death, and some beganne to spit at hym, and to couer his face, and to beat hym with fistes, and to say vnto hym: aede vnto vs: And the seruauntes buffeted hym on the face.

mat. xxi. g. And as Peter was beneth in the palce, Luk. xxi. f. there came one of the wenches of the hyest Jon. xviii. pueste, and when she saw Peter warming hymself, she looked on hym and sayd. Wast not thou also wpyth Jhesus of Nazareth: Peter de- And he denyed it saying: I know hym not, ueth. neyther wotte I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porche, & the cocke crew And a damsell saw hym: and agayne began to say to them that stode by. this is one of thepyn And he denyed it agayne And anon after they that stode by, sayde agayne to Peter. Surelpe thou art one of thepyn, for thou arte of Galyle, and thy speache agreeth thereto. And he began to cusse and to sweate, sayinge. I know not this man of whome ye speake And agayne the cocke crew and Peter remembered the worde that Jesus sayed vnto hym: before the cocke crew twyse thou shalt denye me thysse, and began to wepe. The. x. Chapter.

Mat. xxv. g. The passion of Christ, of his death & burial.
Luk. xxi. f. And anon in the dawninge the hye Jon. xviii. puestes held a cousel w the elders and the scribes, and the whole cogregacion and bound Jhesus, and led hym awape, & deliuered hym to pilate And pilate ased hym: art thou the kyng of the Jewes: And he answered and sayd vnto hym: thou sayest it. And the hye puestes accused hym of many thynges Mat. xxv. g. Wherefore pilate aseth hym agayne, say-Luk. xxi. f. inge. Aunswere thou nothyng: behelde Jon. xviii. howe manpe thynges they laye vnto thy charge. Jhesus pet answered neuer a word, so that pilate marueiled.

Mat. xxv. g. At that feaste pilate was wont to deli-
Luk. xxi. f. uer at theyr pleasure a prysoner, whom soe-Jon. xviii. uer they woulde deser. And ther was one named Barrabas, whych say bounde wpyth the that made insurreccion, & in p insurreccio committed murder. And the people called vnto hym, and bega to desyre according as he had euer done vnto them. Pilate answered them & saied. Wyl ye that I lewe vnto pou the kyng of the Jewes: For he knewe that the hye puestes had deliuered hym of enup. But the hye puestes had moued the people, that he should rather deli-uer Barrabas vnto them.

And so pilate answered agayne, & saied vnto the: what wyl ye then that I do with hym whom ye cal the kyng of Jewes: And they cried agayne. crucifye hym. Pilate said vnto them: what cum hath he don: And they cried the more seruently crucifye hym.

And so pilate willing to content the people, leused them Barrabas, and deliuered Jhesus, when he had scourged hym, for to be crucified.

And the souldours led hym awape into the common hall, and called together the whole multitude, and they cloothed hym with purple: and they platted a crowne of thornes, and crowned hym wpyth al, and began to salute hym. Saye kyng of the Je-wes And they smote hym on the head with a reede, and spatte vpon hym, and knelled doune and worshipped hym.

And when they hadde mocked hym they toke the purpelle of hym, and put his owne clooths on hym, and led hym out to crucify hym. And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyren, whych cam out of the feld, and was father to Alexander & Rufus, to beate hys crosse. And they broughte hym to a place named Golgotha (whych is by interpretaciō, p place of dead mens sculles, and they gaue hym to drinke wyne myngled wpyth myre, but he recey-ued it not.

And when they had crucified hym, they parted his garments, casting lottes for the what eury man shoulde haue And it was about the thirde houre, & they crucified hym.
 And the title of his cause was writen The kyng of the Jewes. And they crucified with hym two theues, the one on the right hand, & the other on the left. And the scriptur was fulfilled which sayeth: he was counted amonge the wycked.

And they that went by, railed on hym, wagging theyr heades, & saying: A wretch, that destroyed the temple, and buldest it in thre dayes. saue thy selfe, & come downe from the crosse Likewise also mocked him p hye puestes amonge the scribes w the scribes, & sayd: he saued other men, hym self he canot saue. Let Christ the kyng of Israel now descende frō the crosse, & we may se and beleue. And they that were crucified with hym checked hym also.

And when the sixte houre was come, darcknes arose ouer all the earth vntill
 the

Barrabas
Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.
He is scouged & then deliuered
to death.

Mat. xxi. g.
He is crou-
ned.
He is buf-
feted.

Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.
Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.

Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.
Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.

Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.
Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.

Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.
Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.

Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.
Mat. xxi. g.
Luk. xxi. f.
Jon. xviii.

Psalm xxi. the ninth hour. And at the ninth houre, Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: Eli, Eli lama sabathani, which is, if it be interpreted, my God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me. And some of them that stood by, when they heard that, sayde: behold, he calleth for Elias. And one ranne and filled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue hym to drynke, saying: let hym alone, let vs see whether Elias will come, and take hym downe.

Vineger is offered hym to drinke.

D But Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gaue vp the ghost. And the (a) vaille of the temple was rent in two peces from the top to the bottome. And when the (b) Centurio which stood before him saw that he so cried, and gaue vp the ghost, he sayde: truely this man was the sonne of God. There were also women a good way off, beholding hym: among whom was Mary Magdalen, and Mary the mother of James the yltle, and of Ioses, and Marye Salome: which also, when he was in Galile, followed him, & ministered vnto him: & many other women, which came wpth hym vnto Ierusalem.

Mat. xxvi. Luke. xxi.

He is buried.
John. xix. 38

And now when nyght was come because it was the euen that goeth before the Saboth, Joseph of Arimathea a noble Councellour, which also looked for the kyngdome of God, came and went in boldly vnto pylate, and begged the body of Jesus. And pylate merueyled that he was already dead, and called vnto hym the Centurio, & asked of hym, whether he hadde bene any while dead. And when he knewe the truth of the Centurio, he gaue the body to Joseph. And he bought a linnen cloth, & toke him downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layed him in a tombe that was hewn out of the rock, and rolled a stone vnto the dore of the sepulchre. And Mary Magdalen, & Mary Ioses, beheld wher he was layd.

The Notes.

The vaille. (a) This vaille was a certayne cloth that hangyd in the temple, deuyding the most holy place from the rest of the temple, as our clothe was hangyd vp in linc, deuydeth the altar from the rest of the church. The retyng of which vaille signyfied, that the waddowes of Ierusalem should vanishe away at the synginge lyght of the Gospell.

(b) Centurio is a Capteyne, that hath vnder hym an hundred men.

The. xvi. Chapter.

Jesus is risen again, and appereth to the Apostles, to whome he committeth the preaching of the Gospell.

Mat. xxviii. 9. John. xx. 19.

A And when the Saboth was past, Mary Magdalene, and Marye Jacobi, and Salome, brought odours, that they might come and anoint hym. And early in the morning the next daye after the Saboth day, they came to the sepulchre, when the sun was risen. And they sayd one to another: who shall rolle vs away the stone from the dore of the sepulchre? And whil they looked, they sawe how the stone was rolled away:

Mat. xxviii. 9. John. xx. 19.

for it was a very great one. And they went in into the sepulchre, & sawe a yonge man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were abashed.

And he sayd vnto them, be not afraid, for I seeke Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified. He is risen, he is not here. Beholde the place wher they put hym. But go your waye, and tell his disciples, and name I Peter: He will go before you into Galilee: ther shall ye see hym as he sayd vnto you. And they went out quickly and fled from the sepulchre. For they trembled and were amazed. Neither sayd they any thinge to any man, for they were afraid.

Mat. xxviii. 9.

And when Jesus was risen the morowe after the Saboth daye, he appeared firste to Mary Magdalen, out of whom he cast seven devils. And she went and tolde them that were with her, as they mourned and wept. And when they heard that he was alive, they beleued it not. After that he appeared too two of them in a straunge figure, as they walked and went into the country. And they went and tolde it to the remnant. And they beleued them neyther.

Mary Magdalen.

Lu. xxiii. 49.

Mat. xxviii. 17.

After that he appeared vnto the eleven as they sate at meate, and cast in their teth their vnbelefe, & hardnes of harte, because they beleued not them which had sene him after his resurrection. And he sayd to the. (a) Go ye into all the worlde, and preache the glad tydings to all creatures: he that beleueth and is baptysed, shall be saved. But he that beleueth not, shall be dampned.

Lu. xxi. 19. John. xx. 19. Mat. xxviii. 19.

And these thynges shall folow them that beleue: in my name they shall cast out devils, and shall speake with new tongues, & shall kill serpents, & if they drinke any deadly thing, it shall not hurte the. They shall laye their hands on the sicke, & they shall recover.

Lu. xxi. 19.

So then when the Lord had spoken vnto them, he was receiued into heauen, and is set downe on the right hand of God. And they went forth and preached euery wher: And the Lord wrought with them, and confirmed the word with miracles that followed.

The Notes.

(a) In the i. Chapter of Matthew, he sayeth. Go into all the world, & preach the Gospell to all creatures. The Gentyles. Whiche is declared there.

But now he sendeth them into all the world, because as then he had made but one flocke of all the whole world whiche was before deuided in two.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Marke.

See. iii. The

Psalm xxi. the ninth hour. And at the ninth houre, Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: Eli, Eli lama sabathani, which is, if it be interpreted, my God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me. And some of them that stood by, when they heard that, sayde: behold, he calleth for Elias. And one ranne and filled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue hym to drinke, saying: let hym alone, let vs see whether Elias will come, and take hym downe.

Chineget
is offered hym to drinke.

D But Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gaue vp the ghost. And the (a) vayle of the temple was rent in two peces from the top to the bottome. And when the (b) Centurio which stood before him saw that he so cried, and gaue vp the ghost, he sayed: truely this man was the sonne of God. There were also women a good way off, beholding hym: among whom was Mary Magdalen, and Mary the mother of James the yltle, and of Ioses, and Marye Salome: which also, when he was in Galile, folowed him, & ministered vnto him: & many other women, which came wpth hym vnto Ierusalem.

Mat. xxvi
Luc. xxi.

He is buried.
John. xix. 38

And now when nyght was come because it was the euen that goeth before the Saboth, Joseph of Arimathea a noble Councellour, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came and went in boldly vnto pylate, and begged the body of Jesus. And pylate merueyled that he was already dead, and called vnto hym the Centurio, & asked of hym, whether he hadde bene any while dead. And when he knewe the truth of the Centurio, he gaue the body to Joseph. And he bought a linnen cloth, & toke him downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layed him in a tombe that was hewn out of the rock, and rolled a stone vnto the dore of the sepulchre. And Mary Magdalen, & Mary Ioses, beheld wher he was layd.

The vayne.

(a) This vayne was a certayne cloth that hangyd in the temple, deuydyng the most holy place from the rest of the temple, as our clothe was hangyd vp in lant, deuydeth the altar from the rest of the church. The retyng of which vayne signyfied, that the waddowes of Ierusalem shoulde vanishe away at the synginge lyghte of the Gospell.

(b) Centurio is a Captayne, that hath vnder hym an hundred men.

The. xvi. Chapter.

Jesus is risen again, and appereth to the Apostles, to whome he committeth the preaching of the Gospell.

Mat. xxviii. 9
John. xx. 11

A And when the Saboth was passe, Mary Magdalene, and Marye Jacobi, and Salome, brought odours, that they might come and anoint hym. And early in the morning the next daye after the Saboth day, they came to the sepulchre, when the sun was risen. And they sayd one to another: who shall rolle vs away the stone from the dore of the sepulchre? And whil they looked, they sawe how the stone was rolled away:

Mat. xxviii.
John. xx. 6.

for it was a very great one. And they went in into the sepulchre, & sawe a yonge man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were abashed.

And he sayd vnto them, be not afraid, for I seeke Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified. He is risen, he is not here. Beholde the place wher they put hym. But go your waye, and tell his disciples, and name I Peter: He will go before you into Galilee: ther shall ye see hym as he sayd vnto you. And they went out quickly and fled from the sepulchre. For they trembled and were amazed. Neither sayd they any thinge to any man, for they were afraid.

And when Jesus was risen the morowe after the Saboth daye, he appeared firste to Mary Magdalen, out of whom he cast seven devils. And he went and tolde them that were with him, as they mourned and wept. And when they heard that he was alive, & hadde appeared to her, they beleued it not. After that he appeared too two of them in a straunge figure, as they walked and went into the country. And they went and tolde it to the remnant. And they beleued them neyther.

After that he appeared vnto the eleven as they sate at meate, and cast in their teth their vnbelefe, & hardnes of harte, because they beleued not them which had sene him after his resurrection. And he sayed to the. (a) Go ye into all the worlde, and preache the glad tydings to all creatures: he that beleueth and is baptised, shall be saved. But he that beleueth not, shall be dampned.

And these thynges shall folow them that beleue: in my name they shall cast out devils, and shall speake with new tongues, & shall kill serpents, & if they drinke any deadly thing, it shall not hurte the. They shall laye their hands on the sicke, & they shall recover.

So then when the Lord had spoken vnto them, he was receiued into heauen, and is set downe on the right hand of God. And they went forth and preached euery wher: And the Lord wrought with them, and confirmed the word with miracles that folowed.

The Notes.

(a) In the i. Chapter of Matthew, he sayeth. Go into all the world, & preach the Gospell to all creatures. The Gentyles. Whiche is declared there.

But now he sendeth them into all the world, because as then he had made but one flocke of all the whole world whiche was before deuided in two.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Marke.

See. iii. The

Mat. xxviii.

Mary Magdalen.

Lu. xxi. 6

Mat. xxviii.

Lu. xxi. 8.
John. xx. 1.
Mat. xxviii.

Lu. xxi. 9

The Gospell of S. Luke: A Prologe vpon the Gospell of Saynt Luke.

Lucas was Pauls companion, at the least way from the xvi. of the actes forth, and with hym in all his tribulacion. And he wrote the Pauls at his laste goringe vnto Hierusalem. And from thence he folowed Paul to Cesaria, wher he laye two yeres in prison. And from Cesaria he wente to Rome, where he laye two other yeres in prison. And he was with Paul when he wrote to the Collosians, as he testifieth in the fourth chapter, sayinge: the beloued Lucas the phisician saluteth you. And he was with Paul when he wrote the second epistle to Timothe, as he sayth in the fourth chapter, sayinge: Onelye Lucas is with me. Whereby ye see the authoritie of the man, and of what credence and reuerence hys writinge is worthy of, and therefore of whom he learned the itoye of his Gospell, as he hym selfe sayeth, howe that he learned it and searched it oute with all diligence of them that sawe it, and were also partakers at the doynge. And as for the Actes of the Apostles he hym selfe was at the doynge of them (at the least of the moste parte, and had hys parte therein, and therfore was, of hys owne experience.

Finis.

The Gospell of Saynt Luke.

Forasmuch as manye haue taken in hand to compile a treatise of those thyngs which are surely known among vs, eue as they declared them vnto vs, wherof the begynnynge sawe them their liues, & were witnesses at the doynge, I determined also, as lone as I had searched out diligently all thynges fro

of S. Luke:

the beginning, that then I wold wryte vnto the, good Theophilus: & thou mightest know & be certie of those thyngs wherof I art enfourmed.

The first Chapter.

Luke begynneth hys woike at the conception of Ihon Baptist, and speaketh batoze of hys parentes, and the promise made to hys vnbelyuynge father. After whan Mary had receyued a promise that a chyld should be borne of her, going to Elizabeth, she praised god, zachary whan Iohn was borne, whiche blys was dumme, brake out into the praises of God, and sheweth the offyce of hys sonne.

There was in the daies of Herod kynge of Iudea, a certayne priest named zacharias, of the course of Abia. And hys wyfe was of the daughters of Aaron. And her name was Elizabeth. Both were perfect before God, & walked in all the lawes and ordinaunces of the Lord, that no man could fynd faulte with them. And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and both were well stricken in age.

And it came to passe, as he executed the priestes offyce before God, as his course came (according to the custome of the priestes offyce) his lot was to bourn incense. And he went into the temple of the Lord, and the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, whyle the incense was a burnynge. And ther appered vnto him an aungell of the Lord, standynge on the right syde of the altare of incense. And when zacharias sawe him, he was abashed, and feare came on hym.

And the aungell sayd vnto hym, feare not zacharye, for thy prayer is heard. And thy wyfe Elizabeth shall beare the a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Ihon, and thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shall reioyce at hys byrth. For he shall be great in the syght of the Lord, & shall nether drinke wyne nor strong drinke. And he shall be fylled with the holy ghest, eue in his mothers wombe, and many of the children of Israel shall be turned to their Lord God. And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to tourne the hartes of the fathers to the chyldren, and the vnbelyuers, to the wysdome of the iust men, to make the people redy for the Lord.

And zacharias sayd vnto the aungell: wherby shall I knowe this? for I am olde and my wyfe wel stricken in yeres. And the aungell answered and sayde vnto hym, I am Gabriel that stande in the presence of god, and am sent to speake to the, & shew the these glad tidings. And behold thou shalt be dome, & not able to speake vnto the time that these thyngs be perfourmed, because thou beuest not my words which shall be fulfilled in their season. And the people werten

1. ps. cxlii. zacharias.

Elizabeth

Leui. xvi. d. Exo. xxx. a.

13

Ihon.

Isai. lxxv. d. Isai. lxi. b. Isai. li. b. A sygne is a sign.

wayted for zacharias, and merueiled that he tarped in the temple. And when he came out he could not speake to them. Wherby they perceyued that he had sene some vision in the temple. And he beckened vnto them, and remained spechles.

And it fortuneth a litle as the tyme of his office was out, he departed home into his owne house. And after those daies his wife Elizabeth conceived and hid hyr selfe fure monethes, sayinge: This wife hath God dealt with me in the dayes when he looked on me, to take fro me the rebuke that I suffered among men. And in the syxt moneth the aungell Gabriel was sente from God, vnto a cite of Galile, nameth Nazareth, to a virgine sponised to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Mary. And the aungell wente in vnto hir, and sayde: (c) Hail full of grace, the Lord is wth thee: blessed art thou among women.

D When she sawe hym, she was abashed at hys sayinge: and cast in hir mynde, what maner of salutation that shoulde be. And the aungell sayd vnto hir: feare not Mary, for thou hast founde grace with God. Lo, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe and shalt beare a sonne, and shalt call hys name Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the sonne of the highest. And the Lord God shall giue to him the seat of hys father Dauid, & he shall raigne ouer the house of Jacob for euer, and of hys kyngdome shall be no end.
Then sayd Mary to the aungell How shall this be, seynge I knowe not a man? And the aungell answered and sayd to hyr: The holy ghost shall come vnto thee, and the power of the highest, shall ouersadowe thee.
Wherefore also that holy thyng whiche shall be borne, shall be called the sonne of God.
And beholde thy cousin Elizabeth hath also conceyued a sonne in hir age, and this is hir sixte moneth though she be called bar-ren: for with God can nothing be impossible. And Mary sayde: beholde the hande maiden of the Lord, be it vnto me euen as thou hast sayd. And the aungell departed from hir.

Mary greteth Elizabeth. And Mary arose in those dayes, and went into the mountaynes with hast, into a cite of Iude, and entred into the house of zachary, and saluted Elizabeth. And it fortuned as Elizabeth hearde the salutation of Mary, the babe spronge in hir belipe. And Elizabeth was fylled wth the holy ghost, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde.
Blessed art thou among women, and blef-sed is the fruite of thy wombe. And whence happeneth this to me that the mother of my Lord, shoulde come to me? For lo, as-tunc as the voyce of thy salutation sowned in myne eares, the babe spronge in my belipe for ioye. And blessed arte thou that beluest: for those thynges shall be perfourmed, whiche were tolde thee from the lorde.
And Mary said: My soule magnifieth the lord And my spirit reioyseth in God my sauour. &

For he hath looked on the poore degre of hys hande maiden Beholde now from henceforth shall all generacions call me blessed.

For he that is myghty hath done to me great thynges, and help is hys name.

And his mercy is on them that feare him, thorowout all generacions.

He sheweth strength wth hys (b) arme, he scattereth them that are proude in the pymagination of their hertes.

He putteth down the myghty from their seates, and exalteth them of lowe degre.

He fylleth the hongry wth good thynges, and sendeth away the riche empty.

He remembereth his mercy, and helpeth his seruaunt Israel.

Euen as he promised to our fathers, Abraham and to his sede for euer.

And Mary abode wth her about a thre monethes, and returned agayne to hir own house.

Elizabethes tyme was come that she shoulde be deliuered, and she brought forth a son. And hir neighbours & hir cousins herd tell how the Lord had shewed great mercy vpon hir, and they reioysed wth hyr.

And it fortuneth the viii daies, they came to circumcise the chyld, & called his name zacharias, after the name of his father.
How be it his mother answered, and sayde: not so, but he shall be called Jhon. And they sayde vnto hir: There is none of thy kinne, that is named wth this name. And they made signes to hys father: howe he woulde haue hym called. And he axed for wrytinge tables, & wrote sayinge: his name is Jhon. And they merueyled all. And hys mouth was opened immediatly & his tong also, and he spake lauding God. And feare came on all them that dwelt nye vnto the.
And all these sayinges were noised abroad throughout all the hyll country of Iude, & all that hearde them layd them vp in theyr hertes. sayinge: What maner chyld shall this be? And the hande of the Lord was wth hym. And his father zacharias was fylled wth the holy ghost, and prophesed, sayinge.

Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, for
(c) he hath visyted and redeemed hys people. &

And hath reysed vp an horne of salua-cion vnto vs in the house of hys seruaunt Dauid.

Euen as he promysed by the mouth of hys holy prophetes, whiche were sence the world began.

That we shoulde be saued from our ene-myes, & from the power of all that hate vs.

To fulfill the mercie promysed to oure fathers, and to remember hys holpe coue-naunte.

And to perfourme the othe whiche he swore to our father Abraham, for to giue vs.

That we deliuered out of the power of our

Gen. xxi. c.

Jhon is borne.

Benedic-
tus.

Our enemies, mighte serue him wpthoute feare all the dayes of our lyfe, in such holynesse and rightuousnes as are accept before hym.

And thou childe shalt be called the prophet of the highest, for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his wayes.

And to geue knowledge of saluation vnto his people for the remission of synnes. Through the tender mercy of our God, wher by the day spring from on hys hath vnspted vs.

To geue light to them that sat in darknes and in shadowe of death, and to geue our feet into the waye of peace.

And the child grew and waxed stronge in spyrte, and was in wylernes till the daye came when he should shewe hymselfe vnto the Israelites.

The Notes.

(a) To make the chylde haue such an herte to God as Abraham and the fathers had.

(b) That is, when he shewed fauoure of grace to me.

(c) Full of grace, is as muche to saye, as to who God hath shewed abundant fauoure.

(d) The arme of God is Christ, by who he wrought all and mighte things.

(e) God vnspteth his people, when accordyng to his promise, he sheweth them some great benefyte: and agayne, when by punishment and aduersite, he calleth them to repentance.

The ii Chapter

It is shewed by what occasion Chaste was borne in Bethleem after the Prophecies of the Prophets, and by what witness all wel of angels, as of the cherubims in dyuine vertue, of the which he shewed the first proofe byngge yet a childe, teachyng in the temple.

As it chaunced in those dayes, that ther went out a commaundemente from Auguste the Emperour, that all the world should be taxed. And this taxing was the first, and executed whē Surenus was lieutenant in Siria. And euery man went vnto his owne cite to be taxed. And Joseph also ascended from Galilee, oute of a cite called Nazareth, into Iury: vnto the cite of Dauid which is called Bethleem, because he was of the house and lineage of Dauid, to be taxed with Marye his spoused wyfe, whiche was with childe.

And it fortuneth whyle they were there, his tyme was come that he should be deliuered. And he brought forth his first begotten sonne, and wrapped hym in swadylinge clothes, and laped hym in a maunger, because there was no rowme for them wthyn in the inn.

And ther wer in the same region shepherdes abiding in the field, and watchyng their flocke by night. And lo, the aungell of the Lord stode hard by the, and the brightnes of the Lord shone round about them: & they were sore afrayd: But the aungell said vnto them: Be not afrayed. For behold, I bring you good tidings of great ioye that shall come to all the people: for vnto you is borne this daye in the cite of Dauid, a sauoure wherby Christ the Lord. And take this for a signe: ye shall fynd the childe swadled and laped in a maunger. And straightwaye there was with the aungel a multitude of heauens souldiours, lauding God, and sayyng: Glorie to God on hys, and (b) peace on the earth and vnto men of good wyll.

Signes

And it fortuneth allone as the aungelles were gone awaye from them into heauen, & the shepherdes laped one to another let vs go euen vnto Bethleem, and se this thing that is happened, wherby the Lord hath shewed vnto vs. And they came with hasten and found Mary and Joseph and the babe laped in a maunger. And when they hadde seene it, they published abroad the sayyng, whiche was told them of that childe. And all that heard it, wondered at those thynges whiche were tolde them of the shepherdes. But Mary kept all those sayyngs, and pondered them in her herte. And the shepherdes returned praisyng and lauding God, for all that they had heard and seene, euen as it was told vnto them.

Leuit. xii. 9.

And when the eighth day was come that the childe should be circumcised, his name was called Iesus whiche was named of the angel before he was conceived in the wybe. And when the tyme of their purification (after the lawe of Moyses) was come they brought hym to Ierusalem to present hym to the Lord (as it is written in the lawe of the Lord: euery male that first openeth the matrix, shall be called holy to the Lord) and to offer (as it is sayd in the lawe of the Lord) a paire of turtle doves, or a poung pignons.

Christ is circumcised
Bath. i. c.
Leuit. xii. 9
Exod. xiii. 2
Mat. viii. c.
Leuit. xii. c.

And behold, ther was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon. And this same man was iust and feared God, and longed for the consolacion of Israel, and the holy ghost was in him. And an answer was geuen him of the holy ghost, that he should not se death before he had seene the Lord Christ. And he came by inspiration vnto the temple.

Simeon.

And when the father and mother brought in the childe Iesus, to doo for hym after the custome of the lawe, then toke he hym vp in his armes and sayd.

Lord, now lettest thou thy seruante departe in peace, accordyng to thy promise. For mine eyes haue seene the sauoure sente from the. Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people. A light to lighten the gentils & the glory of thy people Israel. And his father and mother were reioyced at those thynges which were spoken of hym. And Simeon blessed them, and sayed vnto Mary his mother: behold, this childe shall be the fall & resurrectiō of many in Israel, & a signe whiche shall be spoken agaynst. And moreover the (c) swerde shall pearce thy soule, that the (d) thoughtes of many hertes maye be opened.

Young brimms.

And ther was a prophete, one Anna the daughter

Exod. xiii. c.

daughter of Iſhamael of the tribe of Aſer, which was of a greete age, and had pured with an husbnde ſeven yeres from hyr virginite.

And ſhe had bene a wyddow about foure ſcore and foure yeres, which went neuer out of the temple, but ſerued God with faſting & praye nyght and day. And the ſame came forth that ſame houre, and praſed ſ lord, and ſpake of hym to al that looked for redempcion in Jeruſalem.

And aſſone as they hadde performed all thynges, accordynge too the lawe of the Lawde, they returned into Galile to therr owne cite Nazareth. And the chylde grew and wared ſtrong in ſpente, and was fylled wth wſdome, and the grace of God was in hym.

And his father and mother went to Hieruſalem euery yere at the feaſt of eaſter. And when he waſt welue yere old, they wente up to Hieruſalem after the cuſtome of the feaſt.

And when they had fulfilled the daies, as they returned home the chylde Jeſus bode ſyll in Jeruſalem unknowing to his father and mother. For they ſuppoſed he had bene in the company, and therefore came a dayes tyme, and ſoughte hym amonge their kinſfolke and acquaintaunce. And when they found him not, they went back agayn to Jeruſalem, and ſought him. And it ſortuned after thre dayes, that they found him in the temple, ſpittinge in the myddes of the doctours, both hearinge them & poſing them. And all that heard him, marvelled at his wit and anſweres.

And when they ſawe him, they were aſtonyſhed. And hym mother ſayd vnto him: ſon, why had thou thus dealt wth vs? Behold thy father, and I haue ſought the, ſorrowing. And he ſayd vnto them: how is it that ye ſought me? Wiſſe ye not that I muſt go aboute my fathers buſynes? And they vnderſtoode not the ſapinge that he ſpake to them. And he went wth them and came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them. But hym mother kepte all theſe thynges in her herte. And Jeſus increaſed in wſedome and age, and in fauoure wth God and men.

The Notes.

It began to be on the earth.

The ſword

That the thoughtes of many.

(a) Luke in Matthew the ſpyn. D. (b) This yere is the quietnes of conſcience, which happeneth to all the faythfull beleuers in Chriſte by reaſon that they knowe they are aſſured of remiſſion of therr ſynnes.

(c) This ſword is the ſorrowe that ſhoulde peare hertely, ſo ſe the ſonne of God diſpiled and cruelly dealt wthall, of the wycked.

(d) The faythfull ſhall openly confeſſe that they thynke him to be the ſonne of the liuinge God. The wycked and unbeluers, ſhall declare by therr gayne ſapinge hym, that they thynke hym to be a ſeducer. So ſhall the thoughtes of many be opened.

The iii. Chapter.

When John began to preache, ſe deſcribed, and the offyce of hye preaching, and how many were baptiſed of hym befoze he was taken by Herod, among whom a hyll alſo toke baptiſme, whoſe genealogye is reckoned vp vnto Adam.

Ad in the .xv. yere of the raigue of Tibertius the Emperour, Pontius Pilate, being lieftenant of Iury, & Herode beinge (a) Tetrarche of Galyle, and hye brother Philip Tetrarche in Iturra and in ſ region of Tracomites, & Lysanias the Tetrarche of Abilene, when Anna and Capphas were the hye prieſtes: the word of god came vnto John the ſonne of zacharias in the wildernes. And he came into all ſ partes about Iordane, preachinge the Baptiſme of repentaunce for the remiſſion of ſynnes, as it is written in the booke of the ſapings of Eſaias ſ prophet, which ſaith. The voice of a cryer in wildernes, prepare the way of ſ lord, make his pathes ſtraight. Every valley ſhall be filled, and euery moun tayne and hyl ſhall be brought lowe. And croked thynges ſhall be made ſtraight: & the rough wayes ſhall be made ſmothe: And all fleſhe ſhall ſe the ſauour ſent of God.

Then ſayed he to the people that were come to be baptiſed of hym: O generation of vyppers, who hath taught you to ſaye: The wyathy to come? Bring furth due fruits of repentaunce, and begynne not to ſay in your ſelues, we haue Abraham to our father: For I ſay to you, God is able of theſe ſtones to raiſe vp chylidren vnto Abraham. Now alſo is the axe layd vnto the roote of the trees, ſo that euery tree, which bringeth not forth the good fruite, ſhall be hewen downe, and caſt into the fyze.

And the people aſked him, ſaying: What ſhall we do then? He answered and ſaid vnto them: He that hath two coates, let hym part wth him that hath none, and he that hath meat, let hym do lykewiſe.

Then came other publicans to be baptiſed, and ſayed vnto hym: Maſter, what ſhall we doo? And he ſayed vnto them: requyte no more then that which is appoynted vnto you.

The ſouldiours lykewiſe demaunded of hym, ſaying: and what ſhall we do? And he ſaid to them: Do violence to no man: nei ther trouble any man wrongfully: but be content wth your wages.

As the people were in a doubt, and al m diſputed in their hertes of John, whether he were very Chriſt, John answered and ſayed to them all: I baptiſe you wth water, but a ſtronger then I cometh after me, whoſe ſhoe latchet I am not worthy to vnloſe. he will baptiſe you wth the holy gholt and wth fyre, which hath inſt in his hand, and wil pouge his floore, and wil gather the corne into his barn, but the chaffe wil he burne wth fyre ſ neuer ſhall be quenched. And many other things in his exhortacion preached he vnto the people.

Then

John the Baptiſt. at 11. 8. Mark 1. 8.

Eſa. xl a. 3. 4. 5. 6.

Mat. 3. 1. 2.

The axe.

Publicans.

Souldiours.

Fanne. Chaffe.

The Gospel

Of S. Luke.

When Herod the Tetrarch (when he was rebuked of hym for Herodias his brother Philips wyfe, and for all the euilles which Herod had done, added this about al, and laped John in prison.

And it fortuneth as all the people receyued baptysme and when Iesus was baptysed and byd praye that heauen was opened, and the holy ghoſt came doune in a bodelp ſhape lyke a doue vpon hym, & a voyce came from heauen ſayinge: thou arte my deare ſonne, in the do I deſpte.

And as Iesus himſelfe was about thyrty yeres of age when he beganne, beyng as men ſuppoſed, the ſonne of (d) Joſeph: which was the ſonne of Iſſi, which was the ſonne of Matthat, which was the ſonne of Levi, which was the ſonne of Melchi, which was the ſonne of Anna, which was the ſonne of Joſeph, which was the ſonne of Matthatias, which was the ſonne of Amos, which was the ſonne of Nahum, which was the ſonne of Eli, which was the ſonne of Magge, which was the ſonne of Marath, which was the ſonne of Maathathias, which was the ſonne of Semei, which was the ſonne of Joſeph, which was the ſonne of Iuda, which was the ſonne of Iohanna, which was the ſonne of Iſſelias, which was the ſonne of Iozobabel, which was the ſonne of Salathiel, which was the ſonne of Iſeri, which was the ſonne of Melchi, which was the ſonne of Addi, which was the ſonne of Coſam, which was the ſonne of Helmadam, which was the ſonne of Hic, which was the ſonne of Jeſo, which was the ſonne of Heleſar, which was the ſonne of Ioram, which was the ſonne of Mattha, which was the ſonne of Levi, which was the ſonne of Simeon, which was the ſonne of Iuda, which was the ſonne of Joſeph, which was the ſonne of Iona, which was the ſonne of Helachim, which was the ſonne of Melch, which was the ſonne of Menam, which was the ſonne of Matthatian, which was the ſonne of Maathan, which was the ſonne of Dauid, which was the ſonne of Jeſſe, which was the ſonne of Obed, which was the ſonne of Boos, which was the ſonne of Salmon, which was the ſonne of Maalon, which was the ſonne of Aminadab, which was the ſonne of Aram, which was the ſonne of Elrom, which was the ſonne of Iſhaces, which was the ſonne of Iuda, which was the ſonne of Iſaac, which was the ſonne of Abraham, which was the ſonne of Iſhara, which was the ſonne of Iſachar, which was the ſonne of Saruch, which was the ſonne of Ragau, which was the ſonne of Iſhalet, which was the ſonne of Heber, which was the ſonne of Sala, which was the ſonne of Laman, which was the ſonne of Arphaxat, which was the ſonne of Sem, which was the ſonne of Noe, which was the ſonne of Lamech, which was the ſonne of Matthatias, which was the ſonne of Enoch, which was the ſonne of Iareth, which was the ſonne of Salathiel, which was the ſonne of Laman, which was the ſonne of Enos, which was the ſonne of Seth, which was the ſonne of Adam, which was the ſonne of God.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in Matthew iii. 3
(b) Luke in Matthew iii. 15.
(c) Luke in Matthew iii. 23.
(d) Let it not trouble the Chriſtian reader, & the Evangelist Luke rehearſeth the Genealogy of Chriſt, vnder other names, then Matthew doth: for the fathers of the old Teſtament, as for the moſt parte of mo names then one. As for example: Dauides father, who was named both Elay and Jeſe. And Iacob was named alſo Iſrael.

Tetrarch
Elipets.
Chaste.
Donne of Iorſph.

The III Chapter.

Iesus going about the office of our ſauour, ſpyde was tempted of the deuill. & from thence going into Galyle, he came into Nazareth, teaching wth the great admiration of all men. When he rebuked theyr vnhindes, he ſpyed vp all their myndes agaynſt hym, but cecapng them, he came to Capernaum, he departed thence that was vexed with the deuill, he holpe Simons mother in lawe that had a feuer, and very many other.

And then ful of the holy ghoſt returned from Iordan, and was caried of the ſpirit into wyldernes, and was tempted of the deuill. And in thoſe dayes ate nothing. And when they were ended he afterward hongred. And the deuill ſayde vnto hym: if thou be the ſonne of God, commande thys ſtone that it be bread. And Iesus answered hym, ſayinge: It is witten, man ſhall not lue by breade onely, but of euery worde of God.

At Mark. i. b Ieſus fa-ſeth four-tye dayes.

And the deuill toke hym vp into an hye mountayne, and ſhewed hym all the kingdomes of the world, euen in the twinkling of an eye. And the deuill ſayd vnto hym: al thys power wyl I geue the euery whit and the glorie of them, for that is deliuered to me, and to whomſoeuer I wyl, I geue it: If thou therfore wilt worſhip me, thei ſhal be al thynne. Iesus answered hym and ſayd: Hence from me Satan. For it is witten: Thou ſhalt honour the Lord thy god, and hym onely ſerue.

Deu. vii. 8

Deute. vi. 13

And he caried hym to Ieruſalem and ſet hym on a pinnacle of the temple, & ſayd vnto hym: If thou be the ſonne of God, caſte thy ſelfe doune from hence: For it is witten. We ſhall geue thy angels charge ouer the to kepe the, and wth theyr hands thei ſhal ſtepe the vp, that thou daſt not thy fote agaynſt a ſtone. Iesus answered and ſaid to hym: it is ſayd: Thou ſhalt not tempte the Lord thy God. And ſone as the deuill had ended al his temptacions, he departed fro hym for a ſeaſon.

Mat. xx. 1

Deut. xli. 2

And Iesus returned by the power of the ſpirit into Galyle, and there went a ſame of hym through out al the region round about. And he taught in their ſynagoges, & was commended of all men.

At
Mark. i. b
Ihon. iiii. f
Mat. xiii. b
Mar. vi. 6

And he came to Nazareth wher he was brought.

nourished: and as hys custome was, wente into the Synagoge on the Sabothe dayes, and stode vp to reade. And ther was deli- uered vnto him the booke of the prophet Es- saias. And when he had opened the booke, he founde the place where it was written: The spirit of the Lorde vpon me, because he hath annointed me: to preach the Gos- pell to the poore he hath sente me, and to heale the broken hearted, to preache deliue- raunce to the captiue, and sighte to the blynde, and frelpe to set at libertie them that are bruised, and to preache the accep- table peate of the lord.

And he closed the booke, and gaue it againe to the minister, and sat downe. And the eyes of all that were in the synnagoge, were fastened on him. And he began to say vnto them. This daye is this scripture fulfilled in your eares. And all bare him wptnes, & wondered at the gracious words, whiche proceeded oute of hys mouth, & said: Is not this Josephs sonne?

Josephs sonne.

And he sayed vnto them: Ye maye verie well saye vnto me this prouerbe: Whislerd healeth selfe. Whatsoeuer wee haue heard done in Capernaum, do the same here like wise in this owne countrey. And he said: Clerely I say vnto you no prophet is accepted in his owne countrey.

John the prophete. u. c. vii. b. Jacob. v. d. The widow of Sarepta.

But I tell you of a truth, many wyddowes were in Israel in the dayes of Helias, when heauen was shut thre peres and sixe monethes, when greates famishmente was throughout all the lande, and vnto none of them was Helias sente, saue vnto Sa- repta besides Sidon vnto a woman that was a wyddow. And manie lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophete, and yet none of them was healed, saunge Naaman of Siria.

Mat. x. v. d. Naaman.

And as manie as were in the Synagoge, when they hearde that, were fylled wth wrath: and rose vp, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him euen vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their cite was built, to cast him downe headlonge. But he wente hys waye, euen through the myddes of the: & came into Capernaum a cite of Ga- lile, and there taught them on the Saboth dayes. And they were astounded at hys doc- trine, for hys preachinge was wth (b) power.

Mat. x. v. d. Mark. i. c.

And in the synagoge ther was a manne, which had a spirite of an vncleane deuyll, and cryed wth a loud voice saying: let me alone, what haste thou to do wth vs thou Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to de- stroye vs? I knowe the what thou art, euen the holpe God. And Iesus rebuked hym, saying: holde thy peace & come out of him. And the deuill threw him in the middes of the, & came out of him, & hurt him not. And feare came on the al, & they spake amonge the selues, saying: what manner of thyng is this? For withouthoutie & power he com- mandeth the foule spirites, & they come out.

The vn- cleane spi- rit is caste out.

And the fame of him spred abroad throughout all places of the countrey round aboute. & And he rose vp and came out of the Synagoge, and entred into Simons house. And Simons mother in lawe was taken with a great feuer, and they made interces- sion to him for hys. And he stode ouer hys, & rebuked the feuer, and it left hys. And im- mediately, she arose & ministered vnto the.

Mat. x. v. d. Mark. i. c. Simons mother in lawe.

When the sunne was downe, all they that had sicke, taken with diuerse disca- ses, brought them vnto him, and he laid his handes on euery one of them, & healed the. And deuils also came out of many of them, crying, and saying: thou art Christus the sonne of God. And he rebuked them and suffered them not to speake: for they knew that he was Christus.

Laid his hand on them.

As soon as it was daye, he departed and went away into a desert place, and the peo- ple sought him and came to him, and kept him that he should not depart from them. And he sayed vnto them: I must to other ci- ties also preach the kpngdome of God: for therfore am I sent. And he preached in the Synagoges of Galile.

Mark. i. d.

The Notes,

(a) Luke in mathe. u. c.

The b. Chapter.

Jesus when he had taught a greates multy- tude of men a longe while, at the last by mys- rade called Peter & hys fellowes vnto hym, he healed the leper and the man that had the palsey. He chose Iesus of Nazareth to hys dis- ciple, and reposed the pharises, which fled the company of synners, and were proude for their often fasting.

I came too passe as the people preaced vnto hym to heare the word of God, that he stode by the lake of Genezareth: and sawe two shippes stande by the lake syde, but the fy- sher men were gone out of them, and were washyng their nettes. And he entred into one of the shippes, which perteyned to Si- mon, & prayed hym that he woulde thruste out a litle from the land. And he sat downe, and taught the people out of the shipp.

Mat. x. v. d. Mark. i. d.

When he had left speaking, he sayd vnto Simon: Launce out into the deepe, and let thy netts to make a draught. And Simon answered and said vnto him Mas- ter, we haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothyng. Neuerthelater at thy word I will lose forth the net. And when they had so done, they enclosed a greates mul- titude of fishes. And their net brake: but they made signes to their fellowes whiche were in the other shipp that they shoulde come and helpe them. And they came and fylled both the shippes that they sonke agayne.

When Simon Peter sawe that, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying: Lord go from me, for I am a synful man. For he was verie astonied & all that were wth him at the draught of fishe, whiche they toke: and so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebede.

Mat. x. v. d. Zebede.

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

zebede, whych wer parteners with Simō. And Iesus sayed vnto Simon: feare not from henceforth thou shalt catche menne. And they brought the Appes to land, and forsoke all and folowed him.

And it fortuned as he was in a certayne cite beholde, ther was a man ful of leprosy: and when he hadde spred Iesus, he fell on hys face, and besoughte him, sayinge: Lord, if thou wilt, þe canst make me cleane. And he stretched forth his hande and touched him, sayinge: I wil, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosy departed from him. And he warned him that he should tel no man, but that he should goo and shewe him selfe to the priest, and offer for his clea-spunge, accordinge as Moyses commaunde-ment was, for a wptnes vnto them.

But so much the more went ther a fame abroad of him, and much people came togy-ther to heare and too bee healed of hym, of their infirmities. And he kepte hym selfe a parte in the wilderness, and gaue him self to praye.

And it happened on a certayne day, that he taught, and there sate the pharises and the doctours of law, whych were come out of all the tounes of Galile, Jude, and Ie-rusalem. And the power of the Lorde was to heale them. And beholde men brought a man lying in his bedde, whiche was taken with a palsey: and sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him. And whē they coude not fynde by what waye they myght bring him in, because of the prece, they wente vp on the toppe of the house, and lette hym downe thowowe the tpyng, bedde and all in the myddest before Iesus.
When he saw thes, sayth, he sayd to hym: manne, thy synnes are forgeuen the. And the Scribes and phariseis began to thinke sayinge: What felowe is this, whych speaketh blasphemy? Who can forgeue synnes but God only?

When Iesus perceyued their thoughtes, he answered and sayd vnto the: What thinke ye in your hertes? Whether is it easier to say: thy synnes are forgeuen the, or to saye: rise and walke? But that ye maye knowe, that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue synnes on earth: he sayed to the specke of the palsey: I say to the, arise, take vp thy bed, and go home to thy house. And immediatly, he rose vp before them, & toke vp his bed wheron he laye, and departed to hys owne house prayng: God. And they were all amazed, and they lauded God, and were filled with feare, sayinge: We haue sene straunge thynges to day.

And after that he went forth and saw a publican named Lewi, sittynge at the recepte of custome, and said vnto him: folow me. And he leste all, rose vp and folowed him. And that same Lewi made him a great feast at home in hys owne house. And there was a greaie companie of publicans and of other that sate at meat wpyth him. And the Scribes and pharisees murmured against his disciples, sayinge: Why eate ye and duncke ye with publicanes and sinners? Iesus answered and said vnto the.

They that are whole, nede not of the pharisean: but they that are sycke. I am not come to call the rightuous, but synners to repentaunce.

Then they sayde vnto him: Why do the disciples of Ihon faste often and praye, and the disciples of the phariseis also:
and thine eate and duncke? And he sayd vnto them: Can ye make the chyldren of the wedding fast, as long as the bidegrome is present with the? The daies wil come, whē the bidegrome shalbe taken awaye from them: then shall they faste in those daies.

Then spake he vnto them in a similytude. No man putteth a pece of a newe garment vnto an old besture: for if he do, then breaketh he the newe, & the pece that was take out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde. Also no man poureth newe wyne into old vessels. For if he do, the newe wyne breaketh the vessels, and runneth oute it selfe, and the vessels perishe. But newe wyne muste be poured into newe vessels, and bothe are preserued. Also, no man that dunketh olde wyne straight way canne awaye wpyth newe, for he sayeth, the olde is pleasanter.

The vi. Chapter.

Christ defendeth hys disciples whych plucked the eares of coine vpon the sabboth day, by the example of Dauid. He healed the hād thāt was withered vp. He sheweth the apostles the waye to the goodnes, and what was the perfection of the lawe, & with what fruites the woide of God ought to be heard, and what ought to be done.

It happened on an after sabboth, that he wente through the coine fieldes, & that his disciples plucked the eares of coine and eat. & rubbed them in their handes. And certayne of the phariseis said vnto them: Why doo ye that whiche is not lawfull to do on the sabboth daies? And Iesus answered them and sayd. Wane ye not reade what Dauid did when he himselfe was an hougred, is broken. and they whych were wpyth him: howe he went into the house of God, and toke and ate the loaves of halowed breade, & gaue also to them which were with him: whiche was not lawfull to eate, but for the priestes only? And he sayed vnto them: The son of man is lord of the Sabboth daye.

And it fortuned in an other Sabbothalso, that he entred into the Synagoge, and taught. And ther was a man whose righte hand was dried vp. And the Scribes & pha-riseis watched him, to se whether he would heale on the Sabboth daye, that they might fynde an accusacion agaynst hym. But he knewe they thoughtes, and sayde to the man whych had the withered hād: Rise vp and

Publican
sinners.

Mark. ii. c
The disciples fast
not.

New and olde agree
not.

Mat. xii. a.
Mark. ii. b Corne
fielde.

The Sa-
both daye
is broken.

Mat. xxi. a.
Mark. iii
Dried hād

Mat. xii. a
Mark. ii. b

Lepet.

Leuit. xiii. a

Mat. ix. a
Mar. ii. a.

Palsey.

Mat. ix. a
Mark. ii. b
Lewi.

bp and stonde forth in the myddes. And he arose and stepped forth. Then saied Iesus vnto them: I wil aske you a question: Whe- ther is it lawfull on the sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euill: to saue lyfe, or for to destroye it? And he behelde them al in com- passe, and sayed vnto the man: Stretche forth the thy hande. And he dyd so: and hys hande was restored, and made as whole as the other. And they were filled full of mad- nes, and comuned one wth another, what they myght do to Iesus.

Madnes.

Math. x. 9.
Mar. iii. c.

The twelu
are chosen

And it fortunied in those dayes that he wente out into a mountayne for to praye, and continued al nyght in prayer to God. And as soone as it was daye, he called hys Dysciples, and of them he chose. xii. which also he called Apostles: Symon whome he named Peter, and Andrewe hys brother, James and John, Philippe and Bartol- meu, Mattheu and Thomas, James the sonne of Alphaeus and Symon called zelo- tes, and Judas James sonne, and Judas Iscariot: whiche same was the traitor. And he came downe with them and stode in the playne speld wth the compaigne of hys Dysciples, and a greate multitude of people out of all partes of Iurpe and Je- rusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sydon, whiche came to heare hym, and to be healed of theyr dyseases, and they also that were vexed wth fowle spirites, and they were healed. And all the people prea- ced to touche him, for they went vertue out of him, and healed them al.

Math. v. 14

Couenan-
ces.

And he lyfte vp hys eyes vpon the Dis- ciples, and sayed: Blessed be ye (a) poore: for yours is the kyngdome of God. Blessed are ye that hunger nowe: for ye shall be sa- tisfied. Blessed are ye that wepe nowe: for ye shall laughe. Blessed are ye when menne hate you, and thrust you out of theyr com- paigne, and saye, and abhorre your name as an euill thyng, for the sonne of mannes sake. Reioyse ye then, and be gladde: for beholde, your reward is great in heauen. After this maner theyr fathers entreted the prophets.

True pro-
phetes.

Acts. vi. 14.
Eccl. xiii. 14

But woe be to you that are ryche: for ye haue therein your consolacion. Woe be to you that are full, for ye shall hunger. Woe be to you that now laughe: for ye shall waile and wepe. Woe be to you whē al men praise you: for so did theyr fathers to the falsse pro- phetes.

Couenan-
ces.

Love.
Math. v. 3

But I saye vnto you whiche heare: Love your ennemys. Do good to them whiche hate you. Bless them that curse you: And praye for them whiche wrongfully trouble you. And vnto him that smiteth the one cheeke offer also the o- ther. And hym that taketh away thy gowne forbid not to take thy cote also. Woe to e- uery man that areth of the: And of hym that taketh away thy gooddes are they not a- gaine. And as ye would that men should do to you: so do ye to them lyke wyse.

Do good Blesse.
pray.
At the law

If ye loue them whiche loue you, what thanke are ye worthe of? For the very sin- ners loue theyr louers. And if ye do for the whiche do for you, what thanke are ye wor- thy of? For the very sinners doo euen the same. If ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receyue, what thanke shall ye haue: for the very synners lende to synners to re- ceyue as muche agayne. Wherefore, loue ye your ennemys, do good and lende, lo- kyng for nothinge agayne, and your re- ward shall be great, and ye shall be children of the hie, for he is kinde vnto the vnkyn- d and to the euill.

Mar. vii. 1

Ecc. iii. 1.
Math. v. 9.
Lende.

If Covenan-tes.

Math. vii. 1

Judge not
Math. vii. 1

Mark iii. c Forgiue.

Be ye therefore merciful, as your father is merciful. Judge not, and ye shall not be iudged. Condemne not, and ye shall not be condemned. For geue and ye shall haue geuen. Beue, and it shall be geuen vnto you: good measure, pressed downe, shaken to- gether and runnynge ouer shall men geue into your bosomes. For with what mea- sure ye mete, with the same shall men mete to you agayne.

And he putteth forth a similitude vnto them: Can the blinde leade the blinde? do they not both then fall into the dyche? The Dysciple is not aboue hys master. Euen so man shall be perfecte euen as he is. Whiche seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye and considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Either how cannest thou saye to thy brother: Brother, let me pulle out the mote that is in thine eye: when thou per- ceitest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Hi- pocrite, caste out the beame that is thine owne eye first, and then shalt thou see per- fectly to pull out the mote out of thy bro- thers eye.

Math. xv. 1
Measure.

Math. x. c.
Note.

John. xiii. 1
Mar. vii. 1

Beame.

It is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruite: neither is that an euill tree that bringeth forth good fruite. For euery tree is knowne by his fruite. Neither of thornes gather men figges, nor of bushes gather they grapes. A good man out of the good treasure of hys hearte bringeth forth that which is good. And an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is euill. For of the aboundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

Mat. vii. 1, 2, 3

Mar. xiii. c

The tree is knowne
by his frut

the mouth speaketh of the fulnes

the hearte.

Why call ye me Master Master, and do not as I sayd you? whosoever commeth to me, and heareth my saynges, and doeth the same I wil shew you to whom he is like.

He is like a man whiche but an house and digged depe and laide the foundation on a rocke. When the waters arose, the floude bet vpon that house, and could not moue it for it was grounde vpon a rocke. But he that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that wthout foundation buylt an house vpon the earth, agaynst whiche the floude dyd beate, and it fell by and by, and the fall of that house was great.

to builde
on a rocke

to buylde
on sand.

The. vii. Chapter.

¶ Chyld heareth the Centurions seruaunt that was lyke to by, and the wyddowes son that was John. iv. 46.

was

The Gospell

Of S. Luke.

was led to be buried, he restored to life, who sendeth his disciples to him, to whom Christ giveth a plaine witness, and rebuketh the incurable sinfulness of the Jewes. When he sat in the Pharisees house, he forgave the womans sinnes that wept for them, the Jewes much murmuring for it.

When he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum. And a certaine Centurions servaunte was sicke and ready to dye, whom he made much of. And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his servaunt. And they came to Jesus and besought him instantly, saying: He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him. For he loveth our nation, and hath built us a synagogue. And Jesus went with them.

And when he was not far from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him: Lord trouble not thy selfe, for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my rooffe: Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come unto thee: but say the word, and my servaunte shall be whole. For I likewise am a man under power, & have under me souldiers, and I saye unto one, go: & he goeth. And to another, come: and he cometh. And to my servaunt, do this: and he doeth it. When Jesus heard this, he marvelled at him, and turned hym about and said to the people that folowed him: I saye unto you, I have not founde so great faith no, not in Israel. And they that were sent, turned backe home againe, and founde the servaunte that was sicke, whole.

And it fortuned after that, that he went into a city called Naun, and manie of his disciples went with him, and much people. When he came nye to the gate of the city, beholde there was a deade man carried oute which was the only sonne of his mother, and she was a widow, and much people of the city was with hir. And when the lord saw hir, he had compassion on hir, and said unto hir, wepe not. And he wente and touched the coffin, & they that bare hym, stode still: And he said. Younge man, arise. And the dead sat up, and began to speake. And he delivered him to his mother: And there came a feare on them all. And they glorified God, sayinge: a greates prophet is risen among vs, and God hath visited his people.

And this rumoz of him went forth throughout all Iurpe, and thoroughout all the regions which he roundabout.

And the disciples of John shewed hym of all these thynges. And John called unto him two of his disciples, and sent them to Jesus, sayinge: Arte thou he that shall come? or shall we looke for another? When the men were come unto him, they sayed: John Baptist sent vs unto thee, sayinge:

Art thou he that shall come, or shall we waite for another? And at that same tyme he cured manie of their infirmities and plagues and of evil spirites, and unto manie that were blinde he gave sight. And Jesus answered and sayd unto them: So your waies, and shewe John what thynges ye have seene and heard: howe that the blinde see, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the deade arise, to the poore is the glad tydings preached, and happye is he that is not offended by me.

When the messengers of John were departed, he began to speke unto the people of John: What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? Went ye to see a reede shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see: a man clothed in soft raiment? Beholde they which are gorgeously appareled, and in delicate raiment, are in kynges courtes. But what went ye forth for to see? a prophete? Yea I saye to you, and more then a prophete. This is he of whom it is written: Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, to prepare thy way before thee. For I saye unto you: a greater prophete then John among womens childre is ther none, nevertheless one that is lesse in the kyngdoms of God, is greater then he.

And all the people that heard and the pharisees justified God, and were baptised with the baptysme of John. But the pharisees and scribes despised the counsell of God against them selves, and were not baptised of him.

And the lord sayed: Where unto shall I lyke the men of this generacion, and what thing are they like? They are like unto children sittinge in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying: We have pyped unto you, and ye have not daunced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept. For John Baptist came, neither eatinge bread, nor drynkinge wine, and ye say: he hath the devil. The sonne of manne is come and eateth and drinketh, and ye say: beholde, a man whiche is a glotten, and a dryncker of wine, a frende of publicans and synners. Yet is wisdom justified of all his children.

And one of the pharisees despised hym that he would rate with hym. And he went in to the pharisees house, & sat down to meat.

And beholde a woman in that city, which was a spinner, as she knewe that Jesus sat at meate in the pharisees house, she brought an alabastrer bore of ointment, and she robe at his fete behynd hym weeping, and began to washe his fete with teares, and did wipe them with the herres of her head, and kissed his fete, & annointed them with ointment.

When the pharisei which had him, saw that, he spake within himselfe, saying: If this man were a prophete, he would have knownen, who and what maner womanne this is, whiche touched hym, mat. vii. a.

Centurion.

mala. iii. a

Publicans
justified
God.
Pharisees
despise
the coun-
cel of god,
Mat. xi.

Martha
Bethany.

The dead
is raised.

Mat. xi. a.

John baptist sent them to Christ.

for

for she is a spinner. And Jesus answered & said vnto him: Simon I haue some what to saye vnto the. And he sayed, maister saye on. Ther was a certaine lender, whpch had two debtors, the one oughte iij hundred pence, and the other xlvj. When they had nothinge to paye, he forgauethem both. Which of them tell me, wyl loue him most? Simon answered and sayed: I suppose that he to whome he forgaueth mooste. And he sayed vnto hym: Thou haste truly iudged.

B And he tourned to the woman, and said vnto Simon: Seest thou this womanne? I entered into thy house, and thou gavest me no water to my feete, but she hath washed my feete wth teares, & wipped them wth the herres of hyr head.

Love is the signe that the sinnes are forgiven

Thou gavest me no kysse: but she, sence the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feete. Myne heade vnto people thou pdest not annointe, but she hath annointed my feete with oylment. Therfor, I saye vnto the: a manye sinnes are forgiven hyr, for she loued much. To whom lesse is forgiven, the same doeth lesse loue.

And he sayed vnto hyr, thy synnes are forgiven the. And they that sate at meat wth hym, began to say wth themselves: Who is this, which forgaueth synnes also? And he saith to the woman: Thy faith hath saued the, go in peace. †

The Notes.

(a) Not that the loue obtained remission of her synnes, but sayeth, out of the whpch hyr loue proceeded, and therfore Christ openeth off, sayeth. Thy sayeth hath made the safe. For as sayeth Paule sayeth. Wpout sayth it is vnpabye to please God. Heb. xi. a. And what other is not of sayth, the same is synne. Roma. xi. ii. d

The. lviij. Chapter.

When Jesus had gone throuwe many places, and that manye came to hym, he expounded to them the parable of the sower, & how the worde shoulde be heard, and saweth who be hyr brethren. Then passing ouer the sea, he appeareth the tempest, and helpeth the man that was possessed of the dyabl. in the land of the Gadrenes. he stopped the blou by syre, and capseth the daughter of Jairus from death.

As it fortuneth after that, that he himselfe went throuwout cyties and townes, preaching and shewing the kingdom of God, and the twelve wth him. And also certain women, which were healed of euill spirits and infirmities: Mary called Magdalen, out of whom went seuen deupls, and Joanna the wife of Chusa Herods steward, and Susanna, and many other, which ministered to them of theyr substance.

Mat. xlii. a
Mar. xlii. a Sower.

† When much people were gathered together, and wer came to him out of all cyties, he spake by a similitude. A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fel by the way syde: & it was trode vnder fete, and the fowles of the aire deuoured it vp. And some fel on the stone, and as sone as it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moystnes. And some fell amonge thornes, and the thornes sprung vp wthit and choked it. And some fel on good ground and sprung vp, and bare frucht an hundred folde. And as he sayed these thinges, he cryed: He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

And hyr disciples axed hym, sayinge: What maner of similitudes is this? And he sayed (a) vnto pou is it gauen to knowe the secretes of the kyngdome of God: but to other in similitudes, that when they se, they shoulde not se, and when they heare, they shoulde not vnderstand.

Mat. xlii. b
Mar. xlii. b
John vi. f
Roma. xi. b

The similitude is this. The seed is the worde of God. Those that are besyde the waye are they that heare, and afterwarde cometh the Deuill, and taketh away the word out of theyr hertes, lest they shoulde beleue and be saued. They on the stones are they whiche when they heare, receiue the worde wth hope. But these haue no rotes, whiche for a whyle beleue, and in tyme of temptacion go away. And that whpche fel among the ynes, are they whpche heare, and go forth, and are choked wth cares & wth riches, and voluptuose lypung, and bring forth no fruite. That in the good grounde, are they whpche wth a good and pure hert, heare the word and kepe it, & bringe forth fruite wth patience. †

The sower is expounded.

No man lighteth a candle, and couereth it vnder a bushell, neyther putteth it vnder a table: but setteth it on a candelsticke, that they that enter in, maye see the lighte. For thyng is in secrete, that shall not come abroad. Neither any thyng hid that shall not be knowne, and come to lychte. Take heed therfore how ye heare. For he, whoso euer hath, to him shall be geuen: And whoso euer hath not, from him shall be taken, even that same whiche he supposeth that he hath. Then came too hys mother and hys brethren, and coulde not come at him for preace. And they tolde him, sayinge: Thy mother and thy brethren stande without, and would se the. He answered and said vnto them. my mother and my brethren are these, whiche heare the worde of God, and do it.

Mat. xlii. b
Mar. xlii. c
Mar. xlii. b
Mar. xlii. c
Mat. xlii. b
Mark. xlii. d

† And it chaunced on a certaine dape, that he went into a synagoge, and hys disciples also, and he sayed vnto them: Let vs go ouer to the other side of the lake, and they lanchyd forth. And as they sayled, he fell on sleepe, and ther arose a storm of wind in the lake, and they were filled wth water, and were in leopardy. And they wet to him, & awoke him, sayinge: Maister, Maister, we are losse. Then he rose and rebuked the winde, & the tempeste of the water, and they ceased, & it wered calme. And he said vnto the. What is your faith? They feared & wondered saying one to another, what fellowe is this: for he comandeth both the windes & water, and they obeye hym? † And they sailed vnto the

Mat. xlii. b
Mar. xlii. d
Mark. xlii. d

Jesus sleeping in the synagoge.

Mat. viii. b
Mark. vi. a Gadetes rules.

region of the Gaderenites, whiche is ouer agaynst Galile.

And as he went out to lande, there mete hym a certayne man out of the cite, whych had a deuyll long tyme, & ware no clothes, neyther adobe in anye house: but amonge graues. When he saw Iesus, he cryed and fel down before him, and with a loud voice sayed: What haue I to do with the Iesus, the sonne of the God most hie? I beseeche the toment me not. Then he commaunded the foule spirit to come out of the mā. For oft tymes he caught him, and he was bound wth chappes, and kept wth fetters, and he brake the boundes, and was carryed of the fiend into wilderness.

Legion. And Iesus axed him saying: what is thy name? And he sayed (c) Legion, because many deuylls were entred into hym. And they besought him, that he would not commaund them to go oute into the deepe. And there was therich an herd of many swyne, feeding on a hill: and they besought him that he woulde suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them. Then wente the deuylls out of the manne, and entered into the swyne: and the herd toke their course, and ranne headlong into the lake, and wer choked. When the herdmen sawe what hadde chaunced, they fled, and tolde it in the cytpe, and in the villages. And they came out to se what was done: and came to Iesus, & found the man oute of whom the deuylls were departed, sitting at the fete of Iesus, clothed, and in his righte mynde: and they were astoned. They also whych sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuyll, was healed. And all the whole multitude of the Gaderenites, besought him that he woulde depart from them: for they wer taken with great feare. And he gate hym into the shippe, and returned backe agayn. Then the manne oute of whom the deuylls were departed, besought him that he might be with him. But Iesus sent him awaye, sayinge: Go home again into thyne owne house, and shewe what great thynges God hath done to the. And he went hys way and preached thorowout all the cite what great thynges Iesus had done vnto hym.

With it. c. Mark. v. b. And it fortuneth when Iesus was come agayne, that the people receyued hym. For they all waited for him. And behold, there came a man named Jairus (and he was a ruler of the synagoge) and he fel downe at Iesus fete, and besought him that he wold come into his house, for he had but a daughter, and onely vpon a tye of age, & she laye a dying. As he went & people thronged him.

Issue of bloude. And a woman hauing an yssue of bloud twelue yerres (whych had spent all hir substance among physicians, neyther coulde be holpen of anye) came behynd hym, and touched the hem of hys garment, and immediately hir yssue of bloud stancheth. And Iesus said: Who is it that touched me? Whe euery man denyed, Peter and they that were with him, saide: Master, the people thrust the and bere the, & sayest thou, who touched me? And Iesus sayed: Some body touched me. For I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me. When the woman sawe that she was not hyed, she came trembling, and fel at his fete, and tolde him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediatly. And he said vnto hir: Doughter be of good comfort. Thy fapth hath made the whole, go in peace.

Whyle he yet spake, ther came one from the rulers of the Synagoges house, whych sayd to hym: thy daughter is dead, discease not the master.

When Iesus heard that, he answered & the father, sayinge: I care not, beleue one & ly, and she shal be made whole. And when he came to the house, he suffered no manne to go in with him, save Peter, James, and Iohn, & the father and mother of the mayden. Euery body wepte and sorowed for hyr. And he sayed: Wepe not, for she is not dead but slepeth. And they laughte hym to scoone. For they knew that she was dead. And he thrust them all out, and caught hyr by the hand, and cryed, sayinge: Marce a rple. And hyr spirit came agayne, and she arose straightway. And he commaunded to geue hyr meate. And the father and the mother of hyr were astonied. But he warned them that they shoulde tell no man, what was done.

The Notes.

- (a) Luke in Marke. lili. b
- (b) Luke in Mathew. xiii. b
- (c) Legion, is after Hieronimus the number of. vi. thousand, seven hundred and two and thyrtye.

To you it. Who so hath. ec. Legion.

The ix. Chapter.

Chrysostome sendeth oute hys Apostles. Herode was abashed at hys name. Iesus fedde wth fyue loaves certayn thousands of men. Peter confesseth that he is Christ, he exhorteth them to hys crosse. He is transformed in the mountayne, he healeth the manne that had a dyuell that coulde not be healed before, he counselleth his disciples to be lowely, and checked them because they woulde not suffer one to come to hym that dyd myracles in his name, and because they desired to be reuenged. A lye it is the word of men that woulde haue folowed him.

Then called he the twelue togither and gaue them power and authority ouer all deuylls, & that they myght heale diseases. And he sent them to preache the kyngdome of God, and to cure the synke. And he sayd to them. Take nothinge to lucker you by the waye a neyther staffe, nor scrippe, neyther breade, neyther money neither haue two coates. And whatsoeuer house ye enter into, there abyde and thence departe. And whosoever will not receiue you, when ye go out of that cite. Shake of & very duile from your fete, for a testimonye agaynst them. And they went out, & went thorough the Math. x. a. Mark. xii. b. The. xii. at sent. Math. x. a. Mark. vi. a. Do not fro house to house. Act. xii. g.

Dust.

the townes, preachynge the Gospell, and healynge euery where.

And Herode the tetrarche herde of all that was done by hym, and doubted, because that it was said of some, that Jhon was risen agayne from death: and of some that Helias had appered: and of other that one of the old prophets was risen againe.
And Herod sayed: Jhon haue I beheaded: who then is this of whome I heare such thynges? And he desired to se hym.

And the Apostles returned, and told him what greates thynges they had done. And he toke them and went asyde into a solita-rye place nye to a citty called Bethsaida.
And the people knewe of it, and folowed hym. And he receyued them and spake vnto them of the kyngdome of God, and healed them that had neede to be healed. And when the daye began to weare away, then came the twelue and sayed vnto hym, send the people away, that they may go into the townes & villages round aboute & lodge, & gette meate, for we are here in a solitarie place or wylernes. But he sayed vnto the twelue: I charge them to eate. And they sayed: We haue no more but fyue loues and two fy-shes, excepte we shoulde goo and by meate for all this people. And they were aboute a foure thousande men. And he sayed to his disciples: Cause them to sitte downe by fifties in a compaigne. And they dyd so, & made them all sitte downe. And he tooke the fyue loues, and the two fyshes, and loked vpp to heauen: and blessed them, and broke, and gaue to the disciples, to set before the people. And they eate, and were al satisfyed. And there was taken vp of that remained of them, twelue baskettes full of broken meate.

And it fortuned as he was alone praying his disciples were wth hym: and he ared them, sayinge: Who say the people that I am? They answered and sayed: Jhon Baptyst. Some say, Helias. And some say one of the olde prophets is risen againe.
He sayd vnto them: who say ye that I am?
Peter answered and sayed: thou arte the Christe of God. And he warned and commaunded them that they shoulde tell no man that thyng, sayinge that the sonne of man muste suffer manie thynges, and be repro-ued of the elders, and of the hye priestes & scribes, and be slayne, and the thyrde daye rise agayne.

And he sayed to them all: if any man wil come after me, let hym deny him selfe, and take vp his crosse dayly, and folowe me.
Whosoever wyl(c)ause his lyfe, shal lose it. And whosoever shal lose his lyfe for my sake, the same shal saue it. For what auaun-teth a man to wyne the whole world if he lose hym selfe or runne in damage of hym selfe? For whosoever is ashamed of me, & of my saynges, of hym shall the sonne of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his owne glorie, and the glorie of his father, and of the holy aungels. And I tell you of a surertye: There be(s) some of them that stande here, whiche shall not taste of death, tyll they se the kyngdome of God. And it followed aboute an. vii. dayes after those say-nges, that he toke Peter James, and Jhon and wente by into a mountayne to praye.

And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenaunce was chaunged, and his garment was whyte and shone. And behold two men talked wth hym, and they were Moyses and Helias, whiche appeared gloriously and spake of his departynge, whiche he shoulde ende at Jerusalem. Peter and they that were with him were heauy wth slepe.
And when they awoke, they saw his glorie, and two men standing with him.

And it chaunced as they departed from hym, Peter sayed vnto hym: Master it is good beynge here for vs. Let vs make thre tabernacles, one for the, and one for Moyses, & one for Helias, and wyl not what he sayed. While he thus spake, there came a cloud and shadowed them, and they feared when they were come vnder the cloude.
And there came a voyce out of the cloude sayinge: This is my deare sonne, heare him.
And as sone as the voyce was paste Jhesus was founde alone. And they kepte it close, and tolde no man in those dayes anye of those thynges whiche they had sene.

And it chaunced on the nexte day as they came doune from the hyl, much people met him. And beholde a manne of the company cried out sayinge: Master, I beseeche thee beholde my sonne, for he is all that I haue, and se, a spytte taketh hym, and sodenly he cryeth, and he teareth hym that he fo-meth agayne, and wth muche payne departeth from hym, when he hath rent him:
and I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they couide not. Jhesus answered and sayd: O generacion without fayth and croked, howe longe shall I be wth you? and what suffer you? Wrynge thy sonne hyther. As he yet was a commynge the fide-rente hym and tare hym. And Jhesus rebuked the vnclene spytte & healed the chyld, and deliuerd hym to his father. And they were all amazed at the myghty power of God.

While they wondered euery one at all thynges whiche he dyd, he sayed vnto his disciples: Let these saynges synke doune into youre eares. The tyme wyl come, whethe sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men. But they wyl not what he woorde mente, and it was hyd from them, that they vnderstode it not. And they feared to aske him of that sayng.

Then there arose dysputacion amonge them who shoulde be greatest. When Jhesus perceyued the thoughtes of theyr heates, he toke a chyld, and set hym harde by hym, and sayed vnto them. Whosoever re-ceyuethe this chyld in my name receyuethe me. And whosoever receyuethe me, receyueth

mat. xvi. d.
mar. ix. a.
traunsc.
guratian.

Heare him

mat. xvi. d.
mark ix. c.
The spytte
of the sal-
lyng spyt-
tes is cast out.

passion.

mat. xvi. d.
mark ix. c.

Greater

ff f f. iii. ueth

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

neth hym that sent me. For he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

Forbpd

And Jhon answered and said: Master we saw one casting out devils in thy name and we forbade him, because he followeth not with vs. And Jesus sayd vnto hym: forbpd be he hym not. For he that is not against vs, is with vs.

D And it folowed when the tyme was come that he shulde be receiued vp, then he set his face to go to Ierusalem, and sent messengers before hym. And they wente and entered into a cite of the Samaritanes, to make ready for him. But they wold not receiue him, because his face was as though he woulde go to Ierusalem. When his disciples, James and Jhon sawe that, they sayd: lord, wylt thou that we commaund that spirit come downe from heauen and cōsume them, euen as Elias dōd? Jesus turned aboute, and rebuked them, sayinge: ye wote not what maner spirit ye are of. The sonne of man is not come to destroye mennes liues, but to saue them. And they went to another towne.

Spie from heauen.

Mar. vii. c. Forcs.

And it chaunced as he wente in the waye a certayne man sayd vnto hym: I wyl folowe the whither soeuer thou go. Jesus sayd vnto hym: foxes haue holes, and birds of the ayre haue nestes, but the sonne of man hath not wherin to laye his head.

Burpe hys father.

And he sayd vnto another: folowe me. And the same sayd: Lord suffer me spise to go and burpe my father. Jesus, sayd vnto hym: e. Lette the deade burpe theyr deade: but go thou and preache the kyngdome of God.

folowe.

And another sayd: I wyl folowe the Lord, but let me spise go byd them farewel whiche are at home at my house. Jesus sayd vnto hym: No manne that putteth his hande to the ploughe, and loketh backe, is apte to the kingdom of God. f.

The notes.

Reyther ha fe ac. Terrarche Whofo wylt saue his lyfe ac Som that Lette the deade. ac.

(a) Luke in Matthew the. x. Chapter.
(b) Luke in Matthew the. xiii. Chapter. a.
(c) There is whosoener in this world, that retheth to his life, that he wil not put it in jeopardy for me, when the tyme requireth: the same shall lose his lyfe eternally.
(d) There be some that stand here. Luke in Matthew the. xvi. d.
(e) Luke in Matthew the. v. ii. e.

The. p. Chapter.

Jesus sendeth out seuentye Disciples, and bypoyndeth vngodlynes to the vngodly Cypres, he warneth hys Disciples as they go to be lowly, and he praised hys father. He teacheth the lawer of the greatest commandment and of hys neyghboure, by a similitude of a manne that was wounded by thieues. Last is described the household care of Martha, and the stude that Mary had to Chyldes Sermons.

Seuentye are sente.

After these thynges, the Lord appointed other seuentye also, and set them two and two before him into euery cite and place whither he hym selfe woulde come.

And he sayd vnto them, the hauest is great but the laborers are fewe. Make therefore the Lord of harvest to sende forth the laborers into hys harvest. So pour wapes: be holde, I sende you forth as lammes among wolues. Beare no wallet neyther scrip, nor shues, and salute no manne by the waye. Into whatsoeuer house ye enter, first say: peace be to this house. And if the sonne of peace be there, pour peace. Walte byd hym: if not, it shall retorne to you agayne. And in the same house take ye eating and drinking such as they haue. For the labourer is worthy of his reward. f.

Go not from house to house, and into what soeuer cite ye enter, if they receiue you, cate such thyngs as are set before you and heale the synke that are there, and saye vnto them: the kyngdome of God is come npe vnto you. But into whatsoeuer cite ye shall enter, if they receiue you not, goe poure wapes oute into the streetes of the same, and saye: euen the verpe duste, which cleaueth on vs of your cite, we wyipe of agaynst you. Notwithstandynge marke these that the kingdom of God was come npe vpon you. Yea and I saye to you: that it shall be easier in that daye for iudome, the for that cite.

Woe be to the Chorazin, woe be to the Bethsaida. For if the myracles had bene doone in thyre and Sydon, whiche haue bene don vnto you, they had a greete whyle ago repented, spitting in herre and a wyes. Reuerthelesse it shall be easier for thyre and Sydon, at the iudgemente, then for you. And thou Capernaum whiche arte exalted to heauen shalt be thruste downe to hell. He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that dyspisetly you, dyspisetly me: and he that dyspisetly me, dyspisetly hym that sent me.

And the seuentye returned agayne with ioye, saying. Lord euen the very deuils are subdued to vs throughe thy name. And he sayd vnto them: I sawe Satan, as it had bene lychtenyng, fall downe from heauen. Beholde, I geue vnto you power to tread serpentes and scorpions, and ouer al manner power of the enemye, and nothinge shall hurte you. Reuerthelesse in this reioyse not, that the spirit is vnder your power: but reioyse because your names are written in heauen.

That same tyme reioysed Jesus in the spirit and sayd: I confesse vnto the father Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hyd these thynges from the wyse and prudente, and hast opened them to the babes. Euen so father, for so pleased it the. All thyngs are geuen me of my father. And no man knoweth who the sonne is, but the father. neyther who the father, saue the son and he to whom the sonne wyl shewe hym.

And he turned to hys Disciples, and sayd secretly. f. Hapye are the eyes, whiche se that se. For I tell you that many prophetes and kyngs haue desired to se these thynges Derue.

Lambes among wolues.

Faith that minister al

Math. x. a.

Dust

Chorazin. Bethsaida Tice & Sydon. Capernaum

Math. x. b. Jhon. xii. c.

Reioyse.

Babes.

He only is taughte of Chyldre knoweth the father. Math. xii. b.

things which ye see, and haue not sene the: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

D And behold a certayne lawier Rose vp & tempted him, saying. Master what shall I do to inherite eternall lyfe? He sayed vnto hym: What is wryten in the lawe? how redest thou? And he answered, and sayed: Loue thy lord God with al thy herte, and wpth al thy soule, and wpth al thy strength and wpth al thy mynde, and thy neyghbour as thy selfe. And he sayed to hym: Thou haste answered ryghte. What doest thou? He sayed vnto Iesus. Who is then my neyghbour?

Iesus answered and sayed: A certayne man descended from Ierusalem vnto Betanico, and fel into the hands of theues, whiche robbed hym of hys rayment, and wounded hym, and departed leuynge hym halfe dead. And by chaunce ther came a certayne ppyssie that same way, and whan he sawe hym he passed by. And lykewyse a Leuite, when he was come nye to the place, wente and loked on hym, and passed by. Then a certayne Samaritane, as he iourneid, came nye vnto hym, and when he sawe hym, he had compassion on hym, and went to and bounde by hys woundes, and poured in oyle and wyne, and put hym on hys owne beast, and broughte hym to a common inne and made prouysion for hym. And on the morowe, when he departed, he took oute two pence and gaue them to the host, and sayed vnto hym. Take cure of hym, & what soeuer thou spendest more when I come a gayne I will recompence thee. Whycher now of these thre thickest thou, was neyghbour vnto hym that fel into the theues handes? And he sayed. he that shewed mercye on hym. Then sayd Iesus vnto hym: go and do thou lykewyse.

E And it fortuned as they went, that he entred into a certayne towne. And a certayne woman named Martha, receyued hym into the house. And this woman had a syster called Marye which sat at Iesus fete, and heard hys preachynge. And Martha was troubled aboute muche scrupynge, and Rose and sayed: Master dost thou not care that my syster hath left me to minister alone? Wyd her therfore that she heale me. And Iesus answered and sayed vnto hyr: Martha, thou carest and arte troubled aboute manye thynges, but one is needefull: (b) Marye hath chosen her that good parte whiche shall not be taken away from hyr.

The Notes.

Wyllynge to iustifie hym selfe. (a) That is willynge to sette forth hym selfe as iust, and as one that was learned, sayed, who is my neyghbour &c.

Martha hath chosen. (b) That is she hath chosen the hearynge of the worde of God whiche euer endureth, and is the way to euerylastynge lyfe.

The .x. Chapter.

Iesus prescribeth a fourme of prayynge, and teacheth that we oughte to praye continually, he casteth out the deuyl, and is reported to haue cast him out by Beliebus, but he answered to the falsse accusations, he denieth theym a sygne when they ased, he commenseth purges of hert. Weyng called by a pharisee to dyner, he rebuketh the outward holynes and woked mynde.

And it fortuned as he was prayynge in a certayne place: whan he ceased, one of hys dysciples sayed vnto hym: Master, teache vs to praye, as thou taughtest hys dysciples. And he sayed vnto them: When ye praye, saye: Our father whiche arte in heauen, halowed be thy name. Thy kyngdome come. Thy wyll be fulfilled euen in earth as it is in heauen. Geue vs oure dayly breade euermore. And forgyue vs oure synnes: For euen we forgyue euery man that trespasseth vs: And leade vs not into temptation. But deliuer vs from euill.

And he sayd vnto them: If any of you shoulde haue a frende, and shoulde go to hym at mydnyght, and saye vnto hym: frende lende me thre loues, for a frende of myne is come out of the waye to me, and I haue nothyng to sette before hym: and he wylthyn shoulde aunswere and saye: trouble me not, the doore is now shutte, and my seruauntes are with me in the chamber, I cannot rise & geue the to the: I say vnto you though he wold not arise & geue hym, because he is hys frende: yet because of hys importunitie he wold rise, & geue hym as many as he neded.

And I saie vnto you: are and it shall be giuen you. Seke, and ye shall fynde. Knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you. For euery one that asketh, receyueth: and he that seeketh, fyndeth: and to hym that knocketh, it shall be opened. If the sonne shall are bread of any of you that is a father, wyl he geue hym a stone? Or if he are fysh: wyl he geue hym a serpent? Or if he are an egge, wyl he offer hym a scorpion? If ye the whiche are euell, can geue good giftes vnto your children, how muche more shall the father of heauen geue an holy spyrte to the that desire it of hym.

And he was castynge out of a deuyl, whiche was domine. And it folowed when the deuyl was gone out the dumb spake, and the people wondred. But some of them sayed: he casteth out deuyls by the power of Beliebus the chefe of the deuyls. And other tempted him sekinge of hym a sygne from heauen. But he knewe theyr thoughtes, and sayed vnto them. Euery kyngdome deuyled within it selfe shall be desolate: and one house shall fall by one another: So if Satan he deuyled wpthin hym selfe, how shall his kyngdome stand? Because ye say I cast out deuyls by the power of Beliebus, if I by the power of Beliebus caste oute deuyls by whome doo youe chyldren cast theym out? Therfore shall Samaritan.

A neyghbour who

mat. vi. b.

The pater noster.

prayer what it doth.

Couenat.

Mark. vi. c. Mark. xi. c. Ihon. xiii. c. Iacob. i. a.

Mark. xi. d. Ihon. xiii. c.

The dome spyrte is call out

Beliebus

The Gospel

Of S. Luke.

Walt he be your iudges But if I, with a) s) fringer of God call out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come.

When a strong man armed, watcheth his house, that he possesseth is in peace. But when a stronger then he commeth vpon him a ouercommeth him: he taketh frō him his harness wherein he trusted, & deuideth his goodes. He is not with me, is against me, & he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

When the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh thorough (b) waterles places seeking rest. And when he findeth none, he saith: I will returne agayne vnto my house, whence I came out. And whē he commeth, he findeth it swept and garnished. Then goeth he and taketh to him seven other spites worse then him self: and they enter in, and dwell there. And the ende of that manne is worse then the beginninge.

And it fortuned as he spake those thynges, a certayne woman of the companie, lyft vp her voice, and sayd vnto hym: Happy is the wombe that bare the, and the paypes whiche gaue the sucke. But he sayde: Yea, happy are they that heare the worde of God and kepe it.

When the people were gathered thicke together, he began to saye: This is an euill nacpon: they seeke a signe, and ther shall no signe be geuen them, but the signe of Jonas the prophet. For as Jonas was a signe to the Ninuities, so shall the sonne of man be to this nacpon. The quene of the south shall rise at iudgement with the menne of this generacion, and condemne them: for she came from the ende of the worlde, to heare the wisedome of Salomon. And behold a greater then Solomon is here. The men of Ninue shall rise at the iudgement wth this generacion, and condemne them, for they repented at the preachinge of Jonas. And beholde a greater then Jonas is here.

As a man lighteth a candell, and putteth it in a pnyer place, neither vnder a bushel: but on a candellsticke, that they that come in, maye see the light. The lighte of thy bodye is the eye. Therefore when thine eye is cleare, then is all thy bodye full of lighte. But if thine eye be euill, then shall thy bodye be full of darknes. Take hede therefore that the light which is in the, be not darknes. For if all thy bodye shall be lighte, hauing no parte darcke, then shall all be full of light, euen as when a candle doth light the wth his brightnes.

And as he spake, a certayne pharisee sought him to dyne wth hym, and he went in and sate downe to meat. When the pharisee saw that, he merueyled that he hadde not first washed before dynner. And the Lord sayd to hym: Now doo ye pharisees make cleane the outside of the cup, & of the platter: but your inward parties are full of rauening and wickednes. Ye soles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also? I reuerthelese Almoſe. giue almoſe of that ye haue, and behold all is cleane to you.

But wo be to you pharisees: for ye tithe with mlt. mynte and Rewe, and all maner herbes, mat. xxiii. c. and passe ouer iudgemente and the loue of God. These ought ye to haue done, and yet not to haue left the other vndone: Wo be to you pharisees: for ye louse the vppermost Upper seates in the Synagoges, and gettynges most seates in the markettes.

Wo be to you Scribes and pharisees hypocrites, for ye are as graues, which appeare not, and the menne that walke ouer them, are not ware of them:

Then answered one of the lawiers, and sayde vnto him: Maister, thus sayng, thou puttest vs to rebuke also. Then he sayde: Wo be to you also ye lawiers, for ye lade men wth burthens greuous to be borne, & ye your selues touche not the packes wth one of your fingers.

Wo be to you: ye build the sepulchres of the prophetes, & your fathers kylled the: ye truelſe ye beate wytnes, that ye allowe the dedes of your fathers: for they kylled the, and ye build the sepulchres.

Therefore sayde the wisedome of God: I will send them prophetes and Apostles, and of them they shall slea and persecute, that the bloude of all prophetes whiche was shed from the beginninge of the world, may be requyred of this generacion from the blood of Abel vnto the blood of zachary, which perished betwene the altar and the temple. Verely I say vnto you, it shall be requyred of this nacpon.

Wo be to you lawiers: for ye haue taken away the keye of knowledge, ye entered not in your selues, and them that came in ye forbad.

When he thus spake vnto the, the lawiers and the pharisees began to wexe busy about him, and to stop his mouth with many questions, sayng wapt for him, and seeking to catch some thing of his mouth, wherby they might accuse hym.

The Notes.

(a) Gods synger, is here hys power. As though he should haue sayd: If by hys power of God, &c.

(b) Luke & Mathew the xii. c.

(c) Luke & Mathew the xvi. Chapt.

The xii Chapter.

Christ warneth vs to beware of the leuen of the pharisees, not to feare them that kyll the bodye. After he forbyddeth couetousnes by examples and parables. He teacheth to watche and take hede by a similitude of the good and euil seruaunt, and sheweth the before that troubles shall aryse.

As there gathered together an innumerable multitude of people (in so much that they trode one another) he beganne to saye vnto his disciples: Beware of all beware

Seven worse the him self.

Happy who.

Mat. xii. c. Signe of Jonas.

Quene of the south. iii. Re. x. a. ii. Pa. ix. a Ninuities

Thon. iii. a. Math. v. b. Luke xii. c. Mark. vi. c

Mat. xiii. c

Lawyers. mat. xxi. a.

Build the sepulchres.

Gen. iii. b. ii. pa. xii. a.

zachary.

Repe.

The signe of God. Dye places hope.

Leuen.

of the (a) leuen of the pharises, whiche is hypocrite. For ther is nothyng couered that shall not be vncouered: neythet hyd, that shall not be knowen. For whatsoever ye haue spokē in darcknes: that same shall be heard in lighte. And that whiche ye haue spoken in the eare, euen in secreete places, shall be preached euen on the toppe of the houses.

math. x. c.
mark. iiii. c.
who is to
be feared.

I say vnto you my frendes: Be not asprayed at them that kyll the body, and after that haue no moze that they cā do. But I will shewe you whom ye shall feare. Fear hym which after he hath kyled, hath power to cast into hell. Yea I saye vnto you, hym feare. Are not fyue sparowes bought for ii. farthinges? And yet not one of them is forgotten of God. Also euen the verpe herres of your heades are numbred. Feare not therefore: Ye are more of value then many sparowes.

math. xii. d.
mark. xii. d.
Loue
nauntes.
mark. x. b.
mark. iii. d.
A promise
that the spirit shall teache vs.

I say vnto you, whosoener confesteth me before men, euen him shall the sonne of mannesse also before the Angels of God. And he that denieth me before men, shall be denyed before the angels of God. And whosoener speaketh a word agaynst the sonne of man, it shall be forgiven him. But vnto him that blasphemeth the holpe ghoſte, it shall not be forgiven.

When they hynged you vnto the synagoges, and vnto the rulers and officers, take no thought, howe or what thynge ye shall answer, or what ye shall speake. For the holpe ghoſte shall teache you in the same houre, what ye ought to saye.

One of the company sayd vnto him: master, bid my brother deuide the inheritaunce wpth me. And he said vnto him: Man, who made me a iudge or deuider ouer you? Wherefore he said vnto them: take heede, and beware of couetousnes. For no mans life standeth in the aboundaunce of þe thynges whiche he posselleth. And he put forth a similitude vnto them, saying:

The ground of a certayne ryche manne brought forth frutes plenteouslye. and he thought in him selfe sayinge: what shall I do: because I haue no iourne where to be. Howe my frutes? And he said: The hyes wyl I do. I wyl destroy my barnes, and build greater, and therein wyl I gather all my frutes, and my goodes, and I wyl saye to my soule: Soule, thou haſte muche goodes laied by in store for many yeres, take thine ease, eat, drinke, and be merry. But God said vnto him: Thou fool, this night wyl they fetch away thy soule againe from the. Then whose shall these thynges be, whiche thou hast prouided: So is it wpth him that gathereth riches: and is not riche in God.

And he spake vnto his disciples: Therfore I say vnto you: Take no thought for poure lpe, what ye shall eat, neither for your bodie, what ye shall put on. The lpe is more then meate, and the bodie is more then raimēt. Consider the rauens, for they neither sowe nor reap, which neither haue store house, nor barn, and yet God feedeth them. Howe muche are ye better then the fowles!

Which of you with taking thought can adde to his stature one cubite? If ye then be not able to do that thynge which is least: whye take ye thought for the remnaunte? Consider the lpyes how they grow: they labour not, they sppen not, and yet I saye vnto you: that Salomon in all his rialte, was not clothed like to one of these. If the grasse which is to day in the fiede, and too morowe shall be caste into the fornaie, God so cloth, how much more wyl he cloth you, O ye endued with lylie faith?

And are not what ye shall eate, or what ye shall duncke, neither cume ye by on hye: for all such thynges the fetheren people of þe world seke for. Your father knoweth that ye haue nede of suche thynges. Wherefore seke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these thynges shall be ministered vnto you.

Feare not litle flocke, for it is your fathers pleasure to giue you a kyngdome. Sell that ye haue: & geue almes. And make you bagges, which were not olde, and treasure that faileth not in heauen, where no thefe cometh, neither mooth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there wyl your hertes be also.

Let your loynes be girded aboute, and your lightes brenning and ye your selues like vnto men that waite for their maister, when he will retorne from a wedding: that as sone as he cometh and knocketh, they maye open vnto him. Happy are those seruauntes, whom the Lord when he cometh, shall find waking. Verely I say vnto you, he wyl gyrd himselfe about, and make the sitte downe to meate, and walke by, & mynister vnto them.

And if he come in the seconde watche, or if he come in the thyrde watche, and shall fynde them so, happye are those seruauntes.

Whiche vnderstande, that if the good man of the house knewe what houre the thefe would come, he woulde surely watche, and not suffer his house to be broken by. Be ye prepared therefore: for the sonne of man wyl come at an houre when ye thyncke not.

Then Peter sayd vnto him: Maister, tellest thou this similitude vnto vs, or too all men? And the Lord sayd. If there be anye faithfull seruaunt and wyse, whome his Lord shall make ruler ouer his houshold, to geue to them their dute of meate at due season, happye is that seruaunt, whom his maister when he cometh, shall find so doinge. Of a truthe I saye vnto you, that he wyl make hym ruler ouer all that he hath: But and if the euill seruaunte shall saye in his hert: My maister will deferre his coming, and shall begynne to smyte the seruauntes, and maidens, and to eat & drinke, and

D
Lilies.

math. vi. c.
litle flock.

E Lopnes.
L pghtes

Seconde
watche.
mat. xxi. d.
mar. xii. d.

3 por. xvi. c

Euill ser
uaunt.
and

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

and to be drunken, the lord of that servant wil come in a day when he thynketh not: and at an houre when he is not ware, and wil deuide him, and wil geue him his reward with the vnbeleuers.

The seruante that knewe his maisters will, and prepared not him selfe, neyther dyd accordynge to hys will, shalbe beaten with many stripes. But he that knew not, and yet dyd committe thynges worthy of stripes, shalbe beaten with few stripes. For vnto whome muche is geuen, of hym shalbe muche required. And to whom men muche comytt, the more of him wil they aske.

I am come to sende fyre on earth, and what is my desyre, but that it were already kindled? Not withstanding I must be baptized with a baptysme, and how am I pained till it be ended? Suppose ye that I am come to sende peace on earth? I tell you (b) nay, but rather debate. For fro henceforth ther shalbe fyre in one house deuided, thre against two and two against thre. The father shalbe deuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father. The mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother. The mother in lawe against the daughter in lawe, & the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe.

Then said he to the people, when ye see a cloud ryse out of the west, straightwaye ye saye. We shall haue a shower, & so it is. And when ye see the south wind blowe, ye saye. We shall haue heat, and it cometh to passe. Hypocrites, ye can skyll of the fashion of the earth, and of the skye, but what is the cause that ye can not skyll of this tyme? Yea and wher iudge ye not of poute selues what is right?

Whyle thou goest with thyne aduersary to the ruler, as thou art in the way, agree diligence that thou mayest be deliuered from him, lest he bunge the to the Judge, and the Judge deliuer the to the iapler. & the iapler call the into prison I tell y. thou departest not thence, till e. thou haue made good the vttermost myte.

The Notes.

(a) Voke in Mathew the. xvi.
(b) To speake a word agaynst the sonne of ma, is to be offended with the humanitye of man: hode of Christ, for hys sake and low degree, as were many of the Jewes.
(c) Of this is spoken in Mathew xix.
(d) Not the peare and quyetnes of thys worlde, wherein every man that is rull, contenteth hym selfe with hys wickednes: but debate, that is suche an inward hate to vyce, that the spyrite shall continuallye stryue agaynst the fleshe.
(e) Not that there is any place of punishmente after thys lyfe, where satisfaction shalbe made, and so the partye shalbe deliuered, but that all such as lyue dissolutely here without the feare of Gods iudgement, shall eternallye perishe.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Jesus by example of them whiche pylate had kyllid, and that were ouerwhelmed with the towar, and by similitude also of the fig tree, teacheth repentance, he holpe the sick woman upon the saboth daye. He declareth the kyngdome of God by similitudes. He exhorteth to be vigilante. He noteth Ierode by the name of a foxe, and complayned of the wickednes that is in Hierusalem.

There were present at y same sea. A son, that shewed him of the Galileas. Balileas. leans, whose bloude was plat myn- gled with theyr owne sacrifice.

And Jesus answered and sayed vnto the: Suppose ye that these Galileas were greater synners then al the other Galileans, because they suffered such punishment? I tell you nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all lykewys perishe. Of those xviii. upon whom the tower in Siloe fel, & slewe them, thynke ye y they were sinners aboue all men that dwelle in Hierusalem? I tell you nay: But except ye repent, ye shall all lykewys perishe.

He put forth this similitude: A certayne man had a figg tre planted in his vineyard, and he came and soughte fruite thereon, and found none. Then said he to the dyel- set of his vineyard: Beholde this thre yere haue I come and sought fruite in thys figg tree, and fynde none, cutte it downe: why combereth it the grounde? And he answered and sayd vnto him: Forde lette it alone this yere also, till I dygge roundaboute it, and dounge it, to se whether it wil beare fruite: and if it beare not then, after that cutte it downe.

And he taughte in one of theyr synago- ges on the Saboth dayes. And behold ther was a woman whiche had a spight of infir- mitie xviii. yeres, and was bowed togy- ther, and coulde not lyft vp hir selfe at all. When Jesus saw hyr, he called hyr to him, and sayd to hyr: woman thou art deliuered from thy disease. And he layed hys handes on hyr, & immediatly she was made straight and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagoge answered with indignacion (be- cause that Jesus had healed on the Sab- both daye) and sayd vnto the people. Ther are sixe dayes, in whiche menne ought to worke, in them come and be healed, and not on the saboth daye.

Then answered him the Forde. & said: Opposite, doeth not eache one of you on the saboth daye. leu. se his oxe or his asse fro the stall, and leade him to the water? And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whiche Satan hath bound, lo. xviii. yeres be lew- sed from thys bonde on the sabboth daye? And when he thus sayde, all his aduersa- ryes were ashamed, and all the people re- ioyced on all the excellent dedes that were done by hym. I

Then sayd he: what is the kyngdome of God lyke, or whereto shall I compare it? It is lyke a graine of mustard seede, whiche seede, a man toke and sowed in hys garden, and it grew and waxed a great tre, and the fou- les of the ayre made nestes in the braun- ches of it.

And agayne he sayd, wher vnto shall I li-

Tower of Siloe.

Fig tree.

The wo- man that was bow- ed togy- ther.

The Sa- both is broken.

Mustard

The Gospell

Of S. Luke.

and the maimed, and the halt, & the blind. And the seruaunt sayd: Lorde it is done as thou commaundedst, and yet ther is room. And the Lord said to the seruaunt: Go out into the hygh waies and hedges, & compell them to come to me, that my house maye be filled. For I saye vnto you, that none of those men which were bydden, shall tast of my supper.

Chustes
disciple.
Math. x. d.
Mk. vii. c.
Ther went a great company wpth him, and he turned and said vnto them: For if a man come to me, & (b) hate not his father, and mother, and wyfe, and chyldren, and brethren, and sisters, moreouer & his owne lyfe, he cannot be my discipyle. And whoso euer beareth not his crosse, and come after me, cannot be my discipyle.

Towar.
Which of you disposed to build a tower, sitteth not doune before, and counteth the cost, whether he haue sufficient to performe it? lest after he hath layed the foundacion, and is not able to performe it, all that behold it begynne to mocke him, saying: this man began to builde, and was not able to make an ende. Or what kynge goeth too make battayle agaynst another kynge, and spytteth not doune spyll, and casteth in his mynde, whether he be able with ten thousand to meete him that cometh agaynst hym wpth twenty thousand. Or els whyle the other is yet a great way off, he wil send embassadours, and desyre peace. So lyke wyse none of you that forsaketh not all þ he hath, can be my discipyle.

Math. d. c.
Mk. ix. g.

Salt is good, but if salt haue lost hyr saltnes, what shall be seasoned ther wpth? It is neither good for the land, nor yet for the doungh hyl, but men cast it out at the doores. He that hath eares to heare, lette hym heare.

The Notes.

To cate
byad.
To hate.

(a) That is to dyne, or to take repast.
(b) He that wyl follow Christ, must hate father and mother, such as he must hate hym selfe. That is, he must not beare suche loue to them, that they shall wpthdrawe him from following Christ. Yet neuerthelesse accordyng as the lawe byddeth, he must loue them and honoure them.

The xv. Chapter.

Christ rejoycing the counterfayt holines of the pharises, by the parables of the losse of the shepe, of the goat that was loste, and of the prodigall sonne, sheweth that Christ seeketh not for the death of a synner, but for hys amendment.

Publicans.
Spynners.
Hundred
shepe.
Mat. xiii. d.
Then resorted vnto him all the publicans and sinners for to heare hym. And the pharises and scribes murmured, saying: He receyvethe to his company synners and eateth with them. Then put he forth this similitude to them, saying: What man of you hauing an hundred shepe, if he lose one of them, doth not leaue ninety and nyne in the wylderues, and go after that which is lost, untill he finde him? And when he hath founde hym, he putteth him on his shoulders with ioye. And as sone as he cometh home, he calleth together hys louers and neighbours, saying vnto the: reioyse with me, for I haue found my shepe which was lost. I say vnto you, that lykewyse it shal be in heauē ouer one synner that repenteth, more then ouer. xc. & ix. iust persons, whych nede no repentance. Either what woman hauing .x. groates, if she lose one, doth not lyght a candel, and swepe the house, & seke diligentely, tyll she fynde it? And when she hath found it, she calleth hir louers and hir neighbours, saying: Reioyse with me, for I haue founde the groate which I hadde loste. Likewise I saye vnto you, ioye is made in the presence of the aungels of god ouer one synner that repenteth.

And he said: A certain man had two sonnes, & the yonger of them said to his father: The no- house son.
Gue me part of the goods that to me belongeth. And he deuided vnto them hys substance. And not longe after, the yonger son gathered al that he had together, and toke his iourney into a far countrey, & there he wasted his goods with riotous liuynge: And when he had spente al that he had, there arose a great dearth throughtout al that same land, and he began to lacke. And he wente and claued to a critezen of the same countrey, whiche sente him to his felde, to kepe his vine. And he woulde faine haue filled hys belly with the coddies that swine ate. And no man gaue him.

Then he came to himselfe and said: D
How many hired seruaunts at my fathers house breade p'ough, and I dye for honger? I will aryse, and go to my father, and will saye vnto him: father, I haue sinned agaynst heauen & before the, and am now more worthy to be called thy sonne, make me as one of thy hired seruauntes. And he arose and wente to his father. And when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him. And the son said vnto him: father, I haue sinned agaynst heauen and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne. But hys father sayd to his seruauntes: bring forth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, & shues on his fete. And bring hither the fatted calfe, and kyll hym, and let vs eat and be merre, for this my sonne was deade, and is aloue agayne, he was lost, and is now found. And they began to be merre.

The elder brother was in the felde, & whē he came and drew nye to the house, he herd minstrelsy and daunsynge, and called one of his seruauntes, and asked what those thynges meant. And he said vnto him: thy brother is come, and thy father hath kyllid the fatted calfe, because he hath receiued hym safe and sounde. And he was angrie, and would not go in. Then came his father out and intreated him. He answered and said to his father: Loos these many yeres haue I done the seruyce, nether brake at anye tyme

Mat. xiii. c.
Mat. xiii. d.
Leuen.

I liken the kyngdome of God: it is lyke leuen, whych a woman toke, and hid in iii. bushels of floure, tyll all was thowwe leuened. And he went thowwe all maner of cities and townes, teachynge and iorneyng towards Hierusalem.

Mat. xiii. d.
Straight gate.
Mat. vii. d.
end. b.

Then sayd one vnto hym: Lorde, at ther few that shal be saued? And he sayd vnto them: Strue with your selues to enter in at the strait gate. For manye I saye vnto you will seke to enter in, and shall not be able. (a) When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut the doore, ye shall begynne to stand withoute, and to knocke at the doore, saying: Lorde, Lorde open to vs, & he shall answer and say vnto you: I know you not whence ye are. Then shall ye begynne to saye. We haue eaten in thy presence and droncke, and thou hast taughte in oure stretes.

Mat. viii.

And he shall saye: I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: departe from me all ye workers of iniquite: Ther shal be weping and gnaung of teth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophetes in the kyngdome of God, and your selues thrust out at doores? And they shall come from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sitte downe in the kyngdome of God. And beholde, there are laste, whych shal be first. And ther are first whych shal be last.

Mat. vii. c.
Mat. vii. b.
end. xv. d.
Mat. xix. d.
Herode is a foxe.

The same daye ther came certayne of the pharises, and sayd to him: Get the out of the way, and depart hence. For Herod will kylle the. And he sayd vnto them: Good ye tell that fore: beholde, I cast out deuyls, & heale the people to day and to morow, and the thirde daye I make an ende.

Hierusalem
kylleth
prophets

Nevertheless, I must walke to daye and to morow, and the daye folowynge. For it can not be that a prophete perishe apace other wher, save at Hierusalem.

Mat. xxi. d.

O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which kyllest prophetes, and stonest them that are sent to the: how often woulde I haue gathered thy chyldren togyther, as the henne gadereth hyr nest vnder hyr wynges, but ye woulde not. Beholde, your habitacion shall be left vnto you desolate. For I tell you, ye shal not see me, vntill the tyme come that ye shall say: blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lorde.

When the good man of the house.

(a) That is, when the covenante made in the bloude of Christe is blynded: then menne payne them selues wth holy workes, trustyng thereby to enter, but all in vayne.

The Notes.

Christ helpeth hym that had the dropsy, vpon the Saboth day, and forbyddeth the vaine glory in sytynge at the table, shewynge also who are to be bydden, and reherceth the parable of them that were bydd to the marriage, and would not come. Last he requirerth of all that will folow hym, a diligente remembraunce of all thynges, and forsaking of all their goodes.

A

And it chaunced that he went in to the house of one of the chiefe pharisees to (a) cate breade on a Saboth daye: and they watched him. And beholde, there was a man before hym whiche had the dropsy. And Jesus answered, and spake vnto the lawyers and pharises, saying: is it lawfull to heale on the Saboth daye? And they helde the peace: And he toke hym and healed hym, and lette him go: and answered the, saying: whych of you shall haue an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pytte, and wyl not straightway pul him out on the Saboth daye? And they coude not answer hym agayne to that.

Dropsy

He put forth a similitude to the gesses, when he marked howe they preaced to the hyest rowmes, and sayd vnto them: When thou art bydden to a wedding of anye man, sitte not doune in the hyest rowme, leasse a more honorable man then thou be bydden of him, and he that hade both hym and the, come and say to the: geue thys man room: and thou then begynne with shame to take the lowest rowme. But rather when thou art bydden, go and sytte in the low rowme, that when he that hade the, cometh: he may saye vnto the, friend, syt vp hyer. The shalt thou haue worshippe in the presence of them that sytte at meate with the. For whosoever exalteth hymself, shal be brought lowe. And he that humbleth hymself, shal be exalted.

Job. xxi. a.
Exalt him
Job. xiii. b.
Job. xii. d.
Job. xii. b.

Then sayd he also to hym that had desired hym to dyner. When thou makeste a dyner or a supper, call not thy frendes, nor thy brethren, neither thy kynsmen, nor thy riche neighbours: leasse they bid the agayne, and a recompence be made the.

But when thou makeste a feast, call the poore, the maymed, the lame, & the blynde, and thou shalt be happye, for they cannot recompence the. But thou shalt be recompenced at the resurrection of the iust men. When one of them that sat at meate also heard that, he sayd vnto hym: happye is he that eateth breade in the kyngdome of God.

Feaste
poore.

Then saied he to him. A certayne man ordeyned a great supper, and hade manye, and sent his seruaunte at supper tyme, to saye to them that were bidden, come: for all thynges are now redy. And they al at once began to make excuse. The first sayd vnto hym: I haue bought a serme, and must needs go and se it. I praye the haue me excused. And another sayd: I haue bought spue poke of oxen, and I goo to proue them. I praye the haue me excused. The thirde said: I haue married a wyfe, and therefore I can not come. And the seruant went & brought his maister word therof.

Supper.
Mat. xxi. c.
Apoc. xix. b.

Then was the good man of the house displeased, and sayd to his seruaunte: Go out quickly into the stretes and quarters of the cite, and bynge in hither the poore, & ggg. i. and tune thy commaundement: and yet gapest thou me neuer so muche as a kid to make merke wpth my louers: but as sone as thys thy sonne was come whych hath deuoured thy goods wpth harlots, thou hast for hys pleasure kylled the fatted calfe. And he sayd vnto hym: sonne thou wast euer wpth me, and all that I haue is thine. It was mete that we shoulde make merke and be glad: for thys thy brother was dead, and is alyue againe, & was lost and is found.

The xvi. Chapter.

Chryste proponeth a parable of the vnjust steward, he teacheth faithfulness and l. he: callope, he forbyddeth courtousnes on adulterers. He sheweth the certitude of gods word. And he openeth the parable of the ryche man and Lazarus.

The vn-
righteous steward.

And he sayde also vnto hys Disciples. Ther was a certayne man which had a steward, & was accused vnto him, & he wasted his goods. And he called hym & sayd vnto hym: How is it that I heare thys of thee? Giue accomptes of thy stewardshipp. For thou mayest be no longer steward. The steward sayd within hym self: what shal I doo: for my Maister wyl take awaye from me the stewardshipp: I cannot dye, and to begge, I am ashamed. I wote what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardshipp, they may receyue me into their houses.

Then called he all his maisters debtors, and sayde vnto the first: howe muche owest thou vnto my Maister? And he said: an hundred tunnes of oyle. And he sayd vnto him: loke thy byll, and sit downe quychly, and wyte spylte. Then sayde he to another: what owest thou? And he sayde: an hundred quarters of wheate. He sayd to hym: Take thy byll, and wyte foure score. And the Lorde commended the vnjust steward because he had done wysely. For the chyldren of the world are in theyr kynde, wyser then the chyldren of lychte. And I saye also vnto you: make you frends of the vnicuersal Mammon, that when ye shal depart, they may receyue you into euerylasting habitacions.

He that is fapethfull in that whiche is least, the same is fapethfull in muche. And he that is vnfapethfull in the least, is vnfapethfull also in muche. So then if ye haue not bene fapthful in the wycked mammon, who wyl beleue you in that whiche is true? And if ye haue not bene fapethfull in another mans busines, who shal gyue you poure owne? No seruaunte can serue two Maisters, for epyther he shall hate the one and loue the other, or els he shall leane to the one, & despyse the other. Yea can not serue God and Mammon.

All these thynges heard the pharises also, whiche were couetous, and they mocked hym. And he sayd vnto them: Ye are they whiche (b) iustifie poure selues before men, but God knoweth poure hertes. For that whych is hyghly esteemed among men is abhominable in the sight of god.

The lawe and the prophetes rapned vntill the tyme of Ihon: and sence that tyme the kingdome of god is preached, & euery man strueth to go in.

Sone shall heauen and earth perishe, then one tittle of the law shal perishe. Who soeuer forsaketh his wife and marieth another, breaketh matrimonye. And euery man whiche marieth hit that is deuorced from hit housbande, committeth adoultre also.

There was a certayne ryche man, whiche was clothed in purple and fyne bylde, and fared diliciously euery daye. And there was certayne begger named Lazarus, which lay at his gate full of sores, despyng to be refreshed wpth the crommes whiche fel from the ryche mannes bourde. Neuer thelesse dogges came and lycked hys sores. And it fortuneth that the begger dyed, and was caried by the Angells into (c) Abrahams bosome. The ryche man also died, and was buryed.

And beynge in hell tormentes, he lyfte vp hys eyes and sawe Abraham a farre off and Lazarus in hys bosome, and he cried, & sayd: father Abraham haue mercy on me and sende Lazarus that he may dyppe the tippe of his spynge in water, and coole my tonge, for I am tormented in thys name. But Abraham sayd vnto hym. Sonne remember that thou in thy life tyme, receyuedst thy pleasure, and contrait wylde Lazarus payne. Nowe therfore is he comforted, and thou arte punished. Beyonde all this betwene you and vs there is a greatespace set, so that they which wold go fro hence to you cannot, nether may come fro thence to vs.

Then he sayd: I praye the therefore send him to my fathers house. For I haue spylled my self, for to warne the lest they also com into thys place of torment. Abraham said vnto him: they haue Moyses, and the prophetes: let them heare them. And he sayd: naye father Abraham, but if one came vnto them from the deade, they woulde repente. He sayd vnto hym: if they heare not Moyses and the prophetes, neyther wyl they beleue, though one rose from death againe.

The Notes:
(a) Thys worde Mammon is a worde of the Greke speache, and signifieth riches. So that the terte meaneth, bestowe poure riches accordyng to the worde of God, that God be pleased wth your doynges, and not deceptfully, as the steward dyd.

(b) Loke before the 2. of Luke.

(c) Some by the bosome of Abraham, do vnderstande the fapeth of Abraham. Other some as those that folow the fapth of Abraham do it after theyr deathe. But where that place is because the scripture doth not expressely determine it can we not tel: And therfore maye no man be so bolde to despyne it.

math. xi. b

math. v. c.
math. x. b

2 cor. vii. b
the ryche glotten
Lazarus,

Moyses &
the 12c
phetes is the olde testamete.

Mammon

Iustifie
him selfe Abraham's
bosome.

Mammon

math. vi. c.
two Masters.

D

The Gospell

came to the place, he looked vp, & saw him, & sayde vnto him: zache, at once come down, for to daye I must abide at thy house. And he came downe hastily and receyued him ioyfully. And whē they sawe that, they all grudged, sayinge. He is gone in, to stay with a man that is a synner.

And zache stode forth, and sayd vnto the Lord: the halfe of my goodes I giue to the poore, and if I haue done any man wrong, I will restore him foure folde. And Iesus sayed to him: thy day is helth come vnto this house, for as much as it also is become the childe of Abraham. For the sonne of mā is come to seke and to saue that whiche was losse.

As they hearde these thynges, he added thereto a similitude, because he was nye to Iherusalem, and because also they thoughte that the kingdome of God should shoulde appere. He sayd therfore: A certayne notable man, wente into a far countrey, to receiue him a kyngdome, and then to come againe. And he called his ten seruauntes, and deliuered them ten pounde, saying vnto them: bye and sell till I come. But thys cytizens hated hym, and sente messengers after hym, sayinge: we wyl not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

And it came to passe, when he was come agayne and receyued hys kyngdome, he commaunded these seruauntes to be called to him (to whom he gaue his money, to wit what euery man had done. Then came the first, saying: Lord, thy pounde hath encreased ten pounde. And he said vnto him. Well good seruaunte, because thou wast faithfull in a very lytle thyng, take thou authorite ouer ten cyties. And the other came, sayinge: Lord, thy pounde hath encreased fye pounde. And to the same he sayd: and be thou also ruler ouer fye cyties. And the thyrde came and said: Lord, beholde here thy pounde, whych I haue kept in a napkin, for I feared the, because thou arte a strait man, thou takedst by that thou saydest not downe, and receyuest that thou biddest not sowe. And he sayed to him: Of thyne own mouth iudge I the thou euill seruant. Is newell thou that I am a strait man, taking by þat I sayd not downe, & receyuing that I sayd not sowe? Wherefore then gauest thou my money into the banke, that at my coming I might haue requyred mine owne with vantage?

And he saied to them that stode by: take from him that pound, and geue it vnto him that hath ten pounde. And they saied vnto him: Lord, he hath ten pounde. I saye vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shalbe geuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shalbe take from him. Moreouer, those myne enemyes whych he woulde not that I shoulde raygne ouer them, bring hither, & slea them before me. And when he hadde thus spoken, he proceeded forth before, ascendyng vnto Iherusalem.

of S. Luke.

And it fortuneth, when he was come nye Bethphage and Bethany, besyde mounte Oluet, he sent two of hys disciples, sayinge: Go ye into the towne whiche is ouer against you. In the which asone as ye are come, ye shall finde a colte tied, wheron yet neuer man sat. A louse hym and bring him hither. And if any man aske you wher the ye leuse him, thus saye vnto him: the lord hath neede of him.

They that were sent, went their waye, & founde euen as he had sayd vnto them. And as they were a lousinge the colte, the owners said vnto them: wher leuse ye the colt? And they sayd: for the Lord hath neede of him. And they brought hym to Iesus. And they cast theyr raiment on the colte, & sette Iesus thereon. And as he went, they spread their clothes in the waye.

And when he was now come, where he shoulde go downe from the mount Oluet, the whole multitude of the disciples beganne to reioyce, and to laude God with a loude voice, for all the miracles that they had sene, saying. Blessed be the kyng that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glorie in the hysse. And some of the phariseis of the company said vnto hym: Maister, rebuke thy disciples, for they swered and sayed vnto them: I, tell you, if these shoulde holde theyr peace, the stones woulde crye.

And when he was come neare, he beheld the cite, and wepte on it, sayinge: If thou haddest knowen those thynges, whych be long vnto thy peace, euen at this thy time, But nowe are they hid from thyne eyes. For the dayes shal come vpon the, that thy enemies shal cast a banke aboute the, and compass the round, and kepe the in on euery side, and make the euen with the ground, with children whiche are in the. And they shal not leaue in the one stone vpon another, because thou knowest not the tyme of thy visytacion.

And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought, saying vnto them: it is wyrtless: my house is the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a den of theues. And he taught daylye in the temple.

The hye priestes and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people went about to destroye hym, but could not fynd what to do. For all the people slacke by hym and gaue hym audyence.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in Matthew the xii. Chapter. B.
(b) Here peace is take for helth, as in Esa. lvi.

The xx. Chapter.

Christ wyppeth away the question of his anoynt, and chercheth the wickednes of pharisees by the similitude of the xpe and husbandmen: he sheweth that Tribute must be payd vnto Cesar: and confuteth the Saducees that denyeth the Resurreccion: he sheweth pynly whose sonne Messias was, and warneth vs to beware of the Scribes.

John. xii. b

Mat. xxi. a
Mat. xxi. a
Luke. xxi. a

Sellers & buyers.
Mat. xxi. b.
Esa. lvi. c
Isa. lvi. c
Isa. lvi. b

To hym & hath.
Peace.

Mat. xvi. b.

Mat. xxi. b
f. pound.

To him & hath, it shalbe geuen.

Mat. xxi. b.
Mat. xxi. c
Mat. xxi. a
Mat. xxi. a

No. xxix.

at. xii. b
at. xii. b.

Mat. xxii.
26 et seq.
Luk. ix. 8

699.iii. ferustia

scarcely nothing for them: for Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were of those children of God that Christ speaketh of here, and yet were married in this life.

The xxi. Chapter.

The offering of the widow was preferred before the rich men. Christ sheweth the before of the destruction of the temple and the cite, with the signes that shall go before it, and with the afflictions of his disciples. He sheweth what tokens shall go before the day of judgement, exhorting all men to watche and be sober.

A He beheld, he sawe the rich men how they caste in their offerings into the treasury. And he sawe also a certayn poore widow which cast in thither two mites. And he said: of a truth I saye vnto you, this poore widow hath put in more then they all. For they all haue of their superfluite added vnto the offering of God: but she, of her penury hath caste in all the substance that she had.

Destruction of the temple. As some spake of the temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones and reuels, he said: The dayes will come, when of these thynges whiche ye see, shall not be left stone vpon stone, that shall not be throwen downe. And they asked hym, sayinge: Master, when shall these thynges be, and what signe will there be, when such thynges shall come to passe?

Thon. iii. c. And he saied: take hede, that ye be not deceived: for many will come in my name sayinge: I am he: & the time draweth neare. Follow ye not them therfore. But when ye heare of warre and dissencion, be not afraid. For these thynges must first come: but the ende foloweth not by and by. Then sayed he vnto them: Accyon shall rise agaynst accyon, and kyngdome agaynst kyngdome, and great earthquakes shall be in certayne places, and hunger, and pestilence, & fearful thynges. And greates signes shall ther be from heauen.

A promise But before all these they shall laye their hands on you, and persecute you, deliueing you vp to the synagoges and into prison, and bring you before kings and rulers for my names sake. And this shall chaunce you for a testimoniall. Let it like therefore fall in your hartes, not once to study before what ye shall answer: for I will giue you a mouth and wisdom whereagainst all your aduersaries shall not be able to speake nor resist. Yea and ye shall be betrayed of your fathers and mothers, and of your brethren, & kynsmen and louers, and some of you shall they put to death: & hated shall ye be of all men for my names sake. Yet they that shall not one herte of your heades perish. With your patience (a) possesse your soules.

mar. xiii. b And when ye see Iherusalem besegged with an hoste, then vnderstande that the desolacion of the same is nre. Then lette them which are in Iewry fflye to the mountaynes. And lette them whiche are in the middest of it depart out. And lette not them that are in other countries, enter therein. For these be the dayes of vengeance, to fulfill all that are written. But woe bee to them that be with child, and to them that giue sucke in these dayes: for there shall be great trouble in the land, and wrath ouer all this people. And they shall fall on the edge of the swerde, and shall be lead captiue into auacions. And Iherusalem shall be troden vnder fote of the gentyls, vntill the tyme of the gentyls be fulfilled.

And ther shall be signes in the sunne, and in the moone, and in the starrs, and in the earth the people shall be in such perplexite that they shall not tell which way to turne themselves. The sea and the waters shall rore, and meynes herres shall fayle them for feare: and for lokyng after those thynges, which shall come on the earth. For the powers of heauen shall moue. And then shall they see the sonne of man come in a cloude with power and great glorie. When these thynges begyn to come to passe, then loke vp, and lift vp your heades, for your redemption draweth nye.

And he shewed them a similitude: behold the figge tree, and all other trees, whiche they put forth their buddes, ye see and know of your owne selues, that sommer is then nye at hand. So likewise ye (when ye see these thynges come to passe) vnderstand that the kyngdome of God is nye. Verely I say vnto you, this generacion shall not passe till all be fulfilled. Heauen and earth shall passe: but my wordes shall not passe.

Take hede to your selues, lest your hartes be overcome with surfetyng and drowkenes, and cares of this world: and that that daye come not on you vnwares. For as a snare shall it come on all them that slyp on the earth. Watche therefore continually and pray, that ye maye obtayne grace to fflye all this that shall come, & that ye maye stande before the sonne of man.

In the daye tyme, he taught in the temple, and at night he went out and had abidinge in the mount Oluet. And all the people came in the morning to him in the temple, for to heare hym.

The Notes.

(a) The soule is possessed, when thou knowest thyself in Christ, we presently suffer all aduersities. (b) To flye by the heade, is to bemyne and reioyce at the remembraunce of a thyng.

The xxii. Chapter.

While Christ preparerth to kepe Easter with his disciples, he was sold of Iudas. He sent before men to prepare the Pascale lambe, and at the solemnitye thereof ordered his holy supper. He appealed the stryunge for the primacy, and shewed of the chaunces that should come after: goyng into the garden, he prayed muche and was taken: Peter folowynge hym when he was led away, denyed him threes. Iesus after he had a good while bene scayned, was asked whether he was the sonne of God, and answered sayng.

math. xxi. c. mar. xiii. b. luke. xxi. d. ioh. iii. c.

Matthe.

To possesse the soule. To lift vp the heade.

Mat. xxi. a
mar. xiii. a

The feast of swete breade due nye whych is called Easter: and the he priests and scribes sought howe to kyl him, but they feared the peo ple. Then entred Sathan into Jhu as whose sir name was Iscariot (whych was of the number of the twelue) and he wente his waye & communed wth the hye priestes and officers, howe he myght be trape hym to thepm. And they were glad, & promysed to geue hym monye. And he con sented and soughte oportunitie to betraye him vnto them, without trouble.

Then came the daye of swete breade, whē of necessitye the Easter lambe must be of fered.

And he sente Peter and Jhon, sayinge: goe and prepare vs the Easter lambe, that we maye eate. They sayed to hym. Where wylte thou that we prepare? And he sayed vnto them. Beholde when ye be entred in to the cite, there shall a man mete you bea ryng a ptycher of water, hym folowe into the same house that he entreteth in, and saye vnto the good man of the house. The mai ster sayeth vnto the: where is the best cham ber, where I shall eate myne Easter lambe with my Disciples? And he shall shew you a greete parloure paved: Ther make redy.
And they wente and found as he had say ed vnto thepm: and made redye the Easter lambe.

And when the houre was come, he satte downe and the twelue Apostles wth him.
And sayed vnto them: I haue inwardly de sired to eate this Easter lambe wth you before that I suffer. For I saye vnto you: henceforth I wyl not eate of it anye more vntill it be fulfilled in the kyngdome of God. And he toke the cup and gaue than kes, and sayde. Take this and deuyde it among you. For I say vnto you: I wil not dunke of the fruit of the vine vntill I kyng dome of god be come.

The sacra
mentis institute.

And he toke breade, gaue thankes, and broke it, and gaue it to them sayinge. This is my body whiche is geuen for you. This do in the remembraunce of me. Likewyse also, when they had supped, he toke the cup sayinge. This cup is the newe testamente in my bloude, whiche shall for you be shed.

Math. xvi. b
mar. xiii. b
Jhon. xiii. c

Yet beholde, the hande of hym that be trayeth me is wth me on the table. And the sonne of man goeth as it is appointed.
But wo be to that man by whom he is be trayed. And they began to enquire among them selues, which of them it shuld be that shuld do that.

Breakest.

And there was a stryfe among them, whi che of them shoulde be taken for the grea test. And he sayd vnto the: the kings of the gentils craigne ouer them, & they beare rule ouer them, are called gracious lordes. But ye shal not be so. But he that is greatest a mong you shal be as the yongest: & he that is chief shal be minister. For whether is grea ter, he that sitteth at meate, or he that set ueth? Is not he that sitteth at meate? And I am among you as he that ministereth.

Ye are they whiche haue bydden wth me in my temptacions. And I appoynte vnto you a kyngdome, as my father hath appoin ted to me, that ye maye eate and dryncke at my table in my kyngdome, and sitte on seates, and iudge the twelue tribes of Is raell.

And the Lorde sayed: Symon Symon be hold, Sathan hath despyed you, to sift you as it were wheate, but I haue prayed for that thy fafeth faile not. And when thou art conuerted, strengthe thy brethren. And he sayed vnto hym: Lorde I am redy to go wth thee into prison, and to death. And he sayed: I tell the Peter, the cocke shall not croue this daye, till thou haue twyse de nyed that thou knowest me. And he sayed vnto them: when I sent you wthout wal let and scryp & shooes, lacked ye any thing?
And they sayed, no. And he sayed vnto the but now he that hath a wallet let him take it wth, and likewise his scryp. And he that hath no swerde, lette hym sell his cote and buye one. For I say vnto you, that yet that whiche is wrytten muste be performed in me: eue wth the wycked was he numbered.
For those thynges whiche are wrytten of me haue an ende. And they sayed: Lord be holde here are two swerdes. And he sayed vnto them, it is enoughe.

Simons
sarth say leth not.

math. xvi. d
mar. xiii. d

D

Bi a swerd
Esa. lvi. d.

And he came out & went as he was wont, two swer des. And the disciples follo wed him. And whē he came to the place, he sayed to them: praye, lest ye fall into tempta cion.

And he gate hym selfe from them, about a stones cast, and kneled doune, & prayed, say ng. Father if thou wilt, withdrawe this cup from me. Nevertheless, not my wil, but thine be fulfilled. And ther appered an angel vn to him fro heauen, confortyng him. And he was in an agony, & prayed somewhat longer.
And his sweate was like drops of bloude trickling down to the ground. And he rose vp fro prayer, and came to his disciples and found them slepyng for sorowe, and sayed vnto them: Why slepe ye? Rise and praye, lest ye fall into temptation.

Two swer
des.
Esa. lvi. e
Th. xvi. e

Ch. ii. a meth. xvi. f
Jhon. xiii. f
Esa. lvi. f
Esa. lvi. g
Esa. lvi. h
Esa. lvi. i
Esa. lvi. j
Esa. lvi. k
Esa. lvi. l
Esa. lvi. m
Esa. lvi. n
Esa. lvi. o
Esa. lvi. p
Esa. lvi. q
Esa. lvi. r
Esa. lvi. s
Esa. lvi. t
Esa. lvi. u
Esa. lvi. v
Esa. lvi. w
Esa. lvi. x
Esa. lvi. y
Esa. lvi. z

While he yet spake, behold there came a company, & he was called Judas one of the twelue, went before them, and pressed nigh vnto Iesus to kisse him. And Iesus sai ed vnto him: Judas betrayest thou a son of man with a kisse? When they which were a bout him saw what wold folow, they laide vnto him: Lord, what we smite with swerde?
And one of the smote a seruante of the high priest of al, & smot of his right eare. And Ie sus answered, & sayed: Suffer ye thus far forth. And he touched his eare & heled him.

Esa. lvi. k
Esa. lvi. l
Esa. lvi. m
Esa. lvi. n
Esa. lvi. o
Esa. lvi. p
Esa. lvi. q
Esa. lvi. r
Esa. lvi. s
Esa. lvi. t
Esa. lvi. u
Esa. lvi. v
Esa. lvi. w
Esa. lvi. x
Esa. lvi. y
Esa. lvi. z

Then Iesus sayed vnto the hye priestes, and Rulers of the Temple, and the elders whiche were come to him: We be come out as vnto a thefe wth swerdes and staves.
Whē I was daily with you in the temple ye stratched

mat. xxi. f
mar. xiii. e Jhon. xiii. e

stretched not forth hands against me. But this is euen your very hour, and the power of darknes. Then tokethey him, and led him and broughte hym to the hye puerles house. And peter folowed a farre of.

Mat. xiii. f
John. xviii
Peter denyeth.
When they had kindled a fyre in þe middes of the palace, and were set downe together: peter also satte downe among the. And one of the wenches behelde hym as he satte by the fyre, and set good eye sighte on him, and sayde: this same was also wth hym. Then he denyed him, sayinge: woman I know him not. And after a lytle whyle, another sawe hym, and sayd: thou art also of them. And peter sayed: man I am not. And about the space of an houre after, another affirmed, sayinge: verely, euen this fellow was with him: for he is of Galile. And peter said: manne, I wote not what thou sayest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the cocke crewe. And the Lord turned back and looked vpon peter. And peter remembred the wordes of the Lord, how he sayd vnto him: before the cock crow, thou shalt denye me thryse. And peter went out, and wept bitterly.

Thy. ii. is mocked.
And the men stode about Iesus, mocked him, and smote him, and blindfolded hym, and smote his face. And arode him, sayinge: arode who is it that smote the? And manye other thynges despitfullye said they against him.

ma. xxi. f
ma. xxiii. g
John. viii. g
And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the hygh puerles and scribes came together, and led him into thei counsell, sayinge: art thou very Christ, I tell vs? And he said vnto them. If I shall tell you, ye will not beleue. And if also I are you, ye will not answer me, or let me go. Whereafter shall the son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God. The said they al: Art thou then the son of God? He sayd to them: ye say that I am. Then sayd they al: what nede we any further witness? We oure selues haue heard of his owne mouth.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

Quist is deliuered to Pilate, who after he had sent him to Herod, receiued him again: and constrained by the importunyte of the people, commaunded hym to be crucified, who he knewe to be an innocent, after that he described the death and sepulchre of our saluour, and let out with all circumstances.

De is deliuered to Pilate.
At the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate. And they beganne to accuse him, sayinge: We haue found this fellowe peruersting the people, and forbydding to paye tribute to Cesar, sayinge that he is Christe a kynge. And Pilate appressed hym, sayinge: arte thou the kynge of the Jewes? He answered hym and sayed: thou sayest it. Then sayed Pilate to the hye puerles, and to the people: I fynde no faute in this manne. And they were the more fierce, sayinge: He moueth the people, teachinge thorowoute all Jewrye, and beganne at Galyle, euen to this place. When Pilate hearde menenon of Galile, he arode whether the man were of Galyle. And as soon as he knewe that he was of Herods iurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, whiche was also at Hierusalem in those dayes. And when Herod saw Iesus, he was exceedingly glad. For he was desirous to se him of a long season, because he had heard manye thynges of him, and trusted to haue sene some miracle done by him. The questioned he with him of manye thynges. But he answered him not one word. The hye puerles and scribes stode forthe and accused hym straptly. And Herod with his men of warre despised him and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him agayne to Pilate. And the same day Pilate and Herode were made frendes together. For before they were at variance.

And Pilate called together the hye puerles and the rulers, and the people, & sayed vnto them. Ye haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerst the people. And beholde, I haue examined him before you, and haue founde no faute in this man of those thynges wherof ye accuse him: no nor yet Herode. For I sent you to him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is done of him. I will therefore chasten him & let him leue. For of necessity he must haue let one leue vnto them at the feast.

And all the people cryed at once, sayinge: awake with him, and deliuer to vs Barababas, whiche for insurrection made in the cite, and murder, was caste into prison. Pilate spake agayne to them willing to let Iesus leue. And they cryed, sayinge: Crucifixe hym, crucifixe hym. He said vnto them the thyrde tyme. What euill hath he done? I fynde no cause of death in him, I will therefore chasten hym, and lette him leue. And they cryed with a loud voice, and requited that he might be crucified. And the voice of them and of the hye puerles preuailed.

And Pilate gaue sentence, that it should be as they required: and lette leue vnto them, him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired: and deliuered Iesus to doo with him what they would. And as they led him awake, they caughte one Simon of Cyren, commyng out of the fiede, and on him laid they the crosse, to beare it after Iesu.

And there folowed him a great company of the people, and of women, whiche bewailed and lamented him. But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and said. Doughters of Hierusalem, wepe not for me: but weepe for your selues, and for your chyldren. For beholde the daies wil come, when men shall say: Bappy are the barayne and the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes that neuer gaue sucke. Then shall they begynne to say to the mountaines: fall on vs: and to the hilles, couer vs. For if they do this to a grene tre, what shal be done to the drye?

And

He holdeth his peace.

mat. xxvi. e
Mar. xv. b
John. viii. g

Barababas

Simon of Cyren.

ma. xxvi. d
Mar. xv. b
John. xix. d

De. i. b.
Apoca. i. b

Esa. lvi. a
Gal. iii. d.
2. d

mat. xiii. f
mar. xiii. b
John. xviii

ma. xxi. b.
mar. x. b.
Jhon. xix. d
Ma. xxv. c.
Mar. x. b.

And there were two euill doers led wpth him to be slaine And when they were come to the place which is called Caluarpe, ther they crucified him, and the euill doers: one on the righte hande, and the other on the lefte. Then said Iesus: father forgeue the, for they wote not what they do. And they parted his rayment, and cast lots. And the people stode and behelde.

He is mocked.

And the rulers mocked him with them saying: he help other men, let him help him selfe, if he be Christ the chosen of god. The souldiers also mocked him, and came, and gaue him vinegre and saied: if thou be that king of the Jewes, saue thy selfe? And hys superscription was witten ouer him, in greke, in latin, and in Hebrue: This is the king of the Jewes.

And one of the euill doers which hanged, rapped on him, saying: If thou be Christ, saue thy self and vs. The other answered and rebuked him, saying: Neither fearest thou God, because thou arte in the same damnacion? We are rightuoullie punished, for we receiue according to our dedes. But this man hath done nothing amis. And he sayd vnto Iesus: Lorde remember me when thou comest into thy kyngdome. And Iesus saied vnto him. Verely I saie vnto the, to day shalt thou be wpth me in a Paradyse.

Paradyse

And it was aboute the sixt houre. And there came a darcknes ouer all the lande, vntill the ninth hour. and the sunne was darckened. And the vail of the temple did rent euen thorough the myddes. And Iesus cried with a great voice, and saied: Father, into thy handes I commende my spirit. And when he thus sayd, he gaue vp the ghost. When the Centurion saw what had happened, he glorified God, saying: Of a truerie, this man was perfecte. And al the people came together to the sight, & beholdinge the thynges which were done: smote their breastes, and returned home.

Claple.
he geueth
vp the ghost.

His frends stande a farte of.

And all his acquaintaunce, and the women that folowed him from Galile, stode a farte of, beholdinge these thynges.

mat. xlii. g
mar. xv. d
Jhon. xix. g Ioseph of Arama-
thia.

And beholde, ther was a man named Ioseph, a counselloure, and was a good man and iust, and did not consent to the cotn sell and dede of them, which was of Arama. a city of the Jewes: whiche same also waped for the kyngdome of Iod: he went vnto Pilate and begged the body of Iesus, and toke it doune, and wrapped it in a linnen clothe, and layed it in a hewen tombe, wherein was neuer manne before laid. And that same day was the Saboth euen, and the Saboth drewe on. The women that folowed after, which came wpth him from Galyle, behelde the Sepulchre, and how his body was layd. And they returned and prepared oboures and ointmentes: but rested the Saboth daye, according to the commaundement.

The Notes.

Paradyse, (a) Paradyse is as muche to saye, as a place of

synguler quietnes and pleasure.

The xxiii. Chapter.

The Maryes whych came to seeke Christ, heare thynges that he is risen, he appereth to them that went to Emmaus, and sette him selfe present to the disciples, which doubted of his resurrection, by signes wytnessynge the very resurrection of his body: to them expoundeth he the scriptures, commendeth the Gospel, and ascendeth into the heauens.

At the mornynge after the Saboth both early in the mornynge, they came vnto the tombe, & brought the oboures whych they had prepared and other women wpth them. And they founde the stone rowled awape from the sepulcher, and went in, but found not the body of the Lorde Iesu. And it happened, as they were amased therat, Beholde two men stode by them in shynynge beautes. And as they were afrayd, and bowed downe their faces on the earth, they saied to them: Why seeke ye the lyuynge among the dead? he is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake vnto you, when he was wpth you in Galyle, sayinge: that the sonne of man must be deliuered into the handes of synfull men, and be crucified, and the thyrde daye rise agayne.

ma. xlii. g
mar. xvi. b
Jhon. xx. a.

And they remembered hys wordes, and returned from the sepulchre, & tolde al these thynges vnto the eleuen, and to al the remnaunte. It was Marye Magdalene, and Joanna, and Marye Iacoby, and other that were wpth them, whych told these thynges vnto the Apostles and their wordes seemed vnto them fained thynges, neither beleued they them. Then rose Peter and raune vnto the sepulchre, and stowped in, and saw the linnen clothes layd by them selfe, and departed wonderynge in hymself at that whych had happened.

Ma. xvi. d
Mark. x. d

Peter runneth to
the graue.

And behold, two of them went that same day to a towne, whych was from Ierusalem about thre score furlonges, called Emmaus, and they talked together of al these thynges that had happened. And it chaunced as they communed together and reasoned, that Iesus hymselfe drue neare, and went wpth them. But their eyes were holden, that they coude not knowe hym. And he sayed vnto them: What maner of communications are these that ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad? And the one of them named Cleophas, answered and sayd vnto him: art thou only a straunger in Ierusalem, and haste not knowne the thyngs whych haue chaunced therein in these dayes? To whom he sayd: what thynges? And they sayd vnto hym: of Iesus of Nazareth, whych was a prophet, noughte in dede & word before God, and al the people. And how the hie puelles and our rulers deliuered him to be cōdemned to death: & haue crucified hym. But we trusted that it should haue bene he that should haue deliuered

C Emmaus.

nered

ma. xxi. b.
mar. x. b.
Jhon. xix. d
Ma. xxv. c.
Mar. x. b.

And there were two euill doers led wpth him to be slaine And when they were come to the place which is called Caluarpe, ther they crucified him, and the euill doers: one on the righte hande, and the other on the lefte. Then said Iesus: father forgeue the, for they wote not what they do. And they parted his rayment, and cast lots. And the people stode and behelde.

He is mocked.

And the rulers mocked him with them saying: he help other men, let him help him selfe, if he be Christ the chosen of god. The souldiers also mocked him, and came, and gaue him vinegre and saied: if thou be that king of the Jewes, saue thy selfe? And hys superscription was witten ouer him, in greke, in latin, and in Hebrue: This is the king of the Jewes.

And one of the euill doers which hanged, rapped on him, saying: If thou be Christ, saue thy self and vs. The other answered and rebuked him, saying: Neither fearest thou God, because thou arte in the same damnacion? We are rightuoullie punished, for we receiue according to our dedes. But this man hath done nothing amis. And he sayd vnto Iesus: Lorde remember me when thou comest into thy kyngdome. And Iesus saied vnto him. Verely I saie vnto the, to day shalt thou be wpth me in a Paradyse.

Paradyse

And it was aboute the sixt houre. And there came a darcknes ouer all the lande, vntill the ninth hour. and the sunne was darckened. And the vail of the temple did rent euen thorough the myddes. And Iesus cried with a great voice, and saied: Father, into thy handes I commende my spirit. And when he thus sayd, he gaue vp the ghost. When the Centurion saw what had happened, he glorified God, saying: Of a truerie, this man was perfecte. And al the people came together to the sight, & beholdinge the thynges which were done: smote their breastes, and returned home.

Claple.
he geueth
vp the ghost.

His frends
stande a
farte of.

mat. xlii. g
mar. xv. d
Jhon. xix. g Ioseph of Arama-
thia.

And all his acquaintaunce, and the women that folowed him from Galile, stode a farte of, beholdinge these thynges.

And beholde, ther was a man named Ioseph, a counselloure, and was a good man and iust, and did not consent to the cotinell and dede of them, which was of Arama. a city of the Jewes: whiche same also waped for the kyngdome of Iod: he went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus, and toke it doune, and wrapped it in a linnen clothe, and layed it in a hewen tombe, wherein was neuer manne before laid. And that same day was the Saboth euen, and the Saboth drewe on. The women that folowed after, which came wpth him from Galyle, behelde the Sepulchre, and how his body was layd. And they returned and prepared odours and ointmentes: but rested the Saboth daye, according to the commaundement.

The Notes.

Paradyse, (a) Paradyse is as muche to saye, as a place of

synguler quietnes and pleasure.

The xxiii. Chapter.

The Maryes whych came to seeke Christ, heare thynges that he is risen, he appereth to them that went to Emaus, and sette him selfe present to the disciples, which doubted of his resurrection, by signes wytnessynge the very resurrection of his body: to them expoundeth he the scriptures, commendeth the Gospel, and ascendeth into the heauens.

At the mornynge after the Saboth both early in the mornynge, they came vnto the tombe, & brought the odours whych they had prepared and other women wpth them. And they founde the stone rowled awape from the sepulcher, and went in, but found not the body of the Lorde Iesu. And it happened, as they were amased therat, Beholde two men stode by them in shynynge beautes. And as they were afrayd, and bowed downe their faces on the earth, they saied to them: Why seeke ye the lyuynge among the dead? he is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake vnto you, when he was wpth you in Galyle, sayinge: that the sonne of man must be deliuered into the handes of synfull men, and be crucified, and the thyrde daye rise agayne.

ma. xlii. g
mar. xvi. b
Jhon. xx. a.

And they remembered hys wordes, and returned from the sepulchre, & tolde al these thynges vnto the eleuen, and to al the remnaunte. It was Marye Magdalene, and Joanna, and Marye Iacoby, and other that were wpth them, whych told these thynges vnto the Apostles and their wordes seemed vnto them fained thynges, neither beleued they them. Then rose Peter and ranne vnto the sepulchre, and stowped in, and saw the linnen clothes layd by them selfe, and departed wonderynge in hymself at that whych had happened.

Ma. xlii. d
Mark. x. d

Peter runneth to
the graue.

And behold, two of them went that same day to a towne, whych was from Ierusalem about thre score furlonges, called Emaus, and they talked together of al these thynges that had happened. And it chaunced as they communed together and reasoned, that Iesus hymselfe drue neare, and went wpth them. But their eyes were holden, that they coude not knowe hym. And he sayed vnto them: What maner of communications are these that ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad? And the one of them named Cleophas, answered and sayd vnto him: art thou only a straunger in Ierusalem, and haste not knowne the thyngs whych haue chaunced therein in these dayes? To whom he sayd: what thynges? And they sayd vnto hym: of Iesus of Nazareth, whych was a prophet, noughte in dede & word before God, and al the people. And how the hie puelles and our rulers deliuered him to be cōdemned to death: & haue crucified hym. But we trusted that it should haue bene he that should haue deliuered

E Emaus.

nered

The Gospell

uered Israell. And as touchynge all these thyngs, to day is euen the thyrde daye, that they were done.

Yea, and certayne womenne also of our companie, made vs acompanyed, whiche came earlye vnto the sepulchre, and founde not hys body: and came, sayinge that they had sene a vision of Angels, whiche sayed that he was aloue. And certayne of them whiche were wpth vs, went their way to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the womē had said: but him they sawe not.

And he sayd vnto them: O foolles & slow of herte, to beleue all that the prophetes haue spoken. Oughte not Christe to haue suffered these thynges, and to enter into his glory? And he began at Moyses, and at all the prophetes, and interpreted vnto them in all scriptures, whiche were witten of him. And they drew nye vnto the towne whiche they wēt to. And he made as though he woulde haue gone further. But they constrained him, saying: abyde with vs, for it draweth towards nyghte, and the daye is farre passed. And he went in, to tarpe with them.

And it came to passe as he sate at meate wpth them, he toke breade, blessed it, brake and gaue to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he vanyshe out of their syght. And they sayd betwene the selues: dyd not our hertes burne within vs whyle he talked with vs by the waye, and as he opened to vs the scriptures? And they rose vp the same houre, and returned againe to Ierusalem, and found the eleue gathered together, and the that were with them, whiche sayed: The Lorde is risen in dede, and hath appeared to Simon. And they tolde what thynges were done in the waye, and how they knewe him in breaking of bread. &

As they thus spake: & Jesus hymselfe stode in the myddes of them, and saide vnto them: peace be wpth you. And they were abashed and afraied, supposyng that they had sene a spirit. And he sayed vnto them: Whyp are ye troubled, and why do thoughtes arysen in your hertes? Beholde my handes and my feete, that it is euen my selfe. Handle me, and see: for spirites haue not flesh and bones as ye see me haue. And whē he hadde thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and hys feete. And whyle they yet beleued not for ioye, and wondered, he sayd vnto them: haue ye here anye meate? And they gaue hym a piece of broyled fysh, and of an hony combe. And he toke it, and ate it before them.

And he sayed vnto them: These are the wordes whiche I spake vnto you, whyle I was yet wpth you: that all must be fulfilled whiche was witten of me in the lawe of Moyses, and in the prophetes and in the psalmes. When opened he their wittes that they might vnderstand the scriptures, and sayed vnto them: Thus is it witten,

of S. Luke.

and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from death the thyrde daye, & that repentaunce & remission of synnes should be preached in his name amonge all nacions: & and muste begynne at Ierusalem. And ye are wytnesses of these thynges. And behold, I will send the promyses of my father vpon you. But tarpe ye in the cite of Ierusalem, vntyll ye be endewed with power from on hys.

And he led them out into Bethany, and left vp hys handes, and blessed them. And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was carped vp into heauen. And they worshipped him, and returned to Ierusalem, wpth great ioye, and were continuallye in the temple, prayyng and lauding God. Amen.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Luke.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospell of
Saint Iohn.

WHAT he was, is manifeste by the thre firste Evangelistes. For Christe is a Spoule, and that one of the chiefe, When Christe was myniman, and for hys synfuler innocenye, & softnes, synfulerlye beloved, and of synfuler familiarite with Christe, and euer one of the thre wytnesses, of mooste secret thynges. The cause of hys wytpage was certayne heresies, that arose in hys tyme, and namely two, of whiche one decayed Christe to be very

ma. xvi. d
Mar. xvi. d
Iohn. x. c.

he getteth
the keyes.

The Gospell

uered Israell. And as touchynge all these thyngs, to day is euen the thyrde daye, that they were done.

Yea, and certayne womenne also of our companie, made vs acompanyed, whiche came earlye vnto the sepulchre, and founde not hys body: and came, sayinge that they had sene a vision of Angels, whiche sayed that he was aloue. And certayne of them whiche were wpth vs, went their way to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the womē had said: but him they sawe not.

And he sayd vnto them: O foolles & slow of herte, to beleue all that the prophetes haue spoken. Oughte not Christe to haue suffered these thynges, and to enter into his glory? And he began at Moyses, and at all the prophetes, and interpreted vnto them in all scriptures, whiche were witten of him. And they drew nye vnto the towne whiche they wēt to. And he made as though he woulde haue gone further. But they constrained him, saying: abyde with vs, for it draweth towards nyghte, and the daye is farre passed. And he went in, to tarpe with them.

And it came to passe as he sate at meate wpth them, he toke breade, blessed it, brake and gaue to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he vanyshe out of their syght. And they sayd betwene the selues: dyd not our hertes burne within vs whyle he talked with vs by the waye, and as he opened to vs the scriptures? And they rose vp the same houre, and returned againe to Ierusalem, and found the eleue gathered together, and the that were with them, whiche sayed: The Lorde is risen in dede, and hath appeared to Simon. And they tolde what thynges were done in the way, and how they knewe him in breaking of bread. &

As they thus spake: & Jesus hymselfe stode in the myddes of them, and saide vnto them: peace be wpth you. And they were abashed and afraied, supposyng that they had sene a spirit. And he sayed vnto them: Whyp are ye troubled, and why do thoughtes arysen in your hertes? Beholde my handes and my feete, that it is euen my selfe. Handle me, and see: for spirites haue not flesh and bones as ye see me haue. And whē he hadde thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and hys feete. And whyle they yet beleued not for ioie, and wondered, he sayd vnto them: haue ye here anye meate? And they gaue hym a piece of broyled fysh, and of an hony combe. And he toke it, and ate it before them.

And he sayed vnto them: These are the wordes whiche I spake vnto you, whyle I was yet wpth you: that all must be fulfilled whiche was witten of me in the lawe of Moyses, and in the prophetes and in the psalmes. When opened he their wittes that they might vnderstand the scriptures, and sayed vnto them: Thus is it witten,

of S. Luke.

and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from death the thyrde day, & that repentaunce & remission of synnes should be preached in his name amonge all nacions: & and muste begynne at Ierusalem. And ye are wytnesses of these thynges. And behold, I will send the promyses of my father vpon you. But tarpe ye in the cite of Ierusalem, vntyll ye be endewed with power from on hie.

And he led them out into Bethany, and left vp hys handes, and blessed them. And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was carped vp into heauen. And they worshipped him, and returned to Ierusalem, wpth great ioie, and were continuallye in the temple, prayyng and lauding God. Amen.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Luke.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospell of
Saint Iohn.

WHAT he was, is manifeste by the thre firste Evangelistes. Firste Christe our Spoule, and that one of the chiefe, Then Christe our kyneman, and for hys synfuller innocencye, & softnes, synfuller becomen, and of synfuller familiaritye with Christe, and euer one of the thre wytnesses, of moche secret thynges. The cause of hys wytpage was certayne heresies, that arose in hys tyme, and namely two, of which one decayed Christe to be very

ma. xvi. d
Mar. xvi. d
Iohn. x. c.

he getteth
the keyes.

be verpe man, and to be come in verpe fleshe and nature of man. Agaynst whych two herelpe, he wrote both hys Gospell and also hys epistle: and in the begynnyng of hys Gospell sayeth: that the woide of thyng was at the begynnyng, and was wpyth God, and was also verpe God, and that all thynges were created and made by it, and that it was also made fleshe: that is to saye: became verpe man. And he dwelle among vs (sayeth he) and we saw hys gloze.

And in the begynnyng of hys epistle, he sayeth: we shew pou of the thyng that was fro the begynnyng, whych also we heard, saw wpyth our eyes, and our handes handled. And agayne we shew pou eternall lyfe, that was wpyth the father, and appeared to vs, and we hearde and saw. &c. In that he sayeth that it was from the begynnyng, and that it was eternall lyfe, and that it was wpyth God, he aspyrith hym to be verpe God. And that he sayth, we heard, sawe and felte, he wpynteth that he was verpe man also. John also wrote last, and therfore touched not the stoye that the othe had compled. But wpyteth most of the sayeth and promyse, and of the sermons of Christ. These be sufficient, com- scripyng the four Evangelistes, and thele authoryte and worthynes to be belued. f. iiii.

The Gospell of Saynt John.

The first Chapter.

The everlastyng byth of Christ, and how he became ma. The testimony of John. The calling of Andjewe.

In the begyn- nunge was the woide, and the woide was with God, and the word was god. The same was in the begyn- nyng with god. All thynges wer made by it, and without it was made nothyng that was made. In it was lyfe, and the lyfe was the lyght of men, & the light shyned in the darckenes, but the darcknes comprehended it not.

There was a man sent from God whose name was John. The same came as a wit- nes to beare witness of (a) the light, that al me throug him might beleue. He was not that light, but to beare wpytnes of þ light. That was a true lyght, whych lighteth all men that come into the world. He was in the world, & the world was made by him, and yet the world knew him not.

He came amonge hys (owne) and hys f. vii. d. owne receiued not hym. But as manpe as (owne) receiued hym, to them he gaue power to be the sonnes of God, in that they beleued on hys name: whych were bozne not of the bloud, nor of the will of the fleshe, nor yet of the will of man, but of God.

And the woide was made fleshe, & dwelt among vs, and we sawe the gloze of it, as the gloze of the ony begotten sonne of the father, whych woide was full of grace and veritye. &c.

John bare witness of him, and cried, say- inge: This was he of whome I spake, he that cometh after me, was before me: because he was per then I. And of hys ful- nes haue alwe receiued, even (b) grace to grace. For the lawe was gauen by Moyses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. No man hath sene God at any tyme. The onelpe begotten sonne, whiche is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared hym. &c.

And this is the record of John. When the Jewes sent pharises and Leuites from Ierusalem to aske him, what arte thou? (c) And he confessed and denied net, and sayd playnely: I am not Christ. And they ased hym: what then arte thou Elias? And he said: I am not. Art thou a prophet? And he answered, no. Then saied they vnto him: what arte thou that we maye geue an an- swere to them that sente vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe? He sayed: I am the (d) voice of a cryar in the wylernes: make straight the waye of the lorde, as sayed the prophet Esaias.

And they whych were sente, were of the pharises. And they ased hym, and said vnto hym: why baptisest thou then, if thou be not Christ, nor Elias, neyther a pro- phete? John answered them, sayinge: I baptise with water: but one is come amog you whom ye know not, he it is that com- meth after me, which was before me, whose shoe lachet I am not worthy to vnloose. These thyngs were done in Bethabara be- pond Iordane, wher John byd baptise. &c.

The next daye John saw Jesus com- ming vnto him, and said: beholde the lamb of God, which taketh awaye the sinne of the world. This is he of whom I sayde: After me cometh a man, whych was be- fore me, for he was per then I, & I knewe him not: but that he shoulde be declared to Israell, therfore am I come baptysyng with water.

And John bare record, sayinge: I saw the spirite descende from heauen, lyke vnto a doue, and abyde vpon hym, and I knewe hym not. But he that sente me to baptise in water, the same sayed vnto mee: vpon whom thou shalt se the spyt descend, and tarye vpon him, the same is he which bap- tiseyth wpyth the holpe ghozte. And I sawe and beare record, that this is the sonne of God.

The next daye after John stode agayn, and two of his dysciples: And he behelde Jesus as he walked by, and saied: beholde the lambe of God. And the two dysciples hearde hym speake, and folowed Jesus.

John. i. And Faith ma- keth vs the sons of God. John. i. c. Luke. i. d. John bare wpytnes.

John. i. c. John. i. c. John. i. c. John. i. c.

Lambe.

John. i. d. John. i. d. John. i. d.

And Jesus turned about and sawe them follow, and sayed vnto them: what seke ye? They saied vnto him: Rabbi (whiche is to saye by interpretacion, Maister) wher dwellest thou? He sayd vnto them: come and se. They came and saw wher he dwelt: and abode with him that day. For it was aboute the tenth houre.

Andrewe.
Peter.

One of the two which heard John speake and folowed Jesus, was Andrewe Simon Peters brother. The same founde hys brother Simon firste, and saied vnto him: wee haue founde Messias, which is by interpretation, anointed: and brought him to Jesus. And Jesus behelde him, and said: thou art Simon the sonne of Jonas: thou shalt be called Cephas: which is by interpreta-cion, a stone.

Philip.
Nathanael.
Gen. xlii. b
De. xvi. c
Esa. xl. c.
Ez. xliii. f
Dan. ix. f.

The dayes folowing, Jesus wold goin- to Galile, and found Philip, and sayd vn- to him: follow me. Philip was of Bethsa- da the citie of Andrewe and Peter. And Phi- lip found Nathanael, and saied vnto hym. We haue founde him of whom Moyses in the law and the prophetes sayd wyte: Je- sus the sonne of Joseph of Nazareth. And Nathanael sayed to hym: Can there anye good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip sayd to him: come and se.

Jesus saw Nathanael comming to him and sayd of him: Behold a righte Israhelit, in whom is no guile. Nathanael sayed vnto him: wher knewest thou me? Jesus an- swered, and sayed vnto him: Before that Phi- lip called the when thou wast vnder the fig tree, I sawe the. Nathanael answered and saied vnto him: Rabbi, thou art the sonne of God, thou art the kynge of Israhel. Je- sus answered and said vnto hym: Because I sayd vnto the, I sawe the vnder a figge tree, thou believest. Thou shalt se greater thinges then these. And he saied vnto him: Verely verely, I saye vnto pou: hereafter shall ye se heauen open, and the angels of God ascending and descending ouer the sonne of man.

The Notes.

The lyght.

(a) By the lyght, is vnderstande Christe, and by the darcknes, vngodly and vnbelyuyng men, among whom Christ came, and they belued him not, as Ephes. iiii. D.

Grace for grace.

(b) By grace vnderstand fauour. The meaning is: For the fauour that God the father hath to hys sonne Christe, hath he bestowed vs into fauour. So that as Christe is beloued of the fa- ther, euen so are we beloued for hys sake. As Roman. v. E.

To se god.

(c) There can no bodyly eye beholde the ma- gey of God in hys excellent nature, as he is. As we haue declared in God. xiiii. D.

The voice.

(d) In that John Baptiste attested hymselfe to be that same forgoer of Christe, of whome it was spoken in E. of the. ii. Chapter. A.

The. ii. Chapter.

Christe turneth the water into wyne, and dyspueth the byers and sellers out of the temple.

And the thirde day was there a mar- riage in Cana a cite of Galyle: and a marriage the mother of Jesus was there. And in Cana Jesus was called also and hys dysciples of Galile. vnto the marriage. And when the wyne fail- ed, the mother of Jesus sayed vnto hym: they haue no wyne. Jesus sayed vnto hyr: woman what haue I to do with the? Againe Or rather houre is not yet come. His mother sayd vn- to the ministers: whatsoeuer he sayeth vn- to pou, do it. And there were standyng ther to do. fyre waterpots of stone, after the maner of the purifyinge of the Jewes, containyng e-uery two or thre sykins a peece.

And Jesus sayd vnto them: fyll the wa- terpottes with water. And they filled them vnto the brim. And he sayd vnto the: drawe out now, and beate vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it. When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was turned vnto wyne, and knewe not whence that was, but the ministers which drue the water knewe. He called the hydegrome, wyne, and saied vnto him: All men at the begyn- ninge, set forth good wyne, and (a) when men be dronke, then that which is worse. But thou hast kepte backe the good wyne vntill now.

Thys begynnyng of miracles did Je- sus in Cana of Galyle, and shewed his glo- ry, and his disciples believed on him. After that he descended into Capernaum, and his mother and his brethren, and hys dis- ciples: but continued not many dayes ther. And the Jewes Easter was euen at hand, and Jesus went vnto Jerusalem, and found sellers in the temple those that sold oxen and shepe, and deues, and changers of mo- ney: and he made a scourge of smal cords, and drave them all out of the temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred oute the changers of money, & ouerthrewe the ta- bles, and saied vnto them that sold deues: Haue these thinges hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchaun- drise. And his disciples remembered howe that it was written: the zeal of thine house hath euen eaten me. Then answered the Jewes and sayd to him: what token shew- est thou vnto vs, sayinge þ thou doest these thinges? Jesus answered and saied vnto them: destroy this temple, and in thre day- es I will rear it vp agayne. Then said the Jewes. This temple was thys temple a buildyng: and wilt thou reare it vp in thre day- es? But he spake of the temple of his body. Aftone therfore as he was risen fro deathe again, his disciples remebred that he thus saied. And they beleued the scripture, and the wordes whych Jesus had sayed.

When he was at Jerusalem at Easter in þ feast, many beleued on hys name, wher they sawe hys miracles, whiche he did, but Jesus put not hymself in their hands, be- cause he knew all men, & needed not that a- ny man should testifie of manne. For he and his knewe what was in man.

Sellers in the temple
are calle
oute.

ps. lxxviii. b.
Mat. xxvi. f.
mar. xiii. f.

psal. lvi. b.

ps. vii. f. 7. 1

psal. vii. b.

ps. vii. b.

The

The Notes.

When me be dronke. (a) That is when men be fulfilled and satisfied.

The.iii. Chapter.

The communication of Christ with Nicodemus. Ev. doctrine and Baptisme of John, and what witness he beareth of Christ.

Nicodemus. Ther was a man of the pharises named Nicodemus a ruler amonge the Jewes. The same came to Jesus by nyghte and sayed unto hym: Rabbi, we knowe that thou arte a teacher whych art come from god. For no man could do such myracles as thou doest, excepte God were wth hym. Jesus answered, and sayed to hym: verely, verely, I saye unto the, except a manne be borne (a) a newe, he cannot se the kyngdom of God. Nicodemus sayed unto hym: howe can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter into hys mothers wombe and be borne agayne? Jesus answered, verely verely I saye unto the: excepte that a man be borne of water and of spyrte, he can not enter into the kyngdom of God. That whych is borne of the flesh is fleshy that whych is borne of the spyrte, is spyrte. Marveile not that I sayd to the pe must be borne a newe. The wynd bloweth where it listeth: & thou hearest the solid thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth: So is every man that is borne of the spyrte.

W And Nicodemus answered and sayed unto hym, how can these thynges be? Jesus answered and sayd unto him: art thou a master in Israel, and knowest not these thynges? Verely, verely, I saye unto the: we speake that we knowe, and testify that we have sene, and ye receyve not oure witness. If when I tell you earthy thynges, ye beleue not: howe shoulde ye beleue if I shal tel you of heauenly thynges?

And no man (b) ascendeth up to heaven but he that came doune from heaven, that is to say, the son of man which is in heave.

Rom. xli. c. Serpente. I sayeth. i. Jo. iii. a And as Moyses lyfte up the serpent in the wyldernes, even so must the son of man be lyft up, that none that beleueth in hym perissh, but have eternal life.

E For God so loveth the (c) world, that he hath geuen hys onely son: that none that beleue in hym, shoulde perishe: but shoulde have everlastyng lyfe. For God sente not hys sonne into the world, to condemne the world: but so the world through hym might be saved. He that beleueth on him, shal not be condemned. But he that beleueth not is condemned already, because he beleueth not in the name of the onely sonne of God. And this is the condemnation that lyght is come into the world, and the men loved darckenes more then lyght, because they dedes were evyl. For every man that evyl doeth, hateth the lyghte: neither cometh to the lyght, lest his dedes shoulde be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the lyghte that hys dedes myghte be knowen howe that they are wrought in god. &

D After these thynges came Jesus and hys Disciples into the Jewes lande, and ther he haunted wth them and baptised. And John also baptised in Enon besydes Salim, because ther was much water ther and they came & were baptised. For John was not yet cast into prison.

+ And ther arose a question between Johns Disciples and the Jewes, aboute purifyinge. And they came unto John, and sayed unto hym. Rabbi, he that was wth thee beyonde Jordan, to whome thou bearest witness. Beholde the same baptiseth, and all men come to hym. John answered, and sayed: a man can receyve nothyng at all excepte it be geuen from heaven. Ye poure felues are witnesses howe that I sayd: I am not Christ, but am sente before hym. He that hath the byrde is the byrdgrome. But the frend of the byrdgrome: whych standeth by and heareth hym, reioyceth greatly of the byrdgromes voyce. This joye is fulfilled. He muste increase: and I muste decrease.

E He that cometh from on hys is above all. He that is of the earth, is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth. He that cometh from heaven, is above all, and what he hath sene and heard that he testifieth: but no man receyvethe his testimony. Howbeit he that hath receyved hys testimony Rom. iii. 12 (d) hath set to hys seale so God is true. For measure he whogod hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God. (e) For god geueth not him the spyrte by measure. The father loveth the son and hath geuen althynges unto hys hand. He that beleueth on the sonne, hath everlastyng lyfe: and he that beleueth not the son, shal not se life: but the wrath of god abydeth on him.

The Notes.

(a) This newe birth, is the mortification of the flesh preached by John Bapt. and the reuivynge of the spyrte whych is the renovation of synnes by Christ.

To be borne a - gayne.

(b) To ascende to heaven, is to have the perfect knowledge of heauenly thynges which no man hath, but the natural onely son of God hath it.

To ascend to heaven. the world.

(c) In this place, the word is lignitieth the chosen and them only that beleue.

To set to hys seale.

(d) That is too pante in hys belife as it were wth a seale.

God ge-

(e) Howe the spyrte or graces of the spyrte are geuen by measure, reade Ro. iii. and. i. 20. xii.

The.iii. Chapter.

The longye communication of Christ with the woman of Samaria by the well of Syde. Howe he healed the rulers son.

As sone as the Lorde had knowledge howe the pharises had heard that Jesus made and Baptised mo disciples then John (though he that Jesus hym selfe Baptised not, but his Disciples) he lefte Jewrye, and departed agayne into Galile. And it was soo that he muste nedes goo thorowe Samaria.

Then came he to a cite of Samaria called

Sichem. Sij

Gen. 28. 11. Suchar, bespore the possesson that Jacob gaue to his sonne Joseph And there was Jacobs well. Jesus then wetied in his ioyner, saie thus on the well.

The woman of Samaria. And it was about (a) the sytte hour: and there came a woman of Samaria to draw water. And Jesus saied vnto hyr: geue me dryncke. For his disciples wer gone away vnto the towne to buy meate. Then saied the woman of Samaria vnto hym: how is it, that thou beynge a Jewe, askest dryncke of me, which am a Samaritan: for the Jewes medle not wpth the Samaritans. Jesus answered & saide vnto hyr: if thou knewest the gyfte of God, and who it is that saith to the, geue me dryncke, thou wouldest haue asked of hym, and he woulde haue geue the water of lyfe. The womanne saide to hym: Spyt thou hast nothyng to drawe with, and the well is deepe, from whence then haste thou that water of lyfe? Art thou greater then our father Jacob, whych gaue vs this well, and he hymselfe drancke therof, & his chyldren, and his catel?

Jesus answered and saied vnto hyr: whosoever dryncketh of this water, shall thyrst agayne. But whosoever shall drynke of the water that I shall geue him, shall neuer be moze a thyrst: but the water that I shall geue hi, shall be in him a well of water, springing vp into euertlasting lyfe. The woman saide vnto him: Sir, geue me of that water, that I thyrst not, neythet come hither to draw. Jesus saide vnto hyr: Go and call thy husbnde, and come hither. The woman answered and saide to hym: I haue no husband. Jesus saied to hyr: Thou hast well saied, I haue no husbnde. For thou hast had fyue husbndes, and he whiche thou now hast, is not thy husbnd. That saidest thou truly.

Deut. 10. 17.
1. 10. 17. The woman saide vnto him: Sir, I perceiue that thou art a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and ye saie that in Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worshyppe. Jesus saide vnto hyr: womanne beleue me, the houre cometh, when ye shall neythet in this mountaine, nor yet at Ierusalem worshyppe the father. Ye worshyppe, ye wote not what: we knowe what we worshyp: For saluacion cometh of the Jewes. But the houre cometh, and now is, when the true worshypers shall worshyp the father in spirite and in truth. For verely such the father requyret to worship him. God is a spirite, and they that worshyp him, muste worship him in spirite and truth.

How and whet god
wilbe worshipped. The woman saied vnto him: I wote well Messias shall come, whych is called Christ. When he is come, he will tell vs all thynges. Jesus saied vnto hyr: I that speake vnto the, am he: And euen at that poynte, came his disciples, and metuepled that he talked wpth the woman. Yet no man saide vnto hym: what meanest thou, or what talkest thou wpth hyr? The woman then left hyr waterpot, and wente hyr way into the ctye, and saied to the men. Come se a man whychetolde me all thynges that euer I dyd. Is not he Christ? Then they went out of the ctye, and came vnto him.

And in the meane whyle his disciples prayed hym, saying: Master, rate. He saied vnto them: I haue meate to eate, that ye know not of. Then saied the disciples betwene themselves: hath anye man brought hym meate? Jesus saied to them: my meate is, to do the wyl of him that sent me. And to spynge his workes. Saye not ye: there are yet four monethes, and then cometh haruest: Behold I saye vnto you, lifte vp your eyes, and looke on the reppens: for they are whyte already vnto haruest. And he that regeth receiuet reward, and gathereth frut vnto lyfe eternal: that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth might reioyce together. And here is the saying true, that one soweth, and another reapeth. I sent you to reape that whereon ye bestowed no labour. Whether men laboured, and ye are entered into their laboures. Ganpe of the Samaritanes of that ctye beleued on hym for the sayinge of the woman, whych testified: he told me all thynges that euer I dyd. Then when the Samaritanes were come vnto hym, they besought him that he would tary with them. And he abode there two dayes. And manye mo beleued, because of his owne wordes, and saied vnto the woman: Nowe we beleue, not because of thy sayinge: For wee haue heard hym our selues, and know that this is euen in dede Christe the Sauour of the world.

After two daies he departed thence, and went awaye into Galyle. And Jesus hym selfe testified, that a prophet hath no honoure in his owne countrey. Then asone as he was come into Galyle, the Galileans receyued him, whiche hadde sene all thynges that he dyd at Ierusalem at the feast. For they wente also vnto the feaste daie. And Jesus came agayne into Cana of Galyle, wher he turned water into wine.

And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum. Asone as the same hearde that Jesus was come out of Iurpe into Galyle, he wente vnto him, and besought him, that he would descend and heale his sonne: For he was euen ready to dye. Then saied Jesus vnto him: except ye see signes and woundres, ye cannot beleue. The ruler saide vnto hym: Sir come awaye, or euer my child dye. Jesus saide vnto him: Go thy waye, thy son lyueth. And the man beleued the wordes that Jesus had spoken vnto hym, & went his waye. And anon as he wente on his waye, his seruantes mete hym and tolde him, sayinge: thy chylde lyueth. The enquirer of the houre when he began to amend, & they saide vnto him: yester daie the seuenthy houre the feuer left hym. And the father mat. xiii. 5.

ed. 1. 1. 1. 1.
luke. xii. 1.

Ruler.

father knew that it was the same houre in which Iesus sayd vnto hym: Thy sonne li- ueth. And he beleued & all hys housholde. & This is agayne the seconde myracle, that Iesus dyd after he was come out of Iurpe into Galyle.

The Notes.

The syete houre.

(a) The Jewes reckened the houres of thery dayes from the sunne rysyng to the sunne set- tyng, so the syete houre was syete houres after the sunne rysyng, wherby at that tyme of the pere was about noue.

I haue meat to eat

(b) This meate is, to do the wyll of hys father, and the chiefe thyng of hys fathers wyll is, to preache the Gospell to all the worlde, wherby the thyng was euen now at hand to be done, as wher come is rypp, men must sal to heere.

The .v. Chapter.

He healeth the man that was sycke xxxviij. peeres. The Jewes accuse hym, he answereth for hym selfe, and reproveth them.

After that there was a feaste of the Jewes, and Iesus went vnto Hieru- salem. And ther is at Hierusalem by the slaughterhouse, a poole called in the Ebze tongue, (b) Bethesda, haupng .v. por- ches, in which lay a great multitude of sick folk, of blynd, halt, and withered, waiting for the mowng of the water. For an angel went downe at a certayne season into the poole and troubled the water. Whosoever then firste after the styryng of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoe- uer disease he had. And a certayn man was there whych had ben diseased. xxxviij. pe- res. When Iesus sawe hym lye, and knew that he now long tyme had bene diseased, he sayd vnto hym: Wilt thou bee made whole? The sicke man answered him: Sir, I haue no man wher the water is troubled, to put me into the poole. But in the meane tyme whyle I am aboute to come, another steppeth doune before me.

Gen. xliii. c. Deu. xvi. c.

The man that laye xxxviij. yere by the poole is healed.

And Iesus saied vnto hym: ryse, take vp thy bed, and walke. And immediatlye the man was made whole, and toke vp his bed and went. And the same day was the Sab- both day. The Jewes therfore sayd to him that was made whole, it is the Sabbath daye, it is not lawfull for the to carpe thy bed. He answered them: he that made me whole, sayd to me take vp thy bed, & get the hence. Then axed they hym, what man is that whych sayd vnto the, take vp thy bedde and walke? And he that was healed, wist not who it was. For Iesus had gotten hymselfe away, because þer was preace of people in the place.

The Sa- both is broken. Iere. xlii. c.

And after that, Iesus founde him in the temple, and said vnto hym: behold thou art made whole, synne no more, lest a worse thyng happen vnto the. The man departed and tolde the Jewes that it was Iesus, whych had made him whole. &

And therfore the Jewes did persecute Je- sus, and soughte the meanes to slea him, because he had done these thynges on the Saboth day. And Iesus answered them: (c) my father worketh hitherto & I worke. Therfore the Jewes sought the more to kil hym, not only because he hath broken the Sabbath, but sayed also that God was hys father, and made himselfe equal with God.

Then answered Iesus and sayed vnto them: verely verely, I say vnto you: the son can do nothyng of hymselfe, but that he se- eth the father do. For whatsoeuer he doth, that doth the sonne also. For the father lo- ueth the sonne, and sheweth him all thyng- ges, whatsoeuer he hymselfe doth. And he wyl shew him greater workes then these, because he should manwape. For I knowe as the father rapseth vp the deade, and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quic- keneth whom he will. Neither iudgeth the father anye man: but hath committed all iudgement vnto the sonne, because that al men should honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne, the same honoureth not the fa- ther, whych hath sent hym. Verely verely, I saye to you, he that heareth my wordes, and beleueth on hym that sent me, hath e- uerlasting life, and shal not come into dam- nacpon: but is escaped fro death vnto life.

Christe is iudge o- uer all.

Farth.

Verely verely, I say vnto you: the tyme shal come and now is, when (d) the deade shal heare the voice of the sonne of God. And they þ heare shal lyue. For as the fa- ther hath lyfe in hymselfe, so I likewise hath he geuen to the sonne to haue lyfe in hym selfe, & hath geue him power also to iudge, in that he is the sonne of man. Maruaple not at this, the houre shal come, in the whiche (e) all that are in the graues, shal heare hys voyce, and shal come forth: they that haue done good, vnto the resurreccion of lyfe, and they that haue done euil, vnto the resurreccion of damnacpon. & I can of myne owne selfe do nothing at all. As I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iuste, because I seeke not myne own will, but the wyll of the father whych hath sent me. If I beate wtnes of my selfe, my wtnes is not true. Ther is another that beareth wit- nes of me, and I am sure that the wtnes whych he beareth of me, is true.

D Wal. xvi. c

Resurrec- cion.

He that seeketh his owne wil, iudgeth not truely

Ye sent vnto John, and he bare wtnes vnto the truth. But I receyue not the (f) re- cord of men. Neuerthelesse, these thynges I say that ye might be safe. He was a bur- nyng and a shynyng lyght, and ye woulde for a season haue reioysed in his lyght: But I haue greater wtnes then the wtnes of John. For the workes whych the father hath geuen me to finysh, the same workes whych I do, beare wtnes of me, that the father sente me. And the father hymselfe which hath sent me, beareth wtnes of me. Ye haue not hearde his voice at any tyme, nor ye haue sene his shape: therfore his wo- des haue ye not abydyng in you. For wher he hath sent: hym ye beleue not.

Mat. iii. b and. iiii. c

Deu. iiii. b

Seatche the scriptures, for in them ye shal thinke

The Gospell

of S. John.

thynke ye haue eternall life: and they are they whiche testifie of me. And yet wyl ye not come to me that ye myghte haue lyfe. I receiue not prayse of men. But I know you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you. I am come in my fathers name: and ye receiue me not. If another shall come in his own name, him wyl ye receiue. How can ye beleue which receiue* honour one of another, and seke not the honour that cometh of God only?

Is that se keth honor cannot beleue.
Apostles.

Do not thynke that I wyl accuse you to my father. There is one that accuseth you, euen Apostles in whom ye trust. For had ye beleued Apostles, ye woulde haue beleued me, for he wrote of me. But sayng ye beleue not his writinge, how shoulde ye beleue my wordes? +

The Notes.

Slaughter house.
Bethsaida

(a) The gecke hath shephouse. A place where they killed beastes that were offered.
(b) Some write, Berisada. It is almost to say as a spirit or hospitall, wherein poore soules haue they benigne, wher place was by a pole, where the shepe that were offered in the temple were kept. And the shepe remained there looking for the mowunge of the water, &c.

My father worketh
ec.

(c) This is my father ready to do good vnto all men euen on the Sabbath day, and no more do I.

The deade
that heate

(d) Here he speaketh of the resurrection and resurrection whereby the wicked aryseth from hys wychednes, & wherby the synner is brought from death of hys synnes to the life of righte-ousnes, and especially of the calling of the Gentiles, whiche was done after the commynge of the holy gost. For the Gentiles were all countyd as deade men.

All that are in graues.

(e) Here meaneth he of the general resurrection whiche shal be in the last day.

The vi. Chapter.

Jesus feebly true thousand men, departeth away that they shoulde not make hym king, and repproueth the schelpe hearers of hys wordes. The carnall are offended at hym.

Ma. xxi. b
Mar. vi. c
Luk. ix. b

After these thynges, Jesus went hys waye ouer the sea of Galde nye to a Cytie called Tiberias. And a greate multitude folowed hym, because they hadde sene hys miracles whiche he did on them that were dysseased. And Jesus went vp into a mot- tapne, & there he sate wth hys Disciples. And Easter, a feaste of the Jewes was nye. +

Then Jesus lyst vp hys eyes, and sawe a greate companie come vnto hym, and sa- ped vnto Phillip: whence shal we by bread that these myghte eate? & hys he sayed to pphre hym, for he hym selfe knewe what he woulde do.

Is
spue lo-
res and u.
spues.

Phillip answered him: two hundred pe- ny worthe of breade are not sufficiente for thepm, that euery man haue a litle. Then sayed vnto hym one of hys Disciples, An- drew Simon Peters brother. There is a lad here, whiche hath fyue barley loues and two fyshes: but what is that among so ma- ny? And Jesus sayd: make the people set downe. Ther was much grasse in the place

And the men sat downe, in number about fyue thousande. And Jesus toke the bread and gaue thanks, and gaue the disciples, and hys Disciples to thepm that were set doune. And likewise of the fyshes as much as they woulde.

When they had eaten ynough, he sayed vnto hys Disciples: gather vp the broken meate that remapneth, that nothyng be lost: And they gathered it together, and fil- led twelue baskettes wth broken meate of the fyue barley loues and ii. fyshes: whiche broken meate remapned vnto the that hadde eaten. Then the men when they hadde sene the miracle that Jesus did, sayd, this is of a truth the prophet that should come into the worlde. +

Luk. ix. b
Mat. xii. f
Mar. vi. c

When Jesus percepued that they wold come and take hym vp to make hym king, he departed agayne into a mot tapne hym selfe alone. And when euen was come, hys Disciples went vnto the sea, and entred in to a shyp, and went ouer the sea vnto Ca- pernaum. And anon it was darke, and Je- sus was not come to thepm. And the sea a- rose wth a great wynde that blew. And when they had rowen aboute a iij. or iij. furlonges, they sawe Jesus walke on the sea, and drawe nye vnto the shyp, and they were afraid. And he sayd to the: It is I, be not a fraide. Then woulde they haue re- ceived hym into the shyppe, and the shyppe was by a by at the land whither they wnt.

The daye folowynge, the people whiche rode on the other syde of the sea, sawe that there was non other shyp there, saue that one wherinto hys Disciples were entred, and that Jesus went not in wth hys dis- ciples into the shyp. But that his Disciples were gon awaye alone. Howbeit they cam ether shyppes from Tiberias nye vnto the place where they eate bread when the lord had blessed. Then when the people sawe that Jesus was not there, neyther hys Dis- ciples, they also toke the shyppe and came to Capernaum sekynge for Jesus: And when they hadde founde hym on the other syde of the sea, they sayed vnto hym: Rabbi, when camest thou hither? Jesus answered them and sayd: verely verely I say vnto you, ye seke me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye eate of the lo- ues, and were fylled. Labour not for the meat whiche perissheth but for the meat that endureth vnto euertlasting life which meat the son of man shal geue vnto you. For hym hath god the father sealed.

Then sayd they vnto him: what shal we do that we might worke the workes of God? Je- sus answered & said vnto them: This is the worke of God, that ye beleue on hym whiche hath sent. They sayd vnto him: what signe shewest thou that we may see beleue the? What doest thou worke? Our fathers did eate manna in the desert as it is written. He gaue them bread from heauen to eate. Jesus say- ed vnto them: verely verely I say vnto you

Exod. xvi. b
Psa. lxxviii. b
1. Cor. x. 6

Apostles

Moses gaue you not bread fro heauē, but my father geueth you þ true bread fro heauen. For þ (b) bread of God is he, which cometh doune from heauen, and geueth lyfe vnto the worlde.

Er. xlii. c. When saied they vnto him: Lord, euer more giue vs this breade. And Iesus saied vnto them: I am the bread of lyfe. He that cometh to me, shall not hunger: & he that beleueth on me, shall neuer thurst. &

But I saie vnto you: that ye haue sene me, and ye beleue not. All that the father geueth me shall come to me, and him that cometh to me, I cast not away. For I came down from heauen, not to do mine owne wpll, but his wpll whiche hath sente me. And this is the fathers wil, whiche hath sente me, that of all whiche he hath geuen me, I shoulde lose nothing: but shuld raise it vp agayne at the last day. And this is the wil of him that sent me: that euery manne whiche seeth the son and beleueth on hym, haue euclastynge lyfe. And I wil raise him vp at the last day. The Jewes then murmured at him, because he saied: I am þ breade which is come doune fro heauen. And they saied: Is not this Iesus the sonne of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How is it then that he sayth: I come down from heauen? Iesus answered and saied vnto them: Murmure not amonge poure felues.

Mat. xlii. g

For no man can come to me: excepte the father which hath sent me, drawe him. And I will raise him vp at the last day. It is written in the prophetes: that they shall be all taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard and hath learned of the father, cometh to me. Not that anye man hath sene the father, saue he whiche is of God, the same hath sene the father.

John. xxi.

Verely, verely I saie vnto you, he that beleueth on me, hath euclastynge lyfe. I am that bread of lyfe. Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness & are dead. This is that bread which cometh from heauē, that he whiche eateth of it shoulde also not dye. I am that lyuing bread whiche came down from heauen. If any man eat of this bread, he shall lyue for euer. And the breade that I will geue is my fleshe, whiche I will geue for the lyfe of the worlde. And þ Jewes stroue among themselves sayng: How can this fellow geue vs his flesh to eat? The Iesus saied to them. Verely, verely I saie vnto you: excepte ye eate the fleshe of the sonne of man, and drinke his bloud, ye shall not haue lyfe in you. Whoso euer eateth my fleshe, and drunketh my bloud, hath eternall lyfe: and I will raise hym vp at the last daye.

John. xvi. a.

For my fleshe is meate in dede, and my bloud is drinke in dede. He that eateth my fleshe and drunketh my bloud, dwelleth in me, and I in him. As the liuing father hath sent me, euen so lyue I by my father, and he that eateth me, shall lyue by me. This is the bread which came from heauen, not as poure fathers haue eaten Manna and are dead. He that eateth of this breade, shall lyue euer. &

These thynges sayd he in the synagoge as he taught in Capernaum. Many therefore of his discipples, when they had heard this, said: this is an hard saying: who can abyde the hearinge of it? Iesus knewe in him selfe, that his discipples murmured at it, and saied vnto them: Doeth this offende you? What and if ye shall see the sonne of man ascende vp wher he was before? It is the spyte that quickeneth, the fleshe profiteth nothing. The wordes that I speake vnto you, are spyte and life. But there are some of you that beleue not. For Iesus knewe from the beginninge, whiche they were that beleued not, and who shoulde betraye him. And he saied: therfore saied I vnto you, that no man cometh vnto me, except it were geuen vnto hym of my father.

From that tyme many of his discipples wente backe, and walked no more wpth him. When saide Iesus to the twelue: wpll ye also go away? Then Simon peter answered: Maister to whō shall we go? Thou hast the wordes of eternal lyfe, and we beleue, and knowe thou art Christ the sonne of the lyuing God. Iesus answered the: Haue not I chosen you twelue, and yet one of you is the denyer? He spake it of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon. For he it was that shoulde betraye him, and was one of the twelue. &

Mat. xvi. a

The Notes.

- (a) That is, he hath put his marke of the holy ghost on hym, whiche is lyfely wpth mynack. & what he is. Scaled.
- (b) The word of the Gospell, whiche is Christ. The bread is the true and lyuely breade of heauen, that geueth lyfe to the whole worlde.
- (c) That is, if my wordes do offend you, what doeth this wpll then the performace of them do, when offende. the sonne of man shall do in dede that he hath nowe spoken.

The. vii. Chapter.

Iesus cometh to Jerusalem at the feast, teacheth the Jewes and reproveth the. Ther are dyuers opynions of him among the people. The Pharises rebuke the officers, because they haue not taken him, and chide Pilatodemas for takinge his part.

After that, Iesus wēt about into Galyle, and would not go about in Jewry: for the Jewes soughte to kyll hym. The Jewes tabernacle feast was at hand. His (a) brethren therefore saied vnto him: get thee hence & go into Jewrye that thy discipples maye see thy workes that thou doest. For there is no man that doeth anye thyng secretly, and he him selfe seeketh to be knowne openly. If thou do such thynges shewe thy selfe to the worlde. For as yet his brethren beleued not in hym.

A

John. xxi. f

Then Iesus saide vnto them: My time is not yet come, poure time is alway ready.

Whhh. iii. The

The Gospell

of S. John.

The world cannot hate you, But me it hateth: because I testify of it, that the workers of it are evil. So ye be vnto this feast. I will not go vnto this feast, for my tyme is not yet full come. These wordes he said vnto them, and abode still in Galilee. But as soon as his brethren were gone by, he went also by vnto the feast: not openly, but as it were privately.

Then sought him the Jewes at the feast and sayde: where is he? And much murmuring was there of him amonge the people. Some said: He is good. Other said nay, but he deceyueth the people. Now be it, no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Jewes.

B De that to uerth the wil of god to kepe hys lawe: the same vnderstandeth the doctrine. Why go ye aboute to kyll me? The people answered and sayde: thou hast the deuyll: who goeth aboute to kyll the? Jesus answered & sayde to the: I haue done one worke, and ye all maruaile. Moyses therfore gaue vnto you circumcision: not because it is of Moyses, but of the fathers. And yet ye on the Sabbath daye, circumsise a man. If a man on the Sabbath daye receiue circumcision without breaking of the law of Moyses: disdaine ye at me because I haue made a manne euery whit whole on the Sabbath day? Iudge not after the vtter apperance: but iudge rightuouse iudgement. The said some of them of Ierusalem: is not this he whom they go aboute to kyll? Beholde he speaketh boldly, and they saye nothing to him. Do the rulers know in dede that this is verie Christus? Nowbeit, we knowe this man whence he is: but when Christus cometh, no man shall know whence he is. The cryed Jesus in the temple as he taughte, saying: ye know me, and whence I am, ye knowe. And yet I am not come of my self, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not. I knowe him: for I am of him, and he hath sente me. When they soughte to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his tyme was not yet come. Manye of the people beleued on him, and sayde: when Christus cometh, wil he do mo miracles then this man hath done?

The Pharises heard that the people murmured such thynges about him. Wherefore the Pharises and hie pnyces sente menyngers forthe to take him. When sayde Jesus vnto them: Yet am I a litle whyle with you, and then go I vnto hym that sent me. Ye shall seeke me, and shall not fynd me: and wher I am, thither can ye not come. Then said the Jewes amonge them selues: whither wyl he go, that we may not fynd him? Wyl he go amonge the gentyls, whiche are scattered al abrode, and teach the gentile? What maner saying is this that he sayde: ye shall seeke me: and wher I am, thither can ye not come?

In the laste daye, that greates daye of the feast, Jesus stode and cryed, saying: If any man thyrst, let him come vnto me & drinke. He that beleueth on me, as saith the scripture, out of his bellye shall flowe ryuers of water of lyfe. This spake he of the spyrte whiche they that beleued on hym, should receiue. For the holy ghoost was not yet ghyfted there, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.

Manye of the people, when they hearde that sayinge, sayd: of a truth this is a pphete: other sayd, this is Christus, some sayd: what Christus come out of Galilee? Sayth not the scripture that Christus shall come of the seide of Dauid, & out of the towne of Bethleem where Dauid was? So was there dyscencion amonge the people about hym. And some of them would haue taken hym: but no man layed handes on hym.

Then came the ministers to the hie pnyces and pharises. And they sayd vnto the, whype haue ye not broughte hym? The seruantes answered: neuer man spake as this man doth. When answered them the pharises: are ye also deceyued? Doeth any of the rulers of the pharises beleue on him? But the commune people whiche knowe not the lawe, are cursed. Nicodemus said vnto the (he that came to Jesus by night and was one of them) Doth our law iudge any man, before it heare him, and knowe what he hath done? They answered and sayde vnto him: arte thou also of Galilee? Search and loke, for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet. And euery man went vnto his owne house.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in Genesis xxi. b

(b) He that loveth the wyll of God to kepe hys lawe, the same vnderstandeth that doctrine.

(c) Luke in Mathe. v. c

The xii. Chapter.

A woman is taken in aduoutye. Christ dysputeth her. The freedom of such as followe Christ, whos they accuse him to haue dysceypled wpythin hym, and go about to stone hym.

AND Jesus went vnto mounte Oliuet, and earlye in the mornynge came agayne into the temple, and all the people came vnto hym, and he saie downe and taught them: And the Scribes & pharises brought vnto him a woman taken in aduoutye: and set hyr in the myddes, and sayde vnto hym: Maister, this womanne was taken in aduoutye even as the dede was a doynge. Moyses in the lawe comma Freezen. To vnderstand. To kepe the lawe.

Leu. xx. b. ded vs that such shoulde be stoned. What sapest thou thereto? And thys they sayed to tēpte hym that they myghte haue wherof to accuse hym. Iesus stouped downe & wryth hys finger wrote one the grounde. And whyle they continued arryng hym, he lyfte hym selfe vp and sayed vnto them. let hym that is amonge you without syn cast the tytle stone at hym. And agayne he stouped downe and wrote on the ground. And as sone as they hearde that they wente out one by one, the eldest spake. And Iesu was lefte alone, and the woman standynge in the middes. When Iesus had lyfte vp hym selfe agayne, and sawe no man but the woman, he sayde to hir. Woman wher are those thyng accusers? Hath no man condemned the? She sayde, no manne Lorde. And Iesus said. I rather doo I condemne the no and a synne no more.

I. Iohn. i. b. Then spake Iesus agayne vnto the sayynge. I am the lychte of the world. He that foloweth me shal not walke in darknes: but shal haue the lycht of lyfe. The Pharisees sayd vnto hym. thou bearest recorde of thy selfe, thy recorde is not true. Iesus answered and sayed vnto them: though I beare recorde of my selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: But ye cannot tell whence I came and whither I go. Ye iudge after the flesh I iudge no manne. Though I iudge, yet is my iudgemente true. For I am not alone, but I and the father that set me. It is also wryten in poure lawe, that the testimonye of two men is true: I am one that beare wptnes of my selfe, and the father that sente me bereth wptnes of me.

Deu. xix. b. Then sayde they vnto hym: where is thy father? Iesus answered: ye neyther know me nor yet my father. If ye had knowen me, ye shoulde haue knowen my father also. These wordes spake Iesus in the temple, as he taughte in the temple, and no man layed hands on him: for his tyme was not yet come.

Then sayed Iesus agayne vnto them. I go my waye, and ye shall seeke me, and shall dye in poure synnes. Whither I goo thither can ye not come. Then sayed the Jewes: wyl he kyll hym selfe, because he sayeth whether I goo thither can ye not come? And he sayed to them: ye are from beneath. I am from above. Ye are of thys world I am not of thys world: I sayde therfore vnto you, that ye shall dye in poure synnes. For excepte ye beleue that I am he, ye shal dye in poure synnes. Then sayed they vnto hym: who art thou?

Thys is And Iesus sayed vnto them: Euen the beere same thinge that I saye vnto you. I haue manye thinges to saie, and to iudge of you: but he that sente me, is true. And I speake in the world, those thinges which I haue hearde of him. Howebeit they vnderstod not that he spake of his father.

Then sayed Iesus vnto them: when ye haue lyft vp on hie the sonne of man then shall ye knowe that I am he, and do no thyng of my selfe: but as my father hath taughte me, euen so I speake: and he that sente me, is wryth me. The father hath not lefte me alone, for I doo alwayes those thynges that please hym. As he spake these wordes, manye beleued on him.

Then sayed Iesus to those Jewes which beleued on hym: If ye continue in my wordes, then are ye my verpe Disciples, and shall knowe the truth, and the truth shall make you free. They answered hym: We be Abrahams seede, and were neuer bounde to anye man. wherfore sayest thou the, ye shal be made free? Iesus answered the: verely, verely I saye vnto you, that who soeuer committeth syn, is the seruaunte of synne. And the seruaunte abydeyth not in the house for ever. But the sone abydeyth ever. If the sonne therefore shall make you free then are ye free in dede. I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seke meanes to kyll me because my saynges haue no place in you. I speake that I haue seene wryth my father: and ye do that whych ye haue seene wryth your father.

They answered and sayed vnto hym: Abraham is oure father. Iesus sayde vnto them: if ye were Abrahams chyldren, ye wolde do the dedes of Abraham. But now ye go aboute to kyll me, a man that haue tolde you the truth, whiche I haue herde of God, thys dyd not Abraham. Ye do the dedes of your father. Then sayed they to hym: we were not borne of fornicacion.

We haue one father, whiche is God. Iesus sayed vnto them: if God were your father, then woulde ye loue me. For I proceeded forth & came from God. Neyther came I of my selfe, but he sente me. Why do ye not know my speche? Euen because ye cannot abyde the hearing of my wordes.

Ye are of your father the deuyll, and the lustes of your father ye wyl do. He was a murderet fro the begynnyng, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in hym. When he speaketh a ly, then speaketh he of hys owne. For he is a lyer, and a father thereof. And because I tell you the truth, therfore ye beleue me not.

Whych of you can rebuke me of synne? if I saye the truth, wherfore doo not ye beleue me? He that is of God heareth gods wordes. Ye therfore hearethem not, because ye are not of God. Then answered the Jewes and sayed vnto hym: Say we not wel that thou arte a Samaritan, and haste the deuyll? Iesus answered: I haue not the deuyll: but I honoure my father, and ye haue dishonored me: I seeke not myne owne prayse, but there is one that seeketh and iudgeth.

Verely verely I saye vnto you, if a man kepe my saynges, he shall neuer see death. Then sayed the Jewes too hym. Howe knowe we that thou hast the deuyll. Abrahams

Com. vi. b 11. Pet. ii. a.

Abraham;

f

f

of S. John.

the Saboth daie when Iesus made þe clay and opened his eyes. Then againe the Isha both daie riles also aied him how he hadde receiued is broken. his sight. He said vnto them: He put clay vpon my eyes, and I washed and do see.
Then said some of the Ishaufes, this man is not of God, because he kepeth not the Saboth daie. Other said: how can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? And ther was strife among them. Then spake they vnto the blinde againe: What saiest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes?
And he said: He is a prophet. But þe Jew-es did not beleue of the fellowe, how that he was blinde and receiued his sight, vntill they had called the father and mother of him that receiued his sight. And they axed them sayinge: Is this your sonne, who ye say was borne blinde? How doth he now se then? His father and mother answered them and said: We wote well, that this is our son, and that he was borne blinde, but by what meanes he now seeth, that can we not tell, or who had opened his eyes, can we not tell. He is old enough, are him let him answer for him selfe. Suche words spake his father and mother, because they feared the Jewes. For the Jewes had conspired alredy, that if any man did cōfesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicat out of the synagoge, therefore said þe father and mother: he is old enough, are him.

Then againe called they the man þ was blind, & sayd vnto him: Beue god þ praise, we know that this man is a sinner. He answered & sayed: Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tel: one thing I am sure of, þ I was blynd, and nowe I see. Then sayed they to hym againe: What dyd he to the?
How opened he thine eyes? He answered thē: I tolde you per whyle, and ye dyd not heare. Wherefore wold ye heare it agayne? wyl ye also be hys disciples? Then tated they hym, and said: Thou art hys dyscypple, we be Moyses disciples. Wee are sure that God spake with Moyses, thys felowe wee know not from whence he is.

The man answered & said vnto the: this is a marvelous thyng, that ye wote not whence he is, seynge he hath opened myne eyes. For we be sure that (a) God heareth not synners. But if any man be a worshippur of God, & do his will, hym heareth he. Sence the world began was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blynd. If this man were not of God, he could haue done nothyng: They answered and sayed vnto hym: thou arte altogether borne in synne, and dost thou teache vs? And they cast hym oute.

Jesus heard that they had excommunicate hym, & as one as he had found hym, he said vnto hym: dost thou beleue on the son of God? He answered and said: Who is it Lord, that I myght beleue on hym? And Jesus sayd vnto hym: thou hast seene hym, and he it is that talketh wpyth the. And he sayd:

2. The Gospel preacheth not so remission of synnes vnto vs, that we should contynue in synne; but that we should change our life, and walke in a new lyfe of the spirite, neuer purposing to synne any more.

Age dates. (b) All the holyc fathers that were before the comynge of Chryste, from the begynnege of the world, hadde the same faith in Christ that we have, wherby be called Christen.

the ix. Chapter.

¶ Thust maketh the man to be that was boyne blend.

AND as Iesus passed by, he sawe a man whych was blynd fro his byrth. And his disciples aied him: Maister who dyd synne: this man or his father and mother, that he was borne blind? Iesus answered: Neither hath this man synned nor yet his father & mother: but that the woorkes of God shoulde be shewed on hym. I must worcke the woorkes of hym that sent me, whyle it is daye. The (a) nyghte cometh, when no man can worcke. As longe as I am in the worlde, I am the lychte of the worlde.

And as soone as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and scrubbed the claye on the eyes of the blind, and saied vnto him. Boe washe thy in the pooles of Siloe, whiche by interpretacion, signifyeth sent: He went his way and washed, and came againe seping. The neygh-bours and they that had sene hym before, howe that he was a beggar, saied: is not this he that sate and begged? Some saied: this is he. Other saied: he is lyke hym.

But he himselfe sayed: I am euen he.
They sayed vnto him: Howe are thyne eyes opened then? He answered and sayd. The man that is called Iesus made clay, & anointed myne eyes, and sayed vnto me: Go to the pole Silo and washe. And I went and washed, and receyued my sight.
They sayd vnto him: wher is he? He sayed:
I can not tell.

Then brought they to the Pharisees, him that a litle before was blinde: for it was

The pool of Silo.

said: Lord I beleue, & worshipped hym. & Jesus sayed: I am come vnto iudgemente into this world, that they whiche see not, might see: & they whiche see, might be made blinde. And some of the pharisees whiche were with hym, hearde these wordes, and sayde vnto hym: are we then blinde? Jesus sayed vnto them: if ye were blinde, ye shuld haue no synne. But now ye say: we see, therfore your synne remaineth.

The Notes.

The myght (a) Thys myght is the tyme of ignorance, wher in the knowledge of Christ how he only iustifieth is lost. Then can no manne worke a good worke in the syght of God, how glorious be his workes appare.

God hear (b) That is, he hearith non that repent not, nor with no sin. are in mynde to leaue their synfulte.

The .x. Chapter.

Christ is the true Shepheerde, and the doze of shepe. Some saye Christ hath the deuill and is mad. Other saye that he speaketh not the wordes of one that hath the deuill, because he telleth the truth. The Jewes toke vp stones to cast at hym, & cald hym blasphemous, and go about to take hym.

Doze. Tho. vii. d A V + I reioyce verely I saye vnto you, he that entreteth not in by the doze into the shepefolde, but climeth vp some other waye, the same is a theefe and a robber. But that goeth in by the doze, is the shepheerde of the shepe: to hym the porter openeth, and the shepe heare his voyce, & he calleth his owne shepe by name, and leadeh them out. And whiche he hath sent forth his owne shepe, he goeth before them, and the shepe folowe hym, for they knowe his voyce. A straunger they wyl not folowe, but wyl fle from hym, for they know not the voyce of straungers. This similitude spake Jesus vnto them: But they understood not what thinges they were whiche he spake vnto them.

Christ is the doze. B Then Jesus said vnto them agayne: I reioyce verely, I saye vnto you: I am the doze of the shepe. All, euen as many as came before me, are theues & robbers: but the shepe dyd not hear them. I am the doze: by me, if any man enter in, he shal be safe: and shal go in and out, and find pasture. The thiefe cometh not but for to steale, kill and destryoe. I am come that they might haue lyfe, and haue it more aboundantly.

Shepe- herde. E. i. r. i. E. i. r. i. i. f. A + I am the good shepheerde. The good shepheerde gyueth his lyfe for the shepe: An hyred seruaunt, whiche is not the shepheerde, neyther the shepe are his owne. Seeth the wolfe comming, and leaueh the shepe, and fleth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the shepe. The hyred seruaunt fleth, because he is an hyred seruaunt, and careth not for the shepe. I am that good shepheerde, and know mine, and am known of myne. As my father knoweth me, eue so know I my father. And I gyue my lyfe for the shepe: and other shepe I haue which are not of this fold. Them also must I brynge, that they maye heare my voice, and that there maye be one flocke & one shepheerde.

Therfore doeth my father leue me, because I put my lyfe from me, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me, but I put it away of my selfe. I haue power to put it from me, and haue power to take it agayne. This commaundement haue I receyued of my father. And there was a dissencion agayne among the Jewes for these sayings, and many of them sayd: he hath the deuill, and is madde: whiche heare ye him? Other said: these are not the wordes of hym that hath the deuill. Can the deuill open the eyes of the blinde?

And it was at Hierusalem the feaste of the dedicacion of the temple, and it was winter, and Jesus walked in Solomons porch. Then came the Jewes roundabout him, and said vnto him: Howe longe doest thou make vs doubt? if thou be Christ, tell vs plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you and ye beleue not. The workes that I do in my fathers name, they be a witness of me. But ye beleue not, because ye are not of my shepe. As I sayed vnto you: my shepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they folowe me, and I geue vnto them eternall lyfe, and they shal neuer perishe, neither shall any manne plucke them oute of my hande. My father whiche gaue them me, is greater then al, and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hande. And I and my father are one.

Then the Jewes againe toke vp stones to stone him withall. Jesus answered them: many good workes haue I shewed you from my father: for whiche of them wil ye stone mee? The Jewes answered hym, saying: For thy good workes sake we stone the not, but for thy blasphemie, and because that thou beynge a man, makest thy selfe God. Jesus answered them: is it not written in your law: I saye, ye are a goddes. If he called them Godes, vnto whome the word of God was spokt, and the scripture can not be broken, say ye then to him whom the father hath sanctified, and sent into the world: thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the son of God? If I do not the workes of my father, beleue me not. But if I do: then though ye beleue not me yet beleue the workes, that ye may know and beleue, that the father is in me, and I in hym.

Agayne they went about to take him: but he escaped out of their handes, and wente away agayne beyond Iordā, into the place wher Jhon before had baptised, and there abode. And many resorted vnto him, & said: Jhon did no miracle, but all thinges that Jhon spake of this man, are true. And many beleued on him there.

The Notes.

(a) They are called Goddes, because they are the Images and do resemble God, that is, vpon the earth, they iudge betwix man and man, and ought ought by theyr vocacion to punish the offender, and defend the innocent.

The Gospell

The xi. Chapter.

¶ Chy. It rapeth Lazarus from death. The hye puestes and pharises gather a counsaill agaynst him, to gette hym out of the waye.

mat. xxi. 1. a

A Certayne man was syck, named Lazarus of Bethania the towne of Marye & hir sister Marthe. It was that Mary which annointed Iesus, with ointment, & wiped his fete with hir heer, whose brother Lazarus was sycke, and his sisters sent vnto him, sayinge: Lorde, beholde he whome thou louest, is sick. When Iesus heard that, he said: this infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the laud of God, that the sonne of God might be playsted by the reason of it. Iesus loued Marthe & hir sister, and Lazarus. Then after he hadde hearde that he was sycke, yet abode he two daies apill in the same place where he was.

¶ Then after that, said he to his discip-ples: Let vs go into Jewry agayn. His disciples sayd vnto hym: Maister, the Jewes lately sought meanes to stone the, & wilt thou go thither agayn? Iesus answered: are there not twelue houres in a daye: if a manne walke in the daye, he combleth not, because he seeth the lyghte of this world. But if a man walke in the night, he combleth, because there is no light in him.
¶ This said he: and after that, he said vnto them: oure frende Lazarus slepeth, but I go to wake him out of sleepe. Then sayed his disciples: Lorde if he slepe, he shal doo well ynough. Howbeit Iesus spake of his death, but they thought that he had spokē of the naturall slepe. Then said Iesus vnto them plainely: Lazarus is deade, and I am gladde for your sakes that I was not there, because ye maye beleue. Neuertheles let vs goo vnto him. Then said Thomas which is called Didimus, vnto the disciples: Let vs also goo, that we maye dye with him.

¶ Then wente Iesus and founde that he had lyen in his graue four dayes alreadye.
Bethanpe was nye vnto Ierusalem, about fyftene furlongs of: and many of the Jewes were come to Marthe and Marye to comfort them ouer theyr brother. Marthe asone as she heard that Iesus was coming, went and met him, but Marye late apill in the house.

anh. xiii. 1.

¶ Then sayd Marthe vnto Iesus: Lorde, if thou hadde bene here, my brother had not bene deade: but neuerthelesse I know that whatsoeuer thou askest of God, God wyl grue it the. Iesus said vnto hir: thy brother shall ryse againe. Marthe said vnto him: I know that he shall ryse againe in the resurreccion at the last daye. Iesus said vnto hir: I am (a) the resurreccion and the life.
He that beleueth on me, pea though he were deade, yet shall he lyue. And whosoever beleueth and beleueth on me, shall neuer dye.
Beleuest thou this? She sayed vnto hym:

of S. John.

¶ I beleue that thou art Christus the sonne of God, which should come into the world.

¶ And asone as she had so sayd, she wente hir waye and called Mary hir sister, secretly saying: The maister is come, and calleth for the. And she asone as she heard that, aroose quickely and came vnto him. Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place wher Marthe met him. The Jewes then whych were wpth her in the house and comforted hir, when they sawe Mary, that she rose vp halp, and wet out, folowed hir, sayinge: She goeth vnto the grauē, to wepe ther.

¶ Then when Marye was come wher Ie-sus was, and saw hym, she fel doune at his fete, sayinge vnto him: Lorde if thou haddest ben here, my brother had not ben deade.
When Iesus saw hir wepe, and the Jew-es also wepe which came with hir, he gro-ned in the spirit, and was troubled in hym selfe, and said: Wher haue ye layed hym?
¶ They sayed vnto him: Lorde come and se.
And Iesus wept. ¶ Then said the Jewes: Beholde, howe he loued hym. And some of them sayd: could not he whiche opened the eyes of the blynd, haue made also that this man should not haue dyed? Iesus agayne groined in himselfe, and came to the graue:
it was a caue and a stone layed on it.

John ix. 1. a

¶ And Iesus said: take ye away the stone.
¶ Marthe the sister of him that was deade, sayd vnto him: Lorde, by this tyme he synketh: for he hath ben deade these foure day-es. Iesus said vnto hir: Sayed I not vnto the, that if thou diddest beleue, thou shouldest see the glorie of God? ¶ Then they toke away the stone from the place where the dead was layd. And Iesus lyft vp his eyes and said: Father, I thanke the, because that thou hast hearde me. I wot that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by I said it, that they maye beleue that thou hast sent me.

¶ And when he thus had spoken, he cryed wpth a loud voice: Lazarus come forth.
And he that was deade, came forth, bounde hand and fote with graue bonds, and his face was bound wpth a naphin. Iesus said vnto them: leuse him, and let hym go. ¶ The manye of the Jewes whych came to Marye and had sene the thinges which Iesus did, beleued on hym. But some of them wente their wayes to the pharises, and told them what Iesus had done.

¶ Then gathered the hye puestes & pha-ryses a counsaill and sayed: What do we?
¶ This man doeth many myracles: if we let him scape thus, all men wyl beleue on him, and the Romaynes shall come and take away our countrey and the people. And one of them named Caphas, whych was the hye pnest that same yere, sayed vnto the:
ye perceyue nothynge at all, nor yet consider that it is expediente for vs, that one man dye for the people, and not that all the people

people perperhe. Thys spake he not of hym selfe, but beyng he wylde that same pere, he prophesied that Jesus shoulde dye for the people, and not for the people onely, but that he shoulde gather together in one the chyldren of God whych were scattered abrode. From that tyme forth they helde a Counsell together, for to put hym to death.

Jesus therfore walked no more openly amonge the Jewes, but wente hys waye thence vnto a countrey nyghe to b wylde-nes, into a certye called Ephraim and ther haunted wth hys Disciples. And the Jewes Easter was nye at hande, and manye wente out of the countrey vnto Jerusalem before the Ester, to purify the m selues. Then soughte they for Jesus, and spake amonge the selues as they rode in steple: What thynck ye, seing he cometh not to the feaste? The hys pnyes & pharises had geuen a commaundement that if any man knewe where he were, he shoulde shewe it, that they myght take hym.

The Notes.

Resurreccid and life (a) Chyriste calleth hym selfe the resurrection and lyfe, because he is the authoure of the resurrection and lyfe. As he sayeth: Those that be- lieue in me, wyl I rayse vp at the laste day into lyfe everlastinge, and those that are deade, shall lyue by me because they beleued in me.

The. xii. Chapter.

C Mary anoynteth Chyristes fete. Judas mur- mureth. Chyriste excludeth hym, and rydeth in- to Hierusalem.

mat. xvi. a. mar. xvi. a. Marce. I Den Jesus. vi. dayes before Easter, came to Bethanp wher Lazarus was whych was deade, and whome Jesus rased from death. Theret they made hym a Supper, and Martha serued: but Laza- rus was one of the m that sate at the ta- ble wth hym. Then toke Mary a ponde of opntmente called Nardus perfecte and precious, and anoynted Jesus fete, & wipt hys fete wth her hert, and the house was fylled wth the sauoure of the opntment. Then sayde one of hys Dpsicles named Judas Iscariot synons sonne, whych afterwarde betrayed hym: why was not thys opntmente solde for thre. C. penec, and geuen to the poore? Thys saide he not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thefe, and kept the bagge, and bare that whych was geuen. Then sayd Jesus: Let hym alone, agaynst the tyme of my bu- ryng he kepte it. The poore alwayes shall haue wth you, but me shall ye not alwayes haue.

B Muche people of the Jewes had know- ledge that he was there, and they came not for Jesus sake onely, but that they myght se Lazarus also whom he rased fro death. The hys pnyes therfore helde a counsell that the b myght put Lazarus to death al- so because that for hys sake manye of the Jewes wente awaye, and beleued on Je- sus.

mat. xvi. a. W At the mozowe muche people that were came to the feaste: when they hearde that Jesus shoulde come to Jerusalem, tocke branches of palm trees, & went & met him & cried: Hosanna, blessed is he that in the name of the Lorde, cometh kynge of Is- rael. And Jesus gotte a ponge Assie, and sate thereon, accordyng to that whych was wyrtten: feare not Daughter of Sy- on, beholde thy kynge cometh sptinge on an Asses colte. These thynges vnder- stode not his disciples at the tyme, but whē Jesus was glorified, the remembred they that suche thynges were wyrtten of hym, and that such thynges they had done vnto hym.

The people that was with hym, when he called Lazarus out of hys graue, and ray- sed hym from death, bare recoorde. There- fore mete hym b people because they heard that he had done such a myracle. The pha- rises therfore saped amonge them selues: perceyue ye howe we pnyable nothyng: beholde the woilde goeth after hym.

There were certayne Brekes amonge them, that came to praye at the feaste: the same came to Philip whych was of Beth- saida, a cite in Galile, and despyed him say- yng: Syr, we would saye se Jesus. Phil- lip came & tolde Andw. And agayne An- drew and Philip told Jesus. And Jesus answered them sayng: The houre is come that the sonne of man muste be glorified.

¶ Werely werely, I saye to you, excepte the wheate come sal into the grownd and dre it by deth alone. If it dy, it bynggeth forth muche fruite. He that loueth hys lyfe shall destroye it: and he that hateth hys life in thys woilde, shall kepe it vnto life eternal. If any man minister vnto me, let hym fo- lowe me, and whete I am, there shall also my minister be. And if anye man minister vnto me, hym wil my father honoure.

¶ Nowe is my soule troubled, and what shall I saye? Father deliuer me from thys houre. But therfore came I vnto thys houre. & a- ther gloufy thy name. Then came there a voice from heauen: I haue glorified it, and wyl gloufy it agayne. Then saped the peo- ple that stode by and heard: it thundreth. O ther sayd, an aungell spake to him. Je- sus answered & saped: It is voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes. ¶ Nowe is the iugement of thys woilde: now shall the pryncce of thys woilde be caste out. And Alif I were lyfte vp from the pearth, wyl drawe all men vnto me. Thys saped Jesus spgnifyng what death he shoulde dye.

The people answered hym: We haue hearde oute of the lawe that Chyriste aby- deth euer: and howe sapest thou then that the sonne of man muste be lyfte vp? Whis that sonne of man? Then Jesus swedyn- to the m: yet a lytell whyle is the lpghte wth you. Walke whyle ye haue lpghte, lest the darknes come on you. He that wal- keth in the darcke, woteth not wher he

mar. xvi. a. Luk. xii. f. Hosanna.

zacha. ix. d.

D Math. x. d.

Luk. ix. c. f. xvi.

E Cap. x. d.

Luk. ix. d.

John. 8.

The Gospell

he goeth. Whyl pe haue light, beleue on þe light, that pe may be the chylde of light.

¶ These thynges spake Iesus and departed, and hid himselfe fro them. And though he had done so manie miracles before the, yet beleued not they on him, that the sayinge of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, that he spake: Lorde, who shall beleue out saying? And to whom is the arme of the Lorde opened? Therfore coude they not beleue, because that Esaias sayeth agayne: he hath blynded theyr eyes, & hardened theyr hertes, that they shoulde not se with theyr eyes, and vnderstande with theyr hertes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them. Suche thynges saied Esaias when he sawe his gloze, and spake of him. Neuerthelesse among the chiefe rulers many beleued on hym: But because of the pharisees they wolde not be acknowledge of it, lest they shoulde be excommunicate: for they loued the praise that cometh of men more then the praise that cometh of God. And Iesus cryed and saied: he that beleueth on me, beleueth not on me, but on him that sent me. And he that seeth me: seeth him that sent me.

¶ I am come a light into the worlde, that whosoever beleueth on me shoulde not bide in darknes. And if any man heare my wordes and beleue not, I iudge hym not. For I came not to iudge the worlde: but to saue the worlde. He that refuseth me, and receiveth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth hym. The wordes that I haue spoke, they shall iudge him in the laste day. For I haue not spoke of my selfe, but the father which sente me, he gaue me a commaundement what I shoulde saye, and what I shoulde speake. And I know that his commaundement is lyfe euerlastyng. Whatsoeuer I speake therfore, euen as the father bade me, so I speake.

The xiii. Chapter.

¶ Chyke washeth the dysciples fete, telleth them of Judas the traytoure, and commaundeth them earnestly to loue one another.

¶ Before the feast of Easter, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he shoulde depart out of this worlde vnto the father. When he loued his, which were in the worlde, vnto the ende he loued them. And when supper was ended, after that the deuill had put in the herte of Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne to betraye him, Iesus knowynge that the father had geuen all thynges into his handes, and that he was come from God, and wente to God, rose from supper, and layed asyde his bypper garmentes, and toke a towell, & both his and gyrded himselfe. After that poured he water into a bason, and began to wash his disciples fete, and to wipe them with a towell, wherewith he was gyrd.

¶ Then came he to Simon Peter. And Peter said vnto him Lorde, shalt thou washe my fete? Iesus answered and sayed vnto him: what I do, thou wotest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter. Peter sayed vnto him: thou shalt not washe my fete whyle the worlde standeth. Iesus answered him: if I washe the not, thou shalt haue no part with me. Simon Peter sayed vnto hym: Lorde, not my fete onely: but also my handes, and my heade. Iesus sayed vnto hym: he that is washed, needeth not saue to wash his fete, and is cleane euerie whyle. And ye are cleane: but not all. For he knewe hym betrayer. Therfore sayd he: ye are not all cleane.

Of S. John

After he had washed their fete, and receiued his clothes, and was set doune again, he sayed vnto them. Wote ye what I haue done to you? Ye call me maister and Lorde, & ye saye well, for so am I. If I then pour Lorde and maister haue washed your fete, ye also ought to washe one anothers fete. For I haue geuen you an ensample, that ye shoulde do as I haue done to you. Verily verily, I say vnto you, the seruant is not greater then his maister, neither the messenger greater then he that sent hym.

If ye vnderstande these thynges, happy are ye if ye do them. I speake not of you all, I know who I haue chosen. But that the scripture might be fulfilled, he that eateth brede with me (b) hath life by his yeles against me. Howe tell I you before it come, that whiche is come to passe, ye might beleue that I am he. Verily verily I saye vnto you: He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me. And he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

When Iesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testifed sayinge: verily verily I say vnto you: that one of you shal betraye me. And then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. Ther was one of his disciples which leaned on Iesus bosome, whom Iesus loued. To him beckened Simon Peter, that he shoulde aske who it was of whom he spake. He than as he leaned on Iesus brest sayed vnto hym: Lorde who is it? Iesus answered, he it is to whom I geue a sop, when I haue dypte it. And he wet a sop, and gaue it to Judas Iscariot Simons sonne. And after the sop (c) Satan entred into hym.

Then saied Iesus vnto hym: that thou doest, doo quickly. That wille no man at the table, for what intente he spake vnto hym. Some of them thought, because Judas had the bagge, that Iesus had sayed vnto him: by these thynges that we haue neede of agaynst the feast, or that he shoulde geue some thyng to the poore. Asone then as he had receiued the sop, he went immediately out. And it was nyghte. When he was gone out, Iesus said: nowe is the son of man glorified. And God is glorified by hym: If God be glorified by him, god shall also glorifye hym, in himselfe, and shall straightwaie glorifye him.

¶ Deare chylde, yet a litle while I am with marc. iiii. b

luk. viii. b
Act. xxi. f
Rom. xi. b

Light.

Math. xxvi. b
Mar. xiii. b
Luk. xxii. b

Math. xxi. f
Luk. xxi. a
Mar. xxi. a

Iesus was both his disciples
fete.

¶

Newe commaunde-
mentes.

Thou. ii.

with you: ye shall see me, and as I saped vnto the Jewes, whither I go, thither can ye not come. Also to you say I now: A new commandement geue I vnto you, that ye loue together, as I haue loued you, that euen so ye loue one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples if ye shall haue loue one to another. Simon Peter saped vnto him: lord whither goest thou?
Jesus answered him: Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now, but thou shalt fo-low me afterward. Peter saped vnto hym: lord why can not I follow thee now? I will geue my lyfe, for thy sake. Jesus answered him: wilt thou geue thy lyfe for my sake?
Verely verely, I sape vnto the: the cocke shall not crowe, till thou haue denyed me thryse.

The Notes.

Began to walke. &c.

(a), he washed theyr feet, to declare that he came to minister vnto other, and not to be ministered vnto. And further to teache by this washing, that his ministracyon was, to purge and washe awaye the filth of synne, which is done by the wasyng of his blood: for the blood of Christ sprinkled into our hartes by the worde of his Gospell and receiued by faith: cleanse vs from synne.

Hath lyfte
vp his hys

(b), To lyfte vp the hys, is to oppresse by vpolence. For whom ye thynke or trespasse with the hys: hym do ye vicerelye crucifye.

Nathan.

(c), Nathan was entred into hym before, as this Euangelist affirmeth in the begynnyng of this Chapter, but now he beganne he more to enforce his strengthe, and more openly to shewe hym selfe. In lyke maner the Apostles had the holpe ghost, before Christes resurrecyon, when they beloued in hym, when they confessed hym to be the sonne of God. But they evidently receyued hym, when Christ was ascended. Act. ii.

The xiiii. Chapter.

He armeth us with consolacyon agaynst trouble, and promyseth them the holy ghost, the spirit of comfort.

And he saped vnto his disciples: Let not your hartes be troubled. Belue in God, and belue in me. In my fathers house are many mansions. If it were not so, I would haue told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go to prepare a place for you, I will come againe, and receyue you euen vnto my selfe: that wher I am, there maye ye be also. And whither I go, ye know, and the waye ye knowe.

Thomas saped vnto hym: Lord we know not whither thou goest. Also, how is it possible for vs to know the waye? Jesus saped vnto hym: I am the way, the truth and the lyfe. And no man cometh to the father, but by me. If ye had knowen me, ye hadde knowen my father also. And now ye know him, and haue sene him.

Whilp saped vnto hym: Lord, shewe vs the father, and it sufficeth vs. Jesus saped vnto hym: Haue I bene so long tyme wth you, and yett haue thou not knowen me?
Whilp, he that hath sene me, hath sene the father. And how sapest thou then: shewe vs the father? Beluest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in me? The wor-des that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doth the workes. Belue ye not that I am in the father, and the father in me? At the leaste beleue me, for the verpe workes sake. Verely verely, I sape vnto you, he that beleueth on me, the workes that I doo, the same shall he do, and greater workes then these shall he do, because I go to my father. And whatsoever ye are in my name, that will I do (a) that the father mighte be glorified by the sonne. If ye shall aske any thyng in my name, I will do it. &

+ If ye loue me, kepe my commande-mentes, and I will praye the father, and he shall geue you another comforter, that he maye abyde with you euer, whiche is the spirit of truth, whome the worlde can not receyue, because the worlde seeth hym not, neither knoweth hym. But ye know hym. For he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. I will not leaue you alesse, but will come vnto you.

Yet a litle while, and the worlde seeth me no more: but ye shall see me. For I lyue and ye shall lyue. That daye shall ye knowe, that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you. He that hath my commande-mentes, and kepeth them, the same is he that loueth me. And he that loueth me, shall be loued of my father: and I will loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him. Judas saped vnto hym not Judas Iscariot Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt shewe thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde? Jesus answered and saped vnto hym: if a manne loue me and will kepe my sayings, my father also will loue hym, and we will come vnto hym, and will dwell wth hym. He that loueth me not, kepeth not my sayings. And the wordes whiche ye heare, are not myne, but the fathers whiche sent me.

These haue I spoken vnto you, beyng yet presente with you. But that comforter which is the holpe ghost (whome my father will sende in my name) he shall teache you all thynges, and bryng all thynges to your remembrance whatsoeuer I haue tolde you.

Peace I leaue with you, my peace I giue vnto you. Not as the worlde geueth, geue I vnto you. Let not your hartes be grieved, neither feare ye. Ye haue heard how I saped vnto you: I go and come againe vnto you.
If ye loued me, ye wold verelye reioyce, because I saped: I go to the father. For the father is greater then I. And now haue I shewed you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleue. Hereafter will I not talke manie wordes vnto you.
For the ruler of this worlde cometh and hath nought in me. But that the worlde may know, that I loue the father: therefore as the father gaue me commandementes euen so do I. & wyle, let vs go hence.

John. ii. The

A promysse at this part. i. e.
By the keping of the comande-mentes, is a manne knowne
he loueth
God.
Whosoeuer shall keepe
these sayings.

Peace.

The Gospell

The Notes.

What the father
might be glorified.
The spirit
of truth

(a) The father is glorified by the sonne, whom we acknowledge, and give thanks, that he gave his sonne for us to save us.
(b) He is called the spirit of truth, not only because he is true, but because he maketh the man into whom he entereth, true. Where as all that they do without the spirit, is some other thing but lies.

The xv. Chapter.

The true vine, the husband man, & the branches. A doctrine of love, and a sweet comfort against persecucion.

I am the true vine, and my father is an husbandman. Every branch that beareth not fruit in me, he will take away. And every branch that beareth fruit, will he purge, that it maye bringe more fruit. Now are ye cleane thowowe the wordes whiche I have spoken unto you. Wyde in me, and let me bide in you. As the branche can not beate fruit of it selfe, except it bide in the vyne: no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

Vyne.

I am the vine, and ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, & I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruite. For withoute me can ye do nothing. If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a branche, & is withered: and men gather it, and cast it into the fire, and it burneth.

Covenant.

If ye bide in me, and my wordes also bide in you, are what ye will, and it shall be done to you. Herein is my father glorified, that ye beate much fruite, and be made my disciples.

As the father hath loved me, eue so haue I loved you. Continue in my love. If ye shall kepe my commaundmentes, ye shall bide in my love, euen as I haue kept my fathers commaundmentes, and abyde in his love. These thynges haue I spoken unto you, that my love might remain in you, and that your ioye might be full.

1. Cor. 13. 13

This is my commaundment: that ye love together, as I haue loved you. Greater love then this hath no man, then that a man beflow his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoeuer I commaund you. Hence forth call I you not seruautes: for the seruant knoweth not what his lord doeth. But you haue I called friends, for all thynges that I haue heard of my father, I haue opened unto you.

Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that ye go and bring forth fruite, and that your fruite remaine, and that whatsoeuer ye shall aske of the father in my name, he should geue it to you. This commaunde I you, that ye love together, If the world hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would loue his owne. Howbeit, because ye are not of the world, therefore hateth you the world. Remember I saying I said unto you: I seruaunt is not greater then the lord, yett ye haue persecuted me, so will they persecute you: yett they haue kept my sayings, so will they kepe you. But all these thynges will they do unto you, for my names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they would not haue had sinne: but now haue they no thyng to cloke their sinne withal. He that hateth me, hateth my father. If I had not done workes amonge them which none other man did, they had not sinne. But now haue they sene, and yett haue hated both me and my father: euen that the saying might be fulfilled that is written in the lawe: they hated me without a cause.

of S. John.

But when the comforter is come, whom I will send unto you fro the father, which is the spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the father, he shall testifie of me. And ye shall beare witness also, because ye haue ben with me from the beginning.

The Notes.

(a) He that will abyde in gods love, must kepe Gods commaundment.

1. John 1. 10

(b) In the v. chapter of this Gospel, I haue sayd that he receiveth no witness of manne. But here he sayeth that his disciples shall beare hym witness. Understand therfore, that for him selfe he needeth no witness. But for us it was necessary, that his disciples should beare witness of his truth, that thowowe them we might beleue.

The xvi. Chapter.

Comfortacion against trouble, prayers are heard thowowe Christ.

These thynges haue I sayd unto you, because ye shoulde not be offended.

When shall excommunicate you, yett the tyme shall come, that whosoever kyleth you, will thinke that he doth Gods service. And such thynges shall they do unto you, because they haue not knowen the father, neyther yett me. But these thynges haue I tolde you, that when that houre is come, ye might remember then that I tolde you so. These thynges I sayd I not unto you at the beginning, because I was present with you.

But now I go my way to hym that sent me, and none of you seeth me, whither goest thou? But because I haue sayd suche thynges unto you your hertes are full of sorrow. Nevertheless I tell you the truth, it is expedient for you, that I go away. For if I go not away, that comforter will not come unto you. But if I depart, I will send hym unto you. And when he is come, he will rebuke the world of sinne, and of righteousnes, and of iudgemente (a) Of synne, because they beleue not on me: of righteousnes, because I go to my father, and then ye shall not se me: and of iudgemente because the chiefe ruler of this worlde is iudged already.

I haue yett many thynges to saye unto you, but ye can not beate them away now. Howbeit, when he is come (I meane the spirit of truth) he will leade you into all truth.

John 16. 13

He shall not speake of himself, but whatsoever he shall heare, that shall he speake, and he will shew you things to come. He shall glorify me, for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew unto you. All things that the father hath, are mine. Therefore saied I unto you, that he shall take of mine and shew unto you. &

¶ After a while ye shall not see me: & againe after a while ye shall see me: for I go to the father. Then saied some of his disciples amonge themselves: what is this that he saith unto us: after a while ye shall not see me, and againe after a while ye shall see me, and that I go to the father. They sayd therefore: what is it that he saith, after a while: we can not tell what he saith.

Jesus perceived that they would be aske him, and said unto them: This is that ye enquire of among yourselves that I said: after a while ye shall not see me. And againe after a while ye shall see me. Verely verely, I say unto you: ye shall wepe and lament, and the world shall reioice. Ye shall sorrow, but your sorrow shall be turned into ioye.

¶ A woman when she travaileth, hath sorrow: because her houre is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the childe, she remembereth no more the anguish, for ioye that a man is borne into the worlde. And ye now are in sorrow: but I will see you againe, and your hearts shall reioice: and your ioy shall no man take from you. & And in that daye shall ye aske me no question.

¶ Verely, verely, I say unto you: what soever ye shall aske the father in my name, he will geue it you. Hitherto have ye asked no thing in my name. And ye shall receiue it, that your ioy may be full.

These things haue I spoken unto you in proverbes. The time will come when I shall no more speake to you in proverbes: but I shall shew you plainly from my father. At that daye shall ye aske in my name:
And I say not unto you that I will speake unto my father for you. For the father himself loueth you, because ye haue loved me, and haue beleued that I came oute from God. I went oute from the father, & came into the worlde, and I leaue the worlde again, and go to the father.

His disciples saied unto him: loe now speakest thou plainly, and thou blest no proverbe. Nowe knowe we that thou understandest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee any question.

Therefore beleue wee that thou camest from God. &

Jesus answered them: Nowe ye do beleue. Beholde the houre draweth nigh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man by his wayes, and shall leaue me alone. And yet am I not alone: For the father is with me. These wordes haue I spoken unto you, & ye might haue peace. For in the world shall you haue tribulation: but be of good cheere, I haue overcome the world.

The Notes.

(a) The worlde is rebuked of synne, because they beleue not. So is vaine the synne that condemne the worlde (by the worlde vnder-stand the wicked, reprob, and infidel, and not all the creatures that be in the worlde) and faith is the righteousness of beleuers. And because the worlde and naturall reason will not knowe this thing, but will be iustified and saved by their owne works, the holie ghost shall rebuke the worlde, and shew that they shall be iustly condemned.

The Chapter

The most herry and louing prayer of Christ unto his father, for all such that receiue the truth.

These wordes spake Jesus, and he lift up his eyes to heauen, and saied: father, the houre is come: glorify thy son, that thy son may glorify thee, as thou hast geuen him power ouer all fleche, that he should geue eternall lyfe to as manie as thou hast geuen him. & this is lyfe eternall, that they might knowe thee, & onely be thy God, a whiche thou hast sent, Jesus Christ.

I haue glorified thee on the earth, I haue finished the worke, whiche thou gauest me to doo. And nowe glorifie me thou father with thine own selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the worlde was. (a) I haue declared thy name unto the men whiche thou gauest me oute of the worlde. & thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kepte thy sayings. Nowe they knowe that all things whatsoeuer thou hast geuen me: are of thee. For I haue geuen unto them the wordes whiche thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, & know surely that I come oute from thee, and do beleue that thou diddest send me. I pray for them, & praye not for (b) the worlde, but for them whom thou hast geuen me, for they are thine. And all mine are thine, & thine are mine, and I am glorified in them. And nowe am I no more in the worlde, but they are in the worlde, and I come to thee.

¶ Holpe father kepe in thine owne name, them whom thou hast geuen me, that they may be one, as we are. While I was with them in the worlde, I kept them in thy name.
Those that thou gauest me, haue I kept & none of them is lost, but that losse childe that the scripture nought be fulfilled.

Nowe come I to thee, and these wordes spake I in the worlde, that they might haue my ioye full in them: I haue geuen them thy wordes, and the worlde hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde. euen as I am not of the worlde. I desyre not that thou shouldest take them oute of the worlde: but that thou kepest them from euill. & They are not of the worlde, as I am not of the worlde. Sanctify them with thy truth, thy sayinge is truth. As thou diddest sende me into the worlde, euen so haue I sent them into the worlde, and for their sakes sanctify thy selfe, that they also might be sanctified through the truth. I pray not for the world, but for them that thou hast geuen me.

Alone

Mat. xii. 6.
Mar. xii. 1.
Luce. xi. 10.
Rom. xii. 1.

Mat. xxi. 1.
Luce. xii. 1.

Eternall
lyfe.

is Psalm. 139.

The Gospel

of S. John:

alone: but for the also which thou hast beleue on me through their preaching, & they al may be one, as thou father arte in me, & I in thee: that they may be also one in vs, that the world may beleue that thou hast sente me. And that glorie that thou gauest me, haue I geuen them: that they may be one, as we are one: I in them and thou in me, that they may be made perfecte in one, and that the world may knowe that thou hast sente me, and hast loued them as thou hast loued me. Father, I will that they whiche thou hast geuen me, be with me wher I am, that they may see my glorie whiche thou hast geuen me. For thou louedst me before the making of the worlde. O righteous father, the besy worlde hath not knowen the, but I haue knowen the, and these haue knowen that thou hast sente me. And I haue declared vnto them thy name, and wil declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hauest loued me, be in them, and that I be in the.

The Notes.

I haue declared thy name, &c. The world

(a) That is the renowne and glorie, that thou art merkefull, for geuest spynnes for my sake, and art good and righteous.
(b) The worlde in this place is taken for the wycked, froward and vnbeleuers.

The xiiii. Chapter.

Christe is betrayed. The wordes of his mouth smyte the officers to the ground. Peter smiteth of Malchus ear. Jesus is brought before Anna, Caphas and Pilate.

Malchus.

When Jesus had spoken these wordes, he went forth with his disciples ouer the broke Cedron, where was a garden into the whiche he entered with his disciples. Judas also which betrayed him knewe the place: for Jesus oft tymes resorted thither wth his disciples. Judas then after he had receyued a band of men, and ministers of the hie priestes and pharisees, came thither wth lanternes & torches, and weapons. Then Jesus knowinge all thynges that shuld come on him, went forth and sayed vnto them: whome seeke ye? They answered hym: Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus said vnto them: I am he.

Judas also whiche betrayed him, stode with them. But as soon as he had sayed vnto them: I am he, they wente backwardes and fell to the ground. And he asked them agayne whome seeke ye? They answered: Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus answered: I sayed vnto you, I am he. If ye seke me, let these go their way: that the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one.

Simon Peter had a swearde, and drew it, and smote the hie priestes seruaunte, and cutte of his right ear. The seruaunts name was Malchus: Then sayed Jesus vnto Peter: putte vp thy swerde into the sheathe: shall I not dryncke of the cuppe whiche my father hath geuen me? Then the companie and the Captayne, and the ministers of the Jewes, tooke Jesus and bound hym, and ledde hym awaye to Anna priest: For he was father in lawe vnto Caphas, whiche was the hie prieste that same yere.

Caphas was he that gaue counsell to the Jewes, that it was expedient that one manne shoud dye for the people. And Simon Peter folowed Jesus, and another disciple, that disciple was knowen of the hie prieste, and wente in wth Jesus into the palace of the hie prieste. But Peter stode at the doore wthoute. Then wente out that other disciple whiche was knowen vnto the hie prieste, and spake to the damsel that kepte the doore, and broughte in Peter.

Then sayed the damsell that kepte the doore, vnto Peter. Arte not thou one of this mannes disciples? He sayed: I am not. The seruautes and the ministers stode ther, and hadde made a fyre of coales: for it was colde, and they warmed themselves. Peter also stode amonge them, and warmed hymselfe.

The hie prieste asked Jesus of his disciples and of his doctrine. Jesus answered hym: I spake openly in the worlde, I euer taughte in the Synnagoge and in the temple whither all the Jewes resorted, and in secretes haue I sayed nothinge.

Why askest thou me? Are there which heard me, what I sayed vnto them? Behold they can tell what I sayed. When he had thus spoken, one of the ministers whiche stode by, smote Jesus on the face sayinge: answeredst thou the hie prieste so? Jesus answered hym: if I haue euill spoken, beare wytnes of the euill: if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me? And Anna sent hym bound vnto Caphas the hie priest.

Simon Peter stode and warmed hym selfe, and they sayed vnto hym: Arte not thou also one of his disciples? He denyed it and sayed: I am not. One of the hie priestes seruautes, his cousin whose care Peter smote of, sayed vnto hym: dyd not I see the in the garden wth hym? Peter denied agayne, & immediatly the cock crew.

Then led they Peter from Caphas into the hall of iudgement. It was in the morninge, and they themselves went not into the iudgement hall, lest they shoud be defyled, but that they might eat the paschal lambe. Plate then went out vnto them, & sayd: what accusacion bring you agaynst this man? They answered and sayd vnto hym: If he were not an euill doer, we shuld not haue deliuered hym vnto the. Then sayed plate vnto them: take ye hym, and iudge hym after your owne law. Then the Jewes sayed vnto hym: It is not lawefull for vs to put anie manne to death: (a) That the wordes of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake signifying what death he shoud dye.

Then plate entred into the iudgement hall agayne, and called Jesus, & sayed vnto

mat. xxi. 2.
mar. xiii.
luk. xxi. 2.

mat. xxi. 2.
mar. xiii. 2.

mat. xxi. 2.
mar. xiii. 2.

Mat. xv. b.
mat. xviii. c.
unto hym: arte thou the kyng of the Jewes? Jesus answered. sayest thou that of thy seite or byd other tell it the of me? Pilate answered: Am I a Jewe? The Jewe own nacion and hye ppeles have deliuered the vnto me. What hast thou done? Jesus answered (b) my kyngdome is not of this world. If my kyngdome were of this world, then woulde my ministers luerie spghte, that I shoulde not be deliuered to the Jewes, but nowe is my kyngdome not from hence.

Pilate sayed to hym: Arte thou a kyng then? Jesus answered: Thou sayest that I am a kyng. For thys cause was I boine and for thys cause came I into the world, that I shoulde beare witnes vnto the truth. And all that are of the truth hear my voice. Pilate sayed vnto hym: what thyng is truth?

And when he had sayed that, he wente out agayne to the Jewes, and sayed vnto thepm: I fynde in hym, no cause at all. Ye haue a custome, that I shoulde deliuer you one lose at Easter. Wppe that I lose vnto pou the kyng of the Jewes? Then cryed they all agayne sayinge: Not hym, but Barrabas, that Barrabas was a robber.

The Notes.

That the wordes of Jesus.

(a) He had sayed that he shoulde be crucified of the Gentyles, and therefore make Pilate geue sentence on him, and not the Jewes, for the perfourmance of his worde.

My kyngdome.

(c) That is my kyngdome is not a worldly kyngdome, that consisteth in strength, in armes, in men, in the swerde, and in the subduyng of bodies thynges, but my kyngdome is spirituall, whiche is in the heartes of the sayntfull, who are not ruled by the swerde, but by the gospel.

The xv. Chapter.

Christe is crucified. He committeth hys mother to John, whiche hys bloude, and is buried.

mat. xxiii. c.
mat. xv. b.
Luc. xxi. b.
In Pilate toke Jesus and scourged hym. And f soldours wound a crown of thornes and put it on hys heade.

And they byd on hym a purple garmente, and sayd: hyle kyng of the Jewes: and they smote hym on the face. Pilate wente forth agayne and sayd vnto thepm. behold I bynge hym forth to you, that ye maye knowe that I fynde no faulte in hym. The came Jesus forth wearpnge a crowne of thorne and a purple robe. And Pilate sayed vnto them: Behold the man. When the hye ppeles and ministers sawe hym, they cryed sayinge: Crucifye hym, crucifye him. Pilate sayd vnto them. Take ye hym and crucifye hym, for I fynde no cause in him. The Jewes answered hym: we haue a law and by our lawe, he oughte to dye: because he made hym selfe the son of god.

mat. xxiii. c.
In When Pilate hearde þ sayinge, he was the more afrayde, and wente agayne into the Judgemente hall, and sayed vnto Jesus, whence art thou? But Jesus gaue hym none answer. Then sayed Pilate vnto hym: Speakest thou not vnto me? know-est thou not that I haue power to crucifye the, and haue power to leuse the? Jesus answered: Thou couldest haue no power at al agaynst me, except it were geuen the from aboue. Therefore he that deliuered me vnto the, is more in synne. And from thenceforth sought Pilate metes to leuse hym, but the Jewes cryed, sayinge: if thou let him go thou art not Cæsars frend. For who so euet maketh hym selfe a kyng, is agaynst Cæsar.

When Pilate hearde that sayinge, he broughte Jesus forth, and sat downe to geue sentence in a place called the paucement: but in the Hebrue tounge Gabbatha. It was the saboth euen, whiche falleth in the easter feaste, and aboute the sixt houre. And he sayde vnto the Jewes: Beholde poure kyng. They cryed, awake wth hym, awake wth hym, crucify hym, Pilate sayed to them: Shall I crucifye pou kyng? The hye ppeles answered: wee haue no kyng but Cæsar. When belue- ted he hym vnto them to be crucified.

And they toke Jesus, and led him away and he bare hys crosse, and wente forthin to a place called the place of beade mens sculles, whiche is named in Hebrue Golgatha. Where they crucified hym and two other wth hym, on either syde one, and Jesus in the myddell. And Pilate wrote hys tyle and put it on the crosse. The writing was: Jesus of Nazareth kyng of the Jewes. Thys tyled maner of the Jewes. For the place where Jewes was crucified, was nye to the cite. And it was wyrtten in Hebrue, Breke, and Latyn. Then sayd the hye ppeles of þ Jewes to Pilate Wite not kyng of the Jewes: but that he sayd, I am kyng of the Jewes. Pilate answered: what I haue wyrtten, that haue I wyrtten.

Then the souldiers when they had crucified Jesus toke his garmentes & made foure partes. to euery souldier a part & also his cote & the cote was wthout seame, wroughte vpon thowme oute. And they sayed one to another: Let vs not deuyde it: but cast lottes who shall haue it. That the Scripture myghte be fulfilled whiche sayeth. They parted my raimente amonge them, and on my cote byd they cast lottes. And the souldiers byd such thynges in dede.

There stode by þ crosse of Jesus, hys mother, & his mothers sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas & Mary Magdalen. When Jesus saw hys mother, & the disciple stadyng who he loued, he said vnto his mother: we ma beholde thy son. When said he to the disciple: beholde thy mother. And from that houre the Disciple toke hir for hys owne.

After that when Jesus percepued that all thynges were perfourmed, þ the Scripture myghte be fulfilled, he sayd: I thirst. There stode a vessell full of byneger by. And they fylled a spong wth byneger & wound it about with plope, & put it to hys mouth.

C

mat. xxiii. c.
mat. xv. b.
Luc. xxi. b.

mat. xxiii. c.
mat. xv. b.
Luc. xxi. b.

mat. xxiii. c.
mat. xv. b.
Luc. xxi. b.

mat. xxiii. c.

mat. xxiii. c.

mouth. As then as Jesus had receyved of þe vineget, he sayed: It is fulfilled, and bowed hys heade, and gave up the ghost.

The Jewes then because it was the sabboth even, that the bodys shoulde not remayne upon the crosse on the sabboth daye (for the sabboth daye was an hys daye) besoughte þe plate that they legges myghte be broken, and that they myghte be taken downe. Then came the souldiers & brake the legges of the spyde, and of the other whiche was crucified wþh Jesus. But when they came to Jesus and sawe that he was deade already, they brake not hys legges: but one of the souldiers with a speare thrust him into þe side, and forthwith came there out bloud and water.

And he that sawe it, bare recorde, and hys recorde is true. And he knoweth that he sayeth true that ye myghte beleue also. These thynges were done that the scripture shoulde be fulfilled: Ye shal not bryke a bone of hym. And agayne another scripture sayeth: They shal loke on hym whom they pearced.

After that, Joseph of Aramathia (whiche was a Disciple of Jesus, but secretely for feare of the Jewes, lest he shoulde be taken downe the body of Jesus) And Pilate gave him licence. And there came also Nicodemus whiche at the begynnyng came to Jesus by nyghte, and broughte of myrrour and aloes myngled together aboute an hundred pound waight. Then toke they the body of Jesus, & wold it in linnen clothes wþh the odours as the maner of the Jewes is to burye. And in the place where Jesus was crucified was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, wherein was neuer man layed. Ther layde they Jesus because of the Jewes sabboth even, for the sepulchre was nye at hand.

The xx. Chapter.

The resurrection of Christ, who appereth to Mary Magdalen, and to all his disciples to their great comfort.

The morowe after the Sabboth daye came Mary Magdalen early when it was yet darke, unto the Sepulchre. & sawe the stone taken away fro the tounbe. When she ranne and came to Symon Peter and to the other Disciple whome Jesus loved, and sayed unto them. They have taken away the lord out of the tounbe, and we cannot tel where they have layed hym. Peter wente forth and that other Disciple, and came unto the Sepulchre. They ranne both together, and that other Disciple dyd overtake Peter, and came first to the Sepulchre. And he stooped downe and sawe the linnen clothes lyeinge, yet wente he not in.

Then came Simon Peter following him and went into the Sepulchre. & sawe the linnen clothes lye; and the napkyne that was aboute hys heade, not lyeinge wþh the linnen cloth, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe. Then wente in also that other Disciple whiche came first to the Sepulchre, and he sawe and beleued. For as yet they knewe not the scriptures that he shoulde rise agayne from death. And the Disciples wente away agayne vnto their owne home.

Mary stode without at the Sepulchre weeping. And as she wepte, she bowed hys selfe and loked into the Sepulchre and sawe two angelles in white, sittinge the one at the heade, and the other at the fete, where they had layed the body of Jesus. And they sayed vnto her. Woman why wepest thou? She sayed vnto them: For they have taken away my Lord, & I wote not wher they have layed hym. When she had thus sayed, she turned hys selfe backe, and sawe Jesus standyng, and knewe not that it was Jesus. Jesus sayed to hir: woman why wepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposinge that he had bene the gardener, sayed vnto him. Sir, if thou have borne him hysce tell me where thou haste layed hym that I maye fet hym. Jesus sayd vnto hir: Mary. She turned hys selfe and sayd vnto hym: Rabboni which is to saye, Master. Jesus sayed vnto her, & touche me not, for I am not yet ascended to my father. But goe to my brethren and say vnto them: Ascende vnto my father and your father, to my god and your God. Marye Magdalen came, & tolde the Disciples that she hadde sene the lord and that he had spoken such thynges vnto hir.

The same day at nyght, whiche was the morowe after the sabboth daye, when the doores were shut wher the Disciples were assembled together for feare of the Jewes, came Jesus and stode in the myddes, and sayd to them: peace be wþh you. And wher he had so sayed, he shewed vnto them hys handes: and hys syde. Then were the Disciples glad when they sawe the Lord. The sayd Jesus to them agayne: peace be wþh you. As my father sente me, even so sende I you. And when he sayd that, he breathen on them and sayd: Receyve the holy ghost. Whose so ever synnes ye remyt, they are remytte vnto them. And whose so ever shalnes ye retayne, they shal be retayned.

But Thomas one of the twelve, called Dydymus, was not wþh them when Jesus came. The other Disciples sayed vnto hym: we have sene the Lord. And he sayed vnto them: excepte I see in his handes the print of the napyles, and putte my fnger into the holes of the napyles; and thruste my handes into hys syde, I will not beleue. And after .viij. dayes agayne, his Disciples were wþh him, and Thomas with the. Then came Jesus wher the doores were shut, and stode in the myddes, & sayd peace be wþh you. After þe sayd he to Thomas: bringe thy fnger hither, and let me put my handes, & bringe thy hand & thrust it into my

ma. xxviii. a

Mar. xvi. c

D

E

luk. xlii. i. of xv. c. Peter is paied that is promysed.

Math. xxi. A couenaunt upon byrnyng and loquage.

Gen. xli. g. Num. ix. b. iach. xii. c. mas. xxi. d.

Mar. xv. b. Luc. xxi. g. Iohn. iii. a.

John. xxi. a. Lu. xxi. a.

F

And

syde: and be not faythles, but beleupnge. Thomas answered and sayed vnto hym: My Lorde and my God. Jesus sayed vnto hym: Thomas, because thou hast sene mee, therfore thou beleuest. Happy art they that haue not sene, and yet haue beleued.

And many other signes did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, whiche are not written in this booke. These are written, that ye might beleue that Jesus is the sonne of God, and that in beleupnge, ye myght haue life thowow his name.

The Notes.

Touch me (a) That is, because thou beleuest not that I am yet not yet. I am yet God, but am carnall as I was before I suffered death, therefore touch me not.
Howe men (b) Note in Mathew the. xxi. c. had a lase, (c) Note in Mathew the. xxi. c.

The xx. Chapter.

He appeared to his disciples agayne at the sea of Tiberias, and commaundeth Peter earnestly to fede his flocke.

After that, Jesus shewed hymselfe agayne at the sea of Tiberias. And on this wyse shewed he hymselfe. They were together Simon Peter and Thomas whiche is called Didimus, and Nathaniell of Cana a cytie of Galyle, and the sonnes of Zebede, and two other of the disciples. Simon Peter sayed vnto them: I go a fyshing. They sayed vnto him: wee also wil go wth the. They went their way and entered into a shyppe straight wyse, and that nyght caught they nothinge. But whē the morynge was now come, Jesus stode on the shore: neuertheles the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus sayde vnto them: spise, haue ye any meat? They answered him, no. And he sayed vnto them: caste out the net on the right syde of the shyppe, and ye shall fynd. They cast out, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

When sayed the disciple whom Jesus loved, vnto Peter: It is the Lorde. Whē Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, he girded his mantel to him (for he was naked) and sprang into the sea. The other disciples came by shyppe, for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubites, and they drew the net with fishes. Asone as they were come to land, they saw hoate coales and fyre laid thereon & bread. Jesus sayed vnto them: bunge of the fyre whiche ye haue now caught. Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and foue. And for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus sayed vnto them: come & dyne. And none of the disciples durst axe him, what art thou? for they knewe that it was the Lorde Jesus. When came he and toke bread and gaue them, and thus spake wyse. And this is now the thurde tyme that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen agayne from death.

When they had dynd, Jesus sayed too Simon Peter: Simon Joanna, louest thou me more then these? He sayed vnto hym: ye Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He sayd vnto him: fede my lambs. He said to him agayne the second tyme: Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He sayed vnto hym: yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He sayed vnto him: fede my shepe. He sayd vnto him the thurde tyme: Simon Joanna, louest thou me? And Peter sorowed, because he sayed vnto him the thurde tyme, louest thou me, and sayed vnto hym: Lorde thou knowest all thyng, thou knowest that I loue the. Jesus sayd vnto hym: fede my shepe.

Accordyngly I say vnto the, whē thou wast yong, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkest whither thou woldest: but whē thou art old, thou shalt stretch forth thy handes, and another shall gyrd the, & lead the whither thou woldest not. What spake he signifyinge by what death he shoulde glorifye God.

And when he had sayed thus, he sayed to him: folow me. Peter turned about & sawe that disciple whom Jesus loved, followinge, which also leaned on his breast at supper, & sayed: Lorde, whiche is he that shall betraye the? When Peter saw him, he sayed to Jesus: Lorde what shall he here do? Jesus said vnto him: If I will haue him to tarpe till I come, what is that to the? folowe thou me & then went this sayinge abroad among the brethren, that that disciple shoulde not dye. Yet Jesus sayd not to him, he shal not dye, but if I will that he tarpe till I come, what is that to the? The same disciple is he, whiche testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges. And we knowe that his testimonie is true.

There are also many other thyngs which Jesus dyd, the which if they shoulde be written ten euerye one, (a) I suppose the world coulde not contayne the booke that shoulde be written.

The Notes.

(a) He loveth Christ, that feedeth his lambs and shepe. I suppose. (b) This is a figurative speache, whiche doth signifye, that there were many thynges to be written that are not written. But yet there is as muche written as is necessary, and sufficient for our saluacion.

There endeth the Gospell of S. John.

syde: and be not faythles, but beleupnge. Thomas answered and sayed vnto hym: My Lorde and my God. Jesus sayed vnto hym: Thomas, because thou hast sene mee, therfore thou beleuest. Happy art they that haue not sene, and yet haue beleued.

And many other signes did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, whiche are not written in this booke. These are written, that ye might beleue that Jesus is the sonne of God, and that in beleupnge, ye myght haue lpe thowow his name.

The Notes.

Touch me (a) That is, because thou beleuest not that I am ry-not. &c. sen verp God, but am carnall as I was before Howe men I suffered death, therfore touch me not.
had a lpe, (b) Note in Mathew the. xxiii. c

The. xii. Chapter.

He appeared to his disciples agayne at the sea of Tiberias, and commaundeth Peter earnestly to fede his flocke.

After that, Jesus shewed hymselfe agayne at the sea of Tiberias. And on this wyse shewed he hymselfe. Ther were together Simon Peter and Thomas whiche is called Didimus, and Nathaniell of Cana a cytie of Galyle, and the sonnes of Zebede, and two other of the disciples. Simon Peter sayed vnto them: I go a fyshing. They sayed vnto him: wee also wil go wth the. They went their way and entered into a shyppe straight wyse, and that nyght caught they nothinge. But whē the morynge was now come, Jesus stode on the shore: neuertheles the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus sayde vnto them: spys, haue ye any meat? They answered him, no. And he sayed vnto them: caste out the net on the right syde of the shyppe, and ye shall fynd. They cast out, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

When sayed the disciple whom Jesus loved, vnto Peter: It is the Lorde. Whē Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, he girded his mantel to him (for he was naked) and sprang into the sea. The other disciples came by shyppe, for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubites, and they drew the net with fishes. Asone as they were come to land, they saw hoate coales and fyre laid thereon & bread. Jesus sayed vnto them: bunge of the fyre whiche ye haue now caught. Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and foue. And for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus sayed vnto them: come & dyne. And none of the disciples durst axe him, what art thou? for they knewe that it was the Lorde Jesus. When came he and toke bread and gaue them. and thus spake wyse. And this is now the thurde tyme that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen agayne from death.

When they had dyed, Jesus saied too Simon Peter: Simon Joanna, louest thou me more then these? He saied vnto hym: ye Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He sayd vnto him: fede my lambs. He saied to him agayne the second tyme: Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He saied vnto hym: yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He saied vnto him: fede my shepe. He sayd vnto him the thurde tyme: Simon Joanna, louest thou me? And Peter sorowed, because he sayed vnto him the thurde tyme, louest thou me, and sayed vnto hym: Lorde thou knowest all thyng, thou knowest that I loue the. Jesus sayd vnto hym: fede my shepe.

Accordyngly I say vnto the, whē thou wast pong, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkest whither thou woldest: but whē thou art old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hande, and another shall gyrd the, & lead the whither thou woldest not. That spake he signifyinge by what death he shoulde glorifye God.

And when he had sayed thus, he sayed to him: folow me. Peter turned about & sawe that disciple whom Jesus loved, followinge, which also leaned on his breast at supper, & sayed: Lorde, whiche is he that shall betraye the? When Peter saw him, he sayed to Jesus: Lorde what shall he here do? Jesus said vnto him: If I will haue him to tarpe till I come, what is that to the? folowe thou me & then went this sayinge abroad among the brethren, that that disciple shoulde not dye. Yet Jesus sayd not to him, he shall not dye, but if I will that he tarpe till I come, what is that to the? The same disciple is he, whiche testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges. And we knowe that his testimonie is true. f

There are also many other thyngs which Jesus dyd, the which if they shoulde be written ten euerye one, (a) I suppose the world coulde not contayne the booke that shoulde be written.

The Notes.

a He loveth Christ, that credeth his Lambs and shepe. Lambs.
b This is a figurative speache, whiche doth signifye, that there were many thynges to be written that are not written. But yet there is as muche written as is necessary, and sufficient for our saluacion. I suppose.

There endeth the Gospell of S. John.

The Actes of the The Actes of the Apostles, wytten by S Luke the Euangelist, which was presente at the do- ing of them.

The first Chapter.

When Christ had bydden his apostles to tarry at Jerusalem for the holy ghoſt whiche he had promysed them, he was taken vp into heauen. The Apostles retorne at the angels monicion, and geue them selues to prayer. Afterwarde at Peters counsaile, they take Matthe into Judas place, to make vp the numbre of the xii. Apostles.

In the former treatise (deare friend Theophilus) I haue witten of al þe Jesus begā to do and teache, vntill the daye I which he was taken vp, after þe through þe holy ghoſt, had geuen commaundementes vnto the Apostles & which he had chosen: to whom also he shewed him selte alþue after his passion by manie tokens, appearinge vnto them forty dayes, and speakinge of the kingdome of God, and gathered them together & commaunded them that they should not depart from Ierusalem: but to waite for the promys of the father, & wherof ye haue hearde of me. For John baptysed wpth water, but pe & I shal be baptysed with the holy ghoſt, and that within this fewe dayes. Whe they were come together, they asked of him, sayinge: Lorde, wpte thou at this tyme restore agayne the kingdome to Israel? And he said vnto them: It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power, but ye shall receiue power of the holy ghoſt, whiche shall come on you. And ye shall be witnesses of me in Ierusalem, and in all Jewrie, and in Samarie, and euen vnto the worldes end.

And when he had spoken these thinges, while they beheld, he was taken vp, and a cloude receiued him vp out of their sight. And while they looked stedfastly vp to heauen as he went, beholde two men stode by them in white apparel, which also said: ye men of Galyle, why stande ye gazinge vp into heauen? This same Jesus which is taken from you into heauen & shall so come, euen as ye haue sene hym goo into heauen.

Then returned they vnto Ierusalem

Apostles. Chapter. i.

from mount Oliuet, which is nye to Ierusalem, consperring a Saboth, a, dayes 102. And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlor, where abode both Peter and James, John and Andzewe, Philippe and Thomas, Bartelmew and Matthe: James the sonne of Alphrus, and Simon zelotes, and Judas James sonne. These all continued with one accorde in prayer and supplicacion wpth the womenne, and Marpe the mother of Iesu, and wpth his brethren.

And in those dayes Peter stode vp in the middes of the disciples, and said (the numbre of names that were together, were about an hundred and twenty. Iemen and brethren, this scripture muste haue nedes bene fulfilled, which the holy ghoſt thorough the mouth of Dauid spake before of Judas, whiche was gyde to them that tooke Jesus. For he & was numbred with vs, and had obtayned felowshipp in this ministracion. And the same hath now possessed a plot of grounde with the rewarde of iniquite, and when he was hanged, brot a sunde in the myddes, and all his bowels gashed oute. And it is known vnto all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, in so much that that field is called in their mother tonge, Acheldama, that is to saye, the bloudy fiede.

It is witten in the booke of psalmes: His habitacion be void, and no manne be dwellinge therein, & and his Bishopricke let another take: Wherfore of these men, whiche haue companied with vs all the tyme that the Lord Jesus went in and out among vs, beginninge at the baptysme of John, vnto that same daye, that he was taken vp from vs, muste one be ordeyned to beate wptnes with vs of his resurreccion.

And they appoynted two, Joseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthe. And they prayed, sayinge: thou Lorde whiche knowest the hartes of all men, shewe whether of these two thou hast chosen, that the one maye take the roume of this ministracion and Apostleshippe, from the whiche Judas by traufgession fel, that he myght go to his owne place. And they gaue forth theirolotes, and the lotte fell on Matthe, and he was counted wpth the eleuen Apostles.

The Notes.

(a) The Saboth dayes tyme was aboute 10 dayes, as is mentyoned in Mathew. xxi.

The ii. Chapter.

The Apostles full of the holpe ghoſt, speake wpth dyuers tongues. Peter denyeth that they be dyonche, and teacheth by the testimonye of the Prophetes, that Christ should suffer, and they speake the power of the holy ghoſt. And when he had humbled his hearers, he comforteth them to repentance. And the compaignie of beleuers in Chyſte augmented every daye moze and moze.

When

Dec. xvi. b.
Act. xiii. c

Tongues.
Act. ii. f.
and. xi.

Mat. xlii.
Conuerts
that is hea
the or is f tills. conu
ted to the Jewes
sayth.

Jobel. ii. g.

mat. xxvii. c
Luk. xiii. f.

Rom. i. c.

When * the fyrste daye was come, they were all wpth one accord toge ther in one place. And sodaynly ther came a sounde from heauen, as it had bene the commynge of a myghty wynde, and it fylled all the house where they sate. And there appeared vnto them cloven tonges, lyke as they had bene fyre, and it sate vpon eche of them * and they were all fylled with the holy Goste, and began to speake wpth other tonges, euen as the spyrte gaue them utteraunce.

And there were dwellinge at Hierusalem Jewes deuoute men, which were of all nations vnder heauen. When thys was noised aboute, the multitude came together & were astopned, because that euery manne hearde them speake hys owne tounge. & they wondered all and maruailed sayinge among them selues: Beholde are not all these which speake, of Galile? And nowe heare we euery man hys owne tounge wherein we were borne: Parthians, Medes and Elamites, and the inhabiteurs of Mesopotamia, of Jewrye, and of Capadocia, and of Pontus & Asia, Phrygia, Pamphylia, & of Egypte, and of the partes of Libia, whiche is besyd Syrien, & strangers of Rome Jewes, * and conuertes Brekes, and Arabians: we haue hearde them speake wpth oure owne tonges the greate workes of god. & they were all amased, and wondered, sayinge one to another: what meaneth this? Other mocked them, sayinge: they are full of newe wyne.

But Peter stepped forth wpth the cleue and lyst vpon hys voyce, and said vnto them: Ye men of Jewry, and all ye that inhabyte Hierusalem: be thys knowe vnto pou, and wpth poure eares heare my wordes. These are not droncke, as ye suppose, for it is yet but the thyrde houre of the daye. But thys is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel. * It shalbe in the laste dayes sayeth god of my spyrte I wyl poure out vpon all fleshe. And poure sonnes and daughters shal prophesye, and poure yonge men shal se visions, and poure olde men shal dreame dreames. And on my seruauntes, and on my handmaydens, I wyl poure out of my spyrte in those dayes, and they shal prophesye. And * I wyl shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, bloude and fyre, and the vapoure of smoke. The sunne shalbe turned into darcknes, and the moone into bloude, before that greate and notable daye of the Lord come. And it shalbe, that * whosoever shal call on the name of the Lord shal be saued. &

* Ye men of Israell heare these wordes. Jesus of Nazareth, a manne approued of God amonge pou wpth myracles, wonders, and signes, whiche God dyd by him in the middes of pou, as ye poure selues knowe: hym haue ye taken by the handes of vnrightheous persons, after he was deliuered by the determinate counsell and for knowledge of God, and haue crucified, and slayne: whom god hath rayled vp and lewled from the sorowes of death, because it was impossible that he shoulde be holden of it. For Dauid speaketh of Ipm afore hande. * I sawe the Lord alwayes before me: for he is on my ryght hande, that I shoulde not be moued. Therefore dyd my herte reioyce, and my tounge was gladd. Moreover also my fleshe shal rest in hope, because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wilt suffer thine holy, to se corruption. Thou hast shewed me the wayes of lyfe, & shalt make me ful of ioye with thy countenaunce. &

Men and brethren, let me frely speake vnto pou of the patriarke Dauid: For he is both deade and buryed, and hys sepulchre remayneth wpth vs vnto thys daye. Therefore sayinge he was a prophete, and knew that God had sworne wpth an oth to hym that the fruite of hys loynes shuld sytte on hys seate (in that Christ shoulde ryse agayne in the fleshe) he sawe before, and spake of the resurrection of Christ that hys soule shoulde not be left in hell: neither hys fleshe shoulde se corruption. Thys Jesus hath God rayled vp * wherof we all are wytnesses.

Since nowe that he by the ryght hande of god is exalted, and hath receyued of the father the promysse of the holye ghooste, he hath shewed forth that which ye now se and heare. For Dauid is not ascended into heauen but he sayde: * The Lord sayd to my Lord. Sitte on my ryght hande, vntill I make thy foes thy fote stole. So therefore let all the house of Israel knowe for a suretye, that God hath made the same Jesus whom ye haue crucified, booth Lord and Christ.

When they hearde thys, they were pricked in the hertes, and sayed vnto Peter and vnto the other Apostles. Ye men and brethren * what shal we do? Peter sayed vnto them: repente and be Baptised euery one of pou in the name of Jesus Christe for the remission of synnes, and ye shal receyue the gyfte of the holye ghooste. For the promysse was made vnto pou and to poure chyldren, and to al that are afarre, euen as manye as the Lord oure God shal call. And wpth manye other wordes bare he wytnes and exhorted them, sayinge: Saue poure selues from thys vntowarde generacion. Than they that gladly receiued hys preachinge, were Baptised: and the same daye there were added vnto them aboute thre thousande soules.

And they continued in the Apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breakynge of breade, and in prayer. And feare came ouer euery soule. And manye wonders and signes were shewed by the Apostles. And all that beleued kepte them selues together, and hadde al thynges common, and sold theyr possessions and goodes, and departed Death.

Psalm. lxxv.

Well.

D

iii. Reg. li. 6
Psalm. cxviii.

Actes. i. a

Psalm. cxxv. a.
march. xxi. a

E

Luk. iii. b.

The Actes of the departed them to all men as euery manne had neede. And they continued dayly wpth one accord in the temple, and brake breade in euery house, and dyd eat their meat together wpth gladnes & singlenes of herte praisynge God, and had fauoure wpth all the people: And the Lorde added to the congregacion dayly such as shoulde be saued.

The. iii. Chapter.

Peter and John goynge by to praye in the temple, do heale one that was lame from hys birth tyme, & when the people are come together to see the myracle. Peter expoundeth them the mystry of theyr saluacion by Christe, accusynge them of vnthankfulness, and exhortynge them to repentance.

The halfe is cured. Peter and John went by together into the temple at the ninth houre of praye. And there was a certayne man halt from hys mothers wombe, whom they brought and laied at the gate of the temple, called beutyfull, to receiue almes of them that entred into the temple. Whiche same when he sawe Peter and John, that they woulde into the temple, desyred to receiue an almes. And Peter fastened hys eyes on hym wpth John and sayd: loke on vs. And he gaue heede vnto them, trustynge to receiue some thyng of them. Then sayed Peter: Siluer and Golde haue I none, such as I haue giue I the. In the name of Iesu Christe of Nazareth, ryse vp and walke. And he toke hym by the right hand, and lyfte him vp. And immediatly his kete and ancle bones receyued strength. And he sprang. And also walked & entred wth them into the temple, walkynge and leaping, and laudyng God.

And all the people sawe hym walke and laude God. And they knewe hym that it was he, whych late & begged at the beutyfull gate of the temple. And they wondered and were sore astounded at that whych had happened vnto hym. And as the halt which was healed, helde Peter and John, all the people ran amased vnto them in Salomons porche. When Peter saw that, he answered vnto the people.

Whe me of Israel, whype maruel ye at this, or whype looke ye so stedfastlye on vs, as though by our owne power or holynes, we had made this man go? The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his son Iesu & whype deliuered and denyed in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged hym to be leuesed. But ye denyed the holy and iust: & and despyed a murderere to be geuen you, and kyllid & the Lord of lyfe, whom God hath rayssed to death. Of the whych we are witnesses. And his name through the faith of hys name, hath made this man sounde: whom ye se & knowe. And the faith whiche is by hym, hath geuen to hym this health in the presence of you al.

And nowe brethien I wote well that through ignorance ye dyd it, as dyd also your heades. But those thynges whiche God before had shewed by the mouth of all hys prophetes, howe that Christ shoulde suffer, he hath thus wylle fulfilled. Repent ye therfore and turne, that your synnes maye be done awaye.

Apostles. Chapter. iii.

When the tyme of refreshing cometh, whych we shall haue of the presence of the Lorde, and when God shall sende hym, whych before was preached vnto you, that is to wytte Iesus Christe, whome heauen must receiue vntill the tyme that all thynges, whiche God hath spoken by the mouth of all hys holpe prophetes since the world began, be restored againe.

For Moyses sayd vnto the fathers. A prophet shall the Lorde your God raise vp vnto you, euen of your brethren lyke vnto me: hym shall ye heare in all thynges, whatsoeuer he shall saye vnto you. And the tyme wyl come, that euery soule, whych shall not heare that same prophete, shalbe destroyed from amonge the people. And so all the prophetes from Samuell and thence forth, as many as haue spoken, haue in like wise tolde of these dayes.

Ye are the chyldren of the prophetes & of the couenant, whych God hath made vnto our fathers, sayynge to Abraham: I am in * thy seed shall all the kynnedes of the earthe be blessed. For as much as you hath God rayssed vp hys sonne Iesus, and hym he hath sent to blesse you, that euery one of you shoulde turne from your wychednes.

The Notes.

(*) That is euen he that spake by Iesu from death vnto lyfe, and by whom all we must lyfe and liue, &c.

The. iii. Chapter.

Peter and John are taken, and brought before the counsaile of the priestes, in whose presence they defende Chylyers cause without all feare: and after they be sore threatened, they be let go. The dyssyples praye vnto god. Many sell theyr possessiones, amonge whom Joses, and Barnabas is mencioned.

As they spake vnto the people, the priestes and the ruler of the temple, and the Saduces came vpon them, takynge it greuouly, that they taught the people and preached in Iesus the resurreccion from death. And layed handes on them, and put them in holde vntill the next daye, for it was nowe euen tyme.

Howe be it, many of them which hearde the wordes, beleued: and the numbre of the men was about foure thousand.

And it chaunced on the morowe, that theyr rulers and elders, & Scribes, as Anas the chiefe prest, and Cayphas, & John and Alexander, and as many as wer of the kynred of the hys priestes, gathered together at Ierusalem, and set them before the sayd: & by what power or in what name haue ye done this spise?

Then Peter full of the holpe ghost, said vnto the: Ye rulers of the people, & eldes of Israel,

Mat. xii. d

Tr. xlii. d. Actes. vi. d.

D. Genes. xlii. d. and. xxi. d.

The Lorde of lyfe.

Saduces.

Exod. xi. d. Mat. xli. d. Actes. vi. d. Peter.

Comune.

The halfe is cured.

Mat. ix. d.

Mat. ix. d. John x. c. Act. v. c.

Mat. xlii. c. Mar. xli. c. Luk. xlii. c. Mat. xlii. c. Jh. xlii. g.

of Israel, if wee this daye are examined of the good dede done to the sicke manne, by what meanes he is made whole, be it knowen vnto pou all. and too all the people of Israel, that in the name of * Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, & whom God raised againe from death, euen by him both this man stande here presente before pou whole. * This is the stone calle aspede of pou buidlers, whych is set in the chiefe place of the corner. Neither is there saluacion in anye other. * For yett also is there anye other name vnder heauen geuen to men wherin we must be saued. †

When they sawe the boldnes of Peter and John, and understood that they were vnlearned men and lay people, they marvelled, and they knewe them, that they were with Iesu: and beholdinge also the man whych was healed standing with the, they could not saye agaynst it. But they commaunded them to go aspede out of the councell, and counselled among themselves, saying: * what shall we do to these men? For a manifeste signe is done by them, and is openly knowen to all the that dwell in Ierusalem, as wee can not denye it. But that it be noised no further amonge the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this name.

And they called them, and commanded them that in no wyse they shuld speake or teache in the name of Iesu. But Peter and John answered to them and sayed: whether it be right in the sight of God to obeye pou more then God, iudge ye. For we can not, but speake that whiche we haue seene and hearde. So they threatened they them and let them go, and found nothing how to punishe them, because of the people. For all men lauded God, for * the miracle whych was done: for the man was aboute fortye yere old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

Asone as they were let go, they came to thei fellows, and shewed all that the hye priestes and elders had sayed to them. And when they hearde that, they lyfte vp thei voices to God wpth one accord, and sayed: Lorde, thou art God whych hast made heauen and earth, the sea and all that in them is, whych by the mouth of thy seruauunt Dauid hast said * Why dyd the Heathen rage and the people imagin vayne thynges? The kynge of the earthe rode vp, and the rulers came together against the lord, and against hye Christe.

For of a truth against thy holy chyld Iesus, whom thou hast annointed, both Herode and also Poncius Pilate, wpth the gentyles and the people of Israel, gathered themselves together, for to do whatsoeuer thy hand and thy counsell determined before too be done. And nowe Lorde, beholde they threateninges, & graunt vnto thy seruantes with all confidence too speake thy word. So þ thou stretch forth thy hand, that healing and signes & wonders be done by the name of the holy chyld Iesus. And asone as they had prayed, the place moued where they were trembled together, & and they were all filled wpth the holpe ghoste, and they spake the worde of God boldly.

And the multitude of them that beleued were * of one herte, and of one soule. Also none of them saied, that any of the thyngs whych he possessed, was hye owne: but had all thynges commune. And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus. And great grace was geuen with the all. Neither was there anye amonge them that lacked. For as many as were possessours of landes, and houses, sold them and brought the pryce of the thynges that were solde, and layed it downe at the Apostles fete. And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede. And * Ioses who was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to saye, the sonne of consolacion) beinge a Leuit, and of the countrey of Cypers, had lande, and solde it, and layed the pryce downe at the Apostles fete.

The Notes.

(a) That is that Iesus was risen, and that all should crye by hym.

The. ii. Chapter.

Ananias falleth downe deade for hydynge parte of hye monny, the Christen fayth is published through many miracles of the Apostles, whych bringe case into prison, are deliuered by the conuall: and bringe before the Councelle are laued through the Gamaliels counsell, and then beinge scourged with rods, bes they praye and worship God.

A Certaine man named Ananias wpth Saphira his wife solde a possession. and kept away parte of the pryce his wyfe also bringe of counsell, & broughte a certaine part, and (a) layd it downe at the Apostles fete. Then saied Peter: Ananias, howe is it, that Sathan hath fylled thyne herte, that thou shouldest lye vnto the holy ghost, and kepe away parte of the pryce of the luelod? Pertained it not vnto the one? and after it was sold, was not the pryce in thyne owne power? How is it that thou hast conceyued this thyng in thyne harte? Thou hast not lied vnto me, but vnto god. When Ananias hearde these words, he fel downe and gaue vp the ghoste. And greafe feare came on all them that hearde these thynges. And the yonge men rose vp, & put hym apart and caried hym out, and buried hym.

And it fortunied as it wer about the space of thre houres after, that hye wyfe came in, ignorant of that whych was done. And Peter sayed vnto hye: Tell me, gaue ye the land for so much? And she sayd. yea, for so muche. Then sayed Peter vnto hye: why haue ye agreed together to tempt the spirit of the Lorde? Behold, the fete of the

Is k k k. l. whiche

Math. i. c.
John. ii. b

Act. xxi. d
psal. cxviii.
mat. xxii. d

Luke. xii. f
Rom. ix. g
Galat. iii. d
1. Pet. ii. e

John. xi. f

Act. v. g.
God is more to be obeyed the man.

Act. ii. b

psal. l. a.

Act. i. f.
Act. ii. a.
and. ix. b.
Act. ii. g
and. v. b.

Commune.

Lore
Act. i. d.

The resur rection in Iesus.

Ananias
and Sa-
phira.

The Actes of the

whiche haue buried thy husband, are at the dore, and shall carpe the oute. Then she fell downe straghtway at hys fete and pelded bp the goft. And the yong men came in and founde hys oead, and carped hit out and bu ried hit bp hys housband. And greate feate came on all the congregacpon, and on as manpe as heard it.

By the handes of the Apostles * we may see many signes and woundes shewed amonge the people: And they were altogether with one accorde in * Salomons porche. And of other durst no man repne hymselfe to the: neuerthelater the people magnified them. The numbze of them that beleued in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more: in so much that they brought the sicke into the stretes, and layd the on beddes and palattes, that at the least way, the shadow of Peter, when he came by, might shadowe some of them. There came also a multitude oute of the cities roundabout vnto Iherusalem, bringgng speke folke, and thein whiche were vexed wpth vn- cleane spirites. And they were healed eu- ery one.

Actes. xii. n. Saduces. * Then the chiefe priest arose vp and all Actes. xii. n. and. xvi. f. they that were wpth him (which is the sect of the Saduces) and were full of indignacion, and layed handes on the Apostles, & putte them in the commune prison. * But the aungell of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and sayed: go sleepe forth, and speake in the temple to the people al the words of this lyfe. When they heard that, they entred in to the temple early in the morning & taught.
The chiefe priest came and they that were wth hym, and called a counsell together, and al the elders of the chyldren of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them. Whe the ministers came and founde them not in the prison, they returned and tolde, sayinge: the prison found we shutte as sure as was possyble, & the keepers standyng without befoze the doores. But when we had opened, we found no man wpthin. Whe the chiefe priest of al, and the ruler of the temple, and the hye priestes heard these thyn-ges they doubted of them, whereunto this would growe.

Then came one and shewed the; beholde the manne that ye put in prison, stande in the temple: And teache the people. Then wente the ruler of the temple with ministers, and brought them without violence. For they feared the people: lest they shoulde haue bene stoned. And when they hadde brought the, they set them before the counsell. And the chief priest asked them saying: *why do not we straightly commaund you that ye should not teache in this name? And behold ye haue filled Iherusalem with your doctrine, and ye intend to bring *this messias bloude vpon vs. Peter & the other Apostles answered & said. We *ought more to obey god, then man. The god of our father raised

Let. it. b.
nat. ex. b. c
Ac. ex. int. b God must be obeyed

Apostles . Chap. vi.

by Iesus whom he slew and hanged on tre-dard hath God lit vp wpyth his right hand to be a ruler and saupour, for to giue repentaunce to Israel, and forgiuenes of syn-nes. And we are hys recoules, concernyng these thyngs, and also the holy ghost, who God hath geuen to them that obey hym.

When they heard that, they claues sundder, and sought meanes to slea them. Then stode there vpon one in the counsell, a pharise named somasael, a doctoure of lawe, had in authoritie amonge all the people, & commaunded to put the Apostles asyde a litle space, and sayd vnto them: Menne of Israell take hede to poure selues what ye entende to do as touchyng these men. Before these dayes rose vpon one Theudas boastyng himselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, aboute a foure hundred: which was slayne, and they all whych he beleued hym were scattered abroad, and broughte to nought. After this man arose there vpon one Judas of Galilee in the tyme when tribute began, and drew awaie much people after hym. He also perished, and al euery as manye as hatched to him, are scattered abroad. And nowe I say vnto pou: refrain your selues from these men, let them alone.
For if the counsell of this worke be of me, it will come to nought: But and if it be of God, ye can not deliuer it least happelye ye be found to stryue agaynst God. And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles, and beate them, and commaunded that they shoulde not speake in the name of Jesu, and let them goo.

And they departed from the counsell * cecopsing that they were counted worthe to suffer rebuke for his name. And daily in the temple and in every house they ceased not, teaching and preaching Jesus Christ.

• The Notes.

(A) By the exchange of his money at the apostles feet, he would have bene counted to be one of the Christian congregation, and that one of the chiefe. But in the holdenng parte abacke, he declared utterly what he was, that is subtil, and an hypocrite, mistrustynge the holy ghost: whyche thing because Peter would in no case should be used amonge that sort, therfore punysshed he it so earnestly.

The. ix. Chapter.

Because a grudge role aming the Frekes, for that they woldow as were neglected, the Apostles chose seven men, and appointe them the offce of that ministry. Among whom Stephan worketh wonders, and is therfore tea-hin, and brought before the counsaile of the pastes, and is accused of the breache of Moses law.

In those dayes as þ number of the dyscyples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Brekes against the Hebrews, because they (a) wydowes were despyed in the daylye ministracion. Then the twelve called the myltitude of the dyscyples together and said: it is not mete that we should leaue the woord of God, and serue at the tables

Act. 111.4
Bamaleri

ἡγευδᾶς.

Luke xix. 41.
 Judas the Iscariot.

36.44.0

~~Ref. b. b~~

Zinnias
Galphita

The Actes of the apostles Chap. vii. Fo. 1b.

1. Tim. iii. 1
Scuf deas
rons.

1 Peter. v. 6

1 Peter. v. 6
1. Tim. i. 6
u. Tim. i. 6

1 Peter. v. 6
1. Tim. i. 6
u. Tim. i. 6

1 Peter. v. 6
1. Tim. i. 6
u. Tim. i. 6

1 Peter. v. 6
1. Tim. i. 6
u. Tim. i. 6

tables. Wherefore brethren, looke ye oute among you such men as of honest repute, and full of the holpe ghoste and wisdom, whiche we may appoint to this needful busines. But we will geue out selues continually to prayer, and to the ministracion of the word. And sayinge pleased the whole multitude. And they chose Stephan a man full of fapth and of the holpe ghoste, & Philip and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Hermenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioch. Whiche they set before the apostles, and they prayed and (b) laid thei handes on them.

And the word of God increased, and the numbze of the discipples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly, and a greete company of the priestes were obedyent to the fapth. And Stephane full of fapth and power, dyd great wonders and miracles among the people. Then arose certayne of the Synagoge, whiche are called Libertines and Cyrenites, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and Asia, and dysputed with Stephan. And they could not resist the wisdom, and the spirit, with whiche he spake. Then sente they in men whiche said: wee haue heard him speake blasphemous wordes agaynst Moyses, and agaynst God. And they moued the people and the elders and the scribes: and came vpon him and caught him, and brought hym to the counsell, and broughte forth the false witness whiche said: This manne ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes agaynst this holpe place and the lawe, for we herd hym saye: this Iesus of Nazareth shall destruy the place, and shall chaunce the ordinaunces whiche Moyses gaue vs. And all that sate in the Counsell, looked stedfastly on hym, and sawe hym face, as it had bene the face of an angell.

The Notes.

(a) That is, not indifferently looked vpon in the darly distybutyng of the comune goodes.
(b) That is, admyttinge with an open signe, them that were by the whole congregacion chosen to anye office, to declare openly they callunge. After this sorte were handes layed on Paule and Barnabas, when they were sent to preache, as is mencioned in the xlii. of this booke in. a. where appeareth that they receyued not the holpe ghoste by this puttinge on of handes: for they were before endued with the holpe ghoste.

The vii. Chapter.

Stephan pleadyng his cause before the Councyll, sheweth that God is pleased with fapth, not with Ceremonies, and that he is conuersant with good menne, withoute any tabernacle. Wherefore he hadde not trespassid agaynst the holpe place, nor agaynst God. But whyle the Jewes cryed for oute agaynst hym, he is doned to death.

Then sayed the chiefe priest: is it euen so? And he sayd: men, brethren and fathers hearken to. The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, whyle he was yet in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran, and said to him, * come out of thy countrey and from thy kynrede, and come into the land which I shal shewe thee. Then came he out of the land of Chaldey, and dwelt in Charran. And after that, as soon as his father was dead, he brought him into this land, in whiche ye now dwell, and he gaue him none inheritance in it, no not the bredth of a foote, but promysed that he woulde geue to him to possesse and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no chyldre.

* God verely spake on this wise that his seede shoulde be a dweller in a straunge land, and that they shoulde kepe them in bondage and entreate them euill foure hundred yeres. But the nacyon to whiche they shalbe in bondage, will I iudge, sayed God. And after that shall they come forth and serue me in this place. And he * gaue him the couenaunt of circumcision. And he begatte Isaac, and circumcised him the eight day: and Isaac begat Jacob, & Jacob the twelue Patriarkes.

* And the patriarkes hauing indignacy on, sold Joseph into Egypt. And god was with him, and deliuered him oute of all his aduersities, and gaue hym fauoure & wisdom in the sight of Pharaos kinge of Egypt, whiche made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer all his householde.

Then * came there a deth over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, that our fathers founde no succour. But when Jacob heard that there was come in Egypt, he sente oure fathers first. And at the * seconde tyme, Joseph was knowe of his brethren, and Joseph kynred was made knowne vnto Pharaos. Then sent Joseph and caused his father to be broughte and all his kyn, thre scoore and thre soules. And * Jacob descended into Egypt, and dyed, both he and oure fathers, and were translated into Sichem, and were put in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for money of the sons of Hamor and Sichem.

* When the tyme of the promysed due me (whiche God had sworne to Abraham), the * people grewe and multiplied in Egypt, another kynge arose whiche knewe not of Joseph. The same dealt subtilly with our kynrede, and euill entreated oure fathers, and made them to cast out their yong chyldren, that they shoulde not remayne aluie. The same tyme was Moyses borne, & was a proper chyldre in the sight of God, which was nourished by in his fathers house. In moneths. When he was cast out, Pharaos daughter toke him by, and nourished hym by for his owne son. And Moyses was learned in all maner wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in dedes & in wordes.

And when he was full forty yere olde, it came into his hert to byset his brethren the chyldren of Israel. And when he sawe one of the suffer wrong, he defended him &

Gen. xii.

Gen. xv. 5.

Gen. xvi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9
1 Gen. xxi. 9

The Actes of the

auenged hys quarell that had the harme done to hym, and smote the Egyptian.

For he supposed hys brethren would haue vnderstande howe that God by hys handes shoulde saue them. But they vnderstood not.

D And the nexte daie he shewed hym selfe vnto them as they * stroue, and wold haue set them at one agayne, sayinge: Spies, ye are brethren, why hurte ye one another? But he that dyd hys neghbour wronge, thrust hym awaye sayinge: ¶ who made the a ruler and a iudge among vs? What wilt thou saye to me, as thou dydest the Egyptian pester daie? Then sate Moses at that sayinge, and was a straunger in the land of Madian, wher he begat two sonnes.

* And when xl. yeares were expired, there appeared to hym in the wyldeynes of mount Sina, an aungell of the Lord in a flame of fyre in a bush. When Moses sawe it he woundred at the syghte. And as he drew neare to beholde, the voyce of the lord came vnto hym, * I am the God of thy fathers, the god of Abraham, the god of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Moses trembled and durst not beholde. Then sayd the Lorde to hym: * put off thy shoes from thy feete, for the place wher thou standest, is holy ground: I haue perfectely sene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt. * I haue hearde thepyrming, and am come downe to deliuer them. And now come, and I wyl send the into Egypte.

E These Moses whom they forsoke sayinge: * who made the a ruler and a iudge? the same god sente both a ruler and a deliuerer by the handes of the aungell, whiche appeared to hym in the bush. * And the same broughte them out, shewyng wonders and signes in Egypte, and in the red sea and in the wilderness. ¶ xl. yeares this is that Moses whiche spake vnto the children of Israell: A prophet shall the Lorde poure God rapse vp vnto you of your brethren lyke vnto me, hym that ye heare.

* This is he that was in the congregacyon, in the wyldeynes wth the aungell whiche spake to hym in the mount Sina, and with our fathers. This manne receyued the word of lpe to geue vnto vs, to whom our fathers coulde not obbey, but caste it from them, and in thepyr hertes turned backe agayne into Egypte, sayinge vnto Aaron: * make vs gods to go before vs. For this Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypte, we wote not what is become of hym. And they made a calfe in those daies and offered sacrifices vnto the image, and reioysed in the workes of theyr owne handes. Then god couned hym selfe * & gaue the by that they should worship the starres of the skye, as it is written in the booke of the prophetes. Ope off the house of Israell:

* gaue ye to me sacrifices and meate offerings by the space of xl. yere in the wilderness: And yete vnto you the tabernacle of a Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them. And I wil translate you beyond Babylon.

Apostles. Chap. viii.

Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appoynted them * speakinge vnto Moses, that they shoulde make it accordyng vnto the fashion that he had sene. Wher the tabernacle our fathers receyued and brought it in with Iesue into the possession of the Gentils, whiche God draue out before the face of our fathers vnto the tyme of * Dauid. Whiche founde fauour before god, and desired that he myght find a tabernacle for the god of Jacob. But Salomon built him an house.

Howbeit he that is higest of al, dwelleth not in temples made with handes, as sayeth the prophet: Heauen is my seate, & earth is my fote stole, what house wyl ye build for me sayeth the lord: or what place is that I should rest in: hath not my hand made al these thynges.

Ye styfnecked, and of vncircumcised hertes and eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holpe * govt. as your fathers dyd, so do ye. Whiche of the prophetes haue not your fathers persecuted? And they haue slayned the, whiche shewed before of the commynge of that iust whom ye haue now betrayed & murdered. And ye also haue receyued a lawe ¶ by the ordinaunce of aungels, and haue not kept it.

When they hearde these thynges, they heretys claue a sunder, and they gnawed on him with theyr teth. But he beinge full of the holy geist, looked vp stedfastly with his eyes into heauen, and sawe the glory of God, & Iesus standinge on the right hand of God, & sayd: beholde, I see the heauens open, & the son of man standyng on the righthand of god. Then they gaue a shout wth a lowde voyce & stopped theyr eares, & ran vpon him al at once, and cast him out of the cite and stoned him. And the witnesses layed downe theyr clothes at a yonge mans fete named Saule. & they stoned Stephen callinge on & sayinge Lord Iesu receiue my spirit. And he kneeled downe & cryed wth a lowde voyce: Lord * lay not this speme to theyr charge. And whyle he had thus spoke, he fel a slepe. ¶ The Notes.

(a) That is to say men and women, as in Gen. se. xii. b. and. xlii. b. This is expounded in Act. viii. a.

The viii. Chapter.

¶ Whyle the faithfull mourne for Stephen, Saule wasteth the congregacion. Whylippe preacheth the Gospel in Samaria, to whom the Apostles go and obtayne the holy govt for those that beleue. The couetousnes of Simon Magus. Philp instructeth in the faith, and baptiseth the Ethiopian whiche was the Eunuch of Quene Candace.

Saule * had pleasure in hys death. And at that tyme there was a greate persecucion against the congregacion whiche was at Exod. xxi. d. Iob. viii. b. Ioh. iii. c.

1. Reg. xvi. c. 2. Sam. vii. c. 1. Sam. xvi. c. 1. 2. Sam. vii. c.

God dwelleth not in temples or churches made with handes.

Isa. xlii. c. Deu. x. b.

Thom. vii. d. Actes. xv. b.

Psalm. xlii. c. 1. 2. Sam. vii. c.

Psalm. xlii. c. 1. 2. Sam. vii. c.

Saule

Soules. Moloch.

Act. xxi. b. Saule.

Math. x. c. at Jerusalem, and they were at * scattered Actes ii. g. abroad throughout the regions of Iury & Samaria, excepte the Apostles. Then de-Math. x. c. vout men dressed Stepha, and made great xxii. a. xvi. lamentacion ouer hym. But Saul made & Galat. i. c. hauoke of the congregacion, entyrng into every house, and drew oute both man and woman, and thrust them into pryson. The that were scattered abroad, wente euery wher preachyng the word. Then came Philip into a ctyte of Samaria, and preached Christe vnto the. And the people gaue hede vnto those thynges, whych Philip spake, with one accord, in that they heard & sawe miracles whiche he dyd. For unclean spi-rites cryng with loude voice, came oute of manye that were possessed of them. And manye taken wth palseis, and manye that halted, were healed.

Simon And there was greatesoye in the ctyte.
Magus. And there was a certayne man called Symon, whiche before tyme in the same ctyte used witchcraft, and bewtyched the people of Samaria, sayinge that he was a ma that coude do great thynges: whome they regarded from the lest to the greatest, sayinge: this fellow is the great power of god.
And hym they set muche by: because that of longe tyme he had mocked them wth sorcery. But assone as they beleued Philip's preachyng of the kyngdome of God, and of the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptysed both men and women. Then Simon hymselfe beleued also and was baptysed, and contynued wth Philip, and wondered beholdyng the miracles and signes whych were shewed.

C When the Apostles whych were at Jerusalem heard say, that Samaria had recey-ued the worde of God, they sente vnto the Peter and John. Whych when they were come, prayed for them that they myght receyue the holpe ghoste. For as yet he was come on none of them, but they were baptised only in the name of Jesus Christ. * And they layed theyr handes on them (a), and they receyued the holy ghost.

Be. vi. b. xii. When Simon saw that thorow layinge Actes. viii. b. on of the apostles handes on them, the ho-
ond. v. c. ly ghost was geuen, he offered them mony, Actes. viii. d. sayng: Geue me also this power, that on
u. ciii. i. b. whomsoever I put the handes, he may receyue the holy ghost. Then sayd Peter vnto him: thy money perissheth with the, because thou wouldest that the gyfte of God may be obtayned wth mony. Thou hast neyther part nor felowshyppe in this busynes. For thy herte is not right in the sight of God.
Repent therfore of this thy wyckednes, and praye God that the thoughte of thyne herte may be forgiven the. For I perceiue that thou art full of bitter gall and wrapped in iniquyte.

D Then answered Simon, and sayed: &
Er. viii. b. praye ye to the Lorde for me, that none of Ro. viii. b. these thynges which ye haue spoken fall on
iii. c. xiii. b. me. And they when they had testyfyed and preached the worde of the Lorde, returned toward Jerusalem, and preached the Gospel in many ctytes of the Samaritans.

* Then the aungell of the Lorde spake unto Philip sayng: aryse and go Southward vnto the way that goeth doune from Jerusalem vnto Gaza, whych is in the desert. And he rose and went on. And beholde a man of Ethiopia, whych was a chamber-layne, and of great authoryte wth Candace quene of the Ethiopians, and hadde the rule of all hit treasure & came to Jerusalem for to praye. And as he turned home agayne, syttinge in hys charet, he read & sayd the prophet.

Then the spryit said to Philip: So nere and opne thy selfe to ponder characte. And Philip ran to hym, and heard hym reade the prophet Esaias, and sayd: Understandest thou what thou readeest? And he sayd: howe can I except I had a gyde? And he despyed Philip, that he wold come by and sit with him. The tenoure of the scripture whych he red, was this. * He was led as a shepe to be slayne, and lyke a lambe dourbe before hys shear, so opened he not hys mouth.
Because of hys b. humblenes, he was not esteemed: who shall declare hys generacyon? for hys lyfe is taken from the earth. The chamberlayne answered Philip and said:
I pray the of whom speakest thou prophet this? of hym selfe, or of some other man?

And Philip opened hys mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached vnto hym Jesus. And as they wente on theyr way, they came vnto a certayn water, and the chamberlayne sayd: Se here is water, I what shall I let me to be baptysed? Philip said vnto hym: If thou beleue with al thine hert, thou mayest. He answered and said:
I beleue that Jesus Christ is the sonne of God. And he commaunded the charette to stand still: And they went doune both into the water, both Philip and also the cham-berlayne, and he baptysed hym. And assone as they were come out of the water, the spi-rite of the Lorde caught away Philip, that the chamberlayne sawe him no more. And he went on hys way reioysyng: but Philip was found at Azotus. And he walked tho-row out the countrey preachyng in their ctytes, tyll he came to Cesaria. &

The Notes.

(a) That is, the holpe ghost dyd manifestly and vysibly appare upon them, as he dyd vpon the Apostles themselves as is mentyoned in the seconde of this booke. This was not by the ver-tue of the laying on of handes: but by the power of God, who wold so declare the inuisible grace of the spryit, whych he geueth to al them that beleue in the name of Christ, and professe the same, and to establishe them in the fayth of the holy ghost, who was not before preachyd vnto them.

The ix. Chapter.

C Saul going toward Damascus to take the Christians, is Orphen of the Lorde, and baptysed in the name of Christ, by Ananias.

Book. viii. fol. lvi.

He is deliuered from the Jewes, beinge let downe ouer the wall in a basket, he is compelled also at Jerusalem to hyde hym fro the crueltie of the persecutores. Peter healeth Enecas of the palsy, restoreth Lycopas to life agayne, and is lodged at Joppa wpth Silmon the Tanner.

was comforted.

Then was Saule certayne daies wpth the disciples, which wer at Damasco. And straightway he preached Christe in the synagoges, how that he was the son of god. All that heard hym were amased and sayd: Is not this he which spoiled the whiche called on hys name at Jerusalem, & came hither for the intent that he should bringe the bound vnto the hys priestes? But Saul increased in strength, and confounded the Jewes whiche dwelte at Damasco, aspying that this was very Christ.

And after a good while, the Jewes toke counsell together to kyll hym. But they laying awaite was knowne of Saule. And they watched at the gates day and night to kyll hym, & then the disciples toke him by night, and put him thowowe the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

And when Saule was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to couple him selfe with the disciples, and they wer all afrayd of him, & beleued not that he was a discypple. But Barnabas toke hym and broughte him to the Apostles and declared to them howe he had sene the Lord in the waye, and hadde spoken with hym, and howe he hadde done boldely at Damasco in the name of Iesu. And he had hys conuersacion with them at Hierusalem, and quit him selfe boldly in the name of the lord Iesus. And he spake and disputed with the Grekes, and they wente about to steale him. But when the brethren knewe of that, they broughte him to Cesaria, and sente him forth to Tharsus. Then had the congregacions rest thorow out of Jewry and Galile, and Samarie, and wer edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and multiplied by the comforte of the holpe ghesse.

And it chaunced that as peter walked thowow eue all quarters, he came to the saintes which dwelt at Lydda, and there he found a certain man named Enecas, which had kepte hys bed eight yere speke of the palsey. Then said Peter vnto him: Enecas, Iesus Christe make the whole. Arise, and make thy bedde. And he rose immediatly. And all that dwelt at Lydda and Asaron, saw hym, and turned to the Lord.

Then was at Joppa a certayne woman (whiche was a discipple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas) the same was full of good workes and almes dedes, which she dyd. And it chanced in those daies that she was speke and dyed. When they hadde washed hyr and layed hyr in a chamber: Because Lydda was nyete to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that peter was there, they sent vnto hym, desiring him that he would not be greued to come vnto them.

Peter arose and came with them, & when he was come, they broughte him into the chamber. And all the widowes stood round aboute hym weeping, and shewing the coates Galat. 1. 6.

Deu. viii. 8.
Leuit. 19. 27.
1. Cor. xii. 8.
Galat. 1. 6.

Saule is converted
Act. 9. 11. 12.

Luke. 11. 14.
Actes. 11. 1.
and. xv. 1.

Ananias,

Actes. xxi. 9.
and. xxi. 9.

Act. viii. 8.
and. xv. 1.
Galat. 1. 6.

Actes. xxi. 9.
1. Cor. xii. 8.
Act. xxi. 9.

And Saule yet breathing out threate nyng and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, wente vnto the hys priestes, and desired of him letters to Damasco to the synagoges, that if he founde any of this waye whether they were men or women, he might bringe them bound vnto Jerusalem. But as he wente on his journey, and was come nye to Damasco, suddenly ther shyned round about him a light from heauen, and he fell to the earth, and hearde a voice sayinge too him. * Saule, Saule, whye persecutest thou me? And he said: what art thou Lord? And the Lord said: I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it shalbe hard for the to kicke agaynst the pricke. And he both trembling and astonied, sayd: * Lord, what wilt thou haue me to do? And the Lord said vnto him: arise, and go into the city, and it shalbe told the what thou shalt do.

Then the men which journeyed with him, stode amased for they hearde a voice, but saw no man. And Saul arose fro the earth, and opened his eyes, but sawe no man. The led they hym by the hand and broughte hym into Damasco. And he was .iii. daies without sight, and neither eat nor dranke. And there was a certayne discipple at Damasco, named Ananias, and to him said the lord in a vision: Ananias.

And he said: beholde, I am here Lord. And the Lord sayd vnto him: arise, & go into the street, which is called straight, and seke in the house of Judas, after one called Saul, of Tharsus. For behold he prayeth, and hath sene in a vision, a manne named Ananias, commung in to him, and putting his handes on him, that he might receiue his sight.

Then Ananias answered: Lord, I haue heard by manne of this man, & howe much euil he hath done to thy (a) saintes at Jerusalem, and here he hath authorite of the hys priestes to binde all that call on thy name. The Lord said vnto him: go thy wayes: for he is a chosen vessel vnto me, to beate my name before the gentiles and kinges, and the chyldren of Israel. For I wyl shew him how great thinges he must suffer for my names sake.

* Ananias went his way and entred into the house, and put hys handes on him, and said: brother Saul, the Lord that appered vnto the in the waye as thou camest, hath sente me, that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holpe gose. And immediatly ther fel from his eyes as it had bene scales, and he receyued sight, & arose and was baptised, and receyued meat and persecu-ted.

Saule is
1. Cor. xii. 8.
1. Re. xii. 6.
2

Act. xxi. 9.

Enecas.
Act. ix. 8.
marke ii. 10.
Luke. v. 18.
Job. v. 6.
Act. iii. 6.

Tabitha.
Dorcas.

act. x. v. a
act. x. vi. f.
luke. vii. c Sapnets.

coates and garments, which Dorcas made while she was with them. And Peter putte them all forth, and kneeled doune and praised, and touned him to the body, and sayd: Tabitha * arise. And she opened hir eyes, & when she sawe Peter, she saie vp. And he gaue hyr the hande and lyft hyr vp, and called the Sapnets and widdowes, & shewed hyr aliue. And it was knowne thowowte all Joppa, and manye beleued on the lord. And it fortuned that he taried many dayes in Joppa with one Simon a Tanner.

The Notes.

(a) In the scripture, all suche are called Sapnets, as doo be true and truste the promyses of God, and frame theyr lyuing to the rule of gods holpe worde. And all such are sainctes, even while they per lyue on the earth. It needeth not therfore to saye for the popes canonizacyn to make them sapnets an hundred yeares after theyr death.

The .x. Chapter.

Cornelius the Centurion at the aungeth bydding sendeth for Peter, who is taught by a vyson that God sheweth hym, not to despyse the Gentyle. Wherfore he goeth and preacheth Chrystes Gospel to Cornelius and his household. Whiche after they receyue the holpe ghoſte, are baptysed.

Cornelius.

There was a certaine man in Cesaria, called Cornelius, a Capitaine of the souldyers of Italye, a deuout man, & one that feared God with al his household, which gaue almes to the people, and praised God alway. The same man saw in a vyson evidently aboute the nyynth houre of the day, an angell of God commyng vnto him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius. Whē he looked on him, he was affraid and sayd: what is it Lorde? He saied vnto hym. (a) Thy prayers and * al thy almeses at come vp into remembraunce before God.

And now send inenne to Joppa, and call for one Simon named also Peter. He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side. He shall tell the what thou oughtest to do. When the angell whych spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his household seruantes, and a deuout souldier of the that waited on him, and told them all the matter, and sent them to Joppa.

On the morow as they wente on theyr iorney, and drew nye vnto the cite, Peter went vp into the top of the house to praye aboute the sixt houre. Then were he an hongred, and would haue eaten. But whil they made ready, he fel into a traunce, and saw heauen opened: and a certayne vessel come doune vnto him as it had ben a great sheet knit at the foure corners, and was let down to the earth, wherein were * al maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, & beestmen and womnes, and foules of the ayer. And there came a voyce to him: ryse Peter, kyl and eate. But Peter sayed: God forbiddeth Lorde, for I haue neuer eaten anye thyng that is comen oz vncleane: And the

act. x. d.
Deu. xii. a.
Peters vii.
pon.

voice spake vnto him agayne the seconde time: what God hath cleensed that make thou not comen. This was done thysse, and the vessel was receyued by agayne into heauen.

Whyle Peter mused in himselfe, what this vyson whych he had sene, meant: beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquirance for Simons house, and stode before the doore. And called out one and ased whether Simon whych was also called Peter, were lodged there. Whyle Peter thought on thys vyson, the spyt sayed vnto him: Beholde men seke the, arrie therfore, get the doune, and goe with them, and doute not, for I haue sent them. Peter went doune to the men, which were sente vnto him from Cornelius, and sayd: Behold, I am he whom ye seke, what is the cause wherfore ye are come? And they sayed vnto him: Cornelius the capitaine, a iust man and one that feareth God, and of good repute amonge all the people of the Jewes, was warned by an holy angel to sende for the into his house, and to hear wordes of the. Then called he them in, and lodged them.

And on the morow Peter wente awape wpyth them, and * certayne brethren from Joppa accompanied hym. And the thyrde daye entred they into Cesaria. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kynsmen, and speccial frendes. And as it chaunced Peter to come in, Cornelius met hym, and fell doune at his fete, and worshipped him. But Peter toke him vp, sayinge: stand vp & for euen I my selfe am a man. And as he talked with hym, he came in, and found manye that were come togther. And he said vnto them: Ye know how that * it is an vnlawfull thyng for a man that is a Jewe, to companie oz come vnto an aliaunt: but God hath shewed me that I should not call anye man comen, oz vncleane: Therfore came I vnto you wpythout sayinge naye, as soone as I was sente for. Nare therfore, for what intent haue ye sente for me?

And Cornelius sayed: Thys day now four dayes I fasted, and at the nyynth houre I prayed in my house, and beholde, a man stode before me in bryght clothynge, & said: Cornelius, thy prayer is hearde, and thyne almes deedes are had in remembraunce in the sight of God. Sende therfore to Joppa, and call for Simon which is also called Peter. He is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner by the sea syde, the whych as soon as he is come, shall speake vnto the. Then sente I, for the immediatlye, & thou hast well done for to come. Nowe are we here present before God, to heare all thynges that are commaunded vnto the of god. The Peter opened his mouth & saied. Of a truth, I perceiue that * God is not parciall, but in all people he that feareth him & worketh rightuousnes, is accepted with him.

Is k k k. iii. Ye

act. x. d.
act. x. d.

act. x. d.

act. x. d.
act. x. d.
act. x. d.

act. x. d.

act. x. d.

act. x. d.
act. x. d.
act. x. d.
act. x. d.

The Actes of the 1870. 1871. 1872.

 1873. 1874. 1875.
 1876. 1877. 1878.

8
 Chap. 1st. c.

Re. xxi. b
John. xxi. b
mar. xxi. b
mar. xvi. b.
Luc. xxi. f
mich. vii. b Apth is the temis-
tis of sin-
nes.
Actes. ii. a.
The holpe
ghost commeth with outlaping
on of ban-
des.

The Sates.

CHAPTER 1
RINGS,

These menne conspice not the doctrine of Paul, whiche is, what loue woche it be, that proceedeth not of faich, is synne in the syghte of God. No remedy therfore, Cornelius must needs haue saueh before he coulde do anye woche that myght be acceptable in the syght of God.

The n. Chapter.

✠ Peter began accused forgoing to the gentiles, especially hymselfe. Barnabas is sent to Antioch, where first the faithful receive the name of Christians. Agabus prophesied to them of a dearth to come.

Apostles, Chapter. xi.

And the Apostles & the brethren that were thoroughout Jewry, heard saie, that the Heathen had also receiued the worde of G D D: And when Peter was come vnto Hierusalem, they of the circumcision reasoned with him, sayinge. ¶ Thou wentest into men vn-circumcised, and eatest with them.

Then peter beganne and expounded the thing in order to them, saying. * I was in the cite of Toppa prayinge, and in a traunce I sawe a vpspon, a certayne vessel descend, as it had ben a large linnen cloth, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to mee. Into the whiche when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered and sawe foure foted beastes of þe earth and vermin, wormes. and foules of þe aier. And I hearde a voice saying vnto me: arise peter, slay and eat. And I said: God forbid. For he said: for nothinge is common or vncleane, hath as anpe tyme entred into my mouth. But the voyce answered mee agayne from heauen, count not thou those things common, which God hath cleensed. And it was done thre tymes. And al was taken vp agayne into heauen.

And behold, immediatly there were in-men come vnto the house wher I was, sent from Cesaria vnto me And the spirit saied vnto me, that I Would go with them, without doubting. Moreover, these six brethren companied me: and wee entred into the mans house And he shewed vs how he had seene an aungell in his house, whiche stode and saied to him: Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, named also Peter:
he shall tell the wordes, wherby both thou and all thyne house shall be saured. And as I began to preach, the holy ghost fel on thē, as he did on vs at the beginninge.

Then came to remembre the woꝛdes of the Loꝛde, how he said: ꝛ John baptised with water, but ye shalbe baptised with the holy ghost. For as muche then as God gaue them lyke gistes, as he did vnto vs whē we beleued on slood Iesus Christ, what was it, that it shold haue withstand God? When they hearde this, they helde their peace, and glorified God, saying: the hath God also to the Gentyles graunted repentance vnto lyfe.

They which were scattered abroad thow row the affliction that rose about Stephā, walked thow out tyll they came to Ihe nices and Cipres, and Antioche, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto the Jewes only. Some of them were men of Cppers & Syrzene, whpche when they were come in to Antioche, he spake too the Grekes, and preached the Lorde Iesus. And the hande of the Lorde was wpth them, and a greate numbie beleued and tourned to the Lorde.

Expenditures of these ethnographies came to the

Barnabas sent to Antioche. Actes. xlii. 2 Barnabas baseth Paule.
 eares of the congregacion whiche was at Hierusalem And they sente forth Barnabas, that he should go vnto Antioche. Whych when he was come, and had sene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all that with purpose of herte they would continually cleaue vnto the Lorde. For he was a good man, and full of the holy ghost, and of fapth, & muche people was added vnto the Lorde. Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus for to seke Saule. And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antioche. And it chaunced that a whole yere they had their conuersacion with the congregacion there, and taught much people, in so muche that the discipples of Antioche were the first that were called Christians.

1. cor. xvi. 8
 11. cor. viii.
 and. 17. d.

In those dayes came Prophetes from Hierusalem vnto Antioch. And there stode vp one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the spirit that ther should be great dearth thorowout all the world, which came to passe in the Emperour Claudius dayes. Then the discipples euery man accordynge to hys abilitie, purposed to send succour vnto the brethren, which dwelt in Jewrye. Whiche thing they also did, and sent it to the elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saule.

The Notes.

(a) The Jewes called that commune, the eating wherof they were forbidden in the old law, because it was accompted vnpure and vncleane.

The. xii. Chapter.

Herode slayeth James with the swerde, and casteth Peter in prison, whiche is deliuered by the aungell. The hyngs displeasure whych he toke with the Tyrians and Sidonians, is appeased, but when he taketh vpon hym the honour due to God, he dyeth all to be eaten with wormes.

Mat. xlii. e
and. xviij. a James &
brother of John is killed.
Peter is
taken.
Quaterni
ons of soldours is four companies of souldy-
ers.
Actes. v. b

In that tyme Herode the kyng stretched forth hys handes to bere certayne of the congregacion. And he killed James brother of John with the swerde: and because he saw that it pleased the Jewes, he proceeded forther and toke Peter also. Then were the dayes of swete breade. And when he hadde caught hym, he put hym in prison, and deliuered him to foure quarters of souldyers to be kepte, intending after easter to bring hym forth to the people. Then was Peter kept in prison. But prayer was made without ceasinge of the congregacion vnto God for hym. And when Herode wold haue brought him out to the people, the same nyght slept Peter between two souldyers bound with chaines, and the keepers before the doore kept the prison.

Peter is
lewled.

And beholde, the aungell of the Lorde was there presente, and a lyght shined in the lodge. And he smote Peter on the syde, and stered hym vp, saying: aryse vp quickly. And hys chapnes fell of from hys handes. And the aungell sayed vnto hym: gyde thy selfe and bynd on thy sandales. And so he did. And he sayed vnto hym: caste thy mantle aboute the, and folowe me. And he came out and folowed hym, and wist not that it was truthe whiche was dore by the aungell, but thought he had sene a visyon. When they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the prison gate, that leadeth vnto the cytie, whiche opened to them by his owne accorde. And they went out and passed by thorow one strete: and by and by the aungell departed from hym.

And when Peter was come to himselfe, he sayed. Howe I knowe of a surety, that the Lorde hath sent hys aungell, and hath deliuered me out of the hande of Herode, and from all the wapyng for of the people of the Jewes. And as he considered the thyng, he came to the house of Marpe the mother of one John, whiche was called Marke also, where manye were gathered together in prayer. As Peter knocked at the entry doore, a damsel came forth to harken, named Rhode, when she knewe Peters voice, she opened not the entry for gladnes, but ran in and tolde howe Peter stode before the entree. And they sayed vnto her: thou art mad. And she bare the downe that it was euen so. Then said they: it is hys aungell. But Peter continued knocking. And when they had opened the doore, and saw hym, they were astonied. And he benched vnto them with the hande to holde the peace, and tolde them by what meanes the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he sayed: goo, shew thesethynges vnto James and to the brethren. And he departed and went into another place.

Assone as it was daye, ther was no lytle ado amonge the souldyers, what was become of Peter. When Herode had called for hym, and founde hym not, he examyned the keepers, and commaunded them to be carried awaye. And he descended from Jewry to Cesarea and ther abode. Herode was displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon. And they came all at once, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kyngs chamberlen, and desired peace, because their country was nourished by the kynges lande. And vpon a daye appointed, Herod arrayed hym in royal apparel, and set hym in hys seate, and made an oracion vnto them. And the people gaue a shout, sayinge: it is the voice of a God, and not of a man. And immediately the aungell of the Lorde smote hym, because he gaue not God the glory, and he was eaten of wormes, & gaue vp the ghost. And the worde of God grewe and multiplied. And Barnabas and Paule returned to Hierusalem, when they hadde fulfilled their offyce, and tooke with them John whych was also called Marke.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The spirit commaundeth to take out Paul and Barnabas for hys purpose, whiche go o Sandales at soles to be bounde vnder the fete.

Actes. v. d
and. xvi. f

This John is y laine Marke & wryt the Gospel of Marke.
Actes. i. d

Actes. xlii. e.

Herode is slayn and eaten of wormes.
John is Marke
the Euan-gelist.
Actes. xlii. e

of in the Prophetes: Behold ye despylers, and wonder, and perishe ye: for I do a work in your dayes, whiche ye shal not beleue, if a man would declare it pou.

When they were come out of the Synagoge of the Jewes, the gentyles besoughte that they would preache these wordes to them on the Saboth folowynge. When the congregacion was broken vp, many of the Jewes and vertuouse Conuerteres folowed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to the people and exhorted them to continue in the grace of god. And the next Saboth day came almost the whole cite together to hear the word of God. When the Jewes sawe the people, they were full of indignacion, and spake against those thynges whiche were spoken of Paul, speaking against it, and railing on it. Then Paul and Barnabas were bold, and said: it was mete that the word of God should first haue bene preached to you. But seynge ye putte it from you, and thinke your selues vnworthy of euerglastynge lyfe, lo, we turne to the Gentyles: For so hath the Lord commanded vs. * I haue made the a lyght to the Gentyles. & thou be the saluacion to the ende of the world.

The Gentyles hearde and were glad, & glorified the word of the Lord, and beleued, euen as many as were ordeyned vnto eternall lyfe. And the worde of the Lord was published thorowoute all the region. But the Jewes moued the worshipfull & honorable women, and the chiefe men of the cite, and raised persecucion agaynst Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coastes. And they * toke of the dust of theyr feete against them, and came vnto Iconium. And the discipples were filled with ioye, and wylth the holy ghost.

The Notes.

Prophetes (a) Loke after in the xii Chapter. & (b) Loke before in the vi. Chapter. But theyr handes. (c) That is by interpretacion, Jesus son. This name hadde thys forer gotten to blynde the world wythal. As now our sorcerers and conuincers when they go to worke: they fall to crosseynge and praynge wylth all helpe wordes, to deceyue the people wythall, to make them beleue that they rather talke wylth god then wylth the Deuyl. Thys sorcerers name was Elimas, by interpretacion, sayth & tert, whych as Cras. affirmeth in his Paraphrases) souerth as much in the wyll as a great & falsse Prophet. Barnabu. (d) Of the name of Paul doo many dyspute: but the mooste allowed oppynion is, that of the hebreus he was call. d Paul, and after the maner of speache of the Gentyles and Romaynes he was called Paul. Paul. (e) These peaces muste be reherbed from theyr commynge out of Egypt. & so. xii not from their synn iudge. Jud. i.

The xiiii. Chapter.

Although an vprore of the Jewes, Paul and Barnabas are driven from Iconium. Paul healeth a lame man at Listra, and forsyddeth them to do sacryfyce vnto hym, and is stoned through the setting on of the Jewes, from thence he goeth to many congregacions and ordeyneth presbyters, and then retourneth wylth Barnabas vnto Antioche.

And it fortuned in Iconium that they went both together into the Synagoge of the Jewes, and so spake, & a great multitude bothe of the Jewes and also of the grekes, beleued. But the vnbeleuyng Jewes stired vp and vnquieted the myndes of the Gentyles agaynst the brythren. Longe tyme abode they ther, and quit them selues boldly wylth the helpe of the Lord, which gaue testimonye vnto the word of hys grace, and * caused signes and wondres to be done by theyr handes. The people of the cite were diuided: and parte held wylth the Jewes, and parte wylth the Apostles.

When ther was assaulte made bothe of the Gentyles and also of the Jewes wylth their rulers, to put them to shame and to stonne them, they were ware of it, and fled vnto Listra and Derba, cyties of Licaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth roundabout, and there preached the Gospell. And there late a certayne man at Listra weake in his feete, beynge * a creple from hys mothers womb, and neuer walked. The same heard Paul preache. Whych beheld hym, & percepued that he had sayth to be whole, and sayd wylth a loude voyce: Stand vp right on thy feete. And he * stode vp and walked. And when the people sawe what Paul hadde done, they lyst by theyr voyces, sayynge in the speache of Licaonia: & Gods are come downe vnto vs in lykenes of menne. And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercury, because he was the preacher. When Jupiters puellie, whych dwelte before the cite, brought oren and garlandes to the church porch, and would haue done sacryfyce wylth the people.

But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard that, they rent theyr clothes, and ran in among the people, crying and sayynge: Spys. wyl ye dope thys? We ar men tall men lyke vnto you, and preache vnto you, that ye should turne from al vanities vnto the lpyng God * whych made hea, uen and earthe and the sea. And all that in them is the whych in tynes past suffered all nacjons to walke in theyr owne wayes. * Neuerthelesse he left not hun selfe wylthout wytnes, in that he shewed hys benesptes, in geuyng vs rayne from heauen, and fruitfull season, fyllynge oure heites wylth fode and gladnes. And wylth these saynges seace restrayned they the people that they had done sacryfyce vnto them.

Wher came certayn Jewes from Antioch and Iconium and obtained the peoples consent, and stoned Paul and drew hym out of the cite, supposynge he hadde bene dead. How be it as the discipples stode roundabout him, he rose vp and came into the cite. And the nexte daye, he departed wylth Barnabas to Derba. After they had preached to that cite and had taught manie, they returned agayn to Listra, and to

Mat. xvi. a

Math. x. a.

Actes. xii. a
A creple is healed.

Actes. xii. b
Math. xx. b
Luke vi. b.
Woddes.
Act. xii. b

Actes. x. d.
Apoca. xii.
and. r. f. r.
Apoca. xii. b
Gene. i. a
Act. xvii. f.

Roma. i. b

Paulus
died
1 Cor. xii.

1 Cor.

Icon

The Actes of the Apostles . Chap. xv.

Actes xlii. f
I u. Timo.
li. c.
Tribula-
tion.

Prayer &
fastynge
go together.

Iconium and Antioch, and strengthened the disciples soules * exhorting them to confiance in the sayth, affirming that we must through much tribulacion enter into the kingdome of God. And when they had ordained them elders by eleccion in euery city, and after they had prayed and fasted, they commended them to God, on whom they beleued. And they went thorow oute Cilicia, and came into Samphylia, & when they had preached the worde of God in Perga, they descended into Attalia, and thence departed by ship to Antioch, from whence they were deliuered vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they had fulfilled. When they were come and had gathered the congregacion together, they rehearsed all that God had done by them, & how he had opened the doore of sayth to the Gentils. And there they abode longe tyme with the disciples.

The xv. Chapter.

Diuers go about to cause the Antiochians to kepe Moyses lawe, about whiche matter the Apostles consult, and sent word to the An-tiochians by letters, what they ought to do. A great contention & schisme betwene Paule and Barnabas.

Galat. v. a.
Circumcep-
tion.

Galat. ii. a.

Then came certaine from Iewrye, and taught the brethren * except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moyses, ye can not be saued: and when ther was ry-sen diffencion and disputynge not a lytle vnto Paule and Barnabas agaynst them, they determined that Paule and Barnabas, and certayne other of them, should ascend to Ierusalem vnto the Apostles and elders about this questyon. And after they were brought on theyr way by the congregacion, they passed ouer Phenices and Samaria, declaring the conuersyon of þe Gen-tyls, and they brought greate ioye vnto all the brethren. And when they were come to Ierusalem, they were receiued of the con-gregacion and of the Apostles, and elders.
And they declared what thinges God had done by them. Then arose there vp certain that wer of the sect of the pharises which hadd beleue, saying that it was nedefull to circumcise them, and too enioyne them to kepe the lawe of Moyses. And the Apostles and elders came together to reason of this matter.

Counsell.

Actes i. b
I u. i. c.
I. pa. xlviii.
I sayth pu-rifyeth þe
harts.
Ioh. xlii. b
and. xv. a Actes. vii. g

And when there was muche disputynge, Peter rose vp, and said vnto them. Ye men and brethren, ye know that a good wyle ago, God chose among vs þe Gentiles by my mouth he shoulde heare the woorde of the Gospell, and beleue. And God whiche knoweth the hert, bore them witness, and gave vnto them the holy ghooste, even as he hadd vnto vs: and he put no difference betweene the & vs, but wpth sayth * purgied their herts. Now therfor whyp tēpt ye god, that ye would putte a yoke on the disciples neckes * which neyther our fathers nor we were able to beare: But wee beleue that through the grace of the Lord Iesu Christ, we shalbe saued, as they do. Then all the multitude was appeased & gaue audience to Barnabas and Paule, whiche told what signes and wondres God had shewed among the Gentyls by them.

And when they held theyr peace, James answered, saying: Men and brethren her-ken vnto me. Symeon told how God at the begynnyng hadd byset the Gentils, and re-ceyued of them people vnto hys name. And to this agreeth the words of the prophets, as it is witten: * after this I will retorne, and will buylde agayne the tabernacle of David, whiche is fallen doune, and that which is fallen in dekey of it, wyl I buylde agayne: and I wyl set it vp, that the resy-due of men myght seke after the lord, and also the Gentils (b, vpon whom my name is named sayth the lord, whiche doeth all these thynges: known vnto God are all his workes from the begynnyng of the world. Wherfore my sentence is that wee trouble not them, whiche from among the Gentyls are turned to God: but that wee wryte vnto them, that they abstayne themselues * from filthynes of ymagines, fro for-nicacion, from c. strangled, and fro bloud.
For Moyses of old tyme hath in euery cite, that preache him, and he is red in the spua-gones euery sabboth day.

Then pleased it the Apostles and elders with the whole congregacion, to send chosen men of their owne compagne to Antioch, wpth Paule and Barnabas. Ther sent
* Judas called also Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, and gaue them letters in theyr handes after this maner.

The Apostles, elders, and brethren, send greetinges vnto the brethren, whiche are of the Gentiles in Antioch, Syria, and Achaia.
For as muche as we haue hearde that certayne whiche depart from vs, haue troubled you wpth wordes, and combyed youre myndes, sayinge: Ye must be circumcised, and kepe the law, to whiche we gaue no suche commaundement: It seemed therfore to vs a good thyng, when wee were come together with one accorde, to sende chosen men vnto you with our beloued Barnabas and Paule, menne that haue reoparded their ly-ues for the name of our Lord Iesu Christ.
We haue sent therfore Judas and Silas, whiche shall also tell you the same thyngs by mouth. For it seemed good to the holpe ghost and to vs, to put no greuous thyng to you more then these necessary thynges:
that is to saye, that ye abstayne from thynges offered to ymagines, from bloude, from strangled and fornicacion: From whiche if ye kepe your selues, ye shall do well. So fare ye wel.

When they were departed, they came to Antioch, and gathered the multitude together, and deliuered the Epistle. Whiche they had reade it, they reioyced of that consolacion.

The grace
of Christ.

Amos. ii. d

Exod. xx. a
Images.
Conuoca-
cion.
Strangled.
Bloud.
Gen. ix. a Leuit. vii. c
and. xvii. d

Ioh. xlii. d

The Actes of the apostles Chap. xvi. Jo. ix.

Pharisees and Judas and Silas beinge prophesies. exhorted the brethren wth muche are heretofore preachinge, and strenghtened them. And after that they had taried there a space, they were uers pla- let go in peace of the brethren vnto the Acces of the postes. yet wthstandinge it pleased Sir new testa- las to abyde there still. Paule and Barna mente, for bas continued in Antioche teachinge and expoun- preachinge the worde of the lorde wth o- ders of the ther many.

Scripture. But after a certayne space, Paule sayd vnto Barnabas: Let vs go agayne & visite our brethren in euery cite wher we haue shewed the worde of the Lord, and se how they doo. And Barnabas gaue counsell to take wth them John, called also Marke. But Paule thoughte it not mete to take hym vnto theyr company whiche departed from them at Samplia, and wente not wth them to the worke: and the diff- cion was so sharpe between them, that they departed a sunder one from the other soo that Barnabas toke Marke and sayled vnto Cyprus. And Paule chose Silas and departed, deliuered of the brethren vnto the grace of God. And he wente throughe all Syria and Cilicia, stablyshyng the congregacions (d) commaunding to kepe the preceptes of the Apostles and elders.

Marke the Evangelist Act. xiii. a.

The herte is purified

Upd who my name

Strangled

Comading

The Notes.
(a) Fapeth purifieth the herte, when thouowe sayth, the spines are forgotten and not repented vnto vs, but forgiven for Chyestes blood sake.
(b) Those that shalbe named wth my name: are those that are called the people of God, and the seruantes of the lord, the congregation of Chyist or chustian companye.
(c) The beastes that dye without bleedinge are strangled.
(d) This is not in the Greeke, and therefore is it left out in Tyndalles translation.

The xvi. Chapter.

Paule taketh to hym Timothe, whiche was circumsised before. Then is he called throughe a vpsion into Macedonia. He instructeth Lydia a woman at Philippios, in the fayeth of Chyist. He dyscuss the spire of Pethon, and is for hys so doyngs beaten wth rodde, and cast wth hys felowes into prison. The prison gates are opened wth an earth quake. And he kepe ther of receiveth the fayeth of Chyist. They be deliuered there out of theyr bondes.

Then came he to Derba and to Lистра. And behold a certayne Disciple was ther, named Timotheus, a womanes son which was a Jewes and beleued: but hys father was a Greke. Of whom reported well the brethren of Listra and Iconi- um. The same Paule woulde that he shuld go forth wth him, and toke and circum- cised hym because of the Jewes whiche were in those quarters: for they knew all þ his father was a Greke. As they went thowme the cityes, they deliuered the the de- crees for to kepe, * ordayned of the Apo- stles and elders, whiche were at Jerusalem And so were the congregacions stablyshed in the sayth, and increased in nuber daily.

Timothe- us.

Actes. xvi. e.

Rom. i. e.

When they had gone through out Asia, and the region of Galacia, and were forbydden of the holy goste to preache the woorde in Asia, they came to Mysia, and sought to go into Bithynia. But the spirit suffered them not. Then they wente ouer Mysia, and came downe to Troada. And a vpsion appeared to Paule in the nyghte. Ther stode a man of Macedonia and pray- ed hym saying: come into Macedonia, and helpe vs. After he had seene this vpsion, immediately we departed to go into Mace- donia, certified that the Lord had called vs for to preache the Gospell vnto them. Then lewised we forth from Troada, and wth a straight course came to Samo- thracia, and the nexte daye to Neapolyne, and from thence to Philippios, whiche is the chief cite in the parts of Macedonia, and a fre cite.

We were in that cite abydinge cer- tayne dayes. And on the sabboth daies we went out of the cite besydes a riuer, wher men were wont to pray. And we sat doune and spake vnto the women whiche resor- ted thither. And a certayne woman named Lydia a seller of purple, of the cite of Thyatira, whiche wrought god gaue vs au- dience. Whose harte the Lord opened that she attended vnto the thyngs which Paule spake. When she was Baptised and her household, she besought vs saying: If ye thinke that I beleue on the Lord, come in to my house, and abyde ther. And she con- strained vs.

And it fortuned as he went to prayer, a certayne damsell possessed wth a spire that prophesied. met vs, whiche broughte her master and masters muche bawitage wth prophesyinge. The same folowed Paule and vs, and cryed, sayinge: * these men are the seruants of the most hy god, whiche shewe vnto vs the waye of salua- cion. And this dyd she manye dayes. But Paule not content, turned about, and said to the spire: I commaunde the in the name of Iesu Chyist that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

And when the master, and mistres saw * that the hope of theyr gaires was gone, they caught Paule and Silas, and drc them into the market place vnto the rulers and brought them to the officers, say- ing: These men trouble our cite, which are Jewes, and preache ordinaunce: whiche are not lawful for vs to receyue, neyther to ob- serue. saying we are Romans. And the pro- ple ran on them, and the officers rent their clothes, & commaunded they to be beaten wth rodde. And when they had beaten the sore, they cast them into prison. commaunding the iapler to kepe them surely. Whiche iapler when he had receiued such commandement, thrust them into the prison prison, & made theyr fete fast in the stocks.

At mydnyghte Paule and Silas prayed and lauded God. And the prisoners heard them

Act. xvi. e.

Act. xvi. e.

B

Luth. xiii. e.
Gen. xii. a.
and. iiii. c.
A spire is
call om.
17. ar. ii. a

Math. xv. d

Act. xvi. e

Clauitage

ii. Cor. xi. e

D

Act. v. 6
and xli.

them. And sodenlye ther was a great earth quake, so that þ foundation of the prison was shaken. & þ by and by al the doores opened, & euery mannes bondes were lewled. When the keeper of the prison waked oute of hys sleepe, and sawe the prison doores open, he drew out his sword, & woulde haue kyllid him selfe, supposing the prisoners had bene fledde. But Paule cried wpth a lowde voice, saying: do thy selfe no harme: for we are al here.

Act. xli. 6
Act. xli. 6
and xli. 6
Ihon. vi. 6.

Then he called for a lyghte, & sprang in, & came trembling, & fel downe before Paule and Silas, & brought them out, and sayed: Spys what muste I do to be saued? And they sayed: þ beleue on the Lorde Iesus, and thou shalt be saued and thy household. And they preached vnto hym the worde of the Lord, and to al that were in hys house. And he tooke them the same houre of the nyght, and washed theyr woundes, & was baptised with all that belonged vnto hym. Draght wape. Whe he had brought them in to his house, he set meate before them. & ioyed þ he w al his household beleued on God.

Act. xli. 6

And when it was dape, the officers sent the ministers, saying: Let those men go. The keeper of þ prison told thys sayinge to Paule, the officers haue sent worde to lose you. Now therefore get you hence & go in peace: Then sayd Paule vnto them They haue beat vs openly vncondempned, for al that we are Romaines, & haue cast vs in to prison: & now wold they send vs awape priuely? Iape not so, but let the come the selues and fet vs out. When the ministers tolde these wordes vnto the officers, they feared: when they heard that they were Romaines, & they came and besought them & brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the cite. And they went out of the prison, & entred into the house of Lidia, and when they had sene the brethren, they comforted them and departed.

Act. xli. 6

The xvii. Chapter.

Paul preached at Thessalonica, to hymozed of the Jewes, whiche dyed by a sedition. Thoughe whole pcurments, he is also constrained to depart fro Berrea. Fro where he goeth to Athens, & in Mars street preacheth to the the unknown god, & conuerteth many vnto Christ.

As they made theyr iorneye thowowe Amphipolis, & Appolonia, they came to Thessalonica where there was a synagoge of the Jewes. And Paule as his maner was, went in vnto them, & thre Sabbothe dapes declared out of the Scripture vnto them opening & allegynge that Christ must nedes haue suffered and risen againe fro death, and that this Iesus was Christ (whō sayd he) I preach to you. And some of the beleued and came & accompanied with Paule & Silas: also of the honorable Grekes a great multitude, and of the chief women not a fewe. But the Jewes whiche beleued not, haue ynge indignacion, toke vnto them enlimen whiche were bagabondes, and gathered a companie, and set al the cite on a roare, and made assaulte vnto the house of Jason, and soughte to bynge them out to the people. But when they found them not, they drew Jason and certayne brethren vnto the heades of the cite, saying: these that trouble the worlde are come hyther also, whiche Jason hath receiued priuely. & And these al do contrarie to the decrees of Cesar, affirminge another kyng one Iesus. And they troubled the people & the officers of the cite, when they hearde these thinges. And when they were sufficiently answered of Jason, and of the other they let them go.

Act. xli. 6

Act. xli. 6

Ihon. xli. 6

And the brethren immediatlye sente a wape Paule and Silas by nyght vnto Berea. Whiche when they were come thither, they entred into a synagoge of the Jewes. These were the noblest of byrth among them of Thessalonica whiche receiued the worde wpth all diligence of mynde. & And searched the Scriptures dapele whither those thinges were euen so. And many of them beleued: also of worshipfull women whiche were Grekes, and of menne not a fewe. When the Jewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of god was preached of Paule at Berea, they came & moued the people ther. And then by and by the brethren sent a wape Paule to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still. And they that good Paule broughte him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus for to come to him at once, and they came their way.

Ihon. v. 6.
Search the scriptures for by the maye true al doctrine

Act. xli. 6

Athens.

Whyle Paule waped for them at Athens his spirit was moued in hym, to se the cite geuent to worshyppe of Images: Then he dysputed in the Synagoge wth þ Jewes, and wth the deuout persons, and in the market dape wth them that came vnto hym. Certayne philosophers of the Epicures & of the Stoickes dysputed with him: and some ther wer which sayd. What wilt thys babler say. Other sayed he semet to be a tidnges bynger of new deupls, because he preached vnto them Iesus and þ resurrection. And they toke him & brought hym into Mars strete, saying: maie we not know what thys newe doctryne wherof þ speakest is? For thou byngest strange tidnges to oure eares. We woulde knowe therefore what these thinges meane. For al the Athenians & straungers whiche were ther, gaue them selues to nothyng els but either to tel or to heare new tidnges. Paul stode in the myddes of Mars strete, and sayed: Ye men of Athens I perceiue that in all thinges ye are to superstitious. For as I passed by and behelde the maner how ye worshyppe your goddesses, I founde an Altare wherem was wyrtten: vnto the unknowne God. Whome ye then ignorantly worshyp: hym we we I vnto you.

& God

The Actes of the Apostles. Chap. xviii. Fo. lxi.

Unknown God that made the world & al that are in it. Gene. i. 1. peartly, he dwelleth not in temples made with handes. De. xii. 17. neither is worshipped with mens handes. Mal. i. 13. as though he needed of any thinge, Apoc. xiii. 8. seing he hym selfe geueth life and breth to al men euerywhere. 1 Act. vii. 14. and hath made of one bloud al nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth. Eccl. i. 10. and at all tyme ned before howe longe tyme and al the endes of their inhabitaciō, that they shulde seeke God if they myght feele. Gene. i. 1. and found him leth not in though he be not far fro euery one of vs. 1 Act. xviii. 27. For in him we liue, moue, and haue out beinge, as certayne of poure owne poetes sayed. 1 Act. xviii. 28. For we are also (a) his generacion. 1 Act. xviii. 29. For as much then as we are the generacion of God, we oughte not to thynke that the godheade is lyke vnto golde, syluer, or stone, grauen by craft and ymaginaciō of man.

Rom. ix. 1. And the tyme of this ignorance God regarded not. 1 Act. xviii. 30. But now he biddeth al men euerywhere repent because he hath appointed a daye, in the whiche he will iudge the world according to rightuousnes by that man whom he hath appointed. 1 Act. xviii. 31. and hath offered (b) sayeth to all men, after that he had raised him from death.

Dionisius When they heard of the resurrection fro death, some mocked, and other sayed: we wyl heare the agayne of this matter. Dionisius So paul departed from among them. Dionisius Howe be it certayne men claued vnto paul, and beleued: amongt he which was Dionisius a senatour, and a woman named Dionisius Damaris, and other with them. The Notes.

Generaciō (a) We are the generacion of God, because we come of him as of our father and maker.

Sayeth. (b) In this place, sayeth is taken for the promys of mercie whiche through the sayeth. 1 Act. xviii. 31. Why the promys, God after the resurrection of Christ, commanded to be preached vnto al nacions, & not to the Jewes only as before.

The xviii. Chapter

Paul exerceiseth his occupacion at Corinth. 1 Act. xviii. 32. And because the Jewes refuse the gospel, he goeth vnto the Gentiles, the Lord comforteth hym. 1 Act. xviii. 33. He is taken and brought before Gallio, but escapeth, and goeth thence to Ephesus in Asia, & conspymeth the congregacions of Galacia and Phrygia. 1 Act. xviii. 34. Apollō beinge instructed of Aquila preacheth Christ with good successe at Ephesus.

1 Act. xviii. 35. After that paul departed from Athens and came to Corinthum, and founde a certayne Jewe named 1 Act. xviii. 36. Aquila, borne in Pontus. 1 Act. xviii. 37. latelpe come from Italpe with the lps wite Priscilla (because that the Emperoure Claudius had commaunded al Jewes to departe fro Rome, and he drew vnto them. 1 Act. xviii. 38. And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them and wroughte: 1 Act. xviii. 39. the craft was to make tentes. 1 Act. xviii. 40. And he preached in the synagoge euery Saboth day, and exhorted the Jewes and the Gentils.

1 Act. xviii. 41. When Silas and Timothy were come fro Macedonia, paul was constrained by the spirit to testify to the Jewes that Iesus was very Christ. 1 Act. xviii. 42. And when they sayd contrary and blasphemed, 1 Act. xviii. 43. he shoke his raiment, & sayd vnto them: your blood be vpon your owne heades, & from hence forth I go blameles vnto the Gentils. 1 Act. xviii. 44. And he departed thence, and entred into a certain mans house named 1 Act. xviii. 45. Julius a worshipper of god whose house ioynd hard to the synagoge. 1 Act. xviii. 46. Howe be it on Cyprius schiefe ruler of the synagoge & beleued on the lord that his householde, and maner of the Countians gaue audience and beleued, and were baptised. 1 Act. xviii. 47. Then spake the lord to paul in the nyghte by a vision. 1 Act. xviii. 48. be not afrayed, but speake, and holde not thy peace: for I am with the, and no man shal inuade the that shall hurte the: 1 Act. xviii. 49. For I have muche people in this cite. 1 Act. xviii. 50. And he continued ther a yere and syre monethes, and taught them the worde of God.

When Gallio was a ruler of the countre of Achaia, the Jewes made insurrection with one accorde agaynst paul, and brought him to the iudgemente seate sayinge this felowe councelleth men to worshipping God contrarie to the lawe. 1 Act. xviii. 51. And as paul was aboute to open his mouth 1 Act. xviii. 52. Gallio sayed vnto the Jewes: if it were a matter of wrounge, or an euill dede (O pe Jewes) reason woulde that I shoulde heare you: but if it be a questid of words or of names, or of your law, I kepe to it your selues. 1 Act. xviii. 53. For I wil be no iudge in such matters and he draue them from the seate. 1 Act. xviii. 54. Then toke all the Wickes softenes the cheife ruler of the synagoge, and smote hym before the iudges seate. 1 Act. xviii. 55. And Gallio cared for none of those thynges.

Paul after this, tarped ther, yet a while and then tooke his leaue of the brethzen, and sailed thence into Siria, Priscilla and Aquila accompanie hym. 1 Act. xviii. 56. And he shoke his heade in Ceuchrea, for he had a bowe.

And he came to Ephesus and left them there: but he hym selfe entred into the synagoge, and reasoned with the Jewes. 1 Act. xviii. 57. When they despised hym to tarpe longer tyme with them, he consented not but bad them face wel, sayinge: I muste nedes at this tyme that cometh, be in Ierusalem. 1 Act. xviii. 58. but I wyl retorne agayne vnto you if God will. 1 Act. xviii. 59. And he departed fro Ephesus, & came vnto Cesarea: and ascended and sailed the congregacion, and departed vnto Antioche: and when he had tarped there a while he departed. 1 Act. xviii. 60. And went euery al the countre of Galacia and Phrygia by order, strengthing al the disciples.

And a certayne Jewe named 1 Act. xviii. 61. Apollō, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man & mighty in the scriptures. 1 Act. xviii. 62. The same was informed in the way of the lord. 1 Act. xviii. 63. he spake feruentlye in the spirit, and taught diligently the thinges of the lord & knew but the baptisme of Ihon only. 1 Act. xviii. 64. And the same began to speake boldly in the synagoge. 1 Act. xviii. 65. And when Aquila & Priscilla had heard Shoke his raiment.

1 Act. xv. 18

Ihon an

1 Act. xvi. 1

C

Ru. vi. 1

Ephesus

1 Act. vi. 1

1 Act. iii. 1

Beleuent

Paul to

1 Act. i. 1

1 Act. i. 1

The Actes of the Apostles. Chap. xix.

heard him, they took him unto the, & expoded unto him the way of god more perfectli.
And when he was dysposed to go into Aca-ia, the brethren wrote, exhortyng the Disciples to receiue hym. After he was come thither, he holpe the much whych had be-leued thow grace, and myghtelp he ouercame the Jewes, and that opely, shewing by the scriptures that Iesus was Christus.

The. xix. Chapter.

Paulus confirmeth thole at Ephesus, whiche were baptised only with Iohns baptisme, he taughte the two yerres, preaching & doing miracles. Ceruises whych abuse the name of Christ, are come of ydenil. Wokes of witchcraft are burned. While Paulus prepared to depart thence. Demetrius styrrith vp an vppoynt agaynst hym.

Ephesus I fortunad, while Appollo was at Corinthum, that Paulus passed thow the utter coastes and came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples & sayd vnto them: haue ye receiued the holy gost sence ye be-leued? And they sayd vnto him: no we haue not heard whether ther be any holy gost or no. And he sayd vnto the: wherewith were ye then baptised? And they sayed: wth Iohns baptisme. Then said Paulus: * I had beieip baptised with the baptisme of repetaunce, sayinge vnto the people that they should beleue on hym whych shoulde come after him that is on Christ Iesus. When they heard that, they were baptised in the name of the Lord Iesus, and Paulus* laide hys handes vpon them, and the holy gost came on them, & they spake with tounge and prophesied, and all the men were about. xii.

And he wente into the Synnagoge, and spake boldely for the space of three monethes, dysputyng and geuyng the exhortacions of the kyngdome of God. & When diuers wared harde harted and be-leued not, but spake euill of the way, and that befoze the multitude, he departed fro them, and seperated the disciples. And disputed dayly in the schole of one called Tiranus. And thys continued by the space of two yerres: so that all they which dwelte in Asia, heard the word of the lord Iesu, both Jewes and Grekes. And God wroughte no smal myracles by the handes of Paulus, so that fro his bodie were broughte vnto the speke, napkynnes or parglets, and diseases departed from them, and the euill spites went out of them.

Then certayne of the vagabond Jewes exorcistes, toke vpon them to call ouer the whiche he had euill spites, the name of the Lord Iesus, sayinge: We adure you by * Iesu, whome Paulus preacheth. And there were seuen sonnes of one Secus a Jewe and chiefe of the priestes, whiche dyd so. And the euill spite answered and sayd: Iesus I know, and Paulus I know, but who are ye? And the man in whom the euill spite was, canne on them, and ouercame them, and preuayled agaynst them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. And thys was knowen to all the Jewes and Grekes also, whych dwelt at Ephesus, & feare came on the al, and they magnified the name of the Lord Iesus.

And many that beleued, came and confessed and shewed their wokes. Many of them which vsed curious craftes, brought thei booke and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them:
and founde it spete thousand & spluctunges. So myghtly grewe the worde of god and preuayled. After these thynges were ended, Paulus purposed in the spite, toopasse ouer Macedonia and Achaia, and to goe to Ierusalem, sayinge: After I haue bene there, I must also se Rome. So sente he into Macedonia two of them that mi-nistrad vnto hym. Timotheus and Erastus: but he hym selfe remayned in Asia for a season. The same tyme there arose no litle ado aboute that waye. For a certayne man named Demetrius, a siluer smith, whiche made siluer shynes for Diana was not a litle beneficiall vnto the craftes menne.
Whych he called together wth the wor-men of lyke occupation, and sayed: Syng, ye knowe that by thys craft * we haue bauntage. Moreouer ye se and heare that not alone at Ephesus, but almost thow out all Asia, thys Paulus hath perswaded and turned awaye muche people: sayinge that * they be not Goddes which are made wth handes. So that not onely thys ouercast cometh into paryl to be set at nought but also that the temple of the great goddes Diana should be despised: and her magnificence should be destroyed, whych al Asia, & the world worshippeth.

When they herde these sayinges, they were ful of wrath, & cried out sayinge: great is Diana of the Ephesians. And all the citye was on a roar, and they rushed into the commune hall with one ascende, & caughte Gaius and Aristarcus, me of Macedonia, Paulus companions. When Paulus would haue entred in vnto the people, the Dysci-ples suffered hym not. Certayne also of ychiese of Asia whych were his frends, sent vnto hym, desyryng hym that he would not prace into the comen hal. Some cried one thyng, & some an other, and the congrega-cion was al out of quiet, and the moze part knew not wherfoze they were come together. Some of the company drew forth Alexander, the Jewes thrustyng hym forwardes. Alexander bekened wth the had and wold haue geuen the people answere.
When they knewe he was a Jewe, they arose a shout almost for the space of two houres of al men, cryng: grete is Diana of the Ephesians.

When the towne clarke had ceassed the people, he sayed: ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not howe that the citye of the Ephesians is a worshyper of grete

W Sae. l. a.
These spl uerpiges whych we nowe and then cal
pence, the Jewes cal sicles, and are worthe
ten pence
sterlyng.
Demetri-
us.

Act. xvi. b

Plal. lxx. a

2

Math. ii. b
Mark. i. b
Luk. iii. c.
Ihon. i. b
Lapinge
on of han-
des.

Act. vi. b.
Ihon. i. b.
Ihon. i. b.
Ihon. i. b.
Ihon. i. b.
Ihon. i. b.
Ihon. i. b.

Mar. vii. b
Act. v. a Mark. i.
Ihon. i. b.
Ihon. i. b.

Act. vii. c.

greate Goddess Diana, and of the ymage which (b) came from heauen. Sepunge than that no man sayth here agaynst, ye oughte to be content, & do nothing rashlye, for ye haue brought hit her these men, whych are neyther robbers of churches, nor yet despysets of your Goddess. Wherofe ye if Demetrius and the craftes men whych are wrythyng, haue any saying to any man, the law is open, & ther are rulers, let the accuse one another. If ye go about any other thyng, it maye be determined in a lawfull congregacyon. For we are in uewerdy to be accused of this dayes busynes. For as muche as ther is no cause wherby we may giue a reckenyng of this concourse of people. And when he had thus spoken, he lette the congregacyon departe.

• The Notes.

Baptisme (a) The difference between the Baptisme of Ihd and the Apostles, was onely this. That Iohn Baptized them to beleue in Ihd that was to come: and the apostles, that was come already, & had suffered for the Spence of as many as wuld beleue in hym.

the image that came fro heauen

The ff. Chapter.

Paule appointeth to goo to Macedonia. A man at Troas, telleth oure of a wyndowe whyle Paul is a preache, and so by him reserued agayne. After when he is come to Asshetum, he calleth toger the elders of the congregacion of Ephesus, and sheweth the integritie of hys lyfe, and declareth to them hys doctrine and therewith certayn other. They hym to wyppen much heurnes.

After therage was ceased, paul called the dyſciples vnto him, and toke hys leaue of them, and departed for to go into Macedonia. And when he hadde gone ouer thoſe parties, and geuen them large exhortacions, he came into Greece, & there abode thre monethes. And when the Iewes ſayd wait for him as he was about to ſail into Syria, he purpoſed to retourne through Macedonia. Where accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea, and of Thessalonica, Aristarcus and Secundus, & Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and out of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus. These went before, and tarped vs at Troias. And we sailed away fro philippes after the eaſter holydaies, & came vnto them to Troas in foue dayes, where we abode ſeuē dayes.

And on the morow after the sabbeth daye the discipples came together for to breake bread, and Paul preached vnto them (rea-dye to depart on the morowe) & continued the preachynge vnto mydnight. And there were manye lightes in the chamber where they were gathered together, and there sat in a windowe a certaine yong man named Eutichtes, fallen into a depe slepe. And as Paul declared, he was more overcome wth slepe, and fell downe from the thrid loſte, and was taken vp dead. paul wente downe and fel on him, ⁊ and embraced him, and ſayde: make nothing a do: for his ſpſe is in hym. When he was come vp agayne, he brake bread and taſted, and commened a longe whyle euen till the morning, and ſo departed. And they brought the younge man alſue, and were not a litle comforted.

And we wente afore to Cyp, and lewised vnto Asson, there to receiue Paule. For so had he appointed and would himselfe go afore. When he was come to vs to Asson, we toke him in, and came to Miletum. And we sailed thence, and came the nexte daie ouer agaynst Rhios. And the next daie we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogilion.
The nexte daie, wee came to Miletum, for Paule hadde determined to leaue Ephesus as they sailed, because he would not spend the tyme in Asia. For he hadd too be (if he could possiblie) at Jerusalem at the daie of Pentecost. Wherefore from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the congregacyon. And when they were come to hym, he sayed vnto them. I knowe from the first daie that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons, seruing the Lord with all humilites of mynde, and wpth many teares, and temptacions which happened to me by the layinges awaite of the Jewes, and how I kept back nothinge that was profitable, but that I haue shewed you and taughte you openly, and at home in your houses, witnessing both to the Jewes, and also to the Grekes, the^e repentance toward god, and faith toward our Lord Iesus.

And now behold I go bound in the spy-rite vnto Ierusalem, and knowe not what shall come on me ther, but that * the holpe ghost witnesseth in euery cite, saying: that bondes & troubles abide me. But none of these thynges moue me * neither is my lpe deere vnto my selfe: that I might fulfil my course wpthiop, and the munificad which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to tell fy the Gospell of the grace of God. And now behold, I am sure that henceforth he all (through whom I haue gone preaching the kyngdome of God) shall se my face no more. Wherfore I take you to record thys same day that I am pure from the bloude of all men. For I haue kept nothing back: but haue shewed you al the counsel of god.
Take hede therfore vnto your selues, and to al the flocke wherof the holy ghost hath made you oversears, to rule the congrega-cyon of God, whiche he hath purchased wth his bloude. * For I am sure of thys that after my departynge shall greuous wolves enter in amonge you: whiche wyl not spare the flocke.

Wherof our own selves shall men Judge. I.e. theye speake peruerse thynges to draw Breuous dysciples after them. & herfore awake, and woulfes.
 remember that by the space of thye yeares,
 I ceased not to warne euerye one of you,
 All. iii. both

11. Rev. 11.
 12. 11. 11.
 13. 11. 11.
 14. 11. 11.
 15. 11. 11.

Ⓒ

Theſetimo
 of 4 rule to the E-ptians

Rub. v. 11. 1. 1.
 Repentance &
 faith.

30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100. 101. 102. 103. 104. 105. 106. 107. 108. 109. 110. 111. 112. 113. 114. 115. 116. 117. 118. 119. 120. 121. 122. 123. 124. 125. 126. 127. 128. 129. 130. 131. 132. 133. 134. 135. 136. 137. 138. 139. 140. 141. 142. 143. 144. 145. 146. 147. 148. 149. 150. 151. 152. 153. 154. 155. 156. 157. 158. 159. 160. 161. 162. 163. 164. 165. 166. 167. 168. 169. 170. 171. 172. 173. 174. 175. 176. 177. 178. 179. 180. 181. 182. 183. 184. 185. 186. 187. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 195. 196. 197. 198. 199. 200. 201. 202. 203. 204. 205. 206. 207. 208. 209. 210. 211. 212. 213. 214. 215. 216. 217. 218. 219. 220. 221. 222. 223. 224. 225. 226. 227. 228. 229. 230. 231. 232. 233. 234. 235. 236. 237. 238. 239. 240. 241. 242. 243. 244. 245. 246. 247. 248. 249. 250. 251. 252. 253. 254. 255. 256. 257. 258. 259. 260. 261. 262. 263. 264. 265. 266. 267. 268. 269. 270. 271. 272. 273. 274. 275. 276. 277. 278. 279. 280. 281. 282. 283. 284. 285. 286. 287. 288. 289. 290. 291. 292. 293. 294. 295. 296. 297. 298. 299. 300. 301. 302. 303. 304. 305. 306. 307. 308. 309. 310. 311. 312. 313. 314. 315. 316. 317. 318. 319. 320. 321. 322. 323. 324. 325. 326. 327. 328. 329. 330. 331. 332. 333. 334. 335. 336. 337. 338. 339. 340. 341. 342. 343. 344. 345. 346. 347. 348. 349. 350. 351. 352. 353. 354. 355. 356. 357. 358. 359. 360. 361. 362. 363. 364. 365. 366. 367. 368. 369. 370. 371. 372. 373. 374. 375. 376. 377. 378. 379. 380. 381. 382. 383. 384. 385. 386. 387. 388. 389. 390. 391. 392. 393. 394. 395. 396. 397. 398. 399. 400. 401. 402. 403. 404. 405. 406. 407. 408. 409. 410. 411. 412. 413. 414. 415. 416. 417. 418. 419. 420. 421. 422. 423. 424. 425. 426. 427. 428. 429. 430. 431. 432. 433. 434. 435. 436. 437. 438. 439. 440. 441. 442. 443. 444. 445. 446. 447. 448. 449. 450. 451. 452. 453. 454. 455. 456. 457. 458. 459. 460. 461. 462. 463. 464. 465. 466. 467. 468. 469. 470. 471. 472. 473. 474. 475. 476. 477. 478. 479. 480. 481. 482. 483. 484. 485. 486. 487. 488. 489. 490. 491. 492. 493. 494. 495. 496. 497. 498. 499. 500. 501. 502. 503. 504. 505. 506. 507. 508. 509. 510. 511. 512. 513. 514. 515. 516. 517. 518. 519. 520. 521. 522. 523. 524. 525. 526. 527. 528. 529. 530. 531. 532. 533. 534. 535. 536. 537. 538. 539. 540. 541. 542. 543. 544. 545. 546. 547. 548. 549. 550. 551. 552. 553. 554. 555. 556. 557. 558. 559. 560. 561. 562. 563. 564. 565. 566. 567. 568. 569. 570. 571. 572. 573. 574. 575. 576. 577. 578. 579. 580. 581. 582. 583. 584. 585. 586. 587. 588. 589. 590. 591. 592. 593. 594. 595. 596. 597. 598. 599. 600. 601. 602. 603. 604. 605. 606. 607. 608. 609. 610. 611. 612. 613. 614. 615. 616. 617. 618. 619. 620. 621. 622. 623. 624. 625. 626. 627. 628. 629. 630. 631. 632. 633. 634. 635. 636. 637. 638. 639. 640. 641. 642. 643. 644. 645. 646. 647. 648. 649. 650. 651. 652. 653. 654. 655. 656. 657. 658. 659. 660. 661. 662. 663. 664. 665. 666. 667. 668. 669. 670. 671. 672. 673. 674. 675. 676. 677. 678. 679. 680. 681. 682. 683. 684. 685. 686. 687. 688. 689. 690. 691. 692. 693. 694. 695. 696. 697. 698. 699. 700. 701. 702. 703. 704. 705. 706. 707. 708. 709. 710. 711. 712. 713. 714. 715. 716. 717. 718. 719. 720. 721. 722. 723. 724. 725. 726. 727. 728. 729. 730. 731. 732. 733. 734. 735. 736. 737. 738. 739. 740. 741. 742. 743. 744. 745. 746. 747. 748. 749. 750. 751. 752. 753. 754. 755. 756. 757. 758. 759. 760. 761. 762. 763. 764. 765. 766. 767. 768. 769. 770. 771. 772. 773. 774. 775. 776. 777. 778. 779. 780. 781. 782. 783. 784. 785. 786. 787. 788. 789. 790. 791. 792. 793. 794. 795. 796. 797. 798. 799. 800. 801. 802. 803. 804. 805. 806. 807. 808. 809. 810. 811. 812. 813. 814. 815. 816. 817. 818. 819. 820. 821. 822. 823. 824. 825. 826. 827. 828. 829. 830. 831. 832. 833. 834. 835. 836. 837. 838. 839. 840. 841. 842. 843. 844. 845. 846. 847. 848. 849. 850. 851. 852. 853. 854. 855. 856. 857. 858. 859. 860. 861. 862.

46, 467, 468

i. 41. 12' 2.
ii. 41. 12' 3.
iii. 41. 12' 4.
and, 11. 12.

And the Benevolent wolves.

Att. 12.1
M. 12.1.1.1.1

Etiquetas

The Actes of the

both night and day wpth feates.

And nowe bzyethren I comende pou to God and to the word of hys grace, whypche is able to build furthet, and to geue pou an inheritaunce amonge all them whypche are sanctyfyed. * I haue despyed no mans siluer, gold or bestur. Ye know wel that these hands haue ministered vnto my necessities, and too them that were with mee, I haue shewed pou all thynges, howe that so labourynge oughte to receyue the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lorde Jesu, how that he sayed: it is moze blessed to geue, then to receyue.

When he hadde thus spoken, he kneled down, * and prayed with them al. And they wept all aboutdauntly, and sel on Pauls necke, and kissed him sozowing most of al, for the wordes whypch he spake, that they shoulde see hys face no more. And they accompanied hym vnto the shyp.

The .xxi. Chapter.

Paul wente towards Jerusalem, goeth ouer to Tirus, and speaketh wpth Philppe at Cesarea. Agabus prophesyeth of hys bondes. But not wpythstandynge the counsaile of his frends, he goeth to Jerusalem. He entereth into the temple, is taken of the Jewes, and taken from them by Asyllas the Tribune.)

AND it chaunced that assone as we had launched forth and were departed fro the, we came wpth a straighthe course vnto Rhodon, and the day folowing vnto the Rhodes, and fro thence vnto Patara. And we found a shyppe ready to saile vnto Phenices, and went a boude and set fourth. Then appeared vnto vs Eppirus, & we left it on the left hand, and sayled vnto Syria, and came vnto Tyre. For there the shyppe vnladed hir burthen. And when we had found bzyethren, we tarped there seven dayes. And they tolde paul thorough the spyt that he shoulde not go bp to Hierusalem. And when the dayes wer ended, we departed and wente oure wayes, and they all brought vs on our way, wpth theyr wyues and chyldren, tyll we were come out of the cytie. And we kneled down in the wyze, * and prayed. And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took shyp, & they returned home agayne.

When we had tul ended the course from Tyre, we arriued at Stolomaida, and saluted the bzyethren, and abode wpth them one day. The next day, we that were of Pauls company, departed and came vnto Cesarea. And we entred into the house of Philip the Euangeliste, whypch was one of the seven deacons, and abode with him. The same man had fower daughters virgins, whypche did & prophesy. And as we tarped ther a good many of dayes, ther came a certayne prophete from Jewrye, named Agabus. Whē he was come to vs, he took Pauls gyrdel, and bound hys handes and fete and sayd: thus sayth the holpe ghoſte, & so shall the Jewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth thys gyrdel, and shal delyver hym into the handes of the Gentyls.

Apostles, Chapt. xxi.

When we heard thys, both we and othet of the same place, beoughte him, that he woulde not go bp to Hierusalem. Then paul answered and sayed: what doo ye weppng and breakynge myne herte? I am ready not to be bounde onely, but also to dye at Hierusalem for the name of the lord Jesus. Whē we could not turne his mynd, we ceased, sayng: * the will of the Lorde be fulfilled. After those dayes we made our selues ready and went bp to Hierusalem. * Ther went bp with vs also certayne of the discyples of Cesarea, and broughte wpth them one Agnason of Estrus, an old discyplye wpth whom we shoulde lodge. And whē we were come to Hierusalem, the bzyethren receyued vs gladly. And on the morowe paul wente in with vs vnto James. And all the elders came together. And when he had saluted them, he told by ordie all thynges that God hadde wrought amonge the gentyles by his ministracion. And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and sayd vnto hym: thou seest brother, how many thousand Jewes there are that beleue, and they are all zelous ouer the lawe. And they are informed of the, that thou teachest all the Jewes whypch are among the Gentyls, to forsake Moyses, & sayest that they oughte not to cirkumcise theyr chyldren, neyther to lye after the custumes. What is it therfore? The multitude muste nedes come togither. For they shal hear that thou art come. Do therfore this that we say to the.

* We haue four men whypch haue a vow of them. Them take and purpse thy selfe wpth them, and do cost on them that they may haue theyr heades, and al shal know that those thynges which they haue heard concerning the, are nothing: but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keptst the lawe. For as touchynge the gentyls whypche beleue, * we haue wrytten and concluded, that they obserue no such thynges: but that they kepe them selues from thynges offered to Idols, from bloud, from strangled, and from fornicacion.

Then the next day, paul toke the men and * purpsed hym selfe wpth them, and entered into the temple, declarynge that he obserued the dayes of the purpsacion, vntyll that an offering shoulde be offered for euery one of them.

And as the seven dayes shoulde haue ben ended, the Jewes which were of Asia, whē they saw hym in the temple, they moued al the people, and layed handes on hym, cryynge, ye men of Israell helpe: whys is the man that teacheth al men euery where agaynst the people, and the lawe, and thys place moreouer also he hath brought Brekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holpe place. For they sawe one * Trophimus an Ephesian wpth hym in the cyty. Whom they supposed paul hadde brought

Act. xxi. f
11. Reg. xii. a
11. 2. 2. 2. e.
and. xii. d
Gen. iii. e
1. 2. 2. 2. e.
n. 2. 2. 2. b

Act. xxi. b

Mat. vi. b.

Act. ix. e.

D

1. 2. 2. 2. e.
Mat. vi. a.

Act. xxi. f.

Act. xxi. g.

Act. xv. f.

Act. xxi. b.

Act. vi. d
and. vi. a Philip.
1. 2. 2. 2. b

Act. xxi. e.

Act. xxi. b.
1. 2. 2. 2. d

unt o

into the temple. And all the cite was moued, and the people swarmed together. And they toke saule and drue hym oute of the temple, and forthwpyth the doores were shut to. As they went aboute to kyl hym, tidin-ges came vnto the hye captayne of the soldiers, that all Ierusalem was moued.
Whych he immediatly tooke souldyers and vnder captaynes, and ran doune vnto the.
When they sawe the vpper captayne and the souldyers, they left smyting of saule.
Then the captayne came neare and tooke him: and commaunded him too be bounde wpyth two chaynes, and demaunded what he was, and what he had done.

And one cryed this, another that among the people. And when he could not knowe the certaintye for the rage, he commaunded hym to be carped into the Castle. And when he came vnto a grece, it fortuned that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people. For the multitude of the people folowed after, crying, awape wpyth hym.

And as saule shoulde haue bene carped into the castle, he sayed vnto the hye captaine: maye I speake vnto the? Whych he sayed: canst thou speake Breke? arte not thou that Egypcian, whiche befoze these dayes made an bproure, and led oute into the wilbernes foute thousand menne that were murtherers? But saul sayd: I am a man whiche am a Jewe of Tharsus a citye in Cicill, a ctyein of no vble ctye. I beseech the suffer me to speake vnto the people. When he had geuen hym licence, saul stode on the steppes * and beckened with the hande vnto the people, and there was made a greatesilence. And he spake vnto them in the Hebrue tong, sayinge.

The xxi. Chapter.

The Jewes a while heare saule, declaring hys sayth, but when they began to crye out agaynst hym, the Tribune commaunded hym to be cymned and whipped. But when he kneweth he is a Romaine, he forbyddeth hym to be scourged.

YE menne and brethren, and fathers: heare myne aunswere which I make vnto pou. When they hearde that he spake in the Hebrue tounge to them, they kept the more sylence. And he sayed: I am verely a man, whych am a Jewe borne in Tharsus, a ctye in Cicill: neuerthelesse ret broughte bp in thys ctye at the sete of Gamaliel, and informed dyligentlye in the lawe of the fathers, and was feruente mynded to Godwarde, as ye all are thys same daye, and I persecuted thys waye vnto the death, byndyng and delpyeringe into pryson both men and womenne, as the chiefe prieste dothe beate me witnes and all the elders. of whome also I receyued letters vnto the brethren, and wente to Da-masco too hyngge them whych were there bound, vnto Ierusalem for to be punished.

And it fortuned as I made my waye a was come nigh vnto Damasco about none that suddenlye there shone from heauen a great light round about me, and I fell to the earth, and hearde a voice sayng vnto me * Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And I aunswered: what art thou Lord? And he sayed vnto mee: I am Iesus of Nazareth whom thou persecutest. And they that wer with me saw verely a light and wer afraid: but they hearde not the voice of hym that spake wpyth me. And I sayed: what shall I do Lord? And the lord sayd vnto me. Arise go into Damasco, and ther it shalbe told the of all thinges whych are appointed for the to do. And when I sawe nothyng for the brightnes of that lychte, I was led by the hande of them that were wpyth me and came into Damasco.

* And one Ananias a perfecte man, and as pertayninge to the lawe, haupnge good report of all the Jewes, whiche there dwelte, came vnto me: and stode and sayed vnto me: brother saule loke vpye. And that same houre I receyued my syghte, and sawe him. And he sayed: the God of our fathers hath ordapned the befoze, that thou shouldest knowe his will, and shouldest se that whych is rightfull: and shouldest hear the voyce of hys mouth: for thou shalte be hys witnes vnto al men, of those thynges whych thou hast sene and heard. And now, why tarpest thou? arise and be baptysed, and walke away thy synnes, * callinge on the name of the Lorde.

And it fortuned when I was come again to Ierusalem and prayed in the temple, that I was in a traunce and sawe him, sayinge vnto me: wake hast and gette the quickly out of Ierusalem: for they will not receiue the witnes that thou bearest of mee. And I said: Lord they know that I prysoned and beat in every synagoge, them that beleued on the, * and when the bloude of thy wpynes Stephan was shed: I also stode by and consented vnto hys deathe, and kepte the raiment of them that slew him. And he said vnto me: depart, for I will send the a sac-hence vnto the Gentils. They gaue audyence vnto this word. & they stode by their voices and said: away with such a felow from the earth, it is pity that he should lyue. And as they cryed & cast of their clothes, & they durst into the aper, the captayne bade hym to be brought into the castell, and commaunded hym to be scourged, and to be exam-ned, that he myghte knowe wherfore they cryed on hym. And as they bound him with thounges, saule sayed to the Centurion that stode by. Is it lawefull for you too scourge a man that is a Romaine and vn-condemned? When the Centurion hearde that, he went and told the vpper Captaine, sayinge: What intendest thou to do? Thys man is a Romaine.

Then the vpper Captaine came, and said to him: tel me, art thou a Romain? He said: Yea. And the captayne answered, with A lll. nu. a great

Actes. ix. a.

Actes. ix. c.

Roman. x. a Baptisme

Actes. xii. a.

Actes. xiii. b.
Galat. i. b.

Actes. ix.
and. xii. a

Actes. xxi. c

Actes. xxi. b
and. xxi. g.
Actes. v. c

Actes. viii. a
and. xii. a
and. xvi. b.
1. Cor. xv. b
Galat. ii. b

The Actes of the

a greate summe obtained I thys freedom. And Paul sayde: I was free borne. Then straightway departed from him they which should haue examined him. And the hye captayne also was afrayed after he knew that he was a Romaine: because he had bounde hym.

On the morowe because he would haue knowen the certainty wherof he was accused of the Jewes, he loosed hym fro his bondes, and commaunded the hye priestes and all the counsell to come together, & brought Paul and set hym before them.

The .xxiii. Chapter.

¶ While Paul declared his cause, Ananias hypocritically smote hym. Serpents are left amongst hye accusers. The voyde comforteth Paul. The Tribune knowynge of the treason, whych had vowed to kyll Paul, sendeth him to felle the president.

Paul beheld the counsell and sayd: men and brethren, I have liued in al good conscience before God vntil this day. The hye priest Ananias commaunded them that they shoulde smyte him on the mouth. Then said Paul too him: God smite the thou painted wall. I testify thou art agest me after the law, and commaundest me to be smitten contrary to the lawe? And they that were by, said: reuiled thou God? des hye priest: Then sayed Paul: I wiste not brethren, that he was the hye priest. For it is written: thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

When Paul perceiued that the one part were Saducees, and the other Pharisees, he cryed out in the counsell: Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee. Of the hope and resurrection from death, I am iudged. And when he hadde so sayd, ther arose a debate betwene the Pharisees and the Saducees, and the multitude was deuided. For the Saducees saye, that ther is no resurrection, neither aungel, nor spirit. But the Pharisees graunt both. And there arose a greate crye, and the Scribes whiche were of the Pharisees parte, arose and stoue, sayinge: we fynde none euill in this man. Though a syrypte or an aungell haue appeared to hym, let vs not argue agaynst God.

And when ther arose a great debate, the captayne, fearyng lest Paul shoulde haue bene plucked a soulder of them, commaunded the souldiers to go doun, and to take hym from among them, and to bryng hym into the castle. The next day folowynge, Paul stode by hym and said: be of good cheare Paul: for as thou hast testyfyed of me in Jerusalem, so must thou beare witness at Rome. When daye was come, certayne of the Jewes gathered themselves togyther, and made a bowe, sayinge that they woulde neyther eate nor dryncke till they had kylled Paul. They were aboute xl. which had made this conspiracion. And they came to the chiefe priestes & elders, and sayd: we haue bound our selues with a vow, & we wil eat nothyng butt we haue slaine Paul. Nowe therfore geue ye knowledge to the upper captayne and to the counsell, & he bryng him to us vnto vs to morowe as though we woulde know somethynge more perfectly of hym: But wee, ouer he come neare, are ready in the meane season to kyll hym. When Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying wait: he went and entred into the castle, and told Paul. And Paul called one of the vnder captaynes to him, and said: bryng this pryncipall man to the hye captayne, for he hath a certayn thyng to shew hym. And he toke hym and leade him to the hye captayne, and said: Paul the prisoner called me vnto hym, and prayed me to bryng this pryncipall man vnto the, whych hath a certayne matter to shewe the.

Apostles. Chap. xxiii.

The hye captayne toke hym by the hand, and went apart wth hym out of the way: and asked hym, what hast thou to saye vnto me? And he said: the Jewes are determyned to desire the, that thou wouldest bryng forth Paul to morow into the counsell, as though they wold enquire somewhat of him more perfectly. But folowe not their mindes: for they lye in wait for hym of them, mothen. xl. men, whych haue bounde them selues with a vow, that they will neyther eat nor drinke, till they haue kylled hym. And now are they ready, & loke for thy promes. The upper captayne let the pryncipall depart & charged hym, se thou tell it out to no man that thou hast shewed these thyngs to me. And he called vnto hym. ii. vnder captaynes, sayinge: make ready two hundred souldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen the score & ten, and spear men two hundred at the thyrde houre of the nyght. And deliuer them beastes, that they may put Paul on, and bryng him safe vnto Felix the hye debitt, and wrote a letter in this maner.

Claudius Albius to the most mightie ruler Felix. Sendith greetings & thus man was taken of the Jewes. & shoulde haue ben kyllled of them. Then came I with souldiers & rescued hym, & perceiued that he was a Romaine. And when I woulde haue knowen the cause, wherfore they accused him, I brought him forth into the counsell: there perceived I that he was accused of questions of their law, & but was not guilty of any thyng worthy of death or of bondes. Afterward when it was shewed me how that the Jewes layed wait for the man, I sente hym straightway to the, and gaue commaundement to his accusers if they had oughte agaynst him, to tell it vnto the. Fare well.

Then the souldiers as it was commaunded them, toke Paul and brought him by nyght to Antipatras. On the morow they left the horsemen to go with him, & returned vnto the castle. Which whē they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the epistle to the debitt, & presented Paul before him. Whē the debitt had red the letter, he asked of what countrey

Actes. xxi.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxi. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

Actes. xxiii. d.

The Actes of the Apostles, Chap. xliii. Fo. liii.

Dec. xlii. a. type he was: when he understode that he was of Cilic, & I will heare the (sayd he) when thynne accusars are come also: and commaunded him to be kept in Herods palace.

The. xliii. Chapter.

Paul pleadeth his matter before the president Felix, agaynst Tertullus the oratour hys accuser. The president looketh to bene moued geue of Paule to deliuer hym. Which because none was geuen, lette hym in prison, whan he departed out of that offyce.

Act. xlii. b.

After fife dayes Ananias, & the hye priest descended wth the elders and wth a certayne oratour named Tertullus, and enfourmed the ruler of Iuda. When Paule was called forth, Tertullus beganne to accuse hym, sayinge: We see howe we live in great quietnes by the meanes of the, & that many good thynges are done vnto this nacpon through thy prouidence, that alowe we euer and in all places, most myghty Felix, wth all shakes. Notwithstandyng that I be not tedious vnto the, I praye the that thou woldest heare vs of thy curtesy, a fewe wordes.

We haue founde this man a pestilente felowe, and a mouer of debate vnto all the Jewes throughout the world, & a maine tapner of the sect of the Nazarites, & hath also enforced to pollute the temple.

Act. xli. f.

Whom we take and woulde haue iudged, accordyng to our law, but the hye captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence toke him away out of oure hand, commaundyng hys accusers to come vnto the. Of whid thou mayest (if thou wilt enquire) know the certaintye of all these thynges whereof we accuse hym. The Jewes spake wyle aspymed, saying that it was even so.

Then Paule (after that the ruler himself hadde beckened vnto hym that he shoulde speake) answered: I shall with a more quiete minde aunswere for my selfe, for as much as I vnderstand that thou hast bene of manye yeares a iudge vnto this people, because that thou mayest knowe that they are pe but xii. dayes, sence I went vp to Ierusalem for to praye, and & they neyther

Act. xli. b.

Act. xlii. b.

founde me in the temple disputyng wth any man. either raisyng vp the people, neyther in the synagoges, nor in the cite. Neither can they proue the thynges whereof they accuse me. But this I confesse vnto the, that after that waye (whych they call heresy) so worshippe I the God of my fathers, beleuyng all thynges whych are writen in the lawe and the prophetes, & haue hope towardes God. that the same resurrection of the dead (which they themselves

Mat. xlii. c.

Act. xlii. a.

Mat. xli. f.

Act. xli. b.

loke for also) shall be both of iusts and vniust. And therfore I study to haue a cleare conscience toward God. and toward man also. But after manye yeares I came & broughte aimes to my people and offerynges, in the whych they found me purpysed in the temple, neyther with multitude, nor yet wth vnquyetnes.

Howbeit, there were certayne Jewes oute of Asia, whych oughte too be here presente before the, and accuse me, if they had oughte agaynst me: or els, let the same here say, if they haue founde anye euyl doynge in me, whyle I stand here in the counsel: excepte it be for this one voyce that I cryed standyng among them of the resurrection from death, am I iudged of you this day.

Act. xlii. c.

When Felix hearde these thynges, he deferred them, for he knewe verye well of that way, and said: when Lysias the captaine is come, I will knowe the utmost of your matters. And he commaunded an vnder captaine to kepe Paule, and that he shoulde haue rest, and that he shoulde forbyd none of his acquaintaunce to minister vnto hym, or to come vnto hym.

Act. xlii. d.

Act. xlii. e.

Act. xlii. f.

Act. xlii. g.

And after a certayne dayes, came Felix and his wyfe Drusilla, which was a Jewes, and called forth Paule, and hearde hym of the fapth, whych is toward Christ. And as he preached of rightuousnes, temperance, and iudgemente to come, Felix trembled and answered: thou hast done ynough at this tyme, departe. When I haue a conuenient tyme, I will sende for the. He hoped also that money shoulde haue bene geuen hym of Paule, that he mighte lette hym: wherfore he called him the oftener, & communed with him. But after .ii. yere, Festus Iulius came into Felix coume. And Felix willing to shew the Jewes a pleasure, left Paule in prison bound.

Act. xli. d.

The. xli. Chapter.

Whyt Paule pleadeth his cause before Festus the president, through the malice of the Jewes he is forced to appeale to Cesar. Festus declareth Paules pceds to Agrippa, and byngeth hym also hym to knowe hys matter.

When Festus was come into the prouince, after thre dayes he ascended from Cesaria to Ierusalem. Then enfourmed him the hye priestes & the chiefe of the Jewes, of Paule. And they besought hym, and desired sauoure agaynst hym, that he woulde sende for him to Ierusalem: and laped wayte for him in the way to kyll hym. Festus answered that Paule shoulde be kept at Cesaria: but that he hym selfe woulde shortly departe thither. Lette them therfore (sayd he) whych amonge you are able to do it, come downe wth vs, and accuse hym, if there be anye faulte in the man.

Act. xli. e.

Act. xli. f.

Act. xli. g.

When he had tarped ther more then ten daies he departed vnto Cesaria, & the next daye satte downe in the iudgemente seate, & commaunded Paule to be brought. When he was come, the Jewes whiche wer come from Ierusalem, came about hym, & laied many and greuous complaintes agaynst Paule, whych they could not proue as long as he answered for him selfe, & that he had

Act. xli. h.

neither

The Actes of the apostles. Chap. xxvi.

Act. xxi. f. neither against the lawe of the Jewes, neither agaynst the temple, nor yet agaynst Cesar, offended any thing at all. Festus * willing to do the Jewes a pleasure, answered Paul and said. Wilt thou go to Jerusalem, and there be iudged of these thyn-ges before me? Then said Paul: I stande at Cæsars iudgement seat, wher I oughte to be iudged. For the Jewes haue no harme done, as thou very wel knowest. If I haue hurt them, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to dye. If none of these thynges are, wherof they accuse me, no man ought to deliuer me to them. I ap-peale vnto Cesar. Then spake Festus with deliberacion, and answered. Thou haste appealed vnto Cesar, vnto Cesar wylte thou go.

Agrippa. After certayne dayes, kynge Agrippa & Bernice came vnto Cæsaria to salute Jesus. And when they had ben there a good season, Festus reherced Pauls cause vnto the kynge, saying: * there is a certayne man lefte in prison of Felix, aboute whom when I came to Jerusalem * the hie puestes and elders of the Jewes enformed me, and desired too haue iudgemente a-gaynst him. To whom I answered: It is not the maner of the Romaines to deliuer any man that he should perishe, before that he whiche is accused haue the accusers before him, and haue licence to answer for himselfe, concerninge the crime layde a-gaynst hym: when they were come hyther, without delaye on the morowe, I sate to geue iudgement, and comanded the man to be broughte forth. Agaynst whom when the accusers stood by * they brought none accusacion of such thynges as I supposed, but had certayne questyons agaynst hym of thei owne superstycon, and of one Jesus, whiche was deade, whom Paul asseymed to be aloue. And because I doubted of such maner of questyons, I axed him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be iudged of these matters. The whiche Paul had appealed to be kepte vnto the knowledge of Cesar: I commaunded hym to be kept, tyll I might send him to Cesar.

Agrippa said to Festus: I woulde also heare the man myselfe. To morowe (sayd he) thou shalt heare him. And on the mo-row when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and were entred into the counsell house with the captaynes & chiefe menne of the cite, at Festus commaunde-ment Paul was broughte forth: And Fe-sus said: Saying Agrippa, & al men whiche are here present with vs: so this manne about whom al the multitude of the Jew-es haue bene wth me, both at Jerusalem and also here, cryinge that he ought not to lyue anye longer. Yet founde I nothyng worthy of death that he had committed.
Neuertheles I erunge that he hath appealed to Cesar. I haue determined to sende him. Of whom I haue no certayne thyng to wyte vnto my Lord. Wherefore I haue brought hym vnto you, and especyally vnto the kynge Agrippa that after examina-cion had, I might haue sumwhat to wyte.

For me thinketh it vncreasonable for to send a prisioner, and not to shew the causes whiche are layed agaynst him.

The xxvi. Chapter.

Paul with such authority declared his faith, and calling, before kynge Agrippa, that he moueth his mynde muche. But before he hath done, they depart away.

Agrippa said vnto Paul: thou arte permitted to speake for thy self. The Paul stretched forth the hand, & answered for hym selfe. I thynke my selfe happy kynge Agrippa, because I shall answer this day before the, of all the thynges wherof I am accused of the Jewes, name-lye because thou arte experte in all customes and questyons whiche are among the Jewes. Wherefore I beseeche the to heare me patiently.

Agrippa of a chyldre, which was at the first among myne owne nacion at Jerusalem, knowe all the Jewes whiche knewe me from the beginning, if they would testify it. * For after the moste straitest secte of our law, liued I a pharisee, & now I stand and * am iudged for the hope of the promys made of god vnto our fathers: vnto which promys our fathers instantly setynge God day & night, hope to come. For whiche hopes sake, kynge Agrippa, I am accused of the Jewes. Why should it be thought a thyng vncredible vnto you, that God should raise agayne the dead?

I also verily thought in my selfe, that I ought to do many contrary thynges, cleane agaynst the name of Jesus of Nazareth,
* whiche thyng I also dyd in Jerusalem. Act. viii. a.
Wher many of the sanctes I shutte by in ii. a. xii. a. prison, and had receiued authoritye of the 2 Cor. xv. b. hie puestes. And when they were putte to Gal. i. c.
death, I gaue the sentence: And I punyshed them oft, in euery synagoge, and compelled them to blaspheme: & was yet more mad vnto them, and persecuted them; euen vnto straunge cyties. About whiche thynges as I went to Damascus with authoritye & licence of the hie puestes, euen at mydday (sayng) I saw in the way a lyghte from heauen aboue the bryghtnes of the sunne, shyned round aboute me, and them whiche ioyned wth me.

When wee were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speake vnto me, and sayinge in the Hebreue tonge: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is harde for the to kicke agaynst the pynche. And I sayd: Who art thou Lord? And he sayd: I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest, but rise and stand vpon thy fete: For I haue appeared vnto the for this purpose, to make þa imposter & a mynes both of these thynges whiche thou hast sene, and of those thynges in the whiche I will appeare vnto the. deliueringe

uerpunge the from the people, & fro the Gentys, vnto which now I sende the, to open their eyes: that they might turne fro darknes to light, & from the power of Sathan vnto God: that they may receiue forgiveness of sinnes, and inheritance amonge them, which are sanctified by fapth in me.

Wherefore kpng Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauy vnto: but shewed first vnto them of Damasco, & at Hierusalem and thorough out all the coastes of Jewry, & to the Gentils, that they shoulde repent, and turne to God, and do the right worke of repentaunce. For this cause the Jewes caught me in the temple and went about to kil me. Neuerthelesse I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this dape witnessing both to smal and to great, saying none other thynges then those whiche the prophetes and Moyses dyd say shoulde come: that Christ shoulde suffer, and that he would be the fyrste that shoulde ryste from death, and shoulde shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentys.

As he thus answered for him selfe, Festus sayed with a loude voice: Paule, thou art besydes thy selfe. Much learning hath made the mad. And Paule sayed: I am not mad, most deere Festus, but speake the wordes of truth and sobernes. The kpng knoweth of these thynges, befoze whiche I speake frelye, neither thincke I, that any of these thynges are lidden from him. For this thing was not done in a corner. Kpng Agrippa, beleuest thou the prophetes? I wote well thou beleuest. Agrippa sayed to Paule: Somewhat thou bingest me in mynde for to become a Christian. And Paule sayed: I wold to God that not onely thou, but also al that hear me to day, were not somewhat onely, but altogether such as I am, except these bondes. And when he had thus spoken, the kpng rose vp, and the debite, and Bernice, and they that sat with them. And when they were gone aparte, they talked betwene themselves, saying: This manne doth nothyng worthy of death nor of bondes. Then said Agrippa vnto Festus: This man might haue bene lewsed if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

The xxvii. Chapter.

Paule is committed to a Centurion, to be brought to Cesar, whiche because he obeyeth not Pauls counsaile, hath daungerous and vniucky sayyngs. And when they haue bene long tossed wth wynde and weather, they suffer theyr wycke, but escape all safe into the yle of Adileum.

Vhen it was concluded that we shuld sayle into Italy, they deliuered Paule and certayne other prisonners vnto one named Julius, an vnder captayne of Cessars soldiers. And we entred into a ship of Adramicium, and lewsed from land, appointed to sayle by the coastes of Asia, one Aristarcus out of Macedonia of the country of Thessalia, beyng with vs. And the next dape we came to Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paule, and gaue him libertie to go vnto his frendes, and to rest himselfe. And from thence lancheth we, and sayled hard by Cipers, because the windes were contrary. Then sayled we ouer the sea of Cilicia, and Pamphilia, and came to Mira a city in Licia. And there the vnder Captayne founde a ship of Alexandria redy to sayle into Italy, and putte vs therein. And when we had sayled slowly many daies and scace were come ouer against Sidon (because the wynde with stode vs) we sayled hard by the coastes of Candie, ouer agaynst Salmo, and with much worke sayled beyond it, and came vnto a place called good porte. Here wherunto was a cpye called Iasea.

When much tyme was spent in sayyng was nowe desperdous, because also that we had ouerlong fasted, Paule put them in remembraunce, and said vnto them Sirs, I perceiue that this biage wilbe with hurt and much damage, not of the lodgyng and expence, but also of ouerlpyes. Neuerthelesse the vnder captayne beleued the gouerner and the Maister, better then those thynges whiche were spoken of Paule. And because the haul was not commodious to wynter in, many toke counsell to departe thence, if by anye meanes they mighte attaine to Rhemes and there too wynter, whiche is an haven of Candie, and seruethe to the south west and north west wind. When the south wind blew, they supposyng to obtaine their purpose, lewsed vnto Ailon, and sayled past all Candie.

But anon after there arose against their purpose a flaw of wynde out of the north east. And when the ship was caughte, and could not resiste the wynde, we let her go, & dyoue with the weather. And wee came vnto an yle named Claudia, & had much worke to come by a boat, which they toke by, and vsed helpe, vndergryding the ship: fearing lest we shoulde haue fallen into the Sytres, and we let downe a vessell and so were caught. The next dape when we were tossed wth an exceeding tpe, they lightened the ship, and the thyrde dape we came oute wth our owne handes the tacklyng of the ship. When at the last neyther sunne nor starre in many dapes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we shoulde be saued, was then taken awaye.

Then after long abstinence, Paule stode forth in the myddest of them, & said: Sirs, ye shoulde haue harkened to me, & not haue lewsed from Candie, neyther to haue brought vnto vs this harme and losse. And now I exhorte you to be of good chere, forther that be no losse of any mannes lyfe among you, saue of the ship onely. Forther stode by me this night the aungel of God whose I am, and whome I serue, sayinge: Feare not Paule, for thou must be brought before Cesar. And lo, God hath geue vnto the al that saile with the. Wherefore Sirs be of

Act. xxvii. c

B

C

D

E

Act. xxvii. c

The Actes of the

be of good cheare: for I beleue God, that so it shall be euen as it was told me. Howe beit we must be cast into a certaine Iland.

But when the fourtenth night was come, as wee were carped in Adria aboute midnighte, the Shipmen demed that there appeared some countrey vnto them, and sounded, and found it twenty fadoms.

And when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, and founde. x. fadoms. Then fearing lest they shoulde haue fallen on some Rocks they cast route ancres oute of the Ship, and rayed for the day. And the Shipmen were about to fle out of the Ship, and had let drune the beate in to the sea vnder a coloure, as though they would haue cast ancres out of the forship: Paul said vnto the vnder captayne and the soldiers: except these abide in the Ship, ye can not be safe. When the soldiers cut off the rope of the boat, and let it fall away.

And in the meane tyme betwixt that and dape, paul besoughte them all to take meate, saying: this is the fourth dape, that ye haue tarped and estynued fasting, excepting nothinge at all. Whertore I praye you, take meate: for this no doubt is for your health: for there shall not an haire fall from the head of any of you. And when he had thus spoken he toke bread & and gaue thanks to God in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

Then were they all of good cheare, & they also toke meate. We were altogether in the Ship, two hundred thre score & xvi. soules.
And when they hadde eaten ynough, they lighrened the Ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

When it was dape, they knewe not the land, but they spied a certaine haue wth a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the Shippe.
And when they had taken vp the ancres, they committed themselves vnto the sea, & lewed the rudder boundes, and hopped vp the maine saile to the wynde and drew to land. But they chyanced on a place, whiche had the sea on both sydes, and thrust in the Shippe. And the fore parte sticke fast & moued not, but the hynder parte brake with the violence of the waues.

The soldiers counsell was too kyll the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had sworne out, shuld fle away. But the vnder captayne willinge too saue Paul, kepte them from theyr purpose, and commaunded that they that could swim, shoulde cast themselves first into the sea, and scape to land. And the other he commaunded to go, some on boubres, and some on broken pe-ces of the Ship. And so it came to passe that they came all safe to land.

The Notes.

(a) Syntes be perillous sandy places in the sea, about the coastes of Affrica, of the nature of whirlpooles.

The xxviii. Chapter.

Apostles. Chap. xxviii.

Paul in gatheringe fyrches, taketh a ship per in his hande, and is not hurt. He heareth Publius farther an heade man of the town, & other by miracle. They saue theyr herc and go from thence to Rome. Where Paul after he hath casted the Jewes together, declareth his matter, and readyly sheweth there, the space of two yeares.

And when they were scaped, then they knew that the yle was called Malta. And the people of the county shewed vs no litle kyndnes: for they kindled a fyre, and receyued vs euery one, because of the present tyme, and because of the colde. And when Paul had gathered a boundel of stickes, and put them into the fyre, ther came a Cher oute of the heate, & lept on his hand. When the menne of the countrey saw the worme hange on his hand, they sayde amonge themselves: this man must nedes be a murtherer. Wch thoughte he haue escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffreth not to scape. But he shooke of the beast into the fyre, and felt no harme.
Howbeit they waited when he shuld haue swolne or fallen down dead suddenly. But after they had loked a great while and saw no harme come to him, they chaunged their minds, and said that he was a God.

In the same quarters the chiefe man of the yle, whose name was Publius, had a lord ship: the same receyued vs, and lodged vs thre dapes courteously. And it fortun-ed that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer and of a bloudy fluxe. To whom Paul entred in and prayed, and laied his handes on him, and healed him. When this was done, other also whiche had diseases in the yle, came and were healed. And they did vs great honour. And when we departed, they laded vs with thynges necessary.

After thre monethes, we departed in a Ship of Alexandria, whiche had wintered in the yle, whose badge was (a) Castor and Pollux. And when wee came to Apriacusa, we tarped there thre daies. And from thence we sette a compasse and came to Regium.
And after one day, the south wynde blew, and wee came the next dape to Ostia:
whete we found brethren, and were desired to tarpe with them seuen dapes, and so came to Rome. And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came against vs to Appu forum, and to the thre tauernes.
When Paul saw them, he thanked God, & wared bolde. And whē he came to Rome, the vnder captayn deliuered the prisoners to the chiefe captayne of the host: but Paul was suffred to dwell by him selfe wth one soldier that kept him. And it fortun-ed after thre dapes, that Paul called the chiefe of the Jewes together. And when they wer come, he sayed vnto them: Menne and brethren, though I haue committed nothinge against the people or lawes of our fathers: yet was I deliuered prisoner from Jerusalem, into the handes of the Romaynes.

Whiche

Act. xxviii. 6

Act. xxviii. 6
Luce. x. 2

Act. xvi. 6

Lapinge
on of han-
des.

Act. xxviii. 6
and. xxviii. 6
Act. xxviii. 6

A pprologe vppon the

For this cause the. xlv. Psalm. calleth all men trers, because that no manne keepeth the lawe from the grounde of the herte, neyther can hepe it, though he appeare outwardly full of good woorkes.

For all men are naturally enclined vnto euyl, and hate the law: we fynd in our selues vn lust and tediousnes to do good, but lust & delectation to do euyl. Now wher no freer lust is to good, ther the bottome of the hert fulfilleth not the law: where no doer is al so syn, and wyl is delected before God, though there be neuer so greates an outward thewe and appareance of honest liuynge.

For this cause concludeth Dauid. I haue in the. ii. Chap. that the Jewes are all sinners and transgressours of the lawe, though they make menne beleue thowme the hypocrite of outward woorkes, how that they fulfil the law and sayeth that he only which doth the lawe, is righteous before God, meynynge thereby that no man without warde woorkes fulfillth the lawe.

Thou sayest he to the Jewe) teachest that a man should not breake wedlocke, & yet breakest wedlocke thy selfe: wher in thou iudgest an other man therein condempnest thy selfe, for thou thy selfe doest euen the very same thynges whiche he iudgest. As though they wolde say, & lyest outwardly wyl in the woorkes of the lawe, & iudgest them þ thus not so. Thou teachest other men, & seest a mote in another mans eye, but art not ware of the beam þ is thynne own eye. For although thou kepe the lawe outwardly with woorkes, for feare of shame, rebuys, & punishment: either for loue of reward, bauntage, and vayne glory: yet dost thou al without lust & loue toward the lawe, & haddest liue a greates deale other wise do, if thou diddest not feare the lawe. Yea inwardly in thynne hert þ wouldest þ there were no law, no noy yet God, the authour and vengear of the lawe, if it were possible, so paynt full it is vnto the to haue thynne appetites released, and be kept downe.

Wherfore then it is a plain conclusion, that thou tread the ground & bottom of thine hert are an enemy to the lawe. What exaspereth it nowe that þ teachest another man not to steale, when þ thine own selfe art a theefe in thine hert, & outwardly wouldest liue steale if þ durst, though he þ outward dedes obeye not al way behind wyl such hypocrites & dissimulere, but breake forth among euen as an euyl scab or pocke cannot al wayes be kept in wyl violence of medicine. Thou teachest an other man, but teachest not thy selfe þ wouldest not what þ teachest, for thou vnderstandest not the lawe a right, how þ it cannot be fulfilled & satisfied, but wyl an vnspayed loue & affection, so great þ it cannot be fulfilled with outward dedes & woorkes only. Moreover the lawe encreaseth synne as he sayeth in the v. Chap. because þ man is an enemy to þ lawe, for as much as it requirerth so many thynges cleane contrary to hys nature, wherof he is not able to fulfil one poynt or title as the lawe requirerth it. And therfore are we more prouoked and haue greater lust to breake it.

For wher the causes sake he sayeth in the. vii. Chap. þ the lawe is spiritual: as though he wold say: if the lawe were fleshy & but mans doer in it myght be fulfilled, satisfied, and stilled with outward dedes. But nowe is the lawe godly, & no man fulfillerth it, except that al that he doth springe of loue from the bottome of the hert.

Epylle to the Roma.

Suche answere herte and lustye courage vnto the lawe warde, canste thou neuer com by of thynne owne strengthe and enforment, but by the operation and woorkynge of the spirite.

For the spirite of god onely maketh a man spiritual, & like vnto the law, so that now henceforth he doth nothyng of feare, or luste or bauntage sake, or of vayne glorye but of a free herte and of inward lust. The. vi. is spiritual and will be boeth loued and fulfilled of a spiritual herte, and therfore of necessity requirerth it the spirite that maketh a mans herte free, & giveth him lust and courage vnto the law ward: where such a spirite is not, there remaineth syn grudgynge, and hate agaynst the lawe, wher the lawe neuertheless is good righteous & holy.

Acquaint thy selfe therfore wyl the maner of lyfynge of the Apostle, and let this nowe be the last in thine hert, that it is not boeth one, to do the dedes and woorkes of the lawe, and to fulfil the lawe. The woorkes of the lawe is what fouere a man doeth or can do of hys owne free wyl, of his owne propre strength & enforment.

Notwithstandynge though there be neuer so great woorkynge, yet as long as there remaineth in the hert vn lust tediousnes, grudgynge, griffe, payne, lossumnes, & opposition toward the lawe so long are al the woorkes vnprofitable, lost, & damnable in the sight of god. This meyneth Dauid in the. ii. Chap. wher he sayeth: by the dedes of the lawe that no fleshy be fulfilled in the sight of god. Wherby perceiue þ that those philosophers are but deceuers which teach that a man may & must prepare himselfe to grace & to the fauour of god with good woorkes, before he haue the spirite & true sayth of Christ. How can they prepare the selues vnto the fauour of god, & to þ which is good, wher they the selues can do no good no, can not once thynke a good thought, or consert to do good, the Deuyl possidynge their hertes, mindes, & thoughtes, captiue at hys pleasure. Can those woorkes please God thynkest þ, which are done wyl greffe, payne & tediousnes, wyl an euyl wyl, wyl a contrary & grudgynge in the wyl? how sayest thou prosperous, how myghtly wyl the scripture of þ Dauid vnderstand þ confound this heresie about þ (I trawe), xii. l. peris & go or therupon. To fulfil þ lawe, to do the woorkes therof, & what fouere the lawe commaundeth wyl loue luste, & inward affection and delectation, and to lyue godly & wel, freely, willingly, & wyl out compulsion of the lawe, such as though there were no lawe at al, such lust and sceleratye to þ lawe cometh onely by the woorkynge of the spirite in the herte, as he sayeth in the Epylle. I haue.

Nowe is the spirite geuen none other wyle this by sayth only in that we beleue þ promyses of God wylout waueryng, howe that god is true, and wyl fulfill all his good promyses to, warde be for Christes bloudes sake, as it is playne in the. x. Chap. I am not ashamed sayeth Dauid of Christes glad tidynge, for it is the power of God vnto saluacion, to as manye as beleue. For at once & together, such as we be true the gladder tidynge preached vnto vs, the holy gost enterech into oure hertes, and leueth the bondes of the Deuyl, wher before possidynge oure hertes in captiuitie: and held them that we could haue no lust to the wyl of god in the lawe. And as the spirite cometh by sayeth onely, euen so sayth cometh by hearing þ word of god, when a quere is preached how þ he is þ son of God.

To doo the dedes of þ lawe, and to fulfil þ lawe are two thynges.

The spirite cometh by sayeth.

The lawe encreaseth synne.

The spirite is required yf we can kepe þ lawe.

A prologe vppon the

For this cause the. xlv. Psalm. calleth all men trers, because that no manne keepeth the lawe from the grounde of the herte, neyther can hepe it, though he appeare outwardly full of good woorkes.

For all men are naturally enclined vnto euyl, and hate the law: we fynd in our selues vn lust and tediousnes to do good, but lust & delectacion to do euyl. Now wher no freer lust is to good, ther the bottome of the hert fulfilleth not the law: where no doer is at all syn, and wyl is delected before God, though there be neuer so greate an outward thewe and appareance of honest liuynge.

For this cause concludeth Dauid. I haue in the. ii. Chap. that the Jewes are all sinners and transgressours of the lawe, though they make menne beleue thowme the hypocrite of outward woorkes, how that they fulfil the law and sayeth that he only which doth the lawe, is righteous before God, meynynge thereby that no man without warde woorkes fulfillth the lawe.

Thou sayest he to the Jewe) teachest that a man should not breake wedlocke, & yet breakest wedlocke thy selfe: wher in thou iudgeth an other man therein condempnest thy selfe, for thou thy selfe doest euen the very same thynges whiche he iudgeth. As though they wolde say, & lyest outwardly wyl in the woorkes of the lawe, & iudgeth them þ thus not so. Thou teachest other men, & seest a mote in another mans eye, but art not ware of the beam þ is thynne own eye. For although thou kepe the lawe outwardly with woorkes, for feare of shame, rebuyl, & punishment: either for loue of reward, bauntage, and vayne glory: yet dost thou al without lust & loue toward the lawe, & haddest liue a greate deale other wise do, if thou diddest not feare the law. Yea inwardly in thynne hert þ wouldest þ there were no law, no noy yet God, the authour and vengear of the law, if it were possible, so paynt full it is vnto the to haue thynne appetites released, and be kept downe.

Wherfore then it is a plain conclusion, that thou tread the ground & bottom of thine hert are an enemy to the law. What exaspereth it nowe that þ teachest another man not to steale, when þ thine own selfe art a thefe in thine hert, & outwardly wouldest liue steale if þ durst, though he þ outward dedes obeye not al way behind w such hypocrites & dissimulere, but breake forth among euil as an euyl scab or pocke cannot al wayes be kept in w violence of medicine. Thou teachest an other man, but teachest not thy selfe þ wouldest not what þ teachest, for thou vnderstandest not the law a right, how þ it cannot be fulfilled & satisfied, but with an vnspayed loue & affection, so great þ it cannot be fulfilled with outward dedes & woorkes only. Moreover the law encreaseth synne as he sayeth in the v. Chap. because þ man is an enemy to þ law, for as much as it requirerh so many thynges cleane contrary to hys nature, wherof he is not able to fulfil one poynt or title as the law requirerh it. And therfore are we more prouoked and haue greater lust to breake it.

For wher the causes sake he sayeth in the. vii. Chap. þ the law is spiritual: as though he wold say: if the lawe were fleshy & but mans doer in it myght be fulfilled, satisfied, and stilled with outward dedes. But nowe is the lawe godly, & no man fulfillerh it, except that at that he doth sprynge of loue from the bottome of the hert.

Epylle to the Roma.

Suche answere herte and lustye courage vnto the lawe warde, canste thou neuer com by of thynne owne strengthe and enforment, but by the operation and woorkynge of the spirite.

For the spirite of god onely maketh a man spiritual, & like vnto the law, so that now henceforth he doth nothyng of feare, of lute or bauntage sake, or of vayne glorye but of a free herte and of inward lust. Ch. ii. is spiritual and will be boeth loued and satisfied of a spiritual herte, and therfore of necessity requirerh it the spirite that maketh a mans herte free, & groweth him lust and courage vnto the law ward: where such a spirite is not, there remaineth syn grudgynge, and hate agaynst the lawe, wher the lawe neuertheless is good righteous & holy.

Acquaint thy selfe therfore with the maner of lyfynge of the Apostle, and let this nowe be the last in thine hert, that it is not boeth one, to do the dedes and woorkes of the lawe, and to fulfil the law. The woorkes of the lawe is what fouer a man doeth or can do of hys owne free wyl, of his owne propre strength & enforment.

Notwithstandynge though there be neuer so great woorkynge, yet as long as there remaineth in the hert vn lust tediousnes, grudgynge, griffe, payne, lossumnes, & opposition toward the lawe so long are all the woorkes vnprofitable, lost, & damnable in the sight of god. This meyneth Dauid in the. ii. Chap. where he sayeth: by the dedes of the lawe that no fleshy be fulfilled in the sight of god. Wherby perceiue þ that those philosophers are but deceuers which teach that a man may & must prepare himselfe to grace & to the fauour of god with good woorkes, before he haue the spirite & true sayth of Christ. How can they prepare the selues vnto the fauour of god, & to þ which is good, wher they the selues can do no good no, can not once thynke a good thought, or consert to do good, the Deuyl possidynge their hertes, mindes, & thoughtes, captiue at hys pleasure. Can those woorkes please God thynkest þ, which are done w greffe, payne & tediousnes, w an euyl wyl, with a contrary & grudgynge in the w holp saynt prosperous, how myghtly with the scripture of Paul. vnder þ confound this heresie about (I trawe), xii. c. peris & go or therupon. To fulfil þ law, to do the woorkes therof, & what fouer the law commaundeth with loue lust, & inward affection and delectacion, and to lyue godly & wel, frely, willingly, & with out compulsion of the lawe, such as though there were no law at al, such lust and sceleratyte to þ lawe cometh onely by the woorkynge of the spirite in the herte, as he sayeth in the Epylle. Chap. ii.

Nowe is the spirite geuen none other wyle this by sayth only in that we beleue þ promyses of God without waueryng, howe that god is true, and wyl fulfill all his good promyses to, warde be for Christes bloudes sake, as it is playne in the. x. Chap. I am not ashamed sayeth Paul of Christes glad tidynge, for it is the power of God vnto saluacion, to as manye as beleue. For at once & together, such as we be true the gladder tidynge preached vnto vs, the holy gost entreceth into oure hertes, and leueth the bondes of the deuyl, wher before possidynge oure hertes in captiuitie: and held them that we could haue no lust to the wyl of god in the law. And as the spirite cometh by sayeth onely, euen so sayth cometh by hearing þ word of god, when a quere is preached how þ he is þ son of God.

To doo the dedes of þ lawe, and to fulfil þ law are two thynges.

The spirite cometh by sayeth.

The law encreaseth synne.

The spirite is required yf we can kepe þ law.

Whiche when they hadde examined me, would haue let me go, because they found no cause of death in me. But when the Jewes cryed contrarie, I was constrained to appeale to Cesar: not because I had ought to accuse my people of. For this cause haue I called for you, euen to see you, and to speake wth the you: * because that for the hope of Israel, I am bounde wth thes charyne.

Act. xlii. b.
and. xlii. c.
and. xlii. b.

And they sayed vnto hym: We nerther receiued letters out of Jewrye: pertaining vnto the, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or speake anye harme of the. But we will heare of the what thou thinkest. For we haue heard of thes secte that euer * wher it is spoken against. And whē they had appointed him a daye, there came many vnto him into his lodging. To whō he expounded and testified the kyngdome of God, and preached vnto them of Iesu: both oute of the lawe of Moyses and also out of the prophetes, euen from morning to night. And some beleued the thynges which were spoken, and some beleued not. When they agreed not amonge themselves, they departed, after that Paul hadde spoken one worde: Well spake the holpe ghost by Esay the prophete vnto our fathers, sayinge: * goo vnto this people and say: with your eares shal ye heare and shal not vnderstand: and with your eyes shal ye see, and shal not perceyue.

Act. ii. a

Act. xli. a

Esay. vi. c.
Isa. xlii. b
Isa. xlii. b
Luke. vii. c
John. xii. c
Roma. xi. b

For the hert of this people is waxed grosse and their eares were thicke of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: lest they should see with their eyes and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hartes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them. Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluacion of God is sent to the Gentyles, and they shal heare it. And when he had said this, the Jewes departed, and had great dispicions amonge themselves.

And Paul dwelt two yeres full in his lodginge, and receyued all that came to him, preaching those thynges which concerned the Lorde Iesus wth all confidence vnsoboden.

The Notes.

Act. ii. a
Pollux.

(a) These in olde time were esteemed as Goddes, who if they appeared bothe together, were counted sauourable and lucky to Mariners, and such as traualled the seas. If one after another, or one alone: vnsoueraigne and cruel. The owner of the ship carried the badge of them, not without great confidence therein, & these two Gods would prosper his voyage, because he honored them wth the carryinge ther of.

Here endeth the Actes of the Apostles.

A Prologe

vnto the Epyistle of Saynt

Paule to the Romanes.

As muche as this Epyistle is the pryncypall and most excellent part of the newe Testament, and most pure Euangelion, that is to saye: glad tydings, and that we call Gospell, and also a light and a waye in vnto the whole Scripture, I thynke it mete that euery Chyrtian manne not onely knowe it by herte and wythoute the booke: but also exercepse hymselfe therein euermore continuallye, as wth the daily breade of the soule. A man verely can reade it to oft, & studye it so well, for the more it is studied, the easer it is, the more it is desired, the pleasanter it is, and the grounde it is searched, the greater thynges are found in it, so great treasure of spiritual thynges specheth hym therein.

I will therefore bestow my labour and dyspayre through this litle & yfayre prologe, to prepare a waye in ther vnto, so far forth as God shal graunte me grace, that it may be vnderstande of euery manne. For it hath bene hitherto so euill darkened wth glo'es, and wonderfull dreames of Sophisters, that no man could spele oute the entente and meaning of it, whiche naturethles, yet of it selfe is a bright light, and sufficient to geue lighte vnto all the Creepers.

First, we muste marke dytgentlye the maner of speaking of the Apostle, and about al thyng knowe what Paule meaneth by these wordes, the Lawe, Sinne, Grace, Fayth, Righteousnes, fleshe, Synne, and such lyke, or els reade it thou neuer so oft, thou shalt but loose thy labour. This worde Lawe must not be vnderstande here after the common maner, and to vse Pauls terme, after the maner of men, or after mannes wayes, that thou wouldest saye, the Lawe here in this place were nothyng but learninge, whiche teacheth what oughte to be done, and what oughte not to be done, as it goeth wth mannes lawe, where the lawe is filled wth outward woordes onely, though the herte be neuer so farre of. But God iudgeth the grounde of the herte, yea, and the thoughte, and the secret mounges of the mynde, & therfore bys law requyren the grounde of the herte, and loue from the bottome thereof, and is not content wth the outward worche onely, but rebuketh those woordes moode of all, whiche springe not of loue from the ground and lowe bottome of the herte, though they appeare outward, neuer so honeste and good, as Chyrtians the Gospell rebuketh the Pharises aboute al other that were open synners, and calleth them hypocrites, that is to saye, Counters, & painted sepulchres. Whiche Pharises yet lured men so pure, as pertaining to the outward dedes and woordes of the lawe. Yea and Paul in the thyrde Chapt. of his Epyistle vnto the Romayns, confesseth of hym selfe, that as touching the Lawe he was such a one as no man coulde complayne on, and not vpholdenryge was yet a murderer of the churche, persecutour them and tormentour them so sore, that he compelled them to blasphem the Churche, and was altogether meetre, as many which now saye outward good woordes are.

The Lawe of God requyred loue

Whiche when they hadde examined me, would haue let me go, because they found no cause of death in me. But when the Jewes cryed contrarie, I was constrained to appeale to Cesar: not because I had ought to accuse my people of. For this cause haue I called for you, euen to see you, and to speake wth the you: * because that for the hope of Israel, I am bounde wth thes charyne.

Act. xlii. b.
and. xlii. c.
and. xlii. b.

And they sayed vnto hym: We nerther receiued letters out of Jewrye: pertaining vnto the, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or speake anye harme of the. But we will heare of the what thou thinkest. For we haue heard of thes secte that euer * wher it is spoken against. And whē they had appoynted him a daye, there came many vnto him into his lodging. To whō he expounded and testified the kyngdome of God, and preached vnto them of Iesu: both oute of the lawe of Moyses and also oute of the prophetes, euen from morning to night. And some beleued the thynges which were spoken, and some beleued not. When they agreed not amonge themselves, they departed, after that Paul hadde spoken one worde: Well spake the holpe ghost by Esay the prophete vnto our fathers, sayinge: * goo vnto this people and say: with your eares shal ye heare and shal not vnderstand: and with your eyes shal ye see, and shal not perceyue.

Act. ii. a

Act. xli. a

Esay. vi. c.
Mat. xlii. b
Mar. xlii. b
Luke. viii. c
John. xii. c
Roma. xi. b

For the hert of this people is waxed grosse and their eares were thicke of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: lest they should see with their eyes and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hartes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them. Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluacion of God is sent to the Gentyles, and they shal heare it. And when he had said this, the Jewes departed, and had great dispicions amonge themselves.

And Paul dwelt two yeres full in his lodgingge, and receyued all that came to him, preaching those thynges which concerned the Lorde Iesus wth all confidence vnsoboden.

The Notes.

Act. ii. a
Pollux.

(a) These in olde time were esteemed as Goddes, who if they appeared bothe together, were counted sauourable and lucky to Mariners, and such as traualled the seas. If one after another, or one alone: vnsoueraigne and cruel. The owner of the ship carried the badge of them, not without great confidence therein, & these two Gods would prosper his voyage, because he honored them wth the carryinge thereof.

Here endeth the Actes of the Apostles.

A Prologe

vnto the Epyistle of Saynt

Paule to the Romanes.

As muche as this Epyistle is the pryncypall and most excellent part of the newe Testament, and most pure Euangelion, that is to saye: glad tydings, and that we call Gospell, and also a light and a waye in vnto the whole Scripture, I thynke it mete that euery Chyrtian manne not onely knowe it by herte and wythoute the booke: but also exercepse hymselfe therein euermore continuallye, as wth the daily breade of the soule. A man verely can reade it to oft, & studye it so well, for the more it is studied, the easer it is, the more it is vnderstanded, the pleasanter it is, and the grounde it is searched, the more thynges are found in it, so great treasure of spiritual thynges specheth hym therein.

I will therefore bestow my labour and dyspense through this litle & yfayre of prologe, to prepare a waye in ther vnto, so far forth as God shall graunte me grace, that it may be vnderstande of euery manne. For it hath bene hitherto so euill darkened wth gloses, and wonderfull dreames of sophisters, that no man could spele oute the entente and meaning of it, whiche naturethles, yet of it selfe is a bright light, and sufficient to geue lighte vnto all the Creepers care.

First, we muste marke dytgentlye the maner of speaking of the Apostle, and about al thyng knowe what Paule meaneth by these wordes, the Lawe, Sinne, Grace, Fayth, Righteousnes, fleshe, Synne, and such lyke, or els reade it thou neuer so oft, thou shalt but loose thy labour. This worde Lawe must not be vnderstande here after the comen maner, and to vse Pauls terme, after the maner of men, or after mannes wayes, that thou wouldest saye, the Lawe here in this place were nothyng but learninge, whiche teacheth what oughte to be done, and what oughte not to be done, as it goeth wth mannes lawe, where the lawe is fulfilled wth outward woorkes onely, though the herte be neuer so farre of. But God iudgeth the grounde of the herte, yea, and the thoughte, and the secret mouynges of the mynde, & therfore bys law requyren the grounde of the herte, and loue from the bottome thereof, and is not content wth the outward woorkes onely, but rebuketh those woorkes mooste of all, whiche springe not of loue from the ground and lowe bottome of the herte, though they appeare outward, neuer so honeste and good, as Chyrtian the Gospell rebuketh the Pharises aboute al other that were open synners, and calleth them hypocrites, that is to saye, Counters, & painted sepulchres. Whiche Pharises yet lured men so pure, as pertaining to the outward dedes and woorkes of the lawe. Yea and Paul in the thyrde Chapt. of his Epyistle vnto the Romane, confesseth of hym selfe, that as touching the Lawe he was such a one as no man coulde complayne on, and not vnderstande was yet a murderer of the chyrtien, persecutour them and tormentour them so sore, that he compelled them to blasphem the Chyrtie, and was altogether merciles, as many which now saye outward good woorkes are.

The Lawe of God requyred loue

A prologe vppon the

Epylle to the Roma. Fo. xlvii

Fayth only iustifieth.

God and man also, deade and yfren agayne for our sakes, as he saith in. iiii. x. Chap. Al our iustifying then cometh by fayth, and fayth & the spirite come of god & not of vs. When we saye fayth bringeth p spirit, it is not to be vnderstand p fayth deserueth the spirit, or that the spirit is not present in vs before fayth. For the spirit is euer in vs: fayth is the gift & working of the spirit. But now preacheinge the spirit be- gynneth to worke in vs. And as by preacheinge the law, he wylleth the feare of god, so by preacheinge the glad tidings, he wylleth fayth. And now, as we be sure & are come vnder the co- uenante of god, then are we sure of the spirit by the promise of god, & then the spirit accom- paniet. Fayth inseparablye, & we begin to fele his working. And so fayth certifieth vs of the spirit, & also bringeth the spirit wher vnto the working of al other gyftes of grace, & to p workinge out of the rell of our saluacion vntyl we haue altogether overcome syn, death, hel & Satan, & are come vnto the euerslawinge lyte of glorie. And for this cause say we, fayth bringeth the spirit.

Workes
spring of fayth.

Hereof cometh it p fayth only iustifieth, maketh righteous, & fulfilleth the law: for it bringeth the spirit throughe whiche deseruynge the spirit bringeth lust, loseth the heart, and maketh him free, setteth him at liberty, and geueth him strenght to worke the dedes of the law whiloueuen as the law requereth. When at p last out of the same fayth so workinge in the heart, spring al good workes by their owne accorde. What meaneth he in the. iiii. Chap. for after he hath cast awaye the workes of the law, so that he soundeth as though he wold breake and discarpe the law thow fayth: he answereth to that myght be layd agaynst him, saying: we be stroue not the law thow fayth, but mayntayne, further, and stablish the law thow we saye. What is to say, we fulfil the law thow fayth.

Syn in the scripture is not called that outward worke only comitted by the body, but all the whole busines and whatsoever accompanieth, moueth or directeth vnto the outward dede, and that whiche the workes spring, as vnbellef, prouocacion & readines vnto the dede in the ground of the heart with all the powers, affections and appetites wherewith we can but syn. So that we say, that a man then synneth, whiche is carted awaye headling in to syn, altogether as much as he is of that poisoned and corrupte nature wherein he was conceived and borne.

For ther is none outward syn comitted except a man be carted away altogether, with life soule, heart, body, lust, and mind therunto. The scripture loketh singularly vnto the heart, and to the rote and original fountaine of al sin, whiche is vnbellef in the bottom of p heart. For as fayth only iustifieth, & bringeth the spirit and lust to the outward good workes, euen so vnbellef dampneth and kepeth out the spirit, prouoceth the flesh, & directeth by lust vnto the euil outward workes, as happened to Adam & Eue in paradise. Gene. iii. for this cause Christ callith syn vnbellef, and p notably in the. xvi. cha. of John. The spirit sayth he shall rebuke the world of syn, because they beleue not in me. And John. viii. I am the lyght of the worlde. And therfore in p. xvi. of John, he biddeth the while they haue light to beleue in p lyght p pe may be the chylde of lyght, for he that walketh in darkenes, wotteth not whether he goeth. Now as Christ is the lyght, so is the ignorance of Christ that darkenes whereof he speaketh, in whiche he that walketh wotteth not whether he goeth: that is, he knoweth not how to worke a good worke in the lyght of god, or what a good worke is. And therfore in the. ix. he saith: as long as I am in the worlde, I am the lyght of the worlde, but there cometh nyght when no man can worke, whiche nyght is but the ignorance of Christ, in whiche no man can se to do any worke to please god. And Paul exhorteth Eph. iiii. p they walk not as other heret which are straungers fro the life of god, thowghe the ignorance that is in the. And agayne in p same Chap. Put of (sayth he) the old man whiche is corrupt thowghe the lusts of errors, that is to say, ignorance. And Rom. xiii. Let vs caste away the dedes of darknes, that is to say, of ignorance and vnbellef. And. i. Pet. i. Fashion not your selues vnto old lusts of ignorance. And. i. Jo. ii. he that loueth his brother dwelleth in lyght, and he that hateth his brother, walketh in darknes, and wotteth not whether he goeth: for darknes hath blynded his eyes.

Thy lyght be meneth the knowledge of Christ, & by darknes the ignorance of Christ. For it is impossible that he that knoweth Christ truly, shoulde hate his brother. Further more to perceyue this thinge more clearly, p Chalre vnderstand, that it is not possible to syn any syn at all except a man breake the first commandment before. Now is the first commandment brused in to two verses: Thy lord god is one god, and thou shalt loue thy lord thy god with al thyne heart, with al thy soule, with all thy power, and with al thy myght. And the whole cause why I syn agaynst any inferiour precepte, is that this loue is not in my heart, for were this lawe wyrtten in mine heart, & were ful & perfect in my soule: it wold kepe mine heart fro consenting vnto any syn. And p whole & only cause why this loue is not wyrtten in our hearts, is p we beleue not p first part, & our lord god is one god. For with what these words, one lord & one god meaneth, p is to say, if I vnderstand p he made al & ruleth al, & p whatsoever is done to me, whether it be good or bad, & yet his wil, & that he only is the lord p ruleth and doeth it. And with cherto what this word (mine) meaneth, that is to say: if mine heart beleued & felt the inspyracion benefites and goodnes of God to me ward, & vnderstode and earnestly beleued the manyfold conchaunces of mercy, wherby god hath bounde him selfe to be mine whole & all together whal his power, lous, mercy, & myght, then shoulde I loue him with al mine heart soule, power, & myght, and of p loue euer kepe his commandments. So se I now p as fayth is mother of al goodnes & of al good workes: so is vnbellef p ground & rote of al euil, & al euil workes. Finally, if any man hath for taken syn, and is conuerted to put his trust in Christ, & to kepe the law of God, do fol at any tyme: the cause is that the fleshe throughe negligence hath choked the spirit, and oppressed by. & taken from by the foode of his strenght, & arch fode is his meditation in God, & in his wonderful dedes, and in the manifold conchaunces of his merce. Wherefore then before all good workes (as good frutes) there muste be fayth in the heart, whence they spring. And before al bad dedes (as al bad frutes) there muste be vnbellef in p heart, whiche is p rote, fountayne, pyth, & strenght of al sin, whiche is vnbellef and ignorance is called the head of the serpente and of olde dragon whiche the

Q m m m. ii. womans

The Prologue vpon the womans lede Christ must treade vnder foot, as it was promised vnto Adam.

Grace.

Grace and gyfte haue thys difference. Grace properly is gods fauoure, benediction or kind mynde, wherby of hys owne selfe, without deseruing of vs, he beareth to vs, wherby he was moued and enclined to gyue Christe vnto vs, with al his other gistes of grace.

Gyfte.

Gyfte is the holys ghost and hys workynge whome he pouereth into the hertes of theym, on whom he hath mercy, and whom he fauoureth. Though the gistes of the spirite encrease in vs daily, and haue not yet their full perfection, yet and though there remaine in vs yet euil lynes and synne, whiche fighte agaynst the spirite, as he saith here in the vii. Chap. & in the v. to the Gal. & as it was spoken before in the iii. Chap. of Genesis, of the debate betwene the womans lede, and the lede of the serpent, yet neuertheless gods fauour is so great, and so strong ouer vs for Chyrties sake, that we are counted for full hole and perfect before God. For gods fauour toward vs deuiderh not his selfe, encreasynge a litle and litle, as doo the gistes, but recueth vs hole and altogether in full loue for Chyrties sake our intercessor & mediator: & that because the gistes of the spirite & the battaile betwene the spirite and euil lynes, are begun in vs a ready.

Of thys now vnderstandest thou the vii. Chap. for wher Paule accuseth hym selfe as a synner and yet in the vii. Chap. saith, there is no damnation to them that are in Christ, & that because of the spirite, & because the gyftes of the spirite are begun in vs. Synners we are because the flethe is not full hylled and mortified. Flower theles in as much as we beleue in Christe, and haue the earnest begynning of the spirite, and would sayne be perfect. God is so louing & fauourable vnto vs, that he wyl not loue on such synne, neither wyl counte it an synne, but wyl deale with vs according to our belefe in Christ, and accordynge to his promises which he hath sworne to vs, vntyl the sin be full lame & mortified by death. Faith is not mans opinion and dyamic, as some ymagin & saue, when they here the stoye of the gospel. But when they se that they folow no good woorkes nor mindment of liuing though they here, & can habie many thinges of faith: yet then they fal from the ryght way, and say: faith ouerly iustifieth not, a man must haue good woorkes also, if he wil be righteous & safe. The cause is, when they here the Gospell of glad tidings, they fauie of theyr own strength certayne imaginacions & thoughtes in their hertes, saying: I haue heard the gospel, I remembre the stoye, so I beleue. And so they count ryght faith which neuertheles as it is but mans ymaginacion & faining, euen so profiteth it not vnto the foloweth ther anye mendment of liuinge.

But ryght faith is a thyng wrought by the holys gost in vs, which chaungeth vs into a new nature, & begetteth vs a newe in god, & maketh vs the sonnes of God, as he readest in the tytle of Ihon, and killeth the old Adam, and maketh vs altogether newe in the hert, mynde, will, lust, & in al other affections and powers of the soule, & holys gost euer accompaning his and culyng his herte. Faith is a lively thyng, myghty in workynge, valiant and stronge, euer doyng, euer fructifull, so that it is vnpossible that he whiche is endued therewith, should not woike alwaies good woorkes without ceasynge. He seeth not whether good woorkes are to be done or not, but hath done the already per mention he made of them, and is alwaies doyng, for luche is hys nature: nowe quite faueth in his hert & lypis mouing of the laste dyue & stier hym therunto. Whosoever doth not good woorkes is an vnbelouing person & faithlesse, & loke the rounde about groping after faith & good woorkes, and woteth not what faith or good woorkes meane though he habie neuer so many thinges of faith and good woorkes. Faith is the lively & steadfast trust in the fauoure of God, wherewith we ro mit our selues altogether vnto god, and so trust is so surely grounded & sticketh so fast in oure hertes, that a man would not once doubt if it though he should dye a thousand times therefor. And such trust wrought by the holys ghost through faith maketh a man glad, lusty, cheereful, & true herted vnto god & to al creatures. For he meanes wherof, willing & without compulsion, he is glad and ready to do good to euery man to suffer al thynges for god may be loued & payed, wherby both gaine him such grace: so that it is vnpossible to seperat good woorkes fro faith, eue as it is vnpossible to seperat herte & burnig fro fire. Therefore take heed, & beware of thyn own fauour, which is iudge of faith & good woorkes wyl lyme wyl, when in dede they are sturke blind & of al thynges most folow. For we god that he wyl vouchsafe to woike faith in thine hert, or els all that remaine euermore faithlesse, faine thou, imagin thou, entyce thou, waite with thy faith, and do what thou wilt.

Epylle to the Romaines.

Righteousnes is euen such faith, & is called Faith is gods righteuousnes, or righteuousnes that is of vnsighteous lute before god. For it is Gods gyfte, and it alie reth a man & chaungeth hym to a new spiritual nature, and maketh hym free & libral to paye euery mans duty. For thowowe faith is a man pouged of hys synnes, & obtayneth iustice vnto the lawe of god, wherby he geueth god hys honoure, & payeth hym that he oweth him and vnto men he doth serue willingly wherewith so euer he can, & payeth euery man his duty. Such righteuousnes is a nature, free will, and our own strengthe neuer byng to passe. For as no man can graue him selfe faith: so can he not take away vnbelefe. Now then can he take away any thyng at all. Therefore al is false hypocryse & syn, whatsoeuer is done without faith open vnbelefe, as it is euident in the iii. Chap. vnto the Romaines, though it appere neuer so glorious or beuifull outwardes.

Fleth and spirite maketh not here vnderstand as though fleth were onely that which pertayneth vnto vnchastite: & the spirite that which inwardly pertayneth to holys but fleth & all fleth here as a hyl both. Ihon. iii. Al that is borne of fleth, that is to were, the whole man with life, soule, body, wyl, wyl, reason, whatsoeuer he is, or doth within and without, because that all that is in man, and by after the world and the fleth & al that. Therefore whatsoeuer as longe as we are without the spirite of God, we thynke or speake, of god, of faith, of good woorkes, & of spiritual matters, & al that al woorkes which are done without grace & without the workynge of the spirite howeuer good they be spiritual they seme to be: as he maketh proue by the v. Chap. to the Galat. wher Paule nameth worshiping of Idols, witherast, Enure & hate, among the dedes of the fleth, & by the vii. to the Romaines, wher he saith that the lawe by the reason of the fleth is weake, which is not vnderstand of vnchastite onely, but of all synnes, and mooste speciall of vnbelefe, whiche is a bycrosse spiritual, and grounde of al synnes.

And

Faith is not a work of man.

Right faith is of a workynge of the spirite of God.

The prologe vpon the

And as thou callest hym which is not renued with the spirit, & boine againe in Christ, fleshe, and all his dedes, euen the very motions of his herte and mynde, his learnynge, doctrine and contemplation of hys thynnes, his preachynge, teachynge, and study in the scripture, buildinge of churches, foundinge of Abbayes, geuynge of Almes, Masse, Sacraments, & whatsoever he doth, though it seme spirituall & after the lawes of God, fleschly: so contrarywise call him spiritual, which is renued in Christ, & al his dedes which springe of faith, seme they neuer so good, as the washing of his disciples fete done by Christ, & Peters risinge after his resurrection, yea & al his dedes of matrimony are spirituall, if they procede of faith, and whatsoever is done within the lawes of God, though it be wrought by the bodye, as the very wiping of Moyses and such like, howsoever good they appere outward. Without vnderstandynge of these wordes, canst thou neuer vnderstande this Epistle of Paul, neither any other place in the helpe scripture. Take heede therfore, for to holowen vnderstandeth these wordes otherwyse, the same vnderstandeth not Paul, whatsoever he be. Nowe wyll we prepare our selues to the Epistle.

The first Chapter.

For as muche as it becometh the preacher of Christes glad tidings, first thow openynge of the law to rebuke all thynges, and to proue all thynges synne, that procede not of the spirit and of faith in Christ, and to proue al men sinners and children of wrath by inheritaunce, and how that to l. nne is their nature, and that by nature they can none otherwise do then synne, & therewith to abate his pride of man, and to bring him vnto the knowledge of himselfe and of his misery and wretchednes, that he may get helpe: euen so doeth St. Paul, and beginneth in the first Chap. to rebuke vnderstandynge and grosse synners & heuyn men see, as Idolaters, & as the grosse synners of the heathen were, and as the synners now are of all them which l. in ignorance withoute faith, & withoute the fauour of God. The wrath of the God of heauen apereth thowow his Gospel vpon all men, for their vngodlines and vnholy liuing. For though it be knowen, & daily vnderstand by the creatures that there is but one God, yet is nature of himselfe withoute spirit and grace, so corrupt & so poisoned, that men neither can thanke him, neither worship him, neither geue him his due honore, but blind themselves, & fall without ceasing into worse case, euen vntill they come vnto worshippynge of Images, and worshippynge of damnable synnes, whiche are abhominable against nature, and moreover suffer the same vnderbuckled in other, haupnge delectacion and pleasure therein.

The secōde Chapter.

In the second Chap. he proceedeth further, & rebuketh al those hol. people also which without lust and loue to the law, liue well outwardly in the face of the world, and condemne other gladly, as if nature of al hypocrites is, to thinke them selues pure in respect of open sinners, and yet hate the law inwardly, and are full of couetousnes and enuy & of al vncleines. Wherfore. These are they whiche despise the goodness of God, & according to the hardnes of their herte, heape together for themselves the wrath of God. Furthermore St. Paul as a true expounder of the law, suffereth no man to be without sin, but declareth that al they are vnder sin, which of fre wyll & of nature, wil liue well: and suffereth the not to be better then the open sinners, yea he calleth the hard hertes, & sarthe as can not repent.

The thyrde Chapter.

In the ill. Chap. he minglet both together,

Epistle to the Romayn. Fo. lxxvii.

both the Jewes & the gentils, and saith that the one is as the other, bothe sinners, and no difference betwene them, save in this onely, that the Jewes had the worde of God committed vnto the. And though many of the beleued not thereon, yet is Gods truth & promise thereby, neyther hurt nor diminished. And he taketh in his waye & allegeth the saying of the. Psalme, that God might abyde true in his wordes and ouercome when he is iudged. After that he returneth to hys purpose againe, and proueth by the scripture, that all men without difference of exception are sinners, and that by the workes of the lawe no man is iustified: but that the lawe was geuen to better and to declare synne onely. Then he begynneth and sheweth the righte waye vnto righteousness, by what meanes man must be made righteous and safe, and saith.

They are all sinners and without prayse before God, and must without their owne deseruings be made righteous thowow faith in Christ, which hath deserued such righteousness for vs, & is become vnto vs Gods mercy stoffe, for the remission of syns that are past: thereby prouinge that Christes righteousness which cometh on vs thowow faith, helpeth vs only. Wherby righteousness saith he, is now declared thowow the Gospel, and was testifed of before by the lawe and the Prophetes. Furthermore saith he, the law is holy & furthereth thowow faith, though that the workes thereof wth all theyr boile are brought to nought, & proued not to iustify.

The. iiii. Chapter.

In the fourth Chap. after that now by the first Chapter, the synnes are opened, and the waye of faith vnto righteousness layd, he beginneth to answer to certayne objections & euillaciōs. And first he putteth forth those blind reasons, which commonly they that will be iustified by their owne workes are wont to make when they heare that faith only without workes iustifieth, saying: What men do no good workes? yea & if faith onely iustify, what needeth a man to studye for to do good workes? he putteth forth therfore Abrahams for an ensample, saying: what dyd Abraham with his workes? Was al in vaine? Came his workes to no profit? And so concludeth that Abraham without and before all workes was iustified & made righteous. In so much that before the worke of circumcision he was praysed of the scripture and called righteous by his faith onely. Genes. xv. So that he doth not the workes of circumcision for to be holpe thereby vnto righteousness, whiche yet God commaunded hym to doo, and was a good worke of obedience.

So in likewise no doubt none other workes helpe anye thyng at all to a mans iustifyinge. But as Abraham circumcised was an outward signe, whereby he declared his righteousness which he had by faith, & his obedience & redynes vnto the will of God: euen so are al other good workes outward frutes of faith and of the spirit, which iustify not a manne, but shewe that a man is iustified already before God inwardly in the herte, thowow faith and thowow the spirit purchased by Christes blood.

Herewith now stablyshed St. Paul his doctrine of faith also, & reherced in the. iiii. cha. & bringeth also a testimony of Dauid in the. xlii. psal. whiche calleth a man blessed not of workes, but in his sin is not rekened, and in that sayeth is imputed for righteousness, though he abide not afterwarde in our good workes, whiche he is once iustified. For we are iustified and receiue the spirit for to do good workes, neither were it

St. mmm. iii. other.

The prologe vpon the other wyls possible to do good workes, except we had spylle the spirit.

For how is it possible to do any thing well in the sight of God, while we are yet in captivity and bondage, and the devil possesseth vs altogether, & holdeth our hertes, so that we can not ones consent vnto the wyl of God? As man therfore can present the spirit in doyng good, but the spirit must first come, and wake him out of hys sleepe, and with the thunder of the lawe scare hym, and shewe hym hys miserable estate and wretchednes, and make hym abhorre & hate hymselfe, and to desyre helpe: and then comforte hym agayne with the pleasaunte ragune of the Gospell, that is to saye, with the sweete promyses of God in Christ, and liue vpon sayth in him to beleue the promyses. Then when he beleueth the promyses: as god was merciful so promise, so is he true to fulfill them, and wyl grue hym the spirit and strength, both to loue the wyl of God, and to vnderstande thereafter. So see we that God only wyche according to scripture worketh all in all thynges, worketh a mans iustifying, saluacion and helth, peace and pouerly faith and beleeue, lust to loue Gods wyl, and strength to fulfill the same into vs, euen as water is poured into a vessel, and that of hys good wyl and purpose, and not of our deservynges and merites: Goddes mercy in promise, and truth in fulfilling hys promises saue vs, and not we our felicitie. And therfore is all laude, praise and glory, to be geuen God for hys mercy and truth, and not vnto vs for oure merites. As for that he stretcheth his ensample oute agaynst all other good workes of the law, and concludeth that the Jewes cannot be Abrahames heyres, because of blood and kynred onely, and much like by workes of the lawe: but maide inherite Abraham sayth if they wyl be the right heyres of Abraham: for as much as Abraham befoze the lawe, bothe of wyfles and of circumcysion, was thow sayth made ryghteous, and called the father of al them that beleue, and not of the that worke. Wherfore the lawe causeth wrath, in as much as no man can fulfill it with loue & luste. And as long as such grudgyng, hate, and indignacion agaynst the lawe remaineth in the hert, and is not taken away by the spirit that cometh by faith, so long (no doubt) the workes of the lawe declare euery daye that the iustice of God is vpon vs, and not fauoure. Wherfore sayth onely receyue the grace promysed vnto Abraham. And these ensamples were not written for Abrahams sake onely; sayeth he, but for ours also, to whom if we beleue, sayth shall be reckened lykewyse for rightuousnes, as he saith in the ende of the chapter.

In the fyfte chapter he commaundeth the fewtes and workes of faith, as are peace, reioyng in the conscience, inward loue to god and man: moztouer boldnes, trust, confidence, & a stronge and lustye mynde, and steadfast hope in tribulacion and sufferynge. For all such folow where the ryght sayth is, for the alouandaunce graces sake, and gyftes of the spirit, whiche god hath geuen vs in Iesus Christ, in that he gaue hym to dye for vs, yet his enemyes. Now haue we then, that sayth onely before all workes is faith, and that it foloweth not vnto therfore, that a man shoulde do no good workes, but that the ryght shapen workes abyde not schyn, but accompany faith, euen as brightnes doeth the sunne, and are called of Paule, the frutes of the spirit. Wher spirit is, there is alwayes summer, & ther are alwayes good frutes, that is to saye:

Epistle to the Romayns.

good workes. This is Paules order, that good workes spring of the spirit, & spirit cometh by faith, and faith cometh by hearing the word of God, when the glad tydynges and promyses which god hath made vs in Christ, are preached truly, and receyued in the grounde of the herte without waueryng or doubtinge after that the lawe hath passed vpon vs, and hath dampned oure consciences. In here the worde of God is preached purely and receyued in the hert, ther is faith, and the spirit of God, there are alwayes good workes of necessitye whensoever occasion is giuen.

In here Gods word is not purely preached, but mixed with dreames, tradicions, imaginacions, inuencion, ceremonies and superstition, there is no faith, and consequently no spirit thither cometh of God. And where Goddes spirit is not, there can be no good workes: euen as where an apple tree is not, there can growe no apples, but ther is vniuersally the deuylls spirit and euill workes. If this Gods spirit and hys frutes, haue oure holpe hypercrites not ones knownen, neyther yet tasted howe swete they are, though they saye manye good workes of theyr owne imaginacions, to be iustified with men whiche is not one crumme of true sayth or spirituall loue, or of inward ioye, peace and quyetnes of conscience, for as much as they haue not knowen of Gods toyng, that such workes please God, but they are euen the rotten frutes of a rotten tree.

As for that he breaketh forth, and runneth at large, and sheweth whence bothe synne and ryghtuousnes, death and lyfe cometh. And he compareth Adam and Christ together, this wyl reasonyng & dyspurynge that Christ must nedes come as a seconde Adam, to make vs heyres of hys rightuousnes thow a new spiritual with without oure deservynges: euen as the fyfte Adam made vs heyres of synne, thow the bodely generacion, without oure deservyng. Wherby is euerydaye knownen & proued to the vitermost, that no man can byngne hymselfe oute of synne vnto rightuousnes no moze then he could haue withstand that he was borne bodely. And that is proued herewith, for as much as the be eplawe of God, whiche of ryght shoulde haue holpe, if any thyng could haue holpe, not only come and broughte no helpe with hys, but also encreased synne, because that the euyl and poisoned nature is offended and vnto by displeased with the lawe: and the moze the is forbyd by the lawe, the moze the is prouoked and set a fyre to fulfill and carie hys lustes. By the lawe then we see cleerly that wee muste nedes haue Christ to iustify vs with hys grace, and to helpe nature.

In the syxt, he setteth forth the chiefe & pryncypall workes of faith, the battayle of the spirit agaynst the flesh, howe the spirit labouryth and enforceth to byll the remnant of syn and lust, whiche remaineth in the flesh, after oure iustifying. And this chapter teacheth vs, that we are not so free from syn thow sayth, that we shoulde henceforth go vp and downe poble, carelesse and sure of our felicitie, as though there were now no moze synne in vs, yet ther is synne remainyng in vs, but it is not reckened, because of faith and of the spirit whiche fight agaynst it.

Wherfore we haue inough to do all oure lyues long to tame our bodys, and compell them to obeye the spirit, and not the appetites, that thereby wee myghte be lyke vnto Christes death

Good workes are the frutes of the spirit

The fyfte Chapter.

The prologe vpon the Epist. to the Romayn. Fo. lxxx.

death and resurrection and myght fulfill our baptism, whiche signifyeth the mortifyinge of our unns, and the l. f. of grace. For this baptism cleareth not in vs but, in the last breath, and vntill that yunc be rectified, sta ne by the death of the bodye. This thing (I meane to tame the bodye, and so forth) we are able to do. I saye he, saynge we are vnder grace, and not vnder law. And what it is to be vnder law, he hym self doth expounde it. For not to be vnder law, is not so to be vnderstand, that euery man maye do what hym listeth: But not to be vnder the lawe, is to haue a free hert renewed wth the spirit, so that thou hast in inwardlye of thine owne accorde to do that whiche the lawe commaunded without compulsion, yea though there were no law. For grace, that is to saye Goddes fauoure byngeth vs the spirit, and maketh vs loue the lawe: so is there now no more law, neither is the law now any more against vs, but as one, and agreeth wth vs, and we wth it.

To be vnder the law what it is.

But to be vnder the law, is to deale wth the workes of the lawe, and to worke wthout the spirit and grace: for so longe no doubt, synne raggeth in vs though the law, that is to saye, the law declareth that we are vnder synne, and that synne hath power and dominion ouer vs, saynge we can not fulfill the law, namely, wth in the hert, for as much as no man of nature fauoureth the lawe, consenteth thereto, and desireth therein. Whiche thing is exceeding greaue synne, that we cannot consent to the law, whiche lawe is nothing else but the will of God.

This is the ryght freedom and libertie from synne, and from the lawe, wherof he wyrteth vnto the ende of this chapter, that it is a freedom to do good onely with lust, and to liue well wthout compulsion of the lawe: wherfore this freedom is a spiritual freedom, which destroyeth not the lawe, but ministereth to whiche it requyeth, and wher wth the lawe is fulfilled: that is to vnderstande, lust, and loue, wher wth law is fulfilled, and accuseth vs of nomaie. compelleth vs of nomaie, neyther haue ought to craue of vs any more. Euen as though thou were in debt to an other man and wert not able to pay, two maner wayes mightest thou be released. One waye, if he would requyre nothing of the, and brake thine obligacion: An other way, if some other good man would pay for the, and paye the as much as thou mightest satisfye thine obligacion wthall. Of this wyse hath Christ made vs free from the law, and therefore is this no wilde fleschly libertie, that shoulde do nought, but that both all thynges, and is free from the craunge and deere of the lawe.

The. vii. Chapter.

In the. vii. he confirmeth the same with a similitude of the state of matrimonye. As when the husband dyeth, the wyfe is at her liberty, as the one leuied and departed from the other, not that the woman shuld not haue power to marrye vnto another man, but rather nowe syt of all is she free, and hath power to marrye vnto another man, whiche she could not do before, tyl she was leuied from her husband. Euen so are oure consciences bounde and in daunger to the lawe vnder olde Adam the fleshe, as long as he lyueth in vs. For the lawe declareth that oure hertes are bound, and that wee cannot dissent from hym. But when he is mortified and stylled by the spirit, then is the conscience free, and at libertie: not so, that the conscience shal now nought do, but nowe syt of all cleaueth vnto another, that is to witte, Christe, and byngeth forth the fruytes of lyfe. So nowe to be vnder the lawe, is not to be able to fulfill the lawe, to be vnder but to be better to it, and not to be able to paye for the law that whiche the lawe requyeth. And to be leuied from the lawe, is to fulfill it to pay that which the lawe demaundeth, so that it can now henceforth be free from the lawe.

Consequently Paul de. saith more largely the nature of synne and of the law, how that though the lawe syn remueth, moueth byt selfe, and gathereth the strength. For the old manne and corrupt nature, the more he is forbidden & kept vnder of the law, is the more offended and displeased therewith, for as much as he cannot pay that whiche is requyred of the law. For syn is his nature, and of hym selfe he can not but synne. Therefore is the lawe death to hym, torment and martyrdom. Not that the lawe is euill, but because that the euill nature can not suffer that whiche is good, can not abyde that lawe shoulde requyre of hym any good thyng: Lyke as a synner man cannot suffer that a man shoulde despyse of hym to runne, to leape, and to do other dedes of an whole man.

For whiche cause S. Paul concludeth, that where the lawe is vnderstande and perceyued of the beste wyse, there it doth no more but vnter synne, and byng vs vnto the knowledge of our selues, and thereby kyl vs, and make vs bound vnto eternall dampnation, and detere of the euill lastinge wrath of God, euen as he wel saith and vnderstandeth whose conscience is truly touched of the lawe. In suche daunger were we yee the lawe came, that we knewe not what synne meante, neyther yet knewe we the wrath of God vpon synners, tyl the lawe hath vnterred it. So seest thou that a man must haue some other thyng, yea and a greater, & a more myghty thyng then the lawe, to make hym righteous and safe. They that vnderstand not the law on this wyse, are bynd, and go to worke ynto synne, supposyng to satisfye the lawe wth workes. For they knowe not that the lawe requyeth a fre, a willinge, a lustye, and a liuing hert. Therefore they se not whiche right in the face: the vyale hangeth betwene, and hydeh his face, so that they can not behold the glory of his countenance, how that the lawe is spiritual, & requyret the hert. I may of myne own strength refrayne, that I do myne enemy no hurt, but to loue hym wth all myne herte, and to put away wrath cleane out of my mynd, can I not of mine owne strength. I maye refuse money of myne owne strength, but to put away loue vnto echyell out of myne hert, can I not do of myne own strength. To abstayne from adultery as concernyng an outward dede, can I do of myne own strength, but not to despyse in myne hert, is as vnpossible vnto mee, as to chole whether I wyll hunger or thyrst: and yet so the law requyeth. Wherfore of a mans owne strength, is the law neuer fulfilled, we must haue the grace of Goddes fauoure and his spirit, purchased wth Christes blood. Neuertheless wher I say a man maye do many thynges outwardly cleane agaynst his hert, we must vnderstand that a man is but dyen of diuers appetites, and the greatest appetyte overcometh the lufe, and carpeh the man away violently wth hym.

As when I despyse vengeance, and feare also the inconuenience that is lone to folowe, I feare be greater, I abstayne: If the appetite that desireth vengeance be greater, I can not but prosecute the dede, as we see by experience in manye murderers and theues, whiche though they be brought into neuer so great perill of death, yet

Am m m. l i i l. after

The prologe vpon the

after they haue escaped, do euen the same again. And commune women persecute the playste, because feare and shame are awaie: when other whiche haue the same appetites in their hertes, abstaie at the least way outwardly of worke secretly, beyng ouercome of feare and of shame: and so lythewyle is it of all other appetites.

Furthermore he declarerh how the spirit and the fleshe fight together in one manne, and maketh an ensample of himselfe, that wee mighte learn to know to worke a righte, I meane to kyl synne in our selues. He callerh both the spirit and also the fleshe, a lawe; because that like as the nature of Gods lawe is to dyue, to compell, and to craue: euen so the fleshe dyspueth, the pelleteth, crauerh, and rageth agaynst the spirit, and wyl haue hys lustes satisfied. On the other syde dyueth the spirit, crieth a sightly against the fleshe, and wyl haue hys lustes satisfied. And thys strife dureth in vs as longe as we lyue: in some more, and in some lesse, as the spirit of the fleshe is stronger, and the verye man hys owne selfe is bothe the spirit and the fleshe, whyche fighteth wth hys owne selfe vntill synne be vtterly clayne, and we altogether spiritual.

The eight Chapter.

In the viii. chapter, he comforterh such fighters that they despayre not because of such fleshe, eyther thynke that they are lesse in fauoure wth God. And he shewerh howe that synne remapnyng in vs, hurteth not: for ther is no danger to them that are in Christ, whyche walke not after the fleshe, but fight agaynst it. And he expoundeth more largely what the nature of the fleshe and of the spirit is, and howe the spirit cometh by grace, whyche spirit maketh vs spiritual, sanctifyeth, subdueth, and mortifyeth the fleshe, and comforterh vs that we are neuerthelesse the sonnes of God, & also beloued, though we that synne rageth neuer so much in vs, so longe as we follow the spirit and fighte agaynst it, so kyl and mortifye it. And because nothing is so good to the mortifyinge of the fleshe, as the croile and tribulacion: he comforterh vs in our poysons and afflictions, by the assistance of the spirit, which maketh intercession to God for vs mightily wth grownges that passe mans vtterance: so that mans speache can not comprehend them, and wth the mournyng also of the creatures wth vs, of great despaye that they haue, that we were lawed from synne and corruption of the fleshe. So see we that these the Chapter, vi. vii. viii. do none other thyng so much as to dyue vs vnto the righte worke of faith, whiche is to kyl the old man, and mortifye the fleshe.

In the ix. x. xi. Chap. he treateth of Goddes predestinacion, whence it springerh altogether, whether we shall beleue or not, be lawed from synne or not. By whiche predestinacion, our sanctifyinge and saluacion are cleane taken out of oure handes, and put in the handes of God only, whiche thyng is most necessary of al. For we are so weak and vncertaine, that if it were in vs, ther would of a truth no man be saved, the deuyl no doubt would deceiue vs.

But now is God sure that hys predestinacion can not deceiue hym, neyther can any man withstand or let him: and therfore haue we hope and trust agaynst synne. But here muste a marke be set vnto those vnquiet, busy, and hygh clymmyng spirittes, how farre they shal go: whiche first of al byngt hyther thei hgh reasons and pregameunte wrytes, and begyn first from an hygh, to searche the bottomles secrettes of Gods predestinacion, whether they be predestinat or not.

Epistle to the Romayns.

These most nedes either cast them selues downe headlonge into desperacion, or els complayne then selues to fre quance rables. But folowe thou the order of thys Epistle, and nookell thy selfe wth Christ, and learne to understande what the lawe and the Gospell meane, and the office of both two, that thou mayest in the one know thy selfe, and howe that thou hast of thy selfe no strength, but to synne, and in the other the grace of Christ. And then see thou fyght agaynst synne, and the fleshe, as the leuen fyfle Chapters teache the. After that when thou arte come in the viii. Chap. and art vnder the croile and sufferynge of tribulacion, the necessitye of predestinacion will warre swete, and thou wilt see howe precious a thyng it is. For except thou haue borne the croile of aduersitye and temptacion, and hast frith thy selfe brought in to the very byrme of desperacion, yea and vnto hell gates, thou canst neuer medle wth the sentence of predestinacion wthout thyne owne harme, and wthout secret wpath & grudginge inwardly agaynst God: for otherwys it shall not be possyble for the to thynke that God is righteuous and iust. Therfore muste I darre well meynesayd, and the fleshe wryte broughte vnto nought, per that thou mayest awaye wth this thyng, and dyspiche so stronge wine. Teache herde therfore vnto thy selfe, that thou dyspiche not wryte, whyle thou arte yet a suckeling. For euerye leuynge hath byrme, in case sure, and age, and in Christ is there a certayne chrydhode, in whiche a man muste be contented wth myke for a season, vntill he waxe strong and grow vp vnto a perfect man in Christ, and be able to eate of more stronge meate.

Thys do if thou wylt understand

In the xii. Chapter he geueth exhortacions. For thys maner obserueth I daule in all hys Epistles. First, he teacheth Christ and the faith, then exhorterh he to good workes, and vnto continual mortifyinge of the fleshe. So here teache he good workes in drede, and the true seruynge of God, and maketh all men dyntes, to offer vp, not moner and beastes, as the maner was in the tyme of the lawe, but thei own bodies, wth kyllyng & mortifyinge of the lustes of the fleshe.

The xii. Chapter.

After that he describeth the outward conuersacion of Christen men, howe they ought to behaue them selues in spiritual thynges, howe to teache, preache, and rule in the congregacion of Christ, to serue one another, to suffer all thynges patiently, and to committe the weak and vengeaunce to God. In conclusyon howe a Christen man ought to behaue hym selfe vnto all menne, to frende, for or whatsoeuer he be. These are the right workes of a Christen man whiche springe of faith. For faith kepeth not holy days, neyther suffereth any man to be idle, wher soeuer he dwelleth.

In the xiii. he teacheth to honoure the temporall swerd. For though that mans lawe and ordinance make not a man good before God, yet are they ordeyned for to meynayne peace, to punyssh the euill, and to defende the good. Therfore ought the good to honoure the temporall swerde, and to haue it in reuerence, though he concernge themselves they neede it not, but woulde aske from euill of thei owne accord, yea, and do good wthout mans law, but by the law of the spirit whiche gouerneth the herte, and guideth it vnto all that is the wyl of God. Finally he comprehendeth and bypeth up all in leue. Some of hys owne nature bestoweth up all that he hath, and euen hys owne selfe on that on þ which is loued. Ethon nedest not to bydde a kynd mother to be louyng vnto hyr onely son. Suche leile spiritual loue which hath eyes geuen hyr of God, nedeth mans lawe to teach hyr to do hyr dute. And as in the begynnyng he did put forth Christe as the cause and author of our rpygiousnes, euen so here setteth he hym forth as an ensample to counsellaye, that as he hath done to vs, euen so shoulde we do one to another.

The xiii. Chapter.

The. xiii.
Chapter.

In the. xiii. Chapter he teacheth to deale softly with the conuynces of the weake in the faith, which vnderstande not yet the liberty of Christe perfectly enough, and to saue them of Christian loue, and not to vse the liberty of the faith vnto hynderaunce, but vnto the furtheraunce and edifyinge of the weake. For where such consideration is not, there foloweth estate and despylyng of the Gospel. It is better therfore to beare the weake a while, tynyll they wax strong, then that the learnyng of the Gospel shoulde come vnder scote. And suche worke is the synghuler worke of loue, where loue is perfect, there muste nedes be suche a respect vnto the weake. A thyng that Christe commaunded and charged to be hadde about all thynges.

The. xv.
Chapter.

In the. xv. Chapter he setteth forth Christe agayne to be folowed, that wee also by his ensample shoulde suffer othere that are yet weake, as theym that are frayle, open synners, vnderstand, vnderpette, and of lothsome maneres, and not to cast them away forthwith, but to suffer them tyll they waxe better, and exhoite them in the meane tyme. For so deale Christe in the Gospel and now dealeth with vs dayly, suffering our imperfections and weaknes, not yet castyng off after the cōtynue of the Gospel, but limell of þ flesh, yea and sometyme breake forth into our marke betwixt. After that to conclude wrythall, he wrytheth them encrease of faith, peace and ioye of conscience: prayseth them and commytteth them to God, and magnifyeth his offyce and administracyon in the Gospel, and soberly and with great discrecion, delivereth succoure and ayde of them for the poore Synners at Hierusalem, and it is all pure loue that he speaketh of dealeth wrythall.

This epistle to the Romaynes
is the doze
into all the scripture,
yea and the hepe that openeth it,
and byn-
geth menne
to the true vnderstan-
dyng of it.

So fynd we in this epistle plentifully vnto the vniuersall whatsoeuer a Christian manne or woman ought to knowe, that is to wryte, what the lawe, the Gospel, Synne, Grace, fayeth, Righteousnes, Christe, God, Good workes, Loue, Joye, and the crosse are, and euen what in the ppyth of all that pertayneth to the Christian faith standeth, and howe a Christian man ought to behaue hymselfe vnto euery man, be he persecutor or a synner, good or badde, strong or weake, frende or foe: and in conclusyon how to behaue oure selues bothe towardes God and toward our selues also. And all thynges are profoundly grounded in the scriptures, and declared with ensamples of hymselfe, of the fathers, and of the Prophetes, that a manne can here beleue no more.

Wherfore it appeareth euidently that Pauls mynde was to comprehend byselfe in this Epistle, all the whole learnyng of Christes Gospel: and to prepare an introducyon vnto all the olde Testament. For withoute doubte whatsoeuer hath this Epistle perfectly in his heret, the same hath the lyghte and the effecte of the old Testament with hym: wherfore let euery man withoute excepcon exteprle hym selfe therin diligently, and receyde it right and day continually, tynyll he be fully acquainted therewith.

The laste Chapter is a Chapter of recom- mendacion, wherin he yet myngleth a good mo- tion, that we shoulde be aware of the tradyc- ons and doctryne of men, which begyle the sim- ple with sophistrys and learning that is not af- ter the Gospel, and drawe them from Christ, and nolet them in weake and feeble, and (as St. Paul calleth them in the Epistle to the Gala- thians) in beggerly ceremonies, for the intent that they woulde lyue in fat pastures, and be in authority, and be taken as Christ, yea & aboue Christ: and syt in the temple of God, that is to wryte in the consciences of men, where God o- nely, bys worde and his Christ ought to syt.

Compare therfore all maner doctrine of men to the scripture, and let it be either they agree or not. And commytte thy selfe vnto hols and alrags ther vnto Christ, and to that he wryth bys holys spirit, & with all his fulnes dwell in thy soule. The summe and whole cause of the wrytyng of this Epistle, is to proue that a man is iustified by faith onely, which propolacyon vnto so de- nreth, to hym is not onely this Epistle and all that Paul wryteth, but also the whole scrip- ture so locked vp, that he shall neuer vnderstand it to his soules helth.

And to byng a manne to the vnderstandyng and scyng, that faith onely iustifyeth, Paul proueth that the whole nature of man is so poi- soned and so corrupte, yea and so deade concei- uing follye tyng or follye thyngyng, that it is impossible for hyr to kepe the lawe in þ sight of God: that is to say, to loue it, and of loue and lust to do it, as naturally as a manne careth of dryneth, tynyll he be quickened agayne and hea- led thow sayth.

And by iustifyinge, vnderstand none othere thyng then to be reconcyled to God, and to be redde vnto his sauoure, and to haue thy syns forgurne. As when I saye, God iustifyeth vs, vnderstand thereby that God for Christes sake, merces, deservynges onely, receyvethe vs into his mercy, fauoure and grace, and forges- ureth vs our synnes. And when I say, Christ iustifyeth, vnderstand thereby, that Christ onely hath redeemed vs, brought and deliuered vs out of the vjark of God and damnacyon, and hath wryth his workes onely purgaled vs the mer- cy, fauoure, and grace of God, and the forgesur- uen of our synnes.

And when I say that faith iustifyeth, vnderstand thereby that faith and truste in the truth of God, and in the merces promysed vs for Christes sake, and for his deservynges and workes onely, bothe quyet the conscience, and receyve hyr that our synnes be forgurne, & we in the full sauoure of God.

Furthermore, let before thyne eyes Christes workes, and thyne owne wo,kes. Christes workes onely iustifye the, and make satisfac- cyon for thy synne, and thine owne workes not. That is to saye, quyeteth thy conscience, and maketh the sure that thy synnes are forgurne the, and not thyne owne workes. For the promys of mercy is made the for Christes workes sake, and not for thyne owne workes sake.

Wherfore, saynge God hath not promysed that thyne owne worke shall saue the, therfore faith in thyne owne workes can neuer quiet thy con- science, nor certifie the before God (when God cometh to iudge and to take a rekenyng) that thy synnes are forgurne the. Dependeth all this, vnto thyne owne workes can neuer satisfye the lawe, or paye hyt that I owe hyt. For I owe the law, to loue hyt wth all myne herte, loile, power, and myght. Whych thynge to paye, I am neuer able whyle I am compaied wth fleshe. So I can not once begyn to loue the lawe, except I be first sure by faith that God ioungme, and for- geueth me.

The Epistle of S: Paule

Finally that we say, faith onely iustifyeth, ought to offend no man. For if thys be true, & Christ onely redeemed vs, Christ onely bare our synnes, made satisfaccion for them, and purchas- sed vs the fauoure of God, then muste it nedes be true that the truste onely in Christes deser- uing and the promysse of God the father made vs for Christes sake, doeth onely quiet the con- science, and certifie hyt that the sinners are for- gien. And when they saie, a man must repent, forsaue synne, and haue a purpose to synne no more as nye as he can, and loue the law of god, Ergo faith alone iustifyeth not, I aunswere: that, and all lyke argumentes are noughte, and lyke to thys argumente. I must repent and be forgye, the Gospell muste be preached me, and I must beleue, or els I can not be partaker of the mercy, whych Christ hath deserued for me. Er- go, & h. it onely iustifieth me not, or I must onely hath not made satisfaccion for my synnes. As this is a naughty argument, so is the other.

Now go to Reader, and accordyng to the or- der of Pauls wrytyng, euen so do thou. First beholde thy selfe, & g. nily in the law of God, and se therby thine dampnation. Secondly, turne thine eye to Christ, and se there the excus- dyng mercy of thy moste kynd and louynge fa- ther. Thirdly remembre that Christe made not thys attonement that thou shouldest anger God agayne: neyther dyed he for thy synnes that thou shouldest lye still in them, neyther cleanse he þ, that thou shouldest retorne (as a swyne) vnto thine olde poble agayne: but that thou shouldest be a new creature, and lye a newe lyfe after þ will of God, and not of the fleshe. And be dylig- gent, leaue thowme thine owne negligencie and vniuersalitee, thou lose thys fauour and mer- cy agayne.

fare well.

The epistle of the Apostle saynt Paul to the Romaynes.

The first Chapter.

Paul declarer to vs his loue toward the Ro- maynes, sheweth what the Gospel is, wth þ fruites therof, and rebueth the heauynesse of the fleshe.

Paul the seruaunt of Jesus Christ called to be an Apo- stle, put aparte to preache the Gospell of God, which he prompted afore by hys prophetes in the holy scrip- tures, that make mencion of hys sonne, the whiche was begotten of the seide of Dauid (as pertayninge to the fleshe, and declined to be the sonne of god, wth power of the holy ghest, that sancti- fyeth, since the tyme that Jesus Christe

To the Romayn. Chap. i.

our Lord rose agayne from death, by whom we haue receyued grace and Apostleshipp; to tryng all maner Heathen people to the obedyence of the faith, that is in his name: of the whiche Heathen are pe a parte also, whych are Iesu & by hys by vocacion. 15

To all you at Rome, beloued of God and (a) Capites by callynge. (b) Grace be wth you and peace from God our father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ xpi be- telp I thanke my God thowme Iesus Christe for you all. I praise your faith his publisshid thowmeoute all the worlde. For God is my wptnes, whom I serue wth my sprite in the Gospell of hys sonne, that without ceasynge I make mencion of you alwayes in my prayers: beseechynge that at one tyme or other, a prosperous iournepe (by the will of God) myght for- tune me to come vnto you. For I longe to se you, that I myght bestowe amonge you some spirituall gift, to strength you with- al, that is, that I myght haue consolacion togyther wth you thowme the commune faith, whych both you and I haue.

I would that ye shuld knowe brethren, Ibae. ii. a he we that I haue often tymes purposed Ibae. ii. a to come vnto you (but haue bene lette by Ibae. ii. a thereto) to haue some fruite among you, as Ibae. ii. a I haue among other of the gentylis. For I Ibae. ii. a am better both to the grekes and to them Ibae. ii. a whych are no grekes, vnto the learned and Ibae. ii. a also vnto the vblearned.

Likewise as much as in me is, I am red- dy to preache the Gospell to you of Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christ, because it is the power of god vnto saluacion to all that beleue, namely to the Fewe and also to the gentyle. (c) For by it the ryghtuousnesse whiche cometh of God, is opened from faith (d) to faith. As it is writen: the iust shall lye by faith.

For the wrath of God appeareth from heauen agaynst all vngodlynes and vn- ryghtuousnes of menne, whiche wth- holde the truth in vnyghtuousnes: seynge what maye be knowen of God, that same is manifest among them. For God dyd shew it vnto the. So that his inuisible thin- ges, that is to saye, hys eternal power and godhead, are vnderstande, and seene by the workes from the creaton of the worlde. So that they are withoute excuse, in as much as when they knewe God, they glo- rified him not as god, neither were thank- full: but waxed full of vanities in theyr imaginacions, and their folye hertes were blinded. When they counted them- selues wise, they became fooles: and tur- ned the glory of the immortall God, vnto the similitude of the Image of mortal mā, and of byrdes, and foure footed beastes, and of serpentes. Wherefore god by hys wylle gaue them vp vnto theyr hertes lustes, vnto vncleannes, to defile their owne bodies betwene themselves: whiche touned hys truthe vnto a lye, & worshipped and serued the

Ephe. iii. e

The Epistle of S. Paule

the creatures more then the maker, which is blest & for ever Amen.

For this cause GOD gaue them by birth to shameful lustes. For euen they women did chaunge the naturall vse into the vn-naturall. And likewise also the men lette the naturall vse of the woman, and bent in their lustes one on another. And man wpth man wrought filthines, & receiued in them selves the rewarde of their errours, as it was accordynge.

And as it seemed not good vnto them to be knowen of God, euen so god deliuered them by vnto a leud mind, that they shuld do those thynges whych were not comely, being ful of all vnrighthouse dopnge, of fornicacion, wickednes, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuye, murder, debate, discepte, euill conditioned, whisperers, backbiters, haters of god, doers of wrong, proude, boasters, brynners by of euyl thynges, disobediente to father and mother, withoute vnderstandynge, couenant breakers, vnlounge, truce breakers and merciles. Which men, though they knewe the rightheousnes of GOD, howe that they whych do such thynges commit, are worthy of death: yet not onely do the same, but also haue the pleasure in them that doo them.

The notes.

Saints by callynge.

(a) All suche as are called to be true Christians, that is to walke in the waye of the Gospell thowen the sayth in Christ, are sayntes by callynge: that is to saye, men called from the damnable way of synne to leade an holpe lyfe. For saynt is as much to saye in our tounge as holpe.

Grace.

(b) Here and thow out this epistle, grace is taken for the free mercede of God. And by grace is meant the quietnes of conscience thowen the sayth in Christ.

For by it is rightheousnes etc.

(c) That is, by the preaching of the Gospell, is declared that great mercede of God, whereby he forgiveth our synnes, and accounteth vs rightheous in his sight.

From faith so sayth.

(d) Some interpret this, from the vnpersfyt, to the persfyt, from the weak to the strong, and from one battayl of sayth to another etc. But in my iudgement, the meaning of Paule was, that the Gospell declareth all rightheousnes, as well of the fathers of the olde lawe, as of the saythfull folowers of Christe, to be Christians. Who listeth to waigh the reer, shall easily perceiue that it geueth the same sence.

Other men synne.

(e) To haue pleasure in other mennes synne, is greater wickednes, then to synne thy selfe.

The ii. Chapter.

He rebuketh the Jewes, who as touchynge synne are lyke the heathen, yet worse then they.

Therefore art thou inexcusable (O man) who soeuer thou bee (a) that iudgest. For in that same wherin thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgest, doest euen the same selfe thynges. But wee are sure that iudgemente of God is accordynge to truthe agaynst them whych commit such thynges. Thinkest thou thys (O thou man) that iudgest the whych do such thynges, and yet doest euen the de-rysame, that thou shalt escape the iudgemente of God? Either despysted thou the riches of his goodnes, paciēce, & long sufferance: and remembrest not howe that the kindnes of God leadeth the to repentance?

To the Rom. Cha. ii. Fo. lxxi;

But thou after thyne hard heart that can not repent, heapest the together the treasure of wrath agaynst the daye of vengeance, when shall be opened the rightheous iudgemente of God, whych will rewarde euery man accordynge to his (b) dedes: that is to saye, praise, honoure, and immortallitie, to them which continue in good doing and seke eternal lyfe. But vnto them that are rebellious and disobey the truthe, and folow we iniquitye, shall come indignacion and wrath, tribulacion and anguish, by the soule of euery man that doeth euyl, of the Jewe fyrst, and also of the gentyl. To euery mā that doth good, shall come praise, honoure, and peace, to the Jew first, & also to the gentyl. For ther is no parcialitye with God. But who soeuer hath sinned without lawe, shall perishe wpthout lawe.

Mat. xvi. b.

Arto. r. d.

Se. ar. vii. d.

Jacob. i. d.

And as many as haue sinned vnder the lawe, shall be iudged by the lawe. For before God they are not rightheous whiche heare the lawe: but the (c) doers of the lawe shall be iustified. For if the gentils whych haue no lawe, do of nature the thynges contayned in the lawe: then they hauing no lawe, are a lawe vnto them selves, whiche the dedes of the lawe witten in theyr heartes, while their conscience beareth wytnes vnto them and also theyr thoughtes, accusing one another, or excusinge at the day when God shall iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospell.

Behold, thou art called a Jew, and trustest in the lawe, and reioycest in God, and knowest his will, and hast experience of good and bad, in that thou art instructed by the lawe, and beleuest that thou thy selfe art a guide vnto the blynd, a light to them whych are in darcknes, an informer of them whych lacke discrecion, a teacher of the blinde, which haue the ensample of the whiche ought to be knowne, & of the truthe in the lawe. But thou which teachest an other, teachest not thy selfe. Thou preacheest, a man should not steale: & yet thou stealest. Thou saiest a man should not commit aduouty: & thou breakest wedlock. Thou abhorrest images & robbest God of his honour. Thou reioycest in the lawe, and thow breakyng the lawe, dishonourest God. For the name of God is euyl spoken of among the gentils thowen you as it is witten.

2a. iiii. b.

2. xvi. c.

Circumcise you * verely auayleth, if thou kepe the lawe. But if thou breake the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision. Therefore if the vncircumcised kepe the right thynges contayned in the lawe: shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision? And shall not vncircumcised whych is by nature (if it kepe the lawe) iudge them, whiche beynge vnder the letter and

Circumcised was a vncircumcised between the and God, & holpe not: but as it putteth them in recircum-

The Epistle of S. Paule

circumcision, doest transgresse the lawe? If or he is not a Jew, whych is a Jewe outwarde. Nether is that thinge circumci-on, whych is outwarde in the fleshe: but he is a Jewe whych is hid wythin, and the cir-cuncision of the hert is the true circumcision: whych is the spirite, and not in the letter: whose pryse is not of men, but of God.

The Notes.

(a) To iudge, in this place, as in many other is to condemn other as vnrightheous, and to esteem our selfe rightheous.

(b) As the fruites do declare the tree: so doo the woordes declare the man. If a mannes woordes hes therefore doo declare him to be faythfull he shal haue the reward of the faythfull, that is eternal lyfe. If the woordes do declare hym to be vnfaithfull, then shall his reward be amonge hypocrites in eternall tormentes. For wyde therefore are they, that woulde by the texte proue that man is iustified by his woordes his for the woordes are but signes and dynges to the whiche God (the rightheous iudge) re-wardeth his elected vessels, and punisheth the reprobate.

(c) That is, the lawe shal haue no powre to condemne them, because they haue in of payntes satisfied the lawe. But who was there euer, that could be such a doer of the lawe? Yea and if they hadde bene anye that could so haue satisfied the lawe: yet should the same haue bene vniust in gods syght. For if they myght haue ben perfect iustice by the obseruacion in the lawe, then had Christ dyed in vayne, or at the leaste waxe to make men slougarides, and not to re-garde the obseruacion of the lawe, wherby they myght haue deserued iustice.

The iii. Chapter.

He sheweth what pferment the Jewes haue, and that both the Jewes and Gentyles be vnder sin, and are iustified ony thow the mercy of god in Christ.

Jhon. iii. v
Gal. xvi.

Vhat pferment then hath the Jew?
either what a vauntageth circumcision? Surely verpe muche. First vnto theim was commit the worde of God.
What then though some of them did not beleue? Shall they vnbeleue make the promes of God wythout effect? God forbid.
Let god be true, and al men lyars, as it is wyrtten. Thou than myghtest be iustified in the sayinge, and shouldest overcome whē thou art iudged.

If our vnrightheousnes make the rightheousnes of god more excellent: what shal we say? Is god vnrightheous whiche tak-eth vengeance? I speake after the maner of meune, god forbid. For howe then shall god iudge the worlde? If the verpe of god appeare more excellent thow my lybinto his pryse, why am I hence forth iudged as a synner? and say not rather (as men spake euill of vs, and some aspyne p we say) let vs do euill that good may come therof. Whose damnacion is iust.

What saye we then? Are we better then they? No, in no wyse. For we haue all ready proued how that both the Jewes and Gentyles are al vnder syn, as it is wyrtten.

To the Rom. Cha. iii.

Ther is none rightheous, no not one: ther is none that vnderstandeth, there is none p seketh after god, they are al gon out of the wape, they are all made vnprofitable, ther is none that doeth god, no not one: There throte is an open Sepulchre, wyth they tongues they haue deceyued, the popson of Aspes is vnder they lippes. Whose mouthes are full of cursyng and betternes. Their feet are swyft to shed bloude.
Destruction and wretchednes are in they wapes. And the wape of peace they haue not knowen. There is no feare of god before they eye. Yea and we knowe that whatsoeuer the lawe sayeth: he sayth it to them whiche are vnder the lawe. That all mouthes may be stopped, and al the worlde be subdued to god, because that by the de-des of the lawe, shal no fleshe be iustified in the syght of god.

Howe verelp is the rightheousnes that cometh of god, declared without the fulfylling of the lawe, haupng witnesset of the lawe, and of the prophetes. The rightheousnes no doubte whiche is good before god cometh by the sayth of Christ, vnto al and vpon al that beleue.

There is no dyfference: for all haue synned, and lacke the pryse that is of value before god, but (a) are iustified frely by his grace thow the redemption p is in Christ Jesus, whō god hath made a seate of mercy thow sayeth in his bloude, to shew the rightheousnes whiche before hym is of value, in that he forgeueth the synnes that are passed, whiche god byd suffer, to shewe at this tyme the rightheousnes that is allowed of hym, that he mighte be counted iust, a iustifier of hym whiche beleueth on Jesus.

Where is nowe thy reoppyng? It is excluded By what lawe: by the lawe of wor-kes? Naye: but by the lawe of faith.

For we suppose that a man is iustified by sayeth wythout the dedes of the lawe.
Is he the God of Jewes onely? Is he not the god of the Gentyles? Yea euen of Gentyles also. For it is god onely whiche iustifieth the circumcision, whiche is of sayeth, and vncircumcision thow sayeth Do we the destroye the lawe thow sayeth? god forbid: But we rather mayntayne the lawe.

The Notes.

(a) These sayinge both. Barnete. Ambrose expounde in this wyse. They woxlinge nothyng, no acquytinge hym anye thyng at all, are iustified by sayeth alone, but the gyfte of God. These wordes alone (though many men be therewith vniually offended) is also euident-ly expessed by Paule hym selfe in these wordes.
Frely, wythout the lawe, wythout woordes, is the gyfte, and such lyfe. Whiche thou muste marke, for they are a lone wyth: his expelcion of S. Ambrose.

By sayeth alone we are frely freed: whych say-yng signifieth thus muche. Onely by the beste where wyth we beleue that the mercy of God, graunted in Christes bloude doeth saue

Lawe vs, are we pronounced righteous. These wordes alone excludeth woorkes, not that thou shouldest not do them (for to do all good woorkes commaunded in the scripture, art thou bounde, and called to walke in them, and must earnestly iudge and endeouore thy selfe to leaue none of them undone) but that thou shouldest in no case thynke, that thou art thereby iustified or made righteous before god.

The iiii. Chapter.

Because the Jewes might haue objected the Example of Abraham, as if he through circumcision had obtained righteousness. Shewynge that he had receyued the promise, before he was circumcised. And those are not the Chyldren of Abraham and of the promise which haue the law and be circumcised, but they which follow Abraham's faith. And so he only concludeth that faith alone in Christ iustificeth.

Vhat shal we say the, that Abraham our father as pertaynynge to the flewe, dyd synde? If Abraham were iustified by dedes, then hath he wherein to reioyce, but not wth God. For what sayeth the Scripture: * Abraham beleued in God, and it was counted vnto hym for righteousness. To hym that woorketh is the rewarde not reckened of fauour, but of dute: To hym that woorketh not, but beleueth on hym that iustificeth the vngodly, is hys faith counted for righteousness. Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednes of the man vnto whom God ascribeth righteousness without dedes. Blessed are they, whose vnrighousnes are forgiven and whose synnes are covered. * Blessed is that man to whom the Lorde imputeth not synne.

Came this blessednes then vpon the circumcised or vpon the vncircumcised? We saye herebye howe that faith was reckened to Abraham for righteousness. Howe was it reckened, in the tyme of circumcision? or in the tyme before he was circumcised?

 Not in the tyme of circumcision, but while he was yet vncircumcised. And receyued the * sygne of circumcision, as a seale of righteousness which is by faith, which faith he had yet before he was circumcised, that he shoulde be the father of all them that beleue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousness myghte be imputed to them also. That he might be the father of the circumcised, not because they are circumcised onely, but because they walke also in the steppes of that faith which was in our father Abraham before the tyme of circumcision.

For the promise that he shoulde be the herie of the world, was not geue to Abraham, or to hys seide thowhe the lawe: but thowhe he (a) righteousness which cometh by faith. * For if they which are of the lawe be heries, then is faith but bayne, and the promise of none effect. Because the lawe causeth wrathe. For where no lawe is, there is no transgression. Therefore by faith is the inheritance geuen, which it myght come of fauour, and the promise myghte be sure to all the seede. Not to the onely which are of the lawe: but also to them which are of the faith of Abraham * which is the father of vs all. As it is wrytten: * I haue made the a father too manye nations, euen before God whome thou hast beleued, which quickeneth the deade, and calleth those thinges which be not, as though they were.

Which Abraham contrary to hope, beleued in hope that he shoulde be the father of manye nations, accordyng to that which was spoken: * So shall thy seede be. And he saynted not in the faith, nor yet considered hys owne body which was nowe deade, euen when he was almost an hundred yere olde: neyther yet that Sara was past chyldebearing. He slackered not at the promise of God thowhe vnbellefe: but was made stronge in the faith, and gaue honoure to God, full certified, that what he had promised, that he was able to make good. And therefore was it reckened to hym for righteousness.

It is not wrytten for hym only, that it was reckened to hym for righteousness, but also for vs, to whom it shal be counted for righteousness, so that we beleue on him which raised by Iesus our lord from death. Which he was deuoured for our synnes, and rose againe for to iustifie vs.

The notes.

(a) The inheritance that is eternal life, is geuen vnto vs and we receyue it thowhe faith, so the entente that we be sure and doubt not of it. For if we should deserue it by woorkes, we shoulde neuer be sure but alwayes doubt that we lacked woorkes, or that our curi woorkes shoulde haue the vpper hand in the day of iudgement, and so shoulde our hope be vayne: for such as doubt, cannot enioye the promises of God, forasmuch as they beleue not certainly that God wyl performe them.

The b. Chapter.

First he treateth vpon the fruites of faith, shewynge withall the greatnes and the certainty of gods goodnes, vpon which our faith leaneth. Afterwardes repetyng all thinges more deperly, he sheweth the fountaines and workinges of syn, describinge also from whence grace, lyfe, and iustification springeth.

Because therefore that we are iustified by faith, a wee are at peace wth God thowhe our Lord Iesus Christ by whom we haue a waye in thowhe faith vnto this grace wherein we stande, and we reioyce in hope of the prayse that shal be geuen of god. Neither do we so only, but also we reioyce in tribulacion. For we knowe that tribulacion bringeth patience, patience bringeth experience, experience bringeth hope, our hope And hope maketh not ashamed. For the love of God is shed abroad in our hertes by the holy gost which is geuen.

Gen. xii. a
Gen. xvi. a

Gen. xii. b
Gen. xv. a

Gen. xli. c.

Rom. xv. a Childe iust
fithly vs

By faith
is a euer faile geue

John. xvi. b Faith set teth vs at peace wth
God.

Rom. vii. a
Iacob. i. b.

We are not shamed of geth experience,
experience bringeth hope, our hope
And hope maketh not ashamed
For the love of God is shed abroad in our hertes by the holy gost which is geuen.
death of

The Epistle of S. Paule

Christ that gouerneth
vs. & wyl dying our hope to passe.

For when we were yet weak according to the tyme, Christ died for vs wher-by we were vngodlye. Yet scarce wyl ane man dye for a rightuous man. Parauenture for a good man durst a man dye. But God setteth out his loue that he hath to vs, seeing that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for vs: much more then nowe (seing we are iustified in his bloude) shall we be saued from wrath thow he him.

1 Pet. iii. 18
Heb. ix. 14

For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his son, much more, seing we are reconciled, we shall be preserved by his life. Not only so but we also ioye in God by the meanes of our lord Jesus Christ, by whom we haue re-ceiued the attonment.

Gen. ii. 2
Rom. vi. 6

Wherefore as by one man synne & entered into the worlde, and death by the meanes of synne: And so death wente ouer al men, in so much that al men sinned: For euen vnto the tyme of the lawe was synne in the worlde, but sinne was not regarded, as longe as ther was no lawe: ne-uertheles death reignede frome Adam to Moses, euen ouer them also that sinned: not wth lyke transgression as byd Adam wherby is the similitude of hym that is to come. But the gyfte is not lyke as the syn:

Adams disobedience dampned vs
all: et wee
our selues wrought wil: Christ
obedience saueth vs
all, et wee
our selues woike an good.

For if thow the synne of one, many be deade, much more plentifully vpon many was the grace of god and gyfte by grace: Wherby the grace was geuen by one man, Jesus Christ. And the gyfte is not ouer one that synned. For damnacion came of one synne vnto condemnacion, but the gyfte came to iustify from many synes. For if by the syn of one, death reignede by the mea-nes of one, much more shall they wherby receyue aboundance of grace and of the gyfte of rightuousnes reigne in life by the mea-nes of one that is to saue, Jesus Christ.
Lyke wyse then as by the synne of one, co-damnacion came on al men: euen so by the iustifying of one cometh the rightuous-nes that byngeth life vpon al men. For as by one mannes (b) dysobedience many became synners: so by the obedience of one shall many be made rightuous.

Eph. i. 3

But the lawe (c) in the meane tyme entered in, that syn shoulde encrease. Neuer-theles wher aboundance of synne was, ther was more plentifulnes of grace, that as synne had reignede vnto death, euen so myghte grace reigne thow we rightuous-nes vnto eternall lyfe, by the helpe of Jesus Christ. &

The Notes.

At peace
with God

(a) To be at peace wth God, is none other thyng then to haue tranquillite and rest in our hearts toward God, knowinge assuredly that he accepteth vs, and that we please hym. Wher-by the peace can wee not haue other wyse then by faith and sure trust of remission of synne throwe Christes bloude. For all other means be iorned wth doubte, and therfore cannot ob-tayne this rest.

Adams dis-

(b) The dysobedience of Adam was such, that

To the Rom. Cha. vi.

It conuenied al his posterite, so that the very in-fantes, who haue neither wrought nor thought any euill are therby the children of damnacion, and shoulde vndoubtedly be dāned, were it not that Christ thow his bloud weddinge hath redemed them.

obedience

(c) That is the lawe forbiddinge vs manie mothyngs than god forbade the first man in Paradise, encreaseth syn in vs because we do not nor cannot refrayne the desyre of the thynges therin forbidden. The. vi. Chapter.

The same encreaseth syn.

That those wherby be arde the rightuousnes of workes denied, shoulde not therby gather any licence to liue at pleasures, he sheweth what is the duty of such as be true in Christ, exhorting them that puttinge of the yoke of syn, they liue rightuousnes.

What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that there may be abundauce of grace? God forbid. Howe shall

shall we that are deade as touchyng synne, lyue anye longer therein? Remember ye not that we al wherby are baptised in the name of Jesus Christ, are baptised to dye wth hym? We are buried wth hym by bapt. sine for to dye, that lyke wyse as Christ was raised vp from death by the gloire of the father, euen so we also shoulde walke in a newe lyfe. For if wee be grafted in death lyke vnto hym: euen so muste wee be in the resurrection. Wherby we must remeber, that oure olde manne is crucified wth hym also, that the bodye of syn myghte utterly be destroied, that hence forth we shuld not be seruaunts of syn. For he that is dead is iustified from syn. Wherefore if we be deade wth Christ we beleue that we shall lyue wth hym, remembryng that Christ once raised from death, & dyeth no more, death hath no more power ouer him. For as touchyng that he died, he died concerning syn once. And as touchyng that he liueth, he liueth vnto god. Likewise imagine ye also, that ye are
(a) dead concerning syn: but are aliue vnto god thow we Jesus Christ our Lorde. &

Collo. ii. 12
Eph. 2. 6

11. Rom. 6. 11

Apoc. 1. 5

Let not syn reigne therfore in your mortal bodies, that ye shoulde therunto obey in the lustes of it. Stepther geue ye your members as instruments of vnrightheousnes vnto syn: but geue your selues vnto god, as they that are aliue to death. And geue your mebers as instrumentes of rightuousnes vnto God. Let not synne haue power ouer you. For ye are not vnder the law, but vnder grace.

What then? shall we syn, because we are not vnder the law, but vnder grace? god forbid. Remember ye not how that to whō so euer ye comit your selues as seruaunts to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be offm vnto death, or of obedience vnto rightuousnes? god be thanked that though ye were once the seruantes of syn ye haue yet obeyed with heart vnto the form of doctrine wherunto ye were deliuered.
& Ye are then made free fro syn, and are become the seruantes of rightuousnes.

shall

1. Joh. 3. 9
11. Rom. 6. 11

1. Joh. 3. 9
11. Rom. 6. 11

& I wyl speake grosselye because of the infir-

The Epist. of S. Paule

Infirmities of your flesh. As ye have given your members servants to unrighteousness & to iniquity, from iniquity to iniquity: even so now give your members servants unto righteousness, that ye may be sanctified. For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were not under righteousness. What fruit had ye then in those things: whereof ye are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. But now are ye delivered from sin, and made the servants of God, and have your fruit to ye should be sanctified, and the end everlasting life. * For the reward of sinne, is death: but eternal life is the gift of God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. &

The Notes.

Eternall
life is the servant of Christ.
Gen. ii. c.
Rom v. c.

Death con-cerninge
sin.

(a) Whoso giveth not himselfe over to the desires of sin, but resisteth in all that he can, the concupiscences thereof: the same is deade unto sinne.

The vii. Chapter.

To the intent they should not cast away the fruit of good works, with the lawe, he sheweth by a similitude, how far and howe, we be delivered from the lawe. After as it were in a digression, he teacheth what the lawe is, wherefore it was given, and what it worketh in us, and who hath delivered us from the bondage thereof.

Remember ye not brethren (I speake to them that knowe the lawe) howe that the lawe hath power over a man as long as it endureth: * For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by the lawe to the man, as long as she liveth. If the man be deade, she is released from the lawe of the man. So then * if while the man liveth, she coupleth herselfe with another man, she shall be counted a wedlocke breaker. But if the man be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple herselfe with another man.

Even so ye my brethren, are (a) dead concerning the lawe by the bodye of Christe, that ye shoulde bee coupled to another (I meane too hym that is risen agayne from death) that we shoulde bring forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the lustes of sinne which were stirred up by the lawe, reigned in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death. But now we are delivered from the lawe, and dead from that whereunto we were in bondage, that we shoulde live in a new conversation of the spirit, and not in the old conversation of the letter.

What shall we say then? is the lawe sin? God forbid: * but I knew not what sinne meant, but by the law. For I had not known what lust had meant, except the lawe had sayed * thou shalt not lust. But sinne took an occasion by the meanes of the commandment, and wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For withoute the lawe, sinne was deade. I once lived withoute lawe. But when the commandment came,

Rom v. c.
Hebr. iii. b
Lawe ma-keth sinne
to be know-
en.
Exod. 12. c.
Deut. v. b.

To the Rom. Cha. vii. Fo. lxxiii.

sinne reaped, and I was deade. And the very same commandment which was ordeyned unto life, was founde to be unto me an occasion of death, for sinne took occasion by the meanes of the commandement and so deceived me, and by the selfe commandment slew me. Wherefore * the law is holy, and the commandment holy, iust and good.

1. Timo. i. b
Sala. iii. c.

Was that then which is good, made death unto me? God forbid. Nay, sin was death unto me, that it might appeare, howe that sin by the meanes of that which is good, had wrought death in me: that sin which is under the commandment, might be cut of measure sinnefull. For we knowe that the lawe is spirituall, but I am carnall, sold under sin, because I * wote not what I do. For what I would do, that I do not: but what I hate, that I do. If I do now that which I would not, I graunt to the lawe that it is good. So then, now it is not I, that do it, but sinne that dwelleth in me. For I knowe that in me (that is to say in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. For will is present with me: but I fynde no meanes to performe that which is good. For I doo not the good thing which I woulde: but that evill do I which I would not. Finally, if I do that I would not, it is not I, that do it, but sinne that dwelleth in me, doth it. I fynde then by the law, that when I would do good, evill is present with me. I desire in the lawe of God, concerning the inner man. But I see another lawe in my members rebelling agaynst the lawe of my minde, and subduynge me unto the lawe of sinne which is in my members. O wretched man that I am: who shall deliver me from this bodye of death? I thanke god through Jesus Christ our lord. So then I myselfe in my minde serve the lawe of God, and in my flesh the lawe of sinne.

Eccl. i. c. a.
Or rather
myselfe
I do.

Gene. vi. a.

The Notes.

(a) All such are dead concerning the lawe, as are thowse sayth crucified with Christ, and thowse baptised together with hym, and by newnes of life, risen agayne with hym. For the lawe hath no more power over them, the mans law hath over the bodies of the that departed thys life.

Dead conc-erninge
the lawe.

(b) That is, so oppressed with the concupiscence of the flesh, that maugre our heades we commune with sinne, which with all our hartes we detest and abhorre.

Solde under sinne.

The viii. Chapter.

He describeth the surety of those saythful which walke in the spirit. Then sheweth he what maner spirit that is, by which we be taken unto the sonnes of God, what hope is, and what great profit is the love of God is layed by for the Godlye, from whom no trouble of thys world canne con-der us.

There is then no dampnation to them which walke in Christe Iesu, which walke not after the flesh, but after Rom. ii. the

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the Romay. Chap. ix.

Iuo. vii. d. the spirit. For the lawe of the spirit that
Rom. vi. d. hungereth lpe through Iesus Chyſte, hath
I. vii. d. deliuered me from the lawe of synne and Synne is death. For what the lawe could not do in as take here much as it was weake because of the fleshe for a syn- that perſourmed God, and ſente hys ſon offerunge in the ſimilitude of ſynful fleshe, and by ſin after the dampned synne in the fleshe: that the righble of the tuouſnes requyred of the lawe, mighte be Debutie fulfilled in vs, whpche walcke not after the tonge. fleshe, but after the ſpyrite.

For they that are carnall, are carnallpe myned. But they that are ſpiritual, are ghoſtly myned. To be carnall myned, is death. But to be ſpiritually myned, is life and peace. ¶ Because that the fleshy mind is an enemy againſt God: for it is not obediente to the lawe of God, neither can be.
So then they that are geuen to the fleshe, can not pleaſe God. But ye are not (a) geuen to the fleshe, but to the ſpirit (b) if ſo be that the ſpirit of God dwel in pou. If ther be anye manne that hath not the ſpirit of Chyſt, the ſame is none of hys. ¶ If Chyſte be in pou, the body is dead, because of ſyn:
but the ſpirit is life for rightuouſnes ſake.
Wherfore if the ſpirit of him that raiſed bp Ieſus from death, dwell in pou, euen he that raiſed bp Chyſt from death ſhal quicken pour mortall bodpes, because that hys ſpyrite dwelleth in pou.

Therfore brethren we are nowe betters not to the fleshe, to lpe after the fleshe. For if ye lue after the fleshe, ye muſt dye. But if ye mortyſpe the dedes of the bodye, by the helpe of the ſpyrit, ye ſhal lue. For as many as are led by the ſpirit of God, they are the ſonnes of God. For ye haue not recep-ued the ſpirit of bondage to fear any more:
but ye haue receyued the ſpirit of adopyd, wherebp we crye Abba, father. ¶ The ſame ſpyrite certyfyeth our ſpirit that we are the ſonnes of God. ¶ If we be ſonnes, we are alſo heyles, the heyles I meane of God, and heyles annexed wpth Chyſte, if ſo be that we c ſuffer together, that we may be glorified together.

For I ſuppoſe that the afflictions of this lpe are not worthy of the glory which ſhal be ſhewed vpon vs. ¶ Alſo the ſeruate deſpise of the creatures abydeſh lokynge when the ſonnes of God ſhal appeare, because the creatures are ſubdued too vary-tpe agaynſt their will, but for hys wyl whpche ſubdueth them in hope. For the best creatures ſhal be deliuered from the bondage of corrupcion into the glorious lybertie of the ſonnes of God. For we knowe that euery creature grogeth wpth vs alſo and trauepleth in payne euen vnto thys tyme. Not they onely, but euen wee alſo whpche haue the ſpyrit d) frutes of the ſpyrit, mourne in our ſelues and waite for the (adopyd) and loke for the deliuerance of our bodpes. ¶ For we are e) ſaued bp that is the hope. But hope that is ſene is no hope. For enheritace howe can a man hope for that whpche he ſeeth? But if we hope for that we ſe not, promiſed then do we with patience abyde for it. by grace

Likewiſe the ſpirit alſo helpeth our infirmities. For we know not what to deſire as we ought: but the ſpirit maketh interceſſion mightely for vs wpth groyngeſ, whpche cannot be expreſſed with tounge.
And he ¶ that ſearcheth the hertes, ¶ knoweth what is the meaning of the ſpirit, for he maketh interceſſion for the ſapientes according to the pleaſure of God.

For we know that all thynges worke for the beſt vnto the that loue God, which alſo are called (f) of purpoſe. For thoſe whpche he knewe before, he alſo ordeyned before, that they ſhould be lyke faſhioned vnto the ſhape of his ſonne, that he myght be the ſpyle begotten ſonne among many brethren. ¶ Moreover whpche he appointed before, them he alſo called. And whiche he called, them alſo he iuſtified, which he iuſtified, them he alſo glorified.

What ſhall we then ſay vnto theſe thynges?
¶ God be on our ſpde: who can be a-gainſt vs? whpche ſpared not hys own ſon, but gaue him for vs all: howe ſhall he not with him gyue vs all thynges alſo? ¶ Who ſhall lay anye thyng to the charge of gods choſen? ¶ It is god that iuſtiſieth, who then ſhall condemne? ¶ It is Chyſte whpche is dead, yet rather which is riſen again, which is alſo on the right hand of God, and ma-keth interceſſion for vs.

Who ſhall ſeparate vs from the loue of God? ¶ ſhal tribulacion? or anguiſh? or per-ſecucion? either hunger? either nakednes? eyther peril? either ſwearde? ¶ As it is written. ¶ For thy ſake we are killed all daye longe, and are counted as ſhepe appoyned to be ſlayne.

Neuertheleſſe in all theſe thynges we o-uercome ſtrongly thorow his helpe that loued vs. ¶ Yea and I am ſure that neyther death, neither life, neither angels, nor rule neyther power, neyther thynges preſente, neyther thynges to come, neither heygth, neyther louth, neyther any other creature ſhal be able to departe vs from the loue of God, ſhewed in Chyſt Ieſu our Lorde. ¶

The Notes.

(a) To be geuen to the fleshe, is to lue in hys of the fleshe, whpche are receyued. ¶ Gals. v.
(b) ¶ That be of Chyſt, haue the ſpirit of Chyſt dwelling in them: ¶ That is, they do continually ſtrive agaynſt the fleshe, alwayes deſyringe in they hertes to walke in the woꝝkes of the ſpyrit receyued, ¶ Gals. v.

(c) ¶ We muſt ſuffer w Chyſt, if we will reigne wpth him in glory.

(d) ¶ The fyrſt frutes of the ſpyrit had the Apoſtles, as Chyſt had the fyrſt frutes of the reſur-rection, that is, they were the fyrſt amonge all nacyons, that receyued the gyfte of the ſpirit, as Chyſte was the fyrſt that roſe from the dead.

(e) ¶ Where ſayth is, there is hope, and where is no pure hope, there is no Chyſtian ſayeth.
¶ Wherfore if we ſaygh we will be ſaved, we are ſaued

promiſed
by grace

I
I pa. xviii.
I Gal. vi. c.
I Jer. xvii. b.
I Iſa. vi. b.

I
I An. xlii. b.
I Rom. vi. d.
I Iſa. vi. b.
I Iſa. vi. c.

I
I Exod. ix. d.
I De that ſeeth what chyd hath donne for him, canot
but beleue
that god
loueth him
¶ I will loue
god again ¶ Iſa. xlii. b.

Geuen to the fleshe
The ſpirit
of Chyſte

Suffered
together.
¶ Iſa. frutes.

ſaued by ſayth.

Saued by hope Saued by hope. That is by the most certain and sure faith in Chyikes promise, which causeth us to hope certainly that at the tyme appointed, we shall be deliuered from this greaue burden of the sinne.

Called of purpose (1. The eternall wylsome of God, dyd before the world began, appoint certayne that should possess and let forth the Gospel of his sonne, even to the worldes ende, those were they that were, and be daylye called of purpose, that is, they are not onely called, but also elected and chosen.

The ix. Chapter.

After he hath shewed his good will toward the Jewes, he beginneth to entreate of an other matter: that is the calling of the Gentiles, and the forsakinge of the Jewes. First he sheweth who be the true Israelites. Then he sheweth that it was the purpose of God, that all men should obtaine saluacion by Christ, who when the Gentiles had receiued through faith, they were made the people of god. Which in the meane while the Jewes whiche swelled up in trust of theyr own workes, were offended at hym.

I sayeth the truth in Christe and Ipe not, in that wherof my conscience beareth me witness in the helpe ghoste, that I haue great heauynesse and continuall sorowe in my heart. For I haue wished my selfe to be cursed from Christe, for my brethren a my kynsmen (as pertaininge to the fleshe) whiche are the Israelites. To whome pertapneth the adopcion, and the glorie, and the covenantes, and the lawe that was geuen, and the seruice of god, and the promises: whose also are the fathers, and they of whom (as concerning the fleshe) Christ came, whiche is God ouer all thynges blessed for ever. Amen.

I speake not these thynges as though the wordes of god had taken none effecte. For they are not all Israelites whiche call of Israell, neyther are they all chyldren straightwaie, because they are the seede of abraham. But in Isaac shall thy seide be called, that is to say, they whiche at the chylde of god. But the chylde of promise are counted for the seede. For this is a word of promise about this tyme with I come, & Sara shall haue a sonne.

Neyther was it so with hit only, but also, when Rebecca was with chylde by one, I meane by our father Isaac, yet the chylde were boie, when they hadde neyther done good nor bad, & the purpose of god, which is by election, might stand, was said vnto hyr, not by the reason of workes, but by grace of the caller & the elder shall serue the yonger. As it is writte. Jacob he loued, but Esau he hated.

What shall we say then? Is there any vnghtynousnes with god? God forbid. For he saith in Moses. I wil shewe mercy to whom I shew mercy, and wyl haue compassion on whom I wil haue compassion. So let it not then in a mans will or running, but in the mercy of God. For the scripture saith vnto Pharaon. Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred the vp, to shewe my power on the, and that my name might be declared thowout al the world. So hath he mercy on whom he wyl, and whom he wil, he maketh hard herted.

Thou wilt saye then vnto me: why then blameth he vs yet? For who can resist his will? But o man, what arte thou whiche disputest with God? Shall the worke say to the workman, why hast thou made me in this fashion? Hath not the potter power ouer the claye, euen of the same lump to make one vessel vnto honoure, and another vnto dishonoure? Euen so God wyllynge to shewe his wrath, and to make his power knowne, suffered with longe patience the vessels of wrath, ordeyned to damnacion, that he might declare the ryches of his glorie on the vessels of mercy, which he had prepared vnto glorie: that is to say, vs whom he called, not of the Jewes onely but also of the gentiles. As he saith in Hosea. I will call them my people whiche were not my people: and hyr beloued which was not beloued. And it shall come to passe in the place wher it was sayed vnto them, ye are not my people, that there they shall be called the chylde of the lypynge God.

But Eliaas expeth conceyninge Israell, though the number of the chylde of Israell bee as the sande of the sea, yet shall a remnant be saued. He finisheth the worde berefte, and maketh it short in rightuousnes. For a shorte worde will God make on earth. And as Eliaas said before. Except the Lord of Saboth had left vs seede, we had bene made as Sodoma, and had bene lykened to Gomorra.

What shall we saye then? We saye that the Gentiles whiche folowed not rightuousnes haue overtaken rightuousnes: I meane the rightuousnes whiche cometh of faith. But Israell which folowed the lawe of rightuousnes, coulde not attaine vnto the lawe of rightuousnes. And wherfore? Because they soughte it not by faith: but as it were by the workes of the lawe. For they haue stumbled at the stumblinge stone. As it is writte: Beholde I put in Sion a stumblinge stone, and a rocke whiche shall make men fall. And none that beleue on him, shall be ashamed.

The x. Chapter.

Hegetteth the good will of the Jewes as gayne, shewing wthall thowome what occasion they fell from Christe. Then he compareth together the rightuousnes of the lawe and of faith, shewing also that faith excludeth none, and whence sauerth synners. Last of all he proueth by witness of the prophets, that the Jewes were fallen thowough theyr own fault.

Brethren, my hartes desyre, and praye to God for Israell is that they maye be saued. For I beare them reuerence, that they haue a seruente Anna. iii. mynde Exod. ix. v.

Esa. xlv. x.
and. lxxx. c.
Esa. xlviii. a
Esa. xlviii. b
Esa. xlviii. b
the fleshy
ly a proude mind & wil
be as wyle
as God:
must he mortified,
to learn to ferr god, &
to obey him
to leaue disputing
with hym.
Esa. xlv. b
I. Pet. ii. b.

Esa. x. c.
Amos. ix. b.

Esa. i. c.

I. Pet. ii. b.
et. lxxxv. b.
Esa. lxxxv. b.
Esa. lxxxv. b.

Act. ix. a what Ioue
d. 13.
Esa. xlv. g
I. Pet. ii. b.
Adopcion
is an enhe ritance by
grace.
Rom. vii. a

Gene. xxi. b.
Iho. viii. b.
Rom. vii. b.
Gala. iii. b.
Gen. xxi. b.

Gene. xxi. b.
Mat. i. g

Ex. xxi. d

The Epist. of S. Paule

The lwe mynde to Godward, but not accordyng to bruth to knowlege & other are ignorant of the Chyſte to rightuouſnes, whiche is alowed before be iuſtified God, and go about to ſtabliſhe their owne rightuouſnes, and therfore are not obedyent vnto the rightuouſnes whiche is of God. like before God. For a Chyſt is the ende of the lawe, to iuſtifie all that beleue. Gal ſes deſcribeth the rightuouſnes whiche commeth of the law, how that the man whiche doth the thynges of the law, ſhall liue therein. But the rightuouſnes whiche cometh of fapth, ſpeaketh on thys wyſe: ſape not in thynne hert, who ſhall aſcend into heaue?
 (that is nothyng els but to fetch Chyſte down.) Eithet, who ſhall deſcend into the depe (that is nothyng els but to fetche vp Chyſt from death, but what ſaith the ſcripture. * The worde is npe the euen in thp mouth and in thp hert. This word is the worde of fapth whych we preach. For if thou ſhalt knowlege with thp mouth that Jeſus is the Lord, and ſhalt beleue wth thpne herte that God raiſed hym vp from death, thou ſhalt be ſafe. * For the beleue of the herte iuſtifieth: and to knowlege with the mouth, maketh a man ſafe. For the ſcripture ſapth: * whoſoeuer beleueth on hym, ſhall not be a ſhamed.

There is no difference betwene the Jew, and the Gentyl. For one is Lord of all, whiche is riche vnto all that call on hym.
 For * whoſoeuer ſhall call on the name of the Lord, ſhall be ſafe. But howe ſhall they call on hym, on whome they beleued not?
 How ſhall they beleue on hym, of whome they haue not heard: how ſhall they hear without a preacher? And howe ſhall they preach (c) except they be ſent? As it is wy-ten: howe beautifull are the feete of them whiche bringe glad tidynges of peace, and bring glad tidynges of good thynges. But they haue not all obeyed to the goſpel. For Eſaias ſapth: * Lord, who ſhall beleue our ſayynges? So then ſapth cometh by hearing, and hearing cometh by the word of God. But here. Haue they not heard? No doubt, their ſound went out into all landes, and their words into the endes of the world.

But I demaunde whether Iſraell dpyd know or not? Firſt Moſes ſaith: * I wyl prouoke you ſo to enure, by them that are no people, and by a ſolpwe nacpon I wyl anger you. Eſaias after that is bolde and ſaith: * I am founde of them that ſought reme not, & haue appeared to them that axed not after me. And againe Iſraell he ſapth:
 * All day longe haue I ſtretched forth my hands vnto a people that beleueth not, but ſpeaketh agaynſt me.

The Notes.

Chyſte is the end of the law. (a) That is Chyſte fulfilleth the lawe, not ſo much in doſeruyng all the ceremonies and precepts therof, as in performyng that whiche was meant by all th whole courſe of the law.
 That was that he bringe pure and without

To the Romayn. Chap. x.

Spot of ſynne, ſhould purge our filthy nature by ſheddyng of oys moſt pte, our bloud, ſo many of vs, I ſay, as ſhould beleue in his name.
 (b) For ſo, that we made iuſte, but yet on thys conſpyon, that we embrace Chyſtes doctryne, and confeſſe hym in word and dede, & of Chyſt caſtly vs to worke in hys vncyphard, and not to be idle at the daye. And the wyſard ſeruant ſhall ſider many ſteppes.
 (c) Some wyl ſay of whom the preachers ſhall be ſent ſeruyng of hym, that is they may ſer, that is God. Of hym be they ſent, whiche preach Chyſt truly, without the deſper of va-glory or gannes. On thys ſoyt doth Chyſt proue that he was ſent of f father, becauſe he ſought hys teachers glory, and not hys owne.

The xi. Chapter.

He cometh to the Jewes that they deſpairo not of ſaluacion, ſhewyng that Gods promyſes are not voyde if they receyue the with fapth, and that though grace the leauynges yet remaine. Agayne that the Gentyles be not proude, he ſheweth that the fall of the Jewes may be repayed: and that if they for-ſow the Jewes, they may ſal as well as they.
 Laſt of all he concludeth thys place, ſhewyng that the iudgements of God are unſearchable.

I ſape then: hath God caſte awaye hys people? God forbid. For euen I myſelſe am an Iſraelit, of the ſede of Abrahams, and in the tribe of Benjamin, God hath not caſt awaye hys people whych he knewe before. For that wote ye not what the ſcripture ſapth by the mouth of Deſias, how he maketh interceſſion to God agaynſt the Iſraelit, ſaying: * Lord they haue ſpilled thy prophetes, and bygged downe thynne au-ters: and I am left onlp, and they ſeke my lyfe. But what ſapeth the anſwer of god to hym agayne? * I haue reſerued vnto me ſeuenthouſand men, whych haue not be-weothed the knee to Baal. And ſo at thys time is there a remnant left thorow the eleccio of grace. If it be of grace, then is it not of workes. For if it were grace no more grace.
 If it be of workes then is it no more grace.
 For then were deſeruyng no longer teſeruyng.

What then? Iſrael hath not obtayned that, that he ſought for, but yet the election hath obtayned it. For remnant are bynded accordyng as it is written: * God hath geuen them the ſpirt of vniuerſalnes: euen that they ſhould not ſe, and eares that they ſhould not heare euen vnto thys daye.
 * And Dauid ſaith: let their table be made a ſquare to take them withall, and an occa-ſyon to fall, and a reward vnto them: let their eyes be bynded that they ſee not: and enter a bowe downe their backes.

I ſap then: Haue they therfore ſtubled, that they ſhould but fall onlp? God forbid: but thorow their fall ſaluacion happened vnto the Gentyles, ſo to prouoke the wpthall. Wherefore if the fall of theſe, be the riches of the world, and the mynyſhyng of them, the riches of the gentils: How much more ſhould it be ſo, if they all beleued? I ſpeake

The word
 of ſapeth

Excepte
 they be ſet

It. We. etc. b ut. re. etc. d.

* Grace a workes are conſarpe
 thynges.

Gal. vi. 7.
 Mat. vii. 6
 Rom. xi. 6.
 Ec. xxi. 6.
 1. pl. xxi. 6.

The Epist. of S. Paule

To the Roma. Chap. xiii.

De not wise in your owne opinions. It is a corapence to no man euill for euill. I proude afor hand if puges honest in the sighte of all men. It it be possible, how be it of your parte, haue peace with all men. Dearly beloued, auenge not your selues, but geue counte vnto the wrath of God. For it is written: "vengeaunce is mine, and I will rewarde sayth the Lorde."

Therefore if thyne enemy hunger, feede him: if he thurst, geue him drinke. for in so doinge thou shalt heape coles of fire on his head. Be not overcome of euill. But overcome euill with goodnes.

The Notes.

(a) The sacrifice that God requyeth of vs, is to bringe our bodies to the obedience of gods lawe.

(b) In this and many other places of the scrip ture, prophete is taken for expoundinge of the scrip tures, so that the more darke places be made open and playne by the more manifest places, and the generall artycles of the Chrysitan sayth.

The. xiii. Chapter.

He sheweth the office of the common lyfe. And teacheth by what ought to be geuen to the magistrate and after what is due to every man: all which he comprehendeth in þe commaundment of charitye. At last through metenes of the tyme, he rebyleth them to pi eties and innocencye of lyfe.

Let every soule submit hym selfe vnto the authoritie of the hyer powers. For there is no power but of god. The powers that be, are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth power: resisteth the ordinance of God. And they that resist, shall receyue to themselves dampna cion. For rulers are not to be feared for good woordes, but for euill. Wilt thou be without feare of the power? Do well then: so shalt thou be praised of the same. For he is the minister of God, for thy welth. But and if thou do euill, then feare: for he beareth not a sword for nought: but is the minister of God, to take vengeaunce on them that do euill. Wherefore ye must nedes obey, not for feare of vengeaunce onely: but because of (a) conscience. And eue for this cause paye ye tribute. For they are Gods ministers, seruing for the same pur pose. Give to every man therfore his du ty tribute: to whom tribute belongeth: Custom to whome custom is due, feare to whom feare belongeth: Honour to whom honoure pertayneth.

B

Mat. xxi. c. and. xxi. a.

Exod. xx. c. Deute. v. b. Math. v. b. Lu. xvi. c.

Give no thyng to any man: but to loue one another. For he that loueth another, fulfilleth the lawe: for these commaunde ments: Thou shalt not commit adou lery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witness: Thou shalt not despye, & so forth: (if there be any other commaundment) they are all fulfilled in this sayinge: Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. Loue hurteth not: for love is the ful filling of the lawe.

For we knowe, I meane þe sea son, howe that it is tyme that we shoulde nowe awake out of slepe. For now is our saluacion nearer then when wee beleued. The nighte is passed, and the daye is come nge. Let vs therfore cast away the dedes of darcknes, and let vs put on the Armour of lpyght. Let vs walcke honestly as it were in the day lpyght: not in eatynge and dryn kyng: neyther in chamberpynge and wan tonnes, neyther in sleepe and enuyng: but put ye on the Lorde Jesus Chyste. And make not proupton for the fleshe, to fulfill the lustes of it.

The Notes.

(a) Though thou wost of power to resist the magistrates, yet shouldest thou conscience con demne the, if thou dydest it, because God com maundeth the to obey them. But this obedy ence is not to do both good and euill at their commaundment: but to do the good thynges that they commaunde: and if they commaunde the any euill, to saye with Peter and Iohn, it is our parte rather to obey God, then men. And yet yett no weapon against them, but patiently suf fer at theyr handes, whatsoeuer tyrannye they will exercise vpon the, for not doynge theyr commaundment.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

Because ther was greute dissencion be twene the Jewes and the Gentyle, about the diuersitye of meates and tymes, Paule monyeth them well that the Jewes folowe not theyr arrogancye, nor the Gentyle theyr ouergreate lybertie. But that in suche out ward thynges either of them folow the rule of charitye, to the entent that they offende not the weaker.

In that is (a) weake in the sayth, receiue vnto you, not in dysputing and troubleng his conscience. One bele ueth that he maye eat all thyng: An other whiche is weake, eateth herbes. Lette not him that eateth, despyse him that eateth not. And lette not him whiche eateth not, rudge hym that eateth. For God hath re ceived him. What arte thou that iudgest another mans seruaunt? Whether he stand or fall, that pertayneth vnto his maister: pea he shal stand. For God is able to make him stande. This manne putteth difference betwene daye and day. Another man coun teth al dayes alike. Se that no man wauer in his owne meanyng. Be that obserueth one daye more than another, doeth it for the Lorde pleaser. And he þe obserueth not one day more than another, doeth it to please the Lorde also. Be that eateth, doeth it to please the Lorde, for he geueth God than kes. And he that eateth not, eateth not to please the Lorde with all, and geueth God thanks. For none of vs lyueth his owne seruaunt: neyther doth anye of vs dye his owne seruaunt. If we lyue, we lyue to be at the Lordes will. And if we dye, we dye at the Lordes will. Whether we lyue there fore or dye, we are the Lordes. For Chyste therfore is therfore

Mat. xxi. d. Mat. xxi. c. Galat. v. b. Jacob. ii. b

Lu. xxi. c. Eccl. xxi. c. 1. xxi. d

Conscience.

Rom. xii. a. 1. xii. d

B

Some weake con science we be, we be Chy rics. And therfore is for his sake that he might be * Lord both of dead and

* Act. ii. f. quicke.

But why dost thou then iudge thy brother? Either why dost thou despise thy brother? We shal all be brought before the iudgement seate of Christ. For it is wrytten: as truly as I liue, I sayeth the Lord, * all knees shall bowe to me, and all tonges shall geue a knowledge to God. So shal euery one of vs, geue accompts of himself to God. Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more.

But iudge thys rather, that no man put Commune, a stumblinge blocke or an occasion to fall
p is to say, in his brothers waye. For I know and am vndeane. full certayned in the Lord Iesus, p * there is nothing comune of it self, but vnto him that iudgeth it to bee common, to him is it commune. If thy brother be greued wth thy meate, now walkest thou not charitably.
Destroie not hym wth thy meate, for whō Christ died. Cause not poure treasure to be euill spoken of. For the kyngdome of god is not meate and drinke, but rightuousnes, peace and ioye in the holy ghost. For whosoeuer in these thyngs serueth Christ, plea-seth well god, and is commended of men.

Lette vs folowe those thynges whiche make for peace, and thyngs wherewith one maye edifye another. Destroie not p worke of God for a lytle meates sake. * All thynges are pure, but it is euill for that manne, whych eateth wth hurt of his conscience.
It is good neither to eat fleshe, neyther to dryncke wyne, neyther any thyng wherby thy brother stumbleth, eyther falleth, or is made weake. Hast thou sayd? haue it with thy selfe before God. Happye is he that condempneth not hymselfe in that thyng whych he alloweth.

For he that maketh conscience, is damp-ned if he eate, because he doeth it not of faith. For whatsoeuer is not of faith, that same is synne. f

The Notes.
(a) Saynt Paule calleth them weake that not withstandyng they haue the fayeth of Christ, yet theyr conscience will not suffer them to eat such meate as the law of Moyses forbade. Such would not Saynt Paule haue despyled, but to be gentile instructed and taught, that too the saythfull all thynges are cleane, and nothyng to be refused, so it be taken wth thankes, and that Moyses forbade the vse of certayne beastes and meates only, because he would by the properties of the same beastes or meates, declare what byes the saythfull shoulde receyue. As by the forbiddinge of swynes fleshe, that the saythfull shoulde not deliight to wallow in the fleshy pynnel of synne, as the swyne deliight to wallow in the myre. And cryght so of other.

The xv. Chapter.
The monyeth to beare patiently wth the weake. Then exhorteth he hys boldnes in his Epistle, and wryteth hys sayth in the mys-trust of the world, and his loue toward the Romanes. He sheweth the cause thow whych he coude not come vnto them. And last he despyeth them to praye for hym.

Which are stronge, * oughte to beare the scarpnes of them which are weake, and not to stande in our own conceptes. Let euery man please hys neighbour vnto hys wealth and edifyinge. For Christ pleased not hym selfe: but as it is wrytten. * The rebukes of them which rebukethe, fell on me.

* Whatsoeuer thynges are wrytten afore tyme, are wrytten for oure learnyng, that we thowow pacience and comfote of the scripture, might haue hope.

The God of pacience and consolacion, geue vnto euery one of you, that ye be lyke mynded one towardes another, after the ex ample of Christ Iesu, * that ye al agre-yng together, may wth one mouth praise God the father of our Lord Iesus. Wherefore receyue ye one another, as Christ recei-ued vs to the prayse of god. And I say that Iesus Christ was a minister of the eyrcumcysion for the truthe of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers. * And let the Gentils praise God for hys mercy, as it is wrytten. * For this cause I wyl praise the amonge the Gentils, and spyng in thy name. And agayne he sayth: * reioice ye Gentils wth hys people. And agayne.
* Praise the Lord al ye Gentyles, & laude hym al nacions. And in another place E-saies sayth: that shal be the * rote of Jesse, and he that shal ryle to raygne ouer the Gentyles: in hym shal the Gentils truste.
The God of hope fyll you wth al ioy and peace in beleupnge: that ye maye be ryche in hope thowow the power of p holy gost. f

I my selfe am full certayned of you my brethren, that ye poure selues are full of goodnes, and fylled wth all knowledge, and are able to exhort one another. Reuerthelesse brethren I haue somewhat boldly wrytten vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembraunce, thowow the grace p is geuen me of God, that I shoulde be the minister of Iesu Christ amonge the Gentles, and shoulde minister the glad tydin-ges of God, that the gentyles might be an acceptable offering, sanctified by the holy ghost, I haue therefore wherof I maye reioice in Christ Iesu in those thynges whych pertaine to God. For I dare not speake of anye of those thynges whiche Christ hath not wrought by me, to make p gentyles obedyent, wth worde and dede, in mighty signes and wonders, by p power of the spirit of God: so that from Ie-rusalem and coastes roundabout vnto Illyricum, I haue fylled all countreyes wth the glad tydings of Christ.

So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, least I shoulde haue built on another mans foundacyon: but as it is wrytten. * To whō he was not spoken of, they shal see. & they p heard not, shal vnderstand. For this cause I haue bene offe let to come vnto you: but nowe synge I haue no more to do in these coun-

Sal. vi. a
He is strong p can beare
another mans weak-
nes.
Ps. lxxv. b
Rom. iii. b
1. Cor. i. b

Luke. xix. b

2. Cor. xi. f
1. Cor. xiii. f
2. Cor. xxi. f
1. Cor. xxi. f
1. Cor. xxi. f

b

c

1. Cor. iiii. b and xv. b
Roma. x. b

Ms. lib. v.
and xv. s
Rome. x. v.

The Epistle of S. Paule

countreys, and also haue bene desirous man to peare to come vnto you, when I shall take my iourney into Spaine, I wil come to you. I trust to se you in my iourney, and to be broughte on my waye thitherwarde by you after that I haue somewhat enioyed you.

Actes. xli. d.
and. xliii. d.
1. cor. xvi. a.
11. cor. viii. a.
and. ix. a.

Now go I vnto Ierusalem, and minister vnto the saintes. For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpon the poore saintes, which are at Ierusalem. It hath pleased them verely, and their betters are they. For if the Gentiles be made partakers of the spiritual things, their duty is to minister vnto them in carnall thynges. Whiche I haue performed thys, and haue brought them this fruit sealed, I will come back againe by you into Spaine. And I am sure when I come, that I shall come with a boundaunce of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

I beseeche you brethren for our Lord Jesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirit, that ye helpe me in my busines: with your prayers to God for me, that I may be deliuered from them which beleue not in Iewrye, and that thys my scrupel whych I haue to Ierusalem, may be accepted of the Saintes, that I may come vnto you with ioye, by the will of God, & may with you be refreshed. The God of peace be with you: Amen. f

The. xvi. Chapter.

He commendeth Iphige to the Romaines, and byddeth them to salute the brethren in his name. At last he monyeth them to take heed of such as are authours of diuersion.

A I Commende vnto you Iphige our sister (whych is a minister of the congregation of Lenchia) that ye receyue hyr in the Lord, as it becometh saintes, & that ye assiste hir in whatsoever busines she needeth of your aide. For she hath suckered manye, and myne owne selfe also. Grete Iulca and Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesus, whych haue for my life layd down their own neckes. Vnto which not I only geue thanks, but also the congregacion of the Gentiles. I knowe grete al the company that is in their house. Salute my well beloued Epenetos, which is the first fruite among them of Achaia. Grete Marye which beflowed much labour on vs. Salute Andronicus and Junia my colins, which were prissoners with me also, which are well taken among the Apostles, and were in Christ before me. Grete Amplias my beloued in the Lord. Salute Urbane our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloued. Salute Appelles approued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobolus household. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Grete them of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord. Salute Triphena and Triphosa, which women byd labour in the Lord. Salute the beloued Persis, which laboured

To the Roma. Chap. xvi.

in the Lord. Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine. Grete Sincritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Hermon, and the brethren, which are with them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Petrus and his sister, and Olimpha, and al the saintes which are with them. Salute one another with an holpe kyffe. The congregacions of Christ salute you.

I beseeche you brethren, marke them which cause diuision, and geue occasions of euil, contrary to the doctrine whych ye haue learned: and auoide them. For they are such, serue not the Lord Jesus Christ, but their owne bellies, and with sweete preachynges and flatteryng wordes deceiue the hertes of the innocents. For your obedience extendeth to all men, I am glad no doubt of you. But yet I woulde haue you wylle vnto that whych is good, and to be innocent as concernyng euyl. The God of peace treade Sathan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

Timotheus my worke felow and Lucius and Jason, and Sopater my kinsman, salute you. I Tertius salute you, whych wrote this Epistle in the Lord. Baia myne hoste and the hoste of all congregacions, saluteth you. Raia the chamberlayne of the cytye saluteth you. And Quartus a brother. saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

To hym that is of power to stablish you according to my Gospel and preachyng of Jesus Christ, in utteryng of the mystery which was kepte secreete sence the worlde began, but now is opened by the scripturs of prophesie, at the commandement of the euerlastyng God, to steepe by obedience to the faith published among al nacjons: To the same God, whiche alone is wylle, be all praise thowre Jesus Christ for euer. Ame.

To the Romaines. Sent from Corinthum by Iphige, the that was the minister vnto the congregacion at Lenchia.

The Prologe vpon the fyrste Epylle of Sapnt Paule to the Corinthians.

This Epistle declareth itselfe from Chapter to chapter, that it needeth no Prologe or introduccion to declare. When Paul had converted a grete number at Corinthum as ye recorde. Actes. xviii. & was departed, there came immediatly false Apostles and sette forth a secte, and drew euery man bys hyppocresies after hym, so that the people were yholly enguaged, 11. cor. xli. d.

Colos. ii. d.
Eph. v. d.

Phil. iii. d.

Paule wold haue the lape people iudge the prophetes and to obey the according to knowlege onely: for all obedience that is not after true knowlege is falshood of God.

* Act. xli. d.

Actes. xviii.
11. cor. xli. d.

First fruit
that is the firste that was con-uerted to
God.

The Epistle of S. Paule

countreys, and also haue bene desirous man to peare to come vnto you, when I shall take my iourney into Spaine, I wil come to you. I trust to se you in my iourney, and to be broughte on my waye thitherwarde by you after that I haue somewhat enioyed you.

Actes. xli. d.
and. xliii. d.
1. cor. xvi. a.
11. cor. viii. a.
and. ix. a.

* Now go I vnto Ierusalem, and minister vnto the saintes. For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpon the poore saintes, which are at Ierusalem. It hath pleased them verely, and their betters are they. For if the Gentiles be made partakers of the spiritual things, their duty is to minister vnto them in carnall thynges. Whiche I haue performed thys, and haue brought them this fruit sealed, I will come back againe by you into Spaine. And I am sure when I come, that I shall come with a boundaunce of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

I beseeche you brethren for our Lord Jesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirit, that ye helpe me in my busines: with your prayers to God for me, that I may be deliuered from them which beleue not in Jewrye, and that thys my scrupel whych I haue to Ierusalem, may be accepted of the Saintes, that I may come vnto you with ioye, by the will of God, & may with you be refreshed. The God of peace be with you: Amen. f

The. xvi. Chapter.

He commendeth Ihebe to the Romaines, and byddeth them to salute the brethren in his name. At last he monyeth them to take heed of such as are authours of diuision.

A Commende vnto you Ihebe our sister (whych is a minister of the congregation of Eenchia) that ye receyue hyr in the Lord, as it becometh saintes, & that ye assiste hir in whatsoever busines she needeth of your aide. For she hath suckered manye, and myne owne selfe also. Grete Iulca and Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesus, whych haue for my life layd down their own neckes. Vnto which not I only geue thanks, but also the congregacion of the Gentiles. I knowe grete al the company that is in their house. Salute my well beloued Epenetos, which is the first fruite among them of Achaia. Grete Marye which beflowed much labour on vs. Salute Andronicus and Junia my colins, which were prisioners with me also, which are well taken among the Apostles, and were in Christ before me. Grete Amplias my beloued in the Lord. Salute Urbane our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloued. Salute Appelles approued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobolus household. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Grete them of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord. Salute Triphena and Triphosa, which women byd labour in the Lord. Salute the beloued Persis, which laboured

To the Roma. Chap. xvi.

in the Lord. Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine. Grete Sincritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Hermon, and the brethren, which are with them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Petrus and his sister, and Olimpha, and al the saintes which are with them. * Salute one another with an holpe kyffe. The congregacions of Christ salute you.

* I beseeche you brethren, marke them which cause diuision, and geue occasions of euil, contrary to the doctrine whych ye haue learned: and auoide them. For they are such, serue not the Lord Jesus Christ, but their owne bellies, and with sweete preachynges and flatteryng wordes deceiue the hertes of the innocents. For your obedience extendeth to all men, I am glad no doubt of you. But yet I woulde haue you wylle vnto that whych is good, and to be innocent as concernyng euyl. The God of peace treade Sathan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

Timotheus my worke felow and Lucius and Jason, and Sopater my kinsman, salute you. I Tertius salute you, whych wrote this Epistle in the Lord. * Baia myne hoste and the hoste of all congregacions, saluteth you. Praxus the chamberlayne of the cytye saluteth you. And Quartus a brother. saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

To hym that is of power to stablish you according to my Gospel and preachyng of Jesus Christ, in utteryng of the mystery which was kepte secreete sence the worlde began, but now is opened by the scripturs of prophesie, at the commandement of the euerlastyng God, to steepe by obedience to the faith published among al nacjons: To the same God, which alone is wylle, be all praise thowre Jesus Christ for euer. Ame.

To the Romaines. Sent from Corinthum by Ihebe, the that was the minister vnto the congregacion at Eenchia.

The Prologe vpon the fyrste Epylle of Sapnt Paule to the Corinthians.

Thys Epistle declareth hit selfe from Chapter to chapter, that it needeth no Prologe or introduccion to declare. When Paul had converted a grete number at Corinthum as ye recorde. Actes. xviii. & was departed, there came immediatly false Apostles and sette forth a secte, and drew euery man bys hyppocresies after hym, so that the people were yholly enguaged, 11. cor. xli. d.

Colos. ii. d.
Eph. v. d.

Phil. iii. d.

Paule wold haue the lape people iudge the prophetes and to obey the according to knowlege onely: for all obedience that is not after true knowlege is falshood of God.

* Act. xli. d.

Actes. xviii.
11. cor. xli. d.

First fruit
that is the firste that was con-uerted to
God.

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul to the Corint. Chap. i. Fo. lxxviii.

sed, diuided, and at variance amonge themselves, every man for the zeale of his doctrine, those newe apostles not regarding what byttersyon, vncleannes of living, or what false opinions were amonge the people, as long as they mighte bee in authoritie, and well at ease in theyr besydes. But Paul in the foure fyrst chapters wryth greate wysdome and sobrynes, rebuketh fyrst the deuision, and the authoys thereof: and calleth the people to Christ agayne, and teacheth howe for what the preacher is to be take.

In the fyfte he rebuketh the vncleannes that was amonge men.

In the .vi. he rebuketh the debate and the goyng to lawe together, pleadyng theyr causes before the heathen.

In the .vii. he reformateth them, concernyng chastite and marriage.

In the .viii. ix. x. and .xi. he teacheth the stronge to forbear the weake that yet vnderstande not the libertie of the Gospell, and that wryth the example of hymselfe. Whiche though he were an Apostle and had authoritie, yet of loue he abstayned to wpyne other. And he feared them wryth the example of the olde Testament, and rebuketh dyuers disorders that were among them, concernyng the Sacramente, and the goyng bare headed of maryed women.

In the .xii. .xiii. .xiiii. he teacheth the manyfold gyftes of the spirite, and proueth by a symplecude of the body, that all gyftes are geuen, that eche should helpe other, and thow lowe do serue to other, and proueth that where loue is not, there is nothyng that pleaseth God. For if one should loue another, is all that God requy-ereth of vs. And therefore if we desyre spyrytuall gyftes, he teacheth those gyftes to be desired that helpe our neyghbours.

In the .xv. he teacheth of the resurrection of the bodye.

And in the last he exhorteth to help the poore captiues.

halfe, for the grace of God whych is geuen you by Iesus Christ, that in all thynges ye are made rich by him, in all learnyng and in all knowledge, euen as the testimony of Iesus Christ was confirmed in you, so that ye are behynde in no gyft, and waite for the appearing of our lord Iesus Christ whych shall strength you vnto the end, so ye may be blamelesse in the daye of our Lord Iesus Christ. For God is faithful, by whom ye are called vnto the felowshyp of his son Iesus Christ our Lord.

I beseech you brethren in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that ye all speake one thyng, and that there be no dissencion amonge you: but be knytted together in one minde and in one meanyng. It is shewed vnto me (my brethren) of you by they that are of the house of Cloe, that there is strife amonge you. And this is it that I meane: how that commonly amonge you, one saith: I hold of Paul, another, I hold of Apollos: the third, I hold of Cephas: the fourth, I hold of Christ. Is Christ deuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized in the name of Paule? I thanke god that I chastened none of you, but Crispus and Gaius, lest any should saye that I had baptized in mine owne name. I baptized also the house of Stephana. Furthermore knowe I not whether I baptized any man or no.

For Christ sent me not to baptise but to preache the Gospell, not with wysdome of words, lest the crosse of Christ should haue bene made of none effecte. For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perishe, foolishnes: but vnto vs whych are saued, it is the power of God. For it is written: I will destroye the wysdome of the wyse, and will cast awayne the vnderstandyng of the prudent. Wher is the wyse? Wher is the scribe? Wher is the searcher of this world? Hath not God made the wysdome of this world foolishnes?

For when the worlde through wysdome knewe not God in the wysdome of God, it pleased God through foolishnes of preaching, to saue them that beleue. For the Jewes require a signe, & the Grekes seke after wysdome. But we preache Christ crucified, vnto the Jewes an occasyn of falling, and vnto the Grekes foolishnes, but vnto them which are called both of Jewes and (a) Grekes, we preache Christ the power of God & the wisdom of God. For the foolishnes of God, is wyser then men, and the weaknes of God is stronger then men. Brethren, loke on your calling howe that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many of hye degree are called: but God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wyse.

And God hath chosen the weake thynges of the worlde, to confounde thynges which are mighty. And vile thynges of the worlde, and thynges which are despyced Roma. i. a.

Gala. i. a.
I. Cor. i. b.

Act. xlii. c.
I. Cor. x. c.

I. Cor. xlii. d.
I. Cor. xlii. e.
I. Cor. xlii. f.

Act. xlii. d.
I. Cor. xlii. e.
I. Cor. xlii. f.

preaching of the crosse is the power of God.
Roma. i. b.
I. Cor. xlii. d.
I. Cor. xlii. e.

Act. xlii. f.

mat. xlii. b.
Luka. xlii. b.
John. vi. b.
Signe.

Christ is the power & wisdom of God

The fyrste Epistle of saynt Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The fyrst Chapter.

After that he hath moued them wyllynge to heare him, he exhorteth them to agre, and to leaue away the cause of discorde, whych hadde rylen for the lowlynes of Pauls preaching. Then he sheweth that God hath chosen the humble, to the intent all glory should be referred vnto hym.

Paul by vocacion an Apostle of Iesus Christe, thow to the wil of God, & by his ther softenes.

Vnto the congregacion of God, which is at Corinthum. To they that are sanctified in Christ Iesu, sanctes by calling, wryth all that call on the name of our Lord Iesus Christ in every place, both of theirs and of ours Grace be wryth you and peace from God our father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ.

I thanke my God alwayes on your beto the Corinth. Chapter. ii.

The i. Epistle of S. Paul

Childe is hath God chosen, yea and thynges of no wylsome, reputacion for to bring to naught thynges of hym of reputacion, that no flesh should reioice oughe we in his presence. And vnto him pertayne ye, holde and in Christ Jesus: which of God is made to vs hym on- vs wylsome, and also rightuousnes. A sanc- tyfyinge, and redempcion. That according as it is writtē. he which reioiceth (b) Gould reioice in the Lord.

The Notes.

Grekes.

(a) The Grekes doo sometyme signifye theyr owne nation only. as in the Actes. vi. a. Sometyme all the Gentiles as here, and Rom. i. b.

To reioice in the lord.

(b) He reioiceth in the Lord, that knoweth certainly that God wyth hym good, and fauoureth him so, that the thyng which he doeth, please God, and which he doeth not as he shoulde do, is forgiven hym and not imputed to hurt. Jeremy. vi. g. And Rom. vii. c.

The. ii. Chapter.

He declareth with what humblenes he preached the Gospel to the. Then teacheth he that this humblenes which they thinke folishnes, is the true wylsome, which cannot be perceyued of the carnall man, except it be reueled to hym through the spirit of God.

A

And I brethren when I came to you, came not in glorioulnes of wordes or of wylsome, shewing vnto you the Testimony of God. Neither shewed I myselfe that I knewe any thyng among you saue Jesus Christ, even the same that was crucified. And I was amonge you in weaknes, and in feare, and in much trembling: And my wordes and my preachinge were not with entyspnge wordes of mans wylsome, but in shewing of the scripture and of power, that your faith shoulde not stand in the wylsome of menne, but in the power of God.

W

Perfecte are they who vnderstand the lawe, sayth and woordes truly, and professe them.

1. Cor. ii. d. 1. Cor. ii. a.

That we speake of, is wylsome among them that are perfect, not the wylsome of this worlde, neither of the rulers of this worlde, which go to nought but we speake the wylsome of God, which is in secretes, and is peth hys, which God ordeined before the worlde vnto our glorie: which wisdom none of the rulers of this worlde knewe. For had they knowen it, they woulde not haue crucified the Lorde of glorie. But as it is writtē. The eye hath not seene, and the eare hath not heard, neyther haue entered into the heart of man the thyngs which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

1. Cor. vii. a. he spirit vnderstandeth godly things.

But God hath opened them to vs by the spirit. For the spirit searcheth all thyngs, yea the bottome of Goddes secretes. For what man knoweth the thynges of a man, saue the spoute of a man which is wylsome hym? Euen so the thynges of God knoweth no man, but the spirit of God. And wee haue not receiued the spout of the worlde, but the spirit which cometh of God, for to know the thynges that are geuen to vs of god, which thyngs also we speake. Not in the cunning wordes of mans wylsome, but with the cunning wordes of the holpe ghost, makinge spirituall comparisons of spirituall thynges. For the naturall man perceyueth not the thynges of the spirit of God. For they are but folishnes vnto him. Nether can he perceyue the, because he is spirituall examined. But he that is spirituall, discusseth all thynges: yet he him self is iudged of no man. For who knoweth the minde of the Lord: either who shall informe him: But we vnderstand the mynde of Christ.

The. iii. Chapter.

He sheweth the cause whye hys doctryne was so humble. Then disputeth he of the of- fyce and bygnatyng of ministers, shewing that it is not theyr woordes but Goddes, and therfore that they ought not to reioice in menne, but in God alone.

And I could not speake vnto you brethren as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall, euen as it were to babes in Christ: I gaue you milke to drinke, & not meate. For ye then were not strong, no nether yet are. For ye are yet carnall. As long as ye are, as there is amonge you enuyng, strife and dissencion, are ye not carnall, and walke after the manner of men: As long as one saith I hold of Paul, & another I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall: What is Paul: What thyng is Apollo: Onely ministers are they by whome ye beleue, euen as the Lord gaue euery man grace. I haue planted, Apollo waters: but God gaue the increase. So then neither is he that planteth any thyng, neither he that watereth: but God that gaue the increase.

He that planteth and he that watereth, are neither better then the other. Euerie man yet shal receyue his reward according to his laboure. We are Goddes labourers, ye are Gods housbandys, ye are Gods buydnyng. According to the grace of god geuen vnto me, as a wylsome builder haue I layed the foundacion, and another buylde thereon. But let euery man take hede how he buyldeth vpon. For other foundacion can no man lase, then that which is layed which is Jesus Christ. If any man buylde on this foundacion, gold, siluer, precious stones, tymber, haye or stoble: euery mans worke shal appeare. (a) For the day shall declare it, and it shal be shewed in fyre. And the fyre shall trye euery mannes worke, what it is. If any mannes worke that he hath buylde vpon, byde, he shal receyue a reward. If any mans worke burne, he shal suffer losse: but he shal be safe him selfe: neyther lesse yet as it were thorow fyre.

Are ye not ware that ye are the temple of God, and how that the spirit of God dwelleth in you: If any manne despyle the temple of God, him will God destroy. For the temple of God is holpe, which temple ye are. Lette no man deceyue hym selfe. If any man seme wylsome among you, lette him be a foole in this worlde that he maye be wylsome. For the wylsome of this worlde is folish-

The naturall manne that is not reueled in Christ can not perceyue the thynges of God.

1. Cor. ii. d. Roma. i. d.

1. Cor. v. v. The apostles & prelatres are seruants to preache Christ, to which doctrine only oughte all obedience to be geuen.

1. Cor. v. v.

1. Cor. i. d. 1. Cor. vi. d. 1. Cor. ii. d.

Christ is the foundacion that beareth all.

1. Cor. vi. c.

Dape.

1. Cor. vi. d. Temple. 1. Cor. vi. c.

The. i. epistle of S. Paule to the Corin. Chap. v. Fo. lxxviii

Job. v. c. foliſmes with God. * For it is written, he
Ps. cxi. b. compaſſeth the wiſe in their craftines.
In p. king And agayne: * God knoweth the thought-es of the wiſe that they be vaine. There-we at i ſub ſoze let no man reioice in men. For al thyn-geſ are poures whether it be Paule. either none ſaue Apollo, either Cephaſ: whether it be the to chriſte & woulde, either lyfe, either death, whether his doctryn they be preſent thinges, or thinges to come, Gal. cxi. al are poures, and ye are Lyalls, and Chriſt is Gods. f

The Notes.

(A) Dape here ſignifieth the tyme when God byngeth to lichte the thinge that is hydde wth ſp^{er} underſtande requiſite and perfect true iudg-gement, whiche when it hath opened the faulte and erreure, affliction of ſynners and re-pentynge dooſt folowe. * Agayne f. auncienteareth hee of preachers, whiche ſucceeded hym when he was departed from the Corinthyans, he had layd a good foundacyon let other take heed. laſtly he, what they buyld thereon. If they buyld thinges worthy for Chriſt, they wyl be well remayne and abyde, euen when they be ſeen in the lichte. Whiche ſaynge he ſignifi-eth when he layeth. * he dape ſhall declare it.
 But if they buyld in Jewiſhe faſhions, they ſhall happily deceyve for a tyme, but at length they deſcrie ſhall be opened, alſone as it is de-gon to be examined wth true and ſincere iudg-gement. Thus dooth Erasmus expounde this place, in hys annotations vpon theſe wordes, haue and ſtubble. Doyng alſo by the authority of S. Ambroſe, Jerome, and other olde doctours, that it maketh nothings for purga-toye, though many have wonderfully laboured to wylke it to that purpoſe.

The. iii. Chapter.

C He teacheth how the miniſters of p church ſhould be eſteemed. * Chan blameth he the pride of the Corinthyans, vituperate by example of him ſelfe, the hypocriſy of falſe Apoſtles. Laſt he monyſheth them of theyr outye, he commendeth Timothee, and promyſeth to come vnto
 them.

The Apo- L Et men thus wyſe eſtyme vs, euen as les at my the miniſters of Chriſte, and diſpoſers ſtters. of the ſecrets * of God. Furthermore Deu. xii. d it is requyred of the diſpoſers that they be ſounde ſapthful. Wth me it is but a verpe ſapthfull ſmall thynge, that I ſhoulde be iudged of as he p pre- pou, ept he of mans day. * No I iudge not wheth hys myne owne ſelfe, I knowe noughte by my maſter, & ſelfe, yet am I not thereby iuſtified: It is not hym ſelfe. the Lord that iudgeth me. Therefore iudge (Manneſ come: who wil lighen thinges that are hid in darcknes, and open the counceils of the wyſdome. hertes. And then ſhall euery manne haue praiſe of God. f

Jaco. i. b. Wheſe thinges brethren I haue diſcrbed in myne owne perſon and Apollos for your ſakes, that ye might learn by vs, that no manne counte of himſelfe beyonde that whiche is aboue wytten: that one ſwel not againſt another for anye mans cauſe. For who preferreth the? * What haſt thou that thou haſt not receyued? If thou haue recei-ued it, wher receyueſt thou as though thou haddeſt not receyued it? Nowe ye are full:

nowe ye are made ryche: ye reygne as kynges wthout vs: and I woulde to God ye dydde reygne that wee myghte raygne wth you.

We thincketh that God hath ſent forth vs, whiche are Apoſtles, for the lowke of all, * as it were men appointed to deathe. 1 Pt. i. i. d
 For we are a gasping ſtock vnto the world, Rom. vii. c and to the angels, and to men. We are for the faſſio les for Chriſtes ſake, and ye are wiſe tho- of true apo rowe Chriſt. We are weake, & ye are ſtrong. 1 Pt. i. i. d Ye are honozable, and we are deſpiſed. 1 Pt. i. i. d Ven vnto this dape we hunger and thyrſte, and are naked, and are boſſeted with ſtilles, and haue no certayne dwelling place, and labour * workinge with oure handes. 1 Pt. i. i. d
 We are reuiled, and yet we bleſſe. We are perſe- 1 Pt. i. i. d cuted and ſuffer it. We are euill ſpoken of, 1 Pt. i. i. d and we praye. We are made as it were the ſplithnes of the worlde, the offcomminge of all thinges, euen vnto this tyme.

I wryte not theſe thinges to ſhame you, but as my beloued ſonnes I warne you.
 For though ye haue ten thouſand inſtructours in Chriſt, yet haue ye not manye fathers. In Chriſt Jeſu I haue begotten you thow the goſpell: Wherefore I deſire you to folowe me. For this cauſe haue I ſente vnto you Timotheus, whiche is my deare ſonne and ſapthfull in the Lord, whiche ſhall put you in remembraunce of my wai-es which I haue in Chriſt, euen as I teach euery where in all congregacions. Some ſwell as though I woulde come nomore at 1 Pt. i. i. d
 you. But I wil come to you ſhortly * if god 1 Pt. i. i. d wil, and will know not the wordes of them whiche ſwell, but the power: for the kyngdome of God is not in wordes, but in power. What will ye? Shall I come vnto you with a rodde, or els in loue and in the ſpirit of mekenes?

The. v. Chapter.

We proueth the doctours of the Corinthy-ans to be vayne, becauſe that while they ſchegloze, they puniſh not an abhomyable ad-uoutye. * Chan he warneth them to puniſhe it, that the whole congregacion be not infected, laſt he exhorteth them generally, to fo-lowe purpoſe of lyfe, and to ſige the company of the wycked.

There goeth a commen ſayinge that there is fornicacion among you, and ſuche fornicacion as is not once named among the Gentils: * that one ſhould haue hys fathers wyfe. And re ſwelle and haue not rather ſozowed, that he whiche hath done this dede, might be put from among you. For I verely as abſent in body, 1 Pt. i. i. d euen ſo preſent in ſp^{er}ite, haue determined 1 Pt. i. i. d alrede as though I were preſent) that he 1 Pt. i. i. d that hath done this dede, in the name of 1 Pt. i. i. d oure Lord Jeſus Chriſt, when ye are ga- 1 Pt. i. i. d thered together in my ſp^{er}it, with the po- 1 Pt. i. i. d wer of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, * be deſpue- 1 Pt. i. i. d red vnto Sathan, for the deſtruction of the 1 Pt. i. i. d fleſhe, that the ſp^{er}ite maye be ſaued in the 1 Pt. i. i. d day of the Lord Jeſus.

Dooo. i. Your

The .i. Epist. of S. Paule

1. Timo. i. d. Your reioyng is not good: knowe ye not B that a lytle leuen soweth the whole lump of dowe: & purge therfore the old leuen, that ye may be newe dowe, as ye are swete bread. For Christ our easter lamb is offered Galat. v. b. by for vs Therefore let vs kepe holpe daye, not with old leuen, neither wpth the leuen of malicpousnes and wickednes: but with the swete breade of purenes and truth. &

11. Tel. iii. c
 If anpe
 that pzopheseth Chyrle be such. none other Chy-Remā may beate hym companp.
 Dr. iii. v.

The. be. Chapter.

He teacheth they wyched abuses of goyng to lawe, and counsaileth them to ryghtheousnes, and charytee. Then enueyeth he mygh-tely agaynst lacherte and whoresome.

200000
 100000
 50000 25000 12500
 6250
 3125
 1562
 781
 390 195
 97
 48
 24 12
 6
 3
 1

Math. v. c.
Luke. vi. c.
Rom. xii. d.
Gal. v. d.
Act. v. a.
These and such like have no part in Christ.

to the Corint. Chap. vi.

iuspſed by the name of the Lorde Jeſus, and by the ſpirit of your God.

All thynges are lawfull vnto me, but all thynges are not profytable, I maye do all thynges, but I will be brought vnder no mannes power. Meates are ordeyned for the helpe, and the helpe for meates, but God shall destroy both it and them. Lette not the body be applyed vnto fornicacion, but vnto the Lord, and the Lord vnto the body. God hath rapsed by the Lord, & shall rase be by by his power.

Our bodies are the members of Christe.
Gen. ii. 7
Ed at fir. 2.
Mark. x. 4.
Eph. v. 3
Ie s is of chud hath his spoute.
Rom vii.
1. Peter. i. 2.

Flee fornication. All synnes that a man doeth, are wthout the bodye. But he that is a fornicator, synneth against his owne bodye. Either knowe ye not, how that your bodies are the temple of the holy ghost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God, and howe that ye are not your owne? For ye are dearly boughte. Therefore glorifie ye God in your bodies and in your spirits, for they are Gods. ¶

The. vii. Chapter.

Because the vse of matrimony was corrupted with the false Apostles tradycions, some dysparyng it, and some takinge to muche vpon them. ad aule teacheth here playnly of the lawes of wedlocke, chastyty, wyddow-nes, and byrgenryte.

AS concernyng wherof ye wrote vnto mee: it is good for a manne not to touch a womanne. Neuerthelesse to auoide fornicacion, let euery man haue his wife: and let euery woman haue hyr husbände. Lette the man geue vnto the wyfe due beneuolence. Likewyse also the wyfe vnto the manne. The wyfe hath not power ouer hyr owne body, but the husband. And likewyse the man hath not power ouer his owne body: but the wyfe. * Withdrow not your selues one from another, excepte it be with consente for a tyme, for to geue your selues to fastyng & prayer. And afterwarde come agayn to the same thyng, lest Sathā tempt you for your incontynence. &

This I say of fauour, and not of commaundement. For I woulde that all men were as I my self am: but euery man hath hys proper gyfte of G O D, one after thys maner, another after that I sape vnto the bymaried men and wyddowes: it is good for them, if they abyde euen as I do. * But and if they cannot abstayn, let them mary.
For it is better to mary, then (a) burne.

Unto the married commaund not 3, but the Lord. That the wyfe separate not hyr selfe from the manne. If she separate hyr selfe, let hyr remaine unmarried, or be recon cyled

culed to her housbande agayne. And let not the husband put away his wife from him.

E To the remnant speake I, and not the Lord. If any brother have a wyfe that beleueth not, let her be contente to dwell with him, let him not put her away. And the woman whiche hath to her husband, an infidell, if he consente to dwell wth her, lette hyr not put hym away. For the vnbeleuing husbnde is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleupnge wife is sanctified by the husbnde. Ouels were your chyldren vncleane but now are they pure. But and if the vnbeleupng depart, let him depart.

A brother or syster is not in subiection to such: god hath called vs in peace. For howe knowest thou O womanne, whether thou shalt saue that manne or no? epyther howe knowest thou O man whether thou shalt saue that woman or no? but euen as God hath distributed to euery man.

Eph. iiii. c As the Lord hath called euery person so let hym walke: and so ordeine I in all congregacions, If any man be called beyng circumcised, let hym ad nothyng thereto.

Circumci- If any be called vncircumcised, lette hym sion. not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothyng, vncircumcision is nothyng, but the keppnge of the commaundementes of

1. Cl. vi. g God is altogether. Let euery man abide in the same state wherein he is called. *Arte thou called a seruaunt? care not for it, for werthelesse if thou mayest be fre, vse it rather. For he that is called in the Lord be- ryng a seruaunte, is the Lordes free man. A pke wyfe he that is called beyng free, is Chyestes seruaunt. Ye are dearely bought, be not (c) mens seruauntes. Brethren let euery man wherein he is called, therein abyde wth God. †

1. Cor. vi. c 1. Peter. i. a As concerning vryngs I haue no com- maundemente of the lord, yet geue I coun- sel, as one that hath obtained mercy of the lord to be faithful I suppose yf it is good for the present (d) necessite. For it is good for a manne so to be. Arte thou bounde vnto a wyfe? seke not to be lewled. Arte thou lew- led from a wyfe? seke not a wyfe. But and if thou take a wyfe, thou synnest not. Like wise if a vryngn marre, he synneth not. Neuerthelesse suche shall haue trouble in theyr fleche: but I fauoure you.

Psalm. xc. a 11. Ps. iii. b This say I brethren *the tyme is short, it remapnerh that they whiche haue wy- ues, be as though they had none, and they that weep, be as though they wepte not, and they that reioyse, be as though they reioysed not, & they that bpe be as though they possessed not: and they that vse thys worlde, be as though they vsed it not. For the fastyon of thys worlde goeth away.

1. Cor. xi. b. 1. John ii. c 1. Pet. vi. d. Luke. v. c I woulde haue you wthout care: the synge man careth for the thynges of the worlde, howe he maye please the Lord But he that hath married, careth for the thynges of the worlde, howe he maye please his wyfe. Ther is difference betwene a vir-gyn and a wyfe. The synge woman ca- reth for the thynges of the worlde, that she maye be pure both in bodie and also in spi- rite. But shee that is married, careth for the thynges of the worlde, how she may please hyr husbnde. Thys speake I for your pro- fitte, not to tangle you in a snare: but for that whiche is honest and comely vnto you and that ye maye quietly cleaue vnto the lord without seperacion.

If any man thynke that it is vncome- ly for hym vryngn if he passe the tyme of ma- riage, and if so nede requyre, lette hym do what he lysteth, he sinnet not, let them be coupled in marriage. Neuerthelesse, he that purposeth suetie in hym heart, haupnge none nede, but hath power ouer hym owne wyl, and hath so decreed in his hert that he wyl kepe hym vryngn, doth well. So then he that iopneth hym vryngn in marriage, doth well. But he that iopneth not hym vryngn in marriage doth better. *The wyfe is bounde to the lawe as longe hyr husbnde lyueth. If hyr husbnde slepe, she is at li- bertie to marre wth whom she wyl, one- ly in the Lord. But she is happier if she so abyde in my iudgement. And I thynke ve- rely that I haue the spire of God.

The Notes.

(a) After saynt Ambrose, the consent of the wif to burne is thys turnyng.

(b) Not that chyldren are by nature, cleane and pure wthout synne, for that were agaynst the Apostles hym. 1. Cor. vii. c. that al are vnder originall synne, and naturallie the chyldren of Gods wrath. As. Eph. ii. But here hym meanyng is, that thys as althynges are cleane to the cleane, so is the vncristian woman to the chyrlian man: so that he may be conuersante wth her & not offende, and that the chyldren of them are not to be repured as vnlawfull and vnpure.

(c) To be the seruaunte of menne, is to do any thyng for the fauoure of men, and so oughte we not to seruenen. But to do then bodely seruire accordyng to the order of the countreyes where in we lyue, is not forboden, but commaunded, yea and that to be done so faithfully, as though it were God him selfe y we serue. For so Paul wyteth, not wth eye seruyce as men please, but as men seruyng the Lord and not men. Ephesians. vi.

(d) Chastite is a gyfte of god, and is (as all o- ther moiall vertues be) an honest habite of the mynde wherby the outragiouslustes of the fleche be repelled and kepte vnder, so that they cause vs not to vse or desyre the vnlawful com- pany of the contrary sex, that is the my of wo- man or woman of man. Thys chastite oug- te to be in euery chyrlian man and woman be they married or vnmarrid. Thys chastite haue we not of iog tyme copied wth the name of chastite, but thoughte them only to be chast, whiche haue refrayned marriage. In verry dede, suche if they refrayne all fleschely compayne and desyre of the same, are mooste chast. And if they do wth- all refrayne the busynes of the worlde, are moost apte to preache the woorde, and minister in the congregacion of God. But otherwyse the guy- ete married manne is moost apte for that offyce: Do o. ii. For

Rom. vii. a

Pure.

Mens ser- uantes.

The gyfte of chastite

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

For the troubles & cares of the world are most to be avoided in church ministers.

The .viii. Chapter.

He dysputeth of the eatinge of such thynges as were offered to idols. And warneth the to folowe the rule of charite, and to beware that through the libertye of the gospel, they offend not the weake.

In speake of thynges *dedicate unto idols, we are sure p we al haue knowledge: knowledge maketh a man swel, but loue edifieth. If any man thinke p he knoweth any thyng, he knoweth nothing pet as he ought to knowe. But if any man loue god, the same is knowne of hym.

So speake of meat dedicate unto Idols we are sure that *there is none Idol in the world, and that ther is none other god but one. And though there be that are called goddes, whether in heauen, either in earth (as ther be gods many and Lordes many) pet unto vs is there but one God, whiche is the father, of whom are al thynges, and we in hym: and one Lorde Iesus Christ by whom are al thynges. and we i p hym. But euery man hath not knowledge. For some suppose that there is an Idol vntill this houre, and eate as of a thyng offered unto the Idol: and so they: consciences being pet weake are defiled. Meate maketh vs not acceptable to God. Neether if we eate are we the better. Neether if we eate not are we the worse.

But take hede that poure libertye be not the weake to faule. For if some man se the whiche hath knowledge, sit at meate in the Idols temple, shall not the conscience of hym whiche is weake, be boldened to eat those thynges whiche are offered unto the Idol? And so thorow thy knowledge shall the weake brother perishe for whom Christ dyed. When ye synne so agaynst the brethren and wound they: weake consciences ye synne agaynst Christ. Wherefore if meate hurte my brother, I will eate no flethe whyle the world standeth, because I wil not hurt my brother.

In al oute dedes we must haue a respecte to our neighbours wealth. Rom. xii. c. Charite what it doeth.

The .ix. Chapter.

He confirmeth here by example of hym selfe that whiche he began in the epghte chapter, shewing that he neyther vsed a wyfe, nor to haue at anye tyme ashed wages for his paynes in preaching, when not withstanding it was lawfull for him, & that because he would not offend the weake.

Am I not an Apostle? Am I not free? *haue I not sene Iesus Christe our Lord? Are not ye my work in the lord? If I be not an Apostle vnto other, pet am I vnto you. For the seale of myne Apostle sheweth in the lord. Sayne aunswere to them that are me, is this haue we not power to eate, and dryncke? Eptier haue we as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren record thien of the lord, and Cephas: Eptier only I and Barnabas haue not power this to do: who goeth a warfare anye tyme at his owne cost: Who planteth a vineparde and eateth not of the fruit. Who fedeth a flock and eateth not of the mylke?

To the Corin. Cha. xi.

Sape I these thynges after the manner of men? Or sayeth not the law the same also? For it is wyrtten in the law of Moyses: Thou shalt not inosell the mouthe of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. Doeth God take thoughte for oxen? Eptier sayeth he it not altogether for oure sakes? For oure sakes no doubt this is wyrtten: that he whiche eareth, shoulde eare in hope: and that he whiche threasheth in hope, shoulde be partaker of his hope. *If we sowe vnto you spiritual thynges, is it a great thing if wee reape poure carnall thynges? If other be partakers of this power ouer you: wherefore are not we rather.

Neuertheles *we haue not bled this power, but suffer all thynges, lest we shoulde hynder the Gospel of Christ. We pe not vnderstande howe that they whiche minister in the temple, haue they: spending of p temple? And they whiche wayte at the altare, are partakers of the altare? Euen soo also dyd the lordes ordayne *that they whiche preach the Gospel, shoulde be of the Gospel. *But I haue bled none of these thynges.

Neether wrote I these thynges that it shoulde be so done vnto me. For it were better for me to dye, then that anye shoulde take this reioysynge from me. In that I preache the Gospel, I haue no thyng to receyue of. For necessitye is put vnto me. What is vnto me if I preache not the gospel. If I do it with a good wyl, I haue a rewarde. But if I do it agaynst my wyl, an offence is committed vnto me. What is my rewarde then? Merely that when I preache the gospel, I make the gospel of Christ free: that I misuse not myne authorite in the gospel.

For though I be free from all men, pet haue I made my selfe seruaunte vnto all men, that I myghte wynn the moo, *vnto the Jewes, I became as a Jew, to win the Jewes. To them that were vnder the law was I made as though I hadde bene vnder the lawe, to wynn them that were vnder law. To them that were without the lawe, became I as though I had bene without the lawe (when I was not without law as partapnyng to God, but vnder a law, as concernyng Christ, to wynn them p were without lawe. To the weake became I as weake, to wynn the the weake In al thyng I fashioned my selfe to al men, to saue at the lest map some. And this I do for p gospel sake, that I myghte haue my parte thereof.

Receyue ye not howe that they whiche runne in a course, runne all, pet but one receyue the rewarde. So run that ye may obtayne. Eury man that proueth maistries ching, and as many were by him conuerted, as by p Apostles. deu. xv. a. 1. Timo. v. e. The preacher hath right to challenge a liuinge for his labour. *Ro. xv. c. Gal. vi. b. Actes x. g. De. xviii. a.

Math. x. b. Actes. xx. g. 1. Thes. ii. b. 11. Thes. iii. b

De that woorketh of loue too his neighbour, hath his rewarde what loue maketh man to do

* Act. xvi. a. Gala. ii. a

1. Corin. i. b

D

ab=

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

taineth from all thinge. And they doo it to obtaine a corruptible crowne, but we to obtaine an * vncorruptible crowne. I there- fore so run, not as at an vncertaine thinge. So fight I, not as one that beateth the ayre: but I tame my body, and bring it into subiection, lest after that I have preached to other, I myself should be a cast away.

The .i. Chapter.

The tareth yet aboute this, that folowynge their own lustes, they communicate not of meates offered: and first he warneth them by example of the Jewes, whiche prouoked god in the wilderness, so whiche also he aduerteth other, teaching that the Christen lybertie should be ruled by the lawes of charytee.

Brethren I would not that ye shoulde be ignorant of this, how that our fathers were all vnder a cloude, and all passed thorow the sea, and were all baptised vnder Moyses, * in the cloude, and * in the sea, * and dyd all eat of one spiritual meate, and dyd all drinke of one maner of spirituall drinke. And they dranke of that spirituall rocke that folowed them, which rocke was Christe. But in maner of them had god no deute. For they were ouerthrowen in the wilderness.

These are ensamples to vs * that wee shoulde not luste after euill thinges, as they lusted. I rethier be ye worshippers of Images as were some of them, according as it is written. * The people sate downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp againe to playe.

Reither let vs commit fornicacion as some of them committed fornicacion, and were destroyed in one daye * xxiij. thousand. Reither let vs tempt Christe as some of them tempted, and were destroyed of serpents. Reither murmure ye as some of them murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

All these thynges happened vnto them for ensamples, and were written to put vs in remembraunce, whom the endes of the world are come vpon. Wherfore lette hym that thinketh he standeth, take hede lest he fall. There hath no other temptacion taken pou, but suche as foloweth the nature of manne. But * God is faithful * whiche shal not suffer pou to be tempted aboue your strength: but shal in the myddell of the temptation make a waye to escape oute. * Wherfore my deare beloved, flee fro worshipping of Idoles.

I speake as vnto them whiche haue discrecion, iudge ye what I saye. Is not the cuppe of blessing which we blesse, partaking of the bloude of Christe? is not the breade whiche we breake, partakinge of his bodye of Christe? because that we (though we be manye) yet are one breade, and one bodye, in as muche as wee all are partakers of one bread Beholde Israel whiche walketh carnallye, are not they which eat of the sacrifice, partakers of the aultre?

What saye I then? * that the Image is anye thyng? or that it whiche is offered to

to the Corint. chap. x. No. lxxx

Images is anye thyng? Naye: but I say, that these thinges whiche the Gentiles offer, they offer to deuils and not to God. * And I would not that ye shuld haue fellowship wth the deuilles. Ye can not drinke of the cuppe of the Lorde, and of the cuppe of the deuils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lordes table, and of the table of deuilles. Either shall we prouoke the Lord? Or are we stronger then he? All thynges are lawefull vnto me, but all thynges are not expedient. All thynges are lawfull to me, but * all thynges edifye not. * Let no man seke his owne profit, but let euery man seke anothers wealthe.

Whatsoeuer is solde in the market, that eate, and are no questions for conscience sake. For * the earth is the Lordes, and all that therein is. If anye of them whiche beleue not, bid pou to a feast, and if ye be disposed to go, whatsoeuer is set before pou, eate, asyng no question for conscience sake. But and if anye man saye vnto pou: this is dedicate vnto Idols, eate not of it, for his sake that sheweth it, and for hurting of conscience. (The earth is the Lorde and all that therein is) Conscience I saye, not thine, but * the conscience of that other. (a) For wher shoulde my liberty be iudged of an other mannes conscience? For if I take my parte wth thankes, wher am I euill spoken of for that thyng, wherfore I geue thankes?

Whether therfore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, do all to the praise of god.

So that ye geue occasion of euil, neither to the Jewes, nor yet to the Gentiles, neyther to the congregacion of God: euen as * I please al men in all thynges, not sekynge myne owne profit, but the profit of many, that they myght be saued. Follow me, as I do Christ.

The Notes.
(a) We shoulde be so full of loue and so expertlye, that we shoulde geue none occasion to the ignorant to speake euill of vs for any lybertie, and for that whiche we may lawfully do before God.

The .ii. Chapter.

The instructeth the common congregacions, and first teacheth how men and women shuld behaue themselves therein. Then correcteth the Lordes supper whiche was corrupt fro the Lordes institution through contempsons and riot, and other fautes.

I commend pou brethren that ye remember me in all thynges, and kepe the ordinaunces euen as I deliuered * them to you. I would pou knew that Christe is the head of euery man. And the manne is the womans head. And God is Churches head. Euery man praynge or prophesyinge haupynge any thyng on his head, hameth his head. Euery woman that prayeth or prophesyth bare headed, dishonoureth hyr head. For it is euen all one, as the very same thyng, euen as though we were hauen. If the womā be not couered, let hit also be shewen. * If it be shame for a womā to be shewen

0000. iii. 02

11. tim. iiii. b.
1 Pet. v. b.

As it wente
in the olde testament so shal it be in the newe.

* 1 Cor. xiii. b.
* 1 Cor. xiii. b.
* 1 Cor. xvi. c.
1 Cor. xvii. a.
1 Thim. ii. g.
1 Thim. xvi. g.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.
1 Thim. xvi. b.

Cup.

Breade.

1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.
1 Cor. xxi. b.

1 Cor. xxi. b.

The. i. epistle of S. Paule to the Corinthy. Chap. xi.

oz Hauen, let hit couer hyr heade.

Gen. ii. d. W A man ought not to couer hys heade, for as muche as he is the ymage and glorie of God. The woman is the glorie of the man. For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man. Nept her was the man created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mannes sake. For the cause is as much ought the woman to haue power on hys to say as a head, for the angels sake. Nevert helesse, signe that nept her is the man wthout the woman, the woman nept her the woman wthout the manne in is in sub= the Lord For as the woman is of the man, reccion, & even so is the man by the woman: but al is hathe an of God.

 Power Judge in your selues whether it be comelpe, that a woman praye vnto God bare headed. Or els doth not nature teache you that it is a shame for a man, if he haue long heare: and a playse to a woman, if she haue long heare? For hys heare is geuen hys to couer hys withall. If ther be anye man amonge you that lusteth to stryue, lette him know that we haue no such custome, nept her the congregacions of God.

C Thys I warne you of, and comend not, that ye come together, not after a better manner but after a worse. For of all when ye come together in the congregacion, I hear that there is dissencion amonge you: and I partly beleue it. For there must be sectes among you, that they whych are perfect among you, might be knowne.

The lords Supper.

+ When ye come together, a man can not eate the Lords supper. For euery man be= ginneth afoze to eat his owne supper. And one is houngey, and another is droncken. Haue ye not houses to eate and to duncke in? Or els dispyse ye the congregacion of God, and shame the that haue not? What shall I say vnto you? What I praise you? In this, praise I you not. &

Or rather taught you.

D That which I deliuered vnto you, I receiued of the Lord. For the Lord Iesus in the same night, in whych he was betrayed, toke bread, and thanked and brake, & said. Take ye, eat ye, a thys is my body which is broke for you. This do ye in remembrance of me. After the same manner, he toke the cup when supper was done, sayinge. This cup is the newe testament in my bloude. Thys do as ofte as ye dryncke it, in the remembrance of me. For as ofte as ye shal eate thys bread, and dryncke thys cup, ye shal shewe the Lordes death. Till he come. Wherefore, whosocuer shall eate of thys bread, or duncke of the cuppe unworthely, shal be guiltye of the body and bloud of the Lord. Let a man therfore examen himself, and so let him eat of the bread and duncke of the cup. For he that eateth or duncketh unworthely, eateth and duncketh his own dampnacion, because he maketh no difference of the Lordes body. &

Or rather For this cause many are weake & sicke among you and many slepe. If we had are deade. truly iudged our selues, we shuld not haue bene iudged. But when we are iudged of the Lord, we are chastened, because we shuld not be dampned wth the world. What I saye to my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tary one for another. If any man hunger, let hym eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnacion. Other thinges will I sette in ordre when I come.

The Notes.

(a) Of these wordes is sufficiently spoken in the 1. of Mathew. (b) Upon these wordes would be some men saye, that the oppynion of the bodely presence of Christ in the sacramente. What difference (saye they) shoulde there be, if the sacrament were not a natural body of Christ? Certes this difference. The sacramentall bread and wyne beynge distributed amonge the saythfull and receiued of the same, shall certefye them euery (as it were) scyn (spylt) of theyr redempcion by Christ, where the commune bread doth but fede the body. Yes and the more spytuall interpretations of thys place, do take these wordes to be spoken of the congregacion, which is truly called the body of the Lord. As though Paule shoulde haue sayd. Puttynge no difference between the saythfull and the vnbeleynge.

The. xii. Chapter.

W There were amonge the Corinthians certayne false teachers, whose spyrites he teacheth them to iudge. There were other besydes, whych abused the gyftes of the spyrte to theyr pryde and enuye, and were euery houre of dissencion, whom he checketh here wth a synpleude of a body, and the members. Mewynge that the church is one body and dyce. & members.

I For spiritual things brethren, I wold not haue you ignorant. Ye knowe that we were gentyles, and went your wayes vnto dumme Idols, euen as you were led. Wherefore I declare vnto you, that no man speakynge in the spirit of God denieth Iesus. Also no man can say, that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy ghooste.

+ There are diuers kyndes of gyftes betwixt us, yet but one spyrte. And there are diuers offices of administracions, and yet but one Lord. And there are diuers maners of operationes, and yet but one God which worketh all thinges that are wroughte, in all creatures. The gyftes of the spyrte are geuen to euery man to profyt the congregacion. To one is geuen therow the spyrte, the utteraunce of wisdom. To another is geuen the utteraunce of knowlege by the same spyrte. To another is geuen sayeth by the same spyrte. To another the gyftes of healynge, by the same spyrte. To another power to do myracles. To another prophesy. To another iudgement of spyrites. To another diuers tounge. To another the interpretacion of tounge. And these all worketh euen the selfe same spyrte, beynge geuen to euery man severall gyftes, euen as he will. &

 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of one body, by though they be many, yet are they but one

This is not bodpe. Makynge no difference. &c.

1 Cor. xii. a
Eph. iiii. b
1 Cor. xii. b
1 Cor. xii. c
1 Cor. xii. d
1 Cor. xii. e
1 Cor. xii. f
1 Cor. xii. g
1 Cor. xii. h
1 Cor. xii. i
1 Cor. xii. j
1 Cor. xii. k
1 Cor. xii. l
1 Cor. xii. m
1 Cor. xii. n
1 Cor. xii. o
1 Cor. xii. p
1 Cor. xii. q
1 Cor. xii. r
1 Cor. xii. s
1 Cor. xii. t
1 Cor. xii. u
1 Cor. xii. v
1 Cor. xii. w
1 Cor. xii. x
1 Cor. xii. y
1 Cor. xii. z

1 Cor. xii. b

1 Cor. xii. a
Eph. iiii. b

The .i. Epist. of S. Paule

to the Corin. Cha. xii. Fo. lxxx.

one bodpe, euen so is Chyſt. For in one ſpirite are we all baptysed to make one bodp, whether we be Jewes or gentils, whether we be bond or fre: and haue * al droncke of one ſpirit. For the bodp is not one member but many. If the ſote ſay: I am not þ had, therfore I am not of the bodpe: is he therfore not of the bodp? And if the eare ſay: I am not the eye: therfore I am not of the bodp: is he therfore not of the bodp? If all the bodp were an eye, where were then the eare? * If al were hearepnge, whet were the ſmellpng?

* Or is ther þ hea
rpnge.

But now hath God diſpoſed the members euerpe one of them in the bodp, at his own pleaſure. If they wer al one member: whet were the bodp? Now are there many members, yet but one bodp. And the eye ca-not ſap vnto the hande, I haue no neede of the: nor the heade alſo to the feete: I haue no neede of you. Yea rather a greate deale thoſe members of the bodp, which ſeme to be moſt feble are moſt neceſſary. And vpon thoſe members of the bodp which we thinke leaſt honeſt, put we moſt honeſte on. And our vngoodly parties haue moſt bequithon.
For our honeſte members neede it not. But God hath ſo diſpoſed the bodpe, and hath geuen moſt honou to that part which la-ked, leaſt there ſhould be any ſciffe in the bodp, but that the members ſhould indifferently care one for another. And if one me-ber be hadde in honou, all the members bee glad alſo.

Math. x. d.
Luce. xi. a.
Ephel. iiii.

Ye are the bodp of Chriſt, and members one of another. And God hath alſo orde-ned the congregaſon * ſpitt the Apoſtles, ſecondarely prophetes, thyrday teachers, then them that do miracles: after that the giffes of healyng, helpes, gouerners, dyuerſitye of tounge. Are all Apoſtles? Are all prophetes? Are all teachers? Are al doers of myracles? Haue all the giffes of hea-lyng? Do all ſpeake wpth tounge? Do al interprete? Couet after the beſt giffes. And yet ſhew I vnto you a moze excellent way.

The xii. Chapter.

To thynke he maye take awaye the in-uoues of the cōtencious, alwaye the grudge of the inferior, and abate the pryde of the ſuperiours, he wyrteth the people of chari-tye, teachyng that the greaſteſt vertues are nothyng worth, excepte they haue charytye loyned vnto them.

Mat. vii. c.
Luce. xii. d.

Though I ſpake wpth tounge of men and aungels, and yet had no loue, I were euen as ſoundyng blaſſe, or as a ſynkelinge Limbal. And though I coude prophesy, and vnderſtand all ſecretes, and all knowledge. Yea, if I had * al faith, ſo that I coult moue mountains out of their places: yet had no loue, I were nothing.
And though I beſtowed all my goodes to ſede the poore, and though I gaue my body euen that I burned, and yet hadde no loue, it profiteth me nothyng.

Loue ſuffereth longe, and is courteous,

Loue enureth not. Loue doth not ſtroward ly, ſwelleth not. Loue doth not diſtynctly, * ſeketh not his owne, is not prouoked too anger, thynketh not euyl, reioyseth not in iniquitie: but reioyseth in the truth. Loue reth all thynges, beleeueth all thynges. he peth all thynges, endureth in all thynges.
Though he that preſchpunge ſaple, ept he tounge ſhall ceaſe, or knowledge vaniſhe away, yet loue ſapleth neuer away.

Loue.
1. Corin. x. f
Phil. ii. a.

For our knowledge is vnperfect, & our prophesying is vnperfecte. But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is vnperfect ſhall be done awaye: When I was a chyld, I ſpoke as a chyld, I vnderſtoode as a chyld, I imagined as a chyld.
But as ſone as I was a man, I put awaye childiſhnes. Nowe we ſe in a glaſſe euen in a darcke ſpeaking, but then ſhal we ſe face to face. Now I know vnperfectly: but the ſhall I knowe euen as I am known. Now abideth fayeth, hope, and loue, euen theſe thre: but (a) the cheſe of theſe is loue.

The Notes.

(a) Paule ſpeaketh not here of iuſtification, but of the profyte of the congregaſon. And in thys reſpect is loue the cheſe, becauſe it loberth thynghen to the nede of our neceſſaryte, and ſeeketh meanes to ſuccoure the ſame: euen as in iuſtification ſaple cleaueth fully and only vnto Chyſtes bloud, whiche is the onely and ſufficyent pyre for ſynne, and is therfore cheſe therein. On thys ſoye doeth Erasmus expounde in his annotaſyon vpon thys place.

The xiii. Chapter.

He returneth now to correcte thoſe of the churche: for certayne leaſured in their owne conceytes, abuſed their tounge and prechynge. He ſheweth reſtozed be the true meane of interpretinge the ſcriptures, and teacheth what the ſtud, & of tounge ſought to be.

Aboute for loue, and couete ſpiritually giffes: and moſt chieflye for to prophesy. For he that ſpeaketh with tonge, ſpeaketh not vnto men, but vnto God, for no man heareth him: he beſt in the ſpurre taken he ſpeaketh myſteries. But he that prophesyeth ſpeth, ſpeaketh vnto men, to edifyng, to exhortaſon, and to comfort. He that ſpeaketh with tounge, proſpeth him ſelfe, * he that prophesyeth, edifyeth the congre-gaſon. * I woulde that ye all ſpake vpth tounge: but rather that ye prophesyed.
For greater is he that prophesyeth, then he that ſpeaketh with tounge, excepte he expounde it alſo, that the congregaſon maye haue edifyinge. Nowe brethren if ye come vnto pou, ſpeakyng with tounge, what ſhall I proſp you? excepte I ſpeake vnto pou, ept he by reuelacon or knowledge, or prophesying or doctrine.

Rem. xii. d.
1. Corin. xii. g.

Words
that are not vnderſtoode, pro-fite not.

Agreouer when thynges wthouten lyfe geue ſound, whether it be a pipe, or an harp: except they make a diſtinction in the ſound-des, how ſhall it be knownen what is pypped or harped? And alſo, if the trompe geue an vn certaintye voyce, who ſhall prepare him ſelfe to ſpyghte? Euen ſo ſpkehwyſe whiche ye ſpake

2000. iii. ſpake

The. i. epistle of S. Paule

speake with tongues, except ye speake wordes that haue signification, how shall it be vnderstande what is spoken? For ye shall but speake in the ayer.

Many kindes of voices are in the world and none of them are withoute signification. If I know not what the voice meaneth, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, an alien, and he that speaketh shall be an alien vnto me. Euen so ye (for as much as ye couete spirituall giftes) seeke that ye maye haue plentie vnto the edifying of the congregacion.

Wherefore let him that speaketh wpth tongues pray that he maye interpret also. If I praye wpth tongues, my spirit prayeth, but my minde is without fruite. What is it then? I will praye with the spirit, and will praye with minde also. I will singe wpth the spirit, and will singe with the minde also.

For els when thou blestest with the spirit, howe shall he that occupieth the rounce of the vnlearned sape: amen, at the geuing of thanks, seynge he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest? Thou verely geuest thanks wel, but so other is not edified. I thank my God, I speake with tongues more then ye all. Yet had I leuer in the congregacio, to speake fewe wordes with my mind to the information of other, rather then ten thousand wordes with the tounge.

Brethren be not children in wpt, howbeit as concerning maliciousnes be chyldre, but in wit be perfect. In pla wit is writen: *with other *tongues, and wpth other lip-
 *Or rather wpth diuers tounges.
 pes well I speake vnto this people, & yet for all that wyl they not heare me, sayeth the Lord. Wherefore, tongues are for a signe not to them that beleue: but to them that beleue not. Contrarywise, prophesying serueth not for them that beleue not, but for them whiche beleue.

If therefore when all the congregacion is come togethet, and all speake with tongues, ther come in they that are vnlearned, or they whiche beleue not: wyl they not saye that ye are out of your wittes? But and if all prophesy, and ther come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of euery manne: and so are the secretes of hys hert opened, and so falleth he doune on hys face, & worshippeth God, and sayth that God is with you in dedde.

How is it then brethren? When ye come togethet, euery man hath his songe, hath his doctrine, hath his tounge, hath hys reuelacion, hath hys interpretacion. Let all things be done vnto edifying. If any man speake with tongues, lette it be two at once, or at the moste thre at once, and that by course: and let another interpret it. But if there be no interpreter, let him kepe silence in the congregacion, and lette hym speake to him selfe and to God.

Let the prophetes speake two at once, to the Corinth. Chap. xv.

or thre at once, and *let other iudge. And if any reuelacion bee made to another that sitteth by, let the spirit holde his peace. For ye maye all prophesy, one by one, that all may learne, and al may haue comfort. For the spirit of the prophets are in the power of the prophets. For God is not cause of strife *but of peace, as he is in all our thet congregacions of the saints.

*Let your wiues kepe silence in the congregacions. For it is not permittid vnto them to speake: but let them be vnder obedience, as saith the law. If they wil learne any thyng, let them as their husbands at home. For it is shame for women to speake in the congregacion. Sprong the word of God from you? Euen came it vnto you onely? If any man thinke him selfe a prophet, or other spiritual: let him vnderstande what I wyte vnto you. For they are the commandementes of the Lord. But and if any man be ignoraunt, let hym be ignoraunt. Wherefore couete to prophesy, and forbyd not to speake wpth tongues. And lette all thynges be done honestly and in order.

The Notes.

(a) To speake wpth tongues or wth the spirit, is to speake that other vnderstand not: as ysa. 28. says they scruped. To speake with sound, is to speake that other vnderstande, as when the preacher preacheth to the people in a tounge that they vnderstande.

The. xv. Chapter.

Because there were among the Corinthians and that called into doubt the efficacy of the bodys agayne, the Apostle dispatcheth that doubt, teaching by it that Christ rose agayne, and that thys is the comfort of our religion, and than proueth well that we shall rise agayne, last he teacheth what oure resurrection shall be.

Brethren, as pertainyng to the gospel which I preached vnto you, which ye haue also accepted, and in the whiche ye continue, by whiche also ye are saued: I do you to witte, after what maner I preached vnto you, if ye kepe it, excepte ye haue beleued in vayne.

For spirit of all I deliuered vnto you that whiche I receyued, *howe that *Christ died for our sinnes agreeyng to the scriptures, and *that he was buried, and that he rose againe the thirde day, according to the scriptures, and that he was sene of * Cephas, then of the twelue. After that he was sene of more then fye hundred brethren at once, of which many remaine vnto this day, and many are fallen a slepe. After that appered he to James, then to all the Apostles. And last of al he was sene of me, as of one that was borne out of due tyme. For I am the least of all the Apostles, whiche am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the congregacion of God. But by the grace of God I am that I am. And hys grace whiche is in me, was not in vaine.

Roma. 15.

1. Cor. 14.

1. Tim. 4. 6

Gen. 3. 6

The wa-

man must be in sub-

iection to

hys husband.

Colo. 3. 18.

To speake

with toun-

ges.

The spirit

principle

of oure

faith.

Or rather

taughte

you that

whiche I

learned.

Gal. 3. 2.

ma. 2. 15.

Thon. 12. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

1. Cor. 15. 1.

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

to the Corin. Cha. xv. Fo. lxxxii.

haine. But I laboured more abundantly then they all, not for the grace of god which is with mee. Whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleued.

Resurrec-
cion. If Christ be preached howe that he rose from death, how say some that are among you, that there is no resurrection fro death?

If there be no rylpnge againe from death,
then is Christ not rylen. If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also in vaine. Ye and we are found false witnesses of God. For we haue testy-fied of God, how that he rased vp Christ:
whom he rased not vp, if it be so that the dead rylse not vp againe. For if the dead rise not againe, then is Christ not rylen againe.
If it be so, that Christ rose not, the is your faith in vayne, and yet are ye in your syn-
nes. And thereto they whiche are fallen aslepe in Christ, are perished. If in this lyfe onely we beleue on Christ, then are we of all men the miserablest.

But now is Christ risen from the dead, &
is become the spirite frutes of them that slepe. For by a man came death, and by a man came the resurrection of the dead. For

as by Adam all dye: euen so by Christ shall all be made aloue. and euerp manne in hys owne order. The firste is Christ, then they that are Christes at his comming. Then cometh the ende, when he hath deliuered vp the kyngdome to God the father, when he hath put downe all rule, authoritie & power. For he must reigne tyll he haue put all his enemyes vnder his fete. The last enemy that shalbe destroyed, is death. For he hath put all thinges vnder his fete. But when he sayeth all thinges are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is excepted which dyd put all thinges vnder him. When all thynges are subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne
also him selfe be subiect to him, that put al thynges vnder him, that God maye be all in all thynges. Ept her els, what doo they which are baptysed ouer the dead, if dead rylse not at all? Why are they then (a) baptysed ouer the dead? yea and why stand we in jeopardy euerp houre? By our reioysing which I haue in Christe Iesu our Lorde, I dye daylye. That I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the maner of men, what avauntageth it me, if the deade rylse not againe. Let vs eate and drinke, to morrow we shall dye. Be not deceyued: malicious speakig corrupt good maners. Awake truly out of slepe, and synne not. For some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this vnto your rebuke.

But some man wil saye: how arylse the
deade? wpth what bodyes come they in?
Thou fool, that whych thou sowest is not quyckened except it dye. And what sowest thou? Thou sowest not that body, that shal be but bare corne (I mean either of wheat or of some other) and God geueth it a body at hys pleasure, to euerp seeede a seuer-all bodye.

All fleche is not one maner of fleche: but there is one maner fleche of men, another maner fleche of beasts, another maner fleche
of fishes, and another of byrdes.

There are celestypall bodyes, and ther are bodies terrestriall. But the glory of the celestypall is one, and the glory of terrestypall another. There is one maner glorie of the sunne, and another glorie of the mone, another glorie of the starrs. For one star differeth from another in glorie. So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowne in corrup-cion, and riseth in incorruption. It is sowne in dishonour, & riseth in hono. It is sowne in weakenes, & riseth in power. It is sowne a natural body, & riseth a spirituall bodye.

There is a natural body, there is a spi-
rituall bodye, as it is witten: the first man Adam was made a liuynge soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite.
Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual: but that whych is natural, and the that whych is spiritual. Genes. ii. 7.

The first man is of the earth, earthely: the second man is the Lord from heauen. As is the earthely, such are they that are earthely.
And as is the heauenly, such are they that are heauenly. And as we haue borne the image of the earthely, so shall we beare the Image of the heauenly.

Thys I say brethren, that (b) fleche and
bloude cannot inherite the kyngdome of god: Neither corruption inherit incorrupcion. Beholde I shewe you a mystery. Wee shall not all slepe: but we shal all be chaunged, and that in a moment and in the twinkling of an eye at the sound of the last trumpette. For the trompe shall blowe, and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be chaunged. For this corruptible must put on incorruptibility: and this mortall muste put on immortality. When this corruptible hath put on incorruptibility, and thys mortall hath put on immortality: the shall be brought to pas the saying that is written: * Death is consumed into victorie. *
Death, whet is thy sting? Hel, whet is thy victory? The sting of death is sin: and the strength of sinne is the law. But thanckes be vnto God, which hath geue vs * victory. * The lawe thorow our Lorde Iesus Christe. Therefore is ye my deare brethren be ye stedfast and vnmou-uable, alwayes rich in the workes of the Lord, for as much as he knowe howe that your labour is not in vaine in the Lorde.

The Notes.

(a) In myne owne oppynion, the translation Baptysed shold be better, if it were baptysed for the dead. ouer the
For though it be credyble enough, and well ac-greynge to the purpose, that some men woulde be baptysed (that is to say washed) ouer the graues of men departed thys lyfe in token that those same bodyes shoulde at the laste daye be purified, and so rased agayne: yet is it more lyke truth, that in thys place S. Paule alluded to the lawe of Moyse, whiche was that whoso-uer shoulde touche the vnclennes of a deade body, shoulde be vnclene tyll euenyng, and shoulde me: be

Image of Christe.

Corrup-
cion & bloud
cannot. ge.
i. cor. ii. d.
Phil. ii. d.

1. Iohn v. a

The lawe
of sin.

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

to the Corin. Cha. xv. Fo. lxxxii.

haine. But I laboured more abundantly then they all, not for the grace of god which is with mee. Whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleued.

Resurrec-
cion. If Christ be preached howe that he rose from death, how say some that are among
you, that there is no resurrection fro death?

If there be no rylpnge againe from death,
then is Christ not rylen. If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also in vaine. Ye and we are found false witnesses of God. For we haue testy-fied of God, how that he rased vp Christ:
whom he rased not vp, if it be so that the dead rylse not vp againe. For if the dead rise not againe, then is Christ not rylen againe.
If it be so, that Christ rose not, the is your faith in vayne, and yet are ye in your syn-
nes. And thereto they whiche are fallen aslepe in Christ, are perished. If in this lyfe onely we beleue on Christ, then are we of
all men the miserablest.

But now is Christ risen from the dead, &
is become the spirite frutes of them that slepte. For by a man came death, and by a man came the resurrection of the dead. For

as by Adam all dye: euen so by Christ shall
all be made aloue. and euerp manne in hys owne order. The firste is Christ, then they
that are Christes at his comming. Then co-

meth the ende, when he hath deliuered vp
the kyngdome to God the father, when he hath put downe all rule, authoritie & power. For he must reigne tyll he haue put all his enemies vnder his fete. The last enemy that shalbe destroyed, is death. For he hath put all thinges vnder his fete. But when he saith all thinges are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is excepted which dyd put all thinges vnder him. When all thinges are subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne

also him selfe be subiect to him, that put al thinges vnder him, that God maye be all in all thinges. Ept her els, what doo they which are baptised ouer the dead, if dead

rylse not at all? Why are they then (a) baptised ouer the dead? yea and why stand we
in jeopardy euerp houre? By our reioysing

which I haue in Christe Iesu our Lorde, I dye daylye. That I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the maner of men, what auantageth it me, if the deade rylse

not againe. Let vs eate and drinke, to morrow we shall dye. Be not deceyued: malicious speakig corrupt good maners. Awake truly out of slepe, and synne not. For some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake

this vnto your rebuke.

But some man wil saye: how arylse the
deade? wpth what bodyes come they in?
Thou fool, that whych thou sowest is not
quyckened except it dye. And what sowest thou? Thou sowest not that body, that shal

All fleche is not one maner of fleche: but there is one maner fleche of men, another
maner fleche of beasts, another maner fleche
of fishes, and another of byrdes.

There are celestypall bodyes, and ther are bodies terrestriall. But the glory of the celestypall is one, and the glory of terrestypall another. There is one maner glorie of the sunne, and another glorie of the mone, another glorie of the starrs. For one star differeth from another in glorie. So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowne in corrup-
cion, and riseth in incorruption. It is sowne in dishonour, & riseth in hono. It is sowne
in weakenes, & riseth in power. It is sowne a natural body, & riseth a spirituall body.

There is a natural body, there is a spi-
rituall body, as it is witten: the first man Adam was made a liuynge soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite.
Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual: but that whych is natural, and the that whych is spiritual.

The first man is of the earth, earthely: the second man is the Lord from heauen. As is the earthely, such are they that are earthely.
And as is the heauenly, such are they that are heauenly. And as we haue borne the image of the earthely, so shall we beare the image of the heauenly.

Thys I say brethren, that (b) fleche and
bloude cannot inherite the kyngdome of
god: Neither corruption inherit incorrupcion. Beholde I shewe you a mystery. Wee shall not all slepe: but we shal all be chaun-
ged, and that in a moment and in the twinkling of an eye at the sound of the last trumpette. For the trompe shall blowe, and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be chaunged. For this corruptible must put
on incorruptibility: and this mortall muste
put on immortality. When this corruptible hath put on incorruptibility, and thys mortall hath put on immortality: the shall
be brought to pas the saying that is written: * Death is consumed into victorie. *

Death, whet is thy sting? Hel, whet is thy victory? The sting of death is sin: and the strength of sinne is the law. But thanckes be vnto God, which hath geue vs victory. The lawe thorow our Lorde Iesus Christe. Therefore is ye my deare brethren be ye stedfast and vnmou-
uable, alwayes rich in the workes of the Lord, for as much as ye knowe howe that your labour is not in vaine in the Lorde.

The Notes.
(a) In myne owne oppynion, the translation
shold be better, if it were baptised for the dead.
For though it be credyble enough, and well ac-greunge to the purpose, that some men woulde be baptised (that is to say washed) ouer the graues of men departed thys lyfe in token that those same bodyes shoulde at the laste daye be purified, and so rased agayne: yet is it more lyke truth, that in thys place S. Paule alluded to the lawe of Moyse, whiche was that whoso-
uer shoulde touche the vnclennes of a deade body, shoulde be vnclene tyll euenyng, and shoulde
me: be

(b) fleche and bloude cannot inherite the kyngdome of god: Neither corruption inherit incorrupcion. Beholde I shewe you a mystery. Wee shall not all slepe: but we shal all be chaun-
ged, and that in a moment and in the twinkling of an eye at the sound of the last trumpette. For the trompe shall blowe, and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be chaunged. For this corruptible must put
on incorruptibility: and this mortall muste
put on immortality. When this corruptible hath put on incorruptibility, and thys mortall hath put on immortality: the shall
be brought to pas the saying that is written: * Death is consumed into victorie. *

Death, whet is thy sting? Hel, whet is thy victory? The sting of death is sin: and the strength of sinne is the law. But thanckes be vnto God, which hath geue vs victory. The lawe thorow our Lorde Iesus Christe. Therefore is ye my deare brethren be ye stedfast and vnmou-
uable, alwayes rich in the workes of the Lord, for as much as ye knowe howe that your labour is not in vaine in the Lorde.

The Notes.
(a) In myne owne oppynion, the translation
shold be better, if it were baptised for the dead.
For though it be credyble enough, and well ac-
greunge to the purpose, that some men woulde
be baptised (that is to say washed) ouer the graues of men departed thys lyfe in token that those same bodyes shoulde at the laste daye be purified, and so rased agayne: yet is it more lyke truth, that in thys place S. Paule alluded to the lawe of Moyse, whiche was that whoso-
uer shoulde touche the vnclennes of a deade body, shoulde be vnclene tyll euenyng, and shoulde
me: be

Genes. ii. 6.

Image of Christe.

Corrupcion & bloud
cannot. 1e.
1. cor. iii. 16.
Phil. iii. 21.

1. cor. xv. 54.
1. thess. v. 4.
1. thess. v. 5.

1. thess. v. 6.
1. thess. v. 7.

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

not be worthe to cate of the halowed thyngs, tyll he had washed hys flesh wyth water, to declare the hope of the purgynge of ourme body, and gloriouse resurrection of the same. So that to be daptised or washed for the deade, is as muche to save, as for touchynge of the deade corpses of men departed.

Flethe and bloude can not inherite the kyngdome of God.

(b) That is to say: Thys corruptible vnpure & synful flesh must be purged, yet it can inherite the kyngdome of God, which is vncorruptible, pure, and that can abyde no synne. No remedy therfore, thys flethe must be chynge & nye incorruptible, that it may enter into þ kyngdome.

The. xvi. Chapter.

He sheweth certayne speciall thyngs for gathering to be made, to be bestowed vpon the sayntes, and of his comynge. Then comynge vnto them Timothe. And after salutatione, he giveth them commaundment of charite one towards another, and of the loue of Christ.

Actes. xi. b.
Rom. xv. c.
ii. Cor. viii. a.
and. ix. a.

Of the *gatherynge for the sayntes, is I haue ordeyned in the congregacions of Galacia, euen so do ye. Tyll some sundaye let euerye one of you put aside at home, & lay by whatsoeuer he thynketh mete, that there bee no gatherynge when I come.

Actes. xix. b.
ii. Cor. i. c.

When I am come, whomsoeuer ye shall alow by your letters, them will I sende to bring your liberalitie vnto Jerusalem. And if it be mete that I go, theye shall goo with me. I will come vnto you after I haue gone ouer Macedonia. For I will go throughtout Macedonia. Wthypou peraduenture I will abyde awhile, or els wryter, that ye may byng me on my way whither soeuer I go.

i. Corin. xv
Actes. xix. b.

I will not see you nowe in my passage. But I trust to abide a while wthypou, if God shall suffer me. I will tarpe at Ephesus vntill whitsontide. For a great doore, & a fructefull is opened to me, and there are many aduersaries. If Timotheus come, see that he be without feare with you. For he worketh the worke of the Lord as I do. Let no man despise him: but conuaye hym forth in peace that he maye come vnto me.

Act. xviii. c
i. Corin. i. c
and. iii. a.

For I loke for him with the brethren. For I speake of brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but hys minde was not at all to come at thys tyme: Howbeit he will come when he shall haue conuenient tyme. Watche ye, stande fast in the fapth, quyte you lyce men, & be strong, & let your busynes be done in loue.

First Cras-
ses.

Brethren (ye know the house of *Stephana, how that they are the first fructes of Achaia, and that they haue appoynted themselves to minister vnto the sayntes, I beseech you that ye be obedyent vnto such, and to all that helpe and labour. I am glad of the comynge of Stephanus, Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lackinge on your parte, they haue supplied. They haue comforted my spirit and yours. Loke therfore that ye know the þ at such.

The congregacions of Asia salute you.

to the Corinth. Chapt. xvi

Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, and so doth the congregacion that is in their house. All the brethren grete you.

* Grete ye one another with an holy kisse: The salutation of me Paule with mine owne hande. If any man loue not the Lord Jesus Christ, the same *be Anathema Aganatha. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you al. App loue be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The ende of the first Epistle vnto the Corinthians. Sent from Philippios, by Stephanus and Fortunatus and Achaicus and Timotheus.

Rom. xvi. c
* Thes. i. c
be a cour-
sed at the lordes comynge. Of as some wil, þ same
be excommu-
nicate and accursed to death.

The Prologe vpon the seconde Epylle of S. Paule to the Corinthians.

In þ first Epistle he rebuketh the Corinthians tharper, so in thys he comforteth them, prayseth them, and commaundeth him that was excommunicat to be receiued louynge into the congregacion agayne.

And in the first and second chapters he sheweth hys loue to themward, how that all that he spake, or byd suffer, was for their saluacion.

Then in the. iii. liii. and v. he prayseth the of fre of preachynge the Gospell about the preachynge of the law, and sheweth that the Gospell groweth throughtout persecution and throughtout the crosse, whiche maketh a man sure of eternal life: and here and there he toucheth the false Prophetes, whiche studied to tourne the fapth of þ people from Christ vnto the worke of the law.

In the. vi. and vii. chapters he exhorteth them to suffer wth the Gospell, and to lyue as it becometh the Gospell, and prayseth hymselfe in the latter ende.

In the. viii. and. ix. Chapters he exhorteth them to helpe poore sayntes that were at Jerusalem.

In the x. and. xi. and. xii. he enueryeth agaynst the false Prophetes.

And in the last chapter he threatheneth them that had synned, and not amended themselves.

The seconde Epylle of sayncte Paule the Apoole to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

Her were of the Corinthians which objected to Paul, that all hys diligence and tribulacion was onely to cause sedicion, wherfor he begynneth hys Epistle wth the mention of hys affliction, shewynge what he had suffered, and how louynge he had founde the fauoure of God. Then proueth he howe vpryly he byd hys offyce agaynst them which byd accuse hym of lyng, because that he was not yet come to them accordynge to hys promise, shewynge the cause why he came not.

Paule

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

not be worthe to cate of the halowed thyngs, tyll he had washed hys flesh wylh water, to declare the hope of the purgynge of tynne body, and glourous resurrection of the same. So that to be daptysed or washed for the deade, is as muche to save, as for touchynge of the deade corpses of men departed.

Flethe and bloude can not inherite the kyngdome of God.

(b) That is to say: Thys corruptible vnpure & synful flesh must be purged, yet it can inherite the kyngdome of God, which is vncorruptible, pure, and that can abyde no synne. No remedy therfore, tyns flethe must be chynge & tyns incorruptible, that it may enter into þ kyngdome.

The. xvi. Chapter.

He sheweth certayne speciall thyngs for gathering to be made, to be bestowed vpon the sayntes, and of hys comynge. Then comynge vnto them Timothe. And after salutatione, he giveth them commaundment of charite one towards another, and of the loue of Christ.

Actes. xi. b.
Rom. xv. c.
ii. Cor. viii. a.
and. ix. a.

Of the *gatherynge for the sayntes, is I haue ordeyned in the congregacions of Galacia, euen so do ye. Tyll some sundaye let euerye one of you put a side at home, & lay by whatsoeuer he thynketh mete, that there bee no gatherynge when I come.

When I am come, whomsoeuer ye shall alow by your letters, them will I sende to bring your liberalitie vnto Jerusalem. And if it be mete that I go, theye shall goo with me. I will come vnto you after I haue gone ouer Macedonia. For I will go throughtout Macedonia. Wylth you peraduenture I will abyde awhile, or els wylter, that ye may byng me on my way whither soeuer I go.

Actes. xix. d.
ii. Cor. i. c.

I will not see you nowe in my passage. But I trust to abide a whyle wylth you, if God shall suffer me. I will tarpe at Ephesus vntyll whylsoutpde. For a great doore, & a fructefull is opened to me, and there are many aduersaries. If Timotheus come, see that he be without feare with you. For he worketh the worke of the Lord as I do. Let no man despise him: but conuaye hym forth in peace that he maye come vnto me.

i. Corin. xv
Actes. xix. d

For I loke for him with the brethren. For I speake of brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but hys minde was not at all to come at thys tyme: Howbeit he will come when he shall haue conuenient tyme. Watche ye, stande fast in the fapth, quyte you lyce men, & be strong, & let your busynes be done in loue.

Act. xviii. c
i. Corin. i. c
and. iii. a

Brethren (ye know the house of *Stephana, how that they are the first fructes of Achaia, and that they haue appoynted themselves to minister vnto the sayntes, I beseech you that ye be obedyent vnto such, and to all that helpe and labour. I am glad of the comynge of Stephanus, Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lackinge on your parte, they haue supplied. They haue comforted my spirit and yours. Loke therfore that ye know the þ at such.

First frai-
ces.

The congregacions of Asia salute you.

to the Corinth. Chapt. xvi

Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, and so doth the congregacion that is in their house. All the brethren grete you.

* Grete ye one another with an holy kisse: The salutation of me Paule with mine owne hande. If any man loue not the Lord Jesus Christ, the same *be Anathema Aganatha. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you al. App loue be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The ende of the first Epistle vnto the Corinthians. Sent from Philippios, by Stephanus and Fortunatus and Achaicus and Timotheus.

Rom. xvi. c
* Thes. i. c
be a cour-
sed at the lordes com-
ynge. Of
as some wil, þ same
be excommu-
nicate and accursed to
death.

The Prologe vpon the seconde Epylle of S. Paule to the Corinthians.

In þ first Epistle he rebuketh the Corinthians wylthpde, so in thys he comforteth them, prayseth them, and commaundeth him that was excommunicat to be receiued louynge into the congregacion agayne.

And in the first and second chapters he sheweth hys loue to themward, how that all that he spake, or byd suffer, was for their saluacion.

Then in the. iii. and. v. he prayseth the of fre of preachynge the Gospell about the preachynge of the law, and sheweth that the Gospell groweth throughtout persecution and throughtout the crosse, whych maketh a man lue of eternal life: and here and there he toucheth the false Prophetes, whiche studied to tourne the fapth of þ people from Christ vnto the worke of the law.

In the. vi. and. vii. chapters he exhorteth them to suffer wylth the Gospell, and to lyue as it becommeth the Gospell, and prayseth hymselfe in the latter ende.

In the. viii. and. ix. Chapters he exhorteth them to helpe poore sayntes that were at Jerusalem.

In the x. and. xi. and. xii. he enueryeth agaynst the false Prophetes.

And in the last chapter he thycateneeth them that had synned, and not amended themselves.

The seconde Epylle of sayncte Paule the Apoole to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

Her were of the Corinthians which objected to Paul, that all hys diligence and tribulacion was onely to cause sedicion, wherfor he begynneth hys Epistle wylth the mention of hys affliction, shewynge what he had suffered, and how louynge he had founde the fauoure of God. Then proueth he howe vprylyly he byd hys offyce agaynst them which byd accuse hym of lrynge, because that he was not yet come to them accordynge to hys promys, shewynge the cause why he came not.

Paule

Gala. i. a.
Eph. i. a.
1. Petr. i. a.
Rome. i. a.

Aule an Apostle of Iesu Christ by the wyl of God, and brother Timotheus.

Unto the congregacyon of God, which is at Coun-thum with al the sanctes which are in all Achaia, *

1. Cor. i. a

Grace bee wpth you and peace from God our father & from the Lorde Iesus Christ.

Affeccons
or passions of Christe at such sufferings as Christe suffered.

Colo. i. i. a

Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, the father of mercy, and the God of al comfort, whiche comforteth vs in all our tribulacion, in so much, that wee are able to comfort them whiche are troubled in what tribulacion it be, with the same comfort, wherewith we our selues are comforted of God. * For as the afflictions of Christe are plentuous in vs: euen so is our consolacion plentuous by Christ.

Whether we be troubled for your conso-lacion and saluacion, whiche saluacion sheweth her power in that ye suffer the same afflictions, whiche wee also suffer: or whether we be comforted for your conso-lacion and saluacion, yet our hope is sted-fast for you, in as much as we know howe that as ye haue your part in afflictions, so shall ye be partakers of consolacion.

1. Cor. xii. f.

Brethren, I would not haue you ignoraunt of our trouble, whiche happened vnto vs in * Asia. For we were greued oute of measure, passing strength, so greatly, that we despayred euen of lyfe. Also we recei-ued an aunswere of death in our selues, & that because we should not put our trust in our selues: * but in God, which raiseth the dead to lyfe agayne, and which deliuered vs from so greate a death, and death deli-uer. On whom we trust, that yet hereafter he will deliuer, by the helpe of your prayer for vs: that by the meanes of many occasions, thanckes maye be geuen of manye * on our behalfe, for the grace geuen vnto vs.

1. Reg. ii. b.
Deu. vii. b

1. Colo. i. i. a

Our reioysynge is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in singlenes & godly purenes, and not in fleshy wisdom, but by the grace of God, we haue had our con-uersacion in the world, and most of all to-wardes you. We wyte no nother thynges vnto you, the that ye read and also knowe.
Yea, and I truste, ye shall finde vs vnto the ende, euen as ye haue found vs in part, for we are your reioysynge, eue * as ye are ours, in the dape of our Lorde Iesus.

Conscience
1. Cel. ii. c.
1. Co. xvi. a

* And in this confidence was I minded other tyme to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had yet one pleasure more, & to haue passed by you into Macedonia, & to haue come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to haue bene led forth to Jewry-ward of you. When I thus wise was minded, byd I vse lightnes? Or thincke I car-nally those thynges, which I thincke that with me shoulde be (a) * yea, yea, and naye naye? God is saythful. For our preachynge vnto you, was not yea and naye. For Gods sonne Iesus Christ, whiche was preached among you by vs (that is to say, by me and Siluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea & naye, but in him it was yea: For al the promises of God, in him are yea, and at in him Amen: vnto the laude of God thorrowe vs.

For it is god which stablisheth you and vs in Christ, & hath anointed vs, whiche hath also sealed vs, and * hath geuen the earnest of the sppyte into our hertes.

The Notes.

(a) In the v. of Marth. these wordes are as much to saye, as it is so, it is not so. I praye and symple aunswere wthout othe or taryng. Wherby is meant that the sayth and credence of Christe men shoulde be such, that they yea & naye might be taken in all matters, that they shoulde talke of. But in this place they are taken for unconstancies of mynde, as to say both yea and naye, to one thyng.

Al y promises of god
are geuen
vs ouer
for chris-
take.
Rome. viii. a
Eph. i. i. c

Yea, yea
I say, naye.

The ii. Chapter.

Paul was accused of the false Apostles to haue entred to vse tyranny in the church, because that in his former Epistle, he commanded to deliuer the aduocater to Sathenas. Wherby he purgeth him of, teachynge wher-by he gaue them such counsaile. Then he confutech suche as sayed he was a deceiver, and sheweth that wth an vynght sayth he had taught them the word, and that he both also taught the rest of the Gentiles the same, wth prosperous successe.

I Call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that for too fauer you withall, I came not any more to Counthum. * For that we be Lordes ouer your faith, but helpers of your ioye. For by sayth ye stande. But I determined this in my selfe, that I woulde not come agayne to you in heaupnes. For if I make you ioye, who is it that shoulde make me glad, but the same which is made ioye by me? And I wrote this same Epistle vnto you, lest if I came, I should take hea-uines of them, of whom I ought to reioice.
Certaynly, this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioye is the ioye of you all. For in greate affliction and anguyshe of herte I wrote vnto you with manye teares: not to make you ioye, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue most specially vnto you. If anye man haue caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorowe, but partely: lest I should greue you all. * It is suffy-cent vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many. So that now contrarywysse, ye ought to forgeue him, and comfort him:
least that same person shoulde be swallowed by wth oute muche heaupnes. Wherefore I exhorte you, that loue maye haue strength ouer hym. For this cause verely byd I wyte, that I might know the profe of you, whether ye woulde be obedyente in all thynges. To whom ye forgeue any thyng I forgeue also. And verely if I forgeue any thyng, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it, in the sight of Christ, lest Sathā shuld preuent vs: For his thought-es are not vnknown vnto vs.

1. Petr. v. a

1. Cor. v. b

When I was come to Troada for Christ

The ii. Epist. of S. Paule

For the Gospels sake (and a greate doze was opened vnto me of the Lord) I had no rest in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother: but toke my leaue of them, and went away vnto Macedonia. Thanks be vnto god, which alwaies geueth vs the victorie in Christe, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place. For we are vnto God the swete sauour of Christ, both among them that are saued, and also amonge them whiche perishe. * To the one part as we the sauour of death vnto death: and vnto the other part are we the sauour of lyfe vnto lyfe: & who is mete vnto these thynge? For we are not as many are, which chop and chaunge with the worde of God: but euen out of putenes, and by the power of God, and in the sight of God, so speake we in Christ.

The iii. Chapter.

The promer by example of the Corinthians church, that he hath done his duty in the Gospel, as he oughte, and that not by his owne power, but by the grace of God. And than by putting agaynst them whyche wente aboute to myngle in certayne thynge of the lawe, he compareth together the lawe and the Gospel, shewynge howe excellent the lawe is, saynge that Christ hymselfe is the spirit of the law.

V We begyn to praise our selues again. Meane we as some other, of Epistles of recomendacion vnto you: or letters of recomendacion from you? Ye are our Epistle witten in our hertes, which is vnderstand and read of all men, in that ye are knowne, howe that ye are the epistle of Christ ministered by vs and writte, not with pyncke, but with the spirit of the lypynge god, * not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the hert.

* Such trust haue we through Christ to Godwarde, not that we are sufficiente of our selues to thynke any thynge as it were of our selues, but oure ablenes * cometh of God, whych hath made vs able to minister the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit. For the (a) letter killeth, but the spirit geueth lyfe.

If the ministracion of death thorough the letters figured in stones was glorious, so that the chyliden of Israel coude not beholde the face of Moyses: the glorie of hys countenaunce (whiche glorie neuerthelesse is done away) why shall not the ministracion of the spirit be much more glorious? For if the ministracion of condempnacion be glorious, muche more doeth the ministracion of rightuousnes excede in glory. For no doubt that whych was there glorified, is not once glorified in respect of this exceeding glorie. Then if that which is destroyed was glorious, muche more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

Seynge then that we haue suche truste, we vse great boldnes, and do not as Moyses, whych put a vaple ouer his face, that the chyliden of Israel shoulde not see, for to the Corinth. Chap. iii.

what purpose that serued whych is put away. * But theyr myndes were blynded. For vntill this daye remaineth the same couerynge butaken away in the olde testament, when they read it, whych in Christ is put away. But euen vnto this day when Moyses is read, the vail hangeth before their heartes. Neuerthelesse when they turne to the Lord, the vail shalbe taken away. * The Lord no doubt is a spirit. And whet the spirit of the Lord is, ther is (b) libertie. But we al behold the glorie of the Lord, with hys face open, & are chaunged vnto the same similitude, from glorie to glorie, euen of the spirit of the Lord.

The Notes.

(a) Farre wider are they that take hys letter to be the literal sence of the scripture thowout, and do thereby exhorten men to refraine the reading of the body of the scripture withoute interpretation. For St. Paul intended non other in this place, but to teache the worthynesse of the Gospel to be far aboue the law, and the necessity thereon therof to be muche more worthy to be esteemed, then the ministracion of the law: because the one (that is the lawe) byngith death & damnacion for synne, and the other (that is the gospel) byngith lyfe and redemption of synnes. That this is the very meaning of the Apostle in this place, is playne to as many as wille to weygh the text, or to read. St. Augustyne in hys booke of the spirit and letter, & Erasmus in hys paraphrases, and annotations.

(b) Libertie, there the hert is not in bondage to domine ceremonies, but knoweth how to vse all thynge, and vnderstandeth that loue is the end and the fulfilling of all lawe.

The iii. Chapter.

He defendeth apyll his fidelitie in ministracion of the word. Then teacheth he that wretched men perpe through their own fault, and that they be authores of their owne damnacion. At laste that they be not offended with hys trouble, he sheweth with howe great success he taught Christ to many, before hys tribulacions.

Therfore seyng that we haue suche an office, eue as mercie come on vs, we fainte not, but haue cast from vs the clokes of vnhonestie, and walk not in craftynes, neyther corrupte we the worde of God, but walke in open truth, and repute our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

* If our Gospel be yet hid, it is hid among them that are loste, in whom the (a) God of this worlde hath blynded the myndes of them which beleue not, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, whiche is the ymage of God shoulde shyne vnto the. * For we preach not our selues, but Christ Jesus to be the Lord, and our selues poure seruantes for Jesus sake. For it is God that * commaunded the light to shyne out of darknes, whiche hath shyned in oure hertes, for to giue the light of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Jesus Christ.

But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels

1. Cor. ii. 14.
Roma. xi. 2.
1. Cor. ii. 14.

The letter killeth, &c.

Libertye.

Ex. xliii. a.
Deut. v. d.
Iere. xxxi. f.

Phil. ii. b.
1. Cor. iiii. d.

Deut. xlii. f.
Ex. xxxi. f.

Ex. xlii. d.
mat. xii. b.
1. Cor. ii. d.

1. Cor. ii. c.
God of this worlde
1. Cor. ii. c.
mat. xlii. b.
1. Cor. ii. b.
1. Cor. ii. f.
1. Cor. ii. f.
The apostles are ser-uants.
Genel. i. a.
1. Cor. ii. d.
1. Cor. ii. a.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

To the Corin. Cha. v. Fol xxxiii

vestels that & excellent power of it might appeare to be of God, & not of vs. We are troubled on every side, yet are we not with out shilte. We are in pouertie, but not vtterlye wout some what. We are persecuted, but are not forsake. We are cast down neuertheles we perishe not. And we al-

Gala. vi. d. wapes beate in oure bodyes the drying of the Lorde Jesus, that the lyfe of Jesus myghte appeare in our bodyes.

Rom. viii. c. For we whiche lue are alwayes deliuered vnto deathe for Jesus sake, that the lyfe also of Jesu, myghte appeare in our mortal fleshe. So then deathe worketh in vs, & lyfe in pou. &

Psal. cxv. Sepnge then we haue the same spuite of sapeth, accordinge as it is mytten: I beleued, and therefore haue I spoken. We also beleue, and therefore speake. For wee knowe that he whiche rased vp the Lord Jesus, shall rase vp vs also by the meanes of Jesus, and shall set vs wpth you.

ii. Cor. i. a For all thynges do I for your sakes. * that the plentiuouse grace by thakes gruyng of man, may redounde to the praple of god. Wherefore we are not wried, but though we oute(c) outwarde man perishe: yet the inward man is renewed dape by dap. * For our eceadynge tribulacion whiche is momentayne and lyghte, prepareth an eceadynge and eternall wayghte of glorie vnto vs, whyle we loke not on the thynges whiche are seene, but one the thynges whiche are not seene. For thynges whiche are seene, are temporal: but thynges whiche are not seene, are eternall.

The god of this world

The Notes.

(a) This god is in the. xvi. of Luke called Mammon, in the. xiii. of John, the prynte or rule of thys worlde. By all that I can gether boeth of thys place and of the other, it shulde be spoken of ryghts accordyng to the sygnification of thys worde Mammon, a worde of the Grek an tounge. Prynte and God of thys worlde it is called, because the wycked worldelynges geupnge them selues to the vnlawefull getyng together, and hepyng thereof, it is theyr prynte & god. Some cal the deuill by these names, who are not far wyde. For the Deuill is a great doer in all these thynges, as an enemye that seeketh all occasions to deface the church of Christ, by drawyng them from the true scrupce of god to the ydol scrupce of Mammon, the ryche of thys worlde.

In the face of Jesus.

(b) By the face of Jesus Christ, is to be vnder stand the lowe degre of hys manhode, accordyng to the humilitie & lynes wherof, the true prechers and professours of Christ were, be, & shal to the worldes ende, be esteemed.

Outward man.

(c) This outward man is somtyme called the old mā, somme & flesh, what & flesh sygnifieth shal ye fynde in the prologe to the Romaynes.

The. v. Chapter.

He treateth more fully the hope of saluacion whych he spake of in the end of the first chapter. He bleth on allegorpe of that tabernacle and heuently house, fordesyre wherof he suffred al thynges: but at lengthe so mitigated hys scyle that he seemeth not to hunt for glory. Last of al he maketh an entree to the which foloweth comprehendynge in fewe wordes the worke of soluacio in Christ, & also our duty.

V We knowe suerly, if our *earthly māci on wherin we now dwel, were destroyed, & we haue abyldynge or depned of god, an habitacion not made wpth hands, but eternal in heauen. * And therfore sphe we desirynge to be clothed wpth our māci on, whiche is fro heauē: so yet & we be found clothed & not naked. For as long as we are in this *tabernacle, we sighe & are grieved, for we wold not be vnclothed, but wold be & clothed vpon, that mortallite myghte be swallowed vp of lyfe. Be that hath ordayned vs for this thyng, is God * which by the same hath geuen vnto vs the earnest of the spuit. Therefore we are alwaye of good chere, and know well that as long as we are at home in the bodpe, we are absente from God. For we walke in fapth and see not. Neuertheles, we are of good comfort, and had leuer be absente from the boepe, & to be presente wpth the Lorde. Wherefore whether we be at home, or from home, wee endeuoure our selues to please hym. * For we must all apeare before the iudgemente scate of Christ, that euerye man maye receiue the workes of hys bodpe accordyng to that he hath doone, whether it be good or bad.

* Sepnge then that we knowe, howe the Lord is to be feared, we deale faire w men. For we are knowen wel inough vnto god. I truste also that we are knowen in poure consciences. We praple not oure selues agayne vnto you, but geue you an occasion to reioyse of vs, that ye maye haue somewhat agaynst them, whiche reioyse in the face, and not in the herte. For if we be to feruent, to god we are to feruent. If we kepe measure, for your cause kepe wee measure. For the loue of Christ constraineth vs because we thus iudge, if one be deade for all, that then are all dead, and that he died * for all, that they which lue, should not hence forth lue vnto the selues, but vnto hym which dyed for the and rose agayne. &

Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the fleshe. In so muche though we haue knowen Christ after the fleshe, now henceforth know we hym so no more. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Olde thynges are passed awaye, behold all thynges are become * new. Nevertheless, all thynges are of God, whych hath reconciled * vs vnto hym self by Jesus Christ, and hath geuen vnto vs the ofspce to preach the atonmēt. For * god was in Christ, and made agreement betwene the world and hym self, and imputed not their synnes vnto thein, and hath comitted to vs the preachig of the atonement. Now then are we messengers in the roume of Christ: euen as though we were deade. Seech you thowow vs: So praye we you in Christ.

pppp. a. Christe

ii. Cor. iii. b

Rom. viii. b

ii. Pe. i. c

Apoca. vii. b

Rom. viii. c

ii. Cor. i. d

Laonia. i. iii.

W

Wene dpa
ligice & no
at xii. c.
Rom. viii. c
man be of fend: d or hutt by vs
or our en
sample

Christ's ser uantes seke Chri stes wpl. &
not to lye
at their own plea sure, but
i. Tel. v. c.
at his.

D

Clav. xiii.

Apoc. xiii.

A new crea

ature.

The atone

ment be

twene

Rom. iii. c

Collo. i. c

God and

man in Christ is the apo

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

His office Christes stede that pe be at one wth god, to preache for he hath * made hym to be spynne for vs, whych knewe no syn. that we by his meannes should be that ryghtuousnes which be fore God is allowed.

The.ii. Chapter.
The exhorteth to a christian lyfe, by example of hym selfe, describunge hys constançe in the true sayeth. Then taketh he awaye the occasiõ of wyckednes, whych is the feloweshyppe and webloke of the vngodlye. Shewynge that throughe these, they despye not the temple of God.

VUe as healpers therfore exhoite you that pe receyue not the grace of God in vayne. For he sayth. * I haue herd thein a tyme accepted: and in the daye of saluacion, haue I succoured the. Beholde nowe is that well accepted tyme: beholde nowe is that daye of saluacion. Let vs geue no man occasion of euill, that in oure ofspce be founde no faulte, but in al thynges let vs behaue oure selues as the ministers of God.

In muche patience, in afflictions, in necessitye, in angurys, in stryppes, in prisonmente, in stryfe, in laboure, in watchynge, in fastynge, in puerues, in knowledge, in longe sufferynge, in kynndes, in the holpe godde, in loue vnfaigned, in the woordes of truth, in the power of God, in the armour * of ryghtuousnes on the ryght hande and on the lefte, in honour and dishonour, in euill repute and good report, as dysceiueis and yet true, as vnknewen, and yet knowen, as dpyng, and beholde we yet lyue: as chastened, and not killed: as sorowinge and yet alwaye mery: as poore, yet make many rich: as haupng notyng, yet possesseing al thynges.

Ope Corinthians, oure mouth is open vnto you. Our herte is made large, pe are in no strapte in vs, but are in a strapte in poure owne bowelles. I promyse you lyke rewarde wth me, as to my chylidren. Set your selues thertore at large, and * beate not a straingers pooke wth the vnbeleruers. For what felowship hath ryghtuousnes wth vnrighuousnes? What compaignye hath lyghte wth darcknes? What corde hath Chyste wth Behall? Epyther what parte hath he that beleneth wth an infidel? Howe agreeth the temple of God wth Imaiges? And pe * are the temple of that liuinge God, as saied God: * I wil dwel among them and walke amonge the and wyl be thei: God, and they shal be my people. * Wherfore come out from among them and separate your selues. Saperth the Lorde and touche none vncleane thinge, so wyl I receyue you, and wyl be a father vnto you, and pe shal be vnto me, sons and daughters, sayth the Lorde.

The.iii. Chapter.
The exhorteth that whiche he toucheth in the seconde chapter, shewynge that he had thurpynge the aduocater for theyr heathes

To the Corin. Cha. vii.

take, and not for anye tyranne that was in his mynde, whiche that he may p planckper pious, he sheweth his good wil towarde the by a tale which he telleth of Titus.

Sepnge that wee haue suche promyses dearely beloued, let vs cleanse oure selues from all fylthynes of the fleshe and spire, and growe vp to ful holynes in the feare of God. Understande vs. We haue hurte no man: wee haue corrupte no man, we haue defrauded no man. I speake not thys to condemne you, for I haue shewed you before that pe are in our heartes to dye and lyue wth you. I am verpe bolde ouer you, and reioyse greatly in you: I am fylled wth comforte, and am excedynge ioyouse in all our tribulacions. For when wee were come into Macedonia * our flesch had no rest, but we wer troubled on euery side. Outwarde was fyghtynge, inward was feare. Neuertheles god * that comforteth the abiect: comforted vs at the comynge of Titus.

And not wth hys comynge onely, but also wth that consolacion wherewth he was comforted of you. For he told vs your despye, your mournyng, your feruent mind to me warde: so that I now reioyse p more. Wherfore though he I made you soze wth a letter, I repente not, though he I dyd repente. For I perceyue that that same epistle made you soze though it were but for a season. But I now reioyse, not that pe were soze, but that pe so sorowed that pe repented. For pe sorowed godly, so p in no thing pe were hurt by vs. For godly sorow causeth repentaunce vnto saluacion not to be repented of. when * worldely sorowe causeth death.

Behold what diligence this godly sorow p pe toke, hath wrought in you: pea it caused you to cleare your selues. It caused indignacion, it caused fear, it caused desire, it caused a feruent mynde, it caused punshment. For in al thynges pe haue shewed your selues that pe are cleare in p matter. Wherfore though he I wrot vnto you I dyd it not for his cause that did hurt, neither for hys cause that was hurt: but p our good minde whych we haue toweyde you in the sight of god, might appeare vnto you.

Therfore we are comforted, because pe are comforted, pea * excedyngly the more ioyed we, for p ioy that Titus had: because his spire was refreshed of you all. I am therefore not nowe ashamed, though he I boasted my self to him of you. For as al thynges which I preached vnto you are true, euen so is oure boasting that I boasted my selfe too Titus wth all, founde true. And nowe is hys inward affection more aboundedaunte towarde you, when he remembreth the obedience of euery one of you: howe wth feare and trembling pe receiued him. I reioyse that I may behold ouer you in al thynges.

The

The vii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to be liberal to the p^{er} by brethren: first by example of the Macedonians, and then of Chus. Then warneth he them to performe that now which they began before. All he commendeth to them Titus, and other brethren, whiche were sent w^{ith} hym.

I Do you to wit brethren, of the grace of God, which is geuen in the congregations of Macedonia, howe that the aboundance of their reioysinge is, that they are tryed with much tribulacion. And thereto though they were exceeding poore, yet haue they geue exceeding richly, and that in singlenesse. For to their powers (I beare record) yea and beyonde their power, they were willinge of thei^r owne accord, and prayed vs with greate instance, that wee would receiue their benefyte, & suffer them to be partakers with other, in ministering to the Sapientes. And thus they did, not as we looked for: but gaue thei^r owne selues first to the Lorde, and after vnto vs by the will of God: so that we coulde not but bespye Titus to accomplish the same beneuolence amonge you also, euen as he had begunne.

Now therefore, as ye are riche in all partes in faith, in worde, in knowledge, in all feruentnes and in loue, whiche ye haue to vs: euen so let ye be plenteous in this beneuolence. This saie I, not as commanding: but because other are so feruēt, therefore proue I poure loue, whether it be perfecte or no. Ye know the liberality of oure Lord Iesus Christ, which though he were r^{ich}e, yet for poure sakes became poore, that ye thowwe his pouertie, myghte be made riche.

And I gaue counsell hereto, for this is expedient for you, whiche began, not to do onelye, but also to will, a yere ago. Nowe therefore performe the dedde, that as there was in you a redines to wil, euen so ye may performe the dedde of that whiche ye haue.

For if ther be s^{er}vice a willing mynde, it is accepted, accordyng to that a man hath, & not accordyng to that he hath not.

It is not mynde, that other be set at ease, and ye brought into combaunce: but that there be equalnes nowe at this tyme, that your aboundance succour their lack, that thei^r aboundance may supplie your lacke, that there may be equalitie, agreing to that which is witten. * He that gathered much, had neuer the more aboundance, and he that gathered litle, had neuer the lesse. Thanks be to God, whiche put in the hert of Titus the same good mynd toward you. For he accepted the requeste, yea rather he was so well willinge, that of his owne accord he came vnto you.

We haue sente w^{ith} hym that brother whose laude is in the Gospell thowoute all the congregacions, and not so onelye, but is also chosen of the congregacions to be a fellow with vs in our iourney, concerninge this beneuolence that is ministered by vs vnto the prayse of the Lord, and to steepe by your prompte mynde. For this wee eschewe, that anye manne should rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is ministered by vs: and therefore make prouision for honest thynges, not in the sight of God onely, but also in the sight of men.

We haue sente with them a brother of ours, whom we haue ofte tymes proued diligent in manie thynges, but nowe muche moze diligent. The great confidence which I haue in you, hath caused me thus to do, partly for Titus sake, whiche is my fellow and helper as concerninge you, partly because of other which are our brethren, and the messengers of the congregacions, and the gloire of Christ. Wherefore shewe vnto them the proue of your loue, and of the * reioysinge that we haue of you, that the congregacions may see it.

The ix. Chapter.

He sheweth moze plainly for what cause he sente to them Titus and the other. Then he exhorteth them to geue Almes, and that w^{ith} manie and most stronge arguments, shewyng howe greatescrupe is w^{orth} to come thereof.

Of the ministeringe to the Sapientes, it is but superfluous for me too wryte vnto you: for I knowe poure redyness of mynde, wherof I boast my selfe vnto them of Macedonia, and saie that Achaia was prepared a yere ago, and poure feruentnes hath prouoked manie. Neuertheles ye haue I sent these brethren, lest our reioysinge ouer you should be in vaine in this behalf, and that ye (as I haue said) prepare poure selues: lest peradventure if thei of Macedonia come with me, and find you vnprepared, the boaste that I made in this matter should be a shame to vs, I saie not vnto you.

Wherefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren to come before hande vnto you for to prepare poure good blessinge prompted afore, that it myghte be redye, so that it be a blessinge, and not a defrauding. * This yet remembre, how that he whiche soweth litle, shall reape litle, and he that soweth plenteously, shall reape plenteously. And let euery man do accordyng as he hath purposed in his herte, not grudgyngly, or of necessitie. For God loueth a cheerefull giuer.

God is able to make you r^{ich}e in all grace, that ye in all thynges haupng sufficient vnto the vtmost, maye be tryed vnto all maner good workes, as it is wrytten: * He hath sparred abroad and hath giuen to the poore, his righteousness remaineth for euer. He that sindereth the sower seede, shall minister breade for foode, and shall multiply your seede, and encrease the frutes of poure righteousness, & that on all

Actes. xi. d.
1. Co. xvi. a
11. Co. ix. a
Rom. xv. c.

Roma. x. a.

1. Pe. iii. a
2. Co. vi. d
1. Tim. vi. d
1. Thes. v. a

1. Cor. xvi.

Rom. xii. c.

1. Cor. i. v.

Actes. xi. d.
1. Co. xvi. a
11. Co. vii. a
Rom. xv. c.

1. Thes. ii. d.
Gal. vi. d.

1. Cor. xvi. d.
2. Cor. ix. a

Psal. xli.

The. ii. Epistle of S. Paul parties ye maye be made ryche in all syn-glenes, which causeth thowows, thancks geuing vnto God.

D For the offyce of thys ministracion, not only supplieth the nede of the Saputs, but also is abundant herein, that for this laudable ministring, thankes might be geuen to God of many, which praise God for the obedience of your professing the Gospel of Christ, and for your synghenes in distributing to them and to all men: in their praiers to God for you, longe after you, for the abundant grace of God geuen vnto you.
Thanckes bee vnto God for hys vnspeakeable gift.

The. i. Chapter.

He defendeth hys authoritie agaynst the falle Apostles, whych sayed he was a man, & therfore might erre, and that he despyed to be thowp ouer them. Therfore teacheth he what hys power is, and to what ende it was geuen hym, and how he hadde vsed it: and that true glory consisteth in God onely.

I Paule my self beseech you by the mekenes and softnes of Christ, which when I am present among you, am of no reputacion, but am bold toward you being absente, I beseech you that I nede not to be bolde when I am presente (with that same confidence, wherewith I am purposed to be bolde) agaynst some whiche repute vs as though we walked carnally. Neuertheles though we walke compassed wth flesh, pet we war not fleshy. * For the weapons of our war are not carnal thyngs, but thin-ges mighty in God to caste downe stronge holdes, wherewith we ouerthrowe imaginacions, and euery hygh thyng that exalteth it selfe agaynst the knowledge of God, & brynge into captiuitie all vnderstandynge to the obedience of Christ, and at redy to take vengeaunce on all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled. Loke ye on things after the vtter apperaunce?

If any man trust himself that he is Christian, let the same also consider of himselfe, that as he is Christian, euen so are we Christians: and though I wuld boast my self some what more of our authoritie which the Lord hath geuen vs * to edifye, and not to de-stroye you, it should not be to my shame.
* This say I lest I wuld seme, as though I went about to make you astrayed with letters. For the Epistles (sayeth he) are softe & strong: but hys bodily presence is weake, and his speache rude. Let him that is such, thynke on thys wise, that as we are in wo-rdes, by letters, when we are absent, suche are we in dede when we are present.

For we can not synde in oure hartes to make out selues of the number of them, or to compare oure selues to them, whych laud themselves: neuerthelesse whyle they measure themselves with themselves, and compare themselves wth the themselves, they vnderstande nought.

But we wyl not reioyse aboue measure, to the Corint. Chapt. ii.

but accordyng to the quantite of the measure, whych God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure that reacheth euen vnto you.
For we stretch not out our selues beyond measure, as though we had not reached vnto you.

* For euen vnto you haue we come wth the gospel of Christ, and we haue not oure selues out of measure in other mennes labours. Yea, and we hope, when your faith is increased among you, to be magnified maner-ly accordyng to oure measure more largely, to preache the Gospel in those regions whych are beyond you, and not to re-ioyse of that whych is by another mannes measure prepared already. Lettel ym that reioysyth reioyse in the Lord. For he that praiseth hym selfe, is not allowed: but he whom the Lord praiseth.

The. ii. Chapter.

Because Paule was slandered of the falle Apostles, he chalengech to hymselfe his authoritie, wth a certayne holye ambicion, least hys ministracyon shoulde be extenuate, shewyng by many argumentes that he was not onely equal, but also greater than the other Apostles. Than teacheth he wthal in whom we shoulde glorie.

Vould to God ye coulde suffer me a lytel in my folishnes: yea, and I pray you, forbeare me. For I am gelous ouer you with bodily gelousy. For I coupled you to one man, to make you a chaste virgin to Christ. But I feare lest as the serpent beggled Eue thowowe hys subtiltye, euen so your wits shoulde be corrupt from the synghenes that is in Christ. For if he that cometh preach another Jesus then him whom we preached: or if ye receyue another spirit then that which ye haue recey-ued: or other Gospel then that ye haue receyued, ye myghte ryghte well haue bene content.

I suppose that I was not behynde the chefe Apostles. Though I be rude in speekyng, pet I am not so in knowledge.
Howbeit amonge you we are knowne to the vtermoste what we are in all thynges.
Yp I then synne, because I submyt-ted my selfe, that ye myght be exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God free: I robbed other congregacions, and toke wages of them, to do you serui-ce wthall. And when I was presente wth you and had nede, * I was greuous to no man, for that whych was lackinge vnto me, the brethren whych came from Macedonia, supplied: and in all thynges I kept my selfe that I shoulde not be greuous to you: and so wyl I kepe my selfe. If the truth of Christ be in me, thys reioysynge shall not be taken from me in the regions of Achaia.

Wherefore? Because I loue you not?
God knoweth. Neuerthelesse, what I do, that wyl I do, to cut away occasyon from them whych despye occasyon, & they might be founde

Eph. vi. 1.

1. Co. xiii. 1.

Gene. iii. 1.

We be ma-
ried to Christ, &
not to the preacher.

Actes. xv. 3.
11. Co. xiii.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

be founde lyke vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce. For these false Apostles are disceit full workers, & fashion them selues lyke vnto the Apostles of Christe. And no maruaile for Sathan hymselfe is chaunged into the fashion of an angell of lght. Therefore it is no greates thyng, though he his ministers fashion them selues, as though they were the ministers of ryghteousnes, whose ende shalbe accordyng to their dedes.

D I say agayne, lest any man thynke that I am folyshe: or els euene nowe take me as a foole, that I maye boaste my selfe a litle. That I speake, I speake it not after the wapes of the Lorde: but as it were folyshe: lyke whyle we are nowe come to boastyng. Forpunge that manye reioyce after the flesh I wyl reioyce also. For ye suffer folles glad ly, because that ye poute selues are wylse. For ye suffer euene if a man bypunge you into bondage: if a man deuoute, if a manne take, if a man craite hym selfe: if a manne synpte you on the face. I speake as consernyng rebuke, as though he we hadde beene weake.

Howe be it wherein soeuer any man dare be bolde (I speake folyshe) I dare be bold also. * They are Hebrewes, so am I. They are Italites, euene so am I. They are the seede of Abraham, euene so am I. They are the ministers of Christ, (I speake as) a foole I am more: in laboures more abundante: In stryppes aboue measure: in: In pylson more plentuously: In death ofte. * Of the Jewes, v. tymes receyued I euery tyme. xl. stryppes saue one. * Thysse was I beaten with rodde, & I was once stoned. * I suffered thysse thynge wycke. Ryghte and daye haue I bene in the depe of the sea: In iourneyinge often: in periles of the waters: in periles of robbers: in iopardies of myne owne nation: in iopardies amonge the heathen. I haue bene * in periles in cities, in periles in wyldernes, in periles in the sea, in periles amonge false brethren, in laboure and trauayle, in watchyng often, in hunger, in thyrst, in fastynges often, in cold and in nakednes. And besyde the thynge whych outwardlye happen vnto me, I am combered daylye, and do care for all congregacions. * Who is weake, and I am not weake? Who is hurte in the faeth, and my hearte burneth not? If I muste nedes reioyce, I wyl reioyce of myne infirmities.

The.iii. Chapter.

After manye of his dedes, he recheareth also his visions, where through he God hadde instructed him shewyng with all to what end he vseth his boastyng. Afterward he recheareth his good wil, and geueth them warning of his commyng.

In the name of our Lord Jesus Christe, whiche is blessed for ever more, knoweth that I lye not. * In the cytye of Damasco, the gouernour of the people vnder kynge Aretas, layed watche

To the Corin. Cha. xii. Fo lxxxvi

in the cytye of the Damascens, and would haue caught me, and * at a wyndow was I let downe in a basket thorow the wal, & so scaped his handes.

It is not expediente for me (no doubt) to reioyce; & euenthesse I wyl come to byspous and reuelacions of the Lorde. I knowe a man in Christe aboue .xiii. yeres agone (whether he were in the body I can not tell, or whether he were out of the body I cannot tell, God knoweth) whiche was taken vp into the thyrde heauen. And I knowe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth) howe that he was taken vp into Paradise, and hearde wordes not to be spoken, whiche no man can vtter. Of this man wyl I reioyce, of my selfe wyl I not reioyce, excepte it be of myne infirmities. And yet though I would reioyce, I shuld not be a foole: for I shoulde saie the truth. & euenthesse I spare, lest any man shulde thynke of me aboue that he seeth me to be, or heareth of me.

And * leaste I shoulde be exalted out of measure thorow the aboundance of the reuelacions, there was geuen vnto me (a) bynquetnes of the fleshe, the messenger of Satan to buffet me: because I shoulde not be exalted out of measure. For thys thynge he soughte I the lorde thysse, that it myghte depart from me. And he sayde vnto me: my grace is sufficient for the. For my strenght is made perfecte thorow weake. Wherefore gladly therefore wyl I reioyce of my weaknes, that the strenght of Christ maye dwell in me. * Therefore haue I delectacion in infirmities, in rebukes, in neede, in perfecutions, in angurwe, for Christes sake. For when I am weake, then am I strong.

I am made a foole in boastyng my selfe, I haue compelled me. I oughte to haue bene commended of you. For in nothyng was I inferioure vnto the chiefe Apostles though I be nothyng yet the tokens of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience: with sygnes, and woundes and myghty dedes. For what is it wherein ye were inferiours vnto other congregacions, excepte it be therein that I was not greuous vnto you. For geue me this wrong done vnto you. Behold now the thirde tyme I am ready to come vnto you, & yet wyl I not be greuous vnto you. For * I seke not yours, but you. Also the chylde ought not to lare byppe for the fathers and mothers, but the fathers and mothers for the chyl- dren.

I wyl berpe gladly bestowe, and wyl be bestowd for youre soules: though the more I loue you the lesse I am loued agayne. But be it that I grieved you not, neuer the lesse I was craftie and toke you with guile: Did I pil pou by any of them which I sent vnto you? I desired Titus, & with hym I sente a brother. Dyd Titus defraude you

Actes, ix. d.

13

Thon. ii.

Pauls pigneth by his signes, & by his authoritie was as great as the authority of the bygher Apostles.

Actes. xx. 9
ii. 20. 11. c
Eccl. xlii. c
ii. 14. 11. 9

To muche mekenesse & obedience is not allowed in the kynghdome of god, but al must be accordyng to knowlege

Phili. iiii. a

2 Cor. xii. c

2 Cor. xii. c
Actes. xii. c

Actes. x. d

1. Cor. ix. d

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

be founde lyke vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce. For these false Apostles are disceit full workers, & fashion them selues lyke vnto the Apostles of Christe. And no maruaile for Sathan hymselfe is chaunged into the fashion of an angell of lght. Therefore it is no greates thyng, though he his ministers fashion them selues, as though they were the ministers of ryghteousnes, whose ende shalbe accordyng to their dedes.

D I say agayne, lest any man thynke that I am folyshe: or els euene nowe take me as a foole, that I maye boaste my selfe a litle. That I speake, I speake it not after the wapes of the Lorde: but as it were folyshe: lyke whyle we are nowe come to boastyng. Forpunge that manye reioyce after the flesh I wyl reioyce also. For ye suffer folles gladly, because that ye poure selues are wylle. For ye suffer euene if a man bypunge you into bondage: if a man deuoute, if a manne take, if a man craite hym selfe: if a manne synpte you on the face. I speake as consernyng rebuke, as though he we hadde beene weake.

Howe be it wherein soeuer any man dare be bolde (I speake folyshe) I dare be bold also. * They are Hebrewes, so am I. They are Italites, euene so am I. They are the seide of Abraham, euene so am I. They are the ministers of Christ, (I speake as) a foole I am more: in laboures more abundante: In stryppes aboue measure: in: In pylson more plentiuously: In death ofte. * Of the Jewes, v. tymes receyued I euery tyme. xl. stryppes saue one. * Thysse was I beaten with rodde, & I was once stoned. * I suffered thysse thysse wycke. Ryghte and daye haue I bene in the depe of the sea: In iourneyinge often: in periles of the waters: in periles of robbers: in iopardies of myne owne nation: in iopardies amonge the heathen. I haue bene * in periles in cities, in periles in wyldernes, in periles in the sea, in periles amonge false brethren, in laboure and trauayle, in watchyng often, in hunger, in thysse, in fastynges often, in cold and in nakednes. And besyde the thynges whych outwardlye happen vnto me, I am combered daylye, and do care for all congregacions. * Who is weake, and I am not weake? Who is hurte in the faeth, and my hearte burneth not? If I muste nedes reioyce, I wyl reioyce of myne infirmities.

The.iii. Chapter.

After manye of his dedes, he recheareth also his visions, where through he God hadde instructed him shewyng with all to what end he vseth his boastyng. Afterward he recheareth his good wil, and geueth them warning of his commyng.

In the name of our Lord Jesus Christe, whiche is blessed for ever more, knoweth that I lye not. * In the cytye of Damasco, the gouernour of the people vnder kynge Aretas, layed watche

To the Corin. Cha. xii. Fo lxxxvi

in the cytye of the Damascens, and would haue caught me, and * at a wyndow was I let downe in a basket thorow the wal, & so scaped his handes. Aretas, ix. d.

It is not expediente for me (no doubt) to reioyce; & euenthylls I wyl come to byspous and reuelacions of the Lorde. I knowe a man in Christe aboue. xiii. yeres agoe (whether he were in the body I can not tell, or whether he were out of the body I cannot tell, God knoweth) whiche was taken vp into the thyrde heauen. And I knowe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth) howe that he was taken vp into Paradise, and hearde wordes not to be spoken, whiche no man can vtter. Of this man wyl I reioyce, of my selfe wyl I not reioyce, excepte it be of myne infirmities. And yet though I would reioyce, I shuld not be a foole: for I shoulde saie the truth. & euenthylls I spare, lest any man shulde thynke of me aboue that he seeth me to be, or heareth of me.

And * I shoulde be exalted out of measure thorow the aboundance of the reuelacions, there was geuen vnto me (a) by the quyetnes of the fleshe, the messenger of Satan to buffet me: because I shoulde not be exalted out of measure. For thys thyng he soughte I the lorde thysse, that it myghte depart from me. And he sayde vnto me: my grace is sufficient for the. For my strenght is made perfecte thorow weake. Wherefore gladly therefore wyl I reioyce of my weaknes, that the strenght of Christ maye dwell in me. * Therefore haue I delectacion in infirmities, in rebukes, in neede, in persecucion, in angur, for Christes sake. For when I am weake, then am I strong.

I am made a foole in boastyng my selfe, I haue compelled me. I oughte to haue bene commended of you. For in nothyng was I inferioure vnto the chiefe Apostles. I thought I be nothyng yet the tokens of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience: with sygnes, and woundes and myghty dedes. For what is it wherein ye were inferiours vnto other congregacions, excepte it be therein that I was not greuous vnto you. For geue me this wrong done vnto you. Behold now the thirde tyme I am ready to come vnto you, & yet wyl I not be greuous vnto you. For * I feke not yours, but you. Also the chylde ought not to lare byppe for the fathers and mothers, but the fathers and mothers for the chyl- dren.

I wyl be gladly bestowe, and wyl be bestowd for youre soules: though the more I loue you the lesse I am loued agayne. But be it that I greued you not, neuer the lesse I was craftie and toke you with guile: Did I pil pou by any of them which I sent vnto you? I desired Titus, & with hym I sente a brother. Dyd Titus defraude you ppp.iii.

To muche mekenesse & obedience is not allowed in the kynghdome of god, but al must be accordyng to knowlege

Phili. iiii.

2 Cor. xii. 6

2 Cor. xii. 6
2 Cor. xii. 6
2 Cor. xii. 6

2 Cor. xii. 6

1 Cor. ix. 3

2 Cor. ii.

Pauls pious with his signes, &
his autho-ritie was as great as the authority of the hysse
Apostles.

2 Cor. ix. 3
ii. 2 Cor. ix. 3
iii. 2 Cor. ix. 3

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of anye thyng: walked we not in one spi-
rite, walked we not in lyke steppes? Again thyng that we excuse our selues? We speake in Christ in the syght of god.

E But we do althynges deately beloued) for your edifying. For I feare least it come to passe that when I come I shall not find you such as I would: and I shalbe found vnto you such as ye woulde not: I feare lest there be founde amonge you * debate, enuyng, wrath, styffe, backbitynge, whyspynges, swellynge and dyscorde:
I feare lest when I come agayne, I shal byng me lowe amonge you, and I be costrayned to bewaile many of them whiche haue sinned alcedye, and haue not repented of the viciennes, foliacion and wantonnes whiche they haue committed.

The Notes.

Unquiet nes of the spite. Galat. v. d. 1. Cor. v. d. 1. Cor. v. d. 1. Cor. v. d.
I thoughte men of more reuerence knowledge then I. out do take mys viciennes for the re-uerence that the wycked made agaynst the doctrine of Paule, yet in my iudgemente the re-uerence rather than it should be the viciennes of hys owne fleshe, whiche dyd continuallye pull hym backe, and as it were wylfullye tryd by force of synes, in the assaye and busynesse of the spirite.

The iii. Chapter.

E He gathereth together almost all except that he spake of almes geuyng, whiche he teag-eth heretofore. For by the he sheweth that he doth not falslye promyse hys comynge, nor that he wyl be false. Yet wyl he be that they maye repent, and praye for good thynges for them.

Deute. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli.
Now come I the thyrde tyme vnto you.
In the mouth of two or thre witnesses shall euery thyng stande. I tolde you before, and tell you before, and as I sayde when I was presente wth you
the seconde tyme, so wyl I now beynge absente to them whiche in tyme past haue sinned, and to all other. that if I come a-gayne, I wyl not spare, sayng that ye haue sene experience of Christe whiche I pre-acheth in mee, whiche amonge you is not weake but is myghty in you. And verelie though it came of weakenes that he was crucified, yet lyuely he thowowe the power of God. And we no doubte are weake in hym: but wee shall lyue wth hym by the myght of god amonge you.

1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli.
For your poute selues whether you be in the sapeth or not. Examyn your owne sel-ues knowe ye not your owne selues how that Iesus Christe is in you, excepte ye be caste awayes? I truste that ye shall knowe that we be no cast awayes. I desyre before God that ye doo none euill, not that wee shoulde seme comendable, but that ye shuld do that whiche is honest: and let vs be confessed as lewde persons. We can do nothyng agaynst the truth: But for the truth, we are glad when we are weake, and ye stronge.
Thys also we wishe for, euen that ye were perfect. Therefore wyte I these thynges being absent, least when I am present, I shuld

To the Corin. Cha. xiii.

ble tharpnes according to the power * whiche the Lorde hath geuen me, to edifie, and not to destroye.

E Finallye brethren face ye wel, be perfect,
be of good comforte, be of one mynde, lyue
in peace: and the God of loue and of peace shall be wth you. * Grete one another in an holy kyse. Al the Sayntes salute you.
The grace of oure Lord Iesus Christe, and the loue of God, and the felowshipp of the holy ghost be wth you all. Amen. The seconde Epyllle to the Corinthyans: Sent from Philippos a cite in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Prologe vnto the Epyllle of Saint Paule to the Galathians.

Per reade Actes. xv. howe certaine came from Iherusalem too Antioche and vnto the dysciples
there, aspyning that they coulde not be saued excepte they were circumcised: And so after Paule had conuerted the Galathians and coupled them to Christ to trust in hym onely for the remission of syn, and hope of grace and saluacion, and was departed, there came false Apostles vnto them
(as vnto the Corinthyans, and to all places wher Paule hadde preached) and that in the name of Peter, James and John, whom they called the hys Apostles, and preached circumcision and
heryng of the lawe, to be saued by, and minishd Paules authoritye.

E To the confoundinge of those, Paule magnified hys offyce & Apostleship in the two fyrste Chapters, & maketh hym selfe equall vnto the hys Apostles, & concludeth that euery manne must be iustified without deseruinges, without workes, and without helpe of the lawe, but alone by Christ.

And in the thirde & fourth, he proueth & same with scripture, examples & similitudes, and sheweth that the lawe is cause of more syn, and byn-geth the curse of god vpon vs, and iustifieth vs not, but & iustifying cometh by grace promised vs of God thowow the deseruynge of Christe, by whom (if we beleue) we are iustified without helpe
of the workes of the lawe.

And in the v. and. vi. he exhorteth vnto the
workes of loue which followe sayth & iustifying.
So that in all his Epyllle he obserueth this order. First he preacheth the damnation of & law then iustifying of sayth, and thirde the workes of loue. For on that condicion that we loue and worke, is the mercy geuen vs.

The Epyllle of saynte Paule to the Galathians.

The fyrst Chapter.

Because the Galathian churches were fallen from the syncretisme of the Gospell, mynge-lynge therewith the workes of the lawe, Paule after he hath made comendation of vocation accuseth them of inconstancy. Last he sheweth what his old lyfe, callinge and offyce were, considerynge that he receyued
not his gospell of men but of Christ onely.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of anye thyng: walked we not in one spi-
rite, walked we not in lyke steppes? Again thyng that we excuse our selues? We speake in Christ in the syght of god.

E But we do althynges deately beloued)
for your edifying. For I feare least it come to passe that when I come I shall not find you such as I would: and I shalbe found
vnto you such as ye woulde not: I feare
lest there be founde amonge you * debate, enuyng, wrath, stryfe, backbitynge,
whyspynges, swellynge and dyscorde:
I feare lest when I come agayne, I shal
byng me lowe amonge you, and I be co-
strayned to bewaile many of them whiche
haue sinned alcedye, and haue not repented of the viciennes, foliacion and wantonnes whych they haue committed.

The Notes.

Unquiet nes of the spite. Galat. v. d. 1. Cor. v. d. 1. Cor. v. d. 1. Cor. v. d.
I thoughte men of more reuerence knowledge then I. out do take my viciennes for the re-uerence that the wycked made agaynst the doctrine of Paul, yet in my iudgemente the re-uerence rather than it should be the reuerence of
hys owne fleshe, whiche dyd continuallye pull hym backe, and as it were wylshode hym by force of synne, in the assaye and busynesse of the spirit.

The iii. Chapter.

E He gathereth together almost all except that he spake of almes geuyng, whiche he teaq-ued heretofore. For by the he sheweth that he doth not falsly promyse hys comynge, nor that he wyl be false. Yet wyl he be that they may repent, and praye for good thynges for them.

Deute. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli.
Now come I the thyrde tyme vnto you.
In the mouth of two or thre witnesses shall euery thyng stande. I tolde you before, and tell you before, and
as I sayde when I was presente wth you
the seconde tyme, so wyl I now beynge
absente to them whiche in tyme past haue sinned, and to all other, that if I come a-gayne, I wyl not spare, sayng that ye haue sene experience of Christ whiche I preacheth in mee, whiche amonge you is not weake but is myghty in you. And verelpe though it came of weakenes that he was crucified, yet lyueth he thowhe the power of God. And we no doubte are weake in hym: but wee shall lyue wth hym by the
myght of god amonge you.

1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli. 1. Cor. xli.
E For your selues whether you be in the sapeth or not. Examyn your owne sel-ues knowe ye not your owne selues how
that Iesus Christe is in you, excepte ye be
caste awayes? I truste that ye shall knowe that we be no cast awayes. I desyre before God that ye doo none enuy, not that wee shoulde seme comendable, but that ye shuld
do that whiche is honest: and let vs be confessed as lewde persons. We can do nothyng agaynst the truth: But for the truth, we are glad when we are weake, and ye stronge.
Thys also we wishe for, euen that ye were perfect. Therefore wyte I these thynges being absent, least when I am present, I shuld

To the Corin. Cha. xiii.

ble tharpnes according to the power * whiche the Lorde hath geuen me, to edifie, and
not to destroye.

E Finallye brethren face ye wel, be perfect,
be of good comforte, be of one mynde, lyue
in peace: and the God of loue and of peace shall be wth you. * Grete one another in an holy kyse. Al the Sayntes salute you.
The grace of oure Lord Iesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the felowshipp of the holy ghost be wth you all. Amen. The seconde Epylle to the Corinthyans: Sent from Philippos a cite in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Prologe

vpō the Epylle of Saint

Paul to the Galathians.

Per reade Actes. xv. howe cer-
taine came from Iherusalem too Antioche and vnto the dysciples
there, aspyning that they coulde
not be saued excepte they were circumcised: And so after Paul had conuerted the Galathians and coupled them to Christ to trust in hym onely for the remission of syn, and hope of grace and saluacion, and was departed, there came false Apostles vnto them
(as vnto the Corinthyans, and to all places wher Paul hadde preached) and that in the name of Peter, James and John, whom they called the
hys Apostles, and preached circumcision and
heryng of the lawe, to be saued by, and minishd Pauls authority.

E To the confoundinge of those, Paul magnified hys offyce & Apostleship in the two syn-dicates, & maketh hym selfe equall vnto the hys Apostles, & concludeth that euery manne
must be iustified without deseruinges, without workes, and without helpe of the lawe, but alone by Christ.

E And in the thirde & fourth, he proueth & same with scripture, examples & similitudes, and sheweth that the lawe is cause of more syn, and byn-
geth the curse of god vpon vs, and iustifieth vs
not, but & iustifying cometh by grace promised vs of God thowhe the deseruynge of Christ, by whom (if we beleue) we are iustified without helpe
of the workes of the lawe.

E And in the v. and. vi. he exhorteth vnto the
workes of loue which followe sayth & iustifying.
So that in all his Epylle he obserueth this order. First he preacheth the damnation of & law then iustifying of sayth, and thirde the workes
of loue. For on that condicion that we loue and worke, is the mercy geuen vs.

The Epylle of saynte

Paul to the Galathians.

The first Chapter.

E Because the Galathian churches were fallen from the syncretisme of the Gospell, mynge-lynge therewith the workes of the lawe, Paul after he hath made commended hys vocation accuseth them of inconstancy. Last he sheweth what his old lyfe, callinge and
offyce were, considerynge that he receyued
not his gospell of men but of Christ onely.

of anye other that wente before hym. As yet he brought he wpth hym letters of reconmendacion or bulles of confirmacion. But the confir-macioun of his Apostleship; was the worde of God, conscience of me, and the power of the spirit that restyed wpth hym by myrracles and ma-nyfolde gyftes of grace.

State and Union.

The ii. Chapter.

He goeth on in his declaracion, wherein he teacheth that he learned not his Gospel, of the Apostles, but rather reproved Peter the chiefe of them, from thys he goeth leysurely to the effect of the matter, shewing that we be iustified by the grace of Christ, and not by the workes of the lawe.

Then xiii peres after that, I went vp again to Ierusalem with Barnabas and toke with me Titus also. And I wente by by reuelacion, and continued with them of the Gospell wher I preach among the Gentils: but apart with them whiche were counted chiefe, lest it shoulde haue bene thought that I should runne or had runne in vaine Also Titus wher was with me, though he were a Greke, yet was not compelled to be circumcised, and that because of incommen beinge false heithen which came in among other to speie out our libertie which we haue in Christe Iesus, & they mighte bringe vs into bondage. To whom wee gaue no tyme, no not for the space of an houre, as concerninge to bee brought into subieccion: and that because that the truth of the Gospell mighte conty-nue wth you.

Of them whiche seme to be greate what they were in time pasted, it maketh no matter to me: * God loketh on no mans person: neuertheles they whiche seme greate added nothing to me. But contrarie wyse, when they sawe that the Gospell ouer the vncircumcysion was comytted vnto me, as the Gospell ouer the cirkumcysion was vnto Peter, for he that was mightie in Peter in the Apostleship ouer the cirkumcysion, the same was mightie in me amongst the Gentyles, and therefore when they perceived þat grace that was geuen vnto me, then James Cephas and John, which seme to be pillars, gaue to me and Barnabas the right handes, and agreed with vs that we shoulde preache among the Heathen, and they among the Jewes, warning onely that we should remember the poore. * Which thing also I was diligent to do. And when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him in the face, for he was worthy to be blamed. For certayn came from James, he ate with the Gentiles. But when they were come, he withdrew and separated hymselfe, fearing them which were of the cirkumcysion. And the other Jewes dissembled likewise, insomuch that Barnabas was brought into the synagoge also. But when I sawe that they went not the right way after þe truth of the Gospel

Д
Зс. в. д.

patience fendeth & liberty of p gospel.

Paul is of
as I pe an thoutic as Peter, Pa
mes and Thou

Deute. d.
ii. ps. xix. c
Tab. xxi. c
dapp. vi. b Roma. ii. b
Eph. vi. b
Arto. x. c
i. Petri. i. c
e. e. d. x. c. d.
15

Circumstances are the jewels & direction
of the
the

Went to
H. Lopez to take baker's potter in the face

Dule an Apostie, not (a) of men, neyther by man, but by Iesus Chyulte. & by god the father whiche raised him from death: and al the bretren whiche are wpyth me. Unto the congregatep-

Roma. 1. 8. on of Salacia. * We be with you in peace
1. Cor. 1. 8. from God the father, and from our Lord 11. Cor. 1. 8. Jesus Christ, which gaue himselfe for our sinnes, to deliuer vs from this present euil worlde, thorow the wil of God our father, to whom be praise for euer and euer. Amen.

B I marvelle that ye are, so soone turned from him that called you in the grace of Christe, vnto another Gospell: whiche is nothing els, but that they be some y^e trouble you and^e intend to peruert the gospel of Christ. Neuertheles though we our sel-ues, or an angell from heauen, preach any other Gospell vnto you, then that whiche we haue preached vnto you, holde him as accused. As I haue sayed before, so saye I nowe agayne: if any man preach any other thinge vnto you then that you haue recei-ued, holde hym accused. Preache I mans doctrine, or Gods? Either go I aboute to please men? If I studied to please men, I were not the seruaunt of Christ.

¶ I certyfyed you brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, was not after the maner of men, neither receyued I it of man, neither was I taught it: but recei-ued it by the reuelacion of Iesus Christe.
For ye haue hearde of my conuersacion in time past, in the Jewes wayes: howe that beyond me I was, I persecuted the con-gregacion of God, and spoyled it, & preuailed in the Jewes lawe, aboue manie of my companions, which wer of myne own nacion, & was a much more feruent main-tainer of the traditions of the elders.

But when it pleased God (which separated me from my mothers wombe* and called me by his grace, for to declare his son by me) that I should preach him among the heathen, immediately I communed not of the matter with b. flehe* and bloude, neither returned to Ierusalē to the whicher Apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia & came againe to Damasco. Then after thine prayce I returned to Ierusalem to se Peter, and abode with him forty daies: none other of the Apostles sawe I, save Iames the Lordes brother. The things which I wote, beholde God knoweth. I lye not.* After that I went into the countreies of Syria and Cilicia, and was knowne as touching my person vnto the congregations of Jewes, which were in Christ. But they heard only that he which persecuted vs in time past, now preacheth the sayeth which before he destroyed. And they glorified God on my behalfe. † of the Notes.

Of man. (a) Poulc though he came longe after the Apostles, yet had he not hys authority of Peter, nor Roma. t. 5.

1. Florent. t. 5.
21. Florent. t. 5.

উচ্চ, ১০.৮

Зоб.хл.б

Act. vill. n.
res. s. xii. d
amb. xviii b
f. cop. xv. b.
* 1046. f. i. a

Acto. ix. v.

Deutsche

Paulus
Dospell
was not confirmed by the authority of man: but by the miracles of the spirit.
Act. xxi. d.

of max.

The Epistle of S. Paul

to the Galatys. Chapt. iii.

I sayde vnto Peter before al men. If thou beynge a Jewe, lyuest after the maner of the Gentyles, and not as doo the Jewes, why causest thou the Gentiles to lyue as do the Jewes? We whiche are Jewes by nature, and not synners of the Gentyles

Phil. iii. a. knowe that a man is not iustified by the Rom. iii. c.

(a) dedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Iesus Christ. And therefore we haue beleued on Iesus Christ, that we myghte be iustified by the fayth of Christ, & not by the dedes of the law: & that because that by the dedes of the law no fleshe can be iustified.

D Yf then whyle we seke to be made righteous by Christ, we oure selues are founde synners, is not then Christ the minister of synne? God forbid. For if I buyde againe that whiche I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser. But I thowowe the lawe am (b) deade to the lawe, that I myghte lyue vnto god: I am crucified wth Christ, I lyue yetely: yet nowe not I, but Christ lyueth in me. For the lyfe whiche I now lyue in the fleshe, I lyue by the fayth of the sonne of God: whiche loued me and gaue hymselfe for me. I despyse not the grace of god. For if righteousness come of the lawe then Christ dyed in vayne.

The Notes.

Dedes of the lawe. (a) The lawe threateneth my synne, and threateneth damnacion for the same, and therby diuertieth me to Christ for mercy and remission: For in the dedes of the law, is nowte to be found. For when we haue done all, we are vnpossible seruantes, and haue doone but our duty. We can not therefore by these dedes, deserue remission of our former offences.

Dead to the lawe. (b) So many as thowowe the threatenynge of the lawe haue fledde vnto Christ, and be crucified wth hym by mortyfying their fleshe by despyse, and castynge all theyr heauye burthen on his backe: are by the lawe deade to the lawe. That is thowow the terrible threatenynge of the lawe, they haue sought Christ: who deliuereth from the lawe, all them that come vnto hym, and setteth them at libertie, so as free men, and not as bond slaues.

The. iii. Chapter.

Now he enuyeth agaynst them, shewynge by manye argumentes that wee be iustified through the grace of Christ, by fayth, not by the workes of the lawe. And thus he reacheth by example of Abraham, and by the efficacy of fayth and of the lawe, shewynge wythall why the lawe was geuen: and that by fayth we are deliuered from the power and bondage thereof.

Folowe Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not beleue the truth? To whō Iesus Christ was described before the eyes, and amonge you crucified. This onely would I learne of you, receiued ye the spūite by the dedes of the lawe, or els by preachynge of the fayth? Are ye so vnwise, that after ye haue begonne in the spūite, ye woulde now end in the fleshe? So manye thynges then ye haue suffered in vayne, if that be vayne. Whiche ministered to you the spūite, and worketh miracles amonge you, doeth he it thowowe the dedes of the lawe, or by preachynge of the fayth? Euen as Abraham beleued God, and it was ascribed to hym for righteousnes. Understande therefore, that they which are of fayth, the same are the chylidren of Abraham.

For the scripture sa we afore hand, that God would iustifie the Heathen thowowe fayth: and therefore shewed before had glad tydings vnto Abraham: In the which all nations be blessed. So then they whiche be of fayth are blessed with faithfull Abraham. For as many as are vnder the dedes of the lawe, are vnder malediccion. For it is wrytten, cursed is euery man that conuyneth not in all thynges, which are wrytten in the booke of the lawe, to fulfill them. That no man is iustified by the lawe in the sight of God, is euident. For the iudiciall iure by fayth the lawe is not of fayth, but of the mā that fulfilleth the thynges contayned in the lawe, shall lyue in them. But Christ hath deliuered vs from the curse of the lawe, and was made accursed for vs. For it is wrytten, cursed is euery one that hangeth on tre, & the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles thowow Iesus Christ, and that we might receiue the promes of the spūit thowow fayth.

Brethren, I wil speake after the maner of men. I thought it be but a mannes testament, yet no manne dispiseth it, or addeth any thyng thereto when it is once allowed. For Abraham and his seede were the promyses made. The fayth not in thy seedes as in many: but in thy seede as in one, whiche is Christ. This I saye, that the lawe which began afterwarde, beyonde foure hundredth and thirtie peeres, doeth not disanull the Testament, that was conspymed afore of God vnto Christwarde, to make the promes of none effect. For if the inheritance come of the lawe, it cometh not of promes. But God gaue it vnto Abraham by promes.

Wherefore then setureth the lawe? The lawe was added because of transgression (till the seede came to whiche the promes was made) and it was ordeyned by angels in the hand of a mediator: he is not in euill for of one: But God is one. For the lawe then agaynst the promes of God: God forbid howbeit, if ther had ben a lawe geuen, which could haue geuen lyfe, then no dout righteousnes shoulde haue come by the lawe. But the scripture concluded all thynges vnder synne, that the promes by the fayth of Iesus Christ shoulde be geue vnto them that beleue.

Before the fayth came, we were kept & shut vp vnder the lawe to the fayth whiche shoulde afterwarde be declared. Wherefore the lawe was oure scholemaster to the tyme of Christ, that we might be made righteous by fayth. But after the fayth is come, now at we no longer vnder a scholemaster. For ye are all

Gen. xii. c. Rom. iii. a. Gal. iii. b 13

Gen. xii. a. and. xii. a. Eccl. xiii. The lawe curseth, but fayth blesteth. Deu. xii. b. For fayth onely maketh the consciēce alpe.

20. ii. a. Roman. x. c. 1 Cor. xvi. a. Eccl. x. b. Rom. x. a.

Christ was accursed for our sakes, & he was punished & claime for our sine.

Deu. xii. c.

Gen. xii. c. Exod. xii. c. Jerem. v. b. Act. vi. a. Rom. iii. c.

The lawe. Rom. vi. c. and. vi. b. Act. vi. g. Rom. vi. c. 1. Tim. i. b. The lawe geueth not lyfe, but threateneth death.

all the a. sonnes of GOD, by the sayeth which is in Christ Jesus. For all ye that are baptised, haue put on Christ. Now is there no Jewe neyther Gentyl, there is neyther bond nor fre: there is neither man nor woman: but ye are all one thynge in Christ Jesus. If ye be Chyldren, then are ye Abrahams seide and heires by promes.

The Notes.

Sonnes of God.

(a) True it is, that we are all the sons of God. So many of us as by faith are new borne chyldren in the generacion of the spirit. And so are we brothers and heires together with Christ in the kyngdom of his father. But yet is Christ (for whose sake we are adopted) the first begotten, euen of the substance of the father, and in diu. asne equal vnto hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

Because he entredeth to dispute more plainly of Chyldren lyberte, he rehearseth fyrste some what of the vse and properties of the lawe, from whiche he teacheth that wee are deliuered by Christ. Then blameth he them that were returned backe to the fyrst principles: and by comparing of theyr doctryne, he sheweth howe fowle theyr errors, discoueryng wrythall the decyies of the falsc Apostles. Then by a figure taken out of y law, he sheweth that we are bonde by the lawe, & deliuered by Christ.

And I saye that the heire as long as he is a chylde, differeth not from a seruaunt, though he be Lord of all, but is vnder tutours and gouerners, vntill the tyme appointed of the father. Euen so we, as long as we were chyliden, were in bondage vnder the ordinaunces of the worlde. But when the a. tyme was full come, god sent his sonne made of a woman, & made bond vnto the lawe, to redeme them, which were vnder the law: that we thozow election mighte receiue the inheritaunce that belongeth vnto the naturall sonnes. Because ye are sonnes, & God hath sente the spirit of his sonne into our hertes, whiche cryeth Abba father. Wherefore nowe thou art not a seruaunt but a sonne. If thou be the sonne, thou art also the heire of GOD thozowe Christ. &

Notwithstanding when ye knewe not God, ye dyd seruece vnto them & which by nature were no goddes. But now seying ye know god (yea rather are knowne of god) howe is it that ye retourne agayne too the weake and beggerly cetermenpes, wher vnto agayne ye despie a frellie to be in bondage? Ye obserue daies, and moneths, and tymes, and peaces, I am in fear of you lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.

Brethren, I beseech you, be ye as I am: for I am as ye are. Ye haue not hurte me at all. Ye know howe I now infirmities of the fleshe, I preached the Gospell vnto you at the first. And my temptacion whiche I suffered by reason of my fleshe, ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receiued me as on rebuke an angell of god: yea as Christ Jesus. How & y crosse. happye were ye then: for I bear your record that if it hadde bene possyble, ye wold haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen the to me. Am I therefore becc me your enemye, because I tel you the truth? They are gelous ouer you amisse, yea, they intended to exclude you, that ye should be feruent to themwarde. It is good alwayes to be feruent, so it be in a good thynge, and not only when I am present wth you.

Applyte chyliden of whome I trauallye in byth agayne vntill Christ be fastyned in you, I wold I wet wth you now, and coulde chaunge my voice: for I stande in a doubte of you. Tel me, ye that despie to be vnder the lawe, haue ye not hearde of the lawe? For it is wrytten that Abrahā had two sonnes, the one by a bonde mayde, the other by a fre woman. Yea and he whiche was of the bonde woman, was borne after the fleshe: but he which was of the fre woman, was borne by promes. Whiche thynge betoken a mistery. For these womenne are two testaments: the one from the mounte Syna, whiche gendreth to bondage which is Agar. For mount Syna is called Agar in Arabya, and borydeth vpon the cyp, which is nowe Hierusalem, and is in bondage with hyr chyliden.

But Hierusalem, which is aboue, is free: which is the mother of vs all. For it is wrytten: receiue thou baren that bearest no chyliden: breake forth and crye, thou that trauallyest not. For the desolate hath manye more chyliden then she which hath an husband. Brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, chyliden of promes. But as then, he y was borne carnallie, persecuted hym that was borne spirytualie: euen so is it nowe. Reuerthelesse what sayth the scrip ture: put awape the bond womanne and hyr sonne. For the sonne of the bonde woman shall not be heire wth the son of the fre womanne. So then brethren we are not chyliden of the bonde womanne: but of the fre woman.

The Notes.

(a) That was the tyme of Chyldes rompyng, who made an ende of the lawe, and deliuered vs from the burthen therof.

The.ii. Chapter.

He rebyleth them to perseuer in the Chyldren sayeth, except they entende to fall from Christ. & then threateneth he punishment to the falsc Apostles. And lest they wold abuse theyr lyberte in geuynge theyr fleshe the luste thereof, he appoynteth to them charitie, and wryteth them to crucify the fleshe wth the affeccon thereof.

So and saye therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made vs free, & wryteth I not your selues agayne in the poke of bondage. Behold I Paule saye vnto you, that if ye be circumcysed, Christ shal profyt you nothinge at all. I testifie agayne to euery man whiche is circumcysed, that he is bounde to kepe the whole law. Ye are gone quite from Christ as manye as are iustified

Genel. xvi. Gene. xxi. Heb. x. 1. a

D Apo. xxi. 9. & ap. i. iii

Eccl. v. Roma. ix. b

Gen. xxi. a

The tyme full come.

2 Tim. ii. 16

all the a. sonnes of GOD, by the sayeth which is in Christ Jesus. For all ye that are baptised, haue put on Christ. Now is there no Jewe neyther Gentyl, there is neyther bond nor fre: there is neither man nor woman: but ye are all one thynge in Christ Jesus. If ye be Chyldren, then are ye Abrahams seide and heires by promes.

The Notes.

Sonnes of God.

(a) True it is, that we are all the sons of God. So many of us as by faith are new borne chyldren in the generacon of the spirit. And so are we brothers and heires together with Christ in the kyngdom of his father. But yet is Christ (for whose sake we are adopted) the first begotten, euen of the substance of the father, and in diu. asne equal vnto hym.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Because he entredeth to dispute more plainly of Christen lyberte, he rehearseth fyrste some what of the vse and properties of the lawe, from whiche he teacheth that wee are deliuered by Christ. Then blameth he them that were returned backe to the first principles: and by comparing of theyr doctryne, he sheweth howe fowle theyr errors, discoueryng wrythall the decyies of the falsc Apostles. Then by a figure taken out of y law, he sheweth that we are bonde by the lawe, & deliuered by Christ.

And I saye that the hepe as long as he is a chylde, differeth not from a seruaunt, though he be Lord of all, but is vnder tutours and gouerners, vntill the tyme appointed of the father. Euen so we, as long as we were chyliden, were in bondage vnder the ordinaunces of the worlde. But when the a. tyme was full come, god sent his sonne made of a woman, & made bond vnto the lawe, to redeme them, which were vnder the law: that we thozow election mighte receiue the inheritaunce that belongeth vnto the naturall sonnes. Because ye are sonnes, & God hath sente the spirit of his sonne into our hertes, whiche cryeth Abba father. Wherefore nowe thou art not a seruaunt but a sonne. If thou be the sonne, thou art also the heire of GOD thozowe Christ. &

Not withstanding when ye knewe not God, ye dyd seruece vnto them & which by nature were no goddes. But now seying ye know god (yea rather are knowne of god) howe is it that ye retourne agayne too the weake and beggerly cetermenpes, wher vnto agayne ye despie afreshe to be in bondage? Ye obserue daies, and moneths, and tymes, and peaces, I am in fear of you lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.

Brethren, I beseech you, be ye as I am: for I am as ye are. Ye haue not hurte me at all. Ye know howe I now infirmities of the fleshe, I preached the Gospell vnto you at the first. And my temptacon whiche I suffered by reason of my fleshe, ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receiued me as on rebuke an angell of god: yea as Christ Jesus. How & y crosse. happye were ye then: for I bear your record that if it hadde bene possible, ye wold haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen the to me. Am I therefore becc me your enemye, because I tel you the truth? They are gelous ouer you amisse, yea, they intended to exclude you, that ye should be feruent to themwarde. It is good alwayes to be feruent, so it be in a good thynge, and not only when I am present wth you.

Applyte chyliden of whome I trauaile in byth agayne vntill Christ be fastyned in you, I wold I wet wth you now, and coulde chaunge my voice: for I stande in a doubte of you. Tel me, ye that despie to be vnder the lawe, haue ye not hearde of the lawe? For it is wrytten that Abrahā had two sonnes, the one by a bonde mayde, the other by a fre woman. Yea and he whiche was of the bonde woman, was borne after the fleshe: but he which was of the fre woman, was borne by promes. Whiche thynge betokene a mistery. For these womenne are two testaments: the one from the mounte Syna, whiche gendreth to bondage which is Agar. For mount Syna is called Agar in Arabya, and boudreth vpon the cyp, which is nowe Hierusalem, and is in bondage with hyr chyliden.

But Hierusalem, which is aboue, is free: which is the mother of vs all. For it is wrytten: receiue thou baren that bearest no chyliden: breake forth and crye, thou that trauailest not. For the desolate hath manye more chyliden then she which hath an husband. Brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, chyliden of promes. But as then, he y was borne carnallpe, persecuted hym that was borne spiritualpe: euen so is it nowe. Reuerthelesse what sayth the scrip ture: put awape the bond womanne and hyr sonne. For the sonne of the bonde woman shall not be heire wth the son of the fre womanne. So then brethren we are not chyliden of the bonde womanne: but of the fre woman.

The Notes.

(a) That was the tyme of Christes cominge, who made an ende of the lawe, and deliuered vs from the burthen therof.

The. v. Chapter.

He rebyleth them to perseuer in the Chy sten sayeth, excepte they entende to fall from Christe. & then threatneth he punishment to the falsc Apostles. And lest they wold abuse theyr lyberte in geuynge theyr fleshe the luste thereof, he appoynteth to them charitie, and wryteth them to crucify the fleshe wth the af fectyon thereof.

So and saye therefore in the liberty wherewith Christe hath made vs free, & wryap A not your selues agayne in the poke of bondage. Behold I Paule saye vnto you, that if ye be circumcysed, Christe shal profyt you nothinge at all. I testifie agayne to euery man whiche is circumcysed, that he is bounde to kepe the whole law. Ye are gone quite from Christe as manye as are iustified

Genel. xvi. Gene. xxi. Heb. x. 1. a

D Apo. xxi. 9. & ap. i. iii

Eccl. v. Roma. ix. b

Gen. xxi. a

The tyme full come.

2 Tim. ii. 15

The Epistle of saint Paul

These be they that are justified by the lawe, and are fallen from grace. We loke for and hope in the spirit, that we may be justified by the lawe of grace. * For in Iesu Christ, neither is circumcision any thinge worthy, neither yet uncircumcision, but faith which by loue is mighty in operatiō. Ie did run well: who was a let to you, that ye should not obeye the truth? Euen that I sayeth counsel, that is not of him that called you.

which was a lettel leuen doth leuen the whole lump keth thou of dowe.

rowe loue * I haue trust toward you in the lord, that is the true pe wil be none otherwise minded. kethat sayth and troubleth you, shall beare his iudgemente, all that whatsoeuer he be. Brethren, if I yet preach god requi- circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecu- reth of vs. cion? For then had the offence whiche the Galat. vi. a. crosse geueth, ceased. I would to God they were separated from you, whiche trouble

Galat. vi. a. you Brethren, ye were called into libertie only, * let not your libertie be an occasiō vnto the flesh, but in loue serue one ano- Galat. vi. a. ther. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, Galat. vi. a. whiche is this: Thou shalt loue thy neigh- Galat. vi. a. bour as thy selfe. If ye bite and deuour one Galat. vi. a. another, take heed lest ye be consumed one Galat. vi. a. of another.

Galat. vi. a. * I saye walke in the spirit, and fulfil not Galat. vi. a. the lustes of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth Galat. vi. a. contrary to the spirit: and the spirit con- Galat. vi. a. trary to the flesh. These are contrary one Galat. vi. a. to the other, so that ye can not do that which Galat. vi. a. ye wold. But and if ye be led of the spirit, Galat. vi. a. then are ye not vnder the lawe. The dedes Galat. vi. a. of the flesh are manifest, which are these,

Galat. vi. a. aduocacye, fornicacion, uncleannes, wan- Galat. vi. a. tonnes, ydolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, va- Galat. vi. a. riance, zeale, wrath, strife, sedicion, sectes, Galat. vi. a. enuyng, murder, drunkennes, gluttony, Galat. vi. a. and suchlike: of the whiche I tell you be- Galat. vi. a. fore, as I haue told you in tymes past, that Galat. vi. a. they which commit such thinges, shall not Galat. vi. a. inherite the kyngdome of God. But the Galat. vi. a. fruit of the spirit, is loue, ioye, peace, long Galat. vi. a. sufferinge, gentilnes, goodnes, faithfull- Galat. vi. a. nes, mekenes, temperance, agaynst such Galat. vi. a. ther is no law. They that are Chrystes, haue Galat. vi. a. crucified the flesh with the appetites and Galat. vi. a. lustes. I Galat. vi. a. * If we spue in the spirit, lette vs walke in Galat. vi. a. the spirit. Lette vs not be vaine gloriouse, Galat. vi. a. prouokynge one another, and enuyng one Galat. vi. a. another.

The vi. Chapter.

Galat. vi. a. * We counsaileth them to be gentle toward Galat. vi. a. such as fall through infirmities: he bodden Galat. vi. a. them loue one another, and forsydden selfe Galat. vi. a. loue, and vaine glorie. Then commendeth he Galat. vi. a. the ministers of the worde, and teacheth them Galat. vi. a. constancy in good workes, & also he affirmeth Galat. vi. a. the authoritie of hys Epistle, repressinge the Galat. vi. a. chiefe pointes therof.

Galat. vi. a. Brethren, if anye manne be fallen by Galat. vi. a. chaunce into any fault, ye whiche are Galat. vi. a. spirituall helpe to amende hym, in the Galat. vi. a. spirit of mekenes: consyderinge thy selfe, Galat. vi. a. least thou also be tempted. * Beate ye one

The dutye of euerye churche man.

Galat. vi. a. least thou also be tempted. * Beate ye one to the Galathy, Chap. vi.

another's burthen and so fulfill the law of Galat. vi. a. Christ. If anye man seme to himselfe, that Galat. vi. a. he is somewhat, whē in dede he is nothing, Galat. vi. a. the same deceiveth himselfe in his imagina- Galat. vi. a. tion. Let euery man proue his own work, made only Galat. vi. a. and then shall he haue reioysing in his own to the that Galat. vi. a. selfe, and not in another. For euery man wyl worke Galat. vi. a. shall beare hys owne burthen.

Galat. vi. a. Let him that is taught in the worde, mi- Galat. vi. a. nister vnto hym that teacheth him, in all Galat. vi. a. good thinges. Be not deceiued, God is not Galat. vi. a. mocked. * For whatsoeuer a man soweth, Galat. vi. a. that shall he reape. Be that soweth in hys Galat. vi. a. flesh: shall of the flesh reape corrupcion. Galat. vi. a. But he that soweth in the spirit, shall of the Galat. vi. a. spirit reape lyfe euerlastynge. * Let vs not Galat. vi. a. be wery of well doyng. For when the time Galat. vi. a. is come, we shall reape wthoute werynes. Galat. vi. a. Whyle we haue therfore tyme, lette vs do Galat. vi. a. good vnto al men, and specially vnto them Galat. vi. a. which are of the household of faith.

Galat. vi. a. * Beholde how large a letter I haue writ- Galat. vi. a. ten vnto you with mine owne hand. As ma- Galat. vi. a. ny as despie with outwarde apperaunce to Galat. vi. a. please carnallye, they constraine you to be Galat. vi. a. circumcised, only because they woulde not Galat. vi. a. suffer persecucion with the crosse of Christ. Galat. vi. a. For they themselves whiche are circumci- Galat. vi. a. sed, kepe not the lawe: but despie to haue Galat. vi. a. you circumcised, that they mighte reioyce Galat. vi. a. in our flesh.

Galat. vi. a. God forbid that I should reioyse but in Galat. vi. a. the crosse of our Lorde Iesu Christ, wher- Galat. vi. a. by the world is crucified as touchynge me, Galat. vi. a. and I as concernynge the worlde. For in Galat. vi. a. Christ Iesu neither circumcision availeth Galat. vi. a. any thinge at all, nor uncircumcision, but Galat. vi. a. a newe creature. And as many as walke ac- Galat. vi. a. cording to this rule: peace be on them, and Galat. vi. a. mercy, and vpon Israell that pertapneth Galat. vi. a. to wood: From hence forth, let no man put Galat. vi. a. me to busynes. For I beare in my body the Galat. vi. a. markes of the Lorde Iesu. Brethren, the Galat. vi. a. grace of our lord Iesu Christ be with youre Galat. vi. a. spirit. Amen.

Galat. vi. a. Vnto the Galathians writ- Galat. vi. a. ten from Rome.

The Prologe vpo the Epylle of Saint Paul to the Ephesians.

Galat. vi. a. This is the first Chapter, where Paul sheweth Galat. vi. a. that the Gospell and grace thereof Galat. vi. a. was foretold and predestinate of god Galat. vi. a. from before the begynnyng, and described thow- Galat. vi. a. rowe Christe, and nowe at the laste sente forth Galat. vi. a. that all men should beleue thereon, thereby to be Galat. vi. a. iustified, made righteous, ioyous and happy, Galat. vi. a. and to be deliuered from vnder the dampnacy- Galat. vi. a. on of the lawe, and captiuitie of ceremonies.

Galat. vi. a. And in the fourth he teacheth to auoyde tras- Galat. vi. a. dyssions and mens doctrynes, and to beware of Galat. vi. a. putting

The Epistle of saint Paul

These be they that are justified by the lawe, and are fallen from grace. We loke for and hope in the spirit, that we may be justified by the lawe of grace. * For in Jesu Christ, neither is circumcision any thinge worthy, neither yet uncircumcision, but faith which by love is mighty in operatiō. Ye did run well: who was a let to you, that ye should not obeye the truth? Euen that spareth counsell, that is not of him that called you. which was a litle leuen doth leuen the whole lump keth those of dowe.

For I have trust toward you in the lord, that is the true love ye will be none otherwise minded. Keth that sayth and troubleth you, shall beare his iudgemente, all that whatsoeuer he be. Brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecucion? For then had the offence whiche the crosse geueth, ceased. I would to God they were separated from you, whiche trouble you Brethren, ye were called into libertie only, * let not your libertie be an occasiō vnto the flesh, but in love serue one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, whiche is this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy selfe. If ye bite and deuour one another, take hede lest ye be consumed one of another.

* I saie walke in the spirit, and fulfil not the lustes of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth contrary to the spirit: and the spirit contrary to the flesh. These are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not do that which ye wold. But and if ye be led of the spirit, then are ye not vnder the lawe. The dedes of the flesh are manifest, which are these, aduocacy, fornicacion, uncleannes, wantonnes, ydolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, variance, zeale, wrath, strife, sedicion, sectes, enuyng, murder, drunkennes, gluttony, and suchlike: of the whiche I tell you before, as I haue told you in tymes past, that they which commit such thinges, shall not inherite the kyngdome of God. But the fruit of the spirit, is love, ioye, peace, long suffering, gentlenes, goodnes, faithfulness, mekenes, temperance, agaynst such ther is no law. They that are Christs, haue crucified the flesh with the appetites and lustes.

* If we spue in the spirit, lette vs walke in the spirit. Lette vs not be vaine gloriouse, prouokynge one another, and enuyng one another.

The vi. Chapter.

He counsaileth them to be gentle toward such as fall through infirmities: he bodden them love one another, and forbyddeth selfe love, and vaine glorie. Then commendeth he the ministers of the worde, and teacheth them constancy in good workes, & also he affirmeth the authoritie of his Epistle, repressinge the chiefe pointes therof.

These be they that are fallen by chaunce into any fault, ye whiche are spirituall helpe to amende hym, in the spirit of mekenes: consyderinge thy selfe, least thou also be tempted. * Beate ye one to the Galathey, Chap. vi.

another's burthen and so fulfill the law of Christ. If anye man seme to himselfe, that he is somewhat, when in dede he is nothing, the same deceiveth himselfe in his imagination. Let euery man proue his own work, made only and then shall he haue reioysing in his own to the selfe, and not in another. For euery man shall beare his owne burthen.

Let him that is taught in the worde, minister vnto hym that teacheth him, in all good thinges. Be not deceived, God is not mocked. * For what soeuer a man soweth, that shall he reape. Be that soweth in his flesh: shall of the flesh reape corrupcion. But he that soweth in the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life euerslastynge. * Let vs not be wery of well doinge. For when the time is come, we shall reape without werynes. Whyle we haue therfore tyme, lette vs do good vnto all men, and specially vnto them which are of the household of faith.

* Beholde how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand. As many as despie with outwarde apperaunce to please carnallye, they constraine you to be circumcised, only because they woulde not suffer persecucion with the crosse of Christ. For they themselves whiche are circumcised, kepe not the lawe: but despie to haue you circumcised, that they mighte reioyce in our flesh.

God forbid that I should reioyse but in the crosse of our Lorde Jesu Christ, whereby the world is crucified as touchynge me, and I as concernynge the worlde. For in Christ Jesu neither circumcision availeth any thinge at all, nor uncircumcision, but a newe creature. And as many as walke according to this rule: peace be on them, and mercy, and vpon Israell that pertapneth to wood: From hence forth, let no man put me to busynes. For I beare in my body the markes of the Lorde Jesu. Brethren, the grace of our lord Jesu Christ be with youre spirit. Amen.

Unto the Galatians written from Rome.

The Prologe vnto the Epistle of Saint Paul to the Ephesians.

This is Pauls Epistle, and namely in the first Chapters, Paul sheweth that the Gospell and grace thereof was foretold and predestinate of God from before the begynnynge, and described thowre Christ, and nowe at the laste sente forth that all men should beleue thereon, thereby to be iustified, made righteous, ioyous and happy, and to be deliuered from vnder the dampnation of the lawe, and captiuitie of ceremonies.

And in the fourth he teacheth to amende their doctrynes, and to beware of putting

The counsaunte of mercy in Christ is made only and to the selfe that wyl worke. Rom. xiii. Rom. xvi. 1. Cor. xiii. 1. Job. xiii. 1. 1. Cor. xiii. 1.

Nothing helpeth saue to be a newe creature. Galat. v. 6. 1. Cor. xiii. 1.

The Epistle of S. Paul

puttyng trust in anye thyng, saue in Christ, as-fyrmyng that he onely is suffeient, and that in hym we haue all thynges, and besyde hym, neede nothyng.

In the v. and. vi. he exhorteth to exerceise the fayeth, and to declare it abroade thowowe good workes, and to auoide synne, and to arme them wyth spirituall armour agaynst the devyll, & they might stande faste in tyme of trybulacion, and vnder the crosse.

The epistle of saynt Paule vnto the Ephesians.

The first Chapter.

And by after the beginning, he teacheth that befoze the worlde was made, God appointed to saue vs by Christ, in whom he hath opened all the treasures of knowledge and health: And while he wytheth to the Ephesians the knowledge of hym, he getteth hym the good wyll, reachyng wythall what is geuen of Christ, and what oughe cheifely to be craued of God.

And an Apostle of Jesu
Christ by the wyll of God.
To the Sanctes whiche are at Ephesus, & to them whiche beleue on Iesus Christ: Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and our lord Iesu Christ.

Blessed be the father of our lord Jesus Christ, which hath blessed vs wyth all manner of spirituall blessing in heauenly thynges by Christ, accordyng as he had chosen vs in him, befoze the foundation of the worlde was layed, that wee shoulde be sanctes and withoute blame befoze hym thorowe loue. And ordeined vs befoze tho-row Iesu Christ, to be heries vnto hym selfe, accordyng to the pleasure of hys wil, to the praise of the glorie of his grace, wher wyth he hath made vs accepted in the be-loued.

By whom we haue redempcion thowowe hys bloud, euen the forgyuenes of synnes, accordyng to the riches of his grace, which he geueth vnto vs abundantly in all wisdom and perseruance. And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his will ac-cordyng to hys pleasure, and purposed the same in him selfe, to haue it declared whē the tyme were full come: that all thynges, both the thynges which are in heauen, and also the thynges which are in earth, shoulde be gathered together euen in Christ: that is to say, in him, in whom we are made he-ries, and were thereto predestinate accor-dyng to the purpose of him which worketh all thynges after the purpose of hys owne wil, that we which befoze beleued in Christ shoulde be vnto the prayse of hys glorie.

In whom also ye (after that ye heard the

to the Ephes. Chapt. i. Fo. lxxxix.

word of truth, I mean the Gospel of pour saluacion, wher in ye beleued, & were sealed with the holy spirit of promys, which is the earnest of our inheritaunce, to redeme the purchased possession, and that vnto the laude of hys glorie.

Wherefore, euen I after that I heard of the fayeth whiche ye haue in the Lord Jesu, and loue vnto all the sanctes, & cease not to geue thanks for you, making men-cion of you in my prayers, that the God of our Lord Iesus Christ, and the father of glorie, might geue vnto you the spirit of wisdom, and open to you the knowledge of hym selfe, and lighten the eyes of your myndes, that ye myght know what that hope is, wherunto he hath called you, and what the riches of hys glorious inheritaunce is vpon the sanctes, and what is the excedyng greatnes of hys power to vs warde, whiche beleue accordyng to the working of that his mighty power, whiche he wrought in Christ, when he rased him fro the deade, and set him on hys right hand in heauenly thynges, aboue all rule, power, and might, and dominion, and aboue all names that are named, not in this world only, but also in the world to come: and hath put all thynges vnder hys fecte, and hath made hym aboue all thynges, & the head of the congregacion, which is his body, and the fulnes of him that filleth all in all thynges.

The ii. Chapter.

He teacheth that all menne be synners, and are wylfyll by Christ. Then sheweth he that the Gentyles are also called to salua-cion, in as much as Christ hath taken away the stoppe of the lawe, and hath made of all belouers, but one Church.

And pou hath he quickened also that were deade in trespass and synne, in the whiche in tyme passed ye walked accordyng to the couise of this worlde, and after the gouernour that ruleth in the aier, the spirit that now worketh in the chyliden of vnbelyfe, among whiche we also had oure conuersacion in tyme passe, in the lustes of oure fleshe, and fulfilled the wyll of the fleshe and of the mynde: & were naturallie the chyliden of wrath, euen as well as other.

But God which is rich in mercy thowow hys greatesse loue wherewyth he loued vs, euen when wee were deade by synne, hath quickened vs together in Christ (for by grace are ye saued) and hath rased vs vp together, and made vs sit together in hea-uenly thynges thowow Christ Iesu, for to shew in tyme to come the excedyng riches of his grace in kindnes to vsward in Christ Iesu.

For by grace are ye made safe thowowe fayth, and that not of your selues. For it is the gyft of God, and cometh not of workes, lest any man shoulde boaste hymselfe.
For we are his workeman shyppe created in Christ

Ro. vii. d.
ii. Cor. i. v.
and v. a

Where
sayeth to Christe is,
there is loue to all bare fantysped in his bloud.
hope.

* Rom. i. a
Phil. i. b
Collo. i. a
ii. Cor. i. a
* Ro. xv. c.

Fayth is worke of god only,
euen as was pray-
sing vpon Christ.

Phil. ii. a
Deu. vii. d
Phil. vii. c
Job ii
i. Cor. xv. d
Eph. v. c
Collo. i. c

Roma. v. a Collo. i. c

Collo. iii. a

We be all by nature
the chylde of wrath & heries of dampna-
cion.

Rom. i. a
i. Cor. i. a Gala. i. a
i. Pet. i. a
ii. Cor. i. a
ii. Pet. i. a

Colo. i. c.
Redemp-cion is for-gyuenes
of synnes.
Galyer is secret cou-
sell.
Gala. iii. a

The Epistle of S. Paul

to the Ephes. Chapt. iii.

Titus. i. d. in Christ Jesus to good (a) works, unto the which God ordeined vs before, that we shoulde walke in them.

1. Cor. xii. a 1. Cor. xii. b 1. Cor. xii. c 1. Cor. xii. d 1. Cor. xii. e 1. Cor. xii. f 1. Cor. xii. g 1. Cor. xii. h 1. Cor. xii. i 1. Cor. xii. j 1. Cor. xii. k 1. Cor. xii. l 1. Cor. xii. m 1. Cor. xii. n 1. Cor. xii. o 1. Cor. xii. p 1. Cor. xii. q 1. Cor. xii. r 1. Cor. xii. s 1. Cor. xii. t 1. Cor. xii. u 1. Cor. xii. v 1. Cor. xii. w 1. Cor. xii. x 1. Cor. xii. y 1. Cor. xii. z 1. Cor. xii. aa 1. Cor. xii. ab 1. Cor. xii. ac 1. Cor. xii. ad 1. Cor. xii. ae 1. Cor. xii. af 1. Cor. xii. ag 1. Cor. xii. ah 1. Cor. xii. ai 1. Cor. xii. aj 1. Cor. xii. ak 1. Cor. xii. al 1. Cor. xii. am 1. Cor. xii. an 1. Cor. xii. ao 1. Cor. xii. ap 1. Cor. xii. aq 1. Cor. xii. ar 1. Cor. xii. as 1. Cor. xii. at 1. Cor. xii. au 1. Cor. xii. av 1. Cor. xii. aw 1. Cor. xii. ax 1. Cor. xii. ay 1. Cor. xii. az 1. Cor. xii. ba 1. Cor. xii. bb 1. Cor. xii. bc 1. Cor. xii. bd 1. Cor. xii. be 1. Cor. xii. bf 1. Cor. xii. bg 1. Cor. xii. bh 1. Cor. xii. bi 1. Cor. xii. bj 1. Cor. xii. bk 1. Cor. xii. bl 1. Cor. xii. bm 1. Cor. xii. bn 1. Cor. xii. bo 1. Cor. xii. bp 1. Cor. xii. bq 1. Cor. xii. br 1. Cor. xii. bs 1. Cor. xii. bt 1. Cor. xii. bu 1. Cor. xii. bv 1. Cor. xii. bw 1. Cor. xii. bx 1. Cor. xii. by 1. Cor. xii. bz 1. Cor. xii. ca 1. Cor. xii. cb 1. Cor. xii. cc 1. Cor. xii. cd 1. Cor. xii. ce 1. Cor. xii. cf 1. Cor. xii. cg 1. Cor. xii. ch 1. Cor. xii. ci 1. Cor. xii. cj 1. Cor. xii. ck 1. Cor. xii. cl 1. Cor. xii. cm 1. Cor. xii. cn 1. Cor. xii. co 1. Cor. xii. cp 1. Cor. xii. cq 1. Cor. xii. cr 1. Cor. xii. cs 1. Cor. xii. ct 1. Cor. xii. cu 1. Cor. xii. cv 1. Cor. xii. cw 1. Cor. xii. cx 1. Cor. xii. cy 1. Cor. xii. cz 1. Cor. xii. da 1. Cor. xii. db 1. Cor. xii. dc 1. Cor. xii. dd 1. Cor. xii. de 1. Cor. xii. df 1. Cor. xii. dg 1. Cor. xii. dh 1. Cor. xii. di 1. Cor. xii. dj 1. Cor. xii. dk 1. Cor. xii. dl 1. Cor. xii. dm 1. Cor. xii. dn 1. Cor. xii. do 1. Cor. xii. dp 1. Cor. xii. dq 1. Cor. xii. dr 1. Cor. xii. ds 1. Cor. xii. dt 1. Cor. xii. du 1. Cor. xii. dv 1. Cor. xii. dw 1. Cor. xii. dx 1. Cor. xii. dy 1. Cor. xii. dz 1. Cor. xii. ea 1. Cor. xii. eb 1. Cor. xii. ec 1. Cor. xii. ed 1. Cor. xii. ee 1. Cor. xii. ef 1. Cor. xii. eg 1. Cor. xii. eh 1. Cor. xii. ei 1. Cor. xii. ej 1. Cor. xii. ek 1. Cor. xii. el 1. Cor. xii. em 1. Cor. xii. en 1. Cor. xii. eo 1. Cor. xii. ep 1. Cor. xii. eq 1. Cor. xii. er 1. Cor. xii. es 1. Cor. xii. et 1. Cor. xii. eu 1. Cor. xii. ev 1. Cor. xii. ew 1. Cor. xii. ex 1. Cor. xii. ey 1. Cor. xii. ez 1. Cor. xii. fa 1. Cor. xii. fb 1. Cor. xii. fc 1. Cor. xii. fd 1. Cor. xii. fe 1. Cor. xii. ff 1. Cor. xii. fg 1. Cor. xii. fh 1. Cor. xii. fi 1. Cor. xii. fj 1. Cor. xii. fk 1. Cor. xii. fl 1. Cor. xii. fm 1. Cor. xii. fn 1. Cor. xii. fo 1. Cor. xii. fp 1. Cor. xii. fq 1. Cor. xii. fr 1. Cor. xii. fs 1. Cor. xii. ft 1. Cor. xii. fu 1. Cor. xii. fv 1. Cor. xii. fw 1. Cor. xii. fx 1. Cor. xii. fy 1. Cor. xii. fz 1. Cor. xii. ga 1. Cor. xii. gb 1. Cor. xii. gc 1. Cor. xii. gd 1. Cor. xii. ge 1. Cor. xii. gf 1. Cor. xii. gg 1. Cor. xii. gh 1. Cor. xii. gi 1. Cor. xii. gj 1. Cor. xii. gk 1. Cor. xii. gl 1. Cor. xii. gm 1. Cor. xii. gn 1. Cor. xii. go 1. Cor. xii. gp 1. Cor. xii. gq 1. Cor. xii. gr 1. Cor. xii. gs 1. Cor. xii. gt 1. Cor. xii. gu 1. Cor. xii. gv 1. Cor. xii. gw 1. Cor. xii. gx 1. Cor. xii. gy 1. Cor. xii. gz 1. Cor. xii. ha 1. Cor. xii. hb 1. Cor. xii. hc 1. Cor. xii. hd 1. Cor. xii. he 1. Cor. xii. hf 1. Cor. xii. hg 1. Cor. xii. hh 1. Cor. xii. hi 1. Cor. xii. hj 1. Cor. xii. hk 1. Cor. xii. hl 1. Cor. xii. hm 1. Cor. xii. hn 1. Cor. xii. ho 1. Cor. xii. hp 1. Cor. xii. hq 1. Cor. xii. hr 1. Cor. xii. hs 1. Cor. xii. ht 1. Cor. xii. hu 1. Cor. xii. hv 1. Cor. xii. hw 1. Cor. xii. hx 1. Cor. xii. hy 1. Cor. xii. hz 1. Cor. xii. ia 1. Cor. xii. ib 1. Cor. xii. ic 1. Cor. xii. id 1. Cor. xii. ie 1. Cor. xii. if 1. Cor. xii. ig 1. Cor. xii. ih 1. Cor. xii. ii 1. Cor. xii. ij 1. Cor. xii. ik 1. Cor. xii. il 1. Cor. xii. im 1. Cor. xii. in 1. Cor. xii. io 1. Cor. xii. ip 1. Cor. xii. iq 1. Cor. xii. ir 1. Cor. xii. is 1. Cor. xii. it 1. Cor. xii. iu 1. Cor. xii. iv 1. Cor. xii. iw 1. Cor. xii. ix 1. Cor. xii. iy 1. Cor. xii. iz 1. Cor. xii. ja 1. Cor. xii. jb 1. Cor. xii. jc 1. Cor. xii. jd 1. Cor. xii. je 1. Cor. xii. jf 1. Cor. xii. jg 1. Cor. xii. jh 1. Cor. xii. ji 1. Cor. xii. jj 1. Cor. xii. jk 1. Cor. xii. jl 1. Cor. xii. jm 1. Cor. xii. jn 1. Cor. xii. jo 1. Cor. xii. jp 1. Cor. xii. jq 1. Cor. xii. jr 1. Cor. xii. js 1. Cor. xii. jt 1. Cor. xii. ju 1. Cor. xii. jv 1. Cor. xii. jw 1. Cor. xii. jx 1. Cor. xii. jy 1. Cor. xii. jz 1. Cor. xii. ka 1. Cor. xii. kb 1. Cor. xii. kc 1. Cor. xii. kd 1. Cor. xii. ke 1. Cor. xii. kf 1. Cor. xii. kg 1. Cor. xii. kh 1. Cor. xii. ki 1. Cor. xii. kj 1. Cor. xii. kk 1. Cor. xii. kl 1. Cor. xii. km 1. Cor. xii. kn 1. Cor. xii. ko 1. Cor. xii. kp 1. Cor. xii. kq 1. Cor. xii. kr 1. Cor. xii. ks 1. Cor. xii. kt 1. Cor. xii. ku 1. Cor. xii. kv 1. Cor. xii. kw 1. Cor. xii. kx 1. Cor. xii. ky 1. Cor. xii. kz 1. Cor. xii. la 1. Cor. xii. lb 1. Cor. xii. lc 1. Cor. xii. ld 1. Cor. xii. le 1. Cor. xii. lf 1. Cor. xii. lg 1. Cor. xii. lh 1. Cor. xii. li 1. Cor. xii. lj 1. Cor. xii. lk 1. Cor. xii. ll 1. Cor. xii. lm 1. Cor. xii. ln 1. Cor. xii. lo 1. Cor. xii. lp 1. Cor. xii. lq 1. Cor. xii. lr 1. Cor. xii. ls 1. Cor. xii. lt 1. Cor. xii. lu 1. Cor. xii. lv 1. Cor. xii. lw 1. Cor. xii. lx 1. Cor. xii. ly 1. Cor. xii. lz 1. Cor. xii. ma 1. Cor. xii. mb 1. Cor. xii. mc 1. Cor. xii. md 1. Cor. xii. me 1. Cor. xii. mf 1. Cor. xii. mg 1. Cor. xii. mh 1. Cor. xii. mi 1. Cor. xii. mj 1. Cor. xii. mk 1. Cor. xii. ml 1. Cor. xii. mm 1. Cor. xii. mn 1. Cor. xii. mo 1. Cor. xii. mp 1. Cor. xii. mq 1. Cor. xii. mr 1. Cor. xii. ms 1. Cor. xii. mt 1. Cor. xii. mu 1. Cor. xii. mv 1. Cor. xii. mw 1. Cor. xii. mx 1. Cor. xii. my 1. Cor. xii. mz 1. Cor. xii. na 1. Cor. xii. nb 1. Cor. xii. nc 1. Cor. xii. nd 1. Cor. xii. ne 1. Cor. xii. nf 1. Cor. xii. ng 1. Cor. xii. nh 1. Cor. xii. ni 1. Cor. xii. nj 1. Cor. xii. nk 1. Cor. xii. nl 1. Cor. xii. nm 1. Cor. xii. nn 1. Cor. xii. no 1. Cor. xii. np 1. Cor. xii. nq 1. Cor. xii. nr 1. Cor. xii. ns 1. Cor. xii. nt 1. Cor. xii. nu 1. Cor. xii. nv 1. Cor. xii. nw 1. Cor. xii. nx 1. Cor. xii. ny 1. Cor. xii. nz 1. Cor. xii. oa 1. Cor. xii. ob 1. Cor. xii. oc 1. Cor. xii. od 1. Cor. xii. oe 1. Cor. xii. of 1. Cor. xii. og 1. Cor. xii. oh 1. Cor. xii. oi 1. Cor. xii. oj 1. Cor. xii. ok 1. Cor. xii. ol 1. Cor. xii. om 1. Cor. xii. on 1. Cor. xii. oo 1. Cor. xii. op 1. Cor. xii. oq 1. Cor. xii. or 1. Cor. xii. os 1. Cor. xii. ot 1. Cor. xii. ou 1. Cor. xii. ov 1. Cor. xii. ow 1. Cor. xii. ox 1. Cor. xii. oy 1. Cor. xii. oz 1. Cor. xii. pa 1. Cor. xii. pb 1. Cor. xii. pc 1. Cor. xii. pd 1. Cor. xii. pe 1. Cor. xii. pf 1. Cor. xii. pg 1. Cor. xii. ph 1. Cor. xii. pi 1. Cor. xii. pj 1. Cor. xii. pk 1. Cor. xii. pl 1. Cor. xii. pm 1. Cor. xii. pn 1. Cor. xii. po 1. Cor. xii. pp 1. Cor. xii. pq 1. Cor. xii. pr 1. Cor. xii. ps 1. Cor. xii. pt 1. Cor. xii. pu 1. Cor. xii. pv 1. Cor. xii. pw 1. Cor. xii. px 1. Cor. xii. py 1. Cor. xii. pz 1. Cor. xii. qa 1. Cor. xii. qb 1. Cor. xii. qc 1. Cor. xii. qd 1. Cor. xii. qe 1. Cor. xii. qf 1. Cor. xii. qg 1. Cor. xii. qh 1. Cor. xii. qi 1. Cor. xii. qj 1. Cor. xii. qk 1. Cor. xii. ql 1. Cor. xii. qm 1. Cor. xii. qn 1. Cor. xii. qo 1. Cor. xii. qp 1. Cor. xii. qq 1. Cor. xii. qr 1. Cor. xii. qs 1. Cor. xii. qt 1. Cor. xii. qu 1. Cor. xii. qv 1. Cor. xii. qw 1. Cor. xii. qx 1. Cor. xii. qy 1. Cor. xii. qz 1. Cor. xii. ra 1. Cor. xii. rb 1. Cor. xii. rc 1. Cor. xii. rd 1. Cor. xii. re 1. Cor. xii. rf 1. Cor. xii. rg 1. Cor. xii. rh 1. Cor. xii. ri 1. Cor. xii. rj 1. Cor. xii. rk 1. Cor. xii. rl 1. Cor. xii. rm 1. Cor. xii. rn 1. Cor. xii. ro 1. Cor. xii. rp 1. Cor. xii. rq 1. Cor. xii. rr 1. Cor. xii. rs 1. Cor. xii. rt 1. Cor. xii. ru 1. Cor. xii. rv 1. Cor. xii. rw 1. Cor. xii. rx 1. Cor. xii. ry 1. Cor. xii. rz 1. Cor. xii. sa 1. Cor. xii. sb 1. Cor. xii. sc 1. Cor. xii. sd 1. Cor. xii. se 1. Cor. xii. sf 1. Cor. xii. sg 1. Cor. xii. sh 1. Cor. xii. si 1. Cor. xii. sj 1. Cor. xii. sk 1. Cor. xii. sl 1. Cor. xii. sm 1. Cor. xii. sn 1. Cor. xii. so 1. Cor. xii. sp 1. Cor. xii. sq 1. Cor. xii. sr 1. Cor. xii. ss 1. Cor. xii. st 1. Cor. xii. su 1. Cor. xii. sv 1. Cor. xii. sw 1. Cor. xii. sx 1. Cor. xii. sy 1. Cor. xii. sz 1. Cor. xii. ta 1. Cor. xii. tb 1. Cor. xii. tc 1. Cor. xii. td 1. Cor. xii. te 1. Cor. xii. tf 1. Cor. xii. tg 1. Cor. xii. th 1. Cor. xii. ti 1. Cor. xii. tj 1. Cor. xii. tk 1. Cor. xii. tl 1. Cor. xii. tm 1. Cor. xii. tn 1. Cor. xii. to 1. Cor. xii. tp 1. Cor. xii. tq 1. Cor. xii. tr 1. Cor. xii. ts 1. Cor. xii. tt 1. Cor. xii. tu 1. Cor. xii. tv 1. Cor. xii. tw 1. Cor. xii. tx 1. Cor. xii. ty 1. Cor. xii. tz 1. Cor. xii. ua 1. Cor. xii. ub 1. Cor. xii. uc 1. Cor. xii. ud 1. Cor. xii. ue 1. Cor. xii. uf 1. Cor. xii. ug 1. Cor. xii. uh 1. Cor. xii. ui 1. Cor. xii. uj 1. Cor. xii. uk 1. Cor. xii. ul 1. Cor. xii. um 1. Cor. xii. un 1. Cor. xii. uo 1. Cor. xii. up 1. Cor. xii. uq 1. Cor. xii. ur 1. Cor. xii. us 1. Cor. xii. ut 1. Cor. xii. uu 1. Cor. xii. uv 1. Cor. xii. uw 1. Cor. xii. ux 1. Cor. xii. uy 1. Cor. xii. uz 1. Cor. xii. va 1. Cor. xii. vb 1. Cor. xii. vc 1. Cor. xii. vd 1. Cor. xii. ve 1. Cor. xii. vf 1. Cor. xii. vg 1. Cor. xii. vh 1. Cor. xii. vi 1. Cor. xii. vj 1. Cor. xii. vk 1. Cor. xii. vl 1. Cor. xii. vm 1. Cor. xii. vn 1. Cor. xii. vo 1. Cor. xii. vp 1. Cor. xii. vq 1. Cor. xii. vr 1. Cor. xii. vs 1. Cor. xii. vt 1. Cor. xii. vu 1. Cor. xii. vv 1. Cor. xii. vw 1. Cor. xii. vx 1. Cor. xii. vy 1. Cor. xii. vz 1. Cor. xii. wa 1. Cor. xii. wb 1. Cor. xii. wc 1. Cor. xii. wd 1. Cor. xii. we 1. Cor. xii. wf 1. Cor. xii. wg 1. Cor. xii. wh 1. Cor. xii. wi 1. Cor. xii. wj 1. Cor. xii. wk 1. Cor. xii. wl 1. Cor. xii. wm 1. Cor. xii. wn 1. Cor. xii. wo 1. Cor. xii. wp 1. Cor. xii. wq 1. Cor. xii. wr 1. Cor. xii. ws 1. Cor. xii. wt 1. Cor. xii. wu 1. Cor. xii. wv 1. Cor. xii. ww 1. Cor. xii. wx 1. Cor. xii. wy 1. Cor. xii. wz 1. Cor. xii. xa 1. Cor. xii. xb 1. Cor. xii. xc 1. Cor. xii. xd 1. Cor. xii. xe 1. Cor. xii. xf 1. Cor. xii. xg 1. Cor. xii. xh 1. Cor. xii. xi 1. Cor. xii. xj 1. Cor. xii. xk 1. Cor. xii. xl 1. Cor. xii. xm 1. Cor. xii. xn 1. Cor. xii. xo 1. Cor. xii. xp 1. Cor. xii. xq 1. Cor. xii. xr 1. Cor. xii. xs 1. Cor. xii. xt 1. Cor. xii. xu 1. Cor. xii. xv 1. Cor. xii. xw 1. Cor. xii. xx 1. Cor. xii. xy 1. Cor. xii. xz 1. Cor. xii. ya 1. Cor. xii. yb 1. Cor. xii. yc 1. Cor. xii. yd 1. Cor. xii. ye 1. Cor. xii. yf 1. Cor. xii. yg 1. Cor. xii. yh 1. Cor. xii. yi 1. Cor. xii. yj 1. Cor. xii. yk 1. Cor. xii. yl 1. Cor. xii. ym 1. Cor. xii. yn 1. Cor. xii. yo 1. Cor. xii. yp 1. Cor. xii. yq 1. Cor. xii. yr 1. Cor. xii. ys 1. Cor. xii. yt 1. Cor. xii. yu 1. Cor. xii. yv 1. Cor. xii. yw 1. Cor. xii. yx 1. Cor. xii. yy 1. Cor. xii. yz 1. Cor. xii. za 1. Cor. xii. zb 1. Cor. xii. zc 1. Cor. xii. zd 1. Cor. xii. ze 1. Cor. xii. zf 1. Cor. xii. zg 1. Cor. xii. zh 1. Cor. xii. zi 1. Cor. xii. zj 1. Cor. xii. zk 1. Cor. xii. zl 1. Cor. xii. zm 1. Cor. xii. zn 1. Cor. xii. zo 1. Cor. xii. zp 1. Cor. xii. zq 1. Cor. xii. zr 1. Cor. xii. zs 1. Cor. xii. zt 1. Cor. xii. zu 1. Cor. xii. zv 1. Cor. xii. zw 1. Cor. xii. zx 1. Cor. xii. zy 1. Cor. xii. zz revelacion shewed he this mystery to me, as I learned wrote about in fewe words, wherby when ye reade, ye maye knowe mine understan- ding in the mystery of Christ. Which myste- ry in times passed was not opened to the sonnes of men, as it is nowe declared unto us by holpe of Apostles and prophetes by the spirit: that the Gentiles should be inheri- tors also, and of the same body, and par- takers of his promises that is in Christ, by the meanes of the Gospell, whereof I am made a minister, by the gift of the grace of God, given unto me thowow the working of his power.

Unto me the least of all saintes is this grace geuen, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearcheable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what the fellowshyppe of the mystery is, which from the beginninge of the worlde hath bene hyd in God whiche made all thynges thowow Jesus Christ, to the entente that now unto the rulers & powers in heauen mighte be knowen (by the congregacion) the man- yfold wisdom of God, accordyng to the eternall purpose, whiche he purposed in Christ Jesus oure Lord, by whom we are bold to drawe nigh in that truste whiche we haue by fapeth on him. & Wherefore I desire that ye fapnt not, because of my tribulacions for your sakes, whiche is your praise.

For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, whiche is father ouer all that is called father in hea- uen and in earth, that he wold graunt you accordyng to the riches of his glory, that ye maye be strengthened with mighte by his spirit in the inner man, that Christe maye dwell in your hertes by (a) fapeth, that ye being rooted and grounded in loue, might be able to comprehend wth all sayntes, what is that bredth and length, depth and heighth: and to knowe what is the loue of Christ, which loue passeth knowlege: that ye might be fulfilled with al maner of ful- nes whiche cometh of God.

Unto him that is able to do exceeding a- boundantly aboue al that we are or thinke, accordyng to the power that worketh in vs, be praise in the congregacion by Jesus Christ, thowowoute all generacions, from tyme to tyme. Amen.

The Notes.

(a) Where true sayth in Christ is, there is loue to the neyghboure: and sayth and loue in the vs vnderstande all thynges. Sayth vnderstandeth the secretes of God, and the meere that is gy- uen by in Christ. And loue knoweth his due to his neyghboure, and can interpret all lawes and ordynances, and knoweth howe far forth they are to be kept, & wth to be dispensed wth.

The iii. Chapter.

First with many argumentes he exhorteth to conioyd, and then to holynes of lyfe. Last of all, he blameth dyuerse vyces that are in spech, in dedes, and in the affectyons of our mynde.

After-

For he is oure peace, whiche hath made of both one, and hath broken down the wall that was a stop betwene vs, and hath also put away thowow his fleche, the cause of hatred: that is to saye, the lawe of com- mandementes conteyned in the lawe wri- ten) for to make of twayne one newe man in him selfe, so making peace: and to recon- cile both vnto God in one body thowow his crosse, and slewe hatred thereby: and came and preached peace to you, whiche were a farre of, and to the that were nigh. For thowow him we both haue an open wape in, in one spirit vnto the father.

& Now therefore ye are no more straungers and foreyners, but citisens with the saints, and of the household of God: and are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and prophetes, & Jesus Christ beinge the corner stone, in whom euery buildyng con- pleted together, groweth vnto an holy tem- ple in the Lord, in whom ye also are built together (made an habitacion for God in the spirit.)

The Notes.

(a) The promises of mercy in Christes bloude are made vnto that condepyon, that we walke in the workes commaunded of God, louyng one another.

(b) Moyles lawe was this wal whiche shut out the Gentiles from the fold of his chosen shepe. This wal is nowe taken away by Christ, and entraunce is geuen to all nacjons of the earth to come to the knowledge of God, and to lyue in brotherly loue together, as shepe of one flock, & chyldren of one household, the cause of hatred (that is the lawe of ceremonies) put away.

The iii. Chapter.

To proue these thynges whiche he spake before, he commendeth now his ministracy- on, shewing from whence he toke his office, and what he nowe suffereth for it and the Gentiles sakes. And lest they should be offen- ded wth his imprisonmente, he exhorteth them to constançe, shewing that he prayeth to God for them alwayes, that he may by ex- ample of hym selfe prouoke them also to praye.

For this cause I paule am in the bon- des of Jesus Christ for your sakes which are heathen. If ye haue hearde to the hea of the ministracion of the grace of God then, and which is geuen me to youward. For by rewe are members one of another. ‡ We angry but syn not, let not the sun go downe vpon your wrath, neither geue place vnto the backbiter. ¶ Let him that stole, steale no more, but let him rather labour wth his handes some good thyng, that he maye haue to geue vnto him that needeth.

D conuersation in time past, laye fro you that old man, which is corrupt thorowe the decepuable lustes, and be ye renued in the spi-rite of your minds and put ^r on that newe man which after the Image of god is shapen in rightuousnes. & true holines. When fore put ^r away lying, and speke euery man truth vnto hys neyghboure, for as much as

For it is shame euen to name those things whiche are done of them in secretes: but all things, when they are rebuked of

Ignorance is cause of evil doing

The Epistle of . S. Paule

lyght, are manifest. For whatsoeuer is manifest, that same is lyght. Wherefore he sayeth: awake thou that sleepest, and stand vp from death, and Christ shall geue the lyght.

Redempcyng Take hede therefore that ye walke circumspectiue: not as toles, but as wyse, rethe tyme dempne the tyme, for the dayes are euell. is spendig Wherefore, be ye not vnwyse but vnder-the tyme stande what the wyll of the Lorde is, and well. be not dronke wth wyne, wherein is exces, collo. iii. c. but be fulfilled wth the spirite, speakyng Roma. vii. vnto poure selues in psalmes, and hym-
1. Thes. ii. nes, and psutual songes, singyng and ma-
Col. iii. kyng melody to the Lorde in poure hertes Pla. xxi. a geuyng thanks alwayes for all thynges vnto God the father in the name of our lord Jesu Christe, submytting poure selues one to an other in the feare of God. &

Gene. ii. d. Women submit poure selues vnto poure
1. cor. x. a. owne husbandes, as vnto the Lorde. For Ephe. i. d the husbande is the vynes head, euen as Christe is the heade of the congregacion, and the same is the sauoure of the bodie.

 Col. iii. c. Therefore as the congregacion is in sub-
1. Pet. iii. a leccion to Christe, lyke wyse let the wyues Husbades be in subieccion to thei husbandes in all thynges. Husbandes loue poure wyues, euen as Christe loued the congregacion, & gaue hym selfe for it, to sanctifie it, and clensed it in the fountayne of water tho-rowe the worde, to make it vnto hym selfe a glorious congregacion wthout spote or wrinkle, or any such thyng: but that it should be holy and wthout blame.

Baptisme So oughte men to loue thei wyues, as laureth tho thei owne bodyes. He that loueth hys row the wyue, loueth hym selfe. For no man in euer yet word: that hated hys owne flesch, but norseth & cherisseth it euen as the Lorde doth the con-gregacion. For we are members of hys body of hys fleshe, and of hys bones. For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shall continue wth his wyue, and two shall be made one flesch. This is a great secrete, but I speake betwene Christ and the congregacion.

Gene. ii. d. Neuerthelesse do ye so, that euerye one
Wat. xii. a of you loue hys wyfe truely, euen as hym Mark x. a selfe. And let the wyfe se that she feare hir
1. Thes. v. b. husbande.
Ephe. v. g.

The. vi. Chapter.

Che declareth the duties of chyldren and ser-uantes, seruauntes and masters, then exhor-teth he them to constancke, byserpyng how charp a batayle is ordayned for the fawth-ful, and what weapons ther must vse therein.
At last he treateth certayne pryuate matters, and commendeth Tychicus.

Children. C Chyldren obeye poure fathers & mo-Collo. iii. b thers in the Lorde: for so is it ryght. & Honour thy father & mother, that is the fyrste commaundemente that hath a-nye promes, that thou maiest be in good estate, and lyue longe on the earth. And ye fathers, moue not poure chyliden to wrath but & hyng them vp wth the lord and informacion of the lorde.

to the Ephe. Chap. vi.

Seruauntes be obedient vnto your cat-nail masters, wth feare and tremblng, in spnglens of your hertes, as vnto Christe:
not wth scrupce in the eye spnght, as men pleasars, but as the seruauntes of Christ, doynge the wyl of God from the hert, wth good wyl seruyng the Lord, and not men.
And remember that what soeuer good thyng any man doth, that shall he receyue agayne of the Lord: whether he be bond or fre. And ye masters, do euen the same thynges vnto them, puttng away thretemyng: and remember that eue a pour master also is in heauen, nether is ther any respect of person wth hym.

 Finally my brethren, be stronge in the Lord, and in the power of hys myght put on the armour of God, that ye may stand stedfast agaynst the craftye assautes of the dyuyl. For we wrestle not agaynst fleshe and bloude: but agaynst rule, agaynst power, & agaynst worldly rulers of the darknes of this worlde, agaynst spiritual wickednes, for heauenly thynges. For this cause take vnto you the armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the euil day,
and stand perfect in all thynges.

Stand therefore, & your loines gird about wth veritie, haunge on the breste plate of ryghteousnes, shooed wth sho-wes prepared by the Gospell of peace. Aboue all take to you the shield of fapth wherwyth ye maye quench all the fyre dartes of the wycked. And take the helmet of salua-cion and the swearde of the spirite, whiche is the word of God. & And praye alwayes wth al maner prayer and supplicacion and that in the spuite, and watch ther vnto with instance and supplicacion for al sain-tes, and for me, & that vtterance maye be geuen vnto me, that I maye ope my mouth boldely, to vtter the secretes of the Gos-pell, wherof I am a messenger in bondes, that therein I maye speake liely, as it becometh me to speake.

But that ye may also know what condi-cion I am in, and what I do, Tychicus my deare brother and fapthfull minister in the Lord, shall shewe you of all thynges, whom I sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye myght knowe what case I stande in, and that he myght comfort your hertes.

Peace be wth the brethren, & loue, wth fapth from God the father and from the Lorde Iesus Christe. Grace be wth all them which loue our Lord Iesus Christ in puernes. Amen.

C Sente from Rome vnto the phesians by Tychicus.

The prologe vpon the e- pistle of S. Paule to the philip- pians.

Paul prayeth the philippians, and exhorteth them to stande faste in the true fawth, and to encrease in loue.

And because that the false prophetes are

Ecc. iii. b.
Deut. iii. b.
Fathers
Collo. iii. b.
Eues. ii. c.
1. Pet. ii. c.
Christ hath purchased a rewarde
for althyn-
ges.
1. Ps. xix. c.
1. Pet. ii. c.
Rom. ii. b.
Eccl. xix. b.
Col. iii. c

W.
Shipsters

The armour of god folow-eth veritie
the shoes
of a sted-fast purpose to follow the Gospell:
fapth, the helmet of saluacion, the worde
of God
whiche is the sword.
Take. iii. c.
1. Pet. ii. c.
Lu. xiii. a.
1. Thes. v. d.
Collo. iii. a.

And he alwayes to impugn and destroye the true sayth, he warneth them of such worke leaners of teachers of workes, and playeth Epaphroditus. And all this both he in the first and second Chapters.

In the third he reprooveth saythles and mans eyghtroulnes whych falle Prophets teach and maintayne. And he setteth him for an ensample, howe that he hymselfe had lyued in such false eyghtroulnesse and holynes vnebeueable, that was so that no man coulde complayne on him, and yet now setteth naught thertby for Christes eyghtroulnesse sake. And finallye affirmeth that such false Prophets are the cunnages of the crosse, and make theyr beilles theyr God.
Further then they may safely and without per-pill and sufferynge, wyl they not preach Christ.

The epistle of saynt Paule vnto the philippians.

The first Chapter.

In the first he playeth theyr sayth and constan-
cy. Then exhorteth he them not to be offended wth hys trouble, for as muche as more prospite thyn bynderaunce maye happen to the Gospell thertbyough: and that he was redy to dye for Christ. Then exhorteth he them to walke accordyng to theyr calling.

2

Paul and Timotheus the seruauntes of Iesu Christ:
to al the Saints in Christ Iesu, which are at Philip-pos with the Bishops and Deacons. Grace be wth you and peace from God

Bishops.
Deacons.

Roma. i. b.
Collo. i. a

our father, and from the lord Iesus Christ.
I thanke my God with al remembrance of you alwayes in my prayers for you, and praye with gladnes, because of the felow-ship which ye haue in the Gospell from the first daye vnto now: and am surelye certy-fied of this, that he which beganne a good worke in you, shall go forth with it vntill
the daye of Iesus Christ, as it becometh me so to iudge of you all, because I haue you in my hert, & haue you also euery one copartions of grace with me, even in my bonds, as I defend and stablish the Gospell.

13

For God beareth me record how greatly I longe after you all from the very hert rote in Iesus Christ. And this I pray, that poure loue maye increase more and more in knowledge, and in al feling, that ye might accept things most excellent, that ye might be pure, and such as should hurte no mans conscience, vntill the daye of Christ, filled with the frutes of rightuousnes, whiche frutes come by Iesus Christ vnto the glory and laud of God. I

I would ye vnderstode brethren that my business is happened vnto the greater furthering of the Gospell. So that my bondes in Christ are manifest thorow oute all the iudgement hal, & in all other places: In so much that many of the brethren in the lord

are boldened thorow my bondes: and dare more largely speke the word wthout fear.
Some there are which preach Christ of enue and strife, and some of good will. The one part preacheth Christ of strife, and not purely: supposyng to adde more aueritie to my bondes. The other parte of loue, because they se that I am set too defende the Gospell.

What then? So that Christ be preached all maner wayes, whether it be by occasiō, or of true meaning, I therein hope: and wyl lop for I know that this shal chaunce to my saluacion: thorow pour prayer and mi-nisteryng of the spirit of Iesu Christ, as I hertely loke for, and hope that in no thyng
I shalbe ashamed: but that with all confre-dence as alwayes in times past, even to now Christ shalbe magnified in my bodye, whether it be thorow life, or else death. For Christe is to me lyfe, and death is to me auauntage.

If it chaunce me to lyue in the flesh, that is to me fruitfull for to worke, and what to chose I wote not. I am constrained of two thynges: I desire to be leused & to be with Christ, which thing is best of all. Neuerthelesse to abyde in the flesh is more needfull for you: And this am I sure of that I shal abide, & with you al continue for the furtherance & lop of pour faith, that ye maye more abundantly reioyse in Iesus Christ thow me, by my commyng to you againe.

Only let pour conuersacion be as it be:
cometh the Gospell of Christ: that whether I come and se you, or els be absent, I maye yet heare of you, that ye continue in one spirit, and in one soule, labouringe as we do, to mainteyne the sayth of the Gos-pell, and in nothing fearing pour aduersaries: whiche is to them a token of perdition;
and to you of saluacion, and that of God.
For vnto you it is geuen, that not onely ye should beleue on Christ: but also suffer for his sake, & haue even the same fight which ye sawe me haue, and now heare of me.

The ii. Chapter.

He teacheth theyr callinge to be this,
that they lorned in true concord, shoulde laye awaye all pryde and dysdayne, accordyng to Christes example, of whose mystery he dyspa-tereth a whyle. Then he promyseth that Timo-theus shal come vnto them, and commendeth Epaphroditum.

If there be among you any consolacyon in Christ, if ther be any confortabill loue, if ther be any fellowship of spirit, if there
be any compassion or mercy, fulfil my ioye, that ye drawe one way, hauinge one loue, beynge of one accorde, and of one mynde,
that nothyng be done thorow strife or bryn-gloze, but that in mekenes of minde euerye
man esteeme other better then hym selfe, and that no manne consider his owne, but
what is mete for other.

Let the same mynde be in you, that A q q q. ii. was

ii. Cor. i. b.

ii. Cor. v

Ep. i. iii. a.

Tribula-
ciō is a token of sal-
uacion to the true
beleuers.

And he alwayes to impugn and destroye the true sayth, he warneth them of such worke leaners of teachers of workes, and playeth Epaphroditus. And all this both he in the first and second Chapters.

In the third he reprooveth saythles and mans eyghtroulnes whych falle Prophets teach and maintayne. And he setteth him for an ensample, howe that he hymselfe had lyued in such false eyghtroulnesse and holynes vnebeuieable, that was so that no man could complayne on him, and yet now setteth naught therby for Christes eyghtroulnesse sake. And finallye affirmeth that such false Prophets are the cunnages of
the crosse, and make theyr beilles theyr God.
Further then they may safely and without peril and sufferynge, wyl they not preach Christ.

The epistle of saynt Paule vnto the philippians.

The first Chapter.

In the first he playeth theyr sayth and constan-
cy. Then exhorteth he them not to be offended wth hys trouble, for as muche as more profyte thyn bynderaunce maye happen to the Gospell therethrough: and that he was redy to dye for Christ. Then exhorteth he
them to walke accordyng to theyr calling.

Paule and Timotheus the seruauntes of Iesu Christ:
to all the Saints in Christ Iesu, which are at Philip-
pos with the Bishops and Deacons. Grace be wth
you and peace from our father, and from the lord Iesus Christ.
I thanke my God with al remembrance of you alwaies in my prayers for you, and praye with gladnes, because of the felow-
ship which ye haue in the Gospell from the first daye vnto now: and am surelye certy-fied of this, that he which beganne a good
worke in you, shall go forth with it vntill
the daye of Iesus Christ, as it becometh me
so to iudge of you all, because I haue you
in my hert, & haue you also euery one copar-
tions of grace with me, even in my bonds,
as I defend and stablish the Gospell.

For God beareth me record how greatly I longe after you all from the very hert rote in Iesus Christ. And this I pray, that poure loue maye increase more and more in knowledge, and in al feling, that ye might accept things most excellent, that ye might
be pure, and such as should hurte no mans conscience, vntill the daye of Christ, fylled
with the frutes of rightuousnes, whiche frutes come by Iesus Christ vnto the glory and laud of God. I

I would ye vnderstode brethren that my business is happened vnto the greater furthering of the Gospell. So that my bondes in Christ are manifest thorow oute all the iudgement hal, & in all other places: In so much that many of the brethren in the lord

are boldened thorow my bondes: and dare
more largely speke the word wthout fear.
Some there are which preach Christ of enue and strife, and some of good will. The one part preacheth Christ of strife, and not
purely: supposyng to adde more aueritie
to my bondes. The other parte of loue, because they se that I am set too defende the Gospell.

What then? So that Christ be preached
all maner wayes, whether it be by occasiō,
or of true meaning, I therein hope: and wyl
lop for I know that this shal chaunce to
my saluacion: thorow pour prayer and mi-nisteryng of the spirit of Iesu Christ, as I heretely loke for, and hope that in no thyng
I shalbe ashamed: but that with all confre-dence as alwaies in times past, even to now Christ shalbe magnified in my bodye, whether it be thorow life, or else death. For Christe is to me lyfe, and death is to me auauntage.

If it chaunce me to lyue in the flesh, that is to me fruitfull for to worke, and what to chose I wote not. I am constrained of two thynges: I desire to be leused & to be with Christ, which thyng is best of all. Neuerthelesse to abyde in the flesh is more needfull
for you: And this am I sure of that I shal
abide, & with you al continue for the furtherance & lop of pour faith, that ye maye more abundantly reioyse in Iesus Christ thow me, by my comming to you againe.

Only let pour conuersacion be as it be:
commeth the Gospell of Christ: that whether I come and se you, or els be absent, I
maye yet heare of you, that ye continue in
one spirit, and in one soule, labouringe as
we do, to mainteyne the sayth of the Gos-
pell, and in nothing fearing pour aduersa-
ries: whiche is to them a token of perdition;
and to you of saluacion, and that of God.
For vnto you it is geuen, that not onely ye should beleue on Christ: but also suffer for
his sake, & haue even the same fight which ye sawe me haue, and now heare of me.

The ii. Chapter.

He teacheth theyr callinge to be this,
that they lorned in true concord, shoulde laye awaye all pryde and dysdayne, accordyng to Christes example, of whose mystery he dyspa-tereth a whyle. Then he promisseth that Timo-theus shal come vnto them, and commendeth Epaphroditum.

If there be among you any consolacyon
in Christ, if ther be anye comfortabyle loue, if ther be any fellowship of spirit, if there
be any compassion or mercy, fulfil my ioye, that ye drawe one way, hauinge one loue,
beynge of one accorde, and of one mynde,
that nothyng be done thorow strife or bryn-
gloze, but that in mekenes of minde euerye
man esteeme other better then hym selfe,
and that no manne consider his owne, but
what is mete for other.

Lette the same mynde be in you, that
A q q q. ii. was Bishops.

Deacons.

Roma. i. b.
Collo. i. a

ii. Cor. i. b.

ii. Cor. v.

Ep. i. iii. a.

Tribula-
ciō is a token of sal-
uacion to the true
beleuers.

was in shewe Iesus: Whiche beynge in the shape of wood, and thought it not rob-berye to be equall wth God, steuercheles, he made him selfe of no reputacon, and toke on hym the shape of a seruaunte, and became lyke vnto him, & was founde in his apparell as a man. He humbled hym selfe, and became obedient vnto death, eue the death of the crosse.

Wherefore God hath exalted him, and geuen him a name aboue al names: that in the name of Iesus shoulde ^e euerie knee bowe, both of thynges in heauen, and thin ges in earth, and thynges vnder the earth: and that all tounses shoulde confesse that Iesus Christ is the ^e Lord, vnto the praise of God the father. R

Wherefore my dearly beloved, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not when I was presente onely, but nowe muche more in myne absence, euen so worke out your owne, & sal-uacion wpth feare and tremblinge. * For it is God whiche worketh in you both the will and also the deede euen of good will.

* Do all thyng without murmuring and dysputynge, that ye maye be faultles and pure, and the sonnes of God without rebuke, in the middes of a croked and a per-uerse nation, among which se that ye shine as lightes in the world, holdynge faste the word of lyfe, vnto my reioysynge in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vayne, neither haue laboured in vayne. Yea, and (b, though) I be offered vpon the offertyng and sacrifice of youre fayeth, I re-ioyse, and reioyse wth you all. For the same cause also reioyse ye, and reioyse ye wth me.

I truste in the Lorde Iesus for to sende Timotheus shortly vnto you & that I also maye be of good comforte, when I knowe what case ye stande in. For I haue no man that is so lyke mynded to me, whiche wth so pure affection careth for youre matters.
For all other seeke their owne, and not that whiche is Iesus Christes. Ye knowe the proue of him, howe that as a sonne wth the father, so wth me bestowed he hym self laboure vpon the Gospell. Him I hope to sende asone as I know how it wil go with me: I truste in the Lord, I also my self shal come shortly.

I supposed it necessarie to sende brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in laboure, and fellow souldier, poure Apostle and my minister at my needes. For he longed after you, and was full of heauynes, because that ye hadde hearde saye, that he should be specke. And no dout he was sicke, and that nyc vnto death. But God had mercy on him, not on him onely, but on me also, lest I should haue had sorow vpon sorowe.

I sent him therfore the diligent lare, that when ye should se him, ye mighte reioyse againe, & I might be the lesse sorowful. I receiue him therfore in the lord with al glad-nes, and make much of suche, because that for the worke of Christ he went so far, that he was ype unto death, & regarded not his selfe, to fulfill the seruice whiche was laying on your part toward me.

(e) As re be caused stein lynn thorough fapeth: to worke accordinge to the cōsumante, vntill ye come to the laluaed of glosp. For if ye cease working, the spyrte queneth agayne, and ye cease to be partakere of the promyses

(b) he maketh here two offerings or sacrifices. They sayeth the one, and himselfe the other. They sayth, in that he hadde offered them vnto God as the frutes of hys preachyng. himselfe, if it should please God, that he for the true preachyng of the Gospell vnto them, should be put to the cruel tormentes of death. Whych thyng he refused not, trustyng that thercof he myghte make them worthy of God.

¶ He warneth to take heed of those whiche mingled the law wth the Gospel, for so much as whatsoever it were that had the name of þe most excellent righteousness in the world was but refuse, if it were compared wth Christ: Therfore he biddeth them follow him a continuall waynde, and to auoide false teachers, whom he paynteth oute in theyr countours.

Moreouer my brethren, reieyce in the Lorde. It greuethe me not to write one thyng often to you. For to you it is a sure thyng. Beware of dogges, beware of euill workers. Beware of dissencion. * For we are circumcised which (a) wor-shipp God in the spirit, & reioyce in Christe In su, and haue no confidence in the fleshy: though I haue whereof I mighte reieyce in the fleshe. If any other man thinke that he hath wherof he might trust in the fleshe, much more I, excommunicated the eight daies, of the kynred of Israel, of the tribe of Beniamin * an Hebrue borne of the Hebrues, & as concerning the lawe, a pharisee: and as concernynge feruentnes, I persecuted the congregacion: and as touchynge the righ-tuousnes whych is in the lawe, I was un-rebukeable.

* But the thynges that were bauntage vnto me, I counted losse for Chyestes sake.
Yea I thynke all thyngs but losse for that excellent knowledge sake of Chyeste Iesu my Lorde. For whom I haue counted all thyngs losse, & do iudge them but dounge, that I myght wyne Chyeste, and myghte be founde in hym, not hauing myne owne rightuousnes, whiche is of the lawe: but that whych spryngeth of the fapth whiche is in Chyeste, I meane the rightuousnes whych commeth of God thezowe fapth, in knowpnce hym and the vertue of hys resurreccyon, and the felowshyppe of hys passions, that I myghte be consounde vnto hys death, if by anye meanes I myght attayne vnto the resurreccyon from death.

Not as though I had already attained to it, either were already perfect: but

Work out your own salvation.

though
be offered.

Roma. id. b
 Ephesi. id. c
 Thon. id. c
 Roma. id. c

for the
the first
and the

that, said,

Iokenot on þ wor- kes that I haue done: but what I lack of þ perfect- nes of Chaste. I follow, if that I may comprehend that, wherin I am comprehended of Christ Jesu. Brethren, I counte not my selfe that I haue gotten it, but one thyng I sape: I forget that which is behynd, and stretch my selfe vnto that which is before, & prease vnto the marcke appointed, to obtayne the reward of the high calling of God in Christ Jesu. Let vs therefore as manpe as be perfect, be thus wise minded: & if ye be other- wise minded, I praye God open euen thyng vnto pou. Neuerthelesse in that wherunto we are come, lette vs procede by one rule, that we may be of one accord.

D Brethren, be folowers of me, and loke on them which walke euen so, as ye haue vs for an ensample. For manpe walke (of whom I haue tolde pou often, & nowe tell pou weping) that they are the enemies of the crosse of Christ: whose endes damp- nation, whose God is theyr belly, & whose gloire is their shame, which are worldlie minded. But our conuersacion is in heauē, from whence we loke for a Saviour, euen the lord Jesus Christ, which shal change our vile bodies, that they may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the workyng, wherby he is able to sub- due all thynges vnto himselfe.

If we be like Christ in conuer- sacion, we shal be like hym in glory.
1. Cor. xv. 5
Wo. x. 1

The Notes.

(a) We worship God in sprynte thowgh soreth and lone. We reioyce that Christ hath redeemed vs, and traile not in our owne workes. He onely is our righteousnes, and for his sake our synnes are forgiven vs, and for his sake, our good workes are accepted, which shal we be dam- nable, for the synne that is in them.

The iii. Chapter.

Whe exhorte them to constancy, then ad- deth he certayne peculiar thynges contey- nyng in them concord and other vertues mete for a Christian. Last he thankeyth them for the rewarde that was sente hym, and geueth them salutations.

Therfore my brethren dearly beloued & longed for, my rope and croune, so con- tinue in the Lorde, ye beloued. I pray Euodias, and beseech Sentpches that they be of one accorde in the Lorde. Yea and I beseeche the faithfull pock felow, help the women which laboured with me in þ Gos- pell, and with Clemente also, and wpth o- ther my labourer felowes: whose names are in the boke of lyfe.

Of þ boke of lyfe is spoken in the. psal. lxxviii.
Luce. x. c
Apo. xvi. b
1. Tes. v. d

Reioice in the Lorde alwaye, and agayne say reioice. Let your softnes be knowne to all men. The Lorde is euen at hande. Be not carefull, but in all thynges shewe your petition vnto God in praye and supplica- cion, with geuynge of thanckes. And the peace of God which passeth all vnder- standynge, kepe your hertes and myndes in Christ Jesu. &

Furthermore brethren, whatsoeuer thynges are true, whatsoeuer thynges are ho- nestie, whatsoeuer thynges are iuste, what- soeuer thynges are pure, whatsoeuer thynges pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer thynges

are of honest report: if there be any vertu- ous thyng, if there be any laudable thing, those same haue ye in your munde, whiche ye haue both learned and receiued, hearde and also sene in me: those thynges do, and the God of peace shal be with you. I re- ioice in the Lord greatly, that nowe at the last ye are reuined againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie. I speake not because of necessitie, for I haue learned in what- soeuer estate I am, to therewith to be con- tent. I can both cast doune my selfe, I can also excede. Euery wher, and in all thynges I am instructed, bothe to be full, and to be hongry: to haue plentie, and to suffer nede. I can do all thyngs thorow þ help of Christ which strengteth me. Notwithstanding ye haue well done, that ye beare part wpth me in tribulacion.

1. Tim. v. 6

Ye of ischippus know that in the be- gynnynge of the Gospell, when I departed from Macedonia, no congregacion bare part wpth me, as concerning geuynge and receyving, but ye onely. For when I was in Thessalonica, ye sente once and after- warde agayne vnto my needes: not that I desire giftes, but I desire abundant fruit on your part. I receyued all, and haue plen- ty, I was euen fylled after that I had re- ceyued of Epaphroditus, that which came from you, an oboure that smelleth swete a sacrifice accepted and pleasant to god. God fulfill youre nedes thowgh we hys gloriouse riches in Jesus Christ. Vnto God and our father be prayse for ever- more. Amen.

Rom. xii. a
1. Cor. xiii. c

Salute all the sanctes in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with mee, grete you. Al the sanctes salute you, and most of all they which are of the Emperours hous- holde. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be wpth you all. Amen.

Sente from Rome by Epaphroditus.

The prologe vpon the epistle of S. Paul to the Colossians.

In the Epistle to the Galathians holdeth the maner and fashion of the Epistle to þ Romans, by es- ly comprehendynge al that is ther- in at length disputed: Euen so this Epistle foloweth the ensam- ple of the Epistle to the Epheciens, containynge the tenour of the same Epistle by fewer wordes.

In the first Chapter he prayseth them & wy- sheth that they continue in the faith, and grow perfecter therein, and then describeth he þ Gos- pell howe that it is a wysdome that confesseth Christ to be the Lorde and God, crucified for vs, and a wysdome that hath ben hid in Christ since afore the begynnyng of the worlde, and now fyrst begun to be opened thowgh the prea- chynge of the Apostles.

Iokenot on þ wor- kes that I haue done: but what I lack of þ perfect- nes of Chaste. I follow, if that I may comprehend that, wherin I am comprehended of Christ Jesu. Brethren, I counte not my selfe that I haue gotten it, but one thyng I sape: I forget that which is behynd, and stretch my selfe vnto that whiche is before, & prease vnto the marcke appointed, to obtayne the reward of the high calling of God in Christ Jesu. Let vs therefore as manpe as be perfect, be thus wise minded: & if ye be other- wise minded, I praye God open euen thyng vnto pou. Neuerthelesse in that wherunto we are come, lette vs procede by one rule, that we may be of one accord.

D Brethren, be folowers of me, and loke on them whiche walke euen so, as ye haue vs for an ensample. For manpe walke of whom I haue tolde pou often, & nowe tell pou weping that they are the enemies of the crosse of Christ: whose endes damp- nation, whose God is theyr belly, & whose gloire is their shame, whiche are worldye minded. But our conuersacion is in heauē, from whence we loke for a Saviour, euen the lord Jesus Christ, which shal change our vile bodies, that they may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the workyng, wherby he is able to sub- due all thynges vnto himselfe.

If we be like Christ in conuer- sacion, we shal be like hym in glory.
1. Cor. xv. 5
Wo. x. 17
Wo. x. 17

The Notes.

(a) We worship God in sprynte thowgh soreth and lone. We reioyce that Christ hath redeemed vs, and traile not in our owne workes. He onely is our ryghteousnes, and for his sake our synnes are forgiven vs, and for his sake, our good workes are accepted, which shal we be dam- nable, for the synne that is in them.

The iii. Chapter.

Whe exhorted them to constancy, then ad- deth he certayne peculiar thynges contey- nyng in them concord and other vertues mete for a Christian. Last he thanketh them for the rewarde that was sente hym, and geueth them salutacions.

Therfore my brethren dearly beloued & longed for, my rope and croune, so con- tinue in the Lorde, ye beloued. I pray Euodias, and beseech Sentpches that they be of one accorde in the Lorde. Yea and I beseeche the faythfull pock felow, help the women which laboured with me in þ Gos- pell, and with Clemente also, and wpth o- ther my labourer felowes: whose names are in the boke of lyfe.

Of þ boke of lyfe is spoken in the. psal. lxxviii.
Luke. x. c
Apo. xvi. b
1. Tes. v. d

Reioice in the Lorde alwaye, and agayne say reioice. Let your softnes be knowne to all men. The Lorde is euen at hande. Be not carefull, but in all thynges shewe your petition vnto God in praye and supplica- cion, with geuynge of thanckes. And the peace of God whiche passeth all vnder- standynge, kepe poue hertes and myndes in Christ Jesu. &

Furthermore brethren, whatsoeuer thynges are true, whatsoeuer thynges are ho- nestie, whatsoeuer thynges are iuste, what- soeuer thynges are pure, whatsoeuer thynges pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer thynges

are of honest report: if there be any vertu- ous thyng, if there be any laudable thing, those same haue ye in your munde, whiche ye haue both learned and receiued, hearde and also sene in me: those thynges do, and the God of peace shal be with you. I re- ioice in the Lord greatly, that nowe at the last ye are reuined againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie. I speake not because of necessitie, for I haue learned in what- soeuer estate I am, to therewith to be con- tent. I can both cast doune my selfe, I can also excede. Euery wher, and in all thynges I am instructed, bothe to be full, and to be hongry: to haue plentie, and to suffer nede. I can do all thyngs thorow þ help of Christ which strengteth me. Notwithstandynge ye haue well done, that ye beare part wpth me in tribulacion.

1. Tim. v. 6

Ye of ishidippus know that in the be- gynnynge of the Gospell, when I departed from Macedonia, no congregacion bare part wpth me, as concerning geuynge and receyving, but ye onely. For when I was in Thessalonica, ye sente once and after- warde agayne vnto my needes: not that I desire giftes, but I desire abundant fruit on your part. I receyued all, and haue plen- ty, I was euen fylled after that I had re- ceyued of Epaphroditus, that which came from you, an oboure that smelleth swete a sacrifice accepted and pleasant to god. God fulfill poure nedes thowgh we hys gloriouse ryches in Jesus Christ. Vnto God and oure father be prayse for ever- more. Amen.

Rom. xii. a
1. Cor. xiii. 1

Salute all the sanctes in Christ Jesus. The brethren whiche are with mee, grete you. Al the sanctes salute you, and most of all they which are of the Emperours hous- holde. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be wpth you all. Amen.

Sente from Rome by Epaphroditus.

The prologe vpon the epistle of S. Paul to the Colossians.

In the Epistle to the Galathians holdeth the maner and fashion of the Epistle to þ Romans, by es- ly comprehendynge al that is ther- in at length disputed: Euen so this Epistle foloweth the ensam- ple of the Epistle to the Epheciens, containynge the tenour of the same Epistle by fewer wordes.

In the fyrst Chapter he prayseth them & wy- sheth that they continue in the fayth, and grow perfecter therein, and then describeth he þ Gos- pell howe that it is a wysdome that confesseth Christ to be the Lorde and God, crucified for vs, and a wysdome that hath ben hyd in Christ since afore the begynnyng of the worlde, and now fyrst begun to be opened thowgh the prea- chynge of the Apostles.

The Epistle of S. Paul

In the second, he warneth them of mens doctrine, and describeth the false prophetes too the uttermost, and rebuketh them accordingly. In the third, he exhorteth to be fruitful in þe pure sayeth wþ all manner of good workes one to another, and describeth all degrees, and what theyr duties are.

In the fourth, he exhorteth to praye, and also to praye for hym, and salueth them.

The cpyllle of saynt Paul the Apostle vnto the Colossians.

The first Chapter.

In the first chapter, he exhorteth to the faith, hope, and charite wherby they had learned of the Gospell. Then describeth he Christe more at large, teachyng þe we haue saluacion frely by hym, through whom the lord hath poured al plen teoulnes vpon vs.

Paul an Apostle of Iesu Christe by the wil of God, and brother Timotheus. To the saintes whiche are at Colossa, and brethren that beleue in Christe.

* Grace be wþ you and peace from God our father, and from oure Lord Iesus Christ.

¶ We geue thankes to God the father of our Lord * Iesus Christ, alwayes prayyng for you, sence wee hearde of poure sayeth wherby pe haue in Christe Iesu, and of the loue whiche pe beare to all saintes, for the hopes sake whiche is laped vp in flore for you in heauen, of wherby hope pe haue herd before by the true worde of the Gospell, which is come vnto you euen as it is vnto al the worlde, and is fructefull, as it is among you, from þe first day in the which pe heard of it, and hadde experyence in the grace of god in the truth, as pe learned of Epaphras our deare fellow seruante, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christe, whiche also declared vnto vs poure loue, wherby pe haue in the spyrte. For this cause we also, sence that daye wee hearde of it, haue not ceased prayyng for you, & desyring that pe mighte be fulfilled with the knowledge of his wil, in all wysdome and spirituall vnderstandyng, that pe mighte walke worthy of the Lord in all thynges that please him, being fructifull in all good workes, and encreasyng in the knowledge of God, strengthened with al might thorow his glorious power, vnto all patience and long sufferynge, with ioyfulnes geuyng thankes vnto the father, wherby he hath made vs mete to be partakers of the inherytaunce of sayntes in lyghte.

¶ Wherby he hath deliuered vs from þe power of darckenes, and hath translated vs into the kyngdome of his deare sonne, in whome we haue redempcion thorow his bloude, to the Colossy. Chapt. i.

that is to save the forgyuenes of synnes & our redemption which is the ymage of the invisible God, by whom were all thynges created, thynges that are in heauen, and thynges that are in earth: things visible & things invisible, whether they be maistie of Lordship either rule or power. Al thynges are created by him and in him, and he is before al thynges, and in him al thynges haue their being.

And he is the head of the body, that is to sayt of the congregacion: he is the begynnyng & first begotten of the dead, that in all thynges he mighte haue the preeminence. For it pleased the father, that in him should all fulnes dwell, and by hym to reconcile al thyng vnto him selfe, and to set at peace by him thorow the bloude of his crosse, both thynges in heauen and thynges in the earth.

And you, which were in tymes past straungers & enemies, because your myndes were set in euil workes, hath he now reconciled in the bodye of his fleshe thorow death, to make you holy, vnblynded and without fault in his own sight, if ye continue grounded and stablished in the sayeth, and be not moued away from the hope of the Gospell, wherof ye haue heard, how that it is preached among all creatures which are vnder heauen, wherof I Iesu am made a minister. Now hope I in my sufferynge which I suffer for you, and fulfill (a) that which is behinde of the passions of Christe in my fleshe for his bodyes sake, which is the congregacion, wherof I am made a minister according to the ordinance of god, which ordinance was geuen me vnto youward, to fulfill the worde of God, that minister he had sence the world beganne, and sence the begynnyng of generacions: but now is opened to his sayntes to whom God wold make knowne the glorious riches of his mystery among the gentyles, wherby riches is Christe in you the hope of glorie, whom we preache, warning all men and teaching all men in all wysdome, to make al menne perfect in Christe Iesu. Wherewith I also labour and stryue, eue as far forth as his working worketh in me, mightely.

The Notes.

(a) For the passions or sufferynge wherby he sustained for our synnes. For therein wanted no change. They were a sufferyng ransome for þe syns of the whole worlde. But these passions and sufferynge were the paynfull trauayles in prayyng to the people the Gospell, and the persecutions that folowe the same. And these sufferynge are not yet at an ende. For all the true preachers do yet and shall to the worldes ende suffer in this sort: for the body of Christe, that is his congregacio. For as they persecuted Christe, so shall they persecute his true preachers.

The ii. Chapter.

¶ After that he hath got the first chapter, he exhorteth them that they slide not from the perfect doctrine of the Gospell to philosophicall subtilties, and Jewe the fables, wherewith our redemption is the forgyuenes of synnes of synnes Heb. i. c.

Ephes. i. d. and. v. c. i. Cor. xv. c. He is the first & hath the glorie & new life of the resurrection.

Rom. i. i. c. ii. Cor. v. d. i. Rom. v. a. Ephes. i. c. Coloss. ii. c.

ii. Cor. i. c. Ephes. iii. d.

A true apostle would haue al me perfect in the knowledge of Christ and of his doctrine.

Ephes. i. c. b. math. xi. d. ii. Cor. i. c. c. Ephes. i. d.

That was behinde in the passions of Christe.

Galat. i. d. Ephes. i. d.

Phil. i. a. i. Cor. i. a. Roma. i. b. Phil. p. i. a. Ephes. i. d. Wher the faith of Christ is, there is loue to the brethren.

Col. iii. a.

Ephes. i. d.

Iohn. xv. c.

Ephes. i. d.

The epistle of S. Paul

inoughly vehementlye againste those that teach such thynges, aduysing agayne that all fulnes is in Christ.

I Would ye knewe what fighting I haue for youre sakes, and for them of Laodicea, & for as manie as haue not seene my person in the fleshe, that they herts might be comforted and knit together in loue, & in all riches of full vnderstandynge, for to knowe the mysterie of God the father and of Christ, in whom are hid all the treasures of wysdome and knowledge. * This I say least any man should begyle you wth emptyng wordes. For though I be absent in the fleshe, yet am I presente wth you in the spyrte, toyinge and beholding the order that ye kepe, and your stedfast fapth in Christ. As ye haue therfore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord: euen so walke, robed and buipt in hym, and stedfast in the fapth as ye haue learned, and therin be plentuous in geuyng thankes.

Beware lest any man come and spoyle you thow philosophy and disceptfull vanitie, thow the tradycions of men, and ordynauces after the worlde, and not after Christ. For in hym dwelleth all the fulnes of the Godhead (a) body, and ye are complete in him whiche is the heade of all rule and power, in whom also ye are crucified wth circumcision made wth his out handes, by puttyng of the spynful body of the fleshe thow the circumcision that is in Christ, in that ye are buried wth him thow baptism, in whom ye are also risen agayne thow fapth, & is wrought by the operation of God which raised him from death.

And ye whiche were dead in sinne thow the uncircumcision of your fleshe, hath he quickened with hym, and hath forgiven vs all our trespasses, & hath put out the hand wrytyng that was agaynst vs, cancelled in the lawe witten, and that hath he taken out of the way, and hath fastened it to his crosse, and hath spoiled rule & power, and hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer the in his owne person.

Let no man therfore trouble youre consciences about meat and dryncke, or for a piece of an holy day, as the holy day of the newe Moone or of the Sabothe dayes, * which are nothing, but shadowes of thyngs to come: but the body is of Christe. Let no man make you shoke at a wronge marche, whiche after his owne pynagion walke in the humblenes and holynes of angels, thyngs whiche he neuer sawe, causelesse putt by wth his fleshy minde, & holdeth not the heade, wherof all the body by ioyntes and couples receiueith nourishment, and is together, & encreaseth wth the increasynge that cometh of God.

Wherfore if ye be dead wth Christ fro the ordinaunces of the worlde, wher as though ye yet liue in the world, are ye led to the Colos. Chap. iii. Fo. xliii.

with tradicions of them that saye: Touch not, tast not, handle not, whiche al perthe with the vsinge of them, and are after the commaundements and doctrines of men: which thyngs haue the similitude of wysdome in chosen holynes and humblenes, & in that they spare not (c) the body, & do the fleshe no worship vnto his nede.

The Notes.

(a) That is, verely and in dede, not in shadowes, so that when ye haue hym, ye ought not to follow the shadowes of Moyses law, or the entymementes or iudgements of mannes wysdome. But haueing hym in whom dwelleth the fulnes of the Godhead body, that is to saye: verely, you maye no longer now beholde figures, and doubtfull promyses, but embrace faithfully the sonne of God, who is also very God of the substance of the father, and very man of the substance of Mary the vyrgin.

(b) The lawe is our hand wrytynge, in that the conscience setteth to his scale, subscribyng and consentynge that the lawe is iuste, and we synners. Whiche lawe (conscience dampnacion) is taken away by Christ, in all them that vnfeignably beleue and trust in hym.

(c) This body, is the performance of all the thynges that were prefigured in the olde lawe.

The. iii. Chapter.

He exhorteeth them to despyse earthly thynges, and care for the heauynly, then nameth he certayne vices whiche they shuld refraine, commendynge hyghlye charitye and encreasynge of Gods word. Laste he appoynteth the lawes of marriage, and the duties of chyldren and fathers, of seruants and maisters.

If ye then be risen agayne with Christe, seeke those thynges whiche are aboue, wher Christ sitteth on the righte hande of God. Set your affectyō on thyngs that are aboue, and not on things which are on the earth. For ye are dead, and your lyfe is hid with Christ in God. Wher Christ which is our lyfe, shall leue hym selfe, then shall ye also appeare with hym in glory. For if therfore your members which are on the earth, fornicacion vncleannes, vnnatural lust, euell concupiscence, and couetousnes which is worshyping of Idols: for which thynges takes the wrath of God cometh on the children of vbelefe. In whiche thynges ye walked once when ye liued in them. But nowe put ye also awaye from you all thynges, wrath, fearesnes, malicousnes, cursed speakynge, and splethyspeaking out of your mouthes. Ipe not one to another, that the old man wth his workes be put of, and the new put on, whiche is renued in knowledge after the pynage of hym that made hym, wher is neither Gentill nor Jewe, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarous or Sathan, bonde or free: but Christ is all in all thynges.

Now therfore as elect of God, holy and is Christe beloued, put on tender meete, kyndnes, to another humblenes of mynde, mekenes, long suffering, forbearing one another, and forgeue up one another, if any man haue a quarrell to another, eue as Christ forgave you, make the Christ, not other name to be saued by.

Body.

Hand wrytynge.

The body.

Al the merce that is sette forth in the two upper chapters is promised to the onely that will folowe Christ, & lyue as hereafter foloweth. These matters must be slayne. Ephe. ii. 8 Rem. vi. 8 Eph. iii. 8 1 Pet. i. 8 Gal. vi. 8 Euery man

The epistle of S. Paul

inoughly vehementlye againste those that teach such thynges, aduising agayne that all fulnes is in Christ.

I Would ye knewe what fighting I haue for youre sakes, and for them of Laodicea, & for as manie as haue not seene my person in the fleshe, that they herts might be comforted and knit together in loue, & in all riches of full vnderstandynge, for to knowe the mysterie of God the father and of Christ, in whom are hid all the treasures of wysdome and knowledge. * This I say least any man should begyle you wth emptyng wordes. For though I be absent in the fleshe, yet am I presente wth you in the spytte, toyinge and beholding the order that ye kepe, and your stedfast fapth in Christ. As ye haue therfore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord: euen so walke, robed and buipt in hym, and stedfast in the fapth as ye haue learned, and therin be plentious in geupnge thanckes.

Beware lest any man come and spoyle you thow philosophy and discreffull vanitie, thow the tradycions of men, and ordynauces after the worlde, and not after Christ. For in hym dwelleth all the fulnes of the Godhead (a) body, and ye are complete in him whiche is the heade of all rule and power, in whom also ye are crucified wth the circumcision made wth the out handes, by puttyng of the spynful body of the fleshe thow the circumcision that is in Christ, in that ye are buried wth hym thow baptism, in whom ye are also risen agayne thow fapth, & is wrought by the operation of God which raised him from death.

And ye whiche were dead in sinne thow the uncircumcision of your fleshe, hath he quickened with hym, and hath forgiven vs all our trespasses, & hath put out the hand wrytyng that was agaynst vs, cancelled in the lawe witten, and that hath he taken out of the way, and hath fastened it to his crosse, and hath spoiled rule & power, and hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer the in his owne person.

Let no man therfore trouble youre consciences about meat and dryncke, or for a piece of an holy day, as the holy day of the newe Moone or of the Sabothe dayes, * which are nothing, but shadowes of thyngs to come: but the body is of Christe. Let no man make you shoke at a wronge marche, whiche after his owne pynagion walke in the humblenes and holynes of angels, thyngs whiche he neuer sawe, causelesse putt by wth his fleshy minde, & holdeth not the heade, wherof all the body by ioyntes and couples receiueith nourishment, and is together, & encreaseth wth the increasynge that cometh of God.

Wherfore if ye be dead wth Christ fro the ordinaunces of the worlde, wher as though ye yet liue in the world, are ye led to the Colos. Chap. iii. Fo. xliii.

with tradicions of them that saye: Touch not, tast not, handle not, whiche al perthe with the vsinge of them, and are after the commaundements and doctrines of men: which thyngs haue the similitude of wysdome in chosen holynes and humblenes, & in that they spare not (c) the body, & do the fleshe no worship vnto his nede.

The Notes.

(a) That is, verely and in dede, not in shadowes, so that when ye haue hym, ye ought not to follow the shadowes of Moyses law, or the entymementes or iudgeynge of mannes wysdome. But haue hym in whom dwelleth the fulnes of the Godhead body, that is to saye: verely, you maye no longer now beholde figures, and doubtfull promyses, but embrace fastly the sonne of God, who is also very God of the substance of the father, and very man of the substance of Mary the vyrgin.

(b) The lawe is our hand wrytynge, in that the conscience setteth to his scale, subscribyng and consentynge that the lawe is iuste, and we synners. Whiche lawe (conscience dampnacion) is taken away by Christ, in all them that vnfeignably beleue and trust in hym.

(c) This body, is the performance of all the thynges that were prefigured in the olde lawe.

The. iii. Chapter.

He exhorteeth them to despyse earthly thynges, and care for the heauynly, then nameth he certayne vices whiche they shuld refraine, commendynge hyghlye charytee and encreasynge of Gods word. Laste he appoynteth the lawes of marriage, and the duties of chyldren and fathers, of seruantes and maisters.

If ye then be risen agayne with Christe, seeke those thynges whiche are aboue, wher Christ sitteth on the righte hande of God. Set your affectyō on thyngs that are aboue, and not on things which are on the earth. For ye are dead, and your lyfe is hid with Christ in God. Wher Christ which is our lyfe, shall leue hym selfe, then shall ye also appeare with hym in glory. For if therfore your members which are on the earth, fornicacion vncleannes, vnnatural lust, euell concupiscence, and couetousnes which is worshyping of Idols: for which thynges takes the wrath of God cometh on the children of vbelefe. In whiche thynges ye walked once when ye liued in them. But nowe put ye also awaye from you all thynges, wrath, fearesnes, malicousnes, cursed speakynge, and splytly speaking out of your mouthes. Ipe not one to another, that the old man wth his workes be put of, and the new put on, whiche is renewed in knowledge after the pynage of hym that made hym, wher is neither Gentill nor Jewe, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarous or Sathan, bonde or free: but Christ is all in all thynges.

Now therfore as elect of God, holy and is Christe beloued, put on tender meete, kyndnes, to another humblenes of mynde, mekenes, long suffering, forbearing one another, and forgeue up one another, if any man haue a quarrell to another, eue as Christ forgave you, make the Christ, nor other name to be saued by.

Bodyly.

Hand wrytynge.

The body.

Al the mercie that is sette forth in the two upper chapters is promised to the only that will folowe Christ, & lyue as hereafter foloweth. These matters must be slayne. Ephe. ii. 8 Rem. vi. 8 Eph. iii. 8 1 Pet. i. 8 Gal. vi. 8 Euery man

The Epistle of Saint Paul

mat. xxi. d. euen so do ye. About all these thynges put on loue which is the bonde of perfectnes.
And the peace of god rule in your hertes, to
the whiche peace ye are called in one body.
And let that ye be thankfull. Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wis-dome. Teache and exhorte your owne fellows in psalms and hymnes, and spirituall songes, which haue fauour with them, singing in your hertes to the lord. And all thin-ges, whatsoeuer ye do in word or dede do it in the name of the lord Iesu, geuyng
thanks to God the father by him.

Wives. Wives submit your selues vnto your owne husbands, as it is comely in the lord.
Husbands loue your wives, and be not bitter vnto them. Children obey your fathers and mothers in the lord. For that is well pleasynge vnto the lord. Fathers, rate not your children, lest they be of a desperate mynd. Seruauntes be obedient vnto your bodily maisters in all things, not
with eye seruite as men pleasers, but in sin-glenes of hert, fearing God. And whatsoeuer ye do, do it hertely, as though ye dyd it to the lord, and not vnto men: for as muche
as ye know that of the lord, ye shal receiue the reward of inheritance, for ye serue the lord Christ.

But he that doth anye wrong, shal receiue for the wrong that he hath done. For ther is no respecte of persones with God. Ye maisters do vnto your seruants that which is iust and equal, for ye knowe that ye also haue a maister in heauen.

The iii. Chapter.

Here he begynneth the other parte of his Epistle, in which he exhorteth them to prynci-pall in true religyon, though purpse of lyfe, innocency, and mutuall loue. Then he forbyddeth pldence and curysitie. Laste he disputeth of the deade, and of the resurreccyon of oure bodies.

Continue in prayer and watche in the same wyth thanks geuyng, praying
also for vs that God open vnto vs
the doore of biterance, that we maye speake the misterie of Christ (wherefore I am also in bondes) that I may vtter it as it becommeth me to speake.

Wake wisely to them that are without, salte is þe and redeme the tyme. Lette your speach be wisdom of alwaies well fauoured and powdered wyth gods word. That ye may know how to aunswere euerye manne. The deare brother Tychicus shall tell you of all my busynes, whiche is a faithfull minister, and fellow seruaunt in the lord, whom I haue sente vnto you for the same purpose, that he mighte knowe
how ye do, and might comfort your hertes, with one Onesimus, a faithfull and a beloued brother which is one of you. They shall

shewe you of all things, which are a doing here. Aristarchus my prison folowe salueth you. Marcus Barnabas Cassers son: touchynge whom perseeued commaunde-mentes. If he come vnto you, receiue him, to the Collosy, Chap. iiii.

and Iesus whiche is called Justus, whiche are of the circumcysion. These only at my worke felowes vnto the kyngdom of god, to whiche were vnto my consolacion. * Paphas the seruaunt of Christ, whiche is one of you, saluteth you, & alwaies laboureth frequently for you in prayers, that ye maye stand perfect and full in all that is the wyll
of God.

I beare him record that he hath a seruett mynde toward you, and toward them of Laodicia & them of Hierapolis. Deare Lucas the physician greeteth you, and * De-mas Salute the brethren whiche are of La-odicia, and salute Nymphas and the con-gregacion which is in his house. And when the Epistle is reade of you, make that it be reade in the congregacion of the Laodicians also, and that ye likewise reade the Epistle of Laodicia. And sape to Archyp-pus: take hede to the offyce that thou haste receyued in the lord, that thou fulfill it.
The salutacion by the hand of me Paule.
Remember my bondes. Grace be wyth
you. Amen.

Sent from Rome by Tychicus and Onesimus.

The Prologe

vpon the .i. Epylle of S.
Paule to the Thessalonians.

His Epistle byd Paul wyte of ex-ceedynge loue and care: and praiseth them in the two first Chapters, because they dyd receyue the Gospell earnestly, and had in tribulacion
and persecucion continued therein stedfastly,
and were become an ensample vnto all congre-gacions, and had thereto suffred of theyr owne brusmen, as Christ and his Apostles dyd of the Jewes, puttynge them thereto in mynde, how pus-sely and Godly he hadde tryed amonge them to theyr ensample, and thanketh God that his Gospell had brought forth such fruite amonge
them.

In the thyrde Chapter he sheweth his dylygence and care, least his so greates labour and theyr so blessed a begynnynge should haue bene in vayne, Mathan and his Apostles being the wyth persecucion, and destroyng theyr fayeth wyth many doctryne. And therfore he sent Timothee to them to comfort them and strengthe the
in the fapth, and thanketh God that they had so constantly endured, and besyeth God to en-crease them.

In the fourth he exhorteth them to kepe themselues from synne, and to do good one to another. And ther to he informeth them concernynge the resurreccyon.

In the fift he wytteth of the last daye, that it should come sodaynly, exhortynge to prepare themselves thereafte, and to kepe a good order concernynge obedyeppence and
rule.

The Epistle of Saint Paul

mat. xxi. d. euen so do ye. About all these thynges put on loue whiche is the bonde of perfectnes.
And the peace of god rule in your hertes, to
the whiche peace ye are called in one body.
And let that ye be thankfull. Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wis-
dome. Teache and exhorte your owne fellows in psalms and hymnes, and spirituall songes, which haue fauour with them, singing in your hertes to the lord. And all thin-ges, whatsoeuer ye do in word or dede do
it in the name of the Lord Iesu, geuyng
thanks to God the father by him.

Wives. ^{Wives} Submit your selues vnto your
owne husbands, as it is comely in the lord.
Husbands loue your wives, and be not bitter vnto them. Children obey your fathers and mothers in the lord. For that is well pleasyng vnto the Lord. Fathers, rate not your children, lest they be of a desperate mynd. ^{Seruaunts} Seruaunts be obedient vnto your bodily maisters in all things, not
with eye seruite as men pleasers, but in sin-glenes of hert, fearing God. And whatsoeuer ye do, do it hertely, as though ye dyd it
to the lord, and not vnto men: for as muche
as ye know that of the lord, ye shal receiue the reward of inheritance, for ye serue the Lord Christ.

But he that doth anye wrong, shal receiue
for the wrong that he hath done. For ther is no respecte of persones with God. Ye maisters do vnto your seruaunts that which is iust and equal, for ye knowe that ye
also haue a maister in heauen.

The iii. Chapter.

Here he begynneth the other parte of his Epistle, in which he exhorteth them to prynci-pall in true religyon, though purpise of lyfe, innocency, and mutuall loue. Then he forbyddeth pldence and curysitie. Laste he disputeth of the deade, and of the resurreccyon
of oure bodies.

Continue in prayer and wathe in the same wyth thanks geuyng, praying
also for vs that God open vnto vs
the doore of biterance, that we maye speake the misterie of Christ (wherfore I am also in bondes) that I may vtter it as it becommeth me to speake.

Walue wisely to them that are without,
salte is þe and redeme the tyme. Lette your speach be wisdom of alwaies well fauoured and powdered wyth
gods word. That ye may know how to aunswere euerye manne. The deare brother Tychicus shall tell you of all my busynes, whiche is
a faithfull minister, and fellow seruaunt in
the Lord, whom I haue sente vnto you for the same purpose, that he mighte knowe
how ye do, and might comfort your hertes,
with one Onesimus, a faithfull and a beloued brother which is one of you. They shall

Shewe you of all things, which are a doing here. Aristarchus my prison fellowe salueth you. Marcus Barnabas Cassars son: touchyng whom perseeued commaunde-mentes. If he come vnto you, receiue him, to the Collosy, Chap. iiii.

and Iesus whiche is called Justus, whiche
are of the circumcysion. These only at my worke felowes vnto the kyngdom of god, to whiche were vnto my consolacion. ^{Phylas} Phylas the seruaunt of Christ, whiche is one of you, saluteth you, & alwaies laboureth
frequently for you in prayers, that ye maye
stand perfect and full in all that is the wyll
of God.

I beare him record that he hath a seruett
mynde toward you, and toward them of Laodicia & them of Hierapolis. Deare Lucas the physician greeteth you, and ^{Demas} De-mas Salute the brethren whiche are of La-odicia, and salute Nymphas and the con-gregacion which is in his house. And when the Epistle is reade of you, make that it be reade in the congregacion of the Laodici-
ans also, and that ye likewise reade the Epistle of Laodicia. And sape to Archyp-pus: take hede to the offyce that thou haste
receyued in the Lord, that thou fulfill it.
The salutacion by the hand of me Paule.
Remember my bondes. Grace be wyth
you. Amen.

Sent from Rome by Tychicus
and Onesimus.

The Prologe vpon the .i. Epylle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

His Epistle byd Paul wyte of exceedyng loue and care: and pryncipally them in the two first Chapters, because they dyd receiue the Gospell earnestly, and had in tribulacion
and persecucion continued therein stedfastly,
and were become an ensample vnto all congre-gacions, and had thereto suffred of theyr owne brethren, as Christ and his Apostles dyd of the Jewes, putting them thereto in mynde, how pus-sely and Godly he hadde tryed amonge them to theyr ensample, and thanketh God that his Gospell had brought forth such fruite amonge
them.

In the thyrde Chapter he sheweth his dylygence and care, least his so greete labour and theyr so blessed begynnyng should haue bene in vayne, Mathan and his Apostles being the wyth persecucion, and destroyng theyr fayth wyth many doctryne. And therfore he sent Timothee to them to comfort them and strengthe the
in the fapth, and thanketh God that they had so constantly endured, and besyeth God to en-crease them.

In the fourth he exhorteth them to kepe them-
selues from synne, and to do good one to another. And ther to he informeth them concernyng the resurreccyon.

In the fift he wytteth of the last daye, that it should come sodaynly, exhortyng to prepare themselves thereunto,
and to kepe a good order concernyng obedye-
nce and
rule.

The .i. epistle of S. Paul The .i. epistle of saynt Paule vnto the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

The playfeth the Thessalonians, because þ in so grete troubles, they hadde kepte the fayeth, whych they hadde learned of hym, so synccely and fullre, that they were an example vnto all other.

A

Aule, Siluanus, and Ti-motheus. Vnto the congregation of the Thessalonians. in God the father in the Lord Jesus Christ.

* Grace be with you, and peace from god our father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

We geue God thanckes alwayes for you all, makynge mencyon of you in oure prayers withoute ceasinge, and call to re-membraunce your worke in the fayeth, and labour * in loue and perseuerance in that hope of oure Lorde Jesus Christ, in the sight of God our father, because we know brethren beloued of God, howe that ye are electe. For our Gospell came not to you in word * only, but also in power, and in the holpe ghost, and in muche certaintie, as ye knowe after what maner we behaued oure selues amonge you, for your sakes.

And ye became folowers of vs of the Lorde, and receyued the word wpth muche affliccyon, with ioye of the holy ghost: so that ye were an ensample to all that beleue in Macedonia and Achaia. For from you sounded out the worde of the Lorde, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely:
but poute sayeth also whiche ye haue vnto God, spied hym selfe abroade in all quatters, so greatly, that it needeth not vs to speake any thyng at all. For they themselues shewe of you what maner of entre-ringe in we had vnto you, and howe ye returned vnto God sed images, for to serue the lypunge and true God, and for to loke for hym sonne * from heauen. whom he raised from death: I meane Jesus whych de-liueth vs from wyath * to come.

The .ii. Chapter.

He describeth hym doctryne mox at large than he taught it them, not to praple him selfe, but to exhoite them that they shal not fea their fayeth and Godlynes, nor be moued through thantoytie of those whych hadde persecuted Christe and all hym Apostles.

For ye pour selues knowe * brethren of our entraunce in vnto you, how that it was not in bayne: but even after that we had suffered before, and were * wainefullre entreated at Philippios (as ye well know) then were we bolde in oure God to

to the Thess. Chap. ii. Fo. xciii.

speake vnto you the Gospell of God wpth * much styrving. Our exhortacyon was not to bring you to erroure, nor yet to vnder-nes, neither was it with gyle: but as we were allowed of God, that the Gospell shoulde be commytted vnto vs: euen so we spake, not as though we enteded to please men: but God whych tryeth our hertes.

Nether was oure conuersacyon at anye tyme with flatteringe wordes, as ye well knowe, neyther in cloked couctoulines * God is record: nether soughte we praple of men neither of you, nor yet of anye other, when we myght haue bene chargeable, as the Apostles of Christe, but we were tender amonge you: euen as a nourse cheriseth hir chidren, so was our affection toward you:
our good will was to haue dealt to you, not the Gospell of God onely, but also oure own soules, because ye were deare to vs.

* Ye remember brethren our labour and trauaile. For we labored daye and nyghte, because we would not be greuous but any of you and preached vnto you the Gos-pell of God. Ye are witnesses, and so is God, howe holpwe and iustlye and vnbly-meablye we behaued oure selues amonge you that beleue, as ye knowe howe that we exhortet and comforted, and besoughte euerye one of you, as a father hys chidren, that ye woulde walke wothlye of God, whych hath called you vnto hym kyngdom glory.

For this cause thanke we God wpthout ceasinge, because that when ye recey-ued of hym þ word wherwith God was preached, ye receyued it not as the word of man but euen as it was in dede, the word of God: which worketh in you that beleue. *
For ye brethren became folowers of the cogregacions of God, whyche in Jewys are in Christ Jesus: for ye haue suffred like thin-ges of your kynsmenne, as we oure selues haue suffred of the Jewes. Whych as they kylled the Lord Jesus and they own prophetes, euen so haue they persecuted vs, and God they please not, and are contrary to all men, and forbyd vs to preach vnto the gentiles that they mighte be saued, to fulfyll thei synnes alway. For the wyath of God is come on them, eue to the vltimost.

For as much brethren as we are kept from you for a season as concernynge the bodely presence, but not in the hert, we exhortet the more to se you personalllye wpth greate desyre. And therefore we would haue come vnto you, I Paule once and agayne: but * Sathan wythstode vs. For what is our hope or ioye, or crowne of resouringe, * are not ye it in the presence of oure lorde and Jesus Christ at his comynge? yea, ye are our glory and ioye.

The .iii. Chapter.

He holdeth on hym matter in which he pro-ueth hym sauer toward them both by his sentyng of Timothee also by his prayer for them: Whych tendeth all to this ende, that they

Roma. i. a.
i. Cor. i. a.
ii. Cor. i. a.
Gala. i. a.
Eph. i. a.
i. Rom. i. b.
Phil. i. a.
Eph. i. b.
Collo. i. a.
i. Cor. iii. b.
i. Tim. i. a.

i. Cor. ii. a.
i. Cor. ii. a.

Hebr. i. b.
i. Joh. ii. b.

i. Cor. i. b.

Act. xvi. b.

Deu. xvi. b.
i. Cor. i. b.
Gala. i. b.

Phil. i. a.

A sure token of a true apostle.
i. Cor. ii. g.
i. Cor. iii. c.
i. Cor. iii. c.
i. Cor. iii. c.

Luke. xii. c.

i. Cor. i. c.
i. Cor. i. c.

The Epistle of S. Paul

they should not through persecucion fall away from Christ.

Vherfore sence we couide no longer forbeare, it pleased vs to remain at Athens alone, and sente Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and oure laboure felowe in the Gosnell of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you ouer your faith: that no man shuld be moued in these distractions. For ye knowe selues knowe that we are euen appointed therunto. For wherelp when I was wpth you, I tolde you before, that we should suffer tribulacion, euen as it came to passe, and as ye knowe. For this cause wherelp I could no longer forbeare, I sente that I mighte haue knowledge of your faith, least happelp the tempter had tempted you, and that our laboure had bene bestowed in vaine.

But now latelp when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and declared to vs your faith and your loue, and howe that ye haue good remembraunce of vs alwayes, desyringe to se vs as we desire to se you: Therefore brethren we had consolacion in you, and in all our auersitie, and necessitie. thow poure faethly. For nowe are wee alque, if we stand stedfast in the Lord. For what thanks can we recompence to God againe for you, ouer all the rop that we rope for your sake before our God, while we might and day pray exceedngly that we might se you presently, and might fulfill that which is lackng in your faethly.

God him selfe our father, and our Lorde Jesus Christ guide our iorney to you: and the Lord increase you and make you flow ouer in loue one toward another, and toward al men euen as we do toward you, to make your hertes stable and vnblyameable in holynesse before God our father, at the comynge of our lorde Jesu wpth all hys sapnetes.

The .iii. Chapter.

Wher he begynneth the other parte of hys Epistle, in which he exhorteth them to profite dayly in true religiō, through purgynge of life innocencye, and mutuall loue. Then he forbyddeth vncleannes and curyosyte, laste he dispateth of the dead, and of the rpyng agayn of our bodyes.

Furthermore wee beseeche you brethren and exhort you in the lorde Jesus, that ye increase more and more euen as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walk and to please God. Ye remember what commaundements we gaue you in our lorde Jesu Christ. For this is the wil of God euen so ye should beholpe, that ye should abstaine from fornicacion, that euerye one of you should know how to kepe his vessel in holines and honoure, and not in the lust of concupiscence: as do the heathen whych know not God, that no man go to farre and defraude hys brother in bargenng: because the lorde is a reuenger of al such thinges as we tolde you before tyme, and testified. For

to the Thessa. Cha. iiii.

God hath not called vs to vncleannes, but vnto holines. * Therefore that despiseth, despiseth not manne, but God which hath sent this holy spirit amonge you. But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not I write vnto you. For ye are taught of God, to loue one another. Yea and that thinge wherelp ye do vnto all the brethren, which are thow woute al Macedonia. We beseeche you brethren that ye encrease more and more, and that ye study to be quiet, and to meddle with your own busynes, and to worke with your own handes, as we commanded you: that ye maye behaue your selues honestly toward them that are without, and that nothing be lackng vnto you.

* I would not brethren haue you ignorant concerning them which are fallen a slepe, that ye sorrow not as other do whiche haue no hope. For if we beleue that Jesus Christ dyed and rose againe, euen so them whiche slepe by Jesus, will God bring agayn with him. And thus say we vnto you in the word of the lorde, that we which lue and are remaininge in the comynge of the lorde, shall not come per they whiche slepe. For the lorde himselfe shall descend from heauen with a shout, and the voice of the archangel and trompe of God. And the dead in Christ shall aryse (first: then shall we which lue and remaine, be caught up with them also in the cloudes to meete the lorde in the ayer. And so shall we euer be with the lorde. Wherefore comforte your selues one another with these wordes. *

The .v. Chapter.

Wher teacheth of the vncertayntye of the tyme of our rpyng agayne, by whiche he exhorteth to watchng and sobernes. Then he comeneth vnto them the ministers of the church, he commaundeth them to care one for another, teacheth them to trie prophetes, and wisheth all good to them that beleue.

Of the times and seasons brethren ye haue no nebe that I write vnto you, for ye knowe perfectly that the day of the Lorde shall come euen as a thefe in the night. When they shall say peace and no daunger, then cometh on them sudden destruction, as the traualynge of a woman wpth childe, and they shall not escape. But ye brethren are not in darcknes, that that daye should come on you, as it were a thefe. * Ye are all the chyldren of lpyght, and the chyldren of the day. We are not of the nyght, neyther of darckenes.

* Therefore lette vs not slepe as do other: but lette vs watche and be sober. For they that slepe, slepe in the nyght: and they that be droncken, are droncken in the nyght. But lette vs which are of the day, be sober, armed with the brest plate of sapeth and loue, and wpth hope of saluacion as an helmet. For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath: but to obtayne saluacion by the meanes of our Lorde Jesu Christ, whiche dyed for vs: that whether wee wake

Luke. x. c.
1. Cor. iii. b
and. vi. b
1. Cor. i. a
1. Thon. ii. a
and. xv. b
1. Joh. ii. b
A good lesson for the
that wold
lue pble.
* Act. ii. b
1. Cor. ii. c.
1. Cor. iii. b
Resurrec-
cion.

1. Thon. ii. a
1. Cor. ii. a
1. Cor. ii. a

1. Cor. xv. g

mat. xxiv. e.
L. ad. xii. a.
1. Cor. xv. b

mat. xxiv. b
1. Cor. i. b Apoc. iii. a
and xv.
1. Cor. xv. b

1. Thon. ii. e
Ephes. v. c.

Rom. xii. b Faith is brest plate hope is helmet.
Esa. li. c.
Ephes. vi. c.

The .i. Epistle of S. Paule

wake or slepe, wee shoulde lyue together with him wherfore comforte your selues together, and edifye one another, euen as ye do. &

ii. Cor. v. d.
Gala. vi. a.
ii. Ti. v. b.
We beseech you brethren, * that ye know them which labour among you, and haue the oversight of you in the Lorde, and geue you exhortacion, that ye haue them the more in loue for their workes sake, and be at peace with them.

Math. v. c.
Phil. iiii. a.
Luke. xvi.
Eph. v. b.
i. co. xiii. d.
Rom. xii. d.
i. Pet. iii. b.
* We desire you brethren warne them that are vntruly comfort the feeble minded, forbeare the weake, haue continual patience toward all men. Se that none recompence euill for euill vnto any man: but euer follow that which is good, both among your selues, and to all men. * Reioyce uer: & pray continually. * In all thynges geue thanks. For this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

Examen
al maner
of learning
* Quenche not the (a) spirite. Despyse not prophesying. Examen all thyngs, and kepe that which is good. Absteyne from all suspicious thynges. The very god of peace sanctifye you thorow oute. And I praye God that your whole spirite, soule and body, be kept faultles vnto the cominge of our Lord Iesus Christ. &

i. Cor. i. b.
and. x. c.
Rom. xvi. b.
i. Cor. xvi. c.
ii. Cor. xiii. c.
i. Tes. iii. d.
* Faithfull is he whiche called you: whiche will also do it. Brethren, praye for vs. * Grete all the brethren with an holy kysse. I charge you in the Lorde that this Epistle be reade vnto all the holpe brethren. The grace of the Lorde Iesus Christ be wth you. Amen.

The Notes.

Praye continually. (a) Thys continual praye is not continual babling wth the tong. (For that is forbiddon Mathew. vi.) but it is the spytynge vp of the herte vnto God, with the continual and seruent bespye, that the will of God be done in vs, and in all other creatures both now and in tyme to come.

Quenche not the spirite (b) When we are geuen ouer to euill conuersacion, and bespye in fleshy conuersion, then is the spirite quenched in vs.

The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, sent from Athens.

The Prologe vpon the .ii. Epistle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

Because in the first Epistle he hadde sayd that the laste daye shoulde come sodenlye, the Thessalonians thought that it shoulde haue come shortly. Wherfore in thys Epistle he declareth hymselfe.

And in the first Chapter he comforteth them wth euerlastynge reward of theyr sayth and patience in suffering for the Gospel, and wth the punishment of theyr persecutours in euerlastynge payne.

In the seconde he sheweth that the laste daye shoulde not come tyll there were first a depar-

To the Thess. Cha. i. Jo. xlv.

tyng (as some men thynke) from vnder the obedience of the Emperour of Rome, and that a suchyn shoulde set vp hym selfe in the same place as God, and deceyue the vntowardly world wth false doctryne, and wth false and lpyng myracles wrought by the working of Satan, vntill he shoulde come and slea hym wth his glorious coming and spiritual preaching of the word of God.

In the third he gructh them exhortacion, and warneth them to rebuke the idle that woulde not labour wth theyr handes, and auoyde theyr company, yf they would not amende.

The seconde epistle of S. Paul the apo- stle to the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

Because he prayeth they sayeth, to whiche they sticke in euery sore danger, pryncipally that they shalbe rewarded therfore wth euerlastynge lyfe, but threatneth the wyched wth euerlastynge damnacion, descreyunge wythall the glorious coming of Christ, to whiche he addeth prayer, warnynge vs what we ought to do.

Aule, Siluanus and Timo-theus. Vnto the congrega-cion of the Thessalonians which are in God our father, and in the Lorde Jesus Christ.

* Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

We are bounde to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your sayth groweth exceedingly, and euery one of you summeth in loue toward another betwene your selues, so that we our selues reioyce of you in the congregacions of God ouer your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulacions that ye suffer, which is a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye at counted worthy of the kyngdome of God, for which ye also suffer. It is verely a righteous thinge with God to recompence tribulacion to them that trouble you: and to you which are troubled rest with vs, whiche the Lord Iesus shall shew hymselfe from heauen with his mighty aungels, in flaming fire, rending vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, and to them that obeye not vnto the Gospel of oure Lorde Iesus Christ, whiche shall be punished with euerlastynge damnacion from the presence of the Lorde, and from the glorie of his power, when he shall come to be glorified in his saintes, & to be made maruelous in all them that beleue: because oure testimony that we had vnto you, was beleued euen the same daye that we preached it.

Wherfore wee praye alwayes for you, that oure God make you worthy of the callinge, and fulfill all declaration of

Tribulaci-
on is a token of sal-
uacion.

mat. xxiii. c
and. xii. c
i. Pet. iii. a Roma. ii. a

2. pet. v. a.
2. cor. ii. b

The .i. Epistle of S. Paule

wake or slepe, wee shoulde lyue together with him wherfore comforte your selues together, and edifye one another, euen as ye do. &

ii. Cor. v. d.
Gala. vi. a.
ii. Ti. v. b.
We beseech you brethren, * that ye know them which labour among you, and haue the oversight of you in the Lorde, and geue you exhortacion, that ye haue them the more in loue for their workes sake, and be at peace with them.

Math. v. c.
Phil. iiii. a.
Luke. xiiii.
Eph. v. b.
i. co. xiiii. b.
* We desire you brethren warne them that are vntruly, comfort the feeble minded, forbeare the weake, haue continual patience toward all men. Se that none recompence euill for euill vnto any man: but euer follow that which is good, both among your selues, and to all men. * Reioyce euer: & pray continually. * In all thynges geue thanks. For this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

Rom. xii. d.
i. Pet. iii. b.
Examen
al maner
of learning
* Quenche not the (a) spirite. Despyse not prophesying. Examen all thyngs, and kepe that which is good. Absteyne from all suspicious thynges. The very god of peace sanctifye you thorow oute. And I praye God that your whole spirite, soule and body, be kept faultles vnto the cominge of our Lord Iesus Christ. &

i. Cor. i. b.
and. x. c.
Rom. xvi. b.
i. Cor. xvi. c.
ii. Cor. xiii. c.
i. Tes. iii. d.
* Faithfull is he whiche called you: whiche will also do it. Brethren, praye for vs. * Grete all the brethren with an holy kysse. I charge you in the Lorde that this Epistle be reade vnto all the holpe brethren. The grace of the Lorde Iesus Christ be wth you. Amen.

The Notes.

Praye continually. (a) Thys continual prayer is not continual babling wth the tong. (For that is forbidden Mathew. vi.) but it is the spyllynge vp of the hearte vnto God, with the continual and seruient desyre, that the will of God be done in vs, and in all other creatures both now and in tyme to come.

Quenche not the spirite (b) When we are geuen ouer to euill conuersacion, and desyre in fleshy communicacion, then is the spirite quenched in vs.

The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, sent from Athens.

The Prologe vpon the .ii. Epistle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

Because in the first Epistle he hadde sayd that the laste daye shoulde come sodenlye, the Thessalonians thought that it shoulde haue come shortly.

Wherfore in thys Epistle he declareth hymselfe.

And in the first Chapter he comforteth them wth euerlastynge reward of theyr sayth and patience in suffering for the Gospel, and wth the punishment of theyr persecutours in euerlastynge payne.

In the seconde he sheweth that the laste daye shoulde not come tyll there were first a depar-

To the Thess. Cha. i. Fo. xcv.

tyng (as some men thynke) from vnder the obedience of the Emperour of Rome, and that a suchyn shoulde set vp hym selfe in the same place as God, and deceyue the vntowardly world wth false doctryne, and wth false and lynging myracles wrought by the working of Satan, vntill Christ shoulde come and slea hym wth his glorious coming and spiritual preaching of the word of God.

In the third he geueth them exhortacion, and warneth them to rebuke the idle that woulde not labour wth theyr handes, and auoyde theyr company, yf they would not amende.

The seconde epistle of S. Paul the apo- stle to the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

Because he prayeth they sayeth, to whiche they sticke in euery sore danger, pryncipally that they shalbe rewarded therfore wth euerlastynge lyfe, but threatneth the wyched wth euerlastynge damnacion, descreyunge wythall the glorious coming of Christ, to whiche he addeth prayer, warnynge & what we ought to do.

Paule, Siluanus and Timo-theus. Vnto the congrega-cion of the Thessalonians
which are in God our father, and in the Lorde Jesus Christ.

* Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

We are bounde to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceedingly, and euery one of you summeth in loue toward another betwene your selues, so that we our selues reioyse of you in the congregacions of God ouer your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulacions that ye suffer, which is a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye at counted worthy of the kyngdome of God, for which ye also suffer. It is verely a righteous thinge with God to recompence tribulacion to them that trouble you: and to you which are troubled rest with vs, whiche the Lord Iesus shall shew hymselfe from heauen with his mighty aungels, in flaming fire, rending vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, and to them that obeye not vnto the Gospel of oure Lorde Iesus Christ, whiche shall be punished with euerlastynge damnacion from the presence of the Lorde, and from the glorie of his power, when he shall come to be glorified in his saintes, & to be made maruelous in all them that beleue: because oure testimony that we had vnto you, was beleued euen the same daye that we preached it.

Wherfore wee praye alwayes for you, that oure God make you worthy of the callinge, and fulfill all declaration of

Tribulaci-
on is a token of sal-
uacion.

mat. xxiii. c
and. xii. c
i. Pet. iii. a Roma. ii. a

2. pet. v. a.
2. Cor. ii. b

The.i. Epistle of S. Paule

of goodnes and the worke of fayth, wpth power, that the name of oure Lorde Iesus Chyist may be glorified in you, & ye in hym thowwe the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Chyiste.

The.ii. Chapter.

Because he made often mencyon of Chyistes corrupcyon, and that there were manye whych laved, he was now at hande, he wyl- leth them not to be seduced with the seroues of such, teachenge that Chyistes corrupcyon shall not be, before Antichyiste be reuiled, whom he painted couerly and wrytheth them to perseuerance.

Ve beseeche you brethren by the commynge of our Lorde Iesu Chyiste, and in that we shall assemble vnto hym, that ye be not fodeuylpe moued from poure mynde, and be not troubled, neyther by spi-rite, neither by wordes, nor yet by letter, whiche shoulde seme to come from vs, * as though the daye of Chyiste were at hande.
Let no man deceyue you by anye meanes, for the Lorde commeth not, except * there come a departing spyt, and that that spyt-ful man be opened, the sonne of perdition, whiche is an aduersarpe, and is exalted aboue all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he shall sytte as God in the temple of God, and shewe hym selfe as God.

Remember ye not, that when I was yet wth you, I tolde you these thynges: And nowe ye knowe what wythholdeth: euen that he might be bittered at hys tyme. *
For the mysterpe of the iniquitie doeth already worke whych onely holdeth vntill it be taken out of the way. And then shall that wicked be vttered, * whom the Lorde shall consume wth the spyt of hys mouthe, and shall destroye wth the appertaunce of hys commyng. Heuen him whose commyng * is by the workyng of Sathan, wth all lyng * power, signes and wounders: and in all deceyueableness of vnryghtuousnes, amonge them that perishe, because they receiued not the loue of p^r truth, that they mighte haue bene saued. * And therfore God shall sende them strong delusion, that they should beleue lyes: that all they myghte bee dampned whiche beleued not the truth, but had * pleasure in vnryghtuousnes.

But we are bound to geue thanckes al-waye to God for you brethren beloued of the Lord, for because that God hath from the beginninge chosen you to saluacion, thorow sanctifyinge of the spyt, and tho-row beleuing the truth, wherunto he called you by our Gospell, to obayne the glory that commeth of our Lord Iesu Chyist.
* Therefore brethren stand fast and kepe p^r ordinaunces whiche ye haue learned: whether it wer by our preaching, or by Epistle.
Oure Lord Iesu Chyist himselfe, and God our father whiche hath loued vs, and hath geuen vs everlastinge consolacyon & good

To the Thess. Cha.ii.

hope thowwe grace, comfort pour harts, & stablish pou in al doctrine & good dopnge.

The Notes.

(a) Thys temple of God is the consence of men. And to sit in thys temple, is to be taken of men, as the verpe deputie and vicare of God, so that they be as freyde to bryake hys ordinaun-ces and lawes, as the ordinaunces and lawes
of God.

(b) Thys spyt is hys holpe worde, whiche is also called the swerde of the spyt.

Spyt of his mouth.

The.iii. Chapter.

We monyfyen them to helpe forwarde the Gospell wth theyr deuoute prayers. Then earnestly perswadeh he them to bynge into order thole, whiche through theyr folye & curpospe trouble the churche and good order of the lande.

Furthermore brethren pray for vs, that the worde of God maye haue fre passage & be glorified, as it is wth you: & that we maye be deliuered from vnreasonable and euill men. For * all menne haue not fapeth: but the Lord is faithful, whiche shall stablish you and kepe you from euil.
We haue confidence thowwe the Lorde to pouwarde, that ye both do, and wil do that whiche we commaund you: And the * Lorde gypde poure hertes to the loue of God and patience of Chyist. *

We * require you brethren in the name of our Lord Iesu Chyist, that ye withdrow poure selues from euerpe brother that walketh inordinatly, and not after the institucion whiche ye receiued of vs. * Ye pour sel-ues know, how ye ought to folowe vs. For we behaued not oure selues inordinatly amonge you. Neithet toke we bread of any man for nought: but wrought wth laboue and trauayle night and day, because we wold not be greuous to any of you: not but that we hadde authortie, but to make oure selues an ensample vnto you, to folow vs. For when we were wth you, this wee warned you of, that if ther were any whiche wold not worke, p^r the same shuld not eate.

We haue hearde say no doubt, that ther are some whiche walke among you inordi-natly, and worke not at all: but are buspe bodpes. * Them that are such, we command and exhort by our Lorde Iesu Chyist, that they worke wth quietnes, and eate theyr owne bread. Brethren * be not weep in wel-dopng. If any man obey not our sayings, send vs worde of him by a letter: and haue no company wth hym, that he maye be ashamed. And count him not as an enemye, but warne him as a brother.

The verpe God of peace geue pou peace alwayes, by all meanes. The Lord be wth you all. * The salutacyon of me Paule with mine owne hand. This is the roken in all Epistles. So I wyte.

The grace of our Lorde Iesus Chyist be wth
you all. Amen.

¶ Sent from Athens.

THE

ii. Pe. iiii. a
Dan. ix. c
Eph. v. b
i. Ti. iiii. a

Antichyist.

i. Cor. xii. b
and. vi. b
Dan. xi. c

i. John ii. c
Job. xv. b
Ez. x. a
Dan. vii. b
Job. vii. b
Deu. xxi. a
Mat. xxiii. b
I. ying my acles, because thei kellipe a false faith zachar. v. a Roma. i. b
Wher no
loue is to the truth,
on them
doeth
God let flie false
prophets
to deceiue
them.

De. vii. a

Math. ix. b
Eph. vi. c
Col. iiii. a
John. vi. c

Deu. xxi. a
and. xxi. b
Je. xxi. b
i. Cor. v. b

i. Cor. iiii. c

Act. xx. c
and. xvi. c
i. Cor. ix. b
i. Ti. ii. b

i. Ti. iii. b

Sal. vi. a
ii. Thon. b

Sal. vi. c
i. Cor. v. c
i. Tim. v. c

Col. iiii. b
Phil. iiii. c

i. Tim. v. c

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

Himeneus. Himeneus and Alexander * whom I have delivered unto Satan, that he might be taught not to blaspheme.

The. ii. Chapter.

Alexander. li. c. ii. b. ii. c. iii. b. li. c. v. a. The seconde point of a pastors charge is to pray diligently. Therefore he teacheth what prayer is, & after what sort they must be made to God, wherewithal he treateth of his office and apparel both of men and women.

Christ is the onely me- diator. i. c. i. Christ Jesu, which gave himselfe a ransom for all men, that it should be testified at his time, wherunto I am ordered a preacher & an Apostle: I tell the truth in Christ and lye not, being the teacher of the Gentils in faith and verity. &

Prayer. Women. I will therefore that the men pray ever, wher, lifting up pure hands without wrath, or doubting. Likewise also the women that they array themselves in comely apparell with shamefastnes and discrete behavours, not with broided heere, either gold, or pearls, or costly array: but with such as becometh women that professe the worshippinge of God thozow good workes. Let the women learne in silence with all subiection. I suffer not a womanne to teach, neptther to have authoritie over a man, but for to be in silence. For Adam was first formed, & then Eve. Also Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, and was in transgression. Notwithstanding thozow bearing of children they shall be saved, so they continue in faith, love and holynes with discretion.

The Notes.

will have all men saved. (a) When saynt Paul saith al men, he meaneth not every man, for then should not God be found almighty, saying he would have every man saved, and yet the most part be damned, as appeareth by Christs word, where he saith The way that leadeth to life, is narrowe, and fewe there be that fynde it: but his meaninge is, that God refuseth no nacion, be it Jewe or Gentyle. At ether estate, be it ephe or poore. All is our with hym, he hath no respect of persons, but would have his Gospell to be preached to all nacions and estates, & such among them as be preordained to the life, may be saved, and come to the acknowledging of the truth.

The iii. Chapter.

Because there lyeth much upon the life of a Bishop, he describeth here what it ought to be. And what a Deacon ought to be. And what is the office of theyr wives, and of their whole household.

A Tris is a true saying: If a man couete the office of a (a) Bishop, he desireth a good worke. Yea and a Bishopp to Tymothe. Cha. iii.

must be faultlesse, the husband of one wife, A Bishop sober, discrete, honestly appareled, habetous, apte to teach, not drunken, no high fear what ter, not geuen to sylthpelyne: but gentle, he oughte abhorring sylthpelyne, abhorring couetousnes, and one that ruleth his own house honestly, havinge children vnder obediencye, with all honesty. For if a man can not rule his owne house, how shall he care for the congregation of God? He maye not be a pong scholar, lest he swel and fall into the judgement of the evill speaker. He must also be well reported of amonge them which are without faith, lest he fall into rebuke & snare of the evill speaker.

Likewise must the Deacons be honest, not double tongued, not geuen to muche drinking, neither unto sylthpelyne: but havinge the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. And let them first be proued, & then let them minister, if they be found faultlesse. Even so must theyr wives be honest, not evill speakers: but sober and faithfull in all thynges. Let the Deacons be the husband of one wyfe, and such as rule theyr children well, and their owne householdes. For they that minister well, gette themselves good degre and great libertie in the faith which is in Christ Jesu.

These things write I unto the, trusting to come shortly unto the: but and if I tary long, that thou maist yet have knowledge, how thou oughtest to behau thy self in the house of God, which is the congregation of the living God, the pillar and ground of truth. And without rap, greate is that mystery of godlines: God was revealed in the fleshe, was manifested in the spirit, was sene of angels, was preached unto the Gentils, was beleued on in earth, & receyved up in glory.

The Notes.

(a) Bishop, is as much to say, as a watch man, an over seer, a sear to, or one that taketh heed to, When this man desireth to feede the flocke of Christ with his holy worde, then desireth he a good worke, and the verie office of a Bishop: But he that desireth honour, a pryde for lucre, thyrdly greates reates, seeketh pryde, pompe, pomp, downynge: coueteth abundance of all thynges without want, rest, and heres ease, caresses, paches, lordshippes, cardines, &c. desireth not a worke, much lesse a good worke, and is nothinge lesse then a bishop, as S. Paul hath here vnder stand a bishop.

The. iii. Chapter.

Because Barhanas lowerh corrupt doctrine with good, he declareth here what his doctrine is, to the intent we may the easlyer beware of it. Then goeth he forwarde earnestly to shewing a Bishoppes office.

The spirit speaketh evidently that in the latter tymes some shall departe fro the faith, & shall give heed unto spites of erreure, and devillish doctrine of them which speake false thozow hypocryse, and have theyr consciences marked with an (a) hote Iron, for by Deacons.

The wives of the pnestes & Deacons.

Bishoppes.

ii. c. iii. a. ii. c. iii.

to mary, and commaundynge to abyapne frowns which God hath created to bere ceyued wth geuyng thankes, of the which beleue & know the truth. For all þ creaturs of God are good, and nothyng to be refused if it be receyued wth thankes geuyng.
For it is sanctified by the worde of God & prayer. If thou shalt put the brethren in re-membraunce of these thynges, thou shalt
be a good minister of Iesu Christ, whiche hath bene noryshed by in the wordes of the fayth & good doctrine, which doctrine thou hast continually folowed. But cast awaye vnholy and old wyes fables.

D Excuse thy selfe vnto Godlynes. For bodily exercise profiteth little. But godly-nes is good vnto all thynges, as a thyng which hath promises of þ lyfe that is now, and of the lyfe to come. This is a sure sayinge and of all parties worthy to be recey-ued. For therfore we labour and suffer rebuke, because we beleue in the lyving god, which is the sauoure of all men: but spec-iall of those that beleue. Such thyngs commaund and teache. Let no man despise thy youth: but be vnto them that beleue an example in worde, in conuersacion, in loue,
in spirit, in fayth, and in purenes.

Wyl I come, geue attendaunce: to reading, to exhortacion & to doctrine. Despise not the gyfte that is in the, which was geuen the thow prophete, and with layyng on of the handes of an elder: These thynges exercise, and geue thy selfe vnto them,
that it may be seene how thou profitest in al thynges. Take heede vnto thy selfe & vnto learnynge, and continue therein. For if thou shalt so do, thou shalt saue thy selfe, & them that heare the.

The Notes.

Note Iron

[a] The conspence is sayed to be marked wth an hote Iron, when the party knoweth that þ doctrine which he setteth forth is not good, and yet for hyunges sake he wyl not reforme it.
This maner of speaking seemeth to be taken of
þ euill order, which is, þ such men as be conuicted of certain crimes, shal be burned in the hand or some other place of the body, wth an hote Iron:
whereby it is knowen, þ he is so conuicted, though he deny selfe: he neuer repentant nor amend his faute. But if he be taken wth any lyke fault a-gayne and brought to the lawe, then shall they marke condemn them that knowe they erre
and yet wyl not acknowledge it, but for þ bea-ste sake mayntayne it styll.

The .v. Chapter.

He geueth dyuers preceptes, howe & what
to do wth the elder and yonger widdowes,
and also wth the elders: last he addeth certaine preceptes, scruping for the health of the bodye.

Rebuke not an elder, but exhort hym as a father, and the yonger me as brethren: the elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters with all purenes. Honour widdowes whiche are true widdowes.
If any wydowe haue chyldren or newes,
let the first learne to rule their own houses
Godlye, and to recompence their elders.

For that is good & acceptable before God.
She that is a very wydowe and frendlesse, putteth hyr trust in god and continueth in supplication and prayer night and daye.
But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead eue yet alieue. And these thyngs commaund, that they maye be wthout faule. If there be a-nye that prouedeth not for hyr owne, and namely for them of his household, the same drengeth the sayeth, and is worse then an infidelle.

Let no wydowe be chosen vnder thye scoe yeare olde, and such a one as was the wyfe of one man, & wel reported of in good wor-kes: if she haue nourished chyldren, if she haue bene liberal to straungers, if she haue washed the sayntes fete, if she haue nurtered vnto them which were in a duersity, if she were continually geuen vnto all maner good workes. The yonger widdowes refuse.
For when they haue begon to were wanton,
to the dishonour of Christe, then wyl they marry, hauing dānacion, because they haue broken their first fayth. And also they learn to go fro house to house pde, yea not pde only, but also tryfling & busybodies, speakyng thyngs which are not comely.

I wil therfore that the yonger womē mary & beare chyldren, & guide the house, and geue non occasiō to the aduersary to speke euil. For many of them are already turned backe, & are gone after Satan. And if anye man or woman that beleueth haue widdowes, let them minister vnto them, & let not
the congregacion be charged: that it maye haue sufficient for them that are widdowes
in dede. * The elders that rule wel, are worthy of double honour, moost specially they whiche labour in the word and in teaching.
For the scripture sayth: * Thou shalt not mouell the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. * And the labourer is worthy of hyr reward. Agayne an elder receyue none accusacion: but vnder two or thre wytnesse. Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that other maye feare.

I testify before god & the lord Iesus Christ & the elect angels, that thou obserue these thyngs without haasty iudgement, & do nothyng parcially. Lay hands sodenly on no man, neyther be partaker of other mennes sins: kepe thy selfe pure. Drinke no longer water, but vse a litle wyne for thy stom-ackes sake, and thine often discaises.

Some mens synnes are open before hande
and go before vnto iudgement: some mens synnes folowe after. Likewise also good workes are manifest before hande, and they
that are otherwise, can not be hyd.

The .vi. Chapter.

He teacheth the dutye of seruantes. And than gatherynge altogether, he sheweth what doctryne oughte to be obserued, and what as worded. After this he synnereth Timothy with an othe. And because conuentiones doth great hurts, he treateth muche of it, and of ryches.

Act. ii. Let

13

14

15

to mary, and commaundynge to abstayne fromeats which God hath created to bere-ceyued wth geuyng thankes, of the which beleue & know the truth. For all þ creaturs
of God are good, and nothyng to be refused if it be receyued wth thankes geuyng.
For it is sanctified by the worde of God &
prayer. If thou shalt put the brethren in re-membraunce of these thynges, thou shalt
be a good minister of Iesu Christ, whiche hath bene noryshed by in the wordes of the
fayth & good doctrine, which doctrine thou hast continually folowed. But cast awaye vnholy and old wibes fables.

D Excuse thy selfe vnto Godlynes. For bodily exercise profiteth little. But godly-nes is good vnto all thynges, as a thyng which hath promys of þ lyfe that is now, and of the lyfe to come. This is a sure sayinge and of all parties worthy to be recey-
ued. For therfore we laboure and suffer rebuke, because we beleue in the lyving god,
which is the sauoure of all men: but spec-iall of those that beleue. Such thyngs commaund and teache. Let no man despise thy youth: but be vnto them that beleue an example in worde, in conuersacion, in loue,
in spirit, in fayth, and in purenes.

Wyl I come, geue attendaunce: to reading, to exhortacion & to doctrine. Despise not the gyfte that is in the, which was geuen the thow prophete, and with layng
on of the handes of an elder: These thyng-
es exercise, and geue thy selfe vnto them,
that it may be seene how thou profitest in al thynges. Take heede vnto thy selfe & vnto learnynge, and continue therein. For if thou shalt so do, thou shalt saue thy selfe, & them that heare the.

The Notes.

Note Iron

[a] The conscience is sayed to be marked wth an hore Iron, when the party knoweth that þ doctrine which he setteth forth is not good, and
yet for hyunges sake he wyl not reforme it.
This maner of speaking seemeth to be taken of
þ euill order, which is, þ such men as be conuic-
ted of certain crimes, shal be burned in the hand or some other place of the body, wth an hore Iron:
whereby it is knowen, þ he is so conuicted, though he deny selfe: he neuer repentant nor amend his faute. But if he be taken wth any lyke fault a-gayne and brought to the lawe, then shall they
marke condemn them that knowe they erre
and yet wyl not acknowledge it, but for þ bea-ste sake mayntayne it styll.

The .v. Chapter.

He geueth dyuers preceptes, howe & what
to do wth the elder and yonger widdowes,
and also wth the elders: last he addeth certaine preceptes, scruping for the health of the bodye.

Rebuke not an elder, but exhort hym
as a father, and the yonger me as brethren: the elder women as mothers,
the yonger as sisters with all purenes. Honour widdowes whiche are true widdowes.
If any wydowe haue chyldren or newes,
let the first learne to rule their own houses
Godlye, and to recompence their elders.

For that is good & acceptable before God.
She that is a very wydowe and friendlesse, putteth hyr trust in god and continueth in supplication and prayer night and daye.
But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead eue yet alieue. And these thyngs commaund, that they maye be wthout faute. If there be a-nye that prouedeth not for hyr owne, and
namely for them of his household, the same drengeth the sayeth, and is worse then an
infidelle.

Let no wydowe be chosen vnder thye score
yeare olde, and such a one as was the wyfe
of one man, & wel reported of in good wor-kes: if she haue nourished chyldren, if she
haue bene liberal to straungers, if she haue washed the sayntes fete, if she haue nurtered vnto them which were in a duersity, if
she were continually geuen vnto all maner good workes. The yonger widdowes refuse.
For when they haue begon to were wanton,
to the dishonour of Christe, then wyl they
marry, hauing dānacion, because they haue broken their first fayth. And also they learn
to go fro house to house pde, yea not pde
only, but also tryfling & busybodies, spea-
kyng thyngs which are not comely.

I wil therfore that the yonger womē mary & beare chyldren, & guide the house, and
geue non occasiō to the aduersary to speke euil. For many of them are already turned backe, & are gone after Satan. And if anye man or woman that beleueth haue widdo-
wes, let them minister vnto them, & let not
the congregacion be charged: that it maye
haue sufficient for them that are widdowes
in dede. * The elders that rule wel, are worthy of double honour, moost specially they
whiche labour in the word and in teaching.
For the scripture sayth: * Thou shalt not
mouell the mouth of the oxe that treadeth
out the corne. * And the labourer is worthy of hyr reward. Agayne an elder receyue none accusacion: but vnder two or thre wytnesse. Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that other maye feare.

I testify before god & the lord Iesus Christ
& the elect angels, that thou obserue these thyngs without haasty iudgement, & do nothyng parcially. Lay hands sodenly on no man, neyther be partaker of other mennes
sins: kepe thy selfe pure. Drinke no longer water, but vse a lytle wyne for thy stom-ackes sake, and thine often discaies.

Some mens synnes are open before hande
and go before vnto iudgement: some mens synnes folowe after. Likewise also good workes are manifest before hande, and they
that are otherwise, can not be hyd.

The .vi. Chapter.

He teacheth the dutye of seruantes. And than gatherynge altogether, he sheweth what doctryne oughte to be obserued, and what as-uorbed. After this he synnereth Tymothe with an othe. And because conuentiones doth great hurts, he treateth muche of it, and of ryches.

Act. ii. Let

13

C

D

E

The.i. Epistle of S. Paul

Servants Let as manpe seruauntes as are vnder the poke, count thei maisters worthy of al honour, that the name of God & hys doctrine be not euill spoke of. Se that thei which haue beleuing maisters, despise them not, bycause they are brethren: but so much the rather do seruce, for as muche as they are beleuing and beloued and partakers of the benefyte.

These thinges teache and exhorte. If a nyne man teache otherwys, and is not content with the holysome words of our Lorde Iesus Christe, and wpth the doctrine of Godlines. he is puffed vp and knoweth nothing, but wasteth his braines about questions and strife of wordes, wherof spring enuy, stryfe, raplynge, euill surmisinges, and vaine disputacions of men with corrupte mindes, and destitute of the truthe, which thinke that lucre is Godlines, from such seperate the selfe. Godlines is greate riches, if a man be content with þ he hath.

For we brought nothing into this world, & it is a plain case þ we ca carpe nothing oute.

When we haue fede & raiment, let vs therewith be content. They that wil be rich, fall into temptation and snares, & into manpe folish and noysome lustes, whych drownde men in perdition and destruction. For conuetousnes is the roote of all euill, whiche while some lusted after, they erred from the fapth, and tangled themselves with many sorowes. But thou which art the manne of God, fipe such thynge. Follow rightuousnes, Godlines, loue, patience & mekenes. Fight the good fight of faith. Lay hande on eternal life, wherunto thou art called, & hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. I geue the charge in þ sighte of God, & whiche quickeneth al thinges, & before Iesu Christ, which vnder poncius pilate witnessed a good witnessinge, that thou kepe the comādemēt, & be wpythout spot & vnbrekeable, vntil the appering of our lord Iesus, which appering (when the time is come) he shal shewe that is blessed & mighty only, king of kings, & lord of lords, which only hath immortalite, & dwelleth in light, & no mā cā attain, & whō neuer mā saw, neither cā se, to whō be honoure & rule euerlasting. Amē. Charge the that are rich in this world, þ they be not exceeding wise, & þ they trust not in þ vnertain riches, but in the liuing god which geueth vs abundantly al thinges to enioy the, & that they do good & be rich in good workes, & redi to geue & to distribute, laying vp in store for the selues a good foundacion against the tyme to come, that they may obtayne eternall lyfe.

¶ Timothe saue that whiche is geuen the to kepe, and auoide vnghostly banities of voyces and opposicions of science falsly so called, which science while some professed, they haue erred as concerninge the fapth. Grace be wpth the Amen.

Sent from Laodicia, which is the chiefe cty of phrygia pacatiana.

to Tymothe, Chap. i.

The Prologe vpon the second epytyle of S. Paule to Tymothe.

In this Epistle Paule exhorteth Timothe to go forward as he had begunne, and to preache the Gospell wpth all dyligence, as it was neede, for many were fallen away, and many false sypytes and teachers were sprong by already. Wherfore a Bishops parte is, euer to watche and to labour in the Gospell.

In the thyrde and fouerth he sheweth before and that notable, of the leopordous tymes toward the end of the world, in whych a false spirytual liuing should deceiue the whole world, wpth outward hypocrysy, and apperance of holynes, vnder whych all abhominacions shoulde haue there free passage and course, as we (alas) haue seene this prophesy of S. Paul fulfilled, in oure spiritualtye to the vttermoste poynt.

The.ii. epist. of saynt Paule the Apogle vnto Tymothe.

The firste Chapter.

¶ He testifieth the good will whiche he beareth because of hys fapth, wherin he commanbeth hym to perseuer, and not to be offended wpth the crose of persecution wpth whiche he sawe hym and other geured.

All an Apostle of Iesu Christ by the will of God, to preache þ promys of life, whych lyfe is in Christ Iesu. To Tymothe hys beloued sonne. Grace, mercy, and peace from god the father and from Christ Iesu our lord.

I thanke God, whom I serue from mine elders with pure conscience, that withoute ceasinge I make mencio of the in my prayres night and day, desiring to se the, myndfull of thy teares: so that I am filled wpth ioye, when I cal to remembraunce the vnspayed fapth that is in the, whiche dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice: & am assured that it dwelleth in the also.

Wherefore I warne the that thou stee by the giste of God whiche is in the. by the puttinge on of my handes. For God hath geuen to vs the spirit of feare, but of power and of loue, & of sobernes of minde. Be not ashamed to testify our lord, nether be ashamed of me, which am bound for hys sake, but suffer aduersitye also wpth the Gospell, thorow the power of God, whych saued vs and called vs wpth an hoipe callinge, not according to oure dedes, but according to his own purpose and grace, whych grace was geue vs thorow Christ before þ world was, but is now declared openly by the Job. i. v.

Ecc. v. c.

Conuetousnes.
¶ That we at a lawfull age might confesse and professe openly the fapth and lyfe of a Churshen man.

Th. xvi. g.
Wash. vi. b

Apo. xvi. d

Thon. i. b
i. Thon. i. c.

Luke. xii. d.
Thon. i. b.

Ro. vii. s Puttinge on of handes.
Ecc. i. b
Eph. i. a
purpose & grace.
Ecc. i. a

The.i. Epistle of S. Paul

Servants Let as manpe seruauntes as are vnder the poke, count thei maisters worthy of al honour, that the name of God & hys doctrine be not euill spoke of. Se that thei which haue beleuing maisters, despise them not, bycause they are brethren: but so much the rather do seruce, for as muche as they are beleuing and beloued and partakers of the benefyte.

These thinges teache and exhorte. If a nyne man teache otherwys, and is not content with the holysome words of our Lorde Iesus Christe, and wpth the doctrine of Godlines. he is puffed vp and knoweth nothing, but wasteth his braines about questions and strife of wordes, wherof spring enuy, stryfe, raplynge, euill surmisinges, and vaine disputacions of men with corrupte mindes, and destitute of the truthe, which thinke that lucre is Godlines, from such seperate the selfe. Godlines is greate riches, if a man be content with þ he hath.

For we brought nothing into this world, & it is a plain case þ we ca carpe nothing oute.

When we haue fede & raiment, let vs therewith be content. They that wil be rich, fall into temptation and snares, & into manpe folish and nopsome lusses, whpch drounde men in perdition and destruction. For couetousnes is the roote of all euill, whpche while some lusted after, they erred from the fapth, and tangled themselves with many sorowes. But thou which art the manne of God, fipe such thpngs. Follow rightuousnes, Godlines, loue, patience & mekenes. Fight the good fight of faith. Lay hande on eternal life, wherunto thou art called, & hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. I geue the charge in þ sighte of God, & whiche quickeneth al thinges, & before Iesu Christ, which vnder poncius pilate witnessed a good witnessinge, that thou kepe the comādemēt, & be wpythout spot & vnbrekeable, vntil the appering of our lord Iesus, which appering (when the time is come) he shal shewe that is blessed & mighty only, king of kings, & lord of lords, which only hath immortalite, & dwelleth in light, & no mā cā attain, & whō neuer mā saw, neither cā se, to whō be honoure & rule euerlasting. Amē. Charge the that are rich in this world, þ they be not exceeding wise, & þ they trust not in þ vnertain riches, but in the liuing god which geueth vs abundantly al thinges to enioy the, & that they do good & be rich in good workes, & redi to geue & to distribute, laying vp in store for the selues a good foundacion against the tyme to come, that they map obtayne eternall lyfe.

¶ Timothe saue that whiche is geuen the to kepe, and auoide vngodly banities of voyces and opposicions of science falsly so called, which science while some professed, they haue erred as concerninge the fapth. Grace be wpth the Amen.

Sent from Laodicia, which is the chiefe cty of phrygia pacatiana.

to Tymothe, Chap. i.

The Prologe vpon the second epytyle of S. Paule to Tymothe.

In this Epistle Paule exhorteth Timothe to go forward as he had begunne, and to preache the Gospell wpth all dyligence, as it was neede, for many were fallen away, and many false sypytes and teachers were springing by alerady. Wherfore a Bishops parte is, euer to watche and to labour in the Gospell.

In the thyrde and fouerth he sheweth before and that notable, of the leopardous tymes toward the end of the world, in whpch a false sypitall liuing should deceiue the whole world, wpth outward hypocrysy, and apperance of holynes, vnder whpch all abhominacions shoulde haue there free passage and course, as we (alas) haue seene thys prophesy of S. Paul fulfilled, in oure spiritualite to the vttermoste poynt.

The.ii. epist. of saynt Paule the Apo-

gle vnto Tymothe.

The firste Chapter.

¶ He testifieth the good will whpche he beareth because of hys fapth, wherin he commanbeth hym to perseuer, and not to be offended wpth the crosse of persecucion wpth whpche he sawe hym and other geured.

All an Apostle of Iesu Christ by the will of God, to preache þ promys of life, whpch tyme is in Christ Iesu. To Tymothe hys beloued sonne. Grace, mercy, and peace from god the father and from Christ Iesu our lord.

I thanke God, whom I serue from mine elders with pure conscience, that withoute ceasinge I make mencio of the in my prayres night and day, desiring to se the, myndfull of thy teares: so that I am filled wpth ioye, when I cal to remembraunce the vnspayed fapeth that is in the, whiche dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice: & am assured that it dwelleth in the also.

Wherefore I warne the that thou stee by the gifte of God whiche is in the. by the puttinge on of my handes. For God hath geuen to vs the spirit of feare, but of power and of loue, & of sobernes of minde. Be not ashamed to testify our lord, nether be ashamed of me, which am bound for hys sake, but suffer aduersitye also wpth the Gospell, thorow the power of God, whpch saued vs and called vs wpth an hoipe callinge, not according to oure dedes, but according to his own purpose and grace, whpch grace was geue vs thorow Christ before þ world was, but is now declared openly by the

Job. i. v.
Eccl. v. c.

Couetousnes.
¶ That we at a lawfull age might confesse and professe openly the fapth and lyfe of a Chyssen man.

Th. xvi. g.
Wash. vi. b

Apo. xvi. d

Thon. i. b
i. Thon. i. c.

Luke. xii. d.
Thon. i. b.

Ro. viii. g
Puttinge on of handes.
Ecc. i. b
Eph. i. a
purpose & grace.
Ecc. i. a

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

To Tyimo. Chap.ii. Jo. xcviij.

ii. Ti. ii. a.

the appearing of our saviour Iesu Christe, which hath put away death, & hath brought life & immortality to light through the gospel, wherunto I am appointed, a preacher & an Apostle, & a teacher of the Gentiles: for the which cause I also suffer these things. Nevertheless I am not ashamed. For I know whō I have beleued, & am sure that he is able to kepe that which I have committed to his keeping, against that day.

Se thou haue the ensample of the holisome words, which thou heardest of me in faith & loue, which is in Iesus Christ. That good thing, which was committed to thy keeping, kepe in the holpe of god, which dwelleth in us. Thus thou knowest, howe that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me. Of which sorte are Phileas & Hermogenes. The Lorde geue mercede vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chayne: but when he was at Rome he sought me out very diligently & found me. The Lord graunt vnto hym that he may finde mercede with the Lord at that day. And in how many things he ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The.ii. Chapter.

We exhorteth to patience & constancy, that he fall not vnto wickednes by example of others which were fallen: For so much as the worde of truth can neither be bound, nor yet overcome. He moneth also how to behaue vs wth the enemyes of the faith.

Thou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus. And what things thou hast heard of me, many bearing witness, the same deliver to faithful men, which are apte to teache others. Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good soldier of Iesu Christ. No mā that warreth, entangleth himselfe with worldly busynes, & that because he would please him that hath chosen hym to be a soldier. And though a man strue for a matter, yet is he not crowned, except he strue lawfully. The husbandman that laboreth, muste first receiue of the fruits. Consider what I saie. The Lord geueth vnderstandynge in all thynges. &

Remember that Iesus Christ beynge of the seede of Dauid, rose agayne from death accordyng to my Gospell, wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer euen vnto bonds. But the word of God was not bound. Therefore I suffer all thynges, for the elects sake, that they might also obteyne the saluacion, whiche is in Christ Iesus, wth eternall glory.

It is a true sayinge, if we be dead wth hym we also shall liue with hym. If we be patient, wee shall also reigne with hym. If we denye hym, he also shall denye vs. If we beleue not, yet abyde he faithful. He can not denye hym selfe. Of these things put them in remembrance, & testify before the Lord, & they shal not about words: whiche is to no profite, but to peruert the hearers.

Electe.

Loue.

naunts.

Mat. x. b.

Mat. vii. c.

Rom. vii. a.

Study to shew thy selfe laudable vnto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, diuindinge the word of truth iustly. Unghostly and vaine voyces passe ouer: For they shal encrease vnto greater vngodlines, & their workes shal fret euē as doeth a canker: of whose number is Simeneus & Philotas: which as concerninge the truth, haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and do destroy the faith of diuers persones.

Simeneus.
Philotas.

But the sure ground of God remaineth, and hath this seale: the Lord knoweth they that are his, and let every man that calleth on the name of Christ, depart from iniquitie. Notwithstanding in a great house are not onely vessels of gold and of siluer, but also of wood & of earth, some for honoure, and some vnto dishonoure. But if a man purge him selfe from such felowes, he shal be a vessel sanctified vnto honoure meete for the Lord, and prepared vnto all good workes.

Lutes of youth auoyd, and follow righteuousnes, faith, loue and peace, with them that call on the Lord with pure heart. Folow and vnlarned questions put from the, remembering that they do but gender strife. But the seruant of the Lord must not strue, but must be peaceable to all men, and apte to teache, and one that can suffer the euill in mekenes, and can inuoluntarily be repentaunce for to knowe the truth, that they may come to them selues agayne out of the snare of the deuill, whiche are nowe taken of him at his will.

The.iii. Chapter.

We describe how dangerous & last daies will be through the vngodlynes of false teachers. Then teacheth he that only the holy scriptures contayne all thynges whiche pertaine to Godlynes.

This vnderstand, that in the last daies shal come perillous tymes. For the men shal be louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proud, cursed speakers, disobedient to father and mother, vnthankful, vnholp, vnkind, true breakers, stubborn, false accusers, riotous, fierce, dispisers of the which are good, traitours, headye, hie mynded, greedy vpon voluptuousnes more then the louers of God, hauynge a similitude of Godly lpyunge, but haue demed the power therof, and such abhorre. Of this sorte are they whiche enter into houses, & bunge into bondage women laden with synne, which women are led of diuers lustes, euer learninge, & neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

As Iannes & Iambres withstode Moyses, euen so do these resist the truth, menne they are of corrupte myndes, and lewde, as concerninge the faith: but they shal preuaile no longer. For their madness shal be vttered vnto all men as theirs was. But thou hast sent the experience of my doctrine, faith

i. Ti. ii. a.
ii. Ti. iii. a.
Jude. i. f.

This was propheci-
ed of them that shuld pretende holynes.
Ero. vii. b.
Iannes.
Iambres.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

To Tyimo. Chap.ii. Jo. xcviij.

ii. Ti. ii. a.

the appearing of our saviour Jesus Christ, which hath put away death, & hath brought life & immortality to light through the gospel, wherunto I am appointed, a preacher & an Apostle, & a teacher of the Gentiles: for the which cause I also suffer these things. Nevertheless I am not ashamed. For I know whō I have believed, & am sure that he is able to keep that which I have committed to his keeping, against that day.

Se thou hast the ensample of the holisome words, which thou heardest of me in faith & love, which is in Jesus Christ. That good thing, which was committed to thy keeping, keep in the holpe Ghost, which dwelleth in us. Thus thou knowest, howe that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me. Of which sorte are Phileas & Hermogenes. The Lord geue mercede vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain: but when he was at Rome he sought me out very diligently & found me. The Lord graunt vnto hym that he may finde mercede with the Lord at that day. And in how many things he ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The.ii. Chapter.

We exhorteth to patience & constancy, that he fall not vnto wickednes by example of others which were fallen: For so much as the worde of truth can neither be bound, nor yet overcome. He moneth also how to behave vs wth the enemyes of the faith.

Thou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And what things thou hast heard of me, many bearing witness, the same deliver to faithful men, which are apte to teach others. Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No mā that warreth, entangleth himselfe with worldly busynes, & that because he would please him that hath chosen hym to be a soldier. And though a man strue for a matter, yet is he not crowned, except he strue lawfully. The husbandman that laboreth, muste first receiue of the fruits. Consider what I saye. The Lord geueth vnderstandynge in all thynges. &

Remember that Jesus Christ beynge of the seede of Dauid, rose agayne from death accordyng to my Gospell, wherin I suffer trouble as an euill doer euen vnto bonds. But the word of God was not bound. Therefore I suffer all thynges, for the elects sakes, that they might also obteyne the saluacion, whiche is in Christ Jesus, wth eternall glory.

It is a true sayinge, if we be dead wth hym we also shall liue with hym. If we be patient, wee shall also reigne with hym. If we denye hym, he also shall denye vs. If we beleue not, yet abyde he faithful. He can not denye hym selfe. Of these things put them in remembrance, & testify before the Lord, & they shal not about words: whiche is to no profite, but to peruert the hearers.

Electe.

True sayings.

Mat. x. b.
Mar. vii. c.
Rom. vi. a.

Study to shew thy selfe laudable vnto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, diuinding the word of truth iustly. Unghostly and vaine voyces passe ouer: For they shal encrease vnto greater vngodlines, & their workes shal fret euē as doeth a canker: of whose number is Simeneus & Philetos: which as concerninge the truth, haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and do destroy the faith of diuers persones.

Simeneus.
Philetos.

But the sure ground of God remaineth, and hath this seale: the Lord knoweth they that are his, and let every man that calleth on the name of Christ, depart from iniquitie. Notwithstanding in a great house are not onely vessels of gold and of siluer, but also of wood & of earth, some for honoure, and some vnto dishonoure. But if a man purge him selfe from such felowes, he shal be a vessel sanctified vnto honoure meete for the Lord, and prepared vnto all good workes.

Lettes of youth auoyd, and follow righteuousnes, faith, love and peace, with them that call on the Lord with pure heart. Folow and vlearned questions put from the, remembering that they do but gender strife. But the seruant of the Lord must not strue, but must be peaceable to all men, and apte to teach, and one that can suffer the euill in mekenes, and can inuoluntarilye resist if that God at any tyme wil geue them repentance for to knowe the truth, that they may come to them selues agayne oute of the snare of the deuill, whiche are now taken of him at his will.

The.iii. Chapter.

We describe how dangerous the last daies will be through the vngodlynes of false teachers. Then teacheth he that only the holy scriptures contayne all thynges whiche pertaine to Godlynes.

This vnderstand, that in the last daies shal come perillous tymes. For the men shal be louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proud, cursed speakers, disobedient to father and mother, vnthankful, vnholp, vnkind, true breakers, raborne, false accusers, riotous, fierce, dispisers of the which are good, traitours, headye, hie mynded, greedy vpon voluptuousnes more then the louers of God, hauynge a similitude of Godly lpyunge, but haue denied the power therof: and such abhorre. Of this sorte are they whiche enter into houses, & bunge into bondage women laden with synne, which women are led of diuers lustes, euer learnynge, & neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

As Jannes & Jambres withstode Moyses, euen so do these resist the truth, menne they are of corrupte mindes, and lewde, as concerninge the faith: but they shal preuaile no longer. For their madness shal be vttered vnto all men as theirs was. But thou hast sent the experience of my doctrine, faithfull

i. Ti. ii. a.
ii. Ti. iii. a.
Jude. i. f.

This was prophesied of them that shoulde pretend holynes.
Ezo. vii. b.
Jannes.
Jambres.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of lymnge, purpose, sapeth, longe sufferinge, loue, patience, persecucions, and afflictions, whiche happened vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lustra, whiche persecucions I suffered paciently. And from them all, the Lorde deliuered me.

Yea, and all that will lyeve God in Christ Iesu, must suffer persecucions. But people men and deceyvers shall wape worse and worse, while they deceyue and are deceyued them selues.

But conserne thou in the thynges whiche thou hast learned, whiche also were committed vnto the serynge, thou knoweste of whom thou hast learned them: and for as muche also as thou hast knowen holy scripture of a chyld, whiche is able to make the wyle vnto saluacion thorowe the sapeth whiche is in Christ Iesu. For all scripture geuen by inspiration of God, is profitable to teach: to improue, to amende, and instructe, in rightuousnes, that the man of God may be perfect and prepared vnto all good workes.

The.iii. Chapter.

The exhorteth greatly, and doth as it were bynd Timothe, that wpth all hys endeuoure he labour to bynge into the church the scriptures onely, strengthynge hym wpth example of him selfe. And in the ende, he aduerteth certayne peculier thynges.

They that haue no true sapth nor luf to lue God, they seeke euer newe doctryne. I wyl lyeve therefore before God, and before the Lorde Iesu Christ, whiche shall iudge quicke and dead at hys appearing in hys kyngdome, preach the word, be feruent, be it in season or out of season. I must reuoke, erroure wpth all longe sufferinge and doctryne. For the tyme wyl come when they wyl not suffer wholesome doctryne, but after theyr own lustes shall they (whose rates yteche) get them an heape of teachers, and shall turne theyr rates from the trouth, and shall be geuen vnto fables.

But watch thou in all thynges, and suffer aduersitee, and do the worke of an euangelist, fulfil thyne office vnto the uttermost.

For I am now ready to be offered, and the tyme of my departyng is at hande. I haue foughte a good fight, and haue fulfilled my course, and haue kepte the faith: from henceforth is layd up for me a crown of rightuousnes whiche the Lorde that is a righteous Iudge shall geue me at that day: not to me only, but vnto all them that loue hys commyng. Make spede to come vnto me at once.

For Demas hath left me and loued this present worlde, and is departed into Thracia, Crescens is gone to Galacia, and Titus vnto Dalmacia. Onely Lucas is with me. Take Marke and bynge hym wth thee, for he is necessary vnto me for to minister. And Archelus haue I sent to Ephesus. The cloke that I left at Troada wth Carpus, when thou comest, bring wth thee, and the booke but specially the parchement. Alexander the cooper smyt: did me muche to Timothe. Chap.iii.

euyl, the Lorde rewarde him accordyng to his dedes of whom be thou ware also. For he withstode our preachyng sore.

At my first answeryng, no man assided me but all forsoke me. I praye God that it maye not be laide to their charges. For wpthstandyng the Lorde assided me, and strenghted me, that by me the preachyng should be fulfilled to the uttermost, and that all the Gentyles should heare. And I was deliuered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And the Lord shall deliuer me from all euyl doyng, and shall kepe me to hys heauenly kyngdome. To whom be praise for euer and euer. Amen.

Salut * Saluta and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus. Aulus abode at Corinthum. Trophimus I left at Asclepium sicke. Make spede to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, and Iudes, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren. The Lord Iesus Christ be wth thy spirit. Grace be wth you. Amen.

The ende of the seconde Epistle wrytten from Rome vnto Timothe, when Paul was presented the second tyme vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Prologe vpon the Epistle of saint Paul the Apostle vnto Titus.

This is a most Epistle wherin yet is contained all that is needful for a churche to know.

In the first chapter he sheweth what manner of man a Bishop or Curate ought to be: that is to witte vertuous and learned, to preach and defende the gospell, and to confounde the doctryne of trauersing in wordes and mens traditions, whiche euer fight againste the sapth, and carry away the conscience captiue from the freedome that is in Christ into the bondage of theyr own imaginations and inventions, as though theyr thinges shoulde make a man good in the sight of God which are to no profit.

In the second he teacheth all degrees, old, yong, men, women, maisters, and seruauntes, howe to behaue them selues as they whiche Christ hath bought with his blood to be his proper or peculiar people, to glorify God wth good workes.

In the thirde he teacheth to honour tempo- rall rulers and to obey them, and yet byng- geth to Christ agayne, and of the grace that he hath pur. haied for vs, that no manne shoulde thynke that the obedience to hyeres lawes or anye other woode shoulde iustifie vs before God.

And last of all he chargeth to adoyne the companye of the rabboyns and of the heretikes.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul of lymge, purpose, sapeth, longe sufferinge, loue, patience, persecucions, and afflictions, whiche happened vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Lustra, whiche persecucions I suffered paciently. And from them all, the Lorde deliuered me.

Yea, & all that will lyeue God in Christ Iesu, must suffer persecucions. But people men and deceyvers shall wape worse and worse, while they deceyue and are deceyued them selues.

But conserne thou in the thynges whiche thou hast learned, whiche also were committed vnto the serynge, thou knoweste of whom thou hast learned them: and for as muche also as thou hast knowen holy scripture of a chyld, whiche is able to make the wyle vnto saluacion thorowe the sapeth whiche is in Christ Iesu. For al scripture geuen by inspiration of God, is profitable to teach: to improue, to amende, and instructe, in rightuousnes, that the man of God may be perfect and prepared vnto all good workes.

The.iii. Chapter.

The exhorteth greatly, and doth as it were bynd Timothe, that wpth all hys endeuoure he labour to bynge into the church the scriptures onely, strengthynge hym wpth example of him selfe. And in the ende, he aduerteth certayne peculier thynges.

They that haue no true sayth nor luf to lue God, they seeke euer newe doctryne.

Weslype therefore before God, and before the Lorde Iesu Christ, whiche shall iudge quicke and dead at hys appearing in hys kyngdome, preach the word, be feruent, be it in season or out of season. Improue, rebuke, exhort wpth all longe sufferinge and doctryne. For the tyme wyl come when they wyl not suffer wholesome doctryne, but after theyr own lustes shall they (whose eares yteche) get them an heape of teachers, and shall turne theyr eares from the trouth, and shall be geuen vnto fables.

But watch thou in all thynges, and suffer aduersitee, & do the worke of an euangelist, fulfil thyne office vnto the uttermost.

For I am now ready to be offered, and the tyme of my departyng is at hande. I haue foughte a good fight, and haue fulfilled my course, and haue kepte the faith: from henceforth is layd vp for me a croun of rightuousnes whiche the Lorde that is a righteous Iudge shall geue me at that day: not to me only, but vnto all them that loue hys commyng. Make spede to come vnto me at once.

For Demas hath left me and loued this present worlde, & is departed into Thracia, Treffensis is gone to Galacia, and Titus vnto Dalmacia. Onely Lucas is with me. Take Marke and bynge hym wth thee, for he is necessary vnto me for to minister. And Archelus haue I sent to Ephesus. The cloke that I left at Troada wth Carpus, when thou comest, bring wth thee, and the booke but specially the parchement. Alexander the cooper smyt dyd me much to Timothe. Chap.iii.

euyl, the Lorde rewarde him accordyng to his dedes of whom be thou ware also. For he withstode our preachyng sore.

At my first answeryng, no man assisted me but all forsoke me. I praye God that it maye not be laide to their charges. Not wpthstandyng the Lorde assisted me, and strenghted me, that by me the preachyng should be fulfilled to the uttermost, & that all the Gentyles should heare. And I was deliuered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And the Lord shall deliuer me from all euyl doyng, and shall kepe me to hys heauenly kyngdome. To whom be praise for euer and euer. Amen.

Salut & salua and Aquila, & the household of Onesiphorus. A salus abode at Corinthum & Trophimus I left at Aspletum sicke. Make spede to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, and Iudes, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren. The Lord Iesus Christ be wth thy spirit. Grace be wth you. Amen.

The ende of the seconde Epistle wyrtten from Rome vnto Timothe, when Paul was presented the second tyme vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Prologe vpon the Epistle of saint Paul the Apostle vnto Titus.

This is a most Epistle wherin yet is contained al that is needful for a churche to know.

In the first chapter he sheweth what manner of man a Bishop or Curate ought to be: that is to wit vertuous and learned, to preach and defende the gospell, and to confounde the doctryne of trauersing in wordes and mens traditions, whiche euer fight agaynst the sayth, and carry away the conscience captiue from the freedom that is in Christ into the bondage of theyr own imaginations and inventions, as though theyr thinges shoulde make a man good in the sight of God which are to no profit.

In the second he teacheth all degrees, old, yong, men, women, maisters, and seruauntes, howe to behaue them selues as they whiche Christ hath bought with his blood to be his proper or peculiar people, to glorify God wth good workes.

In the thyrde he teacheth to honour tempo- rall rulers and to obey them, and yet byng- geth to Christ agayne, and of the grace that he hath pur. haied for vs, that no manne shoulde thynke that the obedience to hyeres lawes or anye other woode shoulde iustifie vs before God.

And last of all he chargeth to adoyne the compaignie of the rabboyns and of the heretikes.

The Epistle of S. Paule The epyſtle of Saint Paul the apostle vnto Titus.

The fyrſt Chapter.

Because Paule had made Titus Bishop of the church of the Grecians, he exhorteth him to ordayne elders. Then desceybeth he what they ought to be whiche shoulde haue authoritie in the church, to thynke that they may resiste false teachers, whiche he teacheth will not lache in Creta.

Title the seruaunt of God an Apostle of Iesu Christ to preache the fayeth of Goddes elect, & the knowledge of that truth, which is after Godlines, vpon the hope of eternal life, which lyfe God that cannot lye, hath promised before the worlde began - but hath opened his worde at the tyme appointed thowhe preachynge, which preaching is committed vnto me by the commaundemente of God our sauoure. So Titus his naturall son in the common fayeth. Grace, merce and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesu Christ our sauoure.

For this cause left I the in Creta, that thou shouldest performe that whiche was lackynge, and shouldest ordeyne elders in euery cite as I appointed them. If any be fautlesse, the husband of one wyfe, hauing faithful children, which are not claudred of spote, neither are disobedient. For a bishoppe muste be faultlesse, as it becommeth the minister of God, not subborn, not angry, no drunkard, no fighter, not geuen to epithelaker: but herberous, one that lo-ueth goodnes, sober minded, rightuous, holp, temperat. and such as cleaueth vnto the true worde of doctrine, that he maye be able to exhorde wth wholsome learnynge, and to impproue them that sape agaynst it.

For there are many disobedient and talkers of vanitie and disceruers of mynides, nameipe they of the circumcision, whose mouthes must be stopped. which peruert whole houses, teachynge thynges whiche they ought not, because of filthy lucre. One beyng of themselves, whiche was a port of theirowne, sayd: The Cretians are alwayes liars, euil beasts, and slowe belpes.
This witness is true, wherfore rebuke the harply that they may be sound in the faith, and not takinge hede to Jewes fables and commaundementes of men that turne fro the truth. Vnto þ pure are all thyngs pure, but vnto them that are despyled and vnde-leuing, is nothing pure: but euen the very myndes and consciences of them are despyled. They confesse that they knowe God:
but with the dedes they denye him, and are abominable and disobedient, and vnto all good workes discommendable.

To Tytus. Chap. ii. Fo. xcix.

The ii. Chapter.

He desceybeth the peculiar offices of all kynndes of men, teachynge this to be the cal-lynge of God, þ leauynge the world we shuld lyue only to hym.

But speake thou that which becometh wholsome learnynge. That the elder men be sober, honest, descrete, sounde in the faith, in loue, and in patience. And the elder women ykewise that they be in suche raiment as becometh holynes: not false accusers, not geuen to muche dyprykynge, but teachers of honeste thynges, to make the yong womenne sober minded, to loue their husbands, to loue their children, to be discret, chaste, housewifely, good, and obedient vnto theirown husbands, that the worde of God be not euill spoken of.
Yonge menne ykewyse exhorde that they be sober mynded.

About all thynges shew thy selfe an example of good workes with vncorrupte doctrin, with honestie, and with the whol-some word, which cannot be rebuked, that he which withstandeth, may be ashamed, hauynge nothing in you þ he may dyspraise.
The seruantes exhorde to be obedient vnto theirowne masters, and to please in all thynges, not aunsweryng agayne, neither be pickers, but þ they shew all good faithfulnes, that they may do worshippe to the doctrine of our sauoure God in all thynges.
For the grace of God, that bringeth sal-uation vnto al men, hath appeared, & teacheth vs that we shoulde deny vngodlines, and worldly lust, and that we shoulde lyue sober mynded rightuously and Godly in the present world, lookinge for that blessed hope and glorious appearynge of the mighty God, & of our sauoure Iesu Christ, whiche shall buye him selfe for vs to redeme vs from al vngodlines, and to pouge vs a peculiar people vnto him selfe, feruently geuen vnto good workes. These thynges speake, and exhorde, & rebuke with all comanbynge. Se that no man despyse the.

The iii. Chapter.

He commaundeth obedience to rulers, the reherceth he the old maner of theirowne life that they maye perceyue they be saued by the only grace of God. Then sheweth he what shuld be taughte, and howe to deale wth authours of sectes. At last he addeth certayne peculiar
thynges.

Varne them that they submyt them selues to rule and power, to obey the officers, that they be redye vnto all good workes that they speake euill of no man, that they be no fighters, but soft, beped.
Shewynge all mekenes vnto al men. For we our selues also in tymes past wer vniwysse, disobedient, deceyued, in daunger to lures, and to dyuers maner of voluptuousnes, liuing in maliciousnes and enuy, full of hate, hatynge one another.

But after that the kyndnes and lode of our sauoure God to manward appeared,

1. Tim. i. c.

Rom. iii. a.

1. Co. vii. c.

Eph. i. a.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

The Epistle of S. Paule The epyſtle of Saint Paul the apoſtle vnto Titus.

The fyrſt Chapter.

Because Paule had made Titus Biſhop of the church of the Grecians, he exhorteth him to ordeyne elders. Then deſcribeth he what they ought to be whiche ſhoulde haue authoritie in the church, to thintent they may reſiſte falſe teachers, whiche he teacheth wil not lacke in Creta.

Inſte the ſeruaunt of God an Apoſtle of Jeſu Chriſt to preache the ſapeth of Goddess elect, & the knowledge of that truth, which
is after Godlines, vpon the
hope of eternal life, which Ieſu God that cannot lye, hath promiſed before the worlde began - but hath opened his worde at the tyme appointed thoro-we preachyng, which preaching is committed vnto me by the commaundemente of God our ſauoure. So Titus his naturall ſon in the common ſapeth. Grace, merce and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Jeſu Chriſt our ſauoure.

For this cauſe left I the in Creta, that thou ſhouldest perſorme that whiche was lackyng, and ſhouldest ordeyne elders in euerie cite as I appointed them. If any be faultleſſe, the husband of one wyfe, hauing faithful children, which are not ſlandred of poſte, neither are diſobedient. For a bi-ſhoppe muſt be faultleſſe, as it becommeth the miniſter of God, not drunken, not angry, no drunkard, no fighter, not geuen to ſpithelucker: but herberous, one that lo-ueth goodnes, ſober minded, rightuous, holp, temperat. and ſuch as cleaueth vnto the true worde of doctrine, that he may be able to exhort wth wholiſome learnyng, and to impropie them that ſape agaynſt it.

For there are many diſobedient and talkers of vanitie and diſcruers of myndes, nameſpe they of the circumciſion, whoſe mouthes muſt be ſtopped. which peruerſe whole houſes, teachyng thynges whiche they ought not, becauſe of filthy lucre. One beyng of themſelues, whiche was a poſt of theirowne, ſayd: The Cretians are alwayes liars, euil beaſts, and ſlowe beſtes.
This witnes is true, wherefore rebuke the harply that they may be ſound in the faith, and not takinge hede to Jewes fables and
commaundementes of men that turne fro the truth. Vnto ſ pure are all thyngs pure, but vnto them that are deſpiled and vnde-leuyned, is nothing pure: but euen the very minde and conſciences of them are deſp-led. They confeſſe that they knowe God:
but with the dedes they denye him, and are abominable and diſobedient, and vnto all good workes diſcommendable.

To Tytus. Chap. ii. Fo. xcix.

The ii. Chapter.

He deſcribeth the peculiar offices of all kynnes of men, teachyng this to be the cal-lyng of God, ſe leauyng the worlde we ſhuld lyue only to hym.

But ſpeake thou that which becometh wholiſome learnyng. That the elder men be ſober, honeſt, deſerite, ſounde in the faith, in loue, and in patience. And the elder women ſpewiſe that they be in ſuch raiment as becometh holynes: not falſe accuſers, not geuen to muche dy-pnyng, but teachers of honeſte thynges, to make the yong women ſober minded, to loue their husbands, to loue their children, to be diſcret, chaſt, houſewiſe, good, and obedient vnto theirown husbands, that the worde of God be not euill ſpoken of.
Yonge menne ſpewiſe exhorteth that they be ſober minded.

About all thynges ſhew thy ſelfe an example of good workes with vncorrupt doctrin, with honeſty, and with the wholiſome word, which cannot be rebuked, that he which withſtandeth, may be aſhamed, ha-uyng nothing in you ſe he may diſpraiſe.
The ſeruaunt is exhort to be obedient vnto theirowne maſters, and to pleaſe in all thynges, not aunſweryng agayne, neither be pickers, but ſe they ſhew all good faithfulnes, that they may do worſhippe to the doctrine of our ſauoure God in all thynges.
For the grace of God, that bringeth ſaluation vnto al men, hath appeared, & teacheth vs that we ſhould deny vngodlines, and worldly luſt, and that we ſhould lyue ſober minded rightuouſly and Godly in theſe preſente world, lokinge for that bleſſed hope and glorious appearyng of the mighty God, & of our ſauoure Jeſu Chriſt, whiche ſhal ſave him ſelfe for vs to redeme vs from al vnihtuouſnes, and to pouge vs a peculiar people vnto him ſelfe, ſeruently geuen vnto good workes. Theſe thynges ſpeake, and exhort, & rebuke with all comandynge ſe that no man deſpise the.

The iii. Chapter.

He commaundeth obedience to rulers, the reherſeth he the old maner of theirowne life that they may perceyue they be ſaued by the only grace of God. Then ſheweth he what ſhuld be taughte, and howe to deale wth authoris of ſectes. At laſt he addeth certayne peculiar
thynges.

Varne them that they ſubmyt them ſelues to rule and power, to obey the officers, that they be redye vnto all good workes that they ſpeake euill of no man, that they be no fighters, but ſoft, beped.
Shewyng all mekenes vnto al men. For we our ſelues alſo in tymes paſt wer vniſpise, diſobedient, deceyued, in daunger to lures, and to dyuers maner of voluptuous-
nes, liuing in maliciousnes and enuy, full of hate, hatyng one another.

But after that the kyndnes and love of our ſauoure God to manward appeared,

1. Tim. i. c.

Rom. iii. a.

1. Co. vii. c.

Eph. i. a.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

1. Tim. iii.

The Epistle of. S. Paule

Metre
sauey.

Rom. viii.
Iuon. iii. a.
Eph. vi. a.

red, not of the dedes of ryghtuousnes whp
the we wroughte, but of hys mercede he saued vs * by the fountayne of the new byth,
and wpth the renynge of the holpe ghost, whiche he shed on vs aboundantlye tho-rowe Iesus Christ our sauoure, that wee once iustified by his grace, shuld be * heires of eternall lyfe thow we hope. & This is a true sayinge.

Actes. xv. b.
Eph. ii. a.
I. Tim. ii. d.

Mat. xviii. d.
I. Cor. ii. a.
Rom. xvi. b.

Of these thynges I would thou shouldest certifye, that they whiche beleue God myght be diligente to go forward in good workes. These thynges are good and profyttable vnto me. * For the questions and genealogies, and brawnyng and stryfe about the lawe, auoyde. for they are unprofitable and superfluous. A man that is geuen to * heresy, after the spyle and second admonicion auoyde, remembryng that he
that is such, is peruerced, and synneth cō-demned by hys own iudgement.

Actes. xviii. c.
I. Cor. i. b.

When I shall sende Artemas vnto the
or Richicus, be diligente to come to me vnto Nychopolis. For I haue determined thereto wynter.

Byngne tenas the lawlar and * Appollos
on theyr iorney diligentlye, that nothyng be lackyng vnto the. And let ours also learne to excell in good workes as farforth as nede requyret. that they be not vnfruit-full. All that are wpth me salute the. Grete the. That loue vs in the sayeth. Grace be wth you all. Amen.

Wrytten from Nychopolis a cite of Macedonia.

The Prologe vpon the Epylle of sainte

Paule the Apostle vnto Philemon

In this Epylle saynte Paule sheweth with a godly ensample of Christes loue. Herein we se howe Paule saueth poore Onesimus vnto hym, and
maketh intercession for him vnto his maister, & healpe hym wpth all that he maye, and beha-ueth hym selfe none other wyse then as though he hym selfe were the sayde Onesimus. Whych thyng he doth not wpth power and auctor-ite, as he well might haue done but putteth of all auctorite and what so euer he myghte of righte do, that Philemon myghte do lyfelye towards Onesimus: and wpth grete mekenes, and wylde meeknes teacheth Philemon to se hys du-tye in Christ Iesus.

The epylle of Saynte Paule vnto Philemon.

Philemon had a seruant, which hauing stollen hys goods was run away to Rome, & there learned of Paul the mysteries of Christs religion. Wherefore Paule exhorteth Philemon to take him againe, sayinge þ he sendeth hym.

to Philemon. Chap. i.

Paul the prysoner of Iesu
Christ and brother Timo-theus. Vnto Philemon þ beloued, and our healper,
and to the beloued Appia,
and to * Archippus our fe-lowe souldier, and to the congregation of thy house. * Grace be w you and peace from God our father, & fro
the Lord Iesus Christ.

Col. i. i. b.
I. Cor. i. a.
I. Cor. i. a.
Col. i. a.

I thanke my God, making mencion alwayes of the in my prayes, when I heare of thy loue and sayeth whych thou hast to-warde the Lord Iesus, and to-
warde all sayntes: so that the fellowshipp that thou hast in the sayeth, is frutefull tho-rowe knowledge of al good thynges, whiche are in you by Iesus Christ. And we haue grete ioy, and consolacion ouer thy loue:
For by thee (brother) the sayntes heres are comforted.

Col. i. i. a.

Wherefore though I be bolde in Christe
to enioyne thee, that whiche becometh the:
yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee, though I be as I am, euen Paule, aged &
nowe in bondes for Iesu Christs sake, I beseech the for my sonne * Onesimus, whō
I begat in my bondes, whych in tyme passed was to the vnprofitable, but now profitable both to the, and also to me, whome I haue sent home agayne. Thou therefore receyue hym, that is to say, myne own bowels, whom I woulde sayne haue receyued wth me, that in thy stede he myghte haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the gospel.ouer theles, wthout thy mynd, wold
I do nothyng, that the good whych sprungeth of the should not be as it were of ne-cessite, but willinglye.

Happely he therefore departed for a season that thou shouldest receyue hym for e-uer, not now as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, I meane a brother beloued, specially to me. but howe much more vnto the, both in the fleshe and also in the Lord?

If thou count me a fellowe, receyue hym as my selfe. If he haue hurt the, or oweth ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it with mine owne hand, I wil recompence it. So that I doo not saye to the howe that thou owest vnto me euen thyne owne selfe. Euen so brother, let me enioyne the in the lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Trustyng in thyne obedience, I wrot vnto the, knowyng that thou wyldest do more then I saye for. Moreover prepare me lodgyng: for I trust thow the healper
of our prayes, I shal be geuen vnto you.
Ther salut the Epaphras, my felowe pris-soner in Christe Iesu. Marcus, Ar-starcus, Demas, & Lucas, my helpers. The grace of our lord Jesu Christ be wth youe spi-
rites. Amen.

Col. i. a.
and. i. i. d.
Marke &
Luke e-
uangelist.

Sente from Rome by Onesimus a seruant.

A 1010

The Epistle of. S. Paule

Metre
sauey.

Rom. viii.
Iuon. iii. a.
Eph. vi. a.

red, not of the dedes of ryghtuousnes whp
the we wroughte, but of hys mercede he sa-
ued vs * by the fountayne of the new byth,
and wpth the renynge of the holpe ghost,
whiche he shed on vs aboundantlye tho-
rowe Iesus Christ our sauoure, that wee
once iustified by his grace, shuld be * heires
of eternall lyfe thow we hope. & This is a true sayinge.

Actes. xv. b.
Eph. ii. a.
I. Tim. ii. d.

Mat. xviii. d.
I. Cor. ii. a.
Rom. xvi. b.

Of these thynges I would thou shouldest
certifye, that they whiche beleue God
myght be diligente to go forward in good workes. These thynges are good and profyttable vnto me. * For the questions and genealogies, and brawnyng and stryfe about the lawe, auoyde. for they are unprofitable and superfluous. A man that is geuen to * heresy, after the spyle and second admonicion auoyde, remembryng that he
that is such, is peruerced, and spyneth cū damned by hys own iudgement.

Actes. xvii. c.
I. Cor. i. b.

When I shall sende Artemas vnto the
or Richicus, be diligente to come to me vnto Nychopolis. For I haue determined thereto wynter.

Byngne tenas the lawlar and * Appollos
on theyr iorney diligentlye, that nothyng be lackyng vnto the. And let ours also
learne to excell in good workes as farforth as nede requyret. that they be not vnfrutfull. All that are wpth me salute the. Grete the. That loue vs in the sayeth. Grace be wth you all. Amen.

Wrytten from Nychopolis a cite of Macedonia.

The Prologe vpon the Epylle of sainte

Paule the Apostle vnto Philemon

In this Epylle saynte Paule sheweth
with a godly ensample of Christes
loue. Herein we se howe Paule saueth poore Onesimus vnto hym, and
maketh intercession for him vnto his maister, &
healpe hym wpth all that he maye, and beha-ueth hym selfe none other wyse then as though he hym selfe were the sayde Onesimus. Whych thyng he doth not wpth power and auctor-
ite, as he well might haue done but putteth of all auctorite and what so euer he myghte of righte do, that Philemon myghte do lyfelye
towards Onesimus: and wpth grete mekenes, and wylde doctryne teacheth Philemon to se hys du-tye in Christ Iesus.

The epylle of Saynte Paule vnto Philemon.

Philemon had a seruant, which hauing stol-
len hys goods was run away to Rome, & there
learned of Paul the mysteries of Christs religion. Wherefore Paule exhorteth Philemon to take him againe, sayinge þ he sendeth hym.

to Philemon. Chap. i.

Paul the prysoner of Iesu
Christ and brother Timo-theus. Vnto Philemon þ
beloued, and our healper,
and to the beloued Appia,
and to * Archippus our fe-
lowe souldier, and to the congregation of thy house. * Grace be w
you and peace from God our father, & fro
the Lord Iesus Christ.

Col. i. i. b.
I. Cor. i. a.
I. Cor. i. a.
Col. i. a.

I thanke my God, making mencion al-
wayes of the in my prayes, when I heare
of thy loue and sayeth whych thou hast to-
warde the Lord Iesus, and to-
warde all sayntes: so that the fellowshipp
that thou hast in the sayeth, is frutefull tho-
rowe knowledge of al good thynges, whiche
are in you by Iesus Christ. And we haue grete ioy, and consolacion ouer thy loue:
For by thee (brother) the sayntes heres
are comforted.

Col. i. i. a.

Wherefore though I be bolde in Christe
to enioyne thee, that whiche becometh the:
yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee,
though I be as I am, euen Paule, aged, &
nowe in bondes for Iesu Christs sake, I
beseech the for my sonne * Onesimus, whō
I begat in my bondes, whych in tyme passed was to the vnprofitable, but now profitable both to the, and also to me, whome
I haue sent home agayne. Thou therefore receyue hym, that is to say, myne own bowels, whom I woulde sayne haue receyued
wth me, that in thy stede he myghte haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the gospel.ouer theles, wthout thy mynd, wold
I do nothyng, that the good whych sprungeth of the should not be as it were of ne-cessite, but willinglye.

Happely he therefore departed for a season that thou shouldest receyue hym for e-uer, not now as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, I meane a brother beloued, specially
to me. but howe much more vnto the, both in the fleshe and also in the Lord?

If thou count me a fellow, receyue hym as my selfe. If he haue hurt the, or oweth ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it with mine owne hand, I wil recompence it. So that I doo not saye to the howe that thou owest vnto me euen thyne
owne selfe. Euen so brother, let me enioyne
the in the lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Trustyng in thyne obedience, I wrot
vnto the, knowyng that thou wyldest do more then I saye for. Moreover prepare me lodgyng: for I trust thow the healper
of our prayes, I shal be geuen vnto you.
Ther salut the Epaphras, my felowe pris-
soner in Christe Iesu. Marcus, Ar-starcus, Demas, & Lucas, my helpers. The grace of our lord Jesu Christ be wth youe spi-
rites. Amen.

Col. i. a.
and. i. i. d.
Marke &
Luke e-
uangelist.

Sente from Rome by One-
simus a seruant.

A Prologe to the fyrst Epytyle of Saynt Peter.

This Epytyle byd saynt Peter wyte to the heathen that were conuerted, and exhorteth them to stand fast in the fapth, to grow therein, and to were perfect, thowome all maner of sufferynge, and also good works. In the fyrste he declarerth the mystyfyng of fapth thowome Chyistes bloude, and conforterth them wpth the hope of the lyfe to come, & sheweth that we haue not deserued it, but that the Prophetes prophesied, it shoulde be geuen vs: and as Chyiste whych redemed vs out of synne, and all uncleannes in holpe, so he exhorterth to leade an holpe conuersacion: and because we be cephlye bought and made heyres of a ryche inheritance, to take herde that we lose it not agayne thowome our owne neglygence.

In the second Chapt. he sheweth that Chyiste is the foundacyon and head corner stone, wher on al ar buyle thowome fapth, whether it be Jew or Gentyle, and howe that in Chyiste they are made Pryestes, to offer them selues to God (as Chyist byd hym selfe) and to slea the lastes of the flethe, that syght agaynst the soule. And fyrst he teacherth them in generall to obeye the worldye rulers, and then in spersall he teacherth the seruants to obeye theyr masters, be they good or bad, and to suffer wrong of them as Chyist suffered wrong for vs.

In the thyrde he teacherth the wyues to obeye theyr husbands, yea though they be vnbeluers, and to apparel themselues godlye as it becometh holynes. And thereto that the husbands suffer and beare the iniquyte of theyr wyues, and lyue accordyng to knowledge wpth them. And then in generall he exhorterth them to be softe, courteous, payente and frendlye one to another, and to suffer for righteounes after the ensample of Chyist.

In the fourth he exhorterth to flee synne, and to tame the flethe wpth sobernes, watchyng and prayer, and to loue eche other, and to know that all good gyftes are of God, and euerie man to heape hys neyghbour wpth such as he hath receyued of God, and synally not to wonder, but to reioyse though they muste suffer for Chyistes names sake, seying that as they be partakers of hys affliccyons, so shall they be partakers of hys glory to come.

In the fyft he teacherth the Bishops and presbytes, howe they shoulde lyue and feede Chyistes flocke, and warneth vs of the Deuil, whych ouercometh us in wayte for vs.

The fyrste epytyle of saynt Peter the Apostle.

The fyrst Chapter.

He exhorterth them to be payente whyche are troubled for Chyistes sake. And lest they distrust the goodnes of theyr quarel, he sheweth that Chyist is that lambe appointed from the begynnyng in whom saluacion is promysed, wpth this he exhorterth them to purges of lyfe, shewyng that whatsoeuer man hath is transitory.

of S. Peter. Chapt. i. Fo. c.

Peter an Apostle of Iesu Chyist to them that dwell here and there as strangers thowome al Iseraelus, Galacia, Capadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, electe, by the foreknowledge of God the father, thowome the sanctyfying of the spirit, vnto obedience and spraynklyng of the bloude of Iesu Chyiste. Grace be wpth you and peace be multiplied: Blessed be God the father of our Lord Iesu Chyist, which thowome his abundant mercede begat vs again vnto a liuely hope, by the resurrection of Iesus Chyiste from death, to enioie an eternitaunce immortal and undefiled, and that putteth not, reserved in heauen for you, whiche are kepte by the power of God thowome fapeth vnto saluacion, whiche saluacion is prepared al ready to be shewed in the laste tyme, in the whych tyme ye shall receyue, though nowe for a season if nede requyre ye are in tribunes, thowome manifold temptacions: that your fapth once tryed, byeng much more precious, then gold that perissheth (though it be tryed with fyre) might be founde vnto laude, & glory, and honoure, at the appearing of Iesus Chyiste, whom ye haue not seene and yet loue hym: in whom euen now, though ye se him not, yet do ye beleue, and reioice wpth ioy vnspokeable and glorious, receyving the end of your fapeth, the saluacion of poure soules.

Of whiche saluacion haue the prophetes enquired and searched, whych prophesied of the grace that shoulde come vnto you, searchyng when or at what tyme the spirit of Chyist, which was in them shoulde signifye of, which spirit testified before the passions that shoulde come vnto Chyist, and the glorye that shoulde folowe after: vnto which prophetes it was declared, that not vnto them selues, but vnto vs, they shoulde minister the thynges which are now shewed vnto you of them, whiche by the holpe ghost sent downe from heauen haue preached vnto you the thynges which the angels desyre to beholde.

Wherefore gird vp the loines of poure minds, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you, by the declaring of Iesus Chyist: as obedient chylidren, not fashioning your selues vnto your olde lustes of ignoraunce: but as he which called you is holpe, euen so be ye holp in all maner of conuersacion, because it is witten: * Be ye holp, for I am holpe.

And if so be that ye call on the father, which without respect of person iudgeth accordyng to euerie mans workes, se that ye passe the tyme of poure pilgrimage in feare. & for as much as ye know how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible syluer and gold from your bayne conuersacion, whych ye receyued by the tradicions of the fathers, but wpth the precious bloude of Chyist

Peter, as other true Apostles do, tithes setteth forth the treasure of mercy, which god hath bond hym self to geue vs for chyistes sake, & the our dute what wee ar bounde to do agayne, if we will be partakers of his mercy. Iob. xlii. a. James. i. c. p. at. xv. c. John. xii. b.

Gen. xlii. b. Dan. ii. b. Agge ii. b. Iach. vi. b.

Actes. i. c. Luke. ii. b.

Luke. xii. b. Dure buyte again.

Ignorance is the cause of euill lyuyng. I. Cor. xi. g. Mar. xv. c.

Epoure workes that we be iudged: for as our misdeeds are such as are

The i. epistle of Saynt are þ wor- of Chust as of a lamb undefiled and unthkes by whyp out spotte, which was ordeyned before the che þ faith worlde was made, but was declared in the is seene. last tymes for poure sakes, wyche by hys

i. cor. vi. a meanes hys beleued on God that rased
i. Thon i. d hym from deatly, & glorified hym, that poure Apoc. i. f faith and hope might be in God.
We be pr- And for as much as pe haue purpysed pour tified frely soules thowre the spire, in obepinge the inbeleuing tenthe, for to loue brotherly withoute sap-the truth ninge, see that pe loue one another wth a of Chypse pure hert teruently: for pe are boine a new, for to loue not of mortall seide, but of immortall, by the on another word of God wyche liueth, and lasteth for Eph. i. b. euer. For all flethe is as grasse, and all the Eccl. xii. c. glorie of man is as the floure of grasse. The Iaco. i. b. grasse wppdoreth, and the floure falleth a-wape, but the word of the Lorde endureth euer. & And this is the worde whiche by the Bosgel was preached amouge pou.

The Notes.

A lully hope. (a) A lully hope is that wher by we be certayne of euerlastyng lyfe.

The ii. Chapter.

We sheweth that theþe duety wyche are boine agayne in Chyke, is to folowe innocence of lyfe, seynge they are grounded vpo the rocke Chyke. & boine all thynges he wylleth them to be obedyente to the maistrestes, and ethopetly them to pacience.

We be the church: a þ obediēce of the hert is the spiritual sacrifice: bodely sacrifice
must be offered to our neighbours, for if þ offerest
it to God, þ makest a bodely þ-
dol of hym.
Eccl. xvi. d Roma. ix. g
psal. cxviii. c
Mat. xxi. d
Actes. iiii. b
Eph. viii. c
Eph. xix. a Iaco. ii. d
Roma. ix. c.

Vherfore lay asyde all malicioufnes and all gyle, and dissimulacion and enup, and all backbytynge: & as newe boine babes, desyre that reason ble mylke whych is without corrupcion, that pe may growe therein. If so be that pe haue tasted howe pleasaunte the Lorde is, to whom pe come as vnto a spynng stone, disallowed of men, but chosen of God and precious: and pe as spynng stones, are made a spiritual house, and an holy habytatode, for to offer by spirituall sacryfice, acceptable to God by Iesu Chyke.

Wherfore it is cōtayne in the scripture:
behold: I put in Sion an head corner stone elect and precious: and he that beleueth on hym shall not be ashamed. Vnto pou therefore whych beleue, he is precious: but vnto them whych beleue not, the stone which the buildeis refused, the same is made the head stone in the corner, and a stone to stoble at, and a rocke to offende them whiche stumble at the worde, and beleue not that, whereon they were set. But pe are a chosen generacion, a royal priesthod and holy na-cion, and a peculiat people, that pe should shewe the vertues of hym that called pou out of darknes into hys maruelous light, whych in tyme paste were not a people, yet are nowe the people of God: whiche were not vnder mercy, but nowe haue obtayned mercy.

We sheweth the duety of married folke. Chy-ke wylleth to be harmles & charitable. When returneth he to pacience, teachyng what we ought to do by example of Chyke, seynge he is the sauour of all.

Ikempse let the wpyes be in subiecci-
on to their housbandes, that euen thei whych beleue not the word, may wthout the worde be wonne by the conuersacion of the wpyes: whyle they behold pour pure conuersacion coupled with feare.
Whose apparell shall not be outwarde wth broded heere, & hanging on of gold, ether puttyng on of gorgeous apparel: but
let the hid man of the herte be incorrupte, wth a meke and a quiete spire, whiche spire is before God a thyng muche set by.
For after this maner in the olde tyme dyd
the holpe womenne whych trusted in God, tpe theselues, and were obedyente to their husbands, euen as Sara obeyed Abraham and called hym Lorde: whose doughters pe are as long as pe do well, and be not afraid of euery shadowe.

Ikempse pe men (a) dwel wth the ac-cordyng to knowlege, geuynge b honoure vnto the wpye, as vnto the weaker vessel, and as vnto the that are heyes also of the
grace

We sheweth the duety of married folke. Chy-ke wylleth to be harmles & charitable. When returneth he to pacience, teachyng what we ought to do by example of Chyke, seynge he is the sauour of all.

Peter. Chapter. ii.

God in the daye of bysytacion.

Submyt pour selues vnto al maner of dynaunce of man for the Lordes sake, whether it be vnto the kyng as vnto the chiete head: ether vnto rulers, as vnto the that are sente of hym, for the punysshment of euill doars, but for the laude of the that do well. For so is the wpyl of God, that pe put to seilence the ignorance of the folish mē, as fre, and not as haupnge the liberty for a cloke of malicioufnes, but euen as the seruaunts of God. * Donoure all men. Loue brotherlye felowshyp. Feare God and honour the kyng. Seruaunts obep pour maisters wth al feare: not only if they be good and courteous, but also though they be fro-ward. For it is thankeworthly, if a man for conscience toward God endure grete, suf-ferynge wrongfully. For what prayse is it, if when pe be buffetted for pour fautes, pe take it paciently? But and if when pe do wel, pe suffer wrong and take it paciently, then is there thanke with God.

Roma. xiii. a
Eph. vi. a Obediēce
to rulers.

Roma. xiii. c Seruaunt
Eph. vi. a
Colo. iii. d
I. Cor. vii. c
I. Tim. ii. b
I. Pet. ii. a
I. Pet. iii. a

For here vnto verely wer pe called: for Chust also suffred for vs, leauing vs an example, that we should folowe his steppes, whych did no synne, neyther was ther gyle founde in hys mouth: whiche when he was reupled, reupled not agayne: when he suffered, he threatened not, but committed the cause to hym þ iudgeth righteously, whych hys owne selfe hate our synnes in hys body on the tre, that we should be deliuered from syn, and should lyue in righteoufnes.
By whose steppes pe were healed. For pe were as shepe goyng astray: but are nowe toured to the shepheard and byshoppe of poure soules.

Our callig
is to folow Chyke.

Eph. iiii. a
I. Joh. iii. a

The iii. Chapter.

We sheweth the duety of married folke. Chy-ke wylleth to be harmles & charitable. When returneth he to pacience, teachyng what we ought to do by example of Chyke, seynge he is the sauour of all.

Ikempse let the wpyes be in subiecci-
on to their housbandes, that euen thei whych beleue not the word, may wth-
out the worde be wonne by the conuersa-
cion of the wpyes: whyle they behold pour
pure conuersacion coupled with feare.
Whose apparell shall not be outwarde
wth broded heere, & hanging on of gold,
ether puttyng on of gorgeous apparel: but
let the hid man of the herte be incorrupte,
wth a meke and a quiete spire, whiche
spire is before God a thyng muche set by.
For after this maner in the olde tyme dyd
the holpe womenne whych trusted in God,
tpe theselues, and were obedyente to their husbands, euen as Sara obeyed Abraham
and called hym Lorde: whose doughters pe
are as long as pe do well, and be not afraid of euery shadowe.

I. cor. xi. c Wpyes.
Eph. v. c
Col. iii. c

I. Tim. ii. b

Gen. xvi. d

Ikempse pe men (a) dwel wth the ac-
cordyng to knowlege, geuynge b honoure
vnto the wpye, as vnto the weaker vessel,
and as vnto the that are heyes also of the grace

Husbands
I. cor. vii. b

320. r. b. f. t.
and. xii. b.
Rom. xii. d.
1. Cor. vi. d.
Pla. cxiii. t.
Gen. xii. a.

grace of ipse, that poure prayers be not let
In conclusion, be peal of one mynd, one lyter wpyth another, loue as brethren, be petifull, be courtous, not tendinge euill
for euill, nether rebuke for rebuke, but con strayn wpyse, blesse, remembryng that ye at thereunto called euen that ye should bee hepys of blesynge. If any man longe af ter ipse, and loueth to see good dayes, lette him refrayne hys tonge from euill, and his lyppes that they speake no gyle. Let hym eschue euill & do good, let him seke peace, & ensue it. For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer the rightuous, and his eares are open vnto
the theyr prayers. But the face of the Lorde beholdeth them that do euill.

math. v. c.

Beue a re
son of your doctrine.
Qu. ii. a.
hebr. ix. a.
Rom. v. d.

Moreover who is it that wil harme you, if ye folowe that whych is good? Not with standyng happy are ye, if ye suffer for right uousnes sake. * Yea and feare not though they seeme terrible vnto you, neyther bee troubled: but sanctifye the Lorde God in your hertes. Be readye alwayes to geue an answer to euery man that aseth you a reason of the hope that is in you, and that wpyth mekenes and feate: haupyng a good conscience, that when they backbite you as euill doers, they may be ashamed, for as much as they haue falsely accused poure good conuersacion in Christ. It is better (if the wpyll of God be so) that ye suffer for well doyng, then for euill doyng. * For as much as Christ hath once suffered for synners, the iuste for the vniuste, for too dyng vs to God, and was kylled, as per farpnyng to the fleshe: but was quykened in the spyte.

Gen. vi. a
math. xii. d
Luk. xii. f.
Roma. vi. a

In whych spyte, he also wente and preached vnto the spytes that were in pri son, whych were in tyme passed by Noe diente when the longe sufferynge of God abode exceedyng pacientlye in the dayes of * Noe, while the arcke was a preparing wherein fewe (that is to saye .viii. soules) were saued by water, whych spynfieth (c) baptisme that now saueh vs * not the puttynge awaye of the fylthe of the fleshe, but in that a good conscience consenteth to God, by the resurrection of Iesus Christ whych is on the righthand of god, & is gon into heauen, angels, power, and might sub dued vnto him.

The Notes.

To dwell
with a wife accordyng
to know ledge.

To geue honour to the wpyse.

(a) He dwelleth wpyth his wyfe accordyng too knowledge: that taketh her as a necessarye bel per, and not as a bond seruaunt or bonde stau.
And if he be not obedient and heelpful vnto hym endeuyreth to beate the fere of God into her heade, that thereby she maye be compelled to ledene her dutye and do it. But chieflye he must beware that he halte not in anye parte of hys dutye to her wpyse. For hys euill example shal destroie more then all exhortacions he can geue shall edifye.

(b) Erasmus in hys annotations, noteth out of saynte Jerome, that hys honoure is not the bowynge wpyth knees, neyther yet the scetpynge of them in the vpper seates (whych charge we se most obserued in diuers regyons). But it is p shapnyng from the fleshe. For so saye saynte Jerome is honoure geuen vnto wo men, if they be not through our ouer much war tonnes defiled, and made of an vnchast mynde.

Thys word honoure (in thys place) doth also ex tende it selfe vnto an able, hynde, and lounge speache, and to the gentle ministringe of al such things the standeth in neede of, and chieflye when through the weakenes of nature he is not able to traualle & labour for them, yet selfe.

(c) Here do diuers learned interpreters vnder stande by baptisme, the bloude and passion of Christ. For that is the thyng signified by bap tisme. And the washynge of oure soules by the death of Christ, is beokened by the washynge of the body in water.

The. iiii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to repenitance by christes example, shewynge withall the punishmente of the vngodly. And because the buyes of charite be infinite, he sheweth vs too be good disposers of the grace of God, that he moneth them to be patient in tribulacion.

For as much as Christ hath suffered for vs in the fleshe, arme poure selues lykewyse wpyth the same mynde. for he whych suffereth in the fleshe, ceaseth from synne, that he hence forwarde shoulde liue
as muche tyme as remapneth in the fleshe not after the lustes of menne, but after the wpyll of God. * For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spente the tyme that is passe of the lyfe, after the wpyll of the Gentyles, walkynge in wantonnes, lustes, dyocken nes, in eating, drynkynge, and in abhomin able Idolatry.

And it semeth to them a straunge thinge that ye tyme not also wpyth them vnto the same excelle of spote, and therefore speake they euill of you, whych shal geue accom ptes to hym that is readye to iudge quicke
and deade. * For vnto thys purpose verely
was the gospel preached vnto the dead that they shoulde be iudged lyke other men in the fleshe, but shoulde lyue before God in the spyte. The ende of al thynges is at hande.

* Be ye therfore discrete and sober, that ye maye be apte to prayers. But aboue all thynges haue feruente loue amonge you.
For loue couereth the multitude of synnes.
Be ye hartberous one to another, and that wpythout grudgynge. As euery man hath receyued the griffe, minister the same one to another as good ministers of the many folde grace of god. If any man speake, let hym talke as though he speake the word des of God. If any man minister, let him do it as of the habilitie whych God mini streteth vnto hym. That God in all thynges maye be glorified thorowe Iesus Christ, to whom be prayse and dominion for euer,
and whyle the worlde standeth. Amen.

Dearely beloued, be not troubled in this
* heate whych nowe is come amonge you to tye you, as though some straunge thinge had happened vnto you: but reioyse in as much as ye are partakers of Christes pas sionnes, that when hys glorie appeareth,

Baptisme

we must be partakers
with christ
in sufferig
if we wil
haue our part wpyth
him in his
glorie.
Ephes. xi. a
Thon. ii. e
Ephes. iii. d

1. Pe. iii. c
John. v. c.

Date ma
kerh sin of euery trifle
but loue loket h not on smal things
but suffe reth al thy
ges.
Rom. x. b.

Reut. x. f.
1. Rom. ii. e
De p. f. f.
scet h w Christ as reigne

320. r. b. i. r.
and. xii. b.
Rom. xii. d.
1. Cor. vi. d.
Pla. cxiii. i.
Gen. xii. a.

grace of ipse, that poure prayers be not let
In conclusion, be pe al of one mynd, one lyt wpth another, loue as brethren, be petifull, be courtous, not tendinge euill
for euill, nether rebuke for rebuke, but con strayn wylle, blesse, remembryng that ye at thereunto called euen that ye should bee hepnes of blessing. If any man longe af ter ipse, and loueth to see good dayes, lette
him refrayne hys tonge from euill, and his lyppes that they speake no gyle. Let hym eschue euill & do good, let him seke peace, &
ensue it. For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer
the rightuous, and his eares are open vnto
the theyr prayers. But the face of the Lorde beholdeth them that do euill.

math. v. c.

Moreover who is it that wil harme you, if ye folowe that whiche is good? Not with standyng happy are ye, if ye suffer for right uousnes sake. * Yea and feare not though they seeme terrible vnto you, neyther bee

Beue a re
son of your
doctrine.
1. Cor. ii. a.
hebr. ix. a.
Rom. v. d.

troubled: but sanctifye the Lorde God in your hertes. Be readye alwayes to geue an answer to euery man that aseth you a reason of the hope that is in you, and that wpth mekenes and feate: haupnge a good conscience, that when they backbite you
as euill doers, they may be ashamed, for as much as they haue falsely accused poue

D good conuersacion in Christe. It is better (if the wylle of God be so) that ye suffer for well doyng, then for euill doyng. * For as muche as Christe hath once suffered for synners, the iuste for the vniuste, for too dyng vs to God, and was kyled, as per farpnyng to the fleshe: but was quykened
in the spyte.

Gen. vi. a.
math. xii. d.
Luk. xii. f.
Roma. vi. a.

In whiche spyte, he also wente and preached vnto the spytes that were in pri son, whiche were in tyme passed by Noe: dient when the longe sufferynge of God abode exceedyng pacientlye in the dayes
of * Noe, while the arcke was a preparing
wherein fewe (that is to saye .viii. soules) were saued by water, whiche spynfieth (c) baptisme that nowe saueh vs * not the puttynge awaye of the fylthe of the fleshe,
but in that a good conscience consenteth to God, by the resurrection of Iesus Christ whiche is on the right hand of god, & is gon into heauen, angels, power, and might sub dued vnto him.

The Notes.

To dwell
with a wife
accordyng
to know ledge.

(a) He dwelleth wpth his wyfe accordyng too knowledge: that taketh her as a necessarye bel per, and not as a bond seruaunt or bonde slau.
And if he be not obedient and heelpful vnto hym endeuoureth to beate the fere of God into her heade, that thereby she maye be compelled to ledene her dutye and do it. But chieflye he must beware that he halte not in anye parte of hys dutye to her w^{ch}de. For hys euill example shal destroie more then all exhortacions he can geue shall edifye.

To geue
honour to
the wyfe.

(b) Erasmus in hys annotations, noteth out of sayncte Jerom, that hys honoure is not the bowynge wth knees, neyther yet the scetpynge of them in the vpper seates (whiche thynge we se most obserued in diuers regyons). But it is p a baptnyng from the fleshe, lust. For so saye eth sayncte Jerom, is honoure geuen vnto wo men, if they be not through our ouer much war tonnes defiled, and made of an vnchast mynde.

Thys word honoure (in thys place) doth also ex tende it selfe vnto an able, hynde, and souynge speache, and to the gentle ministringe of al such things the standeth in neede of, and chieflye when
through the weakenes of nature he is not able to traualle & labour for them, yet selfe.

(c) Here do diuers learned interpreters vnder stande by baptisme, the bloude and passion of Christ. For that is the thynge signified by bap tisme. And the washynge of oure soules by the death of Christ, is beokened by the washynge of the body in water.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The exhortacion to repenitance by christes example, shewynge withall the punishmente
of the vngodly. And because the buyes of charite be infinite, he byddeth vs too be good disposers of the grace of God, lest he moueth them to be patient in tribulacion.

For as muche as Christe hath suffered for vs in the fleshe, arme poure selues lykewylle wpth the same mynde. for he whiche suffereth in the fleshe, ceaseth from synne, that he hence forwarde shoulde liue
as muche tyme as remapneth in the fleshe
not after the lustes of menne, but after the wylle of God. * For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the tyme that is passe of the lyfe, after the wylle of the Gentyles, walkynge in wantonnes, lustes, dyocken
nes, in eating, drynkynge, and in abhomin able Idolatry.

And it semeth to them a straunge thynge that ye tyme not also wpth them vnto the same excelle of rote, and therefore speake they euill of you, whiche shal geue accom ptes to hym that is readye to iudge quicke
and deade. * For vnto thys purpose verely
was the gospel preached vnto the dead
* that they shoulde be iudged lyke other
men in the fleshe, but shoulde lyue before God in the spyte. The ende of al thynge is at hande.

* Be ye therfore discrete and sober, that ye maye be apte to prayers. But aboue all thynge haue feruente loue amonge you.
For loue couereth the multitude of synnes.
Be ye hartberous one to another, and that wpthout grudgynge. As euery man hath receyued the griffe, minister the same one
to another as good ministers of the many folde grace of god. If any man speake, let
hym talke as though he speake the word des of God. If any man minister, let him do it as of the habilitie whiche God mini streteth vnto hym. That God in all thynge maye be glorified thorow Iesus Christ,
to whom be prayse and dominion for euer,
and whyle the worlde standeth. Amen.

Dearely beloued, be not troubled in this
* heate whiche nowe is come amonge you to trye you, as though some straunge thynge had happened vnto you: but reioyse in as much as ye are partakers of Christes pas
sionnes, that when hys glorie appeareth,

Baptisme

we must be partakers
with christ
in sufferig
if we wil
haue our part wpth
him in his
glorie.
Ephes. xi. a.
1. Ion. ii. c.
Ephes. iiii. b.

1. Pe. iii. c.
John. v. c.

Date ma
kerh sin of
euery trifle
but loue lokethe not on smal
things
but suffe
reth al thy
ges.
Rom. x. b.

Reut. x. c.
1. Rom. ii. c.
De p. luf.
scetth in Christe as reigne

The .i. Epistle of Saynete withchaung. ye maye be merreye and glad. If ye be rap-If the son led hypon for the name of Chyriste, hapnes of god ppe are pe. For the spyrte of glorie and the must be all spyrte of God resteth hypon you. On thep scourged & part he is euill spoken of. but on your part none maye he is glorified.

be faued. Se that none of you suffer as a murthe-but thow. ret or as a thefe, or an euill doer, or as a butowe the spode in other mennes matters. If anpe same fere man suffer as a Chyrien man, let hym not that chust be ashamed, but let hym glorie woth on went thow. thys be halfe. For if tyme is come that iudrow: what gement must begyn at the house of God.

What the os. * If it spyrte begynne at vs, what shall the naciō of p. ende be of them whych beleue not the gos-disobedi- pel of God? And if the ryghtuous scarsely ene & vnde be faued: where shall the vngodlye and the leuers be? spynner appeare: Wherefore let them that suffer accordyng to the wyl of god, commit theyr soules to hym with wel doing, as vnto a faithfull creator.

The Notes.

(a) Certayne learned expositors vnderstande thys and that in the Chapter goyng before concernyng preaching to the spirites, to be all one thyng. And that the meaninge of death is none other, but that the strength of Chyristes passion was such that it lewde the spirites of p. sayeth ful whych were departed before that tyme, and broughte them into such consolation as they now haue. Whiche no doubt is greater the p. was by as much as the p. person reioyseth more wh-he seeth hys fees payed and hys prynces taken of hym, and loketh dayly to be decked with gol-drouse robes, and to be set in possession of incōpreable ryches. For so standeth it with p. soules departed in the sayth of Chyriste. They are by p. death of Chyriste set at libertie from all the bon-des of synne, and do onelye loke for the daye of iudgement, when the incorruptible crowne of glorie shall be geuen vnto them, that both bodye and soule maye lyue for euer in the moste ioyfull presence of the godheade.

The .ii. Chapter.

He declareth theyr dutye to the ministers of the church and then teacheth what the yow-ger ought to do. He counsaileth to be lowly, sober, and watchfull.

The elders whiche are amonge you, I exhorthe, whiche am also an elder, and a wptnes of the afflictions of Chyriste and also a partaker of the glorie that shall be opened: se that ye fede Chyristes flocke whiche is amonge you, takyng the ouerspight of them, not as though ye were ch-pelled thereto, but wyllynge: not for the desyre of splythlye, but of a good mynd:
not as though ye wer Lordes ouer the parishes, but that ye be an ensample to the flocke. And when the chiefe shepheard shall appeare, ye shall receyue an incorruptible croune of glorie.

Lykewyse ye ponger, submit your sel-ues vnto the elder. Submit your selues e-uerie man one to another, knyt your sel-ues together in lowdynes of mynde. For God resisteth the proud, and geueth grace to the humble. & Submit your selues therfore vnder the myghtye hand of God that

Peter. Chapter. v.

he may exalte you, when the tyme is come.
Cast al your care to hym. for he careth for
you.

Be sober and watch, for your aduersary the deuyll as a roynge lyon walketh about sekyng whom he maye deuour: whome ye shall stand fast in the sayth remembryng that ye do but fulfyll the same afflictions which are appoynted to your brythren that are in the worlde. The God of all grace whiche called you vnto hys eternal glorie by Chyrist Jesus, shall hys owne selfe after ye haue suffered a litle affliction make you perfect:
shall settle, strengthe and stablyshe you. To hym be glorie and dominion for euer, and while the worlde endureth. Amen. &

By Siluanus a faythfull brother vnto you (as I suppose) haue I wrytten bryefly exhortyng and testifyng howe that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.
The companions of your eleccion that are of Babilon, salute you, and Marcus my sonne. Greete ye one another wth the kisse of loue.

Peace be wth you all whiche are in Chyriste Jesus. Amen.

The Prologe vpon the .ii.

Epistle of S. Peter.

This Epistle was wrytten agaynst them whiche thoughte that chyristen saye's myghte be ydle and without woorth, when yet the promes of Chyriste is made vs vpon that condition, that we henceforth wyke the wyl of god and not of the flesh. Therefore he exhorteth the to exercise them selues bryggently in vertue & al good workes, thereby to be sure that they haue
the true faith, as a man knoweth the goodnes of a tre by hys fruit. Then he commendeth and magnifyeth the gospell, and wylleth that menne harken to that onely, and to mens doctryne not at all. For as he sayeth, there came no prophetic-all scripture by the wyl of man, but by the wyl of the holy ghost, whych onely knoweth the wyl of God, nether is any scripture of pryuate interpretacion, that is to saye, maye be otherwyse expounded then agreeing to the open places and generall articles and to the cōtētaunces of god and al the rest of the scripture.

And therfore in the second he warneth them of false teachers that shoulde come, and thow-purchage confidence in false workes to satisfie theyr conetousnes wthall, shoulde denye Chyriste. Whiche he threatheneth wth the terrible examples. Wth the fall of the angels, the floud of Noe, and ouerthrowyng of Sodome and Gomor, and so describeth them wth theyr insatiabie conetousnes, pryde, subboynce and disobedience to all tempozall rule and authori-tye, wth theyr abhominable whoysome, and hypocrysy, that a blynde man mye see that he prophecieth of the Popes holye spyritualltye, whych deuoured the whote worlde with theyr conetousnes, luyng in al luff and pleasure, and reignyng as tempozall tyrantes.

In the thirde he sheweth that in the latter dayes the people thowme vndeless and lacke of fere of p. iudgement of the last day shall be euen as Epures, wholy geuen to the flesh, whiche last day shall yet surely and shortly come saith he

Math. v. c.
Luke. xii. c.
Roma. xii. c.
1. John. i. c.

C

Parishes
the Breke
hath lots,
that is the
to whom a ny lot

chaunce or election is to preache
gods word

13

2. John. i. c.

3. John. i. c.

4. John. i. c.

5. John. i. c.

6. John. i. c.

7. John. i. c.

8. John. i. c.

9. John. i. c.

10. John. i. c.

11. John. i. c.

12. John. i. c.

13. John. i. c.

The. i. Epistle of Saynete

withchaſt. ye maye be merreye and glad. If ye be rap-If the ſon led vpon for the name of Chryſte, hapnes of god ppe are ye. For the ſpūte of glōry and the muſt be all ſpūte of God teſteth vpon you. On theſe ſcourged & part he is euill ſpoken of. but on your part none may he is glouſified.

be faued Se that none of pou suffer as a murthe-but tho- ret or as a thefe, or an euyl boar, or as a butowe the spodpe in othet mennes matters. Yf anpe same fire man suffer as a Churshen man, let hym not that chust be ashamed, but let hym glorie wod on went tho- thys be halfe. For þtyme is come that iudrow: what gement must begyn at the house of God.

¶ If it spylle begynne at vs, what shall the naciō of þe ende be of them whiche beleue not the gospēl of God? And if the rēgitiuous scarcely be saued: where shall the vngodly and the lawless be? Spūnet appeare: Wherefore let them that suffer accordyng to the wyl of god, commit theyr soules to him with wel doing, as vnto a faithful creator.

The Notes.

(a) Certaine learned expositors vnderstande thys and that in the Chapter goyng before con cernynge preachynge to the spirites, to be all one thyng. And that the meaninge of death is none other, but that the strength of Chrystes passion was suche that it lewde the spirites of þe sayeth ful wher they were departed before that tyme, and broughte them into suche consolacion as they now haue. Whiche no doubt is greater the þe was by as much as the ppysoner reioyseth more whē he seeth his fees payed and his prynces taken of hym, and loketh dayly to be decked with goz grouse robes, and to be set in possession of inco preable ryches. For so standeth it with þe soules departed in the sayth of Chryste. They are by þe death of Chryste set at liberte from all the bon des of synne, and do onelye loke for the daye of iudgemente, when the inextinguishable crowne of glorie shalbe geuen vnto them, that both bodye and soule may lyue for euer in the moste ioyfull presence of the godheade.

Die. v. Chapter.

¶ He declareth they; butge to the ministers of the church, and then teacheth what the you-ger ought to do. He counsaileth to be lowly, to ber, and watchfull.

The elders whiche are amonge you, exhoorte, whiche are also an elder, and a wptnes of the afflictions of Chyrche and also a partaker of the glorie that shal be opened: se that ye feede Chyrches flocke whiche is amonge you, takynge the ouer sighte of them, not as though ye were compelled thereto, but willingelpe: not for the desyre of splythlyuere, but of a good mynde: not as though ye were lordes ouer the parishes, but that ye be an ensample to the flocke. And when the chiefe shepheard shal appeare, ye shal receyue an incorruptible crowne of glorie.

¶ I pkeuſe pe ponger, ſubmit poue ſelues vnto the elder. Submit poue ſelues euerpe man one to another, knet poue ſelues together in lowdnes of mynde. For God reſiſteth the proud, and geueth grace to the humble. ⁊ Submit poue ſelues ther fore vnder the myghtye hand of God that

Peter. Chapter. v.

he may exalte you, when the time is come.
Cast al your care to hym. for he careth for
you.

Be sober and watch, for your adversary the deuyll as a roynge lyon walketh about sekynge whom he may deuour: whome tesist stedfast in the fapth remembrynge that ye do but fulfyll the same afflictions which are appoynted to your brethren that are in the worlde. The God of all grace whiche called you vnto hys eternal glorie by Ihu Jesus, shall hys owne selfe after ye haue suffered a litle affliction make you perfect:
that sette, strengthe and stablyshe you. To hym be glorie and dominion for euer, and while the world endureth. Amen. f.

By Siluanus a sayethfull brother vnto pou (as I suppose) haue I wrytten breself exhortynge and testifyng howe that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.
The companions of youre eieccion that are of Babilon, salute pou, and Marcus my sonne. Greete ye one another wpyth the kisse of loue.

Peace be wth you all whiche are in Christe Iesus. Amen.

The prologe vpon the .ii.

republic of St. Peter.

Thus Epistle was written agaynst them whiche thoughte that chrylten sape's myghte be yde and wythout woorthes, when yet the promys of Christe is made vs vpon that condition, that we henceforth worke the wyll of god and not of the flesh. Therfore he exhorteth the to exercise them selues diligently in vertues and good workes, thereby to be sure that they haue
the true faith, as a man knoweth the goodnes of a tre by hys fruite. Then he commendeth and magnifyeth the gospel, and wylleth that menne harken to that onely, and to mens doctryne not at all. For as he saith, there came no propheticall scripture by the wyll of man, but by the wyll of the holy ghost, whych onely knoweth the wyll
of God, nether is any scripture of pryuate interpretation, that is to saye, maye be otherwyle expounded then agreeing to the open places and generall articles and to the covenantes of god and al the rest of the scripture.

And therefore in the second he warneth them
of false teachers that shoulde come, and thowpurchaunge confidence in false workes to satis-fye thei couetousnes wpthall, shoulde denye Christe. Whiche he threatheneth wpth the terrible examples. Wpth the fall of the angels, the floud of Noe, and ouerthrowynge of Sodome and Gomor, and so describeth them wpth thei insatiable couetousnes, pryde, subboynce and disobedience to all temporall rule and authorite, wpth thei abhominable whoresdome, and hypocresye, that a blinde man mye see that he prophecieth it of the Popes holye spirituallite, whych deuoured the whote worlde with thei couetousnes, liuing in at lust and picaure, and reigninge as temporall tyrantes.

In the thirde he sheweth that in the latter dayes the people throughe vaneite and lacke of fear of judgement of the last day shalbe euen as Epicures, wholy geuen to the flesh, whiche last day shal yet surely and shortly come saith he

Math. v. c.
Luke. iii. c.
Roma. vi. c Psa. lxxv. v parties

the Breke
bathlots,
that is the
to whom a
up lot

chance or election is to preach
gods word

13

The second Epistle of S. Peter. Chapt. iii.

pany to command them that walke after the flesh in the lust of uncleannes, & despise the rulers. Presumptuous are they, & subborn, and feare not to speake euill of them that be in authoritie. * When the angels which are greater both in power & myght, receyue not of the lord sayyng iudgement agaynst them. * But these as brut beasts, naturally made to be taken and destroyed, speake euill of that they knowe not, and shall perper the thozow they owne destruction, and receyue the rewarde of vnrigh- tounes.

They counte it pleasure to spue delici- ously for a season. Spots they are and fil- thynes, lypung at pleasure, and in disce- uable wayes feastyng wpth you: haupnge eyes ful of aduouty, and that canot cease to spue, begpyng vnsatiable soules. Let- tes they haue exercised wpth couetousnes. They are cursed children, and haue forsa- ken the rpyght way, and are gone astray fo- lowyng the wape of * Balaam the sonne of Bosoz, which loued the rewarde of vnrigh- tounes: but was rebuked of hys iniqui- ty. The same and dome beaste, speakyng wpth mannes voice, forbade the folysynes of the ierophete.

These are welles wpthoute water, and * clouds caried about of a tempest, to whom the miste of darckenes is reserued for euer. For when they haue spoken the swellpyng wordes of vanuety, they begple with wan- tonnes thozow the lustes of the flesh, them that wer cleane escaped, but now are wrap- ped in errors. They promys them liberty, and are them selues the bond seruaunts of corrupcion. For of whomsoever a man is o- uercome, vnto the same is he in bondage. For if they, after they haue escaped fro the fylthynes of the world thozow the know- ledge of the lorde and of the sauour Jesus Christ, are yet tangled again therein & over- come: the is the latter end worse with the then the beginninge. For it had ben better for the not to haue knowe the way of righ- tounes, the after they haue knowe it to * turne fro the comandements geuen vnto the. It is happened to the according to the true prouerbe. * The dogge is turned to his vomit again, & the sow that was washed, to hir wallowing in the myre.

The.iii. Chapter.

It shall be sheweth a cause why he wrot al as fore. He retheth he what maner of men shal be in the laste ende of the worlde, what they counsailes and talke shal be: dysputyng ther wpth that of the tyme of reuengeaunce. Laste he exhorteth to holynes of lyfe.

This is the second Epistle that I now wrot to you (beloued) wherewith I shew by a warne your pure minds, to cal to remembraunce the wordes which wer told befoze of the holy prophets, & also the com- mandements of vs the Apostles of the lord & sauour. This first vnderstand, that there shal come in the laste daies mockers, which wil walke after their own iusts and say: * Wher is the promys of hys commyng? For- sence: the fathers dyed, al things continue in the same estate wher in they were at the begynnyng. This they knowe not (that wilfully) so be that the heauens a greate while ago wer, and the * earth that was in the water, appered by oute of the water by the word of God: by the whych things, the * world that then was, perished ouerflow- en with the water. But the heauens betely geath which are now, are kepte by the same worde in store, and reserued vnto * spie, & agaynst the daye of iudgement and perdyce- on of vngodly men.

Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thyng, how that * one day is with the Lord, as a thousand yere, and a thousand yere as one day: the lord is not slacke to fulfill his promise, as some count slack- nes, but is * payent to vsward & * woulde haue no man lost, but would receyue al me to repentance. Neuertheles the day of the Lord wyl come as a thie in the nyght, in the whych day, the * heauens shal perper with terrible noise, and the elements shal melt wpth heate, & the earth with the wox- kes that are therein shal burne.

If al these thynges shal perper, what ma- ner persons ought ye to be in holy conuer- sacion and godlynes, loking for and ha- uing vnto the commyng of the day of god, in which the heauens shal perper wpth fire, and the elementes shal be consumed wpth heat. Neuertheles v- ke for a new heau- and a new earth, ac- cording to his promise, and wherein dwelleth rightounes.

Wherefore dearely beloued, sepyng that ye loke for suche thynges, be diligente that ye may be found of him in peace, wpthout spot and vndefiled. And suppose that the longe sufferpyng of the Lord is saluacion, eu as our dearely beloued brother saule, accor- dyng to the wylsome geuen to him, wrote vnto you, pea, almost in euery Epistle spea- kyng of such thynges, among whych ar ma- ny things hard to be vnderstand, which they that are vnlearned, and vnsatiable, peruerse, as they do other scriptures vnto their own destruction. Ye therefore beloued, sepyng ye knowe it befoze hande, beware, leaste ye be also plucked, and fall from your own sted- fastnes: but grow in grace, & in the know- ledge of our Lord & sauour Jesus Christ. To whome glory both now & for euer. Ame.

A Prologe v-

pon the thre Epistles of Saint John.

This first Epistle of S. John is contay- ned the doctryne of a very Apostle of Christ, and oughte of epphe to knowe hys Gos- pyle. For as in hys Gospill he letteth oute to the world, and teacheth by it onely all men to be saued and redyced vnto the fauour of god agayne, such so here in this Epistle he goeth agayne

The second Epistle of S. Peter. Chapt. iii.

pany to command them that walke after the flesh in the lust of uncleannes, & despise the rulers. Presumptuous are they, & subborn, and feare not to speake euill of them that be in authoritie. * When the angels which are greater both in power & myght, receyue not of the lord sayyng iudgement agaynst them. * But these as brut beasts, naturally made to be taken and destroyed, speake euill of that they knowe not, and shall perper the thozow they owne destruction, and receyue the rewarde of vnrigh- tounes.

They counte it pleasure to spue delici- ously for a season. Spots they are and fil- thynes, lypung at pleasure, and in disce- uable wayes feastyng wpth you: haupnge eyes ful of aduouty, and that canot cease to spue, begpyng vnsatiable soules. Let- tes they haue exercised wpth couetousnes. They are cursed children, and haue forsa- ken the rpyght way, and are gone astray fo- lowyng the waye of * Balaam the sonne of Bosoz, which loued the rewarde of vnrigh- tounes: but was rebuked of hys iniqui- ty. The same and dome beaste, speakyng wpth mannes voice, forbade the folysynes of the ierophete.

These are welles wpthoute water, and * clouds caried about of a tempest, to whom the miste of darckenes is reserued for euer. For when they haue spoken the swelling wordes of vanuety, they begple with wan- tonnes thozow the lustes of the flesh, them that wer cleane escaped, but now are wrap- ped in errors. They promys them liberty, and are them selues the bond seruaunts of corrupcion. For of whomsoever a man is o- uercome, vnto the same is he in bondage. For if they, after they haue escaped fro the fylthynes of the world thozow the know- ledge of the lorde and of the sauour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled again therein & over- come: the is the latter end worse with the then the beginninge. For it had ben better for the not to haue knowe the way of righ- tounes, the after they haue knowe it to * turne fro the comandements geuen vnto the. It is happened to the according to the true prouerbe. * The dogge is turned to his vomit again, & the sow that was washed, to hir wallowing in the myre.

The.iii. Chapter.

It shall be sheweth a cause why he wrot al as fore. He retheth he what maner of men shal be in the laste ende of the worlde, what they counsailes and talke shal be: dysputyng ther wpth that of the tyme of reuengeaunce. Laste he exhorteth to holynes of lyfe.

This is the second Epistle that I now wrot to you (beloued) wherewith I shew by a warne your pure minds, to cal to remembraunce the wordes which wer told befoze of the holy prophets, & also the com- mandements of vs the Apostles of the lord & sauour. This first vnderstand, that there shal come in the laste daies mockers, which wil walke after their own iustes and say: * Wher is the promys of hys commyng? For sence the fathers dyed, al things continue in the same estate wher in they were at the begynnyng. This they knowe not (that wilfully) so be that the heauens a greate while ago wer, and the * earth that was in the water, appered by oute of the water by the word of God: by the which things, the * world that then was, perished ouerflow- en with the water. But the heauens betely geath which are now, are kepte by the same worde in store, and reserued vnto * spie, & agaynst the daye of iudgement and perdyce- on of vngodly men.

Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thyng, how that * one day is with the Lord, as a thousand yere, and a thousand yere as one day: the lord is not slacke to fulfill his promise, as some count slack- nes, but is * payent to vsward & * woulde haue no man lost, but would receyue al me to repentance. Neuertheles the day of the Lord wyl come as a thie in the nyght, in the which day, the * heauens shal perper with terrible noise, and the elements shal melt wpth heate, & the earth with the wo- kes that are therein shal burne.

If al these thynges shal perper, what ma- ner persons ought ye to be in holy conuer- sacion and Godlynes, loking for and ha- uing vnto the commyng of the day of god, in which the heauens shal perper wpth fire, and the elementes shal be consumed wpth heat. Neuertheles v- ke for a new heau- and a new earth, ac- cording to his promise, wherein dwelleth rightounes.

Wherefore dearely beloued, sepyng that ye loke for suche thynges, be diligente that ye may be found of him in peace, wpthout spot and vndefiled. And suppose that the longe sufferpyng of the Lord is saluacion, eu as our dearely beloued brother Ioule, accor- dyng to the wylsome geuen to him, wrote vnto you, pea, almost in euery Epistle spea- kyng of such thynges, among which ar ma- ny things hard to be vnderstand, which they that are vnclearned, and vnsatiable, peruerse, as they do other scriptures vnto their own destruction. Ye therfore beloued, sepyng ye knowe it befoze hande, beware, leaste ye be also plucked, and fall from your own sted- fastnes: but grow in grace, & in the know- ledge of our Lord & sauour Iesus Christ. To whome glory both now & for euer. Ame.

A Prologe v-

pon the thre Epistles of Saint Iohn.

This first Epistle of S. Iohn is contay- ned the doctryne of a very Apostle of Christ, and oughte of epphe to knowe hys Gos- pille. For as in hys Gospill he letteth oute to the world, and teacheth by it onely all men to be saued and redyemmed vnto the fauour of god agayne, such so here in this Epistle he goeth agayne

The .i. Epistle of Sayncte agaynste them that haue them selues of saynthe and yet continue wpythout good workes, & teacheth manye wayes, that where true sayth is, ther the woorkes carye not behynde, and contraye, that where the woorkes folowe not, ther is no true saynthe, but a false imagination, and bitter darchnes. And he wryteth soye agaynst a sect of heretikes, wpych then began to denye þe Chyste was come in the fleshe, and calleth them verpe Antichyristes, whiche sect goth nowe in hys full flouryng. For though they deny not openly wpyth the mouth that Chyste is come in the fleshe, yet they deny it in the hert wpyth thery doctrine and teyninge. For he that wyl be iustified and saued shoulde hys own workes the same doth as much as he that denieth Chyste to be come in the fleshe sayng that Chyste came only therfore in the fleshe that he shoulde iustifye vs, or purchase vs pardon of oure synnes, byng vs in the fauoure of God agayn, and maue vs heres of eternal life, wpyth hys woorkes onely, and wpyth his blood sheddyng wpythout and before al oure woorkes. So fighteth thys Epistle bothe agaynste them that wyl be saued by thery own good workes, & also agayn-st them that wyl be saued by a feythe that hathe no luste to worke at all, and kepeth vs in the myddle waye, that we helue in Chyste to be saued by hys woorkes onely & then to knowe þe it is oure dutie, for þe hidenes, to prepare our selues to do the commaundementes of God, and to loue e-uerye man hys neyghbour as Chyste loued him, sekyng wpyth oure owne woorkes Goddes ho-noure, and oure neyghbours wealthe only, and erastyng for eternall lyfe, and for al that God hath promysed vs for Chystes sake. The two laste Epistles thoughte they be Moyse, yet are god-lye examples of loue and saythe and do sauour of the spyrte of a true Apostle.

The epylle of saynt Paul the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

He certifieth that all is true and approued whiche he declareth, whiche is the Gospel of Chyste verpe God and manne, wherein we maye learne innocent lyfynge and ob-tayne forgyuenesse of synnes, so that we coleste oure synnes.

A thou here
as in hys Gospel, &
as Paul & Peter in
the first Epistle, teach vs that whiche
we haue seene
and hearde eth firste þe declare we vnto you, that pe may haue fe-
lowschyp wpyth vs, and that our fellowshyp
of saynthe, &
maye be wpyth
the father and hys son Ie-sus christ. And this wryte, we vnto you that re cometh out of our map be full.

And thys is the tydynges that we haue hearde of hym, and declare vnto you, that God is lpyght, and in hym is no darknes at all. If we saye that we haue felowschyp wpyth him & yet walke in darkenes, we lye and do not the truth, but if we walke in lpyghte as he is in lpyght, then haue we felow-shyp wpyth hym, and the bloude of Iesus

John. Chapter. ii. Fo. clvi.

Christe hys sonne clenseth vs from all syn.
If we saye that we haue no synne, wee deceyue our selues, and trouth is not in vs.
If we knoweledge our synnes: he is fapth full and iust, to forgyue our synnes, and to clense vs from all vneyghtuousnes. If we saye we haue not synned, wee make hym a lyar, and his worde is not in vs.

The .ii. Chapter

He exhorteth to puernes of lyfe, too mutuall loue and muche watchynge, because there be many Antichyristes: whose craftes they maye auoyde, if they cleaue fast to the doctryne of the holy gost.

Mylle children these thyngs wryte vnto you, that pe syn not. If anye man syn, yet wee haue an aduocate wpyth the father, Iesus Chyste, whiche is ryghtuous. & he it is that obayne grace for our synnes: not for our synnes onely, but also for the synnes of the world. And be-lye we are sure that wee knowe hym, if wee kepe hys commaundementes. He that sayeth I knowe hym and kepeth not hys commaundementes, is a lyar: and the veritye is not in hym. Whosoeuer kepeth hys word in hym is the loue of God, perfecte in hede.
* And therby knowe we that we are in hym.
* He that sayeth he abydeth in hym, ought to walke euen as he walked.

Brethren I wryte no new commaunde-ment vnto you, but that olde commaun-dement whiche pe heard from the begyn-nyng. The olde commaundement is the worde whiche pe heard from the begyn-nyng. Agayne a new commaundement: I wryte vnto you, a thyng that is true in hym and also in you: for the darknes is passe, & the true lpyght now shyneth. He that sayeth how that he is in the lpyght and yet hateth his brother, is in darknes euen vntill thys tyme. He that loueth hys brother, abydeth in the lpyght, and there is none occasion of reueyl in him. He that hateth hys brother, is in darkenes, and walketh in darknes: and cannot tell whither he goeth, because that darknes hath blynded hys eyes. * Babes I wryte vnto you, hee that your synnes are forgyuen you for hys names sake, I wryte vnto you fathers, how that pe know hym that was from the beginning. I wryte vnto you yong men, how that pe haue ouer-come the wycked. I wryte to you litle children, how that pe knowe the father. I wryte vnto you fathers, how that pe knowe hym that was from the beginning. I wryte vnto you yong men, how that pe are stronge, and the word of god abydeth in you, and pe haue ouer come that wycked.

Seth if pe loue not the world, neyther shal thynge that is in the world. For al that is in the world, the luste of the fleshe, the luste of the eyes, and the proude of goods, is not of the father, but of the world. And the world danelett away and the luste therof, but he that fulfilleth þe wpyll of god.

doctin of Chyste.

1. Peter .1. b

he that ke-
peth the co-
maunde-
mentes
knoweth
god & he that kepeth the not knoweth not
god.

He that ke-
peth gods
word, lo-ueth god, &
is in god & walketh
as Chyste
dyd.

1. John .1. b
1. Peter .1. b
1. John .1. b
and .1. b.

1. John .1. b
Acts .1. b

1. John .1. b
1. Peter .1. b
1. John .1. b
1. Peter .1. b

1. John .1. b
1. Peter .1. b

The .i. Epistle of Sayncte

of God * abydeh ever. Little chyliden, it is the last tyme, and ye haue hearde howe that Antichrist shall come, even now we are ther manpe Antichrists come alrede. Wher by we knowe that it is the last tyme. They went out from vs: but they were not of vs. For if they had bene of vs, they woulde no doubte haue continued wth vs. But that fortuneth that it myghte appeare, that they were not of vs.

And ye haue an opntmente of the holpe gost and ye knowe all thynges. * I wyte not vnto pou, as though ye knowe not the truth: but as though ye knewe it, & know also that no lye cometh of truth. Who is a lyar but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ? The same is the Antichrist that denieth the father and the sonne. * Whosoever denieth the sonne, the same hath he not the father. Let therefore abyde in pou that same whiche ye hearde from the begynnyng. Yf that whiche ye hearde from the begynnyng, shall remayne in pou, ye also shall continue in the son, and in the father. And this is the promys p he hath promised vs, even eternall life.

Thys haue I wyten vnto pou concernyng them that dyscepe pou. * And the annointyng whiche ye haue receyued of hym, dwelleth in pou. And ye nede not that anye manne teache pou: but as the annointyng teacheth pou all thynges, and is true, and is no lye, and it is taught pou, even so byde therein. And now babes abyde in hym, that when he shall appeare, we may be bold and not be made ashamed of hym at hys comyng: If ye know that he is ryghtuous, knowe also p which foloweth rightuousnes, is borne of hym. The .iii. Chapter. ¶ He teacheth still in his argumente exhortyng to puerne of life and maners, but chiefly to brotherly loue.

Behold what loue the father hath shewed on vs, that we shoulde be called the sonnes of God. For this cause the worlde knoweth not hym. Verely beloved now are we the sonnes of God, and yet it dooth not appeare, what wee shalbe. But we know p when it shall appere, wee shalbe like hym. For we shal se hym as he is. And every man that hath this hope in hym pourgeth hym selfe, even as he is pure. Whosoever comytteth synne comytteth vnto ryghtuousnes also, for synne is vnto ryghtuousnes. And ye knowe that he appered to take away our synnes, & in hym is no syn. As many as bide in hym, synne not: whosoever synneth hath not sene hym, neither hath knowen hym.

Babes let no man deceyue pou. He that doeth ryghtuousnes is ryghtuous, even as he is ryghtuous. He that comytteth syn, is of the deupil: * for the deupil synneth sece the begynnyng. For this purpose appered the sonne of God to lewse the workes of the deupil. * Whosoever is borne of god synneth not: for hys sede remaineth in hym

John. Chapter. iiii.

and he cannot synne, because he is borne of God. * In this are the chyliden of god known, and the chyliden of the deupil. Whosoever doth not rightuousnes, is not of God, neyther he that loueth not hys brother. For this is the tryng, that ye heard from the begynnyng, that ye shoulde loue one another, not as * I came whych was of the wycked, and slewe hys brother. And wherfore slewe he hym? Because his own workes were euyl, and hys brothers good. * Example not my brethren though he the woulde hate pou. Wee knowe that wee are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we loue the brethren. He that loueth not hys brother, abydeh in death. Whosoever hateth hys brother, is a mansleat. And ye know that no mansleat, hath eternal lyfe abydyng in hym.

Hereby perceyue we lone: that he gaue hys lyfe for vs, and therefore ought we also to geue our lyues for the brethren. Whosoever hath this workes good, and seeth hys brother haue nede, and shetteth by his compassion from hym, howe dwelleth the loue of God in hym? My babes, let vs not loue in worde neyther in tounge: but with the dede and in verite. * For thereby we knowe that we are of the verite, and can before hym quiet our hertes. But if our hertes condemne vs, God is greater then our hertes, & knoweth all thyngs. Beloued, if our hertes condemne vs not, then haue we trust to God warde and whatsoeuer we are, we shall receyue of hym: because we kepe hys commaundementes, and do those thynges whych are pleasyn in his syghte.

And this is hys commaundemente, that we beleue on (a) the name of hys sonne Iesus Christe and loue one another, as he gaue commaundemente. And he that keepeth hys commaundementes, dwelleth in hym, and he in him: and thereby we knowe that ther abideth in vs of the spirit, whych he gaue vs. The Notes.

(a) Faith is the first commaundement, and loue is the seconde: the that hath them is in god, and hath his spirit.

The .iii. Chapter.

¶ He teacheth to proue spirites, and then exhorteth to charite wth verpe many argumentes.

Ye beloved, beleue not euery spirit: but proue the spirites whether they be of god, or not. For many false prophetes are gonne out into the worlde. Hereby shall ye knowe the spirit of (a) God. Euery spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christe is come in the fleshe is of God. They that And euery spirit that confesseth not that Iesus Christe is come in the fleshe, is not of iustie frō god. And this is that spirit of antichrist, of sin are they whō ye haue heard how that he shuld come that denye and even now all ready is he in the world. Christe to Little chyliden, ye are of god, and haue o- be come in uercome them: for greater is he that is in the fleshe. pou: then he that is in the world. They are of the worlde, therefore speake they of the world

1. Pet. ii. b. John. iii. Loue is p firste precept and cause of al other John. xv. b. Gene. iii. b. He that loueth is escaped death

He that loueth not is in death, & a murd-er, & hath not eternal lyfe. He p hath no compassi-on, loueth not God.

by lone we know that we are in p truth and haue quiet consciences to godwarde.

The fyrst Epistle

Ego. viii. f.

John. H. C.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

100

Be that

340. 211.8,

The Notes.

For which

The 6. Chapter.

in Egypt,

18 h

of S. John, Chap. v. Fo. iiii.

COMINQUIN

the world.

water and

a lpar, beca

that believe that is not

300, 3000

rowe has

eternally

Images.

Амен.

§ 333. iii. The

The fyrst Epistle

Ego. viii. f.

John. H. C.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

Abstract

Use that North

340. 211.8,

888 891

800-451-4242
www.4mat.com

of S. John, Chap. v. Fo. iiii.

310.111: 6

C. Corbett

B

1817-1818

nat. h. c.

JOHN DILLON
ARCH, P.E.C.

The fyrst Epistle

Ego. viii. f.

John. H. C.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

100

Be that

340. 211.8,

applied not a

tion whych(as þ people saye) shuld come in þ ende of the world. For yee that euen in Saint Ihons tyme there were many Antichristes, that is to saye enemies & men that wrought againste Christ. Yet notwithstanding yngelys is infallys blyssed true & petyperouse sect was prophesied of, whych shuld come in the latter dayes, þ head and chiefe powers wherof shulde auance hym selfe as God. This secte no doubt is the Papistes, whiche haue the Pope, which auanced himselfe as God, and is nowe declared to be þ same Antichriste spoken of before by the Prophetes.

The 6. Chapter.

The treatise of the vertue of the true sayth in Christ, which is the true son of God, and the everlasting health of them that believe, without whom is not saluacion.

Versoeruet beleueth: þæt Iesus is Christus, is borne of G. D. And euery one that loueth hym which begat, loueth hym also whiche was begotten of hym. In this we know that we loue the children of

of S. John, Chap. v. Fo. iiii.

God, when we loue GOD, and kepe hys commaundementes. * This is the loue of God: that we kepe hys commaundemen-tes, * and hys commaundementes are not griuous.

For al that is borne of God, ouercometh the world. And this is the victorie that o-uercommeth the worlde, euen ouer faith.
Who is it that ouercommeth the worlde: but he whiche beleueth, that Iesus is the sonne of God?

This Iesus Christ is he that came by the water and blond, not by water only: but by water and blond. * And it is the spyrte that beareth wytnes, because þe spyrte is truth. (For there are thre whiche beare recorde in heauen, the father, the word, and the holpe Ghost. And these thre are one.) Forther are thre which beare record in earth, the spyrte and water, and bloude: and these thre are one. * If we receiue the wytnes of menne, the wytnes of God is greater. Forth y is the wytnes of God, wherby he testified of his sonne. * He that beleueth on the sonne of God, hath the wytnes in him selfe.

He that beleueth not God, hath made him a lyar, because he beleued not the recorde þ God gaue of hys sonne And this is that re corde, howe that God hath geuen vnto vs eternall life, ⁊ and this life is in hys son. He that hath the sonne hath lyfe.

These thynges haue I writen vnto you, that beleue on the name of the son of god, that ye may know howe that ye haue eter-nall life. * & so maye ye beleue on the name of the sonne of god. * And this is the truste & we haue in him: that if we are anye thyng according to his will, he heareth vs. And if we knowe that he heareth vs, whatsoeuer we are, we knowe that we shal haue the petitions that we desyre of him.

¶ If any man se his brother sinne a synne that is not vnto death, let him aye, and he shal geue him lpe, for them that synne not vnto death. * Ther is synne vnto death, for which say I not that a man shuld praye. All vnrighteousnes is synne, and there is synne not vnto death.

We knowe that whosoeuer is borne of God, spanneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth hymselfe, and that u pe-ked toucheth hym not. We knowe that we are of God, and that the worlde is al together set on wyckednes. We know that the sonne of God is come, and hath geuen vs a^mpn to knowe hym whiche is true:

and we are in hym that is true tho-we his sonne Jesus Childe.

This same is very God, and eternal lyfe. Babes, kepe poure selues from Images.
Amen.

§ 333. iii. The

The fyrst Epistle

Ego. viii. f.

John. H. C.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

100

Be that

340. 211.8,

The Notes.

Antichyzyk

The 6. Chapter.

Index

Y 7901

of S. John, Chap. v. Fo. iiii.

COMINQUIN

the world.

water and a lpar, becc

that believe

that is not

300, 311

અનંતે એ સત્

plus fat

Амен.

§ 333. iii. The

The.ii. Epistle of S. John

The.ii.epist. of

Sapnt John.

The reioyseth that the fapthful church hath receyved the truth, and exhorteth to perseuer therein, and to loue one another, and to beware of false Prophetes.

He elder to the elect Ladys hyr children whiche I loue in the truth: & not I only, but also all that know the truth, for the truths sake whych dwelleth in vs, and shalbe in

vs for ever.

Wpith you be grace, merce and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe * & son of the father in truth and loue. I reioysed greatly, that I found of thy children walkynge in trueth, as we haue receyued a commandement of the father. And now beseeche I the Ladye, not as though I wrote a newe commandement vnto the, but that same whiche we had fro the beginning, that we should loue one another: And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commandements.

This comāndement is (that as ye haue heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. * For many deceyuers are entred into the world, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleshe. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist. Loke on your selues & we lose not & whiche we haue wrought: but that we may haue a ful reward. Who soeuer transgresseth and bydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

* If there come any vnto you and bring not thys learnynge, him receyue ye not to house: nether byd hym God speke. For he that byddeth him God speke, is partaker of his euill dedes. * I had many thynges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I woulde not wryte with paper and pynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake wpth you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be ful. The sons of the elect sister grete the. Amē.

The thyrd

Epistle of S. John.

The reioyseth that Gaius walketh in the truth he hath receyued, & is so benefycall to the byethen. He threateneth Diotryphes and commendeth Demetrius.

He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whiche I loue in the truth. Beloued, I wishe in al things, that thou prosperedst and farest best well, euen as thy soul prospereth. I reioysed greatly

The.iii. epistle of S. John

when the byethen came, and testyfyed of the truth that is in the, howe thou walkest in the trueth * I haue no greater ioye then for to hear, howe that my sonnes walke in verpitye.

Beloued, thou doest fapthfullye, what soeuer thou doest to the byethen, & to strangers, whiche beare witness of thy loue before all the congregacion. Whych byethen when thou bingest forwards on thepyrynyng (as it becometh God) thou shalt do wel: because that for his names sake they went forth, and toke nothyng of the Gentiles. ^{1. Cor. 12. b} We therfore oughte to receyue such, that ^{11. cor. 1. 11, a} we also myghte be helpers to the trueth. ^{1. mat. 23. a} I wrote vnto the congregacion: but Diotryphes whych loueth to haue the preeminence amonge them, receiuethe vs not. Wherefore if I come, I will declare his dedes, whych he doth, resting on vs wpth malicious wordes: neither is therewith content. Not only he himselfe receiuethe not the byethen, but also he forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

Beloued, folowe not that which is euill, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doth euill, seeth not God. Demetrius hath good repute of all men, and of the truth: pea and we oure selues also beare repute, and ye knowe that our record is true.

I haue many thynges to wryte * but I ^{11. Ihon. 1.} wll not wpth pynke and penne wryte vnto the. For I trust I shall shortly see the, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be wpth the. The louers salute the. Grete the louers by name.

The Prologe

vpon the Epylle of saint

Paul to the Hebrues.

About thys Epistle hath encre ben much doubtyng, and that amonge great learned men, who should be the authour thereof: dyuers aspymyng, that it was not Pauls, partly because the Epylle disagreeeth, and is so vnlike hys other Epistles, and partly because it standeth in the second Chapter: thys learning was cōfirmed so vaward, that is to say taughte by them that heard it themselves of the ioy. Now Paule testyfyeth Galat. 1. that he receyued not hys Gospell of man, nor by man, but immediately of Christ, and that by reuelacion.

Wherefore say they, sayng this man confesseth & he receyued hys doctryne of the Apostles, it can not be Pauls, but some dysciple of the Apostles. Now, whether it were Pauls or no, I say not, but permit it to other mennas iudgement, neyther thynke I it to be an article of any mans faith, but that a man may doubt of the authour.

Wherfore, manye there hath bene whiche not only haue denyed thys Epistle to haue ben wrytten by anye of the Apostles, but haue also refused it altogether, as no catholyke or godly

Epistle

The.ii. Epistle of S. John

The.ii.epist. of

Sapnt John.

The reioyseth that the fapthful church hath receyued the truth, and exhorteth to perseuer therein, and to loue one another, and to beware of false Prophetes.

He elder to the elect Ladys hyr children whiche I loue in the truth: & not I only, but also all that know the truth, for the truths sake whych dwelleth in vs, and shalbe in

vs for ever.

Wpith you be grace, merce and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe * & son of the father in truth and loue. I reioyled greatly, that I found of thy children walkynge in trueth, as we haue receyued a commandement of the father. And now beseeche I the Ladye, not as though I wrote a newe commaundement vnto the, but that same whiche we had fro the beginning, that we should loue one another: And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commaundements.

This commaundement is (that as ye haue heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. * For many deceyuers are entred into the world, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleshe. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist. Loke on your selues & we lose not & whiche we haue wrought: but that we may haue a ful reward. Who soeuer transgresseth and bydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

* If there come any vnto you and bring not thys learnynge, him receyue ye not to house: nether byd hym God speke. For he that byddeth him God speke, is partaker of his euill dedes. * I had many thynges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I woulde not wryte with paper and pynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake wpth you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be ful. The sons of the elect sister grete the. Ame.

The thyrde

Epistle of S. John.

The reioyseth that Gaius walketh in the truth he hath receyued, & is so benefyciall to the byethen. He threateneth Diotryphes and commendeth Demetrius.

He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whiche I loue in the truth. Beloued, I wishe in al things, that thou prosperedst and farest best well, euen as thy soul prospereth. I reioyled greatly

The.iii. epistle of S. John

when the byethen came, and testyfyed of the truth that is in the, howe thou walkest in the trueth * I haue no greater ioye then for to hear, howe that my sonnes walke in verpthe.

Beloued, thou doest fapthfullye, what soeuer thou doest to the byethen, & to strangers, whiche beare witness of thy loue before all the congregacion. Whych byethen when thou bingest forwards on thepyrynyng (as it becometh God) thou shalt do wel: because that for his names sake they went forth, and toke nothyng of the Gentiles. ^{1. Cor. 12. b} We therfore oughte to receyue such, that ^{11. cor. 1. 11, a} we also myghte be helpers to the trueth. ^{1. mat. 23. a} I wrote vnto the congregacion: but Diotryphes whych loueth to haue the preeminence amonge them, receiuethe vs not. Wherefore if I come, I will declare his dedes, whych he doth, resting on vs wpth malicious wordes: neither is therwpth content. Not only he himselfe receiuethe not the byethen, but also he forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

Beloued, folowe not that which is euill, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doth euill, seeth not God. Demetrius hath good repute of all men, and of the truth: pea and we oure selues also beare repute, and ye knowe that our record is true.

I haue many thynges to wryte * but I ^{11. Ihon. 1.} wll not wpth pynke and penne wryte vnto the. For I trust I shall shortly see the, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be wpth the. The louers salute the. Grete the louers by name.

The Prologe

vpon the Epylle of saint

Paul to the Hebrues.

About thys Epistle hath encre ben much doubtyng, and that amonge great learned men, who should be the authour thereof: dyuers aspymyng, that it was not Pauls, partly because the Epylle disagreeeth, and is so vnlike hys other Epistles, and partly because it standeth in the second Chapter: thys learning was cōfirmed so vaward, that is to say taughte by them that heard it themselves of the ioyd.

Now Paule testyfyeth Galat. 1. that he receyued not hys Gospell of man, nor by man, but immediately of Christ, and that by reuelacion. Wherefore say they, sayng this man confesseth & he receyued hys doctryne of the Apostles, it can not be Pauls, but some dysciple of the Apostles. Now, whether it were Pauls or no, I say not, but permit it to other mennys iudgement, neyther thynke I it to be an article of any mans faith, but that a man may doubt of the authour.

Wherfore, manye there hath bene whiche not only haue denyed thys Epistle to haue ben wrytten by anye of the Apostles, but haue also refused it altogether, as no catholyke or godly

Epistle

The.ii. Epistle of S. John

The.ii.epist. of

Sapnt John.

The reioyseth that the fapthful church hath receyued the truth, and exhorteth to perseuer therein, and to loue one another, and to beware of false Prophetes.

He elder to the elect Ladys hyr children whiche I loue in the truth: & not I only, but also all that know the truth, for the truths sake whych dwelleth in vs, and shalbe in

vs for ever.

Wpith you be grace, merce and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe * & son of the father in truth and loue. I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walkynge in trueth, as we haue receyued a commandement of the father. And now beseeche I the Ladys, not as though I wrote a newe commandement vnto the, but that same whiche we had fro the beginning, that we should loue one another: And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commandements.

This comāndement is (that as ye haue heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. * For many deceyuers are entred into the world, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleshe. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist. Loke on your selues & we lose not & whiche we haue wrought: but that we may haue a ful reward. Who soeuer transgresseth and bydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

* If there come any vnto you and bring not thys learnynge, him receyue ye not to house: nether byd hym God speke. For he that byddeth him God speke, is partaker of his euill dedes. * I had many thynges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I woulde not wryte with paper and pynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake wpth you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be ful. The sons of the elect sister grete the. Amen.

The thyrd

Epistle of S. John.

The reioyseth that Gaius walketh in the truth he hath receyued, & is so benefycall to the byethen. He threateneth Diotryphes and commendeth Demetrius.

He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whiche I loue in the truth. Beloued, I wishe in al things, that thou prosperedst and farest well, euen as thy soul prospereth. I reioyced greatly

The.iii. epistle of S. John

when the byethen came, and testyfyed of the truth that is in the, howe thou walkest in the trueth * I haue no greater ioy then for to hear, howe that my sonnes walke in verpitye.

Beloued, thou doest fapthfullye, what soeuer thou doest to the byethen, & to strangers, whiche beare witnes of thy loue before all the congregacion. Whych byethen when thou bingest forwards on thepyrynyng (as it becometh God) thou shalt do wel: because that for his names sake they went forth, and toke nothyng of the Gentiles. ^{1. Cor. 12. b} We therfore oughte to receyue such, that ^{11. cor. 1. 11, a} we also myghte be helpers to the trueth. ^{1. mat. 23. a} I wrote vnto the congregacion: but Diotryphes whych loueth to haue the preeminence amonge them, receiuethe vs not. Wherefore if I come, I will declare his dedes, whych he doth, resting on vs wpth malycious wordes: neither is therwpth content. Not only he himselfe receiuethe not the byethen, but also he forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

Beloued, folowe not that which is euill, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doth euill, seeth not God. Demetrius hath good repute of all men, and of the truth: pea and we oure selues also beare repute, and ye knowe that our record is true.

I haue many thynges to wryte * but I ^{11. Ihon. 1.} wll not wpth pynke and penne wryte vnto the. For I trust I shall shortly see the, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be wpth the. The louers salute the. Grete the louers by name.

The Prologe

vpon the Epylle of saint

Paul to the Hebrues.

About thys Epistle hath encreased much doubtyng, and that amonge great learned men, who should be the authour thereof: dyuers aspymyng, that it was not Pauls, partly because the Epylle disagreeeth, and is so vnlike hys other Epistles, and partly because it standeth in the second Chapter: thys learning was cōfirmed so backward, that is to say taughte by them that heard it themselves of the ioyd.

Now Paule testyfyeth Galat. 1. that he receyued not hys Gospell of man, nor by man, but immediately of Christ, and that by reuelacion. Wherefore say they, sayng this man confesseth & he receyued hys doctryne of the Apostles, it can not be Pauls, but some dysciple of the Apostles. Now, whether it were Pauls or no, I say not, but permit it to other mennys iudgement, neyther thynke I it to be an article of any mans faith, but that a man may doubt of the authour.

Wherfore, manye there hath bene whiche not only haue denyed thys Epistle to haue ben wrytten by anye of the Apostles, but haue also refused it altogether, as no catholyke or godly

Epistle

Epistle, because of certayne textes wrytten there in. For the first it sayeth in the xij. It is impossible that they which were once lighted, & have tasted of the heavenly gift, & were become partakers of the holy ghost, and have tasted of the good word of God, and of the power of the world to come, if they fall, should be renewed again to repentance or conversion. And in the tenth it sayeth: if we synne willingly after we have receyved the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for synne, but a fearful lookinge for judgement and violent fye, which shall destroye the adversaries. And in the xii. it sayeth, that Elau found no waye to repentance or conversion, no though he soughte it with teares. Whiche textes saye they, sounde: if a man synne any more after he is once baptized, he can be no more forgiven, and that is contrary to all the scripture, and therfore to be refused to be catholike and godlye.

Unto which I answer: if we should denye this Epistle for those textes sake, so should we denye the first of Marthe, which in the xii. chapter affirmeth, that he which blasphemeth the holy ghost, shall never be forgiven here, nor in the world to come. And then Marthe which in his third chapter sayeth, that he that blasphemeth the holy ghost, shall never have forgiveness, but shall be in danger of eternal damnation. And the third Luke, which sayeth, there shall be no remedy for him that blasphemeth the spirit of God. Wherupon John in his first epistle saith: there is a synne unto death, for which a manne should not pray. And, ii. Pet. ii. saith: if a man be seduced from the brennynesse of the world thowow the knowledge of the saupoure Jesus Christ, and then be caught in a gale, his ende is worse then the begynnyng, and that it had bene better for hym, never to have knowen the truth. And Paule. ii. Tim. iii. curseth Alexander the covetous, desiring the Lord to reward hym, according to his deeds. Whiche is a signe, that either the Epistle should be good, or that Alexander had synned past forgiveness, no more to be prayed for. Wherfore, saynge no scripture is of private interpretation, but must be expounded, according to the generall articles of our faith, and agreeable to other open and evident textes, and confirmed or compared to lyke sentences, wher should we not understand these places to lyke sentence as we do the other, namely, when all the remnant of the Epistle is so godly and of so great learning.

The first place in the first Chapter, wyl no more then that they which know the truth, and yet willingly refuse the light, and chose rather to dwell in darkness, and refuse Christ, & make a moche of hym (as the Pharisees which when they were overcome with scripture and miracles that Christ was the very Messiah: yet had such lust in iniquity that they soughte him, persecuted hym, flew hym, and did all the same that coulde be imagined to hym) can not be renewed (as Metanotam) sayth the Greke, to be converted: that is to saye, such malicious unkyndnes, whiche is none other, then the blaspheming of the holy ghost, deserveth that the spirit shall never come more at them to convert them, which I beleve to be as true, as any other texte in all scripture.

And what is meante by that place in the tenth Chapter, wher he sayeth, if we syn willingly after we have receyved the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sin, is declared immediately after. For he maketh a comparyson betwene Moyses and Christ, saying: if he which displayed Moyses lawe, died without merce, howe much worse punishment is he worthy of, that treadeth the sonne of God under foot, and counteth the bloude of the covenant, by which he was sanctified, as an unholy thinge, and blasphemeth the spirit of grace: by which words it is manifest, that he meaneth none other by the fore wordes, then the synne of blasphemy of the spirit.

For them that synne of ignorance or infirmity, there is remedy, but for hym that knoweth the truth, and yet wyl willingly yelde hym selfe to synne, and consenteth unto the lust of synne, with soule and body, and hath leuer lye in synne, then have his poisoned nature healed by the heale of the spirit of grace, and malice troubleth persecuteth the truth: for hym I saye, there is no remedy, the way to mercy is locked up, and the spirit is taken from hym for his unthankfulness sake no more to be given hym. Truth it is, if a man can tourne to God and beleue in Christ, he must be forgiven, howe depe so ever he hath synned, but that wyl not be without the spirit, and such blasphemers shall no more have the spirit offered the. Let every man therfore feare God, and beware that he yelde not hym selfe to serve synne, but howe oft soever he syn, let hym begin agayn and fight a fere, and no doubt he shall at the last overcome, and in the meane tyme yet be under mercy for Christes sake, because he here worketh, and would sayne be lawed from under bondage of synne.

And that it sayeth in the xii. Elau founde no waye (as Metanotam) to be converted and received unto God, and restored unto his birthright agayne, though he sought with teares, & tearefull heart a spiritual eye. For Elau in selling his birthright, displayed not only that temporall promycion that he should have bene lord over all his brethren, and kynge of that country, but he also refused the grace, and mercy of God, and the spiritual blessing of Abraham, Isaac, and all the mercy that is promysed us in Christ, which should have bene his seed. Of this ye se that this Epistle ought no more to be refused for holy, godly, and catholike, then the other autentike scriptures. Howe therfore to come to our purpose agayn, though this Epistle (as it sayeth in the first) laye not the grounde of the faith of Christ, yet it burydeth conynge thereon pure golde, silver, and precious stones, and proueth the priesthood of Christ, with scripture incurable. Wherupon there is no worke in all the scripture, that so plainly declareth the meaning and signification of the sacrifices, ceremonies, and figures of the olde testament as this epistle: in so much that if wylfull blindness, and malice were not the cause, this Epistle only were enough to werde out of the heres of the Papistes, that cankered herselfe of suffring of workes, concerning our sacramentes, ceremonies, and all maner traditions of their own invention.

And finally in that ye se in the tenth that he had bene in bonds and prison for Christes sake, and in that he so myghtily dyeth at to Christ to be saved thowow hym, & so cared for the flocke of Christ, that he both wrote and sent, where he heard that they beganne to fayne, to comforte, courage, and strengthe them with the wordes of God, in that also, that he sente Timothy Pauls discypple, both vertuous, well learned, and had in great reverence: it was easye to se that was a faithfull seruaunt of Christes, and of þ same doctryne that Tymothe was of, yea and Paulc hymselfe was, and that he was an Apostle, or in the Apostles tyme or nere thereunto.

The Epistle of S. Paul to

And seying the apostles agreeth to all the rest of the scripture, if it be indifferently toled on, how should it not be of authoitye and taken for so by scripture

The epyſtle of Saynete Paule vnto the Hebrues.

The first Chapter.

The first parte of this Epistle is contained in this Syllogisme. Heere man that turned Gods word shewed by angels, escaped punishment: Christe. is greater then the angels, for he is the very sonne of God. Therefore shall no man escape unpunished that despiseth his worde. The minor or latter part of this argumēt, he proueth in this chapter with many testimonies.

¶ Dintyne past diuers by a manys wayes, spake vnto the father by prophetes: but in these late dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his son * whom he hath made heire of all thynges: by whom also he made the worlde. Wherby sonne begonne the brightnes of hys glorie, and verie Image of his substance, bearing vp al thin-ges with the worde of hys power, hath in hys owne person purged oure sinnes, and is set on the ryght hand of the maiestie on hygh, and is more excellent then the Angels, in as much as he hath by inheritance obteyned an excellenter name then haue they. For vnto whych sayd he at any tyme.

* Thou art my sonne, this daye begatte I thee: And agayne: I will be hys father, and he shall be my sonne: And agayne when he bryngeth in the spiryt begotten sonne, into the worlde, he saith: * And all the Angels of God shall worshippinge him.

And of the aungels he sayeth. He maketh hys aungels spyrtes * and his ministers flames of fyre. But vnto the son he sayeth: GOD thy^e seat shal be for ever and ever.
The scepter of thy kyngedome is a ryghte scepter Thou haste loued ryghtuousnes, & hated iniquity. Wherefore GOD, whycher is thy god, hath anointed the with the oyle of gladnes aboue thy felowes.

¶ And thou Lorde in the beginnynge hast layed the foundacyon of the earth. And the heauens are the workes of thy handes.
 They shall perishe, but thou shalt endure:
 they all shall waxe old as doth a garment:
 and as a vesture shalt thou chaunge them, and they shall be chaunged. But thou art alwaies, and thy yeares shall not faile. ¶ ¶ Into wyppes of the gungelles said he at the Hebrews, Chapter. i.

any tyme. Sit on my ryghte hande, till I make thyne enemies thy foteftole? Are thei not all miniftring fpirites, fente to muni-fice for thep? fakes, which fhall be hepyes of faluacon?

The.ii. Chapter.

¶ He sayeth the argument begonne in the first chapter, declaring that Christ is greater then the angels, from thys he digresseth to shew howe that he is also verie man, where also he sheweth the causes of mans nature in Christ.

Vherfore we ought to geue the more heede to the thynges we haue hearde, lest we perishe. For if the word which spylles of was spoke by Angels was stedfast, so that euery transgression and disobedience receiued a iust recompence to reward: how shall we escape, if we dispyse so greate saluacyn which whiche at the firste begon to be preached of the Lord hymselfe, and afterwarde was become of confirmed to vsward, by them that hearde them that it. God bearing witness thereto, both with signes and wonders also, and with diuers miracles, and gistes of the holy ghoost, as Chyriste, cording to his owne will.

He hath not vnto the Angels put in subiection the worlde to come, whereof wee speake. But one in a certayn place witness is. sayinge. What is man, that thou arte myndfull of hym? After thou haddest for a season made hym lower then the Angels, thou crownedst him wpth honoure and glorye, and hast set hym aboue the workes of thy handes. Thou hast putte all thynges in subiection vnder hye steete. In that he put all thyngs vnder him, he left nothing that is not putte vnder hym. Neuerthelesse we yet se not all thyngs subdued, but him that was made lesse then the Angels we se that it was Iesus, which^e is crowned with glory and honoure for the sufferinge of death:
that he by the grace of God, shoulde take of death for all men.

For it became hym, for whom are al thin-ges, & by whom are all thynges, after that he had brought many sonnes vnto glorie, that he should make the Lord of their sal-uacion perfect thow sufferynge. For he that sanctifyeth, and they whych are sanctified, are all of one: For whych cause sake, he is not ashamed to cal them brethren saynge: I wil declare thy name vnto my brethren, in the middes of the congrega-on wpll I prayse the And agayne: I wll put my trust in hym. And agayne: beholde here am I, and the chyl dren whych God hath geuen me.

For as much then as the children were partakers of flesh and bloude, he also hym selfe lyke wyse toke parte wylh them, for to put downe thorow death, him that had Lordship ouer death, that is to say, the deuell: and that he might deliuer them which thorowe feare of death were all their lyfe tyme in daunger of bondage. For he in no place taketh on hym the angels, but of Abia

If the despisers of Egyptes
wet so greuouſly pu-
niſhed: what ſhall become of them that make a mocke of Chriſt.

Phil. C. C. C.
1, 20, 20, 20

Cal. ref. s.

137. 138. 139.

1860

1961-1962

1. 102.1b. ■

11. (E) 40, 1, 5

1

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the hebr. Cha. iii. Fo. cv.

of Abrahā taketh he on him. Wherefore in all thynges it became him to be made like vnto hys brethren, that he might be merciful and a faithful hys priest in thynges concerning god, for to pouge & peoples syns. * For in that he himself suffered and was tempted, he is able to succoure them that are tempted. The.iii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to receiue Christ, because that he veynge greater then Moyses is Lord ouer all. Than sheweth he of the miserable example of theyr elders, howe sore punishment they shall suffer, if they continue Chast the sonne of God.

Therefore holpe brethren, partakers of the ecclesial calling, consider the Ambassadors and the hys priest of oure professiō, Christ Jesus, which was faithful to him that made him, eue as was Moyses in all his house. And yet was thys man counted worthe of more glorie then Moyses: In as muche as he whiche hath prepared the house, hath mooste honoure in the house. Euerie house is prepared of some man. But he that ordained all thynges, is god. And Moyses verely was faithful in all hys house as a minister to beare wptnes of those thynges, which shoulde be spoken afterward. But Christe as a son hath rule ouer the house, whose house are we, so that we hold fast the confydence and the reioysing of that hope vnto the ende.

Wherefore as the holy ghost saith: to daye if ye shall heare his voice, harden not your hertes, after the rebellion in the day of temptation in the wilderness, wher your fathers tempted me, proued me, & sawe my workes. xl. peates long.

Wherefore I was greued with that generation and sayed: They erre euer in theyr hertes they verely haue not knowen my wapes, so that I swaie in my wraethe, that they shoulde not enter into my reste. Take hede brethren, that there be in none of you an euill herte in vnbeleue, that he shoulde departe from the liuinge God: but exhorthe one another daily, while it is called to day, lest any of you were hard herted thowowe & deceptfulnes of synne.

We are partakers of Christ: if we kepe sure vnto the ende the first substance, so longe as it is sayed: to daye if ye heare hys voice, harden not your hertes, as when ye rebelled. For some, whē they heard, rebelled: howbeit not all that came oute of Egypt vnder Moyses. * But with whō was he displeased xl peates? Was he not displeased wth them that synned: whose carcasses were ouerthrowen in the desert? & to whom swaie he that they shoulde not enter into hys reste: but vnto them that beleued not? And we se that they could not enter in because of vnbeleue.

The.iii. Chapter.

He saith vpon hys synners example, shewyng from what rest it was that theyr elders fel through incredulitye, exhortyng the with al that though true sayth they escape & same punishment. To which sayth he exhorteth by arguments drawn out of the very nature of God and of hys worde.

Let vs feare therefore, lest anye of vs forsakynge the promes of entryng into his reste, shuld seme to come behind. For vnto vs was it declared, as wel as vnto them. * But it ptophted not them that they heard the worde, because they whiche heard it, coupled it not with faith. But we which haue beleued, do enter into his reste, as contrarywise he sayd to & other: I haue sworne in my wraethe, they shall not enter into my reste. And that spake he verely long after that the workes were made, and the fundacion of the world layd. For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth daye, on thys wyle. And God dyd rest the seuenth daye from all hys workes. And in this place agayne. * They shal not come into my reste. Sepnge therefore it foloweth, that some must enter therinto, and they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for vnquietnes sake. Agayne he appointeth in Dauid a certayne present daye after so long tyme, sayinge as it is rehearsed: * thys day if ye hear his voice, be not hard herted. For if Josue had geuen them reste, then would he not afterward haue spoken of another day. Ther remaineth therefore yet a reste to the people of God. For he that is entred in to hys reste, doth cease from his owne workes as God dyd from hys.

Let vs ruddye therefore to enter into that reste, lest anye man fall after the same example into vnbeleue. For the word of god is quick and myghty in operacion, & sharper then any two edged swerde, & entreteth through, euen vnto the deuydng a sonder of the soule and the spyrte, & of the iointes and the marye and iudgeth the thoughts & ententes of the hart: neither is anye creature inuisible in the sight of him. For all thynges are naked and bare vnto the eyes of hym, of whom we spake.

The.ii. Chapter.

He proueth Christ to be very Gods man, & to be the true priest ordeyned by God after & order of Melchisedech: who offerynge sacrifice for vs, is made oure persoun. Then sheweth he, and speaketh agaynst their sluggishnes.

Sepnge then that we haue a great hope in Christ, whiche is entred into heauen (I meane Jesus the sonne of God, let vs holde out professiō. For we haue not any hys priest, whiche can not haue compassion on our infirmities: but was in all pointes tempted, like as we are: but yet without synne. Let vs therefore go boldly vnto the seate of grace, that wee maye receiue merce, and synde grace to heale in tyme of nede.

* For euery hys priest that is taken from amonge men, is ordeyned for men, in thynges pceptynge to God to offer gyftes

Eccl. vii. b
Roma. ii. b
Ps. xcvi. d

Gene. ii. a
Ps. xcvi. d
B

Ps. xcvi. d

Gene. ii. a
Sin is our worke fro whiche all must cease that enter into reste of a quiete conscience in Christe.
Eccl. xii. c
Eccl. x. c.

Heb. iii. a
vi. c viii. a
and. ix. b

Eccl. iii. b
Ho. viii. a
it. Ro. v. c
* Ro. iii. c

Leu. i. b
and

nl. ii. a

ti. v. a

Co. iiii. a
um. xii. a

iene. i. a
e. xvi. c.

Co. iiii. b ad. vi. c.

36. xlii. c
Deut. ii. a

Exo. xvi. c

Heb. xii. b

Spit sub stance is faith.
Math. x. c

Am. iiii. c
As faith
is & growd
of al grace
euen so is vnbeleue
the rote of all synne.

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the heb. Chapt. vi.

Leuit. ix. 6. and sacrifices for sin: which can haue compassion on the ignorant, & on the that are out of the way, because that he himself also is compassed with infirmities. For for which infirmities sake, he is bounde to offer for sinnes, as well for his own part, as for the peoples. And no man taketh honour vnto hym selfe, but he that is called of God: as was Aaron.

Exo. xlviii.
Num. xvi.

Buten to Iphewse, Chuse glorified not hym selfe, to be made the hie priest: but he that said vnto him: thou art my son, this day begat I the, glorified him. As he also in another place speketh. Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech. Which in the dayes of his fleche dyd offer vp prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares, vnto him that was able to saue him fro death, and was also heard, because of his godlines. * And though he were Gods son, yet learned he obedience, by those thynges whiche he suffered, & was made perfect, and the cause of eternal saluacion vnto all them that obey him, and is called of God an hie priest, after the order of Melchisedech.

Psal. li. 6
The dayes of his fleche signifyng the tyme of his humanitie.

Psal. cxi. b
Ioh. ii. a

Wherof we haue many thynges to saye, whiche are harde to be uttered, because ye are dull of hearing. * For when as concerning the tyme, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede again, that we teache you the first principles of the worde of God: & are become such as haue neede of milke, & not of strong meate: For euery man that is fed with milke, is inept in the word of righteousness. For he is but a babe. But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, which thorow custome haue ther wittes exercised to iudge both good and euil also.

1 Cor. iii. a
By milke are vnderstanded them that are easie to perceive: but strong meat, such as are hard & obscure.

The vi. Chapter.

He blameth first their sluggishnes & slownesse, threatening them punishment, excepte they go forward in the knownen truth, alleginge to the worde is preached to th nente it shoulde byng forth fruite, sayng that it is testayne and assured by the oth of God.

Wherfore lette vs loue the doctrine pertaininge to the begynnynge of a Christen man, and let vs go vnto perfection: and now no more lay the foundation of repentance from dead workes, & of faith toward God, of baptisme, of doctrine, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection from death, and of eternall iudgement. And so will we do, if God permitte. * For it is (a) not possible that they which were once lighted, and haue tasted of the heauenly gyfte, and were become partakers of the holy ghost, and haue tasted of the good word of God, and of the power of the world to come, if they falle, shoulde be renewed agayne vnto repentance: for as much as they haue (as concernynge themselves) crucified the son of God a freche, makinge a mocke of him.

Heb. x. c.

1. Pet. ii. a.

For the earth whiche dryncketh in the rayne, which cometh oft vpon it, and bringeth forth forth herbes mete for them that dress it, receyue the blessing of God. But that ground which beareth thornes and burs, is reioyced, & is nye vnto cursynge: whose ende is to be burned. Neuerthelesse deare frendes, wee truste to se better of you, and thynges whiche accompanie saluacion, though we thus speake.

* For God is not unrighteous that he shoulde forgette your worke, and laboure that proceedeth of loue, whiche you shewed in his name, which haue ministered vnto the saintes, and yet minister. Yea and we desyre, that euery one of you shew the same diligence to the stablyshynge of hope euen vnto the ende: that ye faint not but folowe them which thorow faith and patience inherite the promyses.

For when god made promise to Abraham, because he had no greater thing to sweare by, he sware by himself, saying: Surely I will blesse the, and multiply the in dede. And so after that he had taried a long tyme, he enioyned the promise. Whanne verely sweare by hym that is greater then themselves, and an othe to confirme the thyng, is among them an ende of all stryfe: So God wplyng very aboundantly to shewe vnto the heries of promises the stablesnes of his countenace. he added an othe, that by two immutable thynges (in which it was impossible that God shoulde lye, we mighte haue perfect consolacion, whiche haue fled, for to holde faste the hope that is sette before vs, whiche hope wee haue as an ancre of the soule both sure and stedfast. Whiche hope also entreteth in, into those thynges that are within the vaile, whither the forerunner is for vs entered in, I meane Iesus that is made an hie priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech.

Math. xv.

Gen. xxi. c.

Exod. xxi.

Two im-

mutable things: & promise & the othe.

The Notes.

(a) Not because God is not able to shewe such mercy vnto them that obstynarily fall from the truth, and become enemies to the holpe ghost, that they shoulde come to repentance, but because their falling is a token that they be not of the number of the that be called so by knowledge of the truth, as Gods elect, but (as Judas was) to declare themselves to be the chyliden of perdition. And if they come to repentance as Judas dyd, yet shall that repentance be accounted to desperacion, and be altogether voyde of hope as Judas was.

Impossible

The vii. Chapter.

He returneth to his matter, & declareth who was that Melchisedech accordinge to whose order Christ was made a priest. He teacheth he that Christ is a true and everlasting priest, farre more excellent then the Leuites.

This Melchisedech, a kyng of Salem & whiche byng priest of the moste hie God, met Abraham, as he returned agayne from the slaughter of the kynges, & blessed hym: to whom also Abraham gaue tythes of all thynges. I saye by interpreacion kyng of rightuousnes: after that he is kyng of Salem, that is to saye, king of peace,

Gen. xxi. b

The Epistle of S. Paul to the Hebrewes. Cha. vii. Fo. lvi.

peace, withoute father, withoute mother, withoute kyn, and hath neither beginning of his tyme, neither yet end of his tyme: but is likened vnto the sonne of God, and continueth a priest for euer. Consider what a man this was, vnto whom the patriarche Abraham gaue tithes of the spoiles. * And verely those childre of Leui, which receiue the offyce of the priestes, haue a commaundment to take according to the law, tithes of the people, that is to say of their brethren, yea though they spronge out of the loynes of Abraham. But he whose kinrede is not counted among them, receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises. And no man denyeth but that whiche is lesse, receiue the blessing of that whiche is greater. And here men shal receiue tithes. But there he receiue the tithes, of whom it is witnessed, that he liueth. And to say the truth, Leui himselfe also, which receiue the tithes, payed tithes in Abraham. For he was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchisedech meet him. * If nowe therefore perfection came by the priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder the priesthode the people receiued the law what needeth further more that another priest should appere after the order of Melchisedech, and not after the order of Aaron.) Now no doubt * if the priesthode be translated, then of necessity must the law be translated also.

For he of whom these thyngs are spoken pertaineth vnto another tribe, of which neuer man serued at the altare. For it is euident * that our lord sprong of the tribe of Juda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning priesthode.

And it is yet a more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech, there appere another priest: whiche is not after the lawe of the carnall commaundement: but after the power of the endles life. (For he testifieth). Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

When the commaundemente that went before, is dysannulled, because of hys weakness, and vnprofitableness. * For the lawe made nothing perfect: but was an introduction of a better hope, by whiche hope we drawe nye vnto God.

And for this cause it is a better hope, that it was not promysed without an oth. (Those priestes wer made without an oth, but this priest wth an othe, by him that sayed vnto him: The Lord swate, and wil not repente. * Thou art a priest for euer after the order of Melchisedech.) And for that cause was Jesus a stablisher of a better testament.

And among them many were made priestes, because they wer not suffered to endure by the reason of death. But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an euerslastig priesthode. Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them that come vnto god by him, seynge that he euer liueth * to make intercession for vs.

Such an hie priest it became vs to haue, which is holpe, harmlesse, vndefyled, separte from sinners, and made bygher then heauen. Which needeth not daily (as the other priests, to offer by sacrifice, first for his owne synnes, and then for the peoples synnes. For that dyd he at once for al, whiche he offered by him selfe. * For the lawe maketh men priestes, whiche haue infirmitie: but the word of the oth that came sence the lawe, maketh the son priest, whiche is perfect for euer more.

The vii. Chapter.

Nowe gathereth he together all that he disputed at large, declaring that Christ is a priest, yea and an only priest, whose priesthode shall dure for euer, where as Aarons is already taken awaye, whiche he proueth by many argumentes and tellings.

Of the thynges which we haue spoken this is the ppth: that we haue suche an hie priest that is sitten on the right hande of the seate of maiestie in heauen, and is a minister of holpe thynges, and of the very tabernacle whiche is our right, and not man.

For euerie hie priest is ordeyned to offer giftes and sacrifices: wherfore it is of necessity, that this man haue somewhat also to offer, for he were not a priest, if he were on the earth where are priestes, that according to the law, offer giftes * which priestes serue vnto the ensample and shadowe of heauenly thynges, euen as the answer of God was geuen vnto Moses, when he was about to finish the tabernacle. Take heed (sayd he) that thou make al thynges according to the patrone shewed to thee in the mount.

Now hath he obtained a more excellent offyce, in as much as he is the mediator of a better testament, whiche was made in better promyses. For if that first testamēt had bene faultlesse, then shoulde no place haue bene sought for the second. For in rebuking them, he sayth: * beholde the dayes wll come (sayth the Lord, and I wll synneth vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house of Juda, a newe testament: not lyke the testament that I made wth their fathers at that tyme, when I toke them by the handes, to leade them oute of the lande of Egypt, * for they contrayned not in my testament, and I regarded them not saier, the Lord.

* For this is the testament that I wll make with the house of Israel: After those dayes sayeth the Lord, I wll put my lawes in their myndes, and in their hartes I wll wyte them, and I wll be theyr God, and they shal be my people. And they shal not teache euery man his neyghbour, and euery man his brother, saying: know the lord: For they shal knowe me, from the leste to the moste of them. For I wll be merciful ouer their vnrighteousnes, and on their iniquities. In that he sayeth a new testament

De reb. a Ioh. xix. a
pa. xxi. b

Rom. iii. b
Gal. iii. c

Gal. iii. b

Gal. iii. b

Gal. iii. b
Rom. iii. b
Ioh. viii. a
Gal. iii. b
Ioh. iii. a

Gal. iii. a

I. Cor. ii. a
I. Ioh. ii. a

shall once sacrificed purged
al sinnes.
Gene. ix. b
Heb. vi. b

Heb. vi. a
Eph. i. c
Ioh. i. a
I. Cor. x. a

Heb. x. a

Exo. xvi. b
I. Cor. vi. c

Heb. xii. c

Couenante

Exo. ii. b
I. Cor. x. c
I. Ioh. v. c

Gal. iii. b

I. Cor. x. b

The Epistle of S. Paule

ment he hath abrogat the olde. Nowe that which is disanulled and waxed old, is ready to minishe awaye.

The .ix. Chapter.

The dysputeth of Chyestes sacryfices, prouing Chyist to be an onely oblation for the synnes of all the world: and that Aaron's sacryfices, whiche were a figure, are directely abelished, because that Chyestes sacryfice is perfect, hauinge no neede to be done agayne.

That first tabernacle betely had ordynances, and scrupnges of God, and worldly holpnes. Forther was a fore tabernacle made, wherein was the candlestick and the table, and the shew bread which is called hoip: But within the second waile was there a tabernacle, which is called holpest of al, which had the golden sencer, and the arke of the testament ouer laid round about with golde, wherein was the golden pot wpth manna, and Aaron's rodde that sprong, and the tables of the testament. Ouer the arke were the cherubs of gloire shadowynge the seate of grace. Of whych thyngs, we will not now speake particularly.

When these thyngs were thus ordeined, the priestes went alwayes into the first tabernacle and executed the scrupce of God. But into the second went the hye prieste alone euery peare, and not without bloud, whiche he offered for himselfe, and for the ignorance of the people. Wherewyth the holy ghost thus signified, that the way of holp thynges, was not yet opened, whyle as yet the first tabernacle was standynge. Which was a similitude for the tyme then present, and in which were offered gyftes, and sacryfices that could not make the minister perfect, as pertaynyng to the conscience, with onely meates and drynckes and dyuers washynge and iudspynge of the fleshe, whych were ordeined vntyl the tyme of reformation.

But Chyist beynge an hye priest of good thynges to come, came by a greater and a more perfecte tabernacle, not made wpth handes: that is to saye, not of this maner buildynge, neither by the bloude of goates and calues, but by his own bloud he entred once for all into the holy place, and founde eternall redemption. For if the bloud of oxen and of goates, and the ashes of an heifer, when it was sprinkled, purified the vnclene, as touchynge the purgynge of the fleshe, howe much more shall the bloude of Chyist (whiche thorow the eternall spyrte offered himself without spot to god) purge our consciences from dead workes, for to serue the spynge God? And for this cause is he the mediator of the newe testament, that thorow death whych chaunced for the redemption of those transgressors that were in the first testamente, they whiche were called might receiue the promes of eternall inheritance.

For wherfoerer is a testament, they must also be the death of him that maketh the testament. For the testament taker hath thoytpe when men are dead. For it is of no value as longe as he that made it, is alpye. For whiche cause also, nether that first testament was ordeined without bloud.

To the Hebr. Chap. x. Fo.

For when all the commaundements were reade of Moyses to all the people, he took the bloud of calues and of goates, with water and purple wool and pscop, and sprinkled both the booke and al the people, sayynge this is the bloud of the testamente whych God hath apointed vnto pou. Moreover, he sprinkled the tabernacle with blouds also, and all the ministering vessels. And also almost al thynges are by the same purged wpth bloud, and wpthout the shedynge of bloude is no remission.

It is then neede that the similitudes of heauenly thynges be purged wpth suche thynges: but the heauenly thynges themselves are purged with better sacryfices then are those. For Chyist is not entred into the holy places that are made with handes, whych are but similitudes of true thynges: but is entred into very heauen, for to appere now in the syght of God for vs: not to offer himselfe often as the hye priest entred into the holy place euery peare wpth strange bloud, for then must he haue often suffered sence the world began. But nowe in the ende of the worlde hath he appeared once to put syn to flight by the offerynge of himselfe. And as it is appointed vnto me that they shall once dye, and then cometh the iudgement, euen so Chyist was once offered to take away the synnes of many, and vnto them that loke for hym shall he appere agayne wpthout syn vnto saluacion.

The .x. Chapter.

The cōtynueth to proue Chyist to be the onely and perfect sacryfice for synnes, shewing wpthall the vse of the old sacryfices. Then goeth he to a newe matter, counsaylynge them agreably to enter through true fayth into the waye, whych Chyist hath made open: drawynge the arrogancie thereto wpth the threatenynge of punishment, but the good wpth hope of reward.

For the law whych hath, but the shadowe of good thynges to come, is not the thynges in theyr own fashion, can neuer wpth the sacryfices whych they offer peare by peare continuallye, make the comyners therunto perfect. For would not then those sacryfices haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of synnes? Neuertheles in those sacryfices is ther mencion made of synnes euery peare. For it is vnpossyble that the bloud of oxen and of goates shoulde take awaye synnes.

Wherfore when he cometh into the world, he sayth. Sacryfice and offerynge thou wouldest not haue: but a body hast thou ordeined me. In sacryfices & synne offerings thou

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

Exo. xvi. 8.

The Epistle of S. Paule

to the hebrw. Chap. x. Fo. cxi.

thou hadst no lust. Then I said: Lo I come, in the chiefest of the booke it is wryten of me, that I shoulde do thy wyl & God. And howe when he had sayed: sacrifice and offerings, and burnt sacrifices and syn offeringes thou wouldest not haue, neyther hadst allowed: whiche yet are offered by the lawe) and then sayed, Lo I come to do thy wyl & God: he taketh awaye the syn to stablysh the latter. By the whiche wyl we are sanctified, by the offeringe of the body of Iesu Christ once for all.

And euerye priest is readye daylye minystringe and oft tymes offereth one manner of offeringe whiche can neuer take away synnes. But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for synnes, satte hym downe for ever on the right hand of God, & from hence forth taryeth til his foes be made his fote stole. For wth one offeringe hath he made perfect for ever, the þ are sanctified. And the holy god also beareth record of this even whiche he told before. * This is the testamente that I wyl make to the people after those dayes sayeth the Lord, I wyl put my lawes in their hertes, and in their mynd I wyl write them, and they synnes and iniquities wyl I remember no more. And wher remission of these thynges is, there is no more offeringe for synne.

Being brethren that by the merces of the bloude of Iesu, we maye be bolde to enter into that holpe place, by the newe and lypunge waye whiche he hath prepared for vs, thorowe the dapple, that is to saye by his fleshe. And saynge also that we haue an heuyl priest whiche is ruler ouer the house of god, let vs drawe nye wth a true herte in a full sayeth * sprinkled in our hertes from an euyl conscience, and washed in our bodies wth pure water, and let vs keepe the profession of oure hope, wthout wauerynge, for he is sayeth full that promysed, and let vs consider one an other to prouoke vnto loue, and to good woorkes, and let vs not forsake the feloweshyppe that we haue amonge oure selues, as the maner of some is, but let vs exhort one another, and that so muche the more, because we see the dape draweth nye.

(a) For if we synne wyllynge after that we haue receyued the knoweledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for synnes, but a feareful lokynge for iudgemente, and vpolente fyre, whiche shall deuoure the aduersaries. * He that despiseth Moyses lawe dyeth wthout mercye vnder two or thre wytnesses. Of howe muche soier punishmente suppose we shal he be counted worthy, whiche treadeth vnder fote the son of God: and counteth the bloude of the Testamente as an vnholpe thyng, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth dyshonoure to the spirite of grace? For we knowe hym that hath sayed: * ven geaunce belongeth vnto me. I wyl recompence sayeth the Lord. And agayne: the Lord shall iudge hys people. It is a feare full thyng to fall into the handes of the lypunge God.

Call to remembraunce the dayes that are passed in the whiche after we had receyued Iyghte we endured a greate syght in aduersities, partelye whyle al men wondred and galed at you, for the shame and tribulacion that was done vnto you, and partlye whyle we became companions of them whiche so passed theyr tyme. For we suffered also with my bondes, and tooke in worth the spoylynge of goodes and that wth gladnes, knowynge in your selues howe that we had in heauen a better & an enduring substance. Cast not awaye therefore youre confidence whiche hath great reward to recompence. For we haue neede of patience, þ after we haue done the wyl of god, we might receiue the promys. * For yet a verpe litle while, & he that shal come wil come, & wil not tarpe. * But the iust shal liue by sayeth: And if he wyl drawe hym selfe, my soule shal haue no plesur in him. We are not, whiche wyl drawe our selues vnto damnacion, but pertaine to sayeth, to the winnyng of þ soule.

The Notes.

(a) This is it that is spoken of in the vi. of this Epistle, & in Mat. the xii. that is þ sin of blasphemie agaynst the holy god, whiche Ihon calleth the sinne to deathe. Let all such therefore as spare not to blaspheme the spirite of god, in resisting & railing vpon his word, knowe þ their made is no sacrifice for syn, but þ the terrible iudgement of god remaineth for them, and their wyched ydolatrie.

The xi. Chapter.

First he teacheth what sayeth is: than describeth he þ effect thereof by many exaples, shewing that all the holpe, euen from iud Abel, ar saued only by sayeth.

Fayth is a sure (a) confidence of thynges which are hoped for, and a certaintie of thynges whiche are not sene. By it the Elders were well reported of. Thorowe sayeth we vnderstand that the world was ordened by the word of god: and that thynges which are sene were made of thynges which are not sene. By sayeth Abel offered vnto God a more plenteous sacrifice the Cain: by which he obtayned wytnes þ he was righteous. god testifig of his graces, by which also he being deade, yet speaketh. By sayeth was Enoch translated that he shuld not se deathe, neither was he toid, for god had take him away. Before he was taken awaye, he was reported of þ he had pleased god: but wout sayeth it is vnpossible to please hym. For he that cometh th to god, must beleue that god is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seke hym.

By sayeth Noe honoured god, after that he was warned of thynges which were not sene, and prepared the arke to the saupnge of hys housholde, thorowe the whiche arke he cōdemned the world. and became heire of the rightuousnes that cometh by sayeth.

By sayeth Abraham, when he was called

It is a feare full thyng to fall into the handes of the lypunge God.

Christe do the is but once offered

Gal. xii. a.
1. Cor. xv. d.

John. x. a.
Rom. vi. a.
Here for loweth
out butpe,
if we will be parta-
kers of mercy before cher-
sed.
Hebrw. ix. d.
1. Peter. i. a.

Rom. xv. c.
Hebrw. vi. a.

Deu. xiii. b.
Mat. xviii.
Iho. viii. c.
1. Cor. xiii. a.

Deu. xxi. e.
Rom. xii. d.

Actes. xxi.
Eph. iii.

Hebrw. xii. a.

Romay. i.

Gal. iii. b.

If we trye
wyllynge

Genel. i. a.

Genel. iii. a.

Genel. v. t.

Genel. vi. t.

The Epistle of. S. Paule

obeyed, to go out to a place, which he should afterward receive into inheritance, and he wente oute not knowynge whither he should go.

By fapth he remoued into the land þe was promysed hym, as into a strange countrey, & dwelt in tabernacles. & so did Isaac & Jacob, heires wth hym of the same promys. For he looked for a cite haupng a foundacion, whose builder and maker is God.

iii. Thow fapth Sara also receyued strength to be wth child, & was deliuered of a child when she was past age, because she iudged hym faithful which had promysed.

D And therefore spiong ther of one (& of one which was as good as deade) so manye in multitude, as the stars of the skye, & as the sande of the sea shoure, whiche is innumerable.

iii. And they al died in fapth, & receyued not the promyses: but sawe the a far of, & beleued them, & saluted the: & confessed that they were straungers and pilgrims on the earth. They that say suche thynges, declare that they seke a countrey. Also if they had bene myndfull of þe countrey fro whence they came out, they hadde lesure to haue returned agayne.

E But now they desire a better, that is to say an heauely. Wherefore god is not ashamed of them euen to be called they: God: for he hath prepared for them a cite.

iii. In fapth Abrahā offered vp Isaac, whē he was tēpted, & he offered hym being his only begoten son, which had receyued the promys. For of whō it was sayed, in Isaac shall thy seed be called. for he considered þe god was able to raise vp agayne from death. Wherefore receyued he hym for an ensample. In fapth Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning thynges to come.

iii. By fapth Jacob whē he was a dyng, blessed both the sonnes of Joseph, and bowed hym selfe toward the top of hys scepter:

D By fapth Joseph whē he died remembred the departyng of the childre of Israel, and gaue commaundement of hys bones.

iii. By fapth Moses whē he was borne, was lpyd thre monethes of his father & mother because they sawe he was a proper childe, neither feared they the kynges commaundemente.

iii. By fapth Moses when he was great, refused to be called the son of Pharaos daughter, & chose rather to suffer aduersite with the people of god, thē to enioy the pleasures of syn for a season, & esteemed the rebuke of Christ greater thynges thē the treasure of Egypt. For he had respecte vnto the reward.

By fapth he forsoke Egypte, and feared not the scarcenes of the kyng. For he endured euen as he had sent hym which is miserable.

iii. Thow fapth he ordayned the ester. And the effusion of blood, leaste he that despyred the tyll borne should touche them.

By fapth they passed thow the redde to the Hebru. Chap. xi.

sea, as by drye lande, whiche when the Egyptians hadde assayed to doo, they were drowned.

By fapth the walles of Jerico fell downe after they were compassed about seue daies. Josua. v. 1.

By fapth the harlot Raab perished not wth unbelieuers, when she hadde receyued spies to lodgynge peaceabpe. Josua. vi. 1.

And what shall I moze saye of the tyme woulde bee to shewe for me to tell of Be-deon, of Baruch, and of Sampson, and of Jephthae: also of Dauid and Samuell, & of the prophets: & whiche thow fapth subdued kyngdoms: wrought cōspyracions, obtayned the promyses, stopped the mouthes of yrons, quēched the violence of fyre, escaped the edge of þe sword, of weak were made strong, waxed valiant in fyght, tourned to slayght the armys of aliants. And the women receyued they: deade raised to lyfe agayne.

Other were racked, and would not be deliuered, þe they mought receiue a better resurrection. Other tasted of mockyngs and scourgynges, mozeouer of bands and ppriment: were stoned, were hewen a sunder, were tempted, were slayne wth swerdes, walked vp and downe in theys skynnes, in gote skynnes, in neede, tribulacion, and vexacion, whiche the worlde was not worthy of. they wādered in wilderness, in moystaynes, in denes and caues of the pearch. And these al thow fapth obtayned good report, & receyued not the promys, god prouidyng a better thyng for vs, that they wthout vs shoulde not be made perfecte.

The Notes.

(a) Who so hath in hym thys sure confidence, is at quyet in his conscience. Whiche quietnes can not be had by the trust in woorkes. For he that trusteth in hys woorkes shall alwayes thynke the rather to bad, other els to fewe: so that they shal not be able to way agaynst hys euyl dedes, for so doo these whozemongers scan the matter betwene god and they: consciences, and the they doubt, and cannot be sure of they: saluacion. Wherefore they: lot is damnacion. For he þe doubteth cannot enioy the promyses of God. he therfore that shal enioy the promyses of god must assuredly beleue that the one woork of Christ once done on the crosse, hath pacified the wrath of the father, and hath fully satisfied for hys synnes, and that there is no moze satisfaction to be made.

The. xii. Chapter.

The returneth to that matter from whiche he started in the end of þe xth chapter, & shewing them to patience with many examples: then maketh he a rehearsal of al, declaring the insynnytye of Moses law, and the authority of þe gospel, in that we be redeemed with Christes sacrifice. Whā he exhorteth that we put our whole trust in Christ.

V Wherefore let vs also (sayng that we are compassed with so great a multitude of wytnesses, laye away al that presseth downe, & the syn that hangeth on, and let vs runne wth patience vnto the battayle that is sette before vs, lookynge vnto

Rom. vi. 1.
Collo. iii. 1.
Eph. iii. 1.
1. Pet. ii. 1.

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the hebr. Cha. xii. Fo. cxiij

We be cōfessed vnto Iesus the authoz and finisher of oure fith, which for the ley that was set before
fer. For he him, abode the crosse, & despised the shame, out suffer. & is set down on the right hand of p throne ringe no of God. Consider therfore how that he enman cā be durerly such speakinge against him of syn-the son of nets, least pe wuld be werped and faint in god. If a pource munde for pe have not yet resisted ny soue p vnto bloud shedding, steeving against sinne.
law of god And pe have not forgotten the consolacie be chaste on, which speaketh vnto pou as vnto chyl-sed of god dien: mo sonne despyse not the chastening it is a com of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rescote. buked of him. For whom the Lord loueth, him he chasteneth, pea, and he scourgeth e-uery sonne that he recepueth.

If pe endure chastenpge, God offereth himselfe vnto pou as vnto sonnes. What son is that whō the father chasteneth not?

For ther-
by he is sure that God lo-
ueth hym,
and hath chose hym
to hys son
and hepe
of euerla-
sting lyfe.
Whi God
chastiseth

If pe be not vnder correcciō (wherof al are partakers) then ar pe bastards & not sons.

Moreouer seynge we hadde fathers of our flesh whiche corrected vs, and we gaue the reuerence: should we not much rather be in subiection vnto the father of spiritual gif-tes, that we might liue? And they verely for a rewe daies, nurtered vs after their owne pleasure: but he learneth vs vnto p whiche holines. Romaner chastysing for the pie-sent tyme semeth to be iolous, but greuous: neuerthelesse afterwarde, it bringeth the quyte fruite of rightuousnes vnto them, which are therein exercepsed.

Stretch forth therfore again the hands
which were let down and the weake knees,

and see that pe haue straighte steppes vnto
pout fete, lest any haltpng turne pou oute of the wage: pea let it rather be healed. Embrace peace with all men, & holynes, without the which no man shal se the lord. And loke so, that no man be destitute of p grace of God, & that no rofe of bytternes spring bp and trouble, & therby many be defiled, & that ther be no fornicator or vnclane person, as (a) & sau whiche for one breckfaste

Gen. xii. d. sold his birthrighte. Ye know how p after Gen. xvi. ward whan he woulde haue inhereted the blessing, he was put by. & he found no mea-nes for to come therby againe, no, though he desired it with teares. For pe ar not come vnto the mount that can be touched, & vn-a contray to burnyng fyre, nor yet to mist and darck-nes, & tempeste of wether, neither vnto the sounde of a trompe, & the voice of wordes, which voice they p heard it willed awape, that the communicacyn shuld not be spokent to them. For they were not able to abode that whych was spoke. If a beaſt had touched the mountayne, it must haue bene stoned, or fust thorow with a dart, euen so terrible was the sighte which appeared.

Moses saped. I feare and quake. But pe are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citty of the lypnyng God, the celeſtyall Jerusalem: and to innumerable syght of aun-gels, and vnto the cōgregacyn of the first

borne sonnes, whpche are witten in heauen, and to God the iudge of al, and to the spirates of iust and perfect men, and to Ie-sus the mediator of the newe testament, and to the spryncklyng of bloud that speaketh better then the bloude of Abel.

Se that pe despyse not him that speaketh.
For if they escaped not which refused hym that spake on erth: much more shal we not escape, if we turne away fro him that speaketh from heauē: whose voice then shoulde the earth, and nowe declareth sayinge: yet once more wil I shake, not the earth only,
but also heauen.

No doubte that same that he sayeth yet once more signifieth the remouing awape of those thynges whpche are shaken, as of thynges whpche haue ended theyr course:
that the thynges whpche are not shaken
mape remayne.

Wherfore if we receyue a kyngdom which is not moued, wee haue grace, wherby we may serue God, and please hym wth reue-rence and wōdly care. For oure God is a consumyng fyre.

The Notes.

(a) & sau sold his birthrighte for one breck-faste, and coulde not haue it agayne afterwarde when he repented: so they that sell the inheritaunce of heauen, for the fleshy lyste and pleasures of the worlde, can not by repentaunce re-couer that inheritaunce. For it is to be p-posed, that he that selleth a thyng, hath gyfte some thare in the thyng that he selleth, & that he doeth willyngly leaue al hys interest p he hath or can haue therein: to enioy suche thynges as he selleth it for. Wherfore therfore doeth wyllyngly leaue the interest that by the promysse of God he hath in the heauenly kyngdome, & beto-keth hymselfe to the lustes of this worlde to dwel therin, is not lyke to enioy p kyngdome agayne by repentaunce, for he hath synned agaynst the holy ghoſt, whych shal not be forgyuen in this worlde, or in the worlde to come.

The xii. Chapter.

He geueth them good admonitions, wher-in he commendeth Chyſten charytee, innocency of lyfe, say h in chyſte, and true releygō.

Let brotherly loue contynue. Be not forgetful to lodge strangers. Forther:
p haue dyuers receiued angels into their houses bywares. Remember the that are in bondes, euen as though pe wer bond wpyth them. Be mindful of them whpche are in aduersytie, as pe whiche are yet in poue bodpes. Let wedlocke be had in pure in all poyntes, and let the chamber be vndefiled:
for whorkepers and aduocaters God will iudge. Let your conuersacyn be with out couetousnes, and be content with that pe haue already. For he verely said: I wyl not saye the, neyther forsake the: that we may boldly say: the Lord is my helper, and
I wyl not fear what man doeth vnto me.
Remember the which haue the oversighte of you, whpche haue declared vnto pou the worde of God. The ende of whose conuersacyn se that pe looke vpon, and folowe theyr sayeth.

Tit. ii. Iesus

first bor-
sons, that is the sons
of God because the first bor-
wer dedicated vnto
God.

Page. ii. b.

Dea. ii. b.

Esau.

Our duty
if we wyl
haue cur-pait with Chyſte.

Tit. ii. b.

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the hebr. Cha. xii. Fo. cxiij

We be cōfessed vnto Iesus the authoz and finisher of oure
fith, which for the ley that was set before
fer. For he him, abode the crosse, & despised the shame, out suffer. & is set down on the right hand of p throne ringe no of God. Consider therfore how that he enman cā be durerly such speakinge against him of syn-
the son of nets, least pe wuld be werped and faint in god. If a pource mundes for pe have not yet resisted ny soue p vnto bloud shedding, steeving against sinne.
law of god And pe have not forgotten the consolaci-pe be chaste on, which speaketh vnto pou as vnto chyl-sed of god drien: mo sonne despyse not the chastening it is a com of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rescote. buked of him. For whom the Lord loueth, him he chasteneth, pea, and he scourgeth e-
uery sonne that he recepueth.

If pe endure chastenpge, God offereth himselfe vnto pou as vnto sonnes. What son is that whō the father chasteneth not?

For ther-
by he is sure that God lo-
ueth hym,
and hath chose hym
to hys son
and hepe
of euerla-
sting lyfe.
Whi God
chastiseth
Stretch forth therfore again the hands
which were let down and the weake knees,
and see that pe haue straighte steppes vnto
pout fete, lest any haltpng turne pou oute of the waye: pea let it rather be healed. Embrace peace with all men, & holynes, without the which no man shal se the lord. And loke so, that no man be destitute of p grace of God, & that no rofe of bytternes spyng bp and trouble, & therby many be defiled, & that ther be no fornicator or vncleane person, as (a) & sau which for one breckfaste sold his birthrighte. Ye know how p after ward whan he woulde haue inherited the blessing, he was put by. & he found no mea-
nes for to come therby againe, no, though he desired it with teares. For pe at not come Spoke by vnto the mount that can be touched, & vn-a contrary to burnyng fyre, nor yet to mist and darck-pmaise p nes, & tempeste of wether, neither vnto the is that sounde of a trompe, & the voice of wordes, no manne which voice they p heard it willed awape, dure that the communicacyn shuld not be spo-couche. kent to them. For they were not able to a-byde that whych was spoke. If a beaſt had touched the mountayne, it must haue bene
stoned, or fust thorow with a dart, euen
so terrible was the sighte which appeared.
Moses saped. I feare and quake. But pe are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the cypre of the spyng God, the celeſtyall Jerusalem: and to innumerable syght of aun-gels, and vnto the cōgregacyn of the first

borne sonnes, whpche are witten in hea-
uen, and to God the iudge of al, and to the spirates of iust and perfect men, and to Jesus the mediator of the newe testament, and to the spyng of bloud that speaketh better then the bloud of Abel.
Se that pe despyse not him that speaketh.
For if they escaped not which refused him that spake on erth: much more shal we not escape, if we turne away fro him that spea-
keth from heauē: whose voice then shoulde
the earth, and nowe declarerh sayinge: yet once more wil I shake, not the earth only,
but also heauen.

No doubt that same that he sayeth yet once more signifieth the remouing awape
of those thynges whpche are shaken, as of
thynges whpche haue ended theyr course:
that the thynges whpche are not shaken
mape remayne.

Wherfore if we receyue a kyngdom which
is not moued, wee haue grace, wherby we may serue God, and please him wth reue-rence and wōdly care. For oure God is a consumyng fyre.

The Notes.

(a) & sau sold nps by buying it for one breckfast, and coulde not haue it agayne afterwarde
when he repented: so they that sell the inheritaunce of heauen, for the fleshy lute and pleasures of the worlde, can not by repentance re-couer that inheritaunce. For it is to be p-posed, that he that selleth a thyng, hath sp-se to me that in the thyng that he selleth, & that he doeth willingly leaue al hys interest p he hath or can haue therein: to enioy such thyngs as he selleth it for. Wherfore therfore doeth wyllyngly leaue the interest that by the promys of God he hath in the heauenly kyngdome, & bet-terh hymself to the lutes of this world to dwel therin. is not lyke to enioy p kyngdome agayne by repentance, for he hath synned agaynst the holy ghost, whych shal not be forgyuen in this world, or in the world to come.

The xii. Chapter.

He geuerh them good admonycions, wher-
in he commendeth Chyſten charytee, innocency of lyfe, say h in chyſte, and true releygyō.

Let brotherly loue contynue. Be not forgetful to lodge strangers. Forther:
p haue dpuers receiued angels into their houses vntwares. Remember tye that are in bondes, euen as though pe wer bond wpyth them. Be mindful of them whpche are in aduersytie, as pe whpche are yet in pource bodpes. Let wedlocke be had in puce in all poyntes, and let the chamber be vndefiled:
for whorkepers and aduouters God will iudge. Let your conuersacyn be without couetousnes, and be content with that pe haue already. For he verely said: I wyl not saye tye, neyther forsake the: that we may boldly say: the Lord is my helper, and
I wyl not fear what man doeth vnto me.
Remember tye whpche haue the ouersight of you, whpche haue declared vnto pou the worde of God. The ende of whose conuersacyn se that pe looke vpon, and folowe
theyr sayeth.

Tit. ii. Iesus

first bor-
sons, that is the sons
of God because the first bor-
wer dedicated vnto
God.

Page. ii. b.

Dea. ii. b.

Esau.

Our duty
if we wyl
haue cur-
pait with Chyſte.

Tit. ii. b.

The Epistle of S. Paule

Jesus Christ yesterday, and to day, and the same continueth for ever. For he is not moved about with divers and strange leanings. For it is a good thing, that the heart be established with grace, and not with meats, which they have not profited therein that have had their pasture in them. Wee have an altar, whereof they may not eat which serve in the tabernacle: For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought in to the holy place by high priest to purge sin, are burnt without the tentes. Therefore Jesus to sanctify the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

Let us go forth therefore out of the tentes, and suffer rebuke with him. For here have we no continuing city: but we seek one to come.

For by him offer we the sacrifice of laude, it wapes to God, that is to say, the scripture of those lippes, which confess his name. To do good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacrifices God is pleased. Obey them that have the oversight of you, and submitte your selves to them, for they watch for your soules, even as they that must give accomptes: that they may do it with joye, and not with griefe. For this is an unprofitable thing for you. For as for us, we have confidence, because we have a good conscience in all things, and desire to live honestly, and desire you therefore some that the more abundantly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you quickly.

The God of peace that broughte againe from death our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the shepe, thow the blood of the everlasting testamente, make you perfect in all good workes, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasaunt in his sight thow Jesus Christ. To whom be prayse for ever while the worlde endureth. Amen.

I beseech you brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortacion. For we have writen unto you in few wordes: know the brother Symothe, whom we have sent from us, with whom (if he come hostelle) I will see you. Salute them that have the oversight of you, and all the sayntes. They of Italy salute you. Grace be with you all. Amen.

Sent from Italy by Timothyus.

A Prologe vpon the Epistle of S. James and Judas.

Though this Epistle were refused in the old tyme, and denyed of many to be the Epistle of a very Apostle, and though also it laye not the foundation of the faith of Christ, but speaketh of a generall faith in God, neither preacheth his death and resurrection, either the mercie that is layed by in store for us in him, of everlasting covenant made us in his blood,

To the Hebr. Chapt. xiii.

which is the office and ducte of a very Apostle, as Christ sayeth. Thon xv. ye shall receive of me: yet because it setteth up no mans doctrine, but setteth to kepe the lawe of God, and maketh love which is without parcialitie, the fulfilling of the lawe, as Christ and all the Apostles did, and hath thereto so many good and Godly sentences in it: and hath also nothing that is not agreeable to the rest of the scripture, if it be looked indifferently on: me thinketh, it oughte of right to be taken for holy scripture. For as for that place for which haply it was at the beginning refused of holpe men as it ought, if it had meant as they take it, and for which place one tyme, for the false understandinge, it hath bene chiefly received of the Papistes: yet if the circumstances be well pondered, it will appeare that the authours entente was farre otherwys then they take hym for.

For where he sayeth in the second ch. sayeth without dedes is drabe in it selfe, he meaneth none other thing then all the scripture doeth: how that, that sayeth that hath no good dedes following, is a false faith, and none of þ sayth that iustifieth or receiveth forgiveness of synes. For God promysed them onely forgiveness of their synes which turn to God, to kepe his lawes.

Wherefore they þ purpose to continue still in synne, have no parte in that promise: but deceive themselves, if they beleve that God hath forgiven them their old synes for Christs sake. And after when he sayeth that a man is iustified by dedes, and not of faith onely, he wyl no more, then that sayth doth not so iustify every wher, that nothing iustifieth, save faith. For dedes also do iustify. And as sayeth onely iustifieth before God, so do dedes onely iustify before the world, whereof is enough spoken, partly in þ prologe on Paule to the Romaynes, and also in other places. For as Paule affirmeth. Rom. iii. that Abraham was not iustified by workes before God, but by faith onely, as Genesis beareth record, so wyl James, that dedes onely iustified hym before the world, and sayth wroughte with his dedes: that is to say, faith wherewith he was righteous before God in the herte, byd cause hym to worke the will of God outwardly, whereby he was righteous before þ world, and wherby the world perceived that he believed in God, loved and feared God. And as Hebr. xi. the scripture affirmeth that Iacob was iustified before God thow faith, so doth James affirm that thow workes, by which he shewed hym sayeth, he was iustified before the world, and it is true.

And as for the epistle of Judas, though men have and yet do doubt of the authour, and though it seme also to be drawn oute of the second Epistle of S. Peter, and thereto allethgeth scripture that is no wher found, yet sayng the matter is so Godly and agreynge to other places of holy scripture, I be not but that it ought to have the authority of holy scripture.

The epistle of the Apostle saynt James.

The first Chapter.

He treateth of patient suffering of persecution, teachynge from whence, and how Gods wisdom ought to be conquered therunto. The dispute he agaynst them which sayed they were

The Epistle of S. Paule

Iesus Christ yesterday, and to day, and the same continueth for ever. ¶ Be not troubled about with divers and strange learning. For it is a good thing, that the heart be established with grace, & not with meats, which they have not profited therein that have had their pasture in them. Wee have an altar, whereof they may not eat which serve in the tabernacle: For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought in to the holy place by high priest to purge same, are burnt without the tentes. ¶ Wherefore Iesus to sanctify the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

Let us go forth therefore out of the tentes, and suffer rebuke with him. For here have we no continuing city: but we seek one to come.

For by him offer we the sacrifice of laude, it wapes to God, that is to say, the scripture of those lippes, which confess his name. To do good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacrifices God is pleased. ¶ Obey them that have the oversight of you, and submitte your selves to them, for they watch for your soules, even as they that must give accomptes: that they maye do it with ioye, and not with griefe. For this is an unprofitable thing for you. ¶ For as we have confidence, because we have a good conscience in all things, and desire to live honestly, I desire you therefore some that the more abundantly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you quickly.

The God of peace that broughte againe from death our Lord Iesus, the great shepherd of the shepe, thow the blood of the everlastinge testamente, make you perfect in all good workes, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasaunt in his sight thow Iesus Christ. To whom be prayse for ever while the worlde endureth. Amen. **¶

I beseech you brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortacion. For we have writen unto you in few wordes: know the brother Symothe, whom we have sent from us, with whom (if he come hostelle) I will see you. Salute them that have the oversight of you, and all the sayntes. The prayer of Iulius salute you. Grace be with you all. Amen.

Sent from Italy by Timotheus.

A Prologe vnto

pon the Epistle of S. James and Iudas.

Though this Epistle were refused in the old tyme, and denyed of many to be the Epistle of a very Apostle, and though also it laye not the foundation of the faith of Christ, but speaketh of a generall faith in God, neither preacheth his death and resurrection, either the mercie that is layed by in rooze for us in him, of everlastinge covenant made us in his blood,

To the Hebr. Chapt. xiii.

which is the office and ductye of a very Apostle, as Christ sayeth. ¶ Iohn. xv. ye shall rejoyce of me: yet because it setteth up no mans doctrine, but teacheth to kepe the lawe of God, and maketh lout which is without parcialite, the fullfilling of the lawe, as Abille and al the Apostles did, & hath thereto so many good and Godly sentences in it: and hath also nothinge that is not agreeable to the rest of the scripture, if it be looked indifferently on: me thinketh, it oughte of right to be taken for holy scripture. For as for that place for which haply it was at the beryng refused of holpe men as it ought, if it had meant as they take it, and for which place one tye, for the false understandinge, it hath bene chiefly receyved of the papistes: yet if the circumstances be well pondered, it will appeare that the authours entente was farre otherwys then they take hym for.

For where he sayeth in the second ch. sayeth without dedes is drabe in it selfe, he meaneth none other thing then all the scripture doeth: how that, that sayeth that hath no good dedes following, is a false faith, and none of þ sayth that iustifyeth or receiveth forgiveness of synes. For God promysed them onely forgiveness of their synes which turn to god, to kepe his lawes.

Wherefore they þ purpose to contynue still in synne, have no parte in that promise: but deceive themselves, if they beleue that God hath forgiven them their old synes for Christes sake. And after when he sayeth that a man is iustified by dedes, and not of faith onely, he wyl no more, then that sayth doth not so iustifye euery wher, that nothing iustifyeth, save faith. For dedes also do iustify. And as sayeth onely iustifyeth before God, so do dedes onely iustify before the world, whereof is enough spoken, partly in þ prologe on Paule to the Romaynes, and also in other places. For as Paule affirmeth. Rom. iii. that Abraham was not iustified by workes before God, but by faith onely, as Genesis beareth record, so wyl James, that dedes onely iustified hym before the world, & sayth wroughte with hys dedes: that is to say, faith wherewith he was ryghtuous before God in the herte, byd cause hym to worke the wyl of God outwardly, where by he was ryghtuous before þ world, and wherby the world perceyved that he belued in God, loued and feared God. And as hebr. xi. the scripture affirmeth that Iacob was iustified before god thow faith, so doth James affirme that thow workes, by which he shewed hys faith, he was iustified before the world, and it is true.

And as for the epistle of Iudas, though men have and yet do doubt of the authour, and though it seme also to be drawen oute of the second Epistle of S. Peter, and thereto allethgeth scripture that is no wher found, yet sayng the matter is so Godly and agreynge to other places of holy scripture, I be not but that it ought to have the authority of holy scripture.

The epistle of the Apostle saynt James.

The first Chapter.

He treateth of patient suffering of persecution, teachynge from whence, & how Gods wysdom ought to be enquired therunto. The dispute he agaynst them which sayed they were

The Epyſtle of S.

were tempted of the Lord, and that god was the author of euyl, (than exhorteth he to cryſtall Goddes word in our tryngs, ſhewyng wpthall what reſpynge is.

A

James the ſeruaunte of God and of the lord Jeſus Chyiſt, ſendeth greting to the twelue tribes which are ſcattered here and ther. + My brethre, count it excedynge ioye

Roma. v. a when ye fall into dyuers temptacions, for as much as ye knowe how that the tryng of poure ſapth byngeth pacience: and let pacience haue hys perfect worke, þe ye may be perfect and (a) ſound, lacking nothing.

Mat. vii. a If any of you lacke wyſedome, let hym Mat. vii. c and. xxi. c. Mat. vii. c. Lu. xxi. b. Job. xiii. b. and. xvi. e. aſke of God, whych geueth to al men indifferently, and caſteth no man in the ſet: & it ſhal be geuen him. But lette him be in faith, and wauer not for he that doubteth is lyke the waves of the ſea, toſt of þe wind and carped with violence. Nextly let that man thinke, that he ſhal receiue any thing of the Lord. A wauering minded man is vnſtable in all his wayes.

B

Eccle. i. c. Eccl. i. xxi. b. (b) Let the brother of low degre reioice in that he is exalted, and the rich in that he is made lowe. For euen as the flower of the graſſe, ſhall he vanyſh away. The ſunne riſeth with heate, and the graſſe wydereth, and his flower falleth away, and the beauty of the faſhion of it perſheth, euẽ ſo ſhal the rich man perſh with his aboundaunce.

1. Petr. i. a. Job. v. c. Happy is the man that endureth in temptation, for when he is tried he ſhal receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promyſed to them that loue hym. +

Let no man ſay when he is tempted that he is tempted of God. For God (c) tempteth not vnto euyl, neptier tempteth he any man. But every man is tempted, drawn a waye, and entyled of his owne concupſcence. When when luſt hath conceived, ſhe bringeth forth ſyn, and ſyn when it is finiſhed, bringeth forth death.

Erre not my deare brethzen. + Everye good gifte, and every perfecte gift, is from aboue, and cometh downe from the father of light, with whom is no variablenes, neptier is he chaunged vnto darknes. Of his own wil begat he vs with the word of life, that we ſhuld be the firſt fruits of his creatures. Wherefore deare brethzen, let everye man be ſwift to hear, ſlowe to ſpeake, and ſlowe to wrath. For the wrath of man worketh not that which is rightuous before God. Wherefore lay apart filthines, all ſuperfluitie of maliciouſnes, & receiue with mekenes the worde that is grafted in you, which is able to ſaue your ſoules: +

C

Mat. vii. b. Roma. ix. b. + And ſe that ye be doers of the word & not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne ſelues with ſophiſtry. For if any hear the worde, and do it not, he is like vnto a man that beholdeth his bodely face in a glaſſe. For aſſone as he hath looked on him ſelfe, he go-

James, Chapter. ii. Fo. cix.

eth his waye, and forgetteth immediately what hys faſhion was. But whoſo loketh in the perfect law of liberty, and contynueth therein (if he be not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worcke) the ſame ſhall be happy in his dede. If any man among you ſeme deuout, and reſtaine not his tounge, but deceiue hys owne heart: this mans deuotion is in vayne. Pure deuotion and vndeſiled before God the father is this, to viſite the fatherles and wyddowes in ther aduerſitie, and to kepe hym ſelfe vnſpotted of the world. +

The Notes.

(a) Sound, after the Hebrewes ſynagoga hym þ in leauinge the wiſedome of the chyldren of this world, and procuring for his own profit, ſpueth a ſimple lyfe and without blame. Such one was Jacob, of whom Genel. xxi. b.

(b) In Chyiſt we are al lyke good, and euen ſeruauntes eche to other for Chyiſtes ſake, curye man in hys office. And he that taketh more on hym then that, of whatſoever degre he be, is a falſe Chyiſtian, and an Apoſtata from Chyiſte.

(c) Almighty God hath alway tempted and proued his elect, by trouble and perſecucion, & by nouriſhing them with outward plagis. Neuertheles, he doeth it not vnto euyl, but for good, namely becauſe he loueth them & will haue theſe ſapth exerceſed. Thus tepted he Abraham, Genel. xxi. & the Iſraelites, Deut. vii. & ſo for the temptation that we pray in the Vater noſter to be deſpyered from us, is the luſte and concupſcence of our fleſhe, wherby we are entyled to euyl.

The. ii. Chapter.

He ſpeaketh agaynſt the acception of perſons, teachyng to obſerue in all thyngs þ lawe of charity. Than enuery he agaynſt ſwelling through the vaine title of ſapth, teachyng that ſapth except it worke, is dead & vnprouſtable.

Brethzen haue not the ſapth of oure Lord Jeſus Chyiſt, the lord of glory in reſpect of perſons. If ther come into your company a man with a golden rypg & in goodly apparel, and there come in alſo a poore man in vble raimente: and ye haue a reſpecte to hym that weareth the gaye clothyng, and ſaye vnto hym Sit thou here in a good place: and ſay vnto the poore, ſtand thou ther, or ſit here vnder my ſoteſtole, ar ye not parcial in your ſelues, and haue iudged after euyl thoughtes?

Harken my deare beloued brethzen. Hath not God choſen the poore of this worlde, whych are rych in ſapth, and heires of the kyngdome whiche he promyſed to the that loue hym? But ye haue deſpyſed the poore. Are not the rycher they which oppreſſe you? and they whiche drawe you before iudges? Do not ther ſpeake euyl of that good name after which ye be named.

If ye fulfill þ royal law accordyng to the ſcripture whych ſapth: Thou ſhalt loue thy neyghboure as thy ſelfe, ye doo well. But if ye regarde one perſon more then another, ye commytte ſinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as tranſgreſſours. Whoſoener ſhall kepe the whole lawe, and yet ſaple in one poynte, he is gylty in all.

For he that ſaped thou ſhalt not commit

Tit. iii. ad

Pure deuotion.

Sound.

Let the brother.

God tempteth not.

A

Leu. xix.

The Epistle of Sayntte :

aduoutye faped also: thou shalt not kyll. Though thou do none aduoutye, yet if thou kyll thou arte a transgressor of the lawe.

So speake ye, and so do, as they that shall be iudged by the law of libertie. For they sheweth no mercy, and mercy reioysseth against iudgemente.

What auapleteth it my brethren, though a man sape he hath fapeth, when he hath no dedes? (a) Can fapeth saue hym? If a brother or a sister be naked or destitute of dayly fode, and one of you say vnto them: Departe in peace, God sende you warmenes and fode; not wpythstandyng ye geue them not those thyngs whych are nedeful to the body, what healeth it then? Euen so faith if it haue no dedes is deade in it selfe. Yea and a man myghte sape: Thou haste fapth and I haue dedes: Shewe me thy fapth by thy dedes, and I wyll shewe the my fapth by my dedes. Beleuest thou that ther is one God? Thou doest wel. The deuyls also beleue and tremble.

Wpste thou vnderstande (D) thou vaine man) that fapeth wpythout dedes is deade. Was not Abraham oure father (b) iustified thowowe workes when he offered Isaac his son vpon the altier? Thou seest howe that fapeth wrought wpyth his dedes, & through the dedes hys fapth was made perfect, and the scripture was fulfilled whych fapth: Abraham beleued God and it was reputed vnto hym for rightuousnes, and he was called the frende of God. (c) * Ye se then how that of dedes a man is iustified, and not of fapth onely. Like wyle also was not Isaac the harlot iustified thowowe workes, whiche receiued the messengers, and sent them out another waye? For as the body wpythout the spirite is deade, euen so fapeth wpythout dedes is deade.

The Notes.

(a) James speaketh not here of the true and liuely fapeth which by loue is myghtie in operation. But of the vaine imaginatiou and opinion that the vnthankful people haue of faith. And because there foloweth no good workes of it, he calleth it deade fapeth, where contrary wyle the fapeth wherby we be accepted & made iust in the sight of God, byngeth forth good workes plentifully.

(b) Too be iustified in this place, and thowowe out this whole Chapter, is to be declared iust in the sight of the worlde, as in Luke. x. x. & xxi. d. not to be made iust in the sight of God. So that when he saith: Was not Abraham oure father made iust thowowe workes. he meaneth this. Was not oure father Abraham, by his workes declared iust? That is, byd not his workes declare and shewe that he was iust, and were sure tokens of his rightuousnes? It significeth not that Abraham was by his workes made iust before God, reputed rightous, and obtained remission of synnes: For by faith he came thereby as witnesseth Paule. Rom. iii. a.

(c) That is by the workes of iustice, the manne that doth them is declared to be iust, euen as the good tre is knowen by the good fruite that it byngeth forth. Other interpretation maye wee make none of this place. For there coulde nothyng be more folowynge then this sayinge of James, if a man woulde thus enterprete it. And no man obtayneth remission of syns, but because his workes are worthy of greate benefyte.

Judas. Chap. iii.

What so euer he be that speaketh by this interpretation vnderstandeth not what remission of synnes is, or how the conscience oughte to be comforted when it seeth that it byngeth no good workes, whych are sufficiente to please hym.

Yea this interpretation is cleane contrarye to other open sayings of the scripture, whych teach that remission of synnes cometh freely, as the Psalmist saith: I wyll acknowledge myne offence vnto the lord, and thou forgavest me the wickednes of my synne. And Rom. iii. a. To hym that worketh not, but beleueth on hym that iustifyeth the vngodly. What canne be more playnely spoken then that synnes are forgiven to the wicked and vngodly man that worketh not, not for anye of his workes, but freely. To conclude, if the gospel forgue not syns but for our good workes sake, and for our worthynes, it differeth nothyng from the lawe, nor saueeth any more then the lawe. I trust this wyl suffice the good and wise. For as touching them that byng nothyng vnto this cause, but a wil to braule and chide, wyl neuer suffer them selues to be satisfied. And yet if wee woulde contend by the number of authorities, this one place of James, is ouerthrowen by many testimonies of .i. Paul. If men wyl vnderstand by iustification one thyng in the both. When Paule therfore saith: fapth iustifyeth vnderstande there by that fapth causeth that we be accepted iust reputed rightous, & that oure syns be not imputed vnto vs, but forgiven vs for Christes sake. When James saith, workes iustifyeth, he meaneth thus: Workes declare vs iust, and shewe euidently that we be rightous. Thus shalt thou make the accord. Place faileth me (D reader) rather then tyme or wyl, or else woulde I yet haue spoken more of this thyng.

The iii. Chapter

He fapeth such as being vnable to teach, deceyve the office. Then teacheth he howe to orde the tong & wyl, whych are two chiefe pointes in a preacher, shewing what is the propriete of them, how they should be geded.

My brethren be not euerp man a master, remembryng how that we shal receyue the more damnacion: for in many thynges we synne all. If a man syn not in woordes, the same is a perfecte man and able to tame all the bodye. Beholde we put byttes into the horses mouthes that they shoulde obey vs, and we tourne about at the bodye. Behold also the byppes whiche though they be so greate and are dyuen of fiers wyndes, yet are they tourned aboute wpyth a very small helme, whether soeuer the violence of the gouernour wil. Euen so the tounge is a lyttell member, and boasteth greate thynges.

Beholde howe greate a thyng a lytell fyre kndeleth, and the tounge is fyre, and a woulde of wickednes. So is the tong set amonge oure members, that it defileth the whole bodye, and setteth a fyre all that we haue of nature, and is it self set a fyre even of hell.

The Epistle of S.

W All the natures of beastes, and of byrds, and of serpentes, and things of the sea, are meked and tamed of the nature of mā. But the tong can no man tame. It is an vnculp euil, ful of deadly popson. Therwith blesse we God the father, and therwith curse we men which are made after the symplectude of God. Out of one mouth proceedeth blesse spunge & cursunge. My brethren these thinges ought not so to be. Both a fountayne send forth at one place swete water & bytter also? Can the figgetree, my Brethren, beare olpue berries: epther a vyne beare spgges? So canne no fountayne geue both salt water and freche also. If anye man be wyse and endued wth learyng amonge you, let him shewe the workes of his good conuersacion in mekenes that is coupled wth^h wisdom.

Wisdom.
At mekenes
& obedience, must be ac-
coydinge to the wisdom
and word
of God.

But if ye haue byttet enuynges & stryfe in your hertes receyue not: nepther be ly-ch is a man
both wout
the spirit of God.
Gothye
wyldome
how it is known.

That is al as agaynst the truth. This wysedome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, and natural, and deuylishe. For where enuy-ing and stryfe is, ther is vniableness and al manner of euil workes. But the wysedome that is from aboue, is full pure, then peaceable, getle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy, and of good frutes, without iudgeynge, and without simulacion: pea & the fruit of rightuousnes is sown in peace, of them that mainteine peace.

The.iii. Chapter.

He enuyeth soe agaynst the study for piuare lurre, shewing what puny. hmet the aus-tricious Mal haue. Then he rebuketh back byters and euill speakers. Laste he disputeth a-gaynt those whych throughe a proud presumpcion of mynde purpose to doo all thynges by theyr owne counsaile, not by the prouidence
of God.

From whence cometh war and fightynge among you: come they not here of your voluptuousnes, & rapne in your members? Ye lust and haue not. ye enuye and haue indignacion, and cannot obtayne. ye fyght and war, & haue not, because ye are not. ye are and receyue not, because ye are amisse: euen to consume it vpon your voluptuousnes. Ye aduoute-rats, and women that breake matrimony:
know ye not howe that the friendshippe of the worlde is enmitie to Godward? Whosoeuer will be a friend of the worlde, is made the enemy of God. Either do ye thyncke & the scripture sayeth in baine. The * spiryte that dwelleth in you, lusteth euen to stryfe to enuy, but geueth more grace.

Streple
whence it
cometh.
Why men
obtain not.

He is so lo-
ued of the worlde, is hated of
God.

Christe spe-
et, which is in al that be hye. No.
vnto. resp-
deth hate,
enuye, and
all sonne.
Whole ma-
tion if we follow grace enrea-
sith in vs, &
before the Lorde, and he shall lyft you vp.

Submytte your selues to God, & resp-the deupll, and he wpll lyfe sed you. Draw nye to God, and he wpll drawe nye to you.
Clenze poure handes ye spinners, & poure poure hertes ye waueryng myneds. Suffer a llycepon: so lowe ye and wepe. Let poure laughte be turned to mournyng, and poure ioye to heaupnes. Cast downe poure selues before the Lorde, and he shall lyft you vp.

James. Chapter. iiii. Fo. cc.

Bickbyte not one another, brethren. He that backbityeth his brother, & he that iudgeth his brother, backbityeth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe. But if thou iudge the lawe, thou arte not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge. There is one lawe geuer, which is able to saue and to destroy. What art thou that iudgeth another man?

Go to now ye that say, to daye & to mo-rowe, lette vs go into such a citty and continue there a peare, and bye and sell, & wpe:
and yet cannot tell what shall happen too-morrow. For what thyng is your lyfe? It is euen a vapoure that appeareth for a litle tyme, and then vanissheth awaye. For that ye ought to saye: if the Lord will, and if we lyue, let vs do thys or that. But now ye re-ioyce in your boastynge. Al such reioysing is euill. Therfore to him (a) that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not, to hym it is synne.

lustes me-
th. there he saye
eth. Submitte your selues to
God. &c.
He & back-
bityeth of iudgeth his brother, doeth iudge & lawe to be euill for & same forbyddeth to do so.

The Notes.

(a) He that knoweth and yet doeth not, is without excuse. For God hath promysed no mercy, but to them that will do theyr good will.

The.v. Chapter.

First he enuyeth agaynst seuerall vices, as iniquitye and tyranny of rich men. Then con-fesseth he the afflicted, perswadyng them to be patient: he forbyddeth swearynge, he teacheth what to do for the synne, he sheweth the fruite of deuout prayer, and byddeth to byng vnto the way agayne suche as go astraye.

Go to now ye ryche men. Weepe, and howle on your wretchednes that shall come vpon you. your riches is corrupt, your garmentes are motheaten. your gold
and your syluer are cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness vnto you, and shall eate your flesh, as it were fyre. ye haue heaped treasure together in your laste dayes: Beholde the hye of the labourers whiche haue reaped doune your fieldes (whiche hie is of you kepte backe by fraud) cryeth: and the cryes of them whiche haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord Sabaoth.
Ye haue lued in pleasure on the earth and in wantonnes. ye haue nourished your her-tes as in a day of a slaughter ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuste, & he hath not respited you.

Be ye patient therefore brethren, vnto the comyng of the Lord. Behold the husband man waighteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience thervpon, vntill he receyue the earlye and the latter (b) rapne. Be ye also patient therefore, and settle your hertes, for the comyng of the Lord draweth nye. Grudge not one agaynst another brethren, lest ye be damp-
ned. Beholde the iudge standeth before the dore. Take (my brethren) the prophetes for an example of sufferyng aduersitye, and of longe patience, whiche spake in the name of the Lorde. &

Behold we count the happy which endure, ye haue heard of the patience of Job, and

att. iii. haue

The Epistle of S.

W All the natures of beastes, and of byrds, and of serpentes, and things of the sea, are meked and tamed of the nature of mā. But the tong can no man tame. It is an vnculp euil, ful of deadly popson. Therwith blesse we God the father, and therwith curse we men which are made after the symplectude of God. Out of one mouth proceedeth blesse spunge & cursunge. My brethren these thinges ought not so to be. Both a fountayne send forth at one place swete water & bytter also? Can the figgetree, my Brethren, beare olpue berries: epther a vyne beare spgges? So canne no fountayne geue both salt water and freche also. If anye man be wyse and endued wth learyng amonge you, let him shewe the workes of his good conuersacion in mekenes that is coupled wth^h wisdom.

Wisdom.
At mekenes
& obedience,
must be ac-
coydinge to
the wisdom
and word
of God.

W But if ye haue byttet enuynges & stryfe in your hertes receyue not: nepther be ly- ches a man as agaynst the truth. This wysedome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, and natural, and deuylishe. For where enuyng and stryfe is, ther is vniableness and al manner of euil workes. But the wysedome that is from aboue, is spylt pure, then pe- ceable, getle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy, and of good frutes, without iud- geyng, and without simulacion: pea & the frute of rightuousnes is sown in peace, of them that mainteine peace.

The.iii. Chapter.

W He enuyeth soe agaynst the study for pi- uare lurre, shewing what puny. hmet the au- ricious shal haue. Then he rebuketh backby- ters and euill speakers. Laste he disputeth agaynt those whych throughe a proud presump- cyon of mynde purpose to doo all thynges by theyr owne counsaile, not by the prouidence of God.

F From whence cometh war and figh- tynge among you: come they not here- bynce? euen of your voluptuousnes, & rapne in your members? Ye lust and haue not. ye enuye and haue indignacion, and cannot obtayne. ye fyght and war, & haue not, because ye are not. ye are and receyue not, because ye are amisse: euen to consume it vpon your voluptuousnes. Ye aduoute- rats, and women that breake matrimony: know ye not howe that the friendshippe of the worlde is enmytie to Godward? Who- soeuer will be a friend of the worlde, is made the enemy of God. Either do ye thyncke & the scripture sayeth in baine. The * spiryte that dwelleth in you, lusteth euen to stryfe to enuy, but geueth more grace.

Streple
Whence it
cometh.
Why men
obtain not.

He is so lo-
ued of the worlde, is hated of
God.

Christe sp-er, which is in al that be hye. 120.
vnt. resp-
deth hate,
enuye, and
all sonne.
Whole ma-
tion if we follow grace enuea-
sely in vs, &

Submytte your selues to God, & resp-the deupll, and he wpll sipe frō you. Draw npe to God, and he wpll drawe npe to you.
Clenſe poure handes pe spinners, & poure poure hertes pe waueryng mynded. Suffer a lpecepon solowe pe and wepe. Let poure laughte be turned to mournyng, and poure rope to heaupnes. Cast downe poure selues before the Lorde, and he shall lyft you vp.

James. Chapter. iiii. Fo. cc.

W Ickbyte not one another, brethren. He that backbityeth his brother, & he that iudgeth his brother, backbityeth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe. But if thou iudge the lawe, thou arte not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge. There is one lawe geuer, which is able to saue and to destroy. What art thou that iudgeth another man?

Go to now ye that say, to daye & to mo-rowe, lette vs go into such a ctyte and continue there a peare, and bye and sell, & wpe:
and yet cannot tell what shall happen too-morrow. For what thyng is your lyfe? It is euen a vapoure that appeareth for a lyttel spine, and then vanissheth awaye. For that ye ought to saye: if the Lord will, and if we lyue, let vs do thys or that. But now ye re-ioyce in poure boastynge. Al such reioysing is euill. Therfore to him (a) that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not, to hym it is synne.

lustes me-
th. there he say-
eth. Submitte your selues to
God. 12.
He & back-
bityeth of iudgeth his brother, do-
eth iudge & lawe to be euill for &
same forbyddeth to do so.

The Notes.

(a) He that knoweth and yet doeth not, is without excuse. For God hath promysed no mercy, but to them that wpll do theyr good wpll.

The.v. Chapter.

First he enuyeth agaynst seuerall synes, iniquitye and tyranny of ryche men. Then con-fyrth he the afflicted, perswadyng them to be patient: he forbyddeth swearynge, he teacheth what to do for the synne, he sheweth the
fruite of deuout prayer, and byddeth to byng vnto the way agayne such as go astraye.

Go to now ye ryche men. Weepe, and howle on your wretchednes that shall come vpon you. your riches is corrupt,
your garmentes are motheaten. your gold
and your syluer are cankered, and the rust
of them shall be a witness vnto you, and shall eate your flesh, as it were fyre. ye haue heaped treasure together in your laste dayes: Beholde the hye of the labourers whych haue reaped doune your fieldes (whych hye is of you kepte backe by fraud) cryeth: and
the cryes of them whiche haue reaped, are
entred into the eares of the lord Sabaoth.
Ye haue lued in pleasure on the earth and
in wantonnes. ye haue nourished your her-tes as in a day of a slaughter ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuste, & he hath
not respited you.

We pe patiente therefore brethren, vnto the comyng of the Lord. Behold the husband man waighteth for the precious frute of the earch, and hath long patience thervpon, vntyll he receyue the earlye and the latter (b) rapne. We pe also patient therefore, and sette your hertes, for the comyng of the Lord draweth npe. Grudge not one agaynst another brethren, lest ye be damp-
ned. Beholde the iudge standeth before the dore. Take (my brethren) the prophetes for an example of lust cryng aduersitie, and of longe patience, whych spake in the name of the Lorde. &

Behold we count the happy which endure.
ye haue hearde of the patience of Job, and
ytt. iii. haue

spe

The Epylle of Sayncte.

hane knowen what ende þ lord made. For the Lord is very pytyful and merciful.

But aboue al thynges my brethren, sweare not, neyther by heauen, neyther by earth, neyther by any other othe. Let poue. e. be pea. and poue nape, nape. lest ye fall into hyppocrisie. If any of you be euyl bered, let him praye. If any of you be merke, let hym sing psalmes. If any be dysleasid among you, let hym call for the elders of the congregacion, and let them praye ouer him and anoynte hym with oyle in the name of the Lorde, and the prayer of fapth shall saue the soule, and the Lorde shall rase hym up: and if he haue committed synnes, they shall be forgiven hym.

Knowledge your fautes one to another and pray one for another, þ pe may be healed. The prayer of a rightouse man auayleth much if it be feruent. Elias was a mortal, euen as we are and he prayed in his prayer that it myghte not raine, & it rained not on the earth by the space of thre yeres & thre monethes. And he prayed agayne, & the heauen gaue raine, & the earth brought forth her fruite.

Brethren if any of you erre fro the truth & another conuert him, let the same know þ he which conuerted the sinner fro goyng astray out of his way, shall saue a soule fro death, & shall hyde the multitude of synnes.

The Notes.

(a) That is when me hyl be akes to make chere withal. And as the Jewes dyd in thair thanche offerynges, &c.

(b) The housband menne do compte vpon two thynges especially. The one in sowing tyme, and the other at blowyng tyme. And if eyther of these lacke, it is fruitelesse.

(c) Whether ye say pea or nape: se it be so. For if ye haue on thyng in the hert, and an other in the mouth or dede, in vesture or gesture, it is hyppocrisie or dysimulation.

(d) Into the prayer of fapth ascribeth he the obtaynyng of saluacion, not vnto the anoyntynge, nor to the oyle. Among those nations vnto whom S. James wrote this Epylle it was the maner to anoynte the body with the which chynge Chyrist commaundeth his Apostles to do. And oyle vnto manye dyscaises is a whole some medicine. We wyth whom su. he annoyntynge is not in vsc mope vnder the name of oyle vnderstande the offyce and dutye of charite, in ministringe vnto the soules, suche thynges as he needeth.

The ende of the Epylle of saynt James.

The cpylle of the Apostle Sayncte,

Judas.

He exhorte the sayntes to goo forwarde in the fapth, and that they helpe other, and then to expelle the treuth of the gospell by good wordes, and to beware of deceyvers whome he parnteth out playnly, thicateninge withal theyr destruction.

Judas. Chap. i.

Judas the Seruaunte of Iesus Christ the brother of James. To them whych are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesu Chyrist. Grete vnto you and peace, and loue be multiplied. Beloued when I gaue all diligence to wyte vnto you of the comen saluacion, it was neede full for me too wyte vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shoulde continuallye laboure in the fapth whiche was once geuen vnto the sayntes. For other are certayne crafty crepte in, of whych it was wyte afore tyme vnto su che iudgement. They are vngodly and soune the grace of our Lord vnto wantonnes, and deure God the onelpe Lord and our Lord Iesus Chyrist.

Apphnd is therfore to put you in remembrance for as much as ye once know this, how that the Lord after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt desioyed them whiche afterwarde beleued not. The aungels also whiche kepte not thei spise estate, but leste their owne habitacion, he hath reserved in euellastynge chains vnder darckenes vnto the iudgement of the greate day, euen as Sodome and Gomor, and the ctytes aboute them whych in lyke maner despyled themselves with fornicacion and folowed straunge fleshe) are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fyre. Likewyse these dreamers deile the fleshe, dyspysse rulers, and speake euill of them that are in authoritye.

Yet Michael the archangell when he stroue agaynst the deuyll and disputed aboute the bodye of Moyses, durst not geue raplyng sentence, but sayed, the Lorde rebuke the. But these speake euill of those thynges they knowe not, and what thynges they knowe naturally, as beastes whiche are wpythout reason, in those thynges they corrupt them selues. Wo be vnto the, for they haue folowed the waye of Cayne, and are vtterly geuen to the erreure of Balam for lukers sake, and perpye in the treason in Core.

These are spottes whych of your kyndnes feast together, wpythout feare, sedynge the selues. Cloudes they are wpythout water, carryed about of wyndes, and trees without fruit at gathering tyme, twyse dead & plucked by by the rotes. They are the rapynge waues of the sea, fomyng out their owne shame. They are wandyrng stais. to who is reserved þ mist of darcknes for ever.

Enoch, the seuenth from Adam, prophesied before of suche, sayinge: Beholde, the Lord shall come wpyth thousands of sayntes to geue iudgemente against al men, and to rebuke al that are vngodly amonge them of they vngodly dedes, whych they haue vngodly comitted and of al they cruell speakynges, whych vngodly synners haue spoken agaynst him.

These are murmurers, complainers, walkyng after 18

1. Au. xii. c.

Gene. xii. c.
Strange
fleete that is turnyng
the natural vse vnto
the vn-
naturall.
Rom. i.
Iacob. i. c.
Eccl. iii. d.

Gene. iii. a
Ru. xvii. a
D

ii. Pet. ii. a

Appoc. i. d

The Epylle of Sayncte.

hane knowen what ende þ lord made. For the Lord is very pytyful and merciful.

But aboue al thynges my brethren, sweare not, neyther by heauen, neyther by earth, neyther by any other othe. Let poue. e. be pea. and poue nape, nape. lest ye fall into hyppocrisie. If any of you be euyl bered, let him praye. If any of you be merke, let hym sing psalmes. If any be dysleasid among you, let hym call for the elders of the congregacion, and let them praye ouer him and anoynte hym with oyle in the name of the Lorde, and the prayer of fapth shall saue the soule, and the Lorde shall rase hym up: and if he haue committed synnes, they shall be forgiven hym.

Knowledge your fautes one to another and pray one for another, þ pe may be healed. The prayer of a rightouse man auayleth much if it be feruent. Elias was a mortal, euen as we are and he prayed in his prayer that it myghte not raine, & it rained not on the earth by the space of thre yeres & thre monethes. And he prayed agayne, & the heauen gaue raine, & the earth brought forth her fruite.

Brethren if any of you erre fro the truth & another conuert him, let the same know þ he which conuerted the sinner fro goyng astray out of his way, shall saue a soule fro death, & shall hyde the multitude of synnes.

The Notes.

(a) That is when me hyl be akes to make chere withal. And as the Jewes dyd in thair thanche offerynges, &c.

(b) The housband menne do compte vpon two thynges especially. The one in sowing tyme, and the other at blowyng tyme. And if eyther of these lacke, it is fruitelesse.

(c) Whether ye say pea or nape: se it be so. For if ye haue on thyng in the hert, and an other in the mouth or dede, in vesture or gesture, it is hyppocrisie or dysimulation.

(d) Into the prayer of fapth ascribeth he the obtaynyng of saluacion, not vnto the anoyntynge, nor to the oyle. Among those nations vnto whom S. James wrote this Epylle it was the maner to anoynte the body with the which chynge Chyrist commaundeth his Apostles to do. And oyle vnto manye dyscaises is a whole some medicine. We wyth whom su. he annoyntynge is not in vsc mope vnder the name of oyle vnderstande the offyce and dutye of charite, in ministringe vnto the soules, suche thynges as he needeth.

The ende of the Epylle of saynt James.

The cpylle of the Apostle Sayncte,

Judas.

He exhorte the sayntes to goo forwarde in the fapth, and that they helpe other, and then to expelle the treuth of the gospell by good wordes, and to beware of deceyvers whome he parnteth out playnly, thicateninge withal theyr destruction.

Judas. Chap. i.

Judas the Seruaunte of Iesus Christ the brother of James. To them whych are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesu Chyrist. Grete vnto you and peace, and loue be multiplied. Beloued when I gaue all diligence to wyte vnto you of the comen saluacion, it was neede full for me too wyte vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shoulde continuallye laboure in the fapth whiche was once geuen vnto the sayntes. For other are certayne crafty crepte in, of whych it was wyte afore tyme vnto su che iudgement. They are vngodly and soune the grace of our Lord vnto wantonnes, and deure God the onelp Lord and our Lord Iesus Chyrist.

Apphnd is therfore to put you in remembrance for as much as ye once know this, how that the Lord after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt desioyed them whiche afterwarde beleued not. The aungels also whiche kepte not thei spise estate, but leste their owne habitacion, he hath reserved in euellasyng chains vnder darckenes vnto the iudgement of the greate day, euen as Sodome and Gomor, and the ctytes aboute them whych in lyke maner despyled themselves with fornicacion and folowed straunge fleshe) are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fyre. Likewyse these dreamers deile the fleshe, dyspysse rulers, and speake euill of them that are in authoritye.

Yet Apchaell the archangell when he stroue agaynst the deuyll and disputed aboute the bodye of Moyses, durst not geue raylpyng sentence, but sayed, the Lorde rebuke the. But these speake euill of those thynges they knowe not, and what thynges they knowe naturally, as beastes whiche are wpythout reason, in those thynges they corrupt them selues. Wo be vnto the, for they haue folowed the waye of Cayne, and are vtterly geuen to the erreure of Balam for lukers sake, and perpye in the treason in Core.

These are spottes whych of your kyndnes feast together, wpythout feare, sedpyng the selues. Cloudes they are wpythout water, carryed about of wyndes, and trees without fruit at gathering tyme, twyse dead & plucked by by the rotes. They are the raypyng waves of the sea, fomyng out their owne shame. They are wanderyng stais. to who is reserved þ mist of darcknes for ever.

Enoch, the seuenth from Adam, prophesied before of suche, sayinge: Beholde, the Lord shall come wpyth thousands of sayntes to geue iudgemente against al men, and to rebuke al that are vngodly amonge them of theyr vngodly dedes, whych they haue vngodly comitted and of al theyr cruell speakynges, whych vngodly synners haue spoken agaynst him.

These are murmurers, complainers, walkyng after

18
1. Au. xii. c.

Gene. xii. c.
Strange
fleete that is turnyng
the natural vse vnto
the vn-
naturall.
Rom. i.
Iacob. i. c.
Eccl. iii. d.

Gene. iii. a
Ru. xvii. a
D

ii. Pet. ii. a

Appoc. i. d

after their own lusts, whose mouths speke proud thynges. They haue men in great reverence because of a vantage. But ye beloved remember the wordes whiche wer spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesu Christ, how that they told you, that they should be begilers in the last tyme, whiche should walke after their owne vngodlye lustes. These are makers of sectes, fleshy, hauing no spire.

1. iiii. a.
11. iii. a.
12. ii. b.

But ye dearly beloved, edifye your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy goost, & kepe your selues in the loue of god, lookinge for the mercye of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternal life. And haue compassion on some seperating them: & other saue with feare (pulling them out of the fyre) & hate the filthye desire of the fleche. Vnto him that is able to kepe you, & ye shal not, & to preserve you faultles before the presence of his glory with ioy, that is to saie, to god our saupour whiche only is wyle, be glory, maiesty, dominion and power, now and for ever. Amen.

The Revela

cyon of S. Iohn the Diuine.

The first Chapter.

The spire vpon the wether by whose commaundement, and for what cause this booke was wyrtten, which is taught by the figure of the candelstickes and starrs.

A

Revelacyon of Iesus Christ, which God gaue vnto him, for to shew vnto his seruants, thynges which must shortly come to passe. And he sent and shewed by his angel vnto his seruant Iohn which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Iesu Christ, and of all thynges he saw. Happy is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of the prophesie, and kepe those thynges whiche are wyrtte therein. For the tyme is at hande.

B

Iohn to the seven congregacions in Asia, Grace be with you and peace fro him which is, and whiche was, and whiche is to come, and from the seven spires which are present before his throne, and from Iesus Christ, which is a faithful witnes, and first begotten of the deade, and Lord ouer the kynges of the earth. Vnto him that loueth vs and washed vs from synnes in his owne bloude & made vs kynges and priestes vnto God his father, be glory and dominion for evermore. Amen.

Beholde he cometh with cloudes, and all eyes shall see him: and they also whiche perished him. And all kyntedes of the earth shall wyle. Euen so: Amen. I am (a) Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng and the endyng, saith the Lord almighty, whiche is, which was, and which is to come.

I Iohn your brother and companion in tribulacion, and in the kingdome and patience whiche is in Iesu Christ, was in the yle of Pathmos for the wordes of God, and for the witnessing of Iesu Christ. I was in the spire on a sondaie: and heard behynde me a grete voice, as it had bene of a trumpet sayinge: I am Alpha and Omega, the first & the last. That thou seeest wyrtte in a booke, and send it vnto the congregacions which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicia.

Pathmos
Sardis

And I turned backe to see the voice that spake vnto me. And when I was turned, I sawe seven golden candelstickes, and in the middes of the candelstickes one, like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a lunné garment doun to the ground, and girded about the pappes with a golden gyrdle. His head and his heates were whyte as whyt wolle, and as snow: and his eyes wer as a flame of fyre: and his feete lyke vnto brasse, as though they bent in a fornaice: & his voice as the sound of many waters.

Seven golden candelstickes

And he had in his right hand seven starrs. And oute of his mouth wente a sharpe two edged sword. And his face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

Seven starrs at the preachers.

And when I saw him, I fel at his feete, euen as dead. And he laide his right hande vpon me, sayinge vnto me: feare not, I am the first, and the last, and am alpye, & was dead. And behold I am alpye for evermore, and haue the keyes of hell and of death. Wyrtte therefore the thynges whiche thou hast sene, and the thynges whiche are, and the thynges whiche shal be fulfilled hereafter: and the mistery of the seven starrs, whiche thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candelstickes. The seven starrs (b) are the messengers of the seven congregacions. And the seven candelstickes whiche thou sawest, are the seven congregacions.

The Notes.

(a) Alpha and Omega, are letters of the Greke crose rowe. Alpha is the first letter, and Omega the last. Wherfore in thys wyrtynge, they call the first and the last by the names of those letters.

Is for spire

(b) No man can denye, but that in thys place the verbe (Is, or are) is taken for signyfyce. For the sentence geueth that the wordes sound thus much: The seven starrs signyfy the seven messengers of the seven congregacions. And the seven candelstickes signyfy the vii. churches or congregacions. In like maner is it to be taken in all other places of the scripture, where anye thyng is taught by signes or sacramentes. As in the xli. Chapter of Genes. The seven ear of wheat are vii. yeres of plenty. And in the xlii. of Exod. Ye shall eat it in haste, for it is the Lordes passover. Manye like places are there in the scriptures. As in the xlii. of Genes. (gentile brethren) though our saupour Christ in the wordes of yps last supper (wher in he instructed his disciples of the dysceburynge of his bodye and bloude among

The vii. churches in Asia.

Col. i. c.
1. Cor. x. c.
Hebr. x. d.
1. Peter. i. b.
1. Iohn. i. d.
1. Iohn. i. d.
1. Iohn. i. d.
1. Iohn. i. d.
1. Iohn. i. d.

after their own lusts, whose mouths speke proud thynges. They haue men in great reverence because of a vantage. But ye beloved remember the wordes whiche wer spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesu Christ, how that they told you, that they should be begilers in the last tyme, whiche should walke after their owne vngodlye lustes. These are makers of sectes, fleshy, hauing no spūte.

1. iiii. a.
11. iii. a.
12. ii. b.

But ye dearly beloved, edifye your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy goſt, & kepe your selues in the loue of god, lookinge for the mercye of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternal life. And haue compassion on some seperating them: & other saue with feare (pulling them out of the fyre) & hate the filthye desire of the fleſhe. Vnto him that is able to kepe you, & ye shal not, & to preserve you faultles before the presence of his glory with ioy, that is to saie, to god our saupour whiche only is wylde, be glory, maiesty, dominion and power, now and for ever. Amen.

The Revela

cyon of S. Iohn the Diuine.

The first Chapter.

The spūte vpon the wyth by whose commaundement, and for what cause this booke was wyrtten, which is taught by the figure of the candelstickes and starrs.

The revelacyon of Iesus Christ, which God gaue vnto him, for to shew vnto his seruaunts, thynges which must shortly come to passe. And he sent and shewed by his angel vnto his seruaunt Iohn which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Iesus Christ, and of all thynges he saw. Happy is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of the prophesie, and kepe those thynges whiche are wyrtten therein. For the tyme is at hande.

Iohn to the seven congregacions in Asia, Grace be with you and peace fro him which is, and which was, and which is to come, and from the seven spūtes which are present before his throne, and from Iesus Christ, which is a faithful witnes, and first begotten of the deade, and Lord ouer the kynges of the earth. Vnto him that loueth vs and washed vs from synnes in his owne bloude & made vs kynges and priestes vnto God his father, be glory and dominion for evermore. Amen.

The vii. churches in Asia.

Col. i. c. c.
1. Cor. x. c.
1. Thon. i. b.
1. Thon. i. b.
1. Thon. i. b.
1. Thon. i. b.
1. Thon. i. b.
1. Thon. i. b.

Beholde he cometh with cloudes, and all eyes shall see him: and they also whiche perſed him. And all kyntedes of the earth shall wyle. Euen so: Amen. I am (a) Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng and the endyng, saith the Lord almighty, whiche is, which was, and which is to come.

I Iohn your brother and companion in tribulacion, and in the kingdome and patience whiche is in Iesu Christ, was in the yle of Pathmos for the wordes of God, and for the witnessing of Iesu Christ. I was in the spūte on a sondaie: and heard behynde me a grete voice, as it had bene of a trumpet sayinge: I am Alpha and Omega, the first & the last. That thou seeſt wyrtte in a booke, and send it vnto the congregacions which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicia.

Pathmos & Sondaie.

And I turned backe to see the voice that spake vnto me. And when I was turned, I sawe seven golden candelstickes, and in the middes of the candelstickes one, like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a lunnē garment doun to the ground, and girded about the pappes wth a golden girdle. His head and his heates were whyte as whyt woulf and as snow: and his eyes wer as a flame of fyre: and his feete lyke vnto brasse, as though they dyent in a toynace: & his voice as the sound of many waters.

Seven golden candelstickes

And he had in his right hand seven starrs. And oute of his mouth wente a sharpe two edged sword. And his face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

Seven starrs at the preachers. 1. iiii. a. and. xli. b. 1. iiii. a.

And when I saw him, I fel at his feete, euen as dead. And he laide his right hande vpon me, sayinge vnto me: feare not, I am the first, and the last, and am alpye, & was dead. And behold I am alpye for evermore, and haue the keyes of hell and of death. Wyrtte therefore the thynges whiche thou hast sene, and the thynges whiche are, and the thynges whiche shalbe fulfilled hereafter: and the mystery of the seven starrs, whiche thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candelstickes. The seven starrs (b) are the messengers of the seven congregacions. And the seven candelstickes whiche thou sawest, are the seven congregacions.

The Notes.

(a) Alpha and Omega, are letters of the Greke croſſe rowe. Alpha is the first letter, and Omega the last. Wherfore in thys wyrtynge, they call the first and the last by the names of those letters.

Alpha

(b) No man can denye, but that in thys place the verbe (Is, or are) is taken for signyfyce. For the sentence geueth that the wordes sound thus much: The seven starrs signyfy the seven messengers of the seven congregacions. And the vii. candelstickes signyfy the vii. churches or congregacions. In like maner is it to be taken in all other places of the scripture, where anye thyng is taught by signes or sacramentes. As in the xli. Chapter of Genes. The seven ear of wheat are. v. i. yeres of plenty. And in the xli. of Exod. Ye shall eat it in haste, for it is the Lordes passover. Manye like places are there in the scriptures. As in the xli. of Genes. (gentile brethren) though our saupour Christ in the wordes of yps last supper (wher in he instructed his disciples of the dysceburynge of his bodye and bloude among

Is for spūally.

The Revelation

that he should be a witness to declare the same, & by the death of them his body and blood, saving: this is my body, meaning: this signifieth or declareth unto you my body and blood: even as apostles sayd of the lambe. This is the passover of the Lord.

Chapter.

The church of Smyrna, warned to fight the things.

Messenger
is present of the grega-
ry.

V The messenger of the congregation of Smyrna, wryte: these things saith he that holdeth the seven stars, and walketh in the midst of the golden candlesticks: I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not forbear them, which are euill, and examined them much say, they are apostles, and are not: & I haue founde them spars, and dyed with thy selfe. And haue patience, and for my names sake haue labored & haue not fainted.
Nevertheless I haue somewhat agaynst the, for thou hast left thy first loue.

Remember therfore from whence thou art fallen, & repent, and do the first works, or els I will come vnto the chortell, & will remoue thy candlesticke oute of his place, excepte thou repent. But this thou hast because thou hated the deedes of the Nicolai-tans, which deedes I also hate. Let hym that hath eares heare, what the spirit saith vnto the congregacions. To hym that ouercometh, will I geue to eat of the tree of lyfe, which is in the myddes of the paradyse of God.

B And vnto the angel of the congregation of Smyrna, wryte: These things saith he that is spirit, & the last, whiche was deade and is aloue. I know thy works, and trybulacion, and pouerty, but thou art ryche:
And I know the blasphemy of them whiche call them selves Jewes, & are not, but are the congregacion of Sathan. Feare none of those things whiche thou shalt suffer.
Behold, the beuill shall cast of you into prison, to temptacion, and ye shall haue trybulacion, & dayes. Be sayethfull vnto the death, and I will geue thee a crowne of life.
Lette him that hath eares, heare what the spirit saith to the congregacions. He that ouercometh, shall not be hurt of the second death.

C And to the messenger of the congregation of Pergamos, wryte: This saith he whiche hath the sharpe sworde with two edges, I know thy works, & where thou dwellest, euere wher Satans seat is, and thou kepest my name, and hast not denied my sayth.
And in my dayes Antipas was a faithfull witness of myne, whiche was slaine among you, wher Sathan dwelleth. But I haue a few things agaynst the: that thou hast ther-of, that maintaineth the doctrine of Balaam whiche taught in Balake, to put occasiō of spyn before the chylidren of Israel, that they shuld eat of meat dedicate vnto the ydols, of S. John, Chapter. vi.

& maintain fornicacion. But so had thou that that maintaineth the doctrine of the Nicolai-tans, which thing I hate. But be conuerted, or els I will come vnto the chortell, & will fight agaynst them with the sworde of my mouth. Let him that hath eares, heare what the spirit saith vnto the congrega-cions. To him that ouercometh shall I geue to eat of the manna that is lyed, and will geue hym a white stone, and in the stone a newe name wryten, whiche no man knoweth, saupng he that receiueth it.

And vnto the messenger of the congregation of Thyatira wryte. This saith the son of God, whiche hath his eyes lyke vnto a flame of fyre, whose feete are lyke brasse: I know thy works, and thy loue, serui-ce, & sayth, and thy patience, & thy deedes, which are mo at the last then at the first. Notwithstanding I haue a few things agaynst the:
that thou sufferest that womanne Iesabel whiche called her self a prophetesse, to teach and to deceiue my seruantes, to make them commit fornicacion, and to eat meates offrend by to ydols. And I gaue hys space to repent of the fornicacion, and she repented not. Behold I will cast hys into a bed, and them that commit fornicacion with hys into great aduersity, except they turne from these deedes. And I will kylle hys chylidren with death. And al the congregacions shall know that I am he whiche searcheth the reynes and hertes. And I will geue vnto e-uery one of you accordyng vnto your wor-kes. Vnto you I saye, and vnto eithen of them of Thyatira, as many as haue not knowe this learning, which haue not knowe the depenes of Satan (as they say) I will put vpon you none other burthen, but that whiche ye haue already. Hold fast till I come, and whosoener ouercometh, & kepeth my works vnto the end, to hym will I geue power ouer nacjons, & he shall rule them with a rodde of yron: and as the vessels of a potters shall he breake them to pe-ces. Euere as I receyued of my father, so will I geue him the morning starre. Lette hym that hath eares, heare what the spy-rite saith to the congregacions.

The notes.

(a) These were heretikes, whiche held oppynion Nicolays that wyues ought to be commune. Of whō Eusebius the third booke chap. xxi.

The iii. Chapter.

These are declared the thynges to come vnto the churches of Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea.

A And wryte vnto the messenger of the congregacion of Sardis: this saith he that hath the spryde of God, and the seven starres: I knowe thy works: thou hast a name that thou liuest, and thou art deade. Be a wake and strength the thin-ges whiche remaine, that are redy to dye.
For I haue not founde thy works perfect before God.

Remember therfore how thou hast recei-ued

The congrega-cion of Thyatira.
Fornicatio
is a syn ag
hominale.

He. xvi. 1.
Psal. vi. 1.
Le. xv. 1.

Psal. 11. 1.

The congrega-
cion of
Sardis.

ued and heard, and holde faste and repent. If thou shalt not watche, I wyl come on the as a thefe, & thou shalt not know what houre I wyl come vpon the. Thou hast a few names in Sardis, whiche haue not defyled the; garments: and they shall walke with me in whyte, for they are worthy: He that ouercometh shall be clothed in whyte aray, and I will not put out his name oute of the booke of lyfe, and I wyl confesse his name before my father, and before his angels. Let hym that hath eares heare what the spytte sayeth vnto the congregacions.

And wyte vnto the tydyngs byngier of the congregacion of Whyladelphia: this sayth he that is holpe and true, which hath the keye of Dauid, whiche openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth. I knowe thy woordes. Beholde I haue set before the an open doore, and no man can shut it, for thou hast a litel strenght and hast kept my sayings: and hast not denied my name. Behold I make them of the congregacion of Sathan, whiche call them selues Jewes and are not, but dolpe: Beholde I wyl make them, that they shall come and worshyppe before thy seete: and thou shalt know that I loue the.

Because thou hast kept the wordes of my patience, therefore I wyl kepe the fro the houre of temptacion, which will come vpon all the world, to tempte them that dwell vpon the earth. Beholde I come shortly. Hold that which thou hast, that no manne take away thy crowne. Him that ouercometh, will I make a pylle in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more oute. And I will wyte vpon hym, the name of my God, and the name of the cytye of my God, newe Jerusalem, whiche cometh doune out of heauen from my God, and I wyl wyte vpon him my new name. Lette hym that hath eares, heare what the spytte sayeth vnto the congregacions.

And vnto the messenger of the congregacion which is in Laodicia, wyte: This sayth the faithful and true wytnes, the beginninge of the creatures of God: I knowe thy woordes that thou art neyther cold nor hote, I woulde thou were colde or hote. So then because thou arte betwene both, and neither cold nor hote, I wil spew the oute of my mouth, because thou arte riche and increased with goodes, and haste neede of nothyng, and knowest not howe thou arte wretched and myserable, poore, blinde and naked. I counsell the to bye of me gold tryed in the fyre, that thou mayest be ryche, and whyte rayment, that thou mayest be clothed, that thy fylthy nakednes do not appeare: and annoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayest se.

As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten. Be feruente therfore and repente. Behold I stand at the doore and knocke. If any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I wyl come in vnto him, and wyl suppe with him & he wyl with me. To hym that ouercometh, wyl I graunt to sytte with me in the seat, euen as I ouercame and haue sytten with my father in his seate. Let hym that hath eares, heare what the spytte sayeth vnto the congregacion. The.iii. Chapter.

Another vylon is declared concernynge the gloze of Gods maiesty, whiche is celebrat of the four beastes, and of the. xlii. Elders.

After this I looked, and behold a doore was open in heauen, and the spytte voyce whiche I hearde, was as it were of a trompette talkynge with me, whiche sayed: come vp hither, and I wyl shewe the thynges whiche muste be fulfilled here after. And immediatly I was in the spytte: and behold a seate was put in heauen, and one sate on the seate. And he that sate, was to loke vpon, lyke vnto a Jasper stone. And ther was a rayne bowe about the seate, in sight lyke an Emeralde. And aboute the seate were. xlii. seats. And vpon the seates four and twenty Elders, sytting clothed in whyte rayment, and had on theyr heads crownes of golde.

And out of the seate proceded lychteninges and thonderynge, and voyces, & there were seven lampes of fyre, burnynge before the seate, which are the seven spyttes of God. And before the seate, there was a sea of glasse, lyke vnto a Chystal, and in the myddes of the seate, and roundabout the seate were.iiii. beastes full of eyes before and behynd, and the first beast was lyke a Lion, the second beast lyke a calfe, and the thyrde beast had a face as a man, & the fourth beast was lyke a flyng Eagle.

And the.iiii. beastes had eche one of them sixe wynges about him, and they were full of eyes within. And they had no rest daye neyther nyghte, sayynge: Holy, holy, holy, Lord God almightie, whiche was and is, and is to come.

And when those beastes gaue gloze and honour, and thanks to him that sate on the seate, whiche lyueth for euer and euer, the xlii. elders fel down before hym that sate on the thron, and worshipped him that liueth for euer, and cast their crownes before the thron, sayynge: thou art worthy lord to receiue gloze & honour, and power, for thou hast created all thynges, and for thy wylls sake, they are and were created.

The Notes.

The seate that Iohn sawe, signifieth the church or congregacion of the faithful. He that sate thereon, the tyding God. The rayne bow, the couerunt and promyse of God. The. xlii. seats of the xlii. spytual vertues or wyldnesses in the spytte. The. xlii. elders: the earnest professers & folowers of Gods doctryne, as well of the new, as old testament. The whyte apparell: innocency. Theyr crownes of golde, eternall kyngdome by Christ. The lychtenyng, thonderynge & voyces proceding from the seate, do signifye rebukynge, threathynge & confirmynge of the word of God, which is preached by the faithful ministers of the church. The. vii. lampes are Rain bow.

Seven lampes.

Four beastes.

Clap. vi. e

the gyfte of the spyrte. The sea of glasse is þe vnderstandyng of the verpye. The four beas-tes, are the earnest letters forþ of the truth in the four quarters of the earth, they crye are the cleare knowledge of Gods word. The lyf beokeneth them that are myghty in fapth. The calte, them that be fervent in love, wher by they sacrifice theyr owne bodies to God. The mē, them that walke circumspectly in theyr vocati-on, auoydunge the occasyon of euill. The fly- ing agyle, them that haue all theyr contemplati- on in heauenty thynges. Theyr wynges are the wordes of the spyrte.

The. v. Chapter.

The Lambe of God is despyed of the com-pany of heauen to open the toun wyth seven scales, whych no man could open.

The boke sealed with seven scales.

And I sawe in the right hand of hym that sat in the throne, a boke writte wylun and on the backespe, sealed with seven scales. And I saw a strong an- gel, which cryed with a loud voice: Who is worthy to open the boke, & to lose the scales therof? And nomā in heauē nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open þe boke, neither to lōke thereon. And I wept much, because no mā was fōund worthy to opē & to read þe boke, nether to lōke thereon.

Upon ob- sined to o- f the boke

And one of the elders said vnto me: wepe not, behold a lyon beynge of the tribe of Ju- da, the tote of Dauid, hath obtayned to o- pen the boke, and to leuse the seven scales therof. And I beheld, and lo, in the myddes of the seate, and of the thre beastes, and in the myddes of the elders, stode a Lambe as though he had bene kylled, which had se- uen hornes and seven eyes, whiche are the spyrtes of God, sent into al the world. And he came and toke the boke out of the ryght hand of hym that sat vpon the seate.

And whē he had taken the boke, the iiii. beastes and xiiii. elders fell downe before the lambe, hauinge harpes & golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of sain- tes, and they songe a new songe, sayinge: thou art worthy to take the boke, & to open the scales therof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs by thy blood out of al kin- reds, and tonges and people, & nacions, & hast made vs to our God. kinges & priestes,

We shal raigne on the earth. And I beheld & I heard the voice of many angels aboute the throne & about the beastes, and the elders, and I heard thousand thousands, sayinge wyth a loude voice: Worthy is the lambe þe was killed, to receiue power and riches, & wisdom and strength, & honoure, & gloire and blessing. And al creatures which are in heauen & on the earth, & vnder the earth, and in the sea, & all that are in them, hearde I, sayinge: blessing, honour, gloire, & power, be vnto him that sitteth vpon the seat, and to the Lambe for euermore. And the four beastes sayd Amen. And the four & twenty elders fell vpon their faces, and worshyp- ped hym that lyueth for euermore.

The Notes.

(a) The boke is the ordynance and appoyntment of God. It is wyrtten wythin and wyth- out, that is, it containeth thynges that be kno- wen to all men, and thynges hydden from al mē. The seven scales are the sure purpose of god to open these hyd thynges to some chosen men in euery of the seven ages of the world. The Lambe that opened it, was Christus. His seven hornes beoken his vniuersall power & kingdome. His seven eyes, the seven principal grēts of þe spyrte.

The. vi. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth. vi. scales of the b. k. wher by heynge open, slaughter, hunger, pel- lence, complaints of the holy, earthquakes, and dyuers wonders, do rylc in heauen

Of þe bok & scales & opened it

And I sawe when the lambe opened one of the scales, & I heard one of the four beastes say, as it were the noise of thonder, come and se. And I saw, & beholde ther was a white horse, and he that sat on him, had a bowe: and a croune was geuen vnto hym, and he went forth conqueringe, and for to ouercome. And when he opened the second scale: I heard the second beaste say come and se. And there wente out ano- ther horse that was red, and power was ge- uen to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they shoulde kyll one another. And ther was geuen vnto hym a great sword.

The over scale

And when he opened the thyrde scale, I heard the thyrde beaste say, come and se. And I behelde, and loo a blacke horse: & he that sat on him, had a pape of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the myddes of the four beastes say: a measure of wheate for a peny: and a measure of baile for a peny: and oile and wine se thou fynde not.

And when he opened the fourth scale, I heard the voice of the fourth beaste say, come and se. And I looked, & beheld a pale horse, and his name that sat on him was death, and hel folowed after him, and power was geuen vnto him on the fourth parte of the earth, to kyll wth swerde and with hunger, and with death, that cometh of verme of the earth. And when he opened the fyfte scale, I saw vnder the altare the soules of them that were kylled for the word of god, and for the testimonyp which they had, and they cryed with a loud voice, sayinge: How long tarpest thou Lorde holpe and true, to iudge, to auenge oure bloude on them that dwell on the earth? And longe whyte gar- mentes were geuen vnto euery on of them. And it was sayd vnto them that they shuld reste for a lytle season vntill the number of their felowes & brethre, & of the that shulde be kylled as they were, were fulfilled.

mat. xxi.

And I behelde when he opened the spte scale, and lother was a great earthquake, and the sunne was as black as sack cloth, made of heer. And the mone wared even as bloude, and the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, even as a figge tree casteth from hyr, hyr fygs, when she is shaken of a mygh- ty wynde. And heauen vanished away as a scrole when it is rolled together. And all mountaynes and fles were moued out of theyr places.

And

Clape. 11. d.
Of. x. b.
L. u. 111. d.
And the kynges of the earth and the great menne, and the chiefe captaynes, and the myghty men, and euerye bonde man and euerye freman, had them selues in denyes, and in rockes of the hylls, and laped to the hylls, and rockes: fall on vs, and hyde vs from the presence of hym that sitteth on the seate, and fro the wrath of þe lambe, for the great day of his wrath is come. And who can endure it.

The Notes.

The openinge of the seales.
The openinge of these seales, doth not only betoken the manifestation of gods truth in the laste seuerall ages of the world: but also at seuen seuerall tymes after the death of Christe to the worldes ende. The fyrste was in the Apostles tyme who were beokened by the whyte hoyle, and by hym that sat thereon, Christe him selfe, by the howe, the heres of the Apostles whiche was in hys hand to shewe forth hys word most spereely into all coastes of the worlde.

The secōd seale.
The seconde was immediatly after the Apostles tyme. The red hoyle were the litle pyethers, that sat on thys hoyle was the cupill copany of the wyched princes that the reigned.

The thyrd seale.
The thyrd was after the tyme of the martirs. The blacke hoyle was the multitude of ambicious prelates and false teachers whiche ragged in those dayes, in the blacknes of erreours, lyes, pythe, and backesnes. And he that sat on thys hoyle, the wyched and bynd rulers of that tyme. The whiche is the newe testament, the barly, the olde. The dulcet wyne and swete oyle, þe word of God. The openinge of the fourth seale was in the tyme after persecution realed among the prelates, and they gaue them selues to wansounes throughte hypocryte. The pale hoyle was the hypocrites of those dayes, and drathe that sat on hym, their damnable and deadly doctrine, let fourth and defended by the secular

The fōrth seale.
The fōrth seale was opened, when in the reigne of thys hypocryte, God shewed vnto hys chosen number the estate of thys bythum departed in the sayeth of Christ, and for the testimony of the same, and also the powne estate to be such that the comente of malice toucheth them not, but that they rest vnder the alter (that is Christ), & do dayly crye vnto god to reuenge the innocent bloude, whiche he hath promysed to reuenge, in the dayes of Ire. The long whyte garmentes that are geuen them, is thys innocēcy whiche they haue not of them selues: but receyue it from the auctor Christe. The openinge of the fift seale was in our tyme, when the lord appeared vnto hys seruantes to declare howe the pale hypocrytes had by the spyches of ryches obscured the pfectiōne, and openinge purtye of Christe the sunne of hys church, and howe the bewisfull monke hys church was become fleme, and the barres, his ministers, fallen to earthye doctrine, and heauen (the verye true doctrine) banished awaye from them.

The fift seale.
And then he declared howe the kynges & ryche men of the earth who were full of all abhominacion, sought to their mountaynes, hyghes in edificacion of the world, to fall vpon them, and to couer them with theyr tentacles of masses, theyr perylous obertes, continuall messenges, with other theyr wylde woozkes and metitounes deuis.

The vii. Chapter.

The wynged aungels in the worlde are bidde, till the 40000 electe out of all tribes be marked. Then is deseribed the glory hono- nor and toy of them whiche for Christes sake haue suffered persecution.

And after that I sawe .iii. Aungels stand on the .iii. corners of the earth holdynge the .iii. wyndes of the earth that the wyndes shoulde not blowe on the earth, neyther on the sea, neyther on anye tree. And I sawe another aungell ascende from the frysinge of the sunne, whiche had the seale of the lpyngge God, and he cryed with a lowde voyce to the .iii. aungels to whom power was geuen to hurt the earth and the sea sayinge. Hurte not the earth neyther the sea, neither the trees, till wee haue sealed the seruautes of oure God in theyr foreheades.

And I heard the number of them which were sealed, and there were sealed an .C. and xliii. of all tribes of the children of Israel. Of the tribes of Juda were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Ruben were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Gad were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Aser were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Neptalim were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Manasses were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Simeon were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Leue were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Isacar were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Zabulon were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Joseph, were sealed. xii. Of the tribes of Benjamin were sealed. xii.

After thys I behelde, and lo a great multitude (which no man could number) of all nations and people and tounes, stode before the seate, and before the Lambe, clothed with longe whyte garmentes, and palmes in theyr handes, and cryed with a lowde voyce, sayinge: saluacion be ascribed to hym that sitteth vpon the seate of our god, and vnto the lambe. And al þe aungels stode in the compasse of the seate, and of the elders, & of the .iii. beastes, and fell before the seate on theyr faces, and worshipped God sayinge, Amen. Blessing and glory wylde to hym that is, & honoure, & power and might be vnto our god forevermore. amē.

And one of the elders answered, sayinge vnto me: what are these whiche are arrayed in longe whyte garmentes, and whence came they? And I sayed vnto hym: Lord thou wottest. And he sayed vnto me: these are they whiche came out of the greates tribulacion and made theyr garmentes lare, and made them whyte in the bloude of the lambe, therefore are they in the presence of the seate of God, and serue hym daye and nyghte in hys temple, and he that sitteth in the seate, wyl dwell among them & they shall hunger no more, neyther thyrst, neyther shall the sun lyghte on them, neyther anye heate: for the lambe whiche is in the myddes of the seate shall fede them, and shall leade them vnto fountaynes of lyf.

¶ u u u. i. openinge

The Reuelacion.

upnge water, and God shal wype away al teares from they eyes.

The Notes.

(a) Scertayne number of euery Tribe of Israelytes is reherced, and of the Gentyles no number, but an infinite multitude, to declare that the number of the fapthfuld amonge them that descended lineallye of Abraham, was nothyng in comparyson of thepm that woulde be conuerted from amonge the Gentyles.

The viii. Chapter

The seventh scale of the booke is opened.
The papers of sapnetes are offered by infincence. The seven aungelles come forth wth they trumpes. And whyle the fyrste blow, fyre sailerth, the sea is troubled, the waters were bitter, and the flares be darkened.

And when he had opened the seventh scale, there was silence in heauen about the space of halfe an hour. And I sawe aungelles standynge before God, so to the wer geuen. vii. trumpettes. And an other angell came and stode before the alt-tare haupnge a golden censet, and muche of odours was geuen vnto hym, so he should offer of the prayers of all sapnetes vpon the golden altare, whych was before the seat.
And the smoke of the odours whych came of the prayers of al Sapnetes ascended by before God out of the aungelles hande.
And the aungell toke the censet and fylled it wth fyre of the altare and caste it into the earth, and voyces were made, and thon-dynges and lpyhtenpynges, and pearthe quakes.

B And the vii. aungels whych had the seuen trumpettes prepared themselves to blow.
The fyrst angel blew, and ther was made haille and fyre, whych were mpyngled with bloude, and they were caste into the earth: and the thrid parte of the trees was burnt and all grene grasse was biente. And the seconde aungell blew: and as it were a grete mountayne burning wth fyre was cast in to the sea, & the thrid parte of the sea turned to bloud, & the thrid parte of the creatures whych had lyfe, dyed, and the thrid parte of shypes were destroyed.

C And the thryde aungell blew, and there fell a great star from heauen, burnynge as it were a lampe, and it fell into the thryde parte of the ryuers, and into the fountains of waters, & the name of the starre is called wormewode. And the thryde parte was tour-ned to wormewode. And manye me dyed of the waters, because they were made bitter.
And the fourth aungell blew, and so thrid parte of the sun was smytten, and the thryde parte of the mone, and the thryde parte of the sterres. so that the thryde parte of them was darkened. And the daye was smytten that the thryde parte of it shoulde not shyne, and lyke wylle the nyghte. And I behelde and hearde an aungell spynge thow the myddes of heauen, sayynge wth a lowde voyce: Woo woo to the inhabitants of the of S. John. Chap. viii.

earth, because of the voyces to come of the trompe of the vii. aungels whych were yet to blowe.

The Notes.

This scale is not yet opened, but shalbe whē the tyme shal come that God hath appoynted, for the silence that shal folowe the same. Whiche the silence is the grete gapetnes of Goddes kyngdome when al Antichrystes shoulde be ouerthrowen and slayne. For then shal goo forth. vii. aungels, that is to saye, the true prychers of goddes woide, who shal declare vnto the worlde the estate of the worlde at the ope-nyng of the seuen scales. And by these. vii. angelles is opened the same thyng that was opened by the openinge of the vii. scales, but after an other sort, the one by the openinge of the scales, and the other by blowinge the trumpettes to make the thyng more certayne.

Take more of this in the Image of both the churches, gathered by Ihon Bale.

The ix. Chapter.

Whyle the fyre aungell bloweth, the wayngs Locustes goo forth. The fyre wylle by black apyres by hoylemen, whych waite and de-stroye mankynde.

And the fyrt angell blew, and I saw a star fall from heauen vnto the earth.
And to hym was geuen the keye of so-botomelesse ppyt, and ther arose the smoke of a great fornace. And the sunne, and the ayre were darkened by the reason of the smoke of the ppyt. And ther came out of the smoke, locustes vpon the pearth: and vnto the was geue power as the scorpiōs of the earth haue power. And it was comaunded the so they shoulde not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any grene thing: neyther any tre, but only those me whych haue not the scale in theyr foreheades. And to the was comaunded that they shoulde not kyll them, but that they shoulde be vexed fyue monethes: & theyr payne was as the paine that cometh of a scorppon, when he hath stonge a man. And in those dayes shal men seke death, and shal not fynde it, and shal desyre to dye, and death shal sicke thepm.
And the similitude of the Locustes was lyke vnto horses prepared vnto battayle, on theyr heades were as it were crownes, lyke vnto goulde, and theyr faces were as it hadde beene faces of men, and they had heare as heare of womenne. And theyr teeth were as the teeth of Lyons. And they hadde habbergions, as it were habbargions of Iron. And the sounde of theyr wyngs, was as the sounde of charettes whē manye horses runnetogether to battayle.
And they hadde taples lyke vnto Scorpions, and there were spynge in theyr tap-les. And theyr power was to hurte manne fyue monethes. And they hadde a kyng ouer them whych is the aungell of the so-botomelesse ppyte, whose name in the Bebrue tounge is Abaddon: but in the Greke tounge, Appollion. One woo is paste, and beholde two woies come after this.
And the sixt angel blew, & I heard a voyce from

The se-
uith scale.

Eu. xiii. b.
Osee. ii. b.
Isa. xli. b.

from the .iiii. corners of the golden aultar whiche is before God, sayinge to the fyrte aungell whiche had the trompe: leuse the .iiii. Aungelles, whiche are bounde in the greete riuer Euphrates. And the .iiii. Aungelles were leused whiche were prepared for an houre, for a daye, for a moneth, and for a peate, for to slea the thyrde parte of men. And the number of horsemen of war were twentye tymes .x. .iii. And I hearde þ number of them. And thus I sawe the horses in a bysion, and them that sat on them haupnge frye habergions of a facincte coloure, and byrmstone, and the heades of the horses were as the heades of Lions. And out of theiꝝ mouthes wente forth fire and smoke, and byrmstone. And of these .iiii. was the thyrde parte of men kyled: that is to saye smoke, and byrmstone, whiche proceeded out of the mouthes of the. For theiꝝ power was in theiꝝ mouthes and their tayles for theiꝝ tayles wer like vnto serps, and had heades, and wth theiꝝ they dyd hurte. And the remnaunte of the men whiche were not kyled by these plages, repented not of the dedes of theiꝝ handes that they shoulde not worshyp deuylles, and ymages of golde and syluer, and brasse, and stone, and of woode, whiche neyther can se, neyther heare, neyther go. Also they repented not of their murther, and of theiꝝ sorcerye, neyther of theiꝝ fornicacion, neyther of theiꝝ thefte. The x. Chapter.

¶ Ther appereth another angell, standynge both vpon the earth & sea, holdynge a boke in his handes, whiche I hon comanded by a voyce, eateth.

And I sawe an other myghty aungell come downe from heauen, clothed wth a cloude, and the rayne bowe vpon his heade. And his face as it were the sunne, and his fete as it were pylers of fyre, and he had in his hande a lytle boke open, and he put his ryghte fote vpon the sea, and his left fote on the earth: And cryed wth a lowde voyce, as when a Lion roareth. And when he had cryed, seven thunders spake their voyces. And when the vii. thunders had spoken theiꝝ voyces, I was aboute to wyte. And I hearde a voyce from heauen sayinge vnto me: seale vpp those thynges whiche the .vii. thunders spake and wyte them not.

And the angel whiche I sawe stande vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lyft vp his hande to heauen, and swate by hym that shoulde for euermore whiche created heauen and the thynges þ therein are, & the earth and the thynges that therein are: and the sea and the thynges that therein are, that they shoulde be no lenger tyme, but in the daies of the voyce of the seventh aungell, when he shal begyn to blowe, euen the mystry of god shal be synpshed: as he preached by his seruauntes the prophetes.

And the voyce whiche I hearde from heauen spake vnto me agayne, and sayed: go and take the lytle boke whiche is open in the hand of the aungell, whiche standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the earth. And I wente vnto the aungell, and sayed to hym: geue me the lytle boke. And he sayed vnto me take it, & eat it vp, and it shal make thy belly bitter, but it shal be in thy mouth as swete as honye. And I toke the lytle boke out of his hande, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as swete as honye: and ascended vnto me: thou muste prophesye agayne amonge the people, and nations, and tounes and to many kynges.

The xi. Chapter.

¶ The temple is commaunded to be measured. The lord seeth by two wyntalles whiche beynge some of the best, no man wyl hurt. But God saynge them vp, geneth them honour in heuen. The wyntalles are afraid. The seventh aungell bloweth his trompe.

And then was geuen me (a) a reade, & I like vnto a rodde, and it was sayed vnto me: arise and meete the temple of God, and the aultare, and the: that worshyp them, and the quyre whiche is wth in the temple caste out and mete it not: for it is geuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy cytye shall they trede vnder fote xlii. monethes. And I wyl geue power vnto my two wyntalles, and they shall prophesye. .iii. .ii. .x. .x. dayes clothed in sacke cloth. These are two olive trees, & two candelabres, standynge before the God of the earth. And if any man wyl hurt them, fyre shal procede out of theiꝝ mouthes, and consume theiꝝ enemies. And if anye man wyl hurte them, theiꝝ wyse muste be kyled. These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of theiꝝ prophesying: and haue power ouer waters to tourne them to bloude, and to smyte the earth with almaner of plages, as often as they wyl.

And when they haue synpshed theiꝝ testimonye, the beast that came out of the bottoomelesse pyt, shal make war agaynst the, and shal ouercome them and kyll the. And theiꝝ bodies shal lye in the stretes of the cytye, whiche spirituallye is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord was crucified. And they of the people and kynredes, & tonges, and they of the nations, shal see theiꝝ bodies .iii. dayes and an halfe, & shal not suffer theiꝝ bodies to be put in graues. And they that dwel vpon the earth, shal reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shal send gyftes one to another: for these two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

And after .iii. dayes and an halfe, the spirite of lye from God, entred into the. And they stode vp vpon theiꝝ fete: & great feare came vpon them whiche sawe the. And they heard a great voyce from heauen, sayinge vnto them: Come vp hither. And they ascended vp into heauen in a cloud, & theiꝝ enemies sawe them. And the same houre was there a greete earthquake, and the tenth parte of the cytye fell, and in þ earth quake,

Exe. xlii. a

B

E

ch. x.
fo. cxliii.

The Revelation.

quake were slayne, names of men, seven and the remnaunte were feared, & gaue praise to god of heauen. The seconde wo is past, & behold the thyrde wo wil come anon.

And the seventh angel blew, and there were made grete voyces in heauen, saying: the kyngdomes of this worlde are oure Lordes and hys Churche, and he shall reigne for evermore. And the xiiii. elders whych sate before God on theyr seates, fell vpon theyr faces, and worshipped God saying: we geue the thanks lord God almighty whiche arte, and wast, and arte to come, for thou hast receyued thy great might, and hast reigned. And the naciōs were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the tyme of thy deade that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldst geue rewarde vnto thy seruauntes the prophetes and sayntes, & to them that feare thy name small & great, and shouldst destroye them whych destroye the earth. And the temple of god was opened in heauen, & there was seene in hys temple the arcke of hys testamente: and there folowed lightnynges, and voyces, & thondrynge, and earthquake and much haple.

The Notes.

And to measure.

(a) The reede is the word of God, the temple is the congregaciō of Christ, the altar is Christ, the quier is the robe of Romish rutterhyns, called the prelats of the church, & the ciuile & choyse sorte of Christians. The two witnesses are two testaments, the beast that cometh out of the bottomlesse pyr, is the whol rascall of the antichristian church of Rome.

The xii. Chapter.

There appereth the figure of a traualying woman, whose child she beryeth & watcheth for, whiche Dragon ouercome by mychael, is thowen downe

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed wpth the sunne, and the mone vnder hyr fete, & vpon hyr head a crowne of xii. starrs. And she was wpth child, and cried traualying in byrth, and payned redye to be deliuered.

And there appeared another wounde in heauen: for beholde a grete Dragon, havyng vii. heades, and ten hornes, & crownes vpon hys heades: and hys tale drew the thyrde part of the steres, and cast them to the wyldernes.

13 And the Dragon stode before the woman whiche was ready to be deliuered: for to deuoure hyr child as soon as it was borne. And she brought forth a manne child: whiche shoulde rule all naciōs wpth a rod of iron. And her sonne was taken vnto God, and to hys seate. And the woman fled into wyldernes, where she had a place prepared of God, that they should fede hir there a. vii. C. and. lx. dayes.

14 And there was grete battayle in heauen, mychael and hys aungelles foughte wth the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and hys aungelles, and preuailed not: neither was theyr place founde anye more in heauen. And the grete Dragon, that olde of S. John. Chap. xii.

Serpente called the deuyll and Sathanas was caste out. Whiche deceyeth all the worlde. And he was cast into the earth, and his angels were caste out also.

And I hearde a lowde voyce, saying: in heauen is nowe made saluacion, & strengthe and the kyngdome of oure God, and the power of hys Churche. For he is cast downe whiche accused theym before God daye and nyght. And they ouercame him by the bloude of the Lambe, and by the worde of theyr testimonye, and they loued not theyr liues vnto the death. Therefore reioyce ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them. And to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuyll is come down vnto you, whiche hath grete wrath because he knoweth that he hath but a shorte tyme.

And when the dragon sawe that he was caste vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman whych brought forth the man child. And to the woman were geuen two wynges of a grete eagle, that she myght flye into the wyldernes, into hyr place, where she is nourished for a tyme, tymes, and halfe a tyme, from the presence of the serpente. And the dragon cast out of hys mouth water after the woman as it had bene a riuier, because she shoulde haue bene caughte of the flood. And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened hyr mouth, and swallowed by the riuier whiche the dragon cast out of hys mouth. And the Dragonne was wth the wpyth the woman: and wente and made war wpyth the remnaunte of hir seede, whiche keepe the commaundementes of God, and haue the testimonye of Iesus Christ. And I stode on the sea sand.

The Notes.

The woman is Christes true church, the sun where wpyth she is clothed, is the eyghtuousnes of Iesu Christ: the mone vnder hyr fete, is the world and worldly thynges, the crowne of xii. starrs, are the xii. Apostles. And the womans crye and trauell, is the praynyng and the persecution. The dragon is the deuyll, the vii. heades, are all hys craftes & subtyltyes, the x. hornes are all hys power to tempte man, the vii. crownes are hys vniuersal raygne among the worldlynges: & hys tale is the entrements of worldly thynges, wherewpyth he draweth men to hym and casteth them into the earth, maynyng theym carnall.

The man child is Christ, the springe into the wyldernes, is the auoydnyng of synnar, and the nouryshyng there so many dayes, is Gods protection euen to the worldes ende. mychael and hys aungelles are the true and constante preachers and professours of goddes doctryne, and the dragons aungelles are the contrarye. The water that the dragon casteth out of hys mouth is all hypocryse and supersticion, the earth that swalloweth it vp, is the multitude of the worldlynges: and the sea sand, is theyr doctryne not grounded on the rocke which is Christ, but on man.

The xii. Chapter.

The many headed beast is described whiche bringeth the most part of the world to worshipp sholles, & is confirmed by an other beast whiche ascended.

And

And I saw a beast rise out of the sea, having seven heades & 7. hornes, and upon hys hornes 7. crownes, & upon hys head, the name of blasphemie. And the beast whiche I sawe, was lyke a cat of the mountayne, and his fete were as the fete of a beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion. And the dragon gaue him his power, and hys seate, and great authoritie: and I sawe one of hys heades, as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wounde was healed. And all the world woundred at the beast, and they worshipped the dragon, whiche gaue power vnto þe beast, and they worshipped the beast, sayinge: who is lyke vnto the beast? who is able to war w hym.

B And ther was a mouth geuen vnto hym that spake great thynges and blasphemyes, and power was geuen vnto him, to doo flu monethes. And he opened his mouth to blasphemy agaynst God, to blaspheme his name, and hys tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen. And it was geuen vnto hym to make warre with the Saints, and ouercome them.

And power was geuen him ouer al kynredes, tonges and nations: and all þe dwell vpon the earth, worshipped him: whose names are not witten in the booke of lyfe of the Lambe, whiche was killed from the beginning of the worlde. If anye man haue an eare let hym heare. He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall go into captiuitie: he that kylleth wth a sword, must be kyled wth a sword. Here is the pacience & the faith of the saintes.

Notes. lill. c.

And I beheld another beast comynge vp out of þe earth, and he had 7. hornes like a lambe, and he spake as dyd the dragon. And he did all that the fyrst beast could do in his presence, and he caused the earth, & them which dwell therein, to worshyppe the fyrst beast, whose deadly wound was healed. And he dyd great wondrous, so that he made fyre come downe from heauen in the syght of men. And deceyued the that dwelt on the earth by the meanes of those signes whiche he had power to do in the syght of the beast, saying to them that dwelt on the earth, that they should make an ymage vnto the beast, whiche hadde the wounde of a sword, and dyd lyue.

Gen. ix. 6
mat. xxvi. 6.

D And he had power to giue a spirit vnto þe ymage of the beast, and that the ymage of the beast should speake, & shuld cause, that as many as would not worshyp the ymage of the beast, should be kyled. And he made all both smal and great, ryche & poore, free and bond, to receiue a marke in their ryght handes, or in theyr forheades. And that no man might bye or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, eþther the number of his name. Here is wylsom. Let hym that hath wit count the number of the beast. For it is the noubmer of a manne, and hys number is syxe hundred, thye scoze and syxe.

This beast is the whole Empire of Envy: chaute the Romyshe rabble: hys seven heades and ten hornes, is his raigne in al the v. l. aged, and the power of the same the m'gaty power þe was geuen hym, and the seat that Sathan sette hym, is theyr deceptful doctryne, and theyr glorious kyngdome.

The wounded head is the Popes supremacie and power denyed in certayn countries, and the curing therof, is the maintenyng and restoring agayn of hys ceremonies, & other treasprey in the same countreyes. Like more of this in John Sales Images of both the churches, & also of the mouth that spake great thynges and blasphemie, that is it caughtly charged all men to obserue the Popes scrupinge of God, puttynge Gods word to silence, and myserpoyntynge the true preachers thereof, with the blasphemous name of heresye. The other beast that rose out of the earth, was the false & duplich preachers, theyr two hornes lyke vnto the hornes of a lãb, are the li. Testaments wrytten to theyr beasty purpose: the worshyp that the beast muste haue, is the obliuiscp of hys rules and ceremonies, the ymage of the beast, is the lyke tyrannye that raigned before the head was wounded. This ymage made they speake, by promulgatynge most cruel lawes vnder þe payn of death. The marke that all men receyued, was the othe to obserue the lawes.

The lyke thyng was the marke of the merchants, but theirs was rather inward in þe consciences, as is also þe name, & number of þe beast, though they were also outward. Of þe nuber of þe beast what it betokeneth, luke in Wale vpon this place.

The xiii. Chapter.

The Lamb spitteth vpon mount Sion with hys chaft worshippers. The angels shew forth the Gospel. They shew the fall of Babilon, and geue counsaile to flye from the beast. Then is the Loyds spale sent into the haruett.

And I looked, and lo a lambe stode on the mount Sion, and wth hym 144. thousand hauing hys fathers name wrytten in theyr forheades. And I hearde a voyce from heauen, as the sounde of many waters, and as þe voyce of a greates thunder.

And I hearde the voyce of harpers, harping wth theyr harpes. And theyr songe as it were a newe songe before the seate, & before the foure beastes, and the elders, and no mā could learne that song, but the hundredeth and 144. thousand, whiche were redeemed from the earth.

These are they, whiche were not defyled wth women, for they are vyrgyns. These folowe the lambe whither soeuer he goth. These were redeemed from men beynge the fyrst frutes vnto God and to the lambe, & in theyr mouthes was founde no gyle. For they are wthout spot before the throne of God. &

And I sawe an aungel flye in the middes of heauen, hauing an euerclastynge Gospel to preache vnto them that sptie and dwell on the earth, and to al nacjons, kynredes, and tounge, and people, sayinge wth a lowde

Mat. xlii
Act. xiii
Eph. vi
Jer. li

loude voice: Feare God, and geue honoure to him, for the houre of his iudgemente is come, and worship him that made heauen & earth, and the sea, and fountaines of water. And ther folowed another angel, saying: Babilon is fallen, is fallen, that great cite, for she made al nations dryncke of the wine of hir fornicacion.

And the thirde angel folowed them, saying with a loude voice: If anye man worship the beast and his ymage, & receyue hym marcke in his foreheade or in his hande, the same shal drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, which is powred in the cuppe of his wrath. And he shal be punished in fyre and brimstone before the holy angels, & before the lambe.

And the smoke of their torment ascēdeth vp evermore. And they haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast & his ymage, & whosoever receiveth the print of his name. Here is the patience of saintes. Here are they that kepe the commandements and the faith of Iesu.

And I hearde a voice from heauen, saying vnto me: wyte. Blessed are the deade, which hereafter dye in the Lord, even so saith the spirit: that they may rest fro their laboures, but their workes shal folow the. And I looked, and beholde a white cloude, & vpon the cloude one sittyng, like vnto the son of man, hauing on his heade a golden crown, and in his hand a sharpe sickle. And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loude voice to him that sat on the cloude. Thurst in thy sickle and reap, for the tyme is come to reape, for the corne of the earth is ripe. And he that sat on the cloude, thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

And another angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle. And another angel came out fro the altar, which had power ouer fyre, & cryed with a loud crye to him that had the sharpe sickle, and sayd: thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the earth, for hir grapes are ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle on the earth, and cut downe the grapes of the vineyard of the earth: and caste them into the great winefat of the wrath of god. and the winefat was troden withoute the cite, and blood came out of the fat, euē vnto the horse byddels, by the space of a thousand and. vi. C. furlonges.

The Notes.

The Lambe is Christ, the mount Zion is the church, the great number that are with him are the faithful members of the same church: the fathers name is his word, and the belife is the same: the voyce of consent lyke vnto many harpes, is the vniuersall faith of al nacjons, that is of as many of all nacjons as are true Christians, and ground they sayth onely vpon scripture, which is ful of thys sweet harmony. The newe songe is the worde of God, whiche none can learne, but such as haue the name of the father wyrtten in theyr foreheades.

The women, are vniuersall and waterpnyng doctrine. Babylon is the church of Antichriste and the wyne of hyr whoredome is the deuyllish doctrine, set forth and taught by that wicked congregation. The cloude is the true minister of Goddes worde, he that speaketh on it, is the sonne of god, and the sharpe sickle in his hand, is the signe of the last day, which is in scripture called harvest, and the sickle is called Gods word, for with that sickle is gods harvest reaped.

The xv. Chapter.

Ther appere seven angels hauing the seven last plagues. The conquerors of the beast praise God. The seven vials of Gods wrath are geue to the seven angels.

And I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueylous: seven angels hauinge the seven last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God. And I saw as it were a glassy see, mingled with fyre: and them that had gotten victorie of the beast and of his ymage, & of his mark, and of the number of his name, stand on the glassy sea, hauing the harpes of God, & they song the song of Moyses the seruaunt of God, and the song of the lamb, saying. Great and marueylous are thy workes, lord God almighty. iust and true are thy wayes: kyng of sayntes. Who shall not feare, O Lord, and glorify thy name? For thou only art holy, and all gentyles shal come and worship before the, for thy iudgements are made manifeste.

And after that I looked, and beholde the temple of the tabernacle of testimony was open in heauen, and the seven angels came out of the temple, which had the seven plagues, clothed in pure and bryght linnen, & hauing theyr breastes girded with golden girdles. And one of the. iiii. beastes gaue to the seven angels seven golde vialles, ful of the wrath of god, which they shuld use for evermore. And the temple was full of the smoke of the glory of god, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, tyll the seven plagues of the seven angles were fulfilled.

The xvi. Chap.

The angels poure out the seven vials of Gods wrath, after which plagues do aryse in all the worlde.

And I hearde a great voyce out of the temple saying to the. vii. angels: go your waies, poure out poure vials of wrath vpon the earth. And the first went & poured out his vial vpon the earth, & ther fel a noisome & a sore botch vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, & vpon them which worshipped his ymage. And the second angel shed out his vial vpon the sea, & it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man, and euery liuing thinge died in the sea. And the thirde angel shed out his vial vpon the fountaines of waters, & they turned to blood. And I heard an angel say, lord which art & wast, thou art righteous & holy, because thou hast geue such iudgements, for they shed out the blood of saintes, & prophets, & therefore hast thou geue the blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

And I heard another out of the altar say: even so lord God almighty, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

And the fourth angel poured out his vial on the sunne, and power was geue vnto him to bere men with heat of fyre. And the men raged in great heat and spake euyl of the name of God which hadde power ouer those plagues, & they repented not to geue him glory. And the fyft angel poured out his vial vpon the seate of the beast, and his kingdome wared darcke, & they gnawed their tounge for sorowe, & blasphemed the God of heauen for sorow & paine of their sores, and repented not of theyr dedes.

And the sixt angel poured oute his vial vpon the greates ciuer Euphrates, and the water dried vp that the wayes of the kynges of the east should be prepared. And I sawe the vnclene spirits like frogges come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

Mat. xlii.
Luke. xli. e.
1. Cor. v. 8

For they are the sprytes of diuels working miracles to go out vnto the kyngs of the earth, and to the whol world to gather them to the battaile of that greates daye of God almighty. Behold I come as a thefe. Happy is he that watcheth and kepeth his garmentes, leaſt he be found naked, & men se his filthines. And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue, Armagedon.

And the senenth angel poured out his vial into the ayre. And there came a voice out of heauen from the seat, saying: it is done. And there folowed voices, thunders, & lightnings, & ther was a great earthquake, such as was not sence men were vpon the earth, so mighty an earthquake & so great. And the greates cite was deuided into thre partes, & the cities of nacions fel. And great Babylon came in remembraunce before god, to geue vnto her the cup of wine of the fiercenes of his wrath. Euerp yle fled awape. And the mountaynes were not found. And ther fell a great haile, as it had bene talentes oute of heauen vpon the men, and the men blasphemed god, because of the plague of the haile, for it was great, and the plague of it soze.

The Notes.

Confer these vii. plagis with the openinge of the seven scales, and the blowing of the seven trumpettes, and it shal be easy to vnderstande.

The xvi. Chapter.

The harlot which seduceth the princes of the earth, is described: whose desling and viceroy of the lambe is shadowed.

And ther came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked w me, sayinge vnto me: come I will shew the iudgement of the great whore that sitteth vpon many waters, with whom haue committed fornicacion the kynges of the earth, so that the inhabitants of the earth, are drunken with the wine of hir fornicacion.

And he carped me awape into the wilderness in the spirite. And I saw a woman syt vpon a rose coloured beaste: full of names of blasphemie, whiche had ten hornes.

And the woman was arrayed in purple & rose coloure, and decked wth gold, precious stones and pearles, and hadde a cup of gold in hir hand, ful of al abominacions & fylthynes of hir fornicacion.

And in hir forehead was a name witten, a mystery, great Babylon & mother of whoredome and abominacions of the earth. And I sawe the wyfe dronke with the bloud of sapntes, and with the bloude of the wyrtnesses of Iesu. And when I sawe hir, I wondered with great maruaile.

And the angel said vnto me: wherfore maruellest thou? I wil shew the the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that bereth hir, whiche hath seven heades and ten hornes. The beast that thou seest, was and is not, and shal ascend out of the bottomlesse pytt, and shal go into perdition: & they that dwell on the earth, shal wonder: whose names are not wyrtten in the booke of life, fro the begynnyng of the worlde. When they behold the beast that was, and is not. And here is a mynde that hath wylsome.

The seven heades are seven mountayns, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seven kynges. Five are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come. When he cometh he must contynue a space.

And the beast that was, and is not, is euil the vii. and is one of the vii. and shal go into destruccien. And the ten hornes whiche thou seest, are the ten kynges, whiche haue receiued no kyngedome, but shal receiue power as kyngs at one houre with the beast. These haue one mynde, and shal geue their power and strength vnto the beast. These shal fygth wth the lambe, and the lambe shal overcome them. For he is lord of lordes, and kyng of kyngs: and they that are on his side, are called the chosen & faithfull.

And he sayd vnto me: the waters whiche thou sawest, wher the whore sitteth, at people and folke, and nacions and tounge. And the ten hornes, which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whore, & shal make hir desolate and naked, & shal eat hir flesh, and burne hir wth fyre. For God hath put in their hertes to fulfyll his will, & to do wth one consent, for to geue their kingdome to the beast, vntil the wordes of God be fulfilled. And the woman which thou sawest, is that great city which reigneth ouer the kynges of the earth.

The Notes.

The whore is the churche of Antychrist whiche is declared to be the churche of Rome. The many waters are the multitudes of people vnder the sayd churche, the kynges and rulers wherof comyned spiritual fornicacion with hir. See in the xlii. Chapter for the description of this beast.

The Revelacyon

The xiiii. Chapter.

The terrible destinie of Babylon is described, and the hope whiche the sayntes shal have through the iust vengeance of God upon it.

After that I saw another angell come from heauen, having great power: & the earth was lightened wth his brightnes. And he cryed mightily with a strong voice, saying: Grete Babylon is fallen is fallen, and is become the habita- cion of devils, and the holde of al foule spi- rites, and a cage of all vncleane and hateful byrdes: for all nacions have droncken of þ wine of the wrath of hy fornicacion. And the kings of the earth have committed for- nicacion with hir, and hir marchantes are waped rich of the aboundaunce of her plea- sures.

And I heard another voice from heauen say: Come awape from hy my people, that ye be not partakers in hy synnes, and that ye receiue not of hy plagues. For hy synnes are gone vp to heauen, & God hath remem- bred hy wyckednes. Re ward hy even as she rewarded pou, and giue hir double ac- cording to hy woꝝkes. And poue in dou- ble to hy in the same cuppe which she fyl- led vnto pou. And as much as she glorified hir selfe and liued wth only, so much poue ye for hy of hy punisshmente and sorowe, for she sayed in hy herte: I sitte depnge a quene, & am no widdowe, and shal se no sor- row. Therefore shal hir plagues come at one day, death and sorow, and hunger, and she shal be brent with fyre: for strong is þ Lord God which iudgeth hir.

And the kinges of the earth shal bewepe hy and wape ouer hir, which haue com- pted fornicaciō with hy, & haue lyued wan- tonly with hir, whē they shal se the smoke of hy burning, & shal stand a far of for fear of hy punisshment, saying: Alas, Alas that great cite Babylon that mightie cite. For at one houre is hy iudgemente come. And the marchants of the earth shal wepe and waille in themselves, for now a wil be their ware any more, the ware of golde, and syl- uer, and precious stones, neither of pearle, and raines, and purple, and skarlet, and al thine woode, & al maner of vessels of iuoy, and al maner of vessels of mooste precious woode, and of brasle, and of Iron, and sp- namome and odoures, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oile, and syne floure, and wheate, beastes, and shepe, and hortes, and charets, and bodes and sou- les of men.

And the apples that thy soule lusted af- ter, are departed from the. And al thynges whiche were depntye, and had in puce, are departed from the, and thou shalt find the no more. The marchants of these thyngs which were waped riche, shal stande a farre of from hy, for feare of the punisshment of hy, weppnge, and wapiunge, and saying: Alas, alas, that grete cite, that was clo- thed in raines, and purple and skarlet, and of S. Ihon. Chapte. xlii.

decked with golde, and precious stone, and pearles: for at one houre so great ryches is come to noughte.

And euery hypp gouernier, and all they þ occupied shippes, and shipmen which worke in the sea, shode a far of and cryed, whē they saw þ smoke of hy burning, saying: what cite is lyke vnto this grete cite? And they cast dust on their heades, & cryed weppng, & wailing, and said: Alas, alas that grete ci- ty wherein were made rich al that had shippes in the sea, by the reason of hir costlines, for at one houre is she made desolate.

Reioice ouer hye thou heauen, and ye ho- lye Apostles, and prophetes: for God hath geuen poue iudgement on hy. And a mygh- ty angel toke vp a stone, like a grete impl- stone, and cast it into the sea, saying: with such violence shal that grete cite Bab- lon be cast, and shal be found no more. And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pppets, and trumpeters, shal be hearde no more in the, and no craftes man, of what- soeuer craft he be, shal be found any more in the, and the sounde of a myl shal not be heard any more in the, and the voice of the byde grome and of the byde. shal be heard no more in the: for thy marchauntes were the great men of the earth. And with thyne inchantmente were deceyued all nacions: and in hy was found the bloud of the pro- phetes, and of the sayntes, and of all that were slayne vpon the earth.

The Notes.

Thys Babylon is the church of Antychrist: whych standeth of the rabble of Rome the rel- grons as Ihon Bale declarerh very euidently. The hynges and marchants that bewyle this sodenly fall, are the poppish rulers wth þ rab- ble of they Rome marchants the byshops and ppietes, that haue their liuing by the Ro- mysh marchandise, whiche are well declared in Iohn Bales commentaries. The myny- sters and al martyners that laboure by the sea, are the byshoppes wth they infynite rabbles of the popes martyners, who haue violently entered into the myn of Peter, James & Iohn. For by those myns are spynnyed þ church of Christ, wherin these martyners by force do rule.

The xix. Chapter.

The heauenty trumpets ppayse god for the whoses punisshmente. The chiefe kynges of hynges apyrarsh, and battayle aplysh, in whych the beast is overcome and cast into þ burnynge lake.

After that, I heard the voice of muche people in heauen, sayinge: Alleluia, Saluacion and gloire and honoure, and power be ascribed to the lord our God, for true and ryghteous are his iudgements, for he hath iudged that grete whore which dyd corrupte the earth wth hy fornicacion, and hath auenged þ bloud of his seruauntes of hy hande. And agayne they sayd Alleluia. And smoke rose vp for euermore, and the xiiii. elders, and the foure beastes fel downe, & worship- ped God that sat on the seat, saying: ame, Alleluia. And a voyce came out of the seat, sayinge:

saying: prayse our lord God al ye that are hys seruaunts, and ye that fear hym, both smal and great.

B And I heard the voyce of muche people, even as the voyce of strong thundring, saying: Alleluia, for god omnipotēt reigneth.
Let vs be glad and reioyce, & geue honoure to hym: for the maryage of the Lambe is come, and his wyfe made hym selte readye.
And to hym was graunted that he shoulde be adaped wth pure and goodly rarynes.
For the rarynes is the rightousnes of sain-tes. And he said vnto me: happye are they whych are called vnto the Lambes supper.
And he said vnto me: these are the true say-inges of God. And I fel at his fete to wor-shipp him, and he said vnto me: se thou do it not. For I am thy fellow seruaunt, and one of thy brethren, and of them that haue the testimonie of Iesus. Worshipp God. For the testimonie of Iesus is the spirit of prophesye. And I saw heauen open, and behold a white horse: and he that sat vpon hym was saythful and true, and in rightous-nes did he iudge and make battayle. Hys eyes wer as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes: and he hadde a name written, that no man knewe but hym selfe:
And he was clothed with a vesture dypte in bloud, and hys name is called the worde of God. And the warriors which were in heauen, folowed him vpon white horses, clothed with white and pure rarynes: and oute of hys mouth went oute a sharpe swerde, & with it he shoulde smite the heathen. And he shal rule them with a rod of iron, & he trod the winefate of the fiercenes and wraith of almighty God, and hath on his vesture & on his thigh a name written: king of kynges, and lord of lords.

D And I sawe an Angel stand in the sun, and he cried with a loude voyce, sayinge to all the foules that flye by the myds of heauen: come and gather yowr selues together vnto the Supper of the great God, that ye maye eate the fleshe of kyniges, and of hye captaynes, and the fleshe of myghty men, & the fleshe of horses, and of them that spt on them, and the fleshe of all freemen & bondemen, and of smalle and great. And I sawe the beaste and the kyniges of the earth, and theyr warriors gathered together to make battaile against hym that sat on the horse, and agaynst his souldiers.

And the beaste was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought myracles before him, with which he deceiued them & receiued the beastes marke, and them that worshipped hys ymage. These bothe were caste into a poude of fyre burnynge wth brymstone: and the remnaunte were slayn with the swerd of hym that sat vpon the horse, which swerd proceeded out of hys mouth: and all the foules were fulfylled with theyr fleshe.

The Notes.

The myriades that creged, are the vnnumerable churche of the saythfull: whych is also þ wyfe of the Lambe. The Lambes supper is the lyfe euerlastynge in perpetuall lyfe and felicitye.

The foules that are called to the supper, are the true preachers of Chykses doctrine, who are commaunded to kyll and deuoure all fleshe wth the sharpenes of theyr preaching, in rebu-kyng theyr fleschly lyuynge in all degrees.

The. xx. Chapter.

The Angel vnderh Sathanas, who after
a. 80. yeres beyng loste agayne, styeth vpon Sog and Magog agaynst the sayntes of God. But the vengeance of God styeth thē downe. The booke is opened after the sentence wherof the dead are iudged.

A And I saw an Angel come downe fro heauen, hauing the keye of the bottomles pyt, and a great chayn in his haude. And he toke the dragon that old serpente which is the deuil and Sathanas, & he bounde hym a thousand yeres, and cast him into the bottomles pyt, and he bounde him and set a seale on him, that he shoulde deceiue the people no more, tyll the thousand yeres were fulfilled. And after that he must be lewised for a lytle season.

And I saw seates, and theyr sate vpon the,
and iudgement was geuen vnto them: and I saw the foules of them that were belia-ued for the witnes of Iesu, & for the worde of god, whych had not worshipped þ beaste, neither his ymage: neither had taken hys marcke vpon their foreheades, or on theyr handes: and they liued, and reigned wth Chyke a thousand yere: but the other of þ men lyued not agayne, vntyl the thousand yeres were finished. This is that first resurreccio. Blessed and holpe is he that hath parte in the first resurrection: for on such shall the seconde death haue no power, for they shal be priestes of God and of Chyke, and shal reigne with him a thousand yere.

And when the thousand yeres are expired, Satan shal be lewised out of pryson, & shal go out to deceiue the people whych ar in the four quarters of the earth, Sog and Magog, to gather them together to battyle, whose numbres is as the sande of the sea, and they wente vpon the playne of the earth, and compassed the tents of the sain-tes about, and the beloued ctyte. And fyre came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them: and the deuil that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fyre and brymstone, wher the beaste and the false prophet were, and shal be tormented day and nyght for euermore.

And I sawe a greate whyte seate, & hym that sat on it, from whose face fled awaye both the earth and heauen, and theyr place was no more found. And I sawe the dead, both great and smal stand before God: and the booke was opened, and another boke was opened, whych is the booke of lyfe, & the deade were iudged of those thynges, whiche were written in the booke, accord-ynge to theyr deedes: and the sea gaue vp hyr dead, which were in her, and death and hell

Math. xxi.
Luce. xxi.

Esa. xlvi.

1. Timo. vi

E

D

Quuu. b. hell

of S. Iohn. Chapte. xxi.

angels which had the seven vials full of seven last plagues and talked wth me, sayinge: come h^{er}ther, I will shew the ϕ byde, the lambes w^{fe}. And he carped me a wape in the sp^{it} to a great and high mountain, and he shewed me the great c^{ty}ty h^{oly} Ieru-salem, descendinge oute of heauen from God, haupng the bygh^{tnes} of God. And his shynng was like vnto a stone most precious, euen a Iasper, cleere as Chrystal, and had walles great and h^{ye}, and had twelue gates, and at the gates, twelue aungelles, and names w^{rtten}, wh^{er}e he are the twelue tribes of I^sraell: on the Easte parte thre gates, and on the Northsyde thre gates, and towardes the Southe thre gates, and from the Weste, thre gates. And the wall of the c^{ty}ty had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

And he that talked wpth me, had a golden reede to measure the cytye wpthal, and the gates thereof, and the wal thereof. And the citie was built foure square, & þ length was as large as the bredth of it, & he measured the citie with the reede twelue thousand furlonges: & the length & the bredth, and the heighth of it wer equal. And he measured the wall thereof an hundred & foure and forty cubytes: the measure that the angel hadde, was after the measure that man vseth.

And the buildinge of the wall of it was of Iaspur. And the cytpe was pure golde lyke vnto cleare glasse, and the foundacions of the wal of the cytpe were garnished with al maner of precious stones. The first foundacion was Iaspur, the seconde Sapphire, the thyrde a Calcedoupe, the fourth an Emerald: the fyfte Sardonix: the syxte Sardeos: the seuenth Chrysolite, the eight Beral: the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysoprasos: the eleuenth a Jacint, & twelfte an Amatis.

The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euerie gate was of one pearle, & the streete of the city was pure golde, as thozow wyngunge of glasse. And there was no temple therin. For the Lord God almyghty, and the lambe are the temple of it: and the cty hath no neede of the sunne, nepther of the mone to lyghten it. For the brightenes of God dyd lyghte it: and the lambe was the lyghte of it. And the people whiche are saued shall walke in the light of it: & the kynge of the earth shall bringe there gloire vnto it. And the gates of it are not shut by daye. For there shall be no nyght there. And they that enter into it non vncleane thing: nepther whatsoeuer worketh abhomyncion, or maketh lyes: but they only whiche are wrytten in the lambes booke of lyfe.

The Notes.

Thys newe Hierusalem, is the sayethfull congregation of Christe heretwix partes and maner of the building thereof do signifie, is enough to be perceived of them that do diligently

B Alpha and Omega, the beginninge & the ende. I will geue to hym that is a thyrst of the well of the water of life fre. He that o-uercommeth, shall inherit all thynges, and I wil be hys God, and he shall be my sonne.
But the feareful and vnbeleuyng, and the abhorminable, and murtherers, and whor-mongers, and sorcerers, and ydolaters, & all liars shall haue their parte in the lake which burneth with fyre & brimstone, which is the second death.

And there came vnto me one of the seue

And he said vnto me : it is done, I am Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng & the ende. I will geue to hym that is a thyrst of the well of the water of life fre. He that ouercommeth, shall inherit all thynges, and I wil be hye God, and he shall be my sonne. But the feareful and vnbeleuyng, and the abhominable, and muetherers, and whor- mongers, and sorcerers, and ydolaters, & all liars shall haue their parte in the lake which burneth with fyre & brimstone, which is the second death.

gently marke al that is spoken in this booke of reuelacions, wherfore I wil in this place note nothyng but that al the precious thyngs wherof this cyty was buylded, do signyfy the wonderfull excellency of this church and congregacyon of Christ, and nothyng in comparyson is so precious to Gods syghie, as are the fapthful members of his church, of whos (as of most precious stones) this church or cyty is buylded.

The xxii. Chapter.

The ryuer of lyuynge water is shewed, and the lawes of the new city are described. Iohn is forbidden to worshipp the angell. Late of all the authoryte, certaynty, and reuerence of this prophesy, is declared.

rehyel.
viii. a
hs. xix. b

And he shewed me a pure ryuer of water of lyfe, clear as crystal, procedynge out of the seate of God and of the lambe. In the middes of the strete of it, and of either syde of the ryuer, was there wood of lyfe: whiche bare twelue maner of frutes: and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the woode serued to heale the people withall. And there shalbe no more curse, but the seate of God, and the lambe shalbe in it, and his seruauntes shal serue hym, And shal see his face, and his name shalbe in theyr foreheades. And there shalbe no nyght ther, and they nede no candel, nei ther lyght of the sunne: for the Lord God geueth the lyght, and they shal ragge for evermore.

say. ix. d.

B And he sayed vnto me: these sayinges are fapthful and true. And the Lord God of fapntes and prophetes sente his angell to shew vnto his seruauntes, the thyngs which must shortly be fulfilled. Beholde I come shortly. Happy is he that kepeth the sayyng of this prophesy of this booke. I am Iohn whych sawe these thyngs, and hearde the. And when I had heard a sene, I fell doune to worshipp before the fete of the angell whych shewed me these thynges. And he sayed vnto me: se thou doo it not, for I am thy fellow seruaunt, and the fellow seruant of thy brethren the prophetes, and of them whych kepe the sayings of this booke. But worship God.

E And he sayd vnto me: seale not the sayinges of the prophesy of this booke. For the tyme is at hand. He that doeth euil, let him do euil still: and he whych is fylthy, let hym be fylthy still: and he that is ryghtuous, let him be more ryghtuous: & he that is holpe, let him be more holpe. And behold I come shortly, and my reward wyl I geue euery man accordynge as his dedes shalbe. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende: the first and the last. Blessed are they that do his commaundementes, that their power may be in the tre of lyfe, and maye enter in thowse the gates into the cytye. For without, shal be dogges and inchanters, and whoremongers, and murderers and idolaters, and whosoever loueth or maketh falsinges.

say. xli. b.
and. xlii. d.

I Iesus sent myne angell to testify vnto you these thynges in the congregacions,

I am the rote and the generacio of Dauid, and the bryght morning star. And the spirit and the brude sayd, come. And let hym that heareth, saye also come. And let hym that is a thyrst, come. And let whosoever wil, take of the water of lyfe fre.

Esai. lv. a

I testify vnto euery man that heareth the wordes of the prophesy of this booke. If any man shal adde vnto these thynges, God shal adde vnto hym the plagis that are witten in this booke. And if any man shal minishe of the wordes of the booke of this prophesy, God shal take away his parte out of the booke of lyfe, and out of the holy cyty, and from those thynges whych are witten in this booke. He whych testifyeth these thynges, sayeth: be it, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so come lord Iesu. The grace of our Lord Iesu Christ be with you al. Amen.

The Notes.

The ryuer of the water of lyfe, is the truth of Goddes worde, the wood that groweth on eche syde, is Christ, who byngeth forth fruite in the fapthfull (his branches) euery moneth, and by twelue maner, that is the vniuersall gyftes of the holy ghost. And his leaues that is, his most heathfull wordes and promyses, are health to the people.

Thus hast thou gentle reader) such thynges as are darke, and hyd from the natural vnderstandynge, by thyselfe sawched, that thou mayest wryth lesse labour come to the knowledge and vnderstandynge of the whole. Howbeit the studye to be byrde, woulde not suffer me to be so playne as I wylle that I myghte be, wherfore I thynke it necessarye, that thou playe not the sluggard, folowynge the example of the vnproffable Dione Bee, who lyueth only by honye that dytygent Bees gather, but contrarywyse, be thou a good Bee, search for the sweete honye of the most holefome houres of Goddes holpe worde. And in al this geue ouer thy selfe to the teachynge of Gods holpe spyrte, who instructeth none but humble spyrtes, and such as seke reformatyon of theyr owne myseluyng, and all such he instructeth to the full, makynge theyr bernes a meete temple for hym to dwell in. Yet in the meane tyme, refuse not the gyftes of God, whych are offered vnto the by the labours of other men, whom God hath endued wryth the most excellent gyft of enterpretyng, but vse the as meanes. And yet geue not credence lightly vnto euery interpreter, but spyrte proue the spyrtes. And if they confesse not Christ to be comen in the fleshe (that is, that there is no maner of saluacyon besyde hym) beleue them not, for they are the spyrte of Antichrist.

The ende of the new Testament.

The table.

A Table to

to fynde the Eppistles and Gospels usually reade in the Church, according unto the booke of Common prayer: whereof the fyrst line is the Epistle, and the other the Gospel, whose beginning ye shall fynde in this booke marked wth a crosse, and the ende wth halfe a crosse, & con- teyned in these letters. A. B. C. D. &c.

On the fyrst sondaye in Advent.

Owe nothing. Roma. xiii. c
When they drewe npe. Math. xxi. a

The second sondaye in Advent.

Whatsoever thyngs are wryt. Ro. xv. a There shall be signes in the sunne. Lu. xxi. c

The thyrde sondaye in Advent.

Let men this wyse esteeme. i. Co. iii. a When John begynge. Math. xi. a

The fourth sonday in Advent.

Reioice in the Lord alwaye. Phil. iii. a
And this is the record of John. John. i. c

On Christmas dave at the fyrste Communion.

For the grace of God. Titus. ii. b And it chaunced in those daies. Luk. ii. a

At the second Communion.

God in times past. Heb. i. a In the beginning was. John. i. a

On S. Stevens dave.

And Steven full of fapth. Actes. vi. b Wherefore behold I send. Mat. xxiii. c

S. Ihon Euangelistes dave.

That which was from the. i. John. i. a I folowe me. John. xxi. d

The Innocentes dave.

And I looked, and lo a Lamb. Apo. xiii. a
The aungel of the Lord. Math. ii. d

The sondaye after Christmas dave.

And I sape that the heyre. Gala. iii. a This is the boke. Math. i. a

On newe yeares dave.

Blessed is that man. Rom. iii. a
And it fortuneth. Luke. ii. c

On the Epiphanie.

For this cause. Ephes. iii. a When Jesus was borne. Math. ii. a

The fyrst sondaye after Epiphanie.

I beseeche you therfore. Rom. xii. a
His father and mother. Luke. ii. f

The second sondaye after the Epiphanie.

Seynge that we haue dpuers. Ro. xii. b
And the thyrde dave. Joh. ii. a

The thyrde sondaye after the Epiphanie.

Be not wyse in your. Rom. xii. d

The table.

When he was come down. Mat. viii. a

The fourth sonday after the Epiphanie.

Let every soule. Roma. xiii. a

When Jesus was entred. Math. xii. a

The fyft sonday after the Epiphanie.

Now therfore as electe. Collo. iii. c

The kyngdome of heauen is. Mat. xiii. d

The fyfte sonday as on the fyfte.

On Septuagesima sondaye.

Perceyue ye not. i. Co. ii. c

For the kyngdome of heauen. Mat. xx. a

On Sexagesima sondaye.

For ye suffer soles. ii. Co. xi. d. and. xii. a

When much people were. Luke. viii. a

On Quinquagesima sondaye.

Though I speake with the. i. Co. xiii. a

He toke vnto him the twelve. Lu. xvi. f

On Ashwednesday.

Turne you vnto me. Joel. ii. c

Whereouer when ye fast. Mat. vi. c

On the fyrst sondaye in Lent.

We as helpers therfore. ii. Co. vi. a

Then was Jesus led. Math. xiii. a

On the second sondaye in Lent.

Furthermore we beseech you bre. i. tes. iii. a

And Jesus went thence. Math. xv. c

On the thyrde sondaye in Lent.

We ye folowers. Ephes. v. a

And he was castyng. Luke. xi. c

On the fourth sondaye in Lent.

Tell me ye that desyre. Gala. iii. d

After these thynges Jesus. John. vi. a

On the fyft sondaye in Lent.

But Christ begyn an hys priest. Heb. ix. c

Whych of you can. John. viii. f

On the sondaye next befoze Easter.

Let the same mynde. Phil. ii. b

And it came to. Mat. xvi. a. xvii. b. and o. g

On monday befoze Easter.

What is he this. Esay. lxiii. a

After two daies foloweth easter. Mat. xiii. a Tewsdaye befoze easter.

The Lord God hath opened. Esay. l. c

And anone in the dawning. Mat. xv. a

On wednesday befoze easter.

For whersoever is a testament. i. Heb. ix. d

The feast of swete bread. Luke. xxii. a

On thursdaye befoze Easter.

This I warne you of. i. Corinth. xi. c

And the whole multitude. Luke. xxi. a

On good frydaye.

For the lawe whych. Heb. x. a

When Jesus had spoken. John. xviii. a and xix. vnto the ende.

On easter euen.

It is better. i. Peter. iii. d

When the euen was come. Mat. xxv. g

On easter dave at the fyrst Communion.

I fe

The table.

I prebe then xpsen agayn. Coloss. iii. a
 The morow after the Saboth. Iohn. x. a
At the second Communion.
 I knowe pe not that a litle leuen. i. Cor. v. b.
 And when the Saboth. Mat. xvi. a
On mondaye in Easter weke.
 When Peter opened hys. Actes. x. e
 And behold two of them. Lu. xxiii. b Tewsdaye in Easter weke.
 Yemen and brethren. Actes. xiii. e Iesus him selfe stode. Luke. xxiii. e
The fyrste sondaye after Easter.
 For all that is bozne. i. Iohn. ii. a
 The same dape at night. Iohn. xx. e
On the second sonday after Easter.
 For it is thanke worthy. i. Peter. ii. d
 I am the good shepheard. Iohn. x. c On the thyrde sonday after Easter.
 Dearly beloved. i. Peter. ii. e
 After a whyle pe shall not. Iohn. xvi. d On the fourth sonday after Easter.
 Eury good gyfte. James. i. d
 But now I go. Iohn. xvi. b
On the fyfte sondaye after Easter.
 And se that pe be doers. James. i. d Clearly, verely I say vnto. Iohn. xvi. f
On the Ascensyon dape.
 In the former treatyse. Actes. i. a After that he appeared. Mark. xvi. c On the sonday after the Ascension.
 The ende of all thynges. i. Pet. iii. b
 But when the comforter. Ioh. xvi. d. & xvii. a On Whytson dape.
 When the fyrste dapes. Actes. ii. a I pe loue. Iohn. xiiii. b
On Mondaye in Whytson weke.
 When Peter opened his. Actes. x. e
 For God so loued. Iohn. iii. c Tewsdaye in whytson weke.
 When the Apostles. Actes. viii. c Clearly, verely. Iohn. x. a On Trinitie sondaye.
 After this I looked. Apoca. iiii. a
 There was a man of. Iohn. iii. a
On the fyrst sonday after Trinitie Sondaye.
 Beloued let vs loue. i. Iohn. iiii. b
 There was a certayne ryche. Luke. xvi. e
On the. ii. sondaye.
 Maruel not. i. Iohn. iii. e
 A certayne man ordeined. Luke. xiiii. c On the. iii. sondaye.
 Submit your selues euer. i. Peter. v. b Then resorted vnto. Luke. xv. a
On the. iiii. sondaye.
 For I suppose that. Roma. viii. c Be ye therefore mercifull. Luke. vi. f
On the. v. sonday.
 In conclusion be ye also. i. Peter. iii. b It came to. Luke. v. a

The table.

On the. vi. sonday.
 Remember pe not that all. Roma. vi. a
 For I saye. Mathe. v. c On the. vii. sondaye.
 I speake grossely. Roma. vi. d
 In those dapes. Mark. viii. a
On the. viii. sondaye.
 Therefore brethren we are. Roma. viii. b Beware of falsse. Mat. vii. c
On the. ix. sondaye.
 Brethren I would not. i. Cor. x. a
 There was a certayne ryche. Luk. xvi. a
On the. x. sondaye.
 In spirituall thynges. i. Corin. xii. a
 And when he was now come. Luke. xix. f
On the. xi. sondaye.
 Brethren, as pertaining to. i. Cor. xv. a
 And he put forth a similitude. Luke. xviii. b
On the. xii. sondaye.
 Such trust haue we. ii. Cor. iii. b And departed agayne. Marke. vii. d On the. xiii. sondaye.
 Go Abraham and his sede. Gala. iii. c Happy are the eyes. Luke. x. d On the. xiiii. sonday.
 I saye walke in the spirit. Galat. v. c
 And it chaunced as he went. Luke. xvi. f
On the. xv. sondaye.
 Beholde pe se how large. Galat. vi. c
 No man can serue. Mathe. vi. e
On the. xvi. sondaye.
 Wherefore I desyre. Ephe. iii. d
 And it fortuneth after. Luke. vii. c On the. xvii. sondaye.
 Therefore whych am in. Ephe. iii. a
 And it chaunced that he. Luk. xiiii. a
On the. xviii. sonday.
 I thanke my God alwayes. i. Cor. i. b
 When the pharises had. Mathe. xxii. d On the. xix. sondaye.
 Thus I saye therefore. Ephe. iii. d
 Then he entred into thys. Mat. ix. a
On the. xx. sondaye.
 Take hede therefore that pe. Ephe. v. d
 The kingdome of heauen. Mathe. xxii. a
On the. xxi. sondaye.
 Finally my brethren, be strong. Ephe. vi. b And ther was a. Iohn. iiii. g
On the. xxii. sondaye.
 I thanke my God. Philip. i. a Then came Peter to him. Mathe. xviii. d
On the. xxiii. sondaye.
 Brethren be folowers of me. Phil. iii. d
 Then went the pharises. Mat. xxii. b
On the. xxiiii. Sondaye.
 We geue thankes. Collos. i. a Whyle he thus spake. Mathe. ix. c On the. xxv. Sondaye.
 Beholde the tyme. Ieremy. xxiii. d
 Then Iesus liste vp. Iohn. vi. a
 The

The table.

The epyttles and Gospels for Sayntes Dayes.

On S. Andzews daye.

For if thou halt knowledge. Rom. x. c
As Iesus walked. Mat. iii. c

Saynt Thomas the Apostle.

Now therefore. Ephe. ii. d
But Thomas one. Joh. x. f

The Conuersion of Saint Paule.

And Saule yet. Actes. ix. a When answered Peter. Mat. x. d

The purification of the byrgyn Marpe.

The Epistle as on Sondaye before.
And when the tyme of. Luke. ii. d

Saynt Mathies daye.

And in those dayes. Actes. i. c At that tyme Iesus answered. Mat. x. d

The Annuncyacion of the byrgyn Marpe.

God spake once vnto Ahas. Esay. vii. b
And in the syxte moneth. Luke. i. e

Saynt Markes daye.

Vnto every one. Ephe. iii. b
I am the true vyne. John. xv. a Saynt Phillip and James.

James the seruaunt. Iaco. i. a
And he sayed to hys. John. xiii. a Saynt Barnabe Apostle.

The table.

Expynges of these thynges. Actes. x. d
This is my commaundement. Johs. xv. b

Saynt John Baptiste.

Comforte my people (Spe.) Esay. xl. a Elizabethes tyme came. Luke. i. f

Saynt Peters daye.

In that tyme Herode. Actes. xii. a When Iesus came into. Mat. xvi. c

Saynt Mary Magdalene.

Whoso findeth an honest. Iero. xxi. b And one of the pharises. Luke. vii. e

Saynt James the Apostle.

In those dayes came. Actes. xii. e. and xii. a Then came to hym the mother. Mat. x. c

Saynt Bartholomewe.

By the handes of the apost. Act. xv. c
And ther was. Luke. xii. c

Saynt Mathew.

Therefore sayng that we. ii. Cor. iii. a
And as Iesus passed. Math. ix. b

Saynt Michael and all aungels.

There was a great. Apoca. vii. a
The same tyme the. Mat. xiii. a Saynt Luke Euangelist.

Watche thou in all. ii. Timot. iii. a After these thynges. Luke. x. a

Simon and Jude Apostles.

Judas the seruaunt. Iude. i. a Thys commaund I pou. John. xv. c

All Sayntes.

And I sawe another. Apoca. vii. a When he saw the people. Math. x. a

The ende of the Table.

The ende of the old and newe Testament.

To the honour and prayse of God was thys Byble printed, and synghed in the peate of our Lord and saumour Iesus Christ.

M. D. L. J. The. xiii. daye of Maye.

Printed at London by

Ihon Daye, dwelling ouer Aldersgate beneth Saynt Martyns.

CVM PRIVILEGIO AD
IMPRIMENDVM SOLVM.

1784
1551 1183

1784 1551 1183